STATEMENT IN OPPOSITION TO
THE PRESIDENT

Former Secretary of State Declares This Nation Prepared to Defend Itself if Attacked by Any Outside Force.

INCREASED ARMAMENT
CONTRARY TO RELIGION

Less Cause for Concern Over Safety of Country Than at Any Other Time in Fifty Years, Says the Nebraskan.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Nov. 5.—Former Secretary Bryan came out squarely against President Wilson's national defense plan today in a formal statement in which he took issue with the president's views as expressed last night before the Manhattan club in New York.

"A departure from our traditions, a reversal from our national policy, a menace to our peace and safety, and a challenge to the spirit of Christianity which teaches us to influence others by example, rather than by exciting fear," is Mr. Bryan's view of the national defense plan.

The former secretary of state's statement, which reiterates views he has previously expressed on the subject of preparedness for war, was regarded as the opening gun in the fight which administration leaders expect to campaign against adoption of the plan.

What Bryan Says.
Mr. Bryan's statement says in part:

"I have read the president's speech at New York with sorrow and concern. He is doing what he believes to be his duty and so long as a man follows his conscience and judgment, we can not criticize his motives, but we may be compelled to dissent from his conclusions.

"He says that his position is different from that of the private individual in that the individual is free to speak his own thoughts and risk his own opinion. This sentence is a little obscure. Insofar as he expresses his own opinion, he does not differ from the private citizen except that he speaks under a sense of official responsibility, but where a nation's fate is involved in a policy every private citizen who loves his country and tries to serve it, is conscious of responsibility.

Entirely New Policy.
"He has announced a policy which has never before been adopted in this country and never endorsed by any party in the country and he has no way of knowing, until he hears from the people whether he has correctly interpreted the will of the public.

"From my view of the subject, the plan which he proposes is not only a departure from our traditions, but a reversal of our national policy. It is not only a menace to our peace and safety, but a challenge to the spirit of Christianity.

"The president says that we should be prepared not for aggression but for defense. That is the ground upon which all preparation for war is made. It is a false philosophy and, being false, it inevitably leads to disaster. The spirit that makes the individual carry a revolver and who ever carries a revolver except for defense—leads him not only to use it on slight provocation but to use it in a way which provokes trouble.

Religion Against It.
"If there is any truth in our religion, a nation must with respect as an individual does, not by carrying arms, but by upright, honorable course that brings confidence and insures good will. This nation has won its position in the world without resorting to the habit of using a pistol or carrying a club.

"The country is not threatened from any quarter. She stands in friendly relation with all the world. Her resources and her self respect, and capacity to care for her own citizens and rights are well known. And to make the statement more emphatic he adds: 'There is no fear among us.'

Able to Defend Ourselves.
"If we are not threatened by any nation, if our relations with all nations are friendly, if everybody knows that we are able to defend ourselves if necessary and if there is no fear among us, why is this time chosen to revolutionize our national theories and to exchange our policy for the policy of Napoleon? And will not such a policy make conflicts between these republics inevitable? We shall do better to use neighboring nations as we do ourselves if we are drawn into a policy which provokes war and a preparation which is impossible without a large increase in the taxation and the arousing of the military spirit which sets up false standards of honor.

"We are now spending more than $100,000,000 a year in preparation for war, and as much as we are spending on education—and I feel sure that the taxpayers are not in favor of this—this arm at this time is a charge is not only unnecessary, but a waste of money.

THE WEATHER

WEATHER FORECAST.
Washington, Nov. 5.—New Mexico: Saturday and Sunday generally fair; not much change in temperature.LOCAL WEATHER REPORT.
For twenty-four hours, ending at 6 p. m. yesterday:
Maximum temperature, 51 degrees; minimum, 22 degrees; range, 29 degrees; temperature at 6 p. m., 62 degrees; southwest wind; clear.

No Need for Alarm.
"There has not been a time in fifty years when there was less reason to add to the expenses of the army and navy, for we are not only without an enemy, but our preparedness is increasing relatively as other nations exhaust themselves. And there never was a time and there never has been a time in our whole history when our duty to the world more imperatively demanded self-restraint and the curbing of power.

"I hope they will not be deceived by the atmosphere of the Manhattan club. This is the one place in the United States where the mammoth—worshipping portion of the democratic party meet to exchange compliments—there is no group farther removed from the sentiment of the masses, whether you measure that sentiment by economical, social or religious standards."

No Answer by President.
President Wilson's present plan is not to make answer to Mr. Bryan's criticism. No statement was forthcoming from the White House on the subject tonight, but Mr. Bryan's statement was the principal topic of discussion among administration officials here.

The former secretary's position was known by the president before he made his speech last night in New York.

LAST STEAMER FROM
NOME HAS SAILED

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Nome, Alaska, Nov. 5.—The steamer Victoria sailed for Seattle late last night, the last vessel to leave Nome this season. Until next June, when navigation in Behring sea is opened, Nome will be cut off from the outside world except by travel over 2,000 miles of snow trail to the open ports in carrying 250 passengers, business men and miners, who will pass the winter in the states, and a large shipment of gold bullion. About 2,500 people will remain in Nome.

ATROCITIES BY TURKS
LESS THAN REPORTED

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 5.—The medical missionary conference ended its four-day convention tonight and will meet again in November, 1916. Speakers at today's sessions were missionaries recently returned from Turkey. Dr. E. St. John Ward, of Beirut, said the reports of atrocities committed by the Turks had been exaggerated by the English press. All the other speakers, however, declared the published stories of Armenian massacres were not overdrawn.

Northern Chieftain Is Said to Have 12,000 Men Encamped Near Border and Shows No Signs of Western March

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 5.—Villa remained in Naco tonight for the purpose of conferring with agents from Douglas. His announced intentions are to go to Villa Verde, twenty-two miles south, where the main body of his troops were concentrated Saturday. Americans connected with his forces say fully 12,000 men are encamped there.

Naco will be fortified with barbed wire entanglements, extensive land mines and other defenses, and Gen. Francisco Mendez, with two thousand men, left to defend it, according to Villa agents. The belief is expressed among Americans close to Villa that he will not move far from the border until Gen. Alvaro Obregon's plans are revealed.

Villa hopes to trap the Carranza chieftain into an engagement with an inferior force.

Conversation Through Air Is Conducted From Office of Secretary of Navy in Washington with N. Y. Station.

Verbal Messages to Ships at Sea May Be Sent From Desk of Officials, as if Talking by Telephone.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Nov. 5.—Secretary Daniels transmitted the first naval order ever sent by wireless telephone today to Rear Admiral Usher at the New York navy yard.

Navy officials say the achievement brings closer the day when a secretary of the navy may sit at his desk in Washington and talk to the fleet commanders all over the world.

Secretary Daniels transmitted this order which was taken down by a stenographer in Admiral Usher's office and acknowledged verbally by the admiral himself.

"Rear Admiral Usher, commanding, New York Navy Yard:
"Report as soon as practicable after the arrival of the New York how soon repairs can be completed."
"DANIELS."

Many Eavesdroppers.
Navy wireless stations in all parts of the country were eavesdropping to catch the conversation.

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt followed Secretary Daniels with the radio telephone and later Mrs. Daniels was accorded the distinction of being the first woman to converse by wireless waves.

The secretary's office was crowded with naval officers and bureau officials during the demonstration which lasted half an hour. Many of them conversed with Admiral Usher. Later Secretary Daniels and Secretary Lansing, of the state department, went to the radio room across the hall from Secretary Daniels' office and there "listened in" on the department's radio sets. They heard the voices of both at the radio telephone coming back to them through the aerials to the state, navy and war buildings.

Voices Perfectly Distinct.
Admiral Usher said that the voices sent by wireless from Washington were plainly audible in his office despite a heavy static discharge which sounded, he said, like static thunder.

The instrument used was the regular Arlington, Va., radio station where the transfer was made automatically and the voices of the speakers hurried out into the air to be audible thousands of miles away to any radio operator whose set happened to be tuned up to the right pitch and who was listening.

To all appearances it was an ordinary, long distance telephone conversation. Secretary Daniels was enthusiastic over the success and paid high tribute to the engineers of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., who designed the instruments and arranged the conversation.

MUNDAY DECLARES
PREJUDICE BROKE BANK

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Morris, Ill., Nov. 5.—Charles E. Munday testified today that from the opening of the LaSalle street national bank, the first Lombard-Munday venture, to the close of the LaSalle Street Trust & Savings bank, incidents of prejudice, he said, developed into persecution by Chicago bankers and newspapers and resulted in the failure of the LaSalle street trust, successor of the LaSalle Street National bank.

Munday is on trial for alleged connection in connection with the failure of the LaSalle Street Trust & Savings bank, the case having been brought here on a change of venue from Cook county on Munday's affidavit that he could not receive a fair trial in Chicago because of the political hostility to William Lorimer, president of the bank, who once occupied a seat in the United States senate.

Munday said that Owen T. Reeves, a federal bank examiner, once criticized an emergency loan to the Chicago Inter Ocean newspaper. Through some agency unknown to the witness, he said, this became known and at once the other Chicago newspapers became his enemies.

Differences of Opinion Regarding Prosecution of War Expected to Result in Cabinet Crisis.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Rome, Nov. 5 (via Paris, 11:15 p. m.).—Sharp differences of opinion have developed in the cabinet concerning the war. These differences have not reached the extent of a crisis, but have brought about a conflict in view, leading to an exciting incident.

One of the ministers at a recent meeting of the cabinet is said to have expressed the view that Italy's best interests would be served by a movement toward the restoration of peace. This caused an angry protest and charges were made against the good faith of the minister suggesting peace. Epithets were exchanged and one of the ministers, according to reports, overcame by indignation threw a book at his colleague whose suggestion had caused the strife.

The incident is declared to have been largely of a personal nature and the cabinet and country are united with the exception for continuing the present policy.

While a cabinet crisis, such as those which have occurred in France, England and Russia has been avoided, opinion here is divided concerning the conduct of the war, especially as regards a Balkan expedition. Count General Cadorna's iron will has triumphed in this respect. He said he would rather resign as chief of the general staff than allow a part of his troops to participate in a Balkan undertaking, and his view was finally adopted by the minister of war and the entire cabinet.

The navy department also has passed through a crisis. Admiral Camillo Cora was substituted for Vice Admiral Viale as minister of marine, and this action was quickly followed by the relieving of Vice Admiral Thonon di Revel from the head of the naval general staff. Vice Admiral Cora has now assumed active direction of the fleet which is expected to lead an aggressive naval campaign.

INTENSE ARTILLERY
FIRE BY ITALIANS

Rome, Nov. 5 (via Paris, 11:25 p. m.).—The following statement, dated November 5, was made public this evening:

"During yesterday there was an intense action by our artillery and infantry, which are actively engaged in strengthening conquered positions. We repulsed enemy attacks in the valleys of Rienz and the Pontebusca torrents, on the slopes of Monte Calvario, northwest of Gorizia and on the Carso. We have taken sixty-four prisoners and one machine gun.

"Bad weather prevails throughout the theater of operations. There is an abundant snowfall in the higher zone and a persistent rain the lower."

ITALY WILL NOT SEND EXPEDITION TO ALBANIA

Rome, Nov. 5 (via Paris, Nov. 6, 12:40 a. m.).—The reports that Italy will take a hand in the conflict in the Balkans by sending an expedition in Albania receive no confirmation in official quarters here. The negative attitude of officials leads to the strong conviction that no Albanian expedition is contemplated.

Oriental Splendor Marks Departure of Monarch to Ancient Capital of His Ancestors in City of Tokio.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Tokyo, Nov. 6.—Yoshihito, emperor of Japan and 122nd head of the Japanese imperial house after the first emperor, Jimmu, whose reign began 2,345 years ago, left Tokyo today for Kyoto to make his state entry into the capital of his forefathers and there formally assume the throne of the empire of the Rising Sun. The monarch was to have been accompanied by Empress Sadako, but the nearness of the period when her majesty is expected to give birth to another heir prevented her from participating in the ceremonies.

Greeted by 200,000 Children.
As the emperor emerged from the palace he was greeted by 200,000 school children who paid silent homage to the ruler. There was no cheering, the authorities fearing in mind the accident which occurred to King George recently on the western war front when his horse was frightened by the cheers of the soldiers and threw him, causing painful injuries. Soldiers and blue-jackets were drawn up in the streets ten lines deep. American and other foreigners viewed the procession from a reserved section, waiting two hours before the emperor appeared.

Even converts are participating in the coronation, 100,000 flags having been distributed in the prisons.

Heavenly Rite Observed.
The imperial carriage was preceded by the railroad station by the "kashi-kodokoro" or divine mirror, which represents the spirit of the grand imperial ancestor of sun goddess, Amaterasu Omikami, and was accompanied by the two other sacred treasures which symbolize the sanctity and power of the throne of Nippon, the sacred sword and the sacred jewel, sometimes known as the necklace of pearl-like gems with the magnificent curves, which have been handed down from emperor to emperor through untold generations.

The whole city of Tokyo is in joyous festivity in Japanese history since the triumphant entry of Emperor Meiji nearly fifty years ago. Hundreds of thousands of people are here from the provinces, most of them to remain until the great celebration in Tokyo at the end of the month when the emperor returns from Kyoto. Special flags and paper lanterns are suspended over every door to mark the inauguration of the happy coronation period. Streets, parks and public buildings are decorated with festal flags and banners. The tramways wear garlands. From the noble to the ricksha man the dominating note is joy and gladness.

Religious Ceremony.
Prior to the departure of the imperial carriage a solemn religious ceremony was performed at the imperial sanctuary in the palace.

At the appointed time in the early morning the hall wherein is enshrined the imperial sanctuary was decorated by court ritualists in a manner appropriate to the occasion. This being finished, His Imperial Highness Prince Higashi Fushimi, chief commissioner, and other members of the coronation board, all in ceremonial Japanese dress, took their seats.

The doors of the sanctuary were opened and Shinto music, and after offerings were made before the altar Prince Iwakura, the chief ritualist, read a religious address or prayer announcing to the spirit-world of the imperial grand ancestor, Amaterasu Omikami, the commencement of the auspicious coronation ceremonial and the transfer of the imperial sanctuary and the court to Kyoto for the celebration of the same. Then a chamberlain and a maid-of-honor, both in ancient court robe and respectively representing the emperor and empress, proceeded before the presence of the holy of holies and made obeisance on behalf of their majesties.

Many Sacred Treasures.
The ceremony having closed with solemn chords of music, the holy of holies, which is the sacred mirror, was slowly borne outside the palace to be taken to Kyoto together with the sacred sword and gem. The sacred treasures, which are the emblem of the throne, being held in the deepest veneration and respect, their departure from the capital was celebrated in a most august and dignified manner.

The "kashi-kodokoro" was translated in this way: An ancient palanquin, which is called the Feathered Wheels of Heaven, was brought to the southern porch of the imperial sanctuary, and the sacred mirror was placed therein. Then the palanquin was slowly borne to the station on the shoulders of villagers from a suburb of Kyoto—a village to which the monarch has fallen from time immemorial. They wore the ancient kimono costume of the sanctuary guards.

Thunder of Guns.
As the royal cortege left the palace the thunder of saluting guns from the public parks informed the multitudes of the metropolis, and that was the signal for silent prayer for the joyous departure of the emperor for his beautiful accession and his safe return to the capital. For all to witness the royal departure was physically impossible. Thousands had arrived along the line of progress but had to wait patiently throughout the long hours. The great majority who were unable to find places will be able to witness the royal cortege when the emperor is officially greeted by the city of Tokio.

The emperor rode up to the railway station in a coach of royal magnificence through lines of picked troops from the household guard.

The procession from palace to station moved slowly by a somewhat circuitous route, so that it might be viewed by as many people and especially by as many school children as possible. First rode mounted police inspectors, then cavalry of the imperial guard in their new glittering coronation uniform. Next came the imperial ancestral shrine, which was borne on the shoulders of villagers from Kyoto and which was guarded by the imperial ritualists and high officers of the imperial guard.

The Procession Moves.
Then came the emperor in his coach drawn by six horses with postillions. Finally came a squadron of cavalry of the imperial guard and more mounted police officials. Like all other imperial carriages which formed the retinue, the royal coach had been especially built for use during the accession of Tokio and Kyoto. It is in the general form and lines of a ship. The color scheme was inherited on the exterior, while the interior was lined with white brocade, upon which the imperial chrysanthemum crest was woven. Both sides of the coach bore the imperial crest embossed in gold. The emperor was able to look from the carriage through thick glass panes from which white brocade curtains were artistically draped. The coach was surmounted by a golden image of a phoenix, the mythical bird of ancient China, whose presence symbolizes a wise sovereign. It was drawn by six steeds which for months had been trained in the imperial stables so that they might perform their historic service nobly and without accident. The axes, screws, leathers and other appurtenances were especially made in Great Britain and France.

Carriages for Dignitaries.
The carriages for the court dignitaries numbered fifteen in all, and were each drawn by two horses. These coaches were similar in construction to the imperial coach, the chief difference being the absence of the symbolical phoenix, the imperial crest and the curtains of white brocade. Other carriages in the courtly procession had also been especially constructed, and while less gorgeous than the imperial coach, were of beautiful workmanship and with the royal coach formed a rare and stately retinue.

The crown prince, the other imperial prince, and the other imperial princesses followed in their own coaches.

FIRE AT CLIFTON
DESTROYS COPPER
CONCENTRATOR

Liberal Use of Dynamite Checks Conflagration Before It Spreads to Other Property Except Ore Bins.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Clifton, Ariz., Nov. 5.—Fire which destroyed the old copper concentrator building of the Arizona Copper company and also the ore bins of the same firm here, was checked late tonight and the acid plant and store of the company was saved.

So far as could be learned, the fire started on the roof of the concentrator from an unknown origin. The liberal use of dynamite on the concentrator building and ore bins by the fire fighters assisted in checking the fire and gave immediate rise to a rumor that the employees who have been on strike since September 11, were responsible for the conflagration.

As soon as the fire was observed the bugles of the militia companies stationed here sounded the alarm and the militia were hurried to patrol the plant.

It was seen that the concentrator could not be saved and attention was turned to reducing the possibility of spread of the flames.

To this end the concentrator building was dynamited but not before the ore bins had ignited. These were in turn leveled with dynamite and the path of the flames ended abruptly as it reached the acid plant and the company store.

At a late hour the concentrator was still burning but the absence of wind indicated that the danger of a general conflagration had been avoided.

The property destroyed was part of the old plant, which was undergoing repairs when the present strike of copper miners in this district was declared.

The loss is estimated at $750,000. These strikers turned out in a body to assist the militia in fighting the flames.

GERMANY DEFENSIVE
ON EAST AND WEST FRONTS

No Big Battles Are Being Fought Either in France or on the Muscovite Lines; Some Action on Gallipoli.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
London, Nov. 5 (10:30 p. m.).—Another twenty-four hours has complicated rather than clarified the situation in Greece, the attitude of the king of which country is causing the entire powers much concern.

Apparently determined that M. Zaimis shall remain in the office of prime minister, King Constantine today urged him to retain the premiership. According to Athens dispatches, however, M. Zaimis declined to acquiesce in the king's desire, whereupon the king called a council of ministers, the deliberations of which may or may not determine whether Greece is to align herself against Bulgaria or persist in her attitude of "benevolent neutrality," which means that, though the allied troops may cross her soil, her armies shall not aid them in driving the Bulgarians from Serbia.

Seeks Ground to Pieces.
While Greece hesitates the Serbian northern army is being slowly but surely ground down before the combined pressure of the Austro-German and Bulgarian forces. The fate of Nish hangs by a hair, and it is only at the southern end of the battle front that the Bulgarians are meeting with any reverses. There, according to reports the British are co-operating with the French, but as heretofore these reports are unofficial and fragmentary and it cannot be said as authoritatively whether the British are in touch with their new enemy.

Will Act Sometime.
If the Bulgarian-German tide is turned, the best opinion here is that it will be some weeks hence, involving a period of uncertainty such as preceded the stand before Paris and the Yser. But giving the international powers a month's time, it is argued that they can throw 300,000 and perhaps 500,000 men into Serbia, not including Russians, and with such a force not only despite the advances of the central powers, but contest Bulgaria's occupation of Serbian Macedonia.

Germans on Defensive.
The Germans remain on the defensive in the east and west. Neither side has developed any large battle, as modern battles are reckoned.

The Turks continue sporadically active in the Dardanelles region as recorded in tonight's British official communication from the Gallipoli peninsula. This says the Turks launched attacks against the British right in the Anzac region, but that they did not dent the British line.

Near Dvinsk, south of Lake Sventen, the enemy at 9 o'clock this morning delivered an attack at the village of Pionovka, which was repulsed with heavy losses. So far, over a thousand bodies have been counted on the field. Further south, calm prevails as far as the Pripiet.

$11,000,000 WAS BACK OF HUERTA PLOT TO SEIZE CITY OF JUAREZ

Jose Orozco, Cousin and Chief
Lieutenant of Slain General, Makes Full Confession to U. S. District Attorney.

6,000 RIFLES AND 60 MACHINE GUNS ORDERED

Arrest of Former Dictator Said
to Have Nipped Action in Bud; More Arrests Expected
to Follow Revelations.

By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.
San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 5.—Jose Orozco, former chief lieutenant of his cousin, Gen. Pascual Orozco, and who is a prisoner at El Paso, has made a complete confession of the alleged plot to restore Victoriano Huerta to power in Mexico, according to information given out tonight at the office
of United States District Attorney J.
L. Camp, in San Antonio.

It is understood that warrants will be issued for the arrest of at least twelve men said to be implicated in the plot.

Orozco, it is alleged, detailed the story of alleged plans for an uprising
with ramifications in half a dozen states and for which agents in New York, New Orleans, Galveston and San Antonio were working. Huerta was in New York while the plans for the invasion of Mexico from the United States were being arranged,
according to information from the district attorney's office, but left for the west when everything was ready for launching the scheme to seize Juarez and make it the provisional capital of Mexico. Then came the arrest of the former dictator in El Paso.

The following extract is taken from the alleged confession which was not made public in full:

"There was $11,000,000 behind the Huerta movement and the former dictator parts in Mexico was backing
it. Pascual Orozco, Jose Orozco, Isabel Gomez Toledo, former secretary to Orozco, and now living in San Antonio, and Gen. Jose Ynes Salazar, now in prison in New Mexico, were
to have been the Huerta generals who were to launch the revolt. As soon as they captured Juarez, Huerta was to have pronounced it his provisional capital. Six thousand rifles had been ordered to the revolt, also sixty machine guns."

According to the district attorney's office, Orozco decided to make a clean breast of his knowledge of the alleged plot when certain friends in whom he trusted and gave money to have his bond furnished proved false. The government was said to have been made to assist United States District Attorney R. E. Crawford.

NEW HAVEN OFFICIAL WROTE FOOLISH LETTER

By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.
New York, Nov. 5.—A little dinner, given by John M. Hall, former president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad to the railroad committee of the lower house of the Connecticut legislature figured in the testimony introduced by the government today in the trial of eleven former directors of the New Haven
railroad charged with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The dinner was given, according to a letter written by Hall, in the celebration of political activities in behalf of the New Haven which resulted in the failure of a company to obtain a charter to build a line paralleling the New Haven. It was the Montville line running from Groton to Norwich, Conn.

AIR PATROLS ON UNITED STATES COAST PLANNED

President Wilson Approves Plan
for Volunteer System to Be Inaugurated by Private Citizens in Case of War.

By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.
Washington, Nov. 5.—Approval was given by President Wilson tonight to a movement started in Portland, Me.,
for the inauguration of a system of aerial coast patrols along the coast lines of the United States. The movement has been started by private individuals who propose to place their services at the disposal of the federal government in time of war.

The president was informed by the Portland Chamber of Commerce that it had approved a committee, including the cities of Portland, Bangor, Waterville, Augusta, Brunswick, Bath
and Lewiston to raise $10,000 to purchase a hydro-aeroplane and the equipment of an aerial coast patrol
to cover the coast from Portsmouth to the mouth of the Penobscot river. It was suggested that such a patrol was essential for national defense, and that the step taken in Maine might serve to encourage similar action by other states through which the entire coast line would be protected.

The president sent the following telegram to the president of the Portland chamber:

"I join with the secretary of war
and the secretary of the navy in feeling a very great interest in the development of aerial service and in hoping that your citizens will meet with entire success in their interesting undertaking."

LAWYER CENSURED BY NEW YORK COURT

By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.
New York, Nov. 5.—Edward Lanterbach, who was counsel for David Lamar at the time of Lamar's alleged impersonation of Representative A.
Mitchell Palmer and Speaker Clark,
in telephone calls to friends of the late J. P. Morgan, was today ordered severely censured by the appellate division of the supreme court for the part he played in Lamar's practices.
This consisted largely of seeking to obtain employment as an attorney by J. P. Morgan & Co., through misrepresentations.

No facts other than those disclosed
at Lamar's trial in December, 1914,
on the charge of having impersonated
a government official, were mentioned in the court's decision. Lamar was found guilty and sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

MIKADO LEAVES ON JOURNEY TO FORMALLY TAKE SEAT ON THRONE

of some prince and princesses of the blood, prince and princesses of the imperial house had driven to the station previous to the emperor and
the ministers of state, elder statesmen, peers and other dignitaries had done likewise, in order to receive his majesty and be present at his departure for Kyoto.

Triumphal Portal.

In front of the station was a triumphal portal of green and flowers
and the emperor passed through this
to be received within by the distinguished company which had preceded
him. After an exchange of salutations, the emperor and court passed over a carpet of beautiful tapestry especially woven for the function to the railroad train, which moved slowly from
the station while cries of "banzai," "banzai," filled the station and were taken up by the great crowd outside.

The imperial railroad cars were built for the occasion at the works of the railway board. The interior decoration was of exquisite taste,
textile fabrics and raised lacquer of the most exquisite quality. The clothing was prepared by Naniwa artists
and the regalia by artists from Kyoto.

Special Royal Car.

The royal car itself was designed by Naniwa Seidoro. It is a combination of sturdy construction and exquisite
and delicate workmanship and decoration. The car is divided into seven compartments, connected by a long corridor. The compartment for the use of the emperor and empress is situated in the center. It is of Japanese style of the Fujiwara era. The ceiling is composed of multicolored
thin panels of polished oak containing ly and beautifully laid and draped with rare silk brocade. The design is the star and butterfly. The walls are hung with rare tapestry embrodered with the imperial chrysanthemum intermingled with the mythological phoenix. Four beautiful panels depict the seasons. The floor is covered with a specially woven carpet of silk velvet.

Armchairs for Majesties.

There were two armchairs for their majesties, upholstered in especially designed brocade, one small table for the imperial seal and another upon which rested the imperial scepter.

There are two dressing rooms intended for the emperor and his consort. The doors leading to these rooms are decorated with rich embrodery. The lower panels consist of Japanese lacquer of the most exquisite workmanship and skill.

The walls are covered with silk tapestry,
and the chairs and blankets are of gold.
The car in which rested the emperor's majesty has six compartments, one for the sanctuary itself,
one for the soldiers of the imperial guard, one for the ladies in waiting
of the court and three for the priests
of the imperial household, the sanctuary compartment being in the center.

ELECTION FRAUDS IN PITTSBURGH CHARGED

By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 5.—Sweeping investigations into alleged election
frauds will be made by the grand jury which convenes here Monday.
Upon the suggestion of District Attorney R. H. Jackson, Judge John C.
Haymaker today ordered that the grand jury inquire into alleged irregularities in the primary election on September 21, which resulted in the vote of an entire ward in Braddock
being thrown out. An investigation into the distribution of fake specimen ballots at a number of polling places last Tuesday in an effort to defeat the woman suffrage amendment
in Allegheny county will also be made
according to the district attorney, who declared that under the law the firm
that printed the fake ballots is guilty
as well as whoever ordered the printing.

NEW WAR COUNCIL HOLDS FIRST MEETING

London, Nov. 6 (14:40 p. m.)—The new war council, which Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons on November 2, would conduct
the war, held its first meeting yesterday. It consisted of the premier,
A. J. Balfour, first lord of the admiralty, David Lloyd-George, minister of munitions, and Sir Edward Grey, foreign secretary. Three members of the cabinet concerned with various military and naval experts.

When Premier Asquith announced that a cabinet committee of from three to five members would be appointed to take charge of Great Britain's military operations it was taken for granted that Lord Kitchener, secretary of war, would be one of the members. The fact that he was not present at the first meeting may have been due to his absence from London.
Rumors of his resignation as war
secretary and that he would take command of the army in France have been officially denied.

SUPREME COURT GRANTS STAY TO COLONEL BULGER

Soldier of Fortune, Who Was
to Have Been Executed for Murder Within 12 Hours,
Gets Another Chance.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Denver, Nov. 5.—Less than twelve hours before the time fixed for his execution, the Colorado supreme court today granted a stay of execution in the case of James C. Bulger, sentenced to hang for the murder of
L. E. Niordenum, a Denver hotel man.
The court further ordered that the district court in which Bulger's case
was concluded, reconsider Bulger's case
with reference to his present sanity.
The action of the supreme court is said to have been unprecedented in the history of Colorado and one of the very few cases where similar action was taken in the history of American criminal law.

Bulger, a soldier of fortune; a Madero general during the Mexican revolution against Porfirio Diaz and a veteran of numerous uprisings in Guatemala, Peru and Honduras, was overcome at the news which reached
him in the death cell at Canon City.
"I had given up all hope and was prepared to meet my God," he told his attorneys.

Thomas J. Tryon, warden, said it was the best news he had heard in months, since he believed there was a question as to Bulger's sanity.

Bulger, while intoxicated, shot and fatally wounded Niordenum, one of the proprietors of a local hotel where Bulger was maintaining headquarters
for a recruiting station to raise a regiment for service in an expected war between Mexico and the United States.

His attorneys set forth a plea of insanity at the trial in the district court
at which he was convicted and sentenced to death. The sentence was affirmed by the supreme court. The state pardons board, on October 29,
heard evidence in support of the plea
that Bulger was insane but declined to recommend clemency to the governor. Governor Carlson had stated that he would not interfere and expressed the conviction that the condemned man was sane. Yesterday,
Judge J. D. Wright in district court refused to issue a writ of habeas corpus sought by Miss Pauline Bulger of Brooklyn, a writer, upon the ground that her brother was insane. Judge Wright ruled that he could not issue
the writ, since it was not shown that the defendant was illegally deprived of his liberty.

Bulger is about 35 years of age. He gained notoriety at one time by
"shootin' up" the town of Bulger,
Colo., which he founded and named. On another occasion, it is charged that he shot and wounded J.
H. Franklin, a private in the United States army at El Paso, Tex.

The stay was granted to January 2, 1916.

PROMINENT YOUNG MAN, FORMERLY OF DEMING, DIES AT SAN DIEGO

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Deming, N. M., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Alice Browning received a telegram Tuesday morning announcing the sudden death of her son, Fred Browning, at San Diego. She has not as yet heard the full particulars, but it is supposed he died of heart failure.

Fred Browning was a Deming man, having been born here in 1890. He graduated from the Deming high school, and went to the University of New Mexico, the appointment having been made by the Luna county commissioners. He finished the course at the university creditably, and then went to Los Angeles, where he attended the School of Pharmacy, and graduated from the college.

At the time of his death, Mr. Browning was manager of the Owl Drug store in San Diego, Calif., holding a most responsible position at a large salary. Just two weeks previous to his death he returned from a trip to the San Francisco exposition, his expenses for the trip having been paid by the company with which he was employed.

Mr. Browning was very popular in California as well as in his home town, and since his death his mother has received many telegrams of condolence from San Diego and elsewhere.

His remains were shipped to Deming and the funeral services were held at his mother's home, on Cedar street, the Rev. W. E. Foulke conducting the funeral services. He was buried in Mountain View cemetery, at Deming.

Besides his young son, who died with Mrs. Alice Browning, the deceased leaves a devoted mother and two sisters to mourn his early death, while his hosts of friends are in deep sympathy with them.

THEY REFUSE TO EAT

At periods in most children's lives they fail to relish their meals and refuse to eat even the delicacies prepared to tempt their appetites. They lack ambition, and growth seems impeded, which causes anxiety and worry.

To compel them to eat is a grave mistake, because nutrition is impaired. Healthful exercise in fresh air and sunshine is important, but equally important is a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion three times a day to feed the tissues and furnish food-energy to improve their blood, aid nutrition and sharpen their appetites.

The highly concentrated medicinal food in Scott's Emulsion supplies the very elements children need to build up their strength. They relish Scott's—it is free from alcohol.

Elaborate Program Arranged for Celebration of Arrival of Historic Relic; Military Will Participate.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Deming, N. M., Nov. 5.—On November 16, Deming will be the rallying point for the lovers of the liberty bell and its associations. Our city government, with commendable civic pride has taken the affair in hand, and is sparing neither effort nor expense to give to the old relic a reception deserving of its history, and the hearty co-operation of the officers and soldiers of the Thirteenth cavalry with our citizens assures a day of celebration and rejoicing not heretofore known in this section.

The cavalry and battery will arrive in Deming on the afternoon of Monday, the 15th. Promptly at 11 a. m. of the 16th the grand parade of United States troops, national guard and school children, led by the band will start from the grammar school building, pass through the main streets on the way to the railway station, where the bell will be welcomed with appropriate ceremonies, in which the school children will have a prominent part.

TEXAS CALVES FEED AT SOUTH SPRINGS FARM

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Carlsbad, N. M., Nov. 5.—Three hundred husky calves came up from Texas last night and today are feasting on the big farm of the Peoria Valley Investment company at South Springs. Dr. F. F. Dopp and H. E. Barber are growing good cattle on their ranch a short distance below the New Mexico line. They sold three hundred calves recently to Melville R. Summers to be wintered on his company's farm. They also sold eleven cars of cattle to McCombs & Howell of Kennel.

The staff was loaded today and came up the line tonight. Mr. Summers came to Carlsbad this afternoon to receive the calves.

Mr. Summers tried his hand at feeding last winter with very satisfactory results. He turned into cash a great deal of feed that had no special market value. This year Mr. Summers will do still better as he will benefit by his past experience. These calves will have plenty to eat of all kinds of feed and good alfalfa pasture as well.

By spring they will have increased in size and be in the pink of condition that catches the eye of the wise buyer. The calves are in good condition now and will be pushed all winter. Mr. Summers is demonstrating the real sensible method of handling growing stock.

D. D. DOUGLAS NOW ON TRIAL FOR ARSON

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Santa Fe, Nov. 5.—In the district court today one of the most interesting cases ever heard in New Mexico is on trial. It is that of the state vs. D. D. Douglas, on the charge of conspiracy to commit arson.

Douglas had served a number of years in the Philippines during which he assembled a valuable and unique ethnological collection. Returning to the United States he was employed as a disbursing agent by the forestry service at Silver City and later at Santa Fe. While here, he stored his collection in an outbuilding adjoining the forestry offices. While away from Santa Fe, the building was set on fire and the collection badly damaged.

A negro, named Anderson, is now serving a term in the penitentiary for setting fire to the building. The charge now being tried is that Douglas hired the negro to set fire to the building so that he might collect insurance amounting to some $4,000 on the collection. The testimony to be given, is said to be quite sensational, and witnesses have been summoned from El Paso and Silver City.

SUMMER SCHOOLS AT SANTA FE TO BREAK RECORD

Splendid Advertising Campaign Planned in Order to Attract Students and Visitors for Unusual Events.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Santa Fe, Nov. 5.—Plans for next year's summer school were outlined last evening at an informal conference of Director Edgar L. Hewett with a number of officers and directors of the New Mexico Institute of Science, and an advertising campaign is to be begun without delay. Following this year's plan, advantage will be taken of distinguished lecturers and musicians who come along and can be persuaded to appear before a Santa Fe audience. Similarly also, the four weeks county institute will be made statewide and an effort will be made to have several other counties join formally in the institute. This year one hundred teachers attended, representing quite a number of counties. Next year, it is believed, the number can be doubled.

In June there will be a week's lyceum course in a large tent, which has been already provided. While this is not under the auspices of the Institute of Science and Education, it fits into the general scheme of providing educational attractions during the summer months.

It is likely that the Indian institute for New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arizona will again meet in Santa Fe as it did two years ago. An invitation will also be extended to the institute of mission teachers in those three states to meet in Santa Fe.

The Biggest Attraction.

The feature that will attract most people from the outside, however, will be the summer session of the School of American Archaeology during August in the Rito de los Frijoles. Arrangements will be made for camp life, for excavations, for field work, for distinguished lecturers and teachers, for conferences and round table meetings, walking trips, excursions, Indian dances, all coupled with life in the prehistoric caves, out-of-door activities and camaraderie that comes only with life in the open for weeks.

Military Camp Also.

It is likely that the military camp planned by Col. J. W. Wilson of the New Mexico Military Institute will be held in the Rito at the same time. Ample provisions will be made for satisfactory commissary, tents and transportation. The forest service will be used to make the road to the Rito a model highway. The telephone line into the canyon will be completed by that time. At present, the trip to the Rito can easily be made in three hours by automobile and yet, the region is most splendidly isolated in the forest and mountain with a beautiful stream supplying the water. Add to this its great interest from an archaeological standpoint and it will be admitted that there is no place in the world better adapted for an out-of-door summer school.

The summer session is to be inaugurated on August 1, with the dedication of the new museum and art gallery. This will be made a state-wide event with excursions from nearby points and cities. In the evening, a great reception is to be given by the Woman's Museum auxiliary.

On August 2 and 3 the lectures of the summer school will give a program of lectures in the new auditorium, and in the evening in the patio of the Old Palace. On August 4, the summer school attendees will go to the corn dance at Santo Domingo and on Saturday, August 5, the school will trek to the Rito de los Frijoles where on Sunday, August 6, divine services will be held under the pine trees with the huge ceremonial cactus as the pulpit and also as the choir loft. Likely a Sunday school and daily Bible study class will be organized at that time by those interested. Then for three weeks solid, lecture, field and class work will be prosecuted, the school to close with the annual sessions of the regents of the museum, the managing committee and the annual reception on August 21.

PRESIDENT RETURNS TO NATIONAL CAPITAL

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Washington, Nov. 5.—President Wilson, with his fiancée, Mrs. Norman Doherty, and members of their party, returned to Washington from New York shortly after 8 o'clock tonight on a special train.

On the return trip Mr. Wilson showed concern over Mario Fassi, a small Italian boy who narrowly escaped being run over by the president's automobile near the Pennsylvania station in New York while the president was on his way to his train. The boy was slightly injured by his fall in front of the car. Arrangements were made at the White House for inquiring about his condition tomorrow.

How to Prevent Croup.

It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases croup can be prevented. Mrs. H. M. Johns, Eldon, Ohio, relates her experience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and when he began having that croupy cough I would give him one or two doses of it and it would break the attack. I like it better for children than any other cough medicine because children take it willingly, and it is safe and reliable. Obtainable everywhere."

STOCKMEN AND FARMERS UNITE FOR MUTUAL GOOD

Work of County Agent in Chaves Bearing Fruit and Co-operation Is Shown to Be of Interest to All.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Roswell, N. M., Nov. 5.—The continued efforts of the county agent and others here to get the stockmen and farmers together on a better working basis have borne fruit, according to figures which were compiled today.

There are on the farms around Roswell more than six thousand lambs and ewes. The lambs are being fattened for market, and the ewes carried on alfalfa pasture. In addition to this there are several hundred head of range cattle on the alfalfa pastures for the winter.

Last year the winter pasturing for cattle was tried out by C. C. Tamm, a cattlemen, and president of the Roswell Commercial club. He found the experiment so satisfactory that he is pasturing a larger number this winter and many other cattlemen have followed his lead and rented pasture from the farmers for the winter. The stockmen believe they can afford to pay for the pasture and make a profit on the improved condition of the cattle in the spring over what they would be coming from the range. The alfalfa is green throughout the winter, and furnishes excellent feed for the cattle. The farmers on the other hand do not interfere in any way with their hay crop and collect an added profit on their alfalfa, which they would not otherwise receive.

Cattlemen Bears Results.

In some cases the farmers have bought cattle outright, and placed them on the farm. The two year campaign which has been waged to get the farmers to market their crops through livestock has already borne such results that men in touch with the situation say conditions in the Pecos valley now are 75 per cent better than they were a year ago.

The farmers are also buying ewes in small numbers to utilize their pasture. J. W. Riney, county agent, said today that there were more than 5,000 ewes and lambs on the farms immediately surrounding Roswell. The ewes are all owned in small numbers, which indicates he says that there are many different farmers who have awakened to the realization of the possibilities along this line. Last winter there were probably 1,000 ewes carried on alfalfa pasture during the winter around Roswell.

The feeding of lambs for market is also attracting much attention here, and while there will not be so many fed for this winter's market, several different individuals are making plans to go into this on a large scale next fall.

Notes of Interest From State Museum

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Santa Fe, Nov. 5.—Dr. Edgar L. Hewett, director of the museum, returned yesterday from an interesting lecture trip to western points. He spent considerable time in Washington, D. C., working for the Peoria Valley national park, next year's summer school and the interests of the School of American Archaeology as well as the Panama-California expedition. He lectured in Washington, Philadelphia, Rochester, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver and other points. Tonight he will leave for San Diego.

Despite the advanced season, thirty tourists made the trip to the Rito de los Frijoles the past fifteen days, according to Judge A. J. Abbott, who returned to the cliff dwelling country yesterday after a visit to Santa Fe.

The class in archaeology of the Woman's club, yesterday afternoon, in three automobiles, made the trip to the excavations on the Arroyo Hondo, and received instruction in actual field work, from N. C. Nelson in charge of the excavations there.

To the Wallace relics was added today the following order in the handwriting of General Lew Wallace: "Executive Order, Santa Fe, N. M., January 28, 1890. Mr. Fischer, Sir: Please let the bearer have eight panes of glass 10x12, and charge to me. Lew Wallace, governor, N. M."

The memorandum was presented by the assistant state auditor, A. J. Fischer. At the same time, General F. F. Test, of Omaha, made to the museum the following clipping from Harper's Weekly, January 15, 1893: "General Lew Wallace, United States minister to Turkey, is one of the most scholarly, as well as one of the most practical men in our diplomatic service. He has just been making a tour to Syria and the Holy Land, and his reception at Jerusalem was a full-sized event. All the Americans in the city came out to meet him at the Joppa gate. The Star Spangled Banner was carried by the Jews and a leading rabbi made an address of welcome and led the crowd in giving three cheers. General Wallace jumped down from his horse, thanked the rabbi in appropriate terms, and shook hands all around. Afterward he was given a reception at the consulate. The sultan had telegraphed orders in advance as to General Wallace's lodgings and entertainment by the city officials, which was an unprecedented attention. General Wallace is a prime personal favorite of the sultan."

The following registered at the museum: L. B. Tamm, Roswell, La. Anselmo, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Glover, Mr. F. W. Todd, Glover, Shreveport, La.; F. W. Floto, Kansas City; Miss F. M. Cummings, Detroit, Mich.; Fra. Williams, M. Towne, Chicago; Joseph S. Schofield, Tres Piedras; Mr. and Mrs. L. Heyman, Albuquerque; C. A. Daugh

The year 1913 saw the greatest total production, $126,771, while 1911 recorded the least, $5,158. PRINCETON WITH HARVARD CLAIMS CENTER OF STAGE

Annual Clash Between These Colleges Eclipses All Other Games to Be Played in East Today.

New York, Nov. 5.—The annual clash between Princeton and Harvard tomorrow overshadows all other gridiron struggles of the day in the east. Dartmouth and Pennsylvania will meet in Boston; Brown will invade New Haven; Notre Dame will be the Army's opponent at West Point; and Bucknell will play the Navy.

An eleven-hour shift marked the day's developments in Princeton's preparations for the Harvard game tomorrow. While hopeful, every one in the Tiger camp rated the Harvard eleven highly. All in charge agreed that the struggle will be close.

OUT DAY FOR ALL LEADERS IN BIG NINE CONFERENCE

Chicago, Nov. 5.—With the leaders of the conference football teams having an off day as far as games bearing on the championship are concerned, interest among football followers of this section will center on the Michigan-Cornell battle at Ann Arbor. The schedule includes the following games: Cornell vs. Michigan; Missouri vs. Northwestern; Indiana vs. Ohio State; Iowa vs. Purdue; Haskell Indians vs. Chicago; Marquette vs. Michigan State.

With a team far from the best yet developed in the last few years, Michigan meets one of the strongest teams in the east in Cornell. The fighting comes with a victory over Harvard to their credit and a record of seven wins.

The clash of representatives of neighboring conferences lends interest to the Missouri-Northwestern game, though neither eleven has shown much strength this year. Northwestern will not send its best line-up into the battle, it is said, and Missouri is likely to present a team even more crippled.

Chicago may give its substitutes a chance in the game with the Haskell Indians. It is believed that Coach Black will not risk his stars with the Minnesota game only a week away. Championship honors in the Little Five depend on the outcome of the game at Monmouth between Lake Forest and Monmouth.

OKLAHOMA AND NEBRASKA PLAY GAME IN KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Nov. 5.—With the University of Nebraska and the University of Oklahoma playing practice games in preparation for their annual battle on November 13 and the visit of Missouri in Illinois for a contest with Northwestern, no football games of vital importance will be played in Missouri valley territory tomorrow.

The most interesting aspect of the week to followers of the gridiron sport was the talk of a post-season game on Thanksgiving day at Kansas City between Oklahoma and Nebraska. With their defeat of the strong Notre Dame eleven and the conquering of all minor enemies the Cornhuskers appear to have a firm hold on the 1915 Missouri valley championship. Already Oklahoma has defeated Kansas and followers of the sport argue that if the Cornhuskers defeat the Jayhawkers, Oklahoma and Nebraska are logical opponents in a contest to decide the championship of this section of the state.

COLORADO AGGIES SWAMP UNIVERSITY OF WYOMING

Denver, Nov. 5.—The rehabilitated Colorado Aggies football team which has swept all opposition before it today added a 45 to 10 victory over Wyoming to its prestige as a Rocky mountain conference championship contender. The Colorado College football team's game tomorrow at Colorado Springs is expected to be utterly unopposed, since defeat for Utah will practically eliminate that school from the position she holds. In event of victory, the Tigers will face the Colorado Aggies on November 13, without a defeat.

Denver university is preparing for its contest tomorrow with the Colorado school of Mines, last year's winners, but who this year have been eliminated by just performance.

VIRGINIA-VANDERBILT GAME BIG EVENT IN THE SOUTH

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 5.—Interest in southern football tomorrow centers in the Virginia-Vanderbilt game at Charlottesville, although the Alabama-Georgia Tech game at Atlanta promises to have more effect on the so-called southern championship. Four players of the gridiron game have shown more versatility than has "Ollie" Oliphant, star end, half-back, quarterback and fullback on the Army eleven. Oliphant began footballing at the half-back position with Purdue a couple of years ago. He then played other backfield positions and did it so well that he made the all-western and all-conference eleven.

Since coming to West Point, Oliphant has played half-back and end. It is not yet settled just where he will play in the big game against the Navy.

Indians have run rough shod over southern teams. Georgia goes to Jacksonville to meet Florida. North Carolina and Clemson meet at Greenville, S. C., and Delaware will play the University of Texas at Houston.

Indianapolis, Nov. 5.—Fulton, Rochester, Minn., heavyweight, won from Terry Koller of Australia, a technical knockout in the fourth round before the Indian A. C. tonight. Referee Harry Bout of Milwaukee then stopped the fight. Fulton has been picked as one of the possibilities for Jack Willard at New Orleans in March.

RUSSIA WARRING ON MILITARISM, ASSERTS PRINCE

Member of Royal Family Declares Abuses at Home Are to Be Corrected as Result of Present Struggle.

(Associated Press Correspondence.) Athens, Sept. 26.—That Russia is warring quite as much against militarism in Russia itself as Germany is the declaration of Prince Demidoff, the Duke of San Donato, who is imperial Russian minister to Greece. In a frank summary of the present situation in Russia, Prince Demidoff told the Associated Press correspondent that he could not see upon what the German claims to victory over Russia were based, and he developed a view of his own of the situation which left the central empire in a perilous rather than a satisfactory position, following their successful drive on the imperial forces of Russia.

Prince Demidoff's family is popularly supposed to be the richest in Russia, its foundations having been laid in the time of Peter the Great by Nikita Demidoff, who opened up some immensely productive mines at Nevskiy, in the Ekaterinburg district of the empire, in 1699. The first of the Demidoffs became the Kropch of this day, having been entrusted by Peter the Great with the manufacture of cannon for the imperial armies.

"From every standpoint," said Prince Demidoff, the German drive on Russia seems to have been as much of a failure as the German drive on Paris a year ago. It had two definite objects—to crush the Russian army in a great piece, and to force Russia to sue for a separate peace.

"The first has patently failed," Prince Demidoff has given it up. They are digging themselves in. As they did in France, and are preparing to transfer part of their troops elsewhere. It was a mad thing to attempt, anyhow—you might as well call it a drive on Ithaca as anything else, for all the definite object it may be said to have had. Failing at an immense Russian force, withdrawing with administrative order across the Russian steppes, it is like chasing a will of the whip through a swamp—the farther you go the worse it gets, and the less chance you have to get out safe and sound. Russia is like a pillow—you can make a hollow in it by punching it with your fist, but when you take your fist away, slowly, inevitably, it comes back.

Problem in Mathematics

"How long do you suppose the Germans can do that?" It is simply a problem in mathematics. Remember one thing the farther away an army extends its line, the more men are required to hold the line; and the farther the line is from its base, the more men are required to feed and clothe and supply it with munitions. And the increase is in geometric, not arithmetic, progression, while at the same time the process of extending the line in the face of a series of daily rearguard actions, itself reduces the effective with which the movement is made. For there is no advance without its price in men—dead, permanently disabled, and those taken prisoners—as well as in the freshness of the troops engaged.

"Now with the Austrians and Germans there is a definite, known maximum number of men available. It may be as great as you please, but it is fixed. Every German killed, permanently disabled or taken prisoner is one available German less. That is the key to the whole situation. So long as the Austrians and Germans have not succeeded in crushing Russia, the process of subtraction goes on indefinitely. Extending their line only increases the inevitable and inevitable losses. The number of men essential to hold the line.

"So, on the German side you have two cardinal elements of the situation, neither of which is an element of victory: a price paid in men and strength without definite, concrete results; and an ever-increasing price to pay in the necessity for supplying and victualing an immensely extended line. On the Russian side you have two predominant elements, neither of which is an element of defeat, an unbroken, undisciplined, determined force and an, as yet, scarcely seriously touched reservoir of fresh troops.

"The same analogy holds true of the financial situation of the central empire in relation to the allied powers, and especially to Russia, our resources, our borrowing capacity, our cash, is virtually unlimited. To give the aid that Russia is entitled to, the resources of the central empire are very limited indeed, and do not become less so with time.

Confident of Victory

"It is in the knowledge of this that we are so confident of our conviction of final and complete victory. The second purpose of the German drive on Russia was to force Russia to conclude a separate peace. It only shows how the Germans have wholly misunderstood the Russian character, as they wholly misunderstood both the French and the English. They thought the French were a degenerate people who had no fight left in them. Since the battle of the Marne they have abandoned that theory. They thought that Great Britain was badly divided, on the verge of civil war. Instead, the entire British empire is in the struggle heart and soul. And instead of forcing Russia to a separate peace, the Germans by their very drive on Russia, have unified the Russian people as they have never been unified before. You have today a spectacle in Russia which is truly grandiose; one hundred and seventy-five millions of people absolutely united, but with one thought, their emperor in person at the head, determined to purge Russia of the invader forever if it takes a generation. There is, as a matter of fact, more unity of understanding and confidence among the allies at this moment than there is among the Germans themselves.

"The central empire has failed in both their attempts. Where there is their victory over the Russians. Though lacking sufficient munitions to undertake an offensive all along the line, we can still harry the Germans, at the very least. Every day we contribute our part to the process of subtraction which is the secret of the final victory. And this method is really more effective towards the final destruction of the war than a mere tactical triumph. For the purpose of the war is to finish with militarism for good and all. To do that, the victory of the allies must be absolute; we cannot parley with the military crowd in Germany; they have got to be got rid of. As the war is being fought, victory may be a long way off yet, but every day some of the military crowd in Germany and Austria are being got rid of. The longer the process goes on, the more sure is militarism done with. And that's what we want."

Much of the feeling of unfriendliness and distrust against Japan in this country, said Dr. Teusler, is the result of prejudice and misinformation. He praised the attitude of Japan toward the Chinese and said that Japan's policy of a Monroe doctrine in the far east will do much for the preservation of the integrity of that nation.

Dr. Teusler, who is a cousin of Mrs. Norman Galt, fiancée of President Wilson, has been in Japan sixteen years.

GREATER NAVY THAN PRESIDENT PLANS REQUIRED

Henry A. Hise Wood Declares Administration Is Not Going Far Enough in Preparation for National Defense.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE

Portland, Me., Nov. 5.—Henry A. Hise Wood, of New York, a member of the naval advisory board, in a formal statement issued here tonight, advocated rejection of President Wilson's naval and military proposals as wholly insufficient. Mr. Wood came to Portland to address a meeting called to discuss plans for the establishment of an aerial coast patrol station at Casco Bay.

"In the name of the defense movement," the statement read, "I am indignantly calling for the rejection of the naval and military proposals of the president as wholly insufficient to give us that degree of protection which ensures peace. In this critical hour of world unrest it would be the supremacy of folly if America permit herself to remain weaker in sea power than the only nation that is causing it to rearm at all."

"Therefore the defense movement holds it vital to the preservation of the sovereignty of this nation that steps shall at once be taken to restore America to the position of second naval power, from which, through the wisdom of weak advisers, it was permitted to fall and that the military plans shall be those of general staff of the army, not of the civilian, secretary of war."

THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

In a comprehensive discussion of the entire subject of preparedness, President Wilson has launched his campaign for an adequate army, a stronger navy, plenty of armaments with which to meet any emergency which may be thrust upon this country.

The address delivered before the Manhattan club was the very essence of common sense and deliberate thought. There was not a single note of alarm in it. It was merely common sense, high patriotism, caution against disaster, and a firm assurance that with no probability, but always the possibility, that it will protect him from great loss at an unexpected moment.

Actively in the field in opposition to any degree of preparedness. Mr. Bryan has just issued a circular for general distribution and has also had himself interviewed in which he gives sharp criticism of the president's speech of Thursday night. Mr. Bryan could not avoid playing the demagogue, in his interview, by referring to the "atmosphere of the Manhattan club." His position is summed up in the closing paragraph of his circular which says:

"Don't let the jingoes confuse the issue. It is not a question of defense—this country will defend itself if it is ever attacked—and if that time ever comes the common people will fight. The soldiers—those who fight when the country needs them, and work when the country needs workers—the jingoes will be too busy making army contracts and negotiating military loans to go to the front. The preparedness now demanded will provoke war instead of preventing it. Peace among nations, as among individuals, rests upon friendship and good will, not upon force or fear. Try threats and ultimatums on your neighbors and see how they work, and then you will understand the diplomacy that has rendered the pages of history and delayed the coming of universal brotherhood."

Mr. Bryan says if we ever are attacked the common people will furnish the soldiers, but he fails to tell us how those "common people" will be armed. He says peace among nations, as among individuals, rests upon friendship and good will, when he has before him the example of Belgium, the most peaceful of nations, invaded and ruined at a moment when she believed herself at peace and in friendship with all other nations of the world. Even her neutrality was guaranteed by the powers of the nation which deplored her.

Mr. Bryan should know there is no such thing as international friendship, just as there is no such thing as international friendship. For further example, he should take note of the fact that Bulgaria, freed from the intolerable yoke of Turkey by her ally, Slav brother, Russia, is now fighting against Russia, and side by side with the Turks.

We have, approximately, along the Atlantic, twelve thousand miles of coast line, along the Pacific, which is not nearly so indicated as the Atlantic, a little more than three thousand miles, and along the Gulf of Mexico, about six thousand miles. To defend the Atlantic coast from attack, we have what might be called a "preparation of feet"—modernized. To defend the coast of the Pacific, we have an excellent fleet for peace or parade—all obsolete. For defense of the Gulf coast, we have no fleet.

Our army is about big enough to conduct a defense of the state of Rhode Island. Our coast defense would be all right at a few points if we had enough men in our coast artillery to keep the guns in working order and enough ammunition and guns powerful enough to reach ships when within range of effective bombardment by them.

There we are, and there is where the problem of twaddle would have to stay.

If there is anybody in the country who thinks we will not have a war on our hands sooner or later, he is a superstitious optimist. Belgium never could be invaded, because the territory had been made inviolate by treaty. But plighted faith became a "piece of paper" when the German army met the Belgian army.

Greek port and Greece is a neutral nation. Yet British and French troops are landing there in abundance; if possible, the Turkish and the Bulgarians. Even in Mr. Bryan's time as secretary of state, this most peaceful and unprepared of all nations except China came near having three wars (brought upon her, and in two of them we would have been compelled to deal with most powerful and ruthless nations, the Germans and the Japs.

It took Germany forty years to prepare for what she has done in this war. We don't want Germany's example of preparation, but we do want a foundation laid for successful defense in case we are attacked. The time to do this is now. Just because the most plans of the west have not been called out for two winters is no guarantee that they will not be called out during the present winter, or the next, or the next, and when blockades occur is no time to order the building of such plans.

Mr. Bryan can't silence a forty-two centimeter gun with a squirrel rifle; he can't fight a trained army with raw recruits, and he can't defend twenty odd thousand miles of coast with such tools.

Carson is reported to have assured John Lind of his deep admiration for President Wilson and the American people. Now if the first chief will only introduce a little evidence to show that he means what he says we may breathe easier on this side of the Rio Grande.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Establishment and extension of vocational training in the public schools will be a beneficent innovation, if its practice has regard for the moral character as well as the mental and manual endowment of the child. Science has become almost exact in determining degrees of mentality, temperament, aptitude and tendency in the young, and it is to be expected that the intelligent and enterprising teacher will take advantage of this.

In holding the youthful mind ever in the direction of special talents, there is always the danger of narrowing the pupil's angle of vision and stunting development. Over-specialization is almost as bad as scattering, disorganizing knowledge, and in the adoption of vocational training in the primary and lower grades, there is reason to fear that excess of zeal which usually attends the introduction of every novel method of teaching.

Given a good fundamental knowledge of the rudimentary branches and special attention to individual talent and facilities must be of great service in guiding the student to the choice of a career. But not even the most enthusiastic specialist will contend that concentrated attention and effort along narrow lines of study can ever result in generally effective education. There is hardly a mental or spiritual endowment of youth that can not be made contributory to the natural talent or genius of the individual, and as the former are the material for character-building and the basic ingredients of conscience, we are not at all sure that our educational system is more in need of vocational classes than in character classes.

The development of that conscience which is the guide monitor of character is quite as necessary to the commendably educated member of society as suitability and excellence in any of the arts, professions or trades.

"Not looking for trouble, but don't get it" is the sort of preparedness that President Wilson apparently advocates, and it is the sort that the unprepared citizens of America will back him up in.

A TAKING YOUNG MAN

The young man who blew into Albuquerque and, in the face of the positive opposition of all of the women's clubs, over the protest of a large number of the most prominent taxpayers and in the face of a popular protest voiced by both of the daily newspapers, succeeded in securing from the mayor and council the exclusive right to hang advertisements on all of the street corners and make use of the ornamental light posts, certainly knows how to get what he wants after.

We can hardly believe that the powers of persuasion are limited to the officials of Albuquerque and it seems safe to say that he could make much more than six thousand dollars in a larger field. All of the big cities are waiting for exploitation, as well as all of the little ones except Albuquerque, which has just been exploited most effectively.

With the sort of weather that prevails these glorious days, and business conditions getting better every day, and the circus coming to town, we should worry!

THE BRITISH WAY

With their usual delay until it is too late, the British army are now pouring into the Balkans. Should they check the Bulgarians and their allies, it will only be to find them entrenched in impregnable positions, taken from the Serbians while the British were trying to make up their minds what to do.

When Greek meets Greek, then comes a deadlock over which side of the European squabble the people of the historic bays will line up with.

"In the Stone-Bruise Age"

Col. Harris Expresses Views On Influence of the Hyphen

Editor Morning Journal:

What is our standing as a nation and where are we drifting? Are we not fast earning and deserving the contempt of the civilized world by our cowardly system of "watchful waiting" our vacillating course in failing to properly resent the insults that have been showered upon us by the barbarians of central Europe and Mexico? How much longer are we to turn the cheek and submit to the outrages of a vandolous conqueror and his military advisors? In every possible way except by an open declaration of war has Germany made war upon the United States. She has murdered our citizens on the high seas, she has fomented strikes in our industrial plants, blown up railway communication, started fires on ships by bombs hidden to destroy them in mid-ocean. She has subsidized the German-American press that abuses and vilifies us, and is using every endeavor to influence public opinion against providing for national defense by increasing our army and navy, and what is the worst of all, has subjected us to a humiliating espionage by paid spies in almost every department, official and industrial, throughout our country. All this in the interest of the German emperor for world domination.

We may think we as a neutral are in the enjoyment of the blessings of peace, but we must not delude ourselves, for the first dream may result in a painful awakening. Are we in favor of and sympathetic with anti-imperial and arbitrary government or are we friends of a constitutional republic?

With Scissors and Paste

GASOLINE SWINDLERS, (Boston Post.)

So extensive has become the practice of giving short measure in gasoline by the small dealers of New York City that the commissioner of weights and measures has issued a public warning to all owners and drivers of motor cars to be on the lookout for the swindle. He advises the driver of every commercial or pleasure car to make sure he is getting all he pays for by carrying a liquid measure bearing the approval mark of the city.

For a year, says the commissioner, he has been receiving complaints from automobile owners of short measure from gas stations which have sprung up like mushrooms all through the city. In some cases the shortage of a regular purchase has reached two gallons. Criminal convictions and civil penalties have followed in such cases.

We have heard of no particular complaints of that kind of fraud here in Massachusetts, perhaps we have a more honest set of dealers. Still, it might not be amiss for the motorists to have a measure on hand in case of suspected shortage.

LOYAL NATIVES OF PAPUA

In common with many another British colony, the safeguard of Papua lies not in the rifles of the whites, but in the loyal hearts of the natives themselves, and in Papua, as in Fiji, the native constabulary under the leadership of a more handful of Europeans may be trusted to maintain order in any emergency. As Governor Murray truly states in his interesting book, "Papua, or British New Guinea," the most valuable asset the colony possesses is not in all but unexplored mineral wealth or the potential value of its splendid forests and rich soil, but it is the Papuans themselves, and let us add that under the leadership of the high-minded, self-sacrificing and well-trained civil servants of life and the rights of man? That is the all important issue in this cruel war, and too long we have deferred the stand our nation should have taken. Talk about peace! Why, in the language of Patrick Henry, "there is no peace." The war is begun. Why should we here, life? Is life so dear and peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery?

Col. Harris Expresses Views On Influence of the Hyphen

Should the wishes of Germany's misguided friends and sympathizers be gratified, where would the United States stand when her destinies were subject to the dictation of a government that is well known holds us in derision with revenged inclination?

It is time that our German-American citizens should be self-administered that there is a serious menace to the home of their adoption should Germany succeed in her conquest of world domination. Already the German people, inflamed with their temporary successes, are busy discussing the indemnity they will expect from this country for furnishing munitions of war to the allies after the Kaiser has finished his present job of conquering Europe, and that about thirty millions would be right with the Panama Canal through the Isthmus of Panama. It is time that our German-American citizens should be self-administered that there is a serious menace to the home of their adoption should Germany succeed in her conquest of world domination.

Great Britain the dawn of Papuan civilization is fast breaking into the sunlight of a happier such as has come to but few of the earth. This civil servant beset with madhouse disease, stifling in needling heat, excited from being and friends, with suspicious eyes, around labors with waning strength in that struggle against climate wherein the ultimate ruin of the body is assured. Yet in his heart there lives, growing as years elapse, the English gentleman's ideal of service, and for him it is sufficient that though he is to be invaded and forgotten even before he dies, yet his will have been one of those rare spirits who have extended to the outer world his mother country's ideal of justice and fair play.

A SHRAPNEL ROSARY

(Manchester Guardian.)

The Bridgeline Nuns of Zion Abbey, in Devonshire, tell of a war story in the little monthly magazine they publish. A French soldier who had been wounded by shrapnel, conveyed the idea of using the pellets that had nearly cost him his life as beads of a rosary to be sent to his mother. In the hospital he collected bits of shrapnel, extracted from the wounds of others and, being an expert with his fingers, made a very serviceable rosary. His mother uses it now at her prayers, and when she touches the beads on which the five petals are said, write the nuns with a charming little journalistic touch, her hand trembles a little, for those are the bits of shrapnel that nearly deprived her of a son.

THE COMPENSATION OF WAR

(British Captain, in the Atlantic.)
I have read much of late of the horror and sacrifice of war, yet the men I see around me prove that there are compensations. We may have lost 200,000 men and we may lose 500,000 more, but against this must be balanced those 2,000,000 new men who, twelve months ago, were living the

LINCOLN COUNTY GRAND JURY RAPS JUSTICE COURTS

Transcripts in Criminal Cases Not Available for Purposes of Investigation Is Charge Made in Report.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Carlsbad, N. M., Nov. 5.—In making its final report to the court for the present fall term of the justice court here, the grand jury criticized the justices of the peace for failing to send in complete transcripts of the criminal cases heard before them, the sheriff's office for escapes of prisoners, the school board of Carlsbad for the unsafe condition of the public school building here. Seventy-three true bills were returned and twenty-two no true bills, making a total of ninety-five cases examined by the jury. The report also shows that 127 witnesses were examined in the eight days the jury was in session, that 280 days attendance of these witnesses were allowed and that in responding to the subpoenas of the court these witnesses traveled 7,165 miles.

The arraignment of the defendants now held in jail here resulted in pleas of not guilty from each of the six. All these cases have been set for trial this week, it being the desire of the court to close the present term Saturday next. All cases not tried at this time will be continued until the regular spring term.

CHIEF DOCKET.
Several civil cases have been disposed of before the court without a jury, and several criminal cases have gone off the docket for one reason or another by action of the district attorney, while in other cases plans of guilty have been taken by the court.

At this time the case of Ayers vs. Meyers is being tried to a jury. In this case Mrs. Ayers is asking judgment against Mrs. Meyers in the sum of $25,000 for alienation of the affec-

Send for The Cook's Book By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill It's FREE

Our instructions to the famous editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine were: "Get up a book of recipes of the things people like best. Find the best way to make and bake each one. Then write it out so plainly that even an inexperienced housewife can't have a failure."

"The Cook's Book" was the result. Some of the 90 recipes were originated, many of them were improved upon, and all were personally tested by this best known authority on cooking in America, and she tells so clearly how she made everything that one cannot go astray.

While some of the cakes and pastry are elaborate enough for any occasion, the recipes are all thoroughly practical and call for no expensive and unusual ingredients. In addition to telling how to make them, the book is beautifully illustrated in colors showing how to arrange and serve the dishes appetizingly.

More than half a million of "The Cook's Book" are now in use in American households. Yet the demand is constantly increasing. Many send for two or three at a time to give to friends or young housekeepers. Don't depend on borrowing one from a neighbor—have one of your own.

How to Get "The Cook's Book"

In every 25c can of K.C. Baking Powder is packed a colored certificate. Send us one of these certificates (paste it on a postal card if you like) with your name and address plainly written, and "The Cook's Book" will be mailed free of charge. Only one book for each certificate.

STOCK EXCHANGE IS SUSTAINED BY METAL SHARES

Inquiry for Coppers Incessant; China Scores Another Sharp Advance; Specialties Are Erratic, Bethlehem Lower.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Metal shares were the chief sustaining influence of today's market, other parts of the stock list showing an irregular or heavy trend. The inquiry for coppers was incessant, trading in that group attaining large proportions with new records for Anaconda, which added a point to its recent rise at 87 1/2, China, 1 1/2, and Utah 2 1/2 at 75 1/2. Other coppers, including American Smelting, rose 1 to 3 points.

Specialties, more particularly those in the so-called war classes, were again erratic. Bethlehem Steel fluctuated within a narrow range and closed at 47 1/2, a loss of 3 points. United States Steel, which was less active, however, though leading all other favorites, broke 1 1/2 to 36 1/2, and closed without recovery.

Railway shares were under greater pressure, their gains of the early week inducing further retreating sales. Canadian Pacific fell 3/4 to 145, and Atlantic Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, New York Central and New Haven yielded 1/4 to 2 points.

sterling exchange was a trifle lower and the assurances respecting new London credits were helpful in imparting a stronger tone later. Total sales, par value, aggregated $7,040,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call. Closing prices: Alaska Gold, 42 1/2; Alaska Copper, 35 1/2; American Beet Sugar, 66; American Cane Sugar, 59 1/2; American Locomotive, 84; Amer. Smelt. & Refining, 94 1/2; Amer. TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is a troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.
Chicago, Nov. 5.—Signs of much enlarged receipts here next week brought about a setback in wheat values today after the market had reached a level 10c above the low point of October 25. The finish was heavy, at 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢ to 1 1/4¢, and May at 1 1/2¢. Corn closed 1/4¢ to 1/4¢; oats with a gain of a shade, and provisions unchanged to 10¢ higher.

The export clearances today amounted to 3,474,000 bushels, the largest total in months. Announcement from Liverpool that arrangements for unrefined shipment of supplies from Russia all winter had been effected by the completion of a railroad to a new port called Ekaterina did not appear to have much influence on the market.

Corn advanced in sympathy with wheat and owing to prospects of unsettled weather and to talk of export sales by way of the Gulf of Mexico. Disappointing returns from buyers were numerous. Oats kept within a narrow range. Packers buying rallied provisions. At first, the market was weak because of lack of support.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.
New York, Nov. 5.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:
Two features loom large in this week's reports, the over-widening activity of trade and the increased momentum attained in many industries one of these grow over-time in factory, mill and shop; progressive improvement in industries almost wholly dependent on domestic markets; large pay rolls; sustained, if not increased, demand upon jobbers and wholesale dealers; more confident futures buying accompanied, however, by urgent calls for goods already ordered, and, although mild weather has prevented retail trade in the cities from rising to full course, much of the slack in this respect has been taken by increased buying in various country districts. Apparently pessimism has been altogether unavailing, activity in the stock market continues, money is plentiful, legitimate demand is being supplied at easy rates, collections are prompt, railway traffic easy and horticulture is of record proportions. The grain movement from the leading producing states has reached a new high water mark, production of pig iron is the largest in the history of the country, prices for iron and steel continue on an ascending scale and railway buying indicates pressure, to get orders booked. Weekly bank clearings, $4,482,962,000.

JURORS ARE TOO
GENEROUS, SAYS
COURT; EXCUSEDBelieves They Tried to Do
Right But Doesn't Feel Like
Going on Costing County
$800 to $900 a Week.Convinced that the petit jury has been too lenient in criminal cases,
Judge Reynolds, of the district court,
late yesterday afternoon discharged
the panel for the term.Addressing the jurors, the court
said that about ten days more in which they might work remained but he did not believe, judging from the way they had passed on several cases, there was any use in continu-ing and causing additional expense to the county. The court with the jury was costing between $800 and $900 a week, he said.The court did not employ a sharply controversial tone. He said he did not believe there was anything improper
in the jury's conduct and that he did
believe the members were trying to do their duty to the county and state.

Thanks Jury Personally.

The nucleus of his talk was this:
When a man struck another or took his property it was all right for the person who had suffered to forgive the offender, but when men were sworn to perform jury duty they could not be so generous. Saying there were no hard feelings, Judge Reynolds thanked the jurors personally, but not on behalf of the county.The last case to be tried by the jury was that of the state against Jose Manuella, charged with burglary and larceny. The case went to the twelve late yesterday afternoon and a ver-dict was returned in about five minutes. He was found guilty.W. C. Dencock, an attorney for Ella D. Corrae, yesterday brought suit against Manuella Chavez et al, to quiet title to property in the San Jose precinct. The land is described as sixteen varas long from north to south
and bounded on the east and west by the line of the Albuquerque grant and the company of Barcelona. Upon the land are three adobe rooms.Many of the most beautiful scenes
in the William Fox production of HIS SHARING THEDA BARA, the former leading woman of the Theater Antoine,
Paris, were made at Lake Waramang,
Conn., one of the most picturesque spots in the east. Herbert Brenon, director of the production is a keen angler and the French actress became angry with a desire to emulate him,
and engaged a guide. No sooner had she cast her line than there was a swift strike and a big fish almost drew her out of the boat."Land O'Gods, you got a blapper
on there!" yelled the guide. "Here
let me hold him." The fish the Vander Wagon had caught was the second most beautiful specimen ever seen in those parts. It had a green body and long peculiar looking fins
and eyes that Miss Bara solemnly declared were a deep glowing red.This statement, it may be said,
is couched for by the rest of the company.It was brought back in the hotel
and viewed by a committee of local ladies. Watson, who decided that the creature came under no known classification. At the suggestion of William E. Shay, Miss Bara's leading man, it was therefore christened "The Vampire Fish" with no dissenting votes. It would have been brought back to New York, says Mr. Brenon, but unfortunately for the cause of science, one of the hotel cats, with no
prejudices against "Vampire" fish, feloniously made off with it during the hours of darkness.This remarkable photoplay will be seen at the Pastime theater tomorrow
and Monday.FREAK VEGETABLE IS RAISED NEAR OLD TOWNA genuine curiosity was brought to the city yesterday by W. H. Day-born, a farmer living near Old Albuquerque. It is half beet and half chruck, a freak growth which took place on Mr. Dayborn's farm. The growth was purely accidental, probably due to the unintentional mingling
of seeds.The specimen was on exhibition at the Journal office yesterday and attracted much attention from visitors.

Dance tonight, W. O. W. hall, Central Ave., over Matson's store. Four-

MUST HAVE MONEY
TO KEEP CHARITY
WORK GOING ONStrong Appeal Made to People of City for Funds for Maintenance of Activities of Civic Betterment League.Five thousand dollars may seem to some people a considerable sum of money to ask for one year of charity
work in Albuquerque, but the estimate
has been carefully made by people who have studied the whole situation.
In the light of a year's experience in charity work in this city on a citywide basis. There are hundreds of people in Albuquerque who would scarcely believe that the Non-Sectarian Benevolent society in some of the years of its work spent as much as $2,500; yet such is the case, and the operations of that society were much more limited in scope than those of the Civic Betterment League. The league's estimate of its needs is a liberal one, for it does not wish and does not intend to ask for money a second time in one year, but it is not an extravagant estimate. The fact is that during the past summer the league has spent an average of nearly $200 a month, strictly in relief work.
And if the coming winter brings the normal increase of cases, the demand
upon the league's resources will easily be doubled.The slogan for the charity day campaign next Tuesday will be: "At least a dollar from every employed person
in Albuquerque." However, if there were none who gave more than this minimum the canvass would be a failure. There must be found many persons who will give in two and three figures
if this community need is to be covered. And all the signs indicate that Albuquerque means to see this thing
through, and to do it handsomely.
It would not be right to turn a community job like this of organized charity over to an organization with a stringer allowance for the work, and then leave the workers in that organization to sweat blood in trying to make ends meet. Should there happen to be a little money left in the league's treasury a year hence, it would do no harm, and there would be that much less to put up for the following year's work.The league is not worrying how the town will treat this cause—the worry
just now is to find enough workers
of the right sort to go out next Tuesday and see the people who are waiting to be called on and are ready with the pledges for the poor. The canvass
as planned will be practically a house
to house one, and is to be made in one day. It will take a hundred and fifty workers to do the job as it ought to be done, and up to last night, when the league directors held another important meeting at the Commercial club, only about seventy-five of these were in sight. The men who are shying at the task of next Tuesday evidently do not consider that they are putting into jeopardy the success of one of the greatest and most worthy movements ever set on foot in this or any other city.One day's time of a hundred and fifty even of the laziest men in Albuquerque, and the busy ones are equally the live wires, would be a cheap
price to pay for the satisfaction of knowing that for a year to come one of the city's biggest problems was solved, so far as it can be solved.EDISON GRATEFUL FOR STRONG ENGLISH WHEN
MAJOR BURKE 'CUSSED'The visit to Albuquerque of Thomas
A. Edison recalled to Maj. John M.
Burke of the Santa Fe Photo-Buffer Bill
shocks, the inventor's visit to Paris, France, while the world's fair was being held there.An incident that Major Burke remembered with particular vividness
was the dinner given in the Buffalo Bill's dining tent for Edison. Edison was late. He and Major Burke hurried to the tent in a carriage, jumping out of the vehicle in haste Edison
plunged into a public, apologetic water over his dress trousers. Major Burke did the "cussing" for the Winston and he must have turned a neat string, judging from what followed.Edison threw his arms over the major's shoulders, saying: "Thank you for that vibrant English." However, this expression was not so much of a tribute to Major Burke's prowess as a "cuss" as it was for the sound of sympathetic English after a period of bearing little but French.Major Burke, old Indian scout and now publicity scout for Buffalo
Bill, registered at the Alvarado hotel
from the "United States." He arrived a day too late to see Edison.Dance tonight at Columbus hall,
