FRIENDSHIP FOR U.S. PROVIDED HE

Outlaw Would Again Become

Government, He Sends Word to Border.

WOULD AGREE NOT TO MURDER FOREIGNERS

Said to Have 8,000 Men, Several Cannon and Considerable Supplies of Ammunition at Command.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) El Paso, Tex., Dec. 15.—A Mexican reached the border today from Villa's camp at Creel, fifty miles west of Chihuahua, with proposals for the United States government that Villa would refrain from the further destruction of foreign life and property in Mexico on condition that the United States would not interfere in any way with his campaign against the Carranza government.

This was officially announced late today by a high representative of the government here after Villa's proposal had been forwarded to Washington by telegraph. Villa even offered to protect all foreigners and their property from the raids of irresponsible bandits. It was also stated. This proposal included all Americans in Mexico, it was added.

Villa has 8,000 Men.
At the camp where Villa had left his wounded in the Guerrero district, believed to be Guerrero town, a number of Carranza wounded were also being treated by Villa's surgeons after they had promised to John the army, the Mexican report to government agents stated. Villa had 8,000 well-armed men and 3,000 rifles
in reserve, the Mexican courier reported, and also a number of artillery pieces with him and a good supply of shells for these pieces.

From sources here known to be friendly to Villa, it was learned today that Villa was anxious to put himself in a better light with the United States government and this was said to account for the fact that no Americans or other foreigners other than Chihuahuas and Arabs were killed in Chihuahua during the five days Villa was in control. The local Villa partisans say Villa had plenty of time in which to hunt down and kill all the Americans in Chihuahua City had he wished.

Would Be "Pet Bandit" Again.
Villa, his friends here say, has realized that he could never win his campaign against Carranza with the United States opposing him actively, and they say he is willing to give guarantees to Americans and other foreigners in the zone of his operations if he is permitted to continue his campaign against the de facto government unmolested. These Villa partisans say Howard Gray was killed at Parral because he had taken an active part in the political affairs around Parral, and had even organized a small military force there, they claim.

Gen. Luis Herrera has returned from Tepic, Durango, to the Parral district of Chihuahua, according to information received by the Alvarado Mining and Milling company today. General Herrera left Parral on November 9, when Villa started his advance from Jimenez to that mining camp.

Reports received here by military authorities today from western Chihuahua said Villa was preparing to advance on Santa Rosalia, Parral and Jimenez, after which he would recapture Chihuahua City and take Torreon.

NO CONSIDERATION TO BE GIVEN PROPOSAL

Washington, Dec. 15.—Any suggestion of an agreement between the American government and Villa is unworthy of consideration. No official report of Villa's alleged proposal that an agreement under the terms of which he would cease killing Americans and order stopped the destruction of American property had reached the state department tonight and some doubt was expressed that he had made such overtures.

TO HOLD HEARINGS ON UNIVERSAL SERVICE

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 15.—While Adjutant General McCain was telling the house military committee today of the efforts necessary to get recruits for the army under the volunteer system, the senate committee authorized public hearings to begin Monday on the subject of universal military training and service.

The specific business before the senate committee will be the Chamberlain bill for universal military training. Invitations to present their views will be sent to prominent men among the advocates and opponents of a universal training system.

General McCain told the committee that on October 31 the enlisted strength was 13,500,000, 19,000 less than authorized. General McCain said he believed the army would be filled up completely by July 1 and that it would be possible also to recruit the 1918 increase provided by the national defense act.

Recruiting last year was the most difficult in the experience of the war department, General McCain said, "because of high wages outside. The recruiting service is just reaching its maximum efficiency. We are working in every county in the United States."

TO APPROVE SELECTION OF LABORATORY SITE

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 15.—Formal approval of the selection at Annapolis of the site for the $1,500,000 naval laboratory as recommended by a subcommittee of the civilian advisory board will be made by Secretary Daniels within the next few days.

The committee's report for which the secretary has been awaiting was received today and dismissed doubt of a division over the selection. Only one member, it is understood, was opposed at Annapolis.

Killed in Business Quarrel.
Seattle, Wash., Dec. 15.—Alexander Miller, Seattle real estate dealer, was shot and instantly killed by H. M.
Stokes, formerly of Tucson, Ariz.
Stokes surrendered to the police asserting Miller tried to give him the worst of it in a deal. Stokes, formerly a partner in the Miller-Stokes real estate firm, told the police he had sold the state rights of a patent for indexing telephone directories to Miller, who had agreed to pay him $100 a month royalty. Miller refused to keep his agreement, he said, and they quarreled in Miller's office.

John P. White Is Re-elected.
Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 15.—President John P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, stated tonight that unofficial reports that he had been elected to government agents stated. Villa had 8,000
well-armed men and 3,000 rifles
in reserve, the Mexican courier reported,
and also a number of artillery
pieces with him and a good supply
of shells for these pieces.

From sources here known to be

CROP VALUES IN

Farmers Realize Billion and Three-quarters More Than Last Year, Though Yield Is Much Less.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 15.—All records for value of the country's important farm crops were exceeded this year, despite the smaller size of the crops.

Wheat, the largest crop, was worth $1,521,000, or $82,482,000 over the year before, when the production was almost 400,000,000 bushels more.
Hay was worth, with a value of $1,098,894,000, an increase of $45-250,000.

Compared with last year's values, other crops showed in the following increases: Oats, $96,673,000; potatoes, $45-071,000; tobacco, $72,727,000; barley, $41,862,000; rye, $12,774,000; buckwheat, $1,521,000; flax seed, $13,940-showed a decrease of 60,000,000 bushels in corn from the November estimate, and 32,000,000 bushels increase in wheat.

A revision of the 1915 estimates of crop production was announced by the department showing the corn production was announced by the department showing the corn crop to have been 2,994,755,000 bushels last year, a reduction of 59,742,000 bushels from previous estimates, and wheat for 1915, was placed at 1,625-801,000 bushels, an increase of 13-926,000 bushels over estimates made last December. The revised figures showed changes in other crops.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) French troops again have made an effective thrust in the Verdun region.
Striking at the German positions between the Meuse and Woivre rivers, north of Douaumont and north and northeast of the fortress, along a front of about six miles, the French forced back the soldiers of the German crown prince for a distance of almost two miles. More than 7,500 prisoners and numerous guns were taken from the Germans, Paris announced.

The German war office admits that "advantages" had been obtained in this region by the attackers.

Germans Capture Buzen.
Buzen, an important railroad center northeast of Bucharest, has been captured by the Austro-Germans. The retreating Russians and Rumanians are reported to be burning villages behind them. Four thousand additional prisoners have been taken by Field Marshal von Mackensen's army.

Simultaneous with the taking of Buzen, the Austro-German Danube army and the Bulgarians have begun an offensive in Dobruja. The Russians have evacuated their positions under the pressure exerted by the advance in Great Wallachia.

British Near Kut-el-Amara.
British troops have taken the offensive near Kut-el-Amara, in Mesopotamia.
Turkish positions on the right bank of the Tigris river, south of Kut-el-Amara, have been taken, London announces.

At one place the British are within two and one-half miles of Kut-el-Amara.

The United States government will not express any feeling of its own when the proffer for peace negotiations from the central powers is transmitted to the entente allies. An announcement was made by the House today that it has not been decided what steps will be taken in the future toward bringing the belligerent powers together in a peace conference. An unofficial report from Petrograd is to the effect that the Russian duma has unanimously passed a resolution against the acceptance of the peace offer.

BRILLIANT SUCCESS BY FRENCH AT VERDUN

Paris, Dec. 15 (via London, Dec. 15).
The French have made an advance today north of Douaumont and between the Meuse and Woivre rivers, captured more than 7,500 prisoners and several heavy guns, according to the French official communication in-sued this evening. The advance was over a front of ten kilometers and to a depth of three kilometers.

The statement says:
"After several days of artillery preparation, we attacked the enemy line north of Douaumont, between the Meuse and the Woivre, on a front of more than ten kilometers. The attack started at 10 o'clock.

"The enemy's front broke down everywhere to a depth of about three kilometers.

"Beside numerous trenches we captured the villages of Vachereauville and Louvemont, the farms of Chanbrettes, and the fortified works of Hardmont and Bessy-Vaux.

"We have taken a great many prisoners, whose exact numbers has not yet been determined. Seven thousand five hundred of them, including 200 officers, already have passed through our commandant's posts.

"We have taken or destroyed numerous pieces of heavy and field artillery, and also a considerable quantity of material.

"Notwithstanding unfavorable weather conditions, our victory took a brilliant part in the fighting. Our success is complete. The troops have given vent to great enthusiasm. Our losses are slight."

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Paris, Dec. 15.—A dispatch to the Havas News agency from its correspondent at Piraeus, Greece, dated yesterday, says:

"The note of the allied powers to the Greek government was handed this afternoon to Foreign Minister Zaf-laciopoulos.

"The document says the recent events in Athens prove that neither King Constantine nor the Greek government has sufficient authority over the Greek army to prevent its becoming an instrument to the peace and security of the allied armies in Macedonia.

"The allies are therefore obliged, it continues, in order to protect themselves against attack, to demand immediate control of the troops and material indicated in an annexed list. These removals begin within twenty-four hours and all movements of troops and war materials towards the north must be stopped, it declares.

"If the government disregards the note, it was informed, its attitude will be considered a hostile act.

"The signatories of the note, it says, have received orders to quit Greece in twenty-four hours with the personnel of the legations. If the terms of the note are not formally accepted, the blockade will be maintained, it is declared, until adequate guarantees for the future have been given."

INDICATIONS ARE THAT

London, Dec. 15.—The ultimatum o'clock today. There are indications that the terms were agreed to but so that the British foreign office has received no news of their acceptance.

MURDEROUS MEXICAN BANDITS IN CUSTODY

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 15.—Angel Garcia and his band of Mexican bandits were captured in the robbery of the Buckeye bank last week in which Charles Miner was shot to death, are in custody of the Mexican military at Sonora, just south of the line, a few miles west of Nogales. They were driven from the line by a posse of Papago Indians. A report of their capture was made to the commander of the Mexican forces in that district.

Commander today told Sheriff Adams that the bandits, who are at Nogales, Sonora, that he had ordered the prisoners brought to his headquarters, where he would determine whether to turn them over to the Arizona authorities, or shoot them. The sheriff replied that either disposition of the men would be satisfactory to him.

Russian Duma Flatly Refuses Germany's Suggestion of Peace

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) London, Dec. 15.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company from Petrograd says:

"The duma has unanimously passed a resolution against the acceptance of the German peace proposals after a spirited speech by the minister of foreign affairs."

"The duma, having heard the statement by the minister of foreign af-airs, unanimously favors a categorical refusal by the allied governments to enter, under present conditions, into peace negotiations whatever."

"It considers that the German proposals are nothing more than fresh proof of the weakness of the enemy, and a hypocritical act from which the enemy expects no real success, but by which it seeks to throw upon others the responsibility of the war and for what happened during it, and to ex-culpate itself before public opinion in Germany."

"The duma considers that a premature peace would not only be a brief period of calm, but involve the danger of another bloody war and a renewal of the deplorable sacrifices by the people. It considers that a lasting peace will be possible only after a decisive victory over the military powers of the enemy, and after definite renunciation by Germany of the annektion which renders her responsible for the world war and for the horrors by which it has been accompanied."

M. Pokrovsky in his speech to the duma said:

"In addressing you immediately upon having been appointed minister of foreign affairs, I am not in a position to give you a detailed statement on the political situation, but I feel constrained to inform you without delay and with the supreme authorization of his imperial majesty, of the attitude of the Russian government toward the suggestion of peace."

Kaiser's Proposition to Allies Likely to Be Forwarded Im-Entente Is Wanted.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 15.—President Wilson has decided that the notes of the central powers proposing a discussion of peace to the entente allies will be sent forward by the American government, acting as intermediary, without any accompanying communication of its own. It has not yet been determined whether any action in half of peace will be taken later by the United States on its own account, but in holding himself ready to serve in any way possible toward bringing the warring nations together, the course to be pursued was made known tonight after the president had conferred with Secretary Lansing and after a prolonged cabinet meeting. It was stated that the delay in forwarding the notes to the entente allies was due to the fact that the necessary translations from German, Austrian, Hungarian and Turkish, identical in substance, differed slightly in phrasol-ogy as a result of different translations. They probably will be put on the cables tomorrow.

Notes Gone Over Carefully.
Since the first note arrived from the German government, the president and his closest advisers have been absorbed in study of the situation created. The Austrian note followed, and the one from Turkey came late today, too late to be translated for the cabinet meeting. Those from Germany and Austria have been gone over carefully by the president and Secretary Lansing, to ascertain certain of their meaning, and so that they may be sure to properly represent the intent of the central powers.

The fact that the cabinet meeting today lasted more than three hours and that the most important of the day's most important attention in official circles and led to all sorts of speculation. It was explained authoritatively later, however, that the meeting was devoted largely to consideration of departmental matters and had been prolonged because it was the first time since the capture of all members had been present.

Wait Entente Intimation.
In other quarters than the White House, it was learned that some word indicating the official attitude of the entente allies toward the peace proposals was awaited with the deepest interest by the American government. The president will not consider injecting the United States into the situation until he is thoroughly familiar with all phases.

Secretary Lansing, explaining the delay in transmitting the communication of the central powers, pointed out that the German note was translated into English by Charge Grew at Berlin and the one from Austria by Ambassador Penfield, at Vienna.

Regarding the application of our enemies, of which you have heard through news telegrams. Offers of peace coming from the side which bears the whole burden of responsibility for the world conflagration, which it started and which is unparalleled in the annals of history, however far back one goes, were no surprise to the allies.

"In the course of the two and one-half years of war Germany has more than once mentioned peace. She spoke of it to her armies and her people each time she entered upon a military operation which was to be decisive. After each military success she put out feelers for a separate peace on one side and another, and conducted a propaganda in the neutral press. All these efforts have met with calm and determined resistance by the allied powers.

"Seeing now that she is powerless to make a breach in our unshakable alliance, Germany makes an official proposal to open peace negotiations. In substances, the German proposal contains no tangible suggestion, regarding the nature of the peace which is desired by the enemy armies which devastated and occupied Belgium, Serbia and Montenegro, and part of France, Russia and Rumania."

"The Russian government repudiates with indignation the mere idea of suspending the struggle, thereby permitting Germany to take advantage of the last chance she will have of subjecting Europe to her hegemony. The innumerable sacrifices already made were in vain, if premature peace were concluded with an enemy whose forces have been shaken but not broken and an enemy who is seeking a breathing space by making deceitful offers of a permanent peace."

"In this inflexible decision, Russia is in complete agreement with all her valiant allies. We are all equally convinced of the vital necessity of carrying the war to a victorious end and no interference by our enemies will prevent us from following this path to the end."

while the Turkish note came to the state department in French. As the communications were intended to be identical, the state department does not desire to transmit three different versions, and when all three are in hand tomorrow a plan to avoid this will be determined upon.

Three Separate Notes.
In England, France and Japan this government represents all three Tentative countries and will, therefore, deliver three separate notes. In Russia and Serbia, the United States represents Austria and Germany and will have to send on two separate notes. Only to Belgium, where Austria is represented, and to Rumania, where Germany is represented, will it be possible to send only one note.

To avoid duplication on cables by sending several copies of the same note to the same country, and also to insure one official version for all three notes entrusted to this government, it is possible that a careful translation will be made at the department and compared with the texts as arriving here. Even this involves a certain amount of interpretation in translation and some officials think it would be safer to direct the three American ambassadors in Berlin, Vienna and Constantinople, to send on the texts handed them by the respective foreign offices for transmission in the original form to the countries named.

Switzerland's Action Noted.
Switzerland's action in handing the German note to Italy without comment, as announced in the Italian parliament by Foreign Minister Sonnio, was noted here with interest.
Definite indication of the attitude of the entente allies is expected in the speech of David Lloyd-George, the British prime minister, next Tuesday.

Meantime, the authorized statement of the Austrian embassy here that partial disarmament will be one of the subjects taken up at any peace conference, is being discussed generally in official and diplomatic circles, with speculation as to how far in this Germany might be willing to go.

American diplomacy in the various questions relating to the war may be said to have stepped short, temporarily, with the announcement of the tentative offer to talk peace. Temporarily out of mind are the submarine issue, which again had reached an aggravated state with the completion of evidence that the steamers Marina and Archimedes were being used for the purpose of attacking the safety of those on board, and the Belgian deportation, as to which Germany has just replied in a note believed to be unsatisfactory to the state department. All the pending questions with England are also dormant.

Peace has been given the right of way at the department, and it has been physically impossible for officials already overworked with work, to give immediate attention to other business waiting on their desks.

Heavy Fighting Is in Progress on Western Front, With Teutons Holding Ground Except on Meuse.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Berlin, Dec. 15 (by Wireless to Star-line).—Today's army headquarters statement says:
"On the western front: North of the railway from Zolchoff to Tarnopol German troops entered Russian trenches and brought back ninety prisoners."

"Macedonian front: Partial advances near Pindus and at Gradchinita and on both sides of the eastern Cerna resulted only in the enemy losses. There have been no skirmishes on the lowlands of the Struma."

Western front: On the west bank of the Meuse the French tried three times in vain to regain by attacks the trenches in hill 204, southeast of Mahaurourt, captured by us a short time ago.

East of the river, after strong artillery preparations extending far into the terrain behind the lines they repeatedly launched attacks. The advance of the storming waves fell on Pepper Ridge, under our defensive fire. The attack on the south slope before Fort Hardmont was unable to be developed under our destructive fire.

"On the Somme there has been little fighting activity.

"On the east bank of the Meuse since the morning strong attacks by the French have been in progress in which the enemy obtained advantages in the direction of Louvemont and Hardmont. The fighting has not yet been terminated."

"Our Belgian army is pursuing the enemy, who, under the influence of our advance in great Wallachia, last night evacuated his positions on the Macedonian frontier there is calm."

PIES FOR SOLDIERS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
El Paso, Tex., Dec. 15.—The plan of the chamber of commerce to furnish the troops encamped here with cakes and pies baked by the housewives of El Paso on Christmas day, was called off today at the request of the army itself, which, through its officers, assured the citizens that the soldiers will be amply supplied with all the staples and trimmings of the traditional dinner.

In thanking the chamber of commerce for the offer General Bell, commanding the district, wrote:
"I am constrained to inform you with a good deal of personal pride, that the government provides foodstuffs in beautiful measure for its soldiers through the commissary department; and if any man shall be found hiding, which I doubt, more pies and will be the inexcusable fault of his Collusion Is Alleged.

There was indication of a growing belief among publishers today that a complaint filed with the department of justice against the paper manufacturers several days should be pressed.
It charged collusion to raise prices and discrimination against certain manufacturers in refusing to sell to them.

ROOT DENOUNCES BELGIAN SLAVE DEPORTATIONS IN STRONG LANGUAGE

Former Secretary of State Asserts German Policy is Contrary to International Law and Civilization.

PRaises President FOR PROTEST FILED

Letters Are Read From Colonel Roosevelt, Archbishop Ireland, Bishop O'Gorman and Others.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
New York, Dec. 15.—Vigorous expressions of indignation were voiced at a mass meeting held here tonight to protest against the "enslavement of Belgians." The deportation of the Belgian population was denounced in letters read from Theodore Roosevelt, Archbishop Ireland, Joseph H. Choate and Bishop Thomas McGowan of Saint Paul. Equally forceful were addresses delivered by Ethel Root, James M.
Beck, former assistant attorney general of the United States; Alton B.
Parker and the Rev. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity church, who presided.

Resolutions were adopted urging the "government of the United States to protest with all its force and statement with which the American people regard these abuses, and to request the German government, in the name of all neutrals, to cease its policy of expatriation and slavery," and pledging "our utmost support to the administration in whatever way it may conclude to act."

"The meeting in New York in protest of deportation of Belgians," Archbishop Ireland wrote, "receives a cordial and sympathetic re-echo from Americans elsewhere on the continent.
The meeting speaks in the name of primary duties of justice and humanity.
Those to whom your protest is addressed will not, I believe, turn a deaf ear to your entreaties and will, on calmer thought, dissent from the dreadful rigors into which for the moment war passion has led them. The peace abiding citizens of Belgium are being carried away into slavery—a thing that has not been done by nations that claimed to be civilized in modern history."

"I should not expect myself if I remained silent," Mr. Root declared, "and I hope, I trust, I pray, that my country will not remain silent."
"Explain it as you may, excuse it as you may, disguise it as you may, the people of Belgium, the tens and hundreds of thousands are being carried away into slavery—a thing
that has not been done by nations
history."

"Poor Belgium, peaceful, industrious, God-fearing, law-abiding Belgium," she has been called, "with any one. She sought no nation's territory.
She coveted no neighbor's goods. She threatened no one's security, but she stood in the way of a mighty nation's purpose."

"Her stern and noble resolve to keep the faith was her only crime, and she has been punished as if her people were the vilest on earth. Her towns have been burned, her women and children and old men have been murdered; her country has been breached under the way of a foreign invader. She has been blest with vast exactions of money and of products. Every effort for her to revive her industries has been denied. And now because she has suffered thus, her men are to be carried away to forced labor as slaves."

Worse Than Roman Savagery.
"If the civilized world of the twentieth century is willing to stand silent and see these things done in cumulative progression, in violation of the laws of humanity and of justice, then the civilization of the twentieth century is worse than the savagery of the Romans."

"What we have to do is not merely to gratify our own feelings by expressing our indignation, but to do what we believe to be right. It is to assert a right, a right under the law of nations for the protection of humanity and of civilization."

Law Must Be Respected.
"For centuries the nations have been building up a code of law—international law—and the enforcement of that law, respect for that obedience of that law, are the protection of peaceable people of all weak and small nations, of all those that do not wish to be armed to the teeth every moment for their own protection."

"We have a right to have it observed and it is our duty to our children and to our country that we should not remain silent in the face of open, flagrant, contemptuous disregard and violation of it."

"How can it be preserved? Not merely by armies and navies. No.
There is but one power on earth that can preserve the law for the protection of the poor, the weak and the humble. There is but one power on earth that can preserve the law for the maintenance of civilization and humanity, and that is the power, the mighty power, of the public opinion of mankind."

"We thank heaven our president has assumed the leadership of the free opinion of American democracy and has spoken of it to Germany. All honor to him for it and it is for us to say that we will stand by and support him, approve him, in maintaining the application of the free principles of America in insisting upon respect, and obedience to the law which prohibits all weak and peaceable nations, and in protesting with all the power of the hundred millions of America, against the outrage upon humanity which has been performed."

BIG CATTLE DEAL CONSUMMATED IN MCKINLEY COUNTY

David Harrington Sells Extensive Interests in Western Portion of State; Even $100,000 Involved.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL) Peters, N. M., Dec. 15.—David Harrington, one of the best known cattle men in western New Mexico, has sold out his holdings to Joe Cox, who comes from the Magdalena country.
The Harrington cattle, numbering approximately 2,000 head and 200 head of horses, and Harrington's home ranch south of Grants are included in the trade. As well as the fenced pasture lying along the Santa Fe railway between Grants and Peters, Harrington transfers his lease of the American Lumber company and school land, as well as his range rights within the Fort Wingate military reservation now administered by the former service.

The consideration amounts to an even $100,000 and leaves Mr. Harrington in the possession of a comfortable fortune.
Excellent Range.
This range is one of the best in this part of the country as it is well watered by running mountain streams, springs and several wells and there is an abundance of feed at all times of the year. The cattle graze up into the Zuni mountains during the summer and fall and by the time the first snow falls they are nearly all down again on the flats and protected valleys of grama and chamise along the railway, where they winter. For spring calving the early blue stem pasture fine feed with the shade and mountain grass and fresh water combine to produce the best calves and steers raised in this country.

It is said that seven years ago Mr.
Harrington would have sold out for $5,000 and that three years ago after he bought out his brother Tom that he would have sold for $40,000. The same outfit has brought him $100,000 in 1916.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrington are at present living in Gallup, where their children are in school. Their son Roy was killed a year ago by an accident with a horse.

David Harrington is a brother to Tass Harrington who moved to Oklahoma after selling his interests to his brother several years ago. Verell Harrington, whose range lies south of the Santa Fe near Sumanee, is another brother.

CROCKETT & SHAW BUY EXTENSIVE INTERESTS

Ramah, N. M., Dec. 15.—The firm of Crockett & Shaw, which took over of the local cattle and range south of here last summer, purchased the 711P and J X cattle last week. These brands belong to Mrs. Elva Bond and Mrs. Magale Bond, of Ramah, who have been successful in the cattle business through the help of their sons.

There are about 600 head of cattle in both brands and they received about $20,000 for their holdings. A.
J. Crockett, manager of the firm, who has been successful in the cattle business through the help of their sons.
They have recently purchased the Lew Shoemaker ranch fifteen miles south of Ramah and the Bob Ferris ranch, in the same valley. Mr. Crockett contemplates developing their range by drilling some deep wells and by building surface tanks for stock water.

Lew Shoemaker, who is one of the most thrifty farmers in the county, has owned a new ranch between Ramah and the Trucka, where he will continue farming.

CAPLAN GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER JURY'S VERDICT

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Los Angeles, Dec. 15.—David Caplan was found guilty of manslaughter today at his second trial for complicity in the Los Angeles Times murder October 1, 1916, when twenty men were killed.

The sentence for manslaughter is from one to ten years. Caplan will appear in court today to receive sentence. At that time his attorneys announced, a motion would be filed for a new trial.

The jury was out seven hours.
Caplan was the fourth man brought to trial in the case. Twenty indictments charging murder were returned against eight persons, but the names of only the four arrested were made known.

James R. McNamara pleaded guilty at the opening of his trial, while his brother, John J., formerly secretary of the International Association of Streetcar Iron Workers, facing the same charges, was allowed to plead guilty to dynamiting the Llewellyn ranch here Christmas morning, 1916, one of the events in the so-called "reign of terror" accompanying labor unrest in the latter part of 1916.
James B. McNamara was sentenced to life imprisonment. John J. McNamara was given a sentence of fifteen years.
Both are in San Quentin penitentiary.

Mathew A. Schmidt was found guilty and sentenced to life imprisonment last December. His appeal is pending.
Guilty of Defrauding Negroes.
Toledo, O., Dec. 15.—A verdict of guilty was returned in the United States district court here today against H. Taka, Reinhold Merschell, and Ernest W. Tondaine, representing the Union Furniture company. They were charged with misuse of the mails in the defrauding of negroes in Texas.
Testimony during the trial, which lasted three weeks, was that customers failed to receive goods which they paid for in advance. More than a score of Texas negroes were witnesses.

SUBMARINE STILL INTACT; CREW IS TAKEN TO SAFETY

H-3 Pounded and Battered by Surf on Beach Near Eureka Harbor Entrance but No Damage to Hull Discerned.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Eureka, Calif., Dec. 15.—The submarine, in which twenty-five enlisted men and two officers of the United States navy were imprisoned for hours yesterday while she pounded, battered, in a heavy surf on the beach near the Eureka harbor entrance, was still intact as to hull early today, as far as could be seen from the shore.
The crew of the submarine spent the night on the U. S. S. Cheyenne, the mother ship of the H flotilla in Eureka harbor.

Werner Swains, the plucky coast guardman of the Eureka lifesaving station, leaped up today as the hero of the rescue. While the navy men were still bottled up in the diver, a coast guard cutter with eight men pulled alongside with a lead line for a breeches buoy.
When the cutter was dashed away by a giant wave, Swains leaped aboard the diver and made fast the line.
Guardman a Hero.
Washed overboard, he clapped an astounding line and hauled himself to safety, only to be forced to repeat his life-or-death struggle a moment later. The conning tower hatch was opened to him when the men inside became aware of his presence through his lusty kicks, and a little later Swains and members of the crew were able to haul the buoy tackle aboard.
The H-3 once before piled upon the California coast and stuck on an impervious beach for twenty-four hours on her trial trip, but never before probably has a diver been subjected to the triple dangers that Lieut. H. R. Boggess and his men experienced yesterday. Drowning through the opening of being under surf pounding was their first death threat. Chlorine gas from leaking batteries then promised to take death toll.

RAILROAD HEAD DIES; ONCE LIVED IN ALBUQUERQUE

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
St. Louis, Dec. 15.—William C.
Nixon, president of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, died at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Nixon had been president of the railroad since its reorganization, a few days ago, and during the reorganization he was one of the three receivers, being in charge of operations.

Mr. Nixon had been in poor health for some time, and for the last two weeks had been in a critical condition. Death was due to heart disease.
He was 55 years old.

Mr. Nixon began his railroad career as a bridge carpenter when he was 17 years old. His next job was night watchman on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe at Emporia, Kan. He entered the Santa Fe offices at Albuquerque, N. M., then was made agent at La Grulla, N. M., subsequently becoming a branch of the Southern Kansas, a branch of the Santa Fe, and in 1902, vice president and general manager of the latter road.

In 1906 he became vice president and general manager of the Frisco.

BRYAN APPEALS TO LLOYD-GEORGE AS A CHRISTIAN

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 15.—William L. Bryan, who today on his way to Miami, Fla., stated that he had sent this message to the British premier:
"As a friend of the nations at war, as a Christian and a lover of humanity, I respectfully, but most earnestly appeal to you to use your great influence to secure your government's consent to negotiations."

"There is no dispute that must necessarily be settled by force. All international disputes are capable of adjustment by peaceful means. Every guarantee that can possibly be secured by war can be secured as a condition precedent to peace. Do not, I pray you, by refusing an exchange of views assume responsibility for a continuation of the unpardonable horrors of this unparalleled conflict. Your decision may mean life or death to millions."

IRISH HOME RULE MAY BE SETTLED AT EARLY DATE

Troops of Orange and Green Are Drawn Closer Together While Serving Empire in Great War.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) London, Dec. 15.—During the debate in the house of commons in the report stage today on the vote of credit, the nationalist members brought up the Irish question. Maj.
William Redmond, member for East Cork, said that he is the past had been in bitter opposition to most of the new members but had come to the conclusion on the question of a government for Ireland that any understanding for a settlement between Irishmen of the north and south was quite possible.

Green and Orange Affilate.
Troops from Ulster and the south provinces, the speaker said, were in pretty close contact and it had been remarkable that there had not been under any circumstances anything but the very best and kindest feeling between the men from the north and south.

Redmond, who is a major in the Irish division, is spending a short leave in England. He paid a glowing tribute to the valor of the Irish troops and said there was only one thing to do and that was to back up the men at the front.

Predicts Adjustment.
Andrew Bonar-Law, the government leader in the house of commons, replying to Major Redmond, said the desire for a new state of things in Ireland, if it could be attained, was not confined to Irishmen. It was a great thing, he added, that for the first time an official of the nationalist party stood on the side of the empire. It was his heartiest wish as deeply seated as that of Major Redmond, that some change between Ireland and the rest of the United Kingdom and between one part of Ireland and the other should take place.
One thing that would influence the people of the United Kingdom more than anything else, Mr. Bonar-Law

SWEET CHARITY PLACED ON BASIS OF EFFICIENCY

What Local Organization Is Doing in Way of Giving Where Giving Will Do Most Good; Money Badly Needed.

The Civic Betterment league recently went before the people of Albuquerque and asked that $5,000 be subscribed or paid for the prosecution of the work the organization intends to do during the year 1917. Such was the indifference shown to the purposes of the men and women who asked the contributions that only a little more than half the amount sought was raised. The Civic Betterment league did not continue its "drive" for funds, nor did it register any complaints at the unresponsive attitude of the public. It merely decided to do the best it could with the funds in hand and rely on a better understanding in the future bringing in the money with which it may be enabled to accomplish its aims.

For there is no doubt that the indifference of the people of Albuquerque to the Civic Betterment league springs from ignorance rather than coldness. If the average man and woman understood fully what is being done by those in charge of the work—if the tangible evidences of the good that is being done could be presented in visible form so that the average man and woman could see it without being told—it would be unnecessary to make any "drives" for funds to support the organization. Such a stream of voluntary and unimpeded contributions would come forth as would put the league on a permanent business basis for an indefinite period of time.

Efficiency the Watchword.
To the average person there is something cold and forbidding about the suggestion of "organized" charity. The term has come to imply lack of generosity—giving on a calculating, businesslike, grudging basis—the charity that makes a class in question to ascertain the worth of the object to which it is applied, and frightens off all except the professional mendicant.

Help to the City.
There are few who realize the extent to which the Civic Betterment league has lightened the burden that otherwise would fall on the city authorities of providing for the indigent, invalids, tubercular and otherwise, who have come to Albuquerque in search of health and who have found after arriving that there is no way by which they can sustain themselves and provide the absolute necessities of life. Perhaps no city in the United States has a larger number of such cases, and it is doubtful if any city is spared the expense of ministering to its unfortunate transient population as is Albuquerque.

No longer is the sick man and the unfortunate down-and-out passed on to the next town up or down the road, to become a burden on another community and in turn passed on by it to some other town. Through the activities of the Civic Betterment league, those who find themselves in Albuquerque sick and in need are given the care which humanity demands and which the necessities of their cases require. If they have relatives or friends in a distant city they are placed in communication with them and the family, perhaps long forgotten, is re-established. If, as is often the case, there is neither kith nor kin to whom the unfortunate may turn, everything possible is done to minister to his comfort and his needs here in Albuquerque.

Other Lines of Work.
The charitable ministrations of the league have been already widely advertised, and specific statistical information regarding the number and nature of cases that have been treated since the organization was formed was given out in the last report of Secretary L. F. Reed. It has been almost forgotten that under the original plan of the league charity was only one part of the general object of the organization. As its name implies it was originally intended that the league should engage in every line of activity that looked towards the betterment of the city; but so much of its time and attention has been claimed by the relief of cases of distress and so inadequate has been the financial support accorded it that little opportunity has been afforded for the prosecution of the broader purposes for which the league was organized.

Last year on Arbor day there was a more general planting of trees in Albuquerque than for many years past, due directly to the influence of the Civic Betterment league. What trees mean in the beauty and comfort of the city can only be appreciated by those who have lived both in shaded and unshaded parts of the city. The same movement will be carried on again next Arbor day on an even larger scale and it is the intention of those in charge of the work to keep continuously at it until there is no section of Albuquerque that is not well provided with shade trees.

Swat the Fly Campaign.
In the coming spring, when the menace of the disease-breeding fly begins to threaten, it is the intention of the league to institute a campaign against the fly that will mean much for the future health of the city. Not only will the fly be swatted, but breeding places will be invaded and every intelligent effort will be made to prevent him from coming into existence. In connection with this movement there will be a general clean-up campaign for the entire city—a campaign

Stars in Filmdom

Eugene O'Brien and Edna Mayo in "The Chaperone" not for a day or a week but for all the year around—a campaign to make Albuquerque not only a prettier but a healthier place to live.

For the league is anxious to provide not only for those who come here sick and are unable to get the means to make them well, it is equally anxious to insure the health and comfort of those already here and to prevent the healthseeker who comes to Albuquerque from becoming a menace to the permanent resident of the city.

Vital Statistics.
One matter in which the organization has already done a work that is little appreciated because little known is the compilation for intelligent reference and comparison of the vital statistics of the city and county. To be sure the city and the county authorities have both provided for the filing of reports by physicians and others that make up the mortality and health tables that are published from time to time, but no provision has been made by law for classifying and tabulating these reports. In the form in which they appear in official quarters they are practically worthless, because they furnish no standards by which an intelligent conclusion can be drawn.

In the office of Secretary Reed, of the Civic Betterment league, however, there are tables compiled from these official reports that are invaluable to the physician or the student of vital statistics. They show in comprehensive form the various conditions and causes contributing to mortality of the different classes of citizen, the relative mortality of Spanish-American and Anglo-Americans and of children of both races at varying ages; the percentage of contagious diseases and the different ailments that are most dangerous; and in short, every conceivable sort of information that can possibly be useful in the movement to better the health conditions of the city and county.

A Burden or a Blessing?
Only a few of the many things that the Civic Betterment league has done and plans to do can be mentioned in an article of this scope. Its possibilities for good are unlimited. It is relieving of those possibilities just to the extent that it has means to enable it to accomplish its aims. It recently asked the citizens of Albuquerque for $5,000 and got about $2,700. For the coming year it can only do about half as much good as it would have done if the people had been more generous and given what was asked.

Those who have seen the work of the league do not hesitate when the question is asked whether it is a burden or a blessing. They know that the organization is doing good in a field that has never been entered before—that it has placed a beneficence on a basis of sheer efficiency—that it is in the fullest sense of the word an unmitigated blessing and worth far more than its costs.

AMERICAN DOCTOR KILLED BY ORDER OF BANDIT CHIEF

Confirmation of Reported Atrocities by Villa Is Received in Story Told by Refugee Arriving in El Paso

El Paso, Dec. 15.—An American who arrived here from Santa Rosalia today by way of Torreon, Coahuila and Eagle Pass, Tex., brought confirmation of the killing of Dr. C. H. Fisher at Santa Rosalia, an unknown foreigner at Juarez, and Howard Gray, at Parral.

He also brought the first news of Henry Clark's escape from the execution squad at Juarez when the Villa forces occupied the town. Clark, an American who owned a ranch near Juarez, was caught by the Villa followers while he was in Juarez and ordered shot. He was stripped of his clothing and shoes, the American refugee said. Clark, who has been married to a Mexican woman for a number of years, according to the American refugee, started to walk to the execution place naked when his son offered to join Villa and fight with him if he would pardon his father. This was done, and the last seen of Clark was when he was going to his ranch, clad only in a Mexican blanket.

PEACE TALK CAUSES BIG SLUMP IN WHEAT

Chicago, Dec. 15.—In a frantic stampede today, wheat prices were trampled down 13 1/2c a bushel. The prime reason for the excited break was a German official suggestion of limited but universal disarmament. Almost unanimously the suggestion appeared to be accepted and the wheat market was likely to factor yet brought to light to lead to a cessation of hostilities.

Washington, Dec. 15.—Winthrop M. Daniels of New Jersey, was nominated by President Wilson today to succeed himself as a member of the Interstate Commerce commission.

GALLUP LIKELY TO HAVE SHARP CONTEST SOON

Scheme to Try to Oust Mayor C. N. Cotton From Head of City Government.

Gallup, N. M., Dec. 15.—A petition is being circulated in Gallup asking the town council to submit the question of a commission form of government to a vote. An effort is being made to secure 200 signatures to the petition, as it is claimed that it will then become mandatory upon the council to call an election within sixty days.

It is said that the petition is finding its chief support among the saloon element, and that the purpose of the petition is a trick to oust Mayor C. N. Cotton and the present town board.

Last spring Mr. Cotton was elected mayor of Gallup by an overwhelming majority, following a lively contest in the republican primaries, in which he defeated the Gregory Page faction.

Soon after taking over the town affairs, the new board passed laws requiring all saloons to close at midnight every night and also to remain closed on Sundays. Besides, the license was raised from three hundred dollars to fifteen hundred. At that time there were twenty-three saloons in town, but several have since gone out of business, not being able to pay the increased license. It is said that quite a number of those remaining will close on the first of the year, unless there are prospects of a change in the present stringent laws. The anti-Cotton element feels that there is a possible chance of beating the mayor at the present time if they can get the election called. At any rate, they feel that everything would be to gain and nothing to lose by making the effort.

A number of people have signed the petition, not knowing the real purpose that was back of it. Since finding out, they have had their names scratched off. It is rumored that there are now new ones being secured. The prospects are that by the time the petition finds its way to the light that there will be no one on it except bartenders and gamblers. If the required number of signatures should be secured, it is likely that there is a big scrap in store for Gallup as Mayor Cotton has during the past few months proved himself to be a game fighter.

Those who are opposed to calling an election are not opposed to the commission form of government as such, but merely to having an election at this time. They feel that the proper time to bring the matter up would be at the next city election, which would be in April, 1918. But by that time the present reasons for a change in the form of city government will have passed away and it is quite probable that those who are backing the proposition now would then oppose it.

VIEW EXPRESSED BY BONAR LAW IS MUCH DISCUSSED

British Press Comments Upon Statement That Policy of Government Is Reparation for Past.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
London, Dec. 15.—Public opinion as represented by the British press was largely occupied today in discussing the brief expression made yesterday by Andrew Bonar-Law, the government leader in the house of commons, that the British government's policy still was based on adequate reparation for the past and security for the future.

It is noticeable that a number of influential newspapers take the view that this leaves the way open for not summarily refusing to consider the reparations and for an enumeration of the essential aims and objects for which the entire allies are contending. The Manchester Guardian, reflecting popular opinion, is among the newspapers taking this view.

Proposed Offensive.
The Westminster Gazette says if the German proposal takes an offensive form and appears as though demanded by conquerors from the vanquished, the only reply to the insult would be a contemptuous silence, and continues: "But if it is sincere, we should desire to answer with a reasonable explanation of why our principal aims cannot be comprised and what kind of a European system we think necessary to secure the future." The newspaper points out that Germany's chief appeal is to neutral sentiment and that it is therefore, of the greatest importance that Great Britain should carry neutral opinion in the final stage of representing the objects in a manner which will kindle neutral sympathy and be clear to their understanding.

Catching Cold.
Colds are due to a neglected skin and lack of ventilation in the sleeping room. People who take a cold during the night before breakfast seldom take cold. When you do take cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. This is best accomplished by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This is an old time tried remedy that can be relied upon with implicit confidence. Obtainable everywhere.

CONSERVATIVES IN REICHSTAG FOR GERMAN PEACE

Caucus Declares Terms Must Guarantee Military, Economic and Financial Future of Nation.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Berlin, Dec. 15.—(Wireless to Socyville).—A caucus of the conservative party in the reichstag adopted a resolution which is now published, saying the Overseas News agency, declaring that the peace offer made by the central powers is based naturally on a program of concrete peace conditions. These conditions, the resolutions continued, are unknown, but it considers it evident that no negotiations will be carried on in order to obtain "peace at any price" but the conditions planned should guarantee a peace which will safeguard Germany's future.

Of Historical Importance.
The preamble to the resolution declares that the peace offer is a matter of "of highest historical importance." The resolution recalls the feeling of self-reliance exhibited in the simultaneous orders to the army and navy, and declares that it is probable that the peace offer, nevertheless, will interest the peace offer as a sign of weakness. The conservative party, it adds, had suggested that the whole reichstag add to the announcement of the peace offer a demonstration of an unflinching will to win, which certainly would have been expressed by all parties with the possible exception of the extreme left wing of the socialists.

To Define Aims of War.
The resolution then recalls the announcement of the imperial chancellor that the German nation, through its chosen representatives, will have an opportunity to take a definite stand on the question of the aims of the war, and concludes by stating that the conservative party expects "that the advantage gained by the blood of our brave troops will be made the basis of a peace which, according to human understanding, will guarantee the military, economic and financial future of the country."

MAYORS CONSIDER PLANS TO CUT COST OF LIVING

Boycotts of Staple Food Products Are Believed to Be Best Remedy; Might Commandeer Supplies.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
New York, Dec. 15.—Means which may be adopted by municipalities to reduce the cost of living were considered in executive session here today by a committee of mayors appointed by E. C. Burns of Troy, president of the New York State Conference of Mayors. Boycott of staple food products were believed to be one of the most potent remedies.

The proposal was made that congress and the legislatures of individual states pass bills that would reserve the power, under the law eminent domain, to commandeer food supplies in times of general distress, giving fair return to the persons from whom the products are taken.

No definite program was outlined, but it was announced that another meeting will be held at Schenectady in January at which bills will be prepared for presentation to the legislature at the coming session. The women's movement to conserve the food supply, perfected its organization here today. Mrs. Robert Brune of this city was elected chairman. Advisory council with two members from each state will be appointed.

Resolutions calling upon the women of Illinois to use their influence to have abolished "gambling" in foodstuffs on the Chicago board of trade by appealing to the women of the state to demand abolition of illegitimate speculation in foodstuffs in which the interstate commerce laws are involved, and demanding legislation making deliberate destruction of food products in transit or in the field a penal offense.

UNION LABOR CASE IN SUPREME COURT

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 15.—Questions of contractual freedom affecting labor unions and analogous to some points raised in the Adamson law test case, were argued before the supreme court in litigation against the United Mine Workers and American Flint Glass Workers' unions.

In the cases up today, the High Court and Coke company and Eagle Glass and Manufacturing company, of West Virginia, seek permanent injunctions against the respective unions, to prevent solicitation of members among their employees who are under specific contract not to join the unions. Such solicitation, the companies contend, violates constitutional liberty of contract. In the Adamson law case it alleged abridgment of railroad employees' contract of railroad employees is raised.

The West Virginia corporations' attorneys told the court that the unions operate in restraint of trade, while the unions' counsel declared the non-union employment contracts restrain trade by barring out union workers.

The arguments will be concluded Monday, extra time having been allowed for the court.

WOULD BAR BOOZE ADVERTISEMENTS FROM THE MAILS

Bill Favorably Reported From Committee of House Strikes Death Blow to Mail Order Liquor Business.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 15.—Legislative measures aimed at destruction of liquor traffic continue to accumulate in congress, as both houses are deluged with petitions from all parts of the country urging adoption of the national prohibition constitutional amendment and passage of other liquor measures. Including the Sheppard bill to prohibit the manufacture and sale of liquor in the District of Columbia.

The house postoffice committee reported favorably a bill by Representative Leland of California, designed to close the mails absolutely to advertising of any intoxicating liquors, and to deny mail order houses the right to go into either "wet" or "dry" territory to solicit sales through the medium of the mails.

No move was made by prohibition leaders in the house regarding the constitutional amendment reported yesterday from the judiciary committee, plans to ask the rules committee for a special rule to get the question before the house soon after the holidays.

House members are reflecting on prospects for its passage and the consensus of opinion seems to be that it cannot get the necessary two-thirds majority in the sixty-fourth congress. Representative Webb is confident that the amendment will receive more votes than it did in the last congress, when it had thirteen majority. By the time the next congress has convened the issue, he believes the victory can be won.

The District Bill.
The District of Columbia prohibition bill was under consideration for several hours in the senate today but was temporarily laid aside after Senator Sheppard had sought an amendment to provide for a referendum on the issue to the voters of the District of Columbia, will be recommended tomorrow.

Senator of Utah, declaring that the Sheppard bill is a make-shift, submitted a substitute today, which would not only prohibit the manufacture and sale of liquor in the capital, but also prevent its importation for personal use.

Sheppard Not Extreme.
If the prohibitionists really want prohibition in the District of Columbia, said Senator Snoot, "they should accept this bill. The pending bill, I consider a prohibition makeshift."

Senator Sheppard opposed the amendment which would prohibit individual use of liquor.

"If we can abolish the saloon in Washington," said Senator Sheppard, "I think we will have achieved a great deal. We cannot expect to accomplish everything desired at once. The bill went over until tomorrow when an agreement for voting on it probably will be made."

CURRY COUNTY PROHIBITION PREPARE FOR ACTION

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Clovis, N. M., Dec. 15.—At a conference held last Sunday afternoon at the Baptist church the Curry county prohibition forces were organized into a county organization, the purpose of which will be to aid in getting New Mexico in the dry column.

Rev. J. T. Redmon, pastor of the Methodist church, acted as secretary. After an address by Rev. Parker of Albuquerque, secretary of the Anti-Saloon League of New Mexico, a county organization was formed with the following officers: Dr. A. L. Dillon, president; Jack Hull, secretary; executive committee, R. E. Rowley, A. J. Whiting, J. M. Buckley, A. M. Hockelsh, J. H. Shepard, A. J. Rhodes, E. W. Reagan, E. W. Bowyer, K. C. Childers, Miss Mary Knight and Mrs. J. W. Stewart.

Muriel Baker escaped without injury.

CHAVES COUNTY TO VOTE BONDS FOR GOOD ROADS

Election Is Called by Commissioners for February 6; Issue of $100,000 Contemplated.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Roswell, N. M., Dec. 15.—The Chaves county commissioners have called a special election to vote on a bond issue of $100,000 to be used for good roads. The election is to be held February 6.

It is thought that there will be no difficulty in obtaining a favorable vote on the issue. The petition for the election was signed readily by the taxpayers, and the sentiment in favor of the issue seems to be very strong. With this amount of money, to be spent on Chaves county roads, good highways to the plains country to the east are assured, and they can be so upon that the maintenance will be much more practical and less expensive than ever before. In the past because of insufficient capital to build the roads properly in the first place, these expensive stretches it has been impossible to establish a road, which would withstand the wind, dust, and action of the wind. The result has been that as soon as the dry months came the road was soon full of chuck holes and far from pleasant for the motorist.

The road enthusiasts say that in another two years Chaves county will have one of the best systems of roads in the state, and that the Southern National highway and other through roads will be in such excellent condition that traveling will be a joy to the tourist. The road to the west is now completed as far as the Lincoln county line and as far as the Lincoln county line is finished this will be almost as good as a byway. It has been built with an idea of permanency and it is thought will be easily kept in good condition.

REINCARNATION OF PROGRESSIVE PARTY ADVOCATED

National Headquarters Are to Be Opened in New York; Roosevelt Platform Is Reaffirmed.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
New York, Dec. 15.—"Reincarnation" of the progressive party with a new sense of party independence, based upon "the new liberal spirit," was agreed upon at a conference of prominent progressives from several states held here today.

Funds were subscribed to open a national progressive headquarters in this city until the national convention meets in St. Louis. Permission for those leading progressives who have made party mistakes to re-enter the party was discussed but no action taken.

Assurances also were given to those who seemed to fear that the "reactionary group of progressives" might gain control of the St. Louis convention that only "loyal and true progressives" who had refused to go over to the republicans or democrats would have a voice in organizing the new party.

The conference which was called by Mathew Hale of Boston, national vice chairman of the progressive party, lasted for two hours. Mr. Hale was authorized to plan for the convention some time in February. Its members will be announced later.

A resolution reaffirming the progressive platform of August, 1912, was adopted. Amendments were proposed by the progressives to co-operate with the liberal elements of every party and to disregard any party affiliations since that time, even the choice of the progressive element in the recent election, were attached to the resolution.

Letters and telegrams read at the conference from progressives who could not attend, showed that thirty-six states were represented.

VILLISTAS REPORTED ON ARIZONA BORDER

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Nogales, Ariz., Dec. 15.—Mexican authorities at Nogales, Sonora, were reported tonight to be preparing to send an expedition to Sonoyta, Sonora, along the border where, when advised, a force said to be composed of Villa followers had crossed the international boundary from Ajo, Ariz., and established recruiting headquarters.

The men, it is reported, were under the leadership of Langro Queros, said to be a former Villa officer. Among those reported to be joining the force were Mexican miners who recently went on strike at Ajo, it was stated. Troops expected to arrive from the interior of Sonora will be sent to Sonoyta, as soon as they reach the Mexican town opposite here, it was reported.

D., pleaded guilty today to charges of manslaughter in the first degree and were sentenced to terms of not more than twenty years in the state penitentiary. The murder charges against two others, one a woman, was dismissed and the defendant given their freedom.

In the three remaining cases, which are those pending against the Industrial Workers of the World organizers, Carlo Trecca, Sam Scarlett and Joe Schmidt, continuances were ordered. The three sentenced today were Philip Masonovich, Joe Gernagorevich and Joe Wickach.

CHRISMAN DIDN'T VIOLATE LAW, IS CLANCY'S OPINION

No Way of Determining in Advance How Much a Legislator May Draw in a Year, Says Attorney General.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
That the law upon which State Senator Isaac Barth based his second complaint against W. H. Chrisman, of San Juan county, his rival candidate for the senate, does not apply to candidates for legislative office is the opinion of Attorney General Frank W. Clancy. The attorney general sent this opinion to Mr. Chrisman yesterday.

This law requires that candidates shall not spend more than 10 per cent of a year's salary, provided for the office they seek, in their campaign. Legislators do not receive any year's salary, the attorney general holds. They are paid by the day, he points out. Mr. Clancy also raises the point that there is no limit to the number of extra sessions that may be called and consequently no way of determining in advance how much a legislator may receive in a year.

Here is the attorney general's opinion: "I have just been informed by Mr. Hickey over the telephone that you have been charged with a violation of corrupt practices act on the ground that you expended in your campaign, in violation of section 2057 of the Code, more than 10 per cent of one year's salary or compensation provided by law for a state senator."

"In justice to you I feel impelled to say that shortly after your nomination you conferred with me on this subject and that I expressed to you my strong opinion that this 10 per cent limitation could not be made applicable to candidates for the legislature because members of the legislature do not receive any year's salary or year's compensation, but are paid by the day for attendance not exceeding thirty days at any regular session and not exceeding thirty days at any special session. This cannot be considered as a year's salary or compensation, nor is there any way, in advance, of determining what the year's compensation would be."

"There seems to be no limit upon the number of special sessions of the legislature which may be called by the governor. In the case of all elected state and county officers, whether executive or judicial, there is no difficulty in ascertaining what the 10 per cent would be as all such officers receive salaries fixed either by the constitution or by statute and are prohibited from receiving any additional official emolument."

"It may be conceded that there ought to be a limit put upon campaign expenditures by a candidate for the legislature, but I am clearly of opinion that the legislature has not fixed any such limit."

"Very truly yours,
FRANK W. CLANCY,
Attorney General."

ROSSELL TO REMEMBER BOYS OF BATTERY A

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Roswell, N. M., Dec. 15.—Members of Battery A who are now stationed at Fort Bliss will not be overlooked on Christmas morning. The United States War Veterans have undertaken the task of seeing that every member of the battery receives a present and is now receiving the gifts there will be many pies and cakes sent to add to the enjoyment of Christmas day on the border.

The pension committee which has been looking after the families of Battery A members is also making a special effort to see that there is Christmas cheer in the homes of those fathers and sons doing duty on the border.

In addition to these special Christmas efforts, there will be a municipal Christmas tree in Roswell for the first time. A namasth tree has been obtained from the mountains and it will be brilliantly lighted. On Saturday, December 23, a chorus of a hundred voices will sing Christmas carols and there will be a short program. Every child in Roswell, rich and poor alike, will receive some little memento of Christmas at this municipal celebration. The Woman's club is sponsor for the movement and assisting the assistance of all the social, religious and fraternal organizations of the city.

The large tree will remain on the courthouse lawn and be lighted each night during holiday week.

CAMPBELL BY ONLY SIXTEEN OVER HUNT

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 15.—A half-dozen more precincts were gone over today by the inspectors in the contest of Governor Hunt against Thomas E. Campbell. The only precinct where the laying aside of a large number of ballots for determination by the court. This, with previous gains for Hunt, reduces Campbell's majority in the state to sixteen.

The returns from the mining precinct of Cochise county, in which there is a majority of nine for Campbell, have been discovered, but whether they will be taken into account at this stage is uncertain. That will be one of the matters that will be determined by the supreme court.

DRAINAGE BONDS FIND BANKS READY BUYERS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Roswell, N. M., Dec. 15.—Some idea of the appreciation of the drainage work being done near Roswell was gained when the Roswell banks bought the bonds on the East Grand Plains district, amounting to $19,999. This was an additional issue, the original amounting to $1,000. The American National bank, the Citizens National bank, the First National bank and the First State Bank and Trust company each subscribed an equal amount of the new issue.

The original issue sold for 90, while the local banks paid 95 on the small or issue.

The drainage work is progressing very satisfactorily and the indications now are that there will be new districts created further down the valley. Although the system has not yet been complete enough to prove definitely the benefit, enough has been done to convince the local bankers that much land will be reclaimed by this plan.

Much of the land which has been classed as waste will be brought to the highest state of production. In the lower situations, due to an excess of alkali because of poor drainage, it has been impossible to grow crops on some of the land. With the water table lowered, the alkali will disappear and this will be among the best alfalfa lands in the valley.

LOCAL TALENT IN FILM DRAWS LARGE CROWDS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Clovis, Dec. 15.—Two full houses at the Lyceum theater last evening witnessed a motion picture performance that was unique in the experience of most Clovis people. A two-reel picture entitled "A Texas Romance," with home talent performers was the attraction.

Upon the screen as heroine in the romance, appeared Miss Maurine Hagan, one of the popular young ladies of this city. Frank Allen, Walter L. Mansfield, Judge and Mrs. J. D. Hamilton of Farwell, all well known to a Clovis audience, also made their appearance via the screen.

A number of very interesting Curry county farm scenes were shown as the film unfolded. The splendid flock of chickens belonging to Mrs. J. A. Wallace was of particular interest to many. Flocks of Indian corn, kaffir and rye, apple orchards and watermelon patches demonstrated what Curry county and this section of the plains country is doing in the way of agriculture.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to harness it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "foggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brains and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

WE GET DANISH WEST INDIES.

The voters of Denmark have approved the treaty by which the Danish West Indies are to be sold to the United States for twenty-five million dollars. The long negotiations, which now seem to be practically ended, serve to direct fresh attention and study to the whole of the West Indies and their vital relation to American security. Fate has landed us with responsibility for the future of the far away Philippines, but our own destiny is much more closely involved with these islands near at hand. This has always been true, but now more than ever, because of the building of the Panama canal.

Yet our policy in the West Indies, if we can be said to have had one, has seldom been far from the Spanish war. It brought us not only the establishment of the Cuban republic under our close protection, but the unexpected ownership of Porto Rico, while the navy secured a valuable base at Guantanamo, at Cuba's southeastern corner.

This was a real start whereas previous efforts to buy the Danish West Indies and to get a footing in Santo Domingo had failed, chiefly for lack of intelligent support at home.

Since the Spanish war, the logic of events have worked for the United States. We have been forced to establish a protectorate over Santo Domingo. The present administration has had the courage to establish a protectorate in Haiti, so that the danger of anarchy and revolution in the second largest island of the West Indies is by way of becoming completely extinguished.

Cuba, Haiti, Porto Rico and St. Thomas, which we are now about to possess, guard the Caribbean on the north. What remains? On the east stretches the chain of small islands known as the Lesser Antilles, most of which belong to Great Britain, two important ones to France, and an inlet or two to Holland. Great Britain owns Jamaica, south of southeastern Cuba, and Holland has several small islands off the coast of Venezuela.

There are the Bahamas off the lower tip of Florida, and the Bermudas directly north of Porto Rico and in the latitude of Charleston, S. C.—two important island possessions at our doors.

American statesmanship ought to be persistently directed to the acquisition of these holdings of Great Britain and France. None of them is especially profitable to those powers, and most of them are really a colonial loss. But to the United States they would be not merely profitable but strategically important.

One important suggestion made in this connection is that, as Great Britain and France both need money with which to carry on the war, they might be willing to sell all or part of their island possessions in American waters to the United States, just as Jefferson was able to buy from France the vast territory, then known as Louisiana, because Napoleon needed money with which to carry on his wars. If the proposal could be put in such way as not to touch their pride, it might succeed, ratification being made contingent on the consent of the inhabitants of the islands.

Another suggestion is that the Philippines might be traded to Great Britain for the British West Indies. That is an attractive idea particularly since retention of the Philippines is pretty sure to involve us in war with Japan, sooner or later, and Japan and Great Britain are close allies.

Meanwhile, our government should be alert to every possible opportunity of extending our control of the Caribbean sea. Some time or other the naval power of the United States is pretty sure to be put to the test in these waters. Also from those waters our coast may be greatly menaced by an enemy fleet, possibly by an enemy army.

With their country blockaded by the allies, the Greeks are likely to get a real taste of the high cost of living.

OUR COMING LABOR FAMINE.

Labor, especially unskilled labor, will doubtless be scarce in this country for some time after peace is declared. It is already getting scarce, because of the cessation of immigration and of the return of the reservists to Europe to fight.

But when peace comes there will be a new drain on labor, due to the call of the devastated countries for the return of their sons to help repair damages. Each country will hold out strong inducements to its nationals in America, for the big work of reconstruction will be pushed energetically.

Pittsburgh is one of the American cities where this danger is realized, and where measures have been taken to avert it. Pittsburgh manufacturers are distributing printed matter in various languages among their men pointing out why and how they will be better off if they stick to the jobs they have rather than take chances in new conditions that will prevail in the war-torn countries across the sea.

This is all well enough, but something more than mere circularizing is needed. That something is Americanization. If these manufacturers will make known the benefits and privileges of American citizenship, if they will take practical measures to see that their men learn to speak English and understand the free institutions of this republic, they will do far more to make their employees prefer to stay here than any amount of circularizing can accomplish.

Americanization is going on slowly and naturally among our foreign born masses. But it ought to be accelerated. And that is the wisest thing manufacturers who employ many men of foreign birth can do.

Of course, Mr. Barth knew that he was in the same whole with Mr. Cristman, so far as campaign contributions were concerned, but Senator Barth must have his little jokes now and then, even at his own expense.

MR. NORGREN'S VIEW OF IT.

The Journal gives space elsewhere on this page to a communication from Carl A. Norgren, a visitor in Albuquerque, in which he explains why the efficiency of a foreigner coming to our manufacturing plants, is increased about three-fold from what his efficiency was on the other side of the Atlantic, thus justifying the three times higher wages paid him here than he received in Europe.

Mr. Norgren's observations have developed merit in them, but they do not warrant his conclusions. There is greater efficiency here, beyond doubt, than is found in any of the European countries, except in Germany. The German is more efficient than the American, even if he has to work with somewhat clumsy machinery, and the German manufactured goods are sold in America cheaper than they can be produced in this country, unless the difference between cost there and here is equalized by a discriminative protective tariff.

As has been pointed out by the Journal before, there are a number of factors which enter into the greater productivity of the workman in America. The first of these is better machinery. The second is better food, which he is enabled to buy because of his better wages. Along with better food may be classed better clothing and better housing. The human furnace is better fed, therefore the human machine can and does do better work.

But in the fact that this year will show approximately twenty-five hundred million dollars' worth of foreign products, largely manufactured, sold in the United States—lower than the same goods can be sold by American producers, is sufficient proof that the difference between the wages paid in America and in Europe is not equalized by the greater American efficiency.

The tariff-revenue-only men talk of the superior efficiency in this country as proof that the American laborer needs no protection, and the high-tariff men talk of the superior efficiency of Americans as proof that goods can be produced in America about as cheaply as in Europe, therefore the cost to the American consumer can not be boosted appreciably beyond the cost in Europe, because domestic competition will keep prices down.

Both these arguments are specious. But it is not our purpose to launch into a discussion of the tariff at this time.

Madison Square Garden was sold the other day for two million dollars, but the purchaser will not try to make dividends by raising vegetables in it.

OWNING A HOME.

Nearly three-fourths of the men of America die unpossessed of a home, and nearly one-half die without leaving any estate whatever. This is not because these men have not had opportunity to earn a home. It is because they have, during their best earning years, wanted something more than they have wanted a home.

Later in life, when a home looks to be about the most desirable thing on earth, the average man wakes to the fact that he has neither the time nor the ability left to earn a home, and he dies in rented quarters.

This condition exists largely because we Americans do not realize the value of owning a home—a small, respectable, livable, obtainable home.

GETTING HIM AWAKE FOR KEEPS

Most ambitious men dream of richer residences, and the unambitious have no thought of such a dwelling as the best investment for their savings, and as a great aid to their saving.

The wanderer that shifts so easily from place to place, has done its part to dull the desire for a personally owned home.

But the fact remains that the small, well-filled and well-kept home, and not the richer one, is the real foundation of city and nation. The buying of such a home is the most wholesome and profitable form of thrift for most earners. He who owns such a home has made himself financially and socially superior to the average American.

Congress is publishing the Congressional Record and threatening to deluge the country with investigations by special committees. Otherwise, not much is being done.

So Gilbert Parker says it would be wicker to end the war now. That is the way it looks to everybody who doesn't want to see Germany on top.

If pea soup is too expensive, then get after the high cost of living with a hot pea soup, thus reducing the bill for peas by half.

Efficiency of Americans Protects High Wages in This Country, Says Writer

Editor Morning Journal:
I have read your editorial with interest and profit. I was somewhat surprised this morning to read in your editorial "The Owner of Gold," the statement that Secretary Redfield was wrong in asserting that the average American workman produces about three times more in a given time than his foreign brother.

In the first place, Mr. Redfield's statement refers to laborers and workmen engaged in various manufacturing pursuits, not to common, individual labor.

What Survey Showed.
About four or five years ago a careful industrial survey was made of the relative efficiency of American and foreign manufacturers. The average rate of production was found to be about 3 to 1 in favor of the American. You raise a pertinent question regarding American labor being in part of foreign origin and in taking how their efficiency has been increased by merely crossing the Atlantic? That is very easy of explanation.

High average production in our industries is due to four major things: (1) demeracy of administration; (2) business; (3) the American spirit of contest and conquest, as applied to individuals; (4) high speed and high efficiency machinery; and (5) the bonus system.

To illustrate proposition No. 1: You have a clipping in your paper of this morning from Leslie's in which J. O. D. Amour, president of Amour & Co., is quoted as saying: "If it were not for the fact that there is in working with them and being with them, I wouldn't—I couldn't stay in business. Without sentiment the work would be too hard."

Charles M. Schwab, of Bethlehem, also says: "There has never been so much sentiment in business, so close a spirit of co-operation between employers and men, as there is today."

The difference between us and other nations is that we know how to earn money, while they, in the main, know how to save it."

Mr. Schwab further says as applicable to proposition No. 2: "I have to signal to the American spirit of economy."

BREWERY OUSTS DRY TENANT.
(Detroit News.)
J. H. Card, 509 Illinois street, who is an ardent prohibitionist, recently argued prohibition with a neighbor, who is a saloonkeeper. Mr. Card argued his prohibition views strongly. Two days later he was served notice by the C. Pfeiffer Brewing company, from whom he rents his home, to vacate the premises on or before December 1.

"We never had any trouble before with the brewing company," Mrs. Card said. "They were satisfied with us as tenants. Only last spring they wanted us to sign a three-year lease on the house. When I called up the notice was served he said: 'You have been taking prohibition too much—that's why.'"

"What Mrs. Card says is largely true," said William C. Breitmeyer, treasurer of the C. Pfeiffer Brewing company to the News. "We ordered them to vacate because of their views on prohibition, and because they talked too much about them. There were other matters, too."

"Don't you permit your tenants to hold and express their own views on economic or moral questions?" Mr. Breitmeyer was asked.

"I don't care to make any statement about the matter," Mr. Breitmeyer said.

THE SECRET OF STYLE.
REVEALED.
"Style is undefinable,"—James Huneker in New York Sun.

Style (to Z. Gibbon) is ornate, didactic, or, as in Darwin, quite simple and practical; Massive, Macaulayish, quasi-historical; Sir Thomas Malorylike, metaphorical; Kindly, mild, playful in Steel Impetuous; Acrid, ironical, fierce (vide Junius); Casual, easy, discursive in Thackeray; Impish in Shaw and no stranger to quackery; Johnson, said Wolcott, was turgid, oracular; Meredith (George) is disjointed, spectacular; Bunyan is biblical plain and devotional; Ruskin rhapsodical, highly emotional; Swift, somewhat jaundiced and—well, demagogical; Cowper testabillish, hypochondriacal; Charles Lamb informal with a charm almost magical; Poe and De Quincey amazing and Stevenson studied, self-conscious, meticulous; Charles Reade explosive but never ridiculous; Pater was precious and polished and finical; Bacon laborious, weighty, latinate; Stern was colloquial, artfully clerical; Richardson formal and epistolarial; Hawthorne elusively lucid and mystical; James, meaning Henry, involvedly twistical; Milton, says Huneker, was archangelical; Carlyle was self-centered, tortuous, hellish; Fielding was bold, broad and prone to licentiousness; Jane Austen prudish but free from pretentiousness; Dickens expansive and given to flamboyance; Pepys superficial, shrewd, pointed and summary; Kingsley is vivid and modern and muscular; Addison classical, cool and crepuscular.

Whence Linkum Fidelus was not without guile. When (see "Salmagundi") he said, "Style is style."

SOMETHING ABOUT "CESARE." ("Listener" in Boston Transcript.)
A surprise is in store for those who have fancied that the signature "Cesare" signed to some of the strongest cartoons of the day, indicates Italian authorship and art. It appears from Vance Thompson's biographical sketch sent out by the publishers (Smith, Maynard & Co.) of "One Hundred Cartoons" that Mr. Cesare instead of being as Mr. Thompson imagined before, a man with a dark and fiery man, all Latin hair and gestulation, is in fact Swedish, "a tall, big young man, with yellow hair, smoothed back on his head, as though a cow had licked it a little, with a little lemon colored mustache and cold sea gray eyes looking out of a square, high colored face." Cesare's work as Mr. Thompson analyzes it, has strength and force and surety of hand, because of his wonderful technique and craftsmanship, "at once personal and absolutely sure of itself." As this "approximation" expresses it:

"There is nothing he can't do with this technique, give him a sheet of paper and an oily crayon. . . . He is as fearless as Foran, because he knows his craftsmanship will not fail him at any point. The man who can trust his sword hand may walk abroad with a bit of a swagger where the unarmed man goes warily. Indeed Cesare is one—you might mention ten the world over—the great masters."

This good story is told on the editor of the Chicago Tribune, for which he first made pictures, after arriving in the Swedish colony of the great western melting pot city. As Thompson tells it, the editor starts at one of Cesare's first productions and taken aback by its force and formidable art, entirely new to that sanctum—chastened by this clanger of black and white, and by the grim, relentless, Ostrogothic lines, the editor said: "You seem to be a man of ideas; when you learn to draw you will be all right."

True enough it is that Cesare has ideas, and has power. Glancing through this selection of 100 of his best, one sees the force of the artist's own claim that he paints—that is, produces color—with his black and white. What other cartoonists do with line, great artists like Tondel, Foran and Caran d'Asche, Cesare does with mass. Yet his lines are often eloquent too. The pathos in the figures of the refugees of Belgium and in the wrecked cathedrals of France is something that one could wish often seen in place of so much brutal force, fury and noise. There would be no loss of strength in adding a little to the cartoons' dignity and sweetness. Seeing what he accomplishes, it is easy agreeing with his theory that the noblest art is that of painting colors from black and white; certainly it must be admitted that he does put color to it, besides giving essentially the texture of cloth and stone of iron and of flesh. He might be called the Rodin of black and white drawing, detaching, or delineating, only as much as he pleases of his subject from the rough component mass.

(Christian Science Monitor.)

Mississippi was admitted into the sisterhood of states of the American union on December 10, 1817. Preparations are now being made for the celebration of its centenary. Among other plans agreed upon is one for the holding of industrial exhibitions at Gulfport. The grounds have been cleared, and buildings suitable to the housing of exhibits will soon be in course of erection. It is not intended to make an extravagant display, but rather to provide a quiet attraction that will induce thoughtful people in all parts of the country to visit Mississippi annually and see what the state has to offer, both in the line of business and pleasure, in midwinter. The idea is an excellent one. Mississippi is not known so well or so widely as it should be.

THE WHOLE BODY NEEDS PURE BLOOD

The bones, the muscles, and all the organs of the body depend for their strength and tone and healthy action on pure blood. If the blood is very impure, the bones become diseased, the muscles become enfeebled, the step loses its elasticity, and there is inability to perform the usual amount of labor. The skin loses its clearness, pimples, blotches and other eruptions appear. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure blood. It is positively unequalled in the treatment of scrofula and other humors, catarrh, rheumatism, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, that tired feeling. Be sure to get Hood's and feel it today. GREAT COHAN PLAY
COMING TO CRYSTAL
SATURDAY, DEC. 23

Echoes from Broadway tell of an altogether uncommon success achieved by George M. Cohan's sensational farce, "Hit-the-Trail-Holiday," which is announced for the Crystal theater, Saturday, December 23.

The play originally was booked for a twelve weeks' season in New York, but owing to the tremendous patronage, Messrs. Cohan and Harris, the producers, prolonged the engagement for an additional twelve weeks. At the end of the engagement the box office returns showed even bigger receipts than ever, but the Cohan Revue was scheduled to follow the "Hit-the-Trail-Holiday" at the Astor theater, so Cohan and Harris were obliged to move the attraction to the Crystal theater, where it rounded out the balance of the season, playing eleven months in the eastern metropolis to patronage bordering on absolute capacity at every performance. Truly a wonderful record and it establishes the play as one of the sure fire successes of the past year on the American stage.

A play by George M. Cohan always has merit and his latest production, "Hit-the-Trail-Holiday" is undoubtedly one of the best comedies written by America's foremost dramatist. This brilliant play is a wonderful study of American life and it is fresh evidence of the clear vision of the author who first, last and all the time is a keen observer of life.

BARTH IS CHARGED WITH SPENDING TOO
FREELY IN CAMPAIGN

Another complaint was filed yesterday in Justice W. W. McClellan's court under the well-known corrupt practices act, State Senator Isaac Barth, who filed two complaints under this act, was not the complainant this time. The senator was backstop in this action.

T. J. Mabry, law partner of Senator Barth, filed the most recent complaint. He charged his associate with exceeding the expense regulation in the last campaign. Senator Barth said he spent $250 in his post-election statement. He admitted yesterday that he spent more freely than the 10 per cent law permits, pleading guilty to his partner's complaint. Justice McClellan fined him $10 and costs.

Mr. Mabry's act was not unparliamentary. He said his move was friendly. Senator Barth knew of it and did not object to its being taken, said he.

CARLYLE BLACKWELL
AT LYRIC TODAY

Ethel Clayton and Carlyle Blackwell will be at the Lyric theater for today only in the latest Brady Made World picture, "The Madness of Helen."

This is one of the most beautiful and surprising stories ever written and has been re-booked several places where it has been shown.
A story with an unexpected ending. The action of the play runs so smoothly and rapidly that the first reel will be over before you realize you are looking at the third. There is not a dull or draggy moment from the start to the finish. The two stars make one of the most pleasing and talented combinations imaginable. Both have been appearing in features with other stars lately and this is the first time in months that they have appeared together. Miss Clayton has never been given a part which called for so great a diversity of character portrayals as this one. Mr. Blackwell plays the part assigned him with forceful skill.

POLICEMAN SUMMERS
PREPARED BY CHIEF

Formal charges against Policeman Tom A. Summers, suspended last week, were prepared yesterday by Chief J. E. Galusha. The chief declined to make the charges public. Sergeant N. M. Miller served a copy of the charges on Summers. This service, according to a city ordinance, is sufficient notice of trial before the court. The ordinance requires that a city employee be given two days' notice. Summers' hearing has been set for next Monday night.

EDNA MAY TO BE SEEN AT THE CRYSTAL
TODAY-TOMORROW

Prejudiced at first against motion pictures in any form, and refusing to even look at one of them, Edna May, wife of a New York millionaire, and known in the theatrical world as the "Belle of New York," finally succumbed to their lure, and no star from the legitimate stage evinces a deeper interest in the motion picture art.

Miss May received her "movie" education at the Vitaphone studios in Brooklyn, where she received the stupendous salary of $100,000, which she will turn over to the Red Cross and other worthy charities.
"After leaving the legitimate stage I was more or less famous as 'The Belle of New York,'" said Miss May. "I openly derided motion pictures as a catch-penny device. Even when Mr. Albert E. Smith last before me the proposition to pose for the Vitaphone company I was skeptical."

"The few nights spent at the Vitaphone company changed my opinion and I realize now how great a work of education the photoplay performs. The charms of Dickens, the pulsing narratives of Hugo, the immortality of Shakespeare and the best literature of all ages is now being carried to the masses through the medium of the screen. It stables me when I contemplate how many have the screen given appreciation of the best in the world of art and literature."

"I fully believe that the motion pictures will soon find a vigorous application in the church and classroom. It is impossible to calculate the influence of the picture play on the masses. Miss May is star of 'Salvation Joan,' the latest Vitaphone Special Blue Ribbon Feature, which was filmed under the personal supervision of Albert E. Smith, one of the heads of the Vitaphone company.
Edna May, among the most popular favor several years ago as Violet Gray in 'The Belle of New York,' at the Casino theater, and was famed for her beauty. She appeared in several productions in London and at the height of her career married a New York banker. Since then she has devoted her time to social and charity work. It was with the understanding that the $100,000 she is to receive will be turned over to charity that induced her to accept a professional engagement."

At the Crystal theater today and tomorrow.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold a bazaar and home cooking sale today, at 311 West Central avenue. Hot lunch will be served.
