LADYSMITH RELIEVED.

Gen. Buller's Army Entered the Besieged City.

Gen. Clements Enters Colesberg and Receives Best Reception.

Boers Attack British Defenses at Mafeking and Are Repulsed.

TRANSVAAL ARMIES RETREATING.

London, March 1.—It is officially announced that Ladysmith is relieved.

General Buller cabled to-day: "The country between me and Ladysmith is reported clear of the enemy. I am moving on to Mafeking."

News of the relief of Ladysmith was received with more enthusiasm than any previous event of the war. Flags were immediately hoisted on the hotels and other buildings and Buller's success was received everywhere with the heartiest satisfaction. The lord mayor of London immediately telegraphed his congratulations to Generals Buller and Clements. When the news reached the news at Windsor castle, bells on the curfew tower of the castle were rung in honor of the event.

The war office received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts: "Paardeberg, Feb. 26.—General Clements reports that on hearing that Colesberg junction was evacuated, he sent a force to occupy Colesberg junction and rode into Colesberg where he received an enthusiastic welcome. He secured a certain amount of ammunition and arrested several rebels, then returned to Rensberg. He reported the railway line clear and working. He will report tomorrow as to the cavalry which have been brought up. Colesberg and Coles-berg junction are held by our troops."

EXTENDED BUSHY TOWNS.
London, Feb. 26.—The war office has received the following dispatch from General Buller: "Ladysmith's headquarters, March 1, 1900, morning.—General Dundonald, with the Natal Carbineers and a composite regiment, entered Ladysmith last night."

BOERS REFUSED.

London, March 1.—A special from Cape Town says a telegram has been received there from Mafeking announcing that the Boers made a severe and protracted assault on February 24, but were driven off at all points. The Boers which is usually observed on Sundays was broken on the 25th by another severe attack but by the determined fighting of the garrison the Boers were repulsed with the loss of forty killed and wounded.
The defenders were able to take advantage of the shelter of the earthworks and lost only two killed and three wounded.

WHY CHOMES SURRENDERED.

Kimberley, March 1.—Deserters report that Cro-Je intended to cut his way out through Roberts' forces on Sunday night, but the failure outside the British lines to seize a kopje to aid him frustrated the project, so he surrendered. Several women and children were among the prisoners.
It is declared here that the British captured four Krupp field guns, two Vickers Maxims, several ordinary Maxims and 5,000 small arms. The Boer entrenchments were simply deep narrow trenches.
British found in them all sorts of domestic appliances. Trunks and boxes were sunk to the level of the ground and behind many of them partially filled with food and cooking utensils. The tremendous British shell fire seems to have produced scarcely any appreciable effects.
The list of Boers wounded during the week the laager was held was only about eight. The number of dead is unknown.

BRITISH ENTER COLESBERG.

Rensberg, Feb. 26.—General Clements, escorted by a squadron of Inniskillings, entered Colesberg this morning and received an enthusiastic reception. The Boers are in full retreat. A number of the leading men have been arrested. The inhabitants are well and not starving.

They suffered many indignities at the hands of the Boers, but no violence.

BRITISH CAPTURE A HILL.

Colesberg, Tuesday, Feb. 27.—Today, the anniversary of Mafeking hill, the British successfully stormed the Boer position at Pieter's hill. From early this morning the trenches directly opposite the British front and the Nek separating the Pieter's hill from another hill, were simply strewn with Lyddite shells and shrapnel. It appears marvellous that anything human could live on the hill this afternoon. Infantry charged and took Pieter's hill with fixed bayonets.
Here they were met with heavy musketry fire. The British now command Ladysmith hill and the direct road to Ladysmith.

HORRORS OF WAR.

Paardeberg, Feb. 28.—It was a picturesque scene when Cronje was brought to Roberts' headquarters camp. Cronje bore himself with dignified simplicity accepting with a bow a chair which Roberts proffered him. They talked some minutes. Cronje's secretary, Keizer, interpreting. Cronje said it was impossible for him to hold against the position the British had gained. The Boer leader accepted the situation with fortitude, even occasionally smiling grimly. Between 3,000 and 4,000 prisoners marched out of the laager as well as Mrs. Cronje and grandson, who accompanied the commandant. It was a gruesome sight when the river, swollen by nightly rains, carried through the main camp thousands of dead horses and oxen, washed from the banks of the enemy's position, where they had been killed by the shells. This proves the awful execution which our guns did and also the terrible conditions from which Cronje suffered. Some dead Boers were also seen floating in the river.

BOER LOSSES.

Stekfontein, Cape Colony, March 1.— The Boers admit that their losses when Brabant captured Jamestown were fifty killed, 123 wounded and 4,300 missing.

WHAT NEXT?

London, March 1.—What the next move will be remains as much a conundrum as prior to the receipt of Buller's dispatch. Lord Dundonald is assumed to have made a wide detouring movement eastward, skirting Bulwer's hill. Buller may reasonably be expected in Ladysmith with the bulk of his forces tonight. Opinion here inclines to the belief that no aggressive movement can be immediately undertaken by Buller's and White's forces, hence Roberts is likely soon to have to face an enemy strengthened by a large reinforcement.
While it is generally realized that Roberts' strategy is mainly responsible for the relief of Ladysmith, there is anxiety that the Boers may suffer from the Boer might slip into the Free state. Recently Roberts is awake to the situation.

IT IS REPORTED, BUT THE NEWS IS NOT CON-FIRMED, THAT GENERAL FRENCH HAS ALREADY REACHED BLIMFONTEIN, WHICH IS NOT IM-PROBABLE, AS THE BOERS ARE SCARCELY EX-PECTED TO MAKE A STAND THERE. THE SIG-NIFICANCE OF GENERAL KITCHENER'S PRE-SENCE AT ARUNDEL IS NOT YET EXPLAINED, BUT DEVELOPMENTS HERE HAVE STRUCK AS INTERESTING AS THOSE WHICH CUL-MINATED IN THE DEFEAT OF CRONJE.

WILL NOT INTERFERE.

Berlin, March 1.—In reply to a question the foreign office told the Associated Press that in spite of newspaper statements to the contrary, Germany neither knows of any project for intervention in South Africa, nor intends such herself.

CLEARED OF BOERS.

London, March 1, 6:55 p.m.—General Buller wires from Mafeking, under today's date, that he has just returned from Ladysmith. He adds that the whole country south of that place is cleared of Boers.

WANT MORE TROOPS.

Melbourne, Victoria, March 1.—The secretary of state for the colonies, Joseph Chamberlain, cabled the Australian government, asking if they are able to send additional troops to South Africa in the event of imperial troops being required elsewhere.

TELEGRAM FROM BULLER.

London, 7:02 p.m.—The following is the text of Buller's dispatch: "Nellburg March 1, 5:30 p.m.—I have just returned from Ladysmith. Except a small guard north of Mafeking, the whole enemy has been driven from the town. The Boers have retired to the south of the town the country is quite clear of them. The garrison were on a half pound of meat a man a day, supplementing the meat ration by horses and mules. The men will want little nourishment before being fit for the field."

EXVOY FROM AGUINALDO TO EUROPE.

Cleveland, March 1.—The most destructive storm ever experienced in this city prevailed throughout last night.
The streets in every direction were blocked by prostrated telephone poles, and trees were carried down by the immense accumulation of ice. For several hours early in the morning Cleveland was entirely cut off from telegraphic communication with the outside world.

RAILROADS BLOCKED.

St. Louis, March 1.—Every railroad running into the city, especially from the west, is suffering as the result of a heavy fall of snow the past two days. Grange of snow and sleet blows are at work on all the lines of railroad. It is expected to clear them in a short time.

BLIZZARD.

New York, March 1.—Reports from interior points of the state indicate the worst snow storm for many years. Blizzard weather is general, the rate of fall being an inch an hour for twenty-four hours.

CLARK CASE.

Daily Furnished the Money to Bring On the Investigation.

Washington, March 1.—When the senate committee on elections resumed its sessions to-day, Representative Campbell was cross examined by Mr. Faulkner.
He told of the organization of the movement for the investigation of Clark's election. "Daily said he would furnish any necessary means for the investigation," said the witness, "but would expect others also to make contributions."

"Faulkner presented letters which, Campbell had written to detectives whom he had employed on the case." In Montana they were engaged to work up evidence, and in Washington and New York to keep an eye on witnesses believed to be unfaithful.

"Were your witnesses in Washington," he was asked, "instructed to visit detective, surgeons, doctors, etc., connected with senators?"

"No, sir; positively not," was the reply.
"Did you instruct detectives to investigate themselves into the good graces of Clark's friends?" was asked.

"I did," was the reply.

AGUINALDO EXVOY.

New York, March 1.—A dispatch to the Herald from Madrid says: "The Philippine sloop, Aguinaldo, a special exvoxy from Aguinaldo will arrive in Paris in March, and go thence to London and Paris to continue his mission for the struggle against American supremacy."

IDAHO MINE TROUBLE.

Witness Testifies Against Brutality of Military in Idaho.

Washington, March 1.—Wilbur Stewart, a newspaper publisher at Millen, Idaho, to-day continued his testimony before the house committee on military affairs, about troubles in Idaho.
He said that on June 8 his newspaper was confiscated by two civilians, accompanied by a detachment of soldiers, causing him considerable loss. Throughout his detention he was given no trial except before a "kangaroo court," an "inquisition" carried on by a local official, not a magistrate. He held a conversation with a state official in which the latter said to have asked Stewart to resume publication of his paper on the "side order" law and threatening that if the publication continued to be as it had been he would remain in the bull pen. He said that Stewart was taken before the "inquisition" and an effort was made to learn from him the names of those who participated in the riots. When Johnson returned to the pen," he expressed fears he would be hanged. He tried to kill himself with Indian clubs and later, while in the bull pen, he was shot through the head by a guard. Johnson was mentally sound before being put in the "bull pen." He was shot, and many thought the place was to be set on fire. He expressed the opinion that there was no occasion for declaring martial law.

FRENCH CANNON FACTORY BURNED.

Manila, March 1.—One hundred in-while returning to camp one man was

SENATE DISCUSS HAWAIIAN BILL.

Washington, March 1.—Foraker, chairman of the committee on Pacific islands and Puerto Rico, reported back to the senate the Hawaiian tariff bill, passed yesterday by the house. The committee strikes out the preamble and all after the enacting clause, and substitutes the senate Puerto Rican bill already reported with amendments. One of these is the reduction of the tariff on Pacific islands products to 15 per cent of the Dingley tariff bill, in order to make the measure agree with the house bill.

Consideration of the Hawaiian bill was resumed. The pending question was the amendment by Teller, relating to the establishment of a judicial district with a district judge at Hawaii, carrying with it the right of trial by jury. Morgan (Ala.) renewed his speech, begun yesterday, antagonizing on technical grounds the proposed amendment.

The Hawaiian government bill passed

THERE are now about 3,500 deer belonging to the government in Alaska, which are leased out among the natives near the missionary stations to be taken the increase, which is about 50 per cent

WHETHER the United States retains the Philippines or not, whether China is actually divided or not, most people in America will agree that a trans-Pacific cable is desirable, for it is recognized that the ocean has become an important point of the world and that the commercial interests of all nations there will be vast for an indefinite era.

END OF INSURRECTION
It is officially announced that the insurrection in the Philippines has ended and the government's efforts will now be directed to the establishment of schools and systems for the advancement of the social and material interests of the people of the islands. The campaign just closed by General Bates concludes the army movements with the announced result that the United States authorities now have control of the islands and will hereafter employ only police methods to preserve the peace and protect the property interests of the inhabitants.

WONDERFUL PROGRESS
During the past thirty years the United States has made amazing progress. The money spent for instruction in public schools rose from $37,732,556 in 1870 to $123,800,412 in 1899, and increase of 227 per cent. The number of newspapers and periodicals increased from 5,571 in 1870 to 21,178 in 1899, a gain of 261 per cent. The receipts of the postoffice department grew from $19,772,231 to $95,021,384, an increase of 380 per cent. The number of telegrams sent increased during the period from 9,167,546 to 29,085,175, a gain of 739 per cent, or even seven times the increase in population. The carrying trade of the country showed an increase of 273 per cent, while there was a reduction in the cost of transportation from 1.34 cents per ton mile in 1870 to 0.75 cent in 1899.

THE cotton mills in the United States in 1870 used 857,000 bales of domestic cotton for manufacturing, whereas in 1899 they used 3,632,000 bales, which represented an increase of 324 per cent. The raw silk imported for use in the manufacturing grew in amount from 583,559 pounds to 11,330,546 pounds, an increase of 1,836 per cent. Imports of crude rubber for use in manufacturing grew from 9,624,008 pounds to 51,063,066 pounds, a growth of 431 per cent. In iron and steel the percentage of increase are most remarkable. The production of pig iron increased from 1,605,179 tons in 1870 to 11,773,034 tons in 1898, an increase of 607 per cent, while the product of 1899 is estimated as likely to reach 14,000, 000 tons. In steel production the increase has been even greater. In 1870 the production had risen to 1,832,857 tons, an increase of 12,870 per cent. Imports of iron and steel manufactures actually showed a decrease for the period, while exports of iron and steel manufactures increased from $11,002,902 in 1870 to $63,916,031, and increase of 752 per cent. In coal production there was an increase from 32,533,800 tons in 1870 to 196,406,953 tons in 1898, a gain of 498 per cent. In petroleum there was an increase of over 1,100 per cent, or from 185,000,000 gallons in 1870 to 2,325,000, 000 gallons in 1898.

The American flag floats over a land of barbarism. If any one had prophesied this four years ago, he would have been laughed to scorn. Yet change is constantly taking place. Nature is merciless. So soon as she discovers an improvement, she discards the old, and it may be, in doing so, she discards the best. The famous cure for dyspepsia, Stomach Bitters, has remained unchanged for half a century, proves its value. Try it for indigestion, biliousness, constipation or malaria, fever and ague, and be convinced. Your case is not incurable. You simply have not used the right remedy.
Stomach Bitters is what you need—the sooner the better. It is particularly valuable at this season of the year.

The Kansas prairie was visited by a terrible snow storm Tuesday afternoon and night, greatly delaying all trains.
The next-bound Santa Fe limited and No.
2 passenger trains, on account of the snow, were tied up for a number of hours at Dodge City, while the No. 1 and No.
17, south-bound, were delayed in reaching this city last night. The No. 1 passed over the storm stricken section in comparative good shape, being only several hours behind time, but No. 17 was not so lucky and did not pull into the local depot until 3 o'clock this morning.

No One to Bury the Body.
The body of the man who was accidentally killed at Wagon Mound last Friday night is said to be still lying in the Wagon Mound freight house.
It seems the justice of the peace at that point, who is ex-officio coroner, has refused to hold an inquest, or have anything to do with the disposal of the body, presumably because he had a similar case some time ago and failed to receive his fees for his services. However, Assistant District Attorney Davis wired the justice this morning to hold an inquest and bury the body at the expense of the county.—Las Vegas Optic.

Stilled in Death.
At a late hour yesterday afternoon the home of C. F. Meyers and family was saddened by the loss of their youngest daughter in death. The child had been sick only a short time, and its death was entirely unexpected by the family.
Brief funeral services were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and a large number of sympathizing friends followed the remains to their last resting place in Fairview cemetery.

Ex-Lieutenant Filpper Not to Be Restored. to which he would have attained had he made a good record. He has not been in

To be bound hand and foot for years by chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George B. Williams, of Man-could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she was fully recovered and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy

OPERA HOUSE CASE.

Argument Heard For and Against Confirmation of Sale.

A number of interested spectators assembled at the court house to hear the arguments in the famous opera house case this morning. A. R. McMillen, attorney for the plaintiff, presented the opening argument to set aside the recent sale of the opera house as made by Special Master A. J. Crawford on the 31st of January, 1898. He argued that the price paid at the special master's sale was grossly inadequate, as the amount of money paid in consideration for the opera house was only $5,100, while the building and ground was worth at least $25,000; that Otto Diekmann could not be deemed an innocent purchaser, and that the plaintiffs were in no wise responsible for any legal error in the sale; furthermore, that the sale was without power and could not be considered legal. W. B. Childers next on his feet, presented the closing argument to set aside the sale of the opera house, and to set aside the sale of the opera house as made by Special Master A. J. He argued that the price paid at the special master's sale was grossly inadequate, as the amount of money paid in consideration for the opera house was only $5,100, while the building and ground was worth at least $25,000; that Otto Diekmann could not be deemed an innocent purchaser, and that the plaintiffs were in no wise responsible for any legal error in the sale; furthermore, that the sale was without power and could not be considered legal.
