SECOND DAY.

Spirited Debate at Cripple Creek Congress.

Fatal Collapse of Building at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Civil Service Commissioners Guilty of Violating the Law.

NON-UNION FIREMEN SHOT.

Cripple Creek, Colo., July 18.—The feature of the third day session of the trans-Mississippi commercial congress was a debate on the report of the resolutions committee. The most spirited discussions were on the questions giving mining industry a place in the president's cabinet and that of granting subsidies to encourage American shipping. There was a large attendance of delegates.

John H. Smith, of Utah, newly chosen president made an address. The other officers elected were as follows: First vice-president, Leon Bryson, Iowa; second vice-president, L. Bradford Prince, New Mexico; third vice-president, J. S. Wheeler, Texas; fourth vice-president, ex-Governor Sealey, Oklahoma. Other officers are to be chosen by the executive committee and will be named to day.

Smith thanked the congress for his preference. His address was filled with patriotic sentiment and received unbounded applause. He had first doubted the wisdom of sectional movements, but the results of the work of the congress had shown his doubts to be unfounded. It had shown its members only inspired by patriotism which is confined by no section but takes in the whole republic.

Several resolutions were introduced including one favoring the improvement of the Brazos river in Texas as far as Waco and one for the abolition of taxes levied upon the residents of Indian Territory for the support of the Indians.

J. W. Higgins, mayor of Waco, Texas, spoke on "Industrial Progress." The address was full of wit, eloquence and patriotism, and kept the congress in a state of applause. Mr. Higgins favored a mining department of the government. He advocated encouragement of home government in every possible way.

John C. Cutler, of Utah, followed with an address on the sugar beet industry in his territory.

Governor Fishback of Arkansas, chairman of the committee on resolutions, read the report of that committee, which was adopted after considerable debate. It favors construction by the general government of reservoirs and canals for reclamation of arid lands and the encouragement of agriculture by state and nation to encourage construction of storage dams to increase the rain fall; suggests issuance of bonds by the government with which reclamation of lands may be accomplished, money to be refunded by settlers in purchase price of lands; asks for the establishment of a department of mining and a department of commerce each to be represented in the president's cabinet; favors statehood for Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and suitable government for Indian Territory; favors the immediate construction of the Pacific cable and Nicaragua canal; demands abolition of fee system in consular service; favors laws to encourage best sugar industry; indorses the construction of railroads; favors restoration of the mariners; asks liberal appropriations for river and harbor improvements, and provides for appointment of a committee of five to lay matters before the next congress.

BUILDING COLLAPSED.

Accident Happened at Grand Rapids, With Fatal Results.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 18.—With a crash that resulted to residents for blocks around the four story Luce building on the corner of Monroe and Ottawa streets, collapsed early this morning, doing damage estimated at $250,000. Fire broke out in the great heap of debris. Recent interior improvements necessitated the removing of some of the supporting walls and this is believed to have caused the accident. The Friedman Bros. dry goods and department store and the C. F. Higgins's grocery and glassware store were completely wrecked. Lieutenant John Conner of the fire

ALBUQUERQUE, — JULY 18, 1901.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

The director of the New Mexico section of the United States weather bureau summarizes the crop conditions of the territory for the week ending July 16 as follows:

"As a rule, conditions over the territory remain about the same: there have been numerous local showers, but they were confined principally to the immediate vicinity of the mountain ranges, and the high temperatures and protracted drought are causing vegetation to suffer considerably, especially on unirrigated lands. Outside water holes and grass on the ranges are fast drying up, but with few exceptions stock continues in very good condition although fast falling off in some districts. As a rule irrigation water is still sufficient, but the lower Rio Grande has run dry, and many of the northern streams are almost without water notwithstanding the frequent showers about their headwaters.

"Wheat is fast ripening in the more northern counties, and with an unusually good stand. In central and lower sections a splendid crop has been harvested under favorable conditions. Oats and barley are fast ripening and with fair prospects. Corn as a rule is much shrivelled by the drought and heat, but where sufficiently irrigated has made rapid growth during the past two weeks. In the extreme south the third growth of alfalfa, and in northern counties the second, is about ready to cut; the yield prospects are fair, but not as heavy as was the first crop. Heavy shipments of cantaloupes have been made from the lower Pecos country; the early apple crop of the Mesilla valley, of which a large part has already been shipped, were badly damaged by a local hail storm on the 1st of June. Earliest apricots are in the local markets of northern counties. Pears, plums, peaches and apricots bid fair to equal the usual crop in more northern orchards, but apples generally are quite scarce."

A SYMBOL OF SORROW.

An exchange has the following very pertinent remarks concerning the commonly used emblems of mourning: "Why do people hang grape on the door when a loved one takes departure to the undiscovered country from that bourne from which no traveler returns? and clothe themselves in black garments in memory of the departed loved one? What is there about black appropriate to the occasion? Black suggests nothing sweet, or tender, or beautiful. It is not an emblem of purity or hope. It is a symbol of night, and night in scripture, and in all literature is a symbol of danger and despair. Night is a time when doors are bolted and windows are fastened, and when the singing of the wind and the rustling of the leaves nattle the nerves. One of the best things said about heaven is that 'there is no night there.' Then why wear the emblems of night in memory of friends? Did you ever think it is really a reflection upon them? Besides it is an unheavenly custom. And medical experts will tell you that. Rely the world needs no symbols of mourning. Nature heals and hides scars as soon as possible. Every soul knows its own sorrows and that is enough. No need to advertise them. But if the world must have a symbol of sorrow let it be white, under the sorrow be without hope. White is the emblem of purity. White is the emblem of peace. White is the garb in which angels are supposed to be robed. White is the color of the great Throne around which we love to think our loved ones gather. White is typical of eternal day which it gives us joy to believe has dawned upon them. And surely if our loved ones could break the silence of the tomb, they would bid us remember them joyfully rather than sorrowfully.

PROTECTION THAT PROTECTS

At the Trans-Mississippi congress, now in session at Cripple Creek, the territory of New Mexico is well represented, the following delegates of representative citizens being present:

T. D. Burns, Tierra Amarillo; W. A. Busher, Hileboro; General R. S. Benson, Florence; J. C. Carrera, Las Cruces; W. W. Gatewood, Carlsbad; G. W. Harrison, Albuquerque; Jose Lucero, Las Cruces; Mateo Martinez, Taos; L. Bradford Prince, Santa Fe; P. H. Pierce, El Las Vegas; A. Staab, Santa Fe; E. G. Tracey, G. H. Webster, Colad.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

The four days' celebration of the semi-centennial of Trans-Mississippi Odd Fellowship and the sessions of the Grand Lodge of New Mexico opened very auspiciously Tuesday morning at Santa Fe. The ceremony was ideal, the citizens had responded liberally to the call to decorate the places of business and residences and San Francisco street was a sea of flags, bunting and streamers; eighteen out of the twenty-two lodges in the jurisdiction of the grand lodge had delegates in addition to representation from different lodges in addition to delegates and the grand officers.

The public meeting was called to order in Masonic hall on the east side of the plaza at 10 o'clock yesterday morning by Grand Master Homer T. Unell of Las Vegas. Hon. Amador Chavez, mayor of Santa Fe, made the address of welcome that was roundly applauded. He spoke as follows:

"ADDRESS OF WELCOME. Gentlemen: On behalf of the citizens of Santa Fe, I extend to you a most cordial welcome to our historic city. The gates of the city are open to you and we are your arms and our hearts. I welcome you gentlemen to Santa Fe, the city of romance and the mother of western civilization, the mother of western Old Fellowship. It was on this historic spot that your fathers established the first lodge of Old Fellows in the year 1851. I refer to Montezuma lodge which was established in the month of July of that year. Among the members of the past membership and among your present brothers you will find the names of many of our most illustrious citizens, many of whom have labored in extending to you a most hearty welcome. There is in this city an old cemetery belonging to your order which contained the remains of some of the most distinguished citizens of former days and among others those of Governor Bent, the first American governor of New Mexico. The names of these great pioneers recall to our minds one of the most important epochs in our history. It is now over fifty years since New Mexico became a part of this great American Union. In that period, under the protection of that glorious flag which we all honor, love and respect, our people have enjoyed perfect peace and happiness. As there are so many young men among you I wish to tell you a legend of the old territory, when New Mexico was first settled by the Spanish conquerors all the principal families that emigrated from Spain and Mexico made their first home in Santa Fe. From here they gradually scattered to all parts of the province and formed the settlements of today. Santa Fe, however, the principal city and capital of the most inhabitants. Numerous were the young men who would come here to study or to work among our people. There was a belief among our people then that whoever would drink water from the Rio Chiquito was sure to return to his native land. Santa Fe. One of the first things that the girls would do was to see that every promising young man who visited the city we will supply with water from that wonderful river. Once having tasted that water his return was sure. The force of this legend is as true today as it was then. I earnestly hope that every one of you will drink water from our enchanted river in order that we may have opportunities to welcome you over and over again. While you are here gentlemen enjoy yourselves to the utmost and I hope pleasant remembrances of your visit to historic Santa Fe. Again gentlemen I welcome you and wish you a most enjoyable time among your fellow citizens of the capital of the future sunshine state of New Mexico."

RESPONSE BY GRAND MASTER.

Grand Master Unell responded in a dignified manner and was also applauded. His address was extemporaneous. The following is a resume of his address:

"Mr. Mayor, Gentlemen: I consider it a pleasant duty, indeed, to respond to the generous welcome so graciously accorded the members of the great fraternity that I have the honor to represent. The well known hospitality of the western people is a household word throughout this great country, and it is indeed synonymous with fraternalism, a cardinal principle of Odd Fellowship. We feel therefore that we are welcome, you, three, scholars, here we come not through idle curiosity as do the sightseers and pleasure seekers of eastern states, but as your guests, your neighbors and friends, to share your hospitality. We have come for business and for pleasure. Business first, pleasure last. While we are looking forward with pleasure to the joyous anxiety to our glorious jubilee, day after tomorrow, and the many good things in store for us, we must not lose sight of the fact that in the near future we have a great deal of work to do, and have little time to do it. I am firmly believe that our stay in this historic city will be most pleasant and profitable."

After the public meeting the grand lodge went into its twelfth annual session with Grand Master Homer T. Unell presiding, and the following grand officers in their chairs: W. E. Kelley, deputy grand master; Alfred J. Kelly, grand warden; Alexander Bowe, grand secretary; A. P. Hoyle, grand treasurer; E. C. Paragon, grand marshal; W. A. Murphy, grand chaplain; Rev. G. S. Madden, grand chaplain; and H. A. Sleyter, grand instructor.

The following representatives were found to be present: Albuquerque No. 1, Emil Mann; Paradise No. 2, William Holman; Aztec No. 3, John C. Sperry; Las Vegas No. 4, W. E. Criss; Deming No. 5, J. B. Holldon; Gen. City No. 7 of Socorro, J. E. Smith; Katon No. 8, J. C. Orrin; Fidelity No. 10, of Gallup, E. F. Kennedy; Roswell No. 12, Mark Howell; L. S. Tiffany No. 13, of Silver City, A. P. Witte; San Marcial No. 14, Abraham Schey; Golden Rule No. 15, of Oakes, John A. Brown; Harmony No. 17, Albuquerque, O. A. Only routine business was transacted at the forenoon and afternoon sessions yesterday. The Plaza fete yesterday evening was under the auspices of the Women's Board of Trade and was given on this date in honor of the visiting Odd Fellows. There was a good turnout of residents and visitors who were present to view the brilliantly illuminated Plaza, partake of the refreshments provided, patronize the rummage and surprise tables, pay a visit to the gypsy tent and listen to the strains of music of the regimental band.

The programme today is as follows: Sessions of the grand lodge both forenoon and afternoon at which the grand officers will be elected and installed. In the evening a public reception will be held in the hall of representation at the capital, which will be brilliant and illuminating. There will be vocal and instrumental music, recitations and short addresses.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

The four days' celebration of the semi-centennial of Trans-Mississippi Odd Fellowship and the sessions of the Grand Lodge of New Mexico opened very auspiciously Tuesday morning at Santa Fe. The ceremony was ideal, the citizens had responded liberally to the call to decorate the places of business and residences and San Francisco street was a sea of flags, bunting and streamers; eighteen out of the twenty-two lodges in the jurisdiction of the grand lodge had delegates in addition to representation from different lodges in addition to delegates and the grand officers.

The public meeting was called to order in Masonic hall on the east side of the plaza at 10 o'clock yesterday morning by Grand Master Homer T. Unell of Las Vegas. Hon. Amador Chavez, mayor of Santa Fe, made the address of welcome that was roundly applauded. He spoke as follows:

"ADDRESS OF WELCOME. Gentlemen: On behalf of the citizens of Santa Fe, I extend to you a most cordial welcome to our historic city. The gates of the city are open to you and we are your arms and our hearts. I welcome you gentlemen to Santa Fe, the city of romance and the mother of western civilization, the mother of western Old Fellowship. It was on this historic spot that your fathers established the first lodge of Old Fellows in the year 1851. I refer to Montezuma lodge which was established in the month of July of that year. Among the members of the past membership and among your present brothers you will find the names of many of our most illustrious citizens, many of whom have labored in extending to you a most hearty welcome. There is in this city an old cemetery belonging to your order which contained the remains of some of the most distinguished citizens of former days and among others those of Governor Bent, the first American governor of New Mexico. The names of these great pioneers recall to our minds one of the most important epochs in our history. It is now over fifty years since New Mexico became a part of this great American Union. In that period, under the protection of that glorious flag which we all honor, love and respect, our people have enjoyed perfect peace and happiness. As there are so many young men among you I wish to tell you a legend of the old territory, when New Mexico was first settled by the Spanish conquerors all the principal families that emigrated from Spain and Mexico made their first home in Santa Fe. From here they gradually scattered to all parts of the province and formed the settlements of today. Santa Fe, however, the principal city and capital of the most inhabitants. Numerous were the young men who would come here to study or to work among our people. There was a belief among our people then that whoever would drink water from the Rio Chiquito was sure to return to his native land. Santa Fe. One of the first things that the girls would do was to see that every promising young man who visited the city we will supply with water from that wonderful river. Once having tasted that water his return was sure. The force of this legend is as true today as it was then. I earnestly hope that every one of you will drink water from our enchanted river in order that we may have opportunities to welcome you over and over again. While you are here gentlemen enjoy yourselves to the utmost and I hope pleasant remembrances of your visit to historic Santa Fe. Again gentlemen I welcome you and wish you a most enjoyable time among your fellow citizens of the capital of the future sunshine state of New Mexico."

RESPONSE BY GRAND MASTER.

Grand Master Unell responded in a dignified manner and was also applauded. His address was extemporaneous. The following is a resume of his address:

"Mr. Mayor, Gentlemen: I consider it a pleasant duty, indeed, to respond to the generous welcome so graciously accorded the members of the great fraternity that I have the honor to represent. The well known hospitality of the western people is a household word throughout this great country, and it is indeed synonymous with fraternalism, a cardinal principle of Odd Fellowship. We feel therefore that we are welcome, you, three, scholars, here we come not through idle curiosity as do the sightseers and pleasure seekers of eastern states, but as your guests, your neighbors and friends, to share your hospitality. We have come for business and for pleasure. Business first, pleasure last. While we are looking forward with pleasure to the joyous anxiety to our glorious jubilee, day after tomorrow, and the many good things in store for us, we must not lose sight of the fact that in the near future we have a great deal of work to do, and have little time to do it. I am firmly believe that our stay in this historic city will be most pleasant and profitable."

CARLSBAD.

From the Argus.
Prof. G. F. Ellis has been appointed to collect the Eddy county poll tax, this year, and every voter in the community should meet him with a warm handshake, a pleasant smile and a silver dollar when he calls.

J. W. Mauch, of Chiricahua, president of the University of South Dakota, arrived as the guest of R. W. Tansill and will visit here several days. He is here, says Dr. C. A. Williams, of Chicago, to look into the Carlsbad sanitarium prospects.

John J. Matheson reports that up to date he has bought for the sanitarium about 750,000 pounds of wool, and that there is enough on hand to keep him busy until the latter part of August. He is figuring on one or two more large clips, which, if he gets them, will keep the plant uninteruptedly running till next spring. About three cars of the secured fleece are shipped out each week.

The Roswell town tax rate this year is a little over $2.00 on the $100 valuation. Very little difference, now, between Carlsbad and Roswell tax rates. Carlsbad's is $1.35.

It is rumored on very good grounds that a deal has been closed by J. J. Hagerman for the sale of Hagerman Heights to R. W. Tansill, to be converted into a large, up-to-date sanitarium. It is stated that possession is to be given on or about September 1st, while the announcement cannot be stated positively, at this time, it seems practically assured that before the snow flies this year, Carlsbad will be in possession of a first-class winter hotel for invalids.

The Best Remedy for Stomach and Bowels
"I have been in the drug business for twenty years and have sold most all of the proprietary medicines of any kind. I have never found anything to equal Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles," says W. W. Wakefield, of Columbus, Ga. "This remedy cured two severe cases of cholera morbus in my family and I have recommended and sold hundreds of bottles of it to my customers to their entire satisfaction. It affords a quick and sure cure in a pleasant form. No family should be without it. I keep it in my house at all times." For sale by all druggists.

"I wish to truthfully state to you and the readers of this few lines that your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is without question the best and only cure for dyspepsia that I have ever come in contact with and I have used many other preparations." John Beaman, West Middlesex, Pa. No preparation of any kind has done as much for me as your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It contains all the natural digestants. It will digest all kinds of food and can't help but do you good. Cosmopolitan Pharmacy.

CAPITAN.

From the progress.
Newt Kemp, of this place, has been appointed constable and road supervisor of this precinct.

Mrs. L. O. W. returned from Roswell where she has been visiting relatives for the past few weeks. Work on the school house is progressing rapidly. It is being built on Captain sandstone, Captain Birch and El Paso pressed brick and Capitan will soon have a school house of which a much larger town might justly be proud.

A camp meeting will be held at Nogales Canyon, N. M., beginning July 25 and continuing ten or fifteen days. This canyon is about two miles east of Nogales and eight miles west of Lordsburg. There is plenty of good water, shade and grass and other conveniences for those who desire to camp on the ground. The meeting will be under the control of the pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, but all religious people are invited to attend.

You can never cure dyspepsia by dieting. What your body needs is plenty of good food properly digested. Then if you suffer from indigestion, try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It contains all of the natural digestants, hence must digest every class of food and so prepare it for nature's use in nourishing the body and replacing the wasted tissues, thus giving life, health, strength, ambition, pure blood and good healthy appetite. Cosmopolitan Pharmacy.

The greatest healer of modern times is Bore's Salve for cuts, wounds, sores, piles and all skin diseases. It is guaranteed. Use no substitute. Alvarado Pharmacy.

ROSWELL.

From the Record.
The Hagerman country was visited by a hail storm which did considerable damage to the cantaloupe crop. The fields of Messrs. Mills, Archibald and Callaway were especially damaged.

Mrs. Will Rainbolt and child, and Mrs. Samuel Saunders were thrown from their buggy by the falling of their horse. Both ladies hit on top of the child, but beyond a few bruises none of the three were hurt.

Tom Hoagland, a cattleman from the Pecos country, is looking for a location to which he could move his cattle, on account of the parched condition of the range in the neighborhood of Lordsburg. On the way to the Pecos country, he has been in trouble various and sundry times, loaded up on tarantula juice and was arrested by the marshal. On the way to jail, Bounds made a quick back draw of an ugly gun, and if Mr. Maddux had been second-silver planning his arm, the city undertaker would have had another job. The proper change was made in the charge and Bounds was bound over in the sum of $400 to the grand jury, and instead of a simple case of drunk and disorderly stands a good chance of a penitentiary term for assault with a deadly weapon.

GALLUP.

From the Republican.
Twenty young gentlemen met at the residence of Rev. G. J. Juillard and effected a temporary organization of a social club. Edward Hart was elected president, and L. L. Henry, treasurer. Eduardo Tafuya, who shot and killed Andrew Schlinger on the morning of July 4th, gave bonds in the sum of $5,000 for his appearance at the district court. Geo. W. Knaebel and C. D. Dulwar, of Santa Fe, are the bondsmen.

John Tiemann, a well known miner at Clarkville, was killed instantly by a fall of rock from the mine. He was engaged in drilling at the time, and from the verdict of the coroner's jury had not protected himself as he should have done. The inquest was presided over by Judge Welsh, of Precinct No. 27. Tiemann is said to have had a family in Colorado.

Will Carman returned a few days ago from a flying trip to Oklahoma. While absent he visited the Comanche, Apache and Kiowa reservation, which will be open to society on August 6th, according to the proclamation issued by President McKinley this week. There will be no rush at this opening, as the tickets were made by lottery beforehand. There will be about ten thousand quarter sections to give away, and there will be about fifty thousand applicants.

It Dazzles the World.
No discovery in medicine has ever created one quarter of the excitement that has been caused by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It's severest tests have been on hopeless victims of consumption, pneumonia, hemorrhage, pleurisy and bronchitis, thousands of whom it has restored to perfect health. For coughs, colds, asthma, croup, hay fever, hoarseness, and whooping cough it is the quickest, surest cure in the world. It is sold by J. H. O'Reilly & Co., who have a satisfaction or return money. Large bottles $5.00 and $1. Trial bottles free.

"I am indebted to One Minute Cough Cure for my present good health and my life. I was treated in vain by doctors for lung trouble following a gripe. I took One Minute Cough Cure and recovered my health." Mr. E. H. Wise, Madison, Ga. Cosmopolitan Pharmacy.

THE TERRITORIAL CAPITAL.
Short Paragraphs About the People of the Ancient City.
Adjutant General W. H. Whiteman has returned from a very enjoyable visit to Los Angeles and other southern California points.

The office of the register of the land office, Hon. M. R. Otero, in the federal building, has been decorated with a beautiful Brussels carpet.

Seven sisters of the sanitarium left for the mother house at Cincinnati. They were Sisters Eulalia, Mary de Sales, Elzair, Agatha, Angelica, Frances, Jerome and Antonine.

Interesting Information Regarding Railroad Officials and Employees.

NEWS IN ABBREVIATED FORM.

The following brakemen have resigned their positions on the railroad: H. B. Sells, E. O'Brien, H. LaVere, J. Hahn, C. P. Noll, E. G. Hanson and Mr. Greenman.

The Pecos System, it is claimed, handled over 1,000 cars of cattle during the month of June, and that with out a delay of five minutes anywhere on the line after loading.

Frank Robertson, for a long time delivery man for Joyce, Pruit & Co., Carlsbad, resigned that position and left for Amarillo to go to work for the Pecos Valley railway.

Brakeman Matt McDonald of the Santa Fe Pacific, has gone to El Reno, Okla. where he expects to become owner of a fine strip of land, which is to be opened shortly by the government.

It is reported that plenty of water has been secured in the wells that are being drilled along the line of the El Paso & Northeastern extension, and as a result water has been greatly facilitated.

The Southern Pacific company sprang the first load of oil of Maricopa with crude petroleum. This is merely an experiment for the purpose of allaying the dread that is often very obstinate to the traveling public.

The rain storm at Santa Fe caused a washout on the Denver & Rio Grande railway six miles from that city. A small bridge was washed away. A force of men working on the Santa Fe and repaired the damage.

The wife of Engineer D. E. Snyder, who has been the guest of relatives at friends in Hutchinson, Kas., and this city for several weeks, left last night for her home in Needles. While here she was entertained by George G. and Mrs. W. P. Pate.

John J. Valentine, of San Francisco, president of Wells, Fargo & Co., express and banking, has issued a printed letter of advice and instruction to managers, superintendents, route agents and agents throughout the country. The propriety of the advice is suggested by the near approach of the 100th anniversary, March 18, 1862, of the organization of the Wells-Fargo company.

The La Junta Tribune says: The Santa Fe, L. L. Lyon, Denver, has been in charge of the mechanical department for the past year, will be transferred back to the operating department. A force of men working on the Santa Fe and repaired the damage.

The grand lodge L. O. B. B. a strong organization composed of Jewish people, is in session in Denver this week. Samuel Neustadt, who was elected as delegate from Albuquerque, left last evening to be in attendance at the meeting.

C. M. Foraker, who was at the depot last night waiting for No. 21 to pull out, did not go to Denver as was supposed. The marshal was at the station for the purpose of meeting a gentleman who was expected to arrive from the north.

W. P. Morton, a member of the blacksmithing firm of Morton & Ortiz, who has been putting in some extra time of late in his business, has concluded to take a vacation for a couple of weeks, and day before yesterday left for the Pecos river.

Messias Palmer and Goebel, accompanied by their brother, George, returned last evening for Denver, where it is expected the health of Mrs. Goebel will continue to improve during the summer. Mr. Goebel will visit in Chicago for a few weeks, after which all will return to Albuquerque to reside.

Mrs. Charles E. Cramer, accompanied by her son, George Cramer, and Mrs. Schwalbe, will leave Saturday for the upper Rio Pecos country, where they will enjoy camp life for a few weeks. During the absence of George Cramer, his position as caller at the depot will be filled by Eugene Roberts.

E. S. Strong, who occupied the position as clerk at the Palace hotel in Santa Fe, but more recently the traveling salesman for the Williams-Warner house, of Denver, arrived in this city last night and this morning as-

Beware of the Browns.

The Browns base ball club, under the management of elongated Harmon Wynkoop, with Billy Mason, the athlete, as umpire, will leave for Santa Fe Sunday morning, where in the afternoon they will cross bats with the "Salmon Springs" team of Santa Fe, but of the universe. The Browns who will go to Santa Fe Sunday are not the same Browns that won every game from Santa Fe from 1880 to 1895, but they are just as strong, if not a little stronger, than the old Browns. It is stated that Gross, who will be in the pitcher's box Sunday afternoon, has speed to burn, while his slants are the most puzzling balls ever twirled over the plate in the southern uran new wagon, valued at $100, was demolished.

The delivery team belonging to the E. B. Putney wholesale grocery establishment became frightened yesterday and before they could be stopped a new wagon, valued at $100, was demolished.

On Sunday afternoon a grand free concert will be held at Orchestra hall, to which everybody is invited to attend. Electric fans will be kept going, which is a guarantee that the hall will be cool.

Fred A. Bush, formerly solicitor for the Journal-Banner, has accepted a position on the editorial staff of the Silver City Enterprise. He left here on Sunday night to enter upon his new responsibilities.

Cement sidewalks are being built on south First street, south Second street and Silver avenue and Col. James McCorriston and Dickinson & Aldrich, the cement sidewalk builders of the city, are kept pretty busy.

J. J. Tangney and three youngest children have gone to Reno, Neb., where the little ones will be in the charge of the grandparents. One of the children who suffered recently from spinal meningitis is improving rapidly.
