LABORI PRESENT.

Leading Counsel in Dreyfus Case
Attend Court.

Greeted With a Roar of Applause as He Enters.

Evidence in the Celebrated Case To-day
Not Sensational.

MYSTERIOUS PACKAGES SENT LABORI.

Rennes, Aug. 22.—Maurice Labori, who was murdered on August 14, was in the court room this morning to attend the trial by jury of Captain Dreyfus, charged with treason. To hundreds of inquiring friends he said: "I am getting on well." As Labori, accompanied by Mrs. Labori and his physician, entered the court room the audience greeted him by standing up. There was a roar of applause accompanied by the clapping of hands. Colonel Jouhaux read an address to Labori, his tone being quite sympathetic. He delivered a reply. The effort considerably fatigued him.

The first witness to-day was M. Grenier, former prefect of Belfort. His testimony was favorable to Dreyfus and hostile to Katerbach.

A former secretary of the war office, named Ferret, next testified to seeing Dreyfus crying into the other officer's face during the absence. The prisoner replied excitedly that Ferret's statements were concoctions of the former minister of war, which caused a sensation.

Major Rollin, of the intelligence department, was asked by Labori, during the former's testimony, how a certain document of a later date than Merle's document came into Merle's possession. Major Rollin said it was not his business to explain. Labori asked Colonel Jouhaux to request General Merle to explain. The general declined to answer. Major Carrière, government commissary, supported him on the ground that an examination entering upon a matter which ought not to be in the interest of the country should be discussed publicly. Labori declared in a loud voice that he would reserve to himself the right to take the necessary measures to obtain the desired information. Major Rollin had remarked that all the prisoner's papers were seized when his rooms were searched in 1894 and Colonel Jouhaux said that certain papers from his text book on the school of war were found missing. To this the prisoner replied: "Not in 1894, my Colonel. This case a sensation as the obvious interpretation was that the papers were torn out at the war office and the fact used against him as an insinuation that he communicated the missing pages to foreign agents."

The next witness, Lieut. Col. Bertin, head of the Dreyfus office in 1894, showed himself a most virulent enemy of the prisoner. Some of his remarks were particularly declarations that he was convinced of Dreyfus' guilt by Bertillon's chart, and his introduction of Katerbach's statements against Dreyfus elicited general smiles.

After hearing the deposition of M. Grenier and a number of minor officers, who did not give any interesting evidence, the court adjourned for the day at 10:45.

MYSTERIOUS PACKAGES.

Rennes, Aug. 22.—Labori last evening received two mysterious parcels, believed to be infernal machines. Police are examining them.

Paris, Aug. 22.—A Rennes correspondent for a Paris newspaper telegraphs that the infernal machine sent Labori has been opened in the military laboratory at that place and found to be filled with gunpowder.

GRAND OPERA.

Lambardi Italian Grand Opera Company Here.

Will Appear at New Opera House
To-morrow Night.

Proceedings of the Meeting of the City Council Last Night.

MORE CEMENT SIDEWALKS.

Last evening, direct from successes in San Francisco and Los Angeles, the Lambardi Italian Grand Opera Company arrived over the Santa Fe railroad. The company number some sixty-four people and filled two cars besides carrying a special car of scenery, costumes and properties. Under a contract with Head, who was connected with the new opera house, the Lambardi company was expected to open the new opera house this evening with "Il Trovatore." However, under existing circumstances, it is yet undecided whether the company will appear in this city or not. Many of the citizens have expressed a desire that some arrangements can be perfected by which one or two evenings of opera can be given in the new house. Scenery can be improvised and these famous song birds, who charmed the music lovers of the City of Mexico over twenty weeks, would certainly play to crowded houses in this city. It is years since grand opera was given here and with a company of the magnitude of the Lambardis it will be years before the opportunity will again be presented. Verdi's immortal favorite, "Il Trovatore," should be one of the bills, if two are given, and we might suggest the Bellini masterpiece, "Norma," for a second bill. Of the recent successes in Los Angeles the musical critic of the Sunday World, the recognized musical journal of southern California, says the following:

"These people of Los Angeles who care for grand opera have been highly entertained during the week at the Los Angeles theater by a company that are so great an aggregation of superlative talent as to have been heard before or dreamed of in this city, and that have attended regularly, have had an opportunity of comparing the compositions of Gounod, Donizetti, Verdi, Maccozzi and others. Of these, especially Verdi, are favorites with Americans, even with those who love high lyric dramatics. The difference between a sharp and a flat Trovatore with the marvelous of everlasting musical cavalcades and duets; Rigoletto, with its highly dramatic argument and captivating concerted parts, and Krnan, with its bewitching melodies, give place in the place in the hearts of American opera goers and music lovers generally that will ever remain fresh and warm. There is also much in Donizetti that makes him a favorite for all time, even if he had written only the music for Lucia, Gounod will never fall from his great height as the composer of those marvelous arias that could fit no other man but the matchless melodramatic creation of Goethe, while the intermezzo from Cavalleria Rusticana will lengthen the fame of its composer into ages."

"These musical children of Italy, sing for the very love of singing. They open their mouths and the musical vowels issue forth at all times and rounder than makes the heart glad and the ear rejoice. For the greater part, the principals illustrate the best Italian method of voice placing, and it was certainly refreshing to hear a complete opera without the perpetuation of the ghastly warbles which marred so much of the otherwise good work of some of the members of the Del Conte troupe last year. As to principals, the Lambardis is, on the whole, better than the Del Conte."

"Bianca, Barducci, whose 'Santuzza' was the most brilliant performance of the role ever seen and heard here. Senorina Barducci is an article of pronounced talent. She is a soprano, whose ideas of dramatic relationship are most clearly applied and her 'Santuzza' was a most telling impersonation."

"The company is not like the one that supported Melba, in having such second, but is made up of singers of such merit and artistic attributes that these will render them popular in other sections of the country."

"The old-fashioned Italian opera could not be given better than has been done by these singers, and it is this lyric work that, not having felt the influence of Wagner, are appreciated by the class which love a sweet melody for its own sake."

It is to be sincerely hoped that the management of the Lambardis can be prevailed to present some of these bills here even if the question of scenery in the new theatre is not of the best—as it is music that is desired in grand opera and the scenic effects are but secondary consideration. THE CITIZEN will announce to-morrow any news concerning the movements of this talented organization. The prices will be the same as at the Broadway theatre where they open the fall and winter season—if they play here.

WILL APPEAR HERE.

Since the above has been placed in type we are informed by the management that it is the desire of all interested in the welfare of Albuquerque and the new opera house, to hear the Lambardi company, and arrangements have been made to allow them to use the New Albuquerque opera house for two performances, Wednesday evening presenting Verdi's immortal favorite, "Il Trovatore," and Thursday evening Verdi's famous tragic opera, "Rigoletto," presenting two of the strongest casts from the ranks of the Lambardi singers. Full particulars will be given in to-morrow's issue. The reserved seats are on sale at the store of O. A. Mason and are the same prices as at the Broadway theater, Denver, and on the Pacific coast, 50 and 75 cents, $1 and $1.50; boxes, $2. The company is complete in every detail and a splendid performance is assured.

This engagement has nothing to do with the formal opening of the house which will occur later.

NEWS FROM MANILA.

Filipinos Retain More Fighting
Spirit than Expected.

Recent Defeats Don't Seem to Have Discouraged Them.

In Recent Battles Several Americans
Were Killed.

FILIPINO LOSSES ARE HEAVY.

Manila, Aug. 19, via Hong Kong.—The Filipino rebels appear to retain much more fighting spirit than might be expected after their recent San Fernando experiences, and General Lawton's drubbing in the south. After giving up San Fernando with but a feeble struggle they entrenched themselves at Angeles, impressing non-combatants into work, thus saving the armed men for the fighting. They engaged Lieut. Colonel Smith's regiment and artillery warmly for four hours, making one of the most stubborn resistances of the campaign. But the Americans are indebted to the usual poor marksmanship of the Filipinos as well as their own strategy for the small losses.

In Cavite, where it was supposed that the rebels had been demoralized beyond recuperation, they assembled an army of several thousand men, and distributed them among the important towns from the lake to the bay.

After the San Fernando engagement the rebels attempted to deter Americans from a further advance to the northward by menacing railroad communication.

Several hundred of General Pio Del Pilar's men crossed the Rio Grande, between American outpost towns, and threatened Baling, Quingut and other places with small American garrisons, while during Sunday and Monday night smaller bands tried to tear up the railroad tracks at several points between Baling and Malolos. Reinforcements of American troops, however, were sent along the railroad from Manila to San Fernando, while the forces at Baling and Quingut called out against General Pio Del Pilar's men and the rebels were easily driven away.

In brushes between the Filipinos and the Americans during the three days, the Americans lost several men. The Filipinos loss was heavy. Of these operations the Associated Press correspondent was permitted to send only an inadequate dispatch dictated verbatim by General Otis.

Hundreds of people came into Manila daily who return to the rebel lines with food and other commodities.

The American troops have been withdrawn from all that part of the country which was half cleared of the rebels in the expedition of the Americans in June last. The rebels have returned to San Mateo, which was abandoned for the third time after the recent capture.

It is alleged that more than half of the Howitzer ammunition used during the fight at Angeles failed to explode.

Fred. O. Whitman, formerly of this city, now connected with the Roswell Land & Water company, will soon be united in marriage to Miss Marian Leand, daughter of Judge Leand. The ceremony will be performed at the prospective bride's home, Mrs. Anna Fulton, of Maryville, Kansas. In advance, THE CITIZEN extends congratulations to the young couple.

George Cornell, of Brooklyn, N. Y., arrived in the city last night on a visit to his sister, Miss Grace Cornell, the efficient stenographer and typewriter at the local office of the New York Life Insurance company.

Miss Ethel Johnston, daughter of Samuel Johnston, of Williams, Arizona, has arrived to attend school here during the winter. Mrs. Hill of north 80th street is a grand-mother of the young lady.

Wallace Francis Baker, son of Paymaster Baker of the United States army and formerly of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Helen Rowley, in St. Louis, on August 16.

Rev. Frank H. Allen and family, who have been spending their vacation at Long Beach, Cal., are expected home in a few days.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The City Solons in Regular Meeting Last Night.

When Mayor Marron called the board of aldermen to order last night, the following members answered to the roll of call: Aldermen Neundt, Kieke, Hopping, Tierney, Rogers, Burkhardt and McKee.

A number of bills were read and referred to the proper committees. Attorney K. V. Chavez was present and advocated, in a very appropriate way, the repeal by the council of the "Anti-Burner" ordinance, a petition of signatures having been submitted and read asking that the ordinance be repealed. The petition was referred to the police committee.

Property owners, on east Railroad avenue and west Walter street, on the Highlands, are desirous of putting down cement sidewalks, and petitioned the council requiring property owners from the southeast corner of Railroad avenue First street to the southwest corner of Railroad avenue and Walter street, and thence to northwest corner of Walter street and Gold avenue, to do likewise, was read and granted.

The council ordered a board sidewalk built on the north side of west Silver avenue, between Third and Fourth streets.

The purchase of a thousand feet of hose, per recommendation of the fire committee, was laid over until next meeting, while the report of the city marshal was referred to the police committee.

W. W. Strong submitted the following bid for the erection of a new house, which was accepted: "I propose to furnish all labor and materials (excepting front doors), for the erection and completion of a corrugated iron and wood house 22x40 feet, as per plans and specifications prepared by Pitt Rose, city engineer, for the sum of two hundred and forty-eight ($248) dollars."

The caterpillars will be handled by the grievance committee, Marshal McMillin being instructed to notify property owners who have trees to immediately burn the nests of the pests.

City Attorney Moore was authorized by the board to prepare an ordinance prohibiting companies using poles and wires from mutilating trees.

The following resolution was introduced, read and adopted:

Whereas, the owner of lot No. 1, of the Baea and Trimbale addition claims title to a portion of the street known as Tijeras road, as now constituted, and Whereas, the city council has directed said owner to build a sidewalk on Second street abutting said lot 1, and Whereas, the said owner is about to build said sidewalk beyond the limits of said lot 1, as now constituted, and Whereas, it is desired by the city to investigate the title of said owner to said portion of said street claimed by him and the title of the city therein; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the mayor is hereby directed to enter into an agreement on behalf of the city with the said owner of said lot 1, S. Aubright, that in consideration of the said S. Aubright not extending his sidewalk beyond the intersection of said lot 1 and Tijeras road as now constituted and claimed by the city, that the said owner, S. Aubright, by such concession shall not waive any right that he may have to said disputed property and shall not in the future be stopped from claiming and establishing any right or title to said property which he may have.

The council then adjourned.

Advance Sale

Of Blankets...

Blankets are not fully appreciated until cold weather, but values in blankets can be judged and appreciated at any time. This is an opportunity to buy winter goods at summer prices. It is no matter how we secured them, sufficient for buyers to know that our blanket prices are from 25 to 40 per cent lower than December rates will surely be, with the general market steadily moving. We mention a few blankets at equally low prices:

11x14 Blankets, tan or white, worth $1.50....$1.00

10x14 Blankets, all wool, grey, worth $1.00....3 25

10x17 Blankets, all wool, white, worth $1.25....4 25

The Proof of the Pudding

Is in eating it, and the proof of our high-grade and delicious canned goods, in glass or tin, is in testing them. The dainty palate revels in our fresh canned fruits, vegetables, potted and tinned meats, deviled crabs and canned salmon, oysters and lobsters. Our superior foods are replete in warm weather, when ordinary victuals fail to tempt the appetite.
