ALBUQUERQUE, — JAN 12 1901

The next cadet from this territory to the West Point military academy will be provided with shooting irons to stand off the hawks.

By the end of the year 1902 a British Pacific telegraph will be completed from Vancouver, in Canada, to Australia, at a cost of $3,750,000.

The mayor of Denver will edit the Daily Times on Sunday, Jan. 10. The people here will explain why he allows the toughs to run that city.

One of the wise sayings of the late P. D. Armour was: "Most men talk too much. Much of my success may be due to keeping my mouth shut."

Chicago is a big, overgrown country town. The saloons there close at midnight. No self-respecting New Mexican would stop over night in such a place.

New Mexico game laws should prevent the wholesale slaughter now engaged in and prohibit by fine and imprisonment the destruction of insect devouring and song birds.

It is almost certain that the next legislature will pass a law prohibiting gambling on the first floor of a saloon. The movement is being favored in all the towns of the territory.

Both Arkansas and Mississippi, which are to have new state constitutions, are about a million dollars each, have, by a singular coincidence, selected as the sites for the buildings those formerly occupied by penitentiaries.

The need of more room at the White House is so pressing, and the disputes over all plans for enlarging that historic edifice are so warm, that it is now proposed to build a new residence for the president and leave the present White House for official purposes.

The Santa Fe New Mexican says that building and loan associations should be encouraged. They not only offer a safe investment for the money of the people, but they also accumulate for New Mexico local associations is all spent in the upbuilding and beautifying of New Mexico towns and cities.

The Las Vegas Optic says that now is an accepted good time for the New Mexico bond to get in its work. The unprecedented demand which has prevailed for bonds during the past year has so nearly exhausted the supply that prices threaten to advance sharply. The direct cause for this state of affairs is said to be due to the large amount sent to England for the South African war and to the Philippines. The American public and the New Mexican have come to be indispensable factors in all military campaigns. Why not the Mexican bond, too?

COAT OF CRIMES.
Dr. A. E. Winship in his new book, "Jukes-Edwards," deals in strong contrasts to prove the influence of ancestors upon offspring. It seems impossible to conceive of a succession of depravity such as the family tree of Max Jukes indicates. He was a Dutch stock in 1726. He would not go to school, would not work. He wanted to go fishing, hunting and trapping. He left home early, went to the woods, and on the border of a beautiful lake in New York state he built his shack, which became a notorious cradle of crime. Of the 1,200 descendants of Max Jukes, 215 were professional paupers, who were in poor houses 2,300 years; 215 died in infancy for lack of good ancestry; women lived lives of notorious debauchery; 400 men and women were physically wrecked early by their own wickedness; seven were murderers; 136 were convicted criminals. The almost universal traits of the family were: ill-manners, ignorance and vulgarity. These characteristics led to disease and disgrace, to pauperism and crime—the 1,200 costing the state in crime and pauperism more than $1,250,000, or more than $1,000 each, including men, women and children.

THE ARMY CANTEN.
Evidently some persons in this world have an idea that the much discussed army canteen is a bottle, full of whiskey, carried by the soldiers. A certain daily newspaper exclaims: "The soldier and Pettigrew lead the attack on the Little Tin Bottle!" It could not be necessary to explain that the canteen is a soldier's club, or a soldier's store, or a regimental shop, for the sake of things. The soldiers need, where a restaurant or coffee house may be conducted by the men.

The senate's decision to sustain the house in prohibiting the sale of beer and other liquors in army post exchanges will be a disappointment to a large majority of officers and army Adjutant General Corbin recently estimated that 95 per cent of the army would be the existence of the bar in the post exchange. It had the endorsement of general down. At least one chaplain appeared before a congressional committee to argue that it be retained. Archbishop Ireland, himself a total abstainer, spoke in its behalf.

These men do not favor intemperance. They uphold the canteen because they believe it promotes sobriety. It is not a question of a choice between the bar and total abstinence. Experience has shown that if the soldiers do not get liquor at the post they will go to the dives that cluster about government reservations, with disastrous results. The opponents of the system, most of them men and women from civil life, believe that any possible advantage of the canteen is offset by the fact that the exchange constantly tempts men to drink. Liquor is almost obtainable there and the conditions under which it

IN THE COCHITI DISTRICT

New Contracts on the Star-Activity at Woodbury Camp.

BLAND BOARD OF TRADE.

From the Bland Herald.
CONTRACTS ON THE STAR.
Two new contracts for development work on the Lone Star were let this morning by the Bland Board of Trade. The extension of a lone drift in the lower level, and the other is for sinking a 5x70 ft shaft to a depth of 200 feet from the big working tunnel. The Navaho Gold Mining company are furnishing the drills and the power for the contractor and his force of workmen. It will require about two months to complete the contract.

Next week arguments in the appeal of the Washington mine litigation will be heard by the supreme court in Washington, D. C. Charles E. Doherty, the attorney for the defendants, will be in the national capital to look after their interests. As is understood, the result of this hearing will put a question to the ownership of the mine. The famous Washington mine, after which we can expect to see operations resumed on the property in a short time.

ACTIVITY AT WOODBURY.
Despite the inclemency of the weather during the past few weeks, rapid progress has been made on the new mill in the construction work and in a few more days they will begin putting on the iron roofing and siding. General Manager W. C. Wynkoop returned from Albuquerque last Tuesday with more employees, and he says they will be further delays unless it is caused by rough weather.

Upon completion of the mill the company will put the carpenters to work on the erection of a two-story boarding and lodging house near their office, the object being to make it as comfortable as possible for the employees.

TOPEKA HOILERMAKERS.
They Are Here to Change Locomotives for Coal Oil Use.
The departure of seven hoilermakers for Albuquerque, N. M., Wednesday is an event of some importance to railroad men. These men will do work on the engines, burners, burners, coal, and will put them in shape for consuming petroleum instead. This is a move that has been anticipated for some time by the Santa Fe, provided the oil-burners already in use should be a success. They seem to have found much favor, and it is predicted that some day oil will entirely supersede coal as a fuel for locomotives.

The Topeka men who went west are prepared to stay three months or a little longer if necessary. They are to report at Albuquerque, but their work will extend from there to San Francisco and it is expected that by the first of April there will be 150 more engines consuming petroleum instead of coal.

This matter of changing fuels is undertaken with some thought in mind as all such change is a matter of economy. In the west, particularly, coal and wood are very costly fuels and obtaining many times only after being shipped long distances and handled several times by the railroad companies. On the other hand, oil is cheaply handled.

LIKE MANY OTHERS

Clara Kopp Wrote for Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Told her what it did for her.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have seen so many letters from ladies who were cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies that I thought I would ask your advice in regard to my condition. I have been suffering for four years and have taken different patent medicines, but received very little benefit. I am troubled with backache, in fact my whole body aches, stomach feels sore, by spells get short of breath and am very nervous. Menstruation is very irregular with severe bearing down pains, cramps and backache. I hope to hear from you at once."

CLARA KOPP, Rockport, Ind., Sept. 27, 1898.

"I think it is my duty to write a letter to you in regard to what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I wrote you some time ago, describing my symptoms and asking your advice, which you very kindly gave. I am now healthy and cannot begin to praise your remedy enough. I would say to all suffering women, 'Take Mrs. Pinkham's advice, for a woman best understands a woman's sufferings, and Mrs. Pinkham, from her vast experience in treating female ailments, can give you advice that you can get from no other source.'"

CLARA KOPP, Rockport, Ind., April 13, 1899.

For Over Fifty Years.
AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, brings down the wind, and is the best remedy for diarrhea. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

INTERESTING MADRID NOTES.

RAILROADS WILL CHARGE FOR UNLOADING.
After February 1 transshipment lines will charge shippers for unloading and storing car load freight at points where there are no public warehouses. The charge will be 10 cents per car for unloading and one-quarter of a cent for 100 pounds per day for storage.

A STRANGE RESOLVE.

An Eccentric Doctor Drops His Title and Refuses to Attend the Sick.

The death by lightning of Dr. Andrew Martin, of Mount Joy, recently, has brought to light a most eccentric and remarkable career, one that seems almost improbable in this enlightened community. After Dr. Martin had received his early education the war broke out, and he enlisted in the Forty-third Ohio regiment, and it was while serving with that regiment at the battle of Chancellorsville that he first gained notoriety.

During the hottest of the fight, with his comrades falling dead about him, he offered up a fervent prayer to the Almighty to protect him from harm, promising to devote the rest of his days to serving his God if he survived. He went through the war unscathed, but apparently forgot his promise, beginning at the study of medicine, beginning at Reading, where he built up a lucrative business.

He had accumulated quite a fortune, when, one day, about ten years ago, he suddenly gave up his practice without any warning to his patients, whom he whom needed his attention. He declared that a man who lived a career of life needed no doctor and others should have none.

About the time he quit practicing one of his patients, a well-known doctor for the wife, whom the doctor had been treating, but he positively refused to give her any more medicine. The woman became very angry with the physician, saying: "If my wife dies I will hold you responsible for her death," but the threat had no effect on him.

He removed to Mount Joy shortly afterward, where he had been living ever since the life of a house, reaping the benefit of the street except to attend the New Mercedine church, which he had joined. This sect is called for its peculiarities in religious faith and its ways. When he retired from his medical profession he dropped the title of doctor, and, as he wanted nothing more to do with worldly affairs, he decided to make a bundle of all papers in his possession pertaining to his army and professional life. He gathered them all together, including his army discharge and college diplomas, and set fire to the pile. St. Louis Republic.
