Injunction Against Big Smelting Company.

Shareholders Object to Guggenheim Refinery.

White and Chinese Miners Entombed in a Mine.

LATEST FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

New York, Feb. 15.—A temporary injunction was served today on the officers of the Smelting and Refining company, who were present at the company's meeting in Jersey City, restraining them from increasing the capital stock. The injunction will be argued next Tuesday before Vice Chancellor Stevens. The officers of the company desired to increase the capital stock in order to take in the Guggenheim refinery. The complaint on which the temporary injunction was issued, alleges the American Smelting and Refining company had no surplus or working capital on January 1, 1901, and that instead, on that date, its capital was actually to a considerable extent impaired. It is also alleged in the complaint that the Guggenheim property is not worth more than $10,000,000, and the purchase is proposed to be made by the issue of new stock of the American Smelting and Refining company to the extent of $10,000,000 on a basis of 80 per cent for preferred and 20 per cent for common stock. It is also declared in the complaint that the proposed purchase would establish a monopoly in the business of smelting and refining gold and silver ores in the United States and Mexico, and would therefore be subject to all the penalties prescribed by the statutes of the United States against trusts. Affidavits are attached to the complaint in support of the allegations made. The meeting at which the injunction was served was a special one called for the purpose of increasing the capital stock from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000. No business had been transacted when the injunction was presented and the meeting took a recess until later in the day. The restraining order was obtained in behalf of S. V. White & Co., holders of 400 shares of common and fifty shares of preferred stock. Wm. H. Curtis, owner of 600 shares; A. Sartorius, holder of 500 shares; and Wm. Donnelly and Henry Zellman, owner of 100 shares each. Hearing on the injunction will be held in Newark.

MINERS ENTOMBED.

Unsuccessful Efforts to Rescue Miners in the Union Mine.

Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 15.—Every effort to rescue forty white miners and twenty-five Chinese entombed in the Union mine has so far been unsuccessful. Work had to be stopped last night after the second explosion and the difficulties of reaching the men are even greater than ever before. There is a hundred feet of coal and debris to bore through yet to reach the workings and there is little hope of any men to be found alive. Thirty men are sent down at a time and they remain only fifteen minutes. Even when some of the rescuing party are taken out they are dead. They are immediately replaced by new men. Aid is being sent from Victoria, Nanaimo and nearby cities.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 15.—The rescue parties have so far failed to reach the entombed miners in the Union mine. The officials have decided as a final resort to flood the mine.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 15.—Archbishop Kane has issued a letter which will be read in all Catholic churches to-morrow, explaining the prevalence of grip, all Catholics of this diocese may consider themselves entirely exempt from the obligation of fasting during Lent, but not from the obligation of abstinence, unless on the advice of their physicians. The letter is based upon the advice of prominent priests and physicians.

OUT OF POLITICS.

Owing to Physical Weakness Richard Croker Will Not Re-enter Politics.

London, Feb. 15.—Intimate friends of Richard Croker openly declare he will never re-enter active political life in America. Those who have seen Croker recently noticed his general physical weakness, which is said to be from nervous melancholia.

"EARTHQUAKE AMONG MINISTERS."

The Chinese Imperial Court Flatly Refuse Further Executions.

New York, Feb. 15.—A dispatch to the Herald from Peking says: The new turn in the peace negotiations caused a diplomatic earthquake among the ministers. An almost insupportable note from the court arrived, daily refusing any further execution than the two previously decreed.

It is bluntly stated that no further initiative will be permitted to Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching, who are regarded for having failed to protect vigorously against the demand of the ministers for six executions. The imperial government says the powers are out of their hands and cannot be satisfied.

CRISTOBAL ARMIJO.

One of Albuquerque's Old Timers Died Last Night.

FUNERAL MONDAY MORNING.

It again becomes the painful duty of The Citizen to chronicle the death of one of Albuquerque's oldest and most respected citizens in the person of Cristobal Armijo, at his residence in Old Albuquerque last night. The deceased had reached the ripe old age of 82 years, having been born at Old Albuquerque and passed his entire life in New Mexico, with the exception of business trips to the United States prior to the advent of railroads in this country, making his journey by long trains of ox teams and with armed guards for defense against hostile Indians, who in the early days infested the plains. The old gentleman had passed through many exciting and harrowing adventures in the early days, but escaped unscathed through all of them, though many times by a hair's breadth.

The deceased was a nephew of General Manuel Armijo, the last governor of this territory under Mexican rule, and was a commander of the Mexican government forces when the United States acquired the territory. The family is related to all the prominent native families, more closely to the Penas, Chaveses, Armijs, Sandovals, Montoya and Mieras.

Notwithstanding he led a busy life and always displayed an active interest in public affairs, Mr. Armijo could never be prevailed upon to become a candidate for any public office other than county commissioner, serving on the board that built the present Bernalillo county court house.

The only surviving member of his immediate family is a daughter, who is married to Felipe N. Baca y Miera, of El Paso, Texas. There is also an adopted son, Donato Baca, who, together with Mrs. Baca, were with the deceased through his last illness, administering to his every want and bestowing the utmost tenderness and care.

The funeral will be held from the residence at 9 a. m. Monday, proceeding to the church of San Felipe de Neri, thence to Santa Barbara cemetery, where the remains will be deposited in their final resting place. The friends of the family are invited to attend the obsequies.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Mrs. C. J. McGregor and children, from Torreon, out west, are in the city today.

J. S. Johnston and family, of Gallup, are in the city today, enjoying metropolitan life.

Tickets for the "Human Hearts" show at the opera house next Monday night were placed on sale this afternoon and will be on sale also to-morrow. Remember the place—D. A. Matson & Co.'s stationery store on Railroad avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Oreste Bachechi have issued neatly printed invitations to the baptism of their son, Victor Hugo Bachechi, which will occur at the Christoforo Colombo hotel, on North Second street to-morrow (Sunday) evening, at 8 o'clock. An enjoyable time is guaranteed to all who have received invitations and will attend.

The unspectacular people of Albuquerque, while walking along the street yesterday, were often noticed to stop, bend over and pick up a little kep which had been thrown down by the advertising men of E. L. Washburn, the bustling general furnisher and clothier on Second street. The advertisement is all right and it cost considerable fun yesterday.

J. W. Herrick, "Butterfly Joe," of Pueblo, and C. "Candy" Jones, of Denver, both representing wholesale confectionery establishments, were interviewing the local trade today, each of the gentlemen reporting their efforts so productive of orders they will remain up until the COAL AT SAN ANTONIO.

The Colorado Fuel and Iron Company Will Work Coal Beds.

An official of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company announces that the results of the company's search for coal near San Antonio, Socorro county, have been eminently satisfactory. Drilling has been going on for some time, and the investigators are satisfied that coal exists in sufficient quantities to warrant the establishment of an engine works. One vein is fully four feet in width. From all indications the supply of coal in the field is inexhaustible. What is of the greatest importance is that the coal proves to be of excellent cooking quality. There is not at the present time a single ton of cooking coal to be obtained in the territory. The small vein at Madrid has entirely run out, and the extensive works of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company at that place are operated by means of coal brought from Colorado. The demand for coal and coke in Mexico, Arizona and New Mexico is very great. The fields are only a few miles from the Santa Fe railway, and the intention of the company is to build a branch to connect with that road at San Antonio. The company will begin actual mining at once, putting on teams to haul coal to the station until the branch can be constructed.

"Human Hearts" Coming.

Hal Reid's play "Human Hearts," replete with interest, mirth and pathos, will be presented at the Nether opera house, Monday, February 18, and no lover of the drama should fail to attend the performance. But few traveling companies carry so much so elaborate a scenery. No expense has been spared in the effort to make this performance in every way artistically realistic. One breathes the atmosphere of the simple farm life, and one's heart throbs with the sufferings of plain country folks, who engage the attention with their homely ways and simple nature.

Estrella Party.

Last night in the hall of Neher's opera house there was given a children's party by the Estrella Literary Society of the university. The students were dressed as children, and children's games were played to pass away the time, which was not very hard to do. Professor Stroup had one of the best costumes. Mr. French, as a farmer's kid, was beyond the average. Miss McMillen and Miss Niles dressed as twins. Maynard Harding, in a pair of overalls and a sweater, looked like the average kid of Albuquerque.

After a few dances the crowd focused semi-circle and Mr. Cobb took a flash-light picture. Refreshments were served and then the kids departed at a late hour for their homes.

W. A. Parr, the contractor and builder, has just received a car of the best Washington cedar and California redwood shingles, consisting of 175,000.

The Santa Fe Pacific employees received their checks this morning, and all merchants expect to do a good business to-night, not only in the selling of goods, but in the payment of accounts.

The Title Guaranty Abstract company, of Albuquerque, was organized this afternoon by the election of O. N. Maron president, Otto Dickman secretary and treasurer, and C. E. McClintock manager. The officers, with C. E. Newcomer and W. P. Metcalf, constitute the board of directors.

All members of the Non-Sectarian Benevolent association wishing to pay dues for 1901 can do so by leaving the money with the bookkeeper at the store of B. H. Field & Co. Any lady wishing to become a member can leave her name and one dollar for a year's dues the same day.
Another of those delightful free concerts and dances will be given at Orchestra hall to-night. Special new music will be played and preparations have been made to make the occasion one to be enjoyed and remembered. The final Sunday afternoon free concert will also be given.
Rev. M. S. Hay, of Pueblo, Colo., on his way home from a trip to the Hawaiian islands, spent a short time in this city yesterday morning, and tried to find Col. J. M. Moore, to whom he bore messages from his son who lives at Honolulu. Both gentlemen were searched for each other, almost without success, but finally had a few minutes together before the train left.
Surveyor Pitt Ross had an appointment this morning with a number of residents of Tijeras canyon, who have engaged his services to assist them in a matter of vital importance to their interests. A recent decision of the land office has resulted in the granting of the Canyon de Carnuel grant of the canyon, and the villages in it, throwing the property that they and their ancestors have occupied for years into the public domain, and subject to the homestead act. The only method by which they can hold their homes is to enter small holding claims, and in this work Mr. Ross will be of great assistance to them. This condition of affairs comes as a heavy burden upon those interested, as they are poor people with very little money to pay the expenses of protecting the homes that have, in most cases, descended to them from their grandparents and the titles were considered perfect.
W. Fuller, of New York, and his brother, who arrived from the east last week, have undertaken a job that will probably make their records as had men exceed that of Jesse James and other famous western desperadoes. Having secured the necessary amount of high speed boots, spurs, horses, ropes and "colts," they have already, in the infancy of their adopted profession, far exceeded anyone who has preceded them. To see them on their steeds, dashing to and fro, through the canyons, is a sight long to be remembered, and which, if the city does not prevent, some serious accident will surely follow. With this usual foresight the marshal yesterday took them into custody for safe keeping. Upon making the necessary affidavit that their horses, and could not make over two miles an hour, that their spurs were bought at a second-hand store and were useless, they were reprimanded and discharged.
