VOTE ON SHIP
SUBSIDY BILL

The Voting on the Bill and All Amendments Offered to it Began at Three O'Clock This Afternoon.

THE DARIEN CANAL SCHEME

The Resolution Providing for the Appointment of a Board to Investigate the Project is Reported Unfavorably by the Intercolonial Canal Commission.

SENATE.

Washington, March 17.—The senate convened at 11 o'clock, this being the day the final vote on the ship subsidy bill is to be taken. By agreement, the voting on the bill and all pending amendments is to begin at 3 p. m. The resolution providing for the appointment of a board to investigate the project of constructing an interoceanic canal across the isthmus at Darien was reported unfavorably by the intercolonial canal commission and indefinitely postponed.

Pending discussion of the subsidy bill, the following bills were passed: Appropriating $150,000 for a public building at Colorado Springs, Colo. Granting the Central Arizona Railway Company a right of way for railroad purposes through the San Francisco mountain forest reserve. Appropriating $100,000 for a public building at Laramie, Wyo.

As the last public bill on the calendar was passed, Hale remarked that in all his experience he had never before known the last public bill on the calendar to be reached and disposed of. "It is an indication that the senate is doing business."

The ship subsidy bill was then taken up. In his closing speech on the ship subsidy bill, Frye said he would accept the amendments offered by Mr. Allison limiting the time of the operation of the measure because he believed they were in the interest of the bill. Various amendments offered by the vest were voted down.

The vote on the vest amendment stood 25 to 48, a strict party vote with the exception of McLaughlin who voted with the Republicans. The amendment of Allison that not more than $5,000,000 shall be expended any one year up to July 1, 1907, under contracts provided for by the bill and after that date not more than $5,000,000 per annum, were agreed to without division. Patterson of Colorado, discussed briefly his proposed amendment to prevent the employment of Chinese seamen on subsidized vessels. He said the amendment had the approval of the American Federation of Labor and International Seamen's Union. American labor had been driven from employment on ships on the Pacific coast by Chinese labor.

The Patterson amendment providing that no subsidy be paid upon any vessel employing in its crew any Chinese person not entitled to admission into the United States or territory thereof, was lost, 29 to 41.

The ship subsidy bill passed the senate at 5:52. Vote 42 to 31.

HOUSE.

Washington, March 17.—The house went into committee of the whole and commenced consideration of the river and harbor bill. Burton, Ohio, in charge of the measure, in the opening statement, said he would confine himself to discussing some popular misapprehensions. He said the impression existed that the bill carried something over $50,000,000 for the ensuing fiscal year, whereas it carried but $24,000,000 of actual appropriations, the remaining $36,000,000 being simply authorized to be appropriated under the contract system. There was also, he said, a mistaken idea that the pending measure carried larger appropriations than any previous bill. In 1890, he said, the actual appropriations in the bill exceeded $25,000,000. Burton said that the appropriations for river and harbor work instead of increasing with other governmental expenditures as popularly supposed, were in reality decreasing. Burton then entered into the details of the bill.

Washington, March 17.—The senate committee on foreign relations has decided to again take up the reciprocity treaties which are before the senate, with a view to securing such amendments to them as will insure their ratification.

MANY FAMILIES
HOMELESS

St. Catherine's Flat, at Corner Fortieth Street and Grand Boulevard, Chicago, Destroyed.

ALL THE INMATES ESCAPED

A Frigid Wind Was Blowing and the Fire Was With Difficulty Kept from Spreading—Two Men Injured—Tenants Stood Shivering in Cold Until Given Shelter.

Chicago, March 17.—Twenty-four families occupying the St. Catherine flats on 40th street and Grand Boulevard were driven from the building by fire early today. A frigid wind was blowing and the fireman had to work vigorously to confine the flames to St. Catherine's. The tenants had barely time to escape and shivered in the cold until the neighbors were aroused and gave them shelter. Nearly all household goods and personal effects were lost. George Patton, a tenant, rescued three women by means of a rope, and when descending himself the rope broke and he sustained a broken leg. Policeman Martin Scannell sustained a broken ankle. The total loss is $60,000.

Denbeigh Hall, the finest of the college buildings, which cost $190,000, was entirely destroyed, and its contents, valued at $35,000, consumed. Seventy young women occupied chambers in Denbeigh Hall. President Thomas is fearful that the offer of $250,000 by John D. Rockefeller, conditioned on an equal amount being raised, will be endangered, as the college will have hard work to recover from the effects of the fire.

The United States Minister to Mexico Makes Answer to the Charges Against Him.

Washington, March 17.—A telegram has been received by Secretary Hay from Powell Clayton, United States ambassador to Mexico, declaring that the charges preferred against him connecting his name with the ownership of Mexican mining stock are false. It is said at the department that there is nothing in the law or regulations to prohibit a minister or ambassador from holding stocks or even engaging in business in the country to which he is accredited. It is further stated, and this has important bearing upon the charges, that in every step taken by him in the Mealey case he has acted with the approval and in most cases by direction of the department.

Death of a Western Journalist.

A dispatch from Brookline, Mass., tells of the death in that city of A. W. Provost, who for six years was connected with the proofreading department of the Rocky Mountain News of Denver and lived lately at Albuquerque. Mr. Provost was the son of a prominent physician of Brookline and after graduating from his home school was connected with various eastern papers. His health failing him he came to Colorado six years ago and was employed by the News. For a time he improved rapidly, but early last year an unfavorable change was noticeable. In July he left for Albuquerque, hoping to find relief. He was disappointed and later was taken home to die. He was only 34 years old and possessed of splendid literary attainments. His kindly disposition and courageous battle with the dread tuberculosis won him a multitude of friends who will regret to learn of his demise.

MILITARY SANITARIUM
GOOD FOR SILVER CITY

Hundreds of People Who Want to Live at or Near the Fort Bayard Sanitarium Because of the Good Results Achieved in the Treatment of Consumption.

THE GOOD THE BUREAU OF IMMIGRATION IS DOING GRANT COUNTY

Fred A. Bush, the editor of the Silver City Enterprise, who spent Saturday afternoon in Santa Fe, left in the evening for Albuquerque, from where he returned to his home at Silver City. Before leaving Santa Fe, Mr. Bush emphasized again that the impression that Silver City is a heavy loser by the closing down of the smelter this week, is erroneous. The shut down is only temporary, most of the men employed at the smelter will be able to find work at or near Silver City and the smelter had its own store, the businessmen of Silver City will not feel the shut down, in fact, many of them who deal at the smelter store, will now deal at other stores in the city.

Cross and Laughlin, the manufacturers of a patented smelting furnace, will probably erect a furnace in Grant county for the treatment of ores from the surrounding camps, especially the Burro mountain district. Mr. Laughlin of the firm recently visited Grant county and after a trip to several of its mining districts, expressed himself greatly impressed with the county's mineral wealth, especially that of the Burro mountains. He bonded eight claims in that district belonging to George Bell and it is probable that the near future will see the erection of a 60-ton smelter in the heart of the Burros. The matter is under advisement awaiting the report of a well-known mining man who is expected in St. Louis from Silver City this week.

Last week a contract was let for a sanitarium to cost $35,000. Block and Aikens, a local firm, received the contract. It is to be built in the Spanish mission style and will adopt the methods of treatment in vogue at Fort Bayard and which have brought such excellent results in the cure of consumption. At first only 50 patients will be accommodated, but as necessity demands the building will be enlarged. Drs. Bullock and Williams of Silver City have the project in charge. The location of the Fort Bayard Sanitarium near Silver City has been of immense benefit to the city, in fact to all of Grant county. Since the publication of Major Apple's statement in regard to the work being done at the United States general hospital at Fort Bayard, the physicians and newspapers of that town have been overwhelmed with letters of inquiry from health-seekers in all parts of the world who want to come to or near the military asylum, which through the climate cure has brought about such magnificent results in the cure of consumption.

Mr. Bush also states that the work of the Bureau of Immigration is doing much good for southwestern New Mexico. The demand for the recently published Grant county pamphlet is very great and it answers very fully all the queries which are being asked about Grant county. Within a short time, Mr. Bush sent out 75 of those pamphlets, in answer to queries and undoubtedly much good to the county will result therefrom.

The grant contains 10,680 acres, and Mr. Catron recently let a contract for the cutting of 100,000 railroad ties on the grant.

Judge McFie sentenced Archuleta, who had restored to the government the shortage, to pay a fine of $50 and costs of prosecution. A motion for an appeal to the territorial supreme court was made by the defendant's attorney, A. B. Renahan, but it is understood that Archuleta will pay his fine and that the appeal will not be perfected. His appeal bond was set at $1,000.

MONDAY, MARCH 17.

New Mexico Demands Statehood of the 57th Congress.

Of Right and in Justice New Mexico Should Be a State.

The more glittering the promises held out by promoters the more careful should investors be. This applies to the whole country, New Mexico not excluded.

There is one good thing about the present house of representatives. The members of it do not indulge in long debates, but probably the house rules are in the way.

The land for depot, and other railroad purposes for the Santa Fe Central railway must be furnished the company by this city free of cost. The only thing to do.

The Napoleons of finance quite often turn out to be swindlers and dishonest. The privates of finance seldom get enough of other people's money into their hands to become so.

Just imagine what would happen if some one would invent an automatic yellow sheet editorial writer and throw the able editors of the New Mexican yellow sheets out of employment. Even the very thought is horrible.

The New Mexican infers from the tone and tenor of the editorials in its yellow New Mexican contemporaries that the situation in New Mexico after all is not quite as bad as it might be and that there is hope for the people.

One reason why the Boer envoys dislike Secretary of State Hay so cordially is because when he receives them he permits them to do all the talking and he does all the listening. They cannot get anything out of him and that is what they object to.

The president of the United States is a bigger man than any European emperor, king or potentate. He has a real live sultan under pay and under his direction. The New Mexican refers to the sultan of Jolo, one of the Philippine Islands.

The Democratic leaders in and out of congress are very busy looking for a scheme that will win for them the political game in 1904. Up to date they have not discovered a sure thing. They hope that the cry of tariff reform may do it for them, but are none too sure.

The straight protectionists and the reciprocity for Cuba members of the house of representatives are slowly getting together. So far the straight protectionists have gained and the other side has scaled down its demands for reciprocity favors for Cuba. That is right, charity and protection must begin at home.

The omnibus bill for the admission of New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arizona into the sisterhood of states stands a good chance for passage in the house and its chances for passage in the senate are growing brighter. Pick your favorites for state officers and United States senators for the new Sunshine state.

The Boer envoys have plenty of money and travel about the United States creating public sentiment in favor of their cause. What is the matter with them spending some of that money for purchasing American mules. The southern farmers would think better of them were they to spend a few hundred thousand dollars for the purchase of American mules.

The people of the United States are with President Roosevelt in his endeavor to have the federal anti-trust and interstate commerce laws enforced and to teach railroads that after all they are not bigger than their creators, the people. This thing of a great big railroad company being too fat and saucy is not relished by the people of this country to any great extent.

The city of Santa Fe will not lose anything by giving free of cost to the Santa Fe Central Railway the ground necessary for a depot, office buildings, shops and round houses for the business of the company. It is simply a business proposition. The money spent in securing the land required will be returned to the city many fold in various directions and ways.

A typographical error once in a while is unavoidable in a newspaper and the best of newspapers make them. It is a vast difference when an error makes at times, however, when compared with what the correct sense should have been. A Dona Anna county paper for instance, last week, solemnly informs its readers that the temperature at Las Cruces at times goes up to 1,000 degrees. This does not mean at election time that Las Cruces is the stepping off place to Hades, but that one cypher too many crept in those figures, for Las Cruces has as fine a climate as any to be found in New Mexico.

The New Mexican understands that there are a great many people in New York and other eastern states who would like to visit palaces, but object to wearing knee breeches, silk stockings and small swords on such visits. To these people the New Mexican desires to say that there is a palace right here in Santa Fe over 300 years of age and that they can come here and visit the same to their hearts content without arraying themselves in knee breeches, silk stockings and small sword.

The agricultural experiment station at Mesilla Park has demonstrated again and again that the average New Mexican orchard would do better if only one-quarter of the amount of irrigation water applied to it were used and if instead of overirrigation, the ground around the trees were frequently cultivated. Owners of orchards should heed that advice. It would save water at times when water is very precious and it may help orchards over droughts from which they would suffer otherwise. It does not seem to be overestimating a fact when it is asserted that more damage to crops is done in New Mexico by too much irrigation than by drought.

Of late years, in the United States, the prestige and influence of the executive has gained at the expense of the legislative branch of the government. The Springfield Republican has been discussing what it calls the decline in the influence of the national house of representatives. It says that the presidency is more or less looked upon as the whole government just as in Germany the Kaiser and his ministers are considered practically the entire government. In Great Britain, on the other hand, parliament has become nearly everything, while the king occupies a place of comparative small importance. This impression has no doubt been caused because of late years the president and congress have worked in harmony and therefore there has been less parliamentary and political wrangling than in years in which the president and one or both houses of congress were of different political complexion. That this harmony has been of great benefit to this nation is shown by the prevailing prosperity and the gigantic advancement the nation has made at home and abroad.

WHAT PRINCE HENRY MIGHT HAVE SEEN.

Now that Prince Henry has gone, the Atlanta Constitution expresses some righteous indignation because the prince was shown only what is worst at this time of the year in the United States. "They took him," says the Constitution, "through about the coldest succession of snow scenes and dissolving views of fog banks, floods and frost bitten population that this country affords. His chiefest idea concerning the United States must be that when we are not frozen up we are at least. The board of bumology whooped him around New York through snow drifts nine feet deep, whisked him about the national capital in one of those Washington rains that make the faith in the Noahian deluge easy, slammed him into a washout at Philadelphia and carried him into Chattanooga under conditions that made Lookout Mountain seem like a peak of salvation," not to speak of the visit to the fog and smoke stricken Chicago and the frozen Boston.

Instead the prince might have been shown Charleston and its splendid exposition exhibiting the wealth of the West Indies and the southern states, he might have basked beneath the palms of old San Augustine and made a trip to dreamy and yet enterprising New Orleans with its rose gardens a bloom. He might have come to Santa Fe and viewed the oldest city in the United States, revealed in its magnificent scenery and breathed its invigorating air after a trip through the gloomy Land of Sunshine he might have called at Los Angeles and wandered amidst its flower gardens and have gone to the Pacific shore and taken a dip into the briny deep. It is dollars to doughnuts his impression of this country after such a trip would have been more like what it ought to have been.

UNNECESSARY ALARM.

There is unnecessary alarm in some quarters that the residence of health-seekers or the establishment of sanitariums in New Mexico is detrimental to the health of the people. Theoretically it does seem that the distribution of the health of every person in the territory. In fact, if the tubercle germ is as dangerous to every one in good health as some people have been led to believe, the southwest would soon be a big graveyard for it is impossible to escape the germ. They float in the atmosphere everywhere and if the number of careless health-seekers in Santa Fe alone is a criterion, every man, woman and child in this city should have consumption by this time. But the danger of contagion or infection from consumption has been greatly magnified. Even in the east, where conditions are more unfavorable than in Santa Fe, many eminent physicians doubt that consumption is infectious or contagious. They rightly argue, that if it were, there wouldn't be a soul living in New York, Philadelphia, Boston or any of the large cities within ten years. In the southwest the danger is still less, for the germs can not live in the sunshine or in the aseptic air of the high lands. A person must have some lesion to become infected from the germs even if he takes them directly from someone ill with tuberculosis. It is true, that the death rate from consumption has greatly increased among those native born in Denver, for instance, but that is not so much due to the many health-seekers coming to that city but from the crowding and huddling together of humanity, the increase of poverty which always follows the rapid growth of a city, the establishment of smelters and manufacturing establishments, and the greater number of people who have indoor employment. Science has lately frowned upon the idea that breathing in a tubercle germ is necessarily followed by consumption, even in the unfavorable climate of the east; and in the southwest a case arising from actual infection or contagion is so rare that but few if any person has ever heard of it. New Mexico can welcome health-seekers and sanitariums without fear that their coming will make the territory any less healthful than it is today.

THE LARGER HALF.

The Same in Santa Fe as Elsewhere. The bigger half of worldly trouble. The greater part of mankind's suffering.

Can safely be laid to the kidneys. Kidneys filter the blood. Keep the human system healthy. But they can't do this when they're sick. Easy to tell sick kidneys. Look at the back for the note of warning. Most backache pains are kidney ills. Twitches, twinges, pains and aches of a bad back. Should be treated promptly. Every day's delay means future trouble. Urinary complications set in, diabetes, Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills are kidney specialists. Cure every form of kidney ills. Here is proof of this:

Mrs. M. Meyers, midwife, living at 112 South 14th street, St. Louis, says: "Perhaps in following my calling, from lifting, or from some other cause, I may have overstrained the muscles of my back. Be that as it may, I have had attacks of backache for two years and lately almost constant. It hurt more in the morning than in any other period of the day and has on more than one occasion been so severe that I could scarcely turn in bed. I know from the condition of the kidney secretions that my kidneys were at fault but what to do was a mystery. I was continually trying sure-cure medicines to cure kidney complaint, but I met with very little if any success until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. From the benefits I received from the treatment I have not the slightest hesitation in very emphatically endorsing the preparation. I have studied medicine and understand the symptoms of kidney complaint. No one in St. Louis if they try Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney complaint will be disappointed in the results."

Just such emphatic endorsement can be had right here in Santa Fe. Drop into Ireland's Pharmacy and ask what his customers report.

HAVING A RUN ON CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.
Between the hours of eleven o'clock a. m. and closing time at night on Jan. 25, 1901, A. F. Clark, druggist, Glade Springs, Va., sold twelve bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says, "I never handled a medicine that sold better or gave better satisfaction to my customers." This remedy has been in general use in Virginia for many years, and the people there are well acquainted with its excellent qualities. Many of them have testified to the remarkable cures which it has effected. When you need a good, reliable medicine for a cough or cold, or attack of the grip, use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and you are certain to be more than pleased with the quick cure which it affords. For sale by Fischer Drug Company.

She waited for him to come back, and he did.

"The new plan escaped your memory, didn't it?" said Mrs. Johnson.

"I guess not," said Mr. Johnson, shortly. "I went home to get a clean handkerchief, that's all. And as I didn't find one and had to buy one, after all, in spite of the fact that I've bought some 2,000 handkerchiefs since the first of January, I suppose the cat has eaten 'em all up."

"There are at least two dozen in your drawer," said Mrs. Johnson.

"Are, hey?" said Mr. Johnson. "All I found in my drawer were three of your veils and a couple of pairs of your gloves and about 37 yards of that 15-cent lace you bought yesterday because the man who put it on his bargain counter needed the money. But never mind about that. Where are we going to eat? I'm ravenous."

"Oh, any place," said Mrs. Johnson.

"Oh, that's all the interest you have in the scheme, is it?" said Mr. Johnson.

"You don't care whether I'm faint from hunger or not, do you?"

"How about the?" suggested Mrs. Johnson, naming one of the hotel restaurants.

"How about moving the Waldorf-Astoria down here?" said Mr. Johnson.

"I hope you haven't become possessed of the idea," Mrs. Johnson, that I'm going to pay about $12.85 a day for our dinners, have you? Because I'm not going to do any such thing. Come on, I know where we'll go. We'll go to—"

They don't put on many lugs down there, but they give you enough to eat without assessing you a week's wages for it."

So they went to—a. It was very hot, and by the time they arrived there they were perspiring and uncomfortable. Mrs. Johnson particularly so in her new, tight-fitting foulard dress.

It was just after the department had closed, and the restaurant was so filled that they had difficulty in getting seats at all, and the places they did finally secure were about 40 feet out of range of the electric fans. Mr. Johnson gave vent to numerous "Huh!" over this, but he picked up the regular dinner bill of fare and beckoned a waiter. The waiter looked Mr. Johnson over carefully and went on about his business. When we passed that way again a few moments later Mr. Johnson snapped his fingers for him again, this time somewhat savagely. The waiter approached the table and inclined his ear.

"Thanks for letting me catch your eye, after sitting here for four solid hours," said Mr. Johnson, sarcastically, to the waiter. "Dye think you could let us have a bite to eat, now, if we eat real humble?"

"Yessuh," said the waiter. "Ah'll be back dis-uh-way shetly, suh," and then the waiter went off. After about 12 minutes he again got within Mr. Johnson's finger-snapping range—Mr. Johnson was meantime growling things under his breath that caused the people at the other tables to look around at him—and once more the waiter approached the Johnsons' table.

"Look-a-here," said Mr. Johnson to the waiter, "do we get anything to eat here, or don't we?"

"Yessuh. Ah'se uh-waitin' fo' yo'all's obduh, suh," said the waiter.

"Two regular dinners," said Mr. Johnson.

"De reg'uh dinnuh, suh," said the waiter. "Is suhved at five o'clock, suh, ah' hit's only uh quashuh 't five now, suh. Ef yo'all's want uh wait, suh, Ah'll tek yo' obduh an'—"

"Madam," said Mr. Johnson to Mrs. Johnson, rising sternly and taking his hat, "we shall take our immediate departure from this place," and then he clomped out, Mrs. Johnson following him.

"Where are we going now?" said Mrs. Johnson, when they got outside.

"Where are we going, madam?" said Mr. Johnson, in a tone of suppressed fury. "Where else are we going but home? We are going home to get something to eat, that's where we are going, Mrs. Johnson. And the next time you wheedle me into giving my consent to any such idiotic scheme as this—the next time you succeed in bamboozling me into abandoning the comforts of a home that I have slaved and toiled for years to get together—the next time you put up a job like this on me, for the sake of getting out of the necessity of seeing that your husband's dinner is cooked and served for him under his own vine and fig tree—there's going to be a schism and a split in the Johnson family, Mrs. Johnson, and when it's all over I won't be the one wearing the sackcloth and ashes!"

Then the Johnsons went home and dined on canned salmon, sardines, Neufchatel cheese, crackers and tea.—Washington Star.

Wholesome Discipline.
Perhaps fagging in English schools is the one medicine for snobbishness in a land where classes are rigidly defined. For at least a short period in his early life, the "noble lord of high degree" is no better than anybody else. An old Harrow boy says that he can never forget a certain clergyman's look of blank astonishment when he was told that the magnate of his neighborhood had been a breakfast fag at school, and had been "whopped" by his fag master for dropping sardine oil into the teapot. When Lord M., who became a duke, was at Westminster school, he bought something from an apple woman, and gave her sixpence, out of which she handed back the change. "You may keep them," said his lordship, refusing the pennies. "I never carry coppers." An older boy, a senior, was looking on, and asked him why he refused the change. "Coppers are a horrid bore," said Lord M.—"I can't be troubled with them." Then the big boy sent for a sixpenny worth of halfpence, and ordered his "lud"ship to carry them in his trousers pocket, ready to be produced on demand.—Youth's Companion.

CAN'T KEEP IT SECRET.

Risking Life

To make a living! And we stand and stare up at the man in the clouds, wondering that any man can be so foolhardy. But what of the business man, who has barely time to snatch a hasty meal, and gulps down a lunch of pie and milk in a few minutes? He too, is risking his life to make a living. Life is sustained by food, properly digested and assimilated. The result of hasty eating and irregular meals is "weak" stomach, and a "weak" stomach means a weak man. When the stomach is "weak" the food eaten is not properly digested and cannot be perfectly assimilated, so that there is a daily loss of nutrition, which in time will result in physical collapse.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the assimilation of all the nutritive values of the food eaten, and so builds up the body into sound health and strength.

Mr. Ned Nelson, the celebrated Irish comedian and mimic of 37 Boyden Street, Camden, N. J., writes: "We fulfilled an engagement of five weeks and the constant traveling gave me a bad touch of that dreaded disease called dyspepsia. I had tried everything possible to cure it till last week, while playing at B. P. Keith's Bijou Theater, Philadelphia, in the Nelson Trio, a professional friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I tried it, and, thank God, with good results."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Even a crook may cast a straight shadow.

COULD NOT BREATHE.
Coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, other throat and lung troubles are quickly cured by One Minute Cough Cure. One Minute Cough Cure is not a mere expectorant, which gives only temporary relief. It softens and liquefies the mucous, draws out the inflammation and removes the cause of the disease. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. "One Minute Cough Cure will do all that is claimed for it," says Justice of the Peace J. Q. Hood, Crosby, Miss. "My wife could not get breath and was relieved by the first dose. It has been a benefit to all my family." Fischer Drug Company.

WOULD SMASH THE CLUB.
If members of the "Hay Fever Association" would use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the club would go to pieces, for it always cures this malady, and asthma, the kind that baffles the doctors, it wholly drives from the system. Thousands of once-hopeless sufferers from consumption, pneumonia, bronchitis owe their lives and health to it. It conquers grip, saves little ones from croup and whooping cough, and is positively guaranteed for all throat and lung troubles; 50c, $1. Trial bottles free at Fischer Drug Company.

THE VICE OF NAGGING.
Clouds the happiness of the home, but a nagging woman often needs help. She may be so nervous and run-down in health that trifles annoy her. If she is melancholy, excitable, troubled with loss of appetite, headache, sleeplessness, constipation or fainting and dizzy spells, she needs Electric Bitters, the most wonderful remedy for all women. Thousands of sufferers from female troubles, nervous troubles, backache and weak kidneys have used it, and become healthy and happy. Try it. Only 50c. Fischer Drug Company.
