CLOSING OF CAMPAIGN

Republican Party Which Toured Territory Completes Its Work Saturday Evening.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING

Court House Crowded to the Doors to Hear Brilliant Addresses—Enthusiasm Ran High.

The whirlwind campaign, which has been conducted by the Republicans of the Territory for the past three weeks, wound up at the court house Saturday night in a blaze of political enthusiasm. Having swung round the circle of the Territory, the party headed by Governor M. A. Otero and Senator W. H. Andrews, the regular Republican candidate for delegate to Congress, arrived in the city from the south and closed the campaign in one of the best meetings held in New Mexico in the days preceding this year's election. The enthusiasm was not merely political but the realization of the many people present that they were listening to men of intellectual superiority and substance and not to mere campaign ranters, lent to the occasion a degree of dignified enthusiasm that is seldom found in a political rally, either in the Territory or elsewhere.

The court house was packed to the doors for the three hours that the meeting was in progress and many who could not enter went home disappointed. Every inch of space in the court room was utilized, both inside and outside the railing and never during the entire meeting was there a sign of disorder. Everyone sat or stood quietly throughout the delivering of the speeches and the general conduct of the occasion was a source of much gratification both to the candidates and the men of the Territorial Headquarters, who arranged the ratification. There were many ladies present which lent the affair quite an air of society.

The first speaker introduced by the chairman of the county central committee was Governor M. A. Otero. The Governor showed the effects of the hardships endured during the campaign tour in the hushness of his voice, but it did not deter him from making an excellent though wholly temperate address. He prefaced his remarks by saying "I want you all to understand that I am governor of the Democrats as well as governor of the Republicans. We have been making a clean campaign; there is no 'Oterism' or 'Andrewism' and there has been no deep damnation or no red hands that were brought out in recent elections. The campaign has been clean and it is going to be as clean tonight as the night we opened the campaign in Rio Arriba County at Tierra Amarilla.

I have nothing against Mr. Rodey or Mr. Money, not in the least. While Mr. Money was in his happy home down in Las Vegas in the midst of his happy family—I know he has one, because he told us so some time ago—Mr. Andrews was in attendance on the Estancia plains trying to develop the resources of the country. And that is the man whom we have at the head of the ticket who will be elected next Tuesday by over 6,000 majority.

"Mr. Money, who I think, is honest and sincere and wanted to tell you all the facts he knew, forgot to tell you of the $678,000 of bonds that were issued for deficits during the previous administration and not during the present. He said that the rate of taxation had increased. It has. And for educational purposes, and if the coming legislature sees fit to increase the tax levy for educational purposes, M. A. Otero will sign the bill. Although we have inherited debts, I do not believe in repudiation and I'll try to see that they are paid."

The Governor then explained and gave some interesting facts that are upheld by figures, concerning his administration and made a denial of the charges made by opposition campaign speakers. He touched on local political topics in which he gave timely advice to the young men. He told them not to vote for a party that tries to break down or a party organized for personal interests, but for a party that builds up. For a party that does things and not one that tears down. Every man should vote either as a Republican or a Democrat. The Governor then told his hearers of the Albuquerque convention and Rodey's subsequent "tale of woe," in which he said that if the votes of proxies and of office holders had been eliminated from the convention, Andrews would still have been the nominee by a safe majority.

"Send a man to Congress," he said, "who can do the Territory the most good, a man who is in sympathy with the administration, who is in harmony with the senate and the house so that when he calls on his friends there for legislation for the Territory, he can

SHOT WHILE TRYING TO ESCAPE

George Wilson, a Convict at Work on High School Building Attempted to Take French Leave.

George Wilson, convict No. 1,698 at the penitentiary, who was in the party of prisoners working on the new school building, made a desperate attempt to escape Saturday afternoon. He had made a suit of clothes out of a blanket and had concealed it under his prison garb, discarding the stripes in a shed on the grounds. His absence was quickly discovered and he was seen going over a hill beyond the Federal building. Guard Santana Herrera gave chase and fired several shots at him at a distance of about half a mile, without effect.

Rafael Gomez, who is in charge of the working party then took the rifle and chased Wilson on foot. He called on him to halt three times when he had arrived within hailing distance and when the prisoner refused to stop, he fired and Wilson went down with a bullet through the right leg. He was taken about two miles from town. Wilson is serving a term of two and a half years for burglary and larceny in Bernalillo County and was received here October 25, 1903. His wound is not very serious as the bullet passed through the fleshy part of his leg.

get it. William H. Andrews, the next delegate to Congress, is the man who can do you the most good." Some of the local Democratic and Independent Republicans then came in for a little scoring at the hands of the governor, but it was handed out in a good-humored way, the kind of smiling sarcasm that does more good in politics than the use of invectives and raving denunciations.

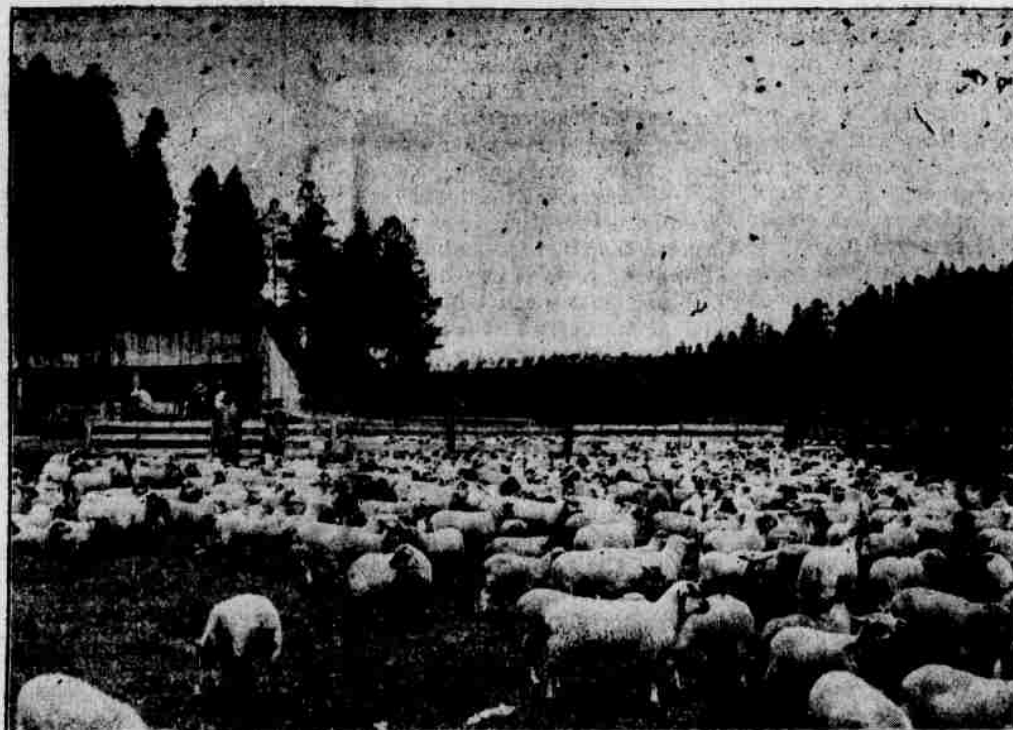

Senator Andrews, at the introduction of the Governor, received an ovation, such as has been rarely given a political candidate in Santa Fe. The Senator only made a few brief remarks, put forth in a straightforward business like manner, a style that pleased the audience. At the close of his address, prolonged cheering shook the building to its foundation. He said that if he could not do for the Territory what he had promised, he would resign and come home. After a selection by the band, Edmund C. Abbott, candidate for the council for this county, was introduced and delivered a forceful speech both on Territorial and local issues. If the audience at the meeting was any criterion, Mr. Abbott will be the next councilman from this county.

In his introduction of George W. Prichard, Governor Otero referred to him as the "silver-tongued orator of Lincoln County." That the Governor did not exaggerate the abilities of the Lincoln County speaker, will be vouched for by all who were present, for it does not occur often that a Santa Fe audience is given an opportunity to hear an orator like Mr. Prichard or listen to an address such as the one he delivered Saturday evening. In his eloquent and convincing manner, he spoke of the issues of the campaign, both national and Territorial, in a way that went straight to the hearts of his hearers and it was a good thing for the Democratic party that the people of New Mexico are unable to vote in the national election, for it is safe to say that the speaker would have made many votes for the Republican nominee for the Presidency. As it was, there is no question but what he made votes for the nominee for delegate, who was present.

Mr. Prichard, in his address, said that there is no independence in politics any more than there is in life. We are all dependent on some one in all the phases of life. Any vote cast for a so-called Independent will be a vote thrown away. "Do not abandon the party," he said, "of Lincoln, Grant, Garfield and McKinley, because some man comes along and says he does not like the governor. No state has been admitted into the Union for its extent of territory, for its aggregate wealth or for the superior intelligence of its people, but because of the constitutional rights of its citizens to be admitted. The man whom we have named to make the fight for us will present the matter to Congress on good business principles and our constitutional rights." His speech was a brilliant effort and scintillated with bright and witty sayings. A number of laughable but appropriate anecdotes added the sauce piquant to the oratorical repast and it is vouched for that any time Mr. Prichard comes to Santa Fe to talk on politics or anything else, he can always fill the house.

It was nearly 11 o'clock when the meeting closed, the best one held in this county during the campaign. It was a grand success, except in one direction, in which a candidate for a local county office allowed his personal feelings to predominate. The meeting did just what it was intended to do, show the people what kind of a man the Republicans of the Territory had chosen as the next delegate to Congress, and to make votes for him.

FALSE AND FRAUDULENT CHARGES AGAIN KNOCKED OUT

Accusations by Democratic--Rodey Campaign Bosses, Recently Published, Fully Demonstrated to be Untrue and Baseless.

The Democratic leaders of New Mexico appear to be as thoroughly at home in discussing financial matters as was the proverbial "pig in the parlor." One of these—that is a Democratic leader—has assayed to refute some of the facts and figures given to the taxpayers by the Republican Central Committee in a pamphlet entitled "The Financial Record of the Otero Administration." After floundering through every conceivable combination of figures, exclamations and scare-heads in large type, this financial genius succeeds in providing two important things. First, that the Otero administration inherited large deficits from Thornton, and second, that the taxpayer pays the taxes.

But what of the argument, if such a jumble of the typefaces can be called an argument? In referring to the bonded debt there appears a statement citing the Democratic treasurer's report for 1896, to the effect that the total debt was then $959,000. An inspection of that report quickly indicates two important flaws in this statement, one being the fact that the addition was not correctly made, and another that a large portion of the total debt was ingeniously tucked away in fine print on the next page. After all of these errors are corrected and the Thornton deficit added, it is found that the debt confronting Otero and the Republicans in 1899 amounted to $1,249,800 as stated by them. Since that date the debt has been reduced at a rate something greater than $75,000 each year, or a total of $395,955 in five years, leaving the net debt today only $854,735, a fact which is easily susceptible of proof by the official records.

The Democratic writer refers joyfully to the small expenditures under Thornton, but neglects to call attention to the fact that even then Thornton spent on an average of $60,000 per year more than he collected. It appears to be one of the principal tenets of the Democratic financial doctrine that unpaid bills do not represent expenditures, and that when the cash is all gone it is all right to pile up deficits for some one else to pay.

The author of the screed in question appears to be especially delighted with the fact that in 1895 and 1896 Thornton spent a total of only $576,949.49. But since he is so fond of citing Treasurer's reports why not refer to that for 1898 on page 5 of which appears the following foot note:

"The excess of the interest payments in 1898 above the annual interest charge represents the payment of arrearages for 1895 and 1896."

Despite that payment, the Republican legislature of 1899 had to meet a deficit in the interest fund, handed down by the Democrats, and amounting to $55,243. As Thornton paid less than $50,000 per year to the educational institutions, none of the principal and little of the interest on the public debt, it remains today an unsolved mystery how he could spend $1,195,205.79 in four years, but our Democratic authority states that such is the fact.

The Otero administration, on the other hand, has nothing to conceal, nor is it necessary to resort to any jugglery with the figures. Here are some important items for 1903:

Paid interest and principal on the bonded debt, $119,261; asylum, penitentiary, schools and charities, $282,475; World's Fair, militia, courts and miscellaneous, $75,751; public salaries $58,069. This last item, by the way, is the one which the Democratic pamphleteer tries to make the public believe is responsible for all the expenses incurred in running our Territorial government today.

The facts are so clear and indisputable that the Democratic party will find it impossible to mislead a single voter by circulating any such hysterical propaganda.

The Democratic campaign managers seem to assume that they make a great hit in such statements as the following:

"In 1897, the last year of Thornton's administration, the extra legislative employees were 36, at an expense to the Territory of $8,480."

Why be so modest, gentlemen, and why tell only half of the story? It is a good one.

In 1897 one branch of the legislature was organized by the Republicans, who determined that they would accomplish at least one reform, and refuse to permit any such raid on the treasury as the Democratic legislature put through in 1895. That fact, and that alone, is responsible for the decrease in legislative expenses in 1897.

But what about the session of 1896, which was controlled entirely by Democrats?

Well, for one thing, the extra employees cost the Territory $31,100 and of that enormous sum more than $20,000 was paid by the illegal creation of a "Special Deficit Fund" which was left for Otero and the Republicans to pay, because, of course, no Democratic administration ever had any cash balance in its treasury. A Republican member of that legislature of 1895 brought an injunction suit to restrain the Democratic auditor from drawing warrants to pay such outrageous salaries to these extra employees. The suit was sustained by the district court, but the opposition succeeded in calling together an extraordinary session of the Democratic Supreme Court, which found no difficulty in authorizing the raid.

The most careful reading of this Democratic campaign document discloses no mention of the facts just cited. We wonder why?

When attempting to discuss the tax levy under the two administrations, the Democrats cite totals only, hoping, we assume, that the taxpayer will not stop to inquire what goes to make up those totals. Let us investigate a bit.

Under Thornton and the Democrats, the average total levy was 9.275 mills each year. Of this total there were used 7.125 mills to pay salaries, etc., leaving only 2.15 mills for all educational purposes, charities, sinking funds and similar necessities. Under Otero the average total levy has been 13.92 mills per annum, of which total only 6 mills are required for all salaries, interest, the penitentiary and miscellaneous funds. The entire balance, amounting to 7.92 mills levied under Otero, is used to pay for education, charities, public improvements and deficit bonds left by the Democrats.

Let the taxpayer contrast these figures, and consider what sort of financial management each represents. Think of a levy of 7.125 mills by Thornton accompanied by deficiencies in the interest fund, as compared with a levy of six mills under Otero with which all expenses are met and respectable balances maintained for an emergency. The increased levies under the present administration have all benefited the children and the taxpayers of New Mexico for they have been applied, to the last cent, to educate the one and pay off the bonded debt of the other. The reduction made by Otero in interest charges alone amounts to more than $22,000 per annum.

The wily financial expert at Democratic headquarters maintains that the taxpayers could well afford to have Thornton leave a deficit, as he spent less than Otero is doing. Four years of Democratic Thornton legislation left a gross deficit of $233,221.74, upon which the annual interest at 5 per cent is $11,661.05, or $116,610.59 in ten years. Now, it may be easier to pay $349,832.54 in 1907 than to pay $233,221.74 in 1897, but it was awfully poor financial management. In fact, no political party has any right to ask for the support of the people when its record shows that it has never yet been able to meet current expenses except by leaving deficits to be made good by successors in office. That is the record of Democracy in this Territory as well as in the Nation at large, and there is not even an exception to prove the rule.

GRATITUDE DEMANDS IT

That Santa Fe Roll Up an Inspiring Majority for Senator W. H. Andrews.

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 7, 1904.
Editor New Mexican:

Tomorrow we will decide who will be our delegate in Congress for the next two years and it is earnestly hoped that the citizens of Santa Fe will vote for their own best interests. For some unknown reason this city was left 18 miles from the main line of the Santa Fe Railway, with the logical result that while Las Vegas and Albuquerque were rapidly increasing in wealth and population we, with superior or at least equal resources and advantages, are hardly able to hold our own. Fortunately for us, without asking us to advance a dollar or buy a share of stock, Senator Andrews backed by Eastern capitalists, whom he induced to assist him, to our great surprise and gratification began the construction of part of an extensive system of railways. With men like Andrews to resolve is to act, and in a short time the first link of his system was opened from this city to the great Rock Island Railway, and we now look

ANDREWS AT ESTANCIA

The People of the Plains Turned Out En Masse to Welcome the Candidate.

SEVERAL GOOD TALKS

Addresses Made by Governor Otero, Colonel Prichard and Colonel Chaves.

Special to the New Mexican.

Estancia, Nov. 7.—The town of Estancia, which owes its very existence to Senator William H. Andrews, royally welcomed the candidate for delegate to congress last Saturday morning as the special train pulled in over the Santa Fe Central to the local station.

Two hundred staunch Republicans, some having traveled over 50 miles stood on the platform and gave one mighty cheer for the friend of the Estancia Valley when Senator Andrews and Governor Otero alighted from the train. Nearly every man had been provided with a large American flag which was waved high in the air accompanied by cries of "Viva Andrews."

The Santa Fe band, always present, formed in line and playing "Dixie," marched to the open square in front of the station immediately followed by the crowd. An open wagon was drawn up and Colonel J. Franco Chaves mounted and introduced Governor Otero. The Governor spoke briefly on the issues of the campaign. He told of the receptions that had awaited the party wherever it had gone on the long speaking tour. He pointed to the Santa Fe Central Railway but half a block distant and to the buildings of the town as undisputed evidence of what the Republican candidate had done for the newly-created county of Torrance.

Senator Andrews was introduced by the Governor. A speech was entirely unnecessary. All knew the candidate, were acquainted with his work and knew that his election to Congress would be a boon to the Territory. Mr. Andrews simply thanked his friends for their ovation and withdrew in favor of Colonel George W. Prichard.

Colonel Prichard spoke for over a half hour and was consequently interrupted by applause. The Lincoln County orator devoted a short time to the principles of the two great parties and then told the people of Estancia a few things about Senator Andrews which they already knew but which are good to repeat.

Following Colonel Prichard, Colonel J. Franco Chaves spoke in Spanish. Colonel Chaves discussed at length what the Santa Fe Central had done for the Estancia Valley. "Many of you remember," he said, "what the condition of this valley was before Senator Andrews caused the laying of the tracks that brought trains into the county and allow our products to be sent back. This town of Estancia where we are now holding a political meeting did not exist before this man who 'does things' fearlessly caused to be invested several millions of capital that could only act to our advancement and growth. Oh, I tell you, my fellow citizens, we cannot show our appreciation in too great a manner. We owe everything to Senator Andrews and Torrance County. I am assured, will cast almost its entire vote for the man who has developed its resources, who has made its very existence possible and who in the future will continue in the work which has only now begun." The conclusion of Colonel Chaves' speech was greeted with long cheers of "Viva Andrews," the whistles from the trains and shops joined in and for three minutes pandemonium reigned supreme.

It was necessary that the party should return immediately to Santa Fe for the rally, which closed the active campaign. The train was delayed however, by those who wanted to have the last word with the candidate. Several life-long Democrats, who had settled in the Estancia Valley, forced entrance to the car and promised to support the head of the Republican ticket with their votes and influence. "We came here from Texas," one of them remarked, "and have always voted the straight Democratic ticket. I reckon when a man lives in a town where he is getting his living because you built it up and he is depending for sustenance for his family on the good you have done the valley, that he would be an ingrate if he would not vote for you. We are not the only ones, either."

ARE FOR ANDREWS.

Gallup, N. M., Nov. 7.—The Independent Republicans are holding a convention in this city today for the purpose of nominating a legislative and county ticket. The ticket will be named tonight and the name of Senator W. H. Andrews, candidate for delegate, will head the ticket.

CAMPAIGN WORK FOR THE DELEGATE.

"The local Republicans have just received a good-sized campaign fund and are drawing on it liberally."—Roswell Record.

That is all you know about it. The New Mexican campaign managers are not foolish enough to send heavy campaign contributions to counties which are known to be strongly Democratic and for that matter not to counties which are not so. The Territorial Central Committee watches over the interests of the candidate for delegate and does not interfere with legislative and county candidates who are expected to do the work in the counties from which they hail. This is what has been done in the present campaign by Chairman H. O. Bursum and Secretary C. V. Safford. Nothing more and nothing less. The result tomorrow will doubtless show that their campaign work for the delegate was effective and brought about the right results.

The Democratic campaign bosses have published estimates on tomorrow's election in which they claim a plurality of 4,000 for their candidate, George P. Money, over Mr. Andrews, regular Republican candidate, and Rodey-Democrat-money candidate for delegate to Congress. Their estimates are about as correct as is the statement that the moon is made of green cheese. According to the best estimates based upon actual canvass, the Senator will have a majority over both Money and Rodey.

THE CASE HAS GONE TO THE JURY.

The campaign is closed, the case of the contesting candidates has gone to the jury of the sovereign American people who tomorrow will render their verdict from which there is no appeal. The testimony has been presented, the closing arguments have been made by each side and tonight, in the sanctity of their homes, the rulers of this nation, the people, will make up their minds finally upon the issues and the men that have been presented to them. By tomorrow evening, the verdict of the nation will have been recorded.

In New Mexico, the campaign for delegate to Congress has been unique in one respect. On the Republican side there has been a frank, manly presentation and discussion of the man and the issues with an entire absence of personal abuse of the opposing candidates. On the other side, the Rodey-Democratic campaign central committee and a few disgruntled Republicans in their speeches and in their papers, have abused and vilified Senator Andrews, the Republican nominee for delegate to Congress.

And why? Was it because he would not join in the disgraceful tirades uttered against the Territorial administration? Because he came to this Territory eight years ago to do its people good by helping them to develop its resources? Because he has brought millions of dollars for investment into this Territory at a time when capital was most needed, and will bring more? Because he has built a railroad for 120 miles through an absolutely undeveloped section of New Mexico and his associates are now constructing a railroad to the Hagan coal fields and to Albuquerque? Because he proposes to bring more millions into New Mexico for the extension of the railroads already built? Because he spent a hundred thousand dollars and more in developing mining properties in Sierra County? Because he has been instrumental in bringing capital here for the systematic working of the extensive Hagan coal fields? Because he has influence in Congress and exerted it at Washington for the past few years on behalf of New Mexico? Because he has given and is giving employment to hundreds of worthy citizens of this Territory? Because he has during his eight years of residence in the Territory accomplished more for the material advancement, development and progress of New Mexico, than all the penny- liners, four by nine statesmen and office-seeking politicians and his personal enemies in all the years of their lives or ever will do even if they waxed as old as Methusalem? Has any man ever done more for New Mexico? Can any man do more? Even if Senator Andrews had not done and accomplished all this he had a perfect right to accept the nomination tendered him by an almost two-thirds majority of a convention representative of the sentiments and the vote of the Republican party in this Territory. It is his indisputable privilege to go, before the people for a decision as to whether they intend to send to Congress a man who has been a lifelong advocate of Republican principles and who can do them more good at Washington than any other man they could name, or someone else advocating other principles and with less power to do this Territory and its people good.

The Republicans confidently place the case in the hands of the jury, the people of New Mexico. They have no misgivings as to the verdict that will be rendered. They believe that Senator W. H. Andrews will be sent to represent the people of the Territory in the Fifty-ninth Congress, not only by a large plurality, but by a decisive majority, and that a wholesome rebuke will be administered to Delegate B. S. Rodey, who has so far forgotten himself and his friends that he worked with might and main to defeat the party that lifted him out of obscurity and gave him the highest office in the gift of the people of New Mexico.

The orators have laid their plans, the voices of praise and of slander are silent, for tomorrow the sovereign people will speak and all alike must bow their heads to the verdict. Great is the commonwealth in which the final appeal is to the ballot box!

The signs of the times, if read aright, show that the Republicans will have a two-thirds majority at least in both bodies of the Thirty-sixth Legislative Assembly. The people will do well to cast their votes tomorrow for the Republican legislative nominees in both houses. If the Republicans do procure a majority in these bodies, the Territory will be sure of the right kind of legislation in the assembly. The Republican legislatures of 1899, 1901 and 1903 have enacted many greatly needed and truly beneficial laws and this record will be kept up, should the party have a good majority in the coming assembly.

Santa Fe County should give a good majority for W. H. Andrews tomorrow. He certainly has proved himself a strong and strenuous friend and benefactor to this city and county and every citizen who has an interest here should reciprocate by voting for him tomorrow and that regardless of politics.

THE NATIONAL LIVESTOCK ASSOCIATION.

A convention of livestock growers under the auspices of the National Live Stock Association, will be held in Denver in January next. This ought to be well attended by New Mexico cattle growers and sheep raisers and that for obvious reasons. The deliberations of the convention will have much influence on the action of Congress in several important matters affecting the live stock growers interests of the Rocky Mountain states and territories. Commenting upon this convention, the Denver Republican says, that the convention of live stock growers which will be held in this city next January will probably be one of the largest meetings of the kind ever held in the West. Preparations are being made for the reception of delegates and other visitors, and from the interest already manifested the gentlemen having these matters in charge are convinced that like interest exists among live stock growers in general.

The first two conventions of the National Association were held in this city, and the men who attended upon those occasions were so pleased with Denver that ever since they have looked forward with hope and pleasure to another meeting. Denver is known throughout the range region as one of the great centers of the live stock industry, where stock growers are always welcomed and made to feel at home. It is the chief convention city of the Rocky Mountains, and the stock men know that everything possible will be done to make their visit pleasant.

The live stock growers take a special interest in Denver for the additional reason that the permanent headquarters of their association have been established here. It is in that sense the home of the organization and hence the most suitable place in which to hold the convention.

Through all its many changes the fact has remained evident that stock growing is one of the permanent industries of this part of the country. It has taken on new forms in the course of its development, so that in some respects it differs greatly from what it was twenty-five years ago. Doubtless other changes are in store. But it will always exist in some form, and upon it the prosperity of the Far West will in a large measure depend. Appreciating this, Denver men will give it all the encouragement within their power and at the same time strive to establish between this and all other points in the range country closer and more valuable relations.

A DISTINCTION WITH A DIFFERENCE.

A part of the present difference between the Republican and the Democratic parties is being treated in unique style by the Kansas City Times, an independent journal, with Democratic leanings, which in this campaign is supporting Roosevelt and Fairbanks on the National Republican ticket and Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri, on the Democratic ticket. The Times very properly says that the strongest point ever urged against the Republican party was that it was largely controlled by special interests and organized wealth, which received unjust favors at the hands of the party through the discrimination of the laws or the non-enforcing of the laws.

Through President Roosevelt the party has reformed to the extent that it has enacted additional laws against the greed of wealth, and these laws and all others have been enforced by the President regardless of political considerations and of party obligations of the past.

As a result, Wall Street and the special class grafters generally have opposed the President. But they have not permitted themselves to be left without an organization. As soon as they saw that they could not control the President, they set about to defeat him. They captured the Democratic organization, mainly by appealing to the South on the score of race prejudice, they nominated Parker on a "safe" platform; they are promoting the Parker candidacy on the most brazen assumption that money rules American elections.

And the Democratic masses, which have been taught from the beginning of the party to uphold true Democracy and beware of a centralized political plutocracy are asked to support the programme.

If the Republicans of Bernalillo County do their duty by their party tomorrow, Senator W. H. Andrews will have a plurality there over both Mr. Rodey and Mr. Money from 1,200 up. If this should be the case, his majority in the Territory will figure away up into the thousands. The New Mexican hopes and trusts that the Republicans of Bernalillo County will do the right thing and vote for Mr. Andrews. Such a course will certainly be for the best interests of the people, of the Republican party and of the voters of Bernalillo County.

The registration in nearly every county in the Territory is greater than it was two years ago at this time. This means an increased vote and also shows that New Mexico is steadily receiving accessions to its population.

VOTE FOR W. H. ANDREWS TOMORROW.

Every business man in Santa Fe County and the city of Santa Fe especially, in Central New Mexico, east of the Rio Grande specifically, as well as in Albuquerque and in Bernalillo County, should certainly give his vote for Senator W. H. Andrews, Republican candidate for delegate to Congress, tomorrow. It should make no difference to what party he belongs. The fact that Senator Andrews induced wealthy capitalists to build railroads in the section named, which will be extended in all likelihood northwest to San Juan County, southeast to Roswell, and south to El Paso, should certainly be reason enough for every business man, every property holder, every artisan and mechanic, and every laboring man to do so. The man who has induced millions of capital to come to New Mexico within the last three years and who is bringing more capital into this Territory at present, is certainly the man of the hour and is doing New Mexico a great deal of good. It matters not what the professional Democratic politician and the Rodey Independents who have an ax to grind or revenge to satisfy, say or what false charges they make against this man. The fact that he has accomplished much and in the future will accomplish still more for the Territory entitles him to the support of all citizens living in the section in which this development has taken place and is now going on. Every good and loyal Republican will naturally vote for Mr. Andrews for the above reasons and because he is a Republican; while well meaning and self-respecting Democrats can certainly do so in this instance for the good of the commonwealth at large and for their own benefit. This is the case in compact form and the facts stated above cannot be successfully contradicted nor talked away. Mr. Money would be of very little use in Congress and everybody knows that Mr. Rodey has no chance of election whatever. Vote for W. H. Andrews tomorrow.

THE PRESIDENT'S KNOCK-OUT BLOW FOR JUDGE PARKER.

President Roosevelt, in his answer to the charges made by Judge Parker, accusing the President and Chairman Cortelyou of absolute misfeasance in office, was given to the country Saturday, and is a knock-out blow which Judge Parker will not soon nor easily recover from. The President in his usual, terse, vigorous and effective style calls the Democratic candidate for the Presidency to order and not only absolutely and unqualifiedly denies Judge Parker's charges, but puts the onus and burden of the proof upon the latter and tells him point blank that neither he nor any other man can adduce the least particle of proof or evidence of the truth of the charges and that they are absolutely and unqualifiedly false.

Judge Parker's speech before the Democratic Club in Brooklyn, Saturday night, was as useless, as wishy-washy and as thin as weak catnip tea. His counter assertion to the denial of President Roosevelt has such a ring of weakness, inconsistency and vacillation about it that sensible and fairly well posted people throughout this broad land cannot give him the benefit of the doubt that he was misinformed, but are bound to conclude that the President's denial is absolutely correct and true and that Judge Parker made assertions concerning the President and Mr. Cortelyou that are untrue in every particular. The most charitable can only conclude that Judge Parker was misinformed and made a grave and serious mistake. The masses of the people have formed not nearly as creditable an opinion of the matter; quite the reverse. They must conclude that the Judge did worse than the making of a simple mistake.

Senator Andrews and the Republican campaign managers have the gratification of the knowledge that the campaign on their side has been clean, effective and honorable, even if strenuous and at times swift. The Democratic-Rodey campaign managers, their speakers and newspapers on the other hand, know to their shame that their campaign has been simply one of un-called-for abuse, mis-statements of facts, slanders and falsehoods. The difference between these two methods of conducting a campaign is very marked and in favor of the Republicans. It ought to, and well posted observers believe, it will redound to the benefit of the Republicans tomorrow.

The esteemed Las Vegas Optic condenses a great deal of fact and truth concerning Senator W. H. Andrews, the Republican candidate for delegate to Congress, in the following editorial lines: "Senator William H. Andrews gained his reputation for being able to do things in the course of his legislative work in Pennsylvania. There he became famous for accomplishing everything he undertook. Senator Andrews' vigorous campaign affords some idea of his energy and determination. He is fearless, aggressive, experienced, persistent; he doesn't know the meaning of defeat and he has the backing of some of the strongest national legislators."

It is expected that Senator Andrews will have from 600 to 1,300 plurality in Bernalillo County. Should this be true his majority in the Territory will certainly be a very large one and under the circumstances of the campaign, a remarkable one.

POINTERS WHY CITIZENS SHOULD VOTE FOR ANDREWS.

The Albuquerque Citizen gives the following good pointers why the voters of New Mexico should elect Senator W. H. Andrews to represent them in the Fifty-ninth Congress:

"Senator Andrews will be in sympathy with the administration in Washington, where a Democrat would be lost."

"Senator Andrews has great influence personally with numerous representatives and senators in the national legislative bodies."

"Senator Andrews is developing the resources of New Mexico."

"Senator Andrews is bringing millions of dollars of money from the east to the pockets of the people of this Territory."

"Senator Andrews is opening up New Mexico by a great system of railways similar to the Denver & Rio Grande of Colorado."

"Senator Andrews understands your needs and is a business man capable of supplying those needs."

"Senator Andrews does not talk. He DOES THINGS."

"Vote for this man who helps YOU; who knows how, can and will help our Territory."

"It will not be safe and sane for the people of New Mexico to send a Democratic delegate to Congress."

The Industrial Advertiser, of Albuquerque, one of the leading Democratic weeklies of the Territory, in editorially referring to the dissensions in the Democratic fold in this county, frankly admits that Mr. Victory would have been the proper candidate of his party, and while regretting his independent fight against Mr. Catron, has this to say of that gentleman: "There is no denying the fact that the Hon. J. P. Victory is a good Democrat, and a good citizen, fully capable of properly and honestly representing the people of his county in the council of the next legislature."

Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, U. S. Army, retired, seems to have dropped from the public view. During the campaign he made one speech for the Parker-Davis ticket and that was enough for Chairman Tom Taggart, and evidently enough for the people, also.

The election of Senator W. H. Andrews tomorrow seems assured, judging by indications and reports received by this paper from every county in the Territory. While Mr. Rodey's candidacy will take a certain number of votes from Mr. Andrews, it is not believed that it can and will seriously injure the latter's success.

Harriman and other Wall Street stock manipulators have been trying to buy up the stock of the Santa Fe Railway, but so far have not succeeded. A good many, and in fact, nearly all of the plutocrats on Wall Street, have been trying to buy up the American voters for the Parker-Davis ticket, but the chances are that they have not succeeded as will be apparent tomorrow evening.

The campaign speeches made by ex-Senator David Bennett Hill in the campaign just closed have helped the Republican National ticket and the Democratic campaign speeches in New Mexico have helped the Republican Territorial ticket. The National Republican committee and the Territorial Republican central committee have no kick coming.

In Santa Fe County the New Mexican can conscientiously and consistently advise voters to vote for the entire Republican ticket with but one exception, and that is the nominee for probate clerk. Outside of this, every candidate thereon is worthy, qualified for the office for which he has been named and will prove a good and honest official, if elected.

In all human probability W. H. Andrews will be elected delegate from New Mexico to the Fifty-ninth Congress tomorrow. Such are the forecasts.

The Republicans will control the Thirty-sixth Legislative Assembly. This is indicated by pretty reliable reports from every section of the Territory.

CARNIVAL WILL OPEN NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Nat Reiss and His Wonderland Will Entertain Santa Fe
Citizens and Visitors for Six Days.

MR. NAT REISS,
Manager the Nat Reiss Southern Carnival Co.

Those who visit the Merchants' Free Street Fair and Carnival which opens on the streets here next Monday, November 14th, for six nights, will pass under a splendid arch studded with electric bulbs, and the spacious grounds will be ablaze with spectacular sights of splendor and dazzling illuminations. Admission to the grounds, which will be crowded with multifarious attractions, will be absolutely free and the spectators will witness the many free aerial acts and attractions provided for their entertainment, and enjoy the music, mirth and revelry of the carnival. Confetti will doubtless fill the air, and add its quota to the many amusement devices and diversions for which the Nat Reiss Southern Carnival Company is famous.

The advance representative of the Southern Carnival Company, Ed Davis, gave the following information regarding his big aggregation:

"The Southern Carnival Company, which comprises a complete 'Pike,' travels in its own train of 20 cars; it furnished attractions for the past seven years for the largest street fair and carnival back east. Nat Reiss, the manager, has ideas and finds it most profitable to eliminate all objectionable features, and presents only clean, moral and refined amusements. The carnivals at El Paso, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Sacramento, Seattle and Vancouver, B. C., Spokane, etc., were a series of successes and the newspapers of those cities were unstinted in their praises of the attractions, shows and features presented, as your exchange will prove.

Everything to amuse, entertain and delight the visitors is to be found among the features of the big aggregation. There are fifteen distinct shows each of which is different from the other, and each one has its own cosy handsome pavilion theater, brilliantly lighted inside and out, and all comfortably seated. Merely nominal prices are charged to the shows. The highest is the Stadium, which charges 25 cents, being the feature show, and having so many performers the price is not considered excessive. The big deep sea diver's show is another expensive attraction and charges 15 cents. The rest all charge 10 cents and are worth much more.

Then, there are many out-door free attractions, several of which are world-famous for daring, skill, and execution. The ferris wheel, camels, steam gondolas with many other amusing diversions, will afford pastime for all.

NEW HOTEL ON SANTA FE

Situated at Bright Angel at the Entrance to Grand Canon of Arizona.

AN ELEGANT STRUCTURE

Will Cost Quarter of a Million and Will Be Opened Early in December.

Nearly everything worth while in the Southwest dates back to Francisco Vasquez Coronado, the Spanish governor of Galacia, who left Mexico in the year 1540, accompanied by several hundred warriors, in search of the mythical seven cities of Cibola.

Coronado and his men found no gold, but they discovered New Mexico, Arizona and other sections of the Rockies. Their most spectacular "find" was the Grand Canon of Arizona.

Chief among Coronado's lieutenants was a brave conquistador named Pedro del Tovar, captain of the detachment that explored and conquered the province of Tusayan, now known as Moki-land. While among the Mokis, Tovar heard of the Grand Canon, which borders old Tusayan on the west. He reported the tale to Coronado, and Cardenas was sent out to verify it.

Though not the first white man to see this train of chasms, Tovar was largely instrumental in its discovery, so when the Santa Fe needed an appropriate name for the new hotel at Bright Angel, "El Tovar" was selected. It was true that Don Pedro, etc., waited for nearly four centuries for immortality, but better men have waited a thousand years and still remain unknown to fame.

It was a far cry from 1540 to 1904. Early in December will be opened the most unique, the most comfortable, the most costly hotel in the Southwest, under management of Fred Harvey, whose reputation as a caterer is national.

Occupying a site 7,000 feet above sea-level, close to the rim of the grandest of canons, at the railway terminus and not far from the head of Bright Angel trail, El Tovar commands a prospect without parallel in the world. A perpendicular mile from rim to river (seven miles by trail) and thirteen dizzy miles across to the opposite canon wall. The roaring Colorado below looks like a silvery thread and its tumult seldom reaches the stillness of the upper air. On three sides are the fragrant pines of Coconino, a government forest reserve, and the largest continuous belt of pine timber in the United States. Everywhere a riot of color and beauty of form, a vision unspeakable.

El Tovar is a long, low, rambling edifice, built of native boulders and pine logs. Expressed with exactness, the width north and south is three hundred and twenty-five feet and from east to west, two hundred feet.

Its lines are in complete harmony with the simplicity of the mighty gorge below. One feels that the architect, Charles F. Whittelsey, of Albuquerque, struck the right key note. There are here expressed a quiet dignity, an unassuming luxury and a love for the great outdoors. Not a Waldorf-Astoria, but such a hotel as the traveler seeking high-class accommodations will find to his liking.

To be more explicit:

The hotel is from two to three stories high. It contains about 125 rooms. The main building and entrance face the east. Ample accommodations are provided for 250 guests. Outside are wide porches and a roof garden, affording extensive views while one is sheltered from the Arizona sun. Boulders and logs for the walls and shakes for the roof, stained a weather-beaten color, merge into the gray-green of the surroundings. The inside finish is mainly peeled slabs, wood in the rough, and tinted plaster, interspersed with huge wooden beams. Triple casement windows and immense fireplaces abound. Indian curios and trophies of the chase are used in the decorations.

One of the most novel features is the solarium; should the day happen to be chilly this is just the place for a sun bath. In the spacious amusement room are billiard and pool tables, shuffle boards and other means of indoor enjoyment. The so-called rendezvous, similar to the lounging room of a country club, is a pleasant spot where friends may meet informally and compare notes of the day's sight-seeing. The main dining room (38x90 feet) has log walls, a rough board arched ceiling supported by great log trusses, and two stone fireplaces. On each side are private dining rooms. Many of the bed-rooms are en suite, with bath. Hot and cold water, steam heat (in season) and electric lights are generously supplied. The cuisine is Harvey's best; everyone who has traveled on the Santa Fe knows what Harvey quality is.

El Tovar is to cost more than a quarter of a million dollars. No money has been spared to get the most up-to-date equipment possible. Take the item of furniture; it is all special arts and

For over fifteen years I have suffered more or less from Impure Blood. About a year ago I had a boil appear on my leg below the knee, which was followed by three more on my neck. I saw S. S. S. advertised and decided to try it. After taking three bottles all Boils disappeared and I have not been troubled any since. GEO. G. FERTIG. 114 W. Jefferson St., Louisville, Ky.

Newark, Ohio, May 23, 1903. From childhood I had been bothered with bad blood, skin eruptions and boils. I had boils ranging from five to twenty in number each season. The burning accompanying the eruption was terrible. S. S. S. seemed to be just the medicine needed in my case. It drove out all impurities and bad blood, giving me permanent relief from the skin eruption and boils. This has been ten years ago, and I have never had a return of the disease. MRS. J. D. crafts designs, combining use and beauty.

Among the minor comforts may be mentioned a telephone in each room with direct office connection. There is not a room in the house where the sun fails to enter at some period of the day.

The protection against fire is very complete, the reserve supply of water in the steel tank being 125,000 gallons. The plant furnishing heat, light and power and water is far enough removed to be unobjectionable.

There are stables and corrals where horses and teams are kept for trips along the rim and down to the river. A search-light has been ordered, to light up the weird canon depths at night.

Adjacent is a Hopi house, built of stones and adobe, exactly reproducing one of the unique dwellings of the Hopi Indians. In this picturesque structure will live several families of Hopi weavers and potters, plying their strange handicrafts. A museum of rare Indian curios will be installed and photos sold.

Mr. Harvey has selected Charles A. Brant as local manager, a gentleman favorably known in hotel and club circles.

The opening of El Tovar adds another strong reason to the many already existing why the Grand Canon of Arizona should be visited on the way to California over the Santa Fe. The Canon itself needs no endorsement. It is the greatest scenic wonder of the world.

ON THE EVE OF ELECTION

General Outlook From All Parts of the Country—Boiled Down Reports.

New York, Nov. 7.—The Republicans will carry the state, although Parker will carry Greater New York. The vote in the up-state counties will off-set his majority in the city.

Both parties are claiming New Jersey, with the chances favoring the Republicans.

The Republicans claim Rhode Island by 10,000. The Democrats also claim it. Democratic confidence increases in West Virginia. They claim everything while the Republicans claim all five congressmen.

No effort is being made by Democrats to carry Nebraska for Parker. They claim fusion governor by from 5,000 to 10,000.

The Republicans in Kentucky claim state for Roosevelt, while Democrats claim it for Parker by between 12,000 to 20,000.

The vote in the cities will decide the election in Connecticut, as the so-called labor vote will be very heavy.

Republicans claim California by 50,000.

Betting in Montana favors success for Republican electors and Democratic state ticket.

Indiana is claimed for Roosevelt by from 20,000 to 35,000.

Republicans in Colorado concede that the National ticket will run ahead of Peabody and both parties claim the state.

At Republican headquarters in St. Louis, it is said that Republicans were never so united and a victory is anticipated though the Democrats claim a majority of 60,000.

Bankers, merchants and business men generally, who are in need of books such as day, journals, cash and ledgers for the year 1905, should not fail to call at the New Mexican bindery or address the same for figures and samples. Loose leaf ledgers of the best kind are also manufactured at the New Mexican bindery. All work is guaranteed to be of first-class material and of the best workmanship and the prices will be found as low as compatible with superior work. The New Mexican bindery is the largest in the Southwest and home people, here and elsewhere in the Territory, should give it preference and support it liberally as it is a home institution and employs quite a force of skilled workmen. Building up home industries helps every business man in many ways.

A new time table is to go into effect on the Santa Fe Railway on next Sunday. The California Flyer will on that day resume daily service, and will bring the bulk of eastern mail in at noon instead of late at night, as at present. There is also talk that direct connection between this city and westward bound No. 1 will be restored, but the local office does not as yet have any notice to that effect or of any contemplated change in the present time of trains.

The largest direct shipment of sheep that ever left this city was taken out in three trains over the Denver and Rio Grande this morning. There were thirty-six cars, containing about 7,000 sheep, and were billed for Wood River, Nebraska, via Denver and the Union Pacific. The sheep were purchased in the southern part of Santa Fe County by E. S. Leavenworth, one of the best known cattle and sheep men of Nebraska, and were driven into this city last night. Some of the cars were attached to the regular morning train, and the others made up two extras, which left here about an hour apart.

The new time card of the Denver & Rio Grande went into effect this morning. On the new schedule, the morning passenger train leaves here at 11 o'clock instead of nine, arriving at Antonito at the usual time, 6:30 in the evening, thus cutting down the running time between Santa Fe and Colorado points two hours. The southbound train will leave Antonito at 8:10 in the morning and arrive here at 3:30 in the afternoon, instead of 5:30, the former hour of arrival. Two new trains will also be put on this week. A local freight will leave here at 8 o'clock on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, arriving at Antonito at 7 p. m. On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, a local will leave Antonito at 7:30 and arrive here at 6:30 in the evening. Both freights will carry a limited number of passengers. Two new train crews will make this city their headquarters on alternate days in consequence of this change.

The funeral of the late George W. Gentry took place yesterday afternoon from the family home on Johnson Street. The services were conducted by Montezuma Lodge No. 1. A. F. and A. ## The Tale of a Tablet

By Charles Austin Hartley.

Copyrighted, 1903, by The Authors Pub. Co.

A keen-eyed, self-contained man walked into the law office of Lorrimer Morton and asked the privilege of writing a note. He was Sylvanus Curry, well known to Mr. Morton as an official in the customs department and an occasional caller at the Morton office.

Mr. Curry was directed to a desk on which was a soft paper tablet. While deliberately sharpening a pencil, he discussed the weather with Mr. Morton, then turned to the desk and wrote on the tablet. Tearing off the leaf, he placed it in an addressed envelope, and walking to the street corner, dropped it into a letter box.

These facts were recalled later, and while appearing trivial at the time, proved to be of great importance in a certain famous case.

Shortly before Mr. Curry's departure from the Morton office, Charles Macklin, a young newspaper reporter, came in, hoping to pick up a few news items. He saw Mr. Curry writing on the tablet, and after he left dropped into the vacant chair and began absently rubbing his lead pencil lightly over the surface of the tablet. Suddenly a word written in white appeared to come up through the black lead. He looked at it for a moment, then proceeded carefully to blacken the whole sheet, which he tore from the tablet and thrust into his pocket, going immediately to his room.

For several weeks it had been known that there was smuggling going on. The editor of the paper on which Macklin worked called his reporters together and stated to them that he had grave suspicions that some official was dishonest, and in collusion with the smugglers. He told them that not a word would be printed about the matter until the case was fully established, with sufficient evidence to convict the accused. He also stated that the paper would pay $500 for an exclusive story of the case, with evidence to back it up at every point.

Macklin knew that if he could win the prize he could count on rapidly ascending the journalistic ladder. That was an incentive for him to do his best, but another was that he loved Myrtle Franklin, the charming daughter of the editor.

This was uppermost in his mind as he read that blackened sheet. He knew that if he reported at the office an older and more experienced man would get the assignment. If he could succeed without assistance he would go to the front with a bound. Should he fail he would be ruined, even in a deeper sense than in the loss of his position.

"I will do it myself or not at all! I will win the $500, promotion and maybe the editor's daughter. I will do this or get kicked from the office," he decided.

Long after midnight Macklin was secreted in a bunch of thick grass near the water's edge at Cool Cove. Listening now he could hear the faint dip, dip of muffled oars, and the lapping of waves, as the prow of the boat touched the sand. A man approached and engaged in low conversation with the men in the boat. Macklin recognized the voice of the man on shore as that of Sylvanus Curry. He directed that certain contraband articles in the boat be taken to a point above tidewater, and buried until the next night, when he promised to come and assist in removing them to a place of safety. He warned the men to be extremely careful, saying he had reason to believe that efforts were being made to apprehend them.

Before daylight, Macklin was back in his room and at work on his story. As soon as it was finished he went directly to Mr. Franklin's private of-

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Roderick, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of this remedy, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. ### A Tale of a Tablet.

Mr. Franklin glanced at the first few lines, looked at the young man, for an instant, and immediately resumed reading. When he had finished the story, he turned to Macklin with a beaming face and asked: "Young man, did you secure this story yourself?" "Yes, sir," was the unassuming response. "It is the hit of the season," said Mr. Franklin, rubbing his hands together, as was his habit when particularly well pleased. "Now, there are just two things for us to do," he continued. "One is to see that Curry and his companions in crime are arrested tonight, in the act of removing the smuggled goods, and the other is to get this story out as soon as they are caught. I will telephone for an officer and lay the whole matter before him."

Macklin accompanied the officers sent to make the arrests. He had a carriage secreted nearby, so that he would be able to dash to the nearest telephone and send in the message which was anxiously awaited in that great newspaper office. At 3 a. m. the pressmen stood ready to set the machinery in motion. Ten minutes passed, but no word from Macklin. The clock over the editor's desk pointed to 3:15, and still all was silence. The editor and his assistants were getting nervous. Mr. Franklin stood near the telephone, ready to pick up the receiver the instant the bell rang. At 3:17 there was a sharp jingle of the bell. Mr. Franklin snatched the receiver and pressed it to his ear. "Hey? Got 'em?" he asked, after listening a moment. "All right." Then he waved his hand to the pressman, and immediately the presses were started with a rush. When Macklin reached the office that morning, he found a check for $500 waiting for him, as well as a shower of congratulations from all the editor down to the office boy. He had the tell-tale sheet from the tablet framed, and a year later, when he began housekeeping, with the winsome daughter of Editor Franklin as the mistress of his home, he hung it in a conspicuous place in his library. It contained only a few words, but they were sufficient to send a dishonest official to prison, and to bring happiness to a shrewd reporter. Here is the message revealed:

"Young man, did you secure this story yourself?"

Bill—Land at Cool Cove tonight. Be careful—we are watched. After this we must find a new landing-place. Do not come before 2 o'clock.
CURRY.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE.

Will Often Help You Greatly. Read What a Santa Fe Citizen Says.

You may hesitate to listen to the advice of strangers, but the testimony of friends or residents of Santa Fe is worth your most careful attention. It is an easy matter to investigate such proof as this. The evidence must be conclusive. Read the following: Juan A. Ortega, ex-policeman, of Loma street, says: "If all troubled with pain in the back have that annoyance ended as quickly as the use of Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Ireland's Pharmacy ended mine then backache due to kidney complaint would cease to have any terrors for users of this very strengthening and curative preparation. No one in Santa Fe needs be the least dubious about using Doan's Kidney Pills if they require a medicine to wash, purify and strengthen their kidneys."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman, writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: 'A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby.' This remedy is for sale by all druggists."

Only Makes a Bad Matter Worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation is caused by a lack of water in the system, and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect, and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25 cent bottle of them. For sale by all druggists.

of fuel. One of the many advantages of the genuine Round Oak Stove is its ability to burn any kind of fuel—hard or soft coal, with or without magazines, coke or wood. It burns all of them equally well, and all its life it will hold the fire all night—all day, too, if you wish. It warms the floor, too, under and around the stove, because the base is small and the grate hangs low near the floor. There is but one Round Oak. The name is on the leg. We sell it.

forward to the inauguration of a broad gauge connecting us with the Denver and Rio Grande standard gauge. Then we will be on the main line of the greatest trunk system in the country. With this accomplished, we may reasonably expect to rival and out-rival our sister cities. I could not help looking with envy at the superb depot and hotel which the Santa Fe Railway Company has erected at Albuquerque and contrasting them with the barn-like structure which has been used as a depot for nearly twenty-five years in this city. We have been talking of building sanitariums and of other methods of increasing our wealth for years without accomplishing anything; suddenly comes this quiet gentleman, spending millions of dollars largely in our own county and giving us what is far better than a dozen sanitariums, which are but doubtful benefits at best. It must be remembered that the construction of the Santa Fe Central gave employment to hundreds of our men and its extension will give employment to hundreds more. Now did Senator Andrews spend these millions of dollars for Republicans only? By no means; they were spent for the benefit of Democrats and Republicans alike; and yet judging from the vile abuse he has received from the leaders of the Democracy one would think he was a public enemy instead of the public benefactor that he has been and is to the Territory and especially to Santa Fe.

An ingrate is the vilest creature on earth, so let us show Senator Andrews that we are grateful men and worthy of his continuous exertions for our material benefit. We can now do this by rolling up such a majority for him tomorrow as will encourage him and his friends to push on to completion the great work they have commenced.

Very respectfully,
A. L. MORRISON.

PROBABLE VOTE BY COUNTIES

Reports Received Today Indicate That Andrews Will Win In a Walk.

The following is an estimate prepared by well-posted politicians and revised up to date by the New Mexican on the probable vote of the different counties in tomorrow's election. This paper, of course, does not vouch for its absolute correctness, but it is in the main a pretty fair estimate and shows that Senator W. H. Andrews is sure of election. A CARD TO SANTA FE COUNTY DEMOCRATS.

To Mr. Catron and the Democratic Voters of Santa Fe County:

Mr. Catron said on Wednesday night last that he was making an effort to purify the politics of the Territory and of Santa Fe County. Think of it! Thomas B. Catron posing as a reformer, a purifier of politics, a laudable ambition, I am sure, but why did he not make the attempt ten, fifteen, twenty, thirty years ago, when he amounted to something in the political affairs of the Territory? Why wait until this late day, when owing to his corrupt methods, his unscrupulous ways and means of gaining his selfish ends, his own party repudiates him; and now that he has lost the greater part of his former prestige he wishes to purify politics. He is so ambitious in his new desires that he is not content to confine his efforts to the party he has so long affiliated with, and was so long master of, but he also has a strong, real, heartfelt, soul-absorbing desire to extend his purifying efforts to the Democratic party, and says "Vote for me and help me get even with Otero and I will purify you." He certainly meant cruelty, and got the words mixed.

I wonder if in his old age he has led himself to believe that the Democrats of this county have forgotten the days between 1890 and 1896?

I wonder if he thinks that these six
