ALBUQUERQUE: A SELECTIVE READING LIST

GLENN R. SCHWEGMANN

AND NANCY M. BROWN

The following selective bibliography is intended primarily for nonspecialists. We have limited the listing to those published and unpublished items we think the most significant or useful on the history of Albuquerque. For a much more extensive guide to materials about Albuquerque we highly recommend Jan Dodson Barnhart's bibliography listed below. Her lengthy listing will be useful to scholars, students, and buffs. Our much briefer listing is divided into five parts: bibliographies, unpublished materials, books: non-fiction, books: fiction, and essays. For aid in compiling this listing we are indebted to Annabelle Oczon and the staff of the department of special collections at the University of New Mexico Library.
