HAWAIIAN COMMISSION.

Report on the Annexation of the Pacific Islands.

British Pleased With the Tone of McKinley's Message.

New York Volunteers Return From Honolulu to San Francisco.

OPENING OF THE GERMAN REICHSTAG.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The president today transmitted to congress the report of the Hawaiian commission, together with the three bills drawn by the committee for the government of the islands as a portion of the United States.

The principal bill outlines the general plan of the government and the others deal with subordinate questions. Of the main bill, the commissioners express the opinion that it will prove to be "such a measure for the government of the people of the Hawaiian Islands as will best promote the interests of their people, and at the same time it promotes the interests and maintains the sovereignty of the people of the United States."

It provides for the erection of the islands into a territory of the United States to be styled the territory of Hawaii. The bill contains provisions for the government of the territory. The governor, secretary, United States district judge, United States district attorney and United States marshal are to be appointed by the president. The officers of the territory under the new regime are to be appointed by the president. The governor, secretary, United States district judge, United States district attorney and United States marshal are to be appointed by the president. The officers of the territory under the new regime are to be appointed by the president.

The existing laws of Hawaii, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the United States or this act, to continue in force, subject to repeal or amendment by the legislature or by congress. The bill also provides that the constitution and laws of the Hawaiian Islands, locally applicable, shall have the same force and effect in the territory of Hawaii as elsewhere in the United States.

Comment on the Message.
London, Dec. 6.—Afternoon papers here express satisfaction with President McKinley's message, with the exception of the allusion to the Nicaragua canal, which, to the minds of the editors, does not show sufficient appreciation of British treaty rights.

New Mexico will have another eastern gateway when the railroad is completed from Roswell to Amarillo, Texas.

The territory appearing to be hopelessly republican, the democrats are getting into line to oppose statehood.

Uncle Sam's new possessions are equal in area to all the New England states, New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

According to careful estimates three hours of close study wear out the body more than a whole day of hard physical exertion.

The war investigating commission has succeeded in demonstrating that there is no particular reason why its life should be prolonged.

Some precaution has been taken to guard against the dangers of the sea in the dark. There are over 3,814 light-houses in the world.

Only thirteen American soldiers died from wounds received in the war with Spain. This is a remarkable proof of the skill of the army surgeons.

The exports of wheat from the United States last week were almost 7,500,000 bushels, and exceeded the shipments of any previous week in the history of the trade.

The cost of carrying a car of machinery by rail from New York to the Pacific coast is $1.25 per hundred. The same car load can be sent from New York to China for $1.15.

The women of the city should organize a board of trade and provide ways and means for beautifying the city. The ladies of Santa Fe made a beauty spot of the plaza in that city by such an organization.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY'S annual message to congress is a cheerful review of the condition of the country. He urges a republic for Cuba, and leaves the future of the Philippines in the hands of congress.

When the express companies refused to pay the war tax it was freely predicted that they would provoke retaliatory legislation. The renewed agitation for a parcels post is a direct fulfillment of this prediction.

MINISTERS state mine inspector claims that his state now leads in production of lead ore, and says the output of lead ore for the last fiscal year was 73,987 tons, which sold for $9,011,055, and that the output of zinc ore reached 139,088 tons, and sold for $2,927,321.

An exchange remarks that the man who complains most of his preacher preaches the least; the man who complains the most of his neighbor is the meanest neighbor; and he who has the least sense is the most consoled. It may be added that the man who borrows his neighbor's papers has the most fault to find with the way they are run.

Our local dealers have been busy the past few days unpacking and getting on display the finest lot of holiday goods ever shown in Albuquerque and now their show windows draw crowds of admirers all day. Take a look at them if you haven't already, and then read our announcements in the columns of THE CITIZEN.

COST OF EXPANSION.
The Louisiana purchase of 1803 cost $15,000,000. Of this sum $2,750,000 was claims of our citizens against France, which the United States agreed to assume. For Florida this country paid Spain $5,000,000 in 1823. Texas came into the Union voluntarily, but by the omnibus bill she received $10,000,000 for the abandonment of her claim to that part of New Mexico east of the Rio Grande. The Gadsden purchase, in 1853, cost the United States $19,000,000. The disputed territory lay in New Mexico and Arizona, south of the Gila river, the Mexican government sent troops thither, but trouble was averted by the payment by us of the sum stated for the disputed strip. For Alaska we paid $7,200,000 to Russia in 1867.

COUNTY DIVISION.
The Socorro Chieftain says: There seems to be a unanimous disposition throughout the territory toward the division of the extremely large counties. This is right and proper. Take our own county, for instance, reaching two-thirds of the distance across the territory from east to west with settlements along the extreme western border, and along the Rio Grande and adjacent mountains, with a strip of country eighty miles wide with city here and there a ranch between the settled portion of the county. The people of the western part of the county have long been anxious for division and have made one or two faint, but ineffectual efforts toward that end, while the people of the eastern side have strenuously opposed the division. When we come to look at this matter in an unbiased logical manner it will be seen that smaller counties are far preferable to such extremely large ones; the expense of government is greatly reduced in various ways, taxes are easier to collect and more cheerfully paid and the tax payers receive more direct benefit from them.

In extremely large counties, like Socorro, Bernalillo, Grant and Lincoln, the court expenses are something prodigious. In these counties, especially in Socorro and Bernalillo, while the convenience to people who have to attend court and county affairs at the county seat is distressing.

The people living in the proposed new counties are anxious for division, which would redound to the benefit of the parent counties.

LOST THE CASE.
The territory has lost its case in the United States supreme court against the United States Trust company and the receiver of the Atlantic & Pacific railway. The case involved the right of the territorial authorities to tax improvements of the railroad company on its right of way.

Without taxing the right of way itself. The decision did not sustain this contention, but affirmed the decision of the territorial supreme court adverse to taxation of the concession.

By this decision the counties of Bernalillo and Valencia lose a large sum of money which had been assessed against the Atlantic & Pacific railroad. This county had a claim of about fifty thousand dollars against the railroad.

SPANISH PROPHECY.
W. E. Curtis quotes a prophecy made by Count Aranda, Spanish ambassador in London, who in 1783 was watching the progress of the negotiations for peace between Great Britain and the United States. At that time he uttered these remarkable words in a letter to the king: "The federal republic is born a pygmy. A day will come when it will be a giant, even a colossus, formidable in those countries. Liberty of conscience, the facility of establishing a new population on immense lands, as well as the advantage of a new government, will draw thither farmers and artisans from all nations. In a few years we will watch with grief the tyrannical existence of this same colossus."

A Narrow Escape.
Thankful words written by Mrs. A. E. Hart of Groton, N. D.: "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time, and gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent one above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am well and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at J. H. O'Reilly & Co.'s drug store.

A Big Contract.
It is reported on the best of authority that the Alamo Lumber company has the contract for supplying a railroad in Mexico with sixty miles of railroad ties. This means close on to 1,000 car loads of material which will keep the mill working its full capacity for several months. In speaking of the contract this morning one of the El Paso & North-eastern officials said:

"The filling of this contract alone means a big thing for El Paso. There will be a large force of men employed and their supplies must all come from this point. The lumber company will not turn their attention to the filling of this contract until about the first of February. The present capacity of the mill is 100,000 feet per day and this capacity will be taxed while the tie contract is being filled."

When asked regarding the possibility of a box factory being built he said that the construction of a box factory was as sure as the sun will rise in the morning. He said that the lumber company would build the mill in the working order and then begin the erection of a box factory that will be second to none in the United States.—El Paso Herald.

THE MODERN MOTHER.

BACK FROM CUBA.
Corporal Ryerson Enlisted a Rough Rider, but Served as an Insurgent.

William L. Ryerson, Jr., of Las Cruces, a corporal in Curry's troop of Rough Riders, is in the city from Cuba. He arrived last night direct from the Pearl of the Antilles, where he served under Gomez as an insurgent.

Ryerson left New Mexico as a Rough Rider, but, changing parties, from his commandant to join the insurgents.

He speaks both Spanish and English, and was detailed on a special and important mission, which was to gather information for the Americans. He is off on a furlough and is in El Paso visiting his wife, who resides on El Paso street.

Corporal Ryerson is the son of a prominent citizen of Dona Ana county. He is but 24 years of age and possesses all the traits that make Roosevelt's men the finest body of volunteer soldiers that the world has ever seen.

Ryerson has a brother who also enlisted to fight for his country. He is in Captain Fall's company now camped in Georgia.—El Paso Herald.

The fraternal Union of Gallup, went out in a blaze of glory on Thursday night. Its end was neither nor bad. It was not of discord nor dissension. It was an occasion of joy and feasting, and was one of the most pleasant functions of the season. The members of the lodge decided to join one of the stronger organizations of the town covering the same field, and went over in a body to the Moderns. The members have had such good times together that they decided to have just one more, and gathered on Thursday evening for a feast at the hospitable home of the Hon. and Mrs. W. F. Kuchenecker, where a magnificent spread was partaken of. Oysters, turkey and all the season's dainties were served, and Frater C. B. Smith did the dishing of the birds. CHAMA.
From the Tribune.

There will be a Christmas tree and ball on December 24 at Chama, given by the Bazaar brass band.

Guests we have had about all the snow in this part of New Mexico that we want. About seven inches on the level Sunday night.

Chama will be supplied almost immediately with a preacher to take the place made vacant by the resignation of Rev. Day. Hope he will be a rustic.

Four Mormon elders, all in a bunch, have invaded the sacred precincts of Chama, with the declared purpose of letting the brighter light shine into your darkened hearts and homes.

Dr. Wood has come to the conclusion that sleighing in the mud is a "part of pleasure under difficulties," to be classed with a ride on the "Tierra Amarilla Limited," and has decided to forward both luxuries only to be engaged in under protest.

disease in the east, but taken too firm a hold upon him for recovery even in this health restoring climate. It is thought, too, that he had rested more it would have been much better for him, but he delighted to preach the gospel, and being a good preacher, a clear thinker, and a favorite with the people, in the hope and out of it, the temptation to fill the vacant pulpit in our city was great, so he preached for the Baptists quite a while, also for his own church, the Methodist Episcopal, in the absence of the regular pastor, and this partly in midwinter, the work was too much for him.

Mr. Davis was born in Nova Scotia and was a graduate of the Mount Allison Wesleyan Methodist university, at Sackville, New Brunswick. He preached for several years in Nova Scotia, then in New York. Being from beyond the ocean, and feeling the importance of a first class education and a fuller preparation for what he expected to be his life time work, he entered the Drew Theological seminary and graduated with honors in said school. It is likely, that too close application to study in this last named school, as well as continued study in the ministry after he left school that brought on failing health from which he never recovered.

The funeral took place from St. Paul's Methodist church of Newark, N. J., where the family is now residing. Mrs. Davis and the children, who spent last summer in Albuquerque have the sympathy of their many friends here in their irreparable loss of a kind husband and father cut off at the early age of 44.

ADVANTAGES OF NEW MEXICO.
Hart Enthusiastic on the Subject of Training Grounds.

Hudson hot springs, discovered by President Hart in his ramble through New Mexico, seems to be a find for a training and conditioning ground for the Chicago base ball team. There is no doubt that the Chicago president is fascinated with the place. Both he and Pulliam of Louisville, who is now Hart's guest in this city, speak in extravagant terms of the natural advantages. "Two weeks there," said Hart, "even without the chance to practice, I am confident would put the team in better condition to open the season than all the scrub games and exhibition tours that are usually gone through with on the spring trip."

The hesitancy of the hotel manager is the chief obstacle to the immediate selection of the New Mexico resort. He plans eventually to entertain the Chicago team, but is afraid he may do it prematurely, and not to it in style. If he takes to the Chicago players, he desires to fit up bowling alleys and billiard rooms, have a drove of ponies for cross country riding, be ready to supply guides for hunting and exploring parties, and do the hospitable thing generally. He has no ball ground, but has a space back of the hotel, hemmed in by hills on three sides, that would make an excellent field when cleared of the low brush. Fueling would hardly be necessary, but the owner insists on putting up a fence to keep the cattle off and to allow of occasional match games, when excursions would be run from Deming, Silver City and other relatively near-by towns.

The hotel is a wide spreading, one story structure, standing solitary on the level plateau. The bath, medicinal waters, and the interesting mines and archaic ruins within easy reach are the chief charms of the place. The altitude—4,000 or 5,000 feet—is not sufficient to make the temperature uncomfortable.—Chicago Record.

Two Pointed Questions Answered.
What is the use of making a better article than your competitor if you can not get a better price for it?

Ans.—As there is no difference in the price the public will buy only the better, so that while our profits may be smaller on a single sale they will be much greater in the aggregate.

How can you get the public to know your make is the best?

If both articles are brought prominently before the public both are certain to be sold and the public will very quickly pass judgment on them and use only the better one.

This explains the large sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The people have been using it for years and have found that it can always be depended upon. They are occasionally taken up with some foolish-made novelty put forth with exaggerated claims, but are certain to return to the one remedy that they know to be reliable, and for coughs, colds and croup there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
