New Mexico demands Statehood from the Fifty-Seventh Congress.

For Governor of New Mexico from June 7, 1901, to June 7, 1905, Miguel A. Otero.

The New Mexico Territorial Fair will be held in Albuquerque from October 15th to October 19th. Premium List will aggregate $10,000.

ALBUQUERQUE — JUNE 11, 1901

Two or three hangings in Grant county would be beneficial.

The court of private land claims will convene in Santa Fe to approve surveys of land grants on July 9.

The Missouri society will be composed of all natives of that state residing in this territory. The ladies are invited to attend the meeting to-morrow evening.

"Constitution and despair have given place to faith and courage, the voice of calamity is no longer heard in the land, and the orator of distress and discontent is out of a job."

—William McKinley.

The English language is marching on. Australia is now the third largest English-speaking country in the world. By the recent census, English is spoken by 120,000,000 people in the United States and the British Empire.

Andrew Carnegie has given away nearly $12,000,000 in the United States and about $5,000,000 in Scotland. This probably puts him at the head of the world's philanthropists, so far as the amount of his benefactions is concerned.

Virginia will convene a constitutional convention on June 12th. It will consist of eighty-eight democrats as delegates and eleven republicans. Its complexion, it is said, will be strictly "white," which means that the colored man is relegated to a back seat in the electorate.

The Wall Street Journal gives some quotations of twenty railroad stocks as the basis for averaging a list of prices at different periods of the past eight months. The average price before the November election was 73.77; December 31, 94.99; May 1, 117.86; May 9 (after the panic), 102.37; June 1, 114.81.

In view of the pending discussion as to the government of the Philippines it is interesting to note that the total revenues from customs duties in the island for February were $1,455,359, as compared with $463,956 for February, 1899, and $724,024 for the same month in 1900. The increase over last year is more than 100 per cent.

STATUS OF TERRITORIES.

"Territories appointed," they are now—just far enough in to be taxed, but not far enough in for their people to vote."—The Richmond Dispatch. What territory was ever yet anything but far enough in to be taxed, but not far enough in for their people to vote? The Porto Ricans vote on local affairs. The Arizonians and New Mexicans can do no more.—Phoenix Republican.

SHEEP ON FOREST RESERVES.

The action of the administration in permitting some 150,000 sheep to be run on the Big Horn forest reserve in northern Wyoming will be approved by western men. Within certain limits its grazing sheep on the forest reserves is not injurious, and as far as that is true the pastures of such forests should be placed at the disposal of stockholders.

The subject has been investigated by the department of agriculture and it seems that the result shows that this use of a forest pasture may in some cases be permitted with safety. In a forest of large trees there is less reason to protect the young tree shoots than in cases where the growth has been destroyed by fire or other means.

NEWSPAPER ACCURACY.

Sometimes one hears the statement made about flippantly, but occasionally in seriousness, that newspapers deliberately misstate facts. Such statements may be credited by the uninformed, but anyone who has ever been connected with the news department of a big daily newspaper knows how far they are from the truth.

The Tampa, Florida, Tribune, in discussing the question, says:

"There is hardly a reputable newspaper in the entire United States at present which does not make a determined attempt to obtain just what are the facts concerning every item it prints. They are very difficult to obtain. Frequently, for instance, in the matter of an interview, a man will say a thing, and when he sees it in print he will not admit its truth. Two men may witness the same incident, and as is frequently shown by cases in court, one will contradict the other. You have experts testifying on scientific matters, and they will come to opposite conclusions. Even if you have one-half dozen historians in the calm of university libraries at their leisure, in their accounts of the same historical event no two of them will be likely to agree. So it is not at all surprising that when a day's history of the world, fired at Maxim gun speed by 500 reporters and correspondents, is put to press sizzling hot, there will occasionally be found in it a statement in which more leisurely investigation can find error, but the public might as well keep in mind that even if the newspaper preferred to be inaccurate, it would find it had policy.

"There is nothing which adds to the reputation of a newspaper like printing the truth."

OFFICIAL NOTES.

Land Office Business—Agent Appointed—New Incorporations.

The Midnight Sun Mining and Development company of Tazewell, notified Territorial Secretary J. W. Reynolds that it has appointed Chas. F. Easley, of Santa Fe, its New Mexico agent.

SESSION OF SUPREME COURT.

The territorial supreme court will not meet in Santa Fe on June 18 next, as was heretofore announced. The date of the session has been changed to October 1, 1901, when court will meet and hand down decisions agreed upon.

LAND OFFICE BUSINESS.

The federal land office at Santa Fe is being rushed with business. With Monday morning's mail, business enough arrived to keep the register and the receiver and their clerks busy for four days. Especially from Guadalupe and Colfax counties the land entries are very heavy. Coal entries are so manifold more than in previous years. This looks as if New Mexico is making rapid strides forward and is settling up quickly.

REBATE OF REVENUE TAXES.

Manufacturers of cigars in tobacco, snuff or cigars who have on and on July 1, 1901, a sufficient amount of stock to entitle them to a rebate of 10 or more, should apply to the collector of internal revenue of their district for the proper blanks in which to make claims for rebate. Residents of New Mexico or Arizona should apply to Judge A. L. Morrison, of Santa Fe, for blanks in time to make inventories on July 1, 1901. The rebate on cigars weighing more than three pounds per thousand is 60 cents per thousand; on cigars weighing three pounds or less per thousand, 15 cents per thousand; on manufactured tobacco or snuff, 2.4 cents.

INCORPORATIONS.

The New Mexico Mining and Petroleum company filed an amended incorporation notice in the office of the territorial secretary. The incorporators are Cornelius T. Jordan and Robert Elwood, of Las Cruces; J. F. Powell, E. E. Brown, John L. Dyer, Jr., and N. Buckner, of El Paso. The object of the company is to engage in mining, smelting and boring for oil. Capital, $500,000, divided into 500,000 shares. Headquarters at Las Cruces. The Modoc Canal company of Arizona filed incorporation papers in the office of Territorial Secretary Reynolds. The incorporators and directors are Benjamin Echols, A. Layton and T. J. Nation, of Graham county, Arizona. Object, to construct irrigation works and to operate flouring and grist mills.

Can you give any valid reason for declining to take a Life Policy in THE EQUITABLE?

Thousands of hard working men have struggled and economized to pay for a home, and had it not paid for, but death took them off and that mortgage forced the property upon the market and sacrificed it, and so the little all was lost. What a prize in such a case would a Life Policy have been! The more you need money, the more this protection is worth to you. If you, living, find it hard to make both ends meet, how do you think your family are going to do it when you are dead.

ANOTHER MURDER.

Grant County Adds Another Bloody Crime to its Long List.

INTERESTING PARAGRAPHS.

Special Correspondence.

Silver City, N. M., June 10.—Another murder was added to the already long list committed in Grant county, at the mining camp of Pinos Altos on last Saturday evening. Sunday morning a Mexican named Trinidad Paraja was found lying in the middle of the main street of the camp with his head crushed to a pulp by a sharp ax.

Trinidad Paraja, who was a resident of Fred. Newman, whose residence is directly opposite the scene of the murder, and during the night he was awakened by voices in the street and heard someone cry out, "Don't kill me," but being very sleepy did not get up. The Mexican who was killed was a wood chopper in a wood camp just above Pinos Altos, and he was with several other members of the Mexicans working at the wood camp had in the early part of the evening been seen in some of the saloons drinking. When the murdered man was found he had a small bottle half full of whiskey on his person. Three Mexicans, named Jasper P. Sandoval, Indalecio Portillo and a doro Portillo, were arrested and brought into Silver City Sunday. It is stated that the sheriff is after another Mexican, who is thought was mixed up in the affair.

Mrs. A. B. Laird, who has been visiting her relative in Sterling, Kansas, for the past month, returned home Sunday.

Will Carvill met with a very painful accident the other night by stepping off the sidewalk and spraining his knee very seriously.

Charles Spann, who is one of Silver City's young men, but now employed at Clinton, Arizona, was passing on today's incoming train. It is reported that Charlie will be wed to one of this city's prominent society young ladies before he returns.

At the last meeting of the board of regents of the normal school Mrs. A. Sandoval tendered her resignation to the board as a member of the faculty, which was accepted with regret. Resolutions were passed appreciative of her valuable services.

During the time she was a teacher in that institution, Miss Sarah Ellis, of Franklin, Ind., was elected to fill the place of Mrs. Sandoval. She was elected to the board of the valuable services of Miss Alice Bailey, who was made a regular member of the faculty.

Silver City is to have a new park which, it is said, will rival any in the southwest. The well known Central merchants have opened a branch store in the prosperous mining camp of Pinos.

The Grant county board of commissioners met the latter part of last week as a board of equalization to canvass the assessment returns of the present year.

Mrs. James S. Carter and children returned from quite an extended pleasure trip to Washington, D. C., on a visit to relatives, at San Antonio, Tex.

Several citizens have reported that they have been held up on their way home late at night by some unknown parties during the last week and the city marshal is on the outlook for the gang.

The Santa Rita base ball club has challenged the Silver City club to play a game of base ball at Santa Rita on the Fourth of July for a hundred dollar prize.

P. R. Smith, the Deming capitalist and mining promoter, was in the city yesterday on business matters.

Ira D. Reckard, Dannebrog, Iowa, writes: "My little boy scalded his leg from the knee to the ankle. I used Bannan Salve immediately and in three weeks time it was almost entirely healed. I want to recommend it to every family and advise them to keep Bannan Salve on hand, as it is a sure remedy for scalds or any sores." Alvaredo Pharmacy.

ADDRESS OF R. W. D. BRYAN.

Delivered at the Graves of Departed Woodmen Sunday, June 9.

Sovereigns of Albuquerque Lodge, Woodmen of the World.

We, the living, assemble today about the graves of the dead. In this silent, but steadily growing city lie the mortal remains of our brothers who, but lately mingled with us. We recall them to-day. We bring them from memory's recesses and hold them in our mental vision. We see them as they were in health before dread disease cast over their lineaments the spectral hue of death. We think of those charms of person and those mental traits that endeared them to us. We seem to feel the hearty handshake in their fraternal greeting. We watch those sparkling eyes and that expressive smile as thought, responsive to our thought, seeks utterance.

"Thought leapt out to wed with thought. Ere thought could wed itself with speech."

Something within the body of our brother appealed to something similar within us. We are sure that, while working in and through this mechanism we call the body, it was distinct from it. We reason and think daily of and with this other self, assuming its life and very being as different from the body which we soon decay when life is extinct.

"Within this wall of flesh there is a soul, counts the host of creators." Most of us recognize its existence and acknowledge its claims. We regard it as the individual. We speak of the body as the house in which the soul dwells for a time. We look upon death not only as the end of mortal life, but as the time when the soul separates from the body.

I am not here to discuss religious theories or psychological questions, or to propound any new science of life. I speak only of our common beliefs and of my personal views.

I repeat that these graves, on which we today scatter flowers, never did contain our brothers, but merely the shell—the outward form in which they presented themselves to our physical senses. Our brothers themselves are not here. We shall search these graves and this place of the tomb in vain. They were not here. They are not here.

Then to the grave I turned me to see what therein lay.

'Twas the garment of the Christian, smooth and soft and strong and gay.

Wherefore this suggestive service? Why these flowers, emblematic of beautiful life? Must we be content solely to recall the friends as they were in life? Does this day do nothing more than awaken memories? Is it for this alone that we, the living, assemble to-day about the graves of the dead? I think not.

We come here not in the habitations of woe. We do not mourn. We are saddened as we recall our griefs, but we think of our brothers as living. Untrammelled by their fleshy prison house they may be all about us at this moment, conscious of this our devotion. Their sympathy and help may be extended in our behalf and prove

Have You Been Ill?

If very sick, you had a doctor. That's right. We believe in doctors. They are among our best friends.

Now that you are recovering, don't you think that a bottle or two of Ayer's Sarsaparilla would do you great good? Ask your doctor about it and do just as he says.

We believe he will tell you that this blood-purifying and nerve-strengthening medicine is just what you need.

It will certainly take out all the impurities in your blood, caused by your sickness, and will make you feel better in every way. $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

And add from all their dreams, thoughts, acts, better.

A few more inches to a coral reef. In this life without end we shall have time to meet and thoroughly know each other, and to be united in the realms of the blessed, no better than we came. These pure flowers have spoken to our hearts of light, beauty, love and truth. If no words of mine had aroused thoughts of that better self within, these mass blossoms of God should have drawn from material things to the beauties of the spirit.

As we depart from this high tableland of privilege and go down into the valley of our ordinary existence, let us cherish the noble aspirations that our visit to these graves has aroused. Let us brighten for ourselves and others the oftentimes dull and sin-stained daily life of toil and struggle, with the bright blossoms of hope and faith.

Let our efforts be to feed, nourish and develop our immortal souls. This mortal life must soon end. Here, shortly, in this "acre of God" all that is mortal of us will be placed. Why work and worry for place and pelf, for time that soon will be no more for us?

Every condition promulges not only itself; it promulges what grows after and out of itself; And the dark husk promulges as much as the seed.

Let us show wisdom by strengthening and beautifying that part of us—the soul—which will live forever. Such work done now will endure. Such development will progress, unceasingly, forever. Should we here receive an invitation to the banquet of the soul, this solemn memorial service will not have been in vain. These "sweet letters of the angel tongue," as they lie on these graves, surely, will have been read correctly. These glimpses we have had into the great unknown will prove to us glorious visions of what we will be by day, until we pass into the perfect day.

This association with our departed brothers will be a foretaste of that eternal communion in the spirit world of joy and peace and love.

The oil excitement has not struck here as yet, though oil indications are known to exist in a number of places near us; with our vast coal area, it is almost sure to be found when drills are put down to a depth necessary to show what the earth contains.

Saves Two From Death. "Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well. Dyspepsia cannot be long lived, because to live requires nourishment. Food is not nourishment until it is digested. A disordered stomach cannot digest food, it must have assistance. It is announced from El Paso that the El Paso and Pecos oil company, which owns a large acreage in the lower valley, will commence at once to bore several shallow wells for water and experimental purposes, and that a contract has been let to Los Angeles drillers to put down the well just as soon as possible. It will be a close race between these people and the Carlsbad oil men as to which will first get to boring and get the first oil flow.

Chief Engineer B. T. Killough finished the surveying of a large tract of the irrigation company's lands, situated south of Black River. The tract consists of about twelve sections of grass lands in township 25 south, range 28 east, and has been leased to Claiborne Merchant, the Black River stockman, for pasturage purposes.

Mr. Killough reported to Mr. Merchant that the surveying was completed. All old-time residents will remember "Old Bob" Marlin, a contractor who lived here several years, and will also recall that he was killed in the earthquake in 1892 by James E. Cole. Cole was tried at Alamogordo, last week and the jury disagreed, the being for a verdict of murder in the second degree and two for acquittal. Cole was released on $5,000 bond until fall, when he will have another trial. "Bob" Marlin was a big-hearted, popular man, but addicted to drink and apt to "raise Cain" when on one of his rages.

Quick Relief for Asthma. Miss Maude Dickson, Parsons, Kansas, writes: "I suffered eight years with asthma in its worst form. Women suffering from headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, fainting and dizzy spells will find it a priceless blessing. Try it. Satisfaction is guaranteed by J. H. Unnecessary Loss of Time. Mr. W. S. Whedon, cashier of the First National Bank of Waterloo, Iowa, in a recent letter, gives some experience with a carpenter in his employ, that will be of value to other mechanics.

He says: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea. I mentioned to him that I had Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought a bottle of it from the drug store here, and he is again at his work." Chas. Featherston has been telling El Paso newspaper reporters of one strange line the Marlin mine was making. He said the mine was making $250 in gold to the pound. It was probably some of this stuff that was sent to Denver for treatment.

W. A. Sheppard writes his family that he is in good spirits and will soon be back in San Marcial, where he was charged with murder for which he is now on trial. The state has no tangible evidence against him.

The El Paso estate was auctioned at Socorro by Administrator H. Bonem. The bidding was not very spirited and only three citizens—Frank Armstrong, A. Schley and George C. Ely—displayed a disposition to buy. The property was knocked down to Frank Armstrong at $2,100. The creditors will probably receive about ninety cents on the dollar.

Mrs. J. C. Brown died at the home of her son, Courtland Brown, of pneumonia. Several months ago the deceased moved to Kansas with her husband. After contracting the malady Courtland brought her back to San Marcial, hoping for a favorable change of climate. She died at her home, and medical skill and the best of nursing brought no relief until the final summons came.

A Good Cough Medicine. It speaks well for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy when druggists use it in their own families in preference to all other cough medicines. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past five years with complete satisfaction to many of our customers, says Dr. J. H. Goldsmith, an Eastern physician, "I have always used it in my own family and for ordinary coughs and colds and for whooping cough, in children, it is very efficacious. For sale by all druggists.
