EXPLANATION OF
U. S. PEACE NOTEOpinion Generally Expressed

Has Taken Last Step to Avoid War With Germany.SUBMARINE ACTIVITY BELIEVED REAL CAUSEPosition of America Against Enslavement of Belgians Also Regarded as Contributing to Strained Relations.(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) London, Dec. 23.—The morning newspapers again today are giving ample space to President Wilson's note, assiduously seeking to penetrate into any possible concealed motive that may have led the president to what is considered here a most inopportun movement.According to the Washington correspondents of London newspapers, the opinion in the United States, as well as here, is that there must be "something behind it," and it is the opinion of many of the newspaper writers that this fact was inadvertently revealed by Secretary Lansing when he referred to the United States as on the verge of being drawn into the war. The suggestion is put forward by some of the writers that what would possibly so involve the United States would be a resumption on a still greater scale of Germany's submarine policy.

Opposition Still Strong.

The passage in the president's note to which the greatest umbrage is taken, is the one in which he professes to find the aims of both belligerent groups identical. His qualifying phrase in the context, "as stated in general terms to their own people and to the world," for the most part is ignored, as in the columns of newspapers of pacific tendencies. It cannot be said that today's press opinions show less opposition to the president's action than those of yesterday.The Morning Post says the kind speech in parliament yesterday was the best answer that could be made to "the president's amiable proposal."
Attending to the president's belief that the nations are ready to welcome a league of peace, the newspaper says:"With our experience with these leagues of peace behind us, we should think twice and thrice before throwing overboard the vote of Guatemala, Haiti, San and other nations, large and small, which would compose such a federation."The Daily News, one of the most favorable of the newspapers to President Wilson, says editorially that the reception of his note was respectful but uncompromising. "What had to be said has been said, for the most part, in language which America will neither misunderstand nor resent," it adds.The Daily News thinks the result of the bombardment over the note has been to throw greater relief Secretary of State Lansing's statement about the verge of war and says Mr.
Lansing's subsequent retraction rather emphasizes than diminishes its significance.

One Explanation Possible.

"The fact that Mr. Lansing should have used such words at all," says the Daily News, "suggests that America's relations with one of the belligerents are such as threaten to be much more strained than has been suspected here. One ambiguity may be cleared away at once. Whatever America's apprehensions may be, she cannot be on the verge of war with the entente powers. Under treaties with the United States signed in 1914 by Great Britain and France, but not by Germany, America could not, at the worst, be nearer than twelve months distant from war with England or France."The newspaper thinks the difficulty of accounting satisfactorily for the issue of the note compels a respectful view. Speculating on whether the president has a deeper cause for anxiety regarding American relations with Germany than has yet appeared, the newspaper mentions Germany's submarine activity and the Belgian deportations as possible causes for this anxiety. In short, the Daily News regards this as the most explicable reason for the president's desire to bring the war to a speedy end.

Ana county has been called to take place in Las Cruces the end of this week, to consider the locating of a hospital at Las Cruces.BOPP SAYS BIG SUM WAS USED
FOR FATHERLANDGerman Consulate Had on Hand $100,000 at One Time, He Admits, But British
Consul Had Much More.(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
San Francisco, Dec. 22.—Inside workings of the German consulate of San Francisco during war times were revealed today in the cross-examination of German Consul General Franz Bopp, accused with six others of conspiracies to violate American neutrality by hindering shipments of war munitions to England and her allies.Bopp admitted existence of a "secret" German consulate "war fund," aggregating more than $100,000. Some of the money, he said, came from the German embassy in Washington. John Preston, United States district attorney, was endeavoring to show that the alleged conspiracies were financed on a gigantic scale. He asked Bopp if his war fund ever reached $1,000,- 000. Bopp said that it did not.Bopp said when he returned from Germany in March, 1915, there was $100,000 in the war fund in the San Francisco consulate. Preston asked what use was made of the money."We spent it to buy rubber and nickel for Germany," the consul replied. "We shipped the materials through neutral countries."To what other uses the money was put was not revealed. While Preston was questioning Bopp about "such an enormous fund," Bopp exclaimed:
"Why, the British consulate here has millions."Questions about the movements of detectives for the German consulate brought a remark from Bopp that by
A. Carnegie Ross, British consul general, surrounded the German consulate.
"I'll bet it cost him a lot of money,"
Bopp added with a smile.WOOL GROWERS FAVOR

NOW AWAIT ACTIONWhen Statesmen Come Together Again Investigation of Railroad Problem Is to Be Taken Up.(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 22.—Congress adjourned today for the Christmas holidays to reconvene January 2. In the three weeks of the session the house passed five government employment measures, the urgent deficiency, legislative, Indian, District of Columbia, and diplomatic and consular appropriation bills—more than ever before passed in the brief period preceding a holiday recess.One of these bills, the urgent deficiency, has passed the senate.Railroad legislation failed to get much attention in either branch. The house commerce committee decided to await initiative action in the senate before beginning January 2, the senate commerce committee will hold hearings on the proposed railroad arbitration measure, and the bill authorizing the president to take over the railroad, telephone and telegraph lines in case of military necessity.

Will Be Pressed After Recess.

At the conclusion of the hearings, the railroad measures in same form will be pressed as amendments to the pending bill to enlarge the Interstate Commerce commission. Efforts to extend for one year the life of the joint commission investigating railroad problems were checked in the house to be renewed immediately after the holidays.The senate passed the immigration bill, with its literacy test provision, and it now is in conference. The senate also began consideration of the District of Columbia prohibition bill and fixed January 9 for a vote.The national prohibition constitutional amendment was reported favorably from the judiciary committee in each house.House committees also reported the Borland food investigation, with a favorable resolution, and the Susan B.
Anthony constitutional amendment for woman suffrage, without recommendation. Neither resolution advanced to consideration in the house.TEIPER, GUILTY OF MURDER IN
SECOND DEGREEIron Nerve of Young Man Fails
When Verdict Charging Responsibility for Mother's Death Is Given.(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 22.—Guilty of murder in the second degree, was the verdict returned by a jury late today against John Edward Teiper, charged with having killed his mother last January. The jury deliberated twenty-nine hours.The verdict broke the iron nerve of the young defendant, who throughout the long trial had given no sign of emotion. As the foreman of the jury announced the verdict, Teiper's strong frame seemed to crumble. His knees sagged and he would have fallen to the floor, had he not been caught by a deputy. "Oh, my God," he shrieked, as he struggled to rise."This is not fair, this is not human."
The sentence prescribed for second degree murder is a minimum of twenty years' imprisonment.CHICAGO JURY FINDS
MRS. BARNES NOT GUILTY(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Chicago, Dec. 22.—Mrs. M. M.
Barnes, charged with the murder of her husband, James H. Barnes, a traveling salesman, was found not guilty by a jury in the criminal court this afternoon. The jury deliberated three hours.Mrs. Barnes is the nineteenth woman acquitted of murder in Chicago since 1907. Barnes was shot and killed during a quarrel with his wife in Washington Park, September 15, 1916.Mrs. Barnes testified that Barnes attempted to kill her and that the weapon was accidentally discharged while she struggled to get possession of it.ENGLAND STILL SURPRISED AND DISAPPOINTED AT AMERICAN NOTEOfficials Express No Opinions for Publication, but Infer That Reply to Germany Will Be Unchanged.POSITION OF ALLIES
NOW FULLY OUTLINEDGeneral Tenor of Answers to Washington and Berlin Same as Stated in Speeches of Entente Statesmen.(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
London, Dec. 22.—Chief interest here concerning President Wilson's note to the belligerents and neutral powers on the possibilities of the belligerents making known their requirements concerning peace now centers upon the reception of the document by the central powers. The first advices received here from Germany regarding the note evince enthusiasm welcoming it, as was the reverse in England. The discussion here overnight was so absorbed in British emotions and as to the type of what should be Great Britain's reply, that the attitude of the central powers commanded little attention.The note continues to be the only subject of interest here. Its only partiality in Anglo-American relations as regards the situation it created, was President Cleveland's Venezuelan message, and the two documents are coupled as having created a similar impression.

Not Altered by Note.

All discussion in official quarters emphasizes the point that the policy of the entente allies and their procedure towards the peace overtures of the central powers will not be altered by President Wilson's appearance upon the stage as a participant in events.The entente allies will present their reply to the central powers very soon, and a reply to President Wilson will come later, but probably not within a fortnight. The reply to the central powers had virtually been arranged when President Wilson's note was delivered and will take its predestined course. The answer to President Wilson requires a further expansion of views among the entente, although there is little doubt that the general tenor of both notes will follow the same line, being based on the official speeches of David Lloyd George, the British prime minister; Aristide Briand, the French premier; Baron Sonnino, the Italian foreign minister; and
M. Pokrovsky, the Russian foreign minister, as containing a full explanation of the policy of the entente.

Decline to Give Views.

British public men generally decline to speak for publication concerning the note of President Wilson, and those in the government can not do so without violation of official custom.
Those outside of the government do not desire to embarrass it.All the prominent officials will remain in London during the holidays.
Work in government offices has been suspended, and the new administration, which is grasping the opportunity to avoid any conditions led up to a crisis
which threatened a break in diplomatic relations. That view is that the advantage of coming with the greatest
of neutrals will be so forebodingly
pressed upon the people of the central powers that it will not again be endangered.

Years of Entente Diplomats.

Entente diplomats, while they apparently had decided to accept the president's attitude in good faith had not wholly disposed of their fear that it might redound to the advantage of their enemies.It was reiterated today in all official quarters that there was perfect understanding between Secretary Lansing and the president, and whatever might have appeared as discordancy in interpretation of the note to the belligerents had been disposed of by the issue of the secretary's second statement and the steps to inform the foreign governments of the facts.The notes to the belligerents, Secretary Lansing's explanatory statements, and recent German submarine activities furnished the chief topic of discussion at today's cabinet meeting.
Later it was said that the discussion was directed toward no particular end but merely forth the views of cabinet members.Wait Facts on Submarines.
After the cabinet meeting, Secretary Lansing said that full information concerning the sinking of the British liner Arabic was not at hand. The American government is anxiously awaiting word from Berlin regarding the British warship, Macon, which admittedly was sunk without warning by a German submarine and which the state department has been ventured was not a transport. No course of action will be decided upon until Germany has been heard from further.Kaiser Confers Great

Berlin, Dec. 22 (via London).—Emperor William has conferred the Oak Leaves of the Order Pour le Merite upon Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, commander of the German forces on the Somme, it was officially announced today. With the decoration, the emperor sent an autograph letter, in which he said:"Under the splendid leadership of your royal highness, the Franco-British attacks have been arrested and the battle on the Somme won for us.
Only this made our destructive blows in Rumania possible."

State Expected to Create
More Friendly Feeling.(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 22.—While notting official came from Europe today to show when the belligerents will reply to President Wilson's note, a discussion of peace, or what the nature of the responses might be, the London news dispatches indicate that an early reply was unlikely because of the necessity of consultation by the allies, agreed with the view prevailing here.Apparently the administration, having dispatched the note and in the interest of caution having taken steps to see that no misconstruction should be placed on the president's purposes, now is carefully watching the expressions of opinion, particularly in the British press. As the attitude of the Teutonic allies had been clearly foreshadowed in advance, and the president in the note specifically dis-claimed any association with that attitude, the interest of American officials centered in the reception of the note in the entente countries and among the European neutrals.

Expect Hostility to Subside.

It was recalled, as the London dispatches, most of them hostile, arrived, that similar expressions greeted the original proposals of the central powers, but that the views were moderated in the British press and among the entente diplomats here, after reflection and discussion.To preclude any possibility of misconstruction of the president's purposes from the flurry of yesterday, caused by Secretary Lansing's two statements, two statements were called to mind, both diplomats abroad in neutral as well as belligerent countries, today, so that they might be prepared to state correctly the president's attitude toward the governments to which they are accredited. They are intended to offer official evidence, if it be needed, that the president's note is exactly what it purports to be on its face.

Expect Full Answers.

The suggestion from London that the number of replies to the president's note will differ from the form of replies to proposals of the German allies, corresponds with official expectations. It is thought here that the entente allies might not make extended answer to the proposals of the central powers, but would deal with the whole subject in their response to the United States.The German view here is that whatever the reply of the entente allies, the relations between Germany and the United States will have been immeasurably improved, probably to the point of assuming careful steps by the Berlin government to avoid any conditions led up to a crisis
which threatened a break in diplomatic relations. That view is that the advantage of coming with the greatest
of neutrals will be so forebodingly
pressed upon the people of the central powers that it will not again be
endangered.

Paris, Dec. 22.—"A dramatic stroke," is the way L'Intransigeant heads President Wilson's note to the belligerents. Commenting on the note, the newspaper says:"Everybody will understand the importance of America's act. Mr. Wilson's proposal is clear. The United States has had to suffer from the war. Germany is torturing its boats and the United States is sending us material and already has given us financial aid.""It is natural that the president should desire to know the purposes of the belligerents. Certainly this act will discourage the shy maneuver Germany is seeking to accomplish at this time. Since the enemy has provoked peace efforts, it is right that he should explain clearly just what he wants and then lay down his cards. He will not be able to escape the request of the American government."

Why French Fight.

"As to us, we know why we are fighting. Lloyd-George explained it clearly in the British house of commons. We are fighting because we were attacked and because we do not want to be attacked again.""On the eve of the Christmas holidays," says L'Intransigeant, "President Wilson would press the cause of peace with greater blessing since he fears to see his country drawn into the melee. The submarine warfare, which Germany threatens to wage to the utmost, regardless of promises made, if its peace overtures are ineffective, may draw the United States into the world conflict. Secretary Lansing expressed that fear and it is what American public opinion decries."

Lloyd-George Spoke for Them.

"We should be certainly desolated if its dignity and interests obliterated the Washington government to break with perjured and barbarous Germany.
More than any other country, France, which was attacked without the shadow of a pretext, knows that there is no help for it. Our American friends must make up their minds that we are struggling for ends common to them and to us. For civilization and right, we are making war on and to prevent forever the return of the he-cyclic such as the universe now contemplates with terror."

Views of Noted Journal.

The Temps, which carries great political weight, after alluding to what it terms the courteous and precise form of President Wilson's note, says:
"It certainly seems that the Washington cabinet, in its desire for peace, has neglected to look the problem in the face and weigh the real evidence.
President Wilson's fundamental error dates far back to his refusal to pass upon the initial responsibility for war.
Judge what the two groups of belligerents say and think about peace. Can one forget that one of them deliberately broke the peace while the other did everything to keep it?"

Only Victory Can Bring Peace.

"Can one forget in this connection the wrong of Austria against Serbia; the wrong of Germany against Belgium?"After saying that the war map put forward by Germany in her peace proposals presents only an outward, momentary appearance of the situation, the Temps concludes:"The wish of the United States for peace was ours, and that of our allies thirty months ago. The war was imposed on us by a people eager for conquest, and now we want that victory which alone will create a durable peace."

Short Sentence for Thief.

New York, Dec. 22.—One year in Sing Sing prison was the minimum sentence, with six months' longer as the maximum, passed today on Anthony P. Daggett, of Larchmont, N. Y., formerly in charge of a trust company deposit vault in which Mrs. E.
H. Harriman, widow of the capitalist, had placed jewels for safekeeping.
Daggett last week pleaded guilty to larceny of $40,000 worth of jewels.

To Increase Mounted Police.

Ottawa, Ontario, Dec. 22.—The mounted police patrol on the boundary line from the Great Lakes west to be strengthened, it was announced today. To this end notice has been given the western provinces of Canada that hereafter they must undertake a good deal of the work. The border police have been exceedingly busy since the war began, checking smuggling and horse stealing.

ALL FOREIGNERS LEAVE TORREON; VILLA ATTACKS

Garrison Composed of 2,000 Yaqui Indians; Strong Reinforcements Hurried to Railroad Center.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
El Paso, Tex., Dec. 22.—All Americans and other foreigners have left Torreon, which Villa is reported to be attacking, according to an American arriving here tonight from that district by way of Eagle Pass. The last of the foreigners, who intended to remain as long as they dared, came out about a week ago, he said. On his way to the border the American passed eight train cars, which were said to be destined for Torreon to reinforce the garrison there. This garrison, under the command of General Palmar, and is composed of 2,000 Yaqui Indians, according to the same authority.

Villistas Are Active.
There has been a considerable increase in rebel activities in north central Mexico the past few weeks, the refugee said, including the capture of the large town of San Pedro, some miles to the east of Torreon, on the railway line to Monterrey. A rebel leader named Salinas was credited with this exploit.

Other passengers arriving here from central and lower central Mexico, say that rebels have made train service hazardous between Mexico City and Vera Cruz by derailing trains, although the reports of Puebla and Orizaba falling, are untrue. Carranza troops still hold Chihuahua, they said, but Zapata guerrillas make themselves felt at isolated spots. Bands sympathizing with Felix Diaz, were reported to be largely in control of the isthmus of Tehuantepec.

CONGRESSMAN GARDNER DENOUNCES PACIFISTS

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Cincinnati, O., Dec. 22.—Representative Augustus P. Gardner of Massachusetts, speaking on "National Defense," at the Business Men's club here tonight, flayed pacifists and declared that the nation, because of its unprepared condition, is standing over a volcano.

"Preparation against war will not necessarily save us from war," said the representative. "And it will assist us in averting war, and likewise, it will give us a chance to make a fight worthy of our history, should war break out."

OREGON COURT TAKES SHARP RAP AT PROHIBITION

Says Citizen Can Import Liquor for His Own Use and No Law Should Try to Stop Him.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Portland, Ore., Dec. 22.—Oregon's prohibition law was given a blow here today when Circuit Judge Henry J. Methum ruled that the state had no authority to limit or prohibit citizens from manufacturing or importing liquor for personal use.

"If a man wants to go wrong, cross him, that is his affair," said the judge. "But when he wants to send his neighbor wrong cross him, then it is the state's affair."

The ruling was aimed at the present law, which prohibits importations, but if it stands, would apply, it was believed, on the total prohibition law, which is expected to become effective next month. The decision was made in an injunction suit filed by A. Linn, Portland, who asked that the police officers be enjoined from searching his premises for liquor.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT AIDS LIQUOR LAW

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 22.—The United States government has taken a hand in the fight being made to prevent shipments of liquor into this state, it became known today, when federal indictments were filed against four men charging conspiracy to violate interstate commerce laws by causing a false record of illicit liquor shipments to be made by railroads.

The government alleges that Logan and Fred Billingsley have shipped in to Seattle since last March liquor valued at $50,000, which brought them a profit of more than $200,000. It is charged that they sold barreled whiskey at $5 a gallon. The Billingsleys and W. H. Peltow and William Francis, transfer company men, were named in the indictments. The shipments began, it is claimed, soon after the prohibition law became effective in Washington.

Writer of Boy Stories Dies

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 22.—Arthur L. Brown, famous Chicago newspaper man and author, under various pen names of hundreds of stories for boys died here today after a long illness. Mr. Brown was born in New York state sixty-nine years ago.

SHU WAS AFTER HIM

(American Mafioso)
I am only a schoolboy, and may be like me are not supposed to be bored, but I am bored. I am bored because I have been by a bore. I hate to think of growing up. The worst boy I ever knew was a girl at school. And she followed me from class to class and from grade to grade like a bad conscience. When we began departmental work I thought, I might escape, at times, but she was always near by. Close enough to drive me in the verge of murder. To begin with, she was overgrown, long-legged and ugly. She was about my age, but weighed half as much again as I did. Her hair was muddy and black. Her hair-black and oily and slick on her peaked head. Her eyes were black and black and sort of crossed, but whenever we they turned, one was always on me. For in spite of all my moods and black looks, she was devoted to me in a way that drove me wild. I never failed to send her an early valentine every year. Once I sent her a valentine that said: "You are a pretty, sweet one. I slipped her hand in ink and dragged it across her neck. She giggled and was delighted. I drew hideous pictures of her, and she giggled at me and made all the other boys believe I had written her a note."

He has developed quite remarkably since he first entered the baseball game.

DECLARES BARTH IS UNSEATED BY PLEA OF GUILTY

Chrisman Comes Forward With Contention That Bernalillo County Man Is Automatically Excluded.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.
Albuquerque, N. M., Dec. 22.—The Bernalillo County man, who automatically excluded himself from the state senate, by pleading guilty to expelling a man from the law permits to obtain his seat, in the contention now set up by W. H. Chrisman, who contesting his seat and who was defeated by the small margin of six votes.

However, the legality in the current election and does not through disqualification for office and the plea could be made merely a plausible pretext for unseating Barth, and even this would not go far, as Chrisman is accused of the same offense, although he has not pleaded guilty.

Similarly the charge that District Attorney J. H. O'Neil provided the assistant district attorney, E. P. Davies, before a grand jury, is not likely in the contest tonight against Barth for the present in absent. Chrisman said the latter asserts that he has witnesses and even letters which indicate that Davies had been present, but the assistant attorneyship in controversy of the corrupt practices act which forbids every person, from directly or indirectly offering, giving, lending or promising to give, lend, etc., any office, place of employment to procure any office, etc. However, the contest both in court and before the electors are likely to bring out many interesting points and rumors on the corrupt practices act.

SANTA'S RIGHT ON THE JOB IN ALBUQUERQUE

Journal Readers Answer the Plea of the Holbein Boys for Shoes and a Job for Father With Promptness.

Charles and Richard Holbein have shifted their allegiance from the mythical Santa Claus to the citizens of Albuquerque that played the part of his messengers yesterday with such promptness and liberality.

The plea of the two small boys for "a job for father and shoes for us," published yesterday in the Journal, brought immediate results, and last night, dressed in new clothes from the skin out, with everything from shiny shoes to a real hair cut with bay rum, and a box of good things to eat for too long for the two of them to carry they learned their pleasure and gratitude.

Dr. C. E. Lukens was one of the first of Santa's messengers on the spot, arriving at five minutes before eight in the morning. The boys' mother was already gone, having been given work for the day by some one earlier than he. Dr. Lukens captured Charlie and Dick and took them to his home to spend the day, where they first were scrubbed and then made a visit to the stores and outfitted. And then they were fed.

"They ate for an hour without stopping," laughed Dr. Lukens, "and when I left they were still at it. I never saw two such appetites in my life."

When the boys finally were returned to their home, they confided that they had had the loneliest auto ride in their lives, and had had "a grand time."

Herman Holbein, their father, was given temporary work and several thoughtful people noticed out to the Holbein home during the day and left a supply of groceries and warm clothing and several toy steam engines that brought shouts of joy from the two boys when they arrived.

CARD WRITTEN BY CLYDE B. ARMOUR WAS MAILED HERE

Miss Erna C. John, of Sioux City, Ia., received a postal card, mailed in Albuquerque, from Clyde B. Armour—central figure in the murder-ransom mystery growing out of the fact that relatives have not heard from him for some time. Chief Galusha learned of the postal card in a letter sent him by Miss John.

You're wrong, Doc. Let the constables fall for that. It's a bum clew to Sherlockian acumen. Miss John is telling the truth, but Armour may have written the card in San Miguel county, or somewhere else. Just because it was mailed here is not proof that Armour mailed it. In fact, it may have been done to hide some dark deed.

Miss John wrote Chief Galusha that she received another card from Armour before the one came from Albuquerque. The first card was mailed at San Jose, San Miguel county.

Chief Galusha uncovered a possible clue of evidence yesterday that may have bearing on the disappearance of Armour. He learned that Joseph Solko, engraver at Rosenwald Brothers' department store, had taken a snapshot of the Clyde B. Armour who was here. Solko had not developed the picture. The police will have it developed today.

RED CROSS SEAL FIGURES.

325,000,000 Holiday Stickers Already Distributed in United States.

Few people have any conception of the magnitude of the Red Cross Christmas Seal Campaign. Here are a few figures that will show what a gigantic movement this is. Already 325,000,000 Seals have been printed and practically that entire number distributed to agents in every state and territory of the Union from Alaska to the Canal Zone, from Porto Rico to Hawaii, and even in the far-off Philippines. Advertising circulars, posters, cards, etc., to the number of several millions, have also been distributed. Not less than 1,000,000 personal letters asking people to buy Seals have been sent out. It is estimated that the army of workers, nearly all of whom are volunteers, engaged in selling the Seals, numbers well over 500,000. The advertising and publicity devoted to the campaign amounts to several hundred thousand dollars. Every effort is being put forth to sell 100,000,000 Seals, or only one for every man, woman and child in the United States. This will mean $1,000,000 for the anti-tuberculosis campaign in the United States. Over 1,500 anti-tuberculosis associations of the country derive their support from Red Cross Seals.

STORMY SESSION OF LEGISLATURE IN NEVADA SURE

Divorce Legislation and Proposal to Make State 'Bone Dry' Among Measures to Come Up for Consideration.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Carson City, Nev., Dec. 22.—Divorce legislation, prohibition and amendments to the gambling laws are expected to furnish much of the interest in the coming session of the Nevada legislature which convenes here on January 16 for a sixty-day session. Added to this is the fact that the senate will be controlled by the republicans and the house by the democrats.

The prohibition fight already has been launched through filing a petition for an initiative act making the state "bone dry." Under the initiative law in this state the proposed statute, together with a substitute measure in case the legislature passes one, will go on the ballot together at the next general election.

Initiative petitions of gambling and divorce, the former proposing an initiative act absolutely prohibiting gambling in any form and the latter changing the residence clause of the divorce law from six months to one year, failed because a sufficient number of voters failed to sign them.

A change will likely be made in the existing election law. An effort will be made to restore the direct primary system but the friends of the present convention system will insist on its retention with, perhaps, a slight modification.

Legislation on race track betting, which now is permitted under parliamentary system, is not likely to be changed, although the present law may be amended so as to place the betting machine exclusively under the control of bona fide residents.

Good roads legislation also will be given its share of attention and an act probably passed calling for co-operation with the national government of such character as to enable Nevada to take advantage of the good roads act passed by the last congress.

The Nevada State Bar association also will endeavor to obtain the passage of legislation inaugurating the short ballot system.

CONSTABULARY ISSUE ACUTE IN COLORADO

Denver, Dec. 22.—Organization of a state constabulary to replace the state militia is contemplated in proposed legislation which, with other important measures, is to come before the session of the Colorado legislature which convenes here on January 3 next. The proposal to create a state constabulary is the result of much and serious industrial trouble in the coal mining districts.

State militia officers, in reports after a recent serious situation, in which the militia was called upon for strike duty, declared the state militia ought not to be used for duty in cases of industrial disturbances. They pointed out that in recent difficulties federal troops had to be called upon to restore order and maintain peace.

Other important legislation has for its object the extension of the scope of the industrial relations and public utilities commissions. Both of these, with the proposed legislation to strengthen the existing prohibition measures, probably will furnish much of the interest in the session.

Love's young dream probably will fare badly, due to proposed laws designed by their sponsors to prevent the elopement of very young couples. They have for their object heavy penalties for persons performing marriage ceremonies for minors who have not the consent of their parents. Another law would forbid the solemnizing of marriages outside the county wherein one or both principals reside.

Other contemplated measures are: reorganization of the criminal laws; placing all state institutions under the control of one board; an adult probation law; women's minimum wage; diversion of inheritance taxes to pay state warrants; and the appointment of a state guardian for unattached minors.

For the first time in forty years the legislature's most picturesque figure, former Senator Casimiro Barale of Las Animas will be absent. He was defeated by a democrat in the last election. The present senate and house are both democratic by small majorities.

WYOMING TO CONSIDER PROHIBITION LEGISLATION

Cheyenne, Wyo., Dec. 22.—Prohibition will be the chief issue before the fourteenth state legislature which will convene here in biennial session on January 9. An active campaign was conducted by the anti-saloon bill submitting a prohibitory amendment to the people at the next election. The liquor interests throughout the state announce an intention to resist the passage of a submission bill.

Although the state went democratic on the presidency and the United States senate, the republicans will have a majority in both houses of the legislature. In the senate the line-up will be sixteen republicans and eleven democrats; in the house thirty-two republicans and twenty-five democrats.

The democrats were pledged in their state platform "to the submission to the people of all issues of popular concern." Most of them are expected to vote for the prohibitory submission bill. The republican party took no stand on the issue, but the anti-saloon leaders say they will support submission.

Other subjects of proposed legislation include a colonization plan, similar to those in force in some of the Australian states, and a reorganization plan which would change the representation in both houses of the legislature.

AMERICANS RELEASED ON GERMANY'S REQUEST

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 22.—Release by Turkey of the 200 Americans detained at Syria and Palestine, was brought about through Germany at the request of the United States, exercising its good offices with the Ottoman government.

It became known today that Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador at the suggestion of Secretary Lansing, communicated with his government after the United States, through the embassy at Constantinople, had made many unsuccessful efforts to obtain the release of the Americans.

Ambassador Ellis now is endeavoring to persuade the Turkish government to modify its order of release so that the refugees may be freed immediately, instead of being detained at Jaffa for a month to render useless any military information which might be in their possession.

SHOWS BISSING'S STATEMENT FAR FROM THE TRUTH

Nearly All Belgians Taken Into German Slavery Men Who Actually Were Employed, Says Official.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Hayre, Dec. 22.—Specific details of the deportations of Belgians refuting the reports from Berlin that only those without work were deported and if others were taken it was the fault of the Belgian municipal authorities, were communicated to the Associated Press today by Fernand Peseleux, director of the documentary bureau of the Belgian war ministry.

"The German pretention that errors in judging the social condition of these deported were involuntary and imputing them to the bad faith of the Belgian authorities is entirely contrary to the facts," said M. Peseleux. "It is to be noted in Governor General von Bissing's reply to the protest of the senators and deputies, recently made public, that he did not dare to contest the facts concerning the arbitrary seizure of employed persons."

Mostly Men at Work.

"At Quatremon, in the coal region, south of Mons, 3,000 workmen were summoned and 264 deported, of which 227 never had been out of work. At Dour, 137 were taken, of whom 117 were working. At Wazemmes, 185 were deported, of whom 139 were working; at Frameries, 290 were deported, of whom 187 were working; at Hornu, 149 were deported, of whom 85 were working; at Ghlin, 155 were taken, of whom 45 were working. At Hayre, Belgium, the mayor of the town offered to give proof concerning whether the men were employed or not. The proofs were refused."

"Forty-six men, all regularly employed at the Baume-Marpent refines mills at Haine St. Pierre, were taken. From the Gilson works at La Croixere 59 employees were taken out of a total of 225 summoned. From the works at de Louve, 40 workmen were taken. Fifty-one iron workers were arrested in the rolling mills at La Croixere and 25 were taken. From the 130 employees at the bolt works at La Louviere, from the Compagnie Centrale de Construction at Haine St. Pierre, 25 workmen were taken. From the blast furnaces and foundries at La Louviere 70 per cent of the total number employed were seized, making it impossible for the works to continue operations."

What Facts Disclose.

From the Boel works at La Louviere, 259 men regularly employed were taken, including the office manager, 10 office employees, 21 foremen and 217 workmen. The glass works at Jemappes, the only establishment of its kind in the district, resumed work December 4, 1915, and worked without interruption, increasing its output until November 1, 1916, when it was shut down for repairs until November 16, with the intention of increasing production. More than half of the skilled workmen at these works were arrested and deported, including 49 per cent of the blowers, 60 per cent of the first class apprentices, 32 per cent of the second class apprentices, 35 per cent of the extenders, and all of the electricians and adjusters.

"Germany released a few hundred out of the 100,000 taken to make a show of magnanimity. The releases were not spontaneous, but were the result of the pressing representations made by the American and Spanish ministers at Brussels."

Conductor Williams Injured.

Santa Fe, Dec. 22.—Ellis Williams, conductor on the Rio Grande division of the Santa Fe, was injured near Socorro, when the train on which he was riding into a handcar that carried no lights. The work train was coming from the gravel pit near Socorro and its caboose in which Williams was at the time was thrown from the track. Williams had both legs badly bruised and cut and suffered shock. He accompanied his brother, Corporation Commissioner Hugh Williams, to Santa Fe today to recuperate. Miss Helen Williams also came from State College with her father, to be in Santa Fe over the holidays.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Hayre, Dec. 22.—Specific details of the deportations of Belgians refuting the reports from Berlin that only those without work were deported and if others were taken it was the fault of the Belgian municipal authorities, were communicated to the Associated Press today by Fernand Peseleux, director of the documentary bureau of the Belgian war ministry.

"The German pretention that errors in judging the social condition of these deported were involuntary and imputing them to the bad faith of the Belgian authorities is entirely contrary to the facts," said M. Peseleux. "It is to be noted in Governor General von Bissing's reply to the protest of the senators and deputies, recently made public, that he did not dare to contest the facts concerning the arbitrary seizure of employed persons."

Mostly Men at Work.

"At Quatremon, in the coal region, south of Mons, 3,000 workmen were summoned and 264 deported, of which 227 never had been out of work. At Dour, 137 were taken, of whom 117 were working. At Wazemmes, 185 were deported, of whom 139 were working; at Frameries, 290 were deported, of whom 187 were working; at Hornu, 149 were deported, of whom 85 were working; at Ghlin, 155 were taken, of whom 45 were working. At Hayre, Belgium, the mayor of the town offered to give proof concerning whether the men were employed or not. The proofs were refused."

"Forty-six men, all regularly employed at the Baume-Marpent refines mills at Haine St. Pierre, were taken. From the Gilson works at La Croixere 59 employees were taken out of a total of 225 summoned. From the works at de Louve, 40 workmen were taken. Fifty-one iron workers were arrested in the rolling mills at La Croixere and 25 were taken. From the 130 employees at the bolt works at La Louviere, from the Compagnie Centrale de Construction at Haine St. Pierre, 25 workmen were taken. From the blast furnaces and foundries at La Louviere 70 per cent of the total number employed were seized, making it impossible for the works to continue operations."

What Facts Disclose.

From the Boel works at La Louviere, 259 men regularly employed were taken, including the office manager, 10 office employees, 21 foremen and 217 workmen. The glass works at Jemappes, the only establishment of its kind in the district, resumed work December 4, 1915, and worked without interruption, increasing its output until November 1, 1916, when it was shut down for repairs until November 16, with the intention of increasing production. More than half of the skilled workmen at these works were arrested and deported, including 49 per cent of the blowers, 60 per cent of the first class apprentices, 32 per cent of the second class apprentices, 35 per cent of the extenders, and all of the electricians and adjusters.

LOCAL CHURCHES

WILL CELEBRATE

MIDNIGHT MASS

Beautiful Musical Program
at Immaculate Conception, St. John's-Episcopal Also to Have Night Services.

Midnight services in two Albuquerque churches tomorrow night will form an especially attractive feature of the religious observance of Christmas.

Musical programs of unusual merit will characterize these services and the solemnity appropriate to the sacredness of the season will be observed in the fullest manner.

For many years past midnight mass has been celebrated at the Immaculate Conception church at both Christmas and New Year's, and this year will be no exception. The exceptional choir of this church will be heard to good advantage tomorrow night, and the beautiful ritualistic services of the Roman Catholic church will be performed. Rev. Father Mandall will celebrate high mass, but there will be no sermon.

The only Protestant church to have midnight services this year will be St. John's-Episcopal church. Here, too, there will be an elaborate musical program, rendered by the church choir. The services will be conducted by H. Rex Frederick, R. Brodwin, chaplain of New Mexico and west Texas.

All the other Albuquerque churches have arranged to hold religious observances of Christmas during the day tomorrow. There will be practically no church services in the city on Christmas day. Elaborate musical programs have been arranged in almost all the places of worship and the best talent of the city will be engaged in the Christmas services.

CHRISTMAN CASE
IS TAKEN BEFORE
DISTRICT COURT

Following Conviction of Candidate in Justice Court Attorneys Sue Out Writ of Habeas Corpus.

W. H. Christman, candidate at the last election for senator from the "shootings" district, was found guilty yesterday by Justice W. W. McChellin in the Twelfth precinct court of exceeding the statutory limit in his campaign expenditures. The justice fined him $50 and costs.

After the conviction of Mr. Christman his attorneys, M. E. Hickey and J. P. Barnes, sued out a writ of habeas corpus before Judge M. C. Mechem of the district court. Judge Mechem heard arguments in the case yesterday. Judge Mechem is expected to give his decision today.

The charge on which Mr. Christman was fined was that he had spent more than 10 per cent of a state senator's salary for one year. Mr. Christman spent $1,267. His statement, filed with the secretary of state, at Santa Fe, showed that. It was admitted that Mr. Christman spent that amount, but his attorneys contended, the expenditure was not illegal. Mr. Barnes said that the law was not applicable to legislative candidates as they received a per diem and not an annual salary.

Habeas Corpus Dismissed.

Senator Isaac Barth, Mr. Christman's opponent at election, who made the complaint against the San Juan county candidate, said that law prohibited any candidate for popular office from spending more than 10 per cent of the yearly salary provided for the office sought by him.

Justice McChellin found Mr. Christman not guilty of the first charge filed by Senator Barth under the corrupt practices act. The allegation was made by Senator Barth that Mr.
Christman paid $50 to "John Doe" to vote for him. The justice held that insufficient evidence had been produced to support this charge. Mr.
Christman said shortly after the filing of the complaint that "John Doe" was not a voter in Bernillo county and that the $50 paid to him was for traveling expenses. "Doe," he said, came here from another county to work among friends in favor of his candidacy but did not attempt to vote here.

COHAN'S GREAT PLAY
TO BE SEEN AT THE
CRYSTAL THIS EVENING

A Broadway bartender, a small town clergyman, a rich brewer, all of Johnsburg; the brewer's son, the clergyman's daughter, the "Johnsburg" chief and his confidants, the proprietor of the American house, the local ex-pressionman, a head barber, his assistant and the bootblack, and a society widow suffragette.

Here in briefest biographic definition is a "Who's Who" of the characters depended upon to put across the legendary laughs of George M. Cohan's latest farce of American life, "Hit-the-Trail-Holiday," which Mes-sers. Cohan and Harris will send to the Crystal theater tonight.

To tell more about the play makes it necessary to remind that the locale is "Johnsburg," somewhere in "New England," found 1915. A. D., for George M. Cohan. The scenes, all in "Johnsburg," are: The roughest barber shop—complete to the last bottle of bay rum—that any small town can boast. A living room in the home of the clergyman so natural one unconsciously would lower his voice the minute he entered it. The "private office" of the American house.

Given these places and personages the clever young author turns on full steam the speed of Cohan action and lets go to the limit his inherited love of unexpected situation and swift-moving fun. He starts a temperance row in Johnsburg, exhibiting the dazzling young bartender against the very man he was imported from Broadway's most fashionable drink emporium to work for.

SANTA CLAUS GLUTS MAILS ON BRITISH FRONT

Christmas Presents Almost as Great Tax on Transport as Munitions Being Rushed to Trenches.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) With the British armies in France, Dec. 22 (via London). From a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press.—In these last days before Christmas, it is a strange procession, indeed, that winds its way on the travel-scarred roads of northern France to where the greatest armies the world has ever known are locked in a life and death struggle.

With the seemingly endless train of motor trucks groaning under capacity weights of powder, shells and all the varied and sinister material of war, are numerous other trucks fairly bulging with presents and greetings of the Yuletide. Oddly enough, both types of trucks are decorated gaily with holly and mistletoe. It appears now that no soldier, regardless of how humble his station, will be forgotten.

Gun Pressure Continues. The handling of the vast amount of mail for the English, Canadian and Australian troops is fraught with great difficulties, for powder and shell assert their prerogative of preference and the holiday season will bring no lessening of the gun pressure on any part of the front. Despite the complex problems connected with the task, the organization behind the front makes it possible for letters and parcels to reach the men in the front line trenches, forty-eight hours after their posting in London. One reason for this is that the mail is being handled and distributed by "Tommyes," who formerly were postal employees.

The Canadians received the bulk of their mail last week, most of the soldiers obeying with childish impatience instructions not to open the parcels until Christmas. The mail for the Australian troops necessarily was posted six or seven weeks ago, and naturally, there were many casualties in that period so that the authorities are confronted with a number of parcels which never will reach their intended owners.

Great Mail Business. A feature of the Christmas army mails is that the outgoing post is almost as heavy as the in-coming, with a strong cross-current of money orders going home and coming out. Some idea of the army postal problems may be gained from the fact that normally the British army sends 1,100,000 letters and post cards, and 1,100,000 parcels daily. This number is being doubled and trebled during the Christmas rush. Another interesting fact is that a soldier receives an average of four letters a week, and writes one.

The packages being sent from the front contain all manner of souvenirs from the battlefield and trenches. Letters and parcels for the men on the very front line are sent to them with their rations. The favorite Christmas card that the "Tommyes" are sending home is one on which loving mottoes are woven with vari-colored silk threads.

Will Resume Paper Hearing. Washington, Dec. 22.—Public hearings in the federal trade commission's news print paper investigation, will be resumed Friday, December 23. The commission announced today that phases of the situation not completed at the previous hearing would be taken up, including the reasonable-ness of prices, cost of manufacture and jobbers' profits.

TEUTONS STILL ADVANCING IN DOBRUDJA REGION

Not Much Important Fighting Is Reported From Western Front; Spirited Engagement in Galicia.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Except in northern Dobrudja, where the troops of the central powers continue to drive the Russians and Rumanians towards Bessarabia, there has been little important activity on the battle fronts of Europe.

The Russian troops in Dobrudja, Petrograd announces, were forced to retire northward under heavy attacks from numerically superior hostile forces. Berlin states that the Teutonic army in Dobrudja continues to advance successfully and announces the capture of 300 Russian soldiers. East of Lake Babadagh, a Russian regiment, Petrograd reports, drove a force of Rumanians into Lake Iholita. A great many Rumanians were drowned and 115 were made prisoner.

Artillery Active in West. The artillery bombardment continues at various points on the western front. Berlin reports increased activity, especially in the Somme sector, and on the east bank of the Meuse, in the Verdun region, the scene of the latest French advance.

In Galicia, near the Zibchoff-Tarnopol railroad, there has been a spirited engagement. Berlin reports the breaking of the advanced Russian line northwest of Zalostse, while Petrograd says the Austro-Germans were compelled to retire after occupying some trenches. Some fighting has taken place in the Tatra valley, on the Moldavian frontier, and along the Bystritsa river, in the Carpathians. El Arish, ninety miles east of the Suez canal, in Egypt, has been captured by the British troops. The town had been occupied for two years by the Turks, who had built strong entrenchments around it. The defenders fled from El Arish on the approach of the British army.

CALLES WANTS FREE ZONE ALONG BORDER

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Douglas, Ariz., Dec. 22.—Gen. P. Elias Calles announced today that he had petitioned Venustiano Carranza, first chief of the constitutional party, to decree the establishment of a free zone twelve miles wide along the entire northern border of Mexico and the United States.

He was joined in the petition, he said, by the governors of all the Mexican states bordering on the United States. A similar free trade zone in which no duties were collected for exports or imports, was established by Porfirio Diaz, proving quite beneficial to both sides of the border. It was abolished about ten years ago, he said.

Arkansas Free With Pardons. Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 22.—Christmas pardons for thirty-three prisoners in the state penitentiary were issued today by Gov. George W. Hays. Among those freed were eight persons convicted of second degree murder, whose sentences aggregated 127 years, and George T. Sloan, of Little Rock, sentenced to two years' imprisonment for stealing 20,000 shares of Arkansas and Arizona Copper company stock. He was arrested last summer in San Diego, Cal., after being traced by detectives through Denver, Salt Lake City and other western cities, in which he disposed of the stolen stock.

French Dig Trenches Now With a Tractor

This is the first photograph of the powerful tractor now used by the French to dig trenches. This tractor ploughs its way over the ground shoveling out the earth and plowing it on either side, not unlike the methods of the plant plows used in the preparation of the soil. All trenches heretofore have been made by hand, and millions of men had to be taken from their work as soldiers to plow trenches. The tractor will do the work of thousands.

ENTHUSIASM IN BERLIN GREET U. S. PEACE NOTE

Germans Besiege Ambassador Gerard, Joseph C. Grew and Associated Press Representatives for News.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Berlin, Dec. 22 (via London).—The announcement of President Wilson's peace endeavor was given a tremendous welcome to Berlin. The opinions of official and newspaper circles appeared in noon editions in large display headlines, reviving the interest in the German peace overtures which had sunk to a low point under the influence of the preliminary declarations of statements of the entente powers.

The American embassy, to which the ambassador, James W. Gerard, returned last night from New York, the Associated Press correspondent, and the American charge, Joseph C. Grew, were besieged by newspaper men, who sought additional information concerning the president's peace note.

Will Try to "Save Daylight." New York, Dec. 22.—A bill to make effective in the United States the "daylight saving plan," by which the clock would be advanced one hour from May 1, 1917, to September 30, 1917, will be introduced in congress by Representative William P. Borah of Missouri. It was announced tonight by the New York daylight saving committee.

COMPANY BOOKS EATEN BY MICE, SAYS SECRETARY

Asserts Men Engaged in Selling Mythical Wild Horses; Actually Lost Money Because of Bad Trades Made.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Omaha, Neb., Dec. 22.—The books of the United States Livestock company, charged in federal court here with use of the mails to defraud, in sales totaling a million dollars of wild horses, supposed to have ruined the government reservation in Osage county, Ark., were "of very little value," M. Thompson, secretary-treasurer of the company, today testified, and in 1912 he packed them in some boxes and put them in the cellar of his home, "and the mice ate them up." He had been able to find a few scraps of paper the mice had not destroyed, he said, and upon these fragments based his testimony concerning the wild horse transactions. In the purchase and sale of the Mustangs, the witness declared, the United States Livestock company was "the victim and not the culprit, and actually lost money" in trades for property that was valueless.

No Get-Rich-Quick Scheme. Thompson denied the company was organized as a "get-rich-quick" scheme. The first really owned section of the United States Livestock company, which were "mostly traded for real estate," which was decided at once to "creditors who were pressing for payment." The government witnesses who testified they lost money when they bought Mustangs the defendant was alleged to have represented as "lost from the stock market," did not buy the horses for the market, Thompson asserted, but admitted they intended to trade them.

Charles Acker, Minneapolis, who yesterday said he came here at the suggestion of his wife to "help out" J. Sidney Smith, president of the United States Livestock company, and a defendant, was today placed under bonds to insure his remaining here during the trial.

DENVER MINT COINING NEW HALF-DOLLAR PIECES

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Denver, Dec. 22.—The Denver mint today began turning out the newly designed half-dollar pieces, and for an indefinite period will coin an average of more than 150,000 pieces daily.

The new coin bears the full length of the statue of liberty, with the stars and stripes flying to the wind as a background. Branches of oak, also are imprinted. On the reverse side an eagle is perched high upon a flag, wings unfurled. The coin bears the customary lettering.

MAKE AMERICA FIRST IN HEARTS OF IMMIGRANTS

National Bureau of Education Urges That Non-English Speaking Residents Be Induced to Learn Language.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL) Washington, Dec. 22.—"Make a Christmas present to your country by inducing one non-English speaking immigrant to learn the language of America." This is the message, apropos of the holiday season, which the bureau of education of the department of the interior is sending to all those interested in bringing about greater national unity through the assimilation of the immigrant population. The annual decline in alien numbers is being met by the evening classes following the holidays is the cause for this unusual appeal.

This action is part of the "Americana" campaign, begun by the bureau September 1 to extend the facilities provided for the education of immigrants and to induce the largest number of immigrants to take advantage of school opportunities.

The national committee of 166 appointed at that time by the United States commissioner of education has enlisted the co-operation of chambers of commerce, industries, editors, patriotic societies and other agencies, both public and private, in all parts of the country. The ready response demonstrated the timeliness of the campaign. Reports from school authorities indicate pronounced interest on the part of the foreigner in learning English and studying about American history and geography.

Attendance in many cities has doubled as a result of the national movement and local effort directed along lines suggested by the schedule of standards projected by the bureau.

With the beginning of the new term after the Christmas holidays comes a renewed interest in the foreigner. The bureau feels that every public-spirited citizen could make a gift of fundamental value to the unity of the nation, by inducing at least one immigrant to acquire the language spoken everywhere in the United States. The large number of non-English speaking, as well as illiterate, foreigners would soon become one of us in spirit and allegiance.

DODGE BROTHERS NOT TO GET INJUNCTION

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Lansing, Mich., Dec. 22.—The state supreme court today denied a petition filed by John F. Dodge and Horace E. Dodge, of Detroit, which asked that the scope of their injunction restraining Henry Ford from using the cash surplus of the Ford Motor company be broadened. The injunction restrains Ford from spending this surplus for at least sixty days, and has halted the construction of a smaller new Detroit.

The Dodge brothers, who are motor car manufacturers and stockholders in the Ford company, want the Ford profits disbursed as dividends and are seeking to permanently enjoin Ford from using surplus monies to enlarge the Ford concern. The court granted an alternative order on Mr. Ford's petition to have the injunction dissolved. By the terms of the latter order, the circuit court, which granted the temporary restraining order, is directed to modify it and let Mr. Ford proceed with contracts he has made, providing he files a bond acceptable to the lower court, or, if the circuit court refuses this, it is expected to show cause why the entire injunction should not be dissolved.

The decision on Mr. Ford's petition will permit him to proceed with the construction of the smaller factory near Detroit, and the bond will protect the Dodge from any loss in that connection.

The alternative order is made returnable January 5.

A Leakage That Can Be Easily Stopped

How many people who read this article, realize the weighty influence of one little necessity of life—baking powder—on the cost of living?

Yet it is a leakage that can easily be stopped. Some think there is economy in buying the cheap "Big Can" Baking Powders. These Baking Powders are not always uniform, and sometimes produce failures in the baking, and the result is that more is lost in one or two spoiled bakings than you spend on baking powder in the whole year. The cheap "Big Can" Baking Powders should be avoided.

So, too, should high priced Trust Brands that sell at 45c to 50c a pound, for it is an unnecessary waste of money to pay more than 25c—the price asked for Calumet Baking Powder—the best baking powder that can be produced, or offered at any price—guaranteed so. Calumet is used in millions of homes. Sold by thousands of dealers. Economical to buy—to use. Safe. Sure. Pure. Received highest award at World's Pure Food Exposition, Chicago; Paris, France, March, 1912.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1916

THOSE "KEPT" NEWSPAPERS.

The Journal is in receipt of a circular from the press bureau of the "brotherhoods" the purpose of which is that all of the newspapers not in harmony with the policies of the brotherhoods in their demands for a law giving them ten hours' pay for eight hours' work and overtime for every hour above eight that they may be called upon to work, belong to what they term the "kept press."

The inference, of course, is that the railroad managers have such newspapers as do not agree with the brotherhoods in their pay. The circular also informs the editors of the "kept press" that the brotherhoods have decided to "strike back at all enemies who seek to perpetuate our enslavement or aid directly or indirectly in the perpetuation thereof."

The striking back is to be through boycott.

The "kept press" has practically disappeared from the United States, as has the press that can be intimidated either by the railroads or the brotherhoods. There are few newspapers today that hesitate to criticize the enormous salaries of the highest officials of the railroads or the unjust demands of the brotherhoods, both the phlegmatic salaries and the brotherhoods' pay all coming out of the pockets of the people who have to pay the bills.

It is not in the least likely that the railroads over trainmen wages and salaries will again develop a situation so critical as that of last August, when the Adamson bill was passed.

True, the question is not settled now, any more than it was then. The decision of the supreme court, expected early in the new year, may not settle it. The circuit did not settle it, but it demonstrated that the labor vote remains in the vest pocket of no one leader, nor yet in the custody of any group of leaders. The election showed that it is not deliverable, because it is independent and American.

And then it must be remembered that the trainmen are not suffering for the necessities of life. They are already well paid—better, in fact, than the employees in any other occupation. They are trying to be still better paid—which is, of course, their privilege, so long as the effort is within legal limits. If they fail, the failure entails no physical suffering.

The main reason for complaint of the brotherhoods against the newspapers is that it has become generally known, thanks to the publicity given, that the public is the chief party in interest to be considered. The brotherhoods are quite as well aware of this, and are quite as well aware of the public's right to know.

Furthermore, it is known by the brotherhoods that a considerable proportion of the trainmen never would have gone upon the strike "if the railroad had been called. And the public knows that if they should attempt now to recall a strike it would fail for lack of support in their own ranks.

In short, the fever of last August has subsided, and the minds of men are more ready to see, all sides.

THEY DON'T LEARN.

It appears that every body can learn except a member of congress. When a man is elected to the lower house, instead of growing up he usually merely grows up. This fact is being brought out clearly in the inquiry by the military committee regarding the strike, or lack of it, of the national guard.

With the members of the committee the experience and training of men like General Leonard Wood and Hugh L. Scott have little weight. To be sure Congressman John Q. Tilson, who went to the border as a colonel of one of the Connecticut regiments, has some practical experience. Also he is a man of ability. But Congressman McKelley of Tennessee and Congressman Quinn of Mississippi, neither of whom has ability or experience in military affairs, now in the whole scheme of the army something akin to the military of Germany. The idea of universal military training was repugnant to them, and they could see no difference between it and any universal military service.

It is surprising how much inaccurate information is current about public questions, even among congressmen. Things that sound alike are confused in the public mind, despite the readiness with which they may be distinguished. When we speak of universal military training, a considerable proportion of supposedly intelligent people will assume that you mean universal military service—a very different thing. Indeed, the inevitable coming of military training will, in doubt, be much delayed by this misunderstanding.

No one could accuse Switzerland or Holland, or Sweden or Norway, or Australia of being weighed down by the burden of military training, though each gives all of its young men military training. In the war no power has been fit to invade the territory of Switzerland or Holland, though both of them occupy strategic positions quite as important as that of Belgium. Each of those nations has received notice that any disrespect of its neutrality would be resisted to the uttermost.

And on the battlefields of Europe, the Australians have given a better account of themselves than any other unit of the British army, except the regulars who went to the aid of Belgium under Sir John French.

A trained reserve in the United States would make attack upon this country impossible. No nation would dare disregard our rights. At the present moment, we are in position to defend ourselves against no power greater than Mexico and invite attack from both the east and the west, and from the north and the south.

ALL-THE-YEAR-ROUND CHARITY

There was quick response to the Journal's appeal for assistance for a needy family in this city. The family did not ask for food, but it got food, because all the food it had was found insufficient to sustain the members of the family in even fair physical condition. The wife and mother did appeal for clothes so that the children could go to school. Dr. Lukens, of the orphan's home, responded at once with both clothes and food. His auto was at the home very quickly after he had read the story in the Journal, and the family soon had a good breakfast, warm clothes and roof to heat the stove. Others responded with like promptness.

Christmas is peculiarly a time that directs the attention of the well-to-do toward the needs of the less fortunate. There is a general desire that on Christmas day, at least, no family shall go hungry.

But the need that becomes prominent at Christmas time persists throughout the year. It is just as cold in January as in December, and perhaps colder. Hunger takes its toll of the weakened bodies as surely in summer as in winter. There are, in short, three hundred and sixty-four other days in the year besides Christmas day.

Because of these facts the church, so efficiently headed by Dr. Lukens, and the Civic Betterment league, also well managed, recognize that those other days must be cared for. They undertake to spread the generosity over the entire year, systematically and discriminatingly.

It is well for individuals to supply needs in emergencies, but it is also well for the organized work to have charge of all cases after the emergency is relieved. These organizations have the time and the machinery for sitting out the really needy from the impostors, and they also have the machinery for setting in motion remedies for the conditions which have produced the want and poverty. They are not indiscriminate. They are efficient.

CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT.

Germany can't understand why Lloyd-George didn't fall over himself in his haste to accept the proposition for a peace conference. Probably Germany may learn about the same lesson the British sea captain learned from John Paul Jones. The battle had been raging for some time and was apparently going against the American warship. The Britisher stopped firing and asked Jones if he was ready to surrender. Jones replied that he had no desire to fight, and captured the British ship.

The fact that the president should send a note to the belligerents suggesting that they define their aims in the war and may upon what terms peace would be made, was quite astonishing to John Bull, don't you know?

The spectacle of Turkey joining Germany in peace proposals, on the ground of conscious responsibility before God and humanity, is enough to bring a smile to the faces of the few surviving Armenians.

An Italian aviator who went up five miles struck a temperature of eighty-nine below zero. He must have been somewhere in the vicinity of the point of the northern peninsula of Michigan.

NEFFER MIND AS FOR LIONS AND BEARS. VE ISS GREAT ON SMALL GAME, JA?

Most Phenomenal Speed Is Attained by Italian Warship

Rome.—Tut All is the name of Italy's youngest battleship. The name means "All Wings," and it is not badly chosen, for this ship dashes through the ocean at the rate of the fastest train that speeds across America. The inventor is in the Italian navy, and she was built in Italian shipyards with Italian machinery and of Italian steel. The inventor's name, the ship's tonnage, its present whereabouts, are all a dead secret. But the fact remains that "All Wings" in her trial trip did 800 miles at three times the rate of the fastest trans-Atlantic ship.

Attacked by Submarine.
"During the trip," says an officer, "we were attacked by an enemy submarine. You would have thought to see the torpedo fall several hundred yards clear of our stern, for we went so quick that no torpedo new being used could touch us. The torpedo catchers which escorted us were left far behind. In a few minutes all we saw of them was a bit of smoke."

This ship has stood her trials so well that more are in the stocks. Tut All is said to have joined the Adriatic fleet.

As neither coal nor naphtha could be stored in large enough quantities to enable Tut All to travel at such a rate, the inventor had recourse to a combination of naphtha and compressed air. The naphtha passes through compressed air at such a terrific rate that it emerges in a state of pulverization. It is then propelled into so-called boilers by means of atmospheric pressure, thus producing heat of from 1,500 to 1,800 degrees centigrade. Tut All has three turbines, which propel with a force of 5,400 horsepower each.

Terrific Speed.
The result is the phenomenal speed attained and the general effect of a phantom ship. The safety valves throw off showers of water and pulverized naphtha, which rain bright purple in the sun as they fly upward. The ship shakes as though it were in a perpetual earthquake. Even hardened seamen have to learn to walk on Tut All. The steel lining would break with the vibration but for a special system of joints. The noise of the turbines is so great that nobody's voice can be heard. All orders are given by signal, as in the midst of a heavy bombardment. The ship leaves a high mountain of sea behind her.

Those who were able to keep the first trip of 800 miles and it was very gripping and an experience they would not have missed for anything in the world. But there is no comfort about it. For every traveling they prefer the old-fashioned trans-Atlantic liner.

And is not that the mood of the empire at the present moment? Does not his personality express, reflect and intensify the spirit of the British empire. We are at the pitch now that if we do not win this war, we are made willing to let other peoples write the history of the British empire.

That of all the points of land breeding I most require and most prize is a throne and a king. I prefer a tendency to absolutism, to an excess of followship. Let the incommunicable objects of nature and the metaphysical position of man teach us independence. Let us not be too much acquainted. I would have a man enter his house through a hall filled with lions and sacred sculptures, that he might not want the light of thought and self-poise. We should meet each morning as if from foreign countries, and spending the day together should depart at night, as into foreign countries. In all things I would have the island of a man revolute. Let us all apart as the gods, talking from peak to peak all around Olympus.

TRENCH CHICKEN SOUP.
(Everyday's Magazine.)
The French soldier boys in the trenches in France find that they have heavily on their hands, and try various devices to amuse themselves. Several French magazines have been published. This recipe was copied from one of them—M. Groulier—in an English paper:

Take a piece of white paper and a lead pencil, and draw from memory the outline of a hen. Then carefully remove the feathers. Pour one gallon of boiling water into a saucepan and sprinkle a pinch of salt on the hen's tail. Now let simmer. If the soup has a blonde appearance, stir it with a lead pencil which will make it more attractive. Let it boil two hours. Then cook the hen away from the saucepan and serve the soup hot.

UNEXPLORED CANADA.
(New York Sun.)
The war stopped exploring in continental Canada. Exploration is not necessarily associated with the outline of a hen. There are many areas where no white man has ever set his foot. The nature of unexplored regions may be known in a general way, but that is a very different thing from being able to map them. "Unknown" may be written in on less than thirty-one thousand of Yukon, Northwest territory, British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, according to Charles Connell of the geological survey of Canada, who has recently dealt with this fascinating subject in the Geographical Journal.

"I find in western Canada areas amounting to 642,000 square miles in extent which must still be considered as unexplored, and in northern Quebec about 258,000 square miles more, making an aggregate of 900,000 square miles. This does not include areas under 4,000 square miles in extent."

East of Heintze lake and Jason river, in Manitoba and Northwest territory, there are 75,000 square miles of unexplored country, it is estimated. This is larger than Missouri or North Dakota, and larger than the sum of the areas of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Massachusetts. On the peninsula between Unawa and Hudson bays, Quebec, there is a still more extensive area of 25,000 square miles that is a blank on an honest map. There are other large tracts that invite the explorer. South and east of Backs river, Northwest territory, 72,000 square miles, north of Eastman river, Quebec, 65,000 square miles, northwest of Great Bear lake, Northwest territory, 61,000 square miles, north of Great Slave lake and Backs river, Northwest territory, 61,000 square miles, east and south of Kamapuskaw river, Quebec, 54,000 square miles. For the purpose of comparison the area of New York is 45,264 square miles. Northwest territory contains more blank spaces even than Yukon. Canada has three, in extent from 6,000 to 9,000 square miles; the explanation is that Ontario on the Northwest is contiguous to Manitoba. Twenty-eight per cent of continental Canada is still unexplored.

The earlier pioneers searched the Canadian wilderness for furbearing animals, today men penetrate it to look for minerals and oil. "If we suppose these unexplored areas on the geologically mapped of Canada," says Mr. Connell, "we shall find that the greater part of them lie in what is colored as pre-Cambrian or in geological formations similar to those in which, under certain conditions, the rich deposits of copper, nickel, iron, silver and gold of northern Ontario occur. But there must still be productive agricultural land in the Peace river and Athabasca river regions marked as unexplored. In the basin of the Mackenzie river is believed to be one of the largest areas of possible oil-bearing land in the world. It is to be noted that experts estimate that the oil supply of the United States will be exhausted in thirty years.

Indians have reported lakes in Yukon sixty and seventy miles long that no white man has ever seen. The Mackenzie mountains even the Indian knows nothing about, and it will be many years before the mystery of northern Canada is lifted for the cartographer. Fortunes await the daring prospector for the hunter there is an abundance of game and fish, and innumerable virgin peaks invite the mountain climber. After the war the explorers will scatter all through these wildernesses. New railroads, the National Transcontinental, the Grand Trunk Pacific, and the Hudson Bay, now provide outfitting bases. Canada will need the minerals and the wheat growing lands to reduce and pay her war debt.

GERARD'S MISSION.
(New Republic.)

In all probability there is nothing in the report that Ambassador Gerard is retiring with him the offer by Germany of specific terms of peace, but whether Mr. Gerard has a possible treaty of peace in his grip or not, the German government is almost certain to submit a group of specific diplomatic proposals in the near future.

Every consideration of diplomatic strategy, every value set in the German domestic and international situation, craves it to such a course. It has little to lose by so doing which has not already been lost, and much possibly to gain. Any reasonable treaty will doubtless be a shock to German public opinion, which has been taught to believe in the certainty of German victory, and the imperial government will have to suffer a diminution of prestige at home, but it can better afford to test the final news on gradually than in one final colossal indisputable leap. In every other way, the Germans will be strengthened by the beginning of serious discussion of peace.

ENOUGH LAND TO KILL POVERTY

Within less than twenty-four hours after the statement had been made at a New England conference, that the full employment of all lands now held, life would make involuntary poverty impossible, the Massachusetts homestead commission came out with a report showing that the existence of unemployed land bear large cities makes tenement congestion needless. This is more than a coincidence. It shows that the advocates of a back to the land of farmers to the land, have not given up trying to convince the public of the folly of its ways but that they are, if anything, more determined than ever to get the vacant land of the country put to a sensible use. Since to do this, they believe, eliminates tenement congestion and poverty, it is hardly to be wondered that their enthusiasm does not wane, however slow the public may seem to be in acting upon their oft-repeated advice.

LEVY BROTHERS TO KNOW DECISION SOON

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Denver, Dec. 22.—Removal proceedings against Max and Sam Levy, brokers, who until a few weeks ago operated with offices in Denver and El Paso, Ariz., ended today when, after arguments of attorneys, United States Commissioner Stone took the case under advisement.

A decision is expected to be rendered next week.

The case was brought up in an information filed after an indictment had been brought in Arizona. United States District Attorney Harry B. Tedrow, who prosecuted the removal proceedings, sought to have the Levy brothers transferred to Tucson, Ariz., to stand trial on the indictment charging misuse of the United States mails.

Liabilities of the Levy brothers are said to have exceeded $500,000.

Ballot Abjard temple will give a Christmas party from 2 o'clock this afternoon until 4 for children. The party is to be held in the Masonic banquet hall. All children's children less than 15 years old are invited.

DEATH LIST MAY BE MORE THAN IS NOW KNOWN

Three Persons Rescued From Kansas Masonic Home Fire Are Reported in Critical Condition.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Wichita, Kan., Dec. 22.—The critical condition of three persons injured in the Kansas Masonic home fire early today, caused fears tonight that the death list of five would be increased.

Two of the injured are children, Charles L. Smucker, 7 years old, and John Morse, aged 3, while the third is Mrs. Ethel Stewart, matron of the children's department of the home. All were overcome by smoke before they could be rescued from the burning building, and they were revived with difficulty.

It has been impossible to search thoroughly the ruins from which three charred bodies were recovered today, but hope was abandoned tonight that the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ferris, both near 80 years of age, will be found among the survivors scattered among many homes in Wichita. The three bodies found today were burned beyond recognition, but it is considered certain that they are those of Jesse T. Brown, 80, and Mrs. Jesse T. Brown, 80, and Miss Gertrude Weigle, 20 years old.

Miss Weigle was to have been married Christmas day.

Many of the rescued are under the care of physicians.

Members of the board of trustees of the institution arrived here tonight and will confer tomorrow regarding the erection of temporary buildings to house the dependents deprived of a home by the fire.

SORDID MOTIVE FAR, FAR FROM BARTH'S MIND

Senator Gives Assurance That Hope to Head Off Contest Did Not Prompt His Charges Against Chrisman.

State Senator Isaac Barth yesterday gave the following statement to the Morning Journal relative to his charge against W. H. Chrisman, his defeated opponent at election:

"To the Morning Journal.—It has come to my attention that the Journal and Attorney General Clancy have published widely to the defense of Mr. Chrisman, the millionaire from San Juan county, in the matter of the charges that I have brought against him for alleged violation of the corrupt practices act.

"Inasmuch as Mr. Chrisman has been fit to try out this case in the newspapers, I trust that you will extend to me the courtesy of publishing this communication.

"Attorney General Clancy has published an opinion in which he says that the corrupt practices act does not apply to members of the legislature, because the members' salary can not be correctly computed in advance how much they receive, and that it might be possible for a member to be in the service at several sessions during the year besides the regular session, that a senator is paid by the day and therefore the law does not apply.

"But the most astonishing statement contained in the attorney general's opinion is that before Mr. Chrisman was nominated, he went to the attorney general and asked him how much he could spend on the nomination and the election!

"Imagine, Mr. Editor, what took place on that solemn occasion! I assume that Mr. Chrisman entered the attorney general's presence and said: 'Sir, I seek to acquire one of those stainless togs worn by the august members of the state senate of New Mexico, and in order to bring upon myself this honor I want to buy popular approval sufficient to assure my securing one of them for the next four years. And I come to you, sir, knowing that you advise anybody, any time, anywhere on anything, to ask you how much I can pay for this honor and keep out of jail.'

"And then I assume that the attorney general said: 'You speak correctly, sir. The law makes me legal advisor to the whole people. I have many times so held and as far as buying this much cherished honor that you seek, hop to it, old scout, go as far as you like, the sky is the limit! Verily, I say unto you, the law does not reach a senator nor yet a candidate for that exalted office, nor do those noble souls receive a salary, they are laborers by the day, sir, and the law does not reach them, for you know, the laborer is worth his hire.'

"Acting upon that advice it appears from Mr. Chrisman's statement, that he went out and spent $1,367 in addition to what he spent on hotel bills and traveling expenses.

"The Journal has also intimated that the reason that I brought this action was that I wanted to forestall the bringing of a contest against me.

"I apprehend that if Mr. Chrisman had no such intentions that my actions would make him want to. But I assure you that such was not my idea, and I want to assure you that no sordid motive prompted me.

"As far as a contest for this office is concerned, according to Mr. Chrisman's statement of expenditures filed in the office of the secretary of state, he tried to buy the office and failed.

"And now if he wishes to try to induce others to steal if for him I am willing that he should.

"At all events I shall be, 'Very sincerely yours,'

"ISAAC BARTH."

SEE GAIL KANE IN 'THE MEN SHE MARRIED' AT THE LYRIC TODAY

Gail Kane, who is well known in this city, will be seen in a World-Brady five-act drama entitled "The Men She Married" at the Lyric today only. It is seldom that such an interesting story is offered on the screen and besides Miss Kane the cast includes such well known stars as Arthur Ashley, Mariel Ostriche and Montague Love. A short synopsis of the play follows:

Probably the most novel subject ever presented in a play. A young heiress is tricked into a mock marriage by a suave adventurer who deserts her after obtaining her jewels and a large sum of money. Believing him dead, the girl accepts an honorable widow's offer of marriage and it seems that at last she is to be happy. The man who believed dead turns up at a crucial time and under the threat of exposure, compels her to do his bidding. "Give him enough rope and he'll hang himself." He, the villain, does, when he tries to play the same game with the woman's step-daughter. Don't fail to see how.

DEPUTIES GUARDING BRIDGE WATCHING FOR CATTLE RUSTLERS

Deputy sheriffs last night were guarding the Alameda bridge over the Rio Grande to capture cattle rustlers if they attempted to cross into Bernalillo county. Under Sheriff Dick Lewis posted the deputies when Candido Gonzales, who has a ranch near Corrales, San Juan county, reported to him that eight head of cattle had been stolen from his place. He believed they were heading into Bernalillo county, Gonzales told the under sheriff.

JOHN W. WILSON GETS NOMINATION IN TWENTY-SIXTH

Attorney Is Republicans' Candidate for Justice of Peace to Succeed Judge George R. Craig.

John W. Wilson, attorney, is the republican candidate for justice of the peace in the Twenty-sixth precinct. He received the party's nomination at the primaries held last night at the republican headquarters, 213-215 West Gold avenue. He had the opposition of three other candidates, Frank Ackerman, R. L. Moore and L. H. Chamberlain.

Mr. Wilson lacked twenty-three votes of getting a majority of the 366 votes cast but he drew a substantial plurality over Mr. Ackerman, his closest rival in the count, getting fifty-seven more votes than Mr. Ackerman got. The vote for the candidates was: Wilson 131, Ackerman 74, Moore 52, Chamberlain 43.

The commissioners' appointment for the justiceship of the Twenty-sixth precinct probably will go to Mr. Wilson when Judge George R. Craig's resignation goes into effect. Judge Craig will hand his resignation to the county board at its next meeting, to be held early next week, so he will be free to take the office of district attorney January 1. The judge has already qualified for the office.

Gossip indicated last night that Mr. Wilson would have the opposition of Edgar Bass or J. J. Votaw in the election, which will be held January 8. Mr. Bass and Mr. Votaw have been mentioned as possible democratic nominees in the Twenty-sixth precinct. The democrats so far have made no announcement of their primaries.

The republican primaries in the other Albuquerque precinct, the Twelfth, will be held tonight at the city hall.

Vocational Bill to Be Pushed.

Washington, Dec. 22.—Consideration of President Wilson's vocational educational bill had not been completed when the house adjourned tonight for the Christmas holidays and Democratic Leader Kitchen announced that it would be taken up immediately upon reconvening on January 2. The measure would create a system under which the federal government would share equally with the states in the expense of teaching agricultural trades and industries in state schools.

Hughes Is Active Law Partner.

New York, Dec. 22.—Charles E. Hughes will act in conjunction with counsel for the Corn Products Refining company, in appealing to the supreme court of the United States the recent decision of Federal Judge Hand, dissolving that company, under the Sherman anti-trust law. This was announced by the company today.

Catching Cold.

Colds are due to a neglected skin and lack of ventilation in the sleeping room. People who take a cool sponge bath every morning before breakfast seldom take cold. When you do take cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. This is best accomplished by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This is an old time tried remedy that can be relied upon with implicit confidence. Obtainable everywhere.
