RUSSIANS PLAY JAPANESE TRICK ON TEUTON FOES AT IVANGOROD

Gilded Dome of Greek Church Painted Green and Evergreen Branches Hung Over It to Fool Enemy.

RUSSIA IS BROKEN IN TWO, SAYS BENNETT

Strategic Importance of Capture of Fortress Is Explained; Immense Advantage to German Armies.

(By James O'Donnell Bennett.)
[Copyright 1916 By The Chicago Tribune.]
Cannochow, Russia, Sept. 26.—In the days before the war the first object seen by the traveler journeying up or down the Volga to the city of Ivangorod was the golden dome of the Russian Greek church, which rises from the great back of buildings constituting the fortress of Ivangorod. For miles upon miles across the plain it was visible and when the late afternoon sun shone it glared against the sky like a ball of fire.

The dome is still there. Unless he looked very sharply the traveler who sought it now would see nothing in it. The golden dome that night strike him as a lily tree or perhaps a group of three or four trees of peculiarly luxuriant foliage. If he had some hint that a reception had been practiced, and if he surveyed the landscape from the river through the field, he would probably suspect that the outlines of this mass of trees was too regular to be natural, and if he were an artilleryman he would almost surely suspect something.

And his suspicions would be justified. Certainly German artillerymen were a good deal baffled when they came into this region with the purpose of pounding the fortress of Ivangorod to pieces.

Gilded Dome Gone

They looked at their wonderful map and then they looked at the city at once and saw a point there should be the gilded dome of a large church and with that fact in mind they said to each other, "Now where is that dome, and by any possibility can that mass of trees in the neighborhood of the dome should be, mean anything?" To clear up their doubts they sent some shots across the river and into the mass of trees.

The experiment was fruitful. What had seemed to be a mass of trees was exploded and spread about as it should have been had the mass been veritable trees. The shots were clear through. The doubts of the Germans were cleared up.

When they marched into the fortress they found the gilded dome still standing. It was not much damaged. Looking up at the dome, they found that its gilded dome had been carefully covered with a thick wave of evergreen branches. Through this mass and through the dome two of the German shots had gone clean.

The ruse had served a double purpose. It had not only given the Russians a safe signal station at a critical time, but it had deceived the enemy as to a capital point for taking the rance and left him at sea at a time when every instant was precious.

Taught by the Japanese. When the Germans saw the masked dome they grinned appreciatively, for they are capable of taking a joke. When it is a military joke, they said what they always say when the Russians do anything clever: "We bet they learned that from the Japanese."

At present Ivangorod having fallen and the Germans being safely in it, the only forces for whom the dome retains a practical value are the birds. They said "much obliged" and went to live among the faded evergreens.

As to the future of the church, the German officer now in command of the fortress said with a gravity through which now a gleam of irony shone: "As the Russians will not be coming back the church is being refitted for Catholic services."

All the Force Broken Up. All the forces of Ivangorod were broken up before the Russians evacuated the fortress and fire was thrown into all the buildings. The destruction is terrible to behold and the light is deplorable to think upon.

A beautiful fortress, said my friend, in Ivangorod, it seems as if it could have been held indefinitely. Certainly the speedy evacuation was not ethical.

THE WEATHER

WEATHER FORECAST.
Washington, Oct. 28.—New Mexico: Friday and Saturday fair, not much change in temperature.

LOCAL WEATHER REPORT.
For twenty-four hours, ending at 6 p. m., yesterday:
Maximum temperature, 74 degrees; minimum, 22 degrees; wind, 22 degrees; temperature at 9 p. m., 57 degrees; southwest wind clear.

It Was the Don.
Well, the night we gave out was along through the dark in the neighborhood of New Mexico, and only the light from the burning fortress. We were pretty sure that the road we had taken was silent and deserted except when we would come upon a detachment of German who were trying to maneuver the teams of heavy horses through the burning city. We were pretty sure that the road we had taken was silent and deserted except when we would come upon a detachment of German who were trying to maneuver the teams of heavy horses through the burning city.

Suddenly there was a soft little nudge of "Caro mio" behind us, and somebody said, "Was that the ghost of Don Quixote?"

It was the don, and after struggling along for hours a bad place in the road had brought him down. The Bulgarian, who is a grenadier of a man, and the Hollander, who is stocky and grim, caught him up in their arms and half carried him through the dark, until we found the place where we had to leave our autos because the road beyond that point had been reported very bad.

A World in Two Words.
When they lifted him into one of the autos he turned his wonderful eyes first to one and then to the other and said, "Caro mio. That was the only thing he needed to utter. He said, "Caro mio" in a tone that almost brings tears to your eyes. We were sentimental, but it can not drive from our hearts the very genuine tenderness we all feel for the country, gallant, and brave.

Next morning he was all right again and he and I drank to his health in a glass of mineral water for the lack of anything more convenient. That pleased him and he asked me if I who had so long aided plays knew the plays of his compatriot Jacinto Benavente.

I had to confess that I did not know them and asked if Benavente were one of the big men of the new Spanish drama.

"Oh," he shouted, "colossal! Oh, colossal!" like Shakespeare, or our greatest men of the theater? "Oh, he is my master, my master!"

So we had to drink some more mineral water in honor of Jacinto Benavente and then I proposed the health of Jose Bonazary to whom, I said, I could think with intelligence.

He bowed his head very prettily and bowed the author. The don blew a kiss and bowed his head at the mention of that name, and taking the toast for a compliment to him—as it was meant—said that.

NATIONAL BANK DIRECTORS MUST FOLLOW THE LAW

Comptroller Williams Sends Circular Letter Calling Attention to Violations of Statutes Regarding Interest

(By Morning Journal Special Leader Wire.)
Washington, Oct. 28.—Comptroller of the Currency Williams has sent a circular letter to all national banks calling attention to the oath which each director signs when he assumes office not to permit the bank to violate the national bank act and pointing out particularly that part of the act which provides that a national bank may receive interest on its loans "at the rate allowed by the laws of the state, territory or district where the bank is located, and no more."

"This office," says the letter, "regrets to report that the sworn statement of condition of a great many national banks show that section 5,187, United States revised statutes, against usury, has been grossly violated by these banks."

Williams fully advised and admonished that this provision of the national act should be faithfully observed by all national banks, officers and directors, in accordance with the solemn oath taken by directors.

He is requested to read this letter at the next meeting of your board of directors, and to have it recited upon the minutes, and to send a copy of this letter to every member of your board who may not be present at such meeting, with the request that he promptly acknowledge receipt of it.

"Within thirty days after your next board meeting, and not later than December 20, 1916, you are requested to send to this office letters from all members of your board of directors, in which you state, in the plainest language, at which this letter is read, acknowledging the receipt by each member of a copy thereof, and your minutes, showing that this letter has been read to the directors, and the names of the directors present at the meeting at which it is read."

NEW MEXICO MAN IS SHOT DOWN BY VILLA OFFICER AFTER QUARREL

Charles Boone, of Rodey, Killed at Guzman; Partner Escapes and Brings Story of Affair to El Paso.

SAID TO HAVE FAMILY LIVING IN THIS CITY

Desperate Efforts Being Made by American Cattlemen to Save Their Stock From Ruthless Slaughter.

(By Morning Journal Special Leader Wire.)
El Paso, Tex., Oct. 28.—Charles Boone of Rodey, N. M., was killed yesterday, by a Villa officer at Guzman, seventy-five miles from Juarez, according to a report reaching here today, brought by Rodey's partner, James Welsh, who escaped from Guzman on a locomotive. Welsh was running up cattle in the Guzman district.

Boone is the second American cattlemen to be killed in western Chihuahua by Villa soldiers. James Park, a cattlemen, well known here, was executed near Guzman a week ago, according to reports since confirmed. The soldiers accused him of feeding cattle.

The fate of Boone and Park indicates the desperate efforts of American cattlemen to save their stock from ruthless slaughter by Villa soldiers, and under orders given when the Villa packing plant at Juarez was closed by the withdrawal of United States meat inspectors and exportation of meat products to the United States ended.

Under these orders, it was said by cattlemen, all cattle found are being slaughtered and left dead on the range.

In this way cattlemen with large herds in the western Chihuahua country state that thousands of head of stock that required years to develop have already been killed.

Boone and I were bringing a shipment of stock to the border for Fred Shaw of El Paso, said James Welsh, on his arrival here. "Our train was stopped at Guzman and Villa soldiers ordered the cattle unloaded. They saw Boone first and dragged him from the train, telling him they were going to kill him. He said to me as they were leading him off, 'It's all up with me now.' They had all come a few steps when Colonel Hernandez gave the order for Boone's murder and an officer fired at him. I saw Boone fall and struggle a couple of times. Then they said they were going to search the train for more 'gringos.' Boone leaves a widow and a daughter living at Albuquerque, N. M., but his home is at Rodey, N. M.

SEARCH FOR MRS. BOONE PROVES UNAVAILING

A diligent search for the widow of Charles Boone, killed in Guzman yesterday by a Villa officer, was instituted by Journal reporters last night but proved unavailing. The name Boone does not appear in either of the 1915 directories, and no one could be found who was acquainted with Mrs. Boone or her daughter.

Former Governor George Curry, who was in the city yesterday, stated that he was acquainted with Boone, but could give no information regarding his family.

YOUNG TALAS REPUDIATES CONFESSION OF MURDER

New York, Oct. 28.—Omar Talas, the young house boy on trial charged with complicity in the murder of Mrs. Elizabeth R. Nichols, took the stand in his own defense today and repudiated any alleged confession made to the police, saying he made the statement after the police had kept him awake so long with a rapid fire of questions that he was too exhausted to think of anything but to say "yes."

Talas testified that Arthur Wallonen and several others at the Nichols home had asked him to arrange matters so Wallonen and several others could get into the house and rob Mrs. Nichols. Talas said he refused to listen to the suggestion.

Mrs. Nichols is alleged to have been murdered by Wallonen and two other men who robbed her of several thousand dollars worth of jewelry.

Talas told of being found by the three men when he admitted them, believing they called to see a housemaid on the night of the murder. He added that as soon as he was released he aided the police as much as he could.

COMPANIES PREPARE TO FEED STRIKERS

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 28.—Preparations are being made to house and feed 3,000 refugees from the Clifton copper district at Duncan, a mining camp twenty-five miles from Clifton, by the companies involved in the strike in progress since September 11, it was stated here today. Hundreds of the men have gone there already, it was said, and others are joining the camp. Lodging and food are given without charge to strikers and their families, it was said, and all miners are given free lodging.

The situation at Clifton was reported to be quiet. A meeting of union men was called for tomorrow but its purpose was not stated.

ENORMOUS CALL FOR STEEL BEGAN BEFORE WAR, SAYS JUDGE E. H. GARY

Production of Year Ago More Than Doubled and Plants Cannot Supply Demand in Any General Line.

50,000,000 TONS NOW BEING MANUFACTURED

Fires Have Been Lighted in Nearly Every Blast Furnace in United States, and Still More Is Wanted.

(By Morning Journal Special Leader Wire.)
New York, Oct. 28.—So great has been the demand for steel in the United States since the outbreak of the war that the production of the year ago more than doubled and plants cannot supply demand in any general line.

The demand for steel is now estimated at 50,000,000 tons a year, and the production of the year ago was only 25,000,000 tons.

Little Progress Made by Tenthons in Russia; Drive Against Riga and Dvinsk Undertaken From New Angle.

(By Morning Journal Special Leader Wire.)
London, Oct. 28 (19:45 p. m.)—On the side of the German official statement which reports the advance of the Austro-German forces and the capture by the Bulgarians of Zolovar and Kirovograd, both on the Tisza river northeast of Nish and the heights of First, almost directly east of Nish, there is little of authentic news of the invasion of Serbia.

There are reports, however, that the Serbians have recaptured Uskup, which is important. It is also reported that the French now hold the line of Krivopal, Radovista and Strumitsa, with an army there and the Serbians at Valjevo, Uskup and in the northeast corner.

For the moment the danger spot for the Serbians is the northeast corner, where they are being attacked from three sides and must eventually fall back toward the southwest. Thus far they have been retreating in good order, and despite the serious nature of the situation, optimism prevails in Serbian quarters in London, which probably are best able to judge of the assistance being sent by France, Great Britain and Russia.

The French, according to German dispatches, have already landed 150,000 men, with one hundred guns, at Salonika.

Strong British Forces. While the whereabouts of the British reinforcements remains a mystery, it is said that they are being sent to Salonika, and that they are being sent to Salonika, and that they are being sent to Salonika.

The military commander of the Duke of Brecklenburg hastened to the town of Mitrovitsa, where the Serbian population listened to the celebration of the inauguration of the new passage from Germany through Austria-Hungary and Bulgaria into Turkey, which touches only territory of the allied powers.

To Rush Work on Canal.
 Santa Fe, Oct. 28.—Contract is being let immediately for the excavation of the balance of the Los Cruces canal, from the water into the headwaters of the Las Cruces and Mesilla ditch. A branch canal is to be excavated which will carry water to the Pecosche deposit on the west side of the river opposite the town of Lordsburg. The work will be divided into nine sections, each approximating 25,000 cubic yards, enabling farmers in any district to take up their share of the work at once, together and do the work themselves. The sum of $100,000 is allotted for the work, however, to pay contractors. The work must be completed by March 1.
