SECOND SESSION OF FIFTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS

Convenes Monday Next in Washington--Forecast of Business to Be Transacted--Hamilton Joint Statehood Bill Will Be Considered.

On the stroke of 12, Monday, the second session of the 58th Congress will be called to order by President Pro Tem Frye in the Senate and by Speaker Cannon in the House. When the gavel of the presiding officers summon the Senators and Representatives to duty, nearly every member will be in his seat, but only routine business will be transacted. The chaplains will pray, the rolls will be called, the regular resolutions of notification will be passed, committees to inform the President will be appointed and adjournment will follow out of respect for the deceased members. The President's message generally is received and read the first day, but the Senate is punctilious in certain matters and is almost sure to adjourn as a tribute of respect to the late Senator Hoar of Massachusetts and the late Senator Quay of Pennsylvania. The message, therefore, probably will not be read until Tuesday.

But there will be enough to attract the crowds which will fill the galleries. The opening of a session of Congress has become a flower show. Immense floral pieces, designed to typify the man, or the State, or the district he represents, are placed upon members' desks in both chambers, often times totally obscuring the man they are intended to compliment. Besides these huge floral emblems, Senators and members are remembered more modestly by simple bunches of flowers. Admiring constituents, clerks in the departments, wives and sweethearts always see that favorites in both Senate and House are favored with flowers. In fact the custom has grown to such proportions that those who are not remembered in the annual gorgeous floral display feel that they have been unconsciously given greater distinction by the omission.

After the opening day, when the message of the President is read, the regular business of the session will begin and the legislative wheels will grind steadily until March 4, 1905. There is plenty to do. The calendars of both Houses are loaded with bills of all kinds; hundreds of new bills will be introduced and committees are ready to report enough to keep Congress busy for 12 months, but in three months Congress probably will do little more than pass the regular annual appropriation bills. There has been some talk of a possible extra session. The result of the November election was scarcely known before this talk began. Heretofore extra session rumors have been held in abeyance until after the election returns have been digested, but this year the discussion began before the President knew how many votes he would have in the electoral college. The only reason why such a session should be called is because there is a demand in certain quarters for a revision of the tariff, but many of the incoming congressmen during the past two weeks have made it plain that they do not want tariff revision and further that they do not want an extra session.

There is one feature of the tariff revision talk that has some substance. More revenue must be had or there must be a curtailment of expenditures. With the increasing annual appropriations, a river and harbor bill, increase of the navy, the Panama canal and other features of extraordinary disbursements, there will be need of more money than present customs and internal revenues provide. An intimation has been made that curtailment will satisfy many congressional leaders, but the majority may determine otherwise, in which event some revenue legislation may be necessary and an extra session for that purpose may be called. But this is said to be a remote contingency and the probabilities, according to the leaders who are here, are that there will be neither tariff legislation nor an extra session.

Coupled with tariff legislation discussion is the subject of reciprocity. A number of proposed reciprocity treaties have been, and still are reposing in the pigeon holes of the Senate. During the coming three months there may be some talk about these treaties, but the indications are they will not be seriously considered. So strong has been the opposition to them that it has never been considered worth while to report them from the Committee on Foreign Relations to which they were referred. There was considerable talk during the last session of Congress concerning tariff legislation and the suggestion was made by several prominent leaders that any revision that was necessary could be accomplished during the short session of Congress, the idea being that revision would be on the lines of reduction and would meet with little or no opposition. If more revenue is needed and it is found necessary to add some internal revenue taxes, opposition may be more pronounced. Revenue legislation of any kind is sure to create considerable talk in the Senate and that means delay. In fact it has become known that under present conditions legislation during the short session is enacted by practically unanimous consent. Any half dozen senators who determine to defeat a bill have the power to do so, with the privilege of unlimited debate. In the House the stringent rules enable the majority to transact all business it desires and so far as that body is concerned there is no difficulty about any legislation that may be attempted, but if the leaders do not want tariff revision or change in the revenue laws nothing will be done.

The unfinished business in the Senate is a bill passed by the House providing for the construction of railroads in the Philippine Islands by a guarantee of five per cent income upon the money invested in such roads. The bill also provides for issuing Philippine bonds for their internal improvements in the islands, and in several other particulars amends the Philippine laws passed by Congress. The bill met with a great deal of opposition during the last Congress, but Senator Lodge, who has it in charge, says he will press it from the beginning of the session and hopes to secure its passage. The principal opposition was to the provision which guaranteed an income to the railroads, and little objection was made to other features of the bill. Another bill for the Philippines, which has been urged by Secretary Taft and the President, as well as nearly every one interested in the Philippines, provides for a material reduction of the duty on sugar and tobacco as well as other Philippine products. In fact free entry of these products has been recommended. The sugar and tobacco interests were strong enough in the past to defeat any substantial reduction, and the law now provides for a duty of 75 per cent of the Dingley rates. A demand for a reduction to 25 per cent has been quite frequently presented to Congress.

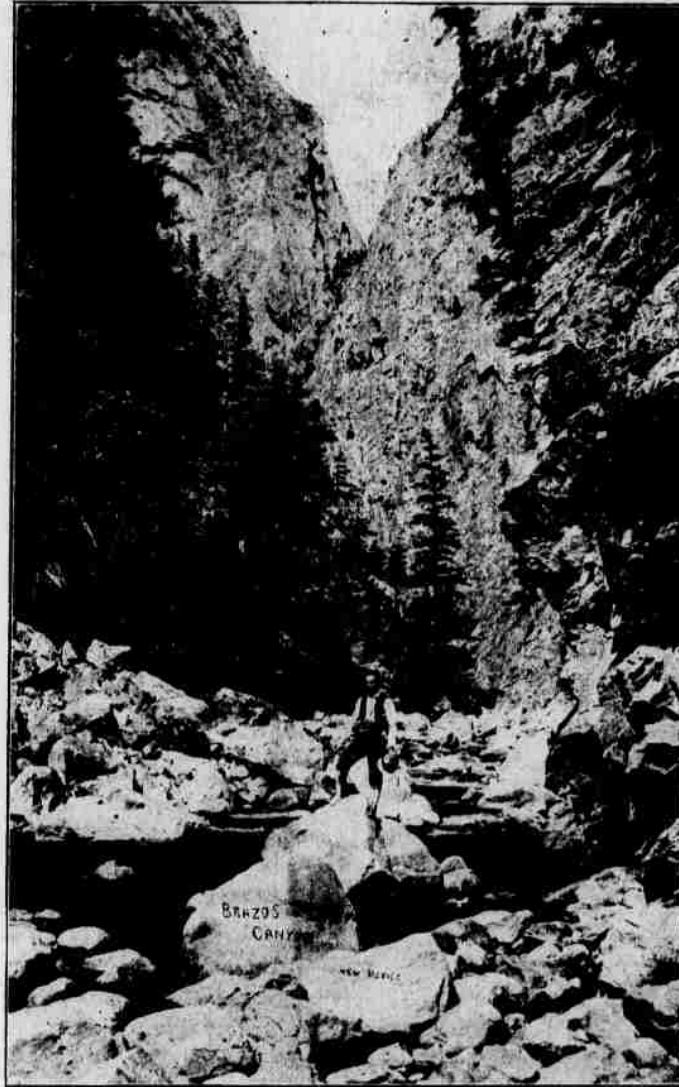

Another measure which received the sanction of the House last session, but which has never been pushed in the Senate is the statehood measure which provides for two States, doubling up the territories of Oklahoma and Indian Territory as one and Arizona and New Mexico as another. This bill, like any other which may encounter opposition in the Senate, could be easily defeated and advocates of a separate statehood for all the territories are likely to pursue that course.

Should the House of Representatives decide to impeach Judge Charles Swayne of the northern district of Florida, the business conditions of the Senate would be complicated. After an investigation, a majority of the House committee on Judiciary in the last session recommended impeachment. Consideration of the resolution was postponed until December 13, the beginning of the second week of the short session. Meanwhile, the Judiciary Committee was instructed to take further testimony, a task it began two weeks ago. Present indications are that the House will not authorize an impeachment, or if it does, the action will be taken so late in the session that the real proceedings will go over until the next Congress. There are precedents for such action in other impeachment cases that have been before Congress.

It is somewhat doubtful if a vote will be reached in the Senate in the case of Senator Reed Smoot of Utah. This case attracted a great deal of attention last session when the committee on Privileges and Elections summoned the heads of the Mormon Church to tell what had been going on of a polygamous character in Utah and thousands of persons petitioned daily to have Smoot ejected from the Senate. A score or more of witnesses are yet to be examined, and the defense has not even begun, so that it is evident that before a report is made to the Senate, the session will be so far spent that no serious attempt will be made to reach a vote upon Senator Smoot's title. Some question has arisen as to whether the case lapses with the end of the present Congress. It was the opinion of the late Senator Hoar that

Ready For The Fight.

Che Foo, Dec. 3.—The Japanese preparedness for an encounter with the Russian second Pacific fleet was evidenced by the officers of French steamer Binh-Thuan, which left Japan November 30th and arrived here today. Near Sasebo they saw the Japanese battleship Mikasa unscathed and evidently fully repaired and painted. Forty miles south of Shantung promontory the officers of the Binh sighted the Japanese battleship Asahi, similarly rehabilitated. Repair work upon the Japanese fleet has been progressing with great secrecy since August. The torpedo-boat and destroyer flotilla is reported to have been maintained in good shape.

LAUNCHING OF THE TENNESSEE

New Armored Cruiser Successfully Floated—Brilliantly and Enthusiasm Attended the Affair.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 3.—Under disappointing weather conditions, which, however, detracted little from the brilliancy of the affair, the armored cruiser Tennessee was launched today at the yards of the Cramp Ship Building Company. The weather was cold and raw and a drizzling sleet fell during the morning. Six-hundred guests however, paid little attention to the weather. Interest was centered in the big warship and its school-girl sponsor, Miss Annie Edith Frazier, daughter of the governor of Tennessee, and a great cheer went up as she broke a bottle of champagne on the bow of the cruiser.

Members of Alleged Gang of Pretended Constables Were Raiding Slot Machines in Suburban Liquor Houses.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 3.—Members of an alleged gang of pretended constables, who had been raiding slot machines in suburban saloons encountered a severe check today at Blue Island. Among the persons arrested for participating in the fight were two wearing stars bearing the words "Cook County Constable."

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—"I know of only one reason why Governor Odell should not control the legislature and the election of a U. S. senator to succeed Chauncey M. Depew and that is Odell promised positively, ten days before the election, to Depew and myself that he would not interfere."

The foregoing statement was made by Senator Thomas C. Platt, of New York, today to newspaper men who called on him. Senator Platt added that he was sure Depew would be re-elected.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Solicitor General Prichard Gives Official Opinion Defining Its Powers and Duties.

NO EXAMINATIONS

Can Be Prescribed—Qualifications Necessary to Practice Medicine in Territory Clearly Defined By Law.

The following opinion by Solicitor General G. W. Prichard, given at the request of Dr. George W. Harrison, president of the Territorial Board of Health and defining the powers of that body under the present statute will be found of general interest:

Santa Fe, N. M. December 1, 1904. Dr. G. W. Harrison.

President New Mexico Board of Health. Albuquerque, N. M.

Dear Sir:—Your inquiry of the 26th, ult., regarding the powers of your Board to license persons to practice medicine, and whether the vendors of and peddlers of drugs, nostrums etc., except licensed druggists are required to pay a license notwithstanding the Interstate Commerce Act of Congress, has had my consideration.

To your first inquiry, "Are we required or authorized by our present law to examine applicants to practice medicine in New Mexico", I have to say, that the third section of the Medical Act, approved March 12th., 1903. Among other things it provides "That the Board shall upon the production of evidence satisfactory to it, license any reputable person who is a graduate of a Medical College in good standing, as defined by the Act 'to practice medicine etc.'"

The examination of the Board under this provision extends only to the production of satisfactory evidence of the applicant being a graduate of a Medical College in good standing as defined by the Act, and to the question of such person being a reputable person. This provision of the law does not contemplate any examination, as to the ability of the applicant to practice medicine, beyond the fact that he must be a graduate of a Medical College in good standing. So it would seem under this provision that your Board must be satisfied of two things, as a condition upon which to issue a license. First, the applicant must be a reputable person, and, second, he must be a graduate of a medical college in good standing.

I do not understand that your Board is authorized to admit any one to practice medicine, who is not a graduate of "A Medical College in good standing," as defined by the Act. The maxim "expressio unius est exclusio alterius," applies in this particular. The fact that the Legislature specifically provides the class of persons to whom your board may issue a license, negatives the conclusion that it can license any one else.

In your second inquiry you ask "Are we not obliged to put on our list of colleges in good standing, every College in the United States of America which we are satisfied complies with the different provisions of the Medical law?" As to this inquiry my judgment is, that your Board cannot arbitrarily exclude a College in good standing, from your list of Colleges. In other words, the act referred to defines what a "College in good standing" is, and if upon proper inquiry you find a college comes within the definition of the law, that college should be entered upon your list. If it were otherwise, then it would be in the power of the Board to defeat the purpose of the act in this particular—a power evidently not intended by the Legislature.

You further inquire whether your Board has not full authority to refuse to list any College which has not in the Board's opinion, ample clinical facilities such as are furnished in large cities. The clause quoted being one of the elements that make up "A College in good standing" under the Act, it follows that your Board has the right to inquire into the fact as to whether the College "has ample clinical facilities such as are furnished in large cities," and your board has the right to satisfy itself as to this fact, as well as to other facts constituting "A medical college in good standing."

You desire to know as your final inquiry, whether section 8 of the Medical Act is not operative notwithstanding the Interstate Commerce law.

In this inquiry, you should have called my attention to some particular violation of the law if in your judgment the law has been violated, so that my answer might have been more specific than under the circumstances it can be. I may say generally, as to section eight

A DAY OF BAD FIRES

Two Deaths Resulted and Many Were Injured While Escaping From Burning Structures.

FLAMES DAMAGE "PIKE"

Popular Thoroughfare on World's Fair Grounds Ruined--Sanitarium Guttered--Massachusetts Town Suffers.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 3.—A further investigation by the police and the Jefferson guards of the fire on the "pike" at the World's Fair grounds early today strengthens the belief that it was of incendiary origin. The fire destroyed the streets of Rome and Quo Vadis, and partially destroyed Fair Japan, On the Bowers and Old St. Louis.

One suspect, Arthur V. Dunn, who gives his occupation as a waiter, was arrested. He has been identified by a watchman of the Moorish Palace as the man seen running away from the building in which the fire started. Dunn was found in the "Hereafter" sometime after the fire started, by a Jefferson guard, who discovered a blaze in that building. Dunn said he had gone to that building to put out the fire there, which consisted of a large pile of newspapers. He could not give a satisfactory explanation of his movements and was held.

Three other suspects were arrested, but released after an investigation. A waiter named Alexander Dickson, and called "Scotty," was asleep in a building near where the fire started and is believed to have been burned to death. Two Japanese who were asleep in Fair Japan, were badly injured before being rescued.

Hospital Partially Destroyed.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 3.—One man was burned to death and four young women severely injured by jumping from the windows and in running through the flames while escaping from the nurses' home of the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium, which was partially destroyed by fire early today. The man was Frank Roberts a fireman employed in the Sanitarium, who lost his life in his attempts to save the nurses. Besides those injured, fifteen nurses had narrow escapes.

Town Almost Wiped Out.

Hyannis, Mass., Dec. 3.—Fire that broke out here shortly after midnight destroyed 13 structures, including the Universalist church. William P. Lewis, a retired shipmaster, dropped dead of heart failure induced by the excitement and exhaustion attendant upon his efforts to save his residence from the flames. The loss to property damaged is estimated at $150,000.

HANDWRITING EXPERT TESTIFIES

Damaging Evidence Produced in Denver Election Frauds--Examination Only Begun.

Denver, Colo., Dec. 3.—George King, the hand writing expert, appointed by the supreme court to examine the ballots in the ballot box of Precinct 9, ward 5, which was opened yesterday afternoon by order of the court, testified today in the proceedings against the officials of that precinct who are charged with contempt of court, that nineteen of the 325 ballots had been written by the same person. It further appears from King's testimony that 57 of the ballots in the box had been written by ten persons; There were 52 Democratic ballots which were written by nine persons. The highest number written by any one person was nineteen and the lowest was two. Five Republican ballots were written by one person.

BANK PRESIDENT ACQUITTED.

Beaumont, Texas, Dec. 3.—The jury in the case of the United States vs. J. P. Withers, former president of the American National Bank of Beaumont, charged with the embezzlement and misappropriation in 1902 of $38,000 of the bank's funds, returned a verdict of not guilty today.

(8) of the Statute, that the law on Interstate Commerce does not effect the operation of the act where a traveling vendor or peddler is vending or peddling broken packages of drugs, nostrums, etc. As to all such cases the license imposed by the statute in my opinion is lawful, and a violation of the statute in these respects subjects the offender, the traveling vendor or peddler to a fine, or imprisonment in the County Jail. Of course, licensed druggists are excepted from the operation of the statute. In this connection I might cite a number of cases in which the Supreme Court of the United States has given opinions in accordance with the view I have upon this subject, and as above expressed.

Yours very respectfully,
GEORGE W. PRICHARD.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

EXTRA LEGISLATIVE EMPLOYEES IN THE THIRTY-SIXTH ASSEMBLY.

It is patent to even the casual observer that the number of employees allowed by the United States to do the clerical and other work connected with the sessions of the Thirty-sixth legislative assembly is inadequate and that some additional help must be employed to do clerical, stenographic and translating work in order to enable the members to perform the important labors imposed upon them speedily and correctly. Right here, however, this paper will say that no unnecessary employees should be put on and the list should be kept down to as low a figure as possible. No right minded citizen would object to this as it is absolutely necessary. There should be no abuse of the confidence placed in the membership of the next legislative assembly by the people and legislative employees' expenses should be held down at the lowest possible point. The past record of neither of the two great parties in this Territory is clean in this regard and this will be a good time for the Republican party, which has a two-thirds majority in both houses, to make a change for the better and to inaugurate more economical and wholesome methods in that line. There is no use in crying over spilled milk and nothing is made by crimination and re-crimination, but the time for a change has arrived and the New Mexican hopes and trusts that the Republican majorities in both houses will take advantage of it and act for the best interests of the people and of the party.

PROPOSED INCREASE OF SALARIES.

It is proposed to introduce at the next session of Congress a bill to raise the salary of the President of the United States from $50,000 to $100,000 a year, of the Vice President from $10,000 to $20,000; of Senators and Representatives from $5,000 to $10,000 a year and of other high national officials in proportion. Such a measure should become law for it is a notorious fact that this Nation pays its high public servants niggardly salaries. To go to Washington in any official capacity invariably means a financial sacrifice that but few persons of limited means can make for any length of time. Unless this is to be a government by rich people only, salaries should be raised to a point at which even a poor man can afford to go to Congress or to sit in the President's chair.

Severo Sanchez, who was county commissioner of Bernalillo County for some time and was ousted from office and reinstated and put back again and the good Lord only knows what else, has finally resigned and the resignation has been accepted. The New Mexican suggests that Attorney W. B. Childers, who is the legal advisor of the ousted and reinstated county commissioner, procure a mandamus compelling Mr. Sanchez to withdraw his resignation and act again in the office from which he was ousted and from which he has also resigned. One more or less legal proceeding will not matter much and will mix things all the better. If not why not?

The town of Artesia but a little over a year old, is growing and that steadily it deserves to as it has progressive and energetic citizens. One true sign of its speedy advancement is found in the following item from the Artesia Advocate: "The Advocate has in contemplation the installation of a fine Craton power press in the near future, and will be prepared to give Artesia a paper worthy the pride of its people. We hope to have it put up within the next thirty days."

Pauline Hall, the actress, has received another final decree of divorce. Some one who has kept tab on the round Pauline says it is only her twenty-first.

"THE GET SOMETHING FOR NOTHING IDEA BAD."

As far as Uncle Sam's mails are concerned all guessing contests must in the future be stopped. They are a favorite scheme of advertisers and newspaper subscription solicitors, but their tendency is altogether in the wrong direction. The desire to get something for nothing, or in return for a lucky guess; lies at the bottom of all gambling, and gambling is a virtue that ought not be cultivated at American firesides. It has spoiled the career of many a good worker, who would be of use to the world and a credit to himself, were it not for the fact that he has fallen a victim to the "get something for nothing idea," that is diametrically opposed to the principle that a man ought to give an equivalent in honest toil, mental or muscular, or in money or products for everything that he gets.

NEW MEXICO CELERY.

According to the Alamogordo Daily Journal "the mountain sections of Otero and Lincoln Counties lead in quality of celery produced in the territory. The best quality of celery and the greatest quantity per acreage is grown on Spring Ranch, near Piecho, Lincoln County. It has always seemed strange to us that more celery is not grown in New Mexico." Santa Fe will hardly leave the above claim go unchallenged and Roswell also has an idea that it raises the best and the most celery in New Mexico. The Rio Grande valley produces very fine celery and it would take an expert to tell whether or not it is superior to Lincoln and Otero County celery. The territory can stand a wholesome rivalry in celery growing and when the New Mexico Horticultural Society holds its next agricultural and horticultural exhibition and fair at Santa Fe, the rival claimants will have a chance to determine the controversy as to which section raises the best celery.

It is none too early for the New Mexico Horticultural Society to plan an old time agricultural and horticultural exhibit. The other fairs held in different parts of the Territory run to sporting events or are local in their character and therefore do not give that impetus nor awaken that interest that a territorial exhibit of agricultural and horticultural products would, or at least should. The Santa Fe Board of trade might work hand in hand with the Horticultural Society in this matter.

There is a great drouth prevailing in Kentucky and in many of the churches of that state prayers are being offered and have been offered praying for the intervention of Providence and for rain. When a similar thing happens in New Mexico, eastern newspapers make a point against the Territory claiming that its people are superstitious, and away behind the times. In this as in many other instances in life, it makes a great deal of difference whose ox is gored.

E. J. Crandall, immigration agent of the Santa Fe Railway system, announces that he will colonize several thousand German, Swede, Polish, Finnish, Russian, Norwegian and Bohemian farmers in the San Joaquin Valley, California. Couldn't Mr. Crandall make New Mexico a Christmas present of that kind?

Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany has written a comic opera. A dollar to a doughnut that he did not take for a subject the trial of two soldiers who were sentenced to five years in prison for defending themselves against a drunken sergeant who had insulted a young woman they were with and who attacked them with a sword.

A Chicago woman has brought suit for divorce because her husband compelled her to memorize pages of Webster's Dictionary. She ought not complain. Suppose he had compelled her to memorize the trash which appears in some of New Mexico's Democratic newspapers.

Times change and men change with them. A Connecticut Socialist won $10,000 on the result of the recent election and he is a Socialist no longer. He has become a bloated capitalist and does not care to divide his newly acquired wealth with any one.

DISCOURAGED

The expression occurs so many times in letters from sick women to Dr. Pierce, "I was completely discouraged." And there is always good reason for the discouragement. Years of suffering. Doctor after doctor tried in vain. Medicines doing no lasting good. It is no wonder that the woman feels discouraged. Thousands of these weak and sick women have found health and courage regained as the result of the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"In the year 1892 I was taken sick," writes Mrs. Edna Crowder, of Ripley, Lauderdale Co., Tenn. "My limbs ached, I had severe pains in back and lower part of bowels, with difficulty in urination, and smarting and burning pain after I tried many kinds of medicine and four of the best doctors in the country, until I gave up all hope of recovery. In January, 1901, I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and received from him a letter, telling me to try his medicine. I took eleven bottles, six of 'Favorite Prescription,' five of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' one vial of 'Pills,' and used one box of 'Lotion Tablets' and one of 'Healing Suppositories,' and am now able to work at anything I want to. Thanks to you for your valuable medicine and kind advice."

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. R. V. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The proceedings would end with the Congress and an entire new case would have to be commenced if it was found desirable to continue the case against Mr. Smoot.

The last session passed a bill providing for a commission composed of five senators and five representatives to investigate and report a measure for restoring the merchant marine of the United States. The commission was instructed to report on the first day of the coming session, and it is expected that this will be done. There has been a great deal of anxiety manifested by men of both political parties to secure legislation of this character, and if any measure can be agreed upon which will receive the support of both parties, it will no doubt be speedily passed.

Some doubt exists among the members of both houses as to whether additional Chinese exclusion legislation is necessary. It has been held that the law would expire this month as it was founded upon a treaty which also expires. A new treaty is being negotiated and an exclusion law to meet its terms may be necessary. The people of the Pacific coast have been insisting upon more rigid exclusion than that known as the Platt law, and if the question is brought up there will be quite a lengthy debate.

Senator Dillingham has reported bill amending the immigration laws, bill amending the immigration laws, and it is his intention to push for its consideration. The principal feature of the bill is a provision for an agent of the United States, accompanied by a surgeon, to be stationed at all important European immigrant ports to inspect aliens seeking admission to the United States. It also provides for a head tax of $2 an immigrant.

Three years ago when Congress assembled a flood of bills were presented for the protection of the President and those in line of succession. Some of these measures were reported and even reached the stage of conference between the two houses when the 57th Congress expired. On the Senate calendar is a notice given by Senator Hoar last April that on Tuesday, December 6th, he would ask the Senate to take up and consider a bill for the protection of the President. Whether or not some member of the Judiciary committee will push the measure now that the Massachusetts senator is dead is not known. There is serious opposition to the bill as it stands and unless it is materially modified it probably could not pass.

Currency legislation will be talked about, but it probably will not be enacted. The Aldrich bill, the Nelson bill, the Fowler bill and the Hill bill as well as a number of others, are pending before committees, but no one has shown any particular desire to have them passed. In fact one measure is antagonistic to another and, with no apparent danger to the finances of the country, those who are not experts in the matter of currency law cannot be induced to push these measures forward to the exclusion of other business.

Reduced representation in Southern States which have by one form or another disfranchised negroes will be a theme of discussion, but not action, during the winter. The Republican national platform is interpreted by some of the more radical members of the party to call for such reduction, and they will go at the subject from the beginning. It is well understood that to bring about anything like a reduced representation would require much more time than a three months' session of Congress, which expires by limitation.

No doubt a number of bills to prohibit or control campaign contributions will be presented, as that matter became an issue at the close of the recent campaign. Just how it can be reached is yet to be ascertained, as there are so many ways in which a law of this kind can be avoided.

The trusts will receive attention, at least in debate, although some doubt is expressed about any effective legislation being passed. Following a campaign in which the trusts were made a vital issue it is natural to expect that there must be a great deal of talk on the subject whenever there is an opportunity.

Interstate Commerce legislation in some form or another is always pending in Congress, and there may be an effort to enlarge the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission so as to allow it to fix rates. Railroad interests have and will continue to oppose this measure. Another pending measure is to permit pooling, and this is opposed by the shippers. With so much contention, there is little prospect that anything will be done. A bill to amend the law for the safety of employees of railroads has been reported, and it is expected that it will pass.

A bill which has agitated Congress for a number of years providing for eight hours work only, on all government contracts, no doubt will be reported from the Senate committee on Labor, which has given much time to hearings. A bill of similar character was lost in the last Congress by being crowded out by other business. The same fate may await this measure should it be reported from the committee.

Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, has given notice that he will call up the pure food bill during the first week of the session, and the friends of the measure hope to have it passed. But there is strong opposition which will take advantage of the Senate rules to attempt to defeat the measure by delay.

A measure which created a great deal of interest in the last session and which no doubt will cause considerable discussion if it comes up again, is a bill providing for several large camp sites in different sections of the country, for the use of the regular army and militia for drill purposes. The localities most likely to get sites if the bill becomes a law are energetically pushing it to the front, while disappointed rivals are opposing it.

Senator Fairbanks, who has only three months to serve as a senator before he becomes Vice-president, and who as chairman of the committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, has endeavored to secure a bill providing a building for the Departments of State, Justice and Commerce and Labor, will try to bring about a favorable action on the bill in the ninety days he is to remain a national legislator. There are other public building bills pending, but it is not expected any general omnibus bill will be pushed at this session.

Irrigation has become a permanent legislative topic. Interwoven closely with the public land question, it has resulted in setting two house committees by the ears and creating a wide difference of opinion among senators from western states. Several measures intended as amendments to the irrigation law have been suggested and are before Congress. If the western men were united they no doubt could secure some legislation, but being divided, it is quite likely that nothing will be done.

Two years ago in the long session of Congress a river and harbor appropriation bill was passed, but it was omitted in the session which ended last April. It is the intention to pass a bill at this session and the men having it in charge, remembering that four years ago Senator Carter of Montana talked a river and harbor bill to death, will make every effort to have it presented early and gotten out of the way of another such contingency.

A number of bills for Alaska have come over from the last session, the most important being those providing for a delegate from the territory and for governmental aid in building roads. Both met with serious opposition last session and there is no intimation that there has been a change of sentiment during the recess.

Bills to reorganize the consular service have been reported to both houses, but so far they have not been popular enough to secure a majority vote in either body.

It is not yet known whether there will be any legislation relating to the Panama Canal, although it may be necessary when Secretary Taft makes a report of his personal investigation of conditions in the canal zone.

As usual, the regular appropriation bills will contain legislation that cannot get a hearing in any other way. Notwithstanding the stringent rules against "riders" on appropriation bills, the short session is prolific with such riders for claim bills, land legislation, and in fact all kinds of measures that would fare badly if left to themselves.

Among other bills of public interest pending in the Senate or House are the following: Providing for the transportation of naval and other stores in American built ships; for the protection of forest reserves and the creation of additional reserves; for the payment of $200,000 to Ex-Queen Liluokalani; to amend the act for the suppression of lottery traffic; to make liquor transported by interstate traffic subject to the laws of the state where it is sold.

One day during the morning session will be devoted to counting the electoral vote cast for the President and Vice-president. The ballots of electors of the different states are sent to the president pro tempore of the Senate and on the second Wednesday in February, the Senate with the 45 ballot boxes, one from each state, will proceed to the House, canvass the vote and declare the result. It is an interesting fact that although all machinery is provided for the election of a President and Vice-president and for the official canvass and declaration of the vote, no provision is made for officially notifying the men elected. Both President Roosevelt and Senator Fairbanks will have to take the proceedings of the joint session of Congress as their notification of the result of the recent election.

Two senators are to take oath of office, Philander C. Knox, the successor of Senator Quay from Pennsylvania, and W. Murray Crane, the successor of Senator Hoar from Massachusetts, both seats having been made vacant by death since the last session. Two chairmanships of committees may be filled at the coming session. The Senate never filled the vacancies at the head of the Inter-oceanic Canals committee after the death of Senator Hanna and Senator Hoar's death leaves a vacancy at the head of the important committee on the Judiciary. In all probability Senator Platt of Connecticut will be the acting chairman of Judiciary, as Senator Platt of New York has been the acting chairman of the Canal committee.

When your child is ill you dislike to make it take bad tasting medicine. Hence it is well to know that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is very pleasant. But it is a medicine, a strong medicine.

Time and time again we have published the formula of this cough medicine in the principal Medical Journals of this country and Europe, and have mailed it to nearly every physician in the United States.

So it follows that when your doctor orders it for coughs, colds, bronchitis, or consumption, he knows precisely what he is giving.

Physicians recommend their families to keep it on hand.

MINOR CITY TOPICS

John B. Rouse, an employe of the Santa Fe road at Raton, is in the city, a guest of Santa Fe friends.

S. Spitz, the jeweler, has an elegant stock of Christmas goods. See him before buying your Xmas presents.

Benjamin Bishop, of Prescott, Arizona, who was in the city for several days and a guest at the Claire, has gone to Antonio.

S. Spitz, the Plaza jeweler, has just received an elaborate stock of everything that is up-to-date in the jewelry line direct from the east. Call and be convinced.

The branch train for Lamy did not leave here today until 1 o'clock this afternoon as the train from the south and west was reported three hours late.

William Fewel, of Raton, arrived in the city last evening for a visit with friends for several days. He is a native of Santa Fe and lived here for a number of years.

Santa Fe and vicinity were treated to the second snow storm of the season early this morning. Snow fell for several hours and the ground was covered to a depth of about two inches. It will result in much benefit to vegetation of all kinds.

Word has been received here that C. C. Bartlett, who recently left this city where he spent several months for his health, is lying at the point of death in El Paso. He was at Sunmount for several months.

This morning's fall of snow, although light in the city, was quite heavy in the mountains and Manager Frank Owen, of the Santa Fe Water & Light Company is much pleased. He says that it practically assures plenty of water for irrigation as well as domestic purposes for the coming year.

The postoffice receipts of Denver for November were 15 per cent greater than the receipts of the same month a year ago. The postoffice receipts of Santa Fe show an increase of 17 per cent in the same month. During November there were sold 21,682 two cent stamps; 7,384 one cent stamps; 1,339 stamps of higher denominations; 98 stamp books, 1,130 postal cards and 9,720 stamped envelopes.

Rev. A. P. Morrison, superintendent of the New Mexico English Mission work of the Methodist church, arrived in the city last night from El Paso and will occupy the pulpit at St. John's Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow morning and evening. At the morning service the communion of the Lord's Supper will be administered. This is Dr. Morrison's first quarterly visit to Santa Fe for this conference year and his presence should call out large congregations.

Sheriff Carlos Baca, of Valencia County, who has been at work on the Chaves assassination case, was in the city over night and left this morning over the Santa Fe Central for Torrance, and he will again visit the scene of the crime at Pinos Wells. He said yesterday that there was very little evidence of any kind which could be used with any definite result so far as the detection and capture of the assassins is concerned, but hopes to find a clue that will be of use in the next few days.

Brick sidewalks and crossings are quite a comfort on snowy mornings, especially to the business men and employees who go to work about 7 o'clock. The business community is therefore very unanimously in favor of the extension of brick sidewalks and the building of vitrified brick street crossings on the leading business streets and residence avenues of the city. The city administration will make friends and increase the comfort and health of the residents and sojourners in Santa Fe by pushing the construction of sidewalks and crossings.

A. B. Baca, of San Marcial, who is in the city on business, is very well acquainted with Domingo Valles, who is in the county jail on a charge of complicity in the murder of the late Colonel J. Frank Chaves. He said that Valles lived in Socorro County for several years and up to three months ago had been living there. He has a bad record in that section of the country. Six years ago he stabbed Leandro Baca, the present sheriff of Socorro County, and has been several times accused of cattle stealing. At the last term of the U. S. court in Socorro County he was indicted for adultery.

At a meeting of the Board of Regents of the College of Agriculture & Mechanic Arts at Mesilla Park Thursday last, Miss Maude E. McPle, the accomplished daughter of Judge and Mrs. John R. McPle, was elected instructor of vocal music and will assume the duties of her position about the first of the year. Miss McPle has been in Europe for about a

WILSON HEATERS!

Does it with ordinary soft coal or hard coal. This stove is the ideal heater, because the fire is never out, the rooms are heated evenly, and, best of all, it uses less coal than other stoves. In fact, we warrant it to save one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove same size. WILSON HEATER will burn briskly in the morning, with coal put in evening before, simply open draft.

DON'T PUT UP WITH YOUR OLD STOVE ANOTHER YEAR

It's false economy. WILSON HEATER saves its cost in fuel every year and gives most satisfactory heat. It is clean and sold under positive guarantee.

If you enjoy the luxury of dressing in warm rooms without the necessity of kindling new fires, try the WILSON HEATER!

Chrysanthemums.

BY FRANK H. SWEET.
 (Copyright, 1902, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)
 She was kneeling just inside the fence, stirring and patting the already prepared soil of a flower-bed with a pearl-handled trowel, ordered especially for this first summer in the country. And as she stirred and patted, her lips murmured a few bars of a French labor song, and her brow wrinkled and smoothed with the motions of the trowel. She was pretty with the winsome, clinging beauty of the vine; and on her lips and dimpled cheeks was the delicate bloom of outdoor toil, or exercise—or was it inexorable health?

Presently she arose and surveyed her work critically, approvingly. There were many little curves and scallops and much scroll-work tracery. Certainly it was very nice and artistic. All it lacked now was the flowers.

The costly white gloves which reached to her elbows were discolored with the soil she had been manipulating, and she regarded the stains with pensive satisfaction. Then, as approaching footsteps sounded upon the sidewalk, she took the trowel and made a dark line across what she considered a too-large space of white. A laborer should not be ashamed of the marks of his toil. As she raised her eyes she looked straight into a pair of admiring ones on the opposite side of the fence.

The man's gaze was averted instantly, and he would have passed on, but she stepped to the fence with a pretty, impulsive gesture.

"Aren't you Mr. Ware of the next cottage beyond?"

"Yes."
 "Well, I've been admiring your flowers," frankly, "and—yes, I may as well confess it, I was in your greenhouse yesterday and spoke with your gardener. He said you had the finest chrysanthemum in all the country round last fall—prize takers, and all that."

"Yes, I had some very fine ones, I believe," he answered, smiling back at her, "and they took several prizes at the fair."

"How lovely!" clasping her hands. "I dote on chrysanthemums—most of my china has chrysanthemum patterns, and my latest ball gown is figured with them. You see," raising her hand so that the tip of one of the discolored glove fingers pressed a dimple in her cheek, "I'm counting so much on them for my summer's pleasure in the country. I mean to have beds and beds, and borders and borders, and I want them all to be lovely prize-takers. I know pretty much everything about them, of course, for your gardener said they only bloomed once a year, and that they had all kinds of colors, and that they needed oceans of water. But maybe he forgot something, and I don't want the least bit of mistake about anything. Now this bed," turning and regarding the little circle of disturbed soil anxiously, "has cost me a lot of thought and labor. I've been telling in it—with my own hands, mind you—more than half an hour, and of course I can't risk any uncertainty. It's all ready now for its up-hoistering—no, I mean it's farming. Will you tell me where I must get the prize flowers, and would I better plant them or just stick one side in the ground for—oh slips—aren't it slips they're called?" looking up into his face confidently and nodding on "of course it's slips, but I want to hear you say so."

"Why, no, I'm very sorry, but you're mistaken," he answered, admiring the delicate color which came and went in her face, and glad to know that the face belonged to the next cottage, and would remain there all summer. "You see, it's bulbs. My gardener had a great box full come the other day, and he's so choice of them he'll scarcely let me go near the box for fear I'll get something mixed. Of course they're the prize-takers. He puts the bulbs in the ground and covers them

RECTOR OF ST. LUKE'S,

Ashburnham, Ontario, Testifies to the Good Qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Ashburnham, Ont., April 18, 1903.—I think it is only right that I shall tell you what a wonderful effect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has produced. The day before Easter I was so distressed with a cold and cough that I did not think to be able to take any duties the next day, as my voice was almost choked by the cough. The same day I received an order from you for a bottle of your Cough Remedy. I at once procured a sample bottle, and took the medicine. To my great relief the cough and cold had completely disappeared and I was able to preach three times on Easter Day. I know that this rapid and effective cure was due to your Cough Remedy. I make this testimonial without solicitation, being thankful to have found such a Godsent remedy. Respectfully yours, E. A. LANGFELDT, M. A., Rector to St. Luke's Church, To Chamberlain Medicine Co. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

OJO CALIENTE HOT SPRINGS.

These Celebrated Hot Springs are located in the midst of the Ancient Cliff Dwellers, twenty-five miles west of Taos, and fifty miles north of Santa Fe, and about twelve miles from Baranca Station, on the Denver and Rio Grande Railway, from which point a daily line of stages runs to the Springs. READ ALL THIS.

You Never Know the Moment When This Information May Prove of Infinite Value.

It is worth considerable to any citizen of Santa Fe to know how to be cured of painful, annoying and itching piles. Know then that Doan's Ointment is a positive remedy for all itching of the skin, for piles, eczema, etc. One application relieves and soothes. Read this testimony of its merit:

Brother Fabian of St. Michael's college, says: "I am convinced that Doan's Ointment has merit. It was used with success in a case which came under my observation, the authenticity of which I will be pleased to give in a personal interview out of idle curiosity, but if my interviewer really suffers with any form of skin disease and wishes to know what means to adopt to get relief. In the meantime I have no hesitancy in advising residents of Santa Fe to go to Ireland's Pharmacy for Doan's Ointment if they require its use for any purposes indicated."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

Those who persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall, of Beall, Miss., has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles cured her. Guaranteed by Fischer Drug Co. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free."

all over with dirt. I saw him do a few this morning."

"Oh, that's it," in a relieved voice; "I didn't know, but it's lovely. If they're bulbs there won't be any wilting, and everything is sure to come out all right. But where shall I get them?"

"If you will permit me," eagerly, "I will be only too delighted. My gardeners shall bring them over and plant them for you yourself."

"No, no," she protested; "not that—I must do the work. It's to be my penance for frivolity last winter. Besides, I'm going to like it. It's so sturdy and independent to labor."

"Of course it is," he agreed. "Well, suppose I don't say anything about it to the gardener? There are lots of bulbs in the greenhouse and store-room. I will pick out some of the handsomest and bring them over myself, and—help plant them—may I?"

She looked at him thoughtfully. "Why, yes; I don't know but you may," she answered. "You can tell me how."

"And do the digging," he supplemented. "I will put on gloves. It will be so droll, and—nice. And it is so unconventional. I hope you don't mind."

"No, I don't think I do. We're next door neighbors, you know. And I think I've heard of you in New York, at—"

"The Manhattan?" inquiringly.

"Yes, very likely it was the Manhattan. I'm Miss Richardson, of Forty-second street."

"Miss Olga Richardson?"

"Yes."

"Who visits a Miss Trelawney—Olivia Trelawney?"

Her hands came together in pleased surprise.

"Do you know, Olive? Why, she is one of my dearest friends."

"Indeed! Isn't it delightful? My

"Have yez been after seein' any b'ys or tramp lurkin' about?"

sister knows her, and has heard her speak about Miss Olga Richardson. Really, it seems that we are old acquaintances, after all. I will get the chrysanthemum bulbs now and hurry back. But you must let me call this afternoon to talk over old times."

"Certainly, it will be lovely."

Ten minutes later he was back, bringing as many large, plump bulbs as he could carry; and with delightfully profound remarks on the art of gardening, and the usefulness of labor, they knelt on opposite sides of the trowel-carved bed and planted the bulbs, one by one. As the last tuber was receiving its covering of soil a deprecating face appeared at an opening in the shrubbery.

"Av ye plase, sorr," an anxious voice called, "have yez been after seein' any b'ys or tramps lurkin' about?"

Two or three last pats were given to the little mound which covered the bulbs, then Mr. Ware turned.

"No, Michael, not this morning," he answered. "Why?"

"Because some rapscallion's been stalin' the perteties I put aside for plantin', sorr; bad cess to the natur! He was in a foine noo basket—" He stopped suddenly, adding: "I beg pardon, sir!" and disappeared behind the shrubbery. The "foine noo basket" stood beside the newly-planted flower-bed, empty.

While going through the tunnel the other side of that city, a young man from New York City who was on his way to Los Angeles was attacked by a man said to be a French Canadian. With a knife, he slashed his victim's throat and face and inflicted severe wounds about the body before he was secured. The Guild of the Church of the Holy Faith had a very successful sale yesterday afternoon and evening at the Old Palace and realized the sum of $165 from the sale of various articles in plain and fancy work, candy, and the "fish pond." In the afternoon there was a large attendance of school children, who were made happy by a visit from Santa Claus who came down the chimney.

Palen, refreshments and Mrs. Hall, candy. Mrs. Seligman, acting as president in the absence of Mrs. Amado Chavez was in charge of the preliminary arrangements of the sale.

AFTER THE KOURY ESTATE

Brother of Deceased Merchant Alleges That Widow and Administratrix Was Not Lawful Wife.

Michael Koury, a brother of the late John Koury, has filed a petition in the probate court to have Mrs. Kadooj Koury removed as administratrix of the estate of the late John Koury and that the order authorizing the administratrix to sell the property of the deceased, be annulled. He also desires to have Patrocinio Lopez appointed as administrator of the estate in bonds of $30,000.

The petitioner also states that at the time of his death the decedent was unmarried and that Kadooj Koury was not his wife nor is now his widow and that between her and the late John Koury, a marriage was pretended to have been performed about twelve years ago and at the same time she had a living husband, whose name was Joseph Tawell. The sole heir to the estate, the petitioner represents, is Nijmee Koury, mother of the deceased, and a resident of Rome, Syria.

The petition further reads that the said Mrs. Koury is not a proper person to handle the estate for the reason that she is utterly lacking in business ability.

In Cooking Oysters

The very first essential is that the oyster be good, that the Oysters have the taste, the flavor and quality that will make the dish satisfying and palatable.

The best of cooks can select a dish that is fit to eat from the "doped," wishy-washy Oysters that are served in the dirty wooden tubs, or the taste and flavor of such Oysters have been utterly sapped and drained from them. But take Seal-shipt Oysters from the Patent Carriers and almost any old kind of a cook can select a dish that will taste good because under the Seal-shipt Carrier method of shipping the full flavor and taste of the Oyster is fully retained.

Seal-shipt Oysters are good raw, delicious fried, fine in stews, soups, in pies, smothered, scalloped, good any way you want them. Give them Seal-shipt Oysters in some form and every member of the family will praise your cooking.

He also objects to the bond of the administratrix, which is $10,000 while the estate is itself valued at that. And further that the administratrix has not yet filed an inventory of the estate although the time fixed for so doing by law has long since elapsed. Koury also states that it is his belief that Mrs. Koury is about to sell the property in secret, without keeping any record of it and to hide away the proceeds for her own benefit. He further asks that he be allowed to act for his mother, and that when the time comes he will prove the truth of the allegations contained in the petition. Koury has retained as attorneys, A. B. Renehan and Catron & Gortner and Mrs. Koury will be represented by Judge N. B. Laughlin and R. H. Hanna. The case will be heard by the probate judge Wednesday morning.
