BIG BATTLE AT MANILA.

Philippine Insurgents Twelve Thou- sand Strong.

AMERICAN ARMY ADVANCE AGAINST ENEMY.

Washington, March 25.—Advices to the war department state that a heavy engagement is in progress between the American and insurgent forces when the dispatch was sent. Twelve thousand insurgents are engaged.

DISPATCH FROM OTIS.
Washington, March 25.—The following dispatch reached the war department this morning:

Manila, March 24.—City quiet. Business progressing. No indications of excitement. Fighting is far beyond the city limits. Firing could be heard at the old battle line surrounding the city of Manila. The city cannot be safely uncovered.

BATTLE DESCRIBED.
Washington, March 25.—General Otis' description of the battle is contained in the following cablegram received this morning: Manila, March 25.—McArthur with two brigades commenced an advance on Novales, the insurgent line at daybreak this morning, advancing rapidly and successfully and suffering little from Novales, McArthur's wing to the left and strike to the right, brigades fronting Cotoacan, will press forward at the proper time; Hall's brigade on the old line north of Fawc is demonstrating west of the pumping station. Enemy twelve thousand strong on the line. I am endeavoring to take traction in reverse.

OTIS.
It was stated at the war department that Otis' expression, "An endeavoring to take traction in reverse," means that while ostensibly making a feint at the rear, he intends to swing to the rear and attack the enemy on the left. It is said that the battle has been in progress more than twenty-four hours. War department officials do not attempt to conceal the belief that the fighting has been very severe and the American losses no doubt are quite heavy.

THE BATTLE.
Manila, March 25.—Elaborate preparations were made for the movement. General Wheaton's brigade was placed in the rear and General Harrison Gray Otis and Hall's brigades were massed behind Hale's. Under cover of darkness, Otis and Hale's brigades advanced close upon the enemy's line without being detected. Wheaton's and Hall's brigades occupied the vacated positions.

At 4 o'clock the American troops broke camp, their bugles called to arms. At daylight Otis and Hall's brigades advanced from La Loma church, straight through the rebel lines, cutting the enemy's force in two. Upon this occasion the rebels adopted the American tactics, holding their fire until the enemy was within 1,000 yards distant. The rebels also fired more than usual. The Americans fired volleys with terrific effect, then rushed forward cheering and carrying everything before them. Once through, McArthur's division was swung through the line driving the rebels away on all sides. Wheaton's brigade, in accordance with instructions, remained in the trenches. Before joining the movement at noon, Wheaton's troops developed strong opposition between Malaban and the river fullaban. Brigades commanded by General Harrison Gray Otis and Hale advanced on the Nova church and Pulo, strongly entrenched tows. McArthur's brigade, after the night's march, cleared to the waterworks, foothills and Sigalon, capturing San Francisco del Monte and Marquina.

ESTIMATED LOSS.
Manila, March 25.—555 a. m.—The American loss is now conservatively estimated at 15 killed and 130 wounded. Insurgent loss very heavy.

TROOPS ADVANCE.
Manila, March 25.—Late this afternoon the Montana regiment and the Third artillery crossed the Taguig river, going in a northwesterly direction toward Pulo. McArthur with the remainder of Otis' and Hale's brigades moving along south of the river in a position to attack the Novales or Pulo, being within two miles of Novales and five miles from Pulo. Hall's brigade moved to Balce, the river fullaban. Brigades commanded by General Harrison Gray Otis and Hale advanced on the Nova church and Pulo, strongly entrenched tows. McArthur's brigade, after the night's march, cleared to the waterworks, foothills and Sigalon, capturing San Francisco del Monte and Marquina.

Father Gilbert, of Santa Fe, will officiate, and after the ceremony a sumptuous supper will be spread. The bride is a lovely girl, dressed in cream colored cashmere lace and satin to match, and she will carry a bouquet of Easter lilies. The groom, an employee in the mining district, has a splendid reputation wherever he has been; while the bride, a beautiful and charming young lady, has numerous admirers for many good qualities.

MONSTERS CAPTURED ALIVE.
And Placed on Exhibition in Albuquerque.
The most wonderful work that was ever performed in Albuquerque for the benefit of suffering humanity is being done every day by the wonderful W. W. Medicine, that is sold every night from the wagon at the corner of Second and Third streets. The wagon is owned by John Hazel, who has been using the W. W. Medicine since it was introduced here. One of the largest ones came from the stomach of Mrs. Mary Zeyne, living at 221 south Third street. She purchased one dollar's worth of the medicine the first of the week and commenced using it for stomach trouble, with the above results. Dr. Leon Smith claims that many troubles attributed to other causes are the result of tape worm. This parasite, he claims, is by far less dangerous than many others, but they being smaller, are less advantageous to a display. The W. W. Medicine, which they are advertising, is purely a vegetable remedy, composed of the extracts of several different varieties of fruits and vegetables and herbs, only two of which possess authentic properties; the remaining fifteen constituents are for other diseases, inflammatory blood, etc., but is by no means a cure-all. Dr. Leon Smith's business with this advertising party is to take back the medicine and refund the money to those whose troubles this medicine will not overcome. Persons holding cards are advised to see the doctor at his office over the Vienna bakery, 207 Gold avenue, room 1, during office hours. The W. W. Medicine company carries a great variety of medicines designed for the cure of such diseases as the doctor can explain only to the doctor. Positively no one admitted to the doctor's office unless they have a card.

THE ROUGH RIDERS' REUNION.
Major Clancy and President Maroon, of Commercial Club, Give Their Views.
The Associated Press dispatch published in THE CITIZEN last evening to the effect that Governor Roosevelt would attend the proposed reunion of the Rough Riders to be held in the west on June 24, has caused considerable agitation in this city in favor of taking steps at once to secure the reunion for this city. The fact is recalled that Governor Roosevelt in a conversation with Lieutenant J. W. Clancy, of the Rough Riders, a couple of weeks ago, declared himself strongly in favor of holding the reunion in this city, for the reason that it is most centrally located with reference to the territory from which the regiment was recruited.

Major F. W. Clancy was seen by a representative of THE CITIZEN and when asked for his views in regard to the method to be pursued in making arrangements for the reunion, replied: "Frequently I think it is a matter for the consideration of the soldiers themselves, who composed the regiment of Rough Riders, and I should say that the proper course to pursue would be for the senior officers of the regiment now in New Mexico to call a meeting of the officers and that they take the preliminary steps in securing the holding of the reunion in this city. After which we could co-operate with them in making the necessary arrangements to secure the success of the undertaking. Some money will have to be raised, and while the city itself may not be able to render much assistance, I have no doubt that individual citizens of Albuquerque will subscribe liberally for such a purpose."

O. N. Maroon, president of the Commercial club, expressed himself in favor of the reunion, saying: "I noted with pleasure the dispatch in your evening paper, that Governor Roosevelt will attend the Rough Riders' reunion somewhere in the west next June. New Mexico having furnished the greatest number of the Rough Riders, the natural place for holding the reunion should be somewhere in this territory. Considering the central location of Albuquerque, not only in New Mexico, but also in the entire area from which the regiment enlisted, a larger attendance ought to be assured here than at any other point. The Rough Riders in Arizona, Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas could meet here on intermediate ground. Undoubtedly Arizona would gladly co-operate with us to secure the reunion for this city."

"As many sections of the country will make efforts to secure this reunion for their localities, the people of Albuquerque and New Mexico should endeavor to secure and set forth our claims in the matter. The Commercial club, as in all things pertaining to the welfare of the city and territory, are well equipped to do its utmost in getting the reunion to be held here and making the same a success."

John Gorman was fined $5 for committing a nuisance on Railroad avenue last night.

Improve the Capital grounds.
The capital will not be finished until July or after, but that is no reason why the capital grounds should not be put in as beautiful a condition as feasible at this time. It will help to beautify the city and will make a lasting impression upon the stream of tourists and other visitors that will come to Santa Fe this spring, summer and autumn. It will also make a more comfortable place for the city and its magnificent capital surrounded by a beautiful park.—New Mexican.

EMBALMED BEEF.

Col. Roosevelt Gives Testimony Against the Rotten Stuff.

Several Oklahoma Legislators In- dicted for Alleged Bribery.

Cap. Clark of the Kansas Regiment
Wounded in the Manila Fight.

CUBAN TROOPS WANT MORE MONEY.

New York, March 25.—Army court inquiry investigating the charges of General Smith that the beef furnished the soldiers in the Cuban and Porto Rican campaigns was unfit to use convened in this city today. Major Lee said he believed that the beef furnished would be the only witness heard here.

The court is expected to adjourn to go over to the island to hear testimony of the officers of the Thirteenth infantry stationed there.

Roosevelt was sworn.
"When was the first complaint you heard of rotten beef?" asked Col. Davis.

"Well, it was about the ship Tampa. I saw a man named Ash, from Kentucky, throwing away a can of the so-called roast beef. I asked what was the matter. He said he could not eat it. I told him not to be a baby; that he did not volunteer for a good time and ought to be able to take what came. I thought so more of the matter until I heard complaints being made in all sides, and then I made inquiries and was told that the roast beef was a part of the regular ration and all the volunteers were complaining."

"I spoke to Colonel Wood about it. I ate a mouthful or two myself, but could not eat it."

Roosevelt spoke of the issue of ration in Cuba and said, although he did not eat it, he never heard any one say it was an "unfit ration."

"What did the most look like?" asked Col. Davis.

"When the cans were opened there was a covering of slime. It was unattractive. The meat was stringy and did not agree with the men, who ate it."

"Could you not eat it when served with onions or potatoes?"

"If I did that time I could have eaten my hat if I could have had onions and potatoes. The men would have eaten anything with fresh vegetables. They loved the meat with mangoes and ate it. Some men seemed to eat the meat without difficulty or distress, but it was not suitable for the sick or half sick men."

"When did you begin receiving refrigerated beef?" asked Davis.

"About July 22, when we were there about a month."

"Sometimes we received them about noon."

"What was their condition when you received them?"

"Their condition, as a rule, was good. The outside was sometimes bad, but it seemed awfully good to us."

"What was the proportion that was bad?"

"I can't exactly say, but I don't think there were more than two or three issues when a large portion was bad."

"Had you reason to believe that the refrigerated beef was treated with chemicals before you received it?"

"I never thought about it until I returned home. The meat seemed good to us. We ate it and enjoyed it. It did undoubtedly give the men diarrhea."

"Did you hear any complaints?"

"Well, I heard some of the officers and men thought there was something wrong with the meat, but I have known meat to keep for a few days on a hunting trip, to have a like effect. Some men were in very good health, and it took less to upset us than it would have at any other time."

"Did you attribute your ill-health to the ration?"

"To a certain extent, I suppose, yes. When I left Cuba less than 20 per cent of the brigade was fit for active work."

"What was given the men on the voyage home as a ration?"

"Canned roast beef."

"To what extent was it acceptable?"

"It was utterly and hopelessly unacceptable."

"Was any of it eaten?"

"Some was, but it could not be eaten by the half sick and the well men did not like it."

Major Lee was about to ask a question when the governor interrupted to say that he wished to speak of the talk of "embalmed beef" when we left Tampa. He said, "two or three quarters of beef were put aboard our ship. I was told to put it in the shade. I understood it was specially treated for the tropics. It did not last, and the board of investigation decided to throw it overboard."

"Can you remember the brands or labels on the canned roast beef complained of, either that issued in Cuba or Montana?" asked Major Lee.

"I do not think I can. Some were Smith's, some Armour's, I believe."

Roosevelt said he submitted reports regarding rations through regular army channels, and again on September 10. These reports were omitted from the published records of the war department, but were to be printed, so he said, in the next report. Lee applied to the court to order a copy of Roosevelt's report to be made a part of the minutes. General Wadswell favored it. Roosevelt said there were some supplementary reports to the report of September 10, which he considered important.

"They include," he said, "the statements of two captains, four lieutenants, a surgeon and Captain Brown, of the regular service."

"Will you tell us," asked Lee, "what in your opinion is the value of canned roast beef issued at Cuba and elsewhere as an army ration?"

"I wish to say unhesitatingly that it is utterly unfit and unwholesome for the troops. My experience proves beyond the shadow of a doubt that at the best the canned roast beef was unpalatable and at its worst it was uneatable and unwholesome." The court adjourned to Governor's island.

INDICTED FOR BRIBERY.
Number of Oklahoma Legislators Accused of Accepting Cash Money.
Guthrie, O. T., March 25.—The federal grand jury, which has already indicted three members of the territorial legislature for accepting bribes, has issued subpoenas for five prominent citizens of Oklahoma City, who came here during the legislative session as custodians of the federal property, to appear before the grand jury for the erection of temporary territorial buildings in Guthrie. The bill was never introduced in the legislature, but when the committee returned to Oklahoma City and were asked for an itemized bill of expenditures they replied that to furnish such a statement would be "inconvenient policy." The register of the United States land office, Oklahoma City, and a former clerk of the federal court were members of the committee. The grand jury will endeavor to ascertain how the money was spent.

The Bull Staged.
Sacramento, Calif., March 25.—The governor signed the so-called Santa Fe consolidation bill. The measure was introduced at the instance of the Santa Fe railway people, and its purpose was to consolidate, as its advocates claimed, that corporation to operate its system as a whole instead of being compelled to do so through the medium of three or four different corporations. It was asserted that unless the existing laws were amended it would be impossible to purchase the line from Mojave to the Colorado river, necessary to complete the system.

Want More Money.
Havana, March 25.—At a secret session of the Cuban military assembly it was resolved that dissolution at the present time would be prejudicial to the interests of the army. The argument on dissolution was postponed one week. It was decided to send Senors Hevia and Valhoun to Washington to attempt to gain the co-operation of the president in the efforts of the assembly to raise more money for the Cuban troops.

ROSENWALD BROS.

SAN PEDRO DISTRICT.
What J. T. McLaughlin Has to Say About the Company He Represents.

J. T. McLaughlin, superintendent of the Santa Fe Gold and Copper Mining company, with headquarters at San Pedro, accompanied by J. Carruthers, arrived in this city last night and registered at the Sturges European.

"The new management—for the company has been reorganized," said Mr. McLaughlin to a CITIZEN representative this morning, "are pushing development work on their San Pedro properties, and work is being rapidly prosecuted in the sinking of a 200 foot shaft and making connections with the old mine. Forty men are now on the payroll, who are kept constantly employed, and as work progresses, with any degree of success in the development, the force will be steadily increased."

The smelter, with its contemplated new machinery, will not be operated for some time, as the development work now going on may materially change present plans as to the smelter. Everything looks bright for San Pedro, and my company will not be slow in pushing to the front this wonderful copper district."

The officers of the new organization are Edward A. Clark, president; Chas. H. Cole, Jr., treasurer; F. H. Batheider, secretary, and J. T. McLaughlin, superintendent.

THE CLAY ALL RIGHT.
Howe & Butman, Brick Manufacturers, Market Street.

C. H. Howe, of the new brick manufacturing firm of Howe & Butman, returned Tuesday night from Chicago, where he had gone to have some of the clay from which they intend to make brick tested by experts, and Mr. Howe brought back with him small cake samples of the test, proving that the clay was all right and that the bricks made therefrom will be solid, hard and durable. While in Chicago, Mr. Howe selected the necessary machinery, and made arrangements with James Trainer, a brick expert, to put up the machinery and to take charge of the brick yards as foreman. Mr. Trainer arrived from Chicago last night, and the machinery is expected to arrive in the city sometime next week, after which work will be vigorously prosecuted in getting everything into shape so that the work can be delayed as little as possible in the manufacture of brick. The yards will be located just below the stock yards south of Albuquerque.

Free hot lunch at Melini & Eakin's to-night.

O. W. Strong today received a letter from Dr. A. P. Morrison, the presiding elder of the Methodist church, saying that he had received a telegram from Rev. W. Jaggard, of Delaware, announcing that he had accepted the call to this city and that he would leave for here at once, arriving some time next week. Mr. Jaggard is 42 years old and in the prime of life. He is said to be a ripe scholar and an eloquent pulpit orator. He is a married man, but has no children. Rev. J. W. Morrison will preach his farewell sermon at the Lead Avenue Methodist church to-morrow and expects to leave for his old home in Nebraska week after next.

The CITIZEN yesterday mentioned that H. S. Munson had gone to Silver City to manage a new grocery there. Mr. Munson is one of the gentlemen interested in the new steam laundry about to open here, and will return shortly to attend to the business thereof. The Silver City trip had been planned before the laundry matter had been agreed upon, and Mr. Munson is only temporarily absent. The CITIZEN is informed that the new laundry will occupy a new building to be erected on Silver avenue west of the postoffice in a very short time.

Quickel & Bothe have made elaborate arrangements to royally entertain the patrons of the Zeiger Cafe this evening. In addition to the liquid refreshments, a splendid free lunch will be served.

A most exquisite stock of spring and summer millinery will be on exhibition at Mrs. McCreight's store, 312 West Railroad avenue, next Tuesday afternoon and evening.

A fine merchants' lunch will be served at the White Elephant to-night.
