WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA.

British Loss At the Battle of Potgieter's Drift.

Boers' Position At Rensberg Vigorously Shelled This Morning.

Daily Fighting Between Opposing Forces At Modder River.

BULLER ADVANCING ON LADYSMITH.

London, Feb. 8.—General Buller has cabled the war office that the approximate British casualties in the fighting at Potgieter's drift up to noon on Tuesday are: Officers, two killed; fifteen wounded. Non-commissioned officers and men, 216 killed and wounded. The officers killed were Major Johnson Smyth and Lieut. Shatto, both of the Durham Light Infantry. The officers wounded include Col. A. J. Montgomery, royal artillery; Lieut. Sir T. A. Cunningham. Rensberg, Feb. 8.—The Boers' position was vigorously shelled with Lyddite for an hour this morning, eastward from Slingerfontein and westward from Coles kop, a fifteen pounder schrapnel gun paying special attention to the sites of the Boer guns, which have been unusually active lately. The Boers held a position half way on the direct road between Rensberg and Colesberg. They shelled Porter's hill yesterday ineffectually.

FIGHTING AT MODDER RIVER.

Modder River, Feb. 8.—General Buller maintains his position at Rensberg drift. His movement has evidently disconcerted the Boers and at the same time is a safeguard to the position of a portion of the Belmont garrison in the direction of Douglas, where there are still a few Boers. The Ninth Landers made several attempts to draw out the Boers but were unsuccessful. The British held the highest portion of the kopje, the Boers position being the lowest portion. Owing to the steepness of the southern steps of the kopje it is impossible to mount artillery. The usual daily shelling here continues.

Outposts report the Boers making advanced trenches on the open plain in front of Magerfontein drift, presumably to prevent the British horse field artillery from approaching within range of their positions.

GENERAL BULLER ADVANCING.

London, Feb. 8.—Presumably General Buller is fighting again to-day in a third attempt to relieve Ladysmith, and news of greatest import may arrive at any moment. Yet, here, there is more doubt than exultation, for the list of casualties published to-day is sufficient reminder of the tremendous difficulties of his task. His occupation of Vaalkrantz, the key to the lower ridge, while a praiseworthy and gallant achievement, by no means signifies that General Buller will inevitably join hands with him. Before Buller are several days of hard fighting and any attempt to forecast the result would be valueless. The British troops, smothered under defeat, will undoubtedly be served to more desperate efforts than ever before, and if furious gallantry can carry Buller over the kopjes that face him, Ladysmith will be relieved within a week.

It is more than likely that General Buller, at Chieveley, may be strong enough to advance on Tugela and render valuable assistance from the south-east, while the beleaguered garrison itself should be able to create a potential diversion when Buller has overcome the initial difficulties which lie in the kopjes immediately north of the Tugela.

Latest advices from Sierkstrom announce that General Buller's cavalry is in pursuit of the Boers. While nothing resulted from this affair, it indicates that the burghers are fully alive to the importance of concentration, which is on the verge of occurring between the RAGING STORMS.

Northern States Afflicted with Cold and Snow.

Governor Taylor Delays Signing the Political Compromise.

Remains of General Lawton Reach Washington and Lie in State.

GEN. OTIS TO RETIRE.

Minneapolis, Feb. 8.—Minneapolis today experienced the severest storm of the winter.

A BLIZZARD IN NEBRASKA.

Omaha, Feb. 8.—A storm which reached almost the proportions of a blizzard swept over Nebraska last night, and is still raging. Reports received from the best posted men coincide that no damage is done to live stock on the range. A high wind drifted the snow, leaving the ranges bare, and in addition the stock men have plenty of feed.

STORM AT ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Feb. 8.—Considerable damage to property in the city and vicinity was wrought between 2 and 4 o'clock this morning by wind that reached a velocity of sixty miles an hour. The barometer fell to 29.35, the lowest point ever reached in this vicinity. Previous to the wind storm, a terrible thunder storm raged several hours, the rain falling in torrents. Mrs. Susan Thompson became entangled in a live wire and was killed. In the burned district $30,000 worth of property was destroyed.

DAMAGED BY WIND.

Indianapolis, Feb. 8.—A terrific wind storm swept Indiana and eastern Illinois to-day. The storm wrought much damage to Collinsville, Illinois, a small town on the Vandalia railroad, west of Terre Haute. Meagre reports from the north of Collinsville indicate that there must have been considerable loss of property, and it is feared loss of life. Reports from several places indicate that the wind reached almost the velocity of a tornado.

INJURED BY TORNADO.

St. Louis, Feb. 8.—Collinsville, Illinois, twelve miles from St. Louis, on the Vandalia railroad, narrowly escaped destruction by a tornado early to-day. Nine persons were injured in the immediate vicinity of the village, some fatally, and much damage was done to property. Miners who live on the outskirts lost most by the wind. A group of three fine residences on the hill were reduced to splinters. Injured—Paul Quarandilli, aged 35, injuries perhaps fatal. Otto Kholle, 17, serious. Sophie Fix, 17, thought to be fatally injured. Newton Alderson, not serious; Theodore Lawrence, internally injured; Frank Koebert, seriously; son and daughter of Frank Koebert, severely cut and bruised.

TAYLOR HAS NOT SIGNED.

He Wants a Further Conference and Certain Concessions.

Frankfort, Feb. 8.—Governor Taylor announced this morning that he had taken no action regarding the Louisville agreement, and said there were some things that he desired to consider further. The opinion is still general that with some modifications the agreement will be accepted, possibly by the end of the week. Word was sent to the democratic members of the legislature last night that they could return for the purpose of attending the funeral of Goebel and would be in no danger from arrest by the soldiers and being taken to London. Some came back for the funeral, but will leave as soon as the funeral is over, unless Taylor has signed the agreement by that time.

Governor Goebel's body lay in state through the night. This morning the crowd was even greater than that of yesterday.

OTIS TO RETIRE.

He Will Relinquish His Command of the Army at Manila.

New York, Feb. 8.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: Major General Otis will be detached from duty as governor general of the Philippines and commander of the department of the Pacific immediately after the arrival of the new Philippine commission, and will be ordered to return to the United States. This action will be in compliance with the wishes of Otis, who has informed the war department that he is in need of rest.

Remains of General Lawton.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The train bearing the remains of General Lawton completed the trip across the continent this morning. Troop H, Third cavalry, acted as escort to the Church of the Covenant, where Lawton's remains lie in state until the funeral to-morrow.

Chicago Grain Market.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Wheat—February, 66 1/2; May, 68 1/2.
Corn—February, 31 1/2; May, 33 1/2.
Oats—February, 22 1/2; May, 23 1/2.

Funeral of Goebel.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 8.—But a few democratic members of the legislature ventured away from Louisville to-day. Stories from London of a possible attempt to arrest enough democratic members to make a quorum and take them to the seat of the republican assembly caused most of them to be afraid to venture to Frankfort to attend Goebel's funeral. The usual formal session was held and immediately adjournment was taken until to-morrow.

All the saloons were closed and the soldiers were kept off the streets. At 11 o'clock the formation of the parade began. A platoon of police, city council, local societies, citizens on foot, in carriages and on horseback, made up the Hoisting a Conference.

Cincinnati, Feb. 8.—Ex-Governor W. O. Bradley and W. H. McCoy, attorneys for Governor Taylor, have been in conference with Judge Taft in chambers of the United States court since noon on the matter of filing a petition, the contents of which are not known.

After hearing Bradley and McCoy, Judge Taft announced to them that they should at once make copies of their petition for defendants and notify them that the case would be heard in the United States court of appeals at Cincinnati, February 12. Bradley and McCoy would not say anything about the nature of the proceedings or the plans of their clients.

It is understood that the plaintiffs are citizens of Louisville, but the attorneys refuse to give any information of what are the defendants or what the nature of the petition.

Proposition From Taylor.
Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 8.—It was rumored this afternoon that Governor Taylor had prepared a proposition to be submitted to the democrats demanding a specific agreement for the repeal of the Goebel election law, and that the Goebel-Taylor gubernatorial contest should be decided by the vote of both houses separately, instead of in joint session. Taylor would not confirm the report.
