BATTLE OF SPIONKOP.

It Was a Fierce and Bloody All Day Fight.

General Buller May Again Advance on the Boers.

One Hundred and Fifty American Scouts Join the British.

HEOLOGICAL DISPATCH FROM LADYSMITH.

New York, Jan. 31.—Winston Spencer Churchill has cabled the Evening World a copyrighted account of the battle of Spionkop. The dispatch is stated to be a man's story, January 27, and says the fight on the summit of the kop was one of the fiercest and most furious conflicts in British military history. It was a battle of attrition, the Boers surprised the British by the bayonet at 3 o'clock in the morning. There was little loss. At once the troops retreated, but the ground was broken by large rocks and unsuited for entrenchments. At dawn heavy Boer shelling began. General Woodgate was seriously wounded at one of the Boer's great demands for reinforcements were sent by the commander who succeeded Woodgate. Reinforcements were sent, strengthening the defense. Thornycroft was appointed brigadier commanding the whole force on the top of the hill. A bitter and bloody struggle followed throughout the day. The Boers continued to attack every man and gun on the summit and attacking it with the greatest spirit.

The British artillery was unable to cope with the superior long range Boer guns and during the afternoon it became evident that the infantry could not capture another day. It was impossible to drag the guns to the summit of Spionkop without elaborate preparations or to fortify the hill strongly enough to protect the defenders from unassailed attack. Thornycroft's decision to abandon it was both wise and necessary. The British troops were stubborn and formidable and marched back to their camps in regular order. Every effort being made to succor the wounded, of whom many still lie on the summit. The official lists will give the losses.

The defense of the hill by the King's Light Infantry, particularly the Lancashire regiment, was a glorious episode. The whole army is proud of it. The Boer position before Ladysmith is perhaps impregnable to 25,000 men, but the troops are resolved to have another try. The public must imitate the equanimity of the troops. Spionkop is not a disaster. Neither guns were lost nor wounded prisoners made. It was simply a bloody action, in which the Boers were victorious, but the place was not affected but which proved untenable.

The Boers were some time within thirty yards of the British line; they also suffered. Their loss must be greater compared to their strength than ours.

AMERICAN SCOUTS.
London, Jan. 31.—A special from Cape Town says that 150 American scouts who arrived there at Ladysmith have enlisted with the British force.

LADYSMITH HOLDING OUT.
Cape Town Tuesday, Jan. 30.—General Buller still holds the Tugela river, and will possibly renew the attempt to force his way through the Boer defenses before long. In any case, Ladysmith is capable of holding out a considerable time.

NEWS FROM LADYSMITH.
Ladysmith, Jan. 29.—(Regraphed to Swazikop near Tugela river).—News of the proclamation of the siege resulting from General Buller's failure, is received with fortitude. We are holding on. The garrison is healthy, cheerful and confident. Disease is disappearing and there is no lack of food. Rains give plenty of grass. We can hear General Buller's guns still working. It is rumored that the Boer is advancing along another line. The Boer lagers around are again full of men who have returned from upper Tugela. It is understood that he has accepted a similar position on the Chicago & Northwestern railway, and will hereafter be stationed at Chicago.

After transacting some legal business in Santa Fe, Judge C. N. Sherry and his wife, accompanied by a special train, returned to the city last night. They will probably go west on the W. & N. special to-morrow morning.

GOEBEL STILL ALIVE.

Frankfort, Kentucky, Filled With Armed State Troops.

Arizona Railroad Official Goes Insane in Kansas.

Town of Windfall, Kansas, Almost Destroyed by Fire.

COLD WEATHER ON ATLANTIC COAST.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—At 8:30 o'clock this morning, Dr. K. E. Hummel, who had been in attendance upon Mr. Goebel throughout the night, announced that there was hardly a possibility that Goebel could recover. "The only thing that keeps him alive," said Dr. Hummel, "is his splendid nerve. He cannot keep up that alone, however, and I consider his death a practical certainty and that within a short time." Goebel was troubled during the night with frequent spells of nausea. Several hemorrhages occurred, however. When able to talk he insisted that he is surely going to recover. No progress has been made toward apprehending the man who did the shooting, and it is not likely that any will be made. The police practically have abandoned the case. A force of mountaineers are in the building from which the shots were fired and nobody has been allowed to enter it. Access is made still more difficult now by a force of soldiers stationed at every gate. Nobody is admitted to the capital grounds without a pass and very few have been issued.

All night soldiers poured into Frankfort and at 7 o'clock this morning fully a thousand men, with two Gatling guns, were stationed at the capital building, and 800 more are expected during the day. A large crowd is expected in Frankfort to-day.

It is largely due to the conservative attitude assumed by the leading politicians of both parties that there has not been fighting in the streets. It is certain the legislature will seat Goebel at the first session it holds. If he is seated by joint ballot, the republicans will not surrender any of the offices. They say the seating of Goebel by joint ballot is illegal, even under the Goebel election law, which provides that the consenting candidate for the legislature be seated by a majority of both houses. Governor Taylor and his attorneys remained all night in the state house. Threats have been made against all of them.

NO CHANGE IN GOEBEL'S CONDITION.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—A physician from Senator Goebel's bedside at 2:10 p. m. says there has been no change in his condition for two hours, and that he is in a precarious condition.

MILITIA THREATEN.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—Manager W. E. Abell, of the Capital hotel, has been notified that if he permits the meeting of the legislature in his hotel the militia will take charge.

PROCLAMATION OF GOVERNOR.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—Governor Taylor at 10 o'clock issued the following proclamation:

To the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky: Whereas, A state of insurrection now prevails in the state of Kentucky and especially in Frankfort, the capital thereof, by virtue of authority vested in me by the constitution of Kentucky, I do hereby, by this proclamation, adjourn at once the general assembly of the state of Kentucky to meet at London, Laurel county, Kentucky, Tuesday, the 6th day of February, 1900, at 2 o'clock.

COURT ADJOURNS.

Frankfort, Jan. 31.—Court of appeals has indefinitely adjourned, refusing to sit while the militia is here. Letters were received from Middleburg to-day stating that appellate judges Hesterling and Holston were to have been killed yesterday.

MARTIAL LAW.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—There is strong probability that martial law will be declared in Frankfort to-morrow and the session of the legislature at which the democrats determined to seat Goebel, will be stopped by the military. One of the highest officers with the troops said last night: The legislature says it is going to meet to-morrow at 10 o'clock; maybe it will, but whatever it does, it will not be unusual. Governor Taylor to-morrow. Soldiers have been arriving at intervals all night.

LIVELY LEGISLATURE.

Frankfort, Jan. 31.—The democratic members of the legislature marched in a body to the capitol grounds to-morrow. They were allowed to pass into the capitol building. Long lines of infantry were drawn up on each side of the hall with fixed bayonets. At the foot of the stairs Colonel Williams had a large bundle of papers, one of which he handed to each member of the house as they passed him. It was a copy of the proclamation given above. He read the proclamation in a loud tone. Adjutant General Collier read the proclamation a second time. Loud above the tumult came a voice clear and sharp: "We are dealing with a pack of heathens and hounds; let's go to the opera house." Down stairs streamed the crowd, bounding toward the opera house. General Collier shouted orders to Lieut. Col. Gray, and quick orders were given by that officer and away toward the opera house rushed the soldiers. When the law officers arrived at the opera house the front

Forty-Seven Deaths From Plague at Honolulu.

Defense in Clark Investigation Will Begin to Give Testimony.

EX-MINISTER PHILIPS ILL.

Manila, Jan. 31.—On Monday, Lieut. Schoenck, with a scouting party of men of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, ran into a large force of insurgents in a mountain dells. Schoenck fell at the first volley, shot in the head. Sergeant Singleton and three privates were killed and five men wounded. The Americans then retreated. Afterward, a stronger force was sent to the scene of the fight and the insurgents departed.

Clark Case.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Under agreement between the counsel of the two sides of the Clark case the senate committee on elections to-day adjourned until Friday next, when the defense will begin its presentation.

Ex-Minister Phelps Ill.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 31.—The condition of K. J. Phelps, ex-minister to England, is alarming. While his lungs are clearing the patient is becoming very weak.

Plague at Honolulu.

Honolulu, Jan. 30.—The steamer Australia, seven days from Honolulu, arrived here to-day, and reports that up to the time of her departure forty-one deaths from the plague had occurred and there was a total of fifty-two cases.

The Horse Thieves.

Sheriff Hubbell and his deputies have been out after the thieves who stole the horse and saddle from Wm. Farr's ranch Monday night, but have not been successful in running them down. A posse is still in pursuit. One important capture was made in arresting Scotty Schooley, who stole a valuable mare at Island Lake. The mare was recovered and is now in the sheriff's hands. While hunting for the horse thieves the sheriff and Deputy Newcomer caught Mr. Schooley with a bunch of 150 sheep that he had pillooned from Francisco C. de Baez, of Bernadillo. The chances are that Schooley was one of the gang who operated at Farr's. No effort will be spared to capture them all.

Wm. Farr, proprietor of the Farr's meat market, returned last night from a stock purchasing trip to Colorado. He purchased several car loads of fat marketing beavers for his local market.

WARRANTS FOR LEGISLATORS.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Secretary Root is authority for the statement that there is nothing in the situation in Kentucky calling for federal interference.

GOEBEL IS DYING.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31.—It is not expected that Goebel will survive the afternoon.

Destructive Fire.

Wichita, Kas., Jan. 31.—Fire destroyed the business portion of Windfall, a town of six thousand inhabitants, forty miles south of here, last night, and threatened the city building and county jail. The factory block, a three story building, erected at a cost of $125,000, and its contents were burned. One hundred people were made homeless. The Arlington hotel was destroyed.

Insane Railroad Official.

Hutchinson, Kas., Jan. 30.—W. A. Harvey, general freight and passenger agent of the Arizona & Southern railroad, with headquarters at Hulse, Arizona, is in a pitiable condition. He was on his way to Chicago, and got off a Santa Fe train here, leaving his grip and overcoat on the train. At first it was thought that he was getting over the effects of an overdose of cocaine, but his condition became worse and he was locked up. It is evident now that he is mentally unbalanced. His parents, who live in Wisconsin, have been notified.

Hough Traveling.

New York, Jan. 31.—Owing to street weather, heavy gales and rough seas nearly every liner due at this port during the past few days has been or is reported from twenty-four hours to five days late.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS

What Third Vice President Barr Has to Say About Improvements.
Last night, at 6:30 o'clock, a special train with J. M. Barr, third vice president; H. U. Mudge, general manager; C. F. Besseguier, general superintendent; C. G. Sholes, superintendent of telegraphy; C. W. Moore, exercise superintendent; J. K. Hurley, division superintendent; G. K. Ayer, assistant division superintendent; and J. A. Harlan, division superintendent of bridges and bridge building, all prominent Santa Fe railway officials, arrived in the city from a tour south as far as El Paso in special coaches Nos. 217, 218 and 219.

A short time after the arrival of the train Gov. E. S. Stover, Hon. H. B. Ferguson and THE CITIZEN representative called on Messrs. Barr and Mudge, and they were invited to spend a few hours at the Commercial club building, stating that they would be busy until good bedtime in looking over and examining estimates for work and needed improvements which would be made on the New Mexico and Rio Grande divisions of the road.

Later in the night, W. G. Nevin, general manager of the Santa Fe Pacific and Southern California railways, with General Superintendent J. A. Wells, Division I, L. Hibbard and W. K. Hodges, the general purchasing agent of the entire system, arrived in special coaches Nos. 100, 101 and 102 from the west, and joined the other railway officials this morning.

The CITIZEN representative, according to promise and in quest of news, called at the train this morning at 9 o'clock and found Messrs. Barr, Mudge, Nevin and Wells in an important conference regarding future railroad matters.

However, at 11:30 o'clock, the four gentlemen left the train and walked down toward the railway shops, where they looked over the ground for increased yard facilities.

On the return of the gentlemen to the train Mr. Barr was seen by THE CITIZEN representative and told that the people of Albuquerque were anxious to know what they can expect from the Santa Fe railway in the way of a new depot or a combination depot and hotel.

Mr. Barr said: "We have been looking over plans and specifications and the estimates, but have not decided, finally, when action will be taken in connection with a new depot hotel at this point. The Santa Fe company will expend $3,000,000 this year in improvements, and it is a matter of subsequent discussion at what points this money will be expended."

"Will Albuquerque receive a new depot this year?" was asked.
"Probably, but I will not say positively," remarked Mr. Barr. "This matter will rest entirely with President Ripley."

This was about all Mr. Barr would say regarding the contemplated and long expected improvements for Albuquerque. The Barr-Mudge special train left for the north at noon today, with Conductor Lesney in charge and Engineer Sweeney on engine 91.

The Nevin-Wells special will leave for the west to-morrow morning.
