TENT LIFE AND CLIMATE

Marvelous Cures Effected by Those Means at the Fort Stanton Sanitarium.

OFFICIAL TESTIMONY

Dr. Carrington, in Charge, Himself Cured by New Mexico's Air and Sunshine.

"My appreciation of the value of New Mexico climate for the cure of tuberculosis is doubtless enhanced by the fact that I myself have been cured during my tour of duty at Fort Stanton; and that without the use of other remedies than ample food and outdoor life," says Dr. Paul M. Carrington, surgeon in the Marine Hospital Service in charge of Fort Stanton, Lincoln County. This statement is taken from a paper by Dr. Carrington upon "Further Observations of the Treatment of Tuberculosis at Fort Stanton, New Mexico," and reprinted from the Journal of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States. When it is remembered that the altitude and climate of Santa Fe are almost identical with those of Fort Stanton, except that the winters are a bit more severe and cloudier, and the summers a few degrees warmer at Fort Stanton than at Santa Fe, the following by Dr. Carrington is very significant: "I personally know a number of persons now engaged in various pursuits in this locality who ten, fifteen or twenty years ago came to this section suffering from tuberculosis; some of them so feeble that they had to be carried on stretchers. These persons are now, but for scar tissue in their lungs, in perfect health. These cases are so numerous and so well authenticated as to leave no doubt in my mind of the value of this climate in the treatment of tuberculosis."

He warns against the tendency to leave New Mexico too soon. He says: "There continues to be a difficulty in retaining patients under treatment for a sufficient length of time, and during the year I have seen cases after cases leave the Sanitarium in a condition just short of complete recovery. When advised to remain, these patients say: 'Why, I feel as well as I ever did in my life,' and they cannot be made to understand that it is not a matter purely of sensation."

Tent Life the Thing.

Dr. Carrington is an advocate of tent life. He says: "I have been a persistent advocate of the tent as a dwelling for consumptives since early in my tour of duty at Fort Stanton. I found considerable unwillingness to try the experiment at first, and began with two or three tents pitched among the trees surrounding the old Army Hospital, but the tent idea increased in popularity by patients being impressed by the degree of improvement made by the pioneers and now I have more than thirty tents in use, quartering more than fifty patients. I am putting up the ordinary tents which I have, with elevated flaps, so as to obtain ridge ventilation. Some of the tents are ventilated by fore and aft windows. My tents are all floored, sided and provided with small sheet iron stoves, and notwithstanding the fact that we have experienced during the past winter the lowest temperature, two degrees above zero, which has been known in this region for many years, (at Santa Fe the lowest was nine above zero) I have had every tent occupied during the entire winter. In the past eighteen months more than 100 cases have been quartered in tents, and almost without exception these cases have shown decided improvement, and some of them have been discharged as recovered. Cases in all stages have been quartered in tents, and only in a few instances has it been found necessary to remove a patient from the tents into the buildings."

Dr. Carrington also points out the necessity of sending consumptives to New Mexico in the first stage of the disease. He shows that of those admitted to Fort Stanton sanitarium in the first stage, 39 in all, only one has died and he succumbed to softening of the brain. Only two of those cases were discharged unimproved, while the remainder were either discharged cured, improved, or are still under treatment, being on the road to recovery. By far the larger number of cases admitted are in the second or third stage, and yet, out of 470 patients treated, only 89 died, of whom 37 came so late that they had not been under treatment an entire month. Twenty of these 477 were discharged unimproved, 52 were cured and 148 are still under treatment. Of the cases who died, the disease was involved with complications, twenty-eight of them, for instance, having syphilis, eleven organic heart disease, seven nephritis, seventeen laryngitis, two meningitis, five fistula and three other complications, a total of 62. In 155 cases, both lungs were involved, in 113 cases pulmonary hemorrhage had occurred. In 36 cases there was history of tuberculosis in parents. Many of those admitted are also far advanced in years or

APPEALED TO ITALIAN VICE CONSUL

Editor De Moli, Who Disappeared From Trinidad Cannot Be Located—Foul Play Suspected.

Pueblo, April 29.—An appeal was made today to the Italian vice consul at Denver by the bondsmen and friends of Charles De Moli, the Italian editor who disappeared from Trinidad, to enlist his assistance in locating De Moli. No trace of him has been found and the belief is growing that De Moli is being detained or has met with foul play.

St. Louis, Mo., April 29.—Governor Peabody of Colorado, accompanied by a delegation from that state, arrived today. Governor Joseph K. Toole of Montana is also here. They will attend the opening ceremonies of the World's Fair tomorrow.

FOUR LIVES LOST IN FIRE.

A Large Boarding House in Lansing Goes Up in Flames Last Night.

Lansing, Mich., April 29.—Four lives were lost last night in the burning of the Bryan house, a three-story brick structure. The dead are: Jerome C. Stille, John Volland, Ransom Dingman, and two firemen received slight burns.

are addicted to heavy drinking, thus making recovery a doubtful question. Dr. Carrington warns against the heavy use of alcoholic drink by those ill with consumption. He says: "There can be no question of the ill effects of the excessive use of alcohol. Recovery from tuberculosis is a serious undertaking, requiring patience and self-restraint, and I may say some hardships for a period, which must be measured more frequently by years than by months. The consumptive must give up many amusements, which formerly he regarded as necessary to his happiness, and must live a life of regularity and temperance. He must have an earnest desire to get well, and be willing to deny himself those things which are harmful, and cheerfully comply with all the regulations of the Sanitarium of which he is an inmate, believing that such regulations are made for his good. We have patients who are avowedly indifferent to the result; such patients only do not improve, but their example discourages others. They had better have remained at home, where they would not discourage others, who really wish to recover. Our observation is that the more intelligent, cheerful, temperate and obedient the patient, the better his chances for improvement and recovery."

The fact that a high altitude reduces the disposition to hemorrhage is emphasized by Dr. Carrington. Speaking of this he says: "Our records show a decreased barometric pressure. In 113 cases of history of pulmonary hemorrhage, 72 showed no sign of hemorrhage after admission, and out of 285 patients only nine, not previously thus afflicted, had hemorrhages. In this connection it is also pointed out that the danger of reinfection so potent in moist climates is reduced to a minimum in the New Mexico climate. "The atmosphere seems to be free from pathogenic germs," says Dr. Carrington, and wounds of all kinds heal very kindly, and without infection even with the most careless disregard of asepsis. In this connection it is an interesting fact that on the appearance of winter our mixed infection cases invariably lose their mixed character, and since November last the bacteriologist has not reported a single case of mixed infection except on the first examination after the arrival of the patient. The rarefaction of the atmosphere makes deeper breathing necessary and our records show diminished liability to hemorrhages, due doubtless to the decreased barometric pressure."

That the climate treatment connected with tent life in New Mexico is attracting much favorable attention is certain. Dr. Carrington says that he has "many requests from citizens generally for admission to the Fort Stanton Sanitarium, they not being aware that the beneficiaries of the Sanitarium are restricted to seamen employed on the merchant marine vessels of the United States, officers and men of the Revenue Cutter Service, keepers and crews of lighthouse establishments and seamen employed on vessels of some other branches of the public service other than the navy."

This testimony, coming from a scientific and professional man, absolutely unbiased, should be very valuable to consumptives. In a subsequent article, the New Mexican will review the course of treatment adopted at Fort Stanton and recommended by Dr. Carrington in addition to tent life and abstinence from alcoholic stimulants. In a third article the interesting history and a description of Fort Stanton will be given.

CHEMULPO SURVIVORS GIVEN ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION

Duke Alexif Meets the Heroes and Receives Formal Report of the Battle—Streets Along the Line of March Black With People—Details of the Sinking of the Kinshu Maru.

St. Petersburg, 2:05 p. m., April 29.—Such an outburst of popular enthusiasm as was witnessed today upon the arrival here of the survivors of the Variag and Koritz has not been experienced in many years. Undeterred by the raw rainy weather, as many as a hundred thousand persons crowded for three miles the nevsy, from the railroad depot to the palace square. The roofs and windows were black with people waving naval flags. The whole route was lined by soldiers, sailors and cadets of the military school. Duke Alexif, as high admiral, received the heroes. Attended by a brilliant staff of admirals, the grand duke approached the survivors of the Chemulpo engagement, and Captain Roudeneff, commander of the Variag, saluted and presented the grand duke with a formal report of the battle.

These formalities over, deputations of the nobility and municipality presented addresses of welcome and the traditional bread and salt. Then began the triumphant march down the nevsy. The people went fairly wild over the heroes and showered them with flowers. As the column approached the winter palace, the emperor and empress came out on a balcony, greeted them, and then retired to receive the visitors in the magnificent Nicholas hall, which had been converted into a church.

Russians Admire Bravery of the Enemy.

St. Petersburg, April 29.—The details of Rear Admiral Yeszen's raid show that it was entirely successful. He safely brought back his ships after inflicting material and moral damage on the enemy.

The conduct of 130 troops remaining aboard the Kinshu Maru in refusing to surrender and firing upon the Russians while the transport was sinking evokes unbounded admiration.

Japanese Squadron Seen Near Vladivostock.

St. Petersburg, 7:10 p. m., April 29.—Viceroy Alexieff later reported that the Japanese squadron has been sighted off Vladivostock.

Naval Circles Speculating.

St. Petersburg, April 29.—Viceroy Alexieff's report that the Japanese squadron was off Port Arthur, followed by the announcement that another squadron was off Vladivostock, has aroused anxiety. Naval circles are speculating whether the enemy will dare approach Vladivostock at closer range than last time. There are persistent rumors of fighting on the Yalu River, but the Associated Press is informed that no serious engagements have taken place and that the fighting has been confined to outpost affairs, the Russians contenting themselves with harassing the Japanese advance.

Squadron Returns to Vladivostock.

Vladivostock, April 29.—The squadron under Rear Admiral Yeszen has returned here from its recent operations off the Korean coast.

The squadron, consisting of the armored cruisers Rossia, Rurik and Grobmol, and the protected cruiser Bogatyr put to sea at daylight on April 23. The Rurik returned the following day but the others proceeded to Wonsan, Korea. Two torpedo boats were sent into the bay where they found the Japanese trading steamer Goyo Maru at anchor with a crew of twenty. The latter were ordered ashore, the papers of the vessel were taken and the steamer then sunk. There was no sign of troops ashore and no vessels in the bay, but it was learned that four Japanese torpedo boat destroyers had put out to sea at daylight on April 25. The squadron returned to Vladivostock, and late in the day on April 26 started on another expedition. On the 27th, when 300 miles out to sea, they sighted a Japanese steamer with war stores. Her crew was placed in safety and the steamer sunk. The same night the large Japanese transport Kinshu Maru was overhauled. The crew of the transport tried to escape in small boats but were captured. On board the transport were four Hotchkiss guns. At the outset it looked as if there was no one on board, but on examination it was found that the cabins were locked and barred. Therein the Russians found six infantry officers who surrendered without resistance. In another part of the ship there were 130 infantry men who refused to surrender when found. Admiral Yeszen, whose vessel was about 1,600 yards away ordered his men to leave the transport. The Japanese soldiers then opened fire and one Russian was wounded. Afterwards the transport was sent to the bottom by means of a mechanical mine and a few shells. The Japanese on board did not cease firing and made no attempt to save themselves. The fire of the Japanese actually continued until the waves closed over the ship. The prisoners numbered 183, including seven officers.

Japanese Account of the Sinking of the Transport.

Tokio, 6 p. m., April 29.—Seventy-three Japanese were killed or drowned as the result of the sinking of the Japanese transport Kinshu Maru, which was torpedoed by the Russian cruiser Rossia at midnight on Monday last. The Kinshu Maru parted from a convoy of torpedo boats in a fog on Monday and at 11:30 met the Russian fleet. She was ordered to stop and the Rossia steamed alongside. A searching party was sent on the transport and discovered two companies of soldiers below, which was reported to the Rossia. The latter discharged a torpedo which struck the Minshu Maru amidships and broke her in two. While the transport was sinking the soldiers on board rushed on the deck and fired volleys from their rifles into the Rossia, and the vessel sank several soldiers committed suicide. Three boats which floated free from the wreckage were the means of saving 45 soldiers and nine members of the crew. The survivors succeeded in getting ashore and were conveyed by steamer to Gensan today.

Later reports from Gensan concerning the sinking of the Kinshu Maru by the Russian cruiser Rossia indicate that the soldiers who killed themselves as the vessel went down, or were drowned, refused to surrender to the Russians, choosing death in preference.

The official reports agree in placing the number of casualties at 73. It is not known here how many the Russians took on board or rescued after she was sinking. It is possible that there were more survivors, as one of the vessel's boats is still missing.

Russia Intends to Settle Its Own Affairs.

St. Petersburg April 29.—In the most categorical terms Russia has officially notified the world that she will not accept mediation to terminate the war with Japan. The official notification accords with the authoritative announcement made by the Associated Press on April 25, is contained in a circular issued the ministry of foreign affairs to the Russian representatives with foreign powers, and gazetted in the official messenger today. The announcement closes with the statement that "similarly the imperial government will not admit the intervention of any power in the direct negotiations which will occur between Russia and Japan after the termination of hostile operations in order to determine the conditions of peace."

Japanese in Vicinity of Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, April 29.—Viceroy Alexieff telegraphs under today's date that Japanese ships were sighted six miles off Port Arthur last night and that this morning ten Japanese cruisers and six torpedo boats were seen in the adjacent bay.

ALL DANGER PASSED.

Lowlands Around St. Louis Flooded, But Families Living There Have Moved.

St. Louis, April 29.—The belief that all danger from high water is now passed was expressed by Mayor Cook of East St. Louis, and Mayor Judd of Granite City. The lowlands south of East St. Louis are badly flooded as the result of a breakage in the Conlogue levee, but all the families living in the inundated section have moved.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION

The District Governor of Echmiedzin Struck by Two Bullets, One Penetrating His Chest.

Erivan Russia, April 29.—An attempt has been made to assassinate the district governor of Echmiedzin. He was struck by two bullets. One penetrated his chest. The motive of the attempt was political.

BOILER MAKERS JOIN THE STRIKERS

Blacksmiths Expected to Go Out Today—Writ of Injunction Issued by Judge Baker.

The strike situation in the Albuquerque railroad shops is becoming more serious. Yesterday the boiler makers, numbering 38 men, with about twenty-five helpers, went out when a non-union machinist was put to work on an engine in the round house. Today it is expected that the blacksmiths will go out, adding about sixty men to the list of strikers. The Santa Fe Railroad Company yesterday applied for a restraining order, which was granted them by Judge Baker. It is directed to Fourth Vice President Wilson of the International Association of Machinists and fifty members of the local union, restraining them from in any manner interrupting or interfering with the railway, its shops, rolling stock, engines, water tanks, or right of way. Another carload of strike breakers arrived in Albuquerque this morning and twenty men were unloaded inside the shops stockade, the rest of the car load being taken west to work in the shops on the coast lines. There has been no disorderly conduct among the strikers. One fight occurred yesterday between a locomotive fireman and a non-union machinist at work in the round house. The men were soon separated, however, and no damage was done.

Situation at San Bernardino.

There have been no new developments in the strike situation at San Bernardino, California. Twenty additional machinists and helpers were shipped into the yards at that place on Thursday and were put to work, giving the machine shop a force of about forty-five men. More than fifty guards patrol the grounds about the plant, although the strikers have made no show of violence.

THE DELEGATES TOO BIG EATERS

Dining Car Cooks on Special Trains Carrying Methodists to Los Angeles on a Strike for Several Hours While Here.

There was a strike on the special Pennsylvania train that stopped over in the city last evening carrying delegates to the Methodist conference at Los Angeles. The train was in two sections and its passengers spent several hours here last evening. The cook, second cook and two dishwashers on the two dining cars attached to the special went on a strike and not only refused to provide for the passengers, but also prevented others on the train from doing so. They flourished knives and kitchen utensils to keep the crew from the kitchen and dining car. The situation looked serious for a time and City Marshal Richard Gorman was called to the train to quell the disturbance. After some parleying he succeeded in putting the strikers off the train. In the mean while dispatches had been sent to Albuquerque for men to take the strikers places. The strikers did not relish the prospects of staying in Santa Fe without transportation and called the strike off, apologizing humbly and profusely. The cause of the strike was that they thought they were overworked and had done enough for the day. The local hotels and restaurants profited by the strike and did a rushing business for several hours.

A PLUM FOR SULZBACHER

He Is Appointed an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court for Indian Territory.

SIXTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

Many Candidates for Judgeship—Roswell Designated as Headquarters Important Bill Passed Before Adjournment.

Special to the New Mexican.

Washington, D. C., April 29.—Judge Lewis Sulzbacher, associate justice of the supreme court of the Island of Porto Rico, has just been named associate justice of the supreme court of the Indian Territory under the new law creating an additional judicial district there and for an additional associate justice of the Indian Territory Supreme Court. Judge Sulzbacher is a citizen of Kansas City, Missouri, to which place he moved about ten years ago, after a residence of thirty years in Las Vegas. His record on the supreme bench of Porto Rico has been excellent; he tendered his resignation some time ago, desiring to return to the United States, but was prevailed upon to withdraw it. The present appointment means full recognition of his services in Porto Rico and brings him back to this country and within a day's ride of his Missouri home.

Homes Secured by Rodey's Bill.

Special to the New Mexican.

Washington, D. C., April 29.—Delegate Rodey's bill giving title to about seventy-five settlers in the vicinity of Los Lentes and Cubero, Valencia County, whose lands are included in the limits of the land grant of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company, was passed by the Senate yesterday by the help of Senator Hansbrough and was signed by the President five minutes before adjournment, thus becoming law. This will be a great and good thing for those interested, who, with their families, number about 400. As under the provision of this law, they will now be secured in their homes and lands, which they and their ancestors have occupied for the past seventy or eighty years.

A Suggestion as to Division Into Districts.

A dispatch from Washington says that before the Sixth Judicial District Bill was finally passed, an amendment was added, designating Roswell as the headquarters of the new district. The new district will probably include the counties of Chaves, Eddy and Roosevelt, all three being on the Pecos Valley and Northeastern Railway. The suggestion is made that the Fifth district should consist of the counties on the Rock Island, namely, Otero, Lincoln, Leonard Wood and Quay, with headquarters at Alamogordo. Judge W. H. Pope to be assigned to that district. In accordance with the same logic, Judge Parker's district would include the counties on the Santa Fe lines, south of Valencia County, to wit, Grant, Luna, Dona Ana, Sierra and Socorro, with headquarters at Socorro. The other districts would remain the same, except that Quay and Leonard Wood Counties would be taken from the Fourth District and added to the Fifth. It is argued that such an arrangement would make the judicial districts far more compact than at present, would reduce mileage fees considerably and would enable court officials to reach any part of their district in much less time than is now the case in the southern and eastern parts of the Territory. The same dispatch says that the following candidates for the new judgeship have already presented their claims at Washington: Colonel George W. Pritchard of White Oaks; W. C. Reid, Karl A. Snyder and James M. Hervey of Roswell; and Judge A. A. Freeman of Carlsbad. Frank Clancy of Albuquerque, W. E. Kelly of Socorro, A. J. Abbott of Santa Fe, C. A. Mann of Las Cruces.

Weather Bureau for Roswell.

The same dispatch says that a United States weather bureau office will be established at Roswell this summer, to cover not only eastern New Mexico, but part of western Texas.

ARIZONA CONVICTS REVOLT

An Attempt to Break Jail was Frustrated, but Assistant Superintendent and Five Prisoners were Stabbed.

Phoenix, Arizona, April 29, 1904.—The convicts of the territorial penitentiary of Phoenix, Arizona, attempted to break jail yesterday. The revolt was led by William M. Lastaman, a leader in the labor riots at Morenci last year. Assistant Superintendent U. G. Wilder was badly beaten and stabbed, and the life of Superintendent William Griffith was saved by a life term prisoner. During the disturbance five of the convicts were stabbed and shot, one of them fatally, but none escaped.

CRUSHES OUT THE LIFE

The most loathsome and repulsive of all living things is the serpent, and the vilest and most degrading of all human diseases is Contagious Blood Poison. The serpent sinks its fangs into the flesh and almost instantly the poison passes through the entire body. Contagious Blood Poison, beginning with a little ulcer, soon contaminates every drop of blood and spreads throughout the whole system. Painful swellings appear in the groins, a red rash and copper colored spots break out on the body, the mouth and throat become ulcerated, and the hair and eye brows fall out; but these symptoms are mild compared to the wretchedness and suffering that come in the latter stages of the disease when it attacks the bones and more vital parts of the body. It is then that Contagious Blood Poison is seen in all its hideousness. The deep eating abscesses and sickening ulcers and tumors show the whole system is corrupted and poisoned, and unless relief comes soon this serpent disease tightens its coils and crushes out the life. The only antidote for the awful virus is S. S. S. It is nature's remedy, composed entirely of vegetable ingredients. S. S. S. destroys every vestige of the poison, purifies the blood and removes all danger of transmitting the awful taint to others. Nothing else will do this. Strong mineral remedies, like mercury and potash, dry up the sores and drive in the disease, but do not cure permanently. Send for our home treatment book and write us if in need of medical advice or special information. This will cost you nothing.

THE SANTA FE TRAIL

A Trip Over It at the Present Day is Not Without Many Features of Interest.

HISTORIC REMINISCENCE

Homeseekers Bound for the Southwest Which Offers Many Attractions and Advantages.

It is refreshing to run across an article upon a New Mexico subject, in the large city dailies, that is free from prejudice and jeers against this Territory. Such an article appeared recently in the Detroit Free Press, written by Walter M. Taber. On account of its interest and fairness, the New Mexican reproduces it:

"One can imagine the intense excitement which always prevailed in that quaint old town of Santa Fe in the early days, the moment the shout went up that a train was in sight. Its mixed population would turn out en masse to watch the heavily freighted wagons loaded in Missouri, and having passed in safety through many dangers from drought, from flood, and from those red-painted devils of the plains, the Cheyennes, Comanches and Kiowas, had at last arrived in safety, the teamsters dust-begrimed and the mules making the place hideous with their discordant braying as they knew that their long journey was ended and rest awaited them.

"After this famous highway was established across the plains, about the year 1815, the only method of travel was by the slow freight caravan drawn by patient oxen or mules, or the lumbering stage coach with its complement of four or six mules. There was ever to be feared an attack by Indians or desperadoes. Along its whole route the remains of men, animals and the wreck of camps and wagons told a story of suffering, robbery and outrage more impressive than any language.

The Stage Service.
In 1848 monthly stages started from each end of the route at the same time; later the service was increased to once a week, until in the early '60's daily stages were run from both ends, and this was continued until the advent of the railroad.

"It required about two weeks to make the journey, unless high water or a fight with the Indians made it considerable longer, and if the latter, one might consider himself lucky to ever reach his destination. What sleep was taken could only be had while sitting upright, as the stage continued on its journey night and day until Santa Fe was reached. Each coach carried eleven passengers, nine closely stowed inside and two outside with the driver. The fare from the Missouri river to Santa Fe was $250, with baggage limited to forty pounds. This sum included meals which were obtained at stations along the route, though the passengers were not catered to in any extravagant manner. Hardtack, bacon and coffee usually comprised the menu. This, however, was changed when the foothills of the Glorieta mountains were reached; here the tired passengers were served with the most delicious mountain trout from the nearby streams, with venison elk and bear meat, in which this region abounds.

"But few of the old stage stations remain. Time and leaky roofs have played havoc with the thick adobe walls of which they were constructed, until now only a pile of mud marks the spot where weary travelers rested, ate and washed the dust out of their eyes and ears.

Pigeon's Ranch.
"Probably the best preserved of these stations today, is that known as Pigeon's Ranch, located in the picturesque and historical valley one mile east of the pass over the Glorieta mountain and only a short distance from the ruins of the Pecos Pueblo church, built over 300 years ago.

"The ranch house as was the custom in those days, was built square, 100 feet on either side, and Spanish fashion with a plaza, or open court in the center. The walls of sun dried brick two and a half feet thick are still in a fair condition and are plainly visible from the car windows of the Santa Fe railroad as the train struggles, double-headed up the Glorieta mountain.

"At this place occurred the bloody battle of Pigeon's Ranch or 'La Glorieta,' March 27, and 28, 1862, between troops of the north and south. Here in the old house a small body of Union troops surprised and captured the enemy's pickets while engaged in playing cards. The next day and that following the battle raged, the old house first being within the lines of one side and then the other, the holes in the walls to this day showing how severe and murderous was the artillery fire.

The First Train.
"On the 9th day of February, 1880, the first train over the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad arrived in Santa Fe. It was the beginning of the end for the once great highway is now only a memory of those who traveled its weary course, for the trail as a route of commerce is closed forever.

"The old stage-coach days were times of romance and adventure, and the stories told of that era have a singular fascination. Very few, if any, of the famous men who handled the trail

BEYOND DOUBT.

These Facts Must Convince Every Santa Fe Reader.

The statement which follows tells the experience of a resident of Santa Fe. Incredulity cannot long exist about this testimony because it can be easily investigated.

Alberto Garcia, ex-police officer of San Francisco st., says: "When a man has attacks of backache for four or five days at a time and those attacks extend over a period of two years, he must arrive at this conclusion, he is subject to some form of kidney complaint. In my case other symptoms plainly indicated that I required a medicine to strengthen my weakened kidneys, and allay inflammation of those organs. This led me to go to Ireland's Pharmacy for Doan's Kidney Pills. They certainly helped me a great deal and tided me over the last attack. If others occur, I now know how to stop them in the incipient stage."

ROBBED THE GRAVE.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cts, guaranteed by Fischer Drug Company.

PERSONAL MENTION

Rev. A. M. Harkness left this afternoon for Albuquerque where he will lecture and spend a week in the interest of the Society for the Friendless.

Mrs. C. L. Bishop, who spent the past week at Mesilla Park with her son Carl A. Bishop, who is a student at the Agricultural college and who has been suffering from an attack of appendicitis, returned to town yesterday accompanied by the young man, who is much better.

R. L. McCance, auditor of the Santa Fe Central Railway Company, left yesterday for Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania where he will remain for a month before returning to Santa Fe. E. L. Critchlow, his chief clerk, will also go east in a few days to accept a position in the Pittsburgh office of the Santa Fe Central.

A. S. Barney, of Santa Fe, traveling freight agent for the D. & R. G., came in on last night's train and went over to Taos today. In speaking of the proposed standard gauging of the Antonio and Santa Fe line Mr. Barney said: "The order for bread gauging the line was given last September, but the company has been waiting for a decrease in the price of some property it desires to purchase. As soon as this can be secured they will commence to widen the line. However, this will not be done this year for a certainty. An entirely different route will be taken when the new line is constructed, which will be better suited for the running of heavy trains and which will cut the time between Antonio and Santa Fe quite materially." Tres Piedras Mining Re- porter.

Lewis Daressa, a Cerrillos business man was in the city yesterday and purchased supplies.

C. O. Fountain, an insurance representative of Denver, Colorado, spent the day in the city looking after business affairs.

Route Agent W. D. McFerran, of the Wells Fargo Express Company is checking up the accounts of the local office today.

Dr. G. W. Harrison, of Albuquerque, president of the New Mexico board of health, spent yesterday in town and attended to official business.

Judge F. W. Parker, of the third judicial district, arrived in town on the noon train from Las Cruces, where he has just finished a busy term of court.

Mrs. Candelaria Ortiz de Chavez and daughter, Refugio Chavez, left this afternoon for Albuquerque, where they will spend several days with relatives and friends.

E. M. Swayze, of San Pedro, who is connected with the Sunny Slops Gold Mining Company in that camp, arrived from the south last evening en route to Taos County.

Mrs. Sallie Douglas, of Las Vegas, has gone to St. Louis to assume the duties of housekeeper and matron at the New Mexico building at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

Mayor A. R. Gibson left this morning for New York City and other eastern points on important mining business. He expects to be absent about two weeks. His address will be the Gilsey House, New York City.

Eugenio Romero, of Las Vegas, the well known treasurer and ex-officio collector of San Miguel County, arrived in the capital last evening and attended to business with the Santa Fe Central officials. He left via the Santa Fe Central this forenoon for Manzano.

Thomas Voeter, an employee of the United States Indian Industrial School, left this morning for Santa Clara to bring two Indian families from that Pueblo to this city, who will leave on Sunday with the party in charge of Superintendent C. J. Crandall for the St. Louis World's Fair.

Mrs. Harry Benjamin, of Albuquerque, wife of a business man of that city, and daughter of Mrs. L. C. Armijo, and grand-daughter of Colonel J. Frank Chaves, who has been in the city for several days on a visit to her mother, will leave tomorrow for her home in the Duke City.

Frank Ford, nephew of P. F. Hanley, and who has been in business for several years here, left last night for St. Louis, Missouri, where he will remain some months, returning thereafter to his old home in Boston, where he will likely reside permanently. Mr. Ford had many friends in town who regret his leaving them.

The following Denver and Rio Grande officials arrived in the city last evening in a special train consisting of an engine and two private cars: W. Caughlin, general superintendent; H. E. Whittenberger, superintendent of the fourth division; and M. Brown, supervisor of buildings and bridges. The trip is being made for the special purpose of inspecting buildings and bridges along the line. The party left in their special train for Alamosa at seven o'clock this morning.

The best is not too good for the Bon Ton.

COFFEE VALUES.

It is difficult, if not impossible, to match the values we give our customers in roasted coffees. We buy the best coffees we can find and sell them on a small margin of profit. But more than that, we handle fresh roasted coffee. Freshness is just as important as quality. We buy in small quantities and keep our stock moving. The following are some of our best brands. Any of them can be duplicated at almost any time. Occasionally, owing to our policy of carrying small stocks to insure freshness we may be out of one particular brand for a day or two.

IMPERIAL FLOUR.

We never grow tired telling the good qualities of IMPERIAL PATENT flour. There is, and there can be, no better flour made. None but the best selected wheat is used. The mill in which this flour is made has been kept up to date and contains the best machinery for producing the highest grade product of the miller's art. Many of the most critical buyers in Santa Fe have used this flour for twenty years. If you are not using it now a trial will prove to your advantage.

FERNELLE PRODUCTS.

We secured the agency for the Fernell brand of pure foods several years ago. The possibilities in the way of selling high grade pure foods were unknown to us. We have found by experience that there is a large and growing class of consumers in Santa Fe that appreciate the efforts of the makers of this brand of food to produce something above the ordinary. All kinds of canned vegetables, all kinds of canned fruits, catsup, exquisitely delicious preserves, the finest quality of rice in cotton sack, tapioca, sago, cocoa, etc., are among the many articles that may now be had under the FERNELLE brand.

Mayor A. R. Gibson last evening appointed Ex-Governor L. B. Prince, Major Rufus J. Palen and William M. Berger a delegation from this city to the National Convention of Charities and Correction, which will meet at Portland, Maine, June 15 to 22.

Mrs. Juliana Griego de Chaves, age 39 years, died last night of fever at her residence on Manhattan avenue. She is survived by her husband and four sons. The funeral will be held at the Cathedral at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. Father Fourchegu will say mass. Interment will be made in Rosario cemetery.

One more day wherein property owners and tax payers can file their assessment returns for this year with the assessor without having the regular penalty for failure to file these papers within the legal period assessed. Any tax payer and property owner who has not yet made his return should do so without fail tomorrow.

Juan Ortiz y Pino, of Galisteo, merchant and sheep raiser, yesterday informed a representative of the New Mexican that the lambing of sheep was going on in South Santa Fe County, and that on account of the drought and scarcity of green grass, the losses in lambs were very heavy. He thinks that if the sheep growers of that section save ten per cent of their lambs this spring, they would be doing very well indeed.

The collector of the Santa Fe Water and Light Company will commence on Monday to call upon consumers for the collection of all past due bills. Consumers are requested to pay promptly as the company needs the funds for the payment of current expenses and for the making of improvements to the plant and pipe system that are constantly going on. The management believes that consumers will prefer this manner of collection to the one of receiving bills by mail.

An illustrated article upon the Santa Fe trail appeared in a recent issue of the Detroit Tribune, which is republished in today's columns of the New Mexican. The writer, Walter M. Taber, was for several years a resident on a ranch on the Upper Pecos in this county, and after regaining his health, returned to Philadelphia, where for the past 15 years he has made his home and is a prosperous man in business. The article is very interesting and should be carefully read by every citizen of the Territory.

The slight flurry of snow which occurred this morning seems to have satisfied the weather bureau, for it again predicts fair and warmer weather. It also warns owners of orchards and farms that a heavy frost will occur in the north portion of the territory tonight. Yesterday the maximum temperature was 66 degrees at 2:10 p. m., and the minimum 51 degrees at 5:00 a. m. The relative humidity for the day was 22 per cent and precipitation .03 of an inch of snow. At six o'clock this morning the thermometer registered one degree above freezing point.

Nazario Gonzales, a well known Santa Fe County citizen, residing at Cienega is very sick, due to the infirmities of old age, having attained 87 years.

Miss Nestora Baca and Jose Lopez of Cienega were married at the Cathedral on Wednesday morning by Vicar General Fourchegu. The witnesses were Carlos Ortiz and Miss Manuelita Romero of Cienega.

The Denver and Rio Grande train from the north was two hours late last evening caused by heavy freight traffic. The train arrived here with two engines and twelve loaded cars. Agent F. H. McBride reports the freight business as being unusually heavy for this time of the year over his road.

Special dispatches to the New Mexican from Las Vegas, Albuquerque and Embudo report that no rain or snow fell at these points or in their vicinity last night or today. Yesterday afternoon Raton enjoyed a good rain of three hours duration.

The Cartwright-Davis Company in its change of advertisement today tells of the many points of excellence of the Imperial Patent Flour, and also calls attention to the brands of coffee which are carried by the firm. The company has the exclusive agency for the Fernell products, pure breakfast foods made from the finest materials.

The funeral of the late Miss Rufina Romero took place from the Cathedral this morning and was largely attended. Vicar General Fourchegu conducted the services. Burial was made in Rosario cemetery. The young woman died at 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Andrellita Apodaca de Ortiz died yesterday afternoon at her home in ward No. 4. The death was very sudden as she had not been ill for months. About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon she was attacked by a spasm of heart failure and succumbed within a very few minutes. She was a native of Santa Fe, 55 years of age and leaves a husband, son and daughter. The remains will be interred tomorrow morning from the Cathedral in Rosario Cemetery.

The Santa Fe Water and Light company will not permit irrigation tomorrow because the supply in the small reservoir has fallen twelve inches during the week. Heretofore there had been a steady gain in the water supply and therefore irrigation had been permitted Saturday forenoon. Manager Owens regrets that such strict economy in the use of the water is necessary at present. Considerable snow fell in the mountains last night and may help to increase the water supply by next week, in which case irrigation will be again permitted on Saturday forenoon.

The new city council will meet in its first regular session Monday evening next. The question of pushing ahead the construction of sidewalks and crossings on the principal business and residence streets of the city and especially where property owners can afford to make such improvements, should not be side-tracked, but should be taken up and promptly attended to. This is the desire of all good and progressive citizens and the city council should heed it.

Two special trains with delegates to the Methodist conference in Los Angeles from points in Pennsylvania were run into Santa Fe last evening to give the passengers an opportunity of viewing the interesting sights of the Capital. The first special arrived at 5 o'clock and left at 8 o'clock and the second arrived at 6:30 o'clock and left at 9 o'clock last evening. All the coaches, cabs and carriages available in the city were put into use to convey the sightseers around town.

The new city board of education will meet Monday evening next and organize by electing officers and appointing committees. Property owners, taxpayers and citizens generally demand of the board that it take speedy action for the disposition of the Fort Mary y donation lands not necessary for school purposes and also take measures toward the construction of the new modern school buildings so necessary for this town.

The mail for postoffices on the Santa Fe Central as far as Torrance and for star route offices in the vicinity of that line is now handled in the Santa Fe postoffice and is sent via the Santa Fe Central and mail star routes. This increases the business of the local office here very materially. At the same time it is of benefit to the town and should be taken advantage of by its merchants to get more business in the sections and towns tributary to the Santa Fe Central Railway.

The filing of assessment returns for the present year by property owners and taxpayers has been very slow and the number is far behind what it ought to be. Last year over 3,400 tax returns were filed; up to date for this year only about half that number has been made and filed in the assessor's office. The valuations are also running lower. The fact that the precinct of Espanola was taken from this county and added to Rio Arriba County will make some difference this year as the tax schedules from that precinct for the present year go to Rio Arriba County.

Carl Hanson of Kansas City, who has been in this city for several weeks on account of ill health, was found dead in his room on College Street this morning.

Justice of the Peace Yaple came to Hillsboro from Pittsburg last week. He was appointed postmaster at that place. The name of the post office is Shandon, and it is expected that a regular mail delivery will be established in about two weeks.

Miss Alice Bradberry and H. A. Gordon, of Fairview, were married at noon on Friday of last week by Justice of the Peace Patrick of Chloride. A dance was given in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon will make their home at Red Rock.

QUAY COUNTY.

Work was recently commenced on the court house at Tucumcari. The laying of the corner stone by the Masons will take place soon.

The two new railroad wells at Tucumcari, one of which was recently drilled, are now supplying 300,000 gallons of water in 24 hours.

I. H. and W. Rapp, architects of Las Vegas purchased business lots in Tucumcari recently and announce their intention of building substantial houses soon.

A deal has been effected whereby 37 acres of land near the coal chutes at Tucumcari have been sold to a party representing the railroad company. It is supposed that on this land the division shops will be located.

Charlie Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Murphy, died at Tucumcari, recently of that dread disease consumption. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy disposed of their property in Chicago and came to New Mexico in hopes of saving the sick boy. They arrived in Tucumcari Wednesday, but, like many others, they waited too long to come to the dry and healing climate of the Southwest.

ROOSEVELT COUNTY.

Mrs. Leavitt and J. S. Bushong were married last week at Portales by Rev. P. B. Johnson, at the residence of W. E. Chambliss.

Miss Clemie Addington and G. C. Johnson were united in holy matrimony at the Methodist church at Portales on Wednesday of last week.

A stock company is being organized to employ a Mr. Scott, who successfully put down some wells in Beaumont district, to put down a well in or near Portales. The company is capitalized for $5,000, of which $2,800 has been subscribed for.

J. M. Mobley, who resides ten miles southwest of Portales, captured a lobo wolf and five pups last week and had them on exhibition in that town. The pups were seen playing around the den and a trap was set in the mouth of the den to catch the mother. The pups were first captured and one of them chained a short ways in the den, and after two days of careful inspection, Mrs. Wolf concluded to go to the pup. They then killed the mother and were offering the pups for sale at $20 each.

Miss Tafoya and Miss Maximiliana Montoya, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Guadalupe Lopez, drove to Raton from Johnson Mesa last week and were married. They returned in time for a fine dinner at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Montoya, where a large company awaited them. Dancing was the chief amusement during the afternoon and evening.

Justice of the Peace Booth, of Raton, is the owner of a valuable blanket or poncho, with a history, which he has loaned to the Ladies' Auxiliary to the New Mexico Commission of the World's Fair to exhibit at St. Louis. The blanket is a rare specimen and belonged to the famous Mexican general, Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna, who, for over thirty years, was the central figure in Mexican history. Justice Booth bought the blanket from General Santa Anna in 1853, in Acapulco, Mexico, shortly after the general's return from exile to again assume the presidency with dictatorial powers.

Mayor C. M. Baine and the members of the old board of aldermen met for the last time last week. Mayor-elect John Orin and the new aldermen later took their places. The bonds of the clerk and the treasurer were filed and accepted. Only one appointment was made, that of Thomas O'Connor for night marshal. The mayor nominated bons" in those dangerous days are among the living; like the clumsy and forgotten coaches they drove, they have themselves been mouldering into dust these many years.

THE SANTA FE TRAIL.

"Now the tourist or business man travels in palatial cars and there is little to remind him of the dangers and desolation when the old trail was the arena of constant bloody struggles between the wild nomads of the desert and the hardy white pioneers, men who fought, trapped and hunted for a living, gambled, drank whisky and lifted scalp as a pastime. Their eventful lives made civilization of the great southwest possible. Their daring compelled its development, which has resulted in the formation of great states and large cities.

"New Mexico at the present time has upwards of 3,000 miles of railway in operation, with several hundred miles under construction. Its main lines and branches tap the most fertile and populous districts, and are doing much for the upbuilding of the future Sunshine state and are justly sharing in the general prosperity of the Territory.

"The history of mining in New Mexico began simultaneously with the settlement of the country by the Spaniards in 1541 and many million dollars' worth of gold and silver had been taken out of the old Ortiz mine near Santa Fe, and the equally famous mines of the Taos mountains, near the Indian pueblo of that name, a century before the yellow nuggets caused the rush to the gold fields of California. A large percentage of the known mineral bearing area of the Territory has been but indifferently prospected—very much not at all, though the output of gold, silver and copper for some years has been very large.

"New Mexico's adaptability to sheep raising and wool growing was recognized by the Spaniards 300 years ago, and they introduced large numbers of merino sheep, which soon became the principal support of the people. Today sheep raising is the most important and profitable industry in the Territory, which nature has so lavishly supplied with everything requisite for its pursuit. Her peerless climate, overflowing with sunshine all the year. Her mountains, plains, and mesas covered with nutritious grasses, which cure where they grow, without assistance from mankind, with none of the rigorous weather often so fatal to live stock further north. These advantages with the fact that the expense of running sheep on the range is about 50 cents per animal each year, while the receipts are $2 or more, make it a very enticing proposition to the man who understands the business.

Goats and Cattle.

"New Mexico holds first place as owner of more Angora goats than any other state or Territory in the Union, and more than a million cattle roam her plains.

"Agriculture was long since acknowledged to be 'the mother of all wealth,' but in this country 'water,' not land, is the basis of values. With the assistance that the national government is rendering in the establishment of storage reservoirs, 10,000,000 acres, it is estimated, of rich but now unproductive land will be brought under irrigation and cultivation.

"During the first two weeks of March of this year, more than 10,000 home-seekers passed through Chicago to the less crowded country of the southwest. Women and children going out to join relatives who have 'blazed the way' make up a large part of the crowds, though young men from the majority of the army.

"New Mexico's present prosperity is well earned. Her citizens are progressive. Her schools are good as the best. Her towns are growing like weeds. Railroads are being built into every corner of the Territory, and she has a climate unsurpassed all the year round in which it is a joy to live."

Marlin 16-Gauge Shotgun

This is the smallest and lightest weight (about 6 1-2 pounds) repeating gun ever manufactured, and opens up many new possibilities to the up-to-date sportsman. It is not a 16 barrel on a 12 action, but a new, well-balanced, properly proportioned gun that, with modern smokeless powders, enables a shooter to use a powerful load in a small shell and reduce, materially, the weight of shells and gun to be carried. The small, light gun handles fast, results in close holding and increased accuracy. Full description in new Marlin Catalog No. A542, just out. Send three stamps for postage to THE MARLIN FIREARMS CO., NEW HAVEN, CONN.

LAS VEGAS ITEMS.

Improbable Story of Shooting of Sixteen Horses at Los Alamos—Manager of the Castaneda Resigns.

An improbable story is told by a resident of Los Alamos to the effect that 16 horses were taken from a fenced field, driven through the property of the Placita Ranch Company to a remote district, where they were shot down one after the other. The motive assigned for the deed was spite against the owner of the horses. The act is such a diabolical one that it can hardly be credited.

J. A. Gilles for the past eighteen months the manager of the Castaneda Hotel, has resigned his post to accept a position in Chicago. His successor in Las Vegas has not yet been appointed.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilles will leave at once for their future home in the Windy City. Aniceto Crespin died on Wednesday at his home in Hot Springs, from an attack of rheumatism. He was 90 years of age.

The Odd Fellow's anniversary was celebrated in Las Vegas by the local lodge and the Rebekahs on Tuesday. A program consisting of music, recitations and addresses was rendered and refreshments were served.

Mrs. E. N. Davis and Miss Dora Hall who have been visiting Mrs. Kate Hall of Santa Fe for some time, passed through Las Vegas on Wednesday on their way to Brooklyn, New York.

The regular westbound train on the Santa Fe passed through Las Vegas in two sections on Thursday and several specials also passed during the day. Today seven Pennsylvania specials are scheduled to pass.

Manuel Montoya of La Lliendre died on Wednesday at the age of 70 years from stomach trouble.

Buell as clerks and Messrs Cisneros and Rafael Gallegos as interpreters. The morning session on Wednesday morning was devoted to the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, the appointing of committees and the reports from the commissioner to the general assembly at Los Angeles.
