GOVERNOR HUNT MAY BE OUSTED BY THE RECALL

Petition Is Circulated and Is Being Rapidly Signed in Hope That Arizona May Be Relieved Soon.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 23.—Petition for the recall of Governor G. W. P. Hunt on the alleged ground that his administration is extravagant and incompetent to conserve the peace and dignity of the commonwealth, were placed in circulation today by H. P. Johnson, of Mesa.

The movement against the governor began at the last session of the legislature which was dedicated for weeks over appropriation bills and in crystallizing in open demands for recall when, in an address recently at Clifton, Governor Hunt spoke in favor of the cause of the striking copper miners of that district.

Mr. Johnson had about 300 signatures tonight. The approximate number required to call an election is 15,000. Most of the signatures, so far, are said to belong to the democratic party of which the governor is a member.

One of the first signers was State Senator O. R. Stanley, leader of the opposition to the governor in the legislature.

Governor Hunt left the city today to dedicate a state bridge at Antelope Hills, forty miles from Phoenix, and could not be reached.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS SELECT MORGAN AS HEAD

Dedication of Two Million Dollar Temple in Washington City Feature of Biennial Session of Order.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The supreme council of the Scottish Rite for the southern jurisdiction of the United States closed its biennial session today with the election of Garrett N. Morgan, of Nashville, Tenn., vice the late Sovereign Grand Master James Douglas Richardson, Judge E. C. Day, of Helena, Mont., vice Erasmus T. Carr, deceased, and Judge John Alden Royner, of Cheyenne, Wyo., vice Frank M. Foster, deceased, as active sovereign grand master general and to fill three of the thirteen vacancies existing in the supreme council.

Secretary John H. Cowles, of Kentucky, was named custodian of the new house of the temple here, where the next biennial session will be held in 1917.

The new two million dollar Masonic temple, headquarters of the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite Freemasonry for the southern jurisdiction of the United States, which also is called the southern council of the world, was dedicated during the session with elaborate ceremonies and in the presence of a large assemblage of distinguished Masons from many parts of the country. The stately structure, fashioned after the famous monument erected for King Mausolus by Queen Artemisia at Halicarnassus—one of the seven wonders of the ancient world—is unique among the many magnificent buildings in the national capital. It has been under construction since 1911 when ground was broken. It stands on Sixteenth street about one mile from the White House on the capital's finest boulevard and is a section of the city where many of the nation's most celebrated public men have lived during their public service in Washington.

Viewed from the exterior, on a platform above symbolic flights of steps, the structure presents a plain base, above which rises a lofty pyramid embellished by three massive columns. The approach to the main portal is by four flights of steps. Two colossal sphinxes, symbolic of divine wisdom and power, are at the entrance. On the pilasters of these figures are inscriptions in Phoenician and in Egyptian hieroglyphics. Just before the great door, set into the pavement, are two flaming swords, and between them the inscription: "The Temple of the Supreme Council of the Thirty-third Degree of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States, Erected to God and Dedicated to the Service of Humanity. Solve Fictis."

Carved into the frieze over the great door is: "Freemasonry builds its Temple in the Hearts of Men and Among the Nations."

A plaque on the great door bears an oblong square with a raised frieze in its center and with the figures "22" in the center.

Through the great door the Atrium, a large hall, flanked on either side by four massive fluted pillars of polished green granite, is reached. A doorway on the left leads to the apartment of the sovereign grand master, another on the right to those of the secretary general. Both apartments are paneled from floor to ceiling with Russian walnut. In the center of the atrium is a great marble table and on either side between the pillars four marble seats. On the walls behind the pillars are plaques bearing symbolic designs. Directly opposite the great door is the grand staircase guarded on either side by the seated figures of Isis and Nephtys. Beyond to the right and left of the staircase lead to the library and to the supreme council executive chambers. At the head of the staircase, on the first landing, at the back of the ellipse, two other flights, curving to the right and to the left, lead to the door of the temple, in front of which is the marble seat of the grand chief, entitled "Sovereign Grand Master General."

The temple is built in the form of a cross, each dimension measuring exactly five feet, surmounted by a dome supporting a skylight to light from the top of the floor. In the temple there are three great arched windows, one on each side and one opposite the door, over the great door. Each window is divided by two pillars of polished green granite, with the lower part crowned by a tracery of bronze vermicelli. Extending around the room as a frieze of black marble, bearing the inscription: "From the Outer Darkness of Ignorance, Through the Shadows of Our Earthly Life, Weeds the Beautiful Path of Initiation From the Divine Light of the Higher Order."

At each of the four corners is a plaque bearing an emblem of two patterns, the square and compasses and the six-pointed star in a circle. The apex of the dome is surmounted by four double-headed eagles, one on each side, with the tablets of the Ten Commandments between them. High over the main doorway is the organ loft. In the center of the temple stands the great altar, a solid block of black marble, with white with four horns at the corners. In the floor around the great altar is the inscription: "From the Light of the Divine Word, the Loaves Come the Vision of Life, the Feast of Initiation."

The ceremonies were performed by Sovereign Grand Master George E. Richardson, assisted by Lieutenant Grand Commander George E. Richardson, and Sovereign Grand Master General Charles F. Hays, of Louisiana; Ernest R. Hays, of Washington; Trevanion W. Hays, of Minnesota; John H. Cowles, of Kentucky; John W. Morris, of West Virginia; Adolphus L. Fitzgerald, of Nevada; and William Hays, of Texas, the most highest officers of the supreme council. A musical service was rendered by the Scottish Rite choir of St. Louis, Mo., and of Louisville, Ky., with the Scottish Rite orchestra, of St. Louis, under musical direction of A. F. M. Gustafson, of Duluth, Minn., by whom, with the assistance of Inspector General Hays, the program was arranged and many of the numbers were especially composed for the occasion.

The ceremonies were performed on an improvised platform at the head of the four symbolic flights of stairs at the main approach to the temple and in full view of thousands of invited guests.

PANAMA CANAL TO BE OPENED BY JANUARY 1

Goethals Declines to Express Opinion of When Obstructions Will Be Removed, but Subordinates Are Optimistic

PANAMA, Oct. 23.—Although an official statement is lacking, it has been known for some time that the canal will again be ready for traffic not later than January 1 next. Maj. Gen. George W. Goethals, governor of the canal zone, continues to maintain an attitude of reserve, declining to commit himself on any definite date for reopening the canal in view of the uncertainty of slide conditions in the Gaillard cut. General Goethals declares that it is still too early to make predictions because a large movement of earth can happen at any time, although none now is visible in sight.

General Goethals expressed gratification at the progress being made by the dredging fleet, which is coping with a tremendous task in view of the vast quantity of earth set in motion by the last slide.

Although General Goethals would not set a date on which he thought the canal might be reopened, other canal engineers expressed the conviction that a sufficient channel would be obtained before the first of the year which would permit the passage of light draught vessels. These engineers point out that the channel was originally cleared for a distance of 1,500 feet and that since the last great slide, dredges have restored a thirty-foot channel virtually half of that distance and at a width sufficient for the passage of smaller vessels. It is generally conceded that the outlook is considerably brighter than a week ago, but still too early to set a definite date for the reopening of the canal. Nearly all of the ships which were delayed at Cristobal have departed by other routes and those held at Balboa are departing as fast as they can obtain coal.

GULF STEAMERS ARE IN GREAT DEMAND

New York, Oct. 23.—Closing of the Panama canal due to slides and the interruption of ocean freight traffic between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts has resulted in an unprecedented demand on steamship facilities out of gulf ports, according to reports of coastwise lines here.

Wednesday of this week coastwise steamship lines operating out of Gulf ports notified shippers bringing cargo from the Pacific coast that no more freight could be received at the Texas port for water transportation to New York until further notice and the embargo, it is understood, has been carried from the rail lines to the ships.

In addition to the tonnage rush to gulf ports, exceptionally large consignments of Pacific coast products, destined for the east, have been routed via rail to New York, there by water to the eastern seaboard by the nearest transcontinental water route. These shipments, steamship officials said, have been contracted for months in advance on rates based on the all-water haul via the canal.

A representative of the Mailers line said today that he could not state when the embargo would be lifted.

AUSTRALIA MAKING HUGE GOLD SHIPMENTS

(Associated Press Correspondence.) Melbourne, Australia, Sept. 23.—A recent official report shows that from the beginning of the present war up to August 21 over $20,000,000 worth of gold was shipped from the commonwealth, or this considerable more than $17,000,000 was in specie of which $10,425,000 went to the United States. In the previous twelve months—an indication of the effect of the war upon gold exports—the gold specie exported from Australia amounted to only about $2,400,000.

CARRANZA WANTS CUSTOMS DUTIES PAID AT JUAREZ

Owing to Embargoes Against Shipments to and From Villa Territory Americans Do Not Visit Border City.

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 23.—Chihuahua that as the recognized government of Mexico, it has the sole right to customs duties, the Carranza government will on Monday put in motion through its consular representative and the federal courts here, in effort to stop shipments into or from Juarez, until duties have been paid to the Carranza government, although duties in addition are exacted by the Villa of Juarez.

In addition an effort will be made to attach all cars of the Mexican National railroad, loading with coal on this side of the Rio Grande, in order to prevent the Villa officials from operating military trains or foreign-owned industries that they may have authorized.

The military and custom embargo in the district is being rigidly enforced even to the searching of trolley cars and automobiles.

Imports from Mexico today totaling 4,100 head of sheep, cattle and horses have been detained together with ten tons of ore and a small quantity of bullion.

General Manuel Ochoa, with 2,000 soldiers, arrived today from Casas Grandes and relieved General Manuel Medina, of the command at Juarez. General Medina, with his brigade of 2,000 men obtained at once for Casas Grandes, where they will go to join General Villa in the attack on Agua Prieta.

While the officials at Juarez are making every effort to protect visitors from El Paso, the town is not now considered safe for Americans to visit, because of the feeling caused by the American embargo.

NOTHING CAN SAVE SERBIA, SAYS BERLIN

Berlin, Oct. 23 (by Wireless to Budapest).—Serbia is in a perilous position, and nothing can save her, says the German news agency, "Telegraph." "Since Field Marshal von Mackensen's army has carried out the most difficult task of forcing passage of the Danube on Serbia, it is now sweeping southward irresistibly, has carried the war to the principal Serbian positions of defense, presenting in front wall to the invaders since the Bulgarian army is driving a wedge into the heart of Serbia and the Serbian railway system in the north and central districts, as well as the principal southern line of the Vardar railway has been cut, it may be said without exaggeration that there is no longer any possibility of successful intervention on behalf of Serbia. The offensive of the German Austro-Hungarian and Bulgarian armies cannot be hindered."

ENGLAND ALWAYS LENIENT TOWARD ACCUSED WOMEN

Even When Shown to Be Active Spies, They Are Merely Given Prison Sentences, Says Sir John Simon.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
London, Oct. 23 (7:40 p. m.)—Sir John A. Simon, British home secretary and former attorney general, in the course of an interview today declared that the fate of Edith Cavell, the British nurse executed by the German authorities at Brussels, could have no parallel in the records of Great Britain's treatment of persons accused of military offenses.

Even in cases of clearly proven espionage, Great Britain has according to the home secretary, "noted out" to women in death sentences.

"No woman," he said, "who has been tried for any military offense in this country has suffered the death penalty since the war began, or has ever been sentenced to death. In this country a woman, whatever her nationality, is always tried by a civil court."

The secretary explained that evident differences existed in conditions in Belgium and in conditions in England, and that in occupied territory like Belgium the administration of the law was expected to be slightly different.

"But," he continued, "the Cavell case was not a case of sudden discovery of a woman in the field of battle. This was in Brussels, where the Germans claim to have established an orderly government, comparable with their own government at home and have appointed a civil governor."

In the last case involving a woman in this country," he said, "the offender was of German birth, though technically the subject of another country owing to marriage. She was acting in association with a male spy and was detected traveling to various points in order to collect information about the naval defenses. The evidence against her was overwhelming and did not depend solely on witnesses. She was sentenced to death by a court-martial."

"Going through the preliminary procedure, as previously described, she was tried in September by three civil judges of high caliber. She was convicted, not of harboring German soldiers, but of deliberately persistent spying for the purpose of providing the enemy with important information. Her male companion was sentenced to death. She was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment."

GERMAN PRESS JUSTICES DEATH OF MISS CAVELL

Berlin, Oct. 23 (By Wireless to St. Louis).—An article appears in the Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung today, under the heading "English press confessions." This newspaper, as quoted by the Overseas News Agency, says:

"The Manchester Guardian published an editorial on October 15, about the heroic deeds of a French girl, which were certified by a British officer. This girl shot with a revolver, from behind, two German soldiers who could not be reached by the British."

"The Nord Deutsche Allgemeine observes that this deed was contrary to the laws of war, but was glorified by the French and English press. It has been taken up by our troops and shot by process of law, the English press would never stop talking about the barbarous ways of the Germans in making war; just as it is doing now because an English woman in Belgium who was found guilty of treason has been executed."

STORY OF HEROIC ACT BY YOUNG FRENCH GIRL

London, Oct. 23 (5:55 p. m.)—The article referred to by the Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung in its comment on the case of Miss Edith Cavell, published in the Manchester Guardian stated that a French girl of seventeen years had performed an act of heroism in a village captured by the British. According to this account, she helped to care for wounded soldiers who had been placed in a cellar. The Guardian stated that German snipers fired on the girl, and that she was wounded. The girl, taking a revolver from a wounded British officer, climbed out of the cellar and shot the snipers.

EXPECT TO KEEP WINTER VAGRANTS OUT OF CITY

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
Chicago, Oct. 23.—A special effort will be made this winter to minimize the influx from all parts of the country of vagrants who each year flock to Chicago to subsist through the cold months on municipal and private charity. Plans to this end were announced today by Mrs. Louise Osborne, head of the department of public welfare of the city. Mrs. Osborne outlined her plan as follows:

"The administration will utilize every agency to give Chicago citizens preference, wherever employment is offered in public or private service. Extra work in city departments will be given exclusively to citizens. We will reduce and not increase provisions for foreign resident homeless men. A work test in the municipal workyard will be required of all applicants of the municipal lodging house."

The administration advises young men and women in other cities without employment not to come to Chicago seeking employment during the winter. In view of the conditions under which young people are compelled to live if employment is not immediately forthcoming, the city cannot retain the name of being an honorable host without advising against this."

KILLS SKUNK AND HIS 7-YEAR-OLD SON

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 23.—Using a high powered rifle to kill a skunk prowling about his chicken coop, Fred Bongeneault of Dos Cabezas shot the animal, but the bullet also killed one of his children and wounded another, it became known today. The bullet passed through the skunk, traversed the chicken house and penetrating the screen porch of the Bongeneault residence killed the man's 7-year-old son, and wounded another child as they lay in bed.

WOMEN PARADE NEW YORK CITY 40,000 STRONG

Greatest Demonstration of Suffrage Sentiment Ever Seen Is Witnessed by Hundreds of Thousands.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
New York, Oct. 23.—Fifth avenue for four hours today was given over to the largest woman suffrage parade ever witnessed anywhere. It was the women's appeal to place New York at the election on November 2, among the states which have given women the right to vote.

Participated in by women from every state in the country and from more than twenty foreign countries, the women of every phase of business, professional, educational, artistic and official life, the parade extended from Washington Square to Central park, and although it began shortly after 1 o'clock it was long after dark when the last marchers had finished.

Suffrage leaders estimated that 40,000 women were in line. In addition there were 5,000 men representing the leaders said, only about half of the men who had signed pledges that they would participate. Throughout the line of march the sidewalks, hotel balconies, and windows of shops, stores and apartment houses were filled with spectators. Both sides of Fifth avenue, with the yellow-lit sidewalks, were lined with thousands of people, estimated by the police to exceed 200,000. It took four hours and twenty minutes for the parade to pass any one of the reviewing stands.

Of the various features of the parade, the most attractive drew attention from several babies which were paraded in baby carriages by their mothers and herded by banners "Votes for Women."

New Jersey women who lost their fight for suffrage in that state in the election last Tuesday, carried a placard inscribed: "Delayed but Not Defeated."

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Dr. Mary Walker, Mrs. Herbert Carpenter, Mrs. Norman de R. Whitcomb, Miss Cora Mae Jones, Carrie Chapman Catt, and Miss Fela La Follette were among the scores of women who headed various sections.

Fifteen hundred policemen and hundreds of detectives were on duty along the line of parade. It was the verdict of the police that so many thousands of women kept notably straight lines and uniformly good step.

SUFFRAGISTS PARADE STREETS OF PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 23.—Fifty thousand men and women behind eighty floats and drum corps, participated in the suffrage parade through the downtown streets here today. The parade, which was the largest ever held in this city, was viewed by more than 200,000 persons who lined the streets, blocking traffic for hours. Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong reviewed the marchers.

VILLA MONEY TIED UP BY INJUNCTION

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
El Centro, Calif., Oct. 23.—The first step in what is said to be a general movement to shut off resources and supplies from Mexican army and supplies was taken today when attorneys representing Carranza's government procured in the county superior court a temporary restraining order forbidding two banks at Calexico to pay out $60,000 said to have been deposited by Estaban Cutil, independent governor of Lower California, until its ownership has been legally determined. The funds are said to represent a part of the customs duties collected by Carranza at Mexicali, opposite Calexico, and intended for use in paying Carranza's creditors of several hundred soldiers at that point.

It is alleged that the money belongs to the de facto government of Mexico represented by General Venustiano Carranza.

Carranza's soldiers have been getting $1 a day.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
Schenectady, N. Y., Oct. 23.—The strike for an eight-hour day which has been carried on since October 1 by 13,000 employees of the General Electric company's plant here was settled tonight by the strikers agreeing to accept the company's offer of settlement made before the strike began.

Under the settlement the employees agreed to a nine-and-a-half-hour day and a 5-per-cent increase in wages immediately and a nine-hour and another 5-per-cent wage increase on October 1, 1916, and agreed to return to work Monday morning. Before the strike they had worked ten hours a day.

The strike was a part of a campaign for an eight-hour day inaugurated recently in the east by the International Association of Machinists and was actively in charge of Vice President J. J. Keppler.

"The energetic offensive taken by our troops and the success of the operations with important success all along the front."

"On the western bank of Lake Garda we have taken by assault Monte Nardis, thus completing our advance in the valley of the Ledro."

"In Cordevole valley, pressure on the enemy positions at the Col di Lana continues. Half way up we took a small fort and captured some prisoners. Between the height of the Boite and head of the Breno, our columns are clearing the valleys and flanking and crossing Cristallo range and converging on the Schelderbach, sweeping away the obstacles prepared by the resisting enemy."

"In Carnia successful raids by our troops in the Degano and Chisone valleys are constant. We have taken twenty-one prisoners, of whom one was an officer."

"The importance of our success on October 21, in the Sessene valley, is confirmed. Here we have buried 125 enemy dead."

"Along the upper Isone and middle Isone for troops pressed forward yesterday on little Javo peak, on the hill of San Lucia east of Pavia, and on the hill of Paderno. Two violent counter-attacks against us were repulsed. In this part of our front we took 153 prisoners, and including twenty-two officers."

"On the Carso our troops on the morning of the twentieth, recaptured the attack with renewed vigor. In spite of the solid resistance of the enemy, supported by a violent and concentrated fire from numerous powerful batteries, our infantry, after severe and alternate struggles, succeeded in advancing along toward the whole front, especially toward San Martino. Two thousand and nine prisoners, of whom sixty were officers, fell into our hands. We also took seven machine guns and a large quantity of munitions and other material."

PANAMA RAILROAD'S CHARGES PROHIBITIVE

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
San Francisco, Oct. 23.—The Truck-each Steamship company is to sue out of business immediately, according to an announcement made here tonight by R. H. Thacker, vice president of the line which has been making weekly departures from San Francisco to New York since 1913.

"We cannot do business with the increased rates imposed upon us by the Panama Railroad company, a government-owned institution," said Mr. Thacker. "When the canal was closed on October 6, we announced that we would stop over the railroad on which there was a flat rate of $2 a ton, including wharfage and stevedoring."

"This rate has been advanced to a sliding scale ranging from $2.50 to $15 a ton, without wharfage or stevedoring. This means that the railroad company would get over half the ordinary freight rate which has been in effect between San Francisco and New York, and we cannot do business profitably on that basis."

"The Truck-each company operates eleven large freighters."

Goldsmith: Would you like any name or motto engraved on it, sir?

Customer (who had chosen an engagement ring): Yes—yes—yes, Augustus to Irene. And—look here, don't—don't lose very deep—Punch.

DEATH TRIANGLE NEAR TO WARSAW DESOLATE SCENE, SAYS BENNETT

mother and his four children—had come back home.

Home was half a chimney, a brick stove at the base of the chimney, the floor around the stove, and the fence enclosing the little plot of ground. The rest was the wide sky. (Deleted by censor.) But the lady was floating and floating, the mother was gone, and the plot was falling.

The whole family were suffering about over bits of smoking and working. One mothered stick, one fed the fire, one stirred the pot, one soiled the floor, one shooed the flies off the baby. All were, dismally, dirty, which they could not help, and all were doing the best they could under conditions that made any kind of effort heroic. Commemoration did not seem to be the required note, nor even appropriate, but preferences and eloquence were thankfully accepted, except ally by the lady, who tried to swallow the first and did swallow the second.

On the 10th day of the funeral, everywhere I also beheld heart-rending signs of rehabilitation. All over the Warsawian plain on this 10th day, in the Narew, on the Bug, on the Dniester, and on the Dnieper—bridges are down, but bridges are building. The work goes on day, night, and Sunday, and sometimes it comprises the raising and readjusting of the first monuments of steel bridges, sometimes the construction of new timber bridges, and sometimes both simultaneously, for at many points the carpenters have not quite finished the shoring of a new timber bridge before the ironworkers have brought their derricks and furnaces and welders to the play on the isolated pillars of a steel structure. (Deleted by censor.) It involves the transportation from Germany of enormous quantities of material and what with the muddy army of cars, the various units of the workmen's camps, the soldiers and the switchboards, it looks as if a circus had been driven all the way from Warsaw to New York and beyond. There are long strings of the third column of the 10th day, one in a column and hundreds of more in a column with the Dnieper line and the words "Dnieper" repeated in their own letters with the names of the 10th day and the 10th day. But if there are bridges with steel and wood for the bridge building and track building in some of them you can see more than one of the bridges. But to each one has the feeling of the bridge building and track building. Over on the western side of the bridge of death, at Warsaw, where I spent my childhood, New York's view is a scene without a piece of glass in it, and was built up by the steel and wood of the bridge building and track building. But if there are bridges with steel and wood for the bridge building and track building in some of them you can see more than one of the bridges. But to each one has the feeling of the bridge building and track building.

The David Warfield Jews are still passing bridges from their doorways just as they did last winter, and the bridge-builders are still building bridges in their skirts of red and orange and purple and yellow just as they also did last winter—last winter and all. Approaching the town from the northwest one sees endless armies of the bridge-builders, and leaving it on the southeast one passes numerous graves of soldier dead.

Beyond the borders of the triangle of death the landscape is a dreary monotony of lowland churches, shanty towns, and a few small villages, factories, bridges down, apart and stacks of steel, within its borders lies dead man's land—dark miles of shivering trenches and rusty barbed wire entanglements and lonely graves and tracks of pine wood blasted by fire.

It's a strange thing that I was glad to get back here and when I tried to think out why that was I decided that it must be because in a kind of way I had been happy here—happy with excitement—for when I last reached these fields they were not dreary or lonely, but throbbing and hissing with great lightning in a world shaking voice, and life was very big, high there in the south in Baltimore.

The American Jews were roaring all day and half of the night, and the ammunition carts were streaming out from Warsaw, and the flyers were circling far above in the windy sky and dropping on their smoke signals like pretty banners.

PANEL EXHAUSTED AND RUIZ JURY IS YET INCOMPLETE

Judge Reynolds Has Special Verdict of Thirty Men Drawing
Extra Jurors Will Report
Tomorrow Morning.

The regular panel was exhausted yesterday afternoon without completing the jury in the case of the murder of Judge Reynolds. Judge Reynolds directed the selection of a special venire, and thirty names were drawn from the wheel in District Clerk Thomas K. D. Madison. The special venire was made available tomorrow morning and the task of completing the jury will be continued then.

Six jurors remained in the box, unchallenged, when court adjourned at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Of the regular panel only three had been excused for cause, one of them being a second cousin of Judge Reynolds, the man who was killed. The state had submitted to six peremptory challenges in Judge W. C. Reynolds' case, and the state had used only four of its fourteen peremptory challenges. Hence, the size of the special venire.

Would Test Garretts Law. An action to test the constitutionality of the law, passed by the last legislature, giving creditors the right to garnish the salaries of state constitutional officers, was begun before Judge Reynolds yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff is suing to hold a judgment, obtained several years ago against the corporation, Commissioner and to have served an order in the district court at Santa Fe, recently garnishing the salary of the state treasurer.

The order was served on State Treasurer Marron and the action before Judge Reynolds is to restrain the treasurer from obeying the order. The hearing was finished by Judge Reynolds reserved his decision.

The grand and petit juries for McKinley county were drawn yesterday afternoon by District Clerk F. W. Myers of Gallup, before Judge Reynolds. The court term opens November 15 at Gallup. It is expected to last about three weeks.

FARM VENTURES IN CALIFORNIA GENERALLY FAIL

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE. San Francisco, Oct. 23.—Many farm owners of attempted farming ventures in California in the last few years, it was announced here today by the state rural credits commission, have failed. The commission, made the announcement as the finding of that body, at a public hearing here on the subject of rural credits. Elwood Mead, a professor at the University of California and also a member of the commission, added that unless something was done, a wholesale burning should be sent out eastward, leaving nothing left from this state. Mead, formerly an engineer, worked gradually west and headed his university position as chairman of the state river and water commission of Australia.

Mr. Mead said the failures were due to inflated land values, ignorance of local conditions and a lack of capital. The state will vote on rural credits next Tuesday.

VILLA'S ARMY IS NOW NEAR AGUA PRIETA

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE. Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 23.—The advance guard of the army with which General Villa expects to capture Agua Prieta, opposite here, passed through the mining camps of El Tepe, today, today according to Americans who arrived here. The advance guard numbered about 600 under General Mendez. The mine operations were not interfered with, and the soldiers passed on to Escondido, thirty-five miles south of Agua Prieta.

Villa's main army, estimates of which run all the way from six to thirty thousand, is reported to be moving up Batopilas valley at a rate which will bring it within artillery range of the Carrizosa garrison of Agua Prieta in not less than ten days. The army is said to be amply provisioned and equipped with large quantities of ammunition for field guns and rifles.

BAR TOBACCO AND LIQUOR ADS SAYS EDUCATION BOARD

Would Have These and "Questionable" Lithographs Removed From Billboards Especially Near Schools.

The board of education of the city of Albuquerque, N. M., has adopted a resolution to remove from billboards all advertisements for liquor and tobacco, and all "questionable" lithographs, but not what this word refers to is not specifically set out.

Advertisements for property where signs of the kind named in the resolution are posted and bill posters are called upon to aid the board. The board was understood to be especially anxious to keep advertisements of this kind away from the neighborhood of schools.

Provision was made for the removal of night school. The opening date was set for November 1. An appropriation of $1,000 was made for this purpose. The same appropriation was made last year but only about $600 was spent. It is planned to spend the entire amount this year.

For Bigger Night School. New courses are to be added to the curriculum of the night school. The commercial branches will be increased. Domestic science and mechanical drawing also will be taught. The schedule of prices for use of the high school auditorium was revised. The rates range from $15 for educational and similar meetings, of which no admission is charged, to $60 for out-of-town shows that charge admission.

The purchase of a new cyclopedic and additional reference books for the high school library were authorized.

MAKE YOUR OWN LIQUORS AT HOME

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 23.—By a new method of concentration an expert distiller of this city has produced a concentrated extract with which anyone can easily and quickly make in their own home any liquor, whiskey or cordial at a saving of over fifty percent of the liquor dealer's price. A few minutes does the work requiring an apparatus, no boiling, no experience whatsoever. While the liquor making at home idea is new and startling in its possibilities its legality has been carefully investigated by the highest authorities and his method has been found to conform with the laws in every respect. This new method will be welcomed by thousands of people living in districts where it is now even impossible to obtain whiskey for medicinal purposes. Anyone can now save the heavy expense, high license and enormous profits of the saloonkeeper and liquor dealer and can have in his home at any time a pure, non-altering liquor at a very low cost.

It is indeed a remarkable discovery and he has already received thousands of letters of praise. Anyone can try a full quart of his famous Liquor Free by writing to M. W. Erickson, 1368 Universal Bldg., Cincinnati, O., and ask for his booklet, "Secrets of Making Liquors at Home," sent to anyone sending their name and address.

TRUST COMPANY TO HANDLE ALL EXPORT TRADE

Secretary Redfield Announces Plan Intended to Facilitate Commerce Between This Country and Belligerents.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Plans for handling the export trade of the United States through a trust company, cooperating with the federal government, in order to avoid interference with cargoes, were announced today by Secretary Redfield, of the department of commerce, after a conference with Assistant Secretary Peters, of the treasury department; Assistant Secretary Vrooman, of the department of agriculture; and a number of exporters and trustees of the company. The company will be called the American Overseas Trust company and will handle the American export business along the line followed by the Netherlands Overseas trust with the import business of Holland.

organized by the government it would "be in close touch with various departments of the government," whose agents would see that its operations were "impartial and neutral."

This was regarded as meaning that the American Overseas Trust company will assure the European governments with which it deals that no goods exported under its supervision will reach opposing belligerents.

"The object of the scheme," Secretary Redfield said, "is to secure the movement of neutral commerce under such authoritative auspices as to assure that it will not be interrupted. That part of the plan to be undertaken by the department of commerce, under the arrangements discussed today, would be the ascertaining by commercial attaches, consular agents and other officers that the operations of the plan were strictly impartial and neutral. The new company would be open to all fully neutral countries in all countries with which it is operated. The machinery would not be officially a part of the government and it would not be a money making scheme. It is the voluntary action of men prominent in business, in large cities of the country, who desire to secure relief for American commerce by having the neutral trade conducted under the auspices of an organized, non-belligerent agency."

The company officials at the conference were headed by Max May, of the Guaranty Trust company, of New York, and exporters in Philadelphia, Richmond and Baltimore were represented. It is understood that arrangements already have been made with the governments of Great Britain, France and Russia. A representative of the company will go to Europe soon to complete the negotiations and that the approval of the plan has been given by government officials here.

SLAV OFFENSIVE IS GAINING AT MANY POINTS

German Attacks Are Repulsed and Progress Toward Riga Barred; Force Landed in Courland in Teuton Rear.

Petrograd, Oct. 23 (via London, Oct. 21, 12:55 a. m.)—The following official statement was issued tonight: "In the western front there were several attacks near Schmarjov, west of Shlobin, but these had no effect on the general position. Infantry and rifle divisions continued in the forest in the region east of the village of Osh and the Mstov road. On the left bank of the Dvina, south of Iksk, the Germans several times took the offensive, but unsuccessfully. Along the remainder of the front as far as the Dvina there is nothing important to report."

"Fighting on the left bank of the river Dvina continues. In a strong near Komarovo, below Kollu and near the town of Rukh half, we captured, according to supplementary reports, another twenty-one officers, and men, seventeen machine guns, eight trench mortars and two searchlights."

"On the Courland front, on the bank of the river Vihorn, north of Lake Tervin and south of the village of Khovosay, there was fighting between German and Russian troops on October 21. On the remainder of the front there has been no change."

"In the operations of the Baltic fleet our landing party, near the town of Domnovo, on the coast of Courland at the entrance of the Gulf of Riga, on October 22, defeated the German force consisting of that point and captured prisoners and material. A German officer and forty-two men were found dead on the battlefield."

STEAMER LINES CANNOT ACCOMMODATE SHIPPERS

Galveston, Tex., Oct. 23.—A temporary embargo has been placed on eastbound freight by the Morgan and Mailer steamship line as the result of the enormous increase of eastbound traffic through this port. Both lines are now operating extra ships and the situation is expected to be relieved in a few days.

"The big increase in eastward shipping is said to be due to the fact that cotton bales are now sending a heavy traffic east for re-export and domestic consumption, and that smelters in the middle west are sending here a great volume of metal for re-export from the east to warping mills in Europe. These commodities are moving eastward coupled with an unusual heavy movement of export goods from the Pacific coast, combined eastward traffic. Agents of the two lines engaged in eastward trade say the embargo probably will be lifted in about ten days."

EMBARGO TO CONTINUE FOR SEVERAL DAYS

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—An embargo against eastbound freight from the Pacific coast for water shipment from Galveston, made effective Wednesday, will be maintained, at least until the middle of next week, it was stated today by officials of the Atchafalaya, Tonapa and Santa Fe railway. The embargo was placed in cooperation with the Southern Pacific.

IMPOSSIBLE TO FORGET THE WAR WHILE IN LONDON

Women in Mourning and Patriotic Advertisements in Newspapers Compel the Attention of Most Thoughtless

(Associated Press Correspondence.) London, Oct. 23.—"Can you get away from the war in London?" is often asked by Americans in private letters. "Or is it everywhere in the forefront?"

In answer it can truthfully be said that it would be a most thoughtless individual who could forget the war in London. While the mourning dresses are not so numerous as in Paris, where it seems as if two-thirds of the women are gowned in black, they are increasing here as the British death roll lengthens. But the war is omnipresent in countless manifestations.

"There has been no 'society,' as it was known before the war, for over a year. Even the dinner party and the theater party have passed away, except those of the most informal character. Most of the half the men in the streets at this time are in khaki and only a few of the ladies with them wear evening gowns."

Reviews at Theaters.

Incidentally the theaters are one by one putting on reviews, the demand being altogether for trivialisms and not dramatic excellence, as a relief from the strain. The mere leave of those about to start for the front are only for amusement of the highest character and go only where they can smoke. As a result there are more comedy and more theater, but no smoking in London than ever before.

The shops tell of the national turning away from luxuries. An American woman says the Bond street jewelers will allow one almost to fix his own price, and the fashionable dress-making establishments are either closed or devoting most of their small staffs to mourning or street dresses.

One lucky class are the photographers. The cheaper studios are rushed to keep up in their orders for photographs for passports while the others say every officer evidently is obliged to leave his picture with all his relatives and friends and to take away with him photographs of them. This makes business brisk, and as a rule, the Englishman is not inclined to have many pictures of himself taken.

In the shop windows are the "rolls of honor"—the list of employees of the establishment who have already died. The railways have these in the waiting rooms of their stations and even the theaters are beginning to show these lists. Incidentally if there is a male chorus the program contains an apology in the way of an explanation that none of them are eligible for military service.

Patriotic Advertisements.

As for the daily papers it is hardly an exaggeration to say that they publish nothing that does not directly or indirectly relate to the war. Here and there is a paragraph or two that is not far from purely as pertaining to the war, but it is consequently in an out-of-the-way corner as if it were a mere space filler. The "small ads" continue their stories of war's effects. Here are three from a single issue of the Times:

Young officer, leaving again for the front, is anxious to meet someone who will guarantee his mother and invalid sister the necessities of life while away.

Geoffrey, ruined through war and about to join army, would be glad to meet gentleman willing to adopt two little sons in event of being killed.

"Anxious."

Owner will lend old manor house, furnished, in midlands, for six months to British, French or Belgian officers.

CARRANZA TROOPS TO PASS THROUGH U. S.

Laredo, Tex., Oct. 23.—Permission for 5,000 Carranza troops to journey through American territory from here to Douglas, Ariz., where they will re-cross Mexico has been granted by the United States government according to reports received here tonight. No troops have begun to move yet.

PLenty of PRECEDENT FOR PASSAGE OF TROOPS

Washington, Oct. 23.—Arrangements for passage through American territory of Carranza troops to reinforce the garrison at Agua Prieta were made after consultation of the de facto government. It was learned here tonight. A precedent was established during the Mexican regime when the Taft administration allowed Mexican troops to cross Texas to reach points inaccessible by Mexican railway lines.

Since the United States is now dealing with a recognized government in Mexico no state of war exists there so far as the American government is concerned and the movement of the Carranza troops is looked upon as a move to prevent fighting on the international line at Agua Prieta with the possible injury to Americans in Arizona.

FREIGHT HANDLERS ON STRIKE FOR INCREASE

Boston, Oct. 23.—Freight handlers in the yards of the three railroads which enter this city were on strike tonight for a wage increase, reduction in working hours and pay for holidays. The men of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Boston & Albany roads walked out today, having voted to make common cause with members of their union who struck yesterday in the yards of the Boston & Maine.

The general strike resulted in an immediate congestion of freight. The sheds of the Boston & Albany were closed and those of the other roads were choked with accumulated freight, but railroad officials announced that they expected to restore normal conditions on Monday. In all about 2,500 handlers are now on strike. Of these 700 were employed by the Boston & Maine, 500 left the New Haven yards and 300 were Boston & Albany workers.

Firestone Faith

The Firestone ideas of motor-ing are founded on a belief in the wisdom and common sense of the motorist—and this faith has been justified. Firestone success has proven that the car owner wants safety, comfort and Most Miles per Dollar. He wants the quality that costs less to use. The Non-Skid lettering is an imprint of safety. You need it always—but particularly at this time of year. It holds the standard for endurance and economy. The letters prevent spin or skid in any direction, they radiate the heat of road friction, insure perfect traction with gasoline economy, car-protection and maximum comfort. Everywhere experienced motorists praise Firestone performance.

FAIR COMMISSION WANTS

The state fair commission soon as possible, and it is essential that the bills be presented by the first of

PACIFIC MUTUAL
PASSES MILLION
MARK FOR YEARBig Increase in Business Shown by Company Over Corresponding Period of Last Year; Will Set Record.

About December 1, 1914, the New Mexico branch of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company passed the million dollar mark in business written for the year. At the time this was considered a remarkable achievement, setting a new record for the company, and F. K. Schwendler, general agent of the company in this territory, was the recipient of many congratulations on account of the new mark made.

As an evidence of the rapid advance that has been made by the company in this territory under Mr.
Schwendler's management, the mark of one million dollars was reached on December 1 last year, and was passed on October 23 this year, and Mr. Schwendler stated yesterday that there was every prospect that the new business for the year 1915 would reach $1,250,000.

The territory included in Mr.
Schwendler's agency comprises the state of New Mexico, El Paso county, in Texas, and the northern portion of Arizona. The splendid record made by the company in the prompt payment of just claims has caused it to be recognized as the leading insurance company in this field, and the fact that such a record was set in the writing of new business is not surprising to those who are familiar with the methods of the Pacific Mutual and Mr. Schwendler.

GALLUP WOMAN DIES
IN HOSPITAL HERE
FROM GUNSHOT WOUND

Mrs. Marie Petrich, brought here from Gallup with a bullet wound in her abdomen, died at St. Joseph's hospital yesterday afternoon. She was the wife of a local miner who is employed in one of the shafts in McKibbin county.

The woman was shot Friday morning, a bullet from a high power rifle entering the right side of her abdomen. The bullet was perforated, and she was brought here yesterday morning on Santa Fe train No. 46 and taken to the hospital in ambulances.
An operation failed to save her.

The shooting was said to be accidental. The woman and a man who held the rifle, were in a wash house adjacent to the terminal where she lived when the gun was discharged.
The man intended with the woman and her husband.

STATE DEMOCRAT TO RESUME PUBLICATION.
IS CURRENT REPORT

According to a report current in the state, the New Mexico State Democrat is to resume publication in the immediate future, with F. J. Albright in editorial and managerial charge. It is said that the new publication has been received by General Albright, and that the subscription list to the paper and the prospects for its success are bright. The paper will support the democratic state and national administrations and will make a hard fight for the ticket in the campaign next year.

General Albright is one of the veteran editors of New Mexico and a stalwart democrat. For a number of years he made the State Democrat a power in the politics of the state, and the news that the paper is to resume publication will be welcomed by the democrats of New Mexico.

ANOTHER QUALIFICATION
SHOOT TO BEGIN TODAY

The all-purpose rifle association today will begin another series of shoots for qualification of members.
The association completed a similar series shortly before the state fair at which it was held, and a number of members qualified as sharpshooters, and one as expert. Firing will begin at 8 o'clock this morning and end at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

TEACHERS' MEET
NEXT BIG AFFAIR
IN ALBUQUERQUECrowd of Two Thousand Expected for Convention That Gathers Here Just Before Thanksgiving Day.

The first big meeting scheduled for Albuquerque, the New Mexico Educational association will meet here November 22 and 23, and will close Thursday. It is predicted that the meeting will be even larger than the one held at Las Vegas last year.

While it has not been officially confirmed, there is good reason to believe that the Santa Fe and probably the other transportation companies of the state will give a one-day rate for the round trip as was done for the state fair and the fair at Las Vegas.

JOHN, JOHN J. LENTZ, OF OHIO,
Who will speak at the New Mexico Educational convention on "Babies and Their Vested Rights." Mr.
Lentz is an insurance president, retired lawyer, former member of congress and governor general of the "Mooseheart."

Rowell. This will mean a large assembly to the teachers of New Mexico, many of whom have to come long distances.

The program arranged for this year is more extensive than ever before, and the talent better, though it is difficult to see how the addresses delivered by Dr. Clayton, two years ago, and those of Mrs. Coffman, Craighand and Moore, last year, could be exceeded.

Noted Speakers Coming.

The speakers for the general meetings this year include Hon. John J.
Lentz, of Columbus, O., former member of congress and for more than twenty years president of the American Insurance Union, Prof. M. V.
O'Brien, of the department of education in the University of Wisconsin, who is recognized as first authority on school teaching in the United States, Dr. Philip Van Ness Myers, author of the popular series of World textbooks and a teacher of international reputation, Miss Cora Wilson Stewart, who originated the "mountain school" by which more than two hundred people, older than the school age, are attending schools for the purpose of finishing literacy from Kentucky, Prof. O. H. Benson, of the department of agriculture at Washington, Hon. Felix Martinez, who is recognized as the leading Spanish-American of the United States, who has been the mission to the Latin-American countries and is now a member of the Dallas federal reserve bank director, and Hon. Alvin N. White, superintendent of schools for New Mexico.

With this array of talent in addition to the local leaders, who will speak at the sectional meetings, it is expected that every day of the educational meet will be crowded with interest.

CHURCH ENTERTAINMENT
BRINGS BACK STYLES
OF MANY YEARS AGO

Special correspondence to MORNING JOURNAL.
Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 23.—The Ladies' aid of the Baptist church gave an old-fashioned entertainment last night. The program was made up of a period of long ago and the selection were among those best known. The program was as follows:

Song—Silver Threads Among the Gold. Miss Laura Pace and Daisy Lowers.

Reading—Cathy's Clasp.
Reading—"Whispering in Heaven."
Miss Emma Hillman.

Song—"When You and I were Young Muggins." Mrs. Edith Moore, Mrs.
Cowan, Miss Cowan.

Reading—Franklin's Trunk. Little Rae, Leo Hamilton.

Song—"There's No Mother Now."
Marshall Ball, Jr.

Reading—"Times in the Wall." Mrs.
C. J. Pace.

Song—"Auld Lang Syne." Dan
Mathews.

Reading—Mrs. Charles McClure.
Quartet—Male Voices.

Reading—Mrs. R. H. Hamilton.
A movement to incorporate the town of Talavera is now well under way and is meeting with favorable consideration from a large number of enterprising citizens. The general sentiment is that several public improvements are needed, among them a water works system. The present state of open ditches ought to be improved upon.

FEARING HE'LL BE DEPORTED, A
JAP RUNS AWAYTom Tominaga Goes Into Next Room to Draw Pitcher of Beer for Dinners and Fails to Return; Still at Large.

Tom Tominaga, Japanese, one of the former owners of the White Star bar, who was deported, escaped yesterday. Authorities look for him in the territory, but he has not been seen since he was deported.

Tominaga and his brother, Joe,
were arrested Friday by Inspector Partch. They were charged with conducting a house of ill repute and this afternoon, it moved, would mean their deportation from the United States.

Sell Interest in Saloon.
The Tominagas were taken in the county jail and allowed to return to the White Star yesterday, under guard, to dispose of their business interests. Inspector Partch, Harold Pierce and George Neher appeared before the court of the White Star and the Tominaga holdings were sold. The price was said to have been for $100. The price was said to have been for $100. The price was said to have been for $100.

Inspector Partch found it necessary to return to the city, after taking the Tominagas to the White Star, and left them there with a guard. The Tominagas and other Japs were eating dinner when Tom asked permission to go into the next room to draw a pitcher of beer. He failed to come back, the guard minus one Jap.

To Take Due to El Paso.
Tom was not absent more than a few minutes when the guard saw him. He hurried into the next room, saw at a glance that the room was empty. A quick search of the building and the neighborhood was made but without revealing any trace of Tom.

Joe, the brother who is still in the county jail, was prosecuted in the case against Pablo T. Sandoval, which was tried in the district court last week. Sandoval was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, the Japs accusing him of striking him with a rock and knocking out a row of teeth. The defense attempted to show that Joe's teeth were false. Sandoval was acquitted.

Joe will be taken to El Paso today by an interpreter of the immigration bureau for his hearing before immigration authorities.

THIRTY YEARS is a long time for an amusement enterprise to be before the public, especially in that particular branch of the business devoted to minstrelsy. There is but one minstrel company in the world today which can claim that proud distinction after another has been born since their inception, flourished for a time, and then been relegated to the shelf. Richards & Pringle's Georgia Minstrels, however, have kept pace with the times and changing tastes. Each season they have offered a new and novel entertainment.

BEAUTIFUL PHOTOPLAY
AT PASTIME THEATRE
TODAY AND MONDAY

During the course of the making of the picture "The Regeneration," which is the picture version of "The Green Van," Owen Kildare, star of the picture, and which is presented by William Fox, it was necessary to take a scene of the burning of an expedition boat. "Reluctant the flat" who was one of the crew, was driven by Owen Kildare, in order to get over with some of his scenes and so by burning up an expedition boat. All this is perfectly portrayed in "The Regeneration." One for Walt at great expense, secured an old-fashioned bark and hundreds of flowery characters, men and women, and from the entire party—nearly two hundred—up to Glen Cove on the East river, where it occurred an entire day to film this one scene at an unusually large cost. It is predicted that this scene will be one of the attractions of this big feature.

At the Pastime Theatre today and tomorrow. Time of showings—2:30, 4:30, 6:30, 8:10 and 9:40. Special admission—Adults, 15 cents; children, 10 cents.

Santa Fe Society Notes

A MEMORABLE OCCASION

The dinner given Saturday evening in honor of former Supreme Court Justice Ira A. Abbott, of Haverhill, Mass., by Federal Judge William H. Pope, may justifiably be called a historical event. It was a gathering of the supreme court justices at the close of the territorial regime, with those associated with them. Among the fourteen who gathered around the banquet table were three former chief justices and the present chief justice, three former governors, a United States senator and ten former supreme court justices. Naturally, after dinner talk and toasts were largely reminiscent and many anecdotes told if they were printed would throw a flood of light upon the history of the commonwealth before the coming of statehood. Only a few of the living supreme court justices of territorial days were unable to come, among the absent ones being Judge Baker, Judge Long, Judge Laughlin, who is visiting in California, Judge Freeman, who is in Vancouver, and several others. Those who have crossed the bar were remembered, these including Justices McMillan, Leland and the others who served on the New Mexico bench. During an intermission a flashlight picture was taken of the group. Yellow champagne, mummich and three huge baskets of fruit were in Judge Pope's orchard were part of the table appointments. Judge Pope introduced each speaker with graceful allusion to his achievements and the responses were equally as happy. Those present headed the host who served as chief justice and is now federal judge. Were United States Senator Thomas B. Catron, the oldest practitioner before the supreme court, Chief Justice Clarence J. Roberts, who had been on the territorial bench; ex-Governor William J. Miller, of Santa Fe; ex-Governor L. Bradford Prince, who too had been chief justice; the guest of honor, former Supreme Court Justice Ira A. Abbott, of Haverhill, Mass.; Supreme Court Justice Frank W. Parker, who has been on the bench longer than any other justice; former Supreme Court Justice John R. McFie, who next to Judge Parker, was on the bench the longest number of years; District Judge M. C. Mechem, of Socorro, who is a former supreme court justice; former Supreme Court Justice Edward A. Mann, of Albuquerque; former Supreme Court Justice Edward R. Wright, who with his 28 years was the youngest man present, in contrast to the two septuagenarians among the guests; ex-Governor Miguel A. Otero, who served nine years as executive of the territory; Supreme Court Clerk Jose D. Sana, who has seen judges come and go but held on to his post for eighteen years and will probably continue in it for many years to come, and former Supreme Court Reporter Paul A. F. Walter, Attorney General Frank W. Clancy was to have been present but was detained in Albuquerque.

RECEPTION AT THE MANSE

Wednesday evening Rev. and Mrs. B. Z. McCollough and daughter, Mary Elizabeth, were at home to the members of the First Presbyterian church. The manse was gay with light and flowers and thronged with callers all evening. Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Scott assisted in receiving. The punch bowl was placed in the hall in a room of ferns and flowers, and those who served were Misses Rhoda Hale and Catherine Mosker, and Mesdames H. K. Norbanks and Deven Dorff. At the coffee was in the dining room Mesdames Haynes, Walker and O'Hynes presided. Those who assisted in the dining room were Misses Irma Symphers, Alberta Smith, Dorothy Walter, Evelyn McBride, Eva Wierneke and Amelia McFie. It was a conversation party and each guest received a blank card with pencil on which to take the autograph of the person with whom he or she conversed. Mr. McCollough leaves next week on a six weeks tour of eastern cities to raise $10,000 for a hospital on the Navajo reservation. His pilgrimage will be filled during his absence by Dr. David R. Boyd of Albuquerque. Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts of Las Vegas, Dr. Melrose of Los Angeles, Judge L. C. Collins and a number of others.

BIBLE CLASS SOCIAL

The H. F. Stephens Bible class was the guest on Friday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Scott on San Diego Heights. At the same time a meeting of the trustees of the First Presbyterian church was held.

AUTUMN LUNCHEON

A current topic luncheon it might have been called, the delightful affair given by Mrs. Laughlin on Thursday afternoon. The autumn scheme of decorations included yellow chrysanthemums and leaves in the living room, and pink chrysanthemums cast their glow over the table. After luncheon the guests continued the current topic conversation in the conservatory, each guest having brought an up-to-date, current event as her contribution to the entertainment. The guests were Mrs. William H. Pope, Mrs. Clarence J. Roberts, Mrs. J. Hamilton Pope, Mrs. Paul A. F. Walter, Mrs. W. S. Harwood, Mrs. L. B. Hanna, Mrs. Jacob Weltmer, Mrs. H. M. Thomas, Mrs. E. Spitz, Mrs. Eugene A. Fiske, Misses A. Atkinson and Flora W. Conrad.

TO A CANYON WREN.

(Mrs. Florence L. Bartlett's) Wrenning bird singing.
On the air flinging
A vibrant chromatic scale;
Calling and calling,
Tonic drops falling,
A canyon wren flutes through the vale.

Bird, little bird,
From the Twelve,
The world loves to hear your song:
High up in the wall,
Where the cool birds call,
While it loud and long.

Rippling like laughter,
Your song follows after,
After the close of day;
When sunset gleams,
And shadow dreams,
Match your chromatic lay.

ANOTHER ART EVENT

Gerald Cassidy just returned from California, placed on exhibit in the reception room of the palace several exquisite sketches that are bound to add to his long list of admirers. One is a portrait of Miss Ruth Rollins, daughter of the fellow artist, Arren E. Rollins. The Rollins are well known in Santa Fe and much interest is felt in the career of their daughter. Ruth will go on the stage to sing and dance. The portrait has extraordinary charm, whether for the beauty and innocence of the girl or

RID STOMACH OF GASES, SOURNESS, AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" ends all stomach distress in five minutes.

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and causes gas, causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eruptions of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

Purple Peaks and Stone Forests are on your way to

California's Panama Expositions

Sounds interesting, doesn't it? Just stop and think that you can visit a big forest of petrified trees thousands of years old. All colors of the rainbow are represented in the flinty trunks; sparkling chips of red, blue, green and purple are scattered about—a fitting introduction to the wonders farther along and the "dream cities" at San Francisco and San Diego.

Let me give you a copy of our Petrified Forest folder also the latest guidebook, "To California Over the Santa Fe Trail." Our Exposition folders will be sent free too. Remember, the Santa Fe is the only line to both Expositions.

SANTA FE SOCIETY

The act of the artist, another sketch was a little bit of the mission at Chihuahua, which will be embodied in one of the two big mural paintings Mr. Cassidy is executing for the new hotel in the Plaza, New York. One of the canvases will illustrate the mission period, the other the Dutch period in New York history. It is very pleasant to Santa Fe that a member of its art colony should receive so important a commission.

Additions to that colony this week were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Schaeffer of Monterey, Cal., who will stay here for the winter. Mr. Schaeffer was a member of the famous art colony at Carmel-by-the-Sea.

It is a pleasure too that the Union Public Library will keep one of the canvases of Sheldon Parsons. Mr. Parsons has an exhibit both at Hiram and at Colorado Springs. The exhibit by New Mexico artists at Colorado Springs appears to have aroused the enthusiasm of the millionaires and only as well as the other residents for the exhibit is being kept open until 1916 each evening so that every one may have opportunity to study it.

Fine Healthy Child Convincing Evidence

Simple Inexpensive Remedy Checks Early Tendency to Constipation.

About the first thing impressed on the young mother is the necessity for regularity in her baby, which brings up the question of the most desirable laxative for children's use.

Mrs. Jesse Richardson, Philippi, Ky., says she has used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for the past year and that there is no medicine in the world like it. "My little son, William, Jr., just loved it because it is so pleasant to take, and everybody talks about his being such a fine healthy baby."

WAY DOWN ON THE CAJIZOZO.

Way down on the Cajizozo, to the good days long ago, When the cowboy rode like "Jingus." At a wild west rodeo show, When the long-horns roared the picture, When the bronchos tramped the hills, Then your life was worth the live! Every breath was full of thrills.

In their days we had an outlaw Who was devil to the core, For he'd throwed five hundred cowboys And had killed a dozen more. He would jump three miles and a dog, And then quicker than a shot, He would back and come down side ways, Almost doubled in a knot.

One day in the middle of brandin' Just to be a little smart, Says I to the other cow-chaps, "Boys, I'll break old 'Black Dick's' heart." Then I took a show of Berleson, Slipped the saddle on the back, And with all them fellows leerin' I jumped before that outlaw's back, Whom a sudden he went to buckin'— Didn't you oughter seed the fun, With them cowboys all a-cillin' And that outlaw on the run.

"Tide him, lilly!" yells some "in-jun." "Don't hold back!" calls some "white." But my heart was boundin' wild, And my back was nearly broke, In no time, half-bent for "lection," "Till my heart was broken, For I knowed my time had come, Up we went, me and that saddle, Seemed to me clean out o' sight, When I come to, I was settin'— Scride the bare run, holdin' tight, "What was Black Dick?" you are askin'.

Blot to ride if I can tell, But I'd not be kept a-buckin'— "Till he bucked about to hell,"— "Ladies M. Lewis."

Got Rid of Her Stomach Trouble.

"Since childhood I have been obliged to eat sparingly and carefully. My doctor who had been treating me without success advised me to try Chamberlain's Tablets. I began to eat and they worked like a charm. They strengthened my digestion and relieved the constipation. Occasionally I take a dose of them when not feeling just right and they quickly fix me up," writes Mrs. J. P. Brady, Victor, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.

"CHIN IN."—To keep the chin in, there is to keep it well drawn back. That means what physical culturists call "a lifted chest." This means deep and full breathing, and hence perfect circulation. Try keeping your chin in and see how your chest will stand out, and improve your bearing.

To get the best results, take "Seventy-seven" at the first feeling of a cold.

If you wait till you begin to cough and sneeze, it may take longer.

SOLDIERS SHOW DELIGHT AT NEWS OF COMING FIGHT

Troops Overjoyed When Told General Advance Was About to Begin; "Tipperary" and the "Marseillaise" Sung.

(Associated Press Correspondence.)
ATLAS, France, Oct. 14.—In the "black country," north of ATLAS where the French and British advanced together, as well as in Champagne, the announcement of the recent offensive caused more joy in the ranks than anything that has occurred since the capture of Notre Dame de Lorete. Behind the lines there is a brick building turned into a bath house somewhere near where the French and British troops have surrounded it. French and English intermen mingled with amity-faced miners and all had the broad smile. Tommy Atkins dashed in the midst of his duties by the news that things were about to move came out half-dressed to get confirmation of it, then dived back again. Presently a swelling chorus of "Tipperary" filled the building. French infantry files out of their quarters in the works nearby and assembling around their packed arms replied with the "Marseillaise" in which the black-faced miners joined.

In a vacant lot adjoining, detachments of first line troops took their last exercise at grenade throwing; one of them breaking the record with a distance exceeding thirty yards and cheering among the honor of leading the march. Another group of soldiers gave vent to their joy by singing of "Marseillaise." Meanwhile the artillery had opened all along the line drowning "Tipperary" and the "Marseillaise." So rapid and continuous was the fire that the discharges blended into one long deafening roar. British and French troops brought up from the rear marched to their positions waving caps and helmets but their cheers were unheard in the "presence of the heavy artillery that was tearing in with the field guns from the rear. All along behind the lines was passing a scene which to an arduous must have looked like the battle of an industrial swarm of bees on a busy day.

In perfect order and with remarkable ability every line of ammunition made their way to the positions as planned to them, hundreds of ammunition motor cars rushed up to feed the insatiable three-inchers and the heavier guns. Behind the batteries of the famous "snorkels" quinn's the empty shells accumulated in such huge piles as to risk becoming a mark for the enemy and the men were detailed to drag them away. What the probability of ammunition amounted to no one can say even approximately. It has been estimated at a million shells in seventy-two hours.

Riches have wings, but they always roost on the highest branches.—Puck.
