GREAT FAIR IN SAN FRANCISCO IS NOW ONLY A FADING MEMORY

Exposition Closed Officially at Midnight, but Huge Carnival Crowds Made Merry Until Early Morning Hours.

BRILLIANT SCENE AS CURTAIN DESCENDS

Profit of More Than Two Million Dollars Is Expected When Books of Enterprise Are Finally Balanced.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
San Francisco, Dec. 4.—The Panama-Pacific international exposition closed tonight. Hundreds of thousands of incandescent lights twinkled and trembled the farewell signal a few minutes before midnight and at twelve o'clock the lights went out for the last time. The exposition of 238 days duration officially was at an end, though the farewell carnival continued in the morning hours.

With the extinguishing of the electric lights there was a flash in the sky of thousands of rockets, bombs and star shells. More than half a ton of powder was used to hurl them into the air, making a salvo which W.
D. A. Ryan, director of illumination, said was the heaviest and most elaborate pyrotechnic display ever attempted.

Hundreds of searchlights which had pointed to the art of the sculptor and the dome of the Tower of Jewels and the fountains and the night since February 26 when the exposition began, were all dimmed in the closing moments and for thirty seconds the 831 acres of exposition grounds were in total darkness. Then patrol lights here and there along the avenues and lawns and in the courts began to glow so that the thousands of merrymakers could make their way about.
Throng remained to go on with the dance in the open spaces and in the courts and to wander about the grounds in the farewell festivities.

The carnival spirit prevailed. In keeping with the decree of President Charles C. Moore and the exposition directors, who said: "Let there be cheers instead of tears. The exposition has been a success."

Financial Success.
In a financial way it is expected the exposition will show a profit of something like $2,000,000—perhaps more.
All indebtedness was paid before the exposition was two-thirds over. The expense of preparing the site and the buildings for the opening date was said to be approximately $50,000,000.
There was no federal appropriation for the undertaking, although the various departments of the United States government made displays for which $500,000 had been allowed for maintenance.

The exposition attendance was beyond all hopes of the management, especially after the outbreak of the war when for a time there was talk of postponement of the opening date.
On a daily average the attendance had been more than 62,000. With twelve days after February 20, 1,000,000 persons passed through the gates. The 17,000,000 mark was reached November 19.

San Francisco's exposition in every particular was an exposition of progress. All exhibits entered for award were contemporaneous articles originated or produced since the St. Louis exposition ten years ago.

In the general color scheme it was different from any effect ever attempted on so large a scale. The night illumination, with subdued lights everywhere, reflected on the buildings and the atmosphere, was unique. Many experts and artists, among them Thomas A. Edison, declared the night scene the most entrancing display of light effects they ever had seen.

To carry out his idea of color for the exposition palaces, Jules Guerin, director of color, took into consideration the climate and atmospheric conditions found in San Francisco near the Golden Gate and worked in warm colors an imitation of travertine marble. This marble was much used in Roman palaces and the Alhambra and it has been described as a pinkish-gray-shuff surface which carried a suggestion of warmth. This shaded off into reddish-brown sometimes, and yellowgolden orange was used extensively in enriching it and working out lights and shadows oxidized-copper-green, for domes and lattices, cerise blue for ceilings of courts, and burnt orange for small domes and mouldings gave an oriental richness to the exposition, but the whole scheme was soft and alluring. Exceptional perhaps one tower, which was generally deplored by architects, including it was said, the designer, there was nothing anywhere to dazzle or blaze.

Sculpture a Feature.
The decorative sculptures of the exposition, many of which were created for the exposition and were of a character depicting the spirit of the western life on the Pacific coast, attracted much attention. There were more than 15,000 individual pieces of sculp-ably snow in north portion; colder

LOCAL WEATHER REPORT.

For twenty-four hours, ending at 6 p. m. yesterday.

grees; temperature at 6 p. m., 48 degrees; southwest wind; partly cloudy.

ture or groups placed at various points about the grounds.
Thirty-nine men and women of recognized ability at home and abroad contributed as sculptors. The late Karl Bitter, killed in New York in an automobile accident, soon after the opening of the exposition, was in charge of this department, with A.
Stirling Calder as acting chief of the work.

The plan of the exposition sculpture was designed to form a sequence from the first piece that greeted the visitor on his entrance from the city, throughout the five interior courts and the circuit of enclosing walls. Two of the most imposing works were the groups of "Nations of the West" and the "Nations of the East," which faced each other 160 feet above the sunken gardens of the Court of the Universe.
Everywhere the idea of the achievement of the building of the Panama canal was embodied.

A lot of sentiment, one which will outlast the exposition many generations, is a grove of young trees occupying government territory. Each tree was planted by some honored guest of the exposition directors. The first to plant a tree was Vice President Thomas R. Marshall in April. Others to plant trees in the federal grove were: Theodore Roosevelt, William Howard Taft, former Vice President Fairbanks, William Jennings Bryan, Mal. Gen. George W. Goethals, William G. McAdoo and Thomas A. Edison.

The palace of Education was chosen by educators as a temporary university whose accomplishments will always be one of the enduring features of the exposition. Every phase and branch of educational work was taken up there, the tutors being always the best the country could afford. By means of moving pictures adults as well as children were given daily lessons in geography, social hygiene, physiology, chemistry, agriculture, horticulture and school system. There were five moving picture theaters within the building.

Governors Plant Trees.

In addition to those mentioned the governor of every state represented at the exposition planted a tree in the grove surrounding the respective state building and the American Press historian planted a fir tree, known as the "chestnut tree," on the lawn near the Press building. Each of these trees is to be transplanted in the federal grove.

Among the sporting events at the exposition were the Vanderbilt and grand prize automobile cup races held soon after the opening date on a course embracing a circuit of the exposition grounds. Other events of more than local interest included yacht races for which cups were given by President Wilson and King George of England. The ship Norway II was sent from Christiania, Norway, to take part, which she did successfully. For three weeks during the summer running races featured and later in the season there were harness races with $227,000 in purses. A livestock show with $480,000 in prizes, horse shows and international sheep shearing contests were also held.

Among the world developments portrayed at the exposition were the Diesels engine in actual operation; transcontinental telephone; development of

SUFFRAGE AUTOISTS REACH BALTIMORE

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Baltimore, Md., Dec. 4.—Mrs. Bartholomew and Miss Frances Joliffe of San Francisco, who are taking a petition for a national suffrage amendment, signed by more than one million voters, from San Francisco to Washington, arrived here in their automobile from Wilmington, Del., today. They were met in the outskirts of the city by delegations from a number of local organizations and escorted to the city hall where they were received by Mayor James H.
Drexton.

A reception was given tonight in honor of the envoys. They will remain here until Monday when they will motor to Washington. A large delegation of Baltimoreans is expected to accompany them and attend the hearing before congress.

PRESIDENT AGREES TO HEAR SUFFRAGISTS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 4.—President Wilson today consented to receive 200 delegates to the convention here of the National American Woman Suffrage association, December 14. He already had arranged to see a large delegation from the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage next Monday, and a committee from the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, December 14.

EXPRESS MESSENGER KILLED BY BOULDER

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Spokane, Wash., Dec. 4.—A two-ton boulder fell from an overhanging cliff today upon Great Northern train No. 44, crashed through the roof of the express car and killed W. C. Dunbar, the express messenger.
The accident happened eight miles east of Wenatchee.

The Commercial Club Must Be Supported and Freed From Debt

Albuquerque and Bernalillo county need a live and wide-awake commercial organization and it is the duty of the people of the city and county to support one. Such an organization will pay back to its constituents dollars for every cent invested in maintenance. There is a big work to be done for and by the public in this valley and city, and it cannot be done unless the men to be most benefitted band together for its accomplishment.

Given an opportunity the Albuquerque and Bernalillo County Chamber of Commerce and Commercial club will perform this work and do everything for the development of this community that is expected of it. It is a matter that is entirely up to the present membership. On Wednesday the organization will ask some three hundred men in the community to become members and remain members. They will become members if they are convinced that the present membership has faith in the club and its purpose, and they cannot better demonstrate that faith than by getting into the harness Wednesday afternoon and working for the cause. It is to be expected that some fifty or seventy-five of the "always workers" will report for duty at 1:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, but how about the men who give a minimum of their work and efforts to the public good? Surely, they will never be asked to respond to a cause more worthy than this. The men who always work must be at the club Wednesday afternoon; it is expected of them and they never fail. The others should be there on this occasion whether it pleases them to be or not. Albuquerque's reputation is at stake, and it is up to every member of the organization to respond. How can the club conscientiously ask for new active members, if the present members will not respond to the appeal that has been made to them. The membership campaign will be a big success if the members turn out to do their work; it will fail in proportion to the failure of the present membership to do its duty.

The Journal has asked the club to be allowed to print an honor roll of the men who work next Wednesday afternoon and of the names of those who are joining show that they have decided to work for and with Albuquerque.

OUSTED GERMAN ATTACHES MAY NOT BE ALLOWED SAFE CONDUCT

Great Britain and France Regard Them as Fighting Men Who Might Assist the Teu-tons Materially.

BOY-ED AND VON NEUBER MUST LEAVE COUNTRY

Administration Regards Their Presence Here as Undesirable; Way Is Open to Mexican Republic.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 4.—Development which have followed the request for withdrawal of Captain Boy-Ed and Captain Franz von Papen, naval and military attaches of the German embassy, indicated today that the state department would conduct a wide investigation of foreign consular officials in the United States whose suspected activities, in some instances, are looked upon with extreme disfavor.

Should the investigation disclose that any officials have acted in a manner considered improper, their exequaturs will be cancelled or the state department will find other means of having them discontinued in the offices they hold.

No decision as to von Neuber.
It was said at the department tonight that no decision had been reached in the case of Alexander von Nu-ber, Austro-Hungarian consul general at New York whose name frequently has been mentioned in connection with the activities of Boy-Ed and von Papen.

The entire allies, it became known today, probably will refuse to grant safe conducts for the return to Germany of the two German attaches.
Great Britain and France, it was stated authoritatively, may take the position that safe conducts willingly would be granted if the two men were civil attaches, and were not actively connected with the fighting forces of Germany.

The attaches, it was pointed out, would be free to proceed to Mexico.
Should they be allowed to return to Germany, however, they might not only take part in the hostilities, but impair to Germany official information which might prove of great military value. It was made clear at the state department today that to have the attaches remain in this country even as private citizens would be undesirable. The government has ruled that they are persona non gra-ta and wants them withdrawn entirely from the United States.

Secretary Lansing said he had received a memorandum report of the testimony and remarks of counsel in the consular trial at the officials of the Hamburg-American line of New York, and that it showed that Assistant United States District Attorney Roger Wood had not gone as far in press dispatches indicated in his reference to Captain Boy-Ed. Secretary Lansing was of the opinion that some accounts of the trial which reached Washington were made of "whole cloth." The references in the government's attorney's speech most complained of applied not only to Boy-Ed, but to other persons, the secretary said.

Captain Boy-Ed came to Washington today from New York and conferred with Count Bernstorff. Officials of the embassy declined to comment on the state department's action against the two attaches.

It became known that a number of attorneys, among them counsel for the defense in the trial of the Hamburg-American officials, had called at the state department late yesterday and asked to see Secretary Lansing.
The secretary declined to receive them and they were directed to the department of justice. There they conferred at some length with Assistant Attorney General Warren who has charge of the government's investigation of neutrality cases. The purpose of their visit was not disclosed.

ADMINISTRATION SHIPPING BILL GAINS SUPPORT

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Washington, Dec. 4.—Prospects for the administration merchant marine bill at the coming session of congress were enhanced tonight when it became known that Senator James P.
Clarke, of Arkansas, who led the domestic revolt against the ship purchase bill in the last session, looked with favor on the new ship bill proposed by government heads.

Senator Clarke, who was recommended for president, pro tem, by the majority caucus, after a spirited fight against him based on his opposition to the ship purchase bill, it became known that he would not oppose the new merchant marine measure drafted after conferences between Secretaries McAdoo and Redfield. The Arkansas senator, during the debate in the democratic caucus Friday, was asked by several administration senators for his opinion of the new bill.
He frankly stated that he saw no objection to it and could give it his support. His opposition to the bill last spring, he said, was because of its government ownership feature.

Senator Clarke's attitude was a matter of optimistic comment among administration senators tonight who said it had been influential in reconstructing a harmonious senate and preventing a struggle over closure at the opening of congress next Monday.

ASSOCIATE OF CROWLEY, GOVERNMENT'S CLAIM

Authorities Determine to Press Other Neutrality Cases; North German Lloyd Agent in Trouble.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
San Francisco, Calif., Dec. 4.—Baron George Wilhelm von Brincken, who claimed immunity from arrest as military attaché of the German consul general here last night, surrendered early tonight to federal authorities and was charged with attempting to destroy commerce with the allies.
He was released on bail bond of $10,000.

The arrest of von Brincken was in connection with the alleged conspiracy to block traffic and destroy vessels carrying food, clothing and ammunition to the allied countries in the European war. The formal charges against von Brincken associate him with Charles C. Crowley, a detective, and Lewis J. Smith, Crowley's alleged accomplice, in the handling of German funds for destruction purposes.

The federal authorities indicated an intention to press other neutrality cases by ordering service of a subpoena upon Robert Capelle, agent of the North German Lloyd Steamship company, who was said by them to have been secreted on the German bark Ottawa, interned off Sausalito, across the bay from San Francisco, since the beginning of the war.

Search for Capelle was begun ten days ago, following testimony in the Hamburg-American case at New York that $750,000 was sent here for disbursement upon the orders of Captain Boy-Ed, naval attaché of the German embassy.

VON BRINCKEN'S ARREST BELIEVED IMPORTANT

Bagdad, Dec. 4.—(10:03 p. m.)—The British and Turkish accounts of the battle of Kut-el-Amara, Mesopotamia, which took place on November 23, are specifying that the British force, which was outnumbered four to one, is now retreating.

Having advanced during October and November through the deserted Iraq country to the very environs of Bagdad, the British force is now retreating upon Kut-el-Amara, eighty miles southeast of Ctesiphon, the scene of the battle fought in the latter part of November, in which the British troops met their first serious check.

The position, therefore, of General Townsend's force is much the same as in September after the battle of Kutel-Amara. According to a recent account large Turkish reinforcements supplementing the forces which already outnumbered the British force four to one, were flung against the British troops retreating down the Ti-gris and made a British stand out of the question.

Rumania Favors Allies.
There have been no military events of any importance in the Balkans since the fall of Monastir, which discouraged. Recent reports make Rumania seem unusually large on the Balkan horizon, and that country is generally accredited with the intention either of joining the allies or at least stretching her neutrality to the point of allowing the passage of Russian troops. There is, however, no confirmation of the report that Russian troops have already entered Rumanian territory.

Rumania's declaration that after Monday she will communicate all foreign ships anchored in Rumanian ports, is regarded by some as proof of Rumania's intention to abandon her neutrality, but the British press, and public in general which has grown skeptical over premature announcements of changes in the policy of the Balkan states, show little disposition to take a favorable issue for granted until it is established beyond the possibility of a doubt.

Aside from the continuance of desperate fighting between Austrians and Italians in Gorizia district, there is comparatively little activity on the various fronts.

HOW RETREAT FROM MONASTIR WAS CONDUCTED

Paris, Dec. 4. (5:55 p. m.)—A dispatch to the Temps from Milan says that a special correspondent of the Milan newspaper Recolo, who was present at the evacuation of Mon-astir, has sent the following story from Florina, Greece, under date of Thursday:

"The Serbs held back their adversaries throughout Wednesday but the pressure of the Bulgarians descending from Kichevo threatened the road of retreat from Monastir to Roma and forced Colonel Vassitch to abandon the city. Wednesday at 14 p. m., a Serbian battalion passed through the city in retreat, taking the route to Resna. The Serbians gave an impression of resolute heroism. They defied through the streets in good order and in absolute silence.

"The mayor and the prefect organized an improvised police service hospital containing about 200 wounded, above which was hoisted the Austrian flag. Colonel Vassitch gave to the American mission for distribution among the poor 100,000 pounds of provisions. Colonel Vassitch remained until the last. He left at 12:20 a. m. in an automobile with the officers of his staff. The Colonel made this statement:

SCHMIDT DEFENSE SCORES ONE POINT

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 4.—Attorneys for Matthew A. Schmidt, on trial for the murder of Charles Haggerty, one of twenty men killed when the Los Angeles Times building was blown up five years ago, obtained a ruling from the court today barring from evidence a copy of the Bridgman's magazine, published by the International Association of Bridge and Structure Iron Workers which contained an offer of reward for the apprehension of bomb plotters.

The magazine was the issue of April, 1912, and contained an advertisement of the Wisconsin bridge company, offering $500 reward for information leading to the conviction of the persons responsible for a bomb explosion at Clinton, La., in February, 1908. The same issue contained an editorial suggesting that the bomb explosion reported by the advertisement was the work of employers themselves.

Letters that passed between John J.
McNamara, the confessed dynamiter, and other officials of the Iron Workers' association on the subject of whether the advertisement should be accepted and published were admitted in evidence, but the court ruled out the magazine.

Orin E. McManical, who informed against many persons in connection with the dynamiting of about 700 buildings, probably will begin to testify next week.

ITALIAN ATTACKS ON GORIZIA CONTINUOUS

Vienna (via London, Dec. 4, 11:40 p. m.)—The following communication was issued today:

"Russian war theater. There is nothing new."

"Italian theater. The enemy's attacks continue against the bridgehead at Gorizia and the northern part of the plateau of Dobrovo. Which attacks and attempts to approach near Olavina and before Podgora were repulsed. The bombardment of Gorizia continues. Strong Italian forces attacked Monte San Michele and in the neighborhood of San Martino, but were repulsed."

"Balkan theater. Our troops early yesterday morning stormed the heights south of Plebice. Near Trebnice, southwest of Senica, the Montenegrins were also defeated. DESPERATE BATTLES ON ITALIAN FRONT

Rome, Dec. 4 (via London, 10:35 p. m.)—The following official statement was given out today:

"There were encounters between detachments in the Tonale zone, and we repulsed enemy troops near Salsola, Tolmino, Hospice and in the Ledro valley, where the enemy delivered an attack on our positions north of Treviso which we recently captured."

"On Thursday night, after concentrated artillery preparations with guns of all calibers, dense masses of infantry, advancing like waves, entered our trenches in the Strik redoubt on Monte Nero. Notwithstanding the destructive effect of our accurate and

FINANCIER HAS UNBOUNDED FAITH IN PEGOS VALLEY

Vice President of Large Kansas City Bank Visits Roswell, Artesia and Carlsbad and Is Greatly Pleased.

Artesia, N. M., Dec. 4.—John W. Moore, vice president of the Southwestern National Bank of Commerce of Kansas City, was in Artesia yesterday, the guest of Mr. Rowan and R. P. Williams of the First State Bank of Artesia. While in the Pecos valley Mr. Moore made extensive auto trips up and down the farming section, and out onto the range, and took a lively interest in everything pertaining to any industry in the valley. Mr. Rowan and Mr. Williams met Mr. Moore in Roswell and brought him to Artesia by auto and after several side trips out from Artesia, accompanied him to Carlsbad.

While Mr. Moore was making a pleasure trip out of his run through the valley he also looked after his business interests here, especially in the banking line. The Southwestern National Bank of Commerce has three correspondents in the Pecos valley, one at Roswell, one at Carlsbad and the First State Bank at Artesia. Mr. Moore controls a large amount of stock in the Kansas City bank, and takes personal interest in the livestock part of the banking business. It was mainly this feature of the new development of the Pecos valley that brought him to Artesia at this time. Through its correspondents his bank has a large amount of money loaned out to people in the Pecos valley for the purpose of buying cattle, either for feeding purposes or to establish a herd. After a careful investigation of that line of business around Artesia, Mr. Moore expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the policy of his correspondents here. As the Southwestern National Bank of Commerce is the largest banking institution west of St. Louis, and Mr. Moore represents interests rated at over $30,000,000 his approval of the small branches of cattle on the farms throughout the middle valley means something.

RUSSIAN REPTUNE GERMAN ASSAULTS

Petrograd, Dec. 2 (via London, Dec. 4, 6:40 a. m.)—The Russian war office today gave out the following statement:

"The situation is unchanged from the Gulf of Riga to the Pripiet."

"On the night of the second the enemy, after a heavy artillery bombardment, launched an attack upon the railway station at old Podgherevka on the left bank of the Sire, southwest of Hlatskova, and our forces at first repulsed but regained toward evening the lost position. Our artillery by a concentrated fire upon the village Senka, on the left bank of the Sire above Chortovsk, threw the enemy into disorderly flight, inflicting severe losses."

Notes Many Changes.

Mr. Moore made a trip through the Pecos valley twelve years ago. There was not much of a town at Artesia then, and the development of the country in a farming way existed mainly in the minds of the promoters. One place he remembered was the C. A. P. ranch, which had just brought in their first artesian well, and set out their first forty acres of apple trees. Yesterday Mr. Moore was taken out to the C. A. P. place, now one of the show places of the valley, with a colonial style home costing several thousand dollars, for the manager, every labor-saving farming implement known, large barns, hundreds of hogs, half a section in bearing apple trees and hundreds of acres of alfalfa. Naturally he hardly knew the place, or the many other highly developed farms which he remembered only as barren land, swampland and unutilized.

Mr. Moore expressed the greatest faith in the future of the Pecos valley. He said that business in the east is good, and getting better, that the southwest will experience one of the best years of its history during 1916 and that the Pecos valley, and especially that part lying in arid lands, would experience a decided boom within the next few months.

SMITHSONIAN TO HAVE MILLION DOLLAR BUILDING

Washington, Dec. 4.—A new million-dollar building is to be added to the Smithsonian institution here to contain the collection of paintings, engravings, porcelains and bronzes given to the institution from time to time by Charles L. Freer, of Detroit. Mr. Freer has given one million dollars to the institution for the new building, plans for which now are being drawn. It will be located on the Smithsonian grounds in the Mall, which extends from the capitol to the White House and which contains the Washington monument, the botanical gardens, the national museum and other structures of national importance. Secretary Walcott, of the Smithsonian, announced today that it was expected work on the building could be started during the coming spring.

The Freer collection represents a period of art beginning before the Christian era. It comprises early Persian and Indo-Persian paintings, more than 1,200 Chinese, Tibetan and Japanese screens, panels, kakemonos and scrolls, nearly 1,700 specimens of pottery from Japan, China, Korea, central and western Asia and Egypt; more than 250 bronzes from the same sources; and several hundred stone sculptures, wood carvings and ivories, etc., besides a splendid representation of Chinese jade and more than 600 examples of ancient Egyptian glass. The collection also contains valuable ancient biblical manuscripts obtained in Egypt.

American artists will be represented by Whistler, Tyron, Dawing, Thayer, Homer, Sargent and others.

Indicted Men Surrender.

VILLA TO HEAD YAQUI WAR FOR THEIR LOST LANDS

Northern Chieftain Said to Have Escaped Net Drawn by Obregon and Is Marching to the Coast.

Douglas, Ariz., Dec. 4.—Gen. Alvaro Obregon, the Carranza military chief, completed dispositions of troops today with intent to cut off Francisco Villa and Gen. Jose Rodriguez from all avenue of retreat into Chihuahua. Villa's officials also stated that General Dieguez was moving from Hermosillo, hoping to drive Villa into the net stretched by Carranza forces on the border. But at the same time reliable information came from Nogales to the effect that Villa was on his way south toward the Yaqui stronghold in the Huasteca mountains to head the Indians in a war to regain tribal lands in the Yaqui valley.

Villa, according to the Nogales report, escaped by passing around Diegoz Hermosillo, Ariz., and he has with him, according to the best information, Francisco Chihabito, the Yaqui chief, who for a time commanded all the Villa forces in Sonora. Chihabito, according to Carranza reports, joined several days ago, was defeated by Dieguez troops on the Puerto river.

Meanwhile, General Rodriguez, whose columns threatened Agua Prieta for a time early in the week, is reported to have broken up his force into small bands to improve chances of escaping the Carranza cordon and breaking through the passes into Chihuahua. The largest of these bands is said to consist of seven hundred ex-almirantes under Gen. Juan Garcia. Col. Lazaro Cardenas, Obregon's cavalry leader, has been sent to the Altar district to engage and disperse this force.

VILLA IS EXPECTED IN CASAS GRANDES

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 4.—The occupation of Santa Rosalia by General Herrera's Carranza troops and their advance upon Orta, Chihuahua, about fifty miles below the capital, were reported by arrivals today from Chihuahua City. These arrivals left the city Thursday when Carranza troops occupied Santa Rosalia without a fight and were then reported advancing on Orta.

It was said the evacuation of Chihuahua City was believed there to be a matter of only a few weeks.

Trains from the south today brought a body of troops, archives of the Villa government, effects of Villa officers, officials and a few foreign passengers.

It was reported at Juarez from Casas Grandes, Chihuahua, today, that Gen. Francisco Villa was expected there within a few days, that for the last five days he had made good his retreat from Sonora, using the troops of General Rodriguez as a screen for his movements.

AMERICAN COMMERCE NEEDS CAREFUL AID

New York, Dec. 4.—American commerce will require all the co-operation and systematic organization that its manufacturers, mercantile agencies, shipping, transportation and financial agents can procure, in the adjustment of world business, following the war, reads an announcement by James A. Farrell, president of the United States Food corporation, chairman of the national foreign trade council, accompanying a call for the third national foreign trade convention to be held in New Orleans, January 27 to 29, inclusive. The council, the announcement adds, has received reports to this effect from foreign merchants in all quarters of the globe.

The convention, according to Secretary Robert H. Patterson, will devote its attention to the practical application of sound business principles to the problems of further upbuilding the American foreign trade and particularly to protect it from discrimination.

The speakers will include Albin B. Johnson, president of the Baldwin locomotive works; Frank A. Vandenberg, James A. Farrell, Wilbur D. Straight, Captain Robert Dollar and others widely known in the business world.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—A sub-committee of clergymen which had arranged for a series of revivals to be conducted by "Billy" Sunday here in January, 1917, suspended today its postponement to September 24, 1917. Mr. Sunday asked the postponement in order that he might hold a similar series in New York, in January, 1917.

FIGHTING NEAR AGUA PRIETA IS NOW PROGRESSING

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.)
Douglas, Ariz., Dec. 4.—Advices received tonight from Agua Prieta, Sonora, opposite here, stated that fighting had started between the Carranza forces guarding the Nazca railroad and the Villa troops of Gen. Jose Rodriguez, who are trying to break through the Carranza lines between Fronteras and Esquedo. Agua Prieta almost was stripped of guns and soldiers to send reinforcements to the Carranza forces.

Calles Hurries to Scene.

Gen. P. Blas Calles, second in command of the Carranza forces, who arrived at Agua Prieta late today, hurriedly gathered, early tonight, all available soldiers of the garrison and left for the scene of the fighting. He was said to have taken nearly every machine gun in the town with him.

A short time later reports received here said a special train loaded with artillery left Agua Prieta for Fronteras.

Two Soldiers Remain.

The few soldiers remaining in the Mexican town were stationed near the international boundary line to strengthen the Mexican guard here. Neither the Mexican nor United States authorities would allow persons to cross the international line, in an effort, it was said, to conceal the movements of Carranza troops.

Arrivals here tonight from the state of Chihuahua said that Villa forces had confiscated all livestock of Mexican colonists in the Casas Grandes valley and that they had threatened to destroy all property, if driven from that section by Carranza soldiers.

Paid in Own Hides.

The colonists, it was said, were compelled to haul lumber and perform other tasks for the Villa soldiers. They were given for their work green hides from their own cattle, which had been seized.

At various towns in the district, the arrivals declared, Villa authorities had commandeered stocks of grain and merchandise valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars, threatening with death those who opposed their wholesale confiscations.

Gen. M. M. Dieguez, the Carranza commander who has been operating in the vicinity of Hermosillo, capital of Sonora, was said to be due in Agua Prieta tonight or tomorrow, supposedly for a conference with Gen. Alvaro Obregon.

OBREGON'S TASK TO CATCH VILLA MOST DIFFICULT

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 4.—"In my opinion Obregon will have difficulty in catching Villa or his army," declared Major General Frederick Funston tonight.

General Funston was in El Paso for a few hours en route to his headquarters at San Antonio, from the Arizona border.

"Villa," continued the general, "has moved rapidly south from the border and has completely outdistanced the Carranza forces. The delay in the arrival of Obregon's men, I believe, has allowed Villa to get beyond the danger zone."

"I talked with General Obregon about the situation in Sonora and it was his opinion that Villa would travel south into Sinaloa instead of attempting to return to his old stamping grounds in Chihuahua."

"I doubt if there will be any more trouble about the Arizona border in the near future. With the departure of the Villa forces everything is calm and peaceful and there is no reason to apprehend anything similar to the disorders which occurred in the Brownsville district."

GREECE NOT BLAMED FOR ATTITUDE IN WAR

Berlin, Dec. 4 (via London, 5:20 p. m.)—Despite the probability, according to the indications, that the entente powers have attained favorable concessions in their negotiations with Greece, the situation as regards that country apparently is causing little anxiety in German circles.

There seems to be no disposition here to criticize Greece harshly for yielding in a certain extent to the demands of the entente, adverse as these are to the central powers and Bulgaria, since the position of Greece, with her exposed coast line is realized.

MORE SUCCESSES FOR TURKS NEAR BAGDAD

Amsterdam, (via London, Dec. 5, 1:40 a. m.)—A message from Constantinople claims a fresh success for the Turkish army in Mesopotamia, stating that it has captured two additional British gunboats equipped with 15-centimetre guns.

A Turkish official statement received here Saturday by way of Berlin mentioned the capture of two British supply ships and two gunboats. Whether the above dispatch refers to these vessels already reported or to the others is not clear.

SHORT AND YOUTHFUL STYLES TO PREVAIL

Cleveland, O., Dec. 4.—"Short, full and youthful" will be the spring slogan for women's wear as the result of the decision of the style committee of the National Cloak, Suit & Skirt Manufacturers' association, made public at its closing session here today. It will apply to old as well as young.

Skirts will be short and full and coats will be cut shorter. Because of a lack of materials and dyes, due to the war, which has stopped importation from abroad, colors and textures will be less varied, but the designer will make up for this with a wide range in cut and trimming.

Tucks and frills will emphasize the skirt features. Simple effects will be good. Checks and stripes in all materials will be favorites, while dark, plain colors, trimmed with vivid shades will be fashionable. Pockets on skirts and cuffs on sleeves of bold design in prominent color contrasts will be a feature.

Garments for middle aged women will be almost as jaunty as those for college girls. Bold effects and deep yokes in separate coats will emphasize this tendency and no wardrobe will be complete without a sport coat.

Only Officers Enter Monastir.

London, Dec. 4 (7:10 p. m.)—It is officially announced that only German, Austrian and Bulgarian officers have entered Monastir, no troops accompanying them, says a Reuters dispatch from Athens. The flags of the three nations represented by the officers who entered the city were raised over the government house, the dispatch adds.

HILL LINER IS COMPELLED TO RETURN TO PORT

en Route to London Damage Occurs; Three Men Aboard Arrested.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.
San Francisco, Calif., Dec. 4.—The crippled liner Montana, returning toward the Golden Gate after having turned back when well at sea on her first voyage to London, England, has in her big three men who, if information made public here tonight is correct, are suspected of perpetrating an explosion which, the information says, occurred in the engine room of the big freighter and caused her disability.

Three Men Arrested.
San Francisco representatives of the Great Northern Steamship company are reported tonight to have admitted the receipt of a message from St. Paul, Minn., where the general offices of the Great Northern company are located, telling of the explosion and the arrest of the three men. Originally this information was said to have been turned over yesterday to the shipping firm of Balfour, Guthrie & Co., at Seattle, Wash., by British secret service men. Then, it was said, the news was forwarded to St. Paul.

The message said, it was reported, that there was aboard the Montana a man now said to be under suspicion, who is alleged to have stated before the Minnesota sailed from Seattle, that the vessel would never reach her destination.

Assistance Is Sent.
The last report received at the San Francisco Merchants' Exchange from the Montana came on December 2. At that time the vessel was 780 miles south of San Francisco. Since then a tug and a salvage steamer have been sent to her assistance.

Marine men here declared tonight that they base their belief that the Montana is gravely injured upon the slow progress the steamer is making to this port.

C. W. Wiley, port captain of the steamship company in Seattle, who is in San Francisco, said tonight:

"While I have had many messages from Captain Garlick of the Montana within the last ten days, none has mentioned the nature of her trouble. Perhaps he may have had reason for silence in this regard. The vessel is making about four knots under her own power."

Swede Steamer Sinks.
Copenhagen, Dec. 4. (via London, Dec. 5, 3:33 a. m.)—The Swedish steamer Novik, from Grimsby for Stockholm with coal, struck a mine and sank. The captain, engineer, a stoker, a stewardess and cook were drowned. The remaining fourteen of the crew were saved by the steamer Andra and then taken into Helsingborg.

FOOD SUPPLY IN GERMANY SHORT OF PUBLIC NEED

Socialists Insist That Government Take Over All Necessities and Adopt the Card System.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.
Berlin, Dec. 4. (via London, Dec. 5, 2:46 p. m.)—The budget committee of the Reichstag is devoting several days to the discussion of food problems. The socialists are taking a leading part, two having spoken on Thursday and three on Friday.

These socialist speakers fully approved the government's measures to protect consumers and secure a better distribution of supplies, but demanded that the government must go even further and apply the card system to meats, hard and virtually everything else and wholly eliminate the middleman. One socialist demanded that the government carry out the resolution already unanimously adopted by the Reichstag providing for the establishment of a central government office having complete control of food supplies.

A conservative speaker pointed out that the prices of food have risen more than the price of meat and milk. He said that the production of a litre (1.06 quarts) of milk now costs fifteen pennings (12½ cents) more than in normal times. He recommended that the government of other states follow the example of Prussia, which proposes to devote one hundred million marks ($25,000,000) to procure supplies of food for fattening swine.

Owing to the difficulty experienced by the people in obtaining sufficient butter, the Berlin municipality has organized a so-called butter bureau in the city hall. The function of this bureau is to distribute in Berlin and vicinity the quotas of butter assigned to the territory by the central buying agency, which is an organization operating under the auspices of the government.

It is charged in some quarters that the butter famine of the past few days has been due to the holding back of butter by the producers. It is admitted, however, everywhere that the shortage of food is the chief cause. An alleged contributing cause is that imported butter can only be sold through the central selling agency.

OIL LAND SUIT IS WON BY GOVERNMENT

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.
San Francisco, Dec. 4.—The government's victory in the first of the important oil suits to oust operators from Kern county oil fields was affirmed today by the United States circuit court of appeals in sustaining injunctions previously granted against operation of Kern county oil wells by the Midway Oil company.

The lands involved were valued at more than a million dollars because of the oil.

The circuit court upheld the government's view that the suits were properly brought in a court of equity. Upon this, it was stated, depended the question of whether or not these and many other suits running into many millions would have to be retried in a court of law.

The lands in question were withdrawn from entry by the department of the interior in 1904, it was shown, and later were included in the Taff withdrawal order of 1909. The government contended that wells were not bored on the lands until after January 1, 1910.

There still remain to be settled about twenty-five claims. All others which arise will be taken into court. Responsibility for the explosion which claimed about forty lives, was assumed by the railway company to obviate the delays and expense of court action.

Many Foreign-owned Plants in Mexico Operate Merely to Preserve Their Concessions.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.
Laredo, Tex., Dec. 4.—Passengers arriving here today from points as far south as Mexico City said that although industrial and commercial conditions have commenced to improve, many foreign-owned plants were being operated solely to retain their concessions, rather than to obtain a profit. Cheap men had become a serious problem throughout the republic, it was said.

At Monterrey, the public utilities plants owned by a Canadian corporation, are being operated at a great loss, according to the travelers. As an example, they said, telephone service is rendered at a rate of three pesos a month, or eighteen cents gold. Other corporations desiring to protect their concessions are doing business on a parity.

General Carranza is at Monterrey, involved in administrative affairs. Persons in close touch with the first chief expect him to make an announcement soon regarding the appointment of an ambassador to the United States. The name of Eliseo Arredondo, Carranza's personal agent at Washington, continues to be mentioned prominently.

The military campaign against Chihuahua state has commenced but the troop movement is slow. Passengers from Torreon said that city was almost deserted.

Travelers direct from the capital said it was impossible to exaggerate health conditions there, with epidemics of smallpox, typhus and other diseases prevalent.

REPLY MADE TO TUMULTY LETTER BY PRELATES OF CATHOLIC CHURCH

Severe Criticism of President Wilson for Recognition of Carranza Is Keynote of Statements Given Out.

FIRST CHIEF DENOUNCED FOR ALLEGED OUTRAGES

Religious Leaders Reiterate Assertion That Nuns Were Violated and Priests Murdered by Mexicans.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Chicago, Dec. 4.—Statements in reply to the recent letter in which Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, explained from an administrative viewpoint the situation in Mexico, as regards the Roman Catholic church, are made public here. One is by Mr. Francis C. Kelley, president of the Catholic Church Extension society, and the other by Rev. R. H. Tierney, editor of the Catholic weekly America, and both renew criticism of President Wilson in recognizing the Carranza government under which, says Mr. Kelley, religious liberty is being denied to the people of Mexico.

The statement by Mr. Kelley follows:

"If the files of the department of state are without official records to prove the 'dastardly crime' of outrages committed upon nuns by Mexican revolutionaries, there are official records in other places, copies of which have been offered to the department of state. I happen to have some of them myself, given under oath. I have one in particular that has never seen the light of day. That is Mr. Tumulty's letter in trying to disprove all the outrages against religion through denying and even if we grant all his contentions, there still remains a great burden of crime, abundantly unexplained. One thing, however, he may be certain of the worst of the affidavits will never be given out, for it stands to reason that no names are going to be mentioned: not for the revolutionaries' sake, or for Mr. Tumulty's sake, but rather for the sake of the poor victims. The murders, the looting, the stealing, the closing of churches, etc., etc., have been admitted over and over again by the revolutionaries themselves. It is most extraordinary that Mr. Tumulty could make the statement seriously that the officers of the American army never heard of a single report of outrages having been committed. The fact of the matter is that the story first came to my knowledge through one who received it from officers of both the army and navy. I afterwards conversed with one of these officers, and he not only corroborated what I had heard, but gave me additional facts. However, his case is about the same as that of the nuns. While I have his name and his signature, I do not propose to have him dismissed from the army, or have his life made a burden by revealing it. Mr. Tumulty may not perhaps have heard that nuns were forced taken from trains and sent into the revolutionist army. The number of nuns who reached Cuba or the United States safely is negligible. How many of them will never be heard from?

Standing of Paredes.
"A rather strange thing it is that Mr. Tumulty should use as an authority the Very Rev. Antonio J. Paredes, Roman Catholic vicar general, the archbishop of Mexico City. When Mr. Bryan was secretary of state, he communicated a copy to me of the statements of Canon Paredes, and informed me that he was going to give it to the press. Through Dudley Field Malone of New York I gave Mr. Bryan information as to who this Antonio J. Paredes was. I told him that he was vicar general of Mexico City only because he had been appointed by Carranza to that office, despite the fact that the constitution of Mexico prohibits that there is no union in that country between church and state. The venerable archbishop of Mexico City, however, as Father Tierney says, in order to avoid further scandal, allowed Paredes to act, but as a matter of fact, very few of the clergy of Mexico City pay any attention to him, but recognize the authority of another vicar general, whose appointment was not made by Carranza. Antonio J. Paredes is today knocking around Mexico City with a revolutionary uniform on. It was he who, taken as a nominal prisoner to Vera Cruz with a number of other priests from Mexico City, worked on the poor prisoners to have them sign a document favorable to Carranza. This is the sort of an 'authority' Antonio J. Paredes is. It is a matter of interest in this connection to know that Mr. Bryan, when he learned about Canon Paredes, did not give his statement to the public press, as he had intended. This fact, of course, must have been known to Mr. Tumulty.

"Surely, Mr. Tumulty is not innocent enough to really believe that the promises made by Carranza were intended to be kept. If they were, how explain the persecution which has broken out in Morelia and in Yucatan? How explain that, contrary to the constitution, clergymen may no longer even hold private property in Mexico?—not Catholic clergymen alone, but all clergymen. The very homes that sheltered the poor priests or even the country districts are now to be taken from them by degrees. Clergymen are declared incapable of holding property in Morelia, and this not because clergymen are rich, but because it is the settled intention of the revolutionists to drive God out of Mexico.

Not a Catholic Question.

This is not a Catholic question, and the interests of the Catholic church are not alone at stake. It is a question that concerns the fundamental principles of democracy which President Wilson is bound to uphold as the head of the greatest democracy in the world. If religious liberty fails for Catholics, it fails for Protestants. If God is not going to be admitted into Mexico, what about the missions established by Protestant churches with the expenditure of enormous amounts of money? Carranza may answer: 'We are not going to interfere with the Protestant missions' but no thoughtful Protestant could accept missions under such circumstances, because he would then be accepting privileges against which he has constantly called, and carry on his work in disobedience of the law.

"I have constantly pointed out, even to President Wilson himself, the fact that the church in Mexico is not asking for privileges of any kind whatever. The demand is merely for religious liberty as it exists in the United States.

"It is interesting to read, over the signature of the secretary to the president, that the Latin-American countries joining in the conference, and in the recognition, are all of them Catholic countries. Perhaps Mr. Tumulty will enlighten us as to whether or not any representations were made by those countries, and others, as to religious liberty in Mexico. If he does not care to so enlighten the public, perhaps the public will be enlightened later on. As I said in my cablegram from Rome to the Chicago Tribune, this is not a question of persons, it is a question of principles. The church can live under Carranza or anybody else, and when a lawful government is set up in Mexico, it is the duty of the church, following its principles, to live under it; but the unfortunate people who believe in God in Mexico, have a right to religious liberty. That right has been denied them, and is being denied them by the de facto government, supported by the president of the United States.

Father Tierney's Statement.

The statement by Father Tierney, along the same lines, is as follows:

"A reply to Mr. Tumulty's letter will appear in the next issue of America, the National Catholic Weekly, of which I am editor. For the present suffice it to say that the points in which I am interested concern the treatment of priests, brothers and Sisters, and the attitude of the revolutionists toward religion in general. Mr. Tumulty discounts nearly all the reports of outrages, but his contention is sustained by no evidence of value. His testimony about the treatment of Sisters is in every instance, except one, negative and cannot render uncertain the proposition that Sisters were outraged nor prove the contradictory proposition that Sisters were not outraged. Against this negative testimony Monsignor Kelley and myself have set and can now set affidavits declaring that Sisters were outraged. And strange to say, one of those affidavits was made in Vera Cruz by a refugee Sister, at a time when as Mr. Tumulty declares, the officers of the American army who were thrown into contact with these same Sisters, in Vera Cruz, never heard of a single report of outrage having been committed. Stranger still this affidavit is signed by an officer of the American army. Through the columns of America I have offered to furnish Mr. Tumulty the names of the six witnesses who testified, the names of the six witnesses and the name of the notary. For prudential reasons I shall withhold the name of the army officer. I have also offered to send him a copy of an affidavit made by the princess of a well-known Catholic university, who conversed with the Sisters who were outraged. All this testimony gives moral certainty that outrages were committed. Mr. Tumulty's evidence leaves this certainty untouched. He gave one item of positive testimony to the effect that Sisters were not outraged within the archdiocese of Mexico City. But to what avail? Nobody said they were. Besides, the course of Mr. Tumulty's evidence is vitiated.

Treatment of Priests.

"The second point under discussion concerns the treatment of priests. The testimony of Canon Paredes, vicar general of Mexico City, is adduced by Mr. Tumulty. In the first place, a vicar general is not a competent witness. He is a Catholic holding office from Carranza, and by the sufferance of the ordinary of Mexico City who confirmed the appointments to prevent further scandal. Canon Paredes admits that priests were murdered, but he puts the crimes on the Zapatistas, who, he remembered, were once kind in hand with Carranza. Moreover, had Canon Paredes been more impartial he could have furnished evidence of the brutal murder of brothers, and the revolting torture of priests in the north where Villa and Carranza were companions. The torture of the priests was directed by Colonel Fierro of the revolutionary army. Should Mr. Tumulty desire it, I shall send him copies of affidavits made by the tortured priests in the presence of Bishop Lynch of Dallas, Tex.

"At last point, that namely which concerns religious freedom, Mr. Tumulty makes a great deal of Carranza's promise. But what about the decree of Aguilar and the decree of Toluca which make religious freedom impossible? Have they been recalled? Worse yet, and this simply destroys Mr. Tumulty's whole position, only recently General Alvarado, the military governor of Yucatan, issued a violent manifesto against religion. This document will be published in America for December 11. Alvarado's decree and Carranza's promise look well side by side.

"Carranza is blowing cold and his agent, Alvarado, is blowing hot and religion is suffering, confederation of convents has been in progress in Yucatan since Carranza made his worthless promise. More might be said, strange facts might be laid bare, but this is quite sufficient for the end in view.

ITALIAN DEPUTIES SUSTAIN MINISTRY

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Rome, Dec. 4 (Via London, Dec. 5, 1:32 a. m.)—The chamber of deputies today voted confidence in the government by an overwhelming majority. The vote was taken after a debate on the recent statement of policy by Baron Bonino, Italian minister of foreign affairs, and speech by Premier Salandra, who said that the government was fully aware of the gravity of the international situation, but that its confidence in final victory was in no wise shaken.

COULDN'T RAISE TWO HANDS; SHOT TO DEATH

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
St. Louis, Dec. 4.—The official Michael McCarthy was shot and killed by a pair of would-be saloon robbers here tonight because at their command of "hands up" he raised only the one arm he owned.
One sleeve of McCarthy's coat hung empty, its end inserted in the coat pocket. The robbers apparently mistook the empty sleeve for an arm reaching for a gun.

QUIET WEDDING FOR PRESIDENT AND MRS. GALT

Simplicity to Be Keynote of Nuptial Ceremony; December 18 Selected as Date; No Reception to Be Held.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 4.—Extreme simplicity will be observed at the wedding of President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt, which the White House announced today will be solemnized December 18, (30 weeks from today), at the home of Mrs. Galt here. The arrangements virtually have been completed.

The president will have no best man at the wedding, and Mrs. Galt will not formally select a maid of honor, although one of her sisters, probably Miss Bertha Galt of this city will escort her during the ceremony.

The announcement at the White House that only members of the two families and the president's immediate household would attend the wedding, and that no formal invitations would be issued surprised official Washington. It had been expected that at least a few of the president's friends would be invited.

The Rev. Herbert Scott Smith, rector of St. Margaret's Protestant Episcopal church here, which Mrs. Galt has attended in recent months, has been tentatively selected as officiating clergyman, although it is possible that the Rev. Sylvester Beach, pastor of the president's church in Princeton may assist. The president is a Presbyterian.

Arrangements Discussed.

The president and Mrs. Galt spent practically the entire day together today discussing final arrangements for the wedding. They played golf together this morning and went for an automobile ride this afternoon.

The wedding ceremony will be held in the drawing room of Mrs. Galt's home where a temporary altar will be erected. The ceremony will be an evening affair. There will be no large reception afterwards, but official Washington will have an opportunity to extend personal congratulations at the Pan-American reception, the first of the formal social affairs of the White House social season, which will be held January 7.

Plans for the honeymoon trip are being kept secret, but it is known they plan to leave Washington shortly after the ceremony. The Mayflower, the president's yacht, is being kept here, and it has been reported that at least a part of the trip will be spent on water.

In spite of intimations that the president and Mrs. Galt did not expect many wedding presents, a number of officials and close friends are planning to send them gifts.

HABIT-FORMING DRUGS GET JAR FROM COURT

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Columbus, O., Dec. 4.—Medicines containing habit-forming narcotic drugs, traffic in which is forbidden by the Harrison law, can not be sold through a mail order business, Judge J. E. Sater decided in federal district court here today. He dismissed a suit brought by the Dr. Nathan Tucker Ashmun Specific company of Mount Gilead, Ohio, to enjoin it. E. Williamson, federal internal revenue collector, from seizing the plant.

The court's decision declared medicines containing narcotic drugs may be prescribed by physicians only after a personal examination of the patient before each prescription. Diagnosis by mail is held illegal.

The decision is considered of far-reaching importance, since it is said many other proprietary remedies contain narcotic drugs or their derivatives and are sold by the mail order system.

RAG MAN, NOT TARIFF, HURTS WOOL GROWER

Portland, Ore., Dec. 4.—The rag-man and not a tax tariff, is the enemy of the woolgrower, declared Charles Cooper, of Portland, who addressed the annual convention of the Oregon Woolgrowers' association here today. He said that the truthful branding of fabrics would in a short time at least double the wool production of the northwest.
"What woolmen need," he said, "is not tariff protection but protection against rags, the old ragman being the chief competitor of the woolgrower. The world's supply of fleece is only 27 percent of that which is sold for all wool products."

DEMOCRATS NOT TO HAVE FIGHT OVER CLOTURE

Caucus Agrees That Revision of Rules Should Be Non-partisan; Marshall Need Not Be Present.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The fight to reopen senate democrats to a cloture rule, which began immediately after the ship purchase bill was filibustered to death in the senate at the last session, practically was abandoned by its champions at today's meeting of the democratic caucus, although it was agreed that a non-partisan effort should be made during the session to correct abuses that have made endless filibustering a matter of frequent practice.

It was declared to be the sense of the caucus that revision of the rules should not be a partisan question and that the whole subject should be referred to the rules committee. A resolution to that effect will be introduced at the opening of congress Monday and the rules committee, of which Senator Overman is chairman, will endeavor to get the co-operation of republican members in revising the methods of senate procedure. Senator Owen, chairman of the special committee which submitted a cloture rule to the caucus, withdrew the committee report today after several days' spirited discussion of the threatening subject. The dispute dispelled the possibility of a fight on the floor of the senate Monday, which might have delayed organization of the senate for many days and prevented delivery of President Wilson's address on Tuesday as planned.

In view of the harmonious ending of the senate caucus, Majority Leader Marshall said that his presence in Washington on Monday would not be required. The vice president had wished to remain in Indianapolis for the illness of Mrs. Marshall. The senate, therefore, will be called to order by Secretary Baker, and the first order of business will be the election of Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, as president pro tempore.
The old rules will prevail, and the question of whether the senate is a continuing body will not be pressed.

House democrats also had a harmonious caucus today, approving the committee assignments recommended by the committee on ways and means.
There was no suggestion of resentment in the caucus over the revolt of Representative Claude Kitchin, of North Carolina, the majority leader, against the defense program, and legislative issues were not discussed. The committee bids and chairmanships were approved without argument.

men, but defendant insisted four was the correct number. A motion for a new trial is pending.

week. Mrs. Robert E. Dietz was chosen chairman of the committee on arrangements. Mrs. L. K. Peters was named secretary and Mrs. Roy Strome treasurer. Mrs. R. L. D. Mc-Allister was designated as press reporter in order to see that full publicity is given to the work of the committee.

The Christmas tree this year will be entirely a children's affair, and will not be connected in any way with relief work among the needy people of the city. The Civic Betterment league having taken over the matter of dispensing charity on this occasion. The ladies in charge of the municipal tree will devote their undivided attention to the matter of seeing that every child in the city has a good time at the tree and is given some little remembrance from Santa Claus.

Myriads of Lights.
District Forester A. C. Ringland has again volunteered to donate a tree for the occasion, and in due time will send a corps of men to the mountains to select the biggest and most perfectly shaped tree to be had. Those who remember the tree that Mr.
Ringland gave to the city last Christmas will recall that in itself it was one of the most beautiful features of the celebration.

General Manager W. P. Southard of the Albuquerque Gas, Electric Light and Power company has agreed to furnish the current for the lights for an entire week, and the tree will sparkle like fairyland with varicolored lights twinkling from every limb.

To Do No Soliciting.
The ladies have decided that there shall be no soliciting of funds for the tree this year, but that a call for voluntary subscriptions will be made.
Whatever amount is raised will be devoted to the purchase of condiments and other presents for the tree. Donations of money, rather than of supplies, are desired, for experience has shown that when candy and other goods are given they are not received in the proper proportions to make them available for practical purposes. There will be too much of one thing and not enough of another, and waste and confusion are the result.

Everybody is asked to contribute according to his ability. If you have ten dollars to give it will be gratefully received. If you have only ten cents it will be accepted just as gratefully.
The success of the tree will depend entirely on the generosity of the people of Albuquerque.

Whatever amounts are given should be given at once, for the time is drawing near when active preparations for the tree must be made, and the ladies in charge must know what they will have to count on. All contributions should be in not later than the end of this week. Donations should be forwarded to Mrs. R. E. Dietz, Mrs. Roy Strome or Mrs. L. K. Peters.

OLD MAN IS STRUCK BY LIMITED ENGINE IN SANTA FE YARDS

A man, apparently 60 years old, was struck by the California limited engine in the Santa Fe yards a short distance south of the station last night. He received a scalp wound on the head where the beam of the engine hit him.
The engine was running at a low rate of speed, drifting into the station.
The man was walking along the side of the track, according to the crew.
He was going in the direction the train was and apparently did not hear it.
The train was stopped, the man was placed aboard and brought to the station. From there he was taken to St.
Joseph's hospital. His name could not be learned.

Alleging that Jacob Weinman took 26,290 pounds of hard coal from the cellar of the home of the late M. W.
Flournoy, Mrs. Nell E. Andros, executrix of her father's estate, brought suit yesterday in the district court. In the phraseology of the complaint, Mrs.
Andros alleges Weinman took it away November 30 "by force and converted it to his own use." She asks damages in the sum of $200.

COUNTY AGENT IS DESIRED BY VALLE FARMERS

If Growers of Bernalillo County Are Willing to Subscribe Modest Sums, Commerce Club Will Finance Expense.

When Prof. A. C. Cooley, of the state agricultural college, had finished speaking at the Commercial Club lunch yesterday noon every man present had decided that Bernalillo county should have a county agricultural agent. In such a vote no man dissented. The last Census man present the matter that the benefits to be derived from the employment and maintenance of an agent were fully understood and appreciated. Following his talk, steps were taken looking toward the securing of an agent for this county early in the coming year.

About sixty men, a large proportion of them farmers of the county, attended the lunch. Every chair at the two tables was taken and at the last minute it was found necessary to make room for a number who had not satisfied their intention of attending. There were also present many men of the city, including business and professional men, bankers and real estate men.

It is now up to the farmers of the county whether an agent is installed here or not. If a sufficient number of men are willing to subscribe modest amounts to secure such an agent, one can be had. The club pledged itself to raise an amount of money in the city equal to any amount that the farmers may subscribe. This, added to what may be secured from the county commissioners and the federal government should be sufficient to secure an agent for the coming year.

Two members of the county board were present at the lunch—Chairman Alfred Grunsfeld and Manuel Springer.
They declared that they are willing to give their support to the effort to secure an agent but called attention to the fact that since the tax levy has been made and accepted, the board must know that there is sufficient money in the general fund to assist before any action can be taken. It was explained that if the matter had been brought to the attention of the board before the levy was made, arrangements would have been made to care for the expense of an agent. As the situation stands, the commissioners pledged themselves to do what they can, not knowing just at this time how much assistance they can give. The plan is to secure as much money as is possible from private sources, and then ask the board to take care of the remainder of the amount necessary.

Professor Cooley's talk demonstrated clearly the valuable work that a county agent could do in Bernalillo.
He told of the endeavors of the agents in other counties, explaining that they are eliminating plant and stock diseases, growing new crops successfully, inducing the farmers to purchase stock and thus keep up the fertility of the soil, bringing in new seed and demonstrating the difference between good seed and bad and thus increasing the yields, getting the farmer and his market closer together, organizing the boys and girls of the counties and teaching them how to become bigger and more successful producers of wealth and disseminating all kinds of valuable information along the growers, going into the field to demonstrate how farming should be done.

The good that has been accomplished in Florida by the agricultural advisers there was explained by Mr.
Peters of Albuquerque, who spent some years in the capacity of an adviser in that state. He told of the improved machinery and methods and the increase in crop yields which was brought about by the system of installing county advisers.

To the farmers present were distributed petitions and subscription blank. They will have their neigh-

INTERSTATE CO.
IS CONSOLIDATED

Large Branch Office to Be Maintained Here With Blainey in Charge; Assets Over Three Millions.

The Interstate Casualty and Guaranty insurance company of this city, by unanimous action on the part of the stockholders at a special meeting held November 15, voted to consolidate the company with the Southern Surety company, whose general offices are in St. Louis, Mo. This action of the stockholders was taken to ratify an agreement entered into between the directors of both companies, at a meeting held at Kansas City, Mo., on August 12. The action to consolidate was taken in line with the general idea that has been followed by the officers of the Interstate to provide their stockholders with an interest in a company writing every line of casualty and surety insurance, as well as to offer the insuring public, in the southwestern states, insurance in a company of large financial resources.

The Southern itself was an organization with assets of one and one-half millions, but since the consolidation of the Interstate and the Southern, the combined companies have taken over and consolidated the Southwestern Surety Insurance company of Denison, Tex., which company has assets slightly in excess of $1,400,000. The combined assets of the continuing company, therefore, will be over three millions. The continuing company will continue to use the name of the Southern Surety company, and the general offices will continue in St. Louis, Mo. Large branch offices will be maintained at Albuquerque and at Denison, Tex. O. N. Marron and James A. Blainey, former president and secretary, respectively, of the Interstate, become directors of the Southern Surety company and Mr. Marron is elected one of its vice presidents. The management of the branch office at Albuquerque will be under the direction of Mr. Blainey.

This consolidation makes the Southern Surety company one of the largest multiple line insurance companies in the world, and the officers and stockholders of the Interstate who were instrumental in effecting the consolidation are to be congratulated.

"CARMEN"

Theda Bara, the Vampire Woman, Will Be Seen in Leading Role at Pastime Today and Tomorrow.

A scintillant gem of fiction. An opera of universal appeal and undying popularity. A stage success of unequalled dramatic power. Everyone is familiar with "Carmen" in one or other of these forms. Now William Fox gives to the world a new version of this fascinating classic. Backed by the vast resources of his superb organization, and assisted by the best directorial and histrionic talent obtainable, he has made the screen production of "Carmen" a masterpiece. In every sense of the word. To Miss Theda Bara, star of the Theatre Antoine, Paris, falls the honor of creating for the moving picture public the role of the volatile Spanish heroine, and under the direction of R. A. Walsh, the noted producer, she has far surpassed her previous screen successes.

The story of the play is so well known as to require only the barest outline. Carmen, the beautiful Spanish gypsy, spirit of country innkeepers, lives but to conquer the hearts of men. Don Jose, a young officer of the Spanish army, falls a victim to her dangerous fascinations. At her behest he forsakes his duty, and at last, driven by insane jealousy, he commits a murder for her sake. He flees from justice and takes refuge with a band of outlaws in the mountains. Having accomplished his feat, the heartless Carmen turns to fresh conquests. The handsome Lucas, foremost tender of Spain, takes her fancy, and she sets about his subjugation. She has reckoned without Jose, however. Instead of taking his dismissal calmly, the disgraced officer lies in wait for his false love and in a manner typically Spanish wreaks terrible vengeance.

This is the most wonderful picture yet produced and will be the attraction of the Pastime theater today and tomorrow.

City Electric's Desire to Use East Central Avenue May Arouse Opposition on Part of Residents.

To urge property owners to satisfy the conditions asked by the City Electric company for extending its lines to the University of New Mexico, several committees will go out tomorrow. The committees have been selected from the university faculty, traction company, Commercial club and representatives of the bigger property holdings on the hill. The committees will start at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning and expect to complete their work by Tuesday night.

The City Electric wants a bonus of $2,000, the grading down of the "hump" opposite the Presbyterian sanatorium, and relief from paying costs should East Central avenue be improved. Providing the bonus is obtained, the plan is to take up the grading matter with the state highway commission and city. It is hoped to have the city haul the dirt away for use on low streets.

Opposition is expected to running the rails up East Central avenue to advocates of a beautiful boulevard to the university and those who believe the East Silver avenue route should be followed. The traction people do not want to pay their share of the expense if East Central is paved, according to their statement of terms upon which they will build.

The council will hold no meeting Tuesday night, the regular meeting night. Instead, members will attend the services at the church.

visit. Before the girls arrive the boys receive a telegram from their aunt telling them that she will be unable to arrive on time. In the meantime their friend, Jimmy, calls on them to show the boys a dress he is going to wear at a masked ball. The boys, knowing that the girls will arrive soon, persuade their friend, Jimmy, to masquerade as Dona Lucia DeAlvadoris, and when the girls arrive in steps Jimmy, dressed in a deep red gown and wearing a beautiful suit of hair, hair done in the latest style.

Here is where the fun begins. Jimmy has a great time explaining how things are in Brazil, especially how he used to play coon-squats from his veranda. When he steps the real Dona Lucia DeAlvadoris and finds Jimmy masquerading under her name. At this juncture you have to laugh or you must see a doctor.

"College Days" is filled with pretty music, there being a complete change of costumes and scenic effects. Several novelties will be introduced.

"Heigh-Ho," the "Holly"

The weather man doesn't seem to have heard the news, but he has the word of the man who edits the almanac that three weeks from tomorrow will be Christmas.

The "dear-early" word also seems to have been asleep at the switch this year, which is only another proof that the best of things will wear out in time. Signs of Christmas are lacking, but there seems little reason to doubt that the day will arrive on regular schedule.

Last year at this time we were padding around through the snow, saying things that wouldn't look well in print and thinking things that were still worse. Now we are busy telling the stranger what a glorious climate we have, and pointing to the clear blue sky and the gentle sun to prove that we couldn't tell anything but the truth even if we were to try.

Everybody remembers, of course, the municipal Christmas tree of a year ago. The scene, when the lights were first turned on, was one that is presented about once in several lifetimes. A steady snow that had begun early in the morning, was still falling at supper time. A giant of the forest that had been brought down from the mountains stood on the lot across from the Alvarado, weighted down with snow. From every twig there twinkled a colored electric light. A thousand children danced around in the snow and gazed with wonder and delight through the falling flakes at the glimpse of fairyland that was presented, while Senator Isaac Barth, in the impenetrable disguise of a set of cotton-battling whiskers, looked and acted the part of Santa Claus as no one had ever done before.

The same sort of thing is to be put on again this year with slight variations. The Y. M. C. A. building now stands where the Christmas tree stood last year—how time flies!—but there are plenty of other perfectly good vacant lots in town that will accommodate the biggest of all trees and where all the children in Albuquerque can be gathered for the time of their lives. A meeting was held yesterday afternoon at the high school auditorium and committees were appointed to get the work under way. At the time this is written the returns are not in, but it is assured that those in charge will carry the enterprise to success.

Last year the ladies who managed the affair undertook also to relieve the distress of needy families in the city. This branch of the work this year will be left to the Civic Betterment league, and the Christmas tree celebration will be purely a festive occasion—an affair for the benefit of every lot in the town, rich or poor, strong or weak, well or sick. All that will be asked of the kids is that they believe in Santa Claus.

UNIVERSITY CLUB.
For something like two years, in season and out of season, I have been preaching the desirability of a university club for Albuquerque. With the exception of the Country club, which is located a couple of miles or so out on the mesa, and which is available only to those who own or have access to automobiles, there is no strictly social club in the city. The Elks are a fraternal organization. The Commercial club is primarily a chamber of commerce, the social features of which are of secondary importance.

It is doubtful if there is a city in the United States which has, in proportion to its population, a larger number of college-bred men than Albuquerque. Every institution of importance in the United States is represented by alumni resident in this city. The city itself is the seat of the state university, which is grinding out material for a university city every year. The establishment of such an institution would be a tremendous boost for the city. The advantages to be gained by putting through the scheme are too numerous and too obvious to require elaboration.

Developments of the last few days lead to the belief that at last such a club is in prospect. A chance meeting of half a dozen university graduates in a downtown office last week brought on some talk that is likely to be productive of results. It is not too early to make a positive prediction, but it is sufficient to say that Albuquerque is nearer to having a university club today than she has been at any time yet.

"Last Christmas, before their marriage, she gave him a book entitled 'A Perfect Gentleman'."

SILHOUETTE-CARPET.
The dancing party given by Mrs. Louis Hildt at the Masonic temple Thursday evening complimentary to Miss Jessica Edwards, of Pottsville, Penn., who is a guest of Miss Beatrice Hildt, besides being one of the really elaborate affairs of the season, was thoroughly unique. It is best described as a silhouette-carpet. Silhouettes of the guests were the only guides that the gentlemen had to aid them to find their partners, but they were enough. Black and white, in silhouette style, formed the decorative scheme so far as possible. At each of the four tables there was a big basket of pink roses as a centerpiece, but otherwise the severe lines of the silhouettes were observed. Perks and palms in profusion gave an air of tropical luxuriance to the scene.

The guests were dressed with formal and semi-formal. Mrs. E. L. Bradford, the president of the state organization of musical clubs, in whose honor the reception was held, received the guests assisted by Mrs. B. S. Rodey, Mrs. Isaac Barth, Mrs. J. G. McFar, Mrs. W. D. Bryan. In the dining room appetizing refreshments were served by Mrs. T. G. Wintrey and Miss Barbara Harris, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Hughes, Mrs. David H. Lane, Mrs. Ray Barry, Mrs. J. G. McFar, Mrs. E. L. Miller, Mrs. J. M. McFar, Miss Gladys Mandell, Mrs. A. F. Morreale, Miss Jennie Trout, Miss Estelle Valch, Miss Olga Selke and Miss Viola Skinner.

Delightful musical program was rendered, the principal numbers being rendered by Miss Paula Postel, Mrs. Ralph M. Henderson, Mrs. George Wheeler, Miss Marie Higgins and Mrs. E. L. Bradford. Before the program was begun, Mrs. Bradford made a charming address, in which she expressed her appreciation of the courtesy that had been paid her by the members of the club.

CARTRIGHT-GOOD.
The marriage Tuesday afternoon of Mr. Margaret Cartwright and Mr. J. B. Good was an event of social importance in Albuquerque, as both bride and groom have spent many years in this city and have many friends who will wish them well. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Oscar Beckman at the parsonage of the Land Avenue Methodist church, and was witnessed by only a few of the intimate friends and members of the families of the contracting parties.

The bride is well known as one of the leading women physicians in the southwest and as an active participant in all movements looking to the betterment of living conditions for women and children. The groom has been in business in Albuquerque for many years and has a wide circle of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Good are at home to their friends at 1121 East Central avenue.

VIDLER-GRAY.
Word was received in this city Friday of the marriage of John L. Vider and Miss Gertrude Mary Vider at San Juan, Porto Rico, on Thursday, November 18. After a short honeymoon the couple will take up their residence at Dorado, Porto Rico, where Mr. Gray is the owner of a fruit and coffee plantation.

Old timers of Albuquerque will remember Mr. Gray when he resided here. For many years he was in the Christmas---1915

A Merry Christmas! . . . Yes, in hell Never so merry a one befell.
In all the years since Christ was born To save us, that first Christmas morn.
Never so fast and lonely seemed The dream divine Lord Jesus dreamed.

Peace and good will? Whom'll dare to say Those kind old words, this Christmas day?
Too like a foul Satanic sneer That benediction on the ear—Who'll even have the heart to pray?
And surely none with careless glee, With berries red and mistletoe, Shall laugh about the Christmas tree, Flouting the widow and her woe, And shun the antithetical fool Who goes gawwading this Yuletide!

Rather, with ashes on his head,
The world shall mourn its million dead;
But more its own sick soul shall mourn.

Be this our task, this Christmas day—Not like the hypocrites to pray, Mincing old words we mean no more;
But straightly of ourselves demand, Manlike, as never man before, Which side today does the world stand—God's or the Devil's? Did Christ die Indeed in vain, and all his scheme To save us—was it but a dream?

Better than live a "Christian" lie, Making black huts and hearts of stone—To bid the devil take his own.

PRESIDENTS EVENING.

The fortnightly club observed "President's Evening" last Tuesday, and in doing so scored one of the most conspicuous successes that the organization has yet achieved. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. B. S. Rodey, and fully a hundred guests besides the members of the club were present.

The rooms were banked with ferns and poinsettias. Mrs. E. L. Bradford, the president of the state organization of musical clubs, in whose honor the reception was held, received the guests assisted by Mrs. B. S. Rodey, Mrs. Isaac Barth, Mrs. J. G. McFar, Mrs. W. D. Bryan. In the dining room appetizing refreshments were served by Mrs. T. G. Wintrey and Miss Barbara Harris, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Hughes, Mrs. David H. MUSICAL TREAT.

Musical treats are frequently enjoyed by local music lovers but seldom has a finer high class concert been heard than that of the Harvard Home concert in the Gold and Broadway church last evening. The program arranged and directed by Fenton J. Spaulding, chorister and composer, was notable for lasting names of art.

Chief of these stars is Signor Santa Emma, an Italian cornet soloist, until recently with the famous Creators band, and the National Grand Opera, company of Los Angeles. Signor Santa Emma's exquisitely subtle tones on the cornet touched all hearts as the instrument pealed like a human voice in joy and pathos. Incidentally it may be mentioned that Signor Santa Emma is resigned from Creators' band because that quater bandmaster treated his bandmen with too much cruelty for the sensitive soloist to endure. The audience demanded several encores of this cornet master and after the program had closed the people would not leave till he was heard again. The last time in "The Rosary." Miss Louise Nichols was the sympathetic pianiste for the cornet solos and for the rich tenor solo of Mrs. James Hiney. Mr. J. L. Rosenburg's number on the German harp were much appreciated and also elicited encores.

Another find of Mr. Spaulding's is the quartette of male singers, who with and without accompaniment, enlivened the program with rollicking quartette songs that occasioned them to return several times to the platform. Mr. J. G. Gould was at his best voice in singing that favorite "There." Mrs. Strunquist gave a reading that was well received. The duet and chorus numbers by the choir measured up to the standard of the evening.

Another musical find was little Lucille Cook, whose piano technique was noted by all. Thirty-one performers, all the names but three new to Albuquerque audiences, was heard on this remarkable program, given in celebration of the Thanksgiving season and the twelfth anniversary of the local church.

The program was as follows:
Duet, Solo and Chorus, "His Love Is Like a Flower" . . . Petrie Choir Tenor Solo, "Oria Padi" . . . Orin Padi Song of Thanksgiving . . . Francis Albion Male Quartet, "The Crucifixion" . . . T. A. Donahue, J. A. Ringling, G. R. Lloyd, J. P. Lloyd

Baritone Solo, "Bells and Saddles" . . . Dudley Buck James A. Blaisie
Reading, "Love or Ambition" . . . Strunquist Mrs. N. J. Strunquist, Jr.

E. Stanley Seder

J. G. Gould

A GLASS TO TIME

Along the gleaming highway, with many a beaming byway, On which the streaming sky lay, a banner bright of blue, Still are my glances straying, my vagrant fancies playing—For all my hair is graying—to the days of just us two.

When Youth with tilted feather tripped by the tilted heather Twas gaily-quilted weather, whatever blazes that blew, And though I pore over pages and sack the store of waxes The plume-tossed fore engages still—the days of just us two.

Brave is the old sphere swinging, the silver bells, dear, ringing, And still the May's clear singing comes echoing fine and true, We've kept all green and tender the fair May's sheen and splendor,

and who snipe the bottom as well as the eye who beholds the picture. Who would have suspected, for instance, that Col. Ralph E. Twissell, attorney, historian, publisher, executive and booster, takes snapshots that are veritable gems of art? Look at his portrait of Dr. A. N. Kidder in the patio of the old Palace, or of Hugh Williams in the patio of the New Mexico building at San Diego, or at his landscapes from the Santa Fe canyon. Anything better was never exhibited. Then turn to the photographs exhibited by O. S. Emblem, garage owner and chauffeur, guide, manager and frontiersman. There is not a poor picture in the twenty-four he has on the walls. He catches the spirit of the mountains, of the missions, of the desert. Bert Sloan has a number of photographs of the Lake peaks, of the high sierras, of the Valle Grande and the Sulphur, that rank him high as an artist, although for a living he runs a transmitter exchange and electrical house.

Of course the pictures of Jesse Nusbaum, who has taken pictures in Central America, in the Rockies, in California, in the desert, among the cliff dwellings, stand out in the exhibit as the acme of photographic achievement. Photographs by Sheldon Parsons and his daughter, Miss Sarah Parsons, reveal the real artist, the painter who studies his compositions to conform with the rules of art. The pictures by Mrs. P. Sizer Cassidy are more bold but none the less attractive. Many linger before the photographs of the Hopis and of Indian dances by Mrs. Ruth Langdon Barker. A little girl, "September Eye," receives praise on all sides. I. Gay has a number of fine color studies and so has D. C. Brown of the state engineers' office. Jessie P. Carroll has a series of New Mexico landscapes, one of which, "The Lonesome Pine," is a poetic gem. Carlos Viera displays a series of pueblo studies that are inimitable and give one a new love for the ancient places of the Southwest. K. Chapman displays a number of splendid pictures. Mrs. W. M. Tipton is a series of snow pictures, a series of snow pictures, a series of snow pictures that should appeal to Canadians and New Englanders. A. W. Redell displays a number of views he took in Florida, while with the New Mexico rifle team and T. E. Brandon comes along with characteristic southwestern views, each one a gem. Miss French has on view large photographs of scenes on Colorado irrigation works, and Mrs. E. B. Burton, several fine photographs of the Panama-California exposition. Clarence H. Wilson has a delightful study of a child sitting on a doorstep and drinking out of a milk bottle. Miss Rand displays several fine pictures and there are others who have helped to make the exhibit one decidedly worth while. It is likely that it will be sent to eastern cities so as to strengthen the desire to see New Mexico first.

Costumes for Shopping and Afternoon Tea Claim Attention From Those Who Keep Up With the Styles.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
New York, Dec. 4.—Christmas is the air. We are reminded of the year's end at every street corner, even the most matter-of-fact camera, as must feel its spirit and anticipate its cheer. Safe and sane Christmas shopping has been preached for ages, but, nevertheless, each year sees the same crowd in the shops and hears the same question on every side, "what shall I give for Christmas?" It is easily answered this year if the intended recipient is feminine. There are all sorts of wearables that may be laid at the dainty maid's door on Christmas morning as she receives with little exclamations of delight.

Has the petticoat returned in all its old time fluffiness and ruffle, to add to the buoyancy and charm of the full skirt, or have the dainty buster letters, introduced quietly and cautiously at the beginning of the season, entirely usurped its place in the hearts of well-dressed women? One must admit that the soft, little petticoat, or trouser-petticoat, is delightfully practical as well as fascinating. The full skirt may billow and blow in the wind to its heart's content with no effort to modesty. These petticoat-like petticoats when worn with the tailored skirt or frock are usually in some tone as the costume, trimmed with soft ruffles, corded, fringed or pleated. For evening wear, of course, they are sheer, of chiffon cloth, crepe or net, lace trimmed and frilly.

The Shopper's Costume.
If one has time to tarry a moment or two at the main entrance of one of the big shops on one of these busy afternoons, they will have a revelation in clothes. Serge rules in the matter of suits and simple frocks; furs are much in evidence and never have we had a season when they were so becoming and so much worn in the reach of all pocketbooks. There are wide soft collars and cuffs, small round umbrellas, and any number of other accessories which may be made at home if desired, and added to the suit of serge to enhance its charm and style. Scarcely a suit or frock, passing in and out on its Christmas mission, but shows this touch of fur.

Graceful Hip Draperies.

brail, too, is having its day on tunic and coat; one cannot but remark the wonderful variety in collars and sleeves. The majority of the suits show the high collar, and many of the dresses, too, although one often glimpses beneath top coat and suit coat a dainty, sheer blouse of crepe de chine or crepe Georgette with open throat, dainty in its softness. The flare is the thing in collars, cuffs, tunics, coat edges and skirt hems. On many of the flapping coats and skirts, tape holds the ripples gracefully in place; this tape is arranged around the lower edge of the flapping and is in the same color; often times too a narrow taffeta or picot-edged ribbon is used instead of tape.

In the Way of Sleeves.
There is the leg-of-mutton, the gauntlet sleeve, in many variations, the bell sleeve, the angel sleeve, and the sleeve gathered at armhole and wrist. It is quite a novelty, the sleeve gathered into the armhole, and it is true to its old time inspiration, even to the slight puff at the shoulder.

One of the most graceful sleeves of all is the dainty wide, light-tailing cuff, flaring slightly over the hand. The widest band in the sleeve must gain in grace with such a cuff. The full gathered sleeves are particularly graceful and pretty in the transparent fabrics now so much favored for sleeves in all sorts of frocks.

The serge coat dresses in general, favorite for shopping and street wear. A particularly chic model is made with long, pointed tunic, pointed sleeves, high collar and a novel wrap-up collar. Blue serge trimmed with small brand-covered buttons and loops and a wide band of Herculite braid edging the tunic is the most attractive combination.

The Charm of Hip Draperies.
We have always admired the grace and delicately feminine side in the padded and puffed figures at Wat-tah and our own Colonial days; these have returned in the smart hip draperies, pashas, and blouses of recent introduction. A soft satin in dark tone, draped gracefully over the hips with wide, loose, suggestive of pockets, was trimmed with a bright, contrasting brocade very effectively. The costume was worn at a recent charity bazaar for a Christmas fund and received considerable attention because of its simplicity and smart style.

How About the Petticoat?
Has the petticoat returned in all its old time fluffiness and ruffle, to add to the buoyancy and charm of the full skirt, or have the dainty buster letters, introduced quietly and cautiously at the beginning of the season, entirely usurped its place in the hearts of well-dressed women? One must admit that the soft, little petticoat, or trouser-petticoat, is delightfully practical as well as fascinating. The full skirt may billow and blow in the wind to its heart's content with no effort to modesty. These petticoat-like petticoats when worn with the tailored skirt or frock are usually in some tone as the costume, trimmed with soft ruffles, corded, fringed or pleated. The Standard Remedy in Countless Homes

Relieves Constipation Easily Without Gripping or Discomfort.

Indigestion and constipation are two conditions that are closely related and the cause of much physical suffering.

The tendency to indulge one's appetite is more or less general and most people suffer at one time or another from indigestion and constipation. A pleasantly effective remedy that will quickly relieve the constipation of poisonous stomach waste and restore regularity, is the compound of simple laxative herbs sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a mild, pleasant laxative tonic, free from opiates or narcotic drugs, and has been the standard household remedy in thousands of homes for many years.

MRS. OLIVER YOUNG.
