BIG LAND DEAL IN MEXICO.

Renne, Sept. 6.—Two hours of the court martial of Captain Dreyfus were spent behind closed doors in the examination of Eugene de Cernushi, the Austrian refugee, a witness for the prosecution. When the open session began, Senator Traireux, former minister of justice, resumed his deposition. He asserted that Savignaud, a witness for the prosecution, said he had seen letters addressed to M. Scheurer Kestner, formerly vice president, sent by Colonel Picquart, while Savignaud was Picquart's orderly at Tunis. Picquart, Traireux said, was convinced they were authentic.

He proceeded to comment upon the questionable role played by Commandant Lauth in the affair. On conclusion of Traireux's testimony, Lauth declared that he had acted honestly throughout, and had not the least doubt of Lieutenant Picquart's falsification of the Petit Bleu in order to incriminate Kestner.

Lauth asserted that Picquart had always shown the greatest contempt for the officers of his bureau, asserting that on one occasion Picquart brought to the general staff, in the presence of Madame Henry and Lauth, a woman, Madame D., wife of a magistrate and whom Lauth intimated was Picquart's mistress.

Piquart cried: "I protest absolutely." Gendarmes were ordered to suppress outbursts of indignation evoked by the conduct of Lauth in publicly naming the woman in a scandalous connection.

Labori asked that M. Palesologue, expert of the foreign office, be consulted with reference to reading before the court of diplomatic documents which established the authenticity of Petit Bleu.

M. Palesologue, who sat behind the judges, came to the front of the stage and said he did not know what documents Labori alluded.

"The document," replied Labori, "in which is recounted a conversation between M. Delcasse, former prime minister, and Count von Munster Lederberg, Germany's minister at Paris, in which the count said that Colonel Schwartzkoppen admitted that he sent Major Kestner a number of telegraphic cards or Petit Bleus."

M. Palesologue responded that what Labori said was quite true and the document belonged to the diplomatic department. As to the Petit Bleu in question, added Palesologue, Schwartzkoppen could affirm whether he wrote it himself or whether he had not, but in any case Palesologue said he believed it was sent by Colonel Schwartzkoppen. This declaration by an expert of the foreign office created a marked sensation.

General Billot confronted Traireux in reply to the latter's criticism of him. "Even if Kestner should be proved a traitor that would not prove Dreyfus innocent, for in cases of espionage it very often occurs that there are several accomplices."

Labori cried: "Allow me to remark, Mr. President, that it has never been said that Dreyfus had an accomplice in Kestner's case."

Dreyfus also shouted: "I protest against this accusation."

Labori insisted that he be allowed to question Billot, Colonel Jouanet refused and a heated wrangle ensued. Labori made a passionate protest against the attitude of Jouanet, who then said: "I decline to allow you to speak."

Labori retorted excitedly: "I bow to your ruling, but I take note that every time I put a question which is irresistible you refuse to allow it."

The audience burst into loud applause and the greatest excitement prevailed. Jouanet said: "If this demonstration is renewed I will have the court room cleared. Have you anything more to say M. Labori?"

Labori replied: "No, because, and I speak with the utmost respect, I am prevented putting any questions touching the core of the affair. I reserve the right to take such action as regard for my responsibility compels me to take up."

Labori was hardly able to contain himself with indignation and when afterwards asked if he had any questions to put to other witnesses, replied pettily: "No, nothing at all."

Major Galopin, an officer of artillery, was examined. He proved a rather unfavorable witness for Dreyfus, whom he declared he once met on the boulevard St. Germain carrying a voluminous package which he said contained secret papers treating on mobilization.

Dreyfus was questioned regarding this statement. He admitted that he sometimes took documents home to facilitate work but said he did not recall the particular incident to which Galopin referred.

The next witness, Major Hirsch-Anel, deposed that he heard Dreyfus express a desire to go to the maneuvers. Hirsch-Anel, however, could not remember the exact date.

Lieut. Colonel Picquart was called and said that Dreyfus never applied to him for leave to go to the maneuvers, adding that he was surprised that no inquiry had been made upon this point by the chief of the Dreyfus bureau.

Then Lieut. Col. Du Paty de Clam, which was taken by Magistrate Traireux, was read. It was more remarkable as being a repetition of the same former evidence than for containing any new revelations. He says Dreyfus always proclaimed his innocence.

As the audience was leaving the courtroom Lieut. Colonel Picquart's brother-in-law, Gen. Galt, rushed at Commandant Lauth and tried to strike him for having introduced the subject of Picquart's mistress in his testimony today. Gendarmes persuaded Galt to leave the precincts of the court.

BIG LAND DEAL.

Capitalists Buy Three Million Acres of Land in Mexico.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—A deal involving a transfer of three million acres of land in the states of Nuevo Leon and Tamaulipas, Mexico, was concluded in Chicago today by L. L. Sumner, of San Antonio, who is a partner in a New York capitalist. Mr. Sumner said: "This property is one of the richest on the continent. There is a heavy deposit of sulphur, probably the largest in America, with petroleum and many valuable minerals. It is situated in the northern part of Mexico and borders on the Gulf of Mexico. It is the intention to build up a commercial and industrial center at some point. Twenty-five thousand head of cattle and 20,000 horses and mules go with the land."

FAIR COMMITTEE.

An Enthusiastic Meeting Held Last Night.

Reports Read, Propositions Accepted, Appointments Made.

A Batch of Good Information to the Public in General.

THE FORTHCOMING BIG FAIR.

The executive committee of the Territorial Fair association—every one of whom is working day and night to make the forthcoming fair the biggest thing imaginable—met last night at the city building, and transacted considerable business of interest to the fair.

S. T. Ellsworth, proprietor of The Grille restaurant, was present and made a proposition for a lot concession. The matter was left to a committee, who will consult with Mr. Ellsworth on the subject.

Felix Lester, superintendent of bicycle races, submitted his program, which was promptly accepted. He proposed a one bid for grand stand privileges was submitted. It was laid on the table indefinitely.

A letter from D. R. Robinson, president of the St. Louis and San Francisco railway, wherein he transmitted a check for $100, was read, and a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Robinson for his liberality in remembering the fair.

Chas. F. Riggs, manager of the Rose Stillman Stock company, submitted a proposition to furnish certain stand attractions and to also assume the superintendency of the Midway Plaisance. The proposition was accepted.

A letter from C. O. Cushman, president of the St. Louis and San Francisco railway, wherein he transmitted a check for $100, was read, and a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Robinson for his liberality in remembering the fair.

The committee unanimously accepted the suggestion, and promptly elected Mr. Cushman for the position.

Committee men McCanna and Albright made a report as to the progress of work under contract to Messrs. Fox & Freeborn, and also as to work being performed on the ground for the base ball games.

The carnival ball was passed up to a special committee, with power to make the best arrangements possible for the giving of this feature of fair week.

Committee man Stern was empowered to arrange for certain electric incandescent lights.

The finances of the committee were fully explained by Treasurer Kverit, and certain procedures, so that everything will go along smoothly, were decided upon.

At the conclusion of the fair, will resolve itself into an auditing committee so a complete report of the receipts and expenditures can be made.

The executive committee then adjourned to meet again Thursday night, when certain bids will be opened and certain matters adjusted. Several sub-committees are to report Thursday night.

TOBACCO EXHIBIT.

R. M. Stockton, of Valencia county, was in the city yesterday and made arrangements to display a fine exhibit of fruits and vegetables at the Territorial fair.

Mr. Stockton's ranch is two miles north of Bolen, where he has resided for many years. He is a pioneer of the territory, having resided here over thirty years.

In Mr. Stockton's exhibit, will be fine varieties of tobacco, grown on his ranch, and of the finest quality. Mr. Stockton is well known about tobacco culture in New Mexico, and insists that the best tobacco in the world can be grown in this territory, and firmly believes that in a few years a large factory for the manufacture of all kinds of tobacco will be a necessity in this city.

This city will provide rooming accommodations for all who attend the Territorial fair. A committee will look closely after the wants of the visitors, and see to it that they receive good treatment, and that no extra charges will be tolerated.

The fair association secured the lots on the corners of Railroad and Gold avenues and Fourth street, for the Midway Plaisance, and the vacant lots on west Gold avenue for the base ball games, fire works, etc., because they do not abut business places to the detriment of other subscribers to the fair fund. This site of the fair association should commend itself to every fair-minded, conservative business man, for it was done to harmonize and fraternize every business interest in the city. Every merchant of the city, in accordance with a concession from the city council, have the right to occupy the street in front of his or her store, to twelve feet from the curbing, with a booth to display, exhibit or sell the goods they sell, and this important concession gives the same privilege to each and every merchant in the city.

ANOTHER REGIMENT EN ROUTE TO MARILA.

London, Sept. 6.—This morning's news shed no new light on the Transvaal crisis. Signs the English are accustomed to seeing just previous to a war continue and from these many number of sensational deductions may be drawn. The general opinion tends to the belief that the cabinet council on Friday will result in an ultimatum followed by an immediate backdown on the part of the Boers, or the commencement of hostilities by Great Britain.

THE NEW ALBUQUERQUE THEATER.
The new and beautiful theater will be open every night during fair week. Manager Charles Riggs has arranged for three different attractions—The Rose Stillman company, augmented by new people, will occupy the boards—Thursday, Friday and Saturday matinee. The Brown Comedy company will produce "In Old Kentucky," "Pawnee Ticket 210," and on Saturday night, a farce comedy, "A Wild Goose Chase," will be given. This will give all visitors from abroad a chance to see our new theater and be of great help in entertaining our visitors. The prices are to be arranged on a popular basis so as to give every one a chance to see the new house.
