"I heard a most beautiful old woman say, 'Do you think I would dry up my blood and ruin my skin by drinking tea?'"

AMERICAN AGENT NOW A FAMULAR FIGURE ABROAD

All Sorts of Traveling Men Busy Reaching or Trying to Reach Belligerent Government's Buying Officials.

(Associated Press Correspondence.)
Paris, Oct. 20.—The American agent, down by the mere fact of his exceptional demand for American goods in all lines, is becoming one of the most familiar figures of London, Paris and the other war capitals of Europe. He is taking the place of the American pleasure tourist, who has almost disappeared from these cities, and the channel boats, the great hotels and the boulevards now have a goodly quota of Americans telling their stories and relating their latest experiences in dealing with efficient and capable buyers. They are familiar with the situation, they are used to the situation, and they are prepared on short notice to take in round millions on a contract for horses, guns, munitions, or supplies of any kind.

Two of the new type of war contractors have been met at the Grand Hotel the other day, and after the usual greetings and inquiries about home, one of them asked the other:
"What is your line?"
"Doing any business?"
"No, just closed a big contract with the military people for a war ration."
"What kind of a war ration?"
"Well, we call it an Irish stew in America, but over here, since the war began, I am calling it a war ration, and it has caught on fine. We take a certain portion of meat—good first-class meat and no poor stuff—and add a portion of rice, a portion of onions, a portion of carrots, with seasoning, that you see make a fine Irish stew, but as I say over here we call it a war ration."

"And what do you think?" he went on. "We put up that stew in one-pound tin cans, and after they eat the Irish stew they're going to use the tin cans for hand grenades. Now that is a fact, and that's where our goods are needed for these military people the most—the double use they could get out of them—first as a war ration and then as a hand grenade, and that's what closed the contract."

"This was told in all seriousness and was not a story of 'the road,' so that there is every reason to expect that Irish stew made in America will be nourishing allied troops and afterward serving them as a receptacle for explosives to offset liquid fire, as-phyxiating gas and other deadly con-flictions."

Metal Link Gloves.
The group of American traveling men had considerably enlarged while this talk was going on, and one of the new-comers remarked:
"I've got something that beats your Irish stew, but those people at the London war office wouldn't adopt it."

He drew from his pocket a wad of pliable metal that gradually unfolded itself into the form of a perfect glove.
It was made of minute links of steel, such as a boiler link course is made of,
and the linked-steel glove fitted to the hand and was flexible to all its movements.

"Have you noticed," he explained, "that the wounded Indian troops in the streets of London invariably have their right hand in a sling, and this is because the Indian fighter, when he rushes a German trench, grabs the German bayonet as they're thrust at him, and when the bayonet is jerked back it cuts an ugly double-edged wound in the Indian's hand. That's why half the Indian troops are in hospitals with wounded hands."

"Now it was to meet just such a condition and keep the Indian on the firing line that we got up this steel-linked glove. With that on his hand an Indian can jump in a trench and fight a bayonet, with no danger of a wounded hand. But somehow those war office people wouldn't see it; they are standing in their own light, for every one of those gloves would have kept an Indian soldier at the front."

It appears to be the consensus of opinion among the commercial men that it is very hard to do business with the average European official.
First the bureau systems make an endless amount of circumlocution and red tape, and it is difficult to find out who is the official who has the real decision. And after that the travelers say that this kind of conversation stands in the way of the adoption of anything outside of old, well-understood models, many of which are out of date. They tell many strange occurrences in their efforts to reach the right people.

Many Forms of Graft.
"It was told," said one of the travelers, "that one of the travelers, "that an introduction from president people was necessary to get your way. One firm advertised in London that they could furnish the right kind of introductions. I looked them up and found they were house agents. Then I heard that the duke of ——— could give the sort of letter required. So I intended to see him, and told him that in America we were able to tell a customer when we saw one, and I was so anxious to see what a British customer looked like that I would be willing to spend a thousand dollars to have one introduced to me. The duke said he would be glad to introduce the very man who had the final say in the matter, and he would bring him to me in two days. I waited anxiously the second day, but he did not come, and I have been waiting ever since. But the duke can do it if he wants to, there is no doubt."

Contracts Sublet Often.
Another representative of an extensive American industry related the following experience:
"An artillery harness for six horses is being furnished to one of the belligerent governments for $250. The contract was first let as a whole to an American agent at that net price.
But as the agent was not in the harness business—this being only one of many war contracts—he sublet it to another contractor who made a specialty in harness but not in harnesses, so that he in turn sublet the contract to us. Now I was able to go to these government people and say to them that I would furnish this six-horse artillery harness at $215 instead of $250, and also would give them out first grade of harness instead of the third grade they are getting. Why?
It was just like offering a man gold sovereigns. But do you know they would not listen to me. No, they were perfectly satisfied to pay $250 and it did not appeal to them in the least to hear they could get something better for $215. That's what they call conservatism. Can you beat it?"

Proposed Aerial Crusade.
One of the most remarkable propositions put before the allied governments was for an aerial crusade, supported by seven gigantic airplanes, with a crew of seven men carrying 350 fifty-pound dynamite bombs, guaranteed to fly from the French frontier to Berlin and back or no back. This was worked out with the utmost detail, with blue-prints showing a hull something like the rim lines of a large steam engine, and the small quick fire guns mounted on the bow and stern. Above this hull were the huge airplanes, in two alternate series, one above the other, so as to catch the "air billows." The specifications were equally detailed, including several high-power engines. The arrangement of the planes and the construction as a whole had the approval of an influential aeronautic society in America. But the British and French air experts were skeptical.
Some of them declaring that what was presented on paper could not be carried out in actual flight, notwithstanding the offer made to build the craft and send it on a trial voyage before making a contract. It was thought that recent Zeppelin raids might inspire officials to take up this novel air project as an offset, but so far they have not lent a sympathetic ear.

A French literary man fell in with one of the new order of American commercial men the other night, and asked him if he had seen the sights of Paris.
"Yes," he said, "but I find that the police have closed most of the sights."
"Oh, no," said his literary friend,
"the real sights of Paris, the monuments, Notre Dame, the Invalides, the Museum, and the Louvre."
"Ah, yes, I have seen the Louvre," he replied.

"Thoroughly," said the French homme des lettres, surprised, recalling the labyrinth in vastness of the Louvre collection, "and how long did it take you?"
"Fully an hour," was the reply, which has left the Frenchman puzzled ever since.

RUSSIANS PRESS
TEUTONS HARD ON SOUTHERN FRONT

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Petrograd, Oct. 20 (via London, Oct. 21, 12:50 a. m.).—The office today issued the following communication:
"Fighting continues in the region of Mitsan and the environs of Olai and also at many points in the forest east of Iod."
"Our aeroplanes yesterday raided the station of Friezh, southwest of Mitsan, and destroyed several dozen houses on the buildings and rolling stock."

"On the Dniep front the Germans delivered an attack in the region of the road from Dniep to Novo Alexandrovsk and toward the south of Lake Medon, but it was repulsed.
North of Lake Buzskoye the enemy attacked the village of Ozmuzki. Our fire drove him back."

"On the left bank of the Dniep our troops have continued their pursuit of the enemy, who is retreating in order and scattering through the forest. We captured yesterday after a fight the Muzskii farm, south of Muzskii village and repulsed enemy attacks near the village of Sotkovaeliza on the Stryk below Ralajovsk, making a further haul of prisoners and machine guns."

"From a supplementary report it appears that this offensive belongs to the first German grenadier (under) reported yesterday as taking prisoners, including one battalion commander and his adjutant and seven company commanders. The guns captured included a battery of four howitzers, completely intact with a large quantity of cartridges."

On the Caucasus front the situation is stationary."

ALLIED TROOPS ON PENINSULA IN UGLY POSITION

Correspondent of Associated Press Tells of Difficulties of English and French at Gallipoli.

(Associated Press Correspondence.)
Constantinople, Sept. 1.—The position of the allied troops on the Anatolia-Armenia front of the Gallipoli peninsula can hardly be described as a promising one. Such at least was the impression gained by the Associated Press correspondent during an eight-day stay in the war area in question.

The factors upon which this conclusion is based are a thorough inspection of the Turkish and allied trenches and artillery positions, and the statements of Turkish officers and allied prisoners of war. What is perhaps of more importance is the result of four major military actions which occurred while the correspondent was on this front. They consisted of an attack by the allies on a Turkish position north of Kuchukdagh, north on the afternoon of August 29, an attack on Turkish trenches in the same general locality on the same night, and two attacks on Anafarta on August 26 and 27. In each instance the allies were driven back with heavy losses. No permanent advantages were gained by them.

The losses of the Turks were by no means light in any of these operations, but the allies, acting on the offensive, suffered heavily. Their losses for the four actions are estimated at 11,000 to 12,000 dead and double that number of wounded.

The ground held by the allies was the Anafarta region about 115,000 men, a large portion of which force already has been used up. It is safe to say that they are today opposed by 135,000 Turks who are actually entrenched, with about 80,000 in reserve.

Every advantage of terrain is held by the Turks, whose trenches are located on higher ground than those of the allies.

With important positions lost, the allies today hold themselves in the Anafarta region solely by virtue of an immense artillery fire superiority.
Without the support of some forty line ships, cruisers and torpedo boats they would be thrown into the sea.

There have been moments, however, when the Turkish troops in the Anafarta region have been hard-pressed. An attack made by the allies on August 26 and 27 in the direction of Kuchukdagh ended in a terrible slaughter of British troops, some 2,800 dead being counted on August 28.

LOWELL AND ELIOT AGAINST SCHOOL DRILL

Boston, Oct. 20.—A. Lawrence Lowell, president of the Harvard university, and Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus, today took issue with those who would carry military preparedness into the grammar schools.
Military drills in these schools, President Lowell said at a hearing before a legislative committee, were of no importance whatever in the development of soldiers, and the teaching of military history, he thought, while of some value in the high schools, would be useless among boys in the lower grades. He opposed any plan of drafting men into the militia.

The great need of the United States army at the present time, Dr. Lowell thought, was a sufficient number of officers.

Dr. Eliot said that his objection to military drill in the public schools was based principally on the fact that it was a bad form of physical exercise. The army spirit, he asserted, it was an American quality, and it was implicit obedience meant subjection to another's will and that, he held, was not a good way to teach young Americans.

TIED HIMSELF TO TRACK; FOOT CUT OFF

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Newton Hoffman, the youth who was found tied to the Erie tracks at South Avon late Monday night and whose foot was cut off by a southbound electric car, admitted tonight that he had wired himself to the track by his head and feet and then tied his own hands behind him with a handkerchief.

"I do not know what I did this for," he said, in his statement. "I had no reason to do it. Nobody knew me down."

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Berlin, Oct. 20 (by Wireless to Parisville)—General Alexander H. H. von Kluck, the famous commander of the German first army in the drive through Belgium and France, during the early months of the war, who was wounded by shrapnel fire on the front in France last spring, received a correspondent of the overseas news agency on the recent celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the general's entrance into the German army service.

"As the correspondent was paying his respects," says the news agency, "heartily congratulations were com-

RUMANIAN REVOLT IS THREATENING KING

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) London, Oct. 21 (2:35 a. m.).—Dispatches from Bucharest indicate that a violent campaign is being waged in Romania over the question of the country's intervention into the war.
One of the Bucharest opposition newspapers, according to the dispatches, has gone so far as to threaten the king with a popular rising.

Much indignation has been caused in Romania by the Austrian authorities at Bucharest arresting Michael Cantacuzescu, former Romanian foreign minister of justice, who was returning to his native country from Paris. The arrest, it is alleged, was due to the finding of a letter in his possession addressed to M. Filipescu, leader of the conservative party in Romania.

Gas In The Stomach Is Dangerous

A Warning of Acid Indigestion. Prompt Use of Magnesia Stops All Sources and Pains.

Sufferers from indigestion or dyspepsia should remember that the presence of gas or wind in the stomach invariably indicates that the stomach is troubled by excessive acidity.

This acid causes the food to ferment and the fermenting food in turn gives rise to noxious gases which dis-tend the stomach, hamper the normal functions of vital internal organs, cause acute headache, interfere with the action of the heart, and charge the blood stream with deadly poisons, which in time must ruin the health. Physicians say that to quickly dispel a dangerous accumulation of wind in the stomach and to stop the food fermentation which creates the gas, the acid in the stomach must be neutralized and that for this purpose there is nothing quite so good as a "magnesian" of pure bisulphate of magnesia taken in a little water immediately after meals. This instantly neutralizes the acid, thus stopping fermentation and the formation of gas, and enables the inflamed, distended stomach to proceed with its work under natural conditions. Bisulphate magnesia is obtainable in powder or tablet form from any druggist; but as there are many different forms of magnesia it is important that the bisulphate which the physician prescribes should be distinctly asked for.

For the Family Medicine Chest

Green Bay, Wis., Mrs. Wm. F. Bubbe says "I always use Foley's Honey and Tar for our children as it quickly breaks up their colds without bad after effects, and they like to take it."

In this season of coughs, colds and croup, every family medicine chest should be supplied with a good cough medicine that can be relied upon when needed.

Such a family cough syrup is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. This standard medicine has been on the market for years and in many actions was found in every home in the days when doctors were not so lucky and when money was scarce.
Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is an excellent medicine for coughs,

OWEN KILDARE'S RISE FROM OBSCURITY TO FAME TOLD IN STORY

Owen Kildare, who wrote the latest William Fox success, was a real man and that is his real name. The writer of this article knew him when he was a boy, in the frightful days to which he refers in "My Mamie Rose," from which the William Fox screen play "The Regeneration" was made and which plays upon the stage was and is a great success. Kildare, at the age of 18, was a wonder at the age of 18, in California Street, New York, orphaned in his infancy and adopted by a childless couple.

CRILE PRAISES PUTNEY'S WORK FOR STATE FAIR

Manager of State Livestock Exposition Writes Heartly Congratulations on Work Accomplished Here.

President E. C. Putney, of the New Mexico state fair commission, yesterday received a letter from Mr. Austin Crile, manager of the New Mexico Livestock and Horse exposition, recently held in Roswell, tendering warm congratulations on the success achieved at the state fair held here last week and pledging the hearty support of himself and of the people of the Pecos valley in future fair enterprises.

Dr. Crile's letter is as follows: "My dear Mr. Putney—I wish to extend to you my most sincere congratulations on the remarkable success of the state fair held here in New Mexico, to offer you my hearty thanks for the splendid work that you have done for the state. All reports from visitors, and I am glad to say there were many from our part of the state, speak most highly of the fair. Those who exhibited livestock and produce speak in highest terms of the treatment you accorded them.

There has been some considerable disappointment as regards your country's place in the exposition, but I wish to assure you as chairman of the committee, and also on behalf of our excellent workers, Mr. Cloud Simmons, that we have nothing in the way of criticism to offer. There was bound to be some misunderstanding in such a large effort as your country's exhibit was for the first time.

I regret very much that I was unable to come, but on Tuesday after our fair, I was taken with a severe attack of la grippe and I was really unfit for anything and still feel somewhat knocked out. As regards our own fair, we had a very nice exhibit of stock and very good racing, but were short on amusements, and because of additional buildings and the streets coming to town the first day of the fair, I regret to say we have a deficiency. This added to the deficit of last year, brings a very considerable discouragement to us. Yet I believe the very best thing to develop New Mexico and get a proper economic basis between the grower and the estate and sheepmen on the ranch and the farmer in the valley is the holding of fairs.

I expect to be in Albuquerque sometime next month at which time I should like to have a considerable talk with you on the whole future of our state interests as represented by fairs. Above all it is the thought you have expressed several times to me and that is a hearty cooperation of all parts of the state for the final results to be achieved. The distance, the mountains, the class of people, and the industries of the different parts tend to divide us up, and a sense of nothing that will reach all parts and bring together the people of all sections as a state fair can and will do. There are no parts of conventions, and no parts of social events that appeal to all classes that can serve this purpose. The only thing I know is the plan that we have proposed and I feel safe in assuring you that the feeling of goodwill toward Albuquerque, in the last thirty days has made a radical change. Whatever else we may have done, the attitude of the state has been changed for the better.

I shall be glad at your convenience to hear from you and I wish to assure you of my very highest esteem of yourself and keen appreciation of your efforts.

Yours very truly, "A. D. CRILE"

WILL BE AT THE CRYSTAL THEATER MONDAY NIGHT

"Hang trouble! Once killed a cat."

This is the motto of that lucky fellow of Jacky Richards, who is appearing at the Crystal Theater Monday night.

No wonder he is the center of the popular first part, "Evening" (which one critic has been kind enough to say is the most beautiful ever carried by a musical company), that the two stars and continues in a veritable whirlwind for two and one-half hours.

The minstrels believe there is trouble, worry and care enough in the average person's daily life to leave it all behind when they enter the theater and the devoted comedians and skilled producers have vied with each other to make the program offered by this company an endless chain of mirth, music, laughter and song.

Have they succeeded? Well, ask the manager of your theater to send you a copy of the program. He received about them from other cities.

There will be a big street parade at noon and a band concert by the company's band of twenty-five solo musicians at 2:30 o'clock in the evening in front of the theater. The date of this company's appearance at the Crystal Theater is Monday, October 25.

CHIEF WITNESS' TEETH PLAY PART IN TRIAL OF CASE

Japanese Says They Were Knocked Out by Sandoval; Witness for Defense Thinks They Were False.

Did Joe Tomizawa, Japanese, have false teeth at the time he alleged Pablo T. Sandoval assaulted him? On this point the defense of Sandoval was based partly. Sandoval was charged with assault upon the Japanese with a deadly weapon. He was tried yesterday before District Judge H. F. Raymond, and acquitted.

The prosecution said that Sandoval struck Tomizawa in the mouth with a rock, knocking out a row of teeth. A rock, about the size of a baseball, was produced in court. This was alleged to be the deadly weapon in the case.

Sandoval said that the Japanese threatened him with a knife and that he did not use the alleged deadly weapon, but simply hit him. A witness for the defense testified that he saw the Japanese remove his teeth afterward and that his gums were smooth.

State to Appeal Case.

Judge Raymond sustained the state's appeal and ordered a new trial.

The trial of the case against Frank Anderson, proprietor of a restaurant at 118 West Central avenue, was begun in the afternoon. He is charged with cruelty and assault upon his wife, Mrs. Anderson, who is deaf, was on the stand. Questions to her were written on slips of paper by the attorneys, which she read and answered orally. The case will be finished today.

Divorce Suit Filed.

Raymond H. Willis started divorce proceedings. He charges his wife, whom he says is living in Boulder or Arapahoe county, Colo., with abandonment, saying she left him May 24, 1912. They were married April 3, 1904, at Boulder, Colo., and have four children. Willis asks for custody of them.

Mark L. McCabe was ordered to pay the district clerk $25 for October 23 as temporary alimony and support money for the use of Mrs. McCabe and to pay a fine of $25 for not appearing until further ordered by the court.

OVERLAND AGENCY PASSES INTO HANDS OF LESTER COOPER

While here they succeeded in transferring the local Overland agency, formerly owned by Walter Edmund, president of the Southwest Auto company, over to Lester Cooper, and the latter yesterday visited the new firm.

The new firm will maintain subsidiaries and a repair department at the old address, 1516 1/2 South Broadway street, and prospective purchasers of automobiles, when calling, will be required with the fine points of the Overland cars either by Mr. Cooper or some one in the employ of the firm.

THE J. C. PENNEY CO. STORE READY FOR BUSINESS SATURDAY

After persistent work, mingled with much worry, even some of the building of the J. C. Penney store at 1230 Central avenue, was completed. W. B. Hicks, manager of the local store of the J. C. Penney Company, Inc., announced in today's Journal that the doors of the store on West Central avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets will be thrown open to the public for business on Saturday morning, October 23, at 9 o'clock, and he extended a cordial invitation to you, meaning the subscribers of this paper and the very few that are not acquainted with the store, get acquainted with the store, see the array of excellent goods for sale, and above all ascertain the low prices for good material.

C. R. Buchanan is assistant manager, while each department will have its quota of competent clerks. Mr. Hicks states that the Albuquerque store is the eighth in a chain of stores owned and operated by the J. C. Penney Company, all of which, with the exception of the local store, are styled "Golden Rule."
