NUMBER 31.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

Able State Document Read to the Assembled Congress.

Country in Prosperous Condition and Surplus in Treasury.

Recommendations Regarding Cuba, Porto Rico and Philippine Islands.

Sound Money Advocated.

Washington, Dec. 5.—To the senate and house of representatives.—As the threshold of your deliberations you are called to mourn with your countrymen the death of Vice-President Hobart, who passed from this life on the morning of Nov. 21st, last. His great soul now rests in eternal peace. His private life was pure and elevated, while his public career was distinguished by large capacity, stainless integrity, and exalted motives. He has been removed from the high office which he honored and dignified, but his lofty character, his devotion to duty, his honesty of purpose, and noble virtues remain with us, as a priceless legacy and example.

The fifty-sixth congress convenes in its first regular session with the country in a condition of unusual prosperity, of universal good will among the people at home, and in relations of peace and friendship with every government of the world. Our foreign commerce has shown great increase in volume and value. The combined imports and exports for the year are the largest ever shown by a single year in all our history. Our exports for 1899 alone exceeded by more than a billion dollars our imports and exports combined in 1898. The imports per capita are twenty per cent. less than in 1870, while the exports per capita are 68 per cent. more than in 1870, showing the enlarged capacity of the United States to satisfy the wants of its own increasing population, as well as to contribute to those of the peoples of other nations.

EXPORTS.
Reports of agricultural products were $784,725,142. Of manufactured products we exported in value $339,292,146, being larger than any previous year. It is a noteworthy fact that the only years in our history when the products of our manufactures sold abroad exceeded those bought abroad were 1898 and 1899.

RECEIPTS.
Government receipts from all sources for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1899, including $11,798,314.14, part payment of the Central Pacific railroad indebtedness, aggregated $610,982,004.36. Customs receipts were $246,128,481.71, and those from internal revenue $273,437,161.51.

For the fiscal year the expenditures were $700,093,664.02, leaving a deficit of $89,111,559.67.

The secretary of the treasury estimated that the receipts for the current fiscal year will aggregate $640,937,112. The conditions of confidence with respect to the treasury are such that the public debt, the expenditures will aggregate $600,968,112, leaving a surplus of $40,000,000.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1899, the internal revenue receipts were increased about $100,000,000.

The present gratifying strength of the treasury is shown by the fact that on December 1, 1899, the available cash in the treasury was $278,004,837.72, of which $239,744,905.36 was in gold coin and bullion.

The conditions of confidence with respect to the treasury are such that the public debt, the expenditures will aggregate $600,968,112, leaving a surplus of $40,000,000.

The president, at length, speaks of the necessity for sound money legislation, and gives the reasons for purchasing and redeeming $25,000,000 government bonds.

He favors the extension of American shipping, and urges legislation to that end. He says: "Last year American vessels transported a smaller share of our exports than during any former year in all our history, and the measure of dependence upon foreign shipping was painfully manifested to our people. Without any choice of our own, but from necessity, the departments charged with military and naval operations in the east and west Indies had to obtain from foreign flags merchant vessels essential for those operations."

The president calls the attention of congress to the trusts, and urges legislation for their control.

"It is universally conceded that combinations which engross or control the market of any particular kind of merchandise or commodity necessary to the general community, by suppressing natural and ordinary competition, whereby the products are unduly enhanced in price, are obnoxious not only to the common law but also to the public welfare. There must be a remedy for the evils involved in such organizations."

FOREIGN RELATIONS.
The president congratulates the country on being at peace with all foreign nations, and reviews at length diplomatic relations with those governments. He reviews the progress made on the Nicaragua canal and urges participation in the Paris exposition next year.

In regard to the Canadian boundary dispute the president said: "By means of an executive agreement, a joint high commission has been created for the purpose of adjusting all unsettled questions between the United States and Canada, embracing twelve subjects, among which were the questions of the fur seals, the fisheries of the coast and contiguous waters, the Alaskan boundary, the transit of merchandise in bond, the alien labor laws, mining rights, reciprocity in trade, revision of the agreement respecting navigation in the great lakes, a more complete settlement of the boundary line, and provisions for the conveying of criminals, and for wrecking and salvage."

"Much progress has been made by the commission towards the adjustment of many of these questions, but it became apparent that an irreconcilable difference of views was entertained respecting the delimitation of the Alaskan boundary."

STRICT NEUTRALITY.
The president says: "This government has maintained an attitude of neutrality in the unfortunate contest between Great Britain and the Boer states of Africa. We have remained faithful to the precept of avoiding entangling alliances as to affairs not of our direct concern. Had circumstances suggested that the parties to the quarrel would have welcomed any kindly expression of the hope of the American people that the conflict might be averted, good offices would have been gladly tendered. The United States representative at Pretoria was early instructed to voice that sentiment, and interests are respected by the combatants. This has been an easy task in view of the positive declarations of both British and Boer governments that the personal and property rights of our citizens should be observed."

"Upon the withdrawal of the British agents from Pretoria the United States consul was authorized, upon the request of the British government and with the assent of the South African and Orange Free State governments, to exercise the customary good offices of a neutral for the care of British interests. In the discharge of this function I am happy to say that abundant opportunity has been afforded to show the impartiality of this government toward both the combatants."

The president urges the enactment of a law for the prosecution of individuals mistreating foreigners in this country, and details at length the incidents of a mob in Louisiana hanging five Italians, and the lack of federal law to prosecute the criminals.

PACIFIC OCEAN CABLE.
The president says that the "Japanese government has shown a lively interest in the proposed Pacific Cable company to add to its projected cable lines to Hawaii, Guam and the Philippines a branch connection with the coast of Japan. It would be a gratifying circumstance were the utility of the contemplated scheme enhanced by bringing Japan and the United States into direct telegraphic communication."

"Without repeating the observations of my special message of February 10, 1899, concerning the necessity of a cable to Manila, I respectfully invite attention to it."

"I recommend that in case the congress should not take measures to bring about this result by direct action of the government, the postmaster general be authorized to invite competitive bids for the establishment of a cable, the company making the best responsible bid to be awarded the contract; the successful company to give ample bonds to insure the completion of the work within a reasonable time."

RELATIONS WITH MEXICO.
The year has been marked by constant increase in the intimacy of our relations with Mexico and in the magnitude of mutually advantageous interchanges. This government has omitted no opportunity to show its strong desire to develop and perpetuate the ties of cordiality now so long happily unbroken."

Following the termination on January 20, 1899, by Mexico of the convention of extradition of December 11, 1891, a new treaty more in accordance with the actual needs of both countries, was signed February 27, 1899, and exchanged in the city of Mexico on the 23d of April last. Its operation thus far has been effective and satisfactory. A recent case has served to test the application of its 14th article, which provides that neither party shall be bound to deliver up its own citizens, but that the executive authority of each shall have the power to deliver them up if in its discretion it be deemed proper to do so.

The extradition of Mrs. Mattie Rich, a citizen of the United States, charged with homicide, committed in Mexico, was, after mature consideration, directed by me in the conviction that the ends of justice would thereby be subserved.

Similar action, on appropriate occasion, by the Mexican executive will not only tend to accomplish the desire of both governments that grave crimes go unpunished, but also to repress lawless men along the border of the two countries.

The new treaty stipulates that neither government shall assume jurisdiction in the punishment of crimes committed exclusively within the territory of the other. This will obviate in future the embarrassing controversies which have heretofore arisen through Mexico's assertion of a claim to try and punish an American citizen for an offense committed within the jurisdiction of the United States.

The international water boundary commission, organized by the convention of March 1, 1899, for the adjustment of questions affecting the Rio Grande frontier, has not yet completed its labors. A further extension of its term for one year, until December 31, 1899, was effected by a convention signed December 1, 1898, and exchanged and proclaimed in February last.

SAMOA ANNEXATION.
The president relates at length the situation in the Samoan Islands, which led to the partition of those islands by the United States, Germany and Great Britain.

RELATIONS WITH SPAIN.
The president says: "My annual message of last year was necessarily devoted in great part to a consideration of the Spanish war and of the results it wrought and the conditions it imposed for the future. I am gratified to announce that the treaty of peace has restored friendly relations between the powers. Friendly relations have been given to the provisions. The evacuation of Porto Rico having already been accomplished on the 15th of October 1898, nothing remained necessary there but to continue the provisional military control of the island until the congress should enact a suitable government for the ceded territory."

FUTURE OF CUBA.
The president says: "This subject has assumed before the world a grave responsibility for the future good government of Cuba. We have accepted a trust, the fulfillment of which calls for the sternest integrity of purpose and the exercise of the highest wisdom. The new Cuba yet to arise from the ashes of the past must be bound to the principles of the republic. Whatever be the outcome we must see to it that free Cuba be a reality, not a name; a perfect entity, not a half experiment, bearing within itself the elements of future greatness."

"On the 19th of August last, an order was made for the taking of the census in the island, to be completed on the 30th of November. By the treaty of peace the Spanish people on the island have until April 11, 1900, to elect whether they will remain citizens of Spain or become citizens of Cuba. Until then it cannot be definitely ascertained who shall be entitled to participate in the formation of the government of Cuba."

"For the relief of the distressed in the island of Cuba the war department has issued supplies to destitute persons through the officers of the army, which have amounted to $4,000,000, at a cost of $1,415,594.97."

THE ARMY.
Since my last annual message and in obedience to the acts of the congress of April 22, 25, 1898, the remaining volunteer force for the Spanish war, consisting of 34,834 regulars and 110,222 volunteers with over two thousand volunteer officers, has been discharged from military service. Of the volunteers 697 officers and 189,163 men were serving in the Philippines and 1,650 of the regulars who were entitled to be mustered out after the ratification of the treaty of peace. They voluntarily remained at the front until their places could be filled by new troops."

PORTO RICO.
The president urges the necessity for legislation regarding the government of the Hawaiian Islands, Alaska and Porto Rico, specifying many disadvantages under which the people of those territories now laboring. Porto Rico he said: "She has lost in her free later course with Spain and Cuba without any compensating benefits in this market. The markets of the United States should be opened up to her products. Our plain duty is to abolish all customs tariffs between the United States and Porto Rico and give her products free access to our market."

THE PHILIPPINES.
After relating the exciting events transpired up to the coming of the Philippine archipelago to the United States, the president mentioned various orders and proclamations issued by him, assuring the Philippines the friendly intentions of this government and the subsequent sending of commissioners to assist in the formation of a satisfactory government. He said: "The Philippine archipelago has been created a position full of embarrassment for us and most grievous to the consequences to the partition of those islands. It has been promised independence by the American commissioning the present situation he quotes from the report of the commissioners as follows: 'The commission is of the opinion that there has been no direct or indirect interference of the Spanish government with the Philippine archipelago. The inhabitants when it was possible to withdraw our forces from the islands, either with honor or with safety, the United States has been given to the most important provisions. The evacuation of Porto Rico having already been accomplished on the 15th of October 1898, nothing remained necessary there but to continue the provisional military control of the island until the congress should enact a suitable government for the ceded territory.'"

He gave a detailed account of the provisions of the commission established in the island of Negros and in the Sulu archipelago, which he said have proved highly successful. Said he: "The future government in the Philippines rests with the congress of the United States, and few graver responsibilities have ever been confided to us. If we accept them in the spirit worthy of our race and our traditions, great opportunities will be ours. The islands lie under the shelter of our flag. They are ours by every title of law and equity. They cannot be abandoned. If we desert them we leave them at once to anarchy and finally to barbarism. We fling them, a golden apple of discord among rival powers, one of which could permit another to seize them. Unquestioned. Their rich plains and valleys would be the scene of endless strife and bloodshed. The present day's fleet in Manila Bay instead of being as we hope the dawn of a new day of freedom and progress, will have been the beginning of an era of misery and violence worse than any which has darkened their unhappy past. The suggestion has been made that we could renounce our authority over the islands and by giving them independence could render a protracted over them. This proposition will not be found, I am sure, worthy of your serious attention. Such arrangement would in fact be the outlet of a cruel breach of faith. It would place a peaceful and loyal majority who ask nothing better than to accept authority at the mercy of armed insurgents. It would make us responsible for the acts of the insurgent leaders and give us no power to control them. It would charge us with the task of protecting them against each other and defending them against any foreign power with which they choose to quarrel. In short, it would take from the congress of the United States the power of declaring war and invest that tremendous prerogative to the leader of the house. It does not seem desirable that I should recommend at this time a specific and final form of government for those islands. When peace shall be restored it will be the duty of congress to construct a plan of government which shall establish and maintain freedom and order and peace in the Philippines."

DEATH OF SENATOR HAYWARD.

New York, Dec. 5.—A special from Hong Kong to the Evening World says that the Philippines there have announced that Aginaldo is ready to surrender if Consul Wildman will receive him at Manila. The Philippine junta last week advised Aginaldo to throw himself on the mercy of the United States.

END OF FILIPINO INSURRECTION.
Manila, Dec. 5.—General Hughes now occupies Santa Barbara and Cebu and the island of Panay, his lines extending thirty-five miles north of Iloilo. He has occupied twenty towns. The inhabitants are returning with white flags, their fear of the Americans diminishing as they learn that they will be well treated. It is impossible to get the insurgents to fight. They are retreating to the mountains. No more organized resistance is expected. General Hughes continues advancing north, spreading his lines.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.
The president relates at length the situation in the Samoan Islands, which led to the partition of those islands by the United States, Germany and Great Britain.

RELATIONS WITH SPAIN.
The president says: "My annual message of last year was necessarily devoted in great part to a consideration of the Spanish war and of the results it wrought and the conditions it imposed for the future. I am gratified to announce that the treaty of peace has restored friendly relations between the powers. Friendly relations have been given to the provisions. The evacuation of Porto Rico having already been accomplished on the 15th of October 1898, nothing remained necessary there but to continue the provisional military control of the island until the congress should enact a suitable government for the ceded territory."

FUTURE OF CUBA.
The president says: "This subject has assumed before the world a grave responsibility for the future good government of Cuba. We have accepted a trust, the fulfillment of which calls for the sternest integrity of purpose and the exercise of the highest wisdom. The new Cuba yet to arise from the ashes of the past must be bound to the principles of the republic. Whatever be the outcome we must see to it that free Cuba be a reality, not a name; a perfect entity, not a half experiment, bearing within itself the elements of future greatness."

"On the 19th of August last, an order was made for the taking of the census in the island, to be completed on the 30th of November. By the treaty of peace the Spanish people on the island have until April 11, 1900, to elect whether they will remain citizens of Spain or become citizens of Cuba. Until then it cannot be definitely ascertained who shall be entitled to participate in the formation of the government of Cuba."

"For the relief of the distressed in the island of Cuba the war department has issued supplies to destitute persons through the officers of the army, which have amounted to $4,000,000, at a cost of $1,415,594.97."

THE ARMY.
Since my last annual message and in obedience to the acts of the congress of April 22, 25, 1898, the remaining volunteer force for the Spanish war, consisting of 34,834 regulars and 110,222 volunteers with over two thousand volunteer officers, has been discharged from military service. Of the volunteers 697 officers and 189,163

ALBUQUERQUE, — — DEC. 5, 1909

The Bowtell Register is thirteen years old, and is one of the very best weekly papers in New Mexico.

The Sierra Blanca mine, near Garland, Colo., is 14,000 feet above sea level, and is said to be the highest mine in the United States.

The legislature of this territory has enacted many excellent laws, but it depends on the officials and the people to enforce them.

This city is the center of the holiday trade of New Mexico. This year the merchants are placing on sale the greatest variety ever seen in the territory.

The CITIZEN publishes to-day only the principal portions of the President's message. It is an able document, and shows that the country is in prosperous condition.

The University of Chicago is looking for generous donors to make it a present of $150,000 before January 1 in order to give Mr. Rockefeller a chance to double that amount by giving a like sum.

NEW MEXICO, and especially the Rio Grande valley, is enjoying an open winter, with clear warm days. On the top of the highest mountains snow is visible, but none has fallen in the valley.

The substitution of regular troops for volunteers in the Philippine service has had the very gratifying effect of practically eliminating the scandalous quarrels between officers and men which in the past few months have been so frequent.

The individual deposits in the national banks of the United States according to the report of the comptroller of the currency increased 419 million dollars in the year ending September 7, 1909, and on that date amounted to 2,450 million dollars.

DURING the year 1909 the sum of $13,086,150 was given to American colleges by gift or donation. So far this year gifts of like nature reach the large total of $8,584,174. Thirty-seven persons have each given $100,000 and upward, and eight persons have given more than one million dollars each.

At Buffalo's Pan-American exposition, to be held from May to November, 1901, it is proposed to bring together representatives of all aboriginal tribes from Alaska to Patagonia. Another feature planned is an exhibit of the architecture of all American nations. Peru has agreed to transfer its Paris display to Buffalo.

THE total income for the Philadelphia mint during November was $3,046,070, which represents 10,415,290 separate coins. Of the gold coin to the value of $1,008,620, there was 107,420 eagles; 99,300 half eagles and 1,520 quarter eagles. In silver there was a total of 1,183,000 coined, 1,142,000 being half dollar pieces, 1,158,000 quarters, and 2,340,000 dimes. The month's coinage of nickels was valued at $141,500, while 11,387,000 pennies were made.

BLOODIEST BATTLE. The English in this century have had few wars with white men, and hardly realize what it is to meet with men who stand up and fight to the death. Gen. Methuen telegraphed to England that he had fought the bloodiest battle of the century. He did not lose five hundred men.

The battle of Giorita fought in this territory in 1862 was as bloody as any of the English-South African battle. It is considered a skirmish in the annals of the civil war.

At the battle of Shiloh there were about 36,000 men engaged on each side. Of these, about 22,000 were put hors du combat.

At Gettysburg each side had about 100,000 men in battle. Pickett made a charge upon the Union lines with 20,000 Confederate soldiers and he left one-half of them in the field of battle. The casualties in that battle amounted to over 64,000.

At Chancellorsville they amounted to above 28,000. There were incidents in our civil war in which regiments lost upwards of 100 men in ten minutes. Farnsworth's famous charge under the direction of General Kirkpatrick cost nearly 300 lives in ten minutes. These figures are quoted largely from memory, but are substantially correct.

These battles were fought nearly forty years ago with old fashioned Springfield rifles. It would be appalling what would have taken place if the men who fought at Gettysburg and Shiloh would have met with modern arms.

To get at really bloody battles, where undiminished nerve was developed, the annals of the American army and navy must not be overlooked.

During the entire civil war the Union side lost 95,000 men killed in battle, and 184,000 who died of disease during the war. There were in all 1,600,000 men engaged on the Union side, and nearly 1,000,000 on that of the Confederacy.

A New Year's Guide.
There is one book every one should make an effort to get for the new year. It contains simple and valuable hints concerning health, many amusing anecdotes, and much general information. We refer to Hostetter's Almanac, published by The Hostetter Co., Pittsburgh, Pa. It will prove valuable to any household. Fifty copies are kept at work on this valuable book. The issue for 1910 will be over eight millions, printed in the English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Italian, Bohemian and Spanish languages. It contains proof of the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the great remedy prepared by the publisher, and is worthy of careful preservation. The almanac may be obtained free of cost, of any druggist or general dealer in the territory.

A Pleasant Trip.
Rev. Mr. Harwood has just returned from an extended trip to the interior of New Mexico, where he has been at work in his capacity as a missionary. He has been to the Navajo reservation—this school and mission is for the Navajos, and is under the auspices of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of America. Mr. Harwood is a member of the church. The teachers are Miss Margaret Tripp and Miss Fannie E. Rykert. There are several buildings at this mission. At night about half a mile from the first named school, he dedicated the chapel of the buildings of the Woman's Home Missionary Society. These are nice buildings, costing some $3,000. Connected with these buildings is a hospital for sick Navajos, also an industrial school building, where cooking, sewing and basketry are taught the Navajo women. Fifty employees are kept at work under a skilled lady teacher. Mrs. Mary L. Aldridge, who is also government matron for the Navajos, has charge of the last named school. The Indians have great respect for the women teachers. On his way home Mr. Harwood spent Nov. 25th and 30th at the Dulce mission on the Apache reservation. He preached Wednesday night at the mission, and the next day, being Thanksgiving, preached Thanksgiving sermon to a good audience of children and grown people of American, Mexican and Apache Indians. This school is also under the auspices of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of America. The Misses Moore and Clegg are the teachers, with assistants, and are doing a grand work. They have about twenty students boarding in the institution, and a host of outside scholars.

THE MODERN MOTHER.
Has found that her little ones are improved more by the pleasant Syrup of Figs, when in need of the laxative effect of a remedy, than by any other. The Children enjoy it and it builds up the system. The remedy, Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

Secure of Outfits for Children that Don't Contain Mercury.
As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when introduced through the mucous surfaces, such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is sold in bottles, and is in bottles in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle.

NERVOUS DISEASES
At the solicitation of physicians who do not make a specialty of this distressing class of diseases, we have opened a Correspondence Department and will treat patients by mail.

Our Specialties Are
Nervous Diseases, Loss of Nerve Power, Mental Weakness, Loss of Sexual Power, All diseases and weaknesses of the Reproductive Organs (male and female). All confidential cases. No professional fees charged. Lady physicians in charge of ladies' department. Our principal preparation contains the extract "Ambrosia Orientalis," which is imported from the East Indies solely by ourselves. Invalids, convalescents, public persons, and all who are afflicted with nervous diseases (pleasing intricate cases), athletes and students will appreciate this permanent stimulant to the nervous force.

The value of this extract as a powerful nerve and tonic, and a powerful stimulant of the reproductive organs in both sexes, cannot be overestimated. It is an antidote to the organs of generation, both a recuperator and a preserver of health. It is the native and has been a secret in all the countries where it is used. The standard of polygamy.

Letters after using this preparation for years with unvarying success.
San Pedro, Dec. 3, 1909.—As the Christmas time approaches, active preparations are going on in the various homes in the village for this happy festival. Mrs. J. McLaughlin will entertain at her home on Christmas with a tree and an appropriate program.

Mrs. McNulty gave a Thanksgiving program at her school at the day preceding that holiday. COUNCIL MEETING.
Contracts for New Cement Sidewalks Awarded—Other Matters.
At the city hall last evening a regular meeting of the council was held, at which all members were present except Alderman McKee. Marshal McMillin was appointed clerk pro tem, owing to the absence of City Clerk Medley.

With the addition of sidewalk resolutions, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The finance committee made its report on bills rendered.

A petition, signed by thirty-six property owners, to grade south Argo street to Wheelock avenue, was read by R. P. Hall. The matter was referred to the street committee.

The petition from A. B. McMillin was read by Mayor Marron, offering the city block 2 in Terrace addition, between Gold and Silver avenues, if the city will maintain it as a park. The petition was referred to a special committee consisting of Messrs. Burkhardt, Leonard and Tierney.

The petition to lay a new cement sidewalk on south Kith street from Railroad to Wheelock avenue, was referred to the street committee.

A petition to extend the water main on First street from Railroad to Copper avenues, was referred to the water committee for investigation and report on same at the next regular meeting of the council.

A communication from Annie Holton was read, in which she requests the payment of a reward for the apprehension and arrest of the young man, Jolly, who is charged with turning in a false fire alarm. The council was advised by the city attorney that no reward could be paid until the man was convicted. The clerk was instructed to inform the communicant of the action.

On motion of Councilman Burkhardt, the city clerk was ordered to draw a warrant for $1,350 in favor of the district clerk for payment of rental of the city building.

In the case of Stamm vs. the City of Albuquerque, the city attorney was ordered to represent the city before the supreme court. He was allowed the sum of $100 as expenses and fees.

A balance of $11,197.68 was shown by the city treasurer's report. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

The report of the city marshal for November was read and referred to the police committee.

A special committee made its report on sidewalk on the west side of Broadway from Washington avenue north and recommended that the same be built. On motion of Councilman Kleke the report was accepted.

By instructions from the council the city marshal will notify persons on the sewer line, who have not made the requisite connection, that the ordinance would be enforced if not complied with.

As no bids for asphalt crossings were received, it was decided to re-advertise.

A contract was let to James McCorrison for the building of a cement sidewalk abutting the property of F. L. Pearce on east Railroad avenue. The cost is $100.

George & Quier was awarded the contract for the placing of street signs, their bid being $40.

The city was ordered to advertise for bids for the building of a sidewalk abutting on south Third street.

A special committee was appointed to investigate the advisability of a building committee.

The city clerk was directed to advertise for bids for the construction of a plank sidewalk on the north side of Washington avenue, abutting property belonging to Father Gentile.

The street cleaning was directed to investigate and report on the advisability and cost of planting trees on streets.

Just a Cough
Not worth paying attention to, you say. Perhaps you have had it for weeks. It's annoying because you have a constant desire to cough. It annoys you also because you remember that weak lungs is a family failing. At first it is a slight cough. At last it is a hoarse "see." At last it is easy to cure. At last, extremely difficult.

Ager's Cherry Pectoral quickly conquers your little hacking cough. There is no doubt about the cure now. Doubt comes from neglect. For over half a century Ager's Cherry Pectoral has been curing colds and coughs and preventing consumption. It cures Consumption also if taken in time.

Keep one of Ager's Cherry Pectoral Plasters over your lungs if you cough.

Boy Hurt at Friesco.
Last Sunday afternoon a week ago, at Friesco, in Socorro county, a boy about ten years old got his left leg broken. A spring wagon was passing in front of his house and he ran to jump on the wagon. When he had his foot on the axle it slipped and the wheel caught his left leg, which was broken in two. Dr. Grover was called and amputated the leg. He says the boy will be well in a few days.

"One Minute Cough Cure" is the best remedy I ever used for coughs and colds. It is unequalled for whooping cough, children all like it. "Writes H. N. Williams, Georgetown, Ind. Never fails. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Cures coughs, colds, hoarseness, croup, pneumonia, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Its early use prevents consumption. LAST NIGHT'S FIRE.

Appears to be a Mysterious One in More Ways Than One.

The mocking bird whistle was sounded again last night and the fire department responded to the call. The furnished room dwelling of James Stewart at the corner of Edith street and Wheelock avenue was found to be on fire. Mrs. Padon and family were the occupants of the house, but at that particular time they were at the depot awaiting the arrival of friends. The origin of the fire appears to be a mystery, as evidence points to the fact that it was first discovered under the floor of a room adjoining that in which was placed a stove and a lighted lamp. The greater portion of the furniture was saved from the ruins, while the loss to the building is estimated at about $200. There was $200 insurance on the building. The family, who were still in waiting at the depot, were notified at 10 o'clock of the conflagration.

BOARD OF EDUCATION WINS.

Judge Crumpacker Dismisses Case of Trustees Snyder Against the Board.

In the case of Karl A. Snyder vs. the board of education, Judge Crumpacker held that the answer of the board constitutes a complete defense to Mr. Snyder's claim and dismissed the case. Mr. Snyder has taken an appeal to the territorial supreme court. Mr. Snyder is a trustee of the school board. Hon. Neil B. Field represented the board of education.
