PRETENDER IS UNSELFISH

Says He Is Fighting on Behalf of Sultan's Brother, Not for Himself.

If the Rebellion Succeeds, European Alliances Will Be Discarded and a Religious War Waged.

Tangiers, Jan. 2.—The pretender has issued a proclamation announcing that he is not fighting for the throne for himself, but for the sultan's imprisoned brother, Mulai Mohammed, surnamed the "One-eyed." It is now confirmed that the sultan has ordered his brother's release and that the honors of his rank be paid to him. The governor, at a recent conference with the Kabyle chiefs, pointed out to them that they are responsible for the safety of roads running through their territory. The Spanish sloop of war Infanta Isabel has arrived here.

DISLIKES THE HAGUE TRIBUNAL

President Castro Prefers the Head of an American State as Arbitrator.

IS AN IMPOSSIBILITY NOW

Reasons Which Prompted President Roosevelt to Decline Would Prevent All Others.

Washington D. C. Jan. 2.—The condition which President Castro attached to his response to the allied arbitrations proposal was in the nature of an alternative proposition. Almost from the beginning showing an aversion to the Hague tribunal, Castro, while accepting the principle of arbitration, has asked that the case be tried by one of the American republics. As president Roosevelt already had declined to act and as some of the reasons which inspired him in his declination would apply with equal force to the chief executive of any other American state was obliged to withhold any endorsement of this proposition of Castro. Therefore it may be dismissed from the field of possibilities and unless Castro is unexpectedly insistent the original proposition in reference to the Hague tribunal will carry. There were no developments over New Year's day in the way of cablegrams containing news from European capitals or from Venezuela.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF.

Which is Better Try an Experiment or Profit by a Santa Fe Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as represented. The statement of a manufacturer is not a convincing proof of merit. Now suppose you had a bad back. A lame, weak or aching back. Would you experiment on it? You would read of many so-called cures. Endorsed by strangers from far away places. It's different when the endorsement comes from home. Easy to prove local testimony. Home endorsement is the proof that you want. Read this case:

Cipriano Chavez, county jailer of Agua Fria street, says: "I had attacks of backache for three or four years. Latterly they were of much longer duration and occurred much more frequently. For 20 days before I went to Ireland's Pharmacy there was no let up to the dull aching and nagging pain despite the fact that I used medicines and wore plaster. Two days' treatment with Doan's Kidney Pills was sufficient to let me know that the remedy was going to the root of the cause and a continuation of it for some time stopped the very severe attacks. I now know what to use in the future I notice any traces of backache."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-McBurn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitutes.

THE STATEHOOD QUESTION

New Mexico and Arizona as One State With Three Representatives in Congress Under Name New Mexico.

HOPEWELL'S POSITION.

Eastern and Western U. S. Court Districts, Capital for ten Years at Santa Fe. Democratic Leader Favors New Plan if Separate States can not be had.

Hon. W. S. Hopewell, chairman of the Democratic territorial central committee returned at noon today from a visit to Chicago where he was on business for the Santa Fe Central Railway Company. While in the "Windy City" he was in consultation with several prominent politicians who are interested in the passage of an enabling act for New Mexico and Arizona. It was developed that there was much opposition to the present omnibus statehood bill but that a bill providing for one state out of New Mexico and Arizona has a good chance to re-pass both houses and to become a law, as it was understood that President Roosevelt was favorable to such a solution of the statehood question. Mr. Hopewell stated that from his observation a bill combining the two territories as one state under the name of New Mexico, granting the new state three representatives in congress, two United States district courts for the eastern district to be composed of what is now New Mexico, and one for the western district to include what is now Arizona, with two United States marshals and two United States district attorneys and retaining the capital of the new state for the first ten years at the city of Santa Fe might be acceptable to the people of the two territories. As far as he was concerned, he would in his personal and official capacity, favor such a bill, especially if three members of congress were allowed the new state and the name remain New Mexico and the capital be fixed at Santa Fe. Mr. Hopewell is of the opinion that a bill including these points will be substituted for the present omnibus statehood bill upon the assembling of congress and that "once nearest according to the lowest tax rate of any city in the United States, it being $12.75 per $1,000. Santa Fe's city tax rate is only $12.50 per thousand and that on an assessed valuation that is only one fourth of the real value in many instances.

Every power on the South and North American continents will be represented at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis next year. Every state and territory of the Union too, will have an exhibit. New Mexico should not delay much longer the getting to work on a creditable exhibit for the exposition.

Santa Fe will have to hurry to catch up to the capital of its younger sister and neighbor, Oklahoma. In the Oklahoma city post office are employed fifteen clerks, eight free delivery carriers and five free rural delivery carriers. That is just seven times the number of employees of the Santa Fe post office.

John D. Rockefeller made $2,400,000 on one day last week owing to a rise in Standard Oil Company stock caused by the scarcity of fuel. It is no wonder that men who must toil ten hours a day for $14.50, are dissatisfied with their lot when they read of the easy manner in which the Rockefellers and the Morgans make their millions.

No combination of New Mexico and Arizona as one state will suit the people of this territory. They will not vote for such a combination. Indeed they will not go to the trouble of holding an election for delegates to a constitutional convention. There would be neither sense nor reason for doing so as the people of New Mexico will never of their own free will and accord give up their autonomy.

Next week the fight for statehood will be renewed in real earnest. Let those in the rear in New Mexico encourage those at the front at Washington by their rooting for statehood. If every business man and everyone else in favor of statehood were to send a telegram expressing his views to Senator Quay or Senator Beveridge it would make quite an impression. As in football, the rooting sometimes wins the game.

If reports are true it will pay a good deal better to be a member of the Colorado legislature this spring than it will the New Mexico legislature. Money is flowing freely at Denver and before the senatorial campaign is over a good many barrels will have been tapped. According to the Denver newspapers, it will cost each senatorial candidate something like $75,000 to make the senatorial fight. Talk about rotten commonwealths, New Mexico certainly does not belong to that class when the rottenness of some of the sovereign states is considered.

The Cubans are not at all anxious, it seems, for reciprocity with the United States and they must be blamed for the fact that the ardor of the United States to do the right thing with the Pearl of the Antilles is cooling off quite perceptibly. But the Cuban government may soon be begging for that which it now spurns proudly.

Nine cars of hogs were shipped the other day from Roswell to St. Joseph, Mo. This demonstrated that the hog industry has been firmly established in that corner of New Mexico. This Territory should sooner or later have a packing house for which it could furnish all the beef and pork needed for the home markets and for export to nearby markets.

The smallpox pest houses in the east are beginning to fill up and unless there is some thorough backyard cleaning in a number of places in New Mexico, there will be more than one case in New Mexico before summer. In Toledo, Ohio, the smallpox patients at the pest house accuse the authorities of cruel and inhuman treatment and from Denver and other Colorado towns smallpox cases are reported.

The year 1903 will deal more generously with New Mexico even than did 1902. At least these are the indications at present. There will be more railroad building, more improvements, greater progress in mining and an awakening to the industrial advantages that the Territory so abundantly offers and above all there may come statehood or the setting of a definite date when statehood will surely be granted New Mexico.

Neither in coal mining nor in mining for gold, silver, lead, copper and zinc was the year 1902 a very satisfactory one for New Mexico. The mineral wealth exists and there is no plausible reason why the mineral production of New Mexico should not equal that of Colorado. Strange as it does seem to many persons, the status of a territory is such that capital will not invest as readily within its boundaries as it does within a state.

The name of New Mexico is on the tip of the tongue of every one in the United States who reads newspapers and follows political events. That in itself is good advertising and is one reason why the inquiries to the Bureau of Immigration about the resources of New Mexico are increasing daily. Fortunately the Bureau is in position to answer those inquiries and to send at tractive literature in response to every letter for information.

Peoria, Illinois, has the highest city tax rate, or $20.20 per $1,000, which is more than the city, county and territorial tax rates together. Boston's per capita taxable assessment is the highest, $2,009.32, and Joliet's, Illinois, the lowest, or $119.41. Santa Fe's per capita assessment is about $150, but subtracting the railroad assessment, it is less than $100. Boston spends $5.03 per capita per year for police protection, jails and reformatories, while Santa Fe does not spend 20 cents per capita for the same purposes. Taken all in all, although there is occasional grumbling about high taxes and municipal extravagance in Santa Fe, the people, and especially the tax payers of this city, have nothing to grumble about except it be the fact that Santa Fe is the only city of its size and importance in the United States that does not possess modern school houses.

Marcelino Garcia retired on yesterday from the office of sheriff of this county. He made a most acceptable record as such officer. The economy practiced by him during his two years' service in the conduct of the jail is especially noteworthy and commendable. The jail expenses during his term of office were very low, and in fact the lowest in the history of the county. He had no gauge around him and no ruffians and rowdies as deputies. The peace of the county was well kept by him and his deputies, and he retires from office with the respect and good will of this community, and the citizens of the county. Mr. Garcia is a democrat in politics, and this paper is a republican paper, but this paper always gives credit where it is justly due, and such is certainly due to Marcelino Garcia for the honest, efficient, and economical manner in which he served the people during the years 1901 and 1902 as sheriff.

The Chamber of Commerce of Las Cruces is doing that town some good. The board of trade of this city should wake up and take hold of several matters, that if accomplished, would prove of great benefit to the capital city. Among these is the transferring of the Fort Marcy Reservation to the Territory of New Mexico, a portion of this land to be sold, and the money realized to be used for the public schools of this city, and the remainder of it used for an executive residence, and for the benefit of the Historical society; to induce the capitalists now building the Santa Fe Central Railway to extend their road to Roswell; the building of a direct railroad from this city to Bland; the erection of two modern school houses here; many needed improvements on the streets and alleys of the town; better train service on the roads entering this city, and other questions of more or less importance.

Two fine schoolhouses for Santa Fe within the next twelve months should be the New Year's resolution of the board of education.

SANTA FE DID WELL IN 1902.

During the year 1902 many beautiful residences were built at Santa Fe and one or two new business houses went up. The new Methodist church building was completed to the roof as was also the Catholic boys' parochial school, the exterior of the fine new deaf and dumb asylum was finished and the substantial and commodious new Loretto hall was dedicated. Work on the Water street sewer was commenced, many new pavements were constructed, the Santa Fe Water and Light company put in a fine new steam plant and on every side there have been evidences of a new growth and improvement. More healthseekers are coming in daily and the building of the Santa Fe Central railway, which has located its main offices here, has added materially to the population of the city. The taxable assessment has been increased 25 per cent and that means greater revenues. All this indicates that the year 1903 will see even a greater growth for this city, will see the erection of two modern school buildings, the coming of several manufacturing industries, the occupation of the new suburb Sunmount by several hundred healthseekers, the realization of the plans of the Capital Light and Power company, the introduction of the free delivery of mail system and progress and improvement all around.

The railroad trust has been silently at work to make necessary the postponement of the building of the Nicaragua canal. But railroad trust or not, the people of the United States demand that the canal be built and the demand of the people must be granted and the sooner the better.

Hon. W. A. Richards, appointed commissioner of the general land office, to succeed Hon. Blinger Hermann, seems to be the right man in the right place. Like Hermann he is a western man. He has considerable practical experience, having been county surveyor of Santa Clara county, California, county surveyor of El Paso county, Colorado, surveyor general of Wyoming, governor of Wyoming, and was in charge of the survey of the southern and western boundary of Wyoming. He served for a number of years as assistant commissioner of the general land office and therefore by experience is certainly well fitted to pass upon the many questions relating to the public lands and forest reserves in the west that will be referred to him.

SAVED AT GRAVE'S BRINK.
"I know I would long ago have been in my grave," writes Mrs. S. H. Newsum, of Decatur, Ala., "if it had not been for ELECTRIC BITTERS. For three years I suffered untold agony from the worst forms of indigestion, waterbrash, stomach and bowel dyspepsia. But this excellent medicine did me a world of good. Since using it I can eat heartily and have gained 35 pounds." For indigestion, loss of appetite, stomach, liver and kidney troubles Electric Bitters are a positive cure. Only 50c at
Fischer Drug Co.

FOOLS A DEADLY ATTACK.
"My wife was so ill that good physicians were unable to help her," writes M. M. Austin of Winchester, Ind., "but was completely cured by Dr. King's New Life Pills." They work wonders on stomach and liver troubles. Cure constipation, sick headache, 25c at Fischer Drug Co.

A MILLION VOICES.
Could hardly express the thanks of Homer Hall, of West Point, Ia. Listen why: A severe cold had settled on his lungs, causing a most obstinate cough. Several physicians said he had consumption, but could not help him. When all thought he was doomed he began to use DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY FOR CONSUMPTION and writes: "It completely cured me and saved my life. I now weigh 227 lbs." It's positively guaranteed for coughs, colds and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at
Fischer Drug Co.

THE PRIDE OF HEROES.
Many soldiers in the last war wrote to say that for scratches, bruises, cuts, wounds, corns, sore feet and stiff joints Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the best in the world. Same for burns, scalds, boils, ulcers, skin eruptions and piles. It cures or no pay. Only 25c at Fischer Drug Co.

The crowned heads of every nation, the rich men, poor men and misers all join in paying tribute to DeWitt's Little Early Risers. H. Williams, San Antonio, Tex., writes: "Little Early Risers Pills are the best I ever used in my family. I unhesitatingly recommend them to everybody. They cure Constipation, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Torpid Liver, Jaundice, Malaria and all other liver troubles. Fischer Drug Co.

UNCONSCIOUS FROM CROUP.
During a sudden and terrible attack of croup our little girl was unconscious from strangulation, says A. L. Spofford, postmaster, Chester, Mich., and a dose of One Minute Cough Cure was administered and repeated often. It reduced the swelling and inflammation, cut the mucus and shortly the child was resting easy and speedily recovered. It cures coughs, colds, laryngitis, and all throat and lung troubles. One Minute Cough Cure cures croup in the throat and chest and enables the lungs to contribute pure, health-giving oxygen to the blood. Fischer Drug Co.

BEST LINIMENT ON EARTH.
Henry D. Baldwin, Supt. City Water Works, Shullsburg, Wis., writes: "I have tried many kinds of liniment, but have never received much benefit until I used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism and pains. I think it the best liniment on earth." 25c, 50c, and $1 bottle at Fischer Drug Co.

SAMPLE COLDS.
Cease to be simple, if at all prolonged. The safest way is to put them aside at the very beginning. Ballard's Horehound Syrup stops a cold and removes the cause of colds, 25c, 50c, and $1 bottle at Fischer Drug Co.

A SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.
Kodol does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or overloaded. Kodol supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich, red blood. Fischer Drug Co.

REV. CARLISLE P. B. MARTIN, L. D. D.
Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first rising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm, which produces a cough, and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons, needing a medicine for throat or lung troubles." Price 25c, 50c, $1 bottle at Fischer Drug Co.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS A BOX.
Is the value H. A. Tiedale, Summerton, S. C., places on DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. He says: "I had the piles for 30 years. I tried many doctors and medicines, but all failed except DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cured me." It is a combination of the healing properties of Witch Hazel with antiseptics and emollients; relieves and permanently cures blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, sores, cuts, bruises, eczema, salt rheum and all skin diseases. Fischer Drug Co.

Farewell to the Dobsons.

By MAY ROBERTS CLARK

IN EVERY community, no matter how democratic, one family, at least, is considered beneath the social level. Their lower rank does not come from any difference of wealth, intellect or morality, but is due, almost entirely, to the general shiftlessness of the neglected family. Often the judgment of the neighborhood is just, but it is not always so.

Mrs. Dobson once said, bitterly: "How do they know? We never had any chance here in Nebraska. We were as good as the best where we came from, and I'm sure I've worked hard enough to be somebody, but what can a woman do with seven children, and a man as lazy as the Platte river?" Mr. Dobson looked up with a good-natured grin, but said nothing. Apparently he took no more notice of his wife, who went off to spread her meager washing on the gum weeds. He tilted his rickety chair back against the trunk of a giant cottonwood, and looked over the landscape with lazy enjoyment. From his position he could see down long vistas of dark, shining, blue-green corn stalks and beyond them the Platte. "Abner," called his wife, plaintively, "just look at me. I reckon Mrs. Barnard hasn't got any such sand burs as we have. She don't get pricked to pieces when she goes to spread her washing. I do wish you'd—but she stopped hopelessly.

"Mis' Barnard don't have to spread her washing," corrected Abner, doggedly; "she's got yards and yards of clothesline and pins and baskets and a machine."

Melvinia Dobson glanced at her husband anxiously. Never before had he seemed uneasy or envious. "I reckon Mis' Barnard has her drawbacks," she admitted, generously.

"Yes," answered her husband, moodily, "and Barnard ain't no more willing than I'd be if I was him. His paw left him money, and mine didn't. I know one thing, though, if I was Barnard, Mis' Barnard wouldn't wash, if she did have a machine. I'd sell the pigs first."

Melvinia looked at him gratefully. "I know it, Abner," she answered, soothingly, "you always have been good to me. If there ain't money enough for both, you always want me to have it. I reckon 'tain't your fault that we are so poor; I don't care for myself, but the children."

She broke off suddenly, and went in to get the scanty dinner. Abner took down his rusty hoe and passed reluctantly into the neglected potato patch. He was working with great deliberation when his half-grown daughter passed, without speaking.

"Sallie!" he called.

The girl seemed not to hear him. She held her head with an air of offended dignity, and looked neither to the right nor to the left. A second call from her father brought her to a defiant pause.

"I say," he called, loudly, "what ails you? Have I done anything?"

"Reckon not," she answered, sullenly. "And your paw don't seem natural. Is she ailing?"

The girl looked him full in the face, and her eyes were not pleasant. "Oh, maw," she answered, sharply, "why maw is kind of worn out with church socials and things, maw is. It's most made her sick, sewing on her new silk dress, and doing up her hair. And now there's the party at Samsen's."

"Yes, when they move into the new house. Everybody has been asked, even Mis' Jenkins, 'cep'ing maw. Maw has such fine clothes and is so stuck up, that she won't go."

Abner turned the hoe in his hands, and watched a potato bug travel calmly from one hill to another. Something in his attitude touched the child. Suddenly she lost her look of defiance, and said, brokenly:

"Maw couldn't go, anyway, she's got nothin' to wear. Her old gray dress turned yellow in the sun years ago. Mrs. Barnard gave me some dye for Easter eggs, and when I heard about Samsen's party, I thought I'd color maw's dress and have it ready."

A tragic silence followed. Abner looked up questioningly.

"She can't wear it no more," answered the girl, unsteadily; "it turned brown and green, and went all spotted and speckled."

For a minute the silence was heavy; then Abner said, gently: "Never mind, Sallie; I'm real proud of you for trying. Now you run along and help your maw. You're a good girl, Sallie."

comer. "Weren't they early settlers?" "Of course they were," answered Mrs. Samsen, "but they didn't use their chances. They were too shiftless for anything."

A little, faded woman in rusty black, whom Sallie Dobson had spoken of as "even Mis' Jenkins," looked up with keen protest in her eyes.

Mrs. Early said the glance and hastened to smooth things over by saying: "Maybe the Dobsons haven't used judgment, but they did work better before they got so discouraged. While the rest of us were getting a start they had more than their share of sickness and death and accidents to their property."

"You needn't worry about that," broke in Mrs. Jenkins; "they are going back to the mountains. Mrs. Dobson told me that they were tired of being lonesome."

A sudden uneasy hush fell on the little company, followed by a confused demand for further information.

Mrs. Barnard sat listening to the talk, which had drifted back to the days before she lived in the neighborhood. When a pause finally occurred in the conversation she turned to her companions and asked, brightly: "Why can't we give the Dobsons a farewell party? I am sure it would please them, and whatever we saw fit to give would seem prompted by friendship rather than charity."

The women looked at each other in keen surprise, but before anyone could protest Mrs. Barnard spoke again: "I was thinking how much Mrs. Dobson needed another horse since one of his span died. I am going to give him my old Bess. She is homely and rather mean, but she can work. Mr. Barnard said yesterday that we had too many horses."

"I can't do anything so handsome," exclaimed Mrs. Jenkins, "but I can give a quilt or two."

"And I some canned fruit and a ham or so," added Mrs. Early.

The enthusiasm spread, and amid a confusion of tongues the list of donations grew and grew.

"Suppose you stop on the way home, Mrs. Barnard," suggested some one, "and tell them about the party. I'm afraid they wouldn't be tidy enough to enjoy a surprise."

So when the party dispersed Mrs. Barnard delivered the neighborhood message and passed on with a smile of satisfaction.

From that time forth a new life dawned on the Dobsons. Their lamp was the last in the valley to go out at night and the first to be lighted in the morning. The whole family seemed possessed with a fever and hurry of joyous excitement.

"Got to have everything alick and mended," admonished Abner; "can't go off leaving things shiftless like."

When the eventful day of the party finally arrived everything was in perfect order. Two hours before the earliest guest could be expected Mrs. Dobson went to the door in her fresh, new calico and looked about anxiously.

"They will be along now pretty soon," she exclaimed, excitedly; "you haven't forgot your piece, have you, Abner?"

"I reckon not," he answered, thoughtfully, as he flicked a straw from his new overalls; "it begins: 'Fellow neighbors—'"

"Oh, never mind about sayin' it now, jaw," she interrupted, "I reckon you will get through when the time comes."

But Abner was not so certain. He repeated it over and over again. Even during the arrival of the people he could not escape its haunting phrases. He forgot it only when he went to see the unexpected gifts from his neighbors. Then his vision suddenly grew dim, and his mind confused.

He wandered back to the end of the house which the maw had appropriated. After a moment he drew himself erect, and began in a loud, artificial tone: "Fellow neighbors—"

Things We Like Best

Often Disagree With Us

Because we overeat of them. Indigestion follows. But there's a way to escape such consequences. A dose of good digestant like Kodol will relieve you at once. Your stomach is simply too weak to digest what you eat. That's all indigestion is. Kodol digests the food without the stomach's aid. Thus the stomach rests while the body is strengthened by wholesome food. Kodol digests any kind of food. Strengthens and invigorates.

PERSONAL MENTION

Henry Kassling, Jr., of Evansville, Ind., is in the city.

K. S. Schmidt of San Francisco, is in the city on business.

Mrs. L. T. Hardy of Espanola spent New Year's day in the city.

W. F. Stone and wife of Junction, Idaho, are tourists visiting in the city today.

Mrs. I. B. Hanna returned yesterday from an extended visit with relatives in Illinois.

H. J. Katz and wife and Mrs. F. M. Jones, of Albuquerque, were here over New Year's day.

Leopold Baca and Henry Baca left this morning for their home at Taos. They have been attending school in Oklahoma.

Adjutant General and Mrs. W. H. Whitman returned yesterday from Denver where they have been visiting their daughters.

O. C. Watson of the firm of Paul Wunschmann & Co., who went to Denver on business last Saturday, returned Wednesday evening.

Judge Daniel H. McMillan arrived at noon today from Socorro and is expected to remain for the coming session of the supreme court commencing here next week.

Hon. L. Bradford Prince has returned from an extended trip to New York and other eastern cities. Mr. Prince spent some time in Washington, assisting in the statehood fight.

W. A. Cheatham, formerly manager of the Castaneda hotel at Las Vegas, has gone to Albuquerque to take the management of the Alvarado hotel to succeed J. Fred Kloos.

The prisoners at the penitentiary yesterday afternoon gave another of their holiday entertainments. The First Cavalry band was present and delighted the men with several numbers. Songs, instrumental music and addresses made up the program.

Mrs. Felipe Delgado, Sr., and Mrs. Manuel Valdez, sister and niece of Juan Garcia, who died at San Juan, yesterday, left this morning over the Denver & Rio Grande to attend the funeral of the deceased.

A Christmas wedding at Aztec was that of Miss Maud G. Waring and William I. Lenfestey. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Waring, by Rev. John R. Cooper of the Presbyterian church. The bride has been a resident of San Juan county all her life and was an excellent and unusually popular teacher.

Colonel J. Francisco Chaves, superintendent of Public Instruction, returned New Year's day from an official trip in the southern part of the Territory. He was accompanied by Mrs. Chaves, who has been spending several weeks at their ranch in the eastern part of Valencia county. The colonel reports a great deal of snow in that section and anticipates a prosperous year as the result.

There was an unusual wedding at El Paso on Christmas day when Mrs. Geo. Myers, of Spokane, Washington, and George Myers, of Deming, were married. The bride was formerly the wife of the groom but secured a divorce about five years ago and retained her married name. Her maiden name was Amelia Hamilton. Mr. and Mrs. Myers lived in Deming before they were divorced and have returned to make their home there.

Judge and Mrs. B. S. Baker have returned to Albuquerque from their eastern trip. Judge Baker was in Washington for some time in the interest of the omnibus statehood bill and says statehood will be granted, if not in the present form, in some other form, during this session. He believes if the bill should be brought to a vote now, it would be passed as there is no doubt of a majority being in favor of its passage but the senators opposed to it are determined to talk it to death if necessary, in order to secure a change. Judge Baker says President Roosevelt told him he did not want the bill to come to him in its present form but if all parties concerned were satisfied to make one state out of New Mexico and Arizona and one state of Oklahoma and Indian Territory, he would give it his hearty support but he has never said he would veto the bill in its present form, should it come to him.

The hotel at Paywood Hot Springs is home-like and roomy and offers ample accommodations. They have no consumptives. See Santa Fe agents.

"LUCKY"

Is often the name given by careless and thoughtless people to those who are careful and thoughtful. "What a lucky woman!" is said of one whose health and beauty proclaim her free from womanly diseases. The luck often consists in her having thoughtfully considered the merits of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and proved its ability to cure the diseases peculiar to her sex.

"Favorite Prescription" is a reliable medicine for the cure of womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"I had poor health for nine years," writes Mrs. Armistead Watkins of Acme, Kanawha Co., W. Va. "I had female weakness, was very irregular and would suffer untold misery. Our family doctor did not do me any good and I concluded to write to you. When I wrote I had no idea that I would ever get well, but when your letter reached me I began to have hope. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicine as directed and began to improve in strength. I was soon able to do the work for my family of six. I took eight bottles, three of 'Favorite Prescription' and five of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two vials of 'Pell's'."
