TREATY MAY BE REJECTED

Vote on the Cession of the Danish West Indies Will Be Close.

NO COMPULSION WAS USED

State of Health of One or Two Members May Change the Result—The Islands Will Ultimately Pass to the United States Even if This Effort Fails.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Advices were received here, while not fully confirming the private report circulated in the Danish West Indies, to the effect that the chances against acceptance by the Danish Rigsdag of the treaty of cession to the United States, make it appear that the fate of the pending treaty is really very uncertain. It is said that so narrow is the line of division between the parties in the Rigsdag, that the approval of the treaty practically depends upon the state of health of one or two of its members. Nevertheless, even should the movement towards cession fail at this meeting, it is doubted in the very near future that the islands must become the property of the United States. It cannot be too clearly stated however, that the United States government has not the slightest idea of using compulsion to this end.

MEN OF THE HOUR IN NEW MEXICO

SENATOR W. H. ANDREWS

Republican Candidate for the Legislative Council From the District Composed of the Counties of Socorro and Sierra.

Senator William H. Andrews of Sierra county, is a native of the State of Pennsylvania and about fifty years of age. He was educated in the public schools of his native state. His occupation might really be called that of a farmer, as he was always fond of agricultural pursuits and is the owner of some extensive, well conducted and profitable farms in Pennsylvania, although for about a dozen years he conducted successfully extensive mercantile establishments at Titusville, Pa.; Louisville, Ky.; and St. Louis, Mo. Upon attaining his majority, being a strong Republican, he immediately engaged in politics and attained much prominence. He served several terms as a member of the house of representatives and of the senate of the legislature of the Keystone state and during this service was for most of the time chairman of very important committees. For four years he served in the senate and during that time did most valuable and efficient work for his constituents and for the people. He was always in favor of and supported progressive legislation, a strong friend of public education and advocated the rights of the laboring man; at the same time recognizing that the rights of capital and capitalists should be respected, and that even handed justice should be meted out to all, regardless of station, wealth or rank. For many years he was a lieutenant of Senator Mathew Stanley Quay in Pennsylvania political affairs, and held the position of chairman of the Republican state central committee, which he filled with great success and ability. He has had a thorough training for many years in legislative and political affairs. This, of course, will stand him in good stead in the legislative council of the 35th assembly. He came to New Mexico about eight years ago and engaged in mining at Andrews, Sierra county, where he still retains valuable mining interests and where mining operations are being conducted by him and several associates from Pennsylvania on an extensive scale. About two years ago his attention was called to the fact that a railroad connection between the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad in eastern New Mexico, with Santa Fe, the capital of the territory, and with Albuquerque would prove profitable and timely. He carefully examined the situation and became convinced that the plan was not only feasible, but, if carried out, would prove of vast benefit to Valencia, Santa Fe, Bernalillo and Lincoln counties in particular, and to the people of the entire territory in general, in addition to becoming a source of profit to the capitalists who put up the money for the building of such a line. He immediately commenced work, and in a few months interested a party of wealthy, shrewd and successful capitalists and businessmen of Pittsburgh, Pa., in the project. Among these are General Francis J. Torrance and Senator Arthur Kennedy. After careful investigation and thorough exploration, it was demonstrated to the fullest satisfaction to these men of affairs that the building of the line proposed by the senator would bring about the results he claimed. Two and a half millions of dollars were raised, surveys were made and active work is now being pushed on the construction of the Santa Fe Central Railway from Santa Fe to Torrance, which with the branch lines will be 140 miles in length, and on the Albuquerque Eastern Railroad from Moriarty station to Albuquerque, which will have a trackage of about 45 miles. Senator Andrews, by his endeavors and well directed efforts, has brought more actual capital into the territory since he has become a citizen of it than has any other man in its history. He is in a position to do still better and more in the future, and there are several great mining and mining enterprises under consideration by him, which before many moons round will be resolved into realities and will become great factors in the up-building and advancement of New Mexico.

The Senator was unanimously nominated by the Republicans for the legislative council from the district, of which he is a citizen, composed of the counties of Socorro and Sierra, was endorsed by the Democratic county conventions of both counties and by the Independent Republicans of Socorro. His election, therefore, is assured. He is in the prime of life, energetic, fearless, a man of affairs, a thoroughly tested politician and experienced legislator. He is a true and firm friend and honorable man who always keeps his word in politics as well as in business. He has made himself well acquainted with the necessities not only of his district but of the entire territory, and in the 35th legislative assembly will be found on the right side and voting for progressive, beneficial and fair measures.

EL MORO OR INSCRIPTION ROCK

A Unique Natural and Historical Monument Situated Not Far From Zuni in Western Valencia County.

A NATIONAL PARK TO BE ESTABLISHED TO PROTECT IT

Not so long ago the secretary of the Interior withdrew from land entry a small area, 35 miles east of Zuni, western Valencia county, on which the famous Inscription Rock is situated. This unit, named as well as historic land mark is off the customary routes of travel and therefore its existence is unknown even to many people of this territory. The following is a synopsis of a report made to the secretary of the Interior by Special Agent Holsinger of the general land office, giving a description of the rock:

El Moro, or Inscription Rock, as it is locally and generally known, is situated in Valencia county, 35 miles east of Zuni pueblo, and 50 miles south of the Santa Fe-Pacific railroad.

This picturesque and interesting historical cliff is located at the extreme southern end of a lava-strewn desert valley, the drainage of which forms a tributary of the Zuni river basin. The valley meanders through mountains and high mesa lands in a southerly and eastern direction from the ancient and famed pueblo of Zuni, once the flower of the "Seven Cities of Cibola." On the southeast it is fringed with the dark line of the forest-covered Zuni mountain range; on the southwest it is marked by a series of varicolored sandstone cliffs, carved into fantastic shapes by the action of the elements. As progress is made southward these cliffs become bold and towering and form a veritable gallery of grotesque rockery, ending in one immense colossal natural monument, which the tourist need not be told is El Moro or Inscription Rock.

The majestic cliff of fine-grained sandstone projects several hundred yards east into the valley from the mesa line, and dwarfs into insignificance every surrounding object.

Not a Gibraltar, and lacking the awful magnitude of El Capitan of the Yosemite, yet a more beautiful and imposing bit of scenery is not to be found in the United States. The rock covers about 10 or 12 acres, and its sheer, smooth walls rise perpendicularly to a dizzy height of several hundred feet. The base is triangular, narrowing to a rounded but comparatively this edge at the eastern end. The stratification is slightly tilted and the stone has a decided transverse cleavage. The action of frost has broken immense sheets of stone from the cliff, leaving smooth patches of wall. The top stratum is much harder than that of the bottom, and has served as a shield to the softer material below, thus preserving the bold outlines of the rock.

It is not too much to say that no rock formation in the west, or, perhaps, in the world, is so well adapted to the purpose for which this table of stone was used. At least history does not record any collection of similar data. Here are records covering two centuries, some of which are the only extant memoranda of the early explorations and explorations of what is now the southwestern part of the United States.

The coloring of this venerable pile is characteristic of the American desert. Here there are no frowning cliffs, no dark and blackened walls, no moss-covered crags, and no somber dikes; but, like a beautiful flag for the first time unfurled, this glorious rock, resplendent in bright but softly blended hues, stands out in bold relief, as if newly cleaved from the virgin formation. The prevailing color is a brownish gray, relieved by wavy lines tinted by shades of red, yellow, drab, and bold dashes of kindred color.

On these smooth walls, usually under some projecting stratum, inscriptions were cut by the early conquerors and explorers, which have made this rock one among the most interesting objects on the continent.

Here in this remote and uninhabited region, in the shadow of one of nature's most unique obelisks, wrapped in the profound silence of the desert, with no living thing to break the stillness, it is hard to realize that 300 years ago these same walls echoed the clank of steel harness and coats of mail; that with the implements of Spanish conquest the pathfinders in the new world were carving historical records upon the eternal rocks.

Just what instruments were used it is difficult to say, but the oldest inscriptions covering a period of over half a century, were cut with a round pointed instrument, possibly the point of a sword or Spanish verdugillo.

It is rather remarkable that these Spanish inscriptions, cut two or three hundred years ago, should have outlived those of Americans of less than half a century. This is due to the fact that those cut by the Spanish adventurers were executed by a small pointed instrument, cutting a deep thread like groove or line, while the work of the American brothers was done with the slash of the ever ready jack knife, the defacer of almost every natural object in America not under immediate surveillance of police. The Spanish writer executed his lettering in script as neat as if inscribing the record page of the Magna Charta. This is in marked contrast with the inscription of John Smith and others, which have the usual display of bad taste characteristic in defacing the domes of capital build-

He was a native of Freeport, Ill., and on October 5, 1861, enlisted as a private in Company C, 45th Illinois infantry. He was discharged March 3, 1863, and re-enlisted February 9, 1865, as a private in Company F, 2d United States Veteran Corps, better known as Hancock's Corps. ings, and other public properties. A broad, open line cut in this fine sandstone is subject to obliteration by the action of sand-laden wind, while a fine narrow mark is little affected.

On the south side of the rock, in the angle formed by the mesa and the projection of "El Moro" there is a small spring under the overhanging brow of the cliff. This, doubtless, was the favorite camping ground of the ancient explorer and traveler passing through this arid region from the Rio Grande river to the Zuni, or, as it was then known, the "Seven Cities of Cibola." The old, well worn road, now disused, passes around and under the very wall of El Moro, and this spring was the only one on this road within 30 or more miles in either direction.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18

For Delegate to the Fifty-Eighth Congress of the United States.
BERNARD S. RODEY, of Bernalillo County.

New Mexico Demands Statehood of the 57th Congress.

Of Right and in Justice New Mexico Should Be a State.

Extract from the Congressional Record of June 25th, 1902, page 7,812.

President pro tem, of senate: "The chair has been requested to restate the proposition, and will do so."

The senator from Indiana, the chairman of the committee on territories, has stated in open senate today, that the committee will report on the territorial bill, so-called, on the third day of the next session of congress. Thereupon the senator from Pennsylvania asks unanimous consent, that on the tenth day if the senate is in session and on the first day thereafter if it may be in session if not on the tenth, the bill shall be made the unfinished business.

Is there objection? The chair hears none, and the order is made."

The Democrats claim they will carry the territory of Hawaii at the coming election. They are welcome to all the consolation they can get out of that claim.

Some mistakes prove fatal. Three residents of a town in West Virginia where local option obtains, got hold of a demijohn of embalming fluid and thought it was whiskey. They have all gone to a region where they can make no such mistakes.

Nikola Tesla is a great electrical inventor, but a few days ago he was unable to invent anything to keep from being fined by a New York judge because he did not report for jury duty. There are limitations it seems, to every man's inventive faculties.

The leaders of the New Mexico Democracy say that if they could have had a six weeks' campaign and had some influential newspapers on their side they could have made a splendid fight and would have elected H. B. Fergusson, their candidate for delegate to congress. "It," yes "it."

Hard times alone can give the Democrats reasonable hope to assume the reins of government again in the United States, but under the present Republican policy there need be no fear that hard times will give the Democrats their longed for opportunity to ride in to power.

Unionism is very strong in Germany and the German coal miners, poor as they are, have contributed $1,250 to the assistance of the striking eastern Pennsylvania miners and have at the same time decided to limit production so that no coal can be exported from Germany to break the coal famine in the United States. There is a great significance in this international solidarity of the workmen which must cause the managers of the great trusts to pause and think of the future.

Vote for Rodey on the coming election day. By no doing you will vote for statehood.

Colonel Bryan is now engaged in the business of offering new plans daily for the suppression of the trust evil. His plans do not strike the people favorably, but he goes on making them all the same. The difference between the public and Colonel Bryan is simple; the people know when they have enough, but Colonel Bryan does not.

Delegate B. S. Rodey, during the coming two weeks, will make an energetic if hurried campaign. He intends to swing around the circle, commencing in the southwestern portion of the territory. He is a hustler and thoroughly prepared to speak forcibly and strongly upon the issues of the day, the statehood question and the needs of New Mexico.

Some of the anti-imperialistic pussy cats in Washington got together a few evenings ago and resolved strongly against the tyranny and despotism exercised by the American government upon the poor and suffering Moros of the Island of Mindanao. The pussy cats never know when to stop, although they do know that the people are very tired of them.

The registration in many sections of the territory is reported as being very heavy. Many new names appear on the registration books, especially in the eastern and southern parts of the territory. This shows a large influx of population within the past two years. The increase will be still greater during the coming two years, and with statehood will continue right along.

H. B. Fergusson, the Democratic candidate for congress has started on a spellbinding tour throughout the territory. He finds, however, that the people just now are too busy to listen to his tales of woe. There is absolutely no good reason why the voters of New Mexico should vote the Democratic ticket and they do not propose to do it, not by a good majority.

In Mexico when the government wishes to suppress a strike it suppresses it. There is no fooling about it. A recent strike on a Mexico railroad was suppressed in such short order that it made many of the strikers dizzy. They were given the alternative of spending weeks, months and probably years in Mexico jails or going to work. After that, however, the government had the wages of many of the employees raised and all ended well.

Perry Belmont, who is running upon the Tammany ticket as a candidate for congress from one of the Gotham districts, objects to paying a heavy campaign contribution, asserting that he is a poor man and that his income amounts to only $45,000 per annum. It is a shame that the Tammany bosses should put up such a poor man and then bother him by asking for a campaign contribution. Such abominable tricks should not be allowed under free government.

The New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts has made public the result of its second test in irrigating alfalfa with water raised by steam pump. It is shown that it takes 70 1-2 cents worth of fuel to irrigate an acre of alfalfa under the conditions which prevail in the Mesilla valley. This being the case there is no excuse for any part of the valley in which water is found no more than fifty feet below the surface, not being under cultivation. The experiments at Mesilla Park demonstrate that many sections of New Mexico need not wait for the building of government reservoir before pushing the work of reclaiming the arid but fertile lands.

The Colorado Fuel and Iron Company has announced an advance in wages of coal miners, which in some instances will average twenty-five percent. There are about 10,000 mine employees by the company in its mine in Colorado and New Mexico. This is a ton means the payment of thousands and thousands of dollars additional a week to employees of the company. This, of course, will increase the general prosperity now obtaining in Colorado and New Mexico. As it is, most of the miners, working for that company, are making as much per day as the anthracite coal miners in Pennsylvania are making by five and six dollars.

SANTA FE MUST JOIN THE PROCESSION.

Denver is still the Mecca of hundred of health seekers every year, yet during the month of September there were three cases having contracted the disease right there. There were also 70 cases of typhoid fever of which 12 were fatal; there were 24 cases of diphtheria, 2 deaths from scarlet fever with 7 cases reported. Four cases of smallpox were reported and it is suspected that many more were not brought to the attention of the authorities. In Santa Fe, during that month and for a good many preceding months, there were no cases of typhoid fever, which is practically unknown here; no cases of diphtheria, no cases of scarlet fever, no cases of smallpox, no cases of tuberculosis that originated here. No wonder that the predilection for Mevilleville by the dictation is made that as soon as Santa Fe shows signs of progress, such as modern school houses, good street lighting, safe pavements, sprinkled streets, modern and sanitary cottages for health seekers and other things that make a progressive town, it will attract many health seekers who at present go to Denver and Colorado Springs, where they are satisfied with a less desirable and beneficial climate than that of Santa Fe, in order that they may live in a town that keeps up with the procession of modern progress.

The typewriter supplies kept in stock by the Office Supply Co., Santa Fe, are the very best in the market and sell at low rates. Stenographers will do well to bear this fact in mind.

Asthma's Clutch REPUBLICAN RESOLUTIONS

Adopted at the Territorial Convention Held at Raton October 10.

The sufferer from Asthma is constantly wheezing, gasping, hacking and clearing the throat. When a storm approaches, when there is a cloud of dust, when a room is being swept, or when there is bad odor, breathing becomes most difficult. Often it seems as though someone was clutching the sufferer by the throat with a terrible grip. The choking sensation is almost unbearable. The troubles come on for many days. There is only one thing to do, and that is take Acker's English Remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles. Just what this medicine accomplishes is shown by the following letter from Mr. N. H. Andrews, a prominent resident of Springfield, Ohio, who writes:—

"W. H. Hooker & Co., New York:

"Gentlemen—It affords me a great pleasure to assure you that I have received both immediate and permanent relief from throat, bronchial and asthmatic troubles by using Acker's English Remedy, taken strictly according to directions. It is a blessing to humanity."

Sold at 50c, 10c and 5c bottles, throughout the United States and Canada; not in England. It is 25c, 10c, 5c. If you are not satisfied after buying, return the bottle to your druggist and get your money back.

It authorizes the above guarantee.

IS A CHANGE WANTED?

The Chicago Tribune puts the political situation in New Mexico as well as throughout the nation tersely and effectively when it says:

"Well, gentlemen, what do you want? A change? Nominate your poison. State the remedy for a general condition of prosperity probably unexampled in this or any other country. How to introduce paralysis in the commercial world, how to stop the hum of machinery, how to reduce the demand for products of all sorts, how to increase the wants and diminish the means of satisfying them, how to kill industry, to grow paupers to fill charitable institutions and empty workshops, these are some of the questions to which the massive minds of statesmen out of a job are now exclusively devoted. The leap in the dark has been tried before. The man who tries it knows when he strikes the solid ground. In proportion to the distance he has to fall is the jar when he stops going down. Prudent men do not leap in the dark. They do not leap at all when they have reached a certain age. Old bones are brittle. It is easy to jump down. It is terrible hard to jump up."

These are considerations which may profitably be laid to heart by the Democratic campaigners who blithely imagine that by howling about trusts and the price of beef and coal they are going to persuade the people of the United States to give the Democratic party lease of power. The average citizen is worked into a state of frenzy by invectives against the trust when he is invited to hit the button by a tariff policy which would eat into his pocket, including his own, deal harder, he is likely to ask reflection before he commences.

is by no means the first time the memory of the generation active life that the Democratic has invited the people to "make good." The trouble with the Democratic arguments and appeals is they assume that the people of the country have forgotten all about experiences under Clevelandism. He Gorman-Wilson tariff. But have not. When they compare the condition of things and the progress of business and industry and social activity with the days when was scarcely any gold in the air, when the government was saving money on high terms to meet needs in time of peace, and when ruin and disaster afflicted all elements of trade and manufacture, are little inclined to revert to those forgotten days. The present condition may be susceptible of improvement, but the way to do it does lie through Democratic tariffing.

We endorse our delegate to congress, Hon. B. S. Rodey, for his earnest and untiring efforts on behalf of the territory not only in Washington but wherever he might be, and especially for his tireless exertions to secure us statehood, which have resulted in getting us nearer that deserved position than ever but once before. And we urgently pray the honorable senate of the United States at once to take up and pass the bill now before it for our admission as a state.

WANTED—We pay cash for clean cotton rags suitable for machine purposes. New Mexican Printing Co.

The Republican party of New Mexico by its representatives in convention assembled, before proceeding with the work which has called us together, deem it proper and fitting that we should as such representative body profoundly deplore the untimely death of President McKinley which shocked the world only a year ago, and that we should pay a silent tribute to that great American and truest exponent of the principles of our party whom we so highly eulogized at our last convention. The work which then received our encomiums was more lasting and far reaching than we then knew, and the noble character of William McKinley and the deeds he wrought for the welfare and glory of his country, are more enduring than the stately monuments now raising by the people to his memory. As a citizen a model of integrity and domestic virtue, as a statesman the author of the practical system which has made his name a synonym for prosperity. As a president, wise and strong, bringing together hostile interests and conflicting sections, until at his tragic death there was but one lament, and a common sorrow for the great, wise, and good man who had gone. Let us rise, and stand with bowed heads, and sorrowing hearts in memory of our great leader.

Be it resolved,

That we again endorse the National Republican platform at Philadelphia upon which President McKinley and President Roosevelt were elected, and under which prosperity has continued in our land, our prestige has been increased abroad, and a new republic has been added to the nations of the world. By the wise and patriotic administration of President McKinley and its continuance by his successor, American industries have prospered as never before and our commerce has expanded until the world is our market.

That we recognize in President Roosevelt a fit successor to President McKinley, faithfully carrying out his policies, and when new emergencies arise, meeting them with the strong courage of conviction, and we believe President Roosevelt has shown that he deserves the position which he now holds by the suffrages of the people, instead of by statute, and we heartily favor his nomination for president in 1904, when we hope to cast for him our first electoral vote.

We most heartily endorse the administration of Governor Otero in the territory, which has resulted in improving our financial standing and moral credit at home and abroad. It has increased new capital to come into the territory, and protected what was already here. And especially we endorse his personal and official efforts to improve the method of assessments and taxation which have resulted in adding one and one-half million to our tax rolls for the present year. His official and personal conduct has been subject to the most searching scrutiny by two presidents and two senates with the result that it has been approved by them, and on that result we sincerely congratulate him.

We endorse our delegate to congress, Hon. B. S. Rodey, for his earnest and untiring efforts on behalf of the territory not only in Washington but wherever he might be, and especially for his tireless exertions to secure us statehood, which have resulted in getting us nearer that deserved position than ever but once before. And we urgently pray the honorable senate of the United States at once to take up and pass the bill now before it for our admission as a state.

We denounce the so-called "Stephens or Culbertson bill" now pending in congress which is aimed to deny us the use of our waters for the benefit of certain individuals in Texas and Mexico, and earnestly pray as a matter of right and justice that the government cause its suit now pending to prevent the storage of water at the Elephant Butte dam to be withdrawn, in order that this great work of internal improvement may proceed.

We extend our hearty thanks to congress for the passage of the bill establishing reservoirs in the western states and territories and hail it as a long step in the direction of recognizing the claims of the west for assistance which has been so long monopolized by the east.

We pray that congress may so amend the act donating lands to the territory that the sale and leasing of the same may not be restricted as now. In order that we may derive more immediate revenue for the benefit of our common schools and public institutions.

We believe the action of congress in the government of the Philippines, to be wise, just and humane, and must result in great ultimate good to those people and that the retention of the army there is a necessity caused by their own acts and for which they alone are responsible, and we believe that the conduct of that army under the most trying circumstances of climate and conditions to have been most praiseworthy and humane. We denounce as unworthy of the name those Americans who have assailed that army and sought to bring discredit upon the gallant officers and men who are upholding our flag in that far-away country.

We affirm that the Republican party is the first and only one to take any practical steps towards the suppression or control of so-called trusts or unlawful combinations of capital. The "Sherman law" passed by congress in 1890 has not proved adequate to the end, but the Republican party through its president and law officers is endeavoring by every legal means to control such combinations where they exist and a special bill is now being framed for that purpose, and we denounce as willful falsehoods all charges made by the Democrats, that the Republican party is in favor of or in any manner friendly to such combinations of capital.

Resolved that we regard the coal oil inspection law as detrimental to the best interests of the people of the territory and we recommend its repeal at the earliest possible moment.
