DE BACA-BURSUM RACE FORMS BIG PUZZLE OF THE STATE CAMPAIGN

Contest for Governorship a Mystery That Political Prophets Find Difficultly in Solving Satisfactorily.

REPUBLICAN BLUNDERS HAVE HURT CANDIDATE

Friends of Democratic Nominee Working With Might and Main and Express Confidence of Victory at Polls.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL) Santa Fe, Oct. 19.—The most interesting and diverting little pastime in political circles in New Mexico today is "Button, Button, Who's got the Governorship Buttion?"

There are plenty of supposedly sagacious gentlemen who have made long study of games like this and who profess to be expert at playing them, who will tell you that this particular little game is the simplest ever put out for solution, but in every case they are gentlemen who have a strong interest in having the game won by one or the other candidates for the governorship in New Mexico. Cold-blooded politicians who have studied the situation solely with a view to ascertaining the probable outcome of the election and who are not afraid to tell you just what they think, confess that the question is one of the most baffling that has ever been put out to the political prophet.

A month ago Bursum looked like the one best bet on either ticket. At that time he was conducting something of a still hunt for the office, was meeting the voters in his affable and genial way and was making decided headway on what seemed to be almost a clear track.—But on Bursum were freely offered in any amount and at almost any odds, and there were few takers.

GERMANS ADMIT THAT BREMEN IS PROBABLY LOST

Submarine Set Out From Bra-merhaven for America and Should Have Reached Port
Middle of Last Month.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Oct. 19.—It was admitted that German officials not only in this country but in Berlin, were without information as to the fate of the Bremen. All they know is that she set out for America from Bremer-haven and that she should have arrived at an American port soon after the middle of last month. It is regarded as doubtful that accurate information concerning the fate of the vessel will be available until after the close of the war, if then.

The disappearance of the Bremen will not cause abandonment of the project to send merchant submarines regularly from Germany to the United States, it was said. There appeared to be reason to expect that another submarine sea freighter, either the Deutschland or some other vessel would reach an American port some time within the next month.

German officials in Washington do not believe the Bremen could have fallen into the hands of the British unless she had some accident to her machinery. They pointed out that unlike naval submarines, merchant submarines avoid all localities frequented by shipping and therefore are not open to the same risks.

When the Bremen was a week overdue no anxiety regarding her was felt.
The Deutschland was just a week overdue when she came through the Virginia capes and the weather conditions then were much better than those which have prevailed during the last month and a half. When the vessel was two weeks overdue anxiety was apparent in various Teutonic quarters and word of her arrival was anxiously awaited.

Since then hope that the submarine must be safe has dwindled each day and today she was spoken of as having been lost.

GREAT NORTHERN TO ELECTRIFY 300 MILES

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 19.—Plans are being worked out by the Great Northern Railroad company of the electrification of more than 300 miles of main line between Spokane and Sea-tle, Wash., and other mountain divisions of the west. It became known today that the project was tentatively outlined is one of the largest of its kind ever undertaken.

The Great Northern, through a subsidiary company, controls water rights on the Chelan river in Washington and the present plans, it is said, include the raising of the level of Lake Chelan, near which the main power plant would be established.

It is understood the actual preliminary work on the project will be started by next summer.

THE WEATHER

THE WEATHER FORECAST.
Denver, Oct. 19.—New Mexico: Friday and Saturday probably fair; warmer north portion Friday; warmer east portion Saturday.

LOCAL WEATHER REPORT.
For twenty-four hours, ending at

Maximum temperature, 62 degrees; minimum, 38; range, 24; temperature

Pecos valley roll up for de Baca the big majorities that were given to Mc-Donald in 1911? If these two things come to pass the present lieutenant governor will be the next governor of New Mexico, but they are two things that cannot be foretold—that must await the count of the votes on the night of November 7. Therein lies the big puzzle of the state campaign.

Seligman's Task.
The fact that the democratic campaign was slow in getting under way and that not until the last few days has there been injected into the fight the amount and quality of "pep" that goes with a well organized and well conducted contest for political offices is one that has been commented on in many quarters. And thereby hangs a tale.

When Chairman Arthur Seligman was placed at the head of the state central committee he felt heir to a check book with nothing to check against and a large collection of buoyant hopes and rosy predictions of victory. Nothing more. The bill was so empty that it was ready to cave in of organization there was only the barest skeleton. Hope and enthusiasm were the only tools with which the new chairman had to work.

Being a practical, hard-headed business man with a business man's idea of running a campaign, Mr. Seligman set about to acquire something more definite than hope and enthusiasm with which to fight the battle that lay before him. He had to build up his organization from the very foundations, and most essential of all, he had to secure the funds with which to defray the expenses of the campaign. He is still in need of funds, but those he believes will be forthcoming in due time. For the first time since the nominations were made he now has a compact, working organization and is in a position to carry the fight into the enemy's country.

CHURCHMEN IN WRANGLE OVER OVER PRAYERS FOR SOLDIERS

Militarists Win, and Army and Navy Are to Be Objects of Supplication in Worship of Episcopal Church.

OPPOSITION FEARS ENCOURAGEMENT OF WAR

Rev. Dr. Melish Sees Probability of Catastrophe to United States Similar to That of Europe Today.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 19.—Militarists clashed with pacifists in a debate on prayer in the House of Deputies of the Protestant Episcopal general convention here today. The issue, which arose over the proposal of the commission on the enrichment of the book of common prayer to add prayers for the army and navy, divided the body into two factions.

The prayer which was adopted and upon which most of the discussion was based, was recommended by the commission. It asked "Lord, God of Hosts, to strengthen and protect the soldiers of our country; support them in the day of battle and in time of peace keep them safe from evil."
It also pleaded that "in all things they may serve without reproach." A similar prayer suggested by the committee for the navy, was also adopted.

Clash Over War.
One faction, led by Rev. John Howard Melish of Brooklyn, held that any war is un-Christian and that no soldier can serve without reproach. The other, of which Rev. Leighton Parks of New York, was spokesman, while not championing war, argued that it is the duty of the church to pray for those men who forsake civil pursuits in which the remuneration might be greater for the service of their country.

Previously, several delegates had urged the inclusion of the ritual of a prayer for world peace. The Rev.
W. H. Milton of Wilmington, N. C., introduced a resolution to this end,
which was referred to the commission.
If approved by the House of Bishops, the prayers for the army and navy will be in tentative use in the next three years and will be acted upon finally at the next general convention.

BRITISH STEAMER IS SUNK; ALL ON BOARD ARE SAFE

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
London, Oct. 19.—Lloyd's announced that the British steamer Albatross has been sunk and that her captain and 163 men of the crew have been rescued. With the exception of a few men missing, the ship's company was landed by a trawler.
All the passengers had been landed previously.

New York, Oct. 19.—The Cunard liner Albatross, which sailed from this port October 7, was sunk by a mine in the English channel today, according to cable advices to the local Cunard officials while proceeding to London from Plymouth. On Tuesday, the officials said, she landed at Plymouth all of her 243 passengers, including twenty-one Americans, who sailed on her from New York.

The Albatross, one of the newest vessels of the Cunard line, sailed from New York on the day the German submarine U-53 arrived at Newport about the same time the U-53 the next morning began her operations in that vicinity against British ships.
Incidentally, the Cunard was armed for defense against submarines.

The Albatross carried a cargo of about 14,000 tons of merchandise, including war supplies, but no munitions. Among the items listed were rubber and copper goods, food supplies and chemicals. The main part of her cargo was to be discharged at London.

Built in 1915, the ship was 520 feet long, with a gross tonnage of 12,463.

Buy Rolling Stock for Mexican R.R.
San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 19.—Six hundred locomotives from Mexico were here today, en route to Columbus, O., to buy rolling stock for the National Railways of Mexico. Jose Hernandez, head of the party, said $1,000,000 will be spent at once and that more orders will follow soon.

FRENCH PUSH ON SLOWLY TOWARD PERONNE; ALSO BRITISH GAIN

Berlin Admits Kaiser's Forces Are Being Gradually Forced

Constant Pressure.

VIOLENT FIGHTING ON RUSSIAN BATTLE LINE

Austro-Germans Claim Notable Successes at Certain Points in Volhynia; Rumanians Score.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Gradually the French are drawing their front closer to Peronne, in France. After Wednesday's advance, along a mile front between Biaches and La Maisonnette, west of the Somme, an attack launched Thursday was rewarded with further gains, which virtually brings them to the bank of the stream.

North and east of Sully-Salles, where the French have advanced their line in the last few days, the Germans have made a violent counter-attack which was repulsed by the French.

Admit British Gain.
Berlin admits that in their attacks on the Sars-Morel front the British captured German positions, but says these were later re-taken. Except for a slight gain by the British at Butte-de-Warlen court and the repulse of a German counter-attack there, comparative quiet prevailed.

No decisive result has been achieved in the violent fighting that has been going on for several days in Volhynia and Galicia. Petrograd says that near Krasin and Synovsk in Volhynia, attacks by the "Teutons" were repulsed, while Berlin records the capture of Russian trenches on the western bank of the Stokhod, and in the repulse with heavy casualties of Russian attacks near Bulnow.

Fighting in Galicia.
South of Zborow, in Galicia, several enterprises have been carried out successfully by the Austrians, while at other points Russian attacks were put down.

In Transylvania, Rumanians have taken the offensive at various points and now are declared to be pushing back their adversaries. Berlin, however, controverts this statement.

There is no change in the situation in Macedonia, although both the enemy and Teutonic allies make claim to minor successes on various sectors.
Artillery duels are taking place in the Austro-Italian theater.

THE PRESIDENT GREETED WITH ENTHUSIASM BY CHICAGO PEOPLE

Anti-Wilson Banners of National Women's Party Are Torn Down by Angry Spectators; Small Riot Develops

POLICEMEN ACCUSED OF NEGLECTING DUTY

Chief Executive Calls at Western Headquarters and Sees Machinery of Campaign in Active Operation.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Chicago, Oct. 19.—President Wilson came here today to explain his views on problems facing the nation.
He delivered three speeches here, participated in several street demonstrations and went over western campaign plans with his managers at headquarters. He left at midnight and will arrive at Long Branch, N. J., at midnight tomorrow.

In a speech before the Chicago Press club, the president predicted the beginning of "a renaissance of the sense of patriotic responsibility," and urged the development of progressiveness. Speaking before a pathetic of women later, he urged more participation of women in the affairs of the nation, and at a meeting tonight of new citizens he declared for a United America.

Everywhere, Cheers.
At his every appearance the president was cheered by throngs which packed the streets during his automobile rides from place to place and filled to capacity the halls in which he spoke. He stood in his automobile while passing through the crowds and smilingly waved his hat to the people on the streets and in the windows of buildings.

An attempted "silent demonstration" by members of the national women's party in front of the Auditorium developed into a riot in which banners opposing Wilson were torn from the demonstrators and trampled and the women were roughly handled. President Wilson was seated in an automobile, a few hundred feet away when the demonstration started, but he passed into the building and was not a witness to the scene that followed.

Banners Torn Down.
Shouting "Shame! disgrace!" and "Get the banners!" the crowd of several hundred, sprinkled with women, charged the banner holders. Un-dressed and came were used in the destruction of the placards. Many of the women were knocked down and nearly all were roughly handled, especially those who strove to retain their banners.

The excitement continued until all the banners had been seized. With disheveled hair and soiled and torn clothing, the women marched back to their headquarters under police escort.

Charges that the police sympatized with the rioters and failed to protect the demonstrators were made by Mrs. Josephine Pearce and Mrs.
E. L. Mattice, officials of the local women's republican club.

Policemen Unsympathetic.
"There were all kinds of policemen standing about merely looking on,
not moving a hand," said Mrs.
Pearce. "Some of them didn't seem to want to help us. I saw policemen deliberately stand nearby and laugh at us while we were being beaten and the banners torn from our hands."

"We were merely standing quietly, holding our banners and not harming anyone. Suddenly there was a regular riot. They grabbed our banners, trampled on them, and knocked us down. It was terrible."

Members of the Congressional Union compared the scene at the demonstration with the suffrage parade in Washington the day before President Wilson was inaugurated.

Similar to Capital Mob.
"The disgraceful attack upon the suffrage demonstration is similar to the attack by mobs upon the great suffrage parade," Mrs. Wilson is reported to have said. "It is unfortunate that he runs the risk of going out of office to the same tune by which he entered," said Mrs. A. J.
Colvin, Minnesota state chairman of the Congressional Union.

Miss Alice Paul, national chairman of the Congressional Union, characterized it as "an attack by democrats."
"The violent attack by democrats upon the demonstration shows the republicanism with which they take our campaign," she said. "Evidently they feel keenly the weakness of President Wilson's suffrage position when they resort to such violence to prevent his hostility to national woman suffrage being revealed to the people of Chicago."

Negro waiters at the Press club utilized the presence of President Wilson at lunch there to gain for themselves a raise in wages, without investigation and without compromise. Just before the president was due to arrive thirty special waiters who were to serve the luncheon put on their coats, preparatory to waiting out. They had not asked for more pay, but when stopped by the steward told him they had decided they must have a fifty per cent increase on the contract price, before they would begin their duties. The advantage was theirs and the increase was granted.

Mrs. Wilson accompanied the president. Dressed in black and wearing a large bouquet of orchids and violets, she drew almost as much applause as the president.

Visit to Headquarters.
Between his speeches to the women and his night address, the president went to the western democratic headquarters and for the first time witnessed the details of the machinery used in an effort to re-elect him. Senator Walsh, chairman of the headquarters, and Senator Sutherland of Delaware showed him just how the campaign is being carried on, and then the president and Mrs. Wilson stood for half an hour shaking hands with all the headquarters clerks, including all the stenographers and mailing clerks.

Afterward the president had a brief conference with Senator Walsh and was told that a decided "swing had set in in the west for the democratic ticket."

At the meeting of women, the president was introduced by Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, former superintendent of Chicago's schools, who declared he had kept the United States honorably at peace. Miss Jane Addams occupied a seat in a box.

Speaks to Women.
The president defined his message to the women as follows:
"Society is now organizing its whole power in order that it may understand itself, in order that it may have a new organization and instrument of civilization, and I am ambitious that America should show the way in this great enterprise." He did not touch on votes for women.

The president declared that some of the difficulties in the foreign relationship of the United States have been due to the fact that other nations have not realized that this nation was disinterested. "When the nations of the world come to love America," he said, "they will obey and follow America."

A demonstration lasting more than five minutes greeted the president at a new citizens' meeting tonight. Men stood on chairs and cheered, waving their hats. The president stood and bowed again and again. The applause ended when a clergyman began an invocation.

The preliminary speakers were continued on page two.

MEN OF VALLEY FORGE ON PAR WITH MEXICANS

Also Calls McAdoo to Task for Questioning Statement Regarding the Lusitania Tragedy.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Youngstown, O., Oct. 19.—Charles E. Hughes, reiterating that he meant what he said in Louisville the other night about the course he would have followed with reference to the Lusitania, tonight replied to a recent utterance of Secretary McAdoo, with the declaration that apparently it seemed impossible to the administration that one could mean what he said.

"Now rises the secretary of the treasury to complain that this was not a statement of what I would have done, had the sinking occurred," Mr.
Hughes said, after reiterating that he would have stated his position, "unequivocally," in advance of the sinking. "I was under the impression that when I said what I would have done in advance as to what I would do, everyone would know that I stated what, in fact, I would have done in the described event. The secretary's remarks show in an illuminating way this administration's conception of the value of words."

Means What He Says.
"It apparently seems impossible to this administration that one can mean what he says. That is its difficulty.
With it, a threat of action does not seem to mean anything but words. My position is somewhat different."

"I mean what I say and because this would have been well known and we should have had a reputation for truth and correct policies. I repeat that Lusitania would not have been sunk."

Mr. Hughes spoke before an audience in the theater here. He also responded to a statement attributed to Secretary Baker in a recent speech in which Washington's soldiers in the march to Valley Forge in the days of the American revolution, were said to be just as bad characters as the Mexicans.

"I never supposed the day would come," Mr. Hughes said, "when the representative of an American administration would say that of those who gave our liberties."

Roads Lansing's Words.
After quoting the statement attributed to Secretary Baker, Mr. Hughes read from Secretary Lansing's description in June last of the atrocities in Mexico, contained in a note to the de facto government of Mexico. Mr.
Lansing's recital of the civil strife in Mexico, with its attendant loss of American life and destruction of American property, and that portion of the note relating to the Santa Ysabel massacre, were read by Mr.
Hughes verbatim.

"An administration imbued with the spirit of true Americanism," Mr.
Hughes said, "would be incapable of the statement attributed to the secretary of war. It must bring the blush of shame to the cheek of every American that apologizes for the deplorable record in Mexico should be made after this fashion."

Mr. Hughes' speech here tonight was the last of his third presidential campaign trip. He left here at 11 p. m. for New York, where he is due tomorrow afternoon. The day was spent traveling, with three short addresses at City City, Saginaw, and Pitts. Mich. It was raining and the damp weather affected the nominee's voice.

In his speech here tonight, Mr.
Hughes said:
"The president of the United States is the trustee of executive power, placed in control of our agencies of international intercourse, he is the guardian of the rights of the American citizen. He has no authority to surrender them, no right to impair them. Upon his firmness in maintaining that depends our security and our peace. The democratic platform four years ago promised that the constitutional rights of Americans should be protected them on our borders and go with them throughout the world. When it promised full protection for American lives and property abroad, it stated an established American principle."

"One of America's greatest jurists, speaking for the supreme court of the United States is to demand the care and protection of the federal government over his life, liberty and property when on the high seas or within the jurisdiction of a foreign government."

"Now we are told that the administration has turned his back on the American doctrine of full protection.
That is what its leading apologist finds its record in Mexico to mean.
It is a reversal without authority and in violation of the specific pledge upon which it was elected. Instead of fol-

ADMITTS AGAIN WILSON'S LEAD IN MIDDLE-WEST

New York Tribune Prints Letter From Subscriber Telling of President's Increasing Strength in Central States.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
New York, Oct. 19.—The increasing strength of President Wilson in the middle west is again admitted by the New York Tribune, the Gibraltar of republican newspapers. This statement of republican newspapers prints the following from a subscriber who has just completed a tour of several western states:

"Mr. Hughes injured his own candidacy on his first trip to the Pacific coast. One hear this everywhere and republicans declare it as openly as democrats. Three republicans from Kansas who traveled on the train with me declared they would vote for Wilson or stay away from the polls after having heard Hughes and they asserted that Kansas was strong for Wilson's kind of peace and prosperity."

"I left New York convinced that Hughes would be our next president.
Now I am in doubt, my reasons are not so into the middle west just now and not feel that everywhere the flow of life is toward Wilson."

Commenting on the letter the New York Evening Post today says prospectively tending to the benefit of a democratic administration is naturally growing to republicans. But it is declaring them a lot of good. The republican who writes pessimistically about the outlook for Hughes in the Tribune returns with a feeling very much like that of the middle westeners. If this process goes on the party soon will be singing the praises of poverty in saying that there is nothing like an empty stomach to stimulate true patriotism."

NEW JERSEY TRIPS TAKE AUTOMOBILES

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 19.—Six members of the Fifth New Jersey infantry and two regulars from the Sixth field artillery waited preliminary hearing today and were bound over to await action of the superior court in Tombstone on the charge of stealing two automobiles. The men were here named as Kenneth McGregor, Robert Hughes, William J. Maxwell, William Lashmond, Anthony J.
Downie, James E. Moore, Alfred Swift and Thomas N. Lee.

McGregor was arrested on the state highway between Douglas after taking a motor delivery truck belonging to a local merchant, the officers charged. The other seven are charged with the larceny of a seven-passenger car from in front of a theater Tuesday night. They were arrested in Bisbee.

While the men have made no statement for publication, their friends say they took the cars for a joy ride, intending to return them.

CAPTAIN FAY OF MARINES TAKES INDIVIDUAL TITLE

Outshoots 668 Competitors at Jacksonville, Fla., Making a Score of 290 Out of a Possible 300.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 19.—Out-shooting 668 competitors at the national rifle tournament here today, Capt. W. Garland Fay, U. S. marine corps, won the title of individual military champion rifle shot of the United States. Captain Fay's score in the contest, which is known as the president's match, was 290 out of a possible 300 points. W. H. Richards of New Haven, Conn., quinque club, finished second with 285 points. The firing today was in the 1,000 yard stage as the rapid fire and the 600-yard stages were completed last Tuesday.

Besides the title of the champion Captain Fay got a gold medal, cash and a letter of congratulation from the president of the United States. Silver and bronze medals and cash were the prizes for second and third places.

The pistol team match was won by the Mount City rifle club of St. Louis with a score of 1,760. Indiana national guard, with 1,748, was second, and Wyoming national guard third, with 1,679. Banners and cash were the prizes. G. W. Chesley of New Haven, Conn., won the Munnies match, scoring 58, a perfect score, at 600 yards. A gold medal was his prize.

Gen. W. W. Moore, adjutant general of South Carolina, captured the adjutant general's match, scoring 82 out of a possible 100.

The individual pistol match, the concluding event on the program of the National Rifle association, will be finished tomorrow, as darkness overtook the competitors today.

The Mount City, Mo., team of six men, scoring 1,760 out of a possible 1,800, won the pistol match. The Indiana national guard team was second, Wyoming national guard third, and Colorado civilian team fourth.

BEN EARL WINNER OF FIRST MONEY IN PIEDMONT CUP CLASS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 19.—Ben Earl, the 200 3-4 gelding owned by Edward Peterson of Omaha, took first money in the grand circuit's $2,000 Piedmont hotel cup class racing race in straight heats here today. Coming in for second, third and fourth places, respectively, were Spring Maid, Young Todd and Peter Pointer.

The most sensational performance of the class was the third event, a 2:07 class racing race, won by Alameda, with Murphy driving. The little gray mare took the first, second and fourth heats, making only third place in the third. Birdland, driven by Stout, fought every inch of the way for first place in the first, second and fourth heats and was beaten only by a nose.

The second event, 2:18 class trotting, for $1,000, was won by Bridge-mark, a bay gelding, piloted by Traylor, who came in third in the first heat and then took three first places in succession. Truesdale, a bay mare, driven by Cox, was first under the wire in the opening heat.

Ben Earl came out between scheduled events in a trot to lower the track record of 2:05 3-4 made by Goldie C. last Tuesday, and did it easily, covering the oval in 2:04 3-4.

Lee Asworthy went out against his world championship record here tomorrow.

REVOKE PERMISSION TO CLOSE HIGHWAYS FOR THE GRAND PRIZE

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Los Angeles, Oct. 19.—Permission to close highways to hold the Vanderbilt cup automobile race November 16 and the Grand Prize road race November 18 was revoked today by the board of public works when the city attorney ruled the charter did not empower the city to grant such a permit.

One leg of the rectangular eight-and-a-half-mile road course passes through Westgate addition, recently annexed to the city. The balance of the course lies within the Santa Monica city limits. Work has begun on the course.

City officials said they saw no way out of the difficulty and believed the races might be called off.

WINSLOW HIGHS LOSE TO FLAGSTAFF NORMAL

Flagstaff, Ariz., Oct. 19.—In a hard fought game the Northern Arizona Normal school football team defeated Winslow high school at Winslow Monday, making the third consecutive victory for the normal team this season. The score was 7 to 0. In the opening game Winslow was defeated, and later Prescott high school met defeat on the local gridiron. Phoenix high school will play the normal here October 27 and the Tempe Normal school on Thanksgiving day. Coach Thorpe is hopeful of winning the state championship with his team this year.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE.

At Salt Lake, 4: San Francisco, 1. At Oakland, 1: Vernon, 0. (Eleven innings.) At Los Angeles, 15: Portland, 2.

French Champ Defeats Alberts.

New York, Oct. 19.—Albert Badoni, French welterweight champion, defeated Johnny "Kid" Alberts of Bayonne, N. J., in a ten-round bout in Brooklyn tonight. The men weighed 152 pounds each.

SANTA FE HIGHS TO PLAY ALBUQUERQUE HIGHS TWO GAMES

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL) Santa Fe, Oct. 19.—The Albuquerque high school football team will play the Santa Fe high school team on the grounds of St. Michael's college on Thanksgiving day. The Santa Fe team will play Albuquerque at Albuquerque on November 9. Santa Fe plays the Indian school Saturday of this week.

HARVARD FOOTBALL SQUADS PLACED UNDER PARTIAL QUARANTINE

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 19.—Members of the first and second Harvard football squads were placed under a partial quarantine tonight as a result of the discovery that Edwin Ginn of Winchester, halfback on the second team, had apparently developed symptoms of infantile paralysis.

The football game with Massachusetts Agricultural college, arranged for next Saturday, will be played, the agricultural college authorities having decided not to cancel the contest.

In addition to the football squads, associates of Ginn in Claverly hall on the so-called "gold coast" are under partial quarantine restrictions.

PORTALES GIVES WARM RECEPTION TO LEE CRUCE, EX-GOVERNOR OF OKLA.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL) Portales, Oct. 19.—Notwithstanding the fact that a counter attraction was strenuously worked at the picture show here Tuesday night, ex-Governor Lee Cruce of Oklahoma was greeted by a packed house. Every seat in the court house was filled and there were many standees.

The speaker was introduced by Judge James A. Hall, who in a few well chosen remarks told the audience that Governor Cruce had a message for them and that they would be well repaid for their attendance.

Governor Cruce made an address lasting about one hour in which he covered thoroughly every act of the Wilson administration. His address was not partisan, as a matter of fact, he stated in his opening remarks that he wanted to talk to those progressive republicans who were progressive in principle, rather than those who were progressive because Theodore Roosevelt had been one at one time.

He confined his talk entirely to national issues and was closely followed and frequently applauded.

At the conclusion of the address a Wilson and Marshall club was organized with 148 members. John A. Farley, ex-state chairman, Seth A. Morrison secretary and Mrs. G. L. Leasing assistant secretary. A committee, consisting of W. O. Oldham, chairman, Mrs. Maude Smith, Mrs. R. P. Culbertson, Mrs. A. B. Seay, J. B. Priddy and Dr. John S. Pearce, was appointed to solicit members.

MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL) Santa Fe, Oct. 19.—Although the business organizations have received pledges sufficient to provide rooms for 1,500 teachers during the educational convention, Secretary Doyle of the Chamber of Commerce, is arranging for ten Pullman sleepers to be parked at Santa Fe during the convention which will in case of necessity take care of 500 visitors above the expected 1,500. In addition, coats will be provided to be set up in offices and rooms not in use. The School of American Archaeology has offered its field equipment of tents and cots to be set up in the patio of the Old Palace, in case the visitors should exceed the 2,000 mark. Reports received to date indicate an attendance from the outside of 1,500 teachers.

OIL WORKERS BACK TO WORK UNDER GUARD

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 19.—The Standard Oil company today reopened its plant here and several hundred men returned to work under police guard. These were not strikers but are employees who were forced out when the company closed its doors after strikers and sympathizers engaged in violence which resulted in loss of life. There was little disorder today.

With federal conciliatory commissioners on the ground and the company expressing a willingness to consider the strikers' demands for better wages if they resume their places, indications today were that the controversy would be settled shortly.

Cremery Company Incorporates.

Santa Fe, Oct. 19.—The Texico-Cremery company of Texico, Curry county, today filed incorporation papers with the state corporation commission. The capitalization is $10,000 and $2,000 of the capital stock is paid up. The incorporators are: D. L. Harding, F. A. Cooke, A. L. King, Albert Nason, W. J. Matthews, F. A. Robertson, F. R. Neal, K. Reynolds, R. S. Triplett, Pay Neal, G. W. Dier, J. I. Walling, C. W. Harrison, G. A. Wilson, P. L. McClellan.

Von Kneck on Retired List.

Berlin, Oct. 19 (via London).—Field Marshal Alexander H. R. von Kneck, who commanded the right wing of the German army in its march to Paris in the fall of 1914, has been placed on the retired list at his own request. He had never returned to the front since he was wounded by shrapnel fire in March, 1915, while inspecting advanced positions. The field marshal was 76 years old last May.

To Enlarge Public Library.

Santa Fe, Oct. 19.—At a special meeting of the Woman's Board of Trade this forenoon, it was decided to make additions and alterations to the public library building so as to enlarge the kitchen and dining facilities in time for the convention of the New Mexico Educational association.

ROSWELL IS UP TO HER EARS IN STATE POLITICS

Democrats and Republicans Maneuvering to Gain Advantage in Speaking Conditions; Much Enthusiasm.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL) Roswell, N. M., Oct. 19.—With Governor W. C. McDonald and Lee Cruce of Oklahoma here representing the democrats and H. O. Bursum, Senator A. B. Fall, W. E. Lindsey, candidate for lieutenant governor, and J. H. Wagner, candidate for superintendent of public instruction on the republican ticket, here Roswell was all agog politically yesterday. Incidentally there was a little maneuvering to outlive the situation. The republicans in a hopeless minority in Chaves county believed the democrats were staging Lee Cruce and W. C. McDonald on this particular night to out down the audience for Mr. Bursum and Senator Fall. So they came out yesterday afternoon announcing that the republican speech-fest would be postponed until tonight and instead of having a downtown meeting they held one in Chihuahua, the small Spanish-American suburb.

No Lack of Enthusiasm.

The democratic speakers drew large crowds and the theater where they spoke was comfortably filled. There was no lack of enthusiasm when the national issues were discussed, and Governor Cruce was especially well received.

The Bursum party reports a most cordial reception the whole length of the valley from Carlsbad to Roswell, and the general opinion is that the trip was a success. The meeting here tonight was the first public meeting of the campaign for the republicans.

With the two large representations of the two parties here the court proceedings yesterday announced a main-damus suit, which is the outgrowth of a split in the democratic ranks, and one of the splits which is apparently getting wider and wider as election day approaches.

Commissioners' Fight in Third.

This is the commissioners' fight in the Third district. C. W. Curry in the present nominee and J. N. Moore, who was thrown bodily off the ticket by the democratic central committee, has filed a mandamus proceeding asking that the committee be ordered by the court to place his name on the ticket. Moore and Curry tied in the democratic primary. In the run-off Moore apparently won by fifty-seven votes.

At a meeting of the democratic convention in August his nomination was confirmed, although a protest was filed by the Curry forces and an exhaustive investigation was made. At that time a number of witnesses were examined.

Committee Changes Mind. At a meeting of the central committee in September another protest was filed by the Curry forces and this time the committee saw it differently and changed their mind—they decided Mr. Curry should be the nominee. And since it was getting so close to election the public thought Mr. Curry would continue to be the nominee. Now the court has an opportunity to take a hand in the affair.

Considerable interest attaches to the suit aside from factional fight because the primaries were not on a level footing in the first place, since there is no primary law in the state. Whether or not legal procedure under those conditions is possible, is being watched with considerable interest by both democrats and republicans.

Regardless of the outcome of this it is freely conceded that the republican candidate would be elected even in a hopelessly democratic Chaves county if that district alone voted. However, it is thought that in other parts of the county this particular fight has not gained enough headway to defeat the man whose name will appear on the ticket.

GOVERNMENT WANTS AN ASSISTANT ENGINEER

The United States civil service commission announces open competitive examinations as follows: November 14—Assistant in warehouse investigations (male), $1,800 to $2,400.

November 22—Assistant dairy husbandman (male), $1,300 to $1,740.

November 22-23—Assistant engineer (male), $1,500 and upward; junior engineer (male), $900 and upward.

Upon request further information will be furnished by H. F. Fagan, of the forest service, local secretary, or the district secretary, postoffice building, San Francisco.

TO APPOINT FINANCE COMMITTEE FOR PAGEANT

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL) Santa Fe, Oct. 19.—The chamber of commerce at its meeting last evening, which was the best attended this year, authorized the president, Supreme Court Justice R. H. Hanna, to appoint a finance committee in conjunction with the School of American Archaeology to take charge of the proposed pageant and festivities in connection with the dedication of the new museum building. Dr. Edgar L. Hewett presented to the chamber the outline for the proposed festivities.

DEMOCRATS TO HOLD CONVENTION AT WILSON CLUB

County Chairman Frank Butt Will Call Gathering to Order at 10 o'Clock This Morning.

The democrats today will name their official line-up which will oppose the ticket nominated Wednesday by the republicans in the Bernalillo county campaign. The democrats will hold their convention at the Woodrow Wilson club's headquarters, 211 West Central avenue, having been unable to get the district court room on account of court being in session.

County Chairman Frank Butt will open the convention at 10 o'clock. Even if it disposes of routine business quickly the convention is not likely to reach nominations before afternoon. The election of temporary officers of the convention, the appointment of ordinary committees, the meeting and reports of the committees probably will occupy the morning session. The committee's reports will include the party's platform and probably a recommendation that the temporary officers be made permanent.

Democrats mentioned as possibilities are:

For senator from Bernalillo county—Senator Isaac Barth.

For county commissioner from city district—Dr. J. A. Ralby.

For sheriff—Rafael Garcia and Pablo Lujan.

For treasurer—Frank R. Harris.

For county surveyor—County Surveyor Phil Ross and Dennis Chavez.

District Attorney Manuel U. Vigil appears to be certain of Bernalillo county's delegation to the district convention at which delegates from Bernalillo, McKinley and Sandoval counties will meet to nominate the party's candidate for district attorney. The democrats probably will not make any nomination for county superintendent of schools to oppose Superintendent Atanasio Montoya, a republican nominee, acting upon the principle that the schools should be kept as free as possible from politics. Mr. Montoya's valuable service to the county gives the democrats opportunity to recognize this principle.

REPUBLICAN DISTRICT CONVENTIONS SELECT CRAIG AND CHRISMAN

Republican district conventions nominated Judge George R. Craig for district attorney and W. H. Chrisman of San Juan county for senator from the "shoe-string" district made up of Bernalillo, Sandoval and San Juan counties. Both Judge Craig and Mr. Chrisman received the delegation from the Bernalillo county convention. No opposition to their nomination was offered in the district convention.

The second judicial district convention, which nominated Judge Craig, was composed of twenty-five delegates from Bernalillo county, eight from Sandoval county and Sam Hushman of Gallup, who held three proxies. The twenty-five Bernalillo and eight Sandoval county delegates took part in the "shoe-string" convention. Mr. Chrisman had the proxies of three delegates from San Juan county. He also was a delegate.

The Bernalillo county republicans yesterday completed their organization for the campaign. The central committee elected City Clerk Thomas Hughes chairman; Felipe Hubbell, Jr., secretary, and Assessor Fred B. Hryn treasurer.

Republican leaders were delighted with the outcome of the county convention, which at one stage appeared to be threatened with a scrap. After the caucus at which the weaker candidates were eliminated, however, good feeling was evident. The final session of the convention, at which the nominations were formally made, showed only harmony.

United States Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa will speak at the Hughes-Fairbanks club, 213-215 West Gold avenue, tonight.

FOUR HOURS FROM PROPOSAL TO WEDDING BELLS IN THIS CASE

The time between proposal and marriage was short in the case of Ben Puryear and Mrs. Marguerite Sousa. Mr. Puryear took Mrs. Sousa and Miss Daisy Dorff to dinner Wednesday night. At dinner he proposed.

County Clerk Walker's office was closed, but that fact did not place a serious obstacle in their way. The couple, accompanied by Miss Dorff, went to Mr. Walker's home and took him to the court house, where they procured a license. Justice George R. Craig was called from the republican convention and married the couple at his office four hours after the dinner, Miss Dorff witnessing the ceremony.

Afterward a reception was held at the Hotel Combs, where friends of the couple who learned of their marriage congratulated them. Mr. and Mrs. Puryear have taken an apartment at the Grand Central hotel for the time being.

Mr. Puryear is a salesman and decorator at the Economist dry goods store. Mrs. Sousa has a beauty studio in the Stern building. Miss Dorff is her assistant.

Elect Missionary President.

Minneapolis, Oct. 19.—Dr. H. L. King of Ohio today was re-elected president of the American Missionary association, in annual session here. Los Angeles was selected as the next meeting place.

How a Million Dollars "woke up" cigar flavor.

WOULD you like to know why the Owl Cigar always "tastes" good?

Good tobacco—of course. But here's something that few smokers know.

Good tobacco is absolutely lacking in flavor until it is aged.

To be sure, the "flavor" is asleep in the leaf when it is picked ripe. But time alone can "wake up" this flavor. Time alone can develop it to the mellow stage.

To make certain that every Owl contain only this mellow, fully aged leaf—we keep a million dollars worth of mellowing tobacco always in reserve.

No danger of running short. No danger of one Owl being different from another Owl. All Owl Cigars contain this perfectly mellowed tobacco from our million dollar supply.

If you like one Owl Cigar—you'll like every Owl Cigar.

CAR SIDESWIPES—AN ENGINE, BURSTING A PIPE; MAN SCALDED

A runaway freight car sideswiped an engine at Schelle in Aba canyon, through which the Santa Fe's Helen "cut-off" runs, last night, bursting a steam pipe on the locomotive. J. W. Mallow, engineer, who was standing near the engine, was seriously scalded. Mallow was hurried to Albuquerque on a special train, consisting of a freight engine and caboose, which arrived here shortly after 3 o'clock. Strong Brothers' ambulance took up the race at the Central avenue crossing, rushing Mallow to St. Joseph's hospital. Mrs. W. B. Lovelace and J. H. Wroth gave the man medical treatment. It was reported at the hospital at midnight that Mallow would recover.

Mallow's home is at Helen.

'RURAL SCHOOLS' IS SUBJECT FOR TODAY AT WOMAN'S CLUB

The subject to be discussed at this afternoon's meeting of the Woman's club is "Rural Schools." Mrs. Long will be leader. County Superintendent Atanasio Montoya will give an address on the subject, "Needs of the Rural Schools." A discussion by Mrs. Long as to how the Woman's club can co-operate with rural schools will follow Mr. Montoya's address.

MONTOSA SHEEP CO. IS SOLD TO ARIZONA MAN

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1916

THE REAL ISSUE IN NEW MEXICO

There is vastly more in this election in New Mexico than merely a matter of how Holm G. Bursum discharged his duties as warden of the territorial penitentiary, or whether he has shirked his taxes, or whether he is responsible for the squandering of funds in the construction of a public road. Also there is far more in the election than merely the matter of whether Frank A. Hubbell, as county superintendent of schools, took more pay from the county per day than there were days in the year, or as county treasurer paid out the funds of the county illegally.

These matters are serious, and men known to be responsible for such administration of public trusts should not be elected to office, thus minimizing the gravity of the offenses. To put it mildly, B. C. Hernandez was exceedingly careless in his handling of the funds of Rio Arriba county while treasurer. His offense was much of a piece with the offenses of Messrs. Hubbell and Bursum in the discharge of his sworn duty. Mr. Hernandez should not have been elected. He should not be re-elected this year. Not only has he a record of inefficiency in the office of county treasurer and tax collector, but he has done nothing worth while as a member of congress, and if he should remain in congress for the next twenty years he would accomplish nothing worth while for the state.

But there is another graver side to the candidacy of Hubbell and Bursum—a side so grave that the delinquencies in the discharge of the duties of the offices they have held are mere peccadilloes by comparison.

Hubbell and Bursum stand at the forefront of all that is bad in the New Mexico system of politics. They along with Thomas B. Catron, Charles A. Spiles, Charles Springer, Herbert J. Holt, Malaguezas Martinez, Secundino Romero and E. A. Miera, before his death, compose the invisible government of New Mexico, and have constituted it for many years.

Under that invisible government, the power of which was broken in part by the election of 1911, the affairs of New Mexico were ruled for the benefit of the few at the expense of the taxpayers of the state. Money collected from the taxpayers for public roads and education of the children was wasted in the building up of political machines. Teachers were employed, in some cases, who could not read or write, and not infrequently there was an overage of one laborer on the public roads, neither of whom did any actual work for the county.

Back of all of this system has been Attorney Hawkins of the El Paso and Southwestern road who has dictated legislation for many years. His has been the hand that pulled the strings of the invisible government. He it was who had the notorious Hawkins bill passed which was repealed by congress as the most pernicious piece of legislation ever placed upon the statute books.

Until New Mexico can rid itself of the invisible government which dictates all of the legislation and insensitively the manner in which republican offices are managed and uses public funds as a private war, there can be no real progress in this state.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS.

News that the great Episcopal convention, now in session at St. Louis, contemplates changing the phraseology of the Ten Commandments, will come as a shock to many people—but there is no real reason for such shock. The change proposed is to carry the Ten Commandments back to what was probably their original form.

The advantage lies in the condensation of the statement of truth devoid of rhetoric and argument. The meaning is not changed one iota, nor ever can be.

The first five commandments have to do with man's relation to God, except the last one: "Thou shalt honor thy father and thy mother." The commandment: "Thou shalt remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy," is explained in the King James version as imposed entirely because God rested on the seventh day from His labors of creating the world. The Ewald version, which is believed to be the real version of that commandment gives no such reason, and we may well believe that it was based in the need of all human beings for one day of seven as a day of rest and recreation. Otherwise, there would be no justification for the Christian Sabbath which, following a decree of Constantine, is the first day of the week, instead of the seventh.

The last five of the commandments have to do with man's relations to his fellow man, and each of them lies at the very foundation of human society. Kant laid down as his "categorical imperative" that "we may not do that which, if done by all, would destroy society." There could be no organized society if all of the people violated any one of the last five of the Ten Commandments.

The simplest statement of the Ten Commandments would seem to be the best for the church service, and the best for humanity generally.

ROOSEVELT COMING.

Colonel Roosevelt is to speak in Albuquerque next Monday. He will have a good audience, if the weather is suitable, and his speech will be listened to, because the colonel is the biggest man in the republican party, unless we except Elihu Root, and is one of the most influential men in the nation. Also he is one of the most dangerous men. The colonel is a warrior at heart. He loves to fight for the sake of fighting, and there is more of the same characteristics common to him and the Emperor of Germany than to any other two men of the world today.

But impetuous as the colonel is, he will tell the people of New Mexico many things that he would have done, had he been president, that he would not have done, because the sentiment of the people never would have allowed him to do them. For example, he would not have intervened and plunged this nation into war in order to save Belgium. Much as the people of the United States sympathize with the Belgians, it is not for this nation to insist upon the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine in the western hemisphere and at the same time take part in affairs that are purely European.

The colonel likely would have plunged this country into war with Mexico. He says he would have done so, and as there could have been but one outcome, he probably speaks truly of what his policy would have been. He would have thrown a million young men into Mexico's inhospitable climate, to occupy the towns, cities and villages where they would have been subjected to all of the horrors of disease and the dangers of guerrilla warfare to which both the Mexican people and the geography of the country lend themselves.

The loss of life from disease and bullets would have been appalling, and the cost to the occupation would have run into billions of dollars. In addition to all of this, such policy would have confirmed the distrust of the Latin-American states regarding the good faith of the United States.

Beyond doubt, the greatest blessing that has been bestowed upon the United States for many decades was the defeat of Theodore Roosevelt in 1912.

WHERE THE RESPONSIBILITY RESTS.

The statement in the reichstag is that Germany had stated to Austria that she would not support the attack on Serbia, provided, of course, that Russia would agree not to attack Austria in case Serbia was invaded. Great Britain is blamed for not telling Russia that she could count on no support from England should the czar attack Austria.

Thus, the German contention is that there would have been no war other than the swift conquest of Serbia by Austria, and that the entire blame rests upon Russia and Great Britain.

The German contention is right, in part. If Russia had agreed that Austria might destroy Serbia, thus breaking the last vestige of Russian influence in the Balkans, there would have been no war now raging between the great powers, and Germany and Austria would be supreme in Europe.

Everyone who has read the diplomatic correspondence immediately preceding the declarations of war, know that Germany knew that Russia would not permit, without war, conquest of Serbia. What Germany did not know was that Great Britain would stand firmly by her treaty obligations guaranteeing the integrity of Belgium. It would have been so much easier, inter, with Belgium and France crushed, to dictate terms to England.

These facts are well understood everywhere, unless it be by the common people of the German empire who are constantly told they are fighting for the existence of their government. At the beginning of the war, Germany's excuse was her "right to a place in the sun." The chancellor pointed out that German territory was too restricted for a nation so powerful and important, and not long before the emperor predicted the time when nothing of importance could occur in the world without Berlin first being consulted.

At this late date, with the war lost, is no time for the German government to hope to prevent a just verdict by history. Responsibility for the bloodiest drama in history must rest squarely on the two kaisers, Francis Joseph and William I.

The smallest known bird, according to scientists, is the African hummingbird, which is about the size of a blue bottle fly. Some of these days Roosevelt will discover it.

If Villa's waiting for the Carrancistas to come and get him is as tiresome as waiting for a train, the bandit chief is entitled to the profoundest sympathy.

With the assistance of Russia, Rumania may yet be saved from the fate of Serbia.

RELIGION IN COLLEGES.

(Fresno, Calif., Republic.) According to Chaplain D. C. Gardner of Stanford university, more than 85 per cent of the new students have registered as Christians or as having some distinct religious preference. This percentage, notable of itself, becomes of striking interest in the light of the further fact cited by Dr. Gardner that when he took the first census, eighteen years ago, only 21 per cent of the new students registered as Christians. His explanation will prove quite startling to religious standard-bearers.

"What has brought about this revolution in the public mind? Partly the reaction from the strong materialistic tendency which followed the overemphasis upon the idea of evolution—partly the growth of modernism, which has recently reconstructed theology and embraced the principles of higher criticism."

JOSHUA ROYCE.

(Boston Transcript.) Professor Joshua Royce, who died yesterday, had loomed large at Harvard in recent years. He was the living successor, so far as James could be said to have a successor, to the position and influence of William James, and inasmuch as there was a clear-cut line between the Hegelian ideas of which Royce was the leading American exponent, and the pragmatism of James, and inasmuch also as the work of James in the field of philosophy had been original and constructive, whereas that of Royce was interpretative, the rise of Royce and the decline of James in the great American university was not without its significance. Much was due, in the making of the influence of Professor Royce, to his abounding zeal and intensity of thought and to the nobility of his moral concepts, which affected all with whom he came in contact.

One might call Joshua Royce a scholar of the old school, not in the sense that in the very least did he live in the past or tie himself up to classic standards, but in the sense that he took the whole world for his field, and gladly taught all that his eager mind mastered of immortality or practical science, of religion or logic, of the broader politics, of questions of race and of society. No man followed his intellectual conscience more truly, and a notable example of this is found in the lefty zeal which he displayed in behalf of the cause of the entente allies in the great war, although he had been nourished in German thought and deeply inspired by German scholarship. His mind surely burned for the truth, and as doubtless no American possessed a subtler or more logical mind, no one can wonder at the position and influence which he attained, nor question the

Notes of Interest From State Museum

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)

Santa Fe, Oct. 15.—The admission to membership today of Mrs. Florence Bartlett and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hersh, brings the Santa Fe branch of the Archaeological Institute up to the thirtieth society and within ten members of the hundred it would like to record in the first year book now in press but held open for a week to permit those desiring to be recorded as charter members to come in.

No. 3 of the twentieth volume of the American Journal of Archaeology, was received today by members of the Santa Fe society. As an additional feature it has two fine color plates of button beads dating back 2,400 years. The leading article is on the "Head of Helios From Rhodes," illustrated with photograph plates and from the pen of Theodore Leslie Shear of Columbia university. "Statue Beads," with special reference to those of the Etruscan and Roman periods, is followed by an illustrated article on "The Bryn Mawr Collection of Greek Vases," and "Addenda on Laying and Carving." "A Marble Head From Corinth," is well described and pictured by E. H. Swift of Princeton. Archaeological news from all parts of the world fills the last twenty pages.

Official announcement is made of the twentieth general meeting of the Archaeological Institute of America in conjunction with the American Philological Association at St. Louis, December 28-31. At the same time the annual meetings of the council of the Institute and the managing committee of the American School in Jerusalem and the School of American Archaeology at Santa Fe will be held. Hon. Frank Springer, director, and Mrs. Edgar L. Hewett and others will represent Santa Fe at the meeting.

Suggestions for a local industry have been made by visitors who went to the director's house adjoining the new museum, to view the Henri picture. These visitors have noticed the many articles of furniture made from the native cedar. There is a large, round dining table, with polished top that was placed together from local cedar lumber. There are chairs in Santa Fe mission design, the motive of the carvings of the Old Palace portal being used for decorative carving of the supports of the dining room chairs. There is a long settee and there are cedar wood mantles and chests, all by native workmen. The cedar is of beautiful grain and color and has "life" in it, where woods like mahogany and ebony are dead. One birdseye maple is very beautiful. One visitor remarked: "Why I have ten thousand acres covered with cedar and have been wondering of what use it is. Here I find the solution. Santa Fe has a million acres all around it covered with cedar and also has the need of an industry adaptable to local artistry. Why not specialize in furniture of red cedar made up in the attractive, substantial and artistic Santa Fe mission style?"

The following societies at the museum: Leonard Paulson, St. Paul, Minn.; Fay E. Blough, M. C. Roberts, Los Angeles; H. Chavez, Jr., San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Fred N. Martin, Webster City, Ia.; V. Hugo Klahr, Middletown, Pa.; John Adam Rain, Middletown, Pa.; Mrs. A. E. Carter, Knoxville, Tenn.; Stuart F. Davis and wife, St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gleave, Kansas City, Mo.; Helen and Marion Gleave, Kansas City; Benj. E. Gordon, New York City; W. B. Mansfield, Los Angeles; Mrs. Anna V. Wierck, Cornelius, N. Y.; M. H. Morrison, Aurora, Ill.; Herman Schirmer, Ashland, Kan.; E. P. Seiditz, Las Vegas; W. G. G. Otto, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. L. McAllister, Albuquerque.

Deer Plentiful in Mountains. East Las Vegas, N. M., Oct. 15.—Deer are reported plentiful in the mountains in this section. A large number of licenses have been issued to Las Vegas hunters.

USED IT ELEVEN YEARS. There is one remedy that for many years has given relief from coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. It is probably the best known family cough medicine in the world and because it contains no opiates is strongly recommended for children as well as adults. Mrs. Chas. Hietz, Allen Mills, Pa., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar for eleven years and I would not be without it." It promptly relieves hoarseness, tickling throat, bronchial coughs, inflamed and congested membranes and permits refreshing sleep. Sold everywhere.

STORY REPEATS ITSELF IN LAST MARKET SESSION

On Tuesday, the entire list of registered numerous substantial advances loses ground in final hour.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—In its essential character today's market was a repetition of Tuesday's session, the entire morning ground in the final hour, having registered numerous substantial advances. The setback was due to the loss of a British transatlantic liner by a mine in the English channel. Increased scope and activity accompanied the session, minor advances being less prominent, and their places were taken to an unusual extent by lower priced, notated rails. Shipping stocks also mounted recent gains, but these were abruptly wiped out in the liquidation of the later period. Motor issues gave promise of assuming some of their former independence, that disappeared at the best scoring advance of almost five points.

Government bonds, and distinctive war bonds, were firm to strong. General price being foremost in its advance almost five points, the rise resulting from rumors of impending developments favorable to shareholders. The same were less active but United States Steel was strong, its price gain of 2 1/2 to 1 1/2 representing the maximum quotations since several caused almost a fortnight by Germany's submarine activities. Total sales, 1,346,000 shares.

Excused Eighteen Hours After Case Reached Them.

The jury that heard the Flavio Garcia case was unable to agree upon a verdict. Judge H. F. Reynolds excused the jurors yesterday after they had heard the case in their hands eighteen hours. This was the second jury to disagree at the September term of court.

Flavio Garcia was charged with the larceny of sheep. The larceny of sheep. The same charge was made against Isidro Sanchez and Fernandez Gubelton. The men wish to be tried separately and the Garcia case was taken up first. The cases of the other two probably will not be tried at this term since twelve members of the panel have been disqualified through having heard the evidence in the Garcia case. Barth & Mabry are attorneys for the three.

The Luis Candelaria trial was begun yesterday, but did not get far. Candelaria was charged with larceny and obliterating a brand. The state asserted that he had placed one brand over another. The state failed to prove the ownership of the cow, which Candelaria was accused of rebranding, and Judge Reynolds took the case from the jury at the close of the prosecution's case, directing a verdict of not guilty be returned.

The trial of Luis Giacomelli, charged with having stolen goods and aiding in the concealment of them, is scheduled to begin today. Horace & Cornell are attorneys for the defendant. Former Chief Thomas McMillin of the Albuquerque police department is a witness in this case. He arrived here yesterday.

PUBLISHER OF WEEKLY AT BERNALILLO IS ENJOINED

Ramon Garcia and his associates in the publication of El Agricultor Moderno, Sandoval county, were temporarily enjoined yesterday by Judge Reynolds from continuing the publication. They will have an opportunity October 26 to show why the injunction should not be made perpetual.

The temporary injunction was granted upon the showing of Sheriff Lucero of Sandoval county and four others who say they own the presses, type and other equipment. The court was informed that they had leased the plant to Garcia. The lease was indefinite and subject to termination when they saw fit or when a member of the partnership died. They decided to terminate the lease after the death of E. A. Miera, but Garcia refused to yield possession they say. They also allege that Garcia owes rent.

JUDGE POLLOCK TO SIGN ORDER FOR THE REMOVAL OF ROWE

Meredith Rowe, charged with robbing a mail car of Santa Fe train No. 7 between Dodge City and Syracuse, Kans., was taken to Santa Fe yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal J. J. Goutchey. Judge Pollock is expected to sign the order of removal authorizing the transfer of Rowe to the Kansas district. Rowe was arrested at Inleta. While in the county jail here, he was accused of making an attempt to escape. Rowe denied that he was guilty of the attempt.

Goutchey, charged with passing counterfeit nickels, was taken to Santa Fe. The case will be placed in the hands of the grand jury, which will meet today.

MOVE FOR NEW GOVERNMENT FOR CITY POSSIBLE

Rotary Club May Start Agitation for Removing Municipal Management From Politics.

The Rotary club is considering the launching of a movement to take the city government out of politics. A committee charged with investigating forms of municipal government will be appointed. The club will await the committee's report before taking definite action toward starting the movement.

Dr. A. G. Shortle, president of the club, and Capt. W. C. Reid discussed the subject at the club's dinner held last night at the Alvarado hotel. Mr. La Farge, recently of Seattle, spoke of the administration of city affairs in Seattle, at the club's request. Mr. La Farge took a prominent part in the work of the Municipal league at Seattle.

The club heard reports from E. T. Chase, chairman of the North Fourth street trolley line committee, and D. A. Macpherson, chairman of the Ellis road committee. Mr. Chase said it would be necessary to grade North Fourth before the trolley extension could be constructed. The City Electric company, he said, is seriously considering the extension.

Mr. Macpherson reported that the forest service had no funds available at this time for work on the Ellis road. Attention was called to the fact that the county commissioners have authority to levy a special road tax. This has not yet been done in Bernalillo county.

Club members were invited by Captain Reid for Superintendent W. A. George to visit the Santa Fe railway's new shops.

If Too Fat Get More Fresh Air

BE MODERATE IN YOUR DIET AND REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT. TAKE OIL OF KOREN.

Lack of fresh air it is said weakens the oxygen carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed.

Eat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air, breathe deeply, and get from Bitt's, Inc., or any druggist a box of all of Koren capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself every few days and keep on the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion and even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight.

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until
You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infect the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and germ-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, cold, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.
