Working peace if the entire allies should insist upon retaining Germany's lost colonies and requiring Germany, at the same time, to evacuate all enemy territory now occupied.

The official texts of the German and the Austrian replies, received today, varied slightly from each other and from the original cable press translation. Most of the differences, officials thought, was in the warmer, more cordial tone of the official verbiage.

Replies Are Different.
Differences between the two replies were noted with interest. For instance, the German reply refers to the president's note as calling for "the creation of bases for the foundation of a lasting peace," while the Austrian has it as "exchange of views for the eventual establishment of peace." Germany proposes "the speedy assumption by neutral ground or delegates of the warring states," and Austria "proposes that representatives of the belligerent powers convene at an early date at some place on neutral ground."

The most decided difference noted was in Austria's ascribing to President Wilson himself the view that it was necessary to postpone discussion of guarantees for a permanent peace. The Austrian reply "concurs with the president that only after the termination of the present war will it be possible to undertake the great and desirable work of the prevention of future wars." The president's note said the United States would be glad to co-operate towards permanent peace, "when the war is over," but did not specifically declare the two subjects could not be discussed at the same time. In the allied countries there is uncompromising hostility to any plan not guaranteeing "reparation, restitution and guarantee."

Statements in the Austrian press, which have turned from hostility to the president's note to suggestions that he is allied with the central powers for the accomplishment of the same end, caused further embarrassment here today in the administration's attempt to dissociate the American action from the central powers' note of six days before.

President Wilson, believing that the peace discussions may go on for months, is looking forward to the most arduous and troubled work on foreign affairs that he has ever faced. The president is said to realize that a complete failure of the peace negotiations probably would be followed by very serious difficulty with Germany over the submarine issue. He will devote almost his entire attention to the negotiations and as few engagements as possible will be made for him.

ARTILLERY FIRE ON SOMME FRONT. OF LIVELY SORT

German War Office Gives Out Statement Regarding Military Activities in Different Fields of Operation.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Berlin, Dec. 28 (by Wire)—The war office announcement today says:

"Western front. Isolated sections of the Flanders front and the Somme salient were temporarily under strong artillery fire."

"The activity of the aerial forces was of the liveliest sort. The enemy in aerial engagements or through the operations of our defensive aircraft, lost eight airplanes."

"Russian front. On the Ludowa, the wooded Carpathians, German rifleman drove off strong Russian patrols. In the mountains in the Oltuz and Putna valleys, the fighting actively increased."

"The 27th of December brought to the Ninth army under General von Falkenberg a complete victory near Rinnik-Sarat over the Russians summoned to the defense of Rinnik. The enemy attempted to regain the ground lost, but the attacks failed. Our troops surrounded the enemy from his new positions and pushed ahead beyond Rinnik-Sarat."

"Russian Lines Pierced. At the same time, further south-east, German and Austro-Hungarian troops pierced strongly entrenched Russian lines and advanced fighting in a northerly direction. The enemy again in this defeat suffered heavy and serious losses."

"Yesterday 3,000 prisoners and twenty-two machine guns were captured. The number of prisoners made by the Ninth army in engagements near Rinnik-Sarat totals 19,226 Russians."

"With the Danube army yesterday there were only local engagements. In Dobruja, Bulgarian and Turkish troops succeeded in throwing the Russians from fortified heights positions east of Matchin."

RUSSIAN POSITIONS UNDER HEAVY BOMBARDMENT

Petrograd, Dec. 28 (via London, Dec. 29).—After the recent declarations of the Russian foreign minister and the pronouncement of the emperor, which vigorously expressed the reluctance of the nation to consider any peace proposals at the present time, it is believed that, except for the formulation of Russia's official reply to President Wilson's note, the last word has been said here regarding the possibility of peace negotiations.

PRINCESS CHIMAY

Princess Chimay, once Clara Ward of Detroit, perhaps the first American woman to gain such a peculiar international reputation, is dead in an obscure town in Italy. When he died she disappeared and came to light recently. News of her death was wired to relatives in America by her late husband. She left an estate of considerably more than a million dollars.

MONROE DOCTRINE NOT JEOPARDIZED BY PEACE LEAGUE

Former President Taft Declares United States Would Run No Risk by Entering Into Compact for Future.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)

New York, Dec. 28.—For the United States to join a league of nations to enforce world peace after the present war, would in no way be jeopardizing the Monroe doctrine, certainly not to any greater extent than it already has been jeopardized by some thirty odd treaties, was the view expressed here tonight in a formal statement issued by the League to Enforce Peace, of which former President Taft is the head.

"The fact is that since 1912," the statement says, "the United States has become a party to treaties with France, Great Britain, Russia, other European and South and Central American states, in which the high contracting parties agree that all disputes between them of every nature whatsoever, to the settlement of which previous arbitration treaties or agreements do not apply in their terms or are not applied in fact, shall, when diplomatic methods of adjustment have failed, be referred for investigation and report to an international commission, and they agree not to declare war or begin hostilities during such investigation and before the report is submitted."

"The report shall be submitted in the maximum period of one year." These treaties still have some time to run.

"Happily, therefore, the United States is already bound to submit disputes even involving the Monroe doctrine, to a body which would meet the requirements of the platform of the League to Enforce Peace."

VILLA PERSONALLY EXECUTED HERRERA

El Paso, Dec. 28.—A report was in circulation here today that Francisco Villa personally executed Gen. Luis Herrera and Col. Manuel Orozco, his chief of staff, after the Villa forces captured Torreon. General Herrera was turned over to Villa, it was said, as a detachment of his troops who had surrendered. Villa, according to the report, then fired point blank at Herrera, killing him instantly.

General Herrera's father in Juarez said no details of his son's death were given in a message which he had received from General Carranza.

Orozco, minister of war. He said he had received a message from his son, Jesus Herrera, at Parras, Coahuila, confirming the death of General Herrera.

"I hope he died fighting in the field," the elder Herrera said today. "That would be some consolation for an old man who has just lost his second son in battle," he added.

Villa was said to have a grudge against General Herrera.

Rumors of Revolt Persist.

Persistent rumors have been in circulation here that one train of Gen. Francisco Gonzalez's force revolted and joined the Villa forces near Ahumada. One of these rumors was that Lieutenant Zozuega, commanding this train, had escaped and reached Juarez with the report of the mutiny.

This was denied in Juarez and the fact that the special train, carrying Governor Gonzalez and his family left Juarez early today was cited as proof that there were no hostile forces in the vicinity of Villa Ahumada.

Villa Executes Private Secretary.
Villa was reported here today to have executed his private secretary, a man named Garcia, because of his part in the destruction of foreign property at Bermejillo. Garcia was said to have been an I. W. W. leader in California at one time. Villa was said to have made a speech declaring that anyone caught destroying foreign property would be executed.

CONFIRM REPORTS OF MAGISTRAL REVOLT

Laredo, Tex., Dec. 28.—Nearly 1,000 refugees arrived here today from Sahilillo and intermediate points, having left Mexico through fear of revolutionary activities, they asserted.

Efforts to locate the wife and family of General Carranza at Nuevo Laredo, where they were reported last night to be staying, were of no avail and Mexican officials there reiterated denial of the rumor.

VILLA ALTERS ATTITUDE TOWARD FOREIGNERS

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 28.—That Francisco Villa has altered his attitude toward Americans and other foreigners found in Mexico is the belief of friends of Villa here, who today announced they had appealed to him not to kill any more foreigners.

This appeal was sent Villa during his occupation of Chihuahua City. The document, it was said, reached him after a number of foreigners there had been killed. The fact that no foreigners were molested after Villa's occu-

DELTO CHARTERED BY BELLIGERENTS IS GERMAN REPLY

Destruction Was Legitimate, and Crew's Safety Was Provided for, Is Declaration of Berlin.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)

Berlin, Dec. 27 (via London, Dec. 28).—The reply of the German government to another of the American inquiries in regard to steamships sunk by submarines, in this instance relating to the destruction of the Norwegian steamship Delta, with Americans in the crew, declares that the steamship was chartered for transport purposes to a belligerent government and hence its destruction was legitimate.

This reply, which has been delivered to the American embassy, says that so far as was possible the safety of the crew was provided for. The men were given half an hour in which to enter the boats. The weather was clear and the distance to the shore was not excessive.

Marina Case Delayed.

The settlement of the Marina case, which hinges on the question whether the steamship was a government transport, is being delayed pending receipt of further advice from Washington. The American government has transmitted for information two statements from the British government claiming that the vessel was engaged in carrying horses as part of its cargo on eastbound voyages but was under no engagement for westbound trips, and therefore could not be regarded as a transport. Germany is waiting to learn what interpretation statements.

There have been no further developments in the case of the Arabia.

EVERY CITIZEN IS LIABLE FOR SERVICE IN THE NATIONAL GUARD

Regulation Promulgated by War Department Two Months Ago and Just Made Public Is Far-reaching.

NATIONAL DEFENSE ACT FOLLOWED IN CIRCULAR

In Time of War All Able-bodied Males Between 18 and 45 May Be Called to Colors to Fight for Country.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Washington, Dec. 28.—Every able-bodied male citizen of the United States between the ages of 18 and 45 years, is held liable for service in the national guard in war time, without further act of congress, by war department regulations for the government of the guard, issued under the national defense act. In a circular prepared nearly two months ago, but made public only today, the militia bureau directs that where a national guard regiment is called out for war service, a reserve training battalion to fill vacancies at the front shall be organized out of the national guard reserve and by voluntary enlistment.

"If for any reason," the order continues, "there shall not be enough reserves, or enough voluntary enlistments to organize or to keep the reserve battalions at prescribed strength, a sufficient number of the unorganized militia shall be drafted by the president to maintain such battalion or lesser unit, at the prescribed strength."

Defense Act Followed.
The language follows closely that of the national defense act, in which the unorganized militia is defined as including every able-bodied male citizen within the prescribed age limit of those who have declared their intention of becoming citizens.

The national guard regulations, which will be amplified in great detail later, also strike at the problem of dependent families of soldiers which has cost the government several millions of dollars already, through the border mobilization. Reserving officers for the national guard are directed to discourage the enlistment of married men or those with other dependent upon them. Such persons are to be accepted only for reasons in the public interest, even who wish to become officers being the only class specifically excepted.

It is provided in the regulations that no officer of the guard hereafter shall be recognized as such under the defense act, unless he shall have subscribed to an oath binding him to obey the orders of the president and of the governor of his state. Appointments will be made on recommendation to the secretary of war from governors or the commanding officers of state or territorial units of the guard, and after proper physical and mental examination by board of officers. Promotions will be handled in the same way and any officer who fails in the examination as to his professional ability cannot come up for re-examination within a year.

Reserve Established.
After three years active service, or when the organizations are disbanded, national guard officers may pass into the national guard reserve.

The reserve is to remain an unorganized body in peace times, except for temporary purposes. It will be composed of men who have served three years in active organizations and whose enlistment contracts will require them to serve three more in the reserve unless they prefer active service. They will hold the same rank in the reserve that they held at the time of furlough from active service except that when drafted into the federal service they will report in the grade of private.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
Tucson, Ariz., Dec. 28.—Ramon Donatti, Mexican consul at San Francisco, left here December 21 on a mission for Carranza, it was said at the home of his brother, Pablo Donatti, 636 South Sixth avenue, today. He told intimate friends he was going to make a personal report to Carranza.

Suffragists Made Him Come Out

These three suffragists of the Congressional union besieged the judiciary committee of the house of representatives till Chairman Webb reported the Susan B. Anthony amendment to the constitution of the United States. They hounded the committee room night and day till the members could no longer put them off, and as a result the committee brought out the bill without recommendation, and it is now before the house. The army of attack was made up of Miss Hazel Hunkins, of Illinois; Miss Bessie H. Farnham, of San Francisco; and Miss Maudie Younger, chief lobbyist of San Francisco. Members of the congressional union consider they have won one of the most notable victories of their career.

DIVORCE LAW TO BE CONSIDERED BY BARRISTERS

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, Dec. 28.—The enactment of the so-called "uniform divorce law" is to be considered by the New Mexico Bar association at its meeting called for January 11 at Santa Fe, according to the call received today from C. M. Batts of Albuquerque, president of the association. He has appointed Chief Justice J. J. Roberts, Fred Holliman, A. B. McMillan, Summers Burkhardt and Colin Sutherland special legislative committee, which will report to the association.

In his call President Batts says: "Legislative matters already suggested and which will be before the adjourned meeting for consideration are as follows: The enactment of the 'uniform divorce law,' membership of the bar, and the separation of young calves from their mothers, recently held unconstitutional; amendment of the forcible entry and detainer statute; compensation for alimony; appointment by the court to criminal cases, and appeals for judgment; and in such cases, in addition to the recommendations of the committee on law reforms, consisting of J. M. Harvey, H. S. Bowman, D. J. Leahy, H. L. Buckley, and Dr. L. G. Gribshaw."

The question of compensation for attorneys appointed to defend indigent defendants in criminal cases and the question of appeals for such defendants are discussed in some extent by Judge Richardson in his address printed in the annual minutes. I wish also to ask for your recommendations concerning the necessity of legislative action with reference to the timely holding of legislative sessions and granting of bills, fully covered by Mr. Batts in his address. Doubtless you have other matters in mind, which should be added to the attention of the adjourned meeting, and my earnest recommendation is that you write Mr. Holliman, chairman of the special committee, giving him your ideas concerning such matters as well as concerning the matters herein mentioned."

CLOVIS FARMERS SWEAR TO RECORD CROPS OF GRAIN

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Clovis, N. M., Dec. 28.—That Clovis farmers are making excellent records may easily be gathered from the following statement recently made by some substantial farmers of this county. While a great deal of conversation regarding the possibilities of New Mexico land may be inconclusive, facts such as these cannot be accepted at face value.

H. W. Jennings and James H. Curry, after being by me duly sworn, declare that the following twelve farmers of Clovis Grove and More Chapel district: H. W. Jennings, Frank Curry, Jim Curry, Arthur Curry, Garrett Blair, Calvin Norris, C. T. Williams, J. P. Williams, Host London, Mike Ingram, W. W. Williams, Geo. Curry, sold and contracted to sell to C. L. Bridge, of Muleshoe, Tex., 3,000 bushels of corn raised in what is known as the sandy belt, southeast of Clovis, N. M., for which they received the sum of $6,800. The above does not include the total crop raised as a reserve for feed was made by the different farmers.

They also state that Frank Curry and son have up to date sold $24,400 worth of farm products from 200 acres cultivated by said Frank Curry and son, and still hold more than they need. Mr. Paul, of the same district, sold $1,920 worth of threshed kaffir for eighty acres, and held a big reserve for feed. H. W. Jennings sold 3,000 worth of corn and raised enough corn to run him through the winter. The bottom crop had no cultivation after it was planted.

The above crops had no rain from the 26th day of April, 1916, to the 16th day of August, 1916.

WEIGHTY THINGS ARE DISCUSSED BY SCIENTISTS

Critter That Roamed Earth Half Million Years Ago Divides Attention With Machine Showing How Sound Looks.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE)
New York, Dec. 28.—A machine that "shows how sound looks," a restored "pithecanthropus erectus," who roamed the earth 500,000 years ago as the "missing link," a discussion as to whether man has been on this continent 125,000 years or 200,000 years, and many addresses on modern economic and humanitarian subjects, made up the program of the annual sessions of the American Association for the Advancement of Science here today.

The sound machine, which is called the "phonograph," was exhibited by Prof. Dayton C. Miller of the Case School of Applied Science, Cleveland, O. He explained that the instrument photographs the vibrations of the human diaphragm, governing the volume and cadence of the voice, and projects them, magnified 10,000 times, on a screen.

Then, Professor Miller spoke. His word "swear" into the machine and a confused jumble of light flashed upon the screen. Pronunciation of "swear" produced a marked contrast, a mild glow, bright and delicately outlined. A record of Cresson's voice caused a broad, violent fluctuating line of light, while the train's voice shown as a finely pencilled dancing path of light. A record of the "Shogun from Luna," showed the individual characteristics of the singer in the flurry of light on the screen.

Strange Animal Introduced.
The 200,000-year-old pithecanthropus erectus was introduced in modern society by Professor H. H. Merfielder, of the department of zoology of the Columbia university. He explained that the habitat of "P. E." as he was called for brevity, was Java. Virtually all those in the original "ape man" is the skull and jawbone. The restored figure was displayed by Professor Merfielder to prove accurate reproduction of man's Darwinian ancestor.

The discussion as to the antiquity of man on North America before the American Anthropological association, revealed almost human remains and other objects recently found at Vero, Fla. Dr. Allen Hestrick, curator of anthropology of the United States National museum, Washington, D. C., placed the age at 125,000 years, but Dr. O. R. Hay, of the Carnegie Institution at Washington, contended that the evidence shows man lived here no less than 200,000 years back. He took part in the excavation of the find and said among the remains of animals found were bones of a ground sloth as big as an elephant.

How the United States Steel Corporation has spent $5,000,000 on the "New Science of Humidity" in reducing the number of accidents 45.2 per cent, and saving 14,938 men, was told by Charles L. Chase, manager of the corporation's bureau of safety, sanitation and welfare work. This work had progressed to such a degree he said, that it now deserves to be called a science.

Machine Judges Impulses.
In the psychological division of the convention was demonstrated an electric apparatus for "judging impulses." The inventor claimed that by its aid, one can "tell what his patient will do next." There also was shown a "magnifying mirror for measuring mentalities."

Why men and women borrow, was shown in a statement by Clark Williams, president of the Industrial Finance Corporation "Morris" plan. He said 850 borrowed to repay "loan sharks," or to redeem persons; 4,182 because of illness or illness; 299 because of death; 298 for wedding expenses; and 1,269 to pay mortgage interest, taxes and rent. The average weekly income of the patrons of the plan, he said, was $35, and the number of children supported by the borrowers was 21,821.

CLOVIS HOTEL IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Clovis, N. M., Dec. 28.—Fire in this afternoon completely destroyed the Hotel Clovis, a four-story frame building which has stood just across the tracks from the Santa Fe shops since the beginning of Clovis. Destroyed by a fire which broke out in the kitchen, the fire spread to the main structure and consumed all efforts of the fire department.

The fire was caused by the explosion of a gas stove, the tank of which had been allowed to get over-heated. The explosion of the tank, which made every effort to get out the fire, but the firemen themselves were unable to turn the alarm until too late to save the building.

Patron Goes to Capital.
Clovis, N. M., Dec. 28.—Mr. Harry A. Patton, who is about to assume the attorney-generalship in answer to Santa Fe. The late term of Patton and Patton will continue to exist, however, with Attorney General Patton in charge of the post-office. Mr. Patton will be able to handle cases in private practice where the state is not involved and will no doubt look after the many people of the Clovis business.

Snow Helps Rain.
Window, Ariz., Dec. 28.—Two feet of snow on the level, which fell here this week, will add greatly to next year's rainfall, according to old-timers, as the snow has been greatly in need of water.

Which costs most— painting or waiting?

After your house needs painting, every year you wait it will require more paint and more labor to put it in good condition. And every year you wait, your house is worth less. A little paint-money is good paint-insurance.

Just as soon as your house needs painting, come in and let us show you how little it will cost you to use DEVOE. We say "DEVOE" because it's absolutely pure. That's why DEVOE takes fewer gallons, wears longer—and costs less by the job or by the year. And that's why we guarantee Devoe without reserve.

PROTECTION, A NECESSITY.

Germany has demonstrated that a nation of 65,000,000 people, who go about it in the right way, can be self-supporting in an area smaller than the state of Texas, and with much less land subject to any sort of cultivation than Texas has.

The old-fashioned Manchester-school free trade idea that every country should produce only that for which it was fitted by nature to produce, and should exchange its productions for the different products of every other country, was born in England and conceived in England's interest, or out of her peculiar circumstances at that time.

England was then the only true manufacturing country, and in the interest of her manufacturers had let her agriculture go. The notion of her economists was that, while England manufactured for the world, the world should supply her with food and raw material.

The theory was provincial. It would have confined the United States to agriculture alone, yet there were many here, including the whole south, that advocated its adoption as not only good economy but sound morality. Many insisted that only an agricultural people could remain a democratic republic and retain its moral character besides.

The south wished to concentrate on raising cotton and to buy her supplies in the cheapest market. New England was developing manufactures and from the first insisted on protection.

The economic controversy encouraged the moral contention between the north and the south, and the civil war extended the industrial system of the north over the whole country.

Once in a while there comes a downward trend and something just a little bit akin to free trade is foisted upon the country. These upheavals have been due in the past to abuses by large combinations of capital working behind a high tariff wall.
But machinery has been devised under the Wilson administration for the correction of these high tariff abuses. The federal tariff commission and the tariff board will have it in their hands to relieve the inequi-tability of congress and the whimsy of the tariff.

The war is disposing of the last plausibility in the free trade argument. It demonstrates up to the hilt the advantage, amounting to a necessity, of a nation being a self-sufficient industrial as well as a self-sufficient agricultural country.

One industry after another, where production was cheaper abroad than here, has been found essential to the nation's prosperity, though protection had not been given them and they had to be built up from the beginning. The dyesuffs are an extreme example and Louisiana cane sugar and the beet sugar industry of the country constitute another of many examples.

Experience, just as Hamilton believed and experience confirms, develops and delivers a nation.
The investigators told Boston there was really no reason for the price of coal in the old town being twelve dollars a ton, and the Bostonians were pleased, but the price of coal now is twelve and a half dollars.

THE LEGISLATIVE SESSION.

One of the most important, probably one of the most sensational, legislative sessions ever held in New Mexico, will begin soon after the new year, and the Journal will cover the happenings of that legislature with thoroughness and with fairness.

The Journal has no club out for anybody. All it wants is honesty and efficiency in the handling of public affairs. There is no reason why there should not be honesty, efficiency, of course, is a matter of equipment, temperament, industry, ability to distinguish the wise from the unwise, the good from the bad.

There must be new tax legislation.
It would be well if the majority would take up the bill introduced in the last session by Senator John R. Clark, and put it through. That bill was framed by Senator Clark, his son Herbert W., and R. H. Davis, and it was flawless, except in the tax interests.

There is no authority on taxation in this state comparable with the authority employed in framing the Clark bill. There is no taxation authority so far as the public as the framers of that bill, and it should be enacted into law.

But taxation is one, only, of the multitude of things which must be looked after. The Journal will have a man who knows the inside of things, on the job, and the inside will be published every morning for the readers of the Journal.

Villa's attitude toward Americans is said to have changed recently, but the attitude of the United States toward Villa will not change until he is several feet safely under ground.

THE PRESS AND PROSPERITY.

The prosperity and advancement of New Mexico during the year just drawing to an end have been in no respect more accurately mirrored than in the columns of the wide-awake weekly newspapers of the state. The weekly press is always a good barometer not only of general business conditions but of the march of progress as well, and one has only to scan the pages of any one of a score of New Mexican papers to reach the conclusion that all is well with the sunshine state.

The theory that a weekly publication can not be an up-to-the-minute news medium was rudely exploded recently when Editor Don W. Lusk, of the Silver City Independent, gave to the New Mexican public the first definite information of the intention of Governor-elect E. C. Deffena, to return to the state in time to be inaugurated, at whatever hazard to his health. In this vitally important item of news every one of the six New Mexican dailies had to take the dust of the wide-awake weekly Independent.

Daily ornamented holiday editions with special sections to accommodate the increased volume of Christmas advertising were the rule rather than the exception with the New Mexican weeklies this year. Notable among these was the Rio Grande Republic, with a special sixteen-page edition which reflected great credit not only on its talented woman editor, Mrs.
Josephine Foster, but on the enterprising business men of Las Cruces and the Mesilla valley as well.

In singling out two special instances of newspaper enterprise in New Mexico there is no intention to disparage the many other wide-awake weeklies of the state, but merely to cite these two as typical of the progressiveness and hustle of the entire fraternity. New Mexico has good reason to be proud of her weekly press, for such newspapers could not flourish in any but an enlightened and advanced community.

TRAINING FOR THE AMERICAN

(New York World.)
If the World should ever become a convert to conservatism, it would not be from fear of the Japanese toasting in the hall of San Francisco or of German aims training down the Woodworth building in the pattern of Chicago. It would be because training might lead into the uncharted American sea of the future of soldiers in the habit of discipline and the physical well-being of systematic exercises.

Universal military service appeals to its most rational supporters not because it is military, but because it is universal and because it is service.

THE PROOF OF LITTENESS.

(Thomas Carlyle.)
No sadder proof can be given by a man of his own littleness than disbelief in great men.

THE JAPANESE REPORTER.

(Archives World Outlook.)
The Nishi-Nishi employs about 100 reporters, which may mean more to the layman, when he knows that a principal morning paper in a large American city employs twelve or fifteen.

The Japanese reporter is not expected to write columns of news each day, but to write what comes to his attention. Frequently a day's work consists of a little item of two words, which he polishes to its most beautiful literary perfection before passing it over to the editor.

FLAG USED IN CHURCH PRO-

(New York Herald.)
For the first time at a regular church service in Trinity at Broadway and Wall street, the stars and stripes had a place at the high altar, which at 11 o'clock, which was the special Thanksgiving service.

Trinity hereby established a precedent for the use of the United States flag in processions in churches upon national and patriotic occasions.
In that Trinity is following the custom at the National Episcopal cathedral in Washington. In explaining the step, Rev. Dr. J. P. McManus, senior clergyman, made this statement:

"The place of the flag in processions is to give it precedence over whatever else is carried, except the cross. The cross takes precedence even upon secular and military occasions, as notably the church pennant, which is a white cross upon a blue field, is the only flag upon United States battleships flown above the national emblem.

"It is the procession at Trinity today the cross came first, proudly attended, then an interval, when the flag led the procession of chorists, properly punctuated at intervals with the church banners, followed by a second cross, before the clergy."

"It is most fitting that the procession established in the National cathedral should come to be followed in the great mother church of Trinity parish, which is commonly esteemed the premier parish of the metropolis and nation."

"BUFFALO BILL" ON THE HONOR

(Christian Science Monitor.)

Because William F. Cody elected to become a showman, rather than to follow his military destiny, about him and go into retirement with the close of the American Indian campaigns, he has not generally been justly regarded with relation to the service in which he distinguished himself. He was one of the ablest and bravest soldiers of the frontier period in the United States, and the war department has now decided that he is entitled to a place on the army and navy medal of honor roll, which is maintained by the commissioner of pensions, under the provisions of the act of April, 1916. The present congratulation should be informed that "Buffalo Bill" was far from before "wild west" shows, were thought of.

THE RETURN OF RICHARD

(New York World.)

Once upon a time there was a political boss and his name was Richard Croker. He ruled New York for many years and then he went to Ireland. Yesterday he came back — back to America, and the city where he accumulated his wealth— and down the list there went to meet him only "Tom" Smith, secretary of Tammany hall, and a few other members of the democratic machine.

"I always believed that President Wilson would be re-elected," volunteered Mr. Croker.

"Do you think," Mr. Croker was asked, "that Mr. Wilson will be a great president during the coming four years?"

"Great?" echoed Mr. Croker. "I should say so. In my opinion Wilson will be re-elected again. He will serve a third term, and serve in with the support of republicans as well as all persons who are interested in good government."

"Conditions have changed since you headed the Tammany hall organization."

"That is emphatically true," answered Mr. Croker. "It is imperative that Tammany hall recruit to its ranks new blood—men of the younger generation who have interested themselves in politics."

"When I was the head of New York's democratic organization, the Irish-American element was the dominant factor. Today, I am told, the Irish have moved uptown. In their places have come the Jew and the Italian."

"Jews and the Italians are good citizens. Anybody who thinks they are not will be converted of the truth of what I have said within twenty-five years. But neither, speaking politically, are devoted to the interests of one or the other party. They are interested in social justice and social welfare more than they are in political questions. As a consequence they don't vote blindly. All of which means to my mind, that it's harder to be a boss of Tammany hall today than it was when I, as the newspapers said, dominated affairs at Fourteenth street. Tammany will have to fight hard to get back into power."

Questioned about the future prospects of America, Mr. Croker predicted an era of unusual prosperity, and the war would be over within two years and that Germany, although unbeaten, would probably take the lead in peace negotiations. He added:

"I am no longer a politician, I hope I am a patriot. I am for Woodrow Wilson. I am praying that his next four years in office will be such as to create a history of world events that will be regarded as an impeccable record."

Mr. Croker and Mrs. Croker intend to remain three or four days and then journey to Florida, where they will spend the winter. It is Mr. Croker's intention to remain in America at least two years. His friends say he will not return to Ireland until after the war ends.

THANKSGIVING.

Those who walk on the path of pride, crush the lowly life under their tread, spreading their footprints in blood upon the tender green of the earth.
Let them rejoice, and thank thee, Lord, for the day is theirs.

But thou hast done well in leaving me with the humble Whose doom it is to suffer and bear the burden of power, And hide their faces and stifle their sobs in the dark.

For every thro' of their pain has pulsed in the secret depth of thy night,
And every insult has been gathered in thy great silence,
And the morning is thine.

O Sun, rise upon the bleeding hearts Blossoming in flowers of the morning,
And the torchlight revelry of pride hiding in its own ashes.

— Rabindranath Tagore.

Notes of Interest

From State Museum

(Special Correspondence to MORNING JOURNAL.) Santa Fe, Dec. 25.—Alfred Leopold of the United States forest service at Albuquerque, will on next Tuesday evening give an illustrated lecture in the library of the museum under the auspices of the Santa Fe Woman's club. Jesse Nassbaum will be in charge of the lantern.

The Carl Oscar Borg exhibit of paintings in tempera was taken down today and sent back to California.
While here it was much admired.

Denver is raising $50,000 by subscriptions for a municipal pipe organ. Santa Fe hopes to have a pipe organ in its St. Francis auditorium of the new museum.

John Curtis Underwood and L. P.
Lawson, both poets and short story writers, left today for the cliff dwellings, expecting to spend some time at the Pecos place and also in the Rito de los Pinos. Mr. Pond has gone to San Diego for the holidays.

Rescoe Tucker of Torre Haute, Ind., who visited the museum yesterday, has purchased thirty acres on the outskirts of Santa Fe and will plant the tract to potatoes, being firm in the belief that potatoes will prove a money maker in this vicinity.

Years ago, all the potatoes consumed in Santa Fe were grown in the Santa Fe canyon.

While Jesse Nassbaum, superintendent of construction, was watching a movie play the other night he was astonished to see that almost the entire play was staged in "The Painted Desert," which he constructed at San Diego. The play was a Mayan drama.

Prof. Oliver M. Washburn, who will lecture before the Santa Fe Society of the Archaeological Institute at the Old Palace on Friday evening, January 12, on "Etruscan Life in This World and in Hades," occupied the chair of classical archaeology in the University of California. He studied in the schools of the institute at Rome and at Athens and for two years, 1904-1906, was fellow of the archaeological institute in Greece.

Invitations for the lecture will be mailed next week.

FORMER CONGREGATION

REJECTS DR. AKED

(Associated Press Correspondence.)
Liverpool, Dec. 26.—Dr. Charles F.
Aked, best known in the United States as one-time pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church (John D. Rockefeller's church) and later as member of the Ford peace expedition, has come into prominence here again through the refusal of his former congregation that of Pembroke Chapel, to recall him. The suggestion that the peace advocates asked to come back to the old pulpit was contained in a letter from J. H. Morse, senior deacon of the First Congregational church of San Francisco, and was read to the congregation by the present pastor, the Rev. Donald B. Fraser.

Mr. Morse inquired if the pastor, Mr. Fraser, is prepared to vacate the pastorate in favor of Dr. Aked, and if Pembroke chapel will recall the peace emissary, adding: "I think upon the whole, that would be the most complete vindication of Dr.
Aked possible, and settle for all time Dr. Aked's status in the Christian ministry." The writer said he would gladly take up the matter with Dr. Aked.

As soon as Mr. Fraser had finished reading the letter a member of the congregation proposed a vote of confidence in the present pastor, which was immediately seconded and carried unanimously.

BELGIAN LABORERS ARE

IMPRESSED IN A BODY

(Associated Press Correspondence.)
Rotterdam, Netherlands, Nov. 30.— How an entire factory staff of 250 hands was carried off to forced labor in German service is told by one of the numerous Belgian civilians who have escaped over the Dutch frontier in the last few days, and is reported in the Belisch Docket.

The well known De Mayer paper works at Willebroek, near Malines, were suddenly surrounded by German soldiers at 2 o'clock one afternoon, according to the account. A train composed of freight cars drew up before the principal entrance, on the branch line connecting with the main railroad. No one was allowed in or out of the works. A German officer and one or two men entered, and went through the works ordering overseers and workmen to stop their work and collect together at an imposed spot. Protests were of no avail; everyone had to obey. Then in parties of a score they were taken out under a military escort and loaded into the cattle trucks, and the entire staff thus carried off to an unknown destination. Although they only had their blue workmen's smocks, the men were even refused permission to go home and get a few indispensable things together. The narrator of the story himself hailed from Willebroek, and the facts were confirmed by another citizen of that place.

PAY OF LABORERS ON

CANAL IS INCREASED

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

Panama, Dec. 26.—The board appointed by Acting Governor Harding to consider a revision of wages and conditions of employment of alien canal laborers, mostly negroes, has granted an increase of about 20 per cent in pay to the lowest paid laborers, making the minimum wage 12 instead of 10 cents an hour. Minor increases are given for the more skilled labor, and those on hazardous jobs. The new wage scale goes into effect January 1. The board went on record as recommending the obligation of the government to pay its men a wage sufficient to maintain them in reasonable comfort and decency, and stated that the higher standard to which the West Indians had become accustomed was a reason for maintaining improved conditions.

The desirability of housing the employees on the Canal Zone was stated, and Acting Governor Harding has recommended an additional appropriation to take care of this. This feature has military aspects, as during the recent strike it was brought out that inimical interests operating in Panama might prevent many of the laborers from going from their homes to work and thus cripple the operation of the canal.

Gave Booze to His Cows.
London, Dec. 15.—Giving evidence in favor of the retention of a license to sell liquors in a small suburb of London, a farmer said that he found the solitary inn a great convenience.
He said he was in the habit of giving a quart of beer to the cows after milking, and that he also gave them a pint of whiskey occasionally.

Planting Trees in Ireland.

Dublin, Dec. 15.—Tree planting on a large scale is going on in Ireland to replace the timber cut down for use in the war. In Cavan county 70,000 trees have been planted, and in other counties many thousands have been put down. Agricultural societies are offering afforestation prizes.

A "Pointer" on Better Baking

You can bake better—lots better, too—if you'll simply go to your grocer's and say: "A can of Calumet Baking Powder, please." After that, baking bothers are over. For in the millions of homes where Calumet is used daily, failures are unknown.
Every baking comes from the oven light as a thistle-down, wholesome and tasty and evenly raised.

CALUMET
is the one baking powder that guarantees success.
And yet it is much more economical than other kinds. Try a can today—but be sure to get Calumet.

The French quartet will give an entertainment tonight at Madrid under the auspices of the Knights of "Fighting Lode" of that place. The quartet will leave for Madrid this afternoon.

Charles Wallington, Santa Fe passenger conductor running between this city and El Paso, has returned after being a patient at the company's hospital in Topeka, Kas., for six months. He hopes to be able to take his regular run in a short time.

J. M. Solie, senior member of the Solie-Peters Furniture company, returned to the city yesterday and will remain. Mrs. Solie arrived about a week ago. For the past several years Mr. Solie was located at Lakeland, Fla., where he was interested in orange lands and also in the mercantile business. Recently he sold all his Florida interests, then visited Havana, Cuba, for a few weeks and then came to Albuquerque.

Nick Spence, who looks after the interests of the John V. Maxwell company of Chicago, in the southwest, with headquarters in this city, shaped his trip so as to spend the holidays here. In his recent rounds over his territory, he found the merchants optimistic of the future. All have made money this year, and all anticipate increased trade for the new year. He had no difficulty in selling and making prompt shipments of goods, and believes, from all indications, that 1917 will be a banner year for all kinds of business in the southwest.

EXECUTIVE BOARD OF STOCKMEN TO GO TO ROSWELL

Decides to Hold Meetings at Different Points in State Instead of Only in Albuquerque.

While heretofore the meetings of the executive board of the New Mexico Cattle and Horse Growers' association have been held at their headquarters in Albuquerque, beginning with the new year meetings will be held in each quarter in different cattle raising sections of the state. The first place selected is Roswell, center of the Pecos valley country, the oldest and perhaps the largest of the stock raising centers in New Mexico. The meeting will be held January 12 and 13.

By carrying their meetings over the state the board hopes to get in closer touch with the several sections of the state to the end that it can serve them better and that the work of the association can be brought before the people.

At the Roswell meeting several questions will come up for consideration that are of vital importance to the cattle raising industry. The passage of the 410-acre grazing homestead bill is a matter of just a few weeks, and the cattle men feel that they must be prepared to meet the changed conditions that will result. At this meeting the proposal of the forest service to double its present grazing fees will be answered in detail.

Would Amend Bounty Law. With the state legislature meeting early in the coming months there are several matters that the stockmen believe must be brought to the attention of the law makers. The cattle men have no desire to lobby, but assert that the magnitude of their industry warrants a careful survey of the matter.

Members of the executive board who have signified their intention of being present at the meeting in Roswell are: William R. Morley, Magdalena; Vic Colverson, Elmer; W. S. Hopewell, Albuquerque; M. A. Van Houten, Shuman; R. H. Royal, Lamy; C. W. Parks, Silver City; B. F. Pankey, Lamy; and H. A. Jastro, Bakerfield, Cal. Other representative cattle men from over the state are expected to be present.

JUDGE POLLOCK GOES ON DUCK HUNT; WILL BE BACK TOMORROW

Judge John C. Pollock closed the United States court here yesterday afternoon after two days' sessions at which he disposed of unfinished matters and left last night for La Jara, Socorro county, on a duck shooting trip. Harry P. Lee, clerk of the court, also went on the hunting trip.

Judge Pollock expected to return to Albuquerque, Saturday. At that time he probably will reopen court here to take up other unfinished matters.

The court yesterday granted a temporary injunction restraining the city of Raton from proceeding with a case in the state courts pending the termination of a case in the circuit court of appeals. The city is in litigation with the water works corporation.

COMMITTEE PICKS POLICE JUDGE AS J. P. CANDIDATE

Primaries Waived in Twelfth Precinct by Central Committee Which Places McClellan in Race.

Justice W. W. McClellan, for years magistrate of the Twelfth precinct court, is the democratic candidate for justice in that precinct. Judge McClellan will make the race against Judge John Baron Burg, republican nominee, who will retire from the precinct court January 1.

The democrats held no primaries in the Twelfth precinct. The precinct central committee simply adopted a resolution yesterday declaring him to be the party's candidate. The resolution also named A. S. Moraga as candidate for constable. He will run against Deputy Sheriff A. C. Bortless, republican nominee. Here is the resolution:

"Resolved, That W. W. McClellan, the present justice of the peace and police judge, be selected as the democratic candidate for justice of the peace, and A. S. Moraga for constable for precinct 12, to be voted for at an election to be held January 8, 1917.

"D. R. B. BELLEIR, "WARREN GRAHAM, "MARTIN TIERNEY, "TONY ORTIZ, "W. H. BEACOCK, "ROBERT CREWS, "HENRY WESTERFELD, "Executive Committee.

"Approval: FRANK BUTT, chairman."

The democrats have not as yet put forward any candidate to make the race against John W. Wilson, republican nominee, in the Twenty-sixth precinct. It was said, however, that it was probable that the democrats of the Twenty-sixth would not hold primaries, but that the central committee of the precinct probably would follow the line of action taken in the Twelfth.

J. J. Votaw is looked upon as the probable democratic candidate in the Twenty-sixth.

MUTT AND JEFF IN BRAND NEW GUISE AT CRYSTAL NEXT TUESDAY

After five seasons of veritable triumph, Gus Hill comes back for a sixth season with his perennial success, "Mutt & Jeff" in an entire new dress. Their wedding is the title of the story that is to form a background for Bud Fisher's inimitable characters which easily assume the credit of the greatest and most durable success of the cartoon world.

The new production is an innovation of play craftsmanship's work embodying about all of the real meat of standard amusement, the thrill of the melodrama, the side-splitting situations of the farce comedy, the extravagance and timorous brilliancy of the burlesque and the harmonious art of musical comedy, not forgetting a scenic production, electrically embellished, including some startling mechanical effects that overshadow all previous attempts at realism. Contrary to the general idea of producing managers to frame up their offerings for the second or third years cheaply and "clean up" speaking in the parlance of the profession, Mr. Hill has spent more money and greater energy in this season's "Mutt & Jeff's Wedding" than on any of the previous productions, so great is his faith in the lasting qualities of the cartoon play. In this season's entertainment there isn't a thing left but Mutt & Jeff. The story, music, lyrics, scenery and electrical effects are all new. Mr. Hill has selected a cast superior in every respect to any he has yet been able to offer. All in all, "Mutt & Jeff's Wedding" will surely live up to the title of the one great hit of the show world and it will go some.

It comes to the Crystal theater next Tuesday night, January 2. Secure seats in advance is an old cry, but in this case it is very necessary, as Mutt & Jeff always play to overflowing houses. Seats now selling at Matson's.
