MESCALERO APACHES

Younger Men and Women Becoming Civilized—Old People Averse to Progress.

GOOD SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Indian Labor Utilized When and Where Possible—Peaceable and Tractable—Steady Advancement.

Dr. R. L. McNeil, physician at the Mescalero Apache Indian Agency in Lincoln County, who brought four Mescalero boys to the U. S. Industrial Indian School in this city, was seen by a representative of the New Mexican yesterday and asked as to the condition of affairs at the Mescalero agency.

"Affairs there," he said, "are in a very satisfactory condition. Superintendent Henry C. Carroll has eyes for everything and in every direction. He is very painstaking, energetic and efficient and fully alive to the best interests of the government as well as of the Indians under his charge. By day and by night he is at work; he is scrupulously careful in the guarding of the interests of the government and in doing everything possible for the advancement and progress of the Indians.

Evidences of Advancement.
"There are now about 450 of these Indians; their number has been stationary of late years and there has been no perceptible increase. There are 112 male adults, above the age of eighteen years and about 160 females above that age. The remainder are persons of both sexes under eighteen years. There are 112 of school age, that is between the years of six and sixteen at the agency school. They are of both sexes. There are also a few not of school age and above eighteen years attending the school. At school they are docile, quiet, orderly and tractable. The progress they make is as good as can be expected considering the circumstances. Some of the boys are quite ambitious and the four I brought here yesterday requested to be sent to the Industrial Indian School that they might learn more and do better than they could at the agency. The older members of the tribe are very slow to adapt civilization and prefer to live in tepees, although good log houses have been provided for their comfort. The younger members are becoming civilized and the men and women of this class have adopted civilized dress and customs. A case in point is the one of Henry Trias, who will next month marry Miss Vera Shelta. The young fellow has been working hard for several years to get money enough to marry and the girl, who is now at school, has sent for her wedding outfit to St. Louis. Trias and bride have agreed to live in a cottage erected for them and will live in American style.

Doing Well Materially.
"There are between 800 and 1,000 acres of land under irrigation and nearly all of this is cultivated. This is located on the south fork of the Tularosa River. There are also several hundred acres upon which crops can be raised without irrigation and these are planted in oats. A number of Indians have gone into the sheep and goat raising business. Several of them own flocks of several thousand head of sheep and goats. Andy Little, who is of Mexican parentage, but who was captured by the Apaches when a baby and brought up by them and married an Indian woman, owns about 2,500 of these animals and is the wealthiest of the tribe. He sold 8,000 pounds of wool this spring at thirteen cents per pound. Cattle and sheep have not done well this last winter and this spring because of the long-prevailing drouth. We have had no rain of any consequence since July of last year and very little snow fall in the mountains on the reservation. Unless we get a good deal of rain promptly there will be great losses among the cattle and sheep of this section, although not so much among the animals owned by the Indians, as there is still plenty of pasture on the reservation and as in the higher mountains there is considerable water. Portions of the reservation, as the Elk Springs and Three Rivers sections, have been leased to stockmen and Indians derive an income of several thousand dollars annually from these leases.

New Buildings.
"Superintendent Carroll is now engaged in erecting new and modern buildings for administration offices for shops, for quarters for the employees and also to be used as school buildings. Several of these have been completed and others are in course of construction. It is planned to build several modern two story houses supplied with all modern improvements for school and administrators' use. Some of these will be of brick and some of frame. The brick have been made and burnt by Indian labor and are on the ground ready for use. A

ANNUAL REUNION OF OLD SOLDIERS

Ninety Veterans of the Texas-Mexican War Are in Convention at Fort Worth.

Fort Worth, Texas, May 25—Ninety of the Texas-Mexican war veterans met yesterday here in annual reunion. President George P. Findly of Austin presided. Two sessions were occupied with an address of welcome, music and other features provided by the local committee and very little was said or done by the veterans. They will hold their business session today.

BUILDING OF THE LONE STAR STATE

Will Be Opened at the Exposition Tomorrow—Many Texans Will Be in Attendance.

St. Louis, May 25—The star shaped Texas building at the World's Fair will be opened tomorrow and delegates from all over Texas are expected in the city. Governor Lanham will be among the speakers of the occasion.

saw mill which furnishes all the lumber necessary for the use of the agency is in operation and outside of one or two skilled mechanics and sawyers, the labor of running it is furnished by the Indians.

"The freighting from the railroad depot at Tularosa to the agency is also done by Indians with teams and wagons owned by them. They receive pay from the United States for all such services.

"Rations are no longer issued, except to a few old, helpless and indigent men and women. As a rule the able bodied men and women are required to support themselves and some of them do it in very good style. Nearly all the grain and hay needed at the agency are raised by the Indians and sold to the government; large amounts of vegetables are also produced on the lands cultivated by the Indians. They are very peaceable and but little trouble occurs. The police force consists of but three men, a lieutenant and two privates, which shows well when it is considered that there are about 450 Indians, men and women, on the reservation and that the latter is quite extensive. A steam laundry has just been completed and is being managed by Indians under the supervision of a skilled laundress employed by the Indian office. There are about 30 employees at the agency and with their families they constitute between 50 and 60 persons.

"The old school buildings which have been used for many years will be torn down this summer and new ones will be erected. Superintendent Carroll hopes to have the greatest portion of them ready for use by this winter. A two story dormitory to be constructed of frame will be among them.

Failing Physically.
"The health of the Indians is not as good as could be wished. They have intermarried for so many years that their physique has been weakened, and tuberculosis has appeared among them. They cannot resist this disease to any extent and succumb to it rapidly.

"I am glad to say that the material and intellectual condition of the younger Indians is constantly improving and could there be some new blood infused, that is could the young Mescalero Indian men intermarry with girls from other Indian tribes and the Mescalero girls with young men from other tribes, it would be very well all around. This, however, is a deep problem and has already been brought to the attention of the Indian office.

"Captain de Bremond of Roswell, is running sheep in the Three Rivers section, which he has leased and the Angus V. V. Cattle Company of Lincoln County has cattle in the Elk Springs country. The Indians have the right to hunt and camp on these sections, but no clashes between the cowboys, the sheep men and the Indians have occurred or are likely to take place. Everything is quite peaceful and orderly.

Dr. McNeil is a native of Tennessee, a young man and a graduate of Columbia University at Washington, D. C. He has been on duty at the agency about ten months. He likes his work very much. He speaks in the highest terms of Superintendent Henry C. Carroll. The employees he considers as very efficient and performing their duties well. Several of them have been at the agency for many years, especially Captain Miller who has been employed there for 23 years. There are no squatters upon the reservation and there is no trouble between the Indians and the surrounding white settlers. J. W. Prude is the Indian trader at the agency and has quite a large mercantile establishment. Elmer E. Blaizer, son of Dr. John H. Blaizer now dead and who was one of the original settlers on the South Fork, before the establishment of the agency, coming in 1863, has a large Indian trading store on the South Fork of the Tularosa River. These two stores seem to supply well the necessities of the Indians.

HEAVY FIGHTING ALL ALONG THE LINE

Reports Are Conflicting But Events on the Liao Tung Peninsula Are Evidently Nearing a Crisis--Russian Vandals Desecrate Korean Tombs.

Che Foo, May 25—A portion of the Japanese fleet bombarded Port Arthur at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The attack was witnessed by a Frenchman, who left Dally on the night of the 22d, arriving here tonight. He said that eight large warships circled about the entrance of the harbor at Port Arthur for one hour, firing broadsides at intervals of ten minutes. Up to the time the Frenchman left Dally, everything was quiet there, but an attack on the part of the Japanese was expected hourly. The military and civil authorities at Dally were ready to leave. Only a few civilians remain there. An attempt was made a fortnight ago to destroy the docks and piers at Dally but it was not successful, and after the receipt of the news of the loss of the Japanese battleship Hatsuho, Lieutenant General Stoessel, commander of the military forces at Port Arthur, ordered that the docks and piers be not destroyed. The Japanese are in force at Pitsewo and Kin Chau, and are ready to march down either side of the peninsula towards Port Arthur. The German steamer Che Foo was fired on by a Japanese cruiser in Pechili Gulf today. She misunderstood the signals of the cruiser. The Swedish steamer Karin was also fired on during last night while off the Liao Tio Shan promontory, but it is not known whence this fire came.

Battle Near Port Arthur.
Chicago, May 25—A special to the Daily News from Che Foo says: "While cruising in Society Bay this morning the Fawan ran across a Japanese fleet of four cruisers and four torpedo boat destroyers. The vessels were evidently assisting some landing party. From the Chinese junks in the bay it was learned that heavy fighting is in progress on the shore in the neighborhood of Port Arthur.

Russians Burned Sacred Shrines of the Koreans.

Seoul, May 25—A telegram has been received here from Gensan on the east coast of Korea, saying that the Russians, after an engagement with the Korean troops at Ham Heung on May 19 burned the shrines and royal mansions which were erected by the founder of the present Korean dynasty in 1264, and which were regarded by the Koreans as sacred. This apparent wanton desecration of tombs in a land imbued with the spirit of ancestor worship has caused an excited denunciation of the Russians on the part of the Seoul officials. The Cossacks who are believed to be at Kyong Song, according to Korean reports, have about 20 guns with them. If this is true, this artillery is probably composed of trans-Balkal horse batteries.

Attempt to Catch Cossacks.

Seoul, May 25—Colonel Kioshita's column arrived at Nung Yeng on May 17th and found the Russians divided, one party going north and the other east. The latter attacked Ham Heung. It is impossible for the Japanese infantry to overtake the mobile Cossacks, so the column returned to Anju on May 23. The main commissariat base of the Japanese, which had been located at Chemulpo since the outbreak of the war has been transferred to Seoul.

Bloody Battle Reported.

Mukden, May 25—According to the latest information obtainable, the Japanese have resumed their forward movement. Several columns are advancing, though the bulk of the invading army is still near Feng Wang Cheng. There are insistent reports of a bloody battle having taken place between the Japanese advancing along the railroad from Pulantien and the Russians near Ki Chou, on the Liao Tung peninsula, resulting in the defeat of the Japanese with great loss. Small parties of Japanese scouts have been seen northeast of Mukden, at considerable distance, but no important body of the enemy has been located in this vicinity.

Heavy Fighting on Liao Tung Peninsula.

Liao Yang, May 25—There are further rumors of heavy fighting at the advanced positions of General Flock's forces on the Liao Tung peninsula, but the correspondent of the Associated Press has been unable officially to confirm the report.

Communication Between Japanese Armies Interrupted.

Paris, May 25—A dispatch to the Temps from St. Petersburg says that General Kuroki has cut the land communication between the armies of Generals Kuroki and Oku.

Telegraphic Communication Cut Off.
St. Petersburg, May 25—Telegraphic communication with New Chwang is interrupted and private messages for points south of Liao Yang are refused here at the telegraph offices. The nature of the interruption with New Chwang is not known, but the cause for refusing messages south of Liao Yang is the complete absorption of the lines for military purposes.

6,000 Japanese Effect a Landing at Takushan.

Che Foo, May 25—Chinese junks arriving from Takushan, a port lying southwest of Antung, report the landing of 6,000 Japanese troops at Takushan on the 21st instant. Another junk from Pitsewo reports that Japanese are landing a small number of troops every day and building temporary barracks on Elliot Island, where hundreds of ships, including men of war, and transports, have made rendezvous. Only small skirmishes are reported along the western shore of Liao Tung peninsula up to the 22nd inst. Heavy firing was heard in the direction of Port Arthur yesterday indicating that a land attack had commenced as the Japanese fleet is not to be seen off Port Arthur.

General Kuroki Preparing for Action.

St. Petersburg, May 25—There are indications that General Kuroki is preparing to make an important move against the enemy. One reason for this belief is the sudden increase in the restrictions of war correspondents at the front. The prevailing belief here is that General Kuroki's army is in difficulties.

All Quiet at New Chwang.

New Chwang, May 25—A fair force is now patrolling the city with a field battery at the forts. It is unusually quiet here with no exciting rumors of any nature. An efficient staff of native runners are unable to obtain any inkling of the Japanese movements and the Russians positively refuse to discuss their plans, since it is evident that Mukden is apt to change them at any moment. Commercial activity has been renewed in this section of the peninsula and land travel proceeds unhampered by any restrictions.

Fourteen Russian Vessels Ready for Service.

Vienna, May 25—Intelligence has been received from St. Petersburg that fourteen vessels of the Black Sea fleet are being mobilized and placed in readiness for service.

Officers and Men Drowned on the Yoshino.

Tokio, May 25—Of the complement of the protected cruiser Yoshino, sunk recently in a collision with the cruise Kasuga, 63 non-commissioned officers and 200 blue jackets were drowned and 48 non-commissioned officers and men rescued. No details of the disaster have yet been received. The navy department is waiting details of the loss of the battleship Hatsuho destroyed by coming in contact with a mine.

Russians Interested in Protests Against Mines.

St. Petersburg, May 25—The British and American press reports of possible protests against having mines in the waters of the Liao Tung peninsula because of the danger to international commerce, evoke much interest here and are subjects of general remarks that there was no protest when Russian ships were being blown up, it only beginning after Japanese ships had met with disaster.

Agitators Among Chinese.

Harbin, May 25—Missionaries report a movement among the Chinese north of Shan Tung which resembles the agitation which preceded the Boxer uprising.

DEMAND EXTRADITION OF FUGITIVES

Four Chinese Gunboats and Torpedo Boat Destroyers Have Arrived at Macao.

Hong Kong, May 25—Four Chinese gunboats and two torpedo boat destroyers have arrived at Macao, a Portuguese settlement in Kwang Tung province, to support the demand of Viceroy Canton for the extradition of fugitives from Chinese justice. The government of the Portuguese settlement is preparing to resist a landing by the Chinese.

MARGARITO ROMERO VINDICATED

A Jury Finds Him Not Guilty of the Charge of Illegally Cutting Timber on Pecos River Reserve.

In the case of the United States vs. Margarito Romero in United States Court at Las Vegas, a sealed verdict was brought in on Saturday evening of last week and announced on Monday morning. The verdict was "not guilty" of the charge of illegally cutting timber on the Pecos River Forest Reserve. This was the second time that the case was tried, the first time the jury having stood ten to two for acquittal. Witnesses in the case from Santa Fe were I. B. Hanna, superintendent of the Pecos River Forest Reserve; Major Fred Muller, receiver of the federal land office, and Norman L. King of the surveyor general's office. Others who testified on behalf of the government were Matthew G. Reynolds of St. Louis, United States attorney of the Court of Private Land Claims, and R. C. McClure of Silver City, supervisor of the Gila Reserve. One of these witnesses deemed the evidence presented on behalf of the government to have been so conclusive that he remarked upon his return to Santa Fe that Mr. Romero had been found guilty. The New Mexican took the report to be authoritative and to its regret published it. The many friends of Mr. Romero in Santa Fe are glad that he has been vindicated for the charge against him was based at its best upon technical grounds that arose over several conflicting surveys of the eastern boundary of the Pecos River Reserve.

DEMOCRATS MUST UNITE.

So Says R. I. Starr, Temporary Chairman of the Columbus Convention in Opening Address.

Columbus, May 25—Previous to assembling in the Democratic state convention today the conservatives had won in a preliminary meeting. All the 208 contested seats were given to the conservatives. The radicals insisted that they would present minority reports and if defeated in the convention today would carry the contests to St. Louis. R. I. Starr is temporary chairman of the convention. In his address he made it plain that the Democratic party needed the support of all factions in order to win.

The platform is brief and directs the Ohio delegation "to cast its entire 46 votes in the national convention, as the majority of those present and voting, shall decide when the majority shall determine that course to be advisable."

INVITATION TO MINERS.

Asked to Become Part of American Federation of Labor By Fifth Vice President Cornelius.

Denver, Colo., May 25—At the convention of the Western Federation of Miners today an invitation was extended to that body to become a part of the American Federation of Labor by President W. D. Mahon of the Street Railway Employees' Union, R. Cornelius of the Fireman's Union of San Francisco, and Max Morris, the fifth vice president of the American Federation of Labor. Cornelius in an extended speech said he believed in organizing politically as well as industrially and Morris stated that the American Federation of Labor would act politically in Colorado this fall to defeat what he termed "Peabodyism." No action was taken on the invitation.

YAZOO CITY ON FIRE.

One Life Lost and Two Million Dollars Worth of Property Destroyed.

Jackson, Miss., May 25—A telephone message just received here from Yazoo City, Mississippi, says that a fire started at 9 this morning and was not under control at 2 o'clock. Chamberlain White was killed and Mayor Holmes badly injured while fighting the flames. It is thought that the loss will reach two millions. The fire destroyed everything from the river for a distance of twelve blocks and three blocks wide. All banks, business houses, newspaper offices, postoffice, courthouse, city hall and other buildings were destroyed.

FUTURE OF HILLSBORO

Governor Otero Greatly Pleased With the Reception Given Him in Sierra County.

GREAT MINERAL RICHES

The New Camp of Quartzite--The Drouth Threatens Losses to Cattle and Sheep Men.

"I never have met a more hospitable or nicer class of people than I did at Hillsboro," said Governor Otero this morning, speaking of his recent trip to Sierra County with Territorial Secretary J. W. Reynolds, and Judge F. W. Parker. "We were given a royal reception in the pretty little mining town.

"While things are rather quiet at Hillsboro, yet there is undoubtedly a great future for that part of New Mexico. The mineral deposits are vast and all that is needed is capital and the extension of the railroad from Lake Valley to Hillsboro and beyond, to create one of the best mining districts in the United States. In such an event, Hillsboro would become quite a little city. As it is, its people are very sanguine about the future. The day I was in Hillsboro, a big deal was reported closed for the Trujillo Placers at the new camp of Pittsburg.

"We drove to the new camp of Quartzite on the Las Animas River, in the Black Range, about twenty-seven miles northwest of Hillsboro. The trip was made in an open spring wagon. All along the road we saw prospectors at work and I would not be astonished to hear of some big discoveries soon. At Quartzite about ten men are at work. There is a big dyke or blow out that carries the ore and if it assays as rich as it is claimed, it certainly is a wonderful discovery. We arrived in camp in the evening and left the following noon.

"It is exceedingly dry in Sierra County and the Las Animas River at Quartzite is without water, but there is a good spring convenient to the mining properties. Unless rain sets in soon, the cattlemen of Sierra County will be heavy losers. Cattle look thin and weak and sheep are suffering too. The grass is practically gone from the range. Goats, however, are thriving and look well and that industry is making wonderful progress in Sierra County."

Governor Otero was very much pleased with the reception given him in Chihuahua and was greatly impressed with the latent resources and possibilities of the country tributary to that town.

DISTRICT COURT.

A Suit in Equity Involving Water Rights in San Juan County Soon to Be Filed.

A suit in equity will soon be filed in the District Court for San Juan County to set aside a decree recently entered and to procure the readjudication of water rights under all of the irrigation ditches on the La Plata River in San Juan County, on the plea that the former adjudication does injustice to many of the ditch owners and that a number of the users of water were not represented in the former suit.

In the District Court for San Juan County, in the case of R. C. Master et al. vs. U. S. McGee et al., final judgment was today rendered for the plaintiff in the sum of $299.80, balance on promissory note.

The case of Foster Blacklock vs. the Echo Irrigation Ditch Company et al., in the same county, was dismissed for want of plea.

In the District Court for Rio Arriba County, Miguel Chaves has brought suit against Pablo Rivas on a note of $100 and interest.

DROUTH BROKEN.

Good Rains Around Jemez Hot Springs and in the Cebolla River Valley Have Benefited that Section.

Much rain and hail fell in the Cebolla River Valley and around the Jemez Hot Springs, Bernalillo County, during the latter part of the past week, breaking the drouth which has prevailed in that section during the past winter and spring. Fresh grass is already springing up and the whole country has a fresh appearance. The lambing season is now fairly on, but the percentage of lambs being saved is very small and some of the sheep owners have abandoned their lambs in order to save the ewes. This plan was adopted by a company who brought a flock of high bred sheep from Montana over the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad to Espanola from where they were driven to the Baca property. These sheep are exceptionally fine one animal averaging twelve pounds of wool to the clipping and being valued at $8.

HOW THEY LOOK ON MR. ROOSEVELT EAST AND WEST.

It has been announced from New York upon what is believed to be good authority that George B. Cortelyou, secretary of the department of commerce and labor, is to be chairman of the Republican national committee, and is to be the active head of the coming campaign. Among Republican newspapers, this selection has met with almost unanimous approval. Indeed with remarkably unanimity for such a grave and important subject. Even Democratic newspapers are decent in their criticisms of the selection. Vox populi-vox Dei, presents probably the best comment in the matter. It is interesting to quote from papers in different sections, especially if they are Republican in politics but secretly insincere in their friendship for the President or independent with Democratic tendencies. The Kansas City Star, a paper belonging to the latter class, in discussing an editorial in the New York Sun, which belonging in the former category, thinks that the President is not only a great executive but also a consummate and skillful politician. The Star quotes from the New York Sun:

"It seems to us that if the President's choice is Cortelyou, he has solved with admirable wisdom one of the most perplexing questions of his personal canvass for election to succeed himself. He has pitched upon an energetic and accomplished executive officer, a man of fine perceptions and strong common sense, a devoted partisan, a friend as true as steel; and, as for highly specialized political sagacity and resourcefulness—why, whatever may be Cortelyou's qualities or defects in that respect, he will have the constant advice and supervision of one who has fully demonstrated his right to be considered as one of the greatest living masters of political arts."

Adding for itself that this is intended as a compliment to Mr. Cortelyou and a slap at President Roosevelt, the Star says: "The Sun is in the habit of smoothing and cuffing the President by the same operation. It fancies itself artistically subtle, and sometimes it is, but more frequently it merely reveals its uncompromising devotion to the things that the President has opposed, its absolute subservience to the men who have tried to control the President, and have failed."

"Mr. Roosevelt is a much better politician than he promised to be—one of the best, in fact, that the country has produced in years. He is also a good deal stronger and more successful as President than was predicted by those who saw in him only a young man of Utopian ideas and impulsive action. In short, he was a much greater man than many supposed him to be, and he is a much greater man than when he assumed the responsibilities of the Presidency. He has grown to his honors."

"But as to the President's success as a politician, it may be traced to the same source from which comes his success as chief executive. Honesty is not only the best policy, but it is also the best politics. It is about time that political leaders learned this lesson once for all. Trickery may win here and there and for the passing moment, but it does not build up a formidable strength. Mr. Roosevelt has shown good judgment in purely political decisions, but his greatest success as a politician has been his honesty, his straightforwardness and his intelligence as an administrator."

Under the new constitution of the Republic of Mexico a vice president is provided for. This idea, the Mexicans took from the constitution of the United States. In some respects this is a commendable feature of their new constitution. In others it is not so good, as now there is a scrap among the prominent Mexicans to keep out of the vice presidential office. Still, upon the whole the benefits of having a vice president in a republic outweigh the points to be objected to. After all it has been demonstrated that republics could not very well get along without vice presidents, unless their constitution unequivocally provides for the line of succession to the presidency, should death of such an official occur.

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH WAITING TWO OR THREE YEARS?

Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia in a letter to Delegate Rodey entertains the belief that New Mexico could obtain single statehood within four or five years. That is not very long to wait. The Senator thinks that the name of New Mexico should be changed for the new state. He is not at all in favor of jointure with Arizona under the name of Arizona or any other. He might vote for the joint statehood bill, should it come up for action in the short session of the present Congress, if the people of New Mexico should urge him to do so. But reading between the lines of his letter addressed to Delegate Rodey, it is plain that the Senator, who is a warm, strong and uncompromising friend to New Mexico, is of the opinion that waiting four or five years for single statehood would be the best policy to pursue. The number of the citizens of this Territory who are of the same opinion is great and steadily increasing, in fact the New Mexican has received numerous letters within the past six months and has been personally told by many citizens in all stations in life and different vocations and from various sections of the Territory widely apart, that they would prefer waiting four or five years or even longer for single statehood than to obtain joint statehood with Arizona during the coming year. At a social gathering in a southern town a few days ago where there were numbers of good citizens present, the sentiment for single statehood was unanimous and less than one-tenth of these intimated that they would be willing to accept joint statehood if single statehood was impossible in the near future. This was in New Mexico. In Arizona the feeling in that direction is still stronger and is more emphatically and loudly expressed. It is believed by some of the joint statehood boomers that the rich mining corporations of the sister territory favor joint statehood and that the influence of the managers with the miners would bring about favorable results. It is also reported that several of the railroad companies running lines through New Mexico and Arizona favor joint statehood and would exercise their influence in that direction. The New Mexican does not believe that the influence from these directions would be strong enough to overcome the anti-joint statehood sentiment now existing in the two territories and which is not retrograding, but steadily increasing. It is a well known fact that neither mining corporations nor railroad companies can drive their employees or coerce them into voting as they want them to. Indeed, generally speaking such action by the managers on the employees has the opposite result and the men take pleasure in voting otherwise. A constitution prepared under the bill as now pending in Congress, should it become law, has, in the opinion of this paper, no chance for passage. What the voters would do, should a constitution under a law more generous and more acceptable in its provisions be submitted to them, it would be fruitless to discuss at this time. More of that when the occasion requires.

The sentiment of the citizens of Santa Fe is well nigh unanimous in favor of speedy action by the city board of education and for the prompt sale of such tracts of the Fort Marcy donation as have not been reserved for public school uses. It is not often that such unanimity in a matter of that sort is had. But as this condition exists here the board of education should make all possible haste. A disposition of the question in accordance with the overwhelming sentiment of the taxpayers and property owners and the heads of families, and indeed of about all the inhabitants of the Capital City, is what is required.

Among the members of the present city council there are some very estimable citizens to be sure. That is individually; collectively the expression now is quite often heard that they will not amount to much and will hold back in the matter of improving the city, keeping it clean, constructing sidewalks and street crossings and in other questions of public interest and of absolute necessity for the advancement and progress of the town. The New Mexican hopes that this expression, which is now being frequently heard will not prove true.

The prosperous little town of Edith which has been claimed by Colorado for the past 20 years as being in Archuleta County of that state has been officially declared to be in New Mexico and a part of Rio Arriba County. This official decision will add five or six hundred people and more taxable property to the latter county. It does not amount to much to be sure, but New Mexico can stand all such accessions. The people of Edith are very welcome as citizens of this Territory.

Captain Richard Pearson Hobson, retired U. S. navy, thinks that the Japanese naval commanders are making a mistake in bottling up Port Arthur. Strange to say, the Japanese admiral is keeping on in his course. Probably he never heard of the great Hobson.

The St. Louis Democratic convention promises to be a very interesting affair. Mr. Bryan announces that he has a surprise to spring there and his surprises are generally sensational.

The reorganizers are already making a great hurrah about Judge Alton Brooks Parker and are beginning to call him the greatest living Democrat. How these apples swim!

A Strong Man

Is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from indigestion or some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man doesn't feel just right, when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous and irritable, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man needs to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, stimulates the liver, nourishes the nerves, and so gives health and strength to the whole body.

Mr. Thomas A. Swartz, of Sub. Station C, Columbus, Ohio, Box 103, writes: "I was taken very sick with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. The more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I had given up to die. Then one of my neighbors said, 'Take my advice and take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me and after I had taken eight bottles in about six weeks I was weighed and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds, and I am as stout and healthy today, I think, as I ever was."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

Wonders will never cease. From the Buck Eye state comes the report that an official there intends to resign because he thinks that he is not sufficiently well educated for the position he holds. It is to be hoped that officials in New Mexico will not get such an idea. Should they do so and resign, what a lot of vacancies there would be! There would be one consolation, applications to fill these vacancies would be numerous.

What is the matter with George B. Cortelyou for chairman of the Republican national committee? He's all right.

MISS MONIE BOWEY,

No. 38 Perry Street,

DETROIT, MICHIGAN.

A couple of winters ago I slipped on a frozen sidewalk and fell flat on my back. On being examined I found that I had sustained internal injuries which laid me up for more than two months. After that I noticed that I had pains in the back and groin which I never had before. I doctored and doctored for several months but as the pains increased instead of growing better I decided that I was not having the right treatment. Reading in the papers of the wonderful cures performed by Wine of Cardui I wrote to one of the parties and received a very satisfactory reply and I immediately sent for some. In a very short time I felt generally better and after seven weeks faithful use I was once more well and strong. I have never had a sick hour since and I daily bless your splendid medicine.

Miss Monie Bowey.

Wine of Cardui makes women more womanly by curing their weakness and making them stronger. Wine of Cardui cured Miss Bowey. As a medicine for all women in every trying period of their lives can you think of a better medicine for yourself, your sister, your daughter or your mother? Can you think of a more acceptable present to give your friend than a bottle of this medicine which will bring her health and happiness? You are suffering? Your duty is to rid yourself of this pain. If your daughter, mother, sister or friend is sick and in need of relief, your duty is equally great to them. Many women, now well, owe their lives to friends who brought them Wine of Cardui.

Wine of Cardui is adapted to women at any age in any walk of life. For the working woman it gives her strength for her tasks and better treatment than a doctor for very small cost.

Your druggist will sell you a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui. Secure the medicine today. Take it in the privacy of your home. Relief will come to you as surely as you take it.

WINE of CARDUI

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

THE WHITE OAKS DISTRICT

Four Gold Mines That Have Produced Almost $2,000,000 Worth of Precious Metal.

A FAMOUS CAMP

The Geologic Formation Offers Some Peculiarities That Have Aroused Considerable Attention.

The Engineering and Mining Journal of this week prints interesting notes on a trip to White Oaks by E. Percy Smith and Leon Dominon, from which the New Mexican culls the following:

The mining camp of White Oaks in the northwest of Lincoln County, is reached from Socorro by a road passing through San Antonio on the Atchison Railroad. This town owes its importance to the fact of being the shipping point for the coal mined in the surrounding region. From San Antonio the road continues east over sandy hills up to the line of low mountains separating the plains of the Jornada del Muerto from the Rio Grande Valley; it was somewhat further south that the early conquistadores hauled to Mexico City the output of the rich gold mines situated in what is now Santa Fe County; and the danger attending these expeditions was implied in the significant appellation of the Journey of Death, which the plain still bears. The precipitous western scarp of the Oscura Mountains is then passed and the northeastern prolongation of the chain is crossed. Beyond lie the "barren plains," large tracts of which are covered by basaltic flows of recent geological age. The whole cross country trip from Socorro requires two full days on horseback.

White Oaks is situated twelve miles from Carrizozo station, on the El Paso & Northeastern branch of the Rock Island system. The town lies in a small valley surrounded by low mountains forming a distinct group which is north of the lofty White Mountains, and rises above the barren plains, from which it is separated by a narrow canon. Through this canon the main road extends.

From White Oaks, roads radiate to neighboring localities; among which the coal field of Capitán, about 20 miles southeast; Lincoln, the county seat, 28 miles in the same direction; Nogal, a gold and copper camp, 18 miles south; Jicarilla, to the north, and the coal lands of Patos Peak to the east, are noteworthy. In common with many New Mexican mining centers, the entire region appears to have been known to prospectors and miners two centuries ago, at which time it is said that the Spaniards worked on the Jicarilla placers.

Since the completion of the El Paso & Northeastern line, about two years ago, the district has acquired better transportation facilities, and although this is not of much avail at present, owing to the small amount of work done, it is expected that further mining activity will be stimulated by these improved conditions. Supplies are now hauled from Carrizozo, although fully four miles of haulage could easily be saved by having a freight station at the point where the old stage line to Socorro crosses the rails.

Although the camp has not yet suffered from lack of water, it is a question whether an adequate supply could be derived from the immediate vicinity, should extensive mining operations be undertaken. As it is, the town supply is obtained from wells sunk to a depth of 65 feet. The water is slightly alkaline, differing in this respect from that of the White Mountains, where the accumulation of snow affords a perennial supply of good water. The importance of the water question in this portion of New Mexico cannot be overestimated. The scantiness and the poor quality of the fluid so far obtained is a serious drawback to development, but there seems to be no reason why good water should not be struck at a depth much in excess of that which has been attained up to the present time. It is owing to the limited means of the inhabitants of the region rather than to lack of a spirit of enterprise that attempts to bore deeper wells have not been undertaken.

The lowest series of strata exposed consist of calcareous shales, pierced here and there by dikes of augite-porphyr. These are overlaid by sandstones, the greater portion of which has been eroded, it being found only on the tops of the surrounding hills.

The only fossils found were collected at a point one mile due east of the camp, in a gulch through which runs the Jicarilla road. The fossiliferous beds consist of sandstones that may be correlated with those further west, and the specimens were referred to Cretaceous types.

West of the camp and at a short distance from the mines, successive lava flows of different character bespeak the activity of eruptive agencies in the locality. The shales are typical of alteration within the proximity of the dikes. In the latter phases the color changes to a light greenish gray with the effect that the rock on first examination was thought to be a distinct formation. Immediately at the contacts these sedimentaries exhibit more marked alteration, being highly silicified and milky white. The augite porphyry can be described as

ECZEMA KEPT SPREADING.

Six years ago my wife had a breaking-out below her knees. At first red bumps appeared, but soon white, husky sores came, and when these would shed off the place became red again, and would itch and burn so that she found it impossible to sleep. At times a yellow water ran from the bumps, and it kept getting worse and worse. Our family physician pronounced it Eczema, and prescribed ointments and powders, but it kept spreading, breaking out on her body and arms, and almost closed up her ears. The druggist at Garner told me to try S. S. S., which she did, and after taking several bottles was cured, and is well to-day and has been for years.

W. A. HOUGHT.

The humors and poisons that produce the itching eruption, roughness and redness of the skin, must be rooted out before there is complete relief from the terrors of Eczema. Nothing applied externally does any permanent good, for whenever the blood is overheated, or the skin is reacting during Spring and Summer, the disease breaks out again. You can't rely upon washes, soaps and salves, or such things as are applied to the surface, for they do not reach the seat of the trouble, which is internal and deeply implanted in the system; the blood is aflame with the itching, burning humors, which are carried by the circulation to the surface and are being constantly forced out through the glands and pores of the skin, and you can never heal the sores or stop the aggravating eruptions with external applications.

To neutralize the acids in the blood and expel the humors and poisons is the only way to get permanently rid of this torturing skin trouble, and no remedy known does this so quickly and thoroughly as S. S. S. It purifies the blood and restores it to health, and the outbreak of the poison through the skin ceases, and the sores and eruption gradually disappear. S. S. S. builds up the thin acid blood, makes it rich and strong, and restores to it all the elements of nutrition, and drives from the circulation all impurities; and under the tonic effect of S. S. S. the general system is invigorated and toned up, and you not only get rid of your old skin trouble, but the health is benefited in every way. S. S. S. being a strictly vegetable medicine, acts gently, leaving no bad after-effects, as do Arsenic, Potash and other minerals which are usually prescribed in skin diseases.

Eczema cannot be cured by anything applied to the surface of the body; the blood must be purified and the cause removed, and in no other way can this deep-seated skin disease be reached. If you have Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Nettle Rash, or any form of Eczema, you will find S. S. S. does its work well and thoroughly, and relieves the itching and burning, soreness and pain, and soon produces a lasting cure. Write us, and medical advice or any special information desired about this King of Skin Terrors will be given without charge.

GOLD IN THE BLACK HILLS.

The Burlington Route has recently issued a 48-page booklet bearing the title "Mines and Mining in the Black Hills."

The book is one which should be read by every mining man in Colorado. It gives more information about the mines of the Black Hills than has ever before been placed between two covers. A copy will be mailed free on application to the undersigned.
The Black Hills need Colorado men and money. Several of the shrewdest men in this state have already invested heavily in the Hills. The results so far have been more than satisfactory. The completion of the Burlington's new line to the Northwest brings the Black Hills within a night's ride of Denver. You can leave Denver tonight and be in Deadwood or Lead City tomorrow afternoon.

In the fresh phase, the rock has a grayish purple color and a porphyritic texture. The ground-mass is cryptocrystalline, and encloses abundant phenocrysts of augite, varying in size from specimens hardly perceptible to the naked eye to crystals 1.5 inches long and 0.5 inches wide. Lath-shaped plagioclases could be detected. Biotite is common and a little quartz is present. In many places the rock has been excessively decomposed, and is then softer, of a dirty greenish white color, most of the dark minerals having disappeared. An interesting fact consists in the alteration, in situ, of the large augite crystals to hornblende. It is no unusual occurrence to find, in the altered mass, the outlines of the augite crystals; and when these are of the larger dimensions cited above, numberless minute, acicular crystals of actinolite ostensibly occupy the place of the original augites.

The veins occur in the augite-porphyrized and contain gold bearing pyrite. In the zone of oxidation, the chief product of the decomposition of the pyrite is a black botryoidal hematite, which can be seen disseminated throughout the altered dike-rock at the mouth of the Old Abe shaft.

An interesting, and probably unique, instance of the occurrence of native gold in gypsum is found in the Old Abe mine. The hydrous calcium sulphate occurs at the contact of the shales and the augite porphyrite, and has probably been deposited from waters previously surcharged with sulphuric acid, passing through the shales and through the igneous rock. A specimen showed fine wires of gold in a slab of gypsum. It appears that at the time of the discovery of this small deposit, a specimen was sent to the Smithsonian Institute, in acknowledging the receipt of which the exceeding rarity of the occurrence was asserted.

The mines are situated about a mile northwest of the town of White Oaks, on either side of a ravine running northeast and southwest, with Baxter hill on the west. It was in this ravine that gold was first discovered in 1877. The placers, especially those just below the present site of the Old Abe mill, were very rich. The veins from which the gold had come were discovered two years later. Two placer miners named Wilson, while eating lunch, noticed some quartz carrying free gold, and located the North and South Homestake claims. The Old Abe and a number of claims on the line of the Homestake vein were soon afterward staked out, and then followed an excitement during which the whole country was taken up. When the time came for actual mining and milling, the machinery and supplies had to be freighted from San Antonio on the Santa Fe, a distance of over 80 miles, at a cost of 60 cents per 100 pounds. Notwithstanding these difficulties, the mines have been developed to a considerable depth, and the district has become one of the most important in the Territory.

The following table will give some idea of this development and production:

Mine	Depth	Production
Old Abe.....	1,400 ft.	$860,000
S. Homestake....	600 "	$600,000
N. Homestake....	1,050 "	400,000
Little Mac.....	50,000
Rita.....	900 ft. (inclined).....

1 Data lacking.
The most important mine in the camp is the Old Abe. The old vertical shaft 800 feet deep, caved in 1886. Shortly afterward, the present working shaft was sunk to a depth of 200 feet. Then followed a period of inactivity; until in July, 1897, the work of sinking to 1,300 feet was begun, connections being made at intervals of 50 feet with the old workings. The vein, dipping almost vertically, has an average thickness of from 4 to 18 inches; but at many points it shows great enlargement. One stop, known as the "fishpond," between the 700 foot and 800 foot levels, had a width of over 20 feet and produced some very rich ore. There are a number of other stopes in the upper levels near the shaft which are from 10 to 15 feet wide. From the position of the stopes a main chimney or pipe of ore is readily traceable, starting from the surface on the south side of the shaft and passing to the north side at about the 950 foot level. Regarding the assay value of the ore, no definite data could be obtained, owing to the fact that no records were kept by the management; and it is probable that tests were confined to panning. In general it may be said that in the upper levels, at least, the ore was high grade. The stopes, with the exception of those near the surface, are all open. They are timbered with stulls when less than 8 feet wide; and, when wider, with square sets, all of which timber is native and obtained from Patos Peak. No attempt was made to fill with waste, because of the difficulty of sorting the ore underground and the absence of crosscuts.

The mine is peculiar in that no water, other than a little surface seepage, is encountered above the 1,300 foot level. Water was struck in a winze sunk below this level, but was of so small an amount that it was pumped to the 1,250 foot level, and allowed to soak into the walls from a sump at the northern end. The amount of development along the strike of the vein has not been over 500 feet to the north, and somewhat less than this to the south. Some of the wall rock is exceedingly hard, and machine drills have been employed.

There are five mills at White Oaks. Three of these aggregate 50 stamps; one is equipped with two five foot Huntington's, and one with two ball pulverizers. The last mentioned machines were unsuccessful, and the mill in which they were placed became idle soon after its completion.

A brief description of the Old Abe 20-stamp mill will give an idea of the practice followed. The ore is dumped on two four feet by eight feet grizzlies, set with 1.5 inch spaces. From the "overs" pieces of waste are removed on a sorting floor; and they then pass through a jaw crusher, set to crush to 1.5 inches to join the fines in bins above the stamps. The stamps weigh 950 pounds, have a 6 inch drop and a 6 inch discharge; they are run at 95 drops per minute, and crush through 40 mesh screens. After passing over the amalgamating plates, 5 feet by 10 feet, the pulp is treated on four Frue vanners, and the tailings pass on to five canvas tables, four being used constantly with one as an alternate. These tables are 6 feet by 75 feet, with a slope of 1.75 per foot. The tailings from the canvas tables are treated in a 50-ton cyanide plant consisting of six 25 foot vats, 6 feet high.

The town and the mines have their own coal supply, obtained from seams outcropping near Patos Peak. The haul is not more than two or three miles. Operations have been confined to two properties; one of these, a tract of 320 acres, owned by Wells and Parker; and another, of 160 acres, belonging to the Old Abe Company, have been developed to a depth, on the dip, of not over 400 feet. It is a steaming and coking coal the yield of the latter being about 60 per cent of its original weight.

There are, in the immediate vicinity of White Oaks, a few copper and iron prospects, but the camp has been, so far, essentially a gold producer.

A POSITIVE NECESSITY.

Having to lay upon my bed for 14 days from a severely bruised leg, I only found relief when I used a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. Growing Aches and Pains.

Mrs. Josie Sumner, Bremond, Texas, writes, April 15, 1902: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for three years. I would not be without it in my house. It is the best liniment I ever used." 25c, 50c, and $1.00. Fischer Drug Co.

A Startling Test.

To save a life, Dr. T. G. Merritt, of No. Mehoopany, Pa., made a startling test resulting in a wonderful cure. He writes, "I was attacked with violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitters excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first, and has not had an attack in 14 months." Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation and Kidney troubles. Try them. To cold draughts of air, to keen and cutting winds, sudden changes of temperature, scanty clothing, undue exposure of the throat and neck after public speaking and singing, bring on coughs and colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the best cure.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism.
"My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Husband, Pa. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried, in fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. THE QUESTION OF WATER RIGHTS

Certain Phases That Have Arisen
Within Recent Years Are to Be Passed Upon By U. S. Supreme Court.

A dispatch from Denver says that the question of the right of Colorado to use waters of rivers flowing through other states which is now pending before the United States Supreme Court is such that a similar question is likely to arise and cause trouble between Canada and the United States as well as Mexico and the United States. Such is the information received by Assistant Attorney General Hersey, in a letter to Attorney General Miller from Washington. Mr. Miller is in the capital looking after Colorado's interests in the famous water suit and recently addressed a letter to Mr. Hersey which among other things says:

"I learned that there is likelihood of some trouble arising between Canada and the United States and Mexico and the United States over this same water question."

Mr. Miller does not state from what source he secured his information but it is supposed that the question now at issue between Colorado and Kansas has caused the same question to arise in the minds of both Canada and the United States. There are a number of rivers having their head in the United States that either flow into Canada or that flow along the border line between the United States and Canada and United States and Mexico which might give rise to this same question. At the Colorado state house the idea was advanced that this feature of the case would redound to the benefit of Colorado. It was claimed that if the Supreme Court sustains the plea of Kansas in the case at bar then the United States could not object to the Dominion government making the same question an international one and using the local decision as a basis for its claims. Of course that there may be treaty provisions covering such a subject is admitted by those at the state house, but should this be the case it is claimed there would be no reason for the question now arising.

Mr. Miller in his letter states that the Supreme Court postponed the decision in the motion to dismiss of the several Colorado ditch companies until it had had an opportunity to hear all of the facts as well as the law and it will then decide all of the questions at once. Mr. Miller states that this indicates that the Supreme Court intends to make a searching inquiry into all of the phases of the question and he believed that the decision of the court will be such as to apply the law to new conditions in the arid states. These new conditions have arisen within the last few years and grow out of the congressional recognition of irrigation of arid lands by reason of the fact that Congress has recently made an appropriation extending irrigation. Previous to this the government interests in the streams were only to look after the navigation features. When the legal department at Washington entered the present suit it was with the view of protecting government interests in the streams that are navigable. After Congress made the appropriation to diverge waters from these streams onto the arid lands the government recognized this feature of the case and Mr. Miller's opinion is that the final decision of the courts will also recognize the new position.

Marlin 16-Gauge Shotgun

This is the smallest and lightest weight (about 6 1-2 pounds) repeating gun ever manufactured, and opens up many new possibilities to the up-to-date sportsman. It is not a 16 barrel on a 12 action, but a new, well-balanced, properly-proportioned gun that, with modern smokeless powders, enables a shooter to use a powerful load in a small shell and reduce, materially, the weight of shells and gun to be carried. The small, light gun handles fast, results in close holding and increased accuracy. Full description in new Marlin Catalog No. A542, just out. LAS VEGAS ITEMS.

Engineers Move Camp Several Miles Below the Town—Williams-Cole Wedding.

Engineers who are surveying the lands to be brought under the reservoir proposed to be constructed by the reclamation service of the interior department, have moved their camp to a point several miles below Las Vegas which is more convenient to their work.

H. C. Williams of Las Vegas, who is engaged in putting down wells near Lamy, was recently married to Miss Cole a teacher in the Lamy school. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will make their home in the Meadow City.

The following case was filed in the District Court for San Miguel County during the past few days. C. N. Blackwell vs. Franklin Mining and Milling Company in assumpsit in the sum of $2,404.63.

A temporary injunction was granted Edward J. Jones restraining J. D. W. Veeder and E. E. Veeder from interfering with him in the peaceable possession of Buena Vista ranch.

On Sunday afternoon a base ball match was played at Raynolds' park between the Las Vegas regulars and the west side team. The game resulted in a score of sixteen to six in favor of the Las Vegas regulars.

CEMENT COTTAGES

TO BE BUILT

The Ancho Company Will Erect Them at Alamogordo From Material Manufactured at Their Plant.

Several cottages constructed of cement concrete are soon to be built in Alamogordo by the Ancho Cement Company of Ancho, New Mexico. G. A. Bush, president and manager of the cement works, is now in Alamogordo selecting a site for the cottages. The plant of the company is situated directly upon the line of the El Paso & Northeastern Railroad and produces 200 tons of finished cement a day. The cement is made from what is commonly known as gypsum rock, that is blasted from the solid beds, then calcined and ground through the mill.

A very good market for the Ancho Company's product has been recently created in the east by the traveling representative of the cement company. Mr. Bush states that it is hard to market the product in Texas as the freight rates are so high but he hopes soon to find an outlet for it in California by obtaining favorable freight rates over the Southern Pacific.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN ROBBERY.

One of the Suspected Men Commits Suicide Near Tularosa—A Second Escapes and Third is in Jail.

One of the three tramps pursued by Sheriff Hunter of Alamogordo for attempting to wreck a Rock Island train near Pintoral on Sunday, committed suicide near Tularosa. The remains were those of a typical cowboy but have not been identified. One of the other men made his escape and the third, who is Spanish speaking, was brought into Alamogordo. The man who escaped was also Spanish speaking. All that saved the train from being held up was the fact that the engine failed at Alamogordo and there was a delay until a new engine could be fired up. In the meanwhile, a freight train pulled out and when it reached the obstruction which consisted of rocks piled up on the track, gave the alarm.

THE ASCARATE FUNERAL.

The Remains of the Late State Legislator Laid in State and Were Viewed by Many Friends.

Las Cruces, May 25.—The pall bearers at the funeral of the late William R. Ascarate on Monday forenoon were Francisco Mallen of El Paso; R. L. Young, S. F. Bean, David Ames, P. E. Moreno and R. F. Hutton. Solemn requiem mass was celebrated in St. Genevieve's Roman Catholic Church. The mass was sung by the choir under the direction of Dr. McConnell. At the offertory, "Lead Kindly Light," was beautifully sung by Miss Nona Murphy. The floral offerings were many. On Sunday the body lay in state and was viewed by hundreds of people, many of them coming from afar.

A RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Frank Staplin Was Thrown From a Buggy and Badly Bruised at Red River Recently.

Two well known citizens of Taos, Frank Staplin, receiver of the Fraser Mountain Copper Company, and Charles Carter had a narrow escape from death in a runaway last Sunday at Red River. They were driving quietly along when the horse suddenly began to run. Mr. Carter jumped when he saw that he could no longer control the horse, but Mr. Staplin was thrown out and striking his head upon a rock lay unconscious for over ten hours. Both Mr. Carter and Mr. Staplin are able to be out of doors now although they are badly bruised.
