ALBUQUERQUE, — DEC. 14, 1936

NEW MEXICO has a powerful delegation at Washington working for statehood.

This city wants a republican postmaster as a Christmas present from the president.

The Phoenix Republic has been enlarged, and is now the largest and best paper published in the territory of Arizona.

The public schools of this city are model institutions of learning, and the attendance is up to the full capacity of the buildings.

At the recent election in Arizona 15,500 votes were cast, J. F. Wilson, the democratic nominee for delegate, receiving 528 majority.

The El Paso Graphic appears to have a grievance against New Mexico, and publishes many ill-natured paragraphs against the territory.

The Lodeberg Liberal has a fat take in the publication of several nude photographs. Their publication shows that the mining industry is making progress in Grant county.

POLICE detectives in Montreal estimate that the people of that city spend over $2,500,000 a year in lotteries. The number of policy tickets bought annually is estimated at 6,000,000.

THE money of all kinds in circulation on December 1 amounted to $1,899,470,504, which represents an increase of nearly $105,800,000 as compared with the corresponding date last year.

It is probable that the territorial assembly will be asked to create five new counties at the approaching session. The territory is growing rapidly, and the new counties are demanded by progressive people.

THE aggregate value of the soil products of Iowa for this year are not less than $225,000,000, says Director Sage, of the Iowa weather and crop service. In his annual report, corn yielded 299,214,650 bushels.

THE Sierra County Advocate asks this pertinent question to the mining prospectors: "What will it benefit a man if he locates nearly every claim in a district and loses the sale of his overalls trying to hold them down?"

Those who contend that strikes "pay" are eloquently answered by the statement of an English statistician that the loss in wages to English workmen during 1937, owing to strikes and lockouts, is estimated to have exceeded $60,000,000.

THE funniest thing that appears in the democratic papers these days is abuse of the Dingley law because it doesn't produce revenue enough to feed them. What the average democratic wants is a revenue law that will cause bond issues every two or three months.

THE president has said to various callers from the senate and the house that he wants to avoid a special session, and he has told them in as plain terms as his polite nature will permit that he does not expect to make any very far-reaching recommendations for action during the present session.

FRANCE is not yet a broken nation like Spain, but by her own confusion she has sunk to the position of a second-rate power. Her people are showing that they have the disposition but not the courage to fight England. They acknowledge their helplessness and humiliation, and say with fearful nervousness that their neighbor across the channel is trying to force a war.

THE express companies of the United States seem to be the only concerns that are escaping the war tax. In New York state, in North Carolina and in California states have been brought against the Adams, the Southern and West Fargo express companies to answer an offense against the statute in refusing to stamp receipts, and in each case the defendant company has won its case.

THEY SAY PAGE. The paragrapher who wrote a disparaging article about New Mexico to the Manchester, New Hampshire, Union, is not a resident of Las Vegas. The Optic says of him:

E. F. Page, Jr., is not of Las Vegas any more than he is of Albuquerque or Santa Fe. At the time the article complained of was written, Page was in Las Vegas attending court, to answer an offense committed against the United States government in another part of the territory.

Mr. J. A. Duncan writes that the present whereabouts of Page are unknown. It is such men who slander New Mexico in the eastern newspapers.

GOOD ADVICE. The Las Vegas Optic reads the newspapers of the territory valuable advice regarding vindictive political articles. The Optic says:

The fact is that there has been too much of the "Arizona Kicker" language employed in the political contests of New Mexico, and it is not strange that what we have said of one another in the heat of political passion, should be accepted by the outside world as literally true of us all.

It is hoped that the Optic will take a liberal dose of its own medicine. During the recent campaign the Optic was the most vindictive political sheet in the territory. For several days during the campaign the editorial pages of the Optic were a mass of malicious personal adjectives.

The government has upon its reservations about 250 day and boarding schools, in which over 2,000 teachers are employed. Institutes for the teachers were held last summer and innovations in industrial work were introduced. Chief of which were sewing, cooking and housework.

The Colorado papers have ceased their calumny hold, and admit that the state is prosperous.

Gurule, Jose Gallegos and others, the court settled the disputed southern boundary, to be mentioned in the decree. Catron & Gortner for the claimants.

FATAL RAILROAD COLLISION.

The Engineer Wade Killed Instantly and Several Trainmen Injured.

The Prescott Courier, in its article on the recent railroad accident near that town, says:

One of the most surprising, as well as most horrible, accidents in the history of Arizona occurred in the cut just this side of Duke's ranch, last Saturday, a few minutes before 4 p. m. It was surprising because the collision occurred between telegraph stations about five miles apart and was between a Big Bug train coming in, on time, it is reported, and a special sent out from the Prescott depot.

The collision occurred in a curve of the cut and both engines rushed together at full speed and were telescoped, the fronts of both engines being crushed in and the heavy castings split and twisted until the whole presented a scene of shattered steel, broken bars and splintered wood, difficult to describe.

The north bound special consisted of three cars and the Big Bug train is said to have had four.

There were several passengers but their injuries can be summed up in a few bruises and slight cuts. One passenger, who stated that the train was torn loose in the car in which he sat.

The north bound train was in charge of Engineer W. H. Wade, Fireman Allen Adams and Conductor James Atkins. Wade was instantly killed. His body was found covered with snow, coal and debris, in a ditch, the ditch having filled with water, and was torn from the broken tanks of the train. Wade has a wife and children, resident in Prescott. Love had his right arm and shoulder badly lacerated and his left arm badly lacerated.

The crew of the Big Bug train consisted of Engineer Thos. Gaffield, Fireman Geo. Walker, both of whom were wounded. Gaffield is lacerated about the head and Walker has a bad fracture of the right leg. The injured men were immediately conveyed to the Sisters' hospital.

It is said that at the entrance of either end of the cut in which the accident happened, a good view of the entire surrounding country is to be had and at no place save there where the engines met, is this view obstructed. It seems that both engines were almost together before either crew was aware of the threatened collision.

NEW MEXICO NEWS

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.

Mamuel D. Gonzalez, of Albuquerque, is a guest at the Palace, having come up to attend court.

A fine set of Century dictionary and encyclopedia has been added to the penitentiary library. This has been needed there for some time.

Governor and Mrs. Otero and Master Miguel did not leave for Washington Saturday night as they expected, because of some business matters which the governor could not complete before Monday. They left Monday night on the first east bound train.

Mrs. Jose Ramon Ortega, mother of Hon. Victor Ortega, representative-elect to the Thirty-third legislative assembly from Santa Fe county, died at her home in Chimayo last Wednesday at the age of 66 years. She left to mourn her loss a husband, four sons and five daughters.

Five and one fifth inches of snow fell in the snow storm that has just closed. For three days the snow flow, and an immense area of country is now under varying depths, but of a depth sufficient to guarantee the filling of reservoirs and a thorough refreshing of the ranges and farms and fruit lands, so that the farmer and the fruit raiser, as well as the stockman, are wearing broad and happy smiles, and they don't care, either, if their feet do get wet.

As H. B. and S. G. Cartwright were going home at 10:30 Saturday night, they found an Indian school boy lying drunk near the capital building. They at once got him into a more sheltered place and summoned the police. The boy was cared for and turned over Sunday to the school authorities. The rescue came none too soon, as in an hour or two more the boy would have been frozen beyond help. As it is a violation of the United States law to sell liquor to an Indian, some one is likely to find himself soon in the hands of the United States marshal.

ALAMOGORDO.

From Sacramento Chief.

Dr. George C. Bryant, the surgeon of the El Paso & Northern railroad, at this place, had the honor conferred on him of associate membership in the El Paso Medical society.

Vic Hollister, who last week resigned his position in the material yards at this place, and went to El Paso, has returned. Vic wears an expression which brings to mind the old song: "She has left me and am lonely," etc., etc.

R. F. Romero and wife have returned from the Ruidoso country where they have been engaged in building up "Hunter's Retreat," a summer resort destined to be the home of the tourists to the Sacramento mountains the coming summer.

A. P. Kiser, a mining man from Chicago, is in this section. He is of the opinion that there is a great deal of mineral in the surrounding mountains, that only awaits the prospector's pick to develop some first class mining properties.

LAS CRUCES.

From the Independent Democrat.

The public schools have closed till after the holidays.

Las Cruces has a canning factory that will become quite a feature of Mesilla valley.

The Las Cruces brass band has discontinued its open air concerts until the month of May.

It is rumored that the fine, valuable turquoise ring that was worn by the late A. J. DeMules, was stolen from his remains.

Las Cruces has three places where entertainments may be given—at the rink, in the convent hall and in Amador's hall.

H. D. Bowman has been appointed administrator of the estate of A. J. DeMules, deceased. His bond is $30,000.

The Mesilla ditch officers were elected Monday, as follows: H. D. Bowman, K. H. Faulkner, and O. C. Snow. Manuel Parra, mayordomo.

Chas. K. Miller, the Anthony merchant, and I. M. Behnemann, of this place, will erect a roller drill mill at Anthony, and hope to have same completed by March 1, next.

E. F. Garrett arrested three Chinamen at Engle the other day under the deportation act. Their trial will come off on the 17th inst., before Judge Pino. Two of the Chinamen are in jail, and the other is out on bond.

Isidor Telles, who lives in the eastern part of town, stepped outside of his house last Thursday evening about 7:30 just in time to stop a stray bullet with the calf of his left leg. The wound is painful, but not dangerous. It is not known who did the shooting.

LAS VEGAS.

From the Optic.

W. B. Burnett, years ago in the painting business here, has returned from California after twelve years' absence and will again engage in business. He is accompanied by his family.

Alfred Lundell, of Company F, First Territorial regiment, has been promoted from first sergeant to second lieutenant by Governor Otero. The newly commissioned officer will occupy the post left vacant by the resignation of A. L. Comstock.

The local police authorities made it decidedly hot for the hobo and suspicious character element on Saturday night. Some fifteen of the gentry were rounded up and run into the city jail and held.

W. G. Melville, manager of the New York & Mexican Development company, 401 and 402 Haverly building, New York City, arrived from the City of Mexico Monday morning. He is an experienced office grower and is presenting to our citizens a co-operative, easy to most proposition for engaging in coffee culture in Mexico. Major Elias Burvoort, of Santa Fe, met him at Albuquerque and accompanied him here. They are quartered at the Plaza.

White Ash Mine Closed.

The work of pulling the pillars in the White Ash coal mine at Madrid is finished and this property closed. The White Ash vein was considered the most valuable of the Cerrillos Coal and Railway company's possessions. It was the basis for extensive operations during the past three years, and was operated a distance of 2,700 feet, producing over half a million tons of coal. The Mexican Central railroad and the trade from Cerrillos to the Mexican border was furnished with the product. The vein varied from four to five feet in width. Some time ago the vein was lost, and subsequently the 800 miners employed were thrown out of work. The ground has since been thoroughly prospected with diamond drills, but no trace of the missing vein was found.

THE MODERN MOTHER.
