CONTROL OF ISLANDS

Territorial Government to Be Given Hawaii and Porto Rico.

American Lieutenant Captured by Filipino Insurgents.

Senator Pettigrew Flooding the Senate
With Resolutions of Inquiry.

SPANISH WAR PENSIONS.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Senator Platt, Connecticut, to-day gave notice of important amendments to the bill providing the form of government for Hawaii and Porto Rico. One of the proposed amendments to the bill stakes out a provision for the election of a delegate to congress. Other amendments relate to customs regulations. In the case of Hawaii he proposes to eliminate the provisions of a Hawaiian commission and insert a clause for the continuance of the existing customs relations between the United States and Hawaii until further legislation by congress. The customs provision suggested by Platt in the case of Porto Rico required the collection on Porto Rican articles imported into the United States of a sum equivalent to 50 per cent of the customs duties levied upon like articles imported from foreign countries. Articles originating in the United States and shipped to Porto Rico are to pay their 50 per cent duty imposed upon importations from other countries.

Pettigrew (S. D.) offered a resolution declaring that the United States government could not recognize the right of any nation to declare as contraband and seize food products, as such seizure would be an act unfriendly to the United States. The resolution went over under the rule.

The resolution offered yesterday by Pettigrew, calling upon the president for the report of General Bates concerning the treaty made with the sultan of Sulu was considered. Resolution recited the salaries paid the sultan and his officials and inquired what fund they were paid from and what services the officials rendered. Pettigrew said slavery in the worst form existed in the Sulu group of islands and the treaty itself provided that every slave could purchase his freedom at the regular market price. He said the amount of the salaries paid the sultan and officials under the treaty was $9,120, yet the Spanish government paid them only $6,300.

Translation of the treaty was withheld from the people until, he said, after the Ohio election. This was merely the policy of concealment and censoring adopted by the administration.

Spencer, Wisconsin, asked Pettigrew if he meant to hold the president responsible for the slavery clause in the Sulu treaty.

"I do," Pettigrew replied. Spencer denied this. Pettigrew said there was no assurance that the president's statement would ever reach the senate. He declared it simply a case of double dealing. The resolution was adopted.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The house committee on pensions to-day ordered a favorable report of the bill making service in the Spanish-American war sufficient to remove disabilities against those who abetted the southern troops during the war of the rebellion in the matter of drawing pensions.

GRAND CANON RAILWAY

Line Nearly Completed to Canyon from Williams.

Debate in House on Expulsion of Congressman Roberts.

House Committee Report Favorably on Mexican Free Zone Bill.

THE VESSEL BOUGHT FROM CHILI.

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 24.—The new railroad to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado will be completed forty-seven miles out of Williams, Arizona, by March 1. The Santa Fe traffic officials of this city have been advised that thirty-five miles of the new line is already completed and trains with material for the construction and carrying of passenger coaches are daily running. The primary object of the enterprise is to tap certain copper mines which are partially developed. A New York capitalist is said to be behind the enterprise which before long, it is expected, will become part of the Santa Fe system.

EXPULSION OF ROBERTS.

Debate in the House on Polyanthony of Congressman From Utah.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The house resumed the debate on the Roberts case at 11 o'clock to-day. Powers (Vt.) argued in behalf of the expulsion of Roberts. The contention of the minority for expulsion, he said, ran up against the very precedents which were cited in its support. It was the universal rule that a member could not be expelled for an offense committed prior to election. While it might be argued in Roberts' case that polyanthony was a continuing status of the crime itself, the initial place long before Roberts was elected. Snodgrass (Tenn.) followed Powers, supporting the views of the minority in favor of seating and then expelling Roberts. If we were not to become exponents of the French system of justice, which presumed guilt until innocence was proven, he said Roberts must be accorded his prima facie rights to his seat before being ousted.

Landis, (Ind.) member of the Roberts committee who signed the majority report, argued that Utah had violated her contract with the United States. There had been universal rejection in the land in 1896, he said, when Utah was admitted into the union. The people of the United States thought the birth of the state worked death to the system of polygamy. Yet they were started to learn in 1898 that Utah had elected as sole representative in the house a polygamist, and he was moving upon Washington with a plurality of wives and multiplicity of children. (Laughter.)

Landis went over the record of the apostles of the Mormon church, and most of them were guilty of continued polygamous practice. Some of his statements were sensational. He scored the Mormon church for its alleged faith, arousing great enthusiasm by his scathing denunciation. At times he convulsed the house with sarcasm. Of fifteen apostles of the church when the proclamation was issued, he said that eleven were open violators of the law, and three had undoubtedly taken plural wives since it was promulgated. Landis said he believed, and Roberts had not denied that Margaret C. Shipley had become his plural wife since Utah was admitted in 1895. He paid a high tribute to the Christian missionaries who worked among the people of Utah. Roberts, he said, boasted that he received the votes of the gentiles in his district. That Landis said, was because he ran as a democrat as well as a Mormon, and because his opponent "had been Danite who had killed his man." In concluding he adjured the 2,000 polygamists in Utah to take care of their plural wives, but in God's name to refrain from multiplying their infamy by bringing more children into the world.

Landis said that not only should Roberts be turned back, but also Utah, because those people had solemnly lied to the congress of the United States in 1896.

FREE ZONE.

House Committee Report Favorably on Mexican Free Zone Bill.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The ways and means committee of the house directed a favorable report on the bill of Representative Cooper, of Texas, repealing the law of 1895, in reference to the free zone in Mexico. The purpose of that law was to suspend the bonding of goods arriving in this country destined for Mexico in the hope that Mexico would take like action and smuggling across the zone would be stopped. But it has been found that the effect of the law was to divert traffic from American ports and send it to Tampico, Vera Cruz and other Mexican ports and give the carrying to Mexican railroads. At the same time Mexico has not taken the action contemplated in 1895, and smuggling continues. The bill now reported is designed to restore this trade to American ports and railroads. Grosvenor, who will make the report, was instructed to offer the bill as an amendment to the Payne bill permitting the bonding of goods to all ports instead of to designated places.

Shut off Dispatches.

Funeral of Major W. A. Rankin.

Owing to the great distance from this city, none of the surviving brothers and sisters of the deceased will arrive to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Dr. Moore, a daughter, from Lawrence, Kan., and Fred. Rankin, a son, from Roswell, N. M., will reach the city to-night, for the purpose of paying the last rites to their dead father.

Harry Rankin, another son, whose headquarters are in Kansas City, Mo., is somewhere in Mississippi on insurance adjusting business, and is not yet aware of the death of the major, although several telegrams have been sent in the hope of finding him and conveying to him the sad intelligence.

HERE FROM COLORADO.

John McIntosh and wife arrived last night from Las Animas county, Colorado, and for a few days these popular Scotch folks will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Frazier, No. 307 south Arto street.

About eight years ago Mr. McIntosh was a visitor in Albuquerque, and to-day he states that he notices many substantial improvements since that time and is convinced that Albuquerque has a bright future.

Mr. McIntosh is one of the successful stock raisers of Las Animas county, and about two years ago being convinced that his success in business was of a permanent nature, he stole a march on his bachelor brother of this county, William McIntosh, the Chilli sheep raiser, and quietly visited his old home in Scotland, where he married one of the belles of his native town and they are now on a visit to this city.

Mr. McIntosh, accompanied by Mr. Frazier, will leave the city Friday for Chilli, and on their return William McIntosh will accompany them.

DISPATCHES WITHHELD IN LONDON.

London, Jan. 24, 2:45 p. m.—The extreme tension caused by what may be justly designated as the most anxious pause since the war began, had not been relieved up to the time of writing by anything save the daily stock exchange rumor, which to-day happens to have been started by bulls who assert that General Warren captured Spionkop. Anxiety in regard to the news is visible on all sides. The war office was besieged early this morning. It is generally recognized that the Boer position, if ever taken, can only be captured at tremendous cost.

A dispatch from Pretoria, dated January 23, gives the following from the Boer head laager: Four or five times during the day the British replaced the weary soldiers by fresh ones. The Boer casualties to date, one man killed, two slightly injured. There is a large slaughter of British. "General Botha is now in sole command. General Cronje having been sent elsewhere."

The same dispatch, evidently referring to the situation at Colenso, says: "One of the large Boer Maxims was temporarily disordered, but was soon repaired. The British north camp is in confusion. People are observed trekking aimlessly in all directions."

The St. James Gazette today says: "The sympathy of America as a whole is, as a matter of fact, no more with England at this moment than was our popular sympathy with them at the outbreak of the war with Spain, and the contrast of the official and popular attitudes is no less marked in the United States than in Germany."

LONDON EXCITED.
London, 4 p. m.—As the afternoon progressed the excitement on Pall Mall reached a high pitch. The war office officials reiterated at 3:30 p. m. "Nothing received from General Buller." The suspense was increased by the belief that Buller would never publish his intention to attack the Boers on Spionkop unless satisfied that the assault would be carried out before the news could be published.

More Particulars About Watson's Endless

Chain Fraud.

HAS VICTIMS IN ALBUQUERQUE.

Albert B. Watson, who was arrested and jailed in El Paso the other day, charged with using the mails for fraudulent purposes, has some victims in this city and elsewhere in central New Mexico. He sent his creditors through the mails, and has representatives, in a quiet way, discovered this morning that he caught several well-known and influential citizens of this city. The names of his victims here, however, will not be published.

Postoffice Inspector Doran, who kept in touch with Watson's movements and finally landed him in jail, furnished THE CITIZEN with the exclusive news of the arrest which was published in this paper Monday afternoon. The postoffice inspector was seen again last night and in addition gave these further facts:

"As I have already stated," said the inspector, "Watson operated under the name of the Ohio Specialty company, of Cincinnati, his scheme being on the endless chain order. Tickets or coupons were mailed to hundreds of people throughout the country. The tickets were sold for 25 cents and each called for four other tickets at the same price.

"The sale of each ticket brought the sale of four other tickets, which, when accomplished, entitled the seller of four tickets to one pair of shoes valued at $5. This made no end to the possibilities. Numerous complaints have been made against the concern for failing to fulfill its agreements. Watson married a wealthy girl at Garrettsville, Ohio, and they moved to Cincinnati. They remained there until last fall, boarding at 127 East Fourth street, and later at 401 Broadway street. Then they went to Las Cruces, N. M. Mrs. Dora Wilson, the wife, charges Watson with squandering a fortune left her by her people in Ohio. One month ago they separated, Watson disappearing.

"All of Watson's mail, which consisted of registered letters and money orders and was large, was directed to the Ohio Specialty company, Cincinnati, Ohio. At the postoffice there he had an order to forward all mail to Las Cruces, N. M. Such orders as were filed by Watson were from Cincinnati shoe houses."

It is said a still more serious charge is preferred against Watson. Postoffice Inspector Doran admits this, but refuses to state its nature.

The El Paso Herald, in its comments on the arrest of Watson, contains the following about the scheme:

The scheme is to sell an article at a ridiculously low price, provided the customer sells tickets to make up the balance of the purchase. For instance a man pays 25 cents for a book containing tickets to the amount of $5. He sells the tickets to his friends for 25 cents a piece. They in turn forward the tickets accompanied by 25 cents to the original seller and get similar books of tickets. When all of the first man's friends have turned in their tickets and coupons, the first man gets a $5 pair of shoes. When the second circle of friends do likewise the first circle of friends each get a $5 pair of shoes. The shoes actually cost the purchaser only twenty-five cents, but the seller always has the cash in hand for the shoes before they go out of his hands. Each circle of customers increases in geometrical progression but no matter how large it grows, there is no possible way for it to catch up with the seller of the goods. It has been used by many large mail order houses throughout the country as an advertising scheme.
