REPORTS OF SNOW FLURRIES
AND A SCARCITY OF COAL

Chicago, Dec. 8.—The cold wave that bore down upon this city yesterday reached its climax at 8 and 9 o'clock today with a temperature at the zero mark. Today and tonight the mercury will, according to official forecasts, remain near that point with some relief promised tomorrow. Five fatalities from causes directly attributable to the weather have been reported to the authorities and numerous cases of destitution incident to the sudden drop in the temperature were afforded relief during the night and early today. The delay to traffic on the railroads, street railways and elevated roads is general. The through trains from the east and the west are reported from two to six hours late.

THE MILLS ORCHARD IN COLFAX COUNTY

It is a Model of Its Kind and Its Equal Is Hard to Find in the Southwest.

HOW HORTICULTURE IS MADE TO PAY IN NEW MEXICO

That fruit trees do well even in northern New Mexico at a considerable altitude is demonstrated by the M. W. Mills orchard on the Canadian river 30 miles from Springer in Colfax county. The orchard is situated in the Mills canon which at the point where the orchard is located is over 1,000 feet deep and quite narrow, the sides of the canon rising almost perpendicularly on each side, thus protecting the orchard. An irrigation ditch runs along the long and sloping 500,000, covers about 1,000 acres of cultivated land about 200 of which are planted with fruit trees. In addition there is a large garden in which are produced melons, tomatoes and a large variety of garden truck. Of the orchard 100 acres are in apples and pears of many varieties, not one of which has been attacked thus far by blights or by insects. Peach trees cover 50 acres, and cherries 10 acres. The apples and pears begin ripening about July and continue until November. Both apples and pears keep well owing to the dryness of the climate. The peaches begin to ripen so that the first shipment is generally made July 4. There are over 30 distinct ripenings of peaches. Some peaches from the orchard which have been exhibited, measure 13 inches in circumference. So far no enemy to the peach has invaded the orchard except the white grub borer, which is easily kept in subjection by irrigation. The Morello and Bigarreau begin to ripen in the middle of May and picking continues until August. Apricots begin to ripen about June, continuing through July. A several varieties of apricots in the orchard are of peculiar excellence and are not grown anywhere else. Both European and Japanese varieties of plums and all varieties of prunes, covering about 15 acres, do splendidly. Quinces, grapes, berries and other small fruits are grown extensively. Nut trees such as almonds, pecans, walnuts and other do well and considerable attention is paid to the propagation of forest trees. Evaporators, a cannery, cider presses and other appliances for preserving or using the surplus fruit are profitably conducted. Taken altogether, the big Mills orchard deserves its fame as being one of the finest, if not the most successful orchard in the southwest.

A TRIBUTE TO EX-SPEAKER
T. B. REED

A Remarkable Honor Paid the Memory of the Deceased by the House.

ONLY THREE PRECEDENTS

House Adjourned After Adopting Eloquent Resolutions Offered by Representative Sherman of New York.

THE REMAINS TAKEN TO PORTLAND, MAINE

Washington, Dec. 8.—The house today paid a remarkable tribute to the memory of ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed. His death had created a profound impression and there was a universal desire among the members that the house should show a signal mark of respect to his memory. For the house to take action on the death of a former member had only three precedents in its history, namely on the occasion of the death of Benton, Blaine and Alexander Stephens, when the house adopted resolutions and adjourned out of respect to their memories. It was decided to follow these precedents in the case of Mr. Reed. The chaplain at the opening of the session, paid a feeling reference to the death of the ex-speaker. No business was transacted beyond the formal reading of two messages from the president and an arrangement to postpone the special order for today, the London dock bill, until tomorrow. Mr. Sherman of New York, then amid profound silence arose and in a few feeling remarks offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the following minute be spread upon the record of the house of representatives: "Hon. Thomas Brackett Reed died in Washington on December 7, 1902. For 22 years he had been a member of this house, for six years its speaker. His service terminated with the 55th congress. Within this chamber, the scene of his life's great activities was laid. Here he rendered services to his country which placed him in the front rank of American statesmanship. Here he exhibited characteristics which won the respect and admiration of all. His intellect, his moral worth, strength of character, brought him popular fame, and congressional leadership. In him depth and breadth of intellect, with full and rounded development, had produced a giant who towered above his fellows and impressed them with his power and wisdom.

"A distinguished scholar, a lofty patriot, a cultured scholar, an incisive writer, an unmatched debater, a master of logic and satire, the most famous of the world's parliamentarians, the great and representative citizen has gone into history.

"Resolved, That in honor of the distinguished dead, the house now adjourn."

When the reading of the resolutions had been concluded, Speaker Henderson asked if there was any objection to their present consideration. The silence remained unbroken. The resolutions were then unanimously adopted and accordingly, at 12:15, the speaker declared the house adjourned out of respect to the memory of Mr. Reed.

THE REMAINS IN BOSTON.

Boston, Dec. 8.—The body of ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed passed through this city today on its way to Portland. Two cars, in one of which the body rested, while in the other were Mrs. Reed, the widow, and friends comprised a funeral section of the Federal Express. The train reached here at 3:38 a. m., more than an hour and a half late. It was at once sent on to Portland, where it is due to arrive at 11 a. m.

ARRIVED AT PORTLAND.

Portland, Me., Dec. 8.—The funeral train bringing the body of former Speaker Thomas B. Reed, arrived here at 1:23 p. m.

BAD FOR SANTA FE.

The Smaller Board of Education Provides for a Vote on a Bond Issue for New School Houses the Better.

To the Editor of the New Mexican. Santa Fe, December 8.—A member of the board of education from my ward, on Saturday, told me that the board of education was aware of the fact that one of the school rooms was positively unhealthy. I think he said it was Miss Berger's room, although I am not positive of that. He continued that the intention had been to change the pupils from that room to the room in the old armory occupied by Superintendent of Irrigation, J. B. Harper, but that the room could not be secured. In other words 40 to 60 children are housed in a room known to be unhealthy and much too small for the purpose because a room in a building abandoned two years ago, could not be obtained for nothing. Where is the pride of the beautiful city of Santa Fe, the oldest town in the United States and the capital of the territory of New Mexico?

LIVING WITH A BULLET IN HIS HEAD

A Desperate Attempt at Suicide by Perfecto Valdez of Rio Arriba County.

SHOT HIMSELF OWING TO FAMILY TROUBLE

Perfecto Valdez of Lyden, who is about 27 years old, made a desperate attempt to commit suicide about 7 o'clock Saturday morning. He secured a .38 caliber revolver and shot himself in the center of the forehead. The revolver was held so close that the powder split the skin in all directions and the hole in the head is of such a size that the surgeon here inserted his first finger the full length in his attempt to find the bullet. Valdez was brought to St. Vincent's hospital in this city Saturday night by Dr. Conover, and on his arrival, walked up the stairs. A small part of the bullet has been found but the course of the main part is not known. Valdez has not been unconscious a minute, his eyesight and hearing are not affected and yesterday he sat up in bed and ate heartily of soup. Today he seems to be better and the indications are that he will recover. Domestic trouble was the cause of the attempt.

TIE-UP THREATENED BY STATEHOOD

The Opponents of the Omnibus Bill Claim Only Thirty-Six Votes in the Senate But Hope to Secure More Votes by Party Discipline and by Senator Beveridge's Report.

STATEHOOD FRIENDS WORKING TO INCREASE THEIR MAJORITY

Albuquerque, N. M., Dec. 8.—The chairman of the Republican and the Democratic parties of this territory will appoint a large and influential non-partisan delegation to visit Washington and to work for the passage of the omnibus statehood bill and to refuse the alleged slanders put on New Mexico. A mass meeting will be held this week in Albuquerque and all the leading towns of the territory denouncing the senatorial "investigation" in this territory and asserting that both political parties are in deep earnest in this matter and are solidly united for statehood.

Last night telegrams were sent from Albuquerque to 25 men in all parts of the territory, who are wanted as members of the committee. It is known that at least 12 of these men will go and it is hoped that the whole 25 can find time to take part in the work. Judge B. S. Baker and Hon. F. A. Hubbard will go from Albuquerque. The committee will leave for Washington tomorrow night.

OPOSED TO JOINT STATEHOOD.

Washington, Dec. 8.—After routine business in the senate today, Mr. Quay of Pennsylvania, sent to the desk and had read the resolutions adopted by the Indian Territory executive committee on territorial legislation, in opposition to the statehood bill, combining Oklahoma and Indian Territory, expressing sympathy for Oklahoma in her efforts to secure statehood, appealing for some form of local self government, such as is provided for in what is known as the Moon bill, and denouncing certain people, who it is charged, have misrepresented the desires of the citizens of Indian Territory with regard to joint statehood with Oklahoma.

A MAJORITY FOR STATEHOOD.

The correspondent of the St. Louis Globe Democrat at Washington, who is generally well posted, is responsible for the following dispatch on the status of the omnibus statehood bill: "Senator Quay admits that he was a letter advocate of the election of a Democratic delegate to congress from Arizona, which his opponents in the statehood fight intend to use against him on the floor of the senate when the bill comes up for consideration. The senator, moreover, expresses pride and satisfaction at having done all in his power to bring about the passage of the omnibus bill admitting Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma to statehood. He has heard that a Republican senator proposes to read his letter to the senate and says he has no objection to the proceeding. The Republican senators as a body are determined to defeat if possible Mr. Quay's plans for passing the bill, and a serious party fight is promised. The advocates of the bill under Mr. Quay's leadership claim to have the assurances of a sufficient number of Republican senators added to the full Democratic strength to pass it. The Republicans do not deny this, but rely upon the facts contained in the report of the committee to cause a number of the Republicans of the northwest acting with Mr. Quay to change their course and give them a majority. The opponents of the bill now claim 36 votes as certain and are confident of securing the remaining nine necessary votes after the debate.

Efforts are being made to drag into supporting the bill Senator Platt of Connecticut, and Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who are in favor of Cuban reciprocity, and Senators Hanna and Spooner who favor the ratification of the treaty now being negotiated with Colombia for the construction of the Panama canal. An attempt is also being made to bring the president into the controversy and to get him committed to the three states bill.

It will be easy for the statehood senators to tie up not only the Cuban treaty and the Colombian treaty, but also to prevent any anti-trust legislation and to stop all other bills that are on the program for passage. Leading influential senators, who are opposing the admission of New Mexico, say they will not be forced into supporting the omnibus bill by any such tactics.

A DOUBLE MURDER.

Two Women Killed at Grading Camp Near Moriarty, Southern Santa Fe County.

A report from Moriarty, received by the New Mexican this afternoon, states that a double murder occurred on Friday night of last week in one of the grading camps of the Santa Fe Central Railway near Moriarty, in southern Santa Fe county. The report has it that a woman named Manuela Gonzales de Casados, of Santa Fe, and a woman whose first name is Adela, and whose last name could not be learned, were murdered by some men, one of them supposed to be a negro working in one of the grading camps. The men are not yet apprehended. Particulars are hard to obtain on account of the isolation of the camp. The Casados woman was on her way from Santa Fe to visit her husband for some time. He is out at present with some sheep in eastern Valencia county.

The telegraph operator at Moriarty, late this afternoon could give no details of the affair.

Sheriff Marcelino Garcia late this afternoon had not heard of the murder and doubts the authenticity of the report.

The hotel at Faywood Hot Springs is home-like and roomy and offers ample accommodations. They have no consumptives. See Santa Fe agents.

opens next week. Mr. Quay is ready to take a vote now and threatens that if an attempt is made to prevent this by interposing other legislation, he will see to it that certain important measures in which Republican senators as a party and individually are interested, including appropriation bills, are side-tracked until after the 4th of March.

URGED TO GO TO WASHINGTON. A telegram was received for Judge N. B. Laughlin this morning, signed by Chairman F. A. Hubbell of the Republican territorial committee, and W. S. Hopewell of the Democratic territorial committee, asking him to go to Washington at once and assist in securing the passage of the omnibus statehood bill. It is not known as yet whether or not Judge Laughlin will be able to go. Governor Otero this morning received a request from the chairman of the Republican and Democratic territorial committees to go to Washington and aid in securing the passage of the statehood bill. The governor will be unable to leave the territory on account of the absence of Secretary Reynolds.

MORE FRIENDS FOR STATEHOOD.

The New York Herald correspondent telegraphs from Washington: "Senator Quay's campaign to force through the senate the bill admitting to statehood the territories of Arizona and New Mexico, as well as Oklahoma, threatens to upset all other legislative programs and wreck this session of congress. Champions of Arizona and New Mexico led by Quay assert that they have the support of all Democratic senators and from 12 to 20 Republicans, including Senator Burrows of Michigan, Ellison of West Virginia, Platt of New York, Penrose of Pennsylvania, and the northwestern senators. Leaders of the movement to admit all three territories or none, are determined and it is now expected that if they do not have their way, they will seek to force to terms by deferring or defeating measures in which the opposition is interested. Evidence of this is already furnished in the attitude of the senators on the Cuban reciprocity question. Some of the statehood senators interposed their influence against the Cuban reciprocity bill and caused its defeat in the last session, although it was an administration measure. Now they say they will vote for the treaty with Cuba, but couple this with the statement that they desire very much to have the omnibus statehood bill passed.

Efforts are being made to drag into supporting the bill Senator Platt of Connecticut, and Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who are in favor of Cuban reciprocity, and Senators Hanna and Spooner who favor the ratification of the treaty now being negotiated with Colombia for the construction of the Panama canal. An attempt is also being made to bring the president into the controversy and to get him committed to the three states bill.

It will be easy for the statehood senators to tie up not only the Cuban treaty and the Colombian treaty, but also to prevent any anti-trust legislation and to stop all other bills that are on the program for passage. Leading influential senators, who are opposing the admission of New Mexico, say they will not be forced into supporting the omnibus bill by any such tactics.

The remains of ex-Governor W. M. F. Army are already buried in the National cemetery, having been removed from the old Masonic and Odd Fellows cemetery many years ago. The body in the metallic coffin which was found in the old cemetery and which was thought to be his, is therefore that of some one else.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 8.

New Mexico Demands Statehood of the 57th Congress.

Of Right and in Justice New Mexico Should Be a State.

Extract from the Congressional Record of June 25th, 1902, page 7,842.

President pro tem, of senate:
The chair has been requested to restate the proposition, and will do so.

The senator from Indiana, the chairman of the committee on territories, has stated in open senate today, that the committee will report on the territorial bill, so-called, on the third day of the next session of congress. Thereupon the senator from Pennsylvania asks unanimous consent, that on the tenth day if the senate is in session and on the first day thereafter if it may be in session if not on the tenth, the bill shall be made the unfinished business. Is there objection? The chair hears none, and the order is made.

George J. Gould, the railroad magnate, seems to be after all a man of the people. He walks to and from his office daily.

Emma Goldman, the female anarchist, is going about the country preaching anarchy. The line of talk she indulges in ought to land her in the penitentiary, where she will be safe from harm.

The balmy air of today and yesterday which delighted all visitors to Santa Fe, is a striking contrast to the blizzard which raged on the Atlantic seaboard far down into the south and extending west to the Ohio river.

Politically and otherwise the New Mexican does not shoot in the back. Whenever a political fight is forced upon this paper, it is carried on openly and above board. No skulking ever characterizes the course of this journal.

The W. C. T. U. of this country and the government of the German Empire are not just now on speaking terms. The German government has established a great brewery where beer for the supply of army canteens is to be brewed.

Should the omnibus statehood bill not be passed at this session of congress, the good fight to secure statehood for New Mexico must and will be kept up. This journal will work harder than ever to bring about justice and a proper recognition of New Mexico's claims in this matter.

A proper system of accountability by treasurers and collectors of taxes, must be established by the next assembly. Under the existing method there is no doubt but that much tax money is being lost not so much on account of dishonesty of treasurers and collectors, but because the system is faulty and because there is not sufficient territorial supervision over it.

Calling Senator Beveridge and other senators, who are opposed to statehood for New Mexico, ugly names and printing derogatory squibs about them in territorial papers, does the cause of statehood no good and makes no votes for the omnibus statehood bill. Quite the reverse. This course is ill advised and cannot but redound to the injury of New Mexico.

Come to think of it, the magnificent Republican majority on November 4 last in New Mexico, is a grand indorsement of the long, hard and arduous fight the New Mexican has made for the past 29 years to obtain statehood for this territory. The New Mexican led public opinion in this matter and after a long and hard struggle it has been demonstrated that the people of this territory, by a very large majority, want statehood.

The fact that 40,000,000 people in this country get their living out of agriculture and that the value of farm products last year was five billion dollars brings forcibly to the public attention that the humble farmer is the backbone of the nation. He makes the least demands upon congress, he is least heard of in strikes or in political movements, but still he is the mighty power back of the throne of public opinion and without the farmer the United States would have to go out of business. Even New Mexico, which is not classed as a farming state, owes its greatest wealth to its irrigated farms and over 100,000 people within its borders make their living by agricultural pursuits. All honor to the tiller of the soil.

The question of two modern school buildings for the capital of New Mexico, one on each side of the river, is of the greatest moment. The citizen, who opposes the issuing of bonds for the construction of such buildings, is not alive to the absolute necessities of this town. The question of a bond issue should be submitted to the voters at the coming April election. That it will carry admits of no doubt.

Eastern trust magnates regardless of politics, are of the opinion that Grover Cleveland would be the strongest presidential candidate that the Democracy could name in 1904 and that he would be elected. The difference between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Cleveland, is that the former favors the control of trusts, whereas the latter is a supporter of them. The reason why the trust magnates are for Cleveland is therefore very apparent.

Several of the yellow sheets of the territory are still charging, that a portion of the great Republican majority in New Mexico at the recent election, was obtained by fraud. There is so far nothing at all to sustain this charge. In addition, sensible people cannot be made to believe that there is anything in it for the reason that before election the tide was Republicanward and that the indications were that the Republicans would have the greatest Republican majority ever given in the territory.

If the United States senate wishes to dispose of the question that will prove very bothersome to it, it will pass the omnibus statehood bill and that before the holidays. Statehood for New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arizona will not be done, but will bob up solemnly until these three territories become states. If this is not to happen before the holiday recess, the question will be agitated until the adjournment of congress on March 4 next. If the enabling act should not be passed, then, the 58th congress will again have the question to meet. Therefore, the sooner it is disposed of and the territories given statehood, the better for all concerned.

The Eastern Railway of New Mexico to be built from a point on the Pecos river division of the Santa Fe railway across Guadalupe and Valencia counties in this territory, to a junction with the Atlantic and Pacific railroad at Rio Puerco, in the latter county, will, from all indications, be built and in active operation by the first of January, 1904. Energetic work thereon is to commence immediately and is to be pushed with might and main and as fast as men and teams, modern mechanical appliances and engineering skill can do. The people of New Mexico will consider this good news. The more railroad mileage in New Mexico, the more rapid the development and progress of this territory.

Major W. H. H. Llewellyn, representative-elect from the counties of Dona Ana and Otero, on Saturday last announced that he was no longer in the race for the speakership of the house of representatives of the 57th legislative assembly. As the New Mexican has said heretofore there is no factional fight in the Republican party over this matter. The Republican caucus will name the next speaker and every Republican member of the house will support the nomination made by the caucus. It is believed now that Hon. Nestor Montoya, member elect from Bernalillo county, will be the caucus nominee.

THE FORT MARCY RESERVATION.

Delegate Rodey will oblige the citizens of this city and county if he will look into the matter of the disposal of the Fort Marcy military reservation, now pending in the Interior Department. He should introduce and have passed a bill turning the reservation over to the territory of New Mexico; part of it to be used as an executive residence and the remainder to be sold for the benefit of the public schools of the city of Santa Fe. In its present status the reservation is a detriment to the growth and advancement of this town and a disgrace to the government. This has been the case for the past eight years. The government has neglected this question too long and it should be promptly attended to and settled. That part of the reservation contained in the square bounded by the Old Palace, by Washington avenue, Lincoln avenue and Federal street, should be donated to the territory and should be used as a residence for the governor and in aid of the Historical Society of New Mexico. The remainder of the reservation bounded by Palace avenue on the south, by Lincoln avenue on the east, by Grant avenue on the west and by Federal street on the north, should be sold for the benefit of the public schools of this city. This is believed by the majority of the citizens of this town, to be the best and most equitable way of settling the matter. Indeed, the reservation never belonged to the government of the United States, but was part and parcel of the Santa Fe land grant and therefore should be disposed of for the benefit of the territory and of the city of Santa Fe.

RECIPROCITY WITH CUBA.

The exact status of Cuban reciprocity at this time, is not remembered by many and it is well to review the exact situation in congress. A bill was passed by the house and is in the senate, providing for a reduction of 20 per cent of the Dingley rates upon not only sugar and tobacco, but all Cuban products, in return for a concession by Cuba upon American products. The Cuban government objects to this 20 per cent reduction as not quite enough and asks that it be increased to 25 per cent, which would be sufficient. President Roosevelt favors this latter demand and it has considerable support among the Republican senators. The New Mexican believes that the added 5 per cent should be granted, for if any harm to American industries comes from giving a 25 per cent reduction, such harm will also result from a 20 per cent or 10 per cent reduction.

If the United States is erring at all in its treatment of Cuba it had better err on the side of generosity and not on the side that Spain erred.

Of course, the best sugar interests will fight Cuban reciprocity in the senate as they fought it in the house, but it is not likely that they will be quite so strenuous, for the people are beginning to see that if the best sugar industry is vitally injured by a 25 per cent reduction of the tariff on Cuban products, its existence is very precarious and it cannot outlast the onslaughts of the sugar trust.

Many western congressmen who opposed the measure, have discovered since the recent elections that the majority of their constituents favor reciprocity, and this disclosure of western opinion is certain to have its effect upon the senators. Moreover, though the Democratic press of the country professed to desire reciprocity, the Democratic majority in the house did nothing whatever to promote it. On the contrary, the Democratic leaders in a small and shifty spirit "played politics" against the reciprocity bill whenever they could and a large number of them actually voted against it. The same tactics were repeated in the senate. There was no time when, if the bill could be brought up, it would not have received a majority. But the Democratic senators would not assist in that. They believed that the delay of reciprocity "put the Republican party in a hole," and they were eager to keep it there until after the elections. But it does not appear that this playing of politics brought the Democracy many votes. Now that the elections are over, some Democratic senators have given the president to understand that they have no more interest in keeping the Republican party in a hole, and that they will vote for reciprocity and work for it.

So it is reasonable to expect that some substantial measure of relief will be granted to Cuba early in the session, since nothing is to be gained by more partisan maneuvering.

Gold in the Black Hills.

The Burlington Route has recently issued a 48 page booklet bearing the title "Mines and Mining in the Black Hills." The book is one which should be read by every mining man in Colorado. It gives more information about the mines of the Black Hills than has ever before been placed between two covers. A copy will be mailed free on application to the undersigned.

The Black Hills need Colorado men and money. Several of the shrewdest men in this state have already invested heavily in the Hills. The results so far have been more than satisfactory. The completion of the Burlington's new line to the Northwest brings the Black Hills within a night's ride of Denver. You can leave Denver tonight and be in Deadwood or Lead City tomorrow afternoon.

ARTHUR AND JAMES.

BY BARRY PAIN.

Arthur Wilberforce Soames was a boy with straight, black hair, a pleasing expression, and spectacles with round glasses. Seen with the sunlight on those glasses, he looked like a cross between a rat and a motor car. All the same, he was a good boy. His last school report said: "Very good. Always attentive and industrious. Has won the conduct prize."

Arthur Wilberforce Soames procured this report, had it framed neatly, and hung it up by his bedside.

"Oh, Arthur!" said his Aunt Agatha, "I am afraid this is vanity."

"I've just put it there," said the boy, "to remind myself how much more kindly my dear mother has spoken of me than I have deserved, and to stimulate me to fresh efforts."

He also decorated his room with a photograph of himself as a choir boy, in a surplice, with his spectacles and the whites of his eyes showing considerably. He had a bookshelf which was entirely devoted to those volumes which had been awarded to him as prizes for pure unerring goodness.

"If that dear boy is spared to us," said his Aunt Agatha, "he will be an archbishop."

But it is a good proverb which says that if you give a dog a good name you may as well hang him. Arthur Wilberforce Soames had a very good name indeed, and a similar fate befell him. He had made the fatal mistake of showing people what he could do when he asked; he had provided a milk-white background on which the slightest error showed up dead black. Arthur Wilberforce Soames required that he should startle and surprise, and be received with enthusiasm; and all he got was a gentle approval.

He redoubled his effort. He went in for extra-special, high-pressure goodness, with the safety-valve screwed down. He took to giving his schoolfellows openly and ostentatiously, until they resented it. He spent a holiday in committing to memory voluminously a hymn of exceptional length. He said that he wanted to be a missionary. He gave his pocket money to beggars whenever he could be sure of an audience. He gave himself out in his efforts to find novelties in goodness.

Now Arthur had a brother called James, who was untidy, unpunctual and unintentional. His life was a long series of rows, and he never had the faintest idea how he had got into them. The beautiful example of his brother Arthur had been held up to him in vain, though Arthur thoroughly enjoyed it. Finally, it seemed too absurd to expect that so bad a boy as James should even attempt to be as good as Arthur, and the practice dropped. Arthur threw out hints that James wanted a model to go by, if only a boy good enough could be found.

One day when Arthur had been vainly lashing for a little admiration, and was feeling particularly dejected, James happened to come in. From pure inadvertence—for no boy could have been more unintentional than James—he had not been whacked for a whole month. Either he had not given the occasion, or, which is more probable, chance had hindered the detection of the occasion. He mentioned it—more as one of those queer coincidences that might happen to anybody than with any idea of boasting. A scene of warmest enthusiasm followed.

They spoke of James as if he were a hero and a saint; they gave James a shilling; they said James might keep a dog; they promised to take James to the pantomime at Christmas.

Aunt Agatha said it was one of the happiest days in her life. Arthur could endure it no longer; he retired from the room.

He broke into a violent passion and a

How long will it take the man to fill the sack if he does not stop the leak? To attempt to nourish the body when the stomach is diseased is like trying to fill the sack with the hole in it. Wizen the stomach and other digestive and nutritive organs are diseased, there is a constant loss of nutrition.

Enough is eaten but the body loses flesh, plain proof that the food eaten is largely wasted because it is not digested and assimilated.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It stops the leaks by which nutrition is lost, and enables the building up of the body by the nutrition derived from food. The gain in weight proves the cure.

"Three years ago I was taken sick with what the doctor called nervousness and indigestion," writes Mrs. Warren E. Parker, of Orange Street, Nantucket, Mass. "He gave me medicine for the trouble, but I could not eat even a little toast or oatmeal without suffering severely. In a few months I began to have distressing pains right in the pit of my stomach. I called the doctor again and he said I had catarrh of stomach; gave me medicine but did not do any good. I lost 25 pounds in three months. I then commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicine and soon began to feel better. I have taken six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' two of 'Favorite Prescription' and six vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets. I have gained ten pounds. Can eat everything."

neighbor's orchard. His methods with orchards were, from a total want of experience, so elementary that he was detected at once. He pleaded that, owing to his short sight, he had mistaken the orchard for a church. An ordinarily bad lie would have been believed, so perfect was Arthur Wilberforce's previous character; but this was too monumental. It made even the mild Aunt Agatha sarcastic. In justice to Arthur, it should be added, that he learned to tell very much better lies later on. You cannot, especially if handicapped by a saintly nature, expect to become a finished criminal in a moment. Nemo repente turpissimus fit. Or, as has been well observed, Rome was not built in a day.

For a month Arthur Wilberforce Soames was as bad as he could possibly be. It was against his nature, and consequently, he showed no originality; he imitated slavishly the badness of the worst boys he knew or of whom he had read. He became the despair of his parents, the rage of his schoolmasters, the terror of his neighborhood, and an object of interest to the police. By this time he had got the background as black as it could be, and thought he would see how a little white would show up on it. He became good again, and the change brought him applause, affection, and presents, all of which he thoroughly enjoyed. He now lives in a streak; when his saintliness is not making its proper effect he puts in a little black background. And the moral of this is that there would be more virtue in the world if only we could show more sustained enthusiasm for it.—Black and White, London.

A LURKING DANGER!

DANGER lurks in every ache of the back. Don't be deceived by backache. Don't mistake its meaning. Don't fail to realize the serious side of a "bad back."

The pains and aches of a "bad back" are many and varied—sharp stitches—severe twinges—acute twinges of pain—slow exhaustive aches. The back is tired, is lame and weak.

The "danger in it" comes from the kidneys, for most backache pains are but kidney ills. Backache tells of a kidney blockade. The delicate little kidney filters are clogged and warn you through the back. Go to the assistance of the kidneys when they "cry for help." Doan's Kidney Pills relieve the ache and cure the cause.

DANGER is near at hand when the kidneys are sick. The urinary discharges tell the kidney's condition. "A brickdust" like deposit in the urine, or when too highly colored, too frequent in passage, in any way, neglect is serious. Disorders of the kidneys and bladder call for prompt attention. The early symptoms are but forerunners of dangerous diabetes, hard to shake off—dropsy which makes an invalid of the most vigorous constitution—Bright's disease dread destroyer, incurable in advanced stages. DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS act quickly—cure quickly. Don't wait until too late.

Benito Romero, employed with Lambertson's Transfer, residence San Francisco st., says: "The use of plasters for a year and a half on my back did not bring the results I expected and relief from pain across the loins was just as remotely in the distance as it was when I first noticed it. This led me to go to Ireland's pharmacy for Doan's Kidney Pills and take a course of the treatment. I read in our Santa Fe papers that they could be depended upon and with considerable faith in the preparation because it positively stated they were for the kidneys and the kidneys alone, I commenced the treatment. It was very satisfactory. I used two boxes and they stopped the last attack."

Tomas Quintana of San Miguel st., says: "When I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in a Santa Fe paper, I came to the conclusion that they would be just the treatment required by Mrs. Quintana. She suffered from backache I cannot tell for how long, but very often she was unable to do the slightest housework. More than once I have seen her scarcely able to move about the house. With the intention of testing the remedy thoroughly, I went to Ireland's Pharmacy for a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and she commenced the treatment. She took a second box and then a third when the last attack of backache stopped and for eight months she has had complete immunity from pain. Something novel in her existence."

Manuel Montoya of Canon st., says: "Eight months ago and for a year and a half previous to that my back ached continually. If there was any time when a change was noticeable it was during wet and rainy spells when possibly the aching increased. Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Ireland's Pharmacy effectually stopped the aching and what to me is of considerable more importance and value, during the last eight months there has not been a sign of a recurrence."

Tomas Baca, miner of Cerrillos st., says: "I have not the slightest hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. I thoroughly believe from my experience that anyone troubled with an aching back, and most miners are annoyed with that tormenting affliction, who goes to Ireland's drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills and takes a course of the treatment, will find his backache cease. I had attacks of it for about three years, never so that I could not work, but many a time I would have laid off had I been able to afford it. Doan's Kidney Pills stopped a very serious attack. I am thoroughly convinced they will prove as beneficial to others as they did to me."

THE ELKS' MEMORIAL.

An Impressive and Touching Tribute to Those Who Have Crossed the Great Divide.

The annual memorial service of the Elks was held last evening at the Court House, and the hall was crowded to the doors. Many people stood throughout the service. The room had been handsomely decorated, and purple, the color of the Elks, predominated. Strings of purple colored lights extended to the corners of the room and the stage was handsomely furnished. Pictures of the two deceased members, Thomas J. Helm and John O. Miller, were thrown on a screen by a stereopticon. The members of the lodge occupied seats within the enclosure and the opening exercises were conducted by Thomas P. Gable, esteemed leading knight, while prayer was offered by Jacob Weltmer, lodge chaplain. The choir consisting of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. McCord, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Crichton, Mrs. J. E. Wood, Miss E. Dougherty, and Miss Frances Allison, sang several very beautiful selections. Two duets were rendered by George H. Bain and A. L. Morrison, Jr., while Carl H. Metzger sang "Cavalry," and Miss Mamie Morrison "The Holy City." The eulogies were pronounced by Rev. W. Hayes Moore, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and George T. Gould of East Las Vegas. Both were eloquent addresses and were listened to with the closest attention and interest. The entire service was one of the most beautiful of its character ever held here.

The floral decorations were very beautiful. Each guest upon entering the court house was presented with a carnation or pink and after the conclusion of the services, each member of the choir and Miss Morrison were presented with a fine bouquet of flowers. In the center of the ceiling of the court house was a cluster of brilliant, colored electric lights from which streamers of purple and white ribbon, were suspended and carried to the walls, forming graceful arches.

The committee in charge of the entire affair consisted of O. C. Watson, A. L. Morrison, Jr., and J. A. Massie.

The laying of new pavements should be prosecuted vigorously. This applies to the Old Palace as well as to other properties.

The feast of the Immaculate Conception was celebrated today in all the Roman Catholic churches. At the Cathedral, services were held at 7 and 9:30 this morning. The day is observed as a holiday in the Catholic schools.

An old man named Madrid, who was a well known figure around the Plaza, died at St. Vincent's hospital last Friday of old age and general debility and was buried Saturday in Cedar Hill cemetery. Charles Wagner was funeral director.

On Saturday next, December 13, a representative of the Eastman Kodak Company will be here to explain the work of the developing machine manufactured by the company. He will be at the Fischer Drug Company's store and will develop all films brought in on that day free of charge.

By the time that the legislature meets the old portal on Don Gaspar avenue between Water and San Francisco streets will be removed. At least so says Alderman J. D. Sena and the New Mexican believes that he will keep his word. That will be another eyesore to Santa Fe people out of the way.

A. J. Fischer, chairman of the health committee of the city council, has declared an official quarantine against San Ildefonso on account of the prevalence of diphtheria there. All citizens of Santa Fe are warned against going there; and those coming from there will be required to leave town at once or be locked up and fumigated.

There was an example of the strenuous life at Moriarty last night when some of the graders attacked one of the men employed on a neighboring ranch.

He was lassoed and dragged around at a lively rate for a short time, but escaped serious injury.

Bon-Ton; A. H. Thompson, Trinidad; J. L. Shirliff, City; Richard Malone, Alamogosa.

The pleasant weather yesterday brought out an unusually large crowd to enjoy the concert in the Plaza by the First Cavalry band. A delightful program was given.

Almos, the entire town this afternoon adjourned to the level stretch of road near the government Indian school to witness the race between the horses owned by John Ford and Jose Cortez. The race was for a purse of $100 and was a quarter of a mile. Ford's horse won the race and Hyman Lowitzki was the jockey. A later report says Joe Cortez' horse won.

Claire: M. Abrahams, New York; J. W. Records, Torrance; Charles E. Morgan, El Paso; P. Ortiz, Pena Blanca; O. A. Larrazola, Las Vegas; Stewart Conover, Lyden; George Gould, East Las Vegas; E. Kleinwort, Albuquerque; P. Oakleaf, Omaha; J. D. Tobin, Houston, Tex.

A number of Indians have been here during the past few days from San Ildefonso, purchasing medicine to mix with their remedies for "misyery in the throat" among the babies and small children. The "misyery in the throat" is diphtheria and it is understood there are many cases among the Indians in that vicinity.

Palmer: O. H. Acherman, Milwaukee; L. E. Lawrence, Denver; H. C. Ayis, St. Louis; J. M. McLeish, Chicago; Miss L. A. Syne, Spartansburg, Pa.; Ph. E. Giraldi, Denver; B. Vinson, Augusta, Ark.; J. E. Howe, Kansas City; J. P. Lee, Peoria; J. P. McNulty and wife, Cerrillos; G. W. Bond, Wagon Mound; F. H. Pierce, Las Vegas; B. H. Swart and wife, Washington, D. C.

On Saturday the maximum shade temperature was 51 at 1:50 p. m., the sun temperature was 65 degrees, and the minimum was 30 at 7:40 a. m. Yesterday the maximum shade temperature was 49 at 2:55 p. m., the sun temperature 62, and the minimum 30 at 5:35 a. m. The temperature at 6 o'clock this morning was 30.

Dr. Haelterman of Santa Cruz, has been designated by Superintendent Crandall of the government Indian school, to attend the cases of diphtheria and other diseases at San Ildefonso. A large quantity of the best anti-toxin has also been secured and is proving very successful in treating the disease, several remarkable cures being reported from San Ildefonso.

If Santa Fe had a poet who could soar to heights sufficiently lofty, he would indite an ode entitled: "Farewell to the Bacilli and Micrococci to the Water St. Open Sewer." The new underground sewer is almost completed and there is hope that now Santa Fe will make rapid progress in other city improvements. After these have been made, the people will wonder how they ever did without them.

It would be a beautiful monument to the progressiveness and the far-sightedness of the present board of education of Santa Fe if it were to initiate the movement for a modern school building or two for this town. That would give the members a permanent name in the local history of the territorial capital. Their present inactivity however, will place their names with others who failed to do what they might have done for the welfare of their home city.

At the regular meeting of Carleton Post, G. A. R., on Saturday evening, the following officers, who will be installed at the first meeting in January, were elected: Post commander, John R. Word was received here today of the death of William H. Purdy, father of Mrs. Philip E. Harroun, at present of San Francisco, but formerly of this city, and daughter-in-law of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Harroun of Palace avenue. Mr. Purdy was an old resident of Chicago, an ex-commissioner of public works and at his death was the secretary and treasurer of the Streeter-Ames Weighing and Recording Company. Besides Mrs. Harroun, he is survived by another daughter and his wife. The Chicago Record-Herald, on its first page, on December 4, prints an excellent likeness of the deceased.
