NEW YORK BRINGS GRASPING TURKEY DEALERS TO TIME; BOYCOTT IS USED

The Public Arises in Its Wrath Against the Abnormal High Cost of Thanksgiving Day Fowl and Prices Slump.

VIGOROUS ACTION IS TO BE TAKEN IMMEDIATELY

Assistance of the Entire Nation Is to Be Enlisted in the Campaign That Is Being Waged to Smash Food Trust

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
New York, Nov. 29.—New York's turkey buying public has arisen in its wrath against the abnormal high cost of the Thanksgiving day fowl, and as a result there is a semi-pandemonium today among turkey dealers, according to Joseph Hartman, commissioner of weights and measures, the large quantities of turkeys, chickens and geese shipped here in anticipation of the high prices of Thanksgiving eve have been stored in the ice houses and stalls of merchants until tonight, when there seemed to be a decided downward trend in the prices, in some total loss. The prevailing price had been 35 cents and more a pound. At the same time dealers were feeling the effect of the public's indignation against the cost of living having been here by Mayor Cornelius F. Roosevelt, president of the New York state conference for mayors. The call advocated proclamations by the governors of all states and mayors of all cities of the nation to be published and read in schools and churches, establishing days for a series of boycotts against high priced goods.

Mayor Burns also advocated, in addition to those proclamations, the cooperation of housewives leagues, motion picture houses and labor organizations in the attack on the high cost of living.

The result of these activities, according to merchants and public officials has been the creation of the most remarkable food situation in the history of the nation's great food day. Mr. Hartman made his announcement to the public conditions following his investigations into the turkey markets.

Public Is Being Scared.

The public is being scared off by the excessive prices of the last few days he declared. "The price of 35 cents to 45 cents which now obtains, is high that the public speedily indicated its refusal to buy, for the price is beyond its means. The dealers have found that the public feels a twinge, if it paid the high prices, and would mean the same high prices at Christmas and New Year."

The egg boycott, he said, has produced less buying, and "in self-defense the dealers have been obliged to reduce the price in order to induce purchases."

The fact that 3,000 more barrels of potatoes were received this year than during the two days before Thanksgiving and that potatoes now are selling for $4.50 and $5 a barrel, against the recent price of $7, indicates, he said, a recession of potatoes by the public and that the top price has been passed. The farmer, he said, "is showing his potatoes on the market," but he is caught with them on his hands.

"It is significant that last year, when we had a bumper crop of potatoes," said Mr. Hartman, "there were no potatoes shipped here at this time this year, when there is an alleged shortage."

This year's cranberry receipts here are far in excess of last year's, he said.

CO-OPERATIVE STORES ARE RECOMMENDED BY EXPERTS

Washington, Nov. 29.—Co-operative stores in rural communities generally lead to lower prices, agricultural department experts have found in an extensive investigation of the subject, but poor management of such enterprises has resulted in their failure in many cases and has emphasized the necessity for careful business methods where co-operative selling is undertaken.

CONGRESS TO WRESTLE WITH HIGH COST OF FOODSTUFFS

Washington, Nov. 29.—With the arrival in Washington of members of congress, the subject of general discussion dominant among them is the high cost of living and the food situation.

THE WEATHER

THE WEATHER FORECAST.
Denver, Nov. 29.—New Mexico: Thursday fair; warmer in east portion; Friday fair.

LOCAL WEATHER REPORT.
For twenty-four hours, ending at 6 p. m. yesterday.
Maximum temperature, 64 degrees; minimum, 32 degrees. 52. Temperature at 6 p. m., 42; southeast wind; clear.

Barage to be urged by Representative of New York, as a remedy.

The discussion has presented a wide variety of views, some members believing that an embargo is not the remedy for existing conditions and the subject threatens to lead to much debate in congress.

Representative Fitzgerald said today that he would have two bills ready for introduction Monday bearing on the proposed embargo. Among other house members who talked of the situation today were Minority Leader Mann, Representative Borah of Missouri, and Representative McHenry of Texas. Mr. Mann said he did not believe an embargo would be placed on food products and that it was not a remedy for the evil. An embargo offered as a retaliatory measure, in his opinion, differed materially from an embargo to regulate prices and sufficient warrant did not exist for a retaliatory embargo.

Representative Borah doubted the wisdom of an embargo, but thought the soaring price of foodstuffs could be checked by some form of legislation. Representative McHenry was inclined to favor the embargo.

TURKEYS AND EGGS GO DOWN IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Nov. 29.—The price of turkeys and eggs dropped suddenly today when dealers found they were certain to have larger quantities of each on hand than had been expected. Inquiry among the retail dealers in different sections of the city revealed that housewives had turned to ducks and geese and chickens for their Thanksgiving dinners, and were buying just as few eggs as were necessary to furnish the "fixins" for the feast.

About mid-day wholesale dealers announced a drop of 3 cents a pound on turkeys and 2 cents a dozen on eggs. A little later inquiry among retailers in the several divisions of the city revealed that turkeys had dropped from 37 and 38 cents a pound this morning to 32 cents a pound on the North side, and 25 cents a pound on the South side, with the West side prices ranging above these figures. Eggs had gone down 1 cent a dozen in many instances, prices ranging from 24 cents a dozen to 26 cents.

The drop was credited by retailers to the fact that tomorrow will be a holiday and noted as a carry-over commodity as eggs over a holiday. Consumers said much of the drop in prices was due to the activity of the Woman's City Club and other organizations which have been urging housewives not to purchase turkeys and eggs at the high prices which obtained the first of the week.

Dr. A. J. Stokes, head of the food investigation bureau of the health department, said today after his investigation had reported the result of their (continued on Page Two)

NEW DEMURRAGE RATE ON CARS IS PUT IN EFFECT

Emergency Measure to Relieve the Shortage Is Authorized by I. C. C. to Continue Until May 1 Next.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Nov. 29.—An emergency measure to relieve the freight car shortage, the interstate commerce commission today authorized railroads to establish and maintain until May 1, next, a progressive demurrage scale, higher than the present flat rate of one dollar a day. The scale is a compromise between proposed graduated schedule in the railroad tariffs recently suspended, and the rates suggested by the shippers.

The rates will become effective three days after each railroad files with the commission its formal schedule, or probably within a week. Under the new scale, two free days are allowed and then charges are $1 for the third day, $2 for the fourth day, $3 for the fifth, and $4 for the sixth, and each day thereafter. The rule that charges shall be suspended on days when weather prevents unloading and the so-called "average conditions by which credit is allowed shippers who unload in less than the two free days, are retained. The suspended schedule provided for two free days and charges of $2 for the third, $3 for the fourth, $4 for the fifth, and $5 for the sixth and each day thereafter, with the weather rule eliminated, and the average agreement modified. The National Industrial Traffic League, a shippers' organization, at a hearing Monday suggested rates of $1 a day for the third and fourth days, $2 a day for the fifth and sixth days, and $3 for each day thereafter.

Commissioner McChord, who is directing an investigation of car shortages, explained today that the commission's order was intended only to stimulate prompt unloading and thereby relieve the pressing needs of industries for more cars.

FRANCE AND GREAT BRITAIN ASKED TO BACK UP IN THE TARNOWSKI CASE

U. S. Sends Notes Asking Reconsideration of Their Stand in Case of New Austro-Hungarian Ambassador.

ALLIES EMBASSIES ARE CONCERNED OVER MATTER

They Take Unusual Care to Keep Their Governments Well Informed as to Developments at Washington.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Nov. 29.—The United States has sent notes to France and Great Britain, it became known today, requesting reconsideration by those governments of their refusal to issue a safe conduct through their blockade lines to Count Tarnowski, the new Austro-Hungarian ambassador to this country, and speaking of the unfortunate effect that a continuing refusal would have on opinion here.

The notes point out that it is an inalienable right of sovereign nations to exchange ambassadors and insist that a third nation, even in time of war, is not justified in denying that right.

Great care is taken to have the representations solely on the grounds of international right as distinguished from mere international courtesy, making it clear that the United States is not asking a favor or assuming the attitude of a pleader.

Care also is taken not to put the government in the position of having changed its attitude since the last communication on the subject, which was merely the transmission of the Austrian government's request for a safe conduct. It was claimed at first when the refusal was received to drop the position of being a messenger of Austria and make a formal demand in the name of the United States.

Tense Situation May Develop.

It was decided, however, that it was unnecessary to take such action at this stage of the negotiations, when it is hoped that a firm statement of the general principles of international law in the case will cause a reconsideration by the allies. If the present note meets with an unsatisfactory response, it is admitted that a very difficult situation will be developed.

The allies' embassies are deeply concerned over the resentment felt by the Washington government and are taking unusual care to keep their governments fully informed. It is not known that they have forwarded any direct representations to their governments except insofar as the nature of their information is in itself a recommendation. Nevertheless, officials have every hope that this informal action by the diplomatic representatives on the ground will go far toward influencing a change of attitude on the other side.

Early replies to the American notes are expected, owing to the fact that Count Tarnowski is scheduled to sail from Rotterdam on the Dutch steamer "Nieuw Amsterdam" on December 16.

Should the replies prove unfavorable, the United States might send a final note notifying the allies to discontinue the Austrian envoy at their own risk, or it might be decided to send an American merchantman or warship to some neutral port to receive the ambassador and bring him across the Atlantic. As yet, however, such a contingency has hardly been contemplated, in view of the confident belief that the allies will yield.

NEAR RIOT CAUSED BY SCRAMBLE FOR TURKEYS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Pittsburgh, Nov. 29.—Competition between hucksters and speculators handling turkeys on the Water street wharf, which resulted in the price of live birds being reduced to 3 cents a pound, caused police reserves to be called out today to prevent customers, by their eagerness to buy from sweeping the dealers into the Monongahela river.

The price cutting was caused by a dispute among the poultry handlers regarding what price should be asked. During the excitement one dealer sold turkeys without weighing them, demanding a certain sum for each bird. Many speculators who brought large shipments of turkeys to Pittsburgh, believing they would be able to secure record-breaking prices for them, left the city tonight suffering heavy financial losses because of the refusal of the public to pay the prices they demanded. In other parts of the city live turkeys today sold at from 23 to 28 cents a pound.

Big Cotton Shipment Made.

Galveston, Texas, Nov. 29.—Approximately $1,000,000 worth of cotton went out of the port of Galveston today on steamers bound for European destinations. Total cotton exports of today amounted to $2,250,000. Of this $2,500,000 bales went to England. The remainder went to Spain.

TEUTON ADVANCE ON CAPITAL OF BULGARIA MEETS NO IMPEDIMENT

Troops of Central Powers Continue to Sweep Onward; Russians Launch Offensive in Carpathian Region.

GERMANS AND AUSTRIANS ARE HELPED BY TURKS

Quiet Prevails on Macedonian Front, There Having Been No Resumption of Great Battle of Early Week.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Although the Russians probably as a diversion, have started and are carrying on with great intensity an offensive in the Carpathian region around Kiriababa, northwest of the Romanian border, the advance of the Teutonic allies all along the line in Wallachia toward the Romanian capital of Bucharest, apparently is meeting with little impediment.

The left flank of the forces of the central powers have now captured the important railroad junction of Petrosch, sixty-five miles northwest of Bucharest, in the center the Romanians are reported to be retreating in disorder, while the right flank, composed of the army of Field Marshal von Mackensen, which crossed the Danube, is carrying out maneuvers in co-operation with the other commanders to the north.

The Petrograd war office, in admitting a continuation of the retreat of the Romanians, says von Mackensen's men operating from Alexandria have advanced along the Turpin road to Kologriev, the latter town being twenty miles southwest of Bucharest. Turkish troops are fighting with the Germans and Austrians in the region.

The Russian official communication asserts that the Russian attack east and south of Kiriababa has resulted in the capture in both regions of ridges and the taking of two men prisoner. The Berlin war office admits that eight trains were made but says the Russians suffered heavy casualties.

Apparently little infantry fighting has taken place on any of the other fronts. On the line in France and Belgium there have been duels at various points, and here and there small attacks by raiding parties of both the belligerents. Similar fighting is taking place on the Russian front.

The latest German official communication says quiet prevails on the Macedonian front, there having been no resumption of the great battle of the early week in which both the Teutonic allies and the forces of the entente claim to have had the advantage.

The Russians admit a further advance by the Turks south of Van in Turkish Armenia.

The British government beginning December 1 will take control of all the coal mines in South Wales, apparently to prevent the wage dispute between the miners and operators from interfering with the coal supply.

PRAYERS FOR PEACE TO GO FORTH TODAY

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
New York, Nov. 29.—President Wilson's suggestion that the people of America, in observing Thanksgiving day, should contribute to relieve the suffering resulting from the war, will be put into effect in many churches tomorrow. Cardinal Freelan, in a proclamation tonight, directed that all the collections taken in the Roman Catholic churches of his archdiocese be given to the people of Europe. Funds contributed in the Episcopal and some other churches will be given to the Red Cross.

Notwithstanding the high cost of food, there will be no disposition on the part of charitable institutions and organizations to reduce the number of Thanksgiving dinners or baskets of food to be distributed to the poor. Such dinners have been arranged in a score of institutions for the care of poor and in many hospitals. The propriety of the post-year fund-raising in larger gifts than usual for such purposes.

The Salvation Army will entertain 1,200 persons while other dinners are planned for the newshy and poor children in the industrial schools and lodging houses.

Relief Given Starving.

Paris, Nov. 29.—King Alfonso, having intervened with the Turkish government through the Spanish ambassador at Constantinople on behalf of the inhabitants of Lebanon, who were reported to be starving, permission has been given for a Spanish steamer to convey provisions to the population on conditions that the distribution be made exclusively by the Red Cross of the Red Crescent.

Fatal Grade Crossing Wreck.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 29.—Miss Sarah Morgan, aged 23, was killed and several other persons were injured when a Baltimore & Ohio freight train crashed into a street car at a grade crossing here tonight. The bodies of four of the victims were killed in attempting to climb out of a window when the car toppled over, crushing her.

Capital City of State Retains Convention of New Mexico Educational Association by Substantial Majority.

ALBUQUERQUE BOYS WIN ORATORICAL CONTEST

Representatives of University and High School Take Honors in Sharp Competition; Meeting Is Successful.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Santa Fe, Nov. 29.—The selection of Santa Fe as the convention city for 1917 and the election of Dr. P. H. Roberts as president for the coming year were the principal features of the closing day of the thirty-second annual convention of the New Mexico Educational Association.

Contrary to expectations, the forty-fourth annual convention of the association was held at Santa Fe, where it was held for the first time since 1904. The Albuquerque contingent had put up a stiff fight for the convention, and the fact that former conventions held in that city have been uniformly successful and that Albuquerque is an admirably well equipped city in the state were thought to constitute an argument that would carry the question, but the delegates to the convention were not so easily won over. The Albuquerque contingent prevailed with a decided majority of the delegates to the convention.

The election of Dr. Roberts as president of the association was a foregone conclusion, and the effort to elect the normal university president with Miss Isabel Eekies, school superintendent of the city, as a rival, failed.

ENFORCE SUNDAY CLOSING LANDIS TELLS OFFICERS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 29.—Judge Kenneth Mountain Landis of Chicago, sitting in the federal district court here today, emphasized before him Mayor Molloy of East St. Louis, Chief of Police Byrne and Nelson A. S. Jones, police commissioner, and decried of them that they enforce the Sunday closing law against saloons.

Judge Landis investigated the saloon situation in East St. Louis after several men who had been convicted for breaking into cars carrying interstate freight said that their downfall was due to drunkenness.

After he had told the public officials that they should enforce the law against saloons, Judge Landis called Mayor Molloy to his desk and said: "What I have said to you was in all seriousness. Revenue has nothing to do with this question. Follow up your work if you have it but don't sit around and wait at open violations of the law of the state."

Judge Landis asked the mayor, the police chief and the police commissioner what church they belonged to, on being informed, he said: "Well, I would enforce the law or leave the church."

HIGH FOOD PRICES HIT PACIFIC COAST HARD

San Francisco, Nov. 29.—The pinch of high prices for virtually every commodity that goes to make up a Thanksgiving dinner was felt today in marketing shops in every city on the Pacific coast. The smaller communities were more favored by reason of their proximity to the truck gardens and poultry farms and the cost of supplies was not quite so emphasized as in the center of population. Turkeys generally were to be had at prices ranging from 25 to 35 cents per pound, but at these figures, which were only slightly higher than those of last year, there was a lack of purchasers.

A varied assortment of sentiment in San Francisco to the poultry retailers was declared that there was little likelihood of a boycott on turkeys in the city.

After slipping out of his garage in a high-powered automobile which he had parked since the fight started, ready to leave as soon as he considered it safe, the foreign refugee made a dash for the plains to the north of two state capitals, he said. He passed a number of bands of bandits between the city and the border, he added, one band being encountered near Sanz. He said the bandits shouted "Viva Villa!" as he passed in his automobile, the flag of his country flying on the ear. The bandits did not stop him, he said, nor fire in his direction. He saw another band further north, he said, but was not near enough to ascertain who they were.

He did not pass through Sanz going within two miles of this town, he said, nor did he know whether or not any foreign refugees or Carranza troops were at Sanz or Terrenas. He stopped at Villa Ahumada, where he was detained temporarily by the Carranza guards, but was permitted to continue to the border. He said he passed a train coming north, which he believed to be the train carrying Gen. Gonzales of Juaros as he had been told the general's train was on the road between Sanz and Juaros. Although he was told at Laguna station, he said, that a train was expected north from Sanz some time during the day.

Makes His Escape by Automobile at 2 o'Clock in the Morning; Carranza Forces Are Holding Part of Town.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
El Paso, Tex., Nov. 29.—The first foreign refugee to leave Chihuahua City since the siege began arrived here tonight, reporting that Villa and Julio Agosta were in control of most of the city when he made his escape by automobile at 2 o'clock this morning. Owing to the fact that he had been in close hiding, he explained that he had no means of knowing first hand just what had happened, or even the whereabouts of General Trevino.

Carranza forces were holding hard to their part of the city, according to the refugee, who added that he understood that all foreigners were safe at least to the extent of leaving the area through which Villa had fought his way.

Has Little Information.

Cannon firing ceased some time early Monday but the small arms firing continued through Monday and Tuesday, the refugee said upon his arrival here by way of Villa Ahumada and Guadalupe. He admitted knowing nothing more about the military situation in the capital than the reports brought to him from time to time by servants and others who came to his home, which is near the home of General Trevino, he said.

He was told, he said, that Villa was at the American Smelting and Refining company's plant, with a force of men. This is east of the city. He said much of the fighting had been confined to the south, as Villa entered the town from that side on last Thursday morning. The refugee explained that he had not been out of his home since that time, until he left in his automobile for the border.

BEAT THE AGGIES

AGGIE-VARSITY ANNUAL 'GRUDGE' GAME ON TODAY

State College Sending Stronger Team Than That Which Arizona University Recently Humiliated.

Strengthened by the return from the Mexican border of four of their star players, the Aggies, who will meet the University of New Mexico today in their annual "grudge" game, are a far more dangerous foe than that which the New Mexico Cardinals and Arizona university beat.

Further in the season the university would have been a heavy favorite. The State college team was crippled then through the patriotism of four of its most doughty players. Some Arizona humiliated the Farmers, however, the four have returned—whether on furlough or otherwise was not known here—and the Farmers are prepared to make the Hill Dwellers earn their victory—if they win. Of course the Aggies returned heroes have not been practicing with the usual long. However, they are all veterans and their military life on the border has put them in fit condition for any kind of battle. Then, too, they are not altogether without good practice.

The university has probably the best team of its career. The team broke into the Rocky Mountain conference. True, some players lost both of its games in that conference, but its showing was such that it drew commendation.

The teams are evenly matched. The average pointmaker of each eleven is 14.3. The university will have the advantage of playing on its home ground. The Aggies were stretched to arrive here last night, but did not come. Not having arrived then, their only choice was a night ride.

The playing records of the teams since this season that each has won three games. One game resulted in a tie. No game was played in 1910. The university, however, has scored 57 points to the Aggie's 42 in those games.

The results of former games between the schools follow:

Year	University	Aggie
1909	10	0
1910	0	0
1911	8	16
1912	9	15
1913	6	12

The numbering of players will be introduced in New Mexico football at today's game. The Colorado Miners, who played the university here, were numbered, but the university players had not adopted numbers at that time. The players of both teams will be numbered today, making the scoring of the game easy.

University students will sell souvenir score books at the grounds. The books will contain the lineup, showing the numbers of all players, including the "saps." They also will contain cards for the scoring of the game by players. The book will give brief football sketches of the players of both teams, showing their weight, age, and other "saps" of interest to football fans.

The complete list of officials for the game was not known last night. Under the agreement between the schools, the Aggies are to select the referee. Their choice was not known. Blomberg will be umpire and Barnes head linesman.

The game will be called at 3 o'clock. It will be staged at the university field.

Here is the lineup:

Some Dopesters, However, Hold That Whatever Outcome Is Championship Will Be Matter of Argument.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE)
Kansas City, Nov. 29.—Football required strategy in the southwest today, filling the college scene with thousands of alumni returned for "the really big game" of the year between teams whose annual meetings have featured Thanksgiving day for decades.

In the Missouri valley, the meeting of Kansas and Missouri held first place in interest because of the fact that Kansas makes its claim to a conference championship in the outcome of the battle with the Tigers. Equally important, from the sporting point of view, however, was the clash of Nebraska and Notre Dame at Lincoln in which the Indians will try to reverse the one-point defeat suffered last year at the hands of the Cornhuskers.

Two southwestern games expected to rival football in the game between the University of Texas and Texas A. and M. at Austin which many say will decide the state championship.

Carleton has been the dominating character in reports from Lawrence and Columbia regarding the game between Kansas and Missouri. Starting out as one of the weaker machines of the year, Kansas has developed a fighting spirit and crafty defensive which constituted two weeks ago in the greatest football upset the valley has known in years—the defeat of Nebraska by the Jayhawkers.

Whatever the outcome, the Missouri valley championship probably will result in a matter of argument, since no one team has a clean record.

Notre Dame's record this year has not been the triumph of 1915, but rather has shown the team's growing power of last year. Nebraska especially is favored to win tomorrow.

Other contests of interest to be played tomorrow will be Creighton vs. University of South Dakota, at Omaha; Haskell vs. Highland Park, at Des Moines; Holy Cross vs. Missouri school of Mines at Tulsa; Kansas Aggies vs. Washburn, at Manhattan; Rice Institute vs. University of Arkansas at Houston; St. Louis vs. Washington University at St. Louis; University of Arkansas vs. Mississippi Aggies, at Memphis; University of Oklahoma vs. Oklahoma Aggies, at Oklahoma City; William Jewell vs. Missouri Wesleyan, at Cambridge; Taylor University vs. Texas Christian University, at Fort Worth.

The challenge of Henry Kendall college, of Tulsa, to Notre Dame, for a post-season game at Tulsa, Saturday, has aroused hope that the Oklahoma champions will have the chance to meet one of the important teams of the middle west. So far, Kendall has not been defeated and has scored 450 points in nine games.

EXPERTS ARE PUZZLED BY LIVESTOCK MALADY

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE)
Kansas City, Nov. 29.—No developments have appeared in the last twenty-four hours in the infection at the local stockyards, against which federal and state officials have flung a far-reaching embargo in the fear that it might prove to be foot and mouth disease.

In the light of the non-appearance of additional symptoms, the livestock experts, among whom are Dr. Adolph Eichorn, chief of the pathological department of the bureau of animal industry at Washington; Dr. S. E. Benedict, head of the federal bureau of animal industry in Chicago; and Dr. James Fleming, representing the local bureau, expressed the opinion tonight that the disease which has been marked only by mouth lesions, might prove other than the foot and mouth disease, and develop into a condition which possibly might define a new malady. However, judgment is being withheld pending further tests. Further inoculation was begun today with cattle, horses and swine. In no cases here have foot lesions been found.

The livestock inoculation several days ago was examined and expected to show results from the effects of the virus injected into them from members of the infected herd.

The Notre Dame coach telegraphed college authorities tonight that the proposed game would follow too close the Indiana team's contest tomorrow with Nebraska at Lincoln. Kendall is endeavoring to arrange a game with some southwestern team.

ENGLAND WILL OPERATE THE SOUTH WALES MINES

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE)
London, Nov. 29.—Under the terms of the real act, the board of trade announces that from December 1 it will assume control of all the mines in South Wales. A committee has been appointed, representing the board of trade, the some officers and the admiralty, for the administration of the mines and will meet tomorrow to consider the question of wages. There has been a long dispute concerning the demands of the South Wales miners for an increase of the war bonus. The board of trade attempted by intervention to prevent settlement, but the mine owners objected to an intervention of their affairs with a view to ascertaining whether they could justify such the miners' demands.

SWEDISH WOMEN MUST WAIT FIVE YEARS TO VOTE

Movement Is Well Under Way,
However, and Advocates of Equal Suffrage Believe Full Enfranchisement Is Sure.

(Associated Press Correspondence.)
Stockholm, Sweden, Nov. 29.—Sweden, the only one of the Scandinavian countries in which women do not enjoy the same right to vote as the men, at least will wait some five years before complete enfranchisement of its women, but that the road will ultimately be reached not only here but in other "backward" countries is the conviction of the National Swedish Women's Suffrage association, which has just concluded its annual convention.

Reports made at the convention showed a greatly increased interest in the movement throughout Sweden. There are now nearly 17,000 women enrolled in the association and some 200 local organizations. Particularly gratifying to the leaders was the report of a great growth of interest among the country's clergy, as well as among men generally. Men's associations for women's suffrage were formed during the year at Kristianstad and Malmo, and some of the best known Swedish men are beginning to present themselves actively in the movement.

Most of this progress is the work of only fourteen years, although efforts to improve the position of women politically have been going on for a long period. In the year 1902, however, that a definite organized movement to secure votes for women was begun. The impetus for this was given by a high, long-haired, and somewhat eccentric, but in all the intelligent circles, was also a member of the second chamber of the Riksdag, presented a woman's suffrage bill in the lower house. It was defeated by 111 to 49.

The first notable victory was in 1906, when both chambers of the parliament decided to petition the government to investigate the subject of women's suffrage. This report was submitted to the Riksdag in 1911. In the meantime (1907) universal franchise had been granted the Swedish men, and the first time they made it a point to elect a liberal government in which K. A. Staaf was premier. Staaf presented a woman's suffrage bill in 1912 as a government bill, and it was supported by the constitutional committee of the Riksdag. The upper chamber defeated it 56 to 55, but the lower chamber gave 140 votes for it in 1913.

A further unavailing effort was made this year to induce Herr Hammarskjold, present premier, to make a government measure of the bill. A change of the nature proposed, however, and hence must be adopted by both houses of two successive parliaments. The Riksdag session early in 1917 will be the last session of the present parliament, and, although conditions have apparently not altered since the last unsuccessful attempt, the women see themselves compelled to make another effort to secure the passage of a political equality measure. The bill will probably be presented as a social-democratic party measure. But even in the unlikely

SHERIFF GIVES TESTIMONY IN TEIPER TRIAL

Evidence Is Brought Out Which Looks Rather Bad for Man Accused of the Killing of His Mother and Brother.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)
Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 29.—Through Edward Stengel, sheriff of Erie county, the prosecution today continued its circumstantial case against John Edward Teiper, charged with the murder of his mother, Mrs. Agnes Teiper. These points were brought out by Sheriff Stengel:

That Teiper's car, which he said he had left broken down in the Orchard park road on the afternoon preceding the tragedy last January, was started without any trouble the next morning by a mechanic who merely inserted a magnetite brush.

That Teiper, when questioned by the then district attorney W. C. Dudley, at first denied ownership of the revolver found near the scene of the murder, but later, after the district attorney had telephoned in Teiper's hearing, to the man who sold the revolver, Teiper admitted that the pistol was his.

That Teiper, guarded by the sheriff at the funeral of his mother and brother Frederick, had manifested no slightest grief or emotion throughout the service or burial. Sheriff Stengel also testified that the tool box on Teiper's roadster in which Teiper told him he kept the revolver, was tightly closed when the sheriff examined the car after his arrival at the murder scene. The box was between two seats of the roadster and had a cushion covering it. The cushion was jammed tightly into place, the sheriff said.

The juror examined closely cuts in the coat and shirt that Teiper wore on the night of the tragedy. Sheriff Stengel said that Teiper had called his attention to these on the day after the murder. "That fellow must have had a knife," pointing to the cuts. There was no scratch on Teiper's arm on the morning after the murder, the sheriff testified. The sheriff said the district attorney showed Teiper the revolver which had been found in a field near the murder scene. Teiper said that it was not his. Mr. Dudley telephoned to a merchant in Orchard Park and asked if he had sold a revolver to Teiper. He repeated the man's answer that the revolver had been sold on January 21 or 22, about a week before the murder. Teiper then called the district attorney from the telephone and acknowledged that the revolver was his, the sheriff testified.

"Why did you say it was not, then?" Mr. Dudley asked.

"I didn't want to incriminate myself," replied Teiper, according to the sheriff.

Other witnesses today told of the revolver, tire iron, and Teiper's watch found in the field near the place where the murder of Teiper's mother and brother were committed. The watch bore Teiper's initials and had a picture of his child in the case.

When the householder went into the house to get a revolver, the man made good his escape. Both occurrences were reported to the officers.

John D. Is Unmoved By Threat Of Rumanians.
(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)
New York, Nov. 29.—Wireless dispatches from Berlin reporting a decision of the Rumanian government to destroy plants connected with the extensive oil fields of the country were read without apparent trepidation today at the local offices of the Standard Oil company, which has holdings there valued at between $7,000,000 and $10,000,000.

The last word received here from the company's representative in Bucharest arrived two days ago, according to an official of the company, stating briefly: "all well."

Whether this alluded to the personal safety of its Rumanian company, which includes a number of Americans, or to the situation in general, the local officials were unable to determine. They expressed the "utmost confidence" in the ability of their representative and of the United States government to do all in their power to guard American interests in Rumania.

The Standard oil fields in Rumania are held under the name of a Rumanian corporation, called the "Rumanian-American," which is entirely owned by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. The property comprises wells and refineries and undeveloped territory. The output up to thirty days ago averaged 8,000 barrels of petroleum daily, it was stated. The main offices are at Bucharest, with an American named Sailer in charge as managing director.

DEFENSE CLOSES IN THE M'DANIEL MURDER HEARING

Accused Prosecutor Testifies
in Own Behalf; "My Father and Mother Loved Each Other,"
Testimony of Son.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)
St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 29.—The defense of Oscar D. McDaniel, prosecuting attorney of Buchanan county, who is on trial on the charge of having murdered his wife, closed late today and court adjourned until Friday. When the introduction of state's rebuttal testimony will begin.

After the accused man had occupied the stand a large part of the day the defense ended its case with the introduction of Odell McDaniel, 12-year-old son of the indicted prosecutor. His testimony consisted principally of the brief testimony:

"My father and mother loved each other."

Mr. McDaniel was called to the stand after his aged father and two of his sisters had testified that his married life had been happy.

"Did you assault your wife?" he was asked on direct examination.

"I did not," McDaniel answered.

The court room audience was the largest that has attended any session of the trial and heard the prosecutor tell his story calmly. He sat with his hands clasped most of the time he was on the stand. Now and then, in the tense silence that ensued during his testimony he drew his handkerchief from his pocket and wiped his eyes.

Mr. McDaniel gave his version of the events of the night of the murder, July 14. This was that he had left his home about 7:45 p. m. to go to lodge but had left there about an hour later to watch two road houses concerning which complaint was made. The complaint was made on September 15 and again in April, McDaniel said, but had not previously been looked into. He returned to his home about 11 o'clock, talked to his wife, who had retired, and left fifteen or twenty minutes later to answer a telephone call which said his brother was in trouble in a saloon.

Tells of Pistol Duel.
The found the call untrue, he said, went to two other saloons and returned home about midnight. He remained in a pistol duel outside the house and then went into the house to get another weapon. He heard "footsteps through the weeds" which he supposed to have been his assailant, he said. When he entered the house he found his wife had been attacked and was lying in a pool of blood.

Mr. Barker's cross-examination brought out that McDaniel was versed in criminal law and "had studied the big murder cases" of the last few years. Questions as to whether he had been "trying to arrange an alibi" the witness declared he "would have had no alibi with him throughout the night if such had been my intention."

The prosecuting attorney, questioning him at length upon the burning of a mattress with his wife bed, the morning his wife died. Mr. McDaniel said he had attached little importance to it as "he presumed police officers had obtained all the evidence possible."

The examination ended when Mr. Barker drew from the witness that he carried life insurance policies totalling $750 upon the life of Mrs. McDaniel. However, McDaniel testified he had "spent more than this amount already in attempting to find her murderers."

Clarksville, Tex., Nov. 29.—Buck Thomas, negro, who, it was charged, entered the home of Austin Bishop, March 23 last, and attacked Bishop and his wife with a club, inflicting both, was taken from a deputy sheriff near here last night and hanged.

DODGE BROTHERS TRYING TO STEAL FORD'S THUNDER

Their Counsel Declares They,
and Not Henry, Are Responsible Decision Expected Soon.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 29.—Counsel for the Dodge brothers in the electric argument in circuit court today for an injunction to prevent Henry Ford from developing the Ford Motor company a business with the profits of the government, declared that the Duggan and Ford, were responsible for the company's success.

The attorney traced the history of the Ford Motor company from its organization. Speaking of Ford's efforts to raise money to organize the company in 1903, he referred to the manufacturer as "an inventive genius or an inventive crank." He declared that it was the mechanical and engineering ability of Horace E. and John F. Dodge, who became associated with Ford, that gave the company the business impetus which brought success.

The question of whether capital stock can be considered capital assets, or else, was a point of issue. The attorney for the Ford company maintained that the state law, which provides that no company may incorporate for more than $100,000 in Michigan, has not been violated. He asserted that the law affects only the capital stock of a company. The Ford Motor company is capitalized at $2,000,000.

"When the legislature said capital stock, they meant capital," said opposing counsel. They contended the statute that the non-transferability of capital in the hands of one corporation or individuals means in the company. He declared that the Ford Motor company has assets worth at least $400,000,000.

Arguments were completed this afternoon. The case was heard by three circuit judges from outside of Detroit. It is expected they will announce their decision within a few days.

RESERVE BOARD'S TIP SURPRISE TO LONDON BANKERS

English Financial Circles Profess Amazement at Warning Sent Out Not to Buy British Treasury Notes.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)
London, Nov. 29.—Financial circles in London were surprised by the warning sent out by the American federal reserve board, cautioning banks not to invest their liquid assets too heavily in the British treasury notes about to be offered in the American market, and at the first impression it was a disagreeable surprise.

The general feeling among business men here is that the estimate of the United States that they can responsibly expect all possible accommodations in methods of payment and also that Great Britain's financial standing remains so high that all classes of government securities had been protected in America, even under the present circumstances, about as readily as American securities would be taken here.

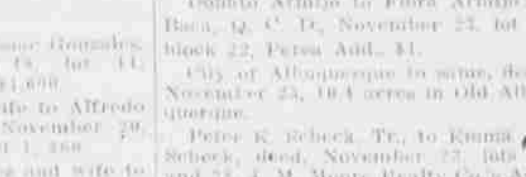

There has been a certain amount of criticism, both in parliament and by financial writers, of the government's policy in meeting obligations by large issues of treasury bills, but the criticism was based on the argument that the government was paying a higher rate of interest than the standing of its credit necessitated, and that large issues of treasury bills intended to depreciate the prices of other securities.

in the south has been reproduced and taken in living photograph by a mod-twelve reel spectacle "The Birth of a Nation," and is being shown throughout the land with all its accompanying battle shots, its sighing and whispering music, its dark reality in the snowy cotton fields before the war—

its loves and its passions, its glories and its hatreds, and every citizen of the republic should see it and realize thereby what Lincoln's deeds and American history truly and really mean.A nation may have been conceived with Washington's triumph—but it was born out of the better understanding between the north and the south, which only came after long heartaches and struggles.To be seen at the Crystal Theater

PLAYS AT THE LYRIC
TODAY-TOMORROWIt takes courage for a youthful clergyman to face an outraged congregation, knowing that the larger part of its resentment arises from disappointment and jealousy. Louise Huff, the delightful actress, whose clever work in the Famous Players adaptation of Denham Thompson's celebrated "The Old Homestead," won her a host of admirers, is the unconscious motive for this green-eyed demonstration on the part of the part of the ladies in "Destiny's Toy," in which this exquisite little player makes her first appearance on the screen since becoming a permanent member of the Famous Player forces."Destiny's Toy" was written and directed by John B. O'Brien. For the exquisite episode which precedes the incident already described, the players were taken to picturesque Block Island, where they spent many days in the most typically "salt water" atmosphere to be found along the Atlantic coast. Here occurs much that is charming and not a little that is pathetic, for little Nan Carter, the daughter of a wealthy American, is washed ashore after losing her mother in a shipwreck. Her father is told that both of his dear ones are lost, and he becomes a practical recluse in his magnificent home.Meanwhile little Nan is found by Joe Martin, a kindly fisherman, who takes her to his cabin and brings the child up with as tender care as if she were his own daughter. Many are the difficulties which these two face, for Joe is as poor as the proverbial fisherman, but they are extremely happy in their love for each other until he dies suddenly, leaving Nan alone in the world. Through force of circumstances, this innocent young girl becomes a member of a gang of crooks who unwittingly send her to rob her own father's house.In addition to the drama, Maestas Costello and Ethel Grandin will be seen in "The Crimson Stain Mystery," which is one of the most powerful and interesting stories ever screened.

Norma Talmadge is starred in a play others in which she has appeared, and in a part which is both unique and interesting.She is seen as a beautiful young woman who has to earn her living and is annoyed by the unwelcome attentions of every man for whom she works. After having left half a dozen positions because of this persistent persecution, she answers the advertisement of a woman of wealth who wants a social secretary.Before doing so she disguises herself in such a way that no one would suspect her of being beautiful. She pulls her hair straight back, puts on heavy rimmed round glasses, paints

some ugly lines into her face and tops off the general effect with a surprisingly ugly bonnet and dress. She gets the job and finds in the household where she is employed a son and a daughter, the former a victim of bad habits, the latter about to sell herself to a very poor specimen of foreign nobility for his somewhat tarnished title.The young man returning late one night catches the secretary without her disguise and promptly falls in love with her. Then there are many complications and adventures, in which the girl sacrifices her own reputation to save that of the daughter of the house, but eventually succeeds in saving both the daughter and the son from their respective follies, while clearing her own name in the bargain.
Also, she finds a husband in the person of the reclaimed youth.Miss Talmadge has a role which gives her excellent opportunities, and she makes the most of them. A spectacularly engaged cast includes Gladden James, Kate Lester, Helen Weir, Eric von Stroheim and Herbert French.

LIBRARY SECTION
NAMES MISS COLE
FOR PRESIDENT

Legislature to Be Asked to Provide Special Tax Levy to Furnish Funds for Needed Educational Accessories.

Santa Fe, Nov. 29.—The library section of the educational association, which met in annual session at the Old Palace this forenoon, elected Miss Myrtle Cole, of Batem, to be president; Mrs. Willa Skidwith, of Roswell, vice president; Miss French, of State college secretary; Miss Louise Henderson, of the Silver City Normal school, a member of the educational council for three years; Miss Pastine Madden of Albuquerque, for two years; and Miss Lola C. Armijo, of Santa Fe, for one year.

The section will ask the legislature to pass a statute authorizing communities to levy an ample tax for the maintenance of public libraries. The employment of trained librarians by the state educational institutions will also be urged, especially in the normal schools, it being advocated that every teacher should receive library instruction.

As Miss Cole, the presiding officer, put it: "A trained librarian can make more of a library with two books than the untrained librarian can with two thousand."

This section meeting, next to that of the Association for the Advancement of Science, was the most interesting of the convention even though it was quite informal. Miss Cole presided and the attendance was good. The papers read were brief and snappy and the discussions that followed were spirited and to the point.

This section meeting, next to the Association for the Advancement of Science, was the most interesting of the convention, even though it was quite informal. Miss Cole presided and the attendance was good. The papers read were brief and snappy and the discussions that followed were spirited and to the point.

Miss Henderson, of Silver City, read a paper treating of libraries from the standpoint of a teacher of English. However, Miss Henderson also pointed out the usefulness of libraries to every element in the community, and the intensely practical service that books in the hands of a skilled librarian may render to the worker in every field of activity.

Point Made by White.
Superintendent of Public Instruction Alvan N. White spoke of the importance of the library section. While he advocates the consolidation of sections, such as those of county institutions and of county superintendents, the work of the libraries—the people's universities—is so important and far-reaching that it is properly given sole consideration by a section of the Educational association. Mr. White dwelt upon the necessity of library training for public school teachers. He cited the incident of a New Mexico community in which the teacher arranged for an entertainment to raise funds for a public library. The entertainment was successful and an unexpectedly large sum was realized.

The teacher entrusted with the purchase of books was persuaded to buy an old Chambers' encyclopedia, more than twenty years old for the sum in her hands. Yet, even an ancient encyclopedia for public use is better than no library facilities at all.

Encourage Santa Fe Women.
Mrs. A. B. Tenenbaum, president of the Santa Fe Women's Board of Trade, read a paper on "Practical Means of Providing Funds for Libraries." She told most interestingly of the founding and work of the Woman's Board of Trade, which with contributions from Andrew Carnegie, built a beautiful library and has maintained it without assistance from any public source for years.

The early struggles were described. There were days when the fifteen original members of the board would scrub the wood and coal for the fires and take turns in serving tree of compensation.

First Children's Reading Room.
Mrs. Rupert F. Asplund, one of the founders of the library section, recalled that the Woman's Board of Trade at Santa Fe was the first organization in the state that provided a reading room for the children. It is still one of the most attractive children's reading rooms in the southwest.

Mrs. Josie Lockard of Batem spoke of libraries from the point of view of the county superintendents. She is most enthusiastic over library extension and advocates a central library plan from which the rural schools can even the remotest communities can be supplied with reading matter of the right kind. The help to the teacher would be invaluable.

Mrs. Van Horn of the Normal university made a plea for trained librarians for the state educational institutions. In this connection, Mrs. Asplund told of the University of New Mexico library twelve years ago and what a great transformation has been wrought since then.

Practical Demonstration.
Mrs. Harry L. Wilson, librarian of the School of American Archaeology, gave a practical demonstration and practical talk on the use of a reference and science library, such as that in the Museum of New Mexico.

THE COLBY CASE

Defense Begins Introduction of Evidence in Trial of Woman Accused of Killing Montana Politician.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE
Thompson Falls, Mont., Nov. 29.—In the trial of Miss Edith Colby, a newspaper reporter, accused of murder in the first degree for killing J. Thomas, a Montana politician, last September 23 last, the state introduced all its evidence today and the defense had begun the introduction of testimony when court adjourned over the Thanksgiving holiday.

The facts of the shooting introduced by the state were not denied by the defense.

Attorney John F. Sullivan, in his opening statement for the defense, said Miss Colby had suffered extreme mental anguish because of heart-trouble upon her by Thomas, and that in a fit of insanity, partly hereditary and induced by mental suffering, had shot Thomas as the result of an "irresistible impulse."

The first witness called by the defense was Miss Colby's aged mother, Mrs. Jane F. Goodwin of Woonsocket, Mass., who testified to indications of hereditary insanity and told of events in her daughter's life tending to cause mental derangement.

Miss Opal Harris, a printer, employed on the newspaper on which Miss Colby worked, testified for the prosecution concerning Miss Colby's actions when she returned to the office after the meeting with Thomas, when he is alleged to have called her a "red light woman."

GERARD CONFERS

Ambassador to Germany Discusses Important Matters With President Prior to Leaving for His Berlin Post.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE
Washington, Nov. 29.—Ambassador Gerard conferred with President Wilson late today and received final instructions on views to be presented to the German government regarding the resumption of relations and submarine warfare.

No further communications have been given the ambassador, but Mr. Wilson outlined to him fully the attitude of the American government toward pending issues. The president is understood to have emphasized the unfavorable impression created here by Germany's treatment of the Belgians and to have reiterated that the United States had said its last word on submarine warfare and expected Germany to live up to her pledges.

After spending an hour with the president, Mr. Gerard left for New York. He plans to sail for Berlin on December 5, of his private business permits. During the day the ambassador went to the state department for a final conference with Secretary Lansing, and also talked with Secretary Taft and other officials. While Mr. Gerard would not discuss the conference for publication he is said to have informed the president that Germany undoubtedly is ready for peace on terms satisfactory to her. Whether the ambassador will have a conference in New York with Colonel E. M. House before leaving for Berlin, was undecided when he left here.

DANIELS AWARDS
CONTRACTS FOR
NAVAL VESSELS

$65,000,000 Worth of Fighting Ships Included in Transaction; House Committee at Work on 1918 Bill.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE
Washington, Nov. 29.—Secretary Daniels awarded contracts today for more than $65,000,000 worth of new fighting ships for the navy, including four battleships at $11,000,000 each, two fleet submarines at approximately $1,100,000 each, and 27 coast submarines at from $451,000 to $685,000 each.

These vessels comprise the bulk of the great building program of craft of various types appropriated for by the last session of congress. This for four little cruisers will be received December 6, and for three scout cruisers on January 3, with the hope of completing the task of getting all the ships under contract within the six months limit set by congress.

Already the house naval committee is at work on the 1918 bill, and early in the spring the department must find building facilities for at least three more battleships, one battle cruiser, and a proportionate number of other craft remaining on the three year construction program. The bill to be put through this winter for the navy will carry a total of nearly four million dollars.

Secretary Daniels announced that the contracting companies has agreed to the department's specifications, calling for turbo-electric propulsion. It was this point which delayed the awards.

M'DANIEL TELLS
STORY OF EVENTS
ON FATAL NIGHT

Missouri Prosecutor Charged With Wife Murder Takes Stand in Own Behalf; Protests Innocence of Crime.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE
St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 29.—Prosecutor Oscar D. McDaniel took the witness stand at his trial in the criminal court here today to defend himself of the charge of having murdered Mrs. Harriet Moss McDaniel, his wife.

The accused man followed his father and two sisters, all of whom had testified that he and his wife had been happily married.

McDaniel spoke briefly of his early life and then traced his movements the night of the murder, declaring he left home about 7:45 o'clock and returned home about 11 o'clock.

As he was about to retire, he said, he received a telephone message saying that his brother was in trouble, so he dressed again and went to several saloons in a vain effort to find him.

Returns to His Home.
After that he returned in his automobile to his home.

"I should judge it was 12 o'clock or a little later when I got home," he said. "I drove his car up to his garage."

"As I got out a shot rang out from under a tree to the southeast," he went on. "I dropped down behind the hood and returned the fire."

After emptying his pistol he heard footsteps through weeds, he said, and entered the house to obtain another revolver.

"What did you see and hear in the house?" he was asked.

"I heard a gurgling sound as I ran upstairs," he answered. "I went into my wife's room and found her in a pool of blood, dying."

BACKACHE

(By L. H. Smith, M. D.)

Is quite of the best care one takes of oneself, any part of the human machine is liable to become out of order. The most important organs are the stomach, heart and kidneys.

The kidneys are the scavengers and they work day and night in separating the poisons from the blood. Their signs of distress are easily recognized and include such symptoms as backache, depression, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic twinges, dropsy, gout.

The very best way to restore the kidneys to their normal state is to drink plenty of pure water and obtain a small amount of Anuric, which is prepared by most every druggist. Anuric is inexpensive and should be taken before meals. It is much more potent than lithia and many find that Anuric removes uric acid as water does sugar.

People are realizing more and more every day that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminatory organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood.

Under this continual and perpetual strain they are apt to congest, and then uric acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuritis, dropsy and many other serious ailments. It means that you are a victim to uric acid poisoning. Then ask your druggist for Anuric, which was discovered by Dr. Pierce of the Medical Institute in Buffalo, and which is dispensed by nearly every druggist in the land.

An Eminent Authority Gives Reasons Why Price of Copper Will Soar After Termination of European War

EXCERPTS FROM BULLETIN NO. 37, MINERAL TECHNOLOGICAL SERIES NO. 11, ISSUED BY THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA ON THE SUBJECT OF "COPPER," BY P. E. JOSEPH.

WAR DESTROYS WEALTH.

1. War results in the destruction of wealth, which has to be replenished. History shows that all previous wars have been followed by long periods of great industrial activity.

2. The warring nations have practically exhausted their supply of copper, and are now using copper available in any form for the manufacture of ammunition, which copper is destroyed and lost to the world.

3. The present rate of consumption is considerably in excess of the producing capacity of this country, and at the close of the war not only Europe will be bare of copper, but this country as well.

4. Factories and railroads are now overtaxed with operations to such an extent that the amount of copper needed to rebuild their equipment may be larger than that used in the manufacture of war munitions.

EUROPE TO REGAIN TRADE.

5. European manufacturers of copper and brass products will attempt to regain the foreign trade of which the war is depriving them, as well as to supply their own countries with all the copper and brass goods they use, and in order to do this they will have to buy heavily of the American copper.

6. In all the buying countries of the world, with the exception of those at war, such financial conditions have been created by the war as to restrict their purchases of manufactured goods. The termination of the war will eliminate these abnormal conditions and thus create greater market for the copper and brass products of European manufacturers.

The Chino Del Norte Copper Co. has 30 claims (approximately 600 acres) in the Santa Rita-Fierro District, one of the most highly mineralized districts on earth. Adjoining and in close proximity to property of Chino Copper Co., United States Copper Co., Hanover-Bessemer Co., Colorado Fuel & Iron Co., Empire Zinc Co., Phelps-Dodge Co., and Hermosa Copper Co. (General Electric Co.)

Engineer's report shows that commercial ore can be developed in several places within ninety days, exploitation work was started November 20th, development work will be promptly prosecuted. Drills and hoisting machinery will be installed as soon as they can be delivered on the ground. Our property lies within easy access of the railroad and the transportation facilities are excellent, reducing our cost of production and delivery to a minimum.

Engineer's Preliminary Report

Mr. H. E. Trowbridge,
702 Two Republics Bldg., El Paso, Tex.

Hanover, N. M., Nov. 28th, 1916.

Dear Sir:—Pursuant to your request I have spent several days in going over the various properties taken over by your syndicate, the Chino Del Norte Company, and as I previously stated to you from my knowledge of the property I am firmly convinced that most of the territory is possessed of unusual mineral fertility, and will beyond question develop a mine excelled by nothing in this locality, with the possible exception of the Chino Copper Company.

A number of the claims have been considerably developed by hand operations, and only for the presence of water which precluded their continued operation by this method their former owners would now have them in the dividend paying class, thereby precluding the possibility of yourself and associates obtaining these claims. The question of handling this water is only a simple matter and only requires the installation of machinery, with which operations and development can be prosecuted with greater dispatch.

Several of your claims are at present deserving of special mention: The "Mockley" claim, upon which a tunnel was driven for a distance of about two hundred feet encountered a vein of good shipping ore. The indications were, however, that better values were obtainable at depth, whereupon a winze was sent down to a depth of ninety feet where the vein had increased from one foot to eight feet at the bottom, with proportionate better values as depth was obtained; work being discontinued on account of encountering water. Upon the "Rattler" claim, nearby, a shipment of ore was taken out which gave assay returns of 45 per cent copper per ton. Several other shipments have also been taken from this claim and even at the then low price of copper netted handsome returns to its owner. Water here also prevented further operations. Another claim, known as the "Quartzite," adjoining the famous Hanover Mine, is conceded by all familiar with the locality to be equally as good as the stope from which more than $300,000 worth of ore was taken on the Hanover which was mined nearly to its boundaries and undoubtedly continued through your "Quartzite" claim and perhaps several others. Your "Copper Key" group though only slightly developed gives promise of developing equally as good.

I advise the immediate installation of a mining hoist and also of a small pumping plant to clean out the various workings preparatory to marketing ore.

Trusting this cursory statement will serve your present needs, I am,

Yours very truly,

G. E. COXE, E. M.
