Officials said tonight that the Countess von Bernstorff probably would not be asked to appear personally against Graves.

Explains His Purpose.

Graves left for New York late tonight after issuing a statement denying that the Countess von Bernstorff's name had been mentioned in his talks with Prince Hatzfeldt. He declared the $2,000 he asked for was solely to cover the expenses of conveying the documents to Washington.

"At no time in my interviews and conversations with Prince Hatzfeldt was Countess Bernstorff mentioned," he said. "In fact, Countess Bernstorff has nothing at all to do with it. It is true the letters were addressed to her, but that was just a cover. Those letters were entirely official documents. I have not said they were brought on the Osmar II. That's surmised."

SPECTACULAR CAREER OF ARRESTED MAN

New York, Nov. 11.—Dr. Arnold Karl Graves, as he was then known, first came to public notice in this country when he was convicted in July, 1912, by the Scottish high court of justice at Edinburgh, Scotland, of saying and sentenced to serve eight months in prison. It was alleged that notes concerning runs under construction for the British government, and other incriminating documents were found in his possession.

Graves appeared in New York in June, 1913, and was quoted as making a long statement to the effect that he had been in the British secret service, but that after he had performed the services required of him, the British government refused to pay him a reward that had been promised.

According to this statement, Graves said that while in the employ of the British secret service, he followed from Bremen to the United States in 1912, a confidential envoy of Germany who came to New York to meet an envoy from the Japanese government. Graves also was quoted as saying that he obtained from the German representative a copy of a secret agreement entered into by Germany with Japan, defining the attitude which Germany would assume in event of war between the United States and Japan.

Later, Graves was quoted as making numerous predictions concerning the future actions of Russia and Turkey, and in one case describing a plan for a German invasion of England.

The question as to why Graves was released from the Edinburgh prison was raised several times in the British house of commons and finally in November, 1914, a representative of the British foreign office repudiated the information that the foreign office had entrusted to Graves a mission to a foreign country.

RUSSIAN DREADNAUGHT DESTROYED BY MINE

Berlin, Nov. 11 (By Wireless to Say-Ville).—Confirmation of the destruction of the Russian dreadnaught Imperatritsa Maria is given in an official report from Bulgarian headquarters dated November 10, according to the Overseas News Agency.

The Bulgarian statement says:

"A German of the Russian dreadnaught Imperatritsa Maria, driven to our coast, has confirmed the already reported destruction of this dreadnaught, which was sunk by a mine explosion near Solina or Podosia island, at the mouth of the Danube."

The battleship Imperatritsa Maria was launched in 1914. Her displacement was 22,500 tons and her complement numbered about 1,000 men.

first were observed. All our machines remained silent.

"During the night of November 10-11 our squadrons drenched with projectiles the stations of Ham, St. Quentin, Terghier and Neele, in the Somme region, and the airframe at Drocourt, the blast furnaces at Romelshel, the blast furnaces of Hagondange. These operations caused great damage and several explosions and fires were observed.

"A German airplane during the night of November 10-11, bombarded several French towns, Nancy and Lunéville received projectiles which caused damage and casualties. The town of Lunéville also was bombarded on several occasions during the same night. Nine persons of the civilian population were killed and twenty-seven injured."

LITTLE MAXWELL CAR STARTS ON ITS NON-STOP CONTEST

Just as the railroad shop whistle for 12 o'clock noon yesterday, the little Maxwell car started on its non-stop run, with H. L. Hull as the driver. The start was made from the building station at the corner of Central avenue and Fifth street, where the car was filled with twenty-nine gallons of gasoline, and where the driver, in the presence of quite a crowd of auto enthusiasts, took a word of all the necessary numbers in the car to insure perfect running. The car had charge of the run from 12 noon till 6 o'clock, at which hour, in the same corner, it turned the corner to E. C. Travis, and the latter ran it clear up to 12 midnight. From midnight to 6 this morning, the car ran over the city, off the main street, through the valley, was in the hands of George Felt, when the car was turned over to E. M. Tilton, the driver having a shift of six hours each.

The drivers can stop to fix tire or engine trouble, but the engine must continue in operation. The moment the engine ceases to work and stop that moment the Maxwell car stops. A Maxwell dealer in California at present holds the Maxwell record of approximately 25,000 miles and has at the Butler Auto company agents for the Maxwell car.

PROHIBITION TO BE ASKED FOR IN ST. BRITAIN

Remarkable Appeal Signed by a Thousand Representatives of the Brain Power of the Nation.

(Associated Press Correspondence.) London, Oct. 11.—A petition is shortly to be presented to the British government by the strength of the "Prohibition Movement" asking that the British government follow the lead of the greatest of the allies to prohibit the sale of alcohol. This remarkable appeal has already been signed by one thousand representatives of the brain power of the nation including leading writers of the time, prominent men in literature, art and music, finance and industry, university and college professors, heads of public and secondary schools, prominent scientists and medical men.

The memorial claims that "two grave dangers stand before the country, holding back the power of early victory and throwing a shadow over the vision of peace. One is the wasting power of alcohol, the other is the imperiling of infant life. Among all the factors of weakness these confront us with terrible vividness, and they lie within our own power to control. With the weakening power of alcohol removed, our national effort against the enemy would gather increased strength with the increased strength and more rapid supplies of our own resources would have been substantially reduced."

The following facts are given concerning the effect of alcohol:

It hinders the army, deuces, manufactures, keeps thousands of men from war work daily, makes the work of women secondary.

"Hampers the navy, delays, transmits, slows them at the mercy of submarines, slows down repairs and construction docks."

"Threatens the mercantile marine, absorbing during the war between sixty and seventy million cubic feet of space and retards building of ships."

"Destroys food supplies, in twenty months of war it consumes over two and a half million tons of food, with sugar enough to last the nation eighty days and uses up more sugar than the army."

"Weakens our financial strength, in the first twenty months of the war our people spent an colossal three hundred million sterling."

"Destroys the nation's strength, it uses 200,000 workers, one million acres of land and one and a half million tons of coal yearly, during the war it has involved the lifting and handling on road and rail at weight equal to fifty million tons."

"Shatters our moral strength, its temptations to women involve danger to children and activity to thousands of soldiers."

The appeal goes on to say that during the slightest months since the government appointed the south of control the work though successful, actually has had little effect in the great industries on which the armaments, and the men in the trenches are betrayed by an enemy at home.

Russia and her prohibition is made much of in the material which can be used.

Support Demand for Prohibition. "We are no temperance reformers as such. We stand for the great opposite of all good people to strike the midnight blow for freedom of which Britain is capable. We support the demand for prohibition made to the government by its investigators, and by the shipbuilders' department, with not a feather among them, in March, 1915. Believing in the plain minister's words, that no sacrifice is too great when freedom and honor are at stake, and that rich and poor alike should bear it, we ask the government to support all drink reformers throughout the kingdom for the period of the war."

"We believe that a golden moment has arrived for our country: that prepared for sacrifice by the example of the king and Lord Kitchener, the nation is ready for the national step that France and Russia have already taken. The suspension of the liquor traffic during the war, the conversion of

DEMOCRATS' 3 OFFICES SAFE AFTER CANVASS

Official Count by County Commissioners Reduces Some Pluralities, but Voters Remain the Same.

The official canvass, made yesterday by the county board, failed to make any change in the results of election for Bernalillo county, although it altered the vote counted to several candidates, in certain precincts.

The official count showed that the democrats drew more votes than did the prohibitionists in Bernalillo. The socialist candidates for presidential electors received 77 votes, while the "dry" candidates for electors got 6. Colonel W. P. McIntosh, socialist candidate for United States senator, ran ahead of the electors on his ticket, securing 77. The vote for other socialist candidates hovered close to this figure, sometimes going ahead of it and sometimes dropping lower than it. No prohibitionist vote was cast except for presidential electors.

QUARRELS DELAY ADJOURNMENT OF U. D. C. CONVENTION

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL READER.) Dallas, Tex., Nov. 11.—Delegates to the annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy remained in session until late hour tonight in an effort to transact all pending business and adjourn. Emotional disputes from Maryland and Florida put the convention far behind its schedule in the first two days of meeting.

Committee reports consumed much time tonight. The daughters wiped out the deficit of the Arlington memorial fund, raised sufficient money to install a memorial window in the United States memorial hall in Washington, passed resolutions approving the congressional request for a Clara Barton window in the same building, declared themselves against textbooks in southern schools which "do not portray the true history of the south," and commenced a campaign for the substitution of "the war between the states" for the present designation, "civil war."

"Chastanote, Tenn." was chosen for the 1917 convention.

'THE TRAFFICKERS' COMING TO CRYSTAL TWO DAYS THIS WEEK

Arrangements have been made at the Crystal theater for the appearance here next Thursday and Friday, March 16 and 17, of the famous sociological photodrama, "The Traffickers," by Samuel H. London. The subject presented upon this remarkable film is based upon an investigation made by the department of justice in Washington, D. C., covering twelve years, and is therefore a question that should be considered by every patriotic American citizen.

That American girls are sold into a bondage for worse than that of the slavery days has been demonstrated as recently as last August by Assistant District Attorney Smith of New York, who submitted proof that girls have been sold to white slavery for $1 per pound within the last three months.

That the system is international, in its scope and that the white slave trade is their own responsibility, could have been proved. Ignorance of the part of parents and daughters alike make it possible for these heinous traffickers to follow their hideous profession. Mock modesty has not saved young girls to numerous crimes in patterns' fields than any other cause. The

Valencia County High School Building Is Dedicated at Belen; Milne Speaks

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.
Belen, Nov. 11.—The dedication of the $125,000 high school building in Belen, Friday afternoon, marked an epoch in the history of Valencia county. The idea of a high school was first conceived in the mind of the then principal, Mrs. Nora Brumback, five years ago, and Prof. W. Melvin Fox, these two able educators, uniting in their efforts, began the propaganda that culminated in the awakening of public sentiment for a higher institution of learning. Mrs. Brumback then resigned, leaving the work in the hands of Mr. Fox. And that he has been true to the trust reposed in him is shown by the magnificent edifice of brick and stone, complete in every detail, with its own water and heating plant, gymnasium, library and all modern conveniences, will stand throughout the years a living monument to the woman who first conceived the idea. W. Melvin Fox, the board of education, the county superintendent, Saturnino Baca, and John Becker, sr., in the very heart of the town and of his most valuable property, Mr. Becker, sr., donated a block of improved land, consisting of 24 city lots, for a school site which surrounds the building, making a most beautiful campus. To this magnificent gift Mr. Becker added a check for $2,000.

Much of the credit is also due Saturnino Baca, superintendent of county schools, for the work he did in swinging the Spanish-American opposition into line. He has been exceptionally painstaking and faithful in his official capacity and without his most able assistance, the high school for Valencia county could easily still be in the future.

Too much cannot be said in regard to Prof. W. Melvin Fox, superintendent of the Belen high school who, for two years, in addition to his other duties and without remuneration, conducted a night school that the boys and girls of this generation in Belen might have every opportunity possible, building up their moral character, instilling into them the desire for higher ideals and nobler lives. At that time, only two or three years ago in fact, there were thirteen questionable high school pupils. Today when the magnificent structure was turned over to him, he pointed with pride to 73 high school boys and girls, every one of whom the community may be proud, and every one of whom he has helped over the rough places and influenced them by his splendid character and personality, the effect of which will be made manifest throughout the generations yet to come.

Paul P. Dolley.
"The Origin of the County High School"—Alvan N. White, superintendent of public instruction.
Dedication Address—Mr. John Milne, superintendent Albuquerque schools.
Music—Rising and "Star Spangled Banner"—High school band.
Superintendent Milne, in addressing the people who had gathered for the dedicatory exercises, paid a high compliment to progress being made in Valencia county. He told them the completion of the splendid county high school building was merely a pledge of what is intended for the bettering of the conditions of the children. In the course of his remarks he several times referred to the advanced ideas of County Superintendent Saturnino Baca, who has worked unflinchingly to carry the educational spirit to the remotest districts of Valencia.

As a matter of fact, a new era has dawned for Valencia. Not only has Superintendent Baca worked faithfully for better teachers and better schools in the county, but he has had the active backing of the board of county commissioners headed by Eugene Kempenich. Mr. Kempenich has been fully alive to the necessity for better schools and better roads, and has brought Valencia county to the front with rapid strides.

SILVER CITY IS HOST TO NATIONAL GUARD
SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.
Silver City, N. M., Nov. 10.—This town had the distinction tonight of doubling its population when 5,000 national guardsmen, comprising Delaware, Arkansas and Colorado troops arrived from their camp at Deming on a practice hike of ten days through southwestern New Mexico.

The troops went into camp in the outskirts of the city for the night and will be here tomorrow. The soldier boys took full possession of the town, the chamber of commerce and citizens extending them the true western hospitality of the west.

ENTERTAIN THE TEACHERS

The artists of Santa Fe are planning an exhibit of paintings by the Santa Fe artists, and in the huge in the reception room of the Palace of the Governors. They will be selected from the best work of this summer and fall by Santa Fe artists and will be representative both of landscape and portrait work. Among the exhibitors are to be Harwood, Vierra, Chapman, Henderson, Parsons, Uffers, Rollins and others. By the way, Uffer has just won the Martin B. Cohn prize in the exhibit by "Contemporary Artists" now on in Chicago. The picture that carried off the prize was painted at Taos and was called "The Silent Pledge," being a group of four Indians on a canvas 34 by 49. Uffer's picture when exhibited at the Old Palace this summer, received much favorable comment not only from local art lovers but from the many visitors from the large cities including a number of well known connoisseurs. Most of them were painted in Santa Fe and were bits of Santa Fe scenery, deserving therefore to be hung in an exhibit of Santa Fe artists. Mr. Uffer having spent the greater part of the summer in this city. He is at Taos at present and will be in Santa Fe on his way home to Chicago, probably during the Educational week. The Warren E. Rollins exhibit which is on at present in the Old Palace, is exceedingly pleasing to tourists and others. It is of that graphic character in which each picture in addition to being a work of art of high merit also tells a story.

For the entertainment of the teachers on Tuesday evening of Thanksgiving week, a concert will be given which will include the Eagle and other dances by the San Ildefonso Indians. It is the kind of entertainment that can not be well staged anywhere else and is therefore absolutely unique.

The women's organizations, such as the Board of Trade and the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society, have taken hold with vigor of the plans to serve meals to the teachers during convention week. While hotel and restaurant facilities in Santa Fe have increased an improved of late years, yet they are not adequate to the handling of a crowd of 1200 teachers and the women of the town had to step into the breach and will serve meals in the Public Library assembly room and in the Masonic Cathedral. It is a tremendous task and will prevent many a woman from entertaining in her home as she would love to do, special friends among the visitors, but as a matter of public duty, the ladies have volunteered to serve the meals in addition to throwing open their homes for the accommodation of whatever visitors the entertainment committees may assign to them.

SHADOW OF A LEAF
Just an instant's shade above you
Floating silently away
Then the golden beam of sunlight
Touches you in loving play.
Here a moment, then quite lost
In a quiet stream of light,
And the deepest touch of shadow
Flecks across with silver bright.

So the shadow passing o'er you
Is the shadow of a leaf,
Casting now one second's sorrow,
Changing into golden sheaf.
Life is full of just such shadows,
Covering the day's pure ray,
Gilded sunbeams soon are slipping
Through the leaves to light the way.

After all, our life is really
Just the shadow of a leaf—
Coming from an unknown radiance,
Leading to a firm belief.
—Eda Lou Walton of Silver City.

THE FIFTEEN CLUB
The fifteen club's meeting on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter on East Palace Avenue, maintained the interest aroused by the Spanish program for the year.

Mrs. Asplund presided. Mrs. Thomas presented a paper on "The Fall of Granada," giving a vivid picture of that period of Moorish and Spanish glory and of Alhambra. Mrs. Palen read from Lella, one of Evelyn Layton's novels having for its background the very theme of the afternoon. The quotations in answer to the roll call were auspicious and related to the Moors. "Current Events" closed the meeting. Several guests in addition to the members were in attendance.

THE DANCE AT TESUQUE

Today is being held a great fiesta in the little Indian village of Tesuque, nine miles north of Santa Fe. Many tourists made their way to the ancient and quaint village, which is a little republic of 17,000 acres within the county of Santa Fe, that elects its own governor and officers each year and administers its own laws. The population of Tesuque has dwindled to 49 but during the Pueblo rebellion in 1880 it was quite a powerful village and took a prominent part in the uprising. For centuries, the village has celebrated its saint's day, November 12, with a fiesta, in which the forenoon was given to religious observances and the afternoon to ceremonial dancing and feasting. For weeks preparations have been in progress for the celebration and since the year was a prosperous one, the dancing this afternoon will have special vim and colorful picturesqueness.

TO A CACTUS
Flower bed, thy crimson dye
Once had stained the desert sky
Stained the turquoise blue.

Sunset fade—thou too must die
In the sand must withered lie,
Turquoise faded too.

Desert stars the dark night brighten
Tapers, desert spirits lighten
Morning here for you.

When the sun's sweet resurrection
Paints the blue thine own reflection,
Resurrected too.
—Myron B. Laughlin of Silver City.

YOU
You are the first, faint fragrance of the spring;
The fairest bud the whole long summer knows;
You are the Princess that the fairies bring
Where Avon flows.

You are the garden in a desert
Dread—
What grows therein is doubly fair and sweet;
You are white happiness a-drawing near.
On willing feet.

You are the distant, bright, unwinking star
That shines, unwearied with a steady gleam;
You are the spirit that from realm afar
Light's love's own dream.

You are the golden nugget in the sand—
Too pure and rare for common flesh and sense;
The subtle something that my heart demands—
My recompense.
—Claude Calmar Luce.

"77"
Humphreys' Seventy-seven For Grip, Influenza

COLDS
The Diagnosis of a Cold

If a person subject to Catarrh or Influenza finds himself sneezing and sniffing, he has taken Cold, though he cannot tell how.

If a person liable to Bronchitis has roughness, scraping or dryness in the throat, he has taken Cold.

If a person subject to Quinsy finds his tonsils swollen and painful swelling, he has taken Cold.

A Cold, however slight, should never be left to "get well" of itself, but should always be helped away. This at first is not alone very easy, but a very simple matter, because these early symptoms are all caused by congestion and inflammation.

To get the best results and help the Cold away take "Seventy-seven" at the first sign of a Cold.

SATURNINO BACA

Superintendent of Valencia County Schools, Who Worked Unflinchingly to Secure the High School for Valencia County.

ing of public sentiment for a higher institution of learning. Mrs. Brumback then resigned, leaving the work in the hands of Mr. Fox. And that he has been true to the trust reposed in him is shown by the magnificent edifice of brick and stone, complete in every detail, with its own water and heating plant, gymnasium, library and all modern conveniences, will stand throughout the years a living monument to the woman who first conceived the idea. W. Melvin Fox, the board of education, the county superintendent, Saturnino Baca, and John Becker, sr., in the very heart of the town and of his most valuable property, Mr. Becker, sr., donated a block of improved land, consisting of 24 city lots, for a school site which surrounds the building, making a most beautiful campus. To this magnificent gift Mr. Becker added a check for $2,000.

Much of the credit is also due Saturnino Baca, superintendent of county schools, for the work he did in swinging the Spanish-American opposition into line. He has been exceptionally painstaking and faithful in his official capacity and without his most able assistance, the high school for Valencia county could easily still be in the future.

Too much cannot be said in regard to Prof. W. Melvin Fox, superintendent of the Belen high school who, for two years, in addition to his other duties and without remuneration, conducted a night school that the boys and girls of this generation in Belen might have every opportunity possible, building up their moral character, instilling into them the desire for higher ideals and nobler lives. At that time, only two or three years ago in fact, there were thirteen questionable high school pupils. Today when the magnificent structure was turned over to him, he pointed with pride to 73 high school boys and girls, every one of whom the community may be proud, compliment to progress being made in Valencia county. He told them the completion of the splendid county high school building was merely a pledge of what is intended for the bettering of the conditions of the children. In the course of his remarks he several times referred to the advanced ideas of County Superintendent Saturnino Baca, who has worked unflinchingly to carry the educational spirit to the remotest districts of Valencia.

JOHN BECKER, SR.

Whose Generosity Made the Valencia County High School Building Possible.

As a matter of fact, a new era has dawned for Valencia. Not only has Superintendent Baca worked faithfully for better teachers and better schools in the county, but he has had the active backing of the board of county commissioners headed by Eugene Kempenich. Mr. Kempenich has been fully alive to the necessity for better schools and better roads, and has brought Valencia county to the front with rapid strides.
