READY FOR BUSINESS

J. G. Halapleus, General Manager and Engineer Capital Light and Power Co., Here.

TO ASSEMBLE MATERIAL

Under the Franchise Granted Work Upon the Project Must Be Commenced by November 1.

James G. Halapleus of Toledo, Ohio, general manager and engineer of the Capital Light and Power company, arrived last evening from his eastern home and will extend his visit here for several weeks. Mr. Halapleus has visited several manufacturing centers as well as the city of Denver looking after and inspecting the necessary electrical appliances and machinery needed to put into active operation the objects and workings of his company. Under the franchise granted by the cities of Santa Fe and Las Vegas, active work upon the project will have to be commenced by November the first and this will be done, although the main work cannot, in the very nature of things, on account of the difficulties encountered in the Pecos region in winter, be carried along actively until next spring. In the meantime material and machinery will be assembled both in this city and in Las Vegas and as much work as can possibly be done during the winter months will be done. The objects of the company are well known to the citizens of Santa Fe and Las Vegas. These are to erect power houses on the falls of the Pecos river about fourteen miles east of this city and to furnish light and electric power for manufacturing purposes to the two cities named and to surrounding mining districts.

Draughtsmen are now at work preparing the plans and specifications of the power houses, electric lines and everything else necessary. The electric line between this city and the site of the power houses at the Pecos falls will be constructed first. The line will consist of forty poles to the mile and will carry three copper wires of sufficient strength to transmit a current of twelve hundred horse power for the use of this city alone. The poles will also carry a long distance telephone wire between this city and Las Vegas and telephones will be put in for commercial and private use. The contract for the buildings at the site of the power houses will be let early during the coming year. Bids will be advertised and the work will be given to the lowest responsible bidder. There is no fuss and feathers about this matter now but it has come down to an absolute and plain business proposition. The Capital Light and Power company will carry out its objects just as promptly as the necessary machinery can be obtained and as the work can be done in a good

DEMAND RETURN OF GENERAL CHASE

Representative of Mine Owners Declare He Can End Unsettled Conditions in Short Order.

Denver, Oct. 10.—Adjutant General Sherman Bell reached Denver this morning and will have a conference with Governor Peabody during the day. An attempt will be made to bring General Bell and Chase together to the end that the difficulties in the National Guard may be adjusted.

A representative of the mine owners in Cripple Creek called on Governor Peabody today and insisted on the return of General Chase to the command of the troops at Cripple Creek. He said General Chase could end the matter in a few weeks if he had charge of the guard, but if the campaign is not conducted with more vigor than during the last few days it will take six or seven months.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETS.

Question of Unequal Freight Rates Referred to the Committee on Railroads.

A large and energetic meeting of the Santa Fe Board of Trade was held last evening at their room in the Sena block. President Prince, Secretary Townsend and about twenty members being present.

The committee on railroad transportation reported that its efforts to have train No. 7 stop regularly at Cerrillos, so that citizens of that town can do business conveniently in Santa Fe, had been crowned with success; and the matter of trains from Lamy to connect with the "flyer" was refused to that committee.

Mr. Seligman brought up the subject of unequal freight rates, which was properly referred; and Secretary Townsend reported that the committee was now in conference with railroad authorities on a similar matter.

The president reported a series of amendments to the by-laws, which were taken up section by section and acted upon. Their careful consideration consumed over an hour. Messrs. Sparks, Palen, H. B. Cartwright, S. G. Cartwright, Spitz, Sena, Schumann, Seligman, Renahan, Townsend, Rivenburg, and others taking an active part in the discussions. These amendments systematizing the work of the board and introduce a number of improvements which will tend to efficient action. They facilitate the election of members, fix definitely the duties of officers, arrange for standing and special committee and systematize the receipt and payment of money. It was voted to print the revised by-laws with list of members and committees forthwith.

Twenty new members who had been nominated at the preceding meeting, were then elected, and Messrs Jacob Weltmer and Arthur Staab nominated, and subsequently elected, under the

STORM HAS BLOCKED EASTERN TRAFFIC

On Account of High Water at Trenton, N. J., Train Service on Pennsylvania Between Philadelphia and New York Has Been Temporarily Abandoned.

Philadelphia, Oct. 10.—The following bulletin was posted at the Pennsylvania railroad station today: "The Pennsylvania railroad announces that on account of the high water at Trenton, N. J., the train service between Philadelphia and New York City will be temporarily abandoned, except to Bristol, Pa."

No trains have reached this city over the Pennsylvania railroad since midnight last night, because of the floods at Trenton, where the tracks of the company are six feet under water. The Pennsylvania railroad has not had reports of the damage at any other point along its lines. At the Delaware breakwater today the wind was still blowing fifty miles per hour. Thus far no disasters to shipping are reported.

Delaware River Still Rising. Trenton, N. J., Oct. 10.—The heavy flood which last night caused the suspension of through traffic on the Pennsylvania had subsided somewhat at 10 o'clock, but not sufficiently to permit the running of trains. The Trenton Street Railroad company, whose power house flooded by the rising waters in the creek expects to resume at noon. The Delaware river is still rising, and the southern section of the city is in danger of being flooded. Scores of cellars along the river front are flooded and on Fair street the water is up to the first floor of the houses.

Using Boats at Duttonville. Passaic, N. J., Oct. 10.—The village of Duttonville, near here, was one of the worst sufferers yesterday, but so far as is known there was no loss of life. Over a hundred houses were swept away. The village of Wallington, a suburb of this city was submerged from six to twelve feet, and the inhabitants went about in boats today. At least a hundred houses were moved from their foundations and in some cases turned over.

New York, Oct. 10.—It is feared that there has been considerable loss of life in the village of Duttonville, N. J., through the bursting of the Westbrook dam in Passaic river yesterday. Scores of houses were swept away. Twenty-five persons are not accounted for. The town of Wallington is from two to six feet under water and 300 families are homeless.

HO, FOR BIG HIGH LINE EXCURSION

Ho for the big excursion over the Santa Fe Central. The Capital City band, and a host of excursionists who are willing and anxious to take advantage of the exceedingly low rate offered for the trip, will leave the temporary station of the Santa Fe Central at eight o'clock tomorrow morning, and spend the day on a trip over the new high line, and mark the progress that has been made through the Estancia valley, since the advent of the iron horse. The management has arranged to cater to the patronage of women and children, and no intoxicated or disorderly persons will be permitted to remain on the train, after their presence has been made known. "Come one and all, and bring well filled lunch baskets" is the invitation extended by the Santa Fe Central officials.

COAL MINERS STRIKE IN THIS DISTRICT

It Will Affect Nearly 25,000 Men in Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico and Utah.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 10.—The strike of coal miners of the Colorado district which was authorized at Indianapolis yesterday will affect nearly 25,000 men in Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico and Utah.

The strike has been anticipated by the coal owners for some time and they have considered measures for its suppression.

In this state as the militia is employed at Cripple Creek, it is probable federal troops will be called upon to guard the mines. The whole trouble is precipitated by the refusal of the mine owners to confer with the union.

Morrow, his stenographer and confidential man, who was indicted yesterday on the charge of aiding and abetting naturalization frauds, arrived at St. Louis today and stated he would sign bond for Morrow's appearance for trial under the charges. ## INDIAN YARNS BY PIONEER

Old Timer Recalls a Rarid Made in the Comanche Country by a Navajo Chief.

WERE AVOWED ENEMIES

Peculiar and Mysterious Operations That Were Charged to Government Agents of Navajos.

"It was in the days of the pioneer," said the Old Timer, "that deeds of personal valor were of more or less an every day occurrence. I remember away back in the sixties there was a Navajo, known by the name of Pedro who went alone into the Comanche country and made a raid upon the camp of his avowed enemies. This Navajo selected ten of the best horses from the Comanche drove and succeeded in bringing them across the plain and mountain to his native heath. The distance covered was about four hundred miles and this remarkable feat was performed single handed by the redoubtable Navajo. But while Pedro was hailed with acclaim and accorded every mark of distinction known among the Indians because of the exhibition of his prowess, he was not alone among the brave members of his tribe. There was another Navajo chief, named Manuelito, who possessed probably a greater influence over his tribesmen than any other. Manuelito was an orator born. His power over the Navajos was one of the remarkable features of Indian life in his time. Tall and majestic, with the eloquence of a Clay or Webster, he could command the attention of a council, then sway the people at will. His popularity was unbounded and his position in disputes, either among the people of his tribe or with outsiders was always that of an advocate and spokesman for his people. He was a shrewd man, and carried his points well. If there was a dispute with an agent or the government representatives of the reservation the persuasive eloquence of Manuelito was not exercised in vain for he generally got what he wanted. Manuelito had nine wives, but of course, that was only another evidence of how favorably he was regarded by the Navajos and especially the squaws.

"And speaking of this, reminds me that while the Indian is generally regarded as stoical he is just about as susceptible to the tender passions as is the rest of mankind. There is an endless record of daring feats that have been performed by the earnest wooer that he alone might have the favor of the dusky maiden, he would wed. Nor were daring feats of skill and valor used to find favor, but frequently a formidable rival was quietly disposed of and no one was the wiser. But in some instances the pangs of an

MUST STOP RAID ON TRADES UNION SAVINGS

Organized Capital Through Its Anti-Boycott and Employees Association Ordered to Halt, or Withdrawal of $300,000,000 Will Follow.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—"Organized capital, through its anti-boycott and employees association, must stop its raid on the savings of trades union or the union men will withdraw $300,000,000 from the banks." Such is the statement made by Thomas I. Kidd, president of the American Federation of Labor, after investigating the damage suits which the American anti-boycott association and the employers association have filed against the trade unions within the last few months.

Mr. Kidd estimates that it is within the power of union labor to throw the country into a financial panic by taking from circulation $300,000,000 which he says labor controls.

and substantial manner. The necessary poles for the first fourteen miles of line have already been arranged for and will be delivered within six weeks. The company has asked a certain amount of local support, part of which has been given, and the remainder is expected to be forthcoming this coming week. The projectors and capitalists in Toledo and New York who are behind the company will, of course, put up the major portion of the capital necessary in the construction of the company's work and it is expected and hoped that the citizens of Santa Fe and of Las Vegas will come up to what is asked of them and will subscribe the amount thought necessary by the company. The citizens of the Capital and of the Meadow City should bear in mind that the stock of the company, it is expected, will be worth fully double its face value in three months after the completion and after operation has commenced and the company not only proposes to make but will make the stock a permanent and good investment and one of the best paying in the Southwest.

AMERICA IS NO LONGER A BORROWING NATION.

Within ten years there has been a complete revolution in financial affairs. Before that time no bond issue could have been floated exclusively in this country either by the government or by any of the great railroads. European help was absolutely indispensable. Now America stands alone without needing help from any foreign nation.

Since the present boom began Great Britain "allotted" a part of its war loan to America. Imperial German and Austrian bonds, and German and Swiss and Swedish municipal bonds were and are offered for sale in New York by various firms; the Russian government "listed" on the New York Stock Exchange 2,310,000,000 rubles of its four per cent bonds for American investors. The Mexican national debt was "converted" by New York bankers.

All this has been accomplished under Republican financial policy. Who has any fault to find? The United States is no longer a borrowing nation, she has become rich enough to lend money to all Europe and she is doing so. Who would not rather be a lender than a borrower?

CLEAN AND HONEST GOVERNMENT.

Since 1896 this county has enjoyed a clean and honest government. For the first four years of this period, the board of county commissioners was entirely Republican, but since January 1, 1901, it has consisted of two Republicans and one Democrat. Since that date, especially, every account has been paid in full, up to date, and the county expenses have been kept down to a minimum.

From 1896 to 1901 great improvement was made over previous years, the expenses were being gradually reduced, and financial matters more carefully, economically and prudently handled. The years 1901 and 1902 were record breakers, the general expenses of Santa Fe county being kept down during these years to less than $8,000 per annum.

This is quite a contrast when compared with Bernalillo county, and a refreshing and satisfactory one at that. This fact also shows that with good officials, small counties are better, more efficiently and more economically governed than are those having extensive areas.

UNCLE SAM'S STEADY PROSPERITY.

We are indebted to the Saturday Evening Post, for these marvelous figures to which we especially invite the attention of our readers:

In the five fiscal years of the United States treasury department from June 1896, to June, 1901, we bought from the world $3,750,542,752; we sold to the world during the same five years $6,277,196,032. The balance in our favor was $2,526,653,280. It was more than all the present gold mines of the entire world at the current rate of output could produce in twenty-five years! There wasn't enough cash available to pay for Europe's purchases of American products; so Europe began to send back the old American I. O. U's—the mortgages on our railroads, on our farms, on our factories. American securities came back to America.

For the first time in history industrial America found itself free of foreign debt. Optimists grew doubtful at this unexampled and continued prosperity. Three years ago the shrewdest men, thinking the upward swing of the pendulum had gone far enough, looked for the downward stroke. Today many do not think it has begun.

It would be interesting to see how Calamity Howler Bryan and his horde of pessimists could figure national adversity out of such statistics as those.

There seems to be something in a name after all. Among the men who are connected with the town site and bridge building scandals in the Indian Territory are Messrs. Stringfellow, Soper and Huckleberry.

It is said that Richard Croker is coming back to New York to take a hand in the present municipal campaign in Gotham. If this report proves true the fusion ticket will be benefited.

It is no small item in the progress of the irrigation propaganda, to consider that fifteen hundred representative citizens of the west met recently at Ogden, Utah, and for four days listened to able speeches on the subject of irrigation, forestry and flood waters. It was a liberal education to them all, and will certainly do a lot of good to the cause.

Chairman W. S. Hopewell of the Democratic Territorial Central committee has appointed reception committees of prominent Democrats at Raton, Las Vegas and in this city to welcome and be with the Hearst party of Congressmen when they arrive in these places Wednesday next. Mr. Hopewell simply did this because Mr. Hearst is a prominent Democrat and a strong statehood advocate. These committees are to co-operate with citizens committees in each of the towns named. They will not intrude nor make themselves prominent but will act in their capacity as citizens. Local committees will be aided and assisted by them in the best possible manner but will not in any way be interfered with.

HANDICAPPED.

The man who started to run a race in chains and fetters would be visibly handicapped. No one would expect him to succeed. The man who runs the race of life when his digestive and nutritive organs are diseased is equally handicapped. In the one case his strength is over-weighted, in the other it is under-mined. Success demands above all else a sound stomach.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. When this is done food is perfectly digested and assimilated and the body receives strength in the only way in which strength can be given—by the nutrition derived from digested and assimilated food.

"The praise I would like to give your 'Golden Medical Discovery' I cannot utter in words or describe with pen," writes James B. Ambrose, Esq., of 100 1/2 Mifflin Street, Huntingdon, Pa. "I was taken with what our physicians here said was indigestion. I doctored with the best around here and found no relief. I wrote to you and you sent me a question blank to fill out, and I did so, and you then advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took three bottles and I felt so good that I stopped, being cured. I have no symptoms of gastric trouble or indigestion now."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good."

The life of the average Territorial saloon keeper is not wholly devoid of interest or excitement. One was recently killed in Roswell for refusing to give a man a drink and in Santa Rita one was visited by three masked men at midnight and separated from some six hundred dollars.

There will be "something doing" in this vicinity for the next two weeks. Beginning with the Santa Fe Central excursion tomorrow, followed by a week at the Territorial fair at Albuquerque, and ending with the grand street carnival lasting a week, there ought to be enough to drive dull care into the middle of the next week at least.

The Housekeeper speaking of typhoid says: "The subject is not confined to water alone, but includes ice as well, for many of the germs and organic impurities of water are not destroyed by freezing, and impure ice added to pure water contaminates it. This is particularly true of the typhoid germ." Surely now the danger from this source is easily obviated. All one has to do is to boil the ice before adding it to the water.

MRS. HELENA BLAU, Young Milwaukee Society Woman.

TEN thousand cured women have written to tell how Wine of Cardui bestows the blessing of health on every woman who takes it, rich and poor alike. Mrs. Helena Blau, No. 123 Seventh Street, Milwaukee, Wis., is one of the young women whom Wine of Cardui has rescued from a life of suffering. She writes:

"Wine of Cardui is certainly 'woman's best friend' and I am pleased to give my experience with it. A few months ago I caught a severe cold, having been out in inclement weather, which settled all over me, particularly in the abdomen. I was in almost constant pain. I consulted a physician and took his medicine for a month and without any relief. I then decided I would try your medicine and it was a lucky day for me when I did so. I noticed a change in a few days and felt encouraged to continue taking Wine of Cardui, and my patience was rewarded, for in two weeks my pains had left me and I felt like a new woman."

THAT TAMPA VEIN STRIKE

It Has Proved to be More Valuable Than the Operators Dared Hope For

TROUBLE AT JAWBONE

Solid Formation Does Not Permit the Diamond Drill To Work As It Should

The Mining Reporter published at Tres Piedras brings further particulars of the strike made on the Tampa in the Bromide district last week. Among other things it says: "The strike made on the Tampa vein has proved to be more valuable even than the operators dared hope for. The vein is a little short of thirteen feet in width, over twelve feet of solid ore. The ore is a good concentrator from the start and increases in value toward the hanging wall. The last four feet of the vein carries very rich sulphides of copper and can be shipped at good profit. No assay has yet been made from this strike but from assays made in the upper cross cuts there is no difficulty in placing a fair value on it. The ore is practically the same as in the upper levels though where there was probably eighteen inches of the rich streak in the upper levels there is four feet in the lower. No portion of the vein will run less than $15 and the richest part will reach $100. The vein has practically maintained its original width all the way down. It was about twelve feet at the surface and at the 100-foot cross cut was about 18 feet and now at 200 feet it has assumed a trifle greater width than at the surface, and precisely the same as at the 45-foot cross cut. The entire vein is one solid mass of ore and this immense body makes the Tampa a most valuable mine. The steam drill is working day and night drifting on the vein. The company owns a mill site on the Tuzas just below the mine where the ore can be delivered at but little expense. A concentrator will probably be erected by the company in the near future.

Some trouble is being experienced on the Jawbone in the Bromide district. The soft formation does not permit the diamond drill to work. However as soon as the hard formation is reached the diamond drill will be put to work again. The officers of the company arrived at Tres Piedras this week from Chicago.

A strike was made a few days ago on the Helen, an extension of the Bromide district. J. D. Maupin is the owner.

William M. Armour is working on the Vanderbilt mine in Sierra county and is getting out ore that ships between $100 and $200 per ton.

Julius Wild has a small body of high grade borate ore in his mine in Black Hawk gulch above Chloride, Sierra county.

Captain R. B. Wood is stoping ore on the Goodenough mine on Chloride creek, sorting the high grade ore for shipment and piling up the low grade ore for future milling purposes.

Captain George A. Freeman, manager of the Kat and Kittens mine in the Mogollon district, Socorro county, has gone east to perfect arrangements for the erection of a mill on the property.

In the early mining operations at the great copper camp of Butte, Montana, the production of silver was uppermost. The surface ores were rich in silver and in fact that metal has been continually a factor in that district. The copper ores came in as the silver ores were followed downward. In earlier days ores from those mines were shipped to smelters which ran 50 per cent copper. At 1,500 to 2,000 feet depth, the Butte ores will doubtless average six per cent copper and carry some silver and gold.

In 1898, the Atlantic mine in the Lake Superior region, produced 4,500-

FRESH EGGS.

There are eggs and then there are fresh eggs and above and beyond anything ever before offered in the store are our "Selected" eggs. If you would be sure of getting an egg that you can depend on and an egg that is large and of the corn fed kind ask for our "Select" eggs. They cost a little more and are worth a great deal more than "just eggs."

FERNELLE.

Getting a little late for a big variety of fresh vegetables. Better begin to think about the delicacies we furnish in that line canned by the famous Fernelle process. You can never get the exquisite flavor under any other label. The "just the same" or "just as good" kind always falls a little short. French lima beans (the green kind), fancy string beans, Maine sugar corn, extra sifted peas and sugar beets under the Fernelle brand are hard to equal in fresh goods. They have never been equalled in cans so far as we know.

MEAT MARKET.

It's hard to decide what to buy in the way of meat these days. We try to help along as much as we can by furnishing something a little different when possible. Our customers have been eating spare ribs, farm sausage, spring lamb, fancy young veal, etc., these days. Always the best and always the cleanest in beef, mutton, veal and pork. Pickled pork, tripe, pigs feet, etc.

NEW GOODS.

INDIAN YARNS BY PIONEER

unrequited love drove the discarded suitor to take his own life and it is within my memory that an Indian, desperate and disheartened by the refusal of his offer, leaped from a perpendicular cliff of more than two hundred feet in height, and was dashed to pieces.

"But speaking of the Navajos brings to mind some of the peculiar and most mysterious operations that were charged to the government agents of the Navajo agency some thirty or more years ago. It was just after General Sherman had ordered the removal of the captive Navajos from Fort Sumner to their former homes on the Pecos river, which had been made a reservation. Old Fort Defiance again became a scene of activity and the gathering place for the Indians. Here the Navajos came to receive their rations of beef and corn and also their annuity to the value of about $30,000, which was always paid to them in goods for which they had no earthly use. What use could the average Indian thirty years ago make of a threshing machine, or a plow or a harrow or a reaper, or any other of the implements that the farmer finds essential, but for which the idle and evil disposed red-skin found no other place than as a medium of exchange for whiskey, guns and cartridges in his dealings with his white and shrewd neighbor. This is why the average settler found it to his advantage to wait until 'Indian pay day' came. Then it was that a gallon of whiskey, a few pounds of powder or a good supply of lead would gain for him most any of the needed articles, and for which the listless but bell-cose red-skin had no use. Of course, the agent was not sitting idly by all this time, and if what one heard is to be credited, fictitious and fraudulent averages were the rule when cattle or sheep were delivered at the agency by the enterprising contractor, who, too, was well awake to his own interests. Then it was said, that the cash donations so kindly sent by the well meaning, but ignorant philanthropists from 'way back east' did not always find their true missions and the Christianizing influences for the native were forced to give way to the enlivening of a 'little social game,' or devoted to increasing the 'honest trader's' earnings.

"Then were the days when men took the law into their own hands. I recall that on one occasion a band of roving Navajos held up a freighter and robbed him of his team and six mules. The freighter appealed in vain to the agent and even pointed out his property to him, but that was all he got for his trouble. Finally the freighter decided to act for himself. Six mules were missing from the round-up of agency and Indian animals the day after this decision was reached; there were also several dead Indians discovered near the corral.

"But that was the life of the day and it was soon forgotten."

A Chicago Proposition

The crack train for Omaha and Chicago is the Burlington's No. 6, leaving Denver at 4:15 p. m.

The dining-car service is just right. We aim to make it so regardless of expense, and the prices are moderate. The sleepers are the ones that have the large toilet-rooms for ladies. The observation car is cosy as a club.

Other good trains, 2 p. m. and 9:45 p. m. for Kansas City and St. Louis; 9:45 p. m. for Omaha and Chicago.

IN THE LIONS' DEN.

STORY OF BRAVERY.

We are accustomed to make a wide distinction between heroes and the ordinary run of mortals. Yet every day it is being proved that the hero is only the man with the chance. That any good American of able body and mind can mount into heroism at the cry for help, riot and flood and fire, have offered many chances this year to the man who would step forward and take the responsibility.

The town of Heppner, Oregon, needed a brave man last June, when the flood came down the creek, and found him at the first call for help. Along the creek 500 people were marveling at the storm, taking comfort in the good roof that gave them shelter. Thunder and hail might rage outside within was Sunday night, peared early lamps for the darkness, while the voice of God pealed overhead. The flood was coming down in one great wave, sweeping up all that grew, stood or moved upon its tracks, flinging its trophy upon its back and reaching eagerly for more.

Some one must turn these bewildered beings out into the night and set them running, slipping, grasping, struggling up the drenched banks, while the little home met its fate.

It was too late to save the town but all the country below cried out for help and the call was answered by Leslie Matlock a young stockman. Watching the storm he saw this strange wall loom up out of the creek, part of a barn hung on top for a moment and then was sucked under. The wall curled then, crashed forward, there was a sound of breaking timbers, and screams. Matlock ran blindly towards his home below, but he was too late; the great mass swallowed them up beyond help, then his mind flew to 500 other people along the creek. The moment has raised up its hero. In less than 60 seconds he and a comrade who had answered his shout were mounted on the first horses they could seize and pounding through the storm to the rescue.

Paul Revere had at least a road to follow, but Matlock's course lay along the windings of a creek with the rushing waters at his horses heels, fences to be broken through and rain and hail, broken only by the flash of lightning. The hail bruised them like stones. Matlock's horse fell throwing him heavily so that he must remount with a sprained knee. At last mud splashed, with white set faces they galloped into Lexington and saw the citizens race to the highland. Then on to some twenty-three miles from what Heppner had been. Three miles before the end Matlock's comrade's horse gave out and he had to save his own life. But Matlock had secured a new mount and kept on into the town. Here a telegram had already brought the news. The Heppner operator's last earthly act was to send out the warning.

Matlock, his work done, posted back through mud and rain to learn what he could of his own. But the friends of his life time were among the missing. But 500 lives were saved because a man had in him the making of a hero.

The exact and only productions ever taken of this wonderful ride and terrible loss, are reproduced by the Talbot-Whitney Carnival company in their electric theater, which will open here October 19, for one week and fourteen other big attractions.
