"The Bread Problem" is not a problem in the home where Shredded Wheat is known. The whole wheat grain is the real staff of life, and you have it in Shredded Wheat Biscuit, prepared in a digestible form. It contains more real, body-building material than meat or eggs, is more easily digested and costs much less. The food for the up-and-coming man who does things with hand or brain—for the kiddies that need a well-balanced food for study or play—for the housewife who must save herself from kitchen drudgery. Delicious for breakfast, or any meal, with milk or cream. Made at Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Just Apply This Paste and the Hairs Vanish

(Helps to Beauty.)
A safe, reliable home-treatment for the quick removal of superfluous hairs from your face or neck is as follows: Mix a stiff paste with some water and powdered borax. Apply to objectionable hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This simple treatment is unfeeling and no pain or inconvenience attends its use, but to avoid disappointment be certain you get genuine delatone.

at great, strong America. Can't America stand anything? Well, America was just as strong and just as great twenty months ago as it is to-day. They say, well, look at the men in America. Can't they do anything? I reply, well, the men in America were just as great twenty months ago as they are today.

"You have got to have something besides this great, strong America that we talk about in such eloquent phrases, and you have got to have something more than this great and splendid men. You have got to have business policies that protect the industries of the United States."

"It is a perfectly absurd thing that any intelligent man should stand before the American community and talk about tariff for revenue only. You cannot run the United States in that way. The nations on the other side are learning the necessity of protecting their interests. Even Great Britain, who, on account of her special condition favored free trade policy as long as she came to a protective policy."

"And what will you do when this war is over? In the first place you will find that nations over there have learned a great deal. They learned more in the years of this war than they have learned in a long period before. They have learned about themselves. They have learned how to cooperate. We have not to have a lot more of that in this country—a real, genuine, human interest in each other."

"The government in each one of the countries is back of it, doing all they can to stimulate their industries. Now, when the war is over, we will find in every country a protection to its own industries, and an effort to build up its own industries through a protective tariff policy, and a seeking of other markets, with their surplus production at what prices they can get."

"And here is our great market, the greatest market in the world. Here is the gold that has accumulated during that time. Of course, they will seek our market and then what will happen? Either their products will sell here and our products won't sell, or our men have got to take less money in wages. Now that is all there is to it."

"I say less money in wages and what comes to the same thing, less time to work, and when industries go down, when plants are reduced in output, then if you have got money in the bank you propose to draw it out and spend it, instead of adding to it. It is a fine thing to talk about conditions of labor to a man who can not get work, or who is working on reduced time. It is a fine thing to talk about improvement in social conditions and of the desirable reforms that are sought to be accomplished. It is a very pleasant thing to say that to a man whose family is looking for bread and can not get it."

Dyestuffs and Drugs, and Possibly Stocks, Bonds and Precious Stones Brought to United States.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE.
New London, Conn., Nov. 1.—Ten million dollars' worth of dyestuffs and drugs, and it was said, "possibly stocks, bonds and precious stones" comprise the cargo of the German submarine merchantman Deutschland, according to a statement tonight by Captain Paul Koenig, commander of the craft.

The Deutschland is in this port after having succeeded in making a second voyage from a German port to the American coast, despite the watchfulness of British and French warships.

First of the undersea merchantmen by which Germany hopes to keep open a trade route with the United States, the Deutschland, according to her captain, is at present the only vessel of the fleet, the Bremen, which started a voyage August 25 from the city after which she was named, he said, has been given up as lost. He thought she "might have struck a mine," but, he added, "she has not fallen a victim to the most blockade. I am sure of that."

Must Keep Up Traffic.

The America, which some reports have indicated was a merchant submarine captured by the British, never existed, Captain Koenig asserted. "I must keep up this traffic alone for the present," he said. "In a fortnight I shall be gone. I hope to return before the end of the year."

It was impossible, the navigator stated, that other merchant submarines would be built by that time. In a summary of his voyage, just completed, Captain Koenig, who returned with decorations from German royalty as marks of recognition for his pioneer voyage, said this was "a quiet trip."

Recital of its incidents, however, developed matters of lively interest. The Deutschland did not leave the ocean floor this time, as in the voyage which ended at Baltimore last July. The submarine, instead, varied the monotony of its sailing under water and on the surface with occasional dashes beneath vessels identified as warnings of belligerent nationality or thought to be. Seven times, Captain Koenig said, he maneuvered in this way. The last time was off Nantucket yesterday, when he sighted a "four-funnel steamer," and dived beneath her.

"The sea was so rough," he said, "that this so-called blockade," he continued, "we were lost by heavy southwest gales, for days and days we were with us most of the way across. Fog also hindered us. We might as well have been submerged, the weather was so thick at times."

The superstructure of the Deutschland was dented by the blows of the seas, but she suffered no severe damage, her commander said. Leaving Bremen, October 1, the Deutschland had made a short distance out of the harbor when she came in collision with a tug which "was so foolish as to run into us," said Captain Koenig. The Deutschland was forced to return for repairs. The venture was begun again October 15 and the mission after being started on that day, were not stopped until the Deutschland came into the slip prepared for her here.

Struck by Heavy Gale.
A heavy southwest gale was on when we went through the North sea, he said, and the mission after being started on that day, were not stopped until the Deutschland came into the slip prepared for her here.

"A heavy southwest gale was on when we went through the North sea, he said, and the mission after being started on that day, were not stopped until the Deutschland came into the slip prepared for her here."

No Paralysis Care Aboard.
To questions whether the submarine brought to this country among its cargo consignments any medicine that might contain relief from paralysis, Captain Koenig replied in the negative. There is such a severe form of paralysis, he said, but its development requires test through monkeys. "There are no more monkeys in Germany now," he said. "I do not know if it was probable," he said, "that the Deutschland would carry mail under contract with the United States government on the return trip.

A cursory examination of the submarine by Collector of Customs James L. Medeiros today developed nothing, he said, that would conflict with his classification as a merchantman. The fact that the Deutschland was officially classed as such at Baltimore will have no bearing on her standing at present, it was said.

To Be Officially Inspected.
Accordingly Commander Yates Stirling, of the naval station here, at the request of customs officials, expects to make a visit of inspection tomorrow. Captain Koenig said the only weapon aboard, as on his previous visit, was a revolver which he carried.

Reports of a conflict between the Deutschland's officers and the naval officers at this port over dismantling of the submarine's wireless apparatus, in keeping with the government's neutrality regulations, were denied both by Captain Koenig and Commander Stirling.

"The wireless of the Deutschland is sealed," the latter said. The Deutschland is shrouded in strict secrecy, he said, and the ship which houses her return cargo, supposed to be rubber and nickel, from a preparation at two sides. A fence surrounding a portion of the cargo is said to be made of steel and iron. The Deutschland is said to be a four-masted schooner, and is said to be a home for the Deutschland's crew, only a guard on the deck remained aboard the submarine tonight. Captain Koenig and his twenty-eight men having removed their effects to the roomier steamer.

Great Fleet of Submarines.
The mariners of this old-time whaling port discussed with admiration today the feat of Captain Koenig in bringing his vessel into this port without pilot, in the darkness of night and fog. The slip into which he posed the Deutschland without assistance a mile from the mouth of the Thames river, almost to the railroad bridge from which Haystack-Yale crew races have been started or finished for years. The chart which he used was drawn in 1840, he said. The captain learned that the vessel would be at the dock and he did not see entirely under water, if he wished.

"We'll go out in daylight and we will not have to submerge so soon," he remarked.

Describing a visit to the German army headquarters on the east front, where he was the guest of the Kaiser at dinner, Captain Koenig said he found the emperor in good health, "a little white and drawn but not at all weak." He found the German people during his stay, he said, believing the war would last at least another year. Even the emperor, he said, believed the war would last at least another year. The captain received the knight's cross of the order of Hohenzollern, from the king of Bavaria, the order of St. Michael, from the king of Wurttemberg, the knight's cross of Wurttemberg crown, and from rulers of a number of minor German states, crosses of honor.

SUBMARINE MAIL SERVICE PROBABLE

Washington, Nov. 1.—Interest here in the arrival of the German merchant submarine Deutschland at New London, Conn., on her second voyage, centered today largely in negotiations for establishing a submarine line mail service between the United States and Germany.

The postoffice department let it be known that it was prepared to accept a proposal made through the German embassy that the Deutschland and any sister ships that may ply out of American ports carry not more than 300 pounds of first-class mail at the regular trans-Atlantic rates. Details of the arrangement were not worked out at conferences between officials of the embassy and the department and it is hoped that an agreement may be reached in time for the Deutschland to take her first consignment of mail when she sails from New London.

The embassy gave no more trouble than this so-called blockade," he continued, "we were lost by heavy southwest gales, for days and days we were with us most of the way across. Fog also hindered us. We might as well have been submerged, the weather was so thick at times."

COMMUNICATION RESUMED WITH CHIHUAHUA CITY

Burned Bridges Have Been Repaired and Train Service Is Again Established to Isolated Town.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE.
El Paso, Tex., Nov. 1.—Telegraphic communication between Juarez and Chihuahua City was resumed late today after being suspended since yesterday. General Francisco Gonzalez announced in Juarez after receiving a brief code message from the state capital.

Chihuahua City had been completely isolated since yesterday by the cutting of the railroads and telegraph lines south and north of that city by bandits, supposed to be operating under the direction of Francisco Villa. Two bridges were burned yesterday by the bandits between Juarez, 125 miles south of the border, and Laguna, twenty miles south of Juarez.

These bridges had not been repaired when the message was sent from Chihuahua City to General Gonzalez, but train service is expected to be resumed tomorrow between the border and the state capital.

General Gonzalez announced that the passenger trains which left Juarez Monday and Tuesday had reached Chihuahua City safely as the bridges had been repaired after the trains passed over them. No trains were sent out from there for Juarez after it became known that the telegraph line was cut, and all trains are now believed to be accounted for. General Gonzalez said he is to be sent ahead of passenger trains running between Juarez and Chihuahua City in the future, it was announced tonight, to prevent attacks on these trains by bandits.

REDICULOUS TO GAUGE FEELING BY STATE LINES

Leaders Concede it to Wilson.
According to Edwin S. Harris, democratic state chairman, who is slightly more talkative than Mr. Murphy, the republican leaders themselves privately concede the state to Wilson.

"The republicans are trying to fool the public," said Mr. Harris today. "The fact is that republican leaders privately concede that Wilson is sure to carry New York state. Only Saturday three prominent republicans told me that they could not save Hughes, and they are working for him as hard as they can. I have the same information from republican leaders in all parts of the state and the information is absolutely reliable."

The people who think that the betting odds should favor Whitman are absolutely fooled. Whitman has a chance of getting 750,000 plurality up to the state and the Whitman leaders know it. They are trying to keep their courage up by believing that they can change enough votes on election day to pull them through. There is not a county up to the state that has not scored a republican victory. Unless the latter improves, he may not be able to carry out his speaking tour in this city, but nothing can shake off the former.

"The state will go democratic by a hundred thousand," declared Mr. McCormack today. "I am not giving red fire. I am basing my prediction on the tremendous impetus for Wilson which was given by the evidence of the state. This was particularly so in the case of the republican strongholds. Throughout the state there is a strong desire on the part of the people to maintain things as they are and to take no chances with peace and prosperity."

Bottom Out of Republican Campaign.
Newspaper polls and straw ballots confirm the prediction of a recent day that the bottom has dropped out of the republican campaign up to state, even in their strongholds. The Madisonian cry of the republicans for help of such old guardians as Pennington, Barnes, Crane, et al., cannot change the situation.

"The playmate and destructive abuse of the president at this stage of the game will avail the republicans nothing. The American people cannot be gold bricked."

CONFIDENT THAT NEW YORK WILL GO DEMOCRATIC

Claim That Even the Republican Leaders Have Given Up Hope of Carrying Empire State.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
New York, Nov. 1.—The Evening Post, which until recently supported Hughes, declares tonight that the democratic organization is confident of a sweeping victory in New York state.

The prediction that New York will go democratic by 150,000 was attributed on good authority to Charles F. Murphy, leader of democracy. "It," says the Post, "Mr. Murphy, it was asserted, confidently expects New York will be carried by President Wilson and the rest of the democratic ticket. So, in fact, do all the other democratic leaders, but, unlike Mr. Murphy, they have made no secret of it."

Update Vote Count, Too.
Down in Knickerbocker court it is different, all efforts to get a prediction from Mr. Murphy in the present campaign have been unsuccessful. Mr. Murphy does not predict out loud. He has not done so since the year 1900 when he carried Greater New York for governor and then suffered defeat by a handful of votes when the latest update returns came in.

"Tammany annual pre-election canvass of the city will begin tomorrow, but when the reports are all in, only the leader and a few of his confidants will know how matters stand. However, the canvass is looked upon as a handful of votes when the latest update returns came in."

"The republicans are trying to fool the public," said Mr. Harris today. "The fact is that republican leaders privately concede that Wilson is sure to carry New York state. POSTOFFICE WILL ACCEPT PROPOSAL OF BERNSTORFF

Mails Between This Country and Germany Are to Be Transported by Submarine Merchantmen.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE.
Washington, Nov. 1.—The postoffice department has accepted a proposal submitted by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, that mails between this country and Germany be transported in merchant submarines. An announcement to this effect was made today by Otto Praeger, second assistant postmaster general.

Count von Bernstorff, commander of the Deutschland, today officially reported his arrival at New London to Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador saying that he had brought the embassy a packet of dispatches from Berlin.

The arrival of the Deutschland has revived the probability of a regular submarine mail service between the United States and Germany. Soon after the Deutschland arrived at Baltimore, Count von Bernstorff, through the German ambassador, officially suggested to the postoffice department that such a service be established.

Count von Bernstorff, it is expected, will take up the question with the postal authorities within the next day or two.

No arms or ammunition were aboard the Deutschland, and apparently the vessel was in the condition she left Baltimore several weeks ago, customs authorities at New London today reported to the treasury department. Instructions were given that the Deutschland be treated as a merchant ship, lacking further information.

Investigation by naval officers may, but is not expected, change the view now taken by customs authorities of the submarine's status.

Has Cargo of Dyes, Medicines and Chemicals.
New London, Conn., Nov. 1.—The German ambassador, Deutschland, which arrived here this morning, was reported to have a cargo of 750 tons of dyestuffs, medicines and chemicals.

Neither Captain Koenig nor Count von Bernstorff, the Eastern Forwarding company, Captain Koenig reported to the treasury department. Instructions were given that the Deutschland be treated as a merchant ship, lacking further information.

Investigation by naval officers may, but is not expected, change the view now taken by customs authorities of the submarine's status.

WILL TRY TO PREVENT TROUBLE ELECTION DAY

Experience of Terre Haute Will Not Be Duplicated in New Mexico If Federal Authorities Can Head It Off.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.
Santa Fe, Nov. 1.—With a view to preventing any election scandal in New Mexico, such as that which troubled Terre Haute into disagreeable prominence two years ago, and in order to insure an absolutely fair election in this state, the United States authorities, acting upon the request of district Attorney Summers Burkhart, have appointed special agents to investigate cases of alleged fraudulent registration at different points in this state, and these agents will report the results of their findings to Mr. Burkhart for such action as may be found necessary.

Mr. Burkhart made it clear today that there was nothing whatever of a partisan nature in the action that has been taken, and that democrats as well as republicans will feel the effect of the probe that is to be made. "My only interest in the matter," said Mr. Burkhart, "is to discharge the duties of my office. This is a national election and violations of the laws come under the jurisdiction of the United States court, of which I am an officer. Instances of alleged fraudulent registration have been reported to me, and I consider it wise in the circumstances to ask for the appointment of special agents of the department of justice to investigate these cases."

No Politics in Action.
"I wish to emphasize the fact," continued Mr. Burkhart, "that there is absolutely no partisanship in the investigation that is to be made. It is a matter of this sort democrats and republicans look alike. Charges of registration frauds by democrats will be investigated just as vigorously as those made against republicans. The only interest that the department of justice has in the matter is to see that the law is obeyed and that violations are punished."

Charges of illegal registration have been numerous in the last few days. It is said that in one particular coal camp a large number of unnaturalized foreigners and minors have been registered, and that in a number of localities four county lines there has been registration by the same people in two counties. All these charges will be investigated thoroughly, as well as any others that may be brought to the attention of the district attorney's office.

It is also probable that the probe will be applied to the wholesale registration of national guardsmen in camp at Columbus. In spite of the opinion of Attorney-General Clancy that the guardsmen can not vote except at their home precincts several hundred of them have been registered at Columbus, and the attempt of those men to vote will surely meet with determined opposition.

BEST LIVER AND BOWEL LAXATIVE FOR FAMILY USE

"Cascarets" Regulate Women, Men and Children Without Injury.

Take When Bilious, Headachy, for Colds, Bad Breath, Sour Stomach.

Instead of nasty, harsh pills, salts, castor oil or dangerous colic, why don't you keep Cascarets handy in your home? Cascarets act on the liver and thirty feet of bowels so gently you don't realize you have taken a cathartic, but they act thoroughly and can be depended upon when a good liver and bowel cleansing is necessary. They move the bile and poison from the bowels without griping and sweeten the stomach. You eat one or two at night like candy and you wake up feeling fresh, the headache, biliousness, bad breath, coated tongue, sour stomach, constipation, or bad cold disappear. Mothers should give Cascarets to their children at any time—they are harmless and safe for the little folks.

Report Henry Ford Is to Manufacture a Flivver Flier to Sell at the Regular Ford Prices.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.
Santa Fe, Nov. 1.—Hungars instead of garages are to dot the landscape in New Mexico and in other states in the near future according to Ashley Pond, just returned from Detroit and this forenoon found for his boys' school among the cliff dwellings, with A. L. Westwood and Philo film operators who will make color and motion pictures of the cliff and cave dwelling country near Santa Fe. A group of Detroit automobile manufacturers own the Ramon Vieja grant west of Santa Fe of which Mr. Pond has charge and he had therefore unusual facilities to visit the big motor car factories.

"The demand for Fords is undiminished," declared Mr. Pond, "and he has 35,000 men employed in Detroit just now." However, Ford and other automobile men are looking far ahead and there is good ground for the report recently published that Ford engineers have designed a Ford aeroplane that is strong, swift and safe, with a stabilizer and the same type of engine that is used by the allies in France. It is the aim of Ford, so it is said, to place this aeroplane on the market for $500 and to popularize it by establishing schools of instruction and by carrying at convenient points. The advantage of aeroplane travel is, obviously, that it is not dependent on the condition of the roads and that it can take straight lines to destination. It takes an automobile, for instance, three hours to make the trip to the cliff dwellings from Santa Fe and it traverses thirty miles of up and down, indifferent road. An aeroplane can make it in less than twenty miles, as the bird flies, in half an hour, with no wear on tires and with one-third the gasoline needed by the automobile. The trip to Albuquerque would take less than an hour and to the upper Pecos, ten minutes. In fact, aeroplane service to the cliff dwellings is assured by the return of Miss Rose Dougan from Marion, Ind., where she has been taking further instruction and purchased an aeroplane for use from Santa Fe to the Pajarito park, where she is building a summer home.

LIFEBOAT WASHED ASHORE IN WALES
London, Nov. 1.—Lord's dispatch from Newquay, Cornwall, says that a ship's lifeboat, marked A. D. Davidson, has been washed ashore at Penrynport. The latest report of the steamship A. D. Davidson was of her departure from Montreal October 1 for Havre.

The A. D. Davidson was much overdue and the news that the lifeboat had been picked up caused the rate of reinsurance to rise 79 guineas per cent.

New York, Nov. 1.—H. G. Perrine, manager of J. W. Edwell & Co., of this city, said today that his company shipped a crew of 23 for the A. D. Davidson, collected from various places, some of them being Americans. The ship was commanded, he said, by Captain Holme, who he thought hailed from New York.

OKLA. FARMERS HOLD ON TO THEIR CORN
Oklahoma City, Nov. 1.—Seventy-five per cent of the corn crop of the state still is in the hands of the farmers, who apparently hope to profit by further price advances. This fact and an improvement of four per cent in the condition of growing cotton are the principal points noted in the monthly crop summary issued today by the Oklahoma board of agriculture.

Cotton condition, in the summary, is placed at 57 per cent and 75 per cent of the crop was picked up to October 25. The estimate of this year's crop is 628,895 bales.

The farmers have on hand of the 1916 crops 20 per cent of wheat and 37 per cent of oats.

Hay acreage was decreased 16 per cent and alfalfa acreage decreased 7 per cent. Improved prices moved were received for all crops.

England Takes West Indies Mail.
Berlin, Nov. 1.—(via Wireless.)—The Dutch steamer Nickerie, from the South America, was forced by the British authorities to leave their mails in England, the Overseas News agency announces.

The steamer Nickerie, a Dutch West Indian liner, homeward bound, was taken into Zeebrugge, October 22, by German torpedo boats, according to a dispatch from The Hague, October 23. The Nickerie was allowed to proceed, it was stated, after the chief cook, an Italian of Milano, who signed at New York, had been taken off.

ONLY ONE OUT OF FORTY ACRES IS CULTIVATED

Of the 78,485,760 Acres in New Mexico Less Than 2,000,000 Are Under Cultivation.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Santa Fe, Nov. 1.—Only one in every forty acres in New Mexico is under cultivation and only one in every 126 acres is under irrigation, according to a bulletin of the United States geological survey, just issued. This bulletin says:

"Of the 78,485,760 acres of New Mexico nearly half is public land and 14,000,000 acres state land. Ranches cover 12,000,000 acres, some of which are cultivated, and less than 2,000,000 is cultivated and less than 500,000 is irrigated. Of the irrigated area, 200,000 acres is owned by individuals or partnerships, 50,000 acres to commercial organizations, 200,000 acres to co-operative or community organizations, and 20,000 acres to federal government reclamation, and the area so served will be considerably increased when the lands below the Elephant Butte dam are utilized."

"One of the greatest mineral resources of New Mexico is coal, which occurs in the large fields west of Hobbs, at places near Corral, about Gallup, and in several other areas. There are also valuable mines of gold, copper, silver, lead and zinc. The total production of these metals in 1915, according to the U. S. Geological survey, department of the interior, had a value of $19,278,495, of which $13,457,961 was copper, an output that gives New Mexico considerable prominence as a copper producer. The output of gold was $1,461,695. The value of the coal mined in the state in 1915 was $5,181,361."

OCTOBER SLIGHTLY WARMER THAN NORMAL THE BUREAU REPORTS
(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Santa Fe, Nov. 1.—October just past was slightly warmer than the normal, according to the report of the United States weather bureau this afternoon, for the average temperature was 51 degrees as against a normal during the past forty-four years of 50 degrees. The maximum was 71 degrees on October 3 and the minimum 30 on October 25. The greatest daily range was only 28 degrees, that on October 21, and the least 11 degrees on October 24. Since New Year the accumulated excess in temperature over the normal was 246 degrees. The total precipitation in any twenty-four consecutive hours, 1.13 inches on October 13-14. Since New Year the excess in precipitation over the normal has been 3.2 inches.

The total wind movement was 6,614 miles, or an average of eight miles an hour, with a maximum of thirty-six miles per hour on October 23.

Five days were clouded or cloudy, two days recording no sunshine, and the clear days eleven had 100 per cent of sunshine. The sunshine average for the month was 71 per cent.

Five thunderstorms, one killing, two heavy and two light frosts were recorded, the minimum on one day being down to 20 degrees and on another down to 22 degrees, although the average minimum was 41 degrees and the average maximum 65.5 degrees. The relative humidity was 49 per cent at 6 p. m.

Judge Pollock to Take Hunt.
Santa Fe, Nov. 1.—Judge Pollock will probably dispose of federal court business for the present in two or three days and then expects to accompany District Clerk Harry E. Lee to Albuquerque and on a hunting trip returning to Santa Fe the day after election to sit for two or three days before returning to his home in Kansas City. Miss Pollock will accompany him to Albuquerque. This afternoon Mrs. Harry E. Lee entertained for Mrs. Pollock and this evening a dance was given in her honor by Mrs. Francis C. Wilson.

$5,000 Bond Furnished for Chaney.
Santa Fe, Nov. 1.—Bond to the amount of $5,000 has been furnished by Earl Chaney, who had been arrested by a shooting at the residence of Hachita in which Frank Steinhilber was killed, W. H. Chaney, father of Earl Chaney, was wounded, and Duke Steinhilber was also badly hurt. Duke Chaney and Earl Jackson are being held at the same time, have been unable to furnish bail this far.

Hanover Copper Interest Transferred.
Santa Fe, Nov. 1.—A $100,000 mortgage deal in Hanover copper has resulted in the transfer of the controlling interest in the Hanover Copper company to the company itself. The property, which is located in Hanover, N. M., has been the largest shipper of zinc in Grant county, shipping as high as thirty-one cars of high grade zinc a month.

PAYS $416,000 TO TREASURER OF SCHOOL FUND

Brings Total for Year to Over $600,000 and Is More Than Double Sum of October, 1915.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Santa Fe, Nov. 1.—The huge sum of $416,000 was paid over to the state treasurer Robert E. Erwin today to State Treasurer R. E. Erwin, to be credited to the various school and institutional funds. This is double the sum of the settlement for October, 1915, and brings the total paid over this year thus far to the state by the land commissioner to more than $600,000. There are still 12,000 leases and contracts to settle during the next two months, which will bring the total to more than $700,000 for 1916, a princely income indeed, for the public schools from the handling of the state lands. The year that Land Commissioner R. E. Erwin took charge the total was only $70,000, so that the increase is more than 9,000 per cent.

There is another phase to today's transaction. It means the withdrawal of more than $400,000 from the coffers of the First National bank, in Santa Fe. Few banks in New Mexico could stand the withdrawal without notice of so huge a sum. More than that, the bank must collect the checks and drafts deposited by the land commissioner, in this instance drawn upon hundreds of banks in all parts of the state. This means not only clerical work of large proportions but considerable correspondence, and often the sum is drawn out of the bank before the checks or drafts have been honored at the other end. For all this work, the bank receives nothing, and as the deposits are subject to call without a moment's notice, they are no source of revenue to the bank that holds them, for the land commissioner makes monthly settlements with the state treasurer. Most banks would probably decline to handle an account of that sort under existing conditions, for it is merely a source of expense, work and responsibility without any profit or compensation.

Hightower to Hang November 10.
Santa Fe, Nov. 1.—Lucius C. Hightower is to be hanged at Silver City on Friday of next week, the state supreme court having affirmed the sentence imposed for first degree murder. Hightower killed his wife at Tyrone a year ago, and he was to have been hanged on May 5. However, Governor McDonald granted a stay of execution. Pedro Montes was to have been hanged at the same time for killing his sweetheart, but the supreme court has not yet passed on his appeal.

FLORENCE MACBETH AND OTHER STARS WILL SOON BE HERE

Last year the Fortnightly Music club, under the leadership of Mrs. Bradford, put Albuquerque on the musical map. This year, under its equally able president, Mrs. Hettig, the club is going to see that Albuquerque stays there. So, from the galaxy of musical stars now available in America, have been selected four of the very first rank who will make their initial bow to New Mexican audiences under the auspices of the Fortnightly.

Florence Macbeth has met with unprecedented success in the cities in which she has appeared. In the language of the musical critic, her voice is a coloratura soprano, but she has been affectionately nicknamed "the Minnesota Nightingale" by a host of admirers. While her time is filled until the end of the Chicago opera season, she has not yet fully decided whether she will tour the south later or accept a call to Liverpool, England, which has been offered three times. Since the demand at home is so great she may defer the trip abroad until traveling is less perilous.

Frances Ingram, the wonderfully brilliant contralto, has a most enviable reputation. Having made one of the highest successes of the 1915-16 Chicago opera season, it is welcome news to Chicago audiences that she is again engaged to sing with that organization. Equally welcome news is it to Albuquerque audiences that she will appear in concert here. She sang in Cincinnati on July 15, 1916, for the International Rotary convention. The following letter to her manager expresses the consensus of opinion concerning her:

"My Dear Mr. Devoe:
"Miss Ingram has come and gone and given us a recital that beggars description. She is simply immense! We want her back next year."
(Signed) "J. L. HIRSH."

Of the first of this season's New York recitals by Rudolph Ganz, given October 15, 1916, the following is the opinion of one of the famous musical critics:

"Rudolph Ganz gave an exhibition of piano playing all too rare in New York or elsewhere. He departed, too, from the conventional program, for which there was much to be thankful in those days where the ever recurring repertory falls upon those who might be interested in the pianist but not in his offerings. Mr. Ganz brought forward the Schumann 'Festivalschwanen' as opening number and followed this with the intensely gripping sonata of Rachmaninoff—the second. Mr. Ganz achieved nothing finer than the wonderful atmosphere which he brought into the Debussy numbers. Mr. Ganz must have consumed many who heard him on Sunday afternoon in Aeolian hall that few people who insert a Debussy number for the sake of having the name on the program, have the slightest conception of what it means to play works by that unique composer. He played as few people have ever known how to play, as few people have the understanding of how to bring mood and color into technique, and as Debussy would have loved to hear his music interpreted. Mr. Ganz played so many encores that the conclusion of the program—that the audience left with delightful memories of Sibelius, Liszt's lovely 'Liebestraum' and many other haunting melodies."

VENIZELOS DENOUNCES GERMAN ACT AS PIRACY

London, Nov. 1.—A Reuter dispatch from Salonika quotes M. Venizelos, the former premier, in an interview on the sinking of the Greek steamer Angheliki by a German submarine as saying:
"It was an act of piracy by a German submarine in the territorial waters of Greece against a vessel flying between Greek ports, and the lamentable death of many Greek citizens gave the last chance to King Constantine to restore national unity by assuming direction of the sacred struggle which imperiously is necessitated by the honor and vital interests of Greece."

Smash the Hubbell-Gillenwater Machine

The libel-bureau of H. O. Bursum, the $88.26 candidate for governor, in a wild attempt to get away from the record of its candidate, is attempting to prejudice union labor voters against E. C. de Baca by the false charge that he is unfriendly to organized labor. Here are the facts:

PLAIN HYPOCRISY

La Voz del Pueblo, of Las Vegas, employs non-union labor.

So does La Bandera Americana, Albuquerque.

So does El Heraldo, of Socorro.

So does the New Mexico State Record of Santa Fe.

Now let union labor men mark the difference between La Voz del Pueblo and the other three papers mentioned.

E. C. de Baca, democratic candidate for governor, is the owner of a small fractional interest in La Voz del Pueblo, and does not control its policy.

Frank Hubbell, republican candidate for senator, absolutely controls La Bandera Americana.

H. O. Bursum, republican candidate for governor, who has paid only $88.26 out of more than $5,000 taxes due in ten years, absolutely controls El Heraldo.

The republican bosses who nominated the republican state ticket, including two candidates on that ticket, Frank W. Clancy and W. G. Sargent, absolutely control the New Mexico State Record.

HOW DO UNION LABOR MEN LIKE THE HYPOCRITICAL TRICK THAT THE BURSUM LIBEL BUREAU IS TRYING TO PLAY ON THEM?

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1916

MR. BURSUM'S SPEECH

Holm O. Bursum was heard in Albuquerque Tuesday night by a large audience, and he made a strong defense of the republican party in New Mexico. So far as his attacks on the Journal are concerned, they have nothing to do with the campaign since the Journal is not a candidate for office. It may be well to say, however, that the Journal never charged Mr. Bursum with responsibility for the bill-posting incident at Socorro, beyond the fact that he has long been the controlling spirit in that locality. As Mr. Bursum states it, the affair was of little consequence from any viewpoint.

Of course, all of the legislation favorable to good roads and good schools has been passed by republican legislatures, but the honest administration of those laws has been in the hands of the democrats for the past five years—the only period in the history of the state when real progress has been made.

Also it is necessary to correct Mr. Bursum again. The Journal said nothing about no more taxes being collected now than in the days before statehood. What it did say was that the taxes today were no greater than the taxes and fees of territorial days when sheriffs were allowed to make $12,000 a year, when the oil inspector got $15,000 a year and extravagant incomes were received by practically all county officials.

In his address here, Mr. Bursum outlined a constructive program, if he is elected, which has merit in it. It would do great things for New Mexico if it could be carried out. One difficulty is how to raise the money for such program and the other is, granting that the money can be raised, how efficiently the company would be expended.

That Mr. Bursum is an able man, all those who oppose him agree. The greatest trouble with him is that he has been brought up, so far as politics is concerned, in a bad environment. In that environment a public office has not been regarded as a public trust.

The campaign will be closed here Saturday night with a democratic rally, and among the speakers will be Hon. E. C. de Baca, the democratic candidate for governor. As Mr. Bursum outlined his program, doubtless Mr. de Baca will tell the voters specifically what he will endeavor to do, if elected governor, for the advancement of the interests of New Mexico.

Mr. de Baca is a man of ability. A native son of New Mexico, he has thought long and well upon the needs of the state and what should be done to meet those needs. It will be well for every voter of Albuquerque and vicinity to come out and hear him. It is being charged by the republicans that Governor McDonald is making Mr. de Baca's campaign. Mr. de Baca needs no one to make a campaign for him. He is simply able to speak for himself, and will do so when he comes here.

In some of his speeches, Roosevelt forgets to mention the name of Hughes, and Hughes in some of his speeches forgets to mention the name of Roosevelt. Each probably would feel better if he could forget the other.

WHAT THE BANKS SHOW

The comptroller of the currency is authority for the statement that the resources of the banks of the country have increased six and a half billion dollars since the new currency law went into effect.

This increase is partly due to the war in Europe, but the greatest reason for it is the security, which business now feels, from the disaster of a panic. For the first time in more than twenty years, there is no fear that suddenly the bottom will drop out of everything and banks begin to close their doors, mercantile houses begin to go into the hands of receivers and manufacturing plants begin to close down for the month to pass.

Under the old system, it was possible for a few bankers in New York City to bring on a depression any moment they saw fit. All they had to do was to curtail credits. Big banks and little ones, in every other section of the country had to do likewise.

Adding to the general downward slide, railroads and manufacturing plants immediately began to cut expenses by reducing the number of employees. The men thrown out of employment could not buy, and they could not pay their debts. So the whole country was started upon the slide downward, and it rarely ever stopped until the bottom was reached. Nothing of the sort is feared now, thanks to Woodrow Wilson.

Henry P. Davidson, of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., has just returned from Europe. He gave out an interview on his return in which he predicted that American prosperity would last long after the end of the European war. That is in line with what President Wilson says, and directly opposite to the contention of Candidate Hughes.

THE MARINA AFFAIR

If it shall be finally determined that the steamer Marina, with many Americans aboard, was sunk by German submarines without warning, causing the death of six Americans, it is doubtful if the government can accept a disavowal, as in the Sussex incident.

Whether Hughes or Wilson is elected, the policy of the government, regarding the neutrality problems of this nation, will be the same. Mr. Hughes has declared specifically that he will oppose any attempt to place an embargo on the shipment of munitions of war from this country to any belligerent, and that he will equally oppose all efforts to limit the rights of Americans to travel on the high seas. That is the position President Wilson took when the question was first raised.

If the Marina was torpedoed without warning, after being attacked by two submarines, it may be accepted as conclusive evidence that Germany has renewed her submarine warfare with all of its first ruthlessness.

There is occasion for grave apprehension, but no reason at this time for excitement. We shall wait for the facts—for all of the facts, and then do whatever the circumstances demand.

The country is to be congratulated on having at its head a man who has the confidence of the American people. They know that Woodrow Wilson will protect the interests of the nation, and that he will not break off diplomatic relations between this country and Germany unless Germany's actions make such policy imperative.

A number of Mexican generals declare they are willing to forgo any ambitions they may have at this time for the presidency of Mexico, in order to assist in restoring peace. If the country could have a few years free from war, it would afford far better picking for the looters who mask under the name of revolutionists in that unhappy country.

THERE WAS NO POSTSCRIPT

It seems pretty well settled that Mr. Wilson attempted no postscript to the Louisiana note. On that point we have the words of the president, William Jennings Bryan, Secretaries Lane and Houston, against a rumor which originated in some "backstairs gossip" indulged in by former Assistant Secretary of War Breckenridge, who resigned when Garrison went out of the cabinet.

The president made a change in the note, but it was to make it stronger in tone than the draft submitted in the cabinet meeting.

With eggs selling at five cents a dozen in China and at sixty cents a dozen in the United States, it seems to us that the American hen is pretty well protected against the pauper hen of Asia.

All of the livestock men of New Mexico who have lost money on their wool and cattle, because of the Wilson administration, should vote for Hughes.

CHORDS AND DISCORDS.

(W. J. Henderson in New York Sun.) The post impressionist in music is concerned chiefly about chords. He views melody as an integral part of chord succession and not as the root of music from which chords are to spring. The chord and the melody are with him one and indivisible, and the chief aim of his art is to engage your attention by a remarkable series of harmonies. He and his kind create a horrible discord, but when they do it in piano music there is a device which makes them sound as old as the instrument. By using the pedals of the piano, he can so muddle the confusion of overtones that the general result is much like that obtained by some unskilful player through bad pedaling in a piece of Chopin or Schumann. But perhaps there is something beyond this, too.

When Busoni lamented that the scale could not be subdivided into smaller intervals than semitones, and suggested that a splitting of musical hairs would enormously enrich the harmonic scheme, he placed deadly weapons in the hands of the futurists. They seem to have set out to show the world how an illusion on demitones can be created. When the futurist plays upon the piano in three keys at one moment and brings together, let us say, a series of dissonances caused by the simultaneous sounding of notes and their adjacent sharps or flats, he employs his pedals in such a way that the two neighboring tones seem to blend, and thus we get a phantasm of Busoni's microscopic intervals. It is all very interesting and stimulating to the imagination. It suggests remote and Santa Fe, Nov. 1.—Mrs. A. B. Test yesterday became a member of the Archaeological Society of New Mexico. "The Dress of the Ancient Egyptians," in the empire, is picturesquely described in the October bulletin of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, just received. One of the costumes of the nineteenth dynasty, shown in an illustration, might easily pass for an ultra modern ball gown. "Excursions of Cretan Pottery" is interesting, while an essay on "Spurs," should be read by horsemen. "The Sculpture of Paul Maniship" is beautifully illustrated. "An Athenian Horsemanship" is written for boys and girls by Miss Winifred E. Howe.

ENTER THE TOMATO.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

Playing both ends against the middle appears to be what the horticultural sharp has been doing and Luther Burbank has been out-banking. A plant that grows eleven potatoes underground, while it produces eleven tomatoes on its branches, is the result of grafting a tomato shoot on a potato sprout.

Philologists might have guessed there was a suggested affinity between the two plants, because of their orthography. The new hybrid should be the "pomato," the "tomato," whichever you please.

It will be a great space and labor saver in the backyard garden and realizes that desideratum said to be found among the upper hillside of crowded Europe where the soil is cultivated on both sides.

We call now for experiments to ascertain if turnips can not be induced to grow strawberries among their shady leaves and mangel wurzels take on leaves as a side line. The milkweed that grows in a strawberry plant, was to produce cream for the strawberries may not be all imagination.

WHAT RADIUM LOOKS LIKE.

(Geological Bulletin.)

Radium is a metal and is described as having a white metallic luster. It has been isolated only once or twice and few people have seen it. Radium is ordinarily obtained from its ores in the form of hydrous sulphate, chloride or bromide, and it is in the form of these salts that it is usually sold and used. They are all white or nearly white substances, whose appearance is no more remarkable than common salt or baking powder. Radium is found in nature in such exceedingly small quantities that it is never visible even when the material is examined with a microscope.

Small quantities are carried only in small quantities, a grain per ton of material, and radium will never be found in large quantities because it is formed by the decay of uranium, a process which is wonderfully slow. Radium itself decays and changes to other elements so rapidly that it is impossible for it to accumulate naturally in visible masses. Minerals that carry radium, however, are fairly easy to determine. One of them, pitch blende, as generally found, is a black mineral about as heavy as ordinary iron, but much softer. The principal radium mineral, carnotite, has a bright canary yellow color and is generally powdery.

MAILS DELAYED TO PATRONIZE BRITISH SHIPS

Announcement That America Hereafter Would Handle Panama Mail Was Result of Investigation.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)

Washington, Nov. 1.—Postoffice officials explained today that the decision announced yesterday, to route American mails for Panama and South America, by way of Panama, handled by American postal officials, instead of the British packet in the canal zone, was the result of an investigation which disclosed that mails were being delayed in order that they may be carried on British ships and that Great Britain was handling the mails by contract at a rate less than the United States was paying for the service.

Postoffice inspectors who conducted the investigation reported that there were instances where American mails might have been shipped on American vessels, but were diverted to the United States by paying less for the service and at the same time the companies, in some cases, are receiving more.

In the future every effort will be made by United States postal authorities in the canal zone to carry American mails on American ships. They have been instructed to give the mails to American vessels, even if by so doing the postal matter should be delayed a day.

SEATTLE FIRM SUBMITS DIRECT CRUISER BIDS

Will Construct One Ship in Thirty Months for $4,975,000 on 1917 Building Program.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)

Washington, Nov. 1.—The Seattle (Wash.) Construction and Dry Dock company was the only concern to submit a direct proposal today for construction of one of four swift cruisers authorized as a part of the 1917 naval building program.

The limit of cost for the hull and machinery of ships was fixed at $5,000,000. The Seattle company proposed to construct one ship within thirty months for $4,975,000. Proposals for the construction of four swift scout cruisers and twenty-seven coast type submarines were received today at the navy department and taken under consideration. The ships form the second allotment of the 1917 building program which will be completed next month when bids on four battle cruisers are examined.

First of Kind for U. S. The scout cruisers are the first vessels of their type designed for the navy. They are to make thirty-five knots an hour sustained speed and to extend their field of daylight operation each will carry four high-power hydro-aeroplanes.

The submarines are substantially the same as the C-boats now under construction and are designed for coast and harbor defense. The Fore River Shipbuilding corporation, of Quincy, Mass., was the only other company to submit figures.

Under a very modified contract from the company proposed to build one ship in thirty-three months and one in thirty-six months at a cost of $4,990,000 each. In each case, however, the company based its proposal upon the acceptance by the navy department of a plan by which fluctuations in prices of material or labor would be figured, the federal trade commission deciding any question.

The Union Iron Works of San Francisco, proposed to construct two ships on the basis of cost plus 15 per cent profit and the Fore River company, with which the Union Iron Works is allied, submitted a similar alternative proposal.

Sliding Scale Arrangement.

A third proposal by the Fore River company had in view the arrangement of a sliding scale by which profit would be figured, under which it would be both to the interest of the contractor and the government to reduce the actual cost of construction. The Fore River company further noted that if it secured contracts for the construction of either battleships or battle cruisers in the 1917 program, it would be unable to undertake construction of scout cruisers. The New York Shipbuilding company was understood to get its estimate within the $5,000,000 limit set by congress.

Bids for armor for four battleships and four battle cruisers also were opened. Prices for the bulk of the armor ranged from $420 a ton by the Bethlehem company to $425 a ton by the Midvale.

The Carnegie company said that for armor for two battleships and one battle cruiser the entire capacity of its armor plant would be taken up for two years.

William N. Frank Dies.

East Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 1.—William N. Frank, son of William Frank of Las Vegas, died in Holland, Union county, where he had been in charge of his father's cattle ranch for several months. The funeral will be held here Thursday. Typhoid, followed by a complication of diseases, was the cause of death. The young man was 23 years of age. He was admitted for his exemplary habits. He was not married. The father is one of San Miguel county's best known citizens.

SANTA FE LINE INTO ST. LOUIS STILL PROJECT

No Deal Made When He Left Chicago, Says B. P. Cheney, Director; Proposition Under Discussion.

The plan for running a Santa Fe line into St. Louis had been discussed considerably but no deal had been made when he left Chicago, said B. P. Cheney, director of the Santa Fe railway, who was in Albuquerque last night. Mr. Cheney and Charles S. Greed, also a director of the Santa Fe, were on their way west in a private car on Santa Fe train No. 1.

The project is that the Santa Fe and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy jointly build a line between Carrollton, Mo., and Mexico, Mo., approximately 100 miles long. Carrollton is on the Santa Fe's main line between Kansas City and Chicago. It also is the terminus of a Burlington branch, which enters the town from the north.

The proposed Santa Fe-Burlington line would form a junction with the Burlington-Alton line from Kansas City to St. Louis at Mexico. This Carrollton-Mexico line would give the Santa Fe entrance into St. Louis. It also would give the Burlington some advantages, one of which would be a direct line from Carrollton to Kansas City.

The plan is still in the project stage. That it has received serious consideration, however, is evident from Mr. Cheney's statement that it had been the subject of considerable discussion.

MISSOURI CUTOFF STORY IS PUBLISHED IN DENVER

Denver, Nov. 1.—According to the story published here the agreement provides for the construction of a cut-off in central Missouri to connect the Alchison, Topeka & Santa Fe with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and the Chicago & Alton, entering St. Louis.

The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company last year renewed an agreement with the Colorado & Southern for terminal facilities in Denver. Prior to renewal, the former road was said to be preparing to establish its own terminal here. The purported agreement today would give the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe terminals in both Denver and Denver. The construction of a cut-off in Missouri would, it is understood, shorten the distance.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF NEW LINE EXPECTED, SAYS PUEBLO

Pueblo, Colo., Nov. 1.—That the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway may shortly announce the acquisition of tracks between Kansas City and St. Louis, giving that road a direct line from Pueblo to St. Louis, is expected in railroad circles. Local Santa Fe officials, while they have no definite notice or announcement, are anticipating that the Santa Fe will conclude or has practically concluded a deal with the Burlington for trackage use of the Burlington tracks between Kansas City and St. Louis.

It is pointed out by railroad officials that by acquiring the Burlington line between Kansas City and St. Louis the Santa Fe would be greatly benefited in the handling of its Colorado business.

SEE "PASQUALE" AT LYRIC THEATER TODAY-TOMORROW

An exceptionally beautiful child that acts her difficult role with the delightful touch of "Pasquale."

This marvelous photoplay coming to the Lyric theater on the Paramount program for today and tomorrow tells about what happened to "Pasquale," the poor Italian girl who, when adversity beats in vain.

One of the many charming scenes of this picture shows the doll-like daughter of "Mrs. Martelli" climbing down from the back of "Colombo," the white delivery horse, after she has taken a stolen ride. Then, still full of mischief she climbs to the hayloft on hearing the approaching footsteps of her friend "Pasquale." He enters and is busy engaged in unharassing "Colombo," when she peeks down through the floor trap, suddenly to the beholder's horror, overbalances and plunges to the floor below. What saved her life is graphically depicted in this "totally different" photo-masterpiece.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

Miss Jennie Chavez, 16 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Chavez, died yesterday morning from pneumonia at her home in Barajas. She had been ill five days. The body was taken to Fred Crockett's undertaking room. Her father is at his sheep ranch, sixty miles north of Magdalena, and the funeral will not be held until he arrives.

FIREMEN'S LOSS NOT CHARGEABLE TO HIM---CLANCY

Attorney General Issues Statement, Saying He Has Been Told of Attempt to Injure Him.

Atty. Gen. Frank W. Clancy sent the following statement to the Morning Journal:

"I have been informed that an attempt has been made to discredit me with the firemen throughout the state and to induce them to vote against me at the approaching election, upon the alleged ground that on account of some decision of mine the fire companies have been deprived of something like $25,000. I am at a loss to understand what can be the foundation of this statement unless it is as hereinafter indicated.

"In 1909, the legislature, by an act which is published as Chapter 135 of the laws of that year, made an appropriation of $2,000 a year to be paid to the New Mexico Association of Firemen from money collected from insurance companies, said sum to be added to the benefit fund of said association for disabled firemen, their widows and orphans. It will be seen that this appropriation to that association was for charitable and benevolent purposes. In 1910 the people of New Mexico framed a constitution under which we have organized a state government, and by Section 31 of Article IV of that constitution, the people of the state prohibited the making of any appropriation for charitable, educational or other benevolent purposes to any corporation not under the absolute control of the state. This constitutional prohibition necessarily put an end to the payment of money to the New Mexico Association of Firemen, and in July, 1912, in a letter written to the state corporation commission, I called attention to this constitutional provision. It is possible that this is the basis for the report above mentioned.

Expediting Firemen's Suits.

"In the same act of 1909 specific appropriations were made of money to be paid to seventeen different fire departments, and in my letter of July, 1912, I called attention to the fact that it could not be said of the money paid to the various fire departments that the constitutional prohibition was applicable on the face of the statute.

"Later two suits were brought in the district court of Santa Fe by the firemen to try to compel the payment of appropriations to the New Mexico Association of Firemen and of the various appropriations to the different fire departments. I did what I could to expedite the hearing of these cases and the counsel for the New Mexico Association of Firemen, after consideration of the constitutional prohibition, abandoned that case, but as to the other case, a favorable decision having been reached in the district court, I took an appeal to the supreme court so that there might be a final and definite adjudication. The district court had held that the appropriation of the New Mexico Association of Firemen of 1912, to transfer to the salary fund all of the money from which these firemen's appropriations were to be paid, and the supreme court correctly held that this attempt on the part of the legislature was invalid because prohibited by another clause of the constitution which declares, in effect, that in an appropriation bill general legislation can not be included. I could not and did not make any argument to the supreme court to support that legislation, which the court declared to be invalid, and the various fire departments have since been receiving the amounts of their appropriations paid from money collected from the insurance companies, and by Chapter 96 of the laws of 1915 a number of new fire departments were added to the earlier list.

BACA HEARS THAT LEWIS WILL REMAIN; TAKES PEN IN HAND

Rafael Baca has heard that Rafael Garcia, democratic candidate for sheriff, will retain Under Sheriff Dick Lewis if he is elected. The report did not please Mr. Baca. At least, he has written a note about it.

"All ready, Mr. Sheriff," he wrote, "I have just discovered that Rafael Garcia, candidate for sheriff of Bernalillo county, and Manuel U. Vigil, present district attorney and candidate for re-election, have arranged that in case Garcia is elected to keep as chief deputy Dick Lewis, who is under sheriff under Jesus Romero.

"I discovered that the relations between the chief deputy sheriff, Dick Lewis, and Manuel Vigil, district attorney, are such that will have to be taken care of before anything else, and later in case Vigil is elected district attorney and Jesus Romero sheriff or Rafael Garcia, either one of these persons mentioned will appoint Dick Lewis. Then and in that case I will bring the matter before the district court in order to stop such politics as Bernalillo county is undertaking to cover.

SEEK HOME FOR BOY WHO RAN AWAY FROM FARM NEAR GALLUP

Dr. C. E. Lukens, superintendent of the Children's Home society, is looking for a home for Arthur Egge, 12 years old, the boy who ran away from a farm near Gallup with Laura Caruthers. Arthur lived with Laura's stepfather, Elder Lawrence, and her mother. The girl is also at the Children's home.

Arthur does not know who his father and mother are, or where they lived. Dr. Lukens and Dave Rosenwald of Rosenwald Brothers' store "set 'em up" to Arthur yesterday, giving him a new outfit—shoes, cap, suit, shirt and tie.

Mr. Lawrence came to Albuquerque for the children, but Dr. Lukens refused to give them up on the ground that the children could have better care than would be possible for them in the Lawrence home.

FORMER REPUBLICAN STATE CHAIRMAN ELY SPEAKS FOR DEMOS

Ralph C. Ely, former state republican chairman, spoke last night at the high school auditorium in support of the democratic ticket. An audience of 250 persons heard him.

George C. Taylor, attorney, introduced Mr. Ely. Mr. Ely was met at the Santa Fe station by a committee made up of A. B. Stroup, L. H. Chamberlain, J. A. Garcia y Sanchez, Col. D. K. Sellers, E. T. Chase and Mr. Taylor, which escorted him to the high school.

Mr. Ely said he was going to vote a scratched ticket.

15 HALLOWE'EN PRANK PLAYERS IN POLICE COURT

Judge Sends Eight to Jail for Few Minutes Because of Untimely Smiles; Extra: A Cop on Crutches.

The single "mourner's" bench in Police Judge McClellan's court wasn't long enough to seat youthful prank players of Halloween who faced the judge at the late afternoon session yesterday. The bench was extended for placing another bench for the accommodation of the celebrators of the night before. There were fifteen of them, whose years ranged from 13 to 14.

The boys faced the court in squads. There were eight first squad. When Judge McClellan announced that he sentenced them to ten days in jail several grinned, thinking perhaps that suspension of the sentence was to follow. The judge saw the grins and told Patrolman Pablo Lujan to take them down stairs to the jail. He did.

While the first group was in jail the court heard the second squad, made up of six boys. They hadn't done anything more serious than blowing automobile horns and soaping windows—and only two of them at that. Some of this group hadn't even done that much. They were just with the gang. One of this group told of being chased by a policeman on crutches. It was news to Chief Galusha that a member of his force used crutches. Judge McClellan told squad No. 2 to report at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. There was a chorus of "Yes, sir."

One boy facing the court alone. He had been with other boys who pushed an automobile away from the place where it had been left standing and tore pickets from a fence. He did not help them, he said. He was just an on-looker. The court gave him no sentence.

"ELEFEGO BACA." Mr. Garcia declared he had not made any friends. He said he would make his own appointments of good and competent men. Friends of Mr. Lewis says he fills these conditions easily, pointing to his efficient record as under sheriff.

Here is Mr. Garcia's statement: "Old Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 1st, A. D. 1916.

To the public in general:

"There have been some rumors that I have made some promises that, in case I am elected sheriff of Bernalillo county, the incoming election that I was going to retain some of the deputy sheriffs of the old gang and especially the chief deputy, and in order to clear those rumors I will say that I have not made any promises to anybody, and I will not promise anybody, but in case that I am elected sheriff of Bernalillo county I will make my own appointments, satisfactory to me, of good and competent men, etc.

"LT. DANNY, U. S. A." "PERILS OF PILLS" BOTH AT PASTIME

As a dark-eyed and languishing Mexican son of aristocratic family, Enid Markey has an especially fitting role in "Lieutenant Danny, U. S. A.," a new Triangle offering soon to be seen here.

In the first year of the Triangle's existence this lovely little star has played an extraordinarily variety of parts, disclosing an adaptability that means real gifts and artistic growth. But this latest role, in which she plays opposite William Desmond, not only fits her in its physical requirements to an unusual degree but it gives her a severe test in acting ability.

Toward the end of the intensely dramatic story she is in the power of "Pedro the Butcher," a villainous Mexican bandit leader, and he gloats over his captive while he makes her serve him at her own table. She is signing for time, working out a plan to be rid of him, even though it may mean killing him with her own slender hand. But all the while she must keep him guessing. Her pride makes her carry her head high, even in the presence of worse than death, and there is a smile on her lips when a smile will serve her purpose. Her strange self-control and sweet nobility puzzles and partly disarms the bad man and thus she gains the time that in the end permits her rescue. This complex situation is handled with a veteran's skill by Miss Markey, making one of the strongest scenes in a drama of thrilling action.

Also, Charlie Murray in "Perils of Pills," a laughable comedy.
