ALBUQUERQUE, — — SEPT. 9, 1899

The Colorado regiment left San Francisco to day, and on its arrival in Denver will be given a rousing reception.

Subscribers to the Territorial Fair are paying up promptly, which insures the success of the approaching big exhibition.

Just now, more than ever before, we can see the need of extending the Denver & Rio Grande road to this city. If we had that road all northwest New Mexico would be well represented at the Territorial Fair.

FRANCE is forever disgraced by the conviction of Dreyfus. No evidence was brought out in the trial against him. He is a victim of a cruel and vindictive army cabal, who are determined that no Jew shall serve as an army officer.

The local business men have arranged a fine program of races to take place at the fair grounds in old town on Saturday, Sept. 23. To defray expenses a charge of 25 cents admission will be made. There will be exciting races of all kinds and there should be a large attendance.

H. W. DILL, an energetic newspaper man from Illinois will have editorial charge of the Bland Herald. Mr. Menzies, the proprietor, has a defective pair of lungs, and he finds he cannot stand the high altitude of Bland. Success to the new editor and the bright Bland Herald is the wish of THE CITIZEN.

It is reported from a reliable source that Col. A. G. Albright will issue the first number of his new daily paper at El Paso about September 15. In advance THE CITIZEN wishes to extend its best wishes for the success of the new enterprise. The people of El Paso will find in Col. Albright an energetic citizen, and he will make his paper interesting and beneficial to the city.

The Denver Field and Farm says that one strong reason why the general government should construct reservoirs in the far west, lies in the fact that it would be improving its own property, that is, its reservoir building would make salable its own arid land. The states, on the other hand, should build reservoirs, would be improving government land and would reap no direct pecuniary benefit from the sale by the government of the lands thus made valuable unless perchance Uncle Sam should cede the lands to the states as he ought to do.

FAIRLY OF NEGATION.
The democratic party, since 1891, has been the party of opposition. It opposed the war—it opposed reconstruction—it opposed redemption—it opposed the tariff—it opposed whatever the republicans party advocated.

If the republican party had espoused the cause of silver, the democrats would have been howling gold to day. If the republicans had opposed the Spanish war, the democrats would have been sending expeditions to Cuba to fight the republicans. Had Dewey sailed away from Manila, they would have pointed to the cowardly act of a victorious force abandoning a helpless people to the mercy of the Spaniards. Had the republican party opposed the acquisition of insular territory, they would have been expansionists.

A free trader is by nature and training an expansionist and a gold bug. The democratic party holds the organization by means of negative pressure. It will take up whatever the republican party leaves. The only principle that has guided it for forty years is the principle of negation.

ALMOST REBELS.
It is said that there is no enthusiasm in Denver over the return of the gallant regiment from Colorado, which has won unfading glory in the Philippines. The trouble is that for a decade the newspapers and politicians of that state have denounced the government until the people actually believe that they are ground down by a mythical despotism and they are in a rebellious mood. We have watched closely the tone of the Colorado newspapers for several years, and the burden of the editorial utterances in that state are socialistic and anarchistic. Because the foolish proposition to coin silver free at the mints was not adopted, Colorado thinks she has a grievance, when in fact the wiping out of the free coinage had been a blessing to that state. If silver was coined free in the United States the silver mines of Colorado would be swamped by the silver mines of Mexico and the cheap labor of the Spanish-American republics. No more silly notion has ever affected the American people than the idea that a nation can become prosperous by cheapening its money and forcing its labor to accept depreciated currency.

Colorado is prosperous at present in spite of herself. If the state will shake off her faddism and get a healthy business idea and a streak of Unwinning patriotism, she will be all right. Trying to sink while out glory is floating triumphant on every sea, and while her sons are being honored all over the world, is not a decent attitude for the great state of Colorado.

ABOUT VOLCANOES.
The proposition to light up the extinct volcanoes just west of this city during the Territorial Fair has aroused an interest in the subjects of volcanoes. This territory at present has no active volcano, though there are hundreds of extinct craters in all parts of New Mexico. The largest lava flow in the United States is near the continental divide, west of Albuquerque. The cone of the volcano is a few miles west of Grants station, on the line of the Santa Fe Pacific road. The lava flow extends for miles down the Rio Puerco, and in places is three miles wide. The volcanoes west of this city have been extinct for unknown centuries.

When Coronado marched up this valley in 1541 they presented the same appearance as now, and the traditions of the Pueblo Indians set no date for the outbreak. That volcanic fire still rages near the surface of the earth in several parts of New Mexico, is attested by the numerous hot springs bubbling forth. At the famous Sulphur hot springs sixty miles northwest of this city, the roaring of the infernal fire can be plainly heard at the crevices in the rocks.

The idea of illuminating the city by a realistic imitation of a volcanic eruption during the Territorial Fair will be pleasing and entertaining to the visitors. There are few cities in the United States that have extinct volcanoes and yawning craters almost within their limits. Thousands of Americans go to Europe each year to see Vesuvius and Aetna, we have mountains, gorges and volcanoes that discount anything of the kind in the old world. Come to the Territorial Fair and witness a grand volcanic eruption.

GEORGE CURRY.
Has Resigned as Sheriff of Otero County, New Mexico.

Captain George Curry resigned his position as sheriff of Otero County Monday, and his successor will probably be elected at the next meeting of the county commissioners.

There are three applicants for the position. They are: Riley Baker, George Richardson and Ben Webster.

There are more applicants for enlistment in Curry's regiment than can be accommodated. Every train brings in more from the surrounding country.

Up to last night forty-two recruits had signed enlistment blanks, and stood the examination. These will be forwarded to San Francisco within a short time.

Harry Wain has been appointed company clerk, and he is in charge of the office here, and will remain until his father returns from the east. Harry will likely be in the band.—El Paso Herald.

North Pole Mysteries.
The return of an Arctic explorer clears up many mysteries, who says that much new land was discovered in Weddell sea, and open water was seen far to the south. This shows that the great wall of ice reported by early explorers was a myth. Arctic explorers are not the only ones who meet with deception. Many people with indignation and dyspepsia have been deceived so many times that they believe there is no cure. They can be cured though hundreds of medicines have failed. Take the only reliable medicine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which also cures constipation, nervousness, sleeplessness and liver and kidney disorders. It will accept a substitute. See that a private revenue stamp covers the neck of the bottle.

JONES GOES SOUTH.

Pitcher Will Visit New Mexican Towns for a While.

Bert Jones, pitcher for the St. Louis National League baseball team, left last night for Albuquerque, N.M. The sprain in his back which kept him out of the game nearly all of last summer, has about disappeared and he expects to be all right in the spring.

Jones will, he says, take part in the annual baseball carnival at Albuquerque, as he will do nothing that may interfere with his being in prime condition next fall. He will winter at Albuquerque, will bolt out at Hot Springs, Ark. in the spring, and will try to make a record next summer.—Denver Republican.

THE LADIES.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, makes it their favorite remedy. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed near the bottom of the package. For sale by all druggists.

H. S. KNIGHT

wants to buy a 25-horse power boiler. For sale a fine Jersey cow, two large show cases, a magnificent blacksmith's shop, complete, four beautiful homes, one on north Second street, one opposite park, another block west of park and one on south Eighth street. In Highlands, also some special bargains in real estate and improvements that must be sold at once; a 750 gallon Studebaker tank, mounted on splendid running gear, all new; five electric fans and concentrator; hotel at Golden; horses, buggies, a family survey, phonograph, pianos, safes, bar fixtures, billiard and pool tables, bowling alley, etc. I will pay the highest price for second-hand furniture and attend to any business for a small commission. Auction sales and abstracting titles a specialty.

H. S. KNIGHT, Auctioneer.

At the J. A. Taylor Grocery Company.

Boiled ham, ham sausage, lunch tongue, beefsteak and onions, veal sausage, kippered herring, Keeler sardines, salmon steaks, lunch oysters, codfish balls, little neck clams, sliced bacon, lake escapes and grapefruit butter. This is a delicious assortment of lunching goods, but not one-third of the varieties we have in stock. Call and see for yourself. Our fruit tables are laden with the choicest that can be had.

Rev. A. H. Sutherland, the pastor of the Methodist church at Cerrillos, passed through the city last night on his return home from El Paso and Las Cruces. He has a son and daughter enrolled among the student body of the Agricultural and Mechanical college, and he spent a few days very pleasantly visiting with them. Mrs. J. S. McTavish and son returned to the city last night from Scotland, the native land of Mrs. McTavish, where they have been visiting for several months. They were accompanied from Scotland by Miss Annie Cameron, a niece of Mrs. McTavish, who will make her future home in Albuquerque.

H. M. Varrell, who has been visiting at his old home in York, Maine, this summer, will return to Albuquerque on September 15. Mr. Varrell is one of the best tennis players in New Mexico and will take a prominent part in the tennis tournament here during the Territorial Fair.

Hon. W. B. Childers, United States district attorney, went up to Santa Fe last night, to look after some matters in the federal court, which is now in session there.

H. J. Knerson, who has been in northern New Mexico, writing insurance for the Equitable Life Insurance company, returned to the city last night.

A cordial invitation is extended to all lovers of good cheer to call at Zeigler's Cafe to-night. Quickel & Rothe as hosts are unexcelled.

Rev. T. C. Beattie and wife returned last night from Chester, N. Y., where they have been visiting for several weeks.

Hon. M. S. Otero went up to Santa Fe last night.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

The Regular Territorial Institution of Learning Begins Prospective Term.

The University opened on Tuesday last with the largest enrollment for this time of the year that it has yet had. All of the old students have not yet returned, but will probably drop in later. More new faces were seen than ever before, and all appear to have come for work.

All Tuesday morning was occupied in registration; Wednesday morning a temporary schedule was posted and fifteen-minute periods gave each student time and opportunity to see his instructors and have his assignment of lessons.

All afternoon of this day the faculty spent in arranging the permanent schedule, which was posted, and Thursday the students attended their regular classes at the proper periods.

On Wednesday morning, at 9 o'clock, a short assembly of all the students and instructors was held and announcements were made. One of the most important of these was that a death, in the person of Professor Childs, had been appointed to take charge in the absence of the president.

After the formal welcome by President Herick, he called on Governor Stover, as representative of the board of regents, to say a few words.

Among other good things, Governor Stover reminded the students that the time for great things is not passed; there are numerous great things yet to come, and why should not some of these students be the ones to cause them to happen.

Beginning next Monday, the regular assembly period will be at 10 o'clock, at the same time as last year, and it is the intention to have daily meetings of a few minutes at least, for several weeks.

One of our former students, Wallace D. Bowie, made a short visit at the University on Thursday. Mr. Bowie is now on his way to Terre Haute, Ind., where he expects to enter the Rose Polytechnic Institute to pursue a course in mechanical engineering. Success to you, Wallace.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim. No other should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at J. H. O'Reilly & Co's."

OFFICIAL NOTES.

Notaries and Paris Commissioners Appointed—Taxes Paid In.

Governor Otero has appointed the following additional commissioners from this territory to the Paris exposition in 1900: Mrs. Elizabeth L. Herick, of Las Cruces, and W. E. Sawlins, of East Las Vegas.

Governor Otero appointed the following notaries: Thomas C. Montoya, Old Albuquerque, Bernalillo county, and A. M. Hester, Socorro county. The governor also appointed Joseph E. Smith, of Socorro, Socorro county, a regent of the New Mexico School of Mines at Socorro, in place of John Y. Hewitt, of White Oaks, Lincoln county, resigned.

Territorial Treasurer Vaughn received $612.22 for taxes of 1898 from Nepomucino Martinez, treasurer and collector of Union county. Out about $200.47 is for territorial purposes and $108.17 for territorial institutions.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure thoroughly digests food without aid from the stomach, and at the same time restores the diseased digestive organs. It is the only remedy that does both of these things, and can be relied upon to permanently cure dyspepsia. Berry's Drug Co.

Hotel Proposals.

Will be received at the office of the Capitol Rebuilding Board, Santa Fe, N. M., up to Wednesday, September 20th, 1899, at 12 o'clock, noon, at which date and hour such proposals will be opened for all the glass and registers of the Capitol building of New Mexico. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

Plans and specifications will be on file at the office of the architects at the Capitol grounds, Santa Fe, N. M. Copies of said specifications will be mailed on application. Address all proposals, etc., to Wm. H. Pope, Secretary Capitol Rebuilding Board, 11 H. and W. M. Bldg., Architects.

Played Out.

Dull headache, pain in various parts of the body, sinking at the pit of the stomach, loss of appetite, feverishness, pimples or sores are all positive evidences of impure blood. No matter how it became so it must be purified in order to obtain good health. Akker's Blood Purifier has never failed to cure scrofulous or syphilitic poison, or any other blood disease. It is certainly a wonderful remedy, and we sell every bottle on a positive guarantee.

Coming This Way.

D. Unger and H. David have been in the city getting up a church year book, or reference manual for the east and west side Catholic churches. The young men go from here to Santa Fe and Albuquerque.—Optic.

Fifty Red Paint For Visitors.

The Albuquerque people are still hard at work on their fair, and are adding new attractions every day. From all accounts there will be more fun in Albuquerque the week beginning September

Advance Sale Of Blankets...

Blankets are not fully appreciated until cold weather, but values in blankets can be judged and appreciated at any time. This is an opportunity to buy winter goods at summer prices. It is no matter how we secured them, sufficient for buyers to know that our blanket prices are from 25 to 40 per cent lower than December rates will surely be, with the general market steadily moving. We mention a few prices of Blankets at equally low prices:

11x4 Blankets, tan or grey, worth $1.50, .... $1.00
10x4 Blankets, all wool, grey, worth $4.00, .... 3.25
10x6 Blankets, all wool, white, worth $2.50, .... 4.25

CARNIVAL! STREET FAIR!

What the Rustling Committee Had Secured Up to July 31.

THE FUNDS SWELLED SINCE THAT DATE.

From Daily Citizen, July 21.

The executive committee of the Territorial Fair association—the members putting in good time working for the people—took in several squares of the city yesterday afternoon, and the result of the trip was most gratifying, all those seen gladly putting down their names to help along the cause—that of giving the people here and the thousands of guests "five days of solid fun" on the streets of this city in the coming September.

They are a few good ones, (for that matter they are all good, but some give more than others) yet to be seen, after which, if the requisite amount needed has not been reached, a popular "subscription" will be asked from everybody—from the head of the household down to the tiniest member of the home—so that all connected with the welfare and future of Albuquerque can have the opportunity to subscribe—to give their mite toward assisting the Fair association in defraying the expenses of the great show which will be seen in this city, beginning on September 19 and continuing for five days.

The $3,000 mark was reached yesterday afternoon, but that is not enough by at least $2,000, and in order to properly give the many listed events and sports, some of which have never been seen this side of the Mississippi river or outside of the large Pacific coast cities, the extra $2,000 must be forthcoming within the next ten days.

The president of the association, with his excellent executive committee, will not despair and he hopes to be able before that time to officially announce the amount raised, for the several new attractions have to be contracted for before that time or other cities less favored than Albuquerque will secure them.

CARNIVAL DOTS.

Besides the numerous exciting events which have been mapped out to take place every day during the great carnival week of the Territorial Fair in September, there will be a balloon ascension and a parachute leap every afternoon, and a costly display of fireworks every evening, and the Midway Plaisance, with music and dancing galore and many interesting sights will be in full blast all day long. In this department the visitors can see a miniature reproduction of the great World's Fair Midway and can take in the sights free of charge.

Near the Midway will be the mineral, fruit and vegetable exhibits; the bench show for fine registered and unregistered St. Bernards and other dogs. There will also be exhibits of fine poultry, etc. Prospective exhibitors are preparing to make elaborate displays in these departments.

The little people will no doubt be pleased to learn that there will be a huge may-pole exhibit during the week, and that this pretty sight will be under the skillful direction of Mrs. Walton.

The big trades' display and parade will take place Thursday afternoon of fair week, and a number of merchants are now busily engaged in preparing designs for some handsome floats.

Friday will be recognized as Carnival day, and the funny races, with John Chinaman in evidence, will occur. In the afternoon the costume bicycle parade will be on, and at night the grand carnival ball takes place.

Some of the secret and benevolent organizations of the city, are now arranging to participate in the big parade, and they will make a magnificent show within themselves.

A pressing invitation is extended to all the people of the southwest to visit Albuquerque between September 19 and 23, and witness some entertainments that have never yet been produced in the Rocky Mountain region. The railroad companies have announced very cheap rates, and the good people of Albuquerque are making extensive preparations to entertain the biggest crowd in the history of the city.

Beer Drinking From the Viewpoint of the Modern Hygienist.

By James T. Richardson, M.D.

The advancement of science which distinguishes the closing years of the century has been of such decided character as to excite wonder, and in this great march of progress the science of hygiene has kept step with the forward movement. This is not strange when we consider the achievements of inventive skill which enables us to study the human body and to familiarize ourselves with its functions as we never before could know it, and it is natural that in keeping with this new knowledge, new truths must be accepted, if we would maintain our place in the vanguard of progressive development. Ten years ago it was the rule, rather than the exception for health journals to condemn the use of lager beer as being decidedly harmful. During the past decade, however, the scientists have conducted many experiments, with a result which renders it necessary for us to reconstruct some of our beliefs, if we would keep in touch with demonstrated truths, and the hygienic publication of today that would sweepingly condemn all beer, would lose prestige in the scientific world, for it has been shown beyond question that pure beer is eminently wholesome.

Of course, not all beers are such as even the most advanced hygienist could conscientiously commend. Frequently, the strength giving malt and the tonic qualities of the hop are replaced by substitutes wholly lacking in the essential elements which distinguished these healthful ingredients. It is well, therefore, to secure a brand of beer which has successfully withstood the most searching analytical test and received the commendation of leading hygienic authorities; such an article, for example, as that produced by the Southwestern Brewery and Ice Company, of Albuquerque, New Mexico, which recently came under the examination of the American Journal of Health. The result obtained in our laboratory justifies us in selecting this product as an illustration of what beer must be in order to merit hygienic approval, as the investigation afforded indisputable evidence that the best of malt and hops are employed in its manufacture, and that not the slightest taint of adulteration is found in its composition. Inasmuch as the practice of using substitutes for these essential elements is, unfortunately, too common, it is with more than ordinary pleasure we direct attention to the eminent purity of the beer made by the Southwestern Brewery and Ice Company.

It is exceedingly risky to use all varieties of beer indiscriminately without stopping to inquire as to the standing of the various brands of this beverage. With a little care one can always assure himself that he is drinking a beer that has successfully withstood the most searching scientific tests, and no other should be accepted under any circumstances. The use of such brands will not only be the means of avoiding all risks, but the positive benefits derived will be most desirable. Such beer as that made by the Southwestern Brewery and Ice Company increases the appetite for food, aids the digestive functions, assists assimilation, and in every way promotes the health and well-being of the user.

We often find it necessary to speak in no uncertain terms regarding adulterated articles found upon the market and in such cases no element enters into our report, save the interests of our readers of the American Journal of Health. Upon the other hand, when desirable articles of food or drink are found, we shall just as freely make known their merits known. We do not consider the interests of the manufacturer, but only those of our readers, when we bestow unqualified editorial endorsement upon the pure and wholesome beer offered by the Southwestern Brewery and Ice Company. Its nutritive qualities are such as to entitle it to hygienic approval.

Fox, The Jeweler.

On the corner of Gold avenue and Second street stands the leading jewelry house of the southwest; the establishment of H. E. Fox, by reason of the stock carried and the wide extent of country covered by its trade, easily laying claim to that designation. Keeping two men constantly on the road, and spending much of his own time in travel, Mr. Fox has extended his commercial transactions throughout New Mexico and Arizona, and as far as Barstow, Cal. The people in all that vast section look to Fox as the people in the states formerly looked to Tiffany, as the headquarters for diamonds, watches, and all kinds of fine jewelry, knowing that whatever they order will be in exact conformity with their instruction and his recommendations. Mr. Fox is inspector for Santa Fe Pacific through its entire line, and sells the regulation time pieces to railroad men on easy monthly payments. Strangers in the city are cordially invited to visit his establishment.

Fair banners and signs can be secured at Hudson's, the painter. Call on him.

MEETING OF THE FAIR COMMITTEE.

Reports Read—Propositions Accepted
Appointments Made.

INTERESTING ITEMS ON THE BIG EVENT.

The executive committee of the Territorial Fair association—every one of whom is working day and night to make the forthcoming fair the biggest thing this territory has ever seen, met last night at the city building, and transacted considerable business of interest to the fair.

S. T. Ellsworth, proprietor of The Grille restaurant, was present and made a proposition for a lot concession. The matter was left to a committee, who will consult with Mr. Ellsworth on the subject.

Felix Foster, superintendent of bicycle races, submitted his program, which was promptly accepted. One bid for grand stand privileges was submitted. It was laid on the table indefinitely.

A letter from D. B. Robinson, president of the St. Louis & San Francisco railway, wherein he transmitted a check for $100, was read, and a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Robinson for his liberality in remembering the fair.

Chas. F. Riggs, manager of the Rose Sullivan Stock company, submitted a proposition to furnish certain stand attractions and to also assume the superintendency of the Midway Plaisance. The proposition was accepted.

Committee men Stern and Kveritt were appointed a sub committee to arrange appointments and take charge of the Thursday afternoon's trade parade.

The name of C. O. Cushman was mentioned in connection with the position of superintendent of the information bureau, and that the association erect a booth near the depot, where all visitors can receive information as to rooms, etc., over which Mr. Cushman will have charge.

The committee unanimously accepted the suggestion, and promptly elected Mr. Cushman for the position.

Committee men McCanna and Albright made a report as to the progress of work under contract to Messrs. Fox & Froelove, and also as to work being performed on the ground for the base ball games.

The carnival ball was passed up to a special committee, with power to make the best arrangements possible for the giving of this feature of fair week.

Committee man Stern was empowered to arrange for certain electric incandescent lights.

The finances of the committee were fully explained by Treasurer Kveritt, and certain procedures, so that everything will go along smoothly, were decided upon. The executive committee as a whole, at the conclusion of the fair, will resolve itself into an auditing committee to make a complete report of the receipts and expenditures can be made to the merchants and citizens as soon after the fair as possible.

The executive committee then adjourned to meet again Thursday night, when certain bids will be opened, and certain matters adjusted. Several sub-committees are also to report Thursday night.

R. M. Stockton, of Valencia county, was in the city yesterday and made arrangements to display a fine exhibit of fruits and vegetables at the Territorial fair. Mr. Stockton's ranch is two miles north of Belen, where he has resided for many years. He is a pioneer of the territory, having resided here over thirty years. Included in Mr. Stockton's exhibit, will be five varieties of tobacco, grown on his ranch, and of the finest quality. Mr. Stockton is enthusiastic about tobacco culture in New Mexico, and insists that the best tobacco in the world can be grown in this territory, and firmly believes that in a few years a large factory for the manufacture of all kinds of tobacco will be a necessity in this city.

This city will provide rooming accommodations for all who attend the Territorial fair. A committee will look closely after the wants of the visitors, and see to it that they receive good treatment, and that no extra charges will be tolerated.

The fair association secured the lots on the corners of Railroad and Gold avenues and Fourth street, for the Midway Plaisance, and the vacant lots on west Gold avenue for the base ball games, fire works, etc., because they do not abut business places to the detriment of other subscribers to the fair fund. This action of the fair association should commend itself to every fair minded, conservative business man, for it was done to harmonize and fraternize every business interest in the city. Every merchant of the city, in accordance with a concession from the city council, have the right to occupy the street in front of his or her store, ten to twelve feet from the curb, with a booth to display, exhibit or sell the goods they sell, and this important concession gives the same privilege to each and every merchant in the city.

Conferees were held yesterday with H. E. Fox, superintendent of A. A. Grand's corporation interests here, as to water and electric lights, and the fair association can expect to receive from these enterprises, through Mr. Grand and his representative the best of figures.

The association will need plenty of water for the Ninth cavalry and an abundance of electric lights for other purposes.

Trainer Mason had his horse running team out for practice yesterday afternoon and the boys ran so well that he immediately announced their positions.

The old trainer, H. S. Knight, who has since grown to admirable proportions, was present and gave some exceedingly fatherly advice to the rising cinder path professionals. It was pleasing to see the old veteran, Knight, among the boys.

Mrs. Walton proposes to surprise the visitors at the approaching fair in the May pole festivities. She will give her entertainment on Wednesday afternoon and evening, and she and her little people will take part in the Thursday afternoon parade. It is possible that her Wednesday evening entertainment will take place directly in front of the grand stand, while the afternoon's display will be in the Midway.

Trainer Mason had his horse running team out for practice yesterday afternoon, and they ran so well that he immediately announced their positions.

The famous Ninth cavalry, with Capt. A. M. Fuller in command, will leave Fort Wingate on the march to the city on September 10, reaching here on the 17th. They will go into camp near Willey's mill.

An official communication, signed by D. E. Phillips, clerk of Albuquerque Camp, No. 1, Woodmen of the World, informs the Fair association that the Woodmen will be represented in the big Thursday afternoon parade.

Although the fair association has no official notice of the fact, there is every reason to believe that the local railway shops will be represented in the big Thursday afternoon parade of fair week by several department floats.

Fox & Froelove, contractors and carpenters, are busily engaged now-a-days in erecting the Midway Plaisance stands, while Tom. Haley, the "tail sycamore" from Kankakee creek, is hard at work preparing the base ball park on west Gold avenue.

Marshal McMillin and his present force of lieutenants are watching "surreptitious" people who always keep themselves posted on big events. Several are now in the city, being the advance guard for the forthcoming Territorial fair.

Tom Ashton is already here. It was unofficially learned today that the public and private schools of this city will have three days' holiday during fair week, namely, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The attractions will no doubt be too great and too many for "Young America" to remain at school while they are in progress.

During the absence of the official stenographer of the fair association Ralph Hunt, Edward Owen acceptably filled the position. Ralph is now at work, and he is burning the "midnight oil" in sending out letters and posters about the forthcoming fair to all towns throughout the southwestern territory.

Mrs. W. B. Childers, the popular president of the St. Louis & San Francisco railway, wrote to the president of the Territorial Fair association asking about the forthcoming fair and desiring to help along the good cause. His letter was promptly answered, and to-day a reply was received from Mr. Robinson enclosing a check for $100. He says: "I regret very much that other engagements will prevent my attending. I have taken a lively interest in the Territorial Fair since it was inaugurated seventeen or eighteen years ago, and this interest has not in any way abated. I enclose herewith my check for $100, to aid in defraying the expenses of the fair and wish you success in all things."

The executive committee of the fair association will meet to-morrow night.

James D. Eakin is taking a great deal of interest in the linemen's pole climbing contest and states that he will see that the feature will be up to date.

A. D. Johnson, the windmill manipulator, has a proposition before the fair association to put up one of the windmills he is agent for, and to supply good drinking water free of cost to all visitors.

Fred Hermann, the south first street carpenter, informs THE CITIZEN that he has half a dozen outside booths and parade floats to make for merchants. All our carpenters are busily engaged on the same kind of work.

A conference was held with a committee of the C. Colombo Benevolent society yesterday afternoon, and it is a safe proposition to state this society will have a most costly float in the Thursday afternoon parade. The Italian consul, Dr. Conso, of Denver, has been invited to attend.

Arthur Kveritt, the treasurer of the Territorial Fair association, has just returned from his vacation on the upper Rio Pecos. He has studied out capital ideas during his absence, in a cool country, and he proposes to state facts at the meeting of the executive committee to-morrow night.

Simon Stern, one of the executive committee men, was anxious this morning as to the Midway Plaisance events. When informed by Committee men Albright and Campbell that the Midway events would prove interesting attractions from 9 a. m. till 9 p. m., with a high jump from a suspended pole at the midnight hour, he was perfectly satisfied, and stated that he had leased off all "sharkers" by securing concessions for the fair from every liberal-minded lot owner in the city.

Wallace Hesselton, one of the excellent members of the executive committee of the fair association, took a vacation from the rush and turmoil and visited the mountains, but he has returned and to-day is out showing his true loyalty to the territory. He is the executive in charge of buildings, such as grand stands, etc., and this morning inspected the grand stand, which he pronounced substantial enough to hold several thousand people two or three times a day for years, if necessary. At noon, today, THE CITIZEN'S representative met Mr. Hesselton and the chairman of the executive committee, F. F. McCanna, in consultation with these two gentlemen are practical, broad minded and conservative in their ideas and views—have no heavy burdens on their shoulders, and are seeing that the Midway Plaisance and the grand stand propositions are properly executed, according to plans and specifications.

THE FIRE WORKS FOR THE BIG FAIR!

A Thousand Dollars to be Expended in These Events Alone.

GRANDEST ILLUMINATION IMAGINABLE!

The proposition of the Los Angeles Fire Works company, which was received by the president of the Fair association and which is business-like in all of its minutest details, gives to the management of the forthcoming Territorial Fair an exhibition of fireworks that far exceeds anything of its kind heretofore given in the southwest.

Besides the fireworks, the miniature reproduction of "The Battle of Manila" will be given by an entirely separate company, and the great naval battle, which won for Admiral Dewey a name that would give him the presidency of the United States if he so desired the office, will be touched off by electricity handled and manipulated by Electrician William Halloway, of the local Electric Light company.

These two events—fireworks and "The Battle of Manila"—will take place on the grounds on West Gold avenue, directly in front of the grand stand which is being erected by the Fair association.

On these grounds, which will be illuminated at night by half a dozen or more arc lights, there will be base ball games during the afternoons, sword contests from the famous Ninth cavalry, tug-of-war pulling events, balloon ascensions with parachute leaps every afternoon and evening, and other events, while along the smooth roadway which is being prepared on Gold avenue, from First street to the Casa de Oro, there will be exciting bicycle races, hose contests and foot racing. The finish of all running events will be directly in front of the grand stand, which is being erected in front of and just beyond the Casa de Oro.

A partial list of the fireworks which will be seen during the approaching fair is here given, as follows:

22. Set Piece—"Home, Sweet Home."
23. Grand Finale—Volley of Shells.

At the request of a number of merchants, who are making big preparations for outside booths, Mayor Marron states that he sees no reason why the merchants should not be granted the privilege of commencing the building of their booths in front of their stores on the Friday before the opening of the great fair. This will give plenty of time for erecting and decorating them before the "electric button" is touched on the morning of September 19. The "button" will be touched in the Midway Plaisance.

One of the prettiest features of the Midway Plaisance will be the May pole dance, which will take Wednesday afternoon of fair week. In the evening of the same day, directly in front of the grand stand on West Gold avenue, instructress Mrs. W. Y. Walton will present a new and pretty novelty, constituting a gathering of girls and boys that will be something grand in its make-up. The lady, with her gathering of youth, will also constitute a beautiful spectacle in the grand parade of Thursday afternoon.
