CLOSING IN ON FILIPINOS

American Army Have Aguineldo Insurgents in Close Quarters.

The End of the War in the Philippines is Near.

War Progressing in Little Republic of Columbia, South America.

Big Boutries for Dewey's Sailors.

Manila, Nov. 13.—General Young is supposed to have reached San Nicolas within about thirty miles of Dagupan, but his wagons are far behind. Colonel Hayes captured Aguineldo's secretary and Major Coleman is in Carangian with an escort of 170 bolomen on his way to the province of Nueva Vizcaya.

A correspondent of the Associated Press with General Young telegraphs from San Jose that Aguineldo did not escape to the northeast. He and his army, the correspondent adds, are surrounded. His last orders to the Filipino commander at San Jose were to hold San Jose and Carangian at all costs.

The general barely escaped. The recent encounters were too one-sided to be called fights. The insurgents are mortally afraid of the Americans, however strong their position. They make but a brief and feeble resistance and run when the terrible American yell reaches their ears, whereupon the Americans pursue them and slay many. The moral effect of the news that 6,000 more troops are on the way here has been unquestionably great. The insurgents are suffering more from disease than from lack of food, owing to poor food, lack of medicine and filthy hospitals, with the result that there is great mortality among them.

General Lawton intercepted a telegram from an insurgent captain to the Philippino general, reading: "How can you blame me for retreating when only two troops men of my company were able to fight?"

DRIVING FILIPINO INSURGENTS.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The following dispatch from General Otis was received at the war department today: Manila, Nov. 13.—MacArthur's advance of the thirty-sixth volunteers and cavalry troops under Bell entered Tarlac at 7:10 p. m. yesterday. The enemy fled before the advance and the troops entered the city without opposition.

General Otis reports that the insurgents are pushing forward with great energy, and his advance is obliged to leave behind all transportation and depend to a great extent upon the country for subsistence.

His fourth cavalry, in the vicinity of Carangian, captured a large amount of insurgent property and nearly a battalion of Bolomen. The enemy fled toward the north, and the troops followed them to the mountains over the mountain range with his private secretary and others.

Work Amid Great Excitement.

DEATH OF PROMINENT KANSAS AUTHOR.

London, Nov. 13.—The war office this morning published the following dispatch from General Buller: Cape Town, Nov. 13.—The following reports have been received from Lord Buller's army: Mafeking Oct. 30.—All well here. No enemy activity. Are to-day destroying railway twelve miles north with cannon. Shelling continued. Doing very little harm. Oct. 31.—Rumors about an attempt to-day on cannon on Keg's and the southeast corner of town.

The attack was most brilliant, notwithstanding a hot shell fire by the British South African police, under Walford.
Rumors lost heavily. Our casualties five killed, five wounded. Killed: Captains Hon. H. D. Marshall, Fourth Bedfordshire, U. A. P. and Third Kings; Lieut. a sergeant-major and two troopers.
Wounded: Five non-commissioned troopers.
All British South African police.

SIEGE OF MAFFING.
Mafeking, October 30.—All well here.
The enemy is still active. We made a successful night attack on the advance trenches last night, getting in with bayonet. Six men of the protectorate regiment were killed, and nine men, including Captain Fitz Clarence, Third Royal Fusiliers, and Lieutenant Skewton, wounded. The enemy's loss is unknown, but is considerable. The enemy vacated Signal hill and laagered two miles northeast of the town.

BOERS ATTACK.
London, Nov. 13.—The simultaneous attacks on Ladysmith, Mafeking and Kimberley which opened Thursday manifest full recognition by the Boers of the fact that every day lessens their chances of success. The Boers are now three of the British strongholds. Jon-bert's chance of reaching Pietermaritzburg can be said to have vanished. This report is admitted by the Boers. The

INDIAN TROUBLE.

Five Indians and One White Man Killed in the Fight.

One Indian and Sheriff Hogan and One of His posse Wounded.

UTAH INDIANS INVADE COLORADO.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 13.—A hunting party of six Navajo Indians prepatiated a fight near Flagstaff, Arizona, on Saturday night. W. H. Montgomery, captain, and five Indians were killed, while the last of the six Indians was wounded, as were Sheriff Hogan, formerly member of troop A, Rough Riders, and Will Roden. Montgomery had been mal-treated by the Indians and caused warrants to be issued at Flagstaff for their arrest. Montgomery, accompanied by Hogan, Roden and W. Durham and posse started out to apprehend the Indians on Thursday. The posse surprised them thirty-five miles southeast of Flagstaff.

The Indians opened fire and the fight continued until the Indians were overcome. There is a report from Canyon Diablo that all the Navajos of the reservation have returned voluntarily. Some view this action as indicating that the Indians are peaceably inclined, while others believe that the Indians are no belligerent forces. A delegation has gone to the Navajo reservation hoping to pacify the Indians. Governor Murphy went to Flagstaff to look into the situation. One Indian killed was Huatine Buttine, a high chief.

Utah Indian Deer Hunters.
Denver, Nov. 13.—Several hundred Indians of Utah have invaded northwestern Colorado and are killing deer. Game warden Lee is organizing a posse at Bills to expel them.

Jerome, A. T., Nov. 13.—The incoming passenger train on the United Verde & Pacific railroad was derailed eight miles north of here. The engine and two flat cars rolled from a bridge and crushed fireman David Rose beneath the engine.
The other trainmen and passengers escaped unhurt.

Fred J. Ward is still looking for his wheel. Some mischievous individual took his bike and left one belonging to Frank Strong in its place. The two gentlemen were considerably puzzled Saturday as to the whys and wherefores.

The Dona Ana County Republican says that an entertainment will be given at the college on the evening of the 11th, the proceeds to go towards bringing the Albuquerque basketball girls down here, when our girls expect to defeat them badly.

Robert M. Carley, Pablo Aranda and Braulio Gollardo, residents of Golden and all well-known in this city, have applied for a patent on their celebrated Gold Standard lode mining claim in the new Golden placer district. Hon. C. F. Kessler, of Santa Fe, is the attorney for the three gentlemen.

Arthur Kveritit the Railroad avenue jeweler, who was at Bland the past few days, returned to the city last night. He states that Bland, in fact the whole Cochiti district, is booming, and that people are going into Bland so rapidly that it is hard to secure lodging accommodations. "However," continued Mr. Kveritit, "this will soon be remedied, as carpenters are at work on buildings that will be used for lodging purposes, etc."

Sheriff Blackington, having in charge the notorious outlaw, "Broncho Bill," passed through Saturday night on his way to Socorro. While waiting for the train the sheriff and "Broncho Bill," who seemed to be quite good chums, took a stroll about town during which Mr. Blackington took occasion to display a wonderful gun which he carried.

The proprietors of THE CITIZEN acknowledge invitations to attend the marriage of Miss Estella Whittington Walton to William Henry Springer, which happy event will occur at St. John's Episcopal church on Tuesday evening, Nov. 21. Immediately after the ceremony, a reception to the couple will be held at the home of the bride's parents, corner Sixth street and Tijeras avenue, to which invitations have already been mailed.

Police Court.

The plumbers, Farrell and Glaze, who fought and bled the other day on Gold avenue, were up before Judge Crawford this morning upon charge of disturbing the peace. They plead guilty and were each fined $10 which they paid and thus ended what promised to be a long drawn out affair. Later in the day they refused to appear against each other in Judge Ribble's court on counter charges of assault with intent to kill and the cases were dismissed.

Edward Coulter, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $5, and Joe Rank, arrested upon the same charge, was discharged.

A lot of boys were arrested for disturbing the peace of the residents near Fourth street and Lead avenue, but were discharged with a slight fine and reprimand.
