ATTACK ON JONES' PRIVATE LIFE IS RESENTED BY DECENT PEOPLE

Arthur Seligman Is Receiving Many Assurances From Republicans of Their Disgust.

BERNALILLO, GRANT AND LUNA COUNTIES REBEL

Thomas H. Hughes, Chairman of Hubbell's County Central Committee, Refuses to Circulate Document.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, Nov. 3.—The publication in several New Mexico newspapers of the republican state central committee of thinly veiled charges against the private character of A. A. Jones, democratic candidate for United States senator, in which allusions are made to pamphlets containing graphic reproductions of letters alleged to have been written by the first wife of Mr. Jones, has proved the best sensation of the campaign.

As one politician put it, "Cap" Gilman is running true to form. Senator Fall promised that this should be a campaign of mudslinging and filth by the republicans, and Cap is making good the promise.

The advertisement first made its appearance in the Las Vegas Optic on Wednesday, November 1, and was seen here the next day. Since then it has appeared in other newspapers of the state which have been publishing the republican advertisements during the campaign.

Will Help Jones.

That the attack will be worth thousands of votes to Mr. Jones in his candidacy for the senatorship is the opinion of the best informed on political conditions in New Mexico. Already Chairman Seligman is in receipt of a number of telegrams from various parts of the state declaring that a revelation of feeling has been caused by the publication and that Mr. Jones, already a hot favorite for the senatorship, would run far ahead of his ticket as result of this method of political attack. Indeed such is the nature of the pamphlet issued by the republican committee that the republican county chairman of several counties have refused to circulate them.

Word comes from Albuquerque that County Chairman Thomas H. Hughes will not stand for the circulation of the pamphlets, and a long distance telephone message from Silver City is to the effect that the local organization there has also refused to distribute them. Luna county is said to be another county in which the local republican organization has taken the bit in its teeth and overridden the state committee in its peculiar campaign methods.

Great Secrecy Observed.

A peculiar feature of the situation is the strict secrecy with which every move regarding the circulation of the pamphlets has been guarded.

Not one of them has been seen in Santa Fe, nor is there any evidence that they have been sent through the mails anywhere.

Every indication is that they were sent out by special messengers who took them in person and delivered them to the heads of the county organizations. Whether this precaution was taken in order to make the surprise to the democrats as complete as possible, or in order to avoid possible penalties for sending defamatory matter through the mails, it is impossible to say.

Denounced by Seligman.

Chairman Arthur Seligman, of the democratic state central committee, tonight made the following statement with reference to the charges: "The cowardly attack on the private character of Mr. Jones has been worth thousands of votes, not only to him but to the entire democratic ticket, for it shows more clearly than anything else could do the nature of the men who are conducting the republican campaign and the methods to which they are willing to resort to put the old republican ring back in power."

"Not having seen the specific charges, of course it is impossible for me to make any reply to them at this time. It is sufficient to say that for more than thirty years A. A. Jones has lived in Las Vegas and has been with the leading citizens of that city, honored and respected by all those with whom he came in daily contact."

"It is worthy of note, by the way, that in selecting a newspaper published in his home town as a medium for making this dastardly attack, the editors of that paper do not assume editorial responsibility for the charges."

Statement by A. A. Jones

(From Cimarron, where he spoke last night, Hon. A. A. Jones gave to the Journal the following statement, called forth by the scurrilous charges placed in circulation by the republican state committee; also in regard to alleged unpaid taxes on the Preston Beck grant.)

To the voters of New Mexico:—While en route to meet speaking engagements in Colfax county my attention is called to a political advertisement, presumably made by the republican state committee, in which it was asserted that a pamphlet was being distributed containing photographic copies of alleged letters of a derogatory character. I have endeavored to obtain a copy of such pamphlet, but so far have been unable to see it or learn its contents. If any such letters are in existence I have no knowledge of their contents. Whether true or false or unjustifiable, owing to the former relationship, it would manifestly be the height of impropriety, even if I knew the contents, for me to undertake to answer or deny any statements in any letters which were not called to my attention during the life time of the writer.

My attention has also been called to another political advertisement, doubtless from the same source, in which it is alleged that there are over $36,000 of unpaid taxes on the Preston Beck grant, owned by me. There is no claim made by either of the counties of Guadalupe or San Miguel that there are any unpaid taxes upon the grant other than for the year 1915, unless it be upon that portion of the grant in San Miguel county. The title to this portion is in violent dispute by three separate claimants. Senator Catron claims to own all of it and so does the town of Anton Chico. It is also claimed, as co-tenants, by several parties residing in California, one in Scotland and a small interest by myself.

I am in possession of it as receiver appointed by the court. For my own protection as receiver I have thought it advisable to have the amounts to be paid for taxes upon the grant fixed by the court, and that has been done from time to time. All taxes so fixed have been promptly paid by me and I hold tax receipts and cancelled checks showing that during my receivership I have paid taxes upon the grant to the amount of $32,157.70. I believe that there are no other taxes lawfully due against the grant except for the year 1915, which remain to be fixed by the court, and the court as to that year has taken the matter under advisement awaiting a decision upon tax matters in similar cases.

I have spoken, in twenty-four counties of this state during the campaign and on no occasion have I even mentioned the name of a single candidate upon the republican ticket, nor have I in any manner directed or participated in the management of this campaign.

SUBWAY SYSTEM DYNAMITE PLOTS THWARTED IN N.Y.

Confession Sets Forth That Station at 59th Street and Broadway, and at City Hall to Have Been Blown Up.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
New York, Nov. 3.—Plots to dynamite two stations on the Interborough Rapid Transit company's subway system were thwarted, according to the police, by the arrest today of six men, several of them strikers, charged with bringing dynamite into the city and with causing the dynamite explosion which occurred in the 119th street station on October 24.

A confession which detectives say they obtained from one of the men under arrest sets forth that the station at Fifty-ninth street and Broadway was to have been blown up today and the station at city hall later.

James A. Murne, a former subway guard, and Thomas J. McGuire, a chauffeur of Caldwell N. J., visited Kenil yesterday and purchased the explosive to have been used in today's explosion, according to the police, and Murne and James J. Harlihy, a former elevated railway guard, it is charged purchased the dynamite in Kenil on October 23.

Murne, McGuire and Harlihy are under arrest, together with George Pollok, a former elevated guard, Lawrence Kille, a former subway guard, and Benjamin Hamilton, a former elevated guard.

All of these men except McGuire, the police say, are members of a district local of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees. Police Captain Tunney of the bomb squad, said evidence had been uncovered that funds to finance explosions came from the union and that other arrests would be made.

BENSON SEVERE ON BOTH WILSON AND C. E. HUGHES

Finds Democratic Prosperity Mostly Sham; Denounces New Army Bill; Predicts War in Five Years.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Kansas City, Nov. 3.—Allan L. Benson, socialist candidate for president, continued his attack on the Hay-Chamberlain bill here tonight.

"For seventy days I have been trying to get President Wilson to make a public statement as to why he signed that bill," he said. "So far I have been unsuccessful. Happening to know that it is a White House rumor to answer all letters, I had letters written Mr. Wilson asking the question."

"The letters were answered by a secretary in this fashion:

"In reference to your letter, I beg to say, as has been explained again and again, that the clause referred to in the so-called Hay-Chamberlain bill applied only to times of war."

Mr. Hughes also came in for a share of the anti-martial law in the nominee's address, when he declared that "while Mr. Marshall has said that a vote for Hughes is just like endorsing in the army, he is altogether too moderate in his assertions. A vote for either Hughes or Wilson is like endorsing the army."

Democratic prosperity was characterized as a prosperity of horse-meat, potato bread and wooden shoes.

Benson closed with the prediction that we shall have a war within five years over foreign trade that European capitalists have lost to American "mercenary princes."

COLONEL BITTER IN ATTACK UPON WOODROW WILSON AS PRESIDENT

Declares Head of Nation Has Appealed to All That Is Weakest and Most Unworthy in Americans.

SCORES BAKER AND SECRETARY DANIELS

Says Their Words Are Chiefly Important Because They Reflect Sentiment of Chief Executive.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
New York, Nov. 3.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt criticized President Wilson in emphatic words this evening in an address at Cooper Union, which he delivered at the request of a campaign organization of business men oppose the re-election of Mr. Wilson. Taking as his subject, "Our Nation's Crisis," Colonel Roosevelt said that a world cataclysm has overwhelmed civilization and that "the times have needed a Washington or Lincoln, but unfortunately we have been granted only another Buchanan."

Appeals to All That's Weak.

"I have been assailed," said the speaker, "because I have criticized Mr. Wilson. I have not said one thing of that that was not absolutely accurate and truthful. I have criticized him because I believe he has dragged in the dust what was most sacred in our past, and has jeopardized the most vital hopes of our future. I criticize him now because he has adroitly and cleverly, and with sinister ability, appealed to all that is weakest and most unworthy in the American character, and also because he has sought to lead many men and women, who are neither weak nor unworthy, but who have been misled by a shadow dance with words. He has kept the eyes of the people dazzled so they know not what is real and what is false. In the face of the world he has covered this nation's face with shame as with a garment."

Conflicting Sentiments.

"I hardly know whether to feel the most burning indignation at those speeches of his wherein he expresses lofty sentiments which his deeds belie, or at those other speeches wherein he displays a frank cynicism of belief in, and appeal to, what is basest in the human heart. In a recent speech at Long Branch, he said, as reported in the daily press, that 'you can not worship God on an empty stomach and you can not be a patriot when you are starving.'"

"No more sacred truth ever was uttered. Such a sentence could be uttered only by a president who cares nothing for the nation's soul, and who believes that the nation itself puts its belly above its soul. I call the attention of these apostles of the full belly of these men who jeer at the nation's soul, I call the attention of President Wilson and his secretary of war and his secretary of navy, to what Washington said of his own soldiers in a letter to congress."

Roads Washington's Letter.

Roosevelt then read the statement from Washington's letter on the army's suffering, as without sufficient clothes or blankets or shoes, the men marched with bleeding feet through snow, submitting without a murmur.

"This is what Washington said," commented Colonel Roosevelt. "Does Mr. Wilson think that these men of Valley Forge were not patriots because they were starving? Mr. Baker and Mr. Daniels have done evil to this country only because they stood where their master Mr. Wilson, placed them. I call your attention to their statements not only because they are foul slanders on everything that is good in human nature, and on every American worth calling an American, but because they show the character of Mr. Wilson."

Colonel Roosevelt earlier in his address said that the appeal had been made for Wilson that "We should not change horses in crossing a stream." On this he commented as follows:

"The worth of such an appeal is obvious when the horse, whenever he comes to a stream, first pretends he is going to jump it, then refuses to enter it, and when he has reached the middle, alternately moves feebly forward and feebly back, and occasionally lies down. We had just entered the greatest crisis in our history when we 'swapped horses' by exchanging Buchanan for Lincoln, and if we had not made the exchange we would not have crossed the stream at all. The failure now to change Mr. Wilson for Mr. Hughes could be almost as damaging."

Chews Washington and Lincoln.

After asserting that Washington and Lincoln stood for full union of the people and for full employment of the nation's strength to meet all needs, Mr. Roosevelt said that this country now should, in facing problems new in kind and degree, be guided by the spirit of the lesson taught by the careers of Washington and Lincoln, though methods in present industrial life must differ from

HEAVY FIGHTING IN PROGRESS IN RUMANIA; SLAVS GAIN IN EAST

Teutons Are Steadily Pressing King Ferdinand's Forces at Some Points, but Are Losing on Other Fronts.

RUSSIANS AGAIN DRIVE TOWARD LEMBERG

Germans Admit Some Losses but Claim Severe Attacks by Czar's Armies Have Been Repulsed in Galicia.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Violent fighting continues to mark the German-Austro attempts to penetrate the plain of Rumania south of Kronstadt and Hermannstadt, and toward Bucharest. The stiff defense of the Rumanians is yielding slowly to the blows of Austro-German artillery about Predeal, and Berlin announces further progress south of the border for them.

East of Predeal, however, the Rumanians advancing in the Jiu valley have driven the invaders back over the frontier in the region of Table Buta. They also have taken Mount Strin and Taturumio, along the Transylvania border southeast of Kronstadt. South of Hermannstadt, in the region of Rothenthurm, the Austro-Germans have extended their lines and captured an additional 350 prisoners. West of Rothenthurm, and in the Prishova valley, the Rumanians are holding their ground.

Fighting in East.

On the eastern front, fighting has taken place east of Kovel in Volhynia and southeast of Lemberg, in Galicia. Berlin announces the repulse of seven Russian attacks against the Austro-German positions on the left bank of the Narayuska river, near Hales in Galicia, while Preograd said the Russians have recaptured part of their trenches on the west bank of the Stokhod in the region of Kismelin, in Volhynia. Near Lipniedolna, in Galicia, the Russians have pushed back the Austro-Germans in some places.

No Heavy Action in Somme.

There have been no heavy actions on the Somme front. The French have made slight gains at Sally and the British have taken a German trench east of Gueudecourt. Fort Vaux, in the Verdun region, has been occupied by the French, following the evacuation by the Germans.

Although fighting continues at various points along the Macedonian front from Lake Prespa to Lake Thilnos, there has been little change in the general situation. British troops have taken Alissa, on the left bank of the Struma, from the Bulgarians.

GERMANS DRIVEN FROM PORT BY ARTILLERY FIRE

Paris, Nov. 3.—Today's announcement on the French front follows:

"South of the Somme, the artillery fighting was fairly lively in the sectors of Lihons and Chilly. A surprise attack was carried by us against German trenches west of Lanoiret."

"On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdon front), the night was relatively calm. Yesterday, the enemy

Watch for the Big Story Sunday Morning

The final pre-election poll and forecast of the New York Herald will appear in The Journal Sunday morning. The story will come hot over the wire, starting at 7 o'clock eastern time, from New York, and it will contain precisely twice the number of words in either of the two previous stories. It will be non-partisan, and the most trustworthy indication of how the national election will go on Tuesday.

owing to the violence of our bombardment, which had continued for several days, evacuated Fort Vaux during the afternoon without waiting for an attack by our infantry, whose pressure was becoming closer and closer.

Very heavy explosions were heard in the fort.

BRITISH MAKE GAINS ON MACEDONIAN FRONT

Paris, Nov. 3.—British troops following up their successes against the Bulgarians on the left bank of the River Struma in Greek Macedonia, have taken by assault the village of Alissa, says today's statement from the French war department.

RUMANIANS DRIVE TEUTONS FURTHER BACK

Bucharest, Nov. 3 (via London).—The war office announced today that in the fighting along the Hungarian-Rumanian frontier the Rumanian forces had driven the Austrians and Germans across the border at Table Butza. The Rumanians made an attack in Buzen valley, occupying Mount Strin and Taturumio.

AUSTRIANS LOSE 15,000 MEN, SAYS ROME REPORT

Rome, Nov. 3.—A Rome dispatch to the Wireless Press says the first day of the new Italian offensive cost the Austrians 15,000 men. One-third of them were made prisoners, the dispatch says. (The Italian war office reported that 4,731 prisoners had been taken.) The Twenty-first Austrian regiment and several battalions are said to have been annihilated.

The weather is favorable and the battle along the heights east of Gorizia and on the Carso continues fiercely. Austrian counter-attacks are described as feeble.

ITALIANS MOVING ON TOWARD TRIESTE

Rome, Nov. 3 (via London).—In the zone from Gorizia to the Adriatic, the Italians have captured additional points of vantage from the Austrians and taken 2,548 more prisoners and guns, machine guns and quantities of arms and ammunition, according to the official communication issued today.

GAGGING OF GREECE, OCCUPIES ALLIES

Berlin, Nov. 3 (by Wireless to Stockholm).—General Sarraff's offensive in Macedonia is declared in a Sofia dispatch to the newspaper Azest of Budapest, to have failed completely, the various groups of his army now only attacking at isolated points. The attacks recently made in the head of the Cerna at Lake Malik and on the Kamenna plateau, are described as being "nervous conclusions."

General Sarraff's only task now, adds the newspaper, "apparently is to hold off as he may the German-Bulgarian troops in order that the gagging of Greece meanwhile may be completed."

Returned to Harvard.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Capt. Alfred W. Hornsby, U. S. A., recently on duty as an instructor at the army service school, has been assigned as professor of military science at Harvard university.

The Bursum Road Plan

Mr. Bursum proposes to raise two and a half million dollars for a road system in New Mexico by levying a direct tax of one mill on the dollar for ten years, anticipating the levies by certificates of indebtedness so as to make the whole sum available at once.

Assuming the constitutionality of certificates of indebtedness in excess of $250,000—which is a matter of the gravest doubt—there are two great objections to the Bursum road plan.

The first is that it contemplates incurring a large indebtedness without submitting the matter to a vote of the people.

The second is Bursum.

The anticipation of tax levies by certificates of indebtedness issued against taxes to accrue during ten years in the future is nothing more or less than an indirect bond issue without complying with the constitutional requirements that such issue be submitted to a vote of the people. That the people of New Mexico want good roads admits of no doubt, but they have a right to a voice as to the amount that is to be spent, the interest to be paid and the method of spending the money. The Bursum plan would deprive them of that voice.

But the second objection to the plan is more serious than the first. To place two and a half million dollars in the hands of a Bursum administration to be spent in two years' time would be for the people of New Mexico to place their government in the hands of Holm O. Bursum for an indefinite period. It would be to place the tools and the materials in the hands of Mr. Bursum and bid him build himself the strongest and most perfectly devised political machine that his ingenious mind could construct.

That is not all. Mr. Bursum has given an example of how to spend money unwisely in road building by what was done in the construction of the six miles of the Socorro-Mogollon road in his home county. Mr. Bursum has never attempted to explain or apologize for that monument piece of blundering, nor has he ever disclaimed responsibility for his part in the blunder.

It is all very well for the people of New Mexico to raise two and a half million dollars for good roads. It is not well for them to place the spending of it in the hands of a Bursum administration.

The democratic plan of issuing bonds, pledging the automobile license money—an ever increasing source of revenue—for the interest and sinking fund, has none of the objections of the Bursum plan. It submits the matter to a vote of the people. It entails no increased burden on anybody, and best of all, under the democratic plan, the money would not be spent by a Bursum administration and would not be used in building up a self-perpetuating political machine.

EIGHT SPEECHES MADE BY HUGHES WHILE TOURING NEW YORK STATE

Candidate Attacks Underwood Tariff Law; Says Something Must Be Done for Protection.

BELIEVES ELECTION NOW REASONABLY SURE

Again Declares That American Citizens Must Be Protected in Their Rights on Land and Sea.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
New York, Nov. 3.—Charles E. Hughes ended his travels as a presidential candidate here tonight. The nominee spent the day journeying down the Hudson river valley from Albany. He delivered five speeches on the way and after his arrival here addressed three meetings in Brooklyn.

In his day speeches, Mr. Hughes spoke chiefly on the tariff and the maintenance of American rights abroad. He also assailed the administration for "broken promises," with respect to the reduction of the cost of living, observance of the merit system in making appointments, the maintenance of American rights abroad, and economy in the expenses of the government.

Conditions which industry in the United States will face at the close of the war were characterized as causes for "serious consideration by every student of our affairs."

"We want to look out that we do not have a headache coming to us in the near future," the nominee told an audience at Newburgh, "because there are quite a number of things that we must carefully consider."

Scores Underwood Tariff Law.

Among the chief of these, Mr. Hughes ranked commercial competition after the war with European nations, "not at all wasted by war but disciplined, organized, as they have never been before." The Underwood tariff, Mr. Hughes said, would not meet the situation as a measure of protection to American industry.

"Our opponents told us four years ago," Mr. Hughes said at Kingston, "of the wonderful opportunities they were going to give to American business. We know what actually followed. I do not mean that they were insincere, I simply mean that what they thought fitted American life does not work with it."

Mr. Hughes said he asked his opponents what they were going to do about safe-guarding American industry, and they replied that they had a tariff commission. A tariff commission, he continued, did not pass laws. It was no time, Mr. Hughes declared, for his political opponents to be so sensitive about criticism.

No Time for Sensitiveness.

"We are taking account of stock," he said in his Newburgh speech. "Our opponents appear to be a little sensitive about the stock taking. They seem to have the idea that they ought not to be any criticism of the administration. Well, we would not do very well in American life under our institutions if we went ahead in that way. We want fair criticism. We want candid criticism, but we must conserve the opportunities of American life and the honor of the American name."

"The policy which would conserve the honor of the American name and result in upholding American rights was not the policy of bragging, he said.

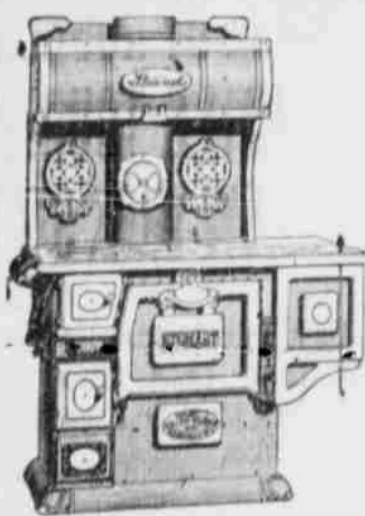

"We have not the slightest desire to go through the world as braggarts, hoasters," he said. "We haven't any desire to stimulate ill-feeling by a triumphant attitude. What we want to show is this, that in a world of keen rivalries and of excellent understandings, we constantly stand erect as a nation having courage and the indomitable spirit which our ancestors showed when they preserved the integrity of the nation; that we are a land devoted to justice; that we are intent in a righteous way upon maintaining our national honor and that the rights of American citizens on land and sea throughout the world will, in all events, be maintained."

Protection for Citizens.

If young Americans were to go forth as the advance guard of American enterprise, Mr. Hughes said in his Kingston speech, it must be understood throughout the world that there is no prouder title than that of American citizen and that the American flag protects men lawfully doing their work wherever they may be."

Mr. Hughes spoke at Hudson, Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Yonkers. Crowds greeted him at each stop. At each place many sought to bear the nominee unsuccessfully for lack of room at meeting halls. At Harman, where the special stopped to change engines, groups of railroad men in overalls left their engines to gather around the rear platform of his car. They cheered him and several shouted they were going to vote

Sure the Fight Is Won.
In his Newburgh speech Mr. Hughes declared that he would deal faithfully with each problem, if elected, and seek its reasonable solution.

"All that is worth while in this life," he said, "is the opportunity to serve to the best of one's ability."

Mr. Hughes will remain here until election. He will receive the returns election night at the uptown hotel. He has made his city headquarters since his nomination.

When Mr. Hughes' train arrived in this city, he was greeted at the station by 200 members of the Hughes college men's league. The delegation formed an escort for him to his hotel. The nominee was cheered by sidewalk crowds along the way and he frequently bowed his acknowledgments.

"I am deeply touched by this splendid reception," Mr. Hughes said when he reached his hotel. "I came back home pretty sure the fight is won."

Whirlwind Continues.
Tomorrow, the last day of his campaign, was to have been a day of rest with a big rally at Madison Square Garden at night. Instead, it will be a whirlwind day of more speaking in New York City. When the nominee arrived here tonight, he found that the national committee had decided up the campaign so that he will spend virtually the entire afternoon touring the city. Five speeches are on his program. In almost every speech today and tonight, the nominee told his audience he was confident of victory next Tuesday. He told them there was little new he could say with regard to the issues of the campaign. On his trip down the Hudson river valley, he made the tariff one of the chief themes of his speeches; here tonight he spoke briefly of Americanism.

"Let me say to you," he told an audience in Brooklyn, the last he addressed tonight, "that if I am elected president, as I expect to be— I feel no further for the moment. A man in the gallery yelled:

"You will be!"
The entire audience arose and cheered its approval of the interruption, waving handkerchiefs and American flags.

Exclusive American Policies.
"If I am elected president," the nominee continued, "we shall have an American administration with exclusively American policies, without any deflection to serve any other interests. Supreme must be American interests in the thoughts of the American people and supreme will be America's interests in its administration in my charge."

In his tour through Brooklyn tonight, Mr. Hughes campaigned over ground familiar to him as a boy. The first meeting he addressed in the Green Point section was within three blocks of the Union Avenue Baptist church, where his father once was pastor. The streets through which he had passed were those on which he had played as a boy, he told the audience, and familiar faces were among those who heard him.

"I have had many a generous welcome and many a manifestation of enthusiasm on my long trip," he declared, "but best of all is the welcome home."

Speaks to Socialists.
The second meeting of the evening was in the Brownsville section, a district which, his advisers told him, was strongly socialist in its politics. Here the streets were choked. Traffic was blocked and the services of more than fifty policemen were necessary to get the nominee's car through the crowds and to the entrance of the hall.
At this meeting, Mr. Hughes reiterated his endorsement of the republican platform plank, declaring for a treaty with Russia that will recognize the right of expatriation. The audience cheered this more than any other utterance.

The third address of the evening was at Kismet hall. On his way there the nominee passed the house in which he was married. Here again he found all space in the hall crowded with an audience that had waited two hours to hear him and hundreds standing in the street.

"It has been my good fortune, during the past few weeks, to speak in many states," Mr. Hughes said, "and everywhere there has been this manifestation of a deep patriotic feeling, of an intense interest in our vital concerns, but there is something about the generosity of this welcome in my native state, which I had the good fortune to serve four years, that makes it more gratifying to me than any other welcome could possibly be."

"I hope and expect that next Tuesday we shall have a triumphant victory in both nation and state."

Department of Justice Makes
Statement That Fraudulent

Is Enormous.

Drives Optimistic.
Enthusiasm over the dry's prospects marked Hanly's speeches. "On this long journey," he said, "we have found a response to our plans for the cause such as no other man ever heard. Over this country we have laid broad and deep the foundation for victory."

"Give us 50,000 votes in Indiana, and 1,000,000 in the nation this year and we will force one of the old parties to adopt the dry plank at its next convention, or we will lead a victorious fight for a dry nation, with any other party."

Hanly was enthusiastically received. Richmond gave him a small crowd but Winchester, Portland, and Berne turned out good audiences. The Winchester meeting, held in a tabernacle, resounded with frequent cheers and shouts of encouragement.

Roundly Applauded.
"Whoop, whoop, there they are," shouted a man, as Hanly and Landrith appeared. "Who says they are not big enough to run this government?"

The crowd immediately took up the cry and thence until the end of the meeting, the speakers were frequently met by shouts such as "Hill, Hill, Hill!" and "American, that's right!"

Landrith aroused applause by declaring that the party that is beaten this year will hold its convention first in 1920 and write a dry plank into its platform.

The train will continue through Indiana tomorrow, arriving at Indianapolis for a night meeting in Hanly's home city.

Prohibition Victory--Some Time.

DRY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADED WIRE.
Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 3.—Old home trails were lit again today by J. Frank Hanly, the prohibition presidential candidate, when the dry party special train came back to Indiana after visiting thirty-four states and traveling almost 28,000 miles since September 5.

Hanly again turned a broad range fire on state and national democratic and republican candidates for their silence on the dry issues. Indiana's two vice presidential candidates came in for particularly vigorous attacks. Fairbanks, he insisted, aided in packing the republican national convention with liquor men, so his party would appeal to the "liberal vote." Of Vice President Marshall, he said that Ira Landrith, the dry vice presidential candidate, would, if elected, lift the office to which he aspired from its present "pitifully low estate to the proud position the fathers intended it should occupy."

Roundly Applauded.
"Whoop, whoop, there they are," shouted a man, as Hanly and Landrith appeared. "Who says they are not big enough to run this government?"

The crowd immediately took up the cry and thence until the end of the meeting, the speakers were frequently met by shouts such as "Hill, Hill, Hill!" and "American, that's right!"

Landrith aroused applause by declaring that the party that is beaten this year will hold its convention first in 1920 and write a dry plank into its platform.

The train will continue through Indiana tomorrow, arriving at Indianapolis for a night meeting in Hanly's home city.

COLONEL BITTER IN ATTACK UPON WILSON AND ADMINISTRATION

those obtained in the time of these men.

"We must recognize, as modern Germany has recognized," said Mr. Roosevelt, "that it is folly to try to cripple, both by making it ineffective or to fail to insist that the wage-earner and consumer must be given their full share of prosperity that comes from successful application of modern industrial instrumentalities."

Colonel Roosevelt charged that though President Wilson had said that when he started in one direction he would never turn back, "his whole record has consisted in turning back at every point where he was hindered to do so either by fear or self-interest."

"He has been claiming credit because, in the case of Belgium, he has preserved a neutrality that would make Pontius Pilate quiver with envy and yet, in his speech last Thursday he said that never again must we be neutral. He has kept us absolutely unprepared, yet he now says we must enter the next war."

"He has looked on without a single throb of his cold heart, without the least quickening of his tepid pulse, while gallant Belgium was trampled in the bloody mire, while the Turk inflicted on the Armenian and Syrian Christians wrongs that would have blasted the memory of Attila, and he has claimed credit for his neutral indifference to their suffering; and yet, ten days before election he says the United States must hereafter refuse to allow small nations to be misshaped by big, powerful nations."

"Do it now, Mr. Wilson! If you mean what you say, Mr. Wilson, show that you mean it by your action in the present."

Near the close of his address, Colonel Roosevelt said:

Casts Eloquence.

"Mr. Wilson now dwells at Shadow Lawn. There should be shadows enough at Shadow Lawn, the shadows of men, women and children who have risen from the seats of the ocean bottom and from graves in foreign lands; the shadows of the helpless whom Mr. Wilson did not dare protect lest he might have to face danger; the shadows of babies, gasping pitifully, as they sink under the waves; the shadows of women, outraged and slain by bandits; the shadows of Boyd and Adair and their troops, who by in the Mexican desert, black blood crusted around their mouths and their dim eyes looking upward because Mr. Wilson had sent them to do a task, and then had shamefully abandoned them to foes who knew no mercy. These are the shadows proper for Shadow Lawn, the shadows of deeds never done; the shadows of lofty words that were followed by no action; the shadows of the tortured dead."

TEUTONS BADLY TREATED; PRISON CAMPS HORRIBLE

Condition of Germans Held by Russians, British and French
Governments Described as Most Cruel.

DRY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADED WIRE.
Berlin, Nov. 3 (By Wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—The Reichstag today discussed the treatment of war prisoners. Prince von Schoenbach, of the national liberal party, says the Overseas News agency, made a report on the proceedings of the committee, which considered that question as follows:

"With great address and profound indignation, the committee took notice of the great sufferings of Germans made prisoners. This is especially true of Russia, where numerous cases of brutal treatment have been proved; and also in British camps, for which there are numerous complaints. Prisoners are often forced to work under degrading conditions. Frequently, they must toil in forty degrees of cold or under a burning sun and often fatality is added to this. The food in many places is most scanty, deficient and badly prepared."

Expresses Thanks to Pope.
Prince von Schoenbach acknowledged the kind exertions of the holy see to improve the fate of the prisoners, continues the news agency. Matthias Erzberger, leader of the clerical center, expressed thanks to the pope, and the population of Switzerland, for humane actions towards war prisoners.

The whole house agreed, says the agency, when it was stated that beyond any doubt, Germans would be glad if their countrymen made prisoners were treated everywhere as well as war prisoners in Germany.

Joseph Emmel, a socialist member from Alsace, said the French government had failed to execute loyally its agreement for the release of hostages from Alsace and that the action of the German government in determining on retaliation by sending 200 Frenchmen and women of representative families from occupied French districts to Germany, was therefore justified.

Complaints of France.
Herr Bruckhoff, a radical member, stated that Germans who were staying in France at the outbreak of the war, all were interned and that this was absolutely in violation of the law of nations. He added:

"The situation of our countrymen made prisoners in foreign lands is bad. I recall only the treatment of our brave submarine crews in England and the conditions in French camps, some of which are horrible. Great indignation was aroused because our countrymen made prisoners were sent to northern Africa and directly in the tropical districts. The treatment of those in tropical camps especially was incredible. The German government deserves high praise for the aid which its uninterrupted exertions has given them. The worst camps now are evacuated."

"Still worse conditions prevail in Russia, especially in Siberia, where the food is absolutely insufficient, where prisoners lack even clothing, and where the sanitary organization is pitiful."

Herr von Boeln, a conservative member, says the Overseas News agency, stated that awhile ago defenseless German war prisoners were shot by French under command of French officers.

Major General Friedrich stated, according to the news agency, that the German authorities gladly would close the camp where British civil prisoners are interned and would release them all, providing England would accept the German proposal and exchange all civil prisoners.

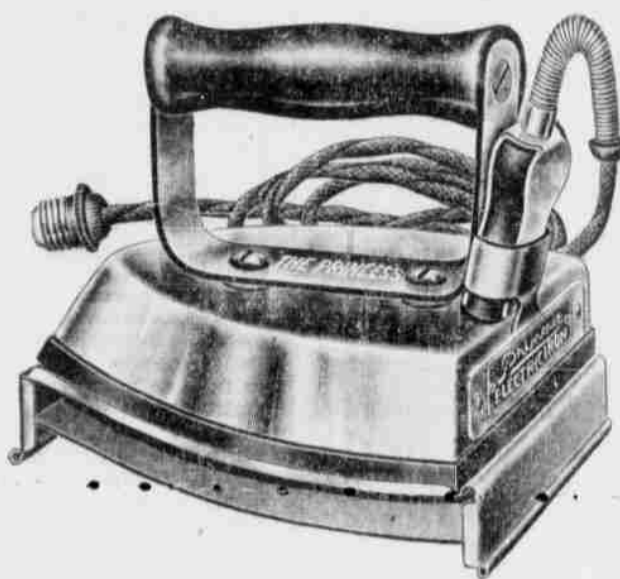

Federal Reserve Act to Supreme Court.
Washington, Nov. 3.—Constitutionality of the federal reserve act, in so far as it permits national banks to act as executors, administrators, trustees, and registrars of stocks and bonds, was placed before the supreme court today for decision. It came up on an appeal filed by the First National bank of Bay City, Mich., from a decree of the Michigan supreme court, prohibiting that bank from exercising such functions.

Greek Steamer Explosion External.
Athens, Wednesday, Nov. 1, via London, Nov. 2.—The French admiral has issued a communication saying that investigation shows that the sinking of the Greek steamer Anghelika was due to an external cause—a mine or submarine—which, owing to the measures taken by the entire allies, cannot have been of other origin than German or German allies.

American Up for Cattle Stealing.
El Paso, Tex., Nov. 3.—Joseph Williams, an American rancher who lives near Colonia Duran, Chihuahua, was brought to Juarez from Casas Grandes today to answer a charge of having stolen cattle in his possession. Gen. Francisco Gonzales announced at the military court in Juarez. He is said to have been engaged in the cattle business in the Galisana district of western Chihuahua. He will be given a hearing late today in Juarez.

Places Big Car Order.
Baltimore, Md., Nov. 3.—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company has placed an order for 2,000 box cars, supplementing a contract for 1,600 box cars placed a short time ago, it was stated at the company's headquarters today.

ARMY AND NAVY TO MEET STRONG ELEVEN TODAY

Other Eastern Teams for Most Part Will Have Comparatively Easy Games and Defeat Would Be Upset.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)

New York, Nov. 4.—With few exceptions, the more important eastern college football teams face comparatively easy games tomorrow and defeat would be upset.

The Army will play the one intercollegiate game, meeting Notre Dame. While West Point is admitted to be stronger than a year ago, the Indiana collegians have not abandoned hope of repeating the victory of last season, and reports indicate that the team is fully as formidable as twelve months ago.

The Navy faces the Washington and Lee eleven, which the Army defeated October 7 by a score of 14 to 7. All three combinations involved in this triangle have improved considerably since early season.

Colgate will go to New Haven in an attempt to repeat its 1915 victory over the Blue, but the New York state team will find Yale an entirely different proposition from that of a year ago.

Both teams have shown that they are above the ordinary this season. Neither has been defeated.

Princeton and Pennsylvania have drawn comparatively weak opponents and each eleven should come through to victory. The Tigers will be opposed by Bucknell and La Fayette will face Pennsylvania.

Much interest will attach to the Harvard-Virginia game in view of the fact that Yale defeated the southern team, 41 to 3, earlier in the season.

Cornell will line up against Carnegie Tech., with its team in the process of reconstruction, and as the visitors are above the ordinary in strength, speed and strategy, the contest should be close. The more important games in the east follow:

Harvard vs. University of Virginia.
Princeton vs. Bucknell.
Yale vs. Colgate.
Pennsylvania vs. La Fayette.
Cornell vs. Carnegie Technology.
Pittsburgh vs. Allegheny.
Army vs. Notre Dame.
Navy vs. Washington and Lee.
Pennsylvania State vs. Geneva.
Brown vs. Vermont.
Brashear vs. Dartmouth.
Maine vs. Bowdoin.
Washington and Jefferson vs. Muhlenberg.
Williams vs. Wesleyan.
Hartford vs. Holy Cross.
Amherst vs. Trinity.
Haverford vs. Franklin and Marshall.
Johns Hopkins vs. Ohio.
Boston vs. Rhode Island State.
Tufts vs. Massachusetts Amherst.

CORNHUSKERS WILL MEET UNDEFEATED AMES TEAM TODAY

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)

Kansas City, Nov. 3.—The football calendar of the Missouri valley will be building rapidly tomorrow with what perhaps will be the best series of games on any single day thus far of the 1916 season. Each of the teams will have matches that should develop into close, hard fought games.

Nebraska and Ames, both undefeated this season, will fight out their difference on the Cornhuskers' field. Two teams from the north will come north, Oklahoma playing Kansas at Lawrence, and Texas meeting Missouri on the Texas home grounds. Grinnell and Drake will play at Des Moines and the Washington (D. C.) squad will travel to Ann Arbor for a fling at the Yellows.

The game at Lincoln may decide the valley title, as Ames and Missouri, having fought a tie game, Nebraska could claim the premiership by administering to the Yellows their first defeat of the season.

Ames, however, has had a two weeks' rest, the squad is said to have "hit its stride" for the first time this year, and Stewart's men cannot hope to triumph except by playing the hardest kind of football.

Among other games in the southwest will be the annual battle between Louisiana State and Arkansas at Shreveport. Henry Kendall and the Oklahoma Aggies, both undefeated, play at Tulsa. University of Arizona plays the Texas Minors at Tucson. Texas A&M and H. S. are in contest at Houston. The Aggies lost a year ago by the score of 10 to 7.

Flag-stuff Normals Champions.

Flagstaff, Ariz., Nov. 4.—The Northern Arizona Normal school eleven won the state normal and high school football championship of Arizona for 1916 by defeating today the Tempe Normal team, by a score of 27 to 6. The Northern Arizona Normal team was not defeated this season.

FOUR UNBEATEN ELEVEN OF BIG NINE WILL MEET

Contest Between Wisconsin and Ohio State Will Be Center of Interest in Western Football.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Four undefeated eleven of the Big Nine will meet tomorrow in games which will have an important bearing on the "big nine" football championship.

The contest between Wisconsin and Ohio State at Columbus, Ohio, is the most of the interest of western football followers, as the latter eleven will lose almost all chances to finish at the top of the western conference races. Ohio, the youngest member of the conference, has developed an eleven of powerful seeing ability, and will enter the game with a well fortified defense.

Wisconsin, if victorious, apparently will be the only eleven with a chance to overthrow Minnesota's early claim to the conference title.

Critics generally agree that Minnesota will triumph over Illinois.

Northwestern, which has surprised western football followers with its dashing play, will meet Indiana at Bloomington. The Evanston eleven must win to remain in the race.

Chicago will face Purdue at Chicago, but the game will have no bearing on the "big nine" race, in each of these eleven has been beaten by two conference rivals.

Princeton for a desperate battle, Notre Dame will face the strong Army eleven at West Point. The Notre Dame eleven is accounted to be one of the strongest developed at the South land university in the last five years. Coach Harper has attempted to build a defense to stop "Ophiphant," the Army star.

Michigan, in preparing for coming games with Pennsylvania and Cornell, will entertain the eleven from Washington university at Ann Arbor. The St. Louis team has made a disappointing showing in Missouri valley conference games, but is heavy and plucky, and might give Coach Yost's fighters considerable trouble.

Other games of importance to this section include:

At Vermillion—South Dakota university vs. Michigan Aggies.
At Columbia—Texas vs. Missouri.
At Lawrence—Oklahoma vs. Kansas.
At Lincoln—Ames vs. Nebraska.
At Tulsa—Oklahoma A. & M. vs. Henry Kendall.
At Delaware—Chase vs. Wesleyan.
At Cleveland—Oberlin vs. Western Reserve.
At Grand Forks—North Dakota Aggies vs. North Dakota university.

A. H. S. TACKLES SANTA FE BOYS THIS AFTERNOON

Capitol Team's Reputation for Speed Makes It a Safe Prediction That the Game Will Be a Fast One.

Today's game on the Hopewell gridiron promises to be one of the most interesting of the season. Although the ability of the home high school boys is well known, the game Santa Fe plays is mostly mystery. Perhaps the Albuquerque team will have a walk-away, and perhaps again it will be walked away with. Certainly the eleven from the capital has had much experience this year—probably as much as the locals. And under the expert coaching of Bud Friday it is likely they have developed into a team who can play real football.

The high school eleven is reported to be in excellent condition, taking only light workouts to prevent them from growing stale. In the form displayed last week in the game with the Indians it was plainly shown that the team was on edge.

The Santa Fe boys will arrive this morning on No. 2 at 9:45 o'clock, and the game will be called at 3 p. m. sharp.

BASEBALL NOW THE YEAR-ROUND NATIONAL GAME

With the Players and Magnates, There is Something Doing During Whole Twelve Months.

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

New York, Oct. 26.—The baseball season is no longer confined to those balmy months during which it is a pleasure to get out on the diamond and play the game either for fun or for financial rewards. It can now be indulged in for twelve months in every year if one considers the player and the magnate as integral parts of the national sport.

Begin Activity in February.

The player begins his activities in February with his preparations for spring training and concludes his allotted tasks with the close of the world's series about the middle of October. Just as soon as the player has housed his bat for the winter the magnate impudently his bat and proceeds to take the machine apart and before it is assembled satisfactorily, the call of the southern training camp is heard throughout the land.

As a result of this feverish activity the coming winter promises to be a banner one for the magnates. Even before the world's series was finished the season club owner and executive thought he detected a knocking in the baseball engine and today he has his tools all laid out in shiny rows ready to assemble the machinery of the coming year.

Notwithstanding the fact that the two seasons were closely contested right up to the final day of the season and the world's series established new records in attendance, gate receipts and players' profits there are numerous suggestions put forth with the idea of improving the status of the sport. These cover a wide range of proposed changes and if any of them are put into effect the grand old game is facing a series of revolutions which will be revolutionary.

Player Limit Is Raised.

President John R. Teter of the National league states that the player limit in the season season must be raised from twenty-one to twenty-five in order to give the player a chance in the world's series. President Johnson of the American league demands a lowering of world's series ticket prices. Prominent managers think that the players receive too much money from the series while players who do not get into the final believe that they should have a share of the receipts as well as the club owners.

One prominent player suggests that the pennant race could be made more exciting by dividing a portion of the players' share among the members of the clubs to finish second and third in the two leagues. Some of the magnates take an opposite view and propose that each player in the winning world's series club be paid $1,000 and the losing $500. The remainder to be divided among the clubs and the national commission. Still another would divide the receipts on a basis of eighty and twenty per cent for both players and owners.

New schemes for both the player and the magnate are also advanced. One calls for two seasons the first ending on July 4 and the second September 15 with the winning club meeting in a final game to decide the club to represent the league in the world's series. Another would cut the schedule to nine or ten games, to be followed by a round-robin world's series in which every club in each league would play one or more games with the teams of the rival association.

In addition to these suggestions the current gossip is already busy selling and shifting clubs in both the American and National leagues. It would appear, therefore, that the magnates will not be idle during the next few months and it may be that some new parts will be incorporated before the baseball motor starts on its 1917 grand.

DEMOCRATS WILL CLOSE CAMPAIGN WITH BIG RALLY

Automobiles, Horsemen and Footmen Will Parade Through Streets; Meeting to Be Held at Armory.

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

The democrats tonight will close the campaign for Bernalillo county with a big demonstration.

The demonstration will start with a parade. The line will be made up of five divisions. A band will lead the first division. Mayor Henry Westendorf, marshal, will follow the musicians and then will come the speakers, who will speak after the parade at the armory. Representatives of organized labor will make up the body of this division. Twelve locals were preparing to take part, said Colonel Sellers last night. Earl Borchard will be captain of Organized Labor's contingent.

City Attorney William A. Keche will be marshal of the second division. This will comprise the Woodrow Wilson club of Albuquerque, which has a membership of 1,623 voters, marching afoot, and voters.

First Voters' Division.

The third division will be made up of first voters, who will march afoot. This division will include the University of New Mexico and Albuquerque high school representatives. The students will form the "hubs" corps, singing campaign songs and shouting campaign yells through long megaphones. The University of New Mexico band will lead this division. Allen Emonds of the university and Dave Chavez of the high school will be captains.

The fourth division will be made up of the most part of voters from rural precincts. Any voter who wishes to ride must do so. The efforts to recruit mounted men, however, have been carried on in the county outside Albuquerque. Adriano Sanchez of Atascadero and Justina Gutierrez will be captains of the horsemen. The captains reported yesterday that promises made them by voters of the county precincts gave indication of a numerous body of horsemen.

The fifth division will consist of motor vehicles. Every democrat who owns an automobile is expected to enter this division. They are invited to bring their wives and families with them, said Colonel Sellers. Arthur Sisk and Harold Sellers will captain this section.

Line of March.

The parade will start on North Second street. Footmen will form in second street between Copper and 79th and the automobiles on Copper street west of Second street. The line of march follows: East on Copper to First, south on First to Central, west on Central to Fifth. Here the footmen, who will march by twos, will divide, the left file turning to one side of the street and the right file to the other, where they will stand while the horsemen and automobile pass between their ranks. When the autos have passed they will reform and march to the armory.

A huge bonfire is to be built at Fifth street and Silver avenue. It will be blazing high when the marchers reach the armory.

Colonel Sellers will open the meeting at the armory. A quartet made up of Robert Sewell, E. Stanley Soder, Lyle Vincent and Jack Leprie will sing. State Treasurer O. N. Marron will introduce the speakers.

E. C. de la Rosa, candidate for congressman, and W. B. Walcott, candidate for congressman, will speak and Governor W. C. McDonald may speak. He sent a telegram yesterday saying that he would do his best to reach Albuquerque.

Labor Man to Speak.
Harry M. Swerzy, a prominent organized labor man from Missouri, will speak also. He is at present general chairman of the R. or B. T. for the A. T. & S. E. railway. He was in Washington, D. C., when the Adams law was framed and will speak especially upon the eight-hour law.

All speakers will be limited to thirty minutes, on account of their number.

After the meeting the Woodrow Wilson club will form an organization which will work election day.

VILLA BANDITS SHOUT 'DEATH TO AMERICANS'

Carranza Soldiers Are Butchered; Passengers Stripped of Underclothing and Robbed of Everything.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 3.—Death to Americans! That was the cry of Villa bandits who charged down from the foothills at Laguna upon the Mexican Central passenger train Monday night. Dr. S. Haffner, the German physician, who was a passenger on the loaded train, declared upon his arrival here tonight, once he had reached Chihuahua City.

Dr. Haffner was told by one of the Villa chiefs in command of the bandits that Villa troops had captured Santa Rosalia, Jimenez, and would take Chihuahua City within ten days after the railroad to Juarez had been destroyed. Dr. Haffner, who had practiced medicine in Chihuahua City many years, recognized many of the bandits as former patients and called them by name after he had established his identity as a German subject.

Being German Saves Him.

"I am sure I would have been killed had I not been recognized as the German doctor who had lived in Chihuahua City so long," Dr. Haffner added. "The bandits came through the train crying, 'Death to Americans,' and using the vilest oaths in reference to the 'gringos.' I was struck over the head by one of the bandits, who used his rifle as a club, before I could convince him I was a German. But as soon as I convinced them that I was a German, I was allowed to go."

Dr. Haffner told a graphic story of the hold-up and robbery of the train at Laguna station, and of the execution of the Carranza troop escort which accompanied the train from Juarez.

Carranza Troops Shot.

"It was just growing dusk as we slowed down for Laguna station," he said. "I had seen the men off in the darkness, but did not know they were bandits until the train came to a sudden stop and we discovered that the engine, tender and baggage car had been derailed," he continued. "We heard shooting and then a bandit with a large hat and with his pistol drawn, came through the train and ordered us all to leave it."

"An awful sight met our gaze as we alighted from the train onto the ground. The Carranza soldiers composing the escort were being shot down like dogs. I counted thirteen dead soldiers along the track, and more bodies a short distance away, where they were shot by pistols by the bandits where they stood. One boy of 15 years, kept shouting and begging the commander of the bandits to spare his life. His answer was a bullet from the commander's pistol. In all, more than twenty soldiers were shot."

Robbed of Everything.

"All of our clothing but our under-wear was taken by the bandits. My camera, my purse, my watch and everything else I possessed, was taken, including my suitcase. The women were not robbed of their clothing, as was reported. Three women were driven up by the bandits and the loot from the train and our personal belongings were loaded into these wagons and taken away by the bandits when they started north toward the Santa Clara canyon. There were about twenty men on the train and fifteen women. Some of the women were mistreated. The women captives with the bandits waited at the station and took charge of the personal loot as it was carried to them. One passenger who asked for his grip bag was beaten by a Villa officer with the flat of his sword. A Villa soldier was accidentally shot through the stomach during the firing and died later. The train conductor also was shot."

American Ammunition.
"Because of the derailed engine, we were forced to remain at Laguna from 2 o'clock Monday evening until noon Tuesday. When a train from Chihuahua City reached Laguna and took us there, I picked up some of the ammunition used by the bandits in shooting the soldiers and found it to be of American manufacture."

Manuel Prieto, former mayor of Juarez and a delegate to the constitutional convention, was a passenger on the same train and was about to be executed when Silvestre Quevedo, one of the Villa commanders, claimed that Prieto was a relative of his and saved his life, another passenger stated.

London, Nov. 3.—Reuter's correspondent at The Hague says an official inquiry will be made regarding the Dutch steamer Oudam, captured by a German submarine Wednesday and later recaptured by a British destroyer, but afterward captured when she reached the Hook of Holland, probably from the effect of bombs exploded in her by the German prize crew.

LIBERAL CREDITS FOR EUROPE, IS DAVISON'S PLAN

Member of Firm of J. P. Morgan and Company Says There Is No Danger of Demoralization of Gold.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Henry P. Davison, member of J. P. Morgan & Co., New York, tonight told bankers of Chicago and the middle west what he had learned of the credit situation in Europe on his recent trip there, and his effect on financial affairs in this country. Mr. Davison and Charles H. Smith, president of the Guaranty Trust company of New York, were guests of George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial National bank at a dinner, also attended by a score of the leading bankers of the middle west.

While the meeting was confidential one thing talked of was the necessity of a liberal policy of extending credit to the European countries buying American products.

Earlier in the day Mr. Davison emphasized his faith in the solidity of Great Britain and France. He denied a published report that a demand would be made by the entire allies that Americans accept unsecured loans of face the demoralization of gold.

"After the war is over Europe will buy what it can buy best," he said, "and only in the matter of loans, but in the matter of credit. To do our share of the business we must extend the credit."

WINIFRED DOYLE IS SELECTED TO REPRESENT H. S.

She Will Take Part in State Declamatory Contest to Be Held in Santa Fe Late This Month.

Miss Winifred Doyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Doyle, 226 North Waller street, will represent the Albuquerque High school in the state declamatory contest to be held late this month at Santa Fe. Miss Doyle was selected from twelve contestants who gave elaborate declamatory contests, held last night in the high school auditorium.

Miss Dorothy McAllister was chosen for second place. This means that she will represent the high school if Miss Doyle is unable to. Miss McAllister's declamation was "Heavenly Bodies" and Miss Doyle's, "In the Palace of the King."

The high class of the declamations generally was reflected in the fact that there was a division of the judges in awarding both decisions. Both decisions, however, were nearly unanimous, Miss Doyle having been awarded first place by a vote of four to one. The five judges were Mrs. J. L. Eastman, Miss Ethel Hickey, Miss Genevieve Tierney, A. H. Stroup and George Duff, of the United States Indian school.

Miss Ida Spangoli was winner of the school's declamatory contest last year. She also won the state contest. Miss Spangoli graduated from the high school last year.

The preliminary oratorical contest will be held at the high school auditorium next Friday night. At that time the high school's representative in the state oratorical contest will be chosen. There will be only three contestants.

A crowd of 500 persons heard the program last night.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION IS INVESTIGATING PAPER PRICES

During First Half of Year,
When Prices Were Already
Soaring, Cost of Production
Was Unusually Low.

MATERIALS PRODUCED BY MANUFACTURERS

Recently Most Mills Have Been Operating Twenty-four Hours Per Day, and Six Days a Week.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—In a statement tonight announcing virtual completion of its investigation of news print paper prices, the federal trade commission declares that during the first half of this year, when prices already were soaring to unprecedented heights, the average cost of producing news print paper in domestic mills was less than $1.45 per 100 pounds, below the average cost in the past three years.

Given Chance to Appear.
The commission announces that before issuing its report, public hearings will be conducted and manufacturers, publishers and others interested given opportunity to appear. No date is set for the hearings, but the report is said to be ready to send to the press in the near future.

Certain facts developed by the inquiry are made public now because most of the publishers' contracts for paper are about to expire. Contract prices rose this year from less than $2 per hundred to $3 and $3.50, and in current market purchases the publishers have paid $7 or more for paper bought in the same way prior to January 1 for between $2 and $3. The statement says in part:

The price advance in news print paper which has occasioned this investigation began early in 1916 and has continued down to the present. News print paper, probably about 30 per cent, is sold on contract for periods of a year or more. Before the price advance began, contract prices for news print paper were generally less than $2 per hundred pounds, f. o. b. mills. During the first half of 1916, contract prices for large quantities in some instances went as high as $2 per hundred pounds, and since July 1, 1916, have run as high as $3.50. Most of the contracts now in operation will expire within three or four months.

Market Prices Much Higher.
On current market purchases newspaper publishers have been paying manufacturers and jobbers every week higher prices. Before January 1, 1916, current market prices ranged generally between $2 and $3 per hundred pounds, delivered, depending on quantity, freight and other circumstances, but since that time they have gone up as high as $6 or $7 per hundred pounds for a considerable volume of business and even higher in exceptional instances.

The average price received by domestic manufacturers of news print paper did not advance in anything like the degree that current market prices advanced because most of the paper was sold under contracts previously made. On the average, the actual net receipts of domestic manufacturers for news print paper were less than $2 per hundred pounds during the first half of 1916.

Costs of Domestic Manufacturers.
The average cost of manufacture of news print paper in domestic mills was less than $1.45 per 100, or $1.45 per hundred pounds, during the first half of 1916, as shown both by the manufacturers' own cost sheets, and by the costs as revised by the accountants of the commission. Furthermore, these average costs were actually lower than the average cost in any year from 1913 to 1915.

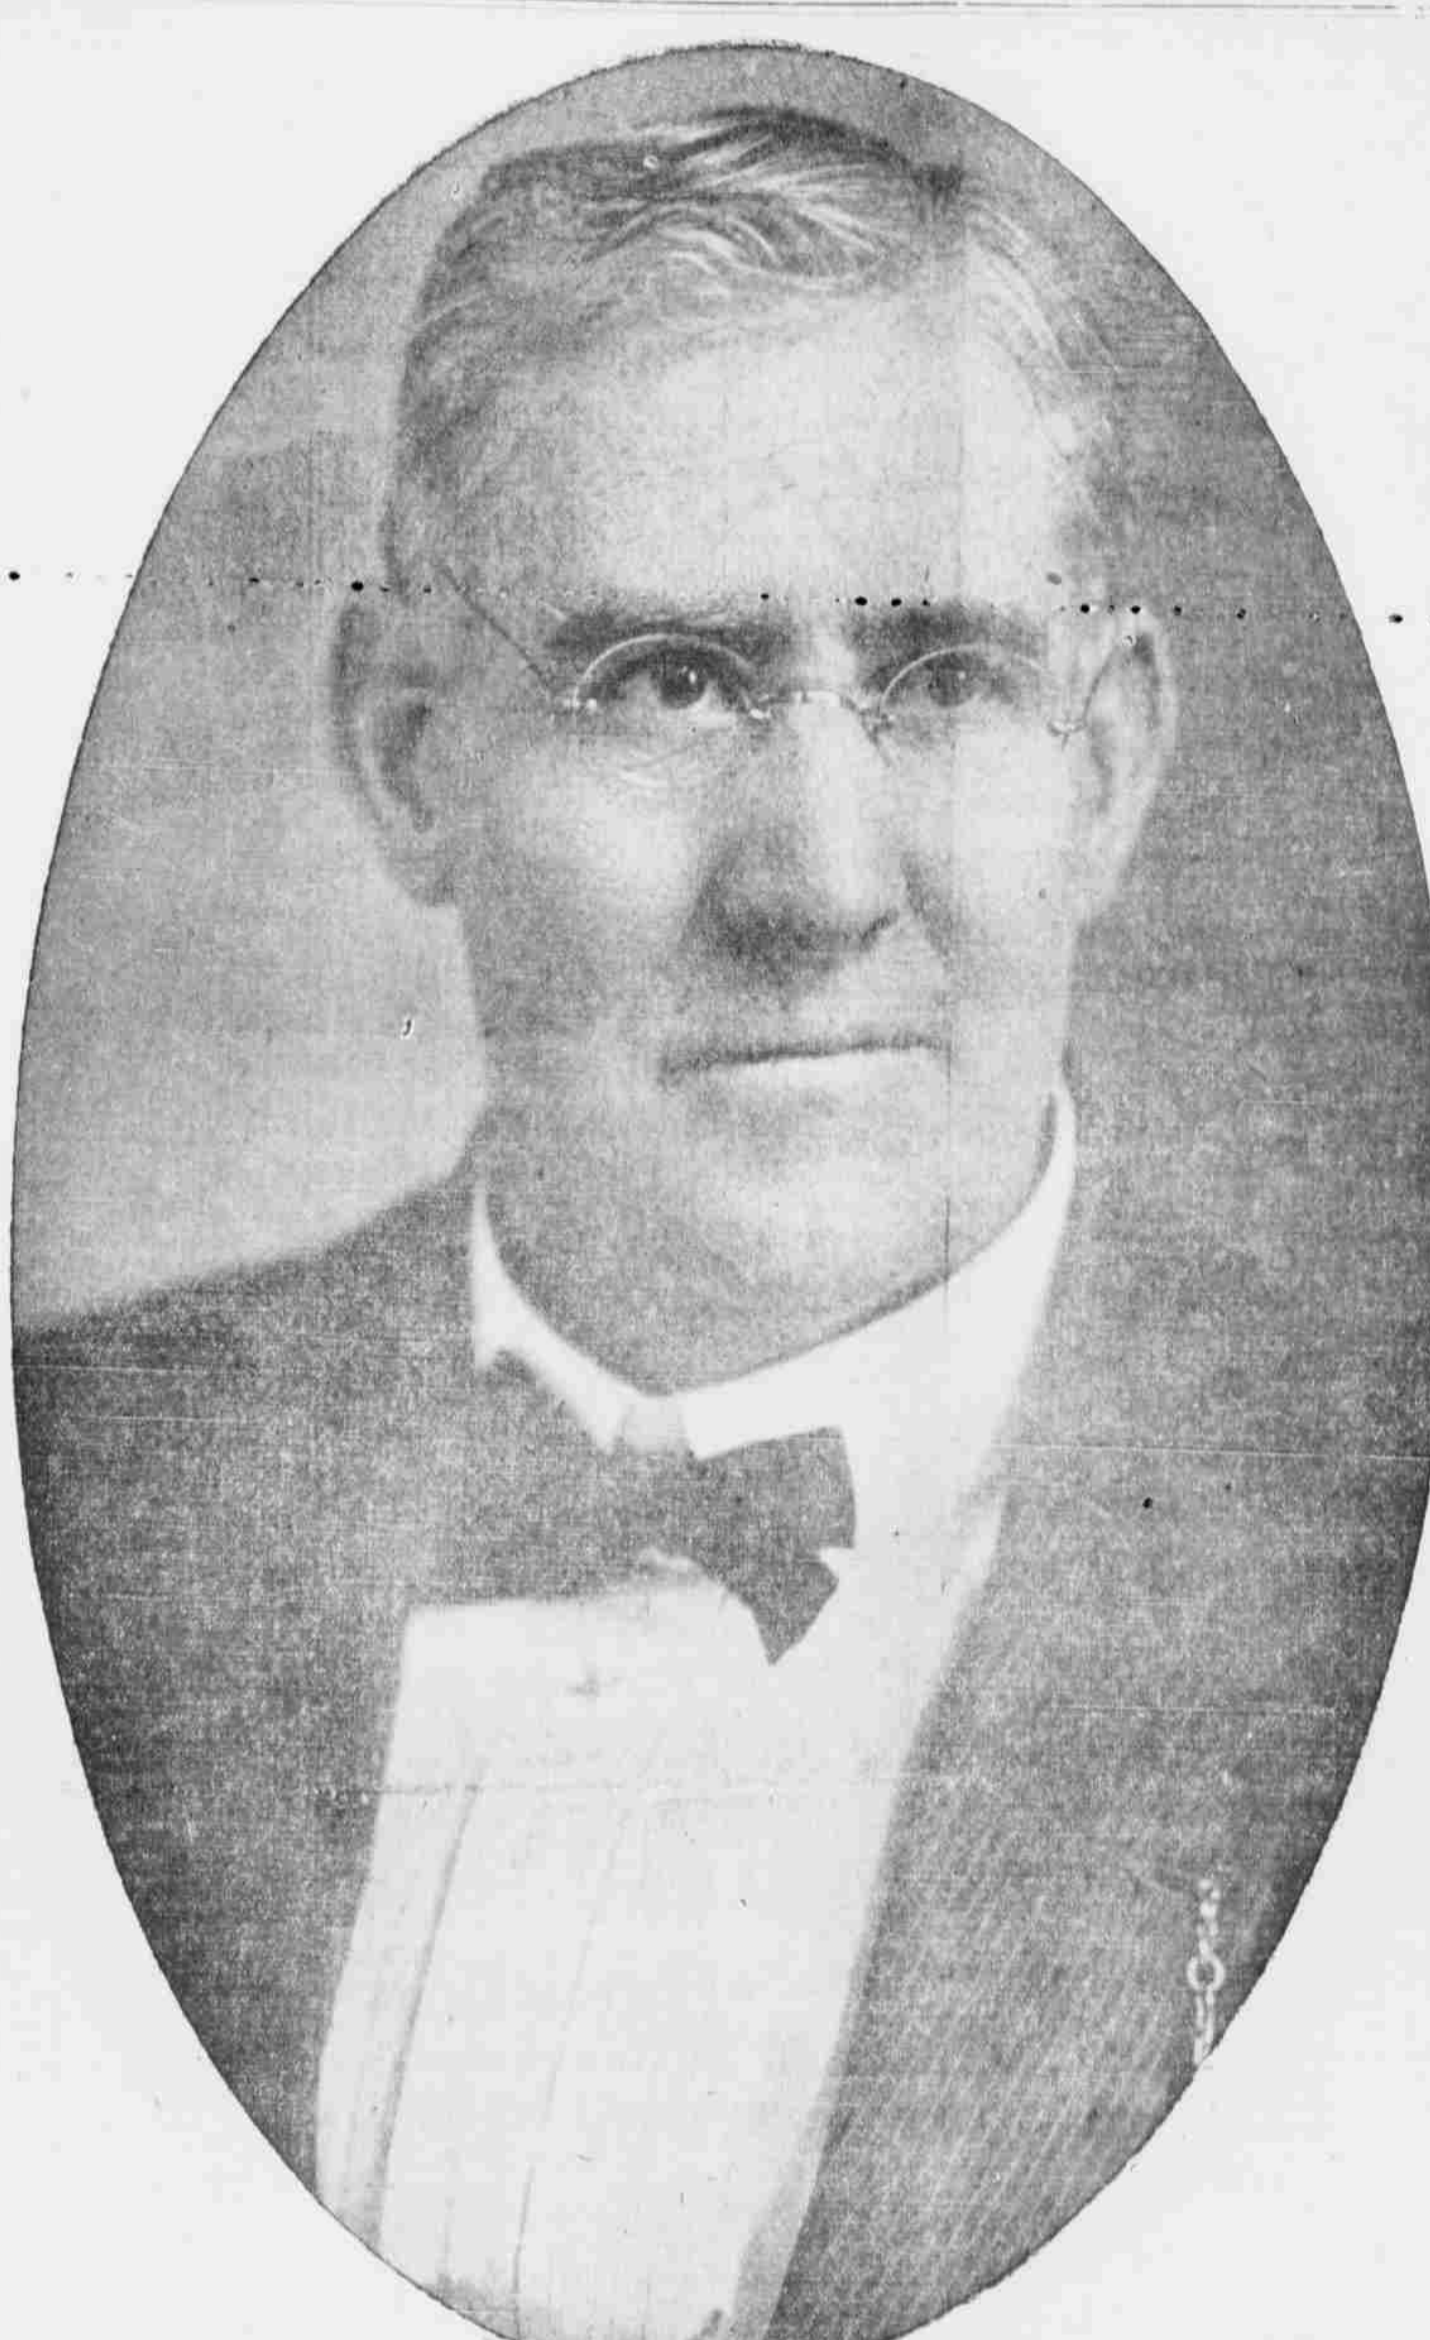

Average Cost Declined.
"Though the average cost declined in the first half of 1916, the market prices of some of the materials of manufacture advanced and were unusually high.

"It should be noted that the most important materials which advanced in price, sulphate and ground wood, were produced by most of the manufacturers without an increase in cost, and not bought at market prices, while some other manufacturers were protected against the increase in prices by contracts.

"It is generally charged in the trade that costs in the future will increase, particularly on account of scarcity of labor in the Canadian woods and the consequent increase in labor cost. In foreign logs to the mills. This is necessarily a matter of prediction concerning which the commission expresses no opinion.

The quantity of news print paper produced by domestic manufacturers in the first half of 1916 was somewhat greater than in any preceding half-year since the middle of 1914. The increase in production was accomplished by running mills to full capacity. Recently most mills have been operating twenty-four hours per day for six days a week.

Imports About One-third.
The quantity of news print paper imported, which came chiefly from Canada, equaled about one-third of the commercial production and showed

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region, generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and laggard. When your kidneys get sluggish and you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's uric waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist a tablespoonful of Jod Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the ash of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jod Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot hurt and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

GOV. M'DONALD WELL RECEIVED AT ALAMOGORDO

In a Clean Political Speech, the Candidate for Lieutenant Governor Bases Every Statement on Records.

ALAMOGORDO, N. M., Nov. 3.—Hon. William C. McDonald, governor of New Mexico, who is a candidate for lieutenant governor on the democratic ticket, spoke to a crowd of several hundred in the court house here today. Many had come for miles to this speaking and the occasion given the governor was most enthusiastic. He was met at the train by the Alamogordo band and scores of representative citizens of the town and escorted from there to the court house, where the speaking was held. There was not a vacant seat in the court room and scores had to stand.

Free From Malice.
Governor McDonald's speech was free throughout from malice-mongering and he based every statement he made on facts taken from the records in Santa Fe and the various counties. Only about two references were made to affairs in Otero county, one regarding the taxation of the county property and other regarding a member of the Otero county road board.

Governor McDonald stated that it had been reported to him that a certain member of the road board, whose name he said it would not be necessary to call, had accused him of certain things which were not true and that he had written this member of the board asking him whether or not they were true and telling him that if they were he ought to resign.

Governor's Letter Unanswered.
This road board member has not replied to the governor's letter. From Alamogordo Governor McDonald went to La Luz where a road meeting was held, then on to Tularosa, where a meeting was held in the Rancheo hall. At Tularosa a talk was made on national and state issues to several hundred people. The hall was packed and scores stood outside, being unable to get into the building.

Immediately after the speaking a dance was given. Governor McDonald spent the night in Tularosa, going on to Carrizosa Thursday. He will spend the time between now and election day in Lincoln, his home county. In all three speeches Governor McDonald spent most of his time discussing state issues.

President of the national conservative party, issued a statement tonight in which he strongly protested that the election had been an honorable one.

Figures on the result of the congressional elections still were unavailable tonight and the complexion of the next Cuban congress continued to be in doubt.

Find Evidence of Vote Frauds.
Chicago, Nov. 3.—Frank C. Dailey, in charge of the government's investigation into vote frauds in the central district, announced today that investigators have found evidence of fraudulent registration, colonization of voters, intimidation, and the use of money to influence voters. The violations, he said, had occurred in Illinois, Ohio and Indiana. He declared he was contemplating calling a special grand jury to hear the evidence, but said the call would not be issued until after election.

NEW ELECTIONS MAY BE HELD TO DECIDE IN CUBA

Both Sides Claim Victory From Wednesday's Vote, but Incomplete Returns Point to the Liberals.

HAVANA, Nov. 3.—With the result of the presidential election still undecided, each side claims victory. It was reported as probable tonight that new elections may have to be held in some of the municipalities of Oriente province before it definitely can be determined whether President Mario C. Menocal, conservative candidate, or Dr. Alfredo Zayas, the liberal nominee, has triumphed.

The latest returns from Wednesday's election, still incomplete in each province, give the liberals a majority in the provinces of Havana, Camaguey and Matanzas. The conservative lead in Pinar del Rio and Santa Clara, and the result in Oriente, which has become the pivotal province, is undecided. Should the final returns give each party the electoral votes from the provinces in which they now lead, it could be necessary for either to carry Oriente in order to win. On the face of the scattering returns received, the liberals have a majority in the eastern province, but the conservatives claim that complete returns will swing the province in their favor.

Answering charges of fraud made by the liberals, Dr. Ricardo Roldan,

SHACKELTON ON WAY TO RESCUE PARTY

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3.—(Special Telegram.) The Antarctic explorer, Ernest Shackleton, arrived here today on the steamer Persimmon from Colon, and departed several hours later for San Francisco on his way to resume the ten months of the Shackleton party on the west side of the Antarctic continent.

The explorer said he expected to sail from San Francisco, N. Y., Nov. 8, going thence to Dundee, where he and a rescue expedition will join the Antarctic. This accomplished, he plans to return to England and start on the war.

Movement to Call Home Conference.
New York, Nov. 3.—The World's court league, of which William D. Taft is honorary president, announced today the proposition of a movement to organize an international council with a view to calling a third Hague conference, perhaps before the close of the war. In the latter event, the conference would be prepared to act as a medium for peace proposals. After the war, it would serve as a permanent international council in consultation for formulating and codifying new rules of international law.

Makes No Prediction.
It is not intended in this statement to make any prediction about the future course of news-print paper prices, but merely to indicate some important facts to those interested in the "Meat Prices Will Not Come Down" is the cheerful news that comes from the Department of Agriculture. Meat prices will not worry the man or woman who knows that a Shredded Wheat Biscuit will supply more real body-building nutriment than beefsteak or eggs and at much less cost. Shredded Wheat remains the same price, the same high quality, supplying all the nutriment a man needs for a half day's work. Two shredded wheat biscuits with bananas and cream or other fruits make a complete, nourishing meal at a cost of not over five cents. Made at Niagara Falls, N. Y.

CHARGES AGAINST A. A. JONES.

In the closing days of the campaign a particularly vicious attack has been made on the personal character of Hon. A. A. Jones, democratic candidate for the United States senate. It bears many similarities to the attack made against Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, during his last race for the senatorship.

The incidents alleged against Mr. Jones occurred sixteen years ago. Before and after that time he was a resident of Las Vegas, where he was respected as a lawyer of the highest standing, a business man of unquestioned integrity, and for the last decade has been regarded as the leading citizen of that community.

When in the early days of the Wilson administration, the question of Mr. Jones' appointment for the very responsible position of first assistant secretary of the department of the interior came up, an agent of the government came to New Mexico to make an investigation of Mr. Jones' personal and professional standing.

That agent spent several days in Las Vegas and talked with the leading men of all political parties who gave to Mr. Jones the highest recommendations for ability and personal standing in the community and in the state. These men had been neighbors of Mr. Jones for thirty years and were fully aware of all the circumstances upon which the charges, now sent broadcast over the state by the republican state central committee, were based.

C. W. G. Ward, the district attorney who lives in Las Vegas, speaking in the republican convention at Santa Fe, paid a high compliment to Mr. Jones, warning the convention that it would have to put out its most powerful candidate to beat him.

The method of personal attack in a campaign is one to be frowned upon by all good people. With a candidate's public record, there should be the fullest and freest discussion. If he has held public trusts and betrayed them, the people should know it.

But if the private life of every candidate is to be hunted over for its specks—true or untrue—there are few men fitted for an office who would not fail. There are few men who have not something in their lives they would prefer not to have dragged into the light of day. If an impeccable moral character had been a requisite to office in the former times, Thomas Jefferson, Daniel Webster and Henry Clay would have been barred. This country never would have had the services of its greatest master of finance, Alexander Hamilton, Grover Cleveland, now conceded to have been one of our best presidents, could never have been governor of the state of New York or even sheriff of Buffalo.

This is an age when we must look for men fitted for public service, and men fitted for public service have not, as a rule, lived colorless lives. They are not monks.

If the people of Las Vegas saw nothing in Mr. Jones' record making him undesirable for the high position to which he was appointed and confirmed—a position which made him an acting cabinet officer much of the time and socially on an equal footing with the best of Washington's political society—is it not wise to assume that there is nothing in Mr. Jones' record which makes him less desirable than Frank A. Hubbell for New Mexico's representative in the United States senate?

The crown prince retired his troops to more desirable positions just north of Fort Vaux. After spending some months getting the fort he found it wasn't worth the bother of keeping. If the French wanted the old thing so badly, let them have it. The crown prince has moments of generosity.

THE HERALD'S FORECAST TO-MORROW.

The Journal will give Sunday morning the final poll and the forecast, if it makes one, of the New York Herald. What the poll will show, what the forecast will be, we have no idea. We hope it will be favorable to the election of Woodrow Wilson. It may be the contrary. It may be again neck and neck without the possibility of a forecast from it.

Whatever the Herald may send, the Journal will publish as sent. That is the true function of a newspaper, as distinguished from a party organ. During the campaign we have published the news as far as we could get it. If it has been favorable to the side we are supporting, it was more pleasant than news that was unfavorable. But we gave the news, whether favorable or unfavorable.

We have given more space to the speeches of Candidate Hughes than to the speeches of President Wilson, because Mr. Hughes has made more speeches than Wilson. The speeches have been just as fair to Hughes as to Wilson. Next to Hughes, the most voluminous speaker of the campaign has been Colonel Roosevelt, and we have published all that the Associated Press has sent over the wire regarding him.

The press reports regarding the prohibition candidates have been published in full, as have the reports of the public utterances of the socialist candidate. Not infrequently we have had to cut or eliminate reports of the speeches made by both Marshall and Fairbanks, because we knew of nobody particularly interested in what either of these men might say, and we have been crowded with stories of general interest which would have to be "killed" to make room for their speeches.

When Mr. Bursum has made a speech, we have printed all of it we could get without the slightest coloring of the report, just as we have printed all that we could of what Mr. de la Baza and Governor McDonald had to say. In our news columns, we have played no favorites. What we have had to say for or against any candidate has been in the editorial columns, or in the front page editorial, or in the semi-editorial matter contained in the telegraphic dispatches from the democratic national committee publicity bureau and from our own correspondent in Santa Fe, sent there to handle the political news.

We are quite aware that if the Herald poll and forecast should be strongly favorable to Hughes, it would give the Hughes workers a boost in New Mexico, and would discourage democratic voters to some extent, and would stimulate the "band wagon" vote, which is always considerable. Nevertheless, the results of the Herald's polls will be given exactly as received. Which side, or whether any side, will be favored by it, we have not the slightest idea at this time.

A feature article in one of the current periodicals discusses the question, "Should Actors Go to War?" We have seen many who not only should go, but never should return without giving hand never to appear on the stage again.

HOW WILSON VIEWS IT.

"You know why the world, long ago, saw, though not all parts of it have acted upon the perception, that a government that is concentrated in the hands of too small a group of men is a bad government—not because the men are always bad, but because they go bad sooner or later, and because, more important than that, they don't know enough—they are not in touch with enough parts of the great and various bodies which they are trying to direct."

Seldom has more wisdom been concentrated in a paragraph than the above from one of the speeches delivered by President Wilson in New York City, last Thursday.

But if that wisdom fits the nation at large, how much more does it fit the peculiar conditions we have in New Mexico?

In this state government is concentrated in the hands of a few men. It is so in territorial days, and it is so now. As in the nation at large, the men of this small group in New Mexico are not all bad, but if they continue to wield the power they go bad sooner or later.

But, as with the nation at large, the worst feature of it is, they do not know enough, they lack in vision, they are trying to drive an engine without understanding much about the machine in their hands.

When a man wants a doctor, he usually sends for the physician believed best qualified to handle the case. The same if a lawyer is required. But when it comes to the making and the administration of laws, the people vote for the man who is most popular, regardless of whether he has the slightest fitness for the duties of the office to which he aspires.

And in New Mexico that vote is directed by the boss of the state, the boss of the county, the boss of the precinct. The power of the bosses depend upon the favors they can extend to or the fear they can inspire in the voters.

The favors may be the dispensing of jobs as school teachers, it may be employment on road work, it may be the payment of a little money at election time. Or it may be fear of the power of the boss to inflict punishment through the manipulation of juries in civil and criminal cases. All such things have their bearing in the matter and are used to the limit by the boss.

Another peculiarity of New Mexico is the traditional respect the native

THERE IS SOME DOUBT

WELL—I'LL TELL Y'U NOW

Yes, there is, dawgout!—there's some doubt as to whether it will be Wilson or Hughes, and I know the readers of this newspaper are looking to me to clear up the uncertainty in the New York Herald poll next Sunday, which this newspaper publishes. Well, I shall do my best. One thing is certain—I shall be absolutely impartial. My reputation is founded upon my impartial reports of the situation as I have seen it during every Presidential election of the last decade, and I mean to live up to it this year.

people have for the rich and otherwise influential. Customs change slowly. That was customary in Spain, and the tradition has not changed here. But it is changing.

We of New Mexico, mostly belong to the "small fry" financially. We have been the "under dog" so far as big business is concerned. Our interests are with the farmer, the stock raiser, the small rancher, the laborer and the man who draws a small salary.

We have opportunity to vote this year for President Wilson, whose interests and policies are with the masses. He is for a square deal for the under dog. Against him are the banks, the manufacturers, the mining monopolies, the transportation companies, the merchant princes. Are our interests the same as theirs? Do the people of New Mexico belong in the same class with the man who has a private car and owns a yacht as big as a warship? Men of that stamp are for Hughes. Men of our stamp are for Wilson, when they understand.

In Mexico they are talking of cutting out the provision in the constitution for a vice president. If that is because Mexico has no vice presidential material, she might borrow either Marshall or Fairbanks after next Tuesday. Either would make a splendid vice president for the Mexicans.

An agricultural publication says if the price of wheat continues to go up the people will have to turn to corn pone, but corn pone is going up much faster than it can go down.

The next ultimatum of the allies to the Greek king will be against interference with the revolutionists. Soon thereafter Constantine will be a king without a crown.

Everybody seems to be waiting for somebody to lead the back-to-the-soil movement.

MORALS IN METER.
He was not Fortune's favored child,
Not his the help of rich relations;
His greatest gift was that he knew
His limitations.

No vain ambitions mocked his toil;
His brain he'd never overrate it;

HOW TO BUILD GOOD ROADS.

(E. C. Forbes in Leslie's.)
Coleman du Pont has his own theory about roads and their upkeep. No man has done more to arouse the American nation to the necessity for good roads, both as a peace and a war measure.

"I believe that more money will be spent in the next twenty-five years in building roads than has been spent in the last twenty-five years in building railroads," he declared. "I have been building good roads since I was 19. At that age I found it was cheap-

She can follow every instinct of her nature, and not be a cartoon. But you, of the out of proportion lines, beware. Your desires are deceitful and will pull you into the mud of ridicule if not strongly modified.

MUD HOUSES IN ENGLAND.

(New York Sun.)
The possibility of using mud as building material and so solving the urgent problem of providing cheap country cottages in the rural districts of England and housing accommodation in the areas where there has been a sudden influx of war workers is being made the subject of an interesting experiment of King's college for women, University of London.

Six mysterious looking gulls have just been erected in the grounds at Camden Hills, each wall being composed of a different mixture of mud, with a view of testing which proves most suitable to the English climate.

In each case the earth has been subjected to a different process of preparation. In one case, water glass has been added, in another soft soap, and to the earth and soft soap in another case lime has been added. A "grouting" of cement has been poured over the mud wall in yet another case, and there is one wall made of earth alone.

BUILDING GOING ON IN CARLSBAD

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Carlsbad, N. M., Nov. 3.—The new warehouse of Joyce-Pruitt company is now well under way. It is located back of the store. It is fifty feet wide, one hundred feet long, and will be twenty-five feet high. It is built of reinforced concrete, and will have metal doors and sashes. Fusible links will be used to close everything automatically in case of fire out or in. The cost of the building will be around $5,000.

Material is arriving for the remodeling of the Tamall block into an up to date hotel. A. J. Crawford, the owner of the building, finds that there is demand for first class hotel accommodations. He is therefore planning to build a hotel with a real commodious lobby, large and modern writing room and parlors, and well furnished airy rooms. The most improved heating plant will be installed.

Increasing arrivals weakened the corn market. At times, however, wheat strength and the unsettled weather gave a temporary advantage to the bulls. Oats gave way with corn. Export buying tended to make the market relatively steady.

Provisions, influenced by miscellaneous buying, developed firmness at the close. Earlier, the market had eased off owing to a setback in the value of hogs.

BOSTON WOOL

Boston, Nov. 3.—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

"The wool market has passed through a week of steady trade and increasing strength, so that prices are now about 10c above the level of a month ago. Manufacturers report a healthy situation with demand steady and of fair size."

DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW.

New York, Nov. 3.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

"Neither the pending elections nor the persistent rise of prices have perceptibly reduced the momentum of the business movement. New buying for current and forward requirements still outstrips the facilities for both production and distribution, labor conditions and the growing scarcity of materials acting as a brake on manufacturing in many directions. Car shortages are also a hindrance and the consequent restriction of fuel supplies cause some concern. With shipments generally backward and the trend of prices continuing strongly upward, producers display greater reluctance in extending commitments and an increasing number of profitable contracts are being rejected. CAR SHORTAGE CAN BE CURED BY EFFICIENCY

Investigation by Interstate Commerce Commission Is Likely to Be Ordered Without Further Delay.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE.
Louisville, Ky., Nov. 3.—As a result of developments today in the interstate car shortage, the Interstate Commerce Commission is likely to be ordered without further delay to investigate the situation.

The formal hearing, if ordered, is said to be scheduled for the present Interstate Commerce Commission. A reply to the recommendations is expected tomorrow. The testimony given under oath at today's informal inquiry will be introduced at the proposed formal hearing. It is understood, and so made a basis for the action by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The apparent shortage of cars upon the railroads of the country was declared to be the result of a lack of efficiency in their distribution by W. L. Egan, superintendent of transportation of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad.

Only Efficiency Required.
It was brought out that the railroads of the United States now own approximately 2,500,000 cars and that the apparent shortage on all lines is only about 50,000. Mr. Egan was it is his opinion that much of the shortage resulted from shippers asking for more cars than they need in order that their shipments might approximate the number they really want. Any apparent shortage resulting from other causes, he said, could be met by a more efficient distribution of the car supply.

Various reasons for car shortages were assigned by other witnesses. Chief among them were the large volume of shipment shipments to the seaboard, the increased output of ore in the lake region and the removal of many cars from the coal carrying lines along the Atlantic coast.

Each of the railroad representatives testifying today recommended the assumption of control by the Interstate Commerce Commission of the distribution of cars.

TOWNSITE DEFINITION LAND OFFICE QUESTION

Santa Fe, Nov. 3.—What is a townsite?—defined in the opinion of the general land office in the context of the Santa Fe. The opinion affirms that technically a townsite is not a townsite, although it took a special agent from Washington west and back again to determine the fact.

It appears from the evidence that the townsite is a tract of land on which certain buildings, consisting of the hotel, hotel, store, depot and freight house were supposed to stand. Later it was discovered that the buildings were not on the land in all, but on government land and a homestead filed in 1880. The entry of 160 acres on the land covered by the townsite. The land is located in the immediate vicinity of the area from which the government recently lost a whole section of land on account of differences of survey.

Some lines have been run and another is contemplated in an effort to find the lost section. The decision is in favor of the government.

Candidates File Expense Statements.
Santa Fe, Nov. 3.—The various candidates have filed their preliminary statements of election expenses to date with Secretary of State Antonio Lucero. Officials were rather astonished to find that P. A. Hubbell has spent only a little more than $8,000 in his campaign for the United States senatorship.

PRESIDENT WILSON TO MAKE ONE MORE SPEECH

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE.
Long Branch, N. J., Nov. 3.—President Wilson will close his campaign for re-election tomorrow with a speech at Shadow Lawn to people from his home state of New Jersey. For sentimental reasons, he wishes to make his last campaign address to the people of the state in which he began his political career.

Many in the president's audience tomorrow will be political and personal friends of long standing. For this reason he has promised to state his views more completely than before during his campaign. Democrats from different parts of New Jersey have arranged to come on special trains.

In his speech, the president will express confidence in the outcome of the voting next Tuesday. Mr. Wilson has no engagements before election. He feels that the issues are made up and that most of the people have determined how they will vote.

REPORT TORREON IS NOW ISOLATED

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE.
El Paso, Tex., Nov. 3.—Torreon is now isolated, according to a report received here by government agents late today from semi-official sources in Juarez. The railroad is reported to have been cut between Jimenez and Torreon and also south and east of the cochilla metropolis.

From the same source it was reported that Villa captured a large number of Carranza prisoners in Santa Rosalia, when he occupied that town last Friday. The entire Santa Rosalia garrison is said to have joined the Villa bandits and also the 200 men captured from Gen. Fortunato Maycotte's Carranza command, which had been sent south from Chihuahua City. It was also reported that General Maycotte is now in Torreon, having found it impossible to return to Chihuahua City because of the burned bridges near Ortiz.

DENIES VILLA HAS CAPTURED PARRAL

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE.
New York, Nov. 3.—Andrew G. Ayres, inspector general of consulates for the Mexican government, now in New York, received a telegram from the Mexican consul at El Paso, denying the report that Villa had captured Parral. The telegram from El Paso said Carranza troops were in full control of the place.

Mr. Ayres added that ending November 1, Carranza troops stationed at Juarez would receive as pay 50 cents silver a day in addition to the money now paid them in government currency.

RAFAEL GARCIA
Who Is Running for SHERIFF OF BERNALILLO COUNTY
Against One of the Bosses of This County
He expects to be elected but he wants his friends to keep on rallying. He wants the voters, who believe in fair play, to understand that he was elected to the state legislature two years ago, but the men, such as Bursum, Hubbell, Jesus Romero and a few others, desired a working majority in that legislature so that they could pass vicious laws over the veto of Gov. McDonald, and he was deprived of his seat.

VOTERS—Remember this act, and let's repudiate the men responsible (they are all candidates themselves) at the polls Tuesday, November 7.

A Vote for Rafael Garcia Means Much to the People of Bernalillo County

ALL ABOARD FOR ARMORY TONIGHT; PARADE AT 7:30

Big Democratic Demonstration With de Baca, Walton and Others to Address the People; Ladies Invited.

The Woodrow Wilson club demonstration to be held in the armory beginning at 8 o'clock tonight, promises to be a hum-dinger and then some. The parade which is to precede the speedmaking will begin at 7:30 o'clock. The foot marchers will meet at the city hall, Second and Tenth, where they will be provided with small American flags and sparklers. The cowboys will form at Second and Copper, east of Second street, and will be ready to join in behind the men on foot. The motor cars will line up on Copper avenue west of Second street.

The variety and high school Wilson brigades are to be in line and are expected to help furnish sufficient noise to inform the Saturday night crowds in the downtown section that there is something doing in the way of an approaching election.

The line of march will zigzag through the principal streets to the armory, Fifth and Silver, where Governor McDonald, E. C. de Baca, the democratic nominee for governor, W. B. Walton, nominee for congress, and other prominent men will speak to the people assembled there.

The committee on arrangements extends an especial invitation to the women of Albuquerque to attend the demonstration tonight. Every supporter of Woodrow Wilson, regardless of political faith, is urged to turn out and help make the demonstration a success.

STEPHEN E. ROEHL WELL QUALIFIED TO BE COUNTY ASSESSOR

That Stephen E. Roehl is unusually well qualified to hold the position of assessor in Bernalillo county is apparent from a review of his record in responsible positions in Albuquerque, where he has resided for the last sixteen years. Mr. Roehl was for nine years employed in the Santa Fe freight offices here, for over six years being at the cashier's window, and for three years as a rate expert. Later he served as office manager for the McIntosh Hardware company, and bookkeeper for the Continental Oil company. For some time Mr. Roehl has been manager of the National Investment company, which he organized, in which business he has had abundant opportunity to become familiar with real estate values. By education, experience and inclination, Mr. Roehl is well qualified for the work that must be done by the county assessor, and all property owners who wish a proper ruling of their property should cast their ballot for him.

SPREAD RAILS CAUSES BOMB PLOT TO FAIL

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE.
Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 3.—The failure of the bomb plot against Gen. P. K. Cates, last Friday, thirteen miles south of Naco, Sonora, on the Southern Pacific railroad, was due to Calles' train being wrecked, arrivals say. The bomb was set to explode under the fifth car of the special train on which Calles was riding.

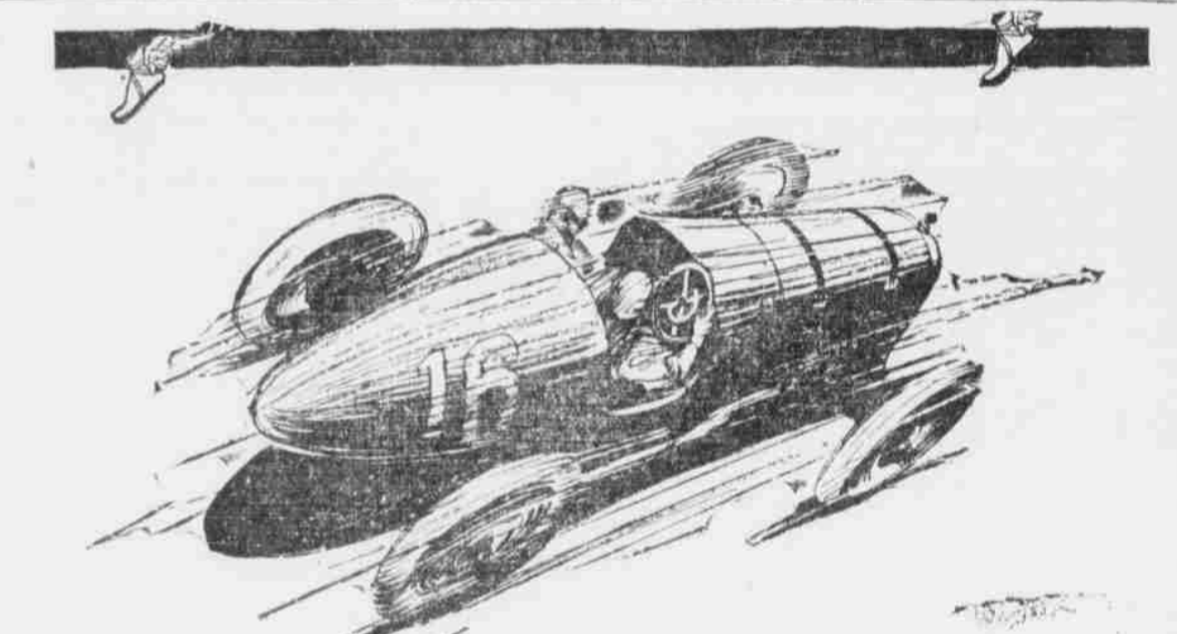

The general left Nogales with a five-car special at La Bota spreading rails delayed him for several hours. A three-car special was sent from Naco to bring him to the border. It passed safely over the bomb with the general and his staff. Hours later a long freight train en route from Naco to Cananea reached the same spot and was wrecked by the terrific explosion which occurred when the second car had passed over it. Four cars were so badly damaged they had to be burned, a hole five feet deep, sixty feet long and thirty feet wide was blown in the ground, while the track was torn up for a distance of 300 feet.

Harkness Trophy Race a Carnival for Goodyear Cords

Aitken Distances All Rivals By 105.86 Miles an Hour Pace In 100-Mile Event At Sheepshead Bay

Galvin, Wilcox, Henderson and Devore, all on Goodyear Cords, Capture Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Places.

Saturday, on the Sheepshead Bay Speedway, the audacious skill of Johnny Aitken and the meteoric speed of the Peugeot he drove captured the Harkness Trophy, established a new American record, and wrote another brilliant chapter into the racing history of Goodyear Cord Tires.

Saturday, the speed, the spring, the athletic vitality and stubborn stamina of these tires successfully fought off every punishment and out-gamed every ordeal that sustained speed can provide.

Saturday, another hundred miles of proof of Goodyear Cords' superiority was piled upon the impressive structure already established.

The qualities in Goodyear Cord Tires that triumphed over competition and hardship in the Harkness

Race and in similarly severe and spectacular contests that have gone before, led to the adoption of these tires as standard equipment on the Franklin, the Packard Twin-Six, the Locomobile, the Peerless, the White, the Haynes Twelve, the Stutz, the McFarlan, the Roamer and the Lexington "Thoroughbred Six."

They should lead to the adoption of these tires as exclusive equipment on your car.

The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. Akron, Ohio

Some of the racing achievements of Goodyear Cord Tires in the past few months are as follows: First Place in the Kansas City 100-mile race; First, Third, Fourth and Fifth Places in the Tacoma 300-mile race; First Place in the Cincinnati 300-mile Sweepstakes; First and Second Places in the Record-Breaking Astor Cup 250-mile race at Sheepshead Bay; Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Places in the 250-mile Grand American race on the Chicago Speedway; First, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Places in the Harkness Trophy Race.
