CASUALTIES OF BRITISH IN FOUR-YEAR FIGHT TOTAL MILLION KILLED

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

London, Nov. 28.—It is officially announced that during the war the forces of Great Britain actually lost nearly 1,000,000 men killed or dead through various causes.

Recently it was stated that the British losses totalled 658,704 but this number did not take into consideration men who were reported missing, who actually lost their lives, but of whom there is no trace, nor did it account for men who died at the front from sickness.

There have been many sharp differences as to the value of the quarantine in Albuquerque. Statistics have been quoted back and forth, and following the usual bent of figures, they have proved conclusively both sides of the question.

The board of health has adhered to the quarantine policy because it was certain the precaution was necessary. To its credit it should be said that the sharp increase in the number of cases following the victory celebration has been neutralized until an average of seven new cases are now being reported daily.

The course of the board has been repeatedly criticized by those who have insisted that children would be as safe in supervised schools as they would be at home or running at large. The board of health is giving these a chance to prove the contention since the resolutions adopted at the meeting last night provide for medical supervision at schools, the ventilation of theaters, and the like.

There is one danger in lifting the ban. Many people will confuse liberty with license. It is the duty of Albuquerqueans in the coming weeks to observe more precautions than they did while the partial quarantine was in effect. Those who have deplored the comparative quiet of the past two months should make it their particular duty to see that the epidemic is not revived.

German leaders, seeking to avoid the punishment due that empire for its horrible crimes in the war just closing, have appealed to allied chancelleries for "merit treatment" at the peace congress in the name of Christianity.

One fact is overlooked. The Christian religion is based more upon justice than upon mercy, however much the latter quality may figure in its teachings. If it were to be applied to the social question, it would demand for the worker not kindness but justice. If it is applied to the peace conference, it must be applied in the same way.

Bishop Quigley and the archbishop of Canterbury have answered Germany in the news dispatches of today. Both have asserted that righteousness must be vindicated, that justice must be meted out in order that outrages against God and man in this phase of Christianity that Germans will find assertive in the coming peace deliberations.

German leaders, seeking to avoid the punishment due that empire for its horrible crimes in the war just closing, have appealed to allied chancelleries for "merit treatment" at the peace congress in the name of Christianity.

The terrible Zeppelins no more spit their horrific death upon defenseless English towns. Instead of their threatening roar there is heard now a Voice, speaking in the Invisible Almighty, saying:

"He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust. Thou shalt no more be afraid of the terror by night, nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday."

In America the grim purpose is unlocked, for we have won our goal. Mothers' faces are lighted. The wife sings gladly as she goes about the house, for he is coming home.

Little children with hunger-peaked faces sing in shrill delight in the streets of Ghent and Liege, for the black bat has flown.

Frenchmen and Italians promenade gayly in the sunshine and smile, and happy women chatter again in Paris and in Rome.

In many a home is bereavement, and flowers adorn the portrait of the son "Killed in action." But a deep joy pervades the sorrow. A solemn gratefulness shines through the tear. For he has not died in vain.

Thanks, thanks be unto God, who has given us the victory! Right has triumphed, not might.

Justice and Mercy, that had bowed their heads, as wilted flowers, are lifted up, and bloom in strength and beauty.

All rejoice, for

"Our fearful trip is done,
The ship has weathered every rack, the prize we sought is won."

Let there be feasting. Let the table be piled high with turkey and pumpkin pie and mother's best pound-cake and apples and nuts and cider.

Thank God! Thank God! That we have had no kings to oust and no mad Bolsheviks to take their place!

Thank God that America has done its bit, that we have not been cheated by cowardice or sophistry out of taking our place in the world-struggle against tyranny!

Thank God for this glorious Present, the most wonderful Day of earth!

Thank God for the Past, and that we have been worthy of it!

And thank God for the Future, whose dangers we fear not, whose complexities and problems do not dismay us. For we believe in the kind of God that means Truth, Mercy, and Righteousness. We believe He holds the future, and that

Suddenly one day
The last ill shall fall away.
The last little beastliness that is in our blood
Shall drop from us as the sheath from the bud,
And the great spirit of man shall struggle through
And spread huge branches underneath the blue.
In any mirror, be it bright or dim,
Man shall see God, staring back at him.

GERMANY DESTROYS TOOLS IN FRENCH FACTORIES; MINE PRODUCTION HIGH

Correspondent of Paris News-

Wrecking of Machinery in Factories by Grey-clad Invaders.

15,000 PRISONERS USED TO BOOST MINE OUTPUT

Huge Armament Concentrated for Defence of Brie Valley, but Heroic Allied Troops Could Not Be Held in Check.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Paris, Nov. 28.—Details of the systematic destruction of machinery in the French factories in the Brie valley region is given by the correspondent at Brye of the Leipziger Volkszeitung. All stocks of merchandise, iron, coal iron and steel were requisitioned by German inspectors and engineers, the correspondents says, and hundred men served to organize the destruction of the plants. French manufacturers visited the region and picked out pieces of machinery which they wished placed in their own plants and these were shipped immediately to Germany.

After these selections had been made the demolition of blast furnaces, steam engines, boilers, tonne gourdes and electric light fixtures not connected with the actual working of the mines was carried out by the employees of the Leipziger Volkszeitung, and the Germans in their desperation.

In the meantime the exploitation of the mines was kept in full swing. Prisoners to the number of 15,000 were put to work with hardly any rest and under terrible discipline. The output of the mines was larger than that in peacetime and the correspondent adds, this enabled the central powers to hold out the longer.

When the final, but final all-out attack approached the Germans concentrated 500 heavy guns and 7,000 machine guns for the defense of the Brie region, but the heroism of the allied troops rendered these preparations useless and the Toulon dream of universal domination was shattered.

FRANCE PLANS BIG ECONOMIC PUSH IN PERIOD AFTER WAR

Great International Railroad Being Planned From Odessa to Bordeaux; Horizontal Route
Joining Commercial Cities.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Paris, Nov. 28.—Jules Cels, who was recently appointed under secretary of public works and transport, says in an interview with L'Information that special attention is being given by his department to the work of reaching an understanding with the American government relative to the immense amount of work done in France by the Americans and their allies. The special features under consideration are the construction projects along the front, between the front and the seacoast, and at French ports.

M. Cels says that extensive plans are being formed for economic offensive by which French activities after the war will be commensurate with those exerted by the nation during the struggle.

"Studies are being made of a plan for a great international railway route from Bordeaux to Odessa," he says. "There is also a committee studying the project of constructing a tunnel through the Pyrenees, channel and another through the Vosges mountains connecting the Atlantic and Russia through territory that was as a whole favorable to the allied cause."

The announcement by M. Cels that the French government was studying plans for the international railway route to Odessa from Bordeaux is a step toward the realization of the idea of a horizontal route across Europe connecting the great commercial cities. This route has long been contemplated, but this is the first practical measure toward accomplishment of the project. The general idea is to follow the forty-ninth parallel of latitude, which links a chain of cities between the Atlantic and Russia through territory that was as a whole favorable to the allied cause.

The projected line runs from Bordeaux to Lyons, then to Milan, Venetia and Triest, thence by way of the Isonzo valley to Agram, the Jugo-Sava center, and thence to Belgrade, Bucharest and Odessa. Most of the railway lines of this route are already constructed, but they are under German administration, and there may be difficulties.

GALACIAN CAPITAL IS SCENE OF FRIGHTFUL PILLAGE AND BURNING

Poles Proceed to Jewish Quarter After Capture of Lemburg; Ghetto Is Roped Off and Conquering Legions Proceed Methodically to Rapine, Plundering, and Slaughter; One Thousand Casualties Among Soldiers and Civilians; Large Section of Inner City Completely Destroyed.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Berlin, Nov. 28.—The charge that the Poles, after capturing Lemburg, the Galician capital, sacked the Jewish quarter, where the victims numbered several thousand, is made by the Lemburg correspondent of the Berlin Tageblatt who says he left the Galician city November 24. He telegraphs his newspaper from Breslau as follows:

"Since Friday Lemburg, which has been the scene of desperate street fighting, is again in the hands of the Poles after having been stubbornly defended by the Ukrainians. The casualties among the soldiers and civilians are estimated as in excess of one thousand. A large section of the inner city was completely destroyed.

Immediately upon entering the city the Poles proceeded to sack and burn the Ghetto district. The streets were filled with the charred bodies of murdered Jews, many of whom, in the frenzy of despair had leaped from the burning buildings, which were surrounded by Polish troops. The Polish authorities declined to take measures to halt the slaughter. Polish legions roped off the streets leading to the Ghetto and methodically proceeded to pillage, rapine and burn.

FRENCH BODY WILL SEE TRUCE TERMS FULFILLED BY HUNS

German Foreign Minister Fears That Evacuated Portions of the Rhine Country Will Be Annexed to Alsace-Lorraine by Allies.

Zurich, Nov. 28.—Dr. W. R. Solf, German foreign minister, has addressed the following note to the allied powers:

According to an additional note sent to the armistice convention by the allies, Belgium, France, Luxembourg and Alsace-Lorraine must be evacuated within a period of fifteen days. This evacuation must be made in three stages, each being marked by the end of the month. The third stage has already been reached, according to the note, upon the Rhine country to the west of Prus, between Meissen and Magdeburg, and comprising Breslau and Sorau.

Meanwhile, the under-secretary said, automobile convoys and revictualing trains under guard would be despatched to the various concentration camps for war prisoners.

The chamber of deputies passed without a roll call an order of the day expressing confidence that the government would enforce the execution of the armistice clauses concerning food for prisoners and the repatriation of the soldiers.

Lack of Food Is Acute in Vienna

London, Nov. 28.—The population of Vienna is reported in a desperate condition from lack of food, according to a message to the Daily Express from its correspondent in Vienna, who says there has been an official rationing there, and to have been given special opportunity for investigation behind the scenes.

The correspondent's message, which is dated November 25, tells of the soup kitchens established in the city. Each of the ten kitchens, he says, is feeding daily 8,000 men, women and children, who have to stand in line for hours awaiting admission.

BISHOP QUAYLE IN FIERY SPEECH HITS PLEA FOR CLEMENCY

Methodist Leader Asserts Kaiser Must Be Tried and Executed for Murder; Says Whole World Has Gone American.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

St. Louis, Nov. 28.—Bishop William A. Quayle of the Methodist Episcopal church, speaking at the City Club luncheon, declared that any peace commission of the American people which does not make the German people pay for the uttermost suffering is not a peace commission. "The American people and that until such time as the kaiser is tried and executed for murder, justice will not have room to sway in the world."

"That is not hate," he said. "It is justice. The man who does not ascent to that procedure has a mutilated moral sense, or he has no moral sense to mutilate. Justice never hurt any man and the man who does not talk about it has no place in the world."

"We did not fight the kaiser. We fought for German people and we must in equity to the world bring the German people to strict account for their indecency. Not to be square and honest to the Germans now and to mete out to them justice will be more injurious to the tomorrow of the world. Not to mete out punishment to Germany now is not love; it is sentimentality."

"Germany won't be put together again in the next thousand years and the less put together it is, the farther it will go, which is better."

"Kings must be accounted, not in the name of England, nor of Britain, nor of Romania, but in the name of the human race, so that never again shall they rise to menace mankind."

"This is America's day because the whole world has gone American. We've never seen the whole world. The men of the world are in this convocation. There is no more 'verbotten' Germany never again can intimidate the world. The world has become a benevolent. The world is for everybody if he chooses to walk in it. Kings can't pass as bad carriers if they like. All the dreams of the Declaration of Independence have come true plus. You can no more return to yesterday with your Monroe Doctrine than you can go back 1,000 years to seize the stars. You can not crawl into one American shell and stick out your head with your business. The world owns the road and if we play the turtle we will have to get out of the road or get run over."

Bavaria Breaks With Berlin Due To Hun Deception

London, Nov. 28.—Bavaria has broken relations with the Berlin government according to a Munich message transmitted to the Central News correspondent at Copenhagen.

The Munich dispatch states that a message has been sent to the Berlin foreign office by Kurt Ritter von Koenig, the Bavarian premier, stating that the Bavarian foreign office breaks its relations with Berlin "owing to the efforts of Berlin to deceive the people by withholding the truth about conditions."

English Church Leader Demands Hun Atonement

London, Nov. 28.—The archbishop of Canterbury in reply to a message from Professor Tammes of Berlin university, transmitted by Archduke Soderholm of Russia, imploring merciful treatment at the peace conference "in the name of Christianity," says:

"Professor Deutschaus's statement to the present situation is not one that I can accept as correct. The English situation as though all that is needed is the repudiation of the Christian virtues in the 'hateful nation' is 'mutilated (gravely) and contumacious in order to fight in unison against the terrible consequences of the war and to serve the moral improvements of the nations and of mankind."

The archbishop calls attention to the fact that the speech of Prof. Tammes, in which he did not make the German people pay for the uttermost suffering, was a simple affair, only the members of the president's family being present.

DANIELS SAYS JUSTICE SHOULD BE PEACE GUIDE

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Deliberations of the coming peace should be guided by principles and justice, though all that is needed is the repudiation of the Christian virtues in the 'hateful nation' is 'mutilated (gravely) and contumacious in order to fight in unison against the terrible consequences of the war and to serve the moral improvements of the nations and of mankind."

The archbishop calls attention to the fact that the speech of Prof. Tammes, in which he did not make the German people pay for the uttermost suffering, was a simple affair, only the members of the president's family being present.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Thoroughly repudiating the Twenty-one Demands, the German republicans attacked the tenth demand Pan-Americanism today at St. Patrick's Catholic church. Secretary Lansing and other members of the diplomatic corps in addition to the ambassadors and ministers of the American countries were present.

"We have fought without hatred and as far as possible, without passion, and now that victory crowns the cause for which we fought, we desire to be equally free from hatred and passion in the course we follow."

"But we can not forget the terrible crime wrought against humanity and civilization when this stupendous war with its irreparable agony and cruelty was let loose in Europe. Nor can we easily ignore the savagery with which the German high command displayed its carrying on the war. Outrage in Berlin, in the world outside, and indeed, even since, the violation of

"a vacation wrought in France, including the inhuman disposition of innocent civilians; the submarine warfare against passenger ships, like the Lusitania; and the relentless which ensued in Germany; the unspeakable cruelties exercised on defenseless prisoners down to the very end, including women and children; the months of suspense during which measures for demobilization and reconstruction would necessarily be held up."

The conference may be the beginning of a new era in the part of Christian circles in Germany any public pronouncements, these groups, we may say, of their perpetration. The cause we hope to achieve must be a permanent state of peace, the rights of which are to be further and even more terrible strife. We wish by every means to avert that possibility. But righteousness must be vindicated, even though vindication involves sternness.

"There is, however, as I see it, may, no wish on the part of the allied nations to crush or destroy the peoples of Germany. Evidence to the contrary is amply abundant."

SUGAR RESTRICTIONS ARE LIFTED TO TAKE EFFECT DECEMBER 1

War-time System of Certification Has Been So Successful That Country Is Now Threatened by Sugar Ware-house Shortage.

Beginning December 1 all restrictions on the sale and purchase of sugar or of all types will be done away with. This long drawn out war has applies to the wholesale, retail consumer. The sugar corporation, however, will continue to control the price and it is expected at state food administration offices today that there will be no change in the price to the consumer.

The complete stoppage of the certification system will result in a considerable cutting down of the force of all the sugar associations, as the sugar officials and their helpers will not be needed for the exacting system of bookkeeping with which every ounce of sugar used was tabulated.

The resounding of all restraining rules on the sale and purchase of sugar results from the close conservation and regulation which has kept up since the war began and the fact that sugar crops in almost every section of the country have been materially increased. With the coming of the United States harvest, which in most sections of the country has been delayed almost a month, has the usual harvest time, a considerable concession is now threatened.

The Cuban crop is now well under way and will be a record one. This has been brought about by the sugar corporation. Experts have figured out that Europe will need many other things more than they will sugar in much larger proportions than they have ever received.

Sugar crops all over the world have been increased. India has increased its crop by 1,000,000 tons, which makes importation almost unnecessary. The Australian crop has been increased by at least 100,000 tons. Columbian exports of sugar have been larger this year than ever before. The Crop in Peru is the largest ever recorded and the export production of that country is increased by 150,000 tons.

Or the Cuban crop, totalling 3,800,000 tons of which was bought by the sugar corporation, one-third is for European consumption and the remainder for consumption in this country.

The exact sugar situation in America at this time is as follows: 156,000 tons were saved last year; this is now in storage the two-thirds of the Cuban crop is on hand and the American crop has not yet been harvested, is estimated at 1,600,000 tons. This leaves us in this country for 12-13 million tons at least 1,800,000 tons. Normal consumption is at the rate of about 2,000,000 tons a year.

There figures show that there will be an excess of at least 1,000,000 tons of sugar in the country for 1918 and explain why the restrictions which worked such wonders with the conservation and price of sugar through war time are no longer needed.

Bureau of Charities Fund Drive in City Is a Great Success

With several teams still receiving volunteer subscriptions for the City Bureau of Charities which presents the caption from making a final report, there is already a reported total of $2,250,000 received in cash on the drive and the subscriptions now amount to $887,500. It is expected that the Thanksgiving offering of Altar committees for the care of their sick and aged will amount to at least $2,000 for distribution of money and millions need our immediate help that America must continue to save food.

ANOTHER DUKE CITY BOY GIVES UP LIFE FOR WORLD FREEDOM

Ananacio Garcia, Resident of Old Albuquerque, Has Been Killed in Action According to Official Reports.

Ananacio Garcia, of Old Albuquerque, has been killed in action on the western front, according to the official casualty list published this morning.

Mr. Garcia was employed at the Hudson Poster company on North Fourth street, and was an alternate for one of the draft contingents which left here last March. Garcia did not expect to leave, but at the last moment it was found that one of the regular draft men was not ready. Garcia was called at once and left with the other Albuquerque boys, not even taking time to change from his working clothes.

A letter was received by Garcia's brother and sister, who live in Old Albuquerque, some time ago announcing his death, but it was not at that time thought that it was intended for a different Garcia, with the name appearing in the official casualty list. There is little doubt now but that the Ananacio Garcia, who lived in old Albuquerque, is the one of that name who has given the supreme sacrifice for his country.

International Food Program Uncertain Is Official Report

Will Germany be included in the international food program now in the making? No one knows what the actual food situation is in Germany and no official announcement of policy has come from Berlin until sufficient data becomes available through the investigation now under way.

Emil B. Stewart, who represented Herbert Hoover at the food administration conference this week, said in discussing this matter:

"Germany must pay the price for the wrongs she has committed. She must make restitution for the wanton destruction in Belgium, France and other countries, and for her aggression. This problem is one of getting to the root of the trouble. It is a problem of years, the water tight blockade sufficiently so that they may secure for themselves the bare necessities that will give stable government. Unless anarchy can be put down and stability of government can be obtained in these enemy states there will be nobody to make the bill and nobody to pay the bill to France and Belgium for the fearful destruction that has been done."

"What the ultimate decision may be in dealing with the food problems in the enemy group and more particularly Germany can not be forecast at this time. However, we know that anarchy follows famine. I am certain that the allies will take whatever steps are necessary to prevent anarchy. Stable governments cannot be established that such demands as reduction of demands may be forthcoming."

"Our greatest concern at present is to get food at once to the smaller allies, northern France and Russia. Through arrangements with the war department around 200,000 tons of food are going overseas to relieve the most urgent demands in Belgium and France. Some additional millions need our immediate help that America must continue to save food."

URGES CHRISTMAS EXPRESS PACKAGES BE SENT EARLY

Vice-President Elliott of American Railway Express, Suggests December 10 as Final Date for Holiday Shipments.

Vice President D. S. Elliott, in charge of traffic for the American Railway Express company, has informed the operating officials and agents of the express companies throughout the United States that it is the purpose of the company to uphold in every way the request of the council of defense that Christmas express shipments be started on their way by December 5.

A concerted effort will be made in every city and town of the country by the 125,000 express employees to emphasize the importance of prompt and positive congestion of transportation facilities during the actual times.

Although the express facilities are very elastic, so much of the equipment is now used to strictly war purposes that all gift shipments for long distance travel should be delivered to the express company not later than December 5, and for short hauls not later than December 10. This will allow ample time for sorting and delivering before Christmas.

As the disease is believed to have spent its force here the ban on public meeting places is removed. In other public places places result in a decided increase in new cases and more deaths are recorded than during last several weeks a more rigid quarantine may follow, members of the board of health stated. They, however, do not believe that the plague will sweep the city again.

The quarantine in Albuquerque has been very effective, the board of health believes, and the death rate here has been much lower than in Antonito and in other cities.

The number of new cases reported daily to city health officials average seven a day. Doctors are requested by the board of health to promptly report all new cases so the city may keep a check on the epidemic in order to determine whether or not the lifting of the ban is spreading the malady. Following is the resolution adopted by the board of health:

To require all picture theaters and other playhouses to ventilate their places thoroughly at all performances and when performances are being given.

That pastors of churches be required to see that their places of worship are well ventilated at least three hours before service and that plenty of fresh air is permitted to circulate through the churches during services at night.

Whereas, the influenza epidemic in Albuquerque has abated to the extent that there are being reported on an average of only seven new cases and two deaths each day, and

INFLUENZA QUARANTINE HERE ORDERED RAISED SUNDAY BY THE CITY BOARD OF HEALTH

Believing the Disease Has Run Its Course and That Rigid Regulations Are No Longer Necessary, Ban on Public Meetings, Which Has Been in Effect in Albuquerque Since October 5, Is Raised; Churches May Have Services Sunday Morning.

Albuquerque will be normal again Sunday. The city board of health, at a meeting held last night at the city hall, adopted a resolution lifting the Spanish influenza partial quarantine that has been in effect in the city since October 5.

Resolved, by the city of Albuquerque through the board of health, that the ban on the Spanish influenza epidemic be lifted effective as of the 1st day of December, 1918, provided, however, that the following regulations be enforced:

That physicians be required to fully comply with the rule regarding the immediate reporting of all cases of influenza as soon as such cases have been diagnosed.

That the board of education and superintendents of private and parochial schools be requested and required to cause a daily inspection of pupils in all schools of the city to learn whether or not students are being attacked by the influenza.

New Mexico Has Its Own Particular Mercies for Which We May Join Heartily in the Spirit of Thanksgiving

ASIDE from all of the universal reasons for Thanksgiving which exist today throughout the world, and especially throughout this nation, New Mexico people have their own particular mercies; their special favors and their peculiar reasons for joining heartily in the spirit of this Thanksgiving day.

With all other Americans we join today in returning thanks that peace on earth is about to be restored; that our sons and brothers who have been in grave personal danger are now relieved of the menace of battle; that we will be permitted to have them back in their accustomed places, doing their accustomed tasks before very many days have passed.

But there are our own particular conditions here in the Sunshine state for which we may return hearty thanks today. This state has come through one of the most critical periods in its history and has emerged, or is now emerging in a condition of financial and physical welfare far better than even the most hopeful of us dared to anticipate six months ago. We have been called upon for our full proportion of assistance in carrying on the war, a proportion based upon our normal conditions, which have not been present for a year or more. The nation's calls upon us were without any of the recompenses given to other states in the huge distributions of industrial enterprises occasioned by the war. We had no war prosperity and a condition on our ranges and farms which brought us to a stage far below normal in trade and industrial matters. Yet this state has been able to meet and has met every call upon it during the period of the war; readily and cheerfully. For that we may well give thanks.

The conditions which brought our industries to a sub-normal state are rapidly passing away. This state has been through one of the most serious drouths in its history. None save those who have seen the ranges and farms of wide areas of New Mexico during the past twelve months can understand just how serious the conditions have been. There was a time not many months ago when it looked as if the great cattle breeding industry of this state, built up with infinite pains and at enormous cost by men keenly interested in success, might be wiped out. There was no grass, no feed, no market, credits were seriously strained. In a slightly less degree the same critical situation existed over the several million acres of unirrigated farming territory which has recently become so important a part of our wealth producing assets.

The great drouth is at an end. We are entering upon what undoubtedly will be a "wet" winter, during which enormous volumes of moisture will be stored in the ground and in the mountain reservoirs of snow, for future grass and irrigation. The vast majority of the livestock growers have been able to pull through the crisis without ruinous losses and to remain upon a producing basis. The farmers have suffered and some have been broken, but the majority have been able to see it through.

THE THINGS NOT SEEN

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

(Copyright, 1918, by Dr. Frank Crane.)

Interesting Views of An Albuquerque Critic, Inspired by Great Painter's Caustic Comment Upon the New Schools of Expression

Over and above and behind and within the things seen are the things not seen, and they are the most important.

So much more vital are they that a great thinker said: "We look not at the things that are seen, but at the things that are not seen; for the things seen are temporal, but the things not seen are eternal."

For instance, the house is a thing seen, but a home is a thing unseen; a brain can be seen, a mind is unseen; you can see a mother's face, but not the love behind it, yet it is the latter that affects you. Flags are seen, patriotism unseen; and you can see a body, but not a soul, a word, but not an idea, a church, but not God.

Our first crude notion is that the things seen are real and the things not seen are fanciful. We call those who handle stone and wood and meat practical, and those who deal in theories, sentiments, and morals, theoretical.

Sometimes we hear one say that he goes in for the tangible goods of this life, such as food, clothes, and money, and he prides himself upon his sound common sense.

But the truth is that what is seen is mostly illusion. The earth seems flat; it is not, it is round. The sun appears to revolve around us, but we revolve around it.

What we call education is but the process of correcting the false ideas we get from things visible by the things invisible. The baby, who can see as well as we, is continually bumping himself against things seen until he learns how to use his judgment, reason, and other unseen faculties.

It is the unseen things that matter. So true is this that the Hindu philosophers speak of all the things we see as Maya or Illusion.

Behind every tangible thing look for the intangible, which is more solid and essential. For it is not just you need, but love; not money, but abundance, which is a spiritual substance; not clothes, but self-expression; not bread, but truth; not beautiful objects, but a mind that can see beauty anywhere; not an amulet, but courage; not wine, but health and enthusiasm.

Why are you unhappy? Because you are hungry. You put material food every day into your stomach and you drink water, but you do not draw into your inner man, into your real self, the boundless supplies of the Infinite. Love, joy, peace, mirth, and all the good spirit's mouth is shut tight, because you are stupid and vain, and think you are clever, in that you will only believe what you see.

If you would be happy come, buy without money and without price; eat and let your soul delight itself in fatness, for the infinite storehouse is yours, and the humblest soul may revel in its unseen treasures.

The mind, observing, becomes less receptive to new ideas. Unconscious tension is held and gradually expressed. Opposition is less patiently borne, giving rise to irritability and querulousness.

HAPPY JACK SQUIRREL'S THANKSGIVING

For all the good things we possess, our thankfulness we should profess,

Even in all life we had Happy

Jack Squirrel felt quite so discontented. It was bad enough to have to do without chestnuts this year. It was worse to know that probably he would have to do without chestnuts next year and all the rest of his life because the chestnut trees were either dead or dying. Worse still was it to think it even possible that he himself had had something to do with the spreading of the fatal ad-diseases. That was what Farmer Brown had told him.

By Thornton W. Burgess. Copyright, 1918, by T. W. Burgess

Happy Jack believed Brown. By

and believed.

Happy Jack didn't believe it. He couldn't think of anything else. It quite took the heart out of him. He was so disconsolate that he wasn't happy at all, a great deal better name for him, and then would have been "desolate" Jack instead of Happy Jack.

Here it was almost winter and his storehouse was not one-third full. He had spent so much time looking for the chestnuts, usually so plentiful, that there had been little time to look for other things. Now it was so late in the season that he was very anxious to find some to fill that storehouse before the coming of the snow. In fact, snow might fall any day now.

Happy Jack was thinking of this and feeling more forlorn and discouraged and hopeless than ever as he crawled out of his nest under the bark of the big tree in which he didn't like. It felt very much as if now must be close at hand. Happy Jack sighed, then crept out and shook himself. "It's certainly in time to go to snow," thought he. "I'll have to work as hard as ever I can today."

Happy Jack started off for a certain big buckeye tree which he had hoped to find some nuts. It was quite a distance, and when he got there Happy Jack decided that the best thing he could do would be to walk some of those nuts nearby. He would remember where he had burned them and he could dig them up later, even after the snow had fallen. It would take too long to try to carry all those nuts way back home. So he buried a few under the bark and then decided to have a few here.

With the biggest, fattest nut he could find in his mouth he started back home. When he got there he dropped that nut in sheer astonishment. He couldn't believe what his eyes told him—he really saw it was a little pile of history nuts and another little pile of yellow ones right at the foot of the tree in which Happy Jack made his home.

There was enough to fill his storehouse brimming full. Happy Jack sneezed where it came from. He knew that Farmer Brown's boy had been out there goudies there.

He had. You see it was Thanksgiving Day. Happy Jack didn't know this, but he was very, very thankful just the same.

4-MINUTE SPEAKERS TO END THEIR WORK HERE DECEMBER 24

Organization That Has Done Much to Place Real Cause of War Before Public Has Completed Its Duties.

The four minute speakers of New Mexico, as well as the whole country, will end their work on December 24. Official orders from Washington have been received here by the state chairman of the four minute speakers and is being forwarded to all members of the organization in the state. Following is the communication received yesterday from William H. Ingersoll, national director of the speakers:

"We have in this office splendid acknowledgments from the president and the heads of the various departments of the government we have served, and when we close our work on Christmas eve we shall receive an honorable discharge in a fashion fitting for men who have faithfully served their country. Because of this record and the official recognition we give you to see that state or local organizations make no continuous speaking activities under the title of four minute men. The nation's esteem which our fifty thousand men have so well earned must not be jeopardized by men not responsible to the government for what they say."

"We appreciate the announcement of the discontinuance of our work will make it exceedingly difficult to find an outlet for our energies until December 24. We sincerely hope therefore, that you will make a supreme effort to maintain this interest. The authority for further discussion are of world significance and of lasting interest. So let us close our official life with a stirring appeal for further national and world service."
