GOOD AMUSEMENT PROGRAM GIVEN ON SECOND DAY OF STATE FAIR

Stands Again Filled With Visitors, Who Show Keen Delight at Program of Racing and Other Attractions.

KEEN INTEREST SHOWN IN COUNTY EXHIBITS

Rivalry for First Prize Leads to Elaborate Showing on Part of Those Placed in Charge of Exhibits.

The second day of the thirty-sixth New Mexico state fair showed an increase in interest in the part of the crowds here in the province of the state's largest enterprise. In fact, there were more paid admissions yesterday than on the day before, and in every way the success of the fair is becoming more and more evident with each succeeding day.

The amusement crowd offered the crowds in the grandstand yesterday afternoon was an exceptional good one and held the attention of the hundreds of spectators that filled the stands. The racing was of an unusually high order and furnished some of the best sport ever seen at the fair. Captain Harry again demonstrated his skill with pistol and rifle in the target shooting, and the spectators were delighted with the results. The prize money was a goodly sum, and the winner was a goodly sum.

The climax of the day's entertainment, however, came with the fireworks exhibit at night. Sparked by the excellence of the fireworks at last year's fair, the crowd was attracted to the fireworks from throughout the state. The display was a masterpiece of light and color, and the crowd was a goodly one. The prize money was a goodly sum, and the winner was a goodly sum.

MEDIATORS ARE STILL TRYING TO SOLVE THE LINE PROBLEM

Proper Method of Policing the Border and Preventing Raids Continues to Form Text of Discussions.

OUR NEUTRALITY LAWS SHOULD BE AMENDED

Mexicans Think This Would Be Big Help; Would Keep Americans From Participating in Conflicts.

NEW MEXICO JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE. New London, Conn., Sept. 26.—Revision of American neutrality laws with a view to disarming Americans from participating in the Mexican civil conflict, was suggested at the conference of the Mexican-American joint commission today. It was suggested that Mexico would be able to do more effectively with its neutrality laws were amended in such a manner as to make it an offense for an American to participate in any way in a movement against a government with which the United States is at peace.

The discussion of the neutrality laws of both countries was included in consideration of suggested plans for the cooperation of the authorities of both countries in maintaining peace along the border. The Mexicans charged that the inadequacy of the American laws made possible the propagation of propaganda on American soil against established order in Mexico. The question of neutrality laws was not confined to those of the United States, however. The American representatives, since the beginning of the conference, have held to the argument that Mexico should be given her full right to make an independent policy of the south side of the boundary line, and attention was called to the cases in which the New Mexican neutrality laws, or their enforcement, was at fault.

Last of Border Raids. The American commission representatives admitted a line of border raids that had been compiled by the local authorities. The Mexicans stated that the border was in a state of anarchy, and that the American authorities were not doing enough to maintain order. The American representatives, however, stated that they were doing all that was possible to maintain order.

More rapid progress in the direction of an international no-man's-land of border control is expected to be made now. That an immediate agreement is probable, however, was not stated. The commission representatives at present in Atlantic City, N. J., where the conference will be continued Monday.

Two more sessions will be held here. The commission representatives at present in Atlantic City, N. J., where the conference will be continued Monday. Two more sessions will be held here.

North of Combes. The German stronghold of Combes is virtually isolated. The correspondent of the Associated Press went forward yesterday over the ridge in the Devil's wood and Clinchy region which the British had fought over two months to gain. He walked for two miles through an area which reverberated to the blast of the great guns, picking his way between the bursts of flame from the crashing batteries and moving around the rows of cannon as one who seeks a ford in a stream. On the other side of the ridge he saw guns where he had never seen them before—on the crowded land of the lower levels which the British infantry who listened to their thunderous chorus as they prepared for the charge in today's attack.

"The usual artillery preparation," said an artillery officer.

BULGARS MAKE FURTHER ADVANCES IN RUMANIA

Sofia, Sept. 26 (via London, Sept. 26, 4:30 p. m.).—The Bulgarian army which has invaded eastern Rumania has made a further advance, taking on new positions on the eastern end of the line. The war office announced today on the Macedonian front the Bulgarians repulsed various attempts of the enemy to advance. Following is the statement:

"On the Florina front (Macedonia) there was spirited artillery fighting on the Kaimakchalan heights. Attempts of the enemy to advance on all fronts were fruitless. Incendiary shells were fired by the enemy on the town of Doiran, causing a fire there.

LONDON IS PLEASED AT SUCCESS OF ALLIES

London, Sept. 27 (2:47 a. m.).—The capture of Thiepval by the British, and of Combes by the combined Anglo-French forces, announced in the latest official communications, is regarded here as the most important success on the western front since the opening of the grand offensive.

The fall of Combes was expected. For weeks it had been in process of encirclement by the British and French. But the capture of Thiepval, which was announced too late for comment in the papers, has proved a genuine surprise, because it has been a stunning block in the advance of the British left, almost upon the resumption of the offensive, July 1, when a check at Gommecourt was suffered.

Thiepval's fall gives to the Anglo-French forces the whole line of low hills which slope to the plain upon which the town of Hamincourt makes the most fortified center.

The semi-official accounts of the capture of Combes spoke of the large number of the German and the great quantity of warlike stores taken. Reuters' official correspondent says: "The great success was won at very small cost, thanks in part to the excellence of the artillery and in part to a real collapse of the German defense."

Reference is also made to the apparent sinking morale of the German troops, who are declared in some instances to have fled from their trenches, throwing away their rifles."

The Times attaches significance to the "break down of the German defense, confessed in their account of the Combes battle," and says it means the German general staff is apologizing for the crushing defeat.

FAIRBANKS IS ON SPEAKING TOUR OF WEST

BANDITS ARE ACTIVE IN CHIHUAHUA STATE

Omaha, Sept. 26.—Charles W. Fairbanks arrived here today on his campaign tour. His program for the day included an address to the members of the Omaha Commercial club at a noonday luncheon; a non-partisan speech at the opening of the fall carnival of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben at 2 o'clock; and an address at the municipal auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight.

Mr. Fairbanks' party includes his son, Richard Fairbanks and Joseph E. Keating of Indianapolis. They leave for Colorado at midnight.

Mr. Fairbanks' talk at the Commercial club luncheon was non-partisan in character. He discussed the dangers of improperly considered changes in governmental institutions. He said:

"The last few years we have here and there invited innovations in the very structure of our political fabric. Some of them have been due to agitation, and not due to adequate consideration. Changes, of course, should be effected when new conditions make changes necessary to advance the general public weal."

"But we should always have a care to be sure that the existing order is not overthrown without due consideration."

HIP SAYS PANTO IS ALIVE AND ACTIVE

He says wounded Carranza soldiers have been brought back to Juarez from that station. The Carranza officials in Juarez insist that the wounded soldiers were brought from Chihuahua city following the fight with Villa forces.

A report from Chihuahua that General Matias Ramon had returned to that state capital with only thirty-five men left of his original force of 250, was also received by General Bell.

A prominent Mexican who was taken prisoner by Villa at Chihuahua City and later released, reached the border today and reported to military authorities that Villa had executed only two of the 200 prisoners taken during the Chihuahua battle. Major Humphreys is accompanied by his wife and she is held with him.

Commissioner Howe, when shown a dispatch from Washington, saying that it was stated today at the state department and immigration bureau that nothing was known of any order to detain any officers of any European armies, arriving at American ports, said:

"We are in receipt from the bureau of immigration at Washington, of a communication directing us in the case of any alien who served in the forces of any of the belligerent countries seeking admission to this country, to ascertain whether they have been discharged from the army of the belligerent country, and whether they are destined to some point in this country, or are passing through to Canada, and that if it is found they have not been discharged or are passing through this country to Canada, the matter shall be brought to the attention of the bureau of immigration."

"In these particular cases, the board of special inquiry examined Major Humphreys and Lieutenant Leveik, and found that action upon them should be deferred. Instead of excluding them, we put the matter in suspense and have sent a record of the proceedings before the board to Washington today, requesting action on it tomorrow, or as early as possible."

WASHINGTON TO PASS ON THEIR CASES QUICKLY

Washington, Sept. 26.—Special attention will be given by the immigration bureau to the cases of Major Humphreys and Lieutenant Leveik, which, in the opinion of some officials here, may establish a precedent, having important bearing on the future admission of British officers on their way to Canada.

Officials both at the bureau and the state department were unusually reticent tonight by the order described by Commissioner Howe, but it became known that the department recently had indicated informally to Great Britain that the practice of sending soldiers through this country was not regarded here as desirable.

There were indications that the detention of Humphreys and Leveik was a direct reflection of this attitude.

WIELDS 'TRENCHANT' PEN; GOES TO PRISON

El Paso, Sept. 26.—Private Hugh Clark, of Company D, Second Massachusetts Infantry, was sentenced tonight to six months at hard labor in the disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth, together with a dishonorable discharge from the service.

Clark, shortly after his arrival at the border, wrote letters to a newspaper of Holyoke, Mass., from which his company came, charging his company officers with neglecting the men and his captain with appropriating company funds. These letters were published. Clark admitted their authenticity, but adhered to the charges. He was tried by a general court martial for conduct unbecoming a soldier.

DEMOCRATS OF ILLINOIS HOLD STATE MEETING

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 26.—After reviewing the achievements of the state and national administrations, the platform adopted by the democratic state convention here today deals with what it calls the "invisible government," in connection with which the name of Frank O. Lowden, republican candidate for governor, is mentioned.

The platform advocates "unfettered woman suffrage and the eight-hour day for all men and women workers engaged in non-agricultural pursuits."

The platform pledges the party to the initiative and referendum, the shorter ballot, a large measure of home rule for municipalities, and also advocates the taking of the Gulf deep waterway.

A corrupt practices act is advocated, the plank on this subject stating that "without such a law the direct primary has become a rich man's game."

The resolutions committee failed to incorporate in the platform a plank favoring Workmen's Insurance and an anti-immigration law, which had been requested by John H. Walker, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor. Mr. Walker told the committee that the plank was not in keeping with the state would decide for themselves which way to vote.

INVENTOR SAYS HE IS GUILTY OF EXTORTION

New York, Sept. 26.—Edward A. Lauterbach, 42 years old, an inventor, accused by Edward Lauterbach, a well known lawyer, of having extorted about $100,000 from him during the last eighteen years, pleaded guilty to the indictment against him today. He will be sentenced October 2. The maximum penalty for the crime is fifteen years.

Lauterbach went before the August grand jury and said that for nearly two decades he had been victimized by Lauterbach and his wife, who demanded huge sums, asserting that the lawyer was under moral obligations.

ACCUSED MURDERER OF JUDGE IS ARRESTED

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 26.—David D. Overton, accused of the murder of Judge W. P. Lawler in Huntsville last June, was arrested today at Smithville, Tenn.

The murder of Judge Lawler in June marked the climax of bitter political battles in Huntsville and is generally believed to have been responsible for two suicides in the town shortly afterwards. The state militia was called out at one time and remained in Huntsville two weeks.

Overton disappeared from his home June 13 and the search for him has been over the entire south and in Canada.

IRRIGATION NOW BIG PROBLEM FOR THE SOUTHWEST

Governor Capper Gives Views on Important Question to Member of Board of Control of Congress.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE

El Paso, Sept. 26.—One of the really big, worth-while jobs now confronting the people of the west and southwest, especially in the irrigation of the great semi-arid plains, which comprise much of the territory for a hundred miles or more on either side of the Rocky mountain slope. In this section thousands of acres of valuable land are untitled and unproductive simply because, through some irreparable cause, through some untimely neglect, through some insufficient knowledge of the best methods of irrigation, writes Governor Arthur Capper of Kansas to James A. McNary of the board of control of the irrigation congress, which meets here October 14 to 15, with opening session at the dedication of the Elephant Butte dam, October 14.

"I believe there are fine possibilities for wealth and progress in these new uncultivated areas, once they are supplied with moisture and planted to crops. I am confident that a great agricultural and industrial awakening awaits only the development of an irrigation project which will ensure this section. The opportunity is there. Experiments more or less isolated and individual in character have demonstrated beyond doubt that semi-arid regions can be made to produce abundantly at almost all kinds of reasonable crops when properly irrigated."

"I am a firm believer in irrigation at our arid plains, a problem which is worthy of the very best attention of all our people. The people of Kansas are giving more and more attention to the subject of irrigation and there is a growing appreciation of its value. This state now maintains a department to study the best methods of irrigation, demonstrate the different methods available for our state and give our people the benefit of the experience gained. I am sure much good will come out of the work of this department."

Delegates to the irrigation congress are being appointed by governors of all states, mayors of cities, chambers of commerce, county commissioners, irrigation districts, irrigation cooperatives and others. Questions of and importance to the development of the best in connection with rural credits, land settlement, markets and marketing, irrigation legislation, irrigation districts, irrigation engineering problems and the like will be considered and acted upon at the El Paso meeting. The international farm congress and the international soil-products exposition will be held at the same time and following the irrigation congress.

GILLENWATER ON BURKHART.

The Journal is in receipt of a letter of five and a half closely type-written pages, purporting to have been signed by W. H. Gillenwater, containing a savage personal attack on Summers Burkhardt and protesting against his appointment as United States judge to succeed the late Judge William H. Pope. The letter is not reproduced for the reason that it is clearly libelous, and for the further reason that the Journal has no intention of being made a vehicle for the expression of Mr. Gillenwater's personal spleen or an instrument for the accomplishment of whatever subtle political purpose he may have in mind.

The Journal has already given editorial endorsement to the appointment of Summers Burkhardt to the federal bench, the reasons for that endorsement being clearly stated at the time. Nothing contained in Mr. Gillenwater's letter has changed its opinion as to Mr. Burkhardt's fitness for the office and the desirability of his appointment, nor is anything that Mr. Gillenwater may say in the future likely to alter its stand on that subject in the least.

For almost a generation Summers Burkhardt has lived in New Mexico, and during that time his life has been an open book. His strength and his weaknesses are known of all men. He has been a hard fighter in politics, but always a fair fighter. He has strong friends and equally strong enemies, but no one has been found to say that he has ever betrayed a trust or that his personal and political conduct have not squared with the strictest rules of integrity and honor. As a public official he has discharged his duties with eminent ability and strict impartiality.

This is not merely an expression of opinion. It is a statement of fact that will not be denied by any unbiased and unprejudiced person who has followed the career of the man.

W. H. Gillenwater is chairman of the republican state central committee, and his letter is written on stationery of that committee. Summers Burkhardt is not a candidate for any elective office. His activities in the present campaign have been only those that might have been expected of any citizen holding the political views that he is known to hold.

What purpose Mr. Gillenwater has in making this attack on Mr. Burkhardt at the present time is a matter that may well cause citizens of New Mexico to pause and reflect. Mr. Gillenwater, unlike Mr. Burkhardt, is secretive and indirect in his methods. A consideration of Mr. Gillenwater's own record and that of the candidates for whom he is now working would not be amiss in arriving at a conclusion as to the apparently inexplicable attack contained in the letter sent out from republican headquarters.

In declining to make an attack on the president of the United States and confining himself to a discussion of issues rather than personalities, Judge Woodmansee in his address at the fair grounds Monday afternoon set an example of lofty patriotism that might be followed with profit by numerous members of his party who have shown more zeal than judgment in their campaign for Hughes.

A GOOD START.

The state fair management is to be congratulated upon the start that was made at Traction park Monday afternoon. While the crowd in the grandstand was not quite so large as that on the opening day of the fair last year, the number of paid admissions was considerably larger and the interest and enthusiasm in the development of the state's resources by those who were on the grounds could not have been more gratifying.

The program offered by the management left nothing to be desired. In line with the policy to make the fair really educational in its activities, a discussion of national political issues between eminent orators was had that has had few parallels in the history of New Mexico. Those who did not hear the speeches of Judge Woodmansee and Mr. Jones missed a rare treat. The discussion was upon a high plane, devoid of personalities and most ably conducted. Every possible argument in favor of the reelection of President Wilson and of the election of Mr. Hughes was presented, and the most pleasing feature of the entire matter was that they were presented with the dignity that should attend a discussion of the most important question that can come up before the people of the United States. Both speakers are deserving of the highest praise and of the thanks of the people of New Mexico.

The improvement in the standard of the county exhibits this year is proof conclusive that the people of New Mexico have entered upon a new era of development and expansion. It is also proof that they have gotten forever away from the old idea of giving a cheap street carnival and calling it a state fair. They realize now what can be done in stimulating the growth of the state by displaying in the most attractive manner what the various portions of the state are doing and can do. They have felt the quickening impulse of that generous rivalry that comes from the effort to do one's best. They have caught the spirit of progress that is characteristic of the age, and it is safe to predict that every future state fair will show a distinct improvement along the lines that are now being followed.

The amusement features of the fair program are pleasing without being vulgar, and furnish the wholesome entertainment that holiday visitors to the largest city in the state have a right to expect.

All in all, the fair this year is a cause for general congratulation. President Southard and his assistants are to be congratulated for the success of the patriotic efforts they have put forth in behalf of the enterprise, and the people of New Mexico are to be congratulated upon the splendid development of which the fair is a concrete and pleasing evidence.

From the length of time the mediators are consuming at New London there will not be much use discussing the withdrawal of the troops from Mexico. The troops will all die of old age before the mediators get through.

THEODORE AND BILL.

The harmony meeting planned by the republicans in New York on October 3, at which Colonel Roosevelt and Professor Taft are to formally and publicly bury the hatchet, causes the New York Times to comment as follows:

A funeral was the last occasion when Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft were visible in the same place, if invisible to each other. They are to commemorate the funeral of the progressive era by being present at a love feast in the Union League club on October 3. Mr. Root, whom to make president Mr. Roosevelt once said he would walk on his hands and knees down Pennsylvania avenue, and who has been for over four years, the Bacon luncheon being but a show, the "burial" of "progress" and "progressive" will preside over the halcyon and veridical proceeding. Why is it to be cabined within the narrow walls of the Union League? Madison Square Garden, packed to its utmost quarter of an inch, would be a thousand square miles too small to hold the multitude that ache to witness this great scene of national reconciliation. The Indians of Deerfield massacre, taking part after submitting at the door to a search for tomahawks, in a reunion of survivors of the massacre, might be a fair historical parallel. Unfortunately, history has not been equal to her job. The kiss of peace between the sacrificed and the sacrificer is to be enacted officially only in this happy time.

"Bill" and "Theodore" That old bill, ended by so many caresses, most of all by Mr. Taft's reluctance, magnanimous and loyal as he is, to be swallowed up in the relentless ego of his sometime friend, is just renewal. The littleness of tongue, in public at least, is all Theodore's. He has unusual gifts, a genius, in fact, such as even John Randolph never reached for, expressing his hatred, and he is a much more catholic and vigorous writer than Dr. Johnson in his prime. It is because he hates Mr. Wilson more, not because he hates Mr. Taft and Mr. Root less, that he consents to this talent of handshaking. Only the other day his former secretary of the navy and attorney general, the Hon. Charles Joseph Bonaparte, fresh from Oyster Bay, told the Maryland Progressive state committee that the only opinion of the republican manufacturers of 1912 was unchanged. But it is considered desirable, we don't know who, since nobody is likely to be killed by it, that a public "property" reconciliation and friendship act be carried out, that it will make for harmony and peace, the still reluctant progressives that they are afraid to forsake the republican party, since Mr. Roosevelt pretends to.

The colored is no forgiver. It seems as if there must be a strong Indian strain in that highly composite ancestry which he loves to dilate upon. From his point of view he is the injured and Mr. Root and Mr. Taft the injured. "How, how, thou winter wind? Mr. Taft, naturally of a kinder and more altruistic temper, can not forget, if he nominally forgives, what he must regard as injuries inflicted with malice, purpose and long continued. He is a strong republican partisan and for the sake of the republican party he is willing to go through his part. It is to be hoped that Mr. Root will record in memory, which it is almost his duty to write, the impressions, reflections, and memories which this Union League political snake sits in that marvelous brain.

We see Mr. Taft smile calmly and Mr. Roosevelt nervously. Two right hands are protruded. They meet. They clasp. Is the handshake a little forced and mechanical? Is Mr. Taft forgiven by and forgiving the colored reminded by this "historic handshake" of Cobden's description of Lord John Russell and Charles Francis Adams as "two wretched shaking hands"? No, no. Tears flow down two thousand candid shirtfronts. The hand plays "Auld Lang Syne." The enraptured Union leaguers, hand in hand, act in good intention, if with small success at times, should add acquaintance be forgot?" Pop, cork, in lovely union! The very lobster claws try to shake one another in symbolic sympathy with the affecting spectacle. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft are both running their "dexter fins" furiously with a handkerchief. On the Chinese New Year old debts are paid, old enemies are reconciled. It is recorded in "The Memoirs of Li Yun Lung" that two notorious adversaries, Bu Nko and Chang Chong Hong, met formally on a New Year's day, shook their own hands—the ancient custom of Cathay—and were profuse in their utterances of good-will. The spectators were edified. Going out of the door, Mr. Taft, says to Chang, "I wish you the same you wish me." "You want to begin again, do you?" asks Chang. "I wish with you." This anecdote teaches us the sincerity of true forgiveness.

Now if Governor McDonald had only taken "Cap" Gillenwater into his confidence and applied Montana Trust company methods in the Las Cruces matter, how lovely everything would have been!

Congressmen are now taking a rest preparatory to beginning the active work of the campaign. Some of them will then keep on resting.

What is the matter with the Colonel's voice, that it doesn't seem to carry as far as it once did?

With this system of flood lighting, revealing its power from the falls themselves, there is no dark center or ring shadow in the light beam. The falls are smoothly and softly lighted.

THE DUMB ANIMALS' HEROINE.
 The 34 Miss Eva Smith espied a limboed wagon drawn by a horse of the proverbial "log of bones" description. Lured by this she was throughly excited her suspicion was a clumsy and of making tucked between the harness and the horse's saddle. There is an indefinable something about the commander which elicits obedience from all classes, great and small, bad and good, and the old man, after meekly followed her injunction to unhitch in her yard and permit her investigations. As she expected, the search revealed an ugly and infected wound, caused by a brutal kick and further aggravated by dirt and neglect. The commander at once took charge of the case, both as veterinarian and nurse. With her own hands she washed out the sore, thoroughly disinfected it with antiseptic dressing, and then bound it up with a skill which left the old man speechless. In fact this he was through most of the operation. The next afternoon, after a comprehensive instruction upon the benefits of good treatment to his animals, and some coffee with bread and cheese, was sent off with a supply of bandages, information how to continue the treatment, and injunctions to bring the horse around for further inspection. This happened some weeks ago. Man and horse have faithfully reported and both are doing well.

BRIDGE OVER FIVE MILES LONG.
 San Francisco is planning to build the greatest bridge in the world. It is to connect Oakland and its contiguous districts with San Francisco, and is to relieve five ferry systems of passenger and vehicular traffic.

The proposed bridge will cost $22,000,000 and will be 2 1/2 miles long. It will be one of the heaviest bridges ever built, carrying three roadways and four railroad tracks. Its main portion is to be made up of 16 spans each 150 feet long. Near the San Francisco shore there will be two long and high spans under which the ships will pass.

SPECULATION.
 Speculation is gambling if you lose and investment if you win. It's the same with money as with ideas. If a man speculates mentally and loses he's a nut; if he wins he's a genius of some sort—philosopher, inventor, captain of industry. However, speculating with ideas has the advantage of being cheaper, and if you lose and people dub you a nut you still retain your own ideas on the subject. We ourselves find being broke much more annoying than being a nut, although we realize that being a nut is more likely to become chronic than being broke, except in college, in a newspaper office or most anywhere the first month after a vacation. Speculation is perpetuated in real estate, real and otherwise grain and real and otherwise stocks, and also in bonds including that of friendship. There are many books on the subject of speculation, any one of which may be read without the slightest danger of contracting an idea therefrom. Every well regulated stock exchange has a

WHY WOMEN WRITE LETTERS

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untruthful letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering. It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is well and who has never suffered to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they are.

TRADING CALMS DOWN SLIGHTLY AMONG BROKERS

Overturn Exceeds the Million
Mark, but Business Is Done in an Orderly Manner; Investments Feature.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEAD WRITER)
New York, Sept. 26.—Trading in stocks today proceeded in a more orderly and rational manner, the sharp reversal of yesterday's final hour evidently having a sobering effect on the more venturesome speculative element. Dealings were again very large and broad, amounting to 1,625-000 shares, making the seventeenth successive session in which sales have reached or far exceeded the million mark.

The greater activity was shown in the first and final hours, the former being marked by a strong opening and sudden declines, while the latter of the session was noteworthy for the strength of calls, many of which rose to the best quotations of the last year or two.

The strength of investment issues
probably resulted from some brilliant statements of railway earnings released in the course of the day. These included the annual report of the Southern Pacific company, showing a gain in net income of more than 50 per cent, and the August returns of the Atchafalaya river, which disclosed a net increase of $1,522,000.

United States Steel, which continued to lead the list, was watched with special interest because of its abrupt decline from yesterday's record price of 130 to below 115, on very large transactions, steel rose 15 points,
to 115½, declined to 113½, and closed
unchanged at 115.

Sugars were among the foremost issues, with new records for Cuban,
American, and other grades, and

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.
Chicago, Sept. 26.—Substantial advances in wheat led to a setback
today in wheat prices here. The mar-

SHOWS DEADLY SKILL
WITH ALL KINDS OF
WEAPONS AT FAIR

If the German hunter finds himself pressed too hard by the Russians he might send out a call for Capt. A. H.
Harty, give him a machine gun and send him to the eastern front. If Captain Harty can handle a machine gun with the deadly accuracy that he used a rifle, shotgun and revolver yesterday at the fair grounds he would give an awful accounting with two of three hundred shots a minute at his command.

Captain Harty's first exhibition was shooting glass balls from an automation, with a small-caliber rifle as the machine aimed around the track. He evened "air" shots, broke several targets thrown into the air at the same time and shot pieces of chalk from the head of his assistant.
One of his performances was a series of empty shells from his shotgun and blowing them to bits before they touched the ground. He drew, with a rifle, the profile of an Irishman, smoking a pipe, on a sheet of steel coated with white paint.

Supreme Vice Chancellor Charles L.
Davis of Denver, who is second in command of an order of 775,000 members and who is the first western man

tically leads to the position of supreme

BIG EVENT OF
FAIR TONIGHT IS
THE QUIEN SABA

Block to Be Prepared Today
for Dancers and Spectators
Alike; To Treat Pavement
With Soapstone.

The fair's topnight for tonight is the Quen Saba. This is the fair's big event for the merry-makers.
It will not be for the merry-makers alone, though. For those who take more pleasure in looking on, whether because of recent years or because of other reasons, the fair will provide a place. In fact, it will provide two of them for it will build grandstands at both ends of Quen
Saba block for spectators.

The Quen Saba is part of the state fair. It is for New Mexicans fully as it is for Albuquerqueans. It is everybody's carnival and everybody can share his appreciation to the state fair by going if it is merely to look on. The fair officially recognizes the spectator as much as it does the dancer. The affair will cost the fair money. It has one source of income and that will not pay for putting on the spectacle. The fair knew that but the fact did not deter it from making provision to give the carnival spirit free play.

Bright Lighting Planned.
Quen Saba block, on Third street between Central and Gold, is to be prepared today. The pavement is to be treated with soapstone so dancers may glide along the surface as easily as on a polished floor. The block is to be brilliantly lighted. Flood lights, searchlights and flaming area lights will light the block. The Albuquerque band will play. The band is to be divided into two sections which will be stationed at different points in the block.

Several patriotic citizens have lightened the Quen Saba by buying boxes for the fiesta. That amounts to a subscription to the fair. No one has to do that, however, for the fiesta will be in the air. It is the fair's treat. It will furnish seats for everyone charge to everybody as long as space is left in the grandstands.

Those for whom boxes have been reserved are: Mrs. J. H. Herndon, Mrs. John Lee, Mrs. O. A. Ma-
tinez, Mrs. J. H. O'Reilly, Mrs. Re-bert E. Dietz, Mrs. E. E. Sturges, Mrs.
E. A. Davis, Mrs. E. J. Alger, Mrs.
Frank Hubbard, Mrs. H. H. Pollo, Mrs.
Neil H. Field, Mrs. M. L. Stern,
Mrs. J. C. Bonnell, Mrs. W. C. Mc-Donald, Mrs. H. H. Ferguson and the Thirty club.

TO START AT 9.
Dancing will start at 9 o'clock and continue as long as any one wishes to dance. Prizes will be awarded at 10:30 o'clock.

250 ODD FELLOWS
AND REBEKAHS ARE
SEATED AT BANQUET

The Rebecha assembly and the I.
O. O. F. grand lodge assembled yesterday morning in one of the most successful sessions in the history of the two organizations in New Mexico. The Rebecha hall in A. L. F.
W. hall with the largest enrollment ever had at an assembly, sixty delegates being present. The odd Fellows grand lodge met in A. L. O. O. F.
hall.

In the afternoon the grand lodge was occupied with the addition of a new constitution and by-laws and the election of officers. The following officers were elected:
Grand master, J. R. Whiteside,
Albuquerque; deputy grand master,
John C. Steele, El Paso; grand warden,
E. C. Harty, Denver; grand secretary, Frank Toland, Jr., Roswell; grand treasurer, C. L. Hain, Silver City;
grand representative, Victor L. Kinter, Carlsbad.

The climax of the day's work for both organizations came last night
when 250 Odd Fellows and Rebecha sat down to a banquet at I. O. O. F.
hall.

MAN HELD AT LUNAS
HAS NEARLY $50 IN
POSTAGE STAMPS

George Cooper, held in the Valencia county jail at Las Lunas, charged with robbing the Coto off station at Lunas, had nearly $50 in stamps at the time of his arrest. Officers will make an investigation to learn whether these stamps were taken from the Bernardo postoffice which was robbed
at night last week.

Deputy Attorney Harry P. Owen,
of Las Lunas who was in Albuquerque yesterday, said Cooper would be delivered to postoffice authorities if evidence implicating him in the postoffice robbery was produced.

Cooper was arrested at Lunas as he was attempting to board an outgoing train by Special Officer Joe Bell of the Santa Fe railway.

HORSE SHOW WILL BE

grounds Thursday night. The (four) nightlong parade will begin at 7:30

CAUGHT TRYING
TO SAW WAY OUT
OF COUNTY JAIL.

Meredith Rowe Uses Tool
Made of Spring From Sole;
Barely Started When Deputy Makes Find.

Meredith Rowe, arrested by agents of the postoffice department of construction in the robbery of a mail car of Santa Fe train No. 7, was the train was running through western Kansas, made an attempt to break out of the Bernadillo county jail Monday afternoon.

Deputy Sheriff Raymond Harty
located off Rowe's plans, escape
when he found the prisoner, coming through a bar of the "bull pen," Rowe had made a saw of a steel spring, taken from the sole of one of his shoes. He had hatched notches in one edge of the spring and stuck
it in the wall and made a hole large enough to pass his body through at the point he selected for his attack on the cage.

Following the discovery of his attempt, Rowe was locked in a cell. He will be in the custody of Sheriff V.
L. Snyder, of the Santa Fe railway.
The sentence was given on a misdemeanor charge partly for the purpose of holding Rowe until officers had time to investigate.

The special officer saw Rowe on top of a car of No. 7 at Lunas. Rowe climbed down the opposite side of the car. The officer went under it and faced him as he touched the ground.
Snyder said Rowe reached for his right hip pocket and he drew his gun,
ordering him to put up his hands.
Snyder found a loaded revolver and an open knife in Rowe's pocket.

The fact that Rowe had a child's silver bracelet, a man's ring and other articles in his pocket caused officers
to make an effort to trace the stuff.
