OZUNA TO TAKE FIELD AGAINST VILLA BANDITS

General Arrives in Chihuahua With Formidable Force of Infantry and Cavalry to Hunt Marauding Bands.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) —
Chihuahua City, Oct. 1.—Gen. Carlos Ozuna arrived here today with 1,500 infantry and cavalry from Saltillo by way of Torreon, to take the field in western Chihuahua against the bandit band led by Villa and Gen. Jose Ynes Salazar.

General Ozuna will relieve Gen. Matias Ramos temporarily while the latter general's wound in the left leg, received at Cusuhuarachi, heals. General Ramos is now a patient in the Chihuahua military hospital. His wound, which was made by a bullet, is not considered serious and he expects to regain his command within two weeks.

To Join Ramos' Force

General Ozuna will proceed tomorrow to the Carranza base at Santa Ysabel, thirty-three miles west of here, and will be joined there by Ramos' forces numbering approximately 800. This augmented force will then proceed to Cusuhuarachi to attack the Villistas said to be in possession of that mining camp twenty miles west of Santa Ysabel.

General Ozuna has a reputation as a military commander throughout the eastern military zone, where he won his eagle by his aid in General Trevino's defense of the Elcano oil district during the Villa revolution against Carranza.

Arrangements were completed today for the president's trip to Omaha, beginning Tuesday. He will arrive in Omaha Thursday morning at 11:40 o'clock, and will remain there until 10 o'clock that night, returning to Long Branch Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Saturday afternoon he will address an assembly of independent Republicans.

A busy day has been arranged for him in Omaha.

Soon after his arrival he will attend a luncheon at the commercial club. Then he will ride at the head of a historical pageant, and later review it.

In the evening he will speak in the Omaha auditorium.

To Lunch With Ford

Henry Ford of Detroit will lunch with the president here tomorrow. Prospects for peace in Europe are expected to be discussed.

President Wilson received a number of telegrams today bearing on his message to Jeremiah O'Leary, president of the American Truth society, telling him he wanted no "disloyal" Americans to vote for him. Most of the telegrams praised the president for his stand, but a few criticized him.

Statements made by a brother of Mr. O'Leary that said should be brought against the president for libel were received lightly by administration officials. No comment was made except that President Wilson personally handled the telegram to Mr. O'Leary and stands back of the message.

RAILWAY SHOPMEN ARE AFTER HIGHER WAGES

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) —
Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 1.—Eighty-five per cent of the 4,000 members of six railway shopmen unions voted to refuse to work on the proposed compromise proposals of the railroads to demands for an eight-hour day and a wage increase of 5 cents an hour, it was announced today. Further negotiations will be held between the unions and railroads.

Seventy-five per cent of the union men are employed in stationary shop work and the other 25 per cent in repair and rolling stock. The compromise offer was said to have averaged an increase of 2 1/2 cents an hour in wages and the granting of the eight-hour day to men employed in stationary work.

The granting of this time schedule to the other men was withheld because the railroads contended a nine-hour day is necessary for satisfactory results in this branch of employment, it was said.

Official Statement Tells of Attack Made by Germans; Many Bombs Dropped but Damage Is Not Known.

GREAT CROWDS CHEER AS DIRIGIBLE BURNS

Awe-Inspiring Sight Presented in London District by Great Battle High Above Earth by Daring Aviators.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) —
London, Oct. 2 (12:15 a. m.).—An other Zeppelin raid against London and the east coast of England is in progress. An airship is reported to have been brought down in flames north of London, according to the official statement issued shortly after midnight. The statement reads:

"A number of hostile airships crossed the coast between 10 o'clock and midnight. A few bombs were dropped near the coast, but no damage is yet reported."

"The raid is still in progress and some airships are in the vicinity of London, where some guns have been in action."

"An airship is reported brought down in flames north of London."

Great crowds cheered the spectacle of the burning Zeppelin as it fell to the ground. The great fire of the burning aircraft was visible for a long distance.

From Zeppelin raids on London and the east coast have been carried out in the last month, the most recent attacks being made in the night of September 24 and 25. On September 24, one Zeppelin was struck while flying over the London district and fell in flames.

Two Zeppelins were destroyed in the raid of September 25, one of which was shot down by anti-aircraft fire, and the other was brought down by a gun. The raiders killed 28 persons and wounded 125. The following night, in another raid, in which the airships apparently escaped without damage, they killed 30 persons and wounded 27.

On the night of September 26, two Zeppelins were destroyed, one by anti-aircraft fire and the other by a gun. The raiders killed 25 persons and wounded 125.

ZEPPELIN ATTACKS MORE DIFFICULT THAN IN PAST

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) —
Amsterdam, Oct. 1 (via London, 6 p. m.).—The military critics of the Frankfurter Zeitung says conditions for Zeppelin attacks on England are much more difficult than even a year ago. The paper says, however, that in time to carry their defense measures to the highest perfection.

In Macdonald, the Serbians have at last captured the Kattinoban bridge on the Greek-Serbian border. The British on the stream have taken a portion of the Bulgarian line near the Orlik bridge.

Another air raid by Zeppelins over eastern England has taken place. One Zeppelin is reported to have been brought down in flames.

BRITISH MAKE BIG GAINS

The left wing of the British army between the Aisne and Somme rivers in France has advanced on several fronts, capturing in the process a two-mile front from the east of Bapaume road, capturing in the process the town of Bapaume, and throwing the German line to within about four miles of Bapaume itself.

In addition, the British line to the east has been sent forward for good into the German front, according to London. Valuable work was done by the new armored tractors in the fight.

Wants Them to Work Against Continuation of Eight-hour Legislation; Still Unreconciled to Adamson Law

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) —
New York, Oct. 1.—Edward P. Ripley, president of the American Railway & Shipbuilding Company, today sent to the stockholders of the company an appeal to them to work for the passage of remedial legislation to meet the situation created by the passage of the eight-hour law at the recent request of the four railway brotherhoods.

"Since the president of abandoning arbitration and hurriedly passing the eight-hour law, the industry has been in a state of confusion," he said in his communication, "does it not behoove you to exercise your influence in favor of appropriate remedial legislation?"

"This company believes that the act which Congress has passed is unconstitutional and that steps should be taken to resist it in every lawful manner."

Mr. Ripley calls attention to the fact that the president recommended consideration by the interstate commerce commission of an increase in freight rates to meet the wage increase charges resulting and also to prohibit strikes until investigation.

The brotherhoods, he said, have made it clear they will resist such legislation. It appears, he says, that "until some remedial legislation shall be adopted, the only way to avert tie-ups is for railways to grant by special legislation whatever demands labor combinations may insist upon as their price for permitting the people to continue to enjoy railway transportation."

FURTHER GAINS FOR THE ALLIES NORTH OF SOMME ARE CHRONICLED

Germans Driven From Redoubts and Forced to Give Up Positions; Trenches Near Morval Are Captured.

ANOTHER OFFENSIVE BEGUN BY RUSSIANS

Reports From Berlin and Petrograd Conflict as to Results of Fighting, Each Making Claims of Victory.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) —
Still further gains for British and French troops north of the Somme river are chronicled in the latest official communications. The Germans have been driven from positions near the staff redoubts and also have been forced to give up a very small portion of the positions. The British reports, however, that attacks by the British east of Triepval and by the French in the vicinity of Rancourt, Courcelles, Morval and Halle were repulsed.

In Galicia, Russians have started another big offensive. The official reports from Petrograd and Berlin are at variance as to results of the fighting. Petrograd reports that thirty miles northeast of Lemberg, the Russians are forcing their way forward, and have captured 1,500 officers and men. Also, south of Brzezany, fifty miles southwest of Lemberg, and along the right bank of the Zolota Liza, Austro-German positions are reported to have been taken and 112 officers and 3,258 men made prisoners.

Berlin Claims Victory.

Berlin asserts that Russian forces along the Brody-Lemberg railway were stopped, but admits the Russians gained a foothold in the south, and also advanced between the Tarnopol and Zolota Liza rivers.

In the Carpathians, in the Lodov sector, the Austrians have turned to the offensive and, according to Vienna, in an attack, captured four Russian officers and 342 men and eight machine guns.

The Russian theater is witnessed only local engagements. The number of prisoners taken by the army of General von Falkenhayn in the Hermannstadt region exceeded 5,000.

In Macedonia, the Serbians have at last captured the Kattinoban bridge on the Greek-Serbian border. The British on the stream have taken a portion of the Bulgarian line near the Orlik bridge.

Another air raid by Zeppelins over eastern England has taken place. One Zeppelin is reported to have been brought down in flames.

Tuesday night he will be the guest of honor at a reception here at the Union League club, at which former Presidents Roosevelt and Taft will be present.

Mr. Hughes expressed himself as well satisfied with the progress of his campaign.

JOINT COMMISSION TO HEAR FROM MINING MEN

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) —
Atlantic City, Oct. 1.—Representatives of the more important American mining interests in Mexico are expected to appear before the American-Joint commission here tomorrow regarding conditions in Mexico. Before they are received, the commissioners will hold their first joint session here in continuation of the discussions begun at Mexico City last week. Consideration of plans for the maintenance of peace along the border will be resumed, but reports which continue to arrive of Villa's activity in Chihuahua may serve as a further delay to agreement. The commissioners make no secret of the fact that failure of general Carranza's forces to run down Villa has proved embarrassing.

It was considered probable tonight that General Carranza's latest electoral decree would be discussed tomorrow. The decree is said to stipulate that none of those connected even remotely with the Huerta administration shall have the right to vote at the coming presidential election.

Another subject to be discussed more fully this week will be the closing of the National bank and the bank of London and Mexico.

STRAW VOTE OF COUNTRY SHOWS WILSON LEADING

Poll Conducted by New York Herald Gives New York, New Jersey and Other Important States to President

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) —
New York, Oct. 1.—The second installment of the New York Herald's presidential poll, published today, shows conclusively on its face that President Wilson's re-election is assured, notwithstanding an apparently partisan attempt by the Herald to show that "no fight for the presidency in the last twenty-eight years at least, at a corresponding stage of the campaign, has given such promise of a close race."

In its analysis of the straw vote taken this far, the Herald says: "The counties which in the presidential election are New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Massachusetts, West Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Oklahoma and Arizona."

These nine states have 155 electoral votes, which added to the electoral votes of the states that are conceded to Wilson, give him more than enough to elect.

"Margin" for Hughes.

The Herald puts the best possible possible odds for Mr. Hughes and proclaims in its headlines that the republican candidate "has a lead over Mr. Wilson by a slight margin."

It does mention that the "slight margin" is the possible vote in the states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, New Jersey, Massachusetts, West Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Oklahoma and Arizona.

Another significant feature is the fact that in California the Herald's poll is being taken through the Los Angeles Times, which is owned by General Harrison Gray Otis, a bitter opponent of the administration's Mexican policy, are generally known.

While the New York Herald poll gives Hughes a slight lead in Ohio, a state wide poll conducted by the Columbus Evening Dispatch showed "Wilson 8,747; Hughes 8,568."

The tabular accompanying these figures show "this poll was taken in fairly well balanced representative republican and democratic districts."

A poll conducted by the Buffalo Courier resulted: Wilson 57,229; Hughes 56,545. The partial canvass so far shows that Hughes will not hold the local progressives," said the accompanying tabular.

Senator Clarke was born in Yazoo City, Miss., August 18, 1854. He was educated in the schools of his native state, and in 1878 graduated from the law department of the University of Virginia. He began the practice of law in Helena, Ark., in 1879.

Career in Politics

Entering politics, Mr. Clarke was advanced rapidly from legislator in 1886 to state senator in 1888, to the presidency of the state senate in 1891, and to attorney general in 1892. In 1902 he was elected United States senator and was re-elected in 1909, and in 1915. He was elected president pro tem of the senate in 1913 and re-elected in 1915. His present term as United States senator would not have expired until March 4, 1921.

Senator Clarke was married in Helena on November 15, 1883, to Miss Sallie Moore. She and a son and two daughters survive.

Funeral services for the late senator will be held Tuesday afternoon from the residence here, followed by interment in a local cemetery.

Governor George W. Hays announced tonight that he will issue a proclamation tomorrow, ordering all state departments closed during the funeral.

PRESIDENT WHEN ADAMSON LAW WAS ENACTED

Washington, Oct. 1.—Senator Clarke had been president pro tem of the senate since the democratic party gained control in 1913. He was chosen by party caucus to succeed the late Senator Frye of Maine.

Senator Clarke left Washington a few weeks ago, apparently in good health. In the closing days of the last session he presided over the vote on the closing of the senate, which President Marshall. The railroad hour day bill was passed with Senator Clarke in the chair, but he was one of two democratic senators to vote against the measure, and he refused to sign it. He appointed Senator Hughes acting president pro tem when the bill was presented for signature.

Senator Clarke's revolt against the eight-hour bill was a typical manifestation of a stern independence which characterized his attitude throughout the thirteen years of his senatorial career. Many times he was the leader in opposition to measures proposed by his party. The climax of his independence was reached when, in 1909, he defeated the democratic result against the ship purchase bill, which gave new life to the republican filibuster against the measure and made its passage impossible. When the bill was reintroduced during the last session, however, with the government ownership and operation features, to which Senator Clarke objected, revised and modified, he supported it.

Senator Clarke acted for several years as chairman of the committee on commerce. He was the ranking democratic member of the foreign relations and military affairs committees.

INTERRED CRUISERS CAREFULLY GUARDED

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) —
Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—Convoys by the United States battleships Minnesota and Vermont, the interned German cruisers Kronsperg Wilhelm and Prinz Eitel Friedrich arrived at the Philadelphia navy yard tonight from Norfolk. A convoy of twelve warships escorted the interned cruisers up the coast, because it was necessary to go outside the three-mile limit. Ten of them came only as far as the Delaware capes.

The cruisers were sent here because the water at the Norfolk yard was needed.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1916

AN EXPLANATION.

At 9:48 o'clock Saturday night a communication was handed to the Journal, signed by several well-known ministers of the city, protesting against the opening of the fair grounds for purposes of entertainment on Sunday night, and criticizing the management of the fair for an alleged desecration of the Sabbath. This communication was accompanied by the request that it be published conspicuously in Sunday morning's issue of the Journal.

For several reasons the request was declined. In the first place, standing alone it was not a news story but the expression of an opinion, and the hour at which it was received was too late for its insertion in the department of the paper in which such articles are usually printed. Considered as an item of news it was incomplete without a statement from the fair management in reply or explanation, and it was impossible to get such a statement on Saturday night.

Furthermore, the circumstances were such that it would have been in our opinion, manifestly unfair to the state fair management to give publicity to such a protest and criticism. The giving of a Sunday program at the fair grounds was wholly unexpected and in the nature of an emergency step. Last Saturday night had rendered it impossible to give the fireworks display that had been planned and advertised, and it was impracticable to postpone the entertainment until Monday night. Season tickets had been sold with the understanding that they were good for a certain number of fireworks exhibitions, and the management was under a moral obligation to keep its promise to the purchasers of those tickets. The program Sunday night was not for private gain, but to assist in the financial success of an enterprise in which all the people of the state are interested—an enterprise recognized by every one as being wholly meritorious.

The question of Sabbath observance seems to us to be largely one for individual conscience. The ministers whose names were signed to the communication submitted to the Journal and all who hold to the same views had a perfect right to stay away from the fair grounds last night, as it is presumed that they did do, and no one has a right to question the propriety of their action. On the other hand, there are thousands of people just as good in every essential particular as those gentlemen who hold a contrary view and who could see no harm in witnessing a fireworks display on Sunday night; and as long as their indulgence in that pleasure did not interfere with the rights of their fellow men the Journal can not see that it lies in the mouth of any one to criticize or condemn them.

In conclusion, we can not refrain from the observation that none of the names signed to the protest referred to have ever appeared on any communication submitted to the Journal protesting against Sunday baseball and other Sunday amusement enterprises that are habitually conducted for private gain in Albuquerque. To let these things go unnoticed every day and then protest against a Sunday program put on as an emergency for the benefit of a worthy public movement strikes the Journal as being, to say the least, a trifle illogical.

THE VICE PRESIDENCY.

It would be a misfortune to the country if either Thomas B. Marshall or Charles W. Fairbanks should ascend to the presidency of the United States. The issues of the present campaign center about neither of the two. Neither represents any special principle of government—neither stand for any fixed political policy other than enunciated in the platitudinous platform declaration of his party. If either should become president it would be months before the country would know what to expect in the way of a definite prospect of governmental action.

The present system of choosing vice presidents is all wrong. The man nominated for that position should be selected with the idea in mind that some day he may be the chief executive of the nation. He should be a man with a definite record for statesmanship and proven executive ability. The accident of death should not be allowed to plunge the nation into doubt and uncertainty as to its future.

The vice president should have something else to do besides preside over the sessions of the senate. Duties should be provided for him, the exercise of which would give him an opportunity to expand and develop his powers and stand. The president's private secretary is better fitted by experience and familiarity with the duties of the presidency to take up its burdens than the man designated by the constitution as the first in line of succession.

The importance of the vice presidency has been vastly underestimated by the people of the United States. Perhaps after untold harm has been done by the elevation to the post of chief magistrate of some weak or unfit man, the nation will awake to the necessity for a change in the present system.

Why shouldn't the colonel have made a hit at Battle Creek? He spoke in a circus tent and the environment was perfectly natural.

WHAT TO EXPECT.

In his letter dated September 22, making a personal attack upon Sumner Burkhardt, W. H. Gillenwater makes the assertion, relative to the litigation over the affairs of the Montezuma Trust company, that "Mr. Burkhardt appeared, representing political henchmen of his having a small stock interest in the company and deliberately set about to cast the company and its assets into a receivership."

The truth is that the proceedings under which the Montezuma Trust company was placed in the hands of a receiver were brought on behalf of the state of New Mexico, October 15, 1915, nearly a year after the company had suspended business and following a report of its condition made by the traveling auditor. The suit was brought by Attorney General Frank W. Clancy, a republican official and a candidate for re-election on the republican ticket which Mr. Gillenwater is trying to elect. It was heard before Judge Herbert F. Reynolds, a republican in politics, who appointed as receiver Harry P. Owen, an active republican and at present district attorney of the Seventh Judicial district, elected on the republican ticket. Mr. Burkhardt's only connection with the case was when his firm was employed by the receiver and stockholders to bring suit in the name of the receiver against Mr. Gillenwater and other directors of the defunct institution for an accounting, and with his firm was associated M. E. Hickey, one of the leading republican attorneys of the state. This suit was brought May 8, 1915, a year and a half after the appointment of the receiver.

Mr. Burkhardt is not a candidate for any elective office and is not an issue in the present campaign. The time to discuss his record as an attorney is when his name is presented to the president for appointment as judge of the district court of the United States for the district of New Mexico. The foregoing facts are related, not as having any bearing on Mr. Burkhardt's aspirations for judicial appointment, but merely as showing the utter lack of credence to be placed in any utterance made by W. H. Gillenwater in his capacity as campaign manager for the Hubbell-Burton ticket.

It is currently reported that the letter attacking Mr. Burkhardt is only the first of a series of epistolary assaults which Mr. Gillenwater has in contemplation against candidates for office on the democratic ticket. In the coming election, each directed at the personal character of the man attacked. It is fortunate that the republican chairman, in his opening skitishness, has let the voters know what to expect of him in the way of truthfulness.

When Senator Fall, in his keynote speech at the republican convention, defiantly announced that his party would enter upon a campaign of mud-slinging, he evidently had in mind that W. H. Gillenwater would be made chairman of the republican state central committee.

After all, Mr. Hughes is not so much interested in the open door in China as he is in the open door to the White House.

Notes of Interest From State Museum

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Santa Fe, Oct. 1.—H. Paul Berlin, the artist, was sitting in the reception room of the Palace of the Governors, in which his pictures are hung. A party of Oklahoma tourists entered and gazed at the paintings. "Say, Mister," piped up the leader of the party, "them there paintings are by Indians, are they not?" Mr. Berlin solemnly assured them that they were. The next visitors were New Yorkers. One of the ladies, apparently a school teacher, remarked loud enough for Mr. Berlin, who had shrunk far back into the corner of the bench on which he was sitting: "These must be drawings executed by sixth grade pupils."

Mr. Berlin fled, murmuring to himself: "Why is an artist?"

The latest bulletin of the Alliance Française to be received by the museum library, brings the story of the war up to August 15, telling of the early progress of the offensive by the allies on the Somme.

The following registered at the museum: Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hoyt, 3 W. Horn, Clayton, N. M.; Donald Wallick, New York City; Mrs. A. E. Boyd, Clayton, N. M.; G. W. Horn, Beaumont, N. M.; L. E. Schaeffer, Louisville, Ky.; John Berger, Jr., Miami, Fla.; Mrs. John Griner, Cleveland, Ohio; Hollis C. Hill, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. S. Albrink, Walter, E. Albrink, Thornburg, Ia.; J. W. Schilde, Flagstaff, Ariz.; J. Delaney, San Francisco, Cal.; L. Fortis, Michoud, Ariz.; Will Reed, Denver, Colo.; Louis S. Smith, St. Louis, Mo.; James W. Stone, South Pasadena, Calif.; Mrs. A. Westcott, Mrs. Alfred J. Jennings, Chicago, J. E. Mitchell, Kansas City, Mo.; Jacobson, C. T. Imberg, Tulsa, Okla.; Albert E. Cohen, New York City; A. W. Harris, Mrs. A. H. Jordan, Mrs. P. H. Wells, P. H. Wells, Colorado Springs; L. Van Vleet, Detroit, Mich.; J. C. Shelton, Escalante Springs, Mo.; A. A. Heflin, Wagona, Ill.; H. A. Torgerson, Kewanee, W. Q. Payson, J. W. Richards, Roswell, N. E. Johnson, Fresno, Calif.; Nels Norberg, Kewanee, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Merritt, E. S. Mayfield and wife, Chihuahua, Mexico; Morris Winter, Everett, Wash.

The leading article in the October Magazine of Art is "Robert Henri—An Appreciation," by Oliver S. Tenka, professor of art of Vassar college. The article is beautifully and thoughtfully illustrated with black and white reproductions of Mr. Henri's portraits, made doubly interesting to Santa Feans, who have learned to love him. Mr. and Mrs. Henri since their arrival here in July, by a portrait of Mrs. Henri which leads the article under the title, "The Beach Hat," and of which the critic says: "The same knowledge of the effect of open-air light upon figures is seen in the 'Little Country Girl' and better still in the portrait known as the 'Beach Hat'." This remarkable picture, showing a woman in a red sweater and a broad-brimmed hat, is a study in deep blue, showing the slanting style which, to the writer at least, suggests the manner of Hals in his impetuous moods.

The author concludes with the following summing up: "Mr. Henri in a most striking manner, the change of the style is in his direct and sincere. He is not concerned with the mannerisms and severity of the academic school, he is nevertheless quite as conscious of the academicism of the school of delicate color." Sheldon Brown, the artist, has returned from the Grand Canyon for the winter, having completed several canvases for the Santa Fe railroad, while at the Grand Canyon. The Santa Fe has also given a commission for a painting to H. Paul Berlin, who leaves Santa Fe today. (One of Mr. Berlin's pictures on exhibit at the Palace was sold today to Dr. P. E. Mera, leaving for Denver, tonight, S. Gravelley Morley completed reading the proof on his contribution to the W. H. Holmes Memorial Volume. His monograph is on the Maya chronology and with it he reproduces all of the Maya descriptions thus far copied from the monuments.)

Admit W. E. Rollins and family have taken possession of the residence of Mrs. L. E. Jones at the corner of Manhattan and Don Gaspar avenues, for the winter.

During September 265 visitors from outside of Santa Fe registered at the museum, as against 1,115 in July and 1,237 in August, making a total of 2,452 for the past quarter, while during the first six months of the year 3,324 registered, making a total registered since New Year of 5,778. This would indicate a total of 29,000 visitors as it is generally assumed that less than one of every three visitors registers.

The names of the contributors to make up the $20,000 required to meet the conditions of the legislative appropriation of $50,000 for the new museum building, were announced today to the board of regents of the museum of New Mexico, by Hon. Frank Springer, as follows:

James Douglass, New York City.
A. C. James, New York City.
Cleveland H. Dodge, New York City.
James McLean, New York City.
William Church Osborn, New York City.
Alice D. Osborn, New York City.
Mary M. H. Dodge, New York City.
Spencer Penrose, Colorado Springs.
Charles M. MacNeill, New York City.
D. C. Jackling, San Francisco.
J. D. Sully, Silver City.
Herbert J. Hagerman, Roswell.
Mr. and Mrs. Max Nordhaus, Albuquerque.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Drell, Albuquerque.
Dr. Edward A. Shab, New York City.
Henry M. Porter, Denver.
Joshua Raynolds, Albuquerque.
Mrs. Margaret M. Dolgne, Boston.
(In memory of Henry Koehler, late president of the St. Louis Rocky Mountain and Pacific company).
Hugo A. Kröber, St. Louis.
J. Van Houten, Baton.
Charles Springer, Cimarron.
Frank Springer, Las Vegas.

By unanimous resolution of the board, the persons so named were declared patrons of the Museum of New Mexico, proper certificates, under the seal of the museum and the signatures of the president and secretary of the board of regents to be issued and transmitted to each of them.

The nation of Mexico, Y. T. Springer and James L. Seligman, the Women's Board of Trade of Santa Fe and the Archaeological Society of New Mexico, were also declared patrons. The former for a gift of $500 to fit up the Pigeon room in the Palace of the Governors, and the latter for a gift of $500 toward scientific expeditions of the museum.

Through Col. Ralph E. Twitchell, the museum forwarded thirty-one photographs from the collection to illustrate an article on Santa Fe, furnished the National Geographical Magazine by Col. Twitchell.

The board agreed to fence the museum's portion of the ruins of the Gran Quivira, in cooperation with the United States government, fencing the national monument which takes in part of the ancient pueblo. It also voted to cooperate with the general and office in a reconnaissance of the ruins in the Chaco Canyon, which are a national monument, and for the excavation of which a concession has been granted the museum, in connection with the Canadian government and the Smithsonian Institution, the excavations to cover a cost of six years at a cost approximately of $30,000.

Colonel Twitchell was authorized to raise the money necessary to bring back to Santa Fe the excavated and equipment of the New Mexico building at San Diego. The material to be brought back approximately weighs 18,000 pounds.

Professor Edgar L. Hewett read a letter from Dr. A. T. Clay, of Yale university, and favorably remembered in Santa Fe by his lecture course on Babylonia, announcing that Dr. A. H. Sayce, the Oxford savant, and the world's first known Assyriologist and Egyptologist, is coming to Santa Fe to reside for several months or longer.

The secretary read a letter from A. F. Douglass, the British artist, announcing his intention to join permanently in Santa Fe artist colony as soon as he could leave England and reach New Mexico.

Mrs. John McMillan of 1140 Randall boulevard, St. Louis, today became a member of the Archaeological society. A. F. Douglass, of Pasadena, Wash., and his wife, whose pictures have been exhibited in the local academy, and are being in the gallery at M. B. Bright and other European art centers, writes the museum that he will come to America to join the Santa Fe art colony. He also expects to take up a tract on the Holy Ghost for a summer cottage. As a boy Mr. Douglass lived in America and reading about Santa Fe and its atmosphere of art and culture recently aroused a desire to spend some time again in this country.

H. Paul Berlin today vacated his studio at the museum and it will be assigned for the time being to Warren E. Rollins. Mr. Berlin, before leaving, added two striking pictures to his exhibit at the Palace, which will be continued until October 25, when the pictures will be shipped to New York for exhibit. Mr. Berlin has spoken for a studio at the museum during next summer. The two pictures hung today are portraits of Spanish-American women, but are so different, so impressive, as to be the very soul of the artists. One is that of a girl in black and white, a most unusual Spanish type. The black of the fabric is produced by the blending of greens, blues and reds. The other is that of a picture of a middle-aged woman, with pinched features and with the insupportable look of ages of suffering and experience upon her face. The picture is startling in its truthfulness, and truthfulness that darks are unadorned. El Greco and Goya are rivaled by both canvases and yet they possess an originality that makes the critic hesitate to liken them to anything he has seen before.

The inability of the brick plant at the penitentiary to keep up with the demand on the part of the prison building threatens another delay of twelve days, which may throw the works so far into fall and winter as to prevent its going under roof this year and possibly delay completion to next fall.

Of transcendent interest to scientific circles the world over is the announcement that Dr. A. H. Sayce of the University of Oxford, will come to Santa Fe this winter to remain several months and possibly longer.

Dr. Sayce is the master of living archaeologists, whose specialty has been not only Assyriology and Egyptology, but archaeology in general and who has been a prolific writer on these subjects, his works being used as textbooks and having been translated into many languages. The Encyclopedia Britannica gives half a column of small print to his achievements as an orientalist. Dr. Sayce this year celebrated his seventieth birthday.

SANTA ROSA MAN IS ACQUITTED OF ASSAULT CHARGE

George Arnold Is Freed by Jury After Short Deliberation; District Court Is Busy in Guadalupe County.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
East Las Vegas, N. M., Oct. 1.—George Arnold, tried at Santa Rosa on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, was acquitted by the jury after a short deliberation.

In the case of the state against Jeff Woodward and Everett Sifers, charged with larceny of a horse, District Attorney Ward asked that the cause be dismissed, which was done by Judge Leahy. Martin Corole, a man charged with intent to kill, pleaded not guilty, and hearing was put over to the next term. The four cases of Louis Gualtier and that of the state against Nacacio Gualtier, were set for hearing at the next term of court. The following cases were dismissed:

State against Yankel Coker, Rolla Edwards, Charles Edwards and Thomas Dun, theft.

State against Reuben Owens, larceny from a dwelling.

State against Lee Shover, rape.

State against Edward Dodge and George Allen, larceny from a shop. These persons have all been in jail for seven months.

Francisco Raed, charged with rape, withdrew his plea of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty. Isidor Encinella pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault with a knife. The case of Lee Longacre, accused of assault with a deadly weapon, was begun Saturday by the court. Attorneys Davidson, Tucuman and Baker of Santa Rosa, appeared for the defendant.

In the following cases the grand jury, which returned ten indictments, as stated in the Journal several days ago, presented no true bills:

State against Bert Hyatt, Ben Jackson, Charles McAvoy, charged with larceny of an automobile.

State against Trinidad Romero, Manuel Chavez, Thomas Salazar, charged with larceny of cattle.

State against Lon Osborn, assault with intent to kill.

Testimony was heard in the case of the Bank of Clinton, Ia., against the Santa Fe stock company, which, by agreement of counsel, the defendant was given 20 days in which to file a brief with the court and the plaintiff given 15 days in which to file a brief in answer. The case involves title to 150 acres of land on Santa Fe creek.

In the suit of J. D. Johnson against Mrs. F. H. Widener, tried by the court without a jury, the complaint was dismissed. Johnson drilled a well for Mrs. Widener on her claim near Fort Sumner. The well proved a failure, but Johnson, under the terms of a contract, claimed he was entitled to payment for drilling 225 feet.

He can escape the effects of such violation if he "backs up" in time. Such is virtually the decision of the secretary of the interior in the appeal of the case of H. L. Flowers vs. Alexander Stewart, involving 280 acres of land. Flowers charged and Stewart admitted that the latter had made a contract with John P. Holloway for the sale of his interest in the land for $4,000, of which Holloway paid $1,000 in cash and notes for the balance. But Mr. Stewart declared that as soon as he found it would be a violation of the law to dispose of his land before final proof was made he rescinded his contract with Mr. Holloway, who was willing and gave Mr. Holloway the water rights that would cover the payment of $2,000 and fore the two notes of $1,000 each that Holloway had signed.
