REGULAR REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION NAMES STRONG LIST OF DELEGATES TO STATE CONVENTION

Enthusiastic and Well Attended Gathering at County Court House Adopts Ringing Resolutions and Arranges For Proper Representation of Bernalillo County in Most Important Political Assemblage in History of New Mexico.

DELEGATES INSTRUCTED TO WORK FOR WINNING TICKET

Only Men With Clean Records and Men Entitled to Loyal Support of Every Republican Voter Wanted to Go Before People in Election Which is Vital to the Future Prosperity of New State; Resolutions Thank President Taft and Party Leaders, at Home and in Washington, For Magnificent Work On Behalf of Statehood.

In a convention marked by all the old time enthusiasm for which the councils of the republican party in Bernalillo county have become noted, the republican county convention met yesterday and named twenty-five delegates to represent Bernalillo county in the republican state convention which meets Thursday in Las Vegas to nominate candidates for the state ticket. The utmost harmony and good feeling marked the deliberations of the assemblage which consisted of representative men from every walk in life and from every section of the county. It is safe to say that the leading men of every precinct were present in the gathering yesterday and a particularly strong delegation of the leaders in business in Albuquerque took part in the proceedings. Aside from the delegates, the convention was attended by a host of republicans who lent their presence at the convention to the regular party organization as a protest against the recent illegal and foolish attempt of a little band of selfish office seekers to hold a convention in the name of the party in this county. The men who took part in yesterday's meeting are the backbone of the party in the county as well as its leading citizens and it is idle to think of republican success in this county with these men out of the party as has been attempted to be done by the better band. Strong resolutions reaffirming the party principles and pledging the support of the gathering to the time honored tenets of the republican faith were adopted.

Well known and able men were selected to go to the Las Vegas convention and work for the nomination of the strongest men the party can produce to the end that republican victory at the polls November 7 and consequent prosperity for the new state be assured without the shadow of a doubt. A deep spirit of earnestness as well as of enthusiasm permeated the gathering and the men who took part are determined to leave no stone unturned in the fight for pure government and honesty and efficiency in public affairs both in the county and in the state generally. The new responsibilities of statehood are fully realized by these men and it will be due to no fault of theirs if the new state does not at once take from the ranks among her citizens as the home of rational, progressive and clean administration of public affairs. Following are the men selected to go to Las Vegas:

The delegates go without instruction other than that the resolutions of the convention arrived at the county court room were to be the basis of their action.

When the hour for the opening of the convention arrived the spacious court room was crowded to its capacity and hundreds who could not gain admission thronged the corridors and the lawn in front of the hall of justice.

The gathering was called to order by County Chairman Gillespie who announced that the central committee had invited Mr. H. E. Fox to act as temporary chairman. Mr. Fox assumed the chair and made a brief speech, thanking the delegates for the honor conferred upon him. Atanasio Montoya was named as temporary secretary and J. R. Ribera as interpreter.

The first order of business was the appointment of the various committees which were named as follows:

"We the republicans of Bernalillo county in convention assembled, reaffirm our devotion and adherence to the principles of the great republican party—the only truly progressive party known to the history of the United States in the last sixty-five years, during all of which time it has been opposed by a party of mere opposition and obstruction to every advancing step taken in the interest of personal freedom and material prosperity.

"We denounce the present course of the democratic party because it strikes at the very foundation of our government, and tends only in the direction of the subversion and total destruction of all of our time honored institutions.

"We give our heartfelt thanks to all men in public life who contributed in any way to obtaining for New Mexico the long desired gift of statehood, chief among whom is our great president, William Howard Taft, without whose steadfast aid we certainly would have met with failure, and we express our gratitude also to those of our own citizens, including our delegate in congress, Hon. William H. Andrews, who gave so freely of their time and services to the advocacy of our claims at Washington.

"We assert that the business interests, development and happiness of New Mexico require the continuance of republican dominance in national affairs. Looking back, as we do with horror, to the period of utter prostration of all business during the last democratic administration, and it is therefore of the utmost importance that at this, our first state election, we create and organize a republican state, and a failure to do so might be a national calamity as we will have a vote for president in 1912. We therefore instruct our delegates to the convention at Las Vegas to use every possible effort to secure the nomination of candidates for state officers who can certainly be elected, and to strive to eliminate all candidates who will not add strength to the state ticket in the most critical period of our history.

"We deeply deplore the fact that in our own county a few misguided members of our party have been so misled as to follow the leadership of the man principally responsible for bad administration of our county affairs in the past, who now seeks a restoration to power for his own selfish purposes and have seceded from the regular organization of the party, attempting to create a new and separate one, thus endangering our chances of obtaining a large majority for republican candidates as they ought naturally to receive in Bernalillo county."

was addressed by a number of speakers, all of whom aroused the convention to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

Major B. Ruppe spoke at length and pointed out the proud record of the present republican administration and warned the delegates against the attempt now being made by a handful of political pirates to again secure control of the affairs of the county from which they had been ousted only after a long and costly struggle. Major Ruppe contrasted present conditions in the county with those of the days of Hubbellism when the warrants of the county were worth 50 to 60 cents on the dollar. Now the county is on a cash basis and its paper is worth 100 cents on the dollar. The present administration of the republican party in this county, said Mr. Ruppe, had no bosses. While some men were recognized and followed as leaders, this was because these men had the welfare of the people at heart and enjoyed the confidence of the people. If the people wanted gang rule and corruption, said the speaker, they could easily secure it by supporting the Hubbell bolters in the coming election. He paid a high tribute to Judge Abbott and contrasted the administration of the district court under his administration with the one under the

ALIENATION SUIT CAUSES WIFE TO KILL HUSBAND

Mrs. Gertrude G. Patterson of Chicago Shoots Consumptive Helpmeet in Street of Denver Suburb.

[By Morning Journal Special Lensed Wire.] Denver, Sept. 25.—Charles A. Patterson, formerly a wealthy broker of Chicago, was shot and killed today by his wife, Mrs. Gertrude G. Patterson. Charges of infidelity, threatened divorce suits and other marital troubles are given as the cause.

The shooting occurred in front of the E. B. Hendrie residence, at Onida and Twelfth avenues, Montclair, a Denver suburb. Two shots were fired, both bullets striking Patterson in the back. Mrs. Patterson then rushed the revolver under her husband's body and informed the Hendrie's that her husband had shot himself. Later Mrs. Patterson confessed when confronted with a statement made by an eye-witness of the shooting.

Months of matrimonial discord culminated in Mrs. Patterson filing suit for divorce in the Denver courts on September 1, 1911, charging cruelty. September 20, Patterson brought suit in Chicago against Emil W. Strauss, millionaire head of Strauss, Eisenrath and company, clothing manufacturers, asking $25,000 damages for alienation of his wife's affections. Patterson charged that four months after his marriage October 1, 1908, Strauss and Mrs. Patterson eloped and spent several months traveling in Europe.

Several months ago, accompanied by his wife, Patterson came to Denver on account of his health. The couple lived together until last Friday when Patterson, on account of failing health, entered a sanitarium for consumptives.

This morning Mrs. Patterson called at the sanitarium and the couple left for a walk. That the pair engaged in a heated argument just prior to the shooting is attested in the statement of an attaché of the Hendrie house. Mrs. Patterson's maiden name was Gertrude Gibson. Her parents are said to be well known in St. Louis, their home.

Mrs. Patterson was taken to jail and the authorities decline to allow her to be questioned.

A clipping from a Chicago paper is believed to explain the cause of the shooting. The clipping contained an account of Patterson's suit filed against Strauss.

Patterson's mother is principal of the Chicago public schools and a brother, Harry S. Patterson, is junior member of the law firm of Shepherd, McCortek and Thomason, counsel of the International Harvester company.

Plot to Plunder Needs a Safe Governor

Mr. Voter, do you realize now the incentive which lies behind the desperate attempt of the New Mexico republican ring to force H. O. Bursum into the governor's chair?

The fitness or the competence of Mr. Bursum for the responsible and honorable position of governor of the New State does not enter into the proposition. That Mr. Bursum is not composed of the stuff of which able executives are made matters not one iota.

The land ring NEEDS Mr. Bursum in the governor's chair.

They need a safe man such as Bursum as governor in order to insure the success of one of the most gigantic plots to loot a commonwealth ever conceived outside of Alaska. The details of the plot, when they are made known, will show up the gunghels as honest and conscientious empire builders in comparison.

For years the powers that prey in New Mexico have been looking forward to statehood and have been laying their plans to be ready when statehood arrived. To that end they have cautiously and secretly and steadily maneuvered to get the administration of the public lands of New Mexico into their control under the state government.

Do you know what this means, Mr. Voter?

It means nothing more nor less than the looting of an empire. It means that the potential millions in New Mexico's vast public lands shall go into the coffers and the private fortunes of the political freebooters who are trying to force their man on the people of New Mexico as governor.

New Mexico's future greatness is absolutely bound up in her lands. They are her most precious heritage.

If they fall into the hands of political plunderers

New Mexico's future prosperity is blasted and withered at the root.

The possession and control of these lands, their acquisition for a song will make some of our leading political cultures multi-millionaires.

These men care no more for the future of the republic than they do for the prosperity of the people.

They are in the game for the plunder; and it is a stake that makes the game well worth the candle.

Citizens of New Mexico, this comes home to you.

If you allow this plot to be consummated, it will not only place an indelible stain on New Mexico's escutcheon but on the American flag; for our star is now in that flag.

More than this, it comes home to you personally; it comes home to every man who has a home or expects to have a home in the new state and wants to make his way in this land of opportunity.

If the land is stolen from you, people of New Mexico, there will be little left of the opportunity.

Do you want the candidate, the confidante, the tool, the fellow plotter of this arrogant ring as your governor?

H. O. Bursum has been eating at the pie counter off the same plate, and is said to be under heavy obligations to many of the men who are pushing his candidacy. They know he will be "safe," that his interests are theirs and theirs are his. He is an indispensable adjunct to their program.

You do not have to take our word for this plot; you have heard rumors, vague and undefined echoes of it for years; you know it is in the air.

Do you want to aid it by voting for this man for your governor?

WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO ABOUT IT?

President Taft Makes This Declaration in Address Before National Conservation Congress in Kansas City.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION URGENT NEED OF COUNTRY

Chief Executive is Greeted By Thousands of People During Day As Train Proceeds Across Kansas Prairies.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.]

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 25.—Returning to Missouri tonight, President Taft addressed the third annual National Conservation congress in Convention hall here. After the regular delegates were seated the doors were thrown open to the public and soon the huge hall was unable to accommodate those who struggled to obtain admission.

The president's speech was statistical in its nature and called attention to the urgent need of conserving the farm lands. He predicted that the "Back to the Land" movement would be still larger in the next ten years. Improvement of agricultural education was urged as a solution of the problem of increasing the food supply.

"While the soil is being stripped of its fertility under present farming methods," said the president, "I am not of the opinion that the time eventually will come when the United States will be unable to feed its own people."

President Taft, with his speech tonight, closed a strenuous day in southeastern Kansas making addresses at eleven of the prosperous little towns that dot that section of the state. The president was tired but happy over the warmth of the reception and the progressive Kansans had given him.

Everywhere the president's train was scheduled to stop and at other stations where there was but a pause, great crowds waved a greeting to the chief executive and willingly braved the rays of the torrid sun to listen to him.

The crowds during the day were the largest the president had faced during any of his travels. The popularity of some of the cities had swelled to twice the normal figures. Excursion trains were run from many directions, while the prosperous farmers of the section drove into town in automobiles, and various sorts of rigs.

Mr. Taft confined himself largely to the vetoes of the woolen free list, and cotton tariff bills. He gave his hearers to understand that he was more than willing to sign any bills reducing the tariff if founded upon the report of the tariff board. This board, the president said, would be ready to report on the woolen schedule the first of December. His statement on this point set at rest the report that there could be a delay.

"I believe that the president's woolen duties are too high," he exclaimed, "and just as soon as I get adequate information, I shall recommend their reduction."

Mr. Taft began the discussion at Coffeyville and spoke also at Independence, Cherokee, Thayer, Chanute, Humboldt, Iola, Garnett, Ottawa, Edgerton and Olathe.

The president appeared on the back platform and waved to the nation through a Carlisle, the home of General Frederick Funston; Colony, and other small towns. He was on the go from 7:30 a. m. until his arrival in Kansas City at 6:30 tonight. When he reached the city he was met by the president was talking and when he was not talking the train was being hurried pell mell to the next scheduled stop.

Aside from his tariff speeches the president spoke briefly on marriage and divorce, and the prosperity of the people of Kansas and on the trust.

In coming to a discussion of the necessity of uniform laws governing marriages and divorce, the president first spoke of the necessity of uniform laws on the subject of child labor and workmen's compensation. As to marriage and divorce he said:

"It is very awkward to say the least, that a man who is married on one side of a state line may not be married on the other. The increase of divorce in this country is a reflection upon the laws and their loose administration. We ought not to permit the marriage tie to be dissolved at will. You say we ought not to keep unhappy people together under a contract, but why should they be bound to that contract, unless one of the other does something which in the eyes of all men ought to permit or require at least separation if not a divorce?"

The trouble is not that in an individual case demoralization follows because they are separated, but the trouble is that when a man or a woman leaves his or her home and goes off with her husband, or he with his wife, then with that option before them, they conduct themselves in such a way very frequently as to lead to a breach.

"We ought to have a uniform law that makes sacred the marriage tie." Following his conservation address here tonight, the president left again for Kansas and will spend Tuesday and Wednesday in that state.

Storm Further Delays Fowler. Emigrant Gap, Cal., Sept. 25.—As it has been snowing and raining here all day, Aviator Robert G. MEN WORKED HEROICALLY TO OVERCOME FLAMES

Before They Realized Their Danger, Explosions Occurred; Many Mangled Victims Yet Alive Taken From Wreckage.

[By Morning Journal Special Lensed Wire.]

Toulon, France, Sept. 25.—Between 250 and 400 officers and men of the French battleship Liberte, lost their lives today when the ship was torn apart and totally destroyed in the harbor here by an explosion of her magazines. The battleship Republique was badly damaged and the battleship Decourville and Veritas were heavily from the masses of twisted iron and armor plate hurled upon their decks.

This is the greatest disaster that has ever befallen the French navy and in magnitude is almost without precedent in the annals of the world's fighting ships.

The explosions, which wiped out one of France's most powerful battleships, occurred at 5:45 o'clock in the morning. It was the result of an outbreak of fire. The flames spread rapidly in spite of all efforts to extinguish them and reached the magazines before there was time to flood them. The magazines exploded with tremendous violence, causing death and destruction in every direction.

While the naval authorities estimate the dead at three hundred, it is feared that this figure will be exceeded. It will be necessary to go through the ship's muster rolls, a task of days, before a full list of the victims can be prepared. Several men already have been taken alive from the torn and twisted mass of wreckage and the hope is strong that others may be reached.

Exactly from what cause, or when the fire broke out, has not been established, but it is believed it had smoldered for hours. Of the vessel's full complement of 742 men, Captain Jaures, brother of the socialist leader, and the second officer in command, were both ashore on leave as were 140 other officers and men. The command of the ship devolved on the senior lieutenant, who perished.

The fire was first discovered at 4 a. m. and the bugles immediately sounded the alarm. The crew rushed to quarters and fought desperately the spreading flames, but it soon became evident that the fire was beyond control. Signals of distress were flashed to the other ships and these dispatched steam pinnaces and launchers to assist in the work of extinguishing the flames and rescuing the men.

The position of the fire made it impossible to flood the magazines and finally the commanding officer, realizing that the ship was doomed, ordered the bugler to sound the "Retire Quietly" ("Retirez-vous tranquillement"). The men were ordered to jump for their lives.

At 5:35 the first explosion occurred. It was followed by three others at one minute intervals. Then came the terrific explosion which shattered the windows of the entire city and was heard for a radius of many miles. The Liberte was rent asunder, her bows were thrown high in the air, the vessel slowly settled down, and in a few minutes nothing was visible but the top deck.

Those still on deck were hurled skyward amid a shower of iron and steel. The hoists of the rescuers were sunk and sections of the Liberte floated to the surface which lay at anchor close by. Two of her decks were stove in and one of the Liberte's armor plates was hurled against her port side and demolished the cabin of an absent ensign.

For a few minutes after the final explosion an intense black cloud of smoke hovered over the harbor. When it lifted a horrible spectacle met the eyes of the people of Toulon, who were looking down upon the wreckage of the first explosion, which had hurled to the shore.

The twisted upper works of the battleship were protruding from a mass of wreckage among which struggled the sea-birds from the rescuing boats that had been sunk in the flying debris or sucked down in the maelstrom.

Late tonight the naval authorities said the number of victims is greater than at first appeared. The official estimate now is between 350 or 400 either dead or missing.

The work of rescue quickly began. An ambulance station was installed in the arsenal and Admiral Marin-Darbel, maritime prefect, went out to the wreck and superintended the work of extricating those imprisoned under the shattered steel.

The leadership of the National league pennant race continued with the New York Yankees by a safe margin Monday, but despite the fact that New York won its game with Cincinnati, Chicago gained one point on the Giants, New York leads by 1 1/2 points. Chicago was scheduled to play a double-header with Boston but wet grounds necessitated postponement of one of the games.

In the American league Detroit's defeat at Philadelphia brought the former eight points nearer Philadelphia, while New York crept up one point on Cleveland's lead for fourth place.

New York 2; Cincinnati 0.
Cincinnati, Sept. 25.—New York won the final of the series with Cincinnati, and allowed the home club but four scattered hits. New York hit Suggs hard, but sensational fielding, especially the throwing to bases by McLean, held the visitors' score down. Five New Yorkers were caught off bases, while an equal number were left on bases. Cincinnati made two singles in the seventh, but both men were caught trying to steal second. Merkle started in the game, but owing to an injury received recently, he was unable to continue and was relieved by Devlin.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—Chicago defeated Boston today. The deciding run was the result of Boston's lone error, a stolen base and a single. The rest of the runs made by the locals were the outcome of two bases on balls, a sacrifice and bunched hits.

Richie started to pitch for the locals, but his willingness resulted in two runs, one of which was forced home. Cole succeeded Ritchie and three singles and a wild pitch gave the visitors two more runs. Another single and a base on balls resulted in Brown being called upon to pitch.

Cole Young, the veteran pitcher, worked for Boston, pitching his first game on the West Side grounds. Two games were scheduled, but the first was called on account of wet grounds.

either fault. Some drivers claim that they have been particularly careful before starting on the particular trip when the blowout occurred, to test their tires so as to be sure that the pressure was absolutely correct and others claim that their cars were far from overloaded. Many drivers forget that previous careless treatment affected the tire's strength. That, perhaps, with the exception of a few times, ever since the first day of the tire's service, it had been compelled to carry an overweight of from one to two hundred pounds, and had probably been insufficiently inflated most of the time.

The fact that there was no overload or under-inflation at the time the blowout occurred proves nothing. To draw a tragic parallel, a man may die suddenly of some internal disease which unknown to him has been developing for a considerable time. In the same way a tire will eventually succumb to a long and sustained strain. In the greater number of cases it is only after a long period of heavy work that signs of wear begin to appear.

It should be remembered that tires are not made of granite or concrete, but of rubber and should be treated accordingly. The questions of insufficient inflation and tire overloading are thoroughly discussed in the "Book of Bibendum," issued free by motorists by the Michelin Tire company of Milltown, N. J.

things on the ball field to the umpire is the sight of an entire team crowding about the man on the plate, on base, protesting some decision that they believe unfair. Even if an umpire makes a mistake of judgment, he cannot reverse the verdict, no matter how much protesting or kicking is done. If it's a mistake of the rules that's another matter.

Kicking is getting to be a thing of the past, however. The players don't do it nearly so much now as in former years. I like to see a little of it, sure, as it shows that the team is fighting and eager to win. In former days I believe that many teams tried to intimidate the umpire in an effort to intimidate him. But I don't think that can be done nowadays. In fact an umpire who is "fazed" by the blustering and threats of players isn't wanted.

Are the umpires in the American league superior to those in the National league? I have heard that asked by persons who should know too. They undoubtedly have some competent men in the National, one I know is serving as a kind of substitute now, but I believe he is a good man to run a ball game.

If the umpires in the American league are more capable and efficient it is probably due to the presence of Mr. Johnson at the head of the league. He backs up his men. Mr. Lynch is a good man, too, at the head of the National league, but he hasn't been in office long enough.

As for the different types of fans we find around the circuit, I must say that they are about the same. Quite naturally in a city where the team is a loser, they protest more and louder than the "hugs" in cities where the team wins often. But the fans are gradually learning to appreciate good baseball.

Naturally the men who go to see a baseball game will applaud the fine work of the opposition more so than in the past. That is as it should be. The fact that St. Louis has supported so many losers is the best proof in the world that it is a good baseball town.

It's like Boston. Several years ago when the famous Pilgrims began to crumble under Jimmy Collins, their persistence at the American league park there was never less than 4,500 a day and that covered the period when the club lost twenty successive games. That shows what loyal fans they have in New England.

The team began to fall but the fans had faith in the management. You can't build a club in a year or two and maybe not in five. But you have to keep trying. There is no such thing as friendship in baseball as far as one manager helping the other. You have to build up your own club and not depend on some fellow owner to give or sell you a good ball player.

That's where the importance of a second comes in. He plays a bigger part in the making of a baseball club now than he did in former years. But my opinion is that there are few men capable of filling the position, this scouting thing. There's only one man in a hundred who can go out and pick up a player in the rough who will with reasonable certainty develop into a major league caliber.

The play on which I reversed the decision happened in Cleveland. Eddy Evans was umpiring on the bases, while I was calling the balls and strikes. Lajoie was on first base and a grounder was hit at the second baseman. Heumbled the ball, it rolled up his chest and curved over to and struck Lajoie.

Evans called Lajoie out, but big Larry upbraid me and I reversed the decision, being in a better position to see the play than Evans, who was near second base and unable to take in the situation as well as I.

The umpires are generally wrong in the opinion of the tickle fans. Do we make mistakes? Sure, we do. Ask a man to do most any task, no matter how slight it is, more than 100 times, and he will blunder. Well, the umpire averages close to 200 decisions a day, taking in the called balls and strikes and the base rulings. A man wouldn't be a human being if he could call every one of those perfectly.

But there's no excuse for an umpire blundering because he doesn't know the rules. That kind of blunder isn't wanted. It is mistakes of judgment on which we live. They are the natural kind, and the kind which bring the ticks from the fans.

They roar and roar, but after you have been in the business a while you learn to turn a deaf ear to that kind of stuff. It doesn't bother you any more. You get accustomed to it.

The fans like some really smart ball players, don't always know the rules, and sometimes they yell when they have no kick coming.

But even the smartest players in the business blunder. I can relate an incident in which two of the smartest men in the business made a blunder. It happened several seasons ago when the White Sox and Cubs were playing a series in Chicago.

The Cubs were at bat, with a man on third and Johnny Evers on first. The Cubs wanted to draw a throw to second, in an effort to let the man score, as the one run was needed badly. Evers stole second, and even though up a bit in the hope that the catcher would make the throw. For he held the ball, preferring to play for the batter alone. Evers was so intent on coaxing that throw that he dashed back to first, presumably to attempt to steal second again, and bring the ball down that way.

When he chased back to first base, Edder Jones, then managing the Sox, came rushing in from center field, took the ball away from the pitcher and came to me. I was standing behind the pitcher's mound, and he asked me if he couldn't go to second base, and retire Evers, who was still standing on first base.

It wasn't up to me to tell him how to play the game, so I had to keep him. He should have taken the ball and stood in the base path and waited for Evers to return to second base, where he belonged.

Just after this little yarn to tell the fact that even the smartest baseball men, like Jones and Evers, sometimes make blunders. So why shouldn't the umpires make mistakes?

ALASKA MUST BE DEVELOPED, SAYS SECRETARY OF INTERIOR

Walter L. Fisher Here En Route to Conservation Congress and Public Lands Convention at Kansas City and Denver.

WANTS CONSERVATION OF PRACTICAL SORT

Cabinet Officer Just Back From Alaskan Tour Accompanied By Chief Statistician Blanchard of Reclamation Service.

The development of Alaska should go forward with a vigor which will make it a country of tremendous resources and has a wonderful future if its resources are utilized in a practical manner.

W. L. FISHER
Chief Statistician of the United States
Reclamation Service, Here Yesterday
With Secretary of the Interior, Fisher.

The Grand canyon, where he spent the last days immediately following his return from a recent tour through Alaska. Mr. Fisher is on the way to Kansas City, where he will address the National Conservation congress, returning with President Taft to the Public Lands convention in Denver, where both will speak on October 1.
Later on Mr. Fisher will attend the Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress of Kansas City where he will make an address. Before all three of these great western gatherings held to discuss the utilization and development of natural resources, Mr.
Fisher will lay the result of his extensive inspection of the Alaskan situation. Mr. Fisher is one of the founders of the great conservation movement in this country, being a close friend of Theodore Roosevelt and Gifford Pinchot and committed to these policies made famous by these gentlemen. He was appointed to his present responsible post by President Taft in the belief that he would not only be acceptable to the country as a guarantee of the proper care of the great resources of the west, but because of his able record in Chicago and as a noted publicist.

While a staunch guardian of the conservation of natural resources,
Mr. Fisher, in his official capacity, has shown that he has thoroughly practical ideas regarding the development of commercial and industrial progress of the west and particularly of the great domain of Alaska. The most important result of his trip through Alaska was the discovery that the importance of the much long-neglected copper is not the only key to the development of the northern territory and that many of the possibilities of Alaska, vast as they are, have been exaggerated.

Mr. Fisher will probably have his hands full at these gatherings particularly at the Public Lands convention where the old opposition to the Pinchot policies, the forestry service and the public lands administration is expected to renew the battle with vigor.

Mr. Fisher arrived here on Santa Fe private car No. 1, attached to train No. 2 yesterday afternoon. In his party was C. J. Blanchard, chief statistician of the United States Reclamation Service, who has accompanied Mr. Fisher on his western trip and who will deliver some of his famous illustrated lectures at Kansas City and Denver. Mr. Blanchard is well known here having spent a week or so here during the irrigation congress. Mr. Blanchard is enthusiastic over the work in progress on the Elephant Butte government reclamation project and repeated yesterday his statement that it is in many ways the greatest enterprise of the service.
Other members of the party were Ford Sturges, head of the Harvey system, W. S. Plummer, president of the Kansas City Terminal Railroad company, Mr. Fisher's secretary, J.
G. Gove, and B. R. Heinel, who accompanied the secretary on his Alaskan trip in the interest of Essential Weekly. Mr. Fisher and friends were met here by a number of people, including M. L. Dorr of Chicago, Rosenberry, superintendent of the local Indian school, government attorney A. C. Pollock of Santa Fe and President McQueen Gray of the University of New Mexico, foreign secretary of the irrigation congress, who accompanied the party as far as Lamy Junction to discuss some important matters with the secretary of the interior.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT OCCUPIES TIME OF COURT

Daniel Sweeney Seeks Recovery of Fifteen Thousand Dollars From Dominion Construction Company.

The district court for Bernalillo county was held yesterday in the court room of the federal building owing to the fact that the district court room in old Town was being used as a meeting place for the republican county convention.

The criminal docket likely will be postponed until after fair week, and until that time civil jury cases will occupy the attention of the court.

The petit jury summoned to appear yesterday was sworn and twelve men empaneled to try the case of Daniel Sweeney against the Dominion construction company, suit for alleged violation of a contract and for damages. It is a portion of the large amount of litigation that has involved the New Mexico Central railway and its offspring, the Albuquerque Eastern.

Sweeney was a sub-contractor of the Dominion construction company, which was building the railroad from Mogarty to Albuquerque, a distance of forty-two miles. He was under agreement to build eighteen miles of the road. He fulfilled his contract with regard to that portion between Frost and Hagan, a distance of six miles and was then forced to succeed in operations on account of the alleged financial difficulties that were being encountered.

In consequence of this he is suing the Dominion company for damages to the amount of $15,000. The Dominion construction company is now in the hands of a receiver, but the contract entered into between the two parties was consummated prior to the receivership proceedings.

H. B. Peterson and R. H. Crows are representing the defendant in the case, while Neil B. Field appears for the plaintiff. The case will likely occupy two days more of the court's time.

case is composed of Jose Remigio

DOUBLE TRAGEDY ON RANCH IN WYOMING

Mrs. Edna Richard Jenkins and Her Husband, Thomas Jenkins, the Victims; Murder or Suicide?

The discovery was made by children of former State Senator George Mc-Clellan, a partner of Richards in the cattle business.

Telephones, but could get no response.
Toward evening Senator McClellan sent his children with a message to the Richards ranch, asking Jenkins to answer the telephone. The children found the body of Mrs. Jenkins under a tree lying in a pool of blood.

The children immediately gave the alarm and later Jenkins' body was found on the floor. A revolver with several empty cartridges, shells, was found nearby. A second six-shooter from which two shots had been fired, lay on top of the dresser. Husband and wife had been dead for some hours. It is stated that the domestic life of the married couple was harmonious.

Former Governor Richards has been in Idaho in the vicinity of Du-Bois for some time and telegrams notifying him of the tragedy were sent to that effect.

TOO BIG A LOAD.

H. O. Bursum for governor will be too big a load for the already overburdened republican party in New Mexico to carry at the first state election.

The republican party if it is to elect a governor must name a man to whom it may point with pride.

To elect a governor it must place in nomination a man whose record is not so vulnerable and will not make such good democratic campaign material as that of Mr. Bursum.

To elect the officials of the new state, the republican party must make the fight of its life. It has a small margin to go on. With clean, strong candidates, men for whom no republican need apologize, the party will elect its ticket with a big margin to spare. There is nothing that can bring it victory but men of this stamp. H. O. Bursum is a load which the party cannot carry at this time if it hopes to win.

He is an insupportable load, if for no other reason, because of the fact that for many years he has been closely identified with the reactionary and self-interest faction of the republican party. He has been a companion of the men who have weakened republican strength by their high handed and unscrupulous political methods. He has sat high in the councils of the old ring. He represents all the old methods and the old measures which are now utterly incompatible with the new conditions in New Mexico.

Mr. Bursum is a load which the party can not carry because he now openly supports and sanctions these old methods and measures in defiance of the progressive spirit of the times and in the face of a profound change in public sentiment in New Mexico.

Mr. Bursum has been identified all his political career with the class of politicians from whom New Mexico now wants to shake her skirts clear. He has been closely and intimately associated with the crowd which has stood for votes at any price; at whose door lies the responsibility for disfigured elections, the delivery of any number of votes as needed; for the methods which have been for years notorious in such counties as Valencia, where the republican "vote" has been delivered in any quantity necessary regardless of the actual number of voters. Mr. Bursum is the exponent of such political methods as have made Sandoval county for years unique in politics; for political terrorism and crime, where the man who has the temerity to openly revolt against his boss not only loses his life, but endangers himself and property. Mr. Bursum represents such methods as have placed San Miguel county for many years under the iron reign of one political dynasty. He stands for such methods as have made Colfax county a formidable rival, as far as coercion is concerned, of Valencia county. Mr. Bursum endorses, supports and stands for the methods which bankrupted Bernalillo county, which made the courts a farce, which openly robbed the school fund of thousands of dollars, which not only ignore party regulations, but flaunt political influence in the face of the public. Mr. Bursum has time and again openly endorsed these methods here and the men who use them. He has just now done it again, flagrantly and defiantly, putting the seal of his approval on an attempt to restore in this county a reign of political terrorism and official corruption.

As a legislator, Mr. Bursum has assisted in the passage of some of the most atrocious statutes ever attempted to be forced on a people. He has secured the passage of special laws to "vindicate" himself and others. He was instrumental in forcing through the most notorious law ever introduced in a New Mexico legislature—the Hawking railroad bill, making it impossible for a passenger or employee or any one else injured in a railroad accident to secure redress, no matter how criminal the railroad. This law made New Mexico a laughing stock for the nation and was annulled by congress.

As warden of the territorial penitentiary, the same said about Mr. Bursum's disastrous official record, the "better" to put on it the most charitable interpretation possible, his record in that capacity was at least one of the most pitiful incompetencies; an interpretation that large numbers of the people of New Mexico, who remember the prison fiasco and the missing books will not be so "charitable" as to make.

As a campaign manager Mr. Bursum has made a lamentable failure; a failure fresh in the minds of those who remember how, in the last one he managed, a republican majority of some ten thousand was cut down to next to nothing.

Mr. H. O. Bursum is not of the timber that will make a governor for New Mexico. He lacks the executive ability; he lacks the confidence of the people; he is looked upon with universal suspicion because of his affiliations; his record is open to attack all along the line; he has earned the disgust and indignation of the people of one of the strongest republican counties by attempting to bolster up an irregular, illegal, blatant theft of the party machinery and aiding an effort to restore rotten government.

H. O. Bursum is hand in glove with the slippery "old time" and despotic to its schemes; he does not represent the clean, progressive element of the republican party; he seeks the governorship to make political reprisals, to "set even" and to give the old ring what they want; he is backed by men who have a hold on him financially and politically; he would in no sense represent the people nor their interests; he is committed first, last and all the time to the cause of greedy politicians and corporate influences which seek to exploit the new state and plunder it at the people's expense.

As governor he would menace the political freedom, progress and prosperity of the state and would be the mouthpiece of the interests and the corrupt political forces which are desperately backing him.

The nomination for governor of H. O. Bursum means the overwhelming and staging defeat of the republican party in the first state election.

The insurgents politely buried the hatchet, when Mr. Taft hit Kansas. The republicans, however, marked the spot where they buried it.

THE JUDGESHIP.

The matter of the election of a proper man for judge of this judicial district is one of the most important to come before the local voters in the coming state election.

This judge will serve one year in addition to the regular term specified by the constitution—seven years in all.

Seven years is a long time. Imagine seven years at a stretch of a judge, for instance, like the corrupt incumbent of the bench owned by Frank A. Hubbard, whose rottenness finally melted so loud it reached Washington and resulted in his summary eviction.

Frank Hubbard has cut and dried a scheme to put one of his creatures on the bench here—for seven years.

He realizes that first of all he needs the court, he needs the district attorney and he needs the control of justice. He enjoys all those prerogatives and he knows how useful they are—how indispensable, in fact. Think it over, Mr. Voter, do you want seven years or one year, or one day of a judge on the district bench here who takes his orders from such a boss?

Seven years is a long time.

We would appreciate it if some kind gentleman would pass up one of those circulars wherein the Tri-Ch. asked for financial assistance at the beginning of its present spasm. It is rumored that this circular made it rather plain that the Tri-Ch. was to protect the corporations, or something to that broad general effect. So far we have been unable to secure a copy but hope to find one and publish it in the near future. We are sure it will prove interesting reading to the people at large.

The automobile men have made a good start toward getting that Algodones road repaired. It is hoped the state good roads office will co-operate and that emergency measures will be taken at once to get this road in shape for the non-tourist transcontinental tourists.

The Santa Fe New Mexican is urged to give us the details of Mr. Bursum's record as prison superintendent.

The Perleson is advised to get all the fun he can out of his job rides before the election.

The man who really deserves the sympathy just now is Don Francisco's chauffeur.

Frank's gasoline bills alone ought to make it a rather expensive campaign.

Did some one really burn the look?

FURTHER BIG DECLINE IN COTTON MARKET

New York, Sept. 25.—There was a further big decline in the cotton market today, with prices making new records under the domination of long accounts and continued heavy selling. September contracts were relatively weak, selling off to 19.19 or 20 points below the closing price of Saturday, while later deliveries broke about 20 points and sold from 19 to 25 points net lower.

Important Catholic Conclave.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 24.—Perhaps the most important conclave for a decade in American Catholicism will convene here Thursday morning when the National Eucharistic Congress meets for a four days' session. Fully one-third of the hierarchy of the United States will be here to discuss the propagation of Catholic doctrine in this country.

Many Visitors at Willard see big Pumps Throw Water on the Land

Town Gaily Decorated For First Fair and Water Carnival; Dunlavy and McKissor Plants Give Visitors Impressive Demonstration; Good Baseball Game; Exhibits to Come to the Fair Here.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal)
Willard, N. M., Sept. 25.—With fully five hundred visitors in attendance the second day of the big Willard Water Carnival and Fair exceeded all expectations and the fiesta has been a tremendous success. The horse races and other sports today were exciting in the extreme and drew a large crowd. The baseball game in which Willard defeated Mountain View, a big dance to-night and the fireworks that night was a notable feature of the celebration.

Today hundreds went over to see the Dunlavy pump throw a steady stream of 300 gallons of water a minute out of a forty-seven foot well. The display of products has attracted much attention, some fifty-pound watermelons being the show features.

At a mass meeting of the exhibitors tonight it was unanimously voted to send the exhibits intact to the fair at Albuquerque as the state carnival is assured of a splendid display of the town's 1,000 gallons of water per minute into the ditches during three hours of constant pumping.

The ball game between the Willard and Mountain View teams was hotly contested and resulted in a victory for the home team.

The commercial club building is given entirely over to the farm products exhibits. Particular mention must be made of the sugar beet display. The majority of the farmers grow the beets for cow feed during the winter months. However, they are all agreed that the sugar beet crop is to be one of the dependable crops of the valley.

D. H. Calvey, living seven miles north of here, has been on exhibition that week sixteen pounds. The average diameter of the beets shown is eight inches.

The display of grains is excellent, and cannot but make a creditable showing at the Albuquerque fair, where it is planned to take the products entered here.

Monday is to be the big day. Every arrangement for caring for a much larger crowd than that of today is perfected. The morning will be taken up with the sports. In the afternoon the prizes will be awarded, and a grand ball will be in progress all day, in Herndon's hall. There will also be political rallies, and addresses by local politicians.

Out of town visitors noted in the crowds were Prof. Strong, engineer; Peter Condon and Mr. Donahoe from Albuquerque; John Becker, Jr., L. C. Becker and Max Dallen of Belen.

The grand ball last night was the social event of the season. The attendance was large, and the music most excellent. Mrs. Tony Stanton, pianist, C. W. Brown, pianist, Frank Chavez, violinist, and Adolf Chavez, trombone, furnished the musical program. Mrs. Stanton's vocal numbers, given during intermissions, were most excellent and added much to the pleasure of the evening. Many guests from neighboring towns were present.

The interior of the ceiling had been covered with several tons of dirt for fire protection years ago when the stone building was built. Later, to make more room, the supporting pillars underneath were taken down and trusses put in. It was thought that the ceiling was strong enough and there was no evidence of weakening until it fell in.

The billiard and pool tables were wrecked, show cases and shelving broken up, amounting to a loss of at least $2,000 to $3,000. Before the ceiling was commenced immediately by W. A. Jones as he stood amid the wreck with a grin on his face. He will be right there doing business again in a short time with an absolutely safe ceiling overhead.

HEAVIEST TONNAGE ON RECORD PULLED BY MALLET OVER CAJON

San Bernardino, Cal., Sept. 25.—The heaviest train ever pulled up a 2 per cent grade in California by one locomotive was yesterday hauled up the Cajon pass to Summit by engine 2601, of the Santa Fe made Mallet type, but engaged in this world.

The train weighed 1,140 tons and consisted of 25 loads and nine empties.

The 25 miles from this city to Summit was covered in three hours and 45 minutes, including all stops and a delay of about 15 minutes meeting three passenger trains which is the average time, or possibly slightly better.

The train, pulled only by the 2601, left San Bernardino at 10:10 yesterday morning and at 1:55 the conductor registered in at Summit.

The return to this city was made light, the train being turned over to another engine at Summit for the descent, and at 4:45 it pulled out as the 2601 arrived at 1:55.

A party of officials, including among others, Superintendent J. R. Hitchcock, Trainmaster J. B. Gallivan, Master Mechanic L. C. Hicks, Superintendent of Shops H. C. Wall, General Foreman A. G. Armstrong, made the trip and were highly pleased with the performance of the engine, however, with the heavy train up the steep grade between Cajon and Summit was even greater than the expectation of the officials.

It was decided to put the big engine through the severest kind of a test by sending it back up the hill after its arrival, and at 2:55 it pulled out as the 2601 arrived at 1:55.

Two engines in a train of 1,400 tons, which consisted of 10 loads and 25 empties. Greater tonnage could have been handled with ease, but owing to the number of empties it was inadvisable to make the train of any greater length. The train was made in three hours and 45 minutes, arriving at Summit at 9:10 p. m.

BANKRUPTCY NO. 30.

In the district court of the United States for the second judicial district of the territory of New Mexico.

To the creditors: Notice is hereby given that the partnership firm of L. P. Shryer and Otto Mann and L. P. Shryer, individually, were duly adjudged bankrupts on the 15th day of September, 1911, and that the first meeting of the creditors will be held at the office of the referee, John W. Wilson, Albuquerque, N. M., on the 23rd day of October, 1911, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the creditors may attend, prove their claims against the bankrupts, appoint a trustee, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

Dated, September 22, 1911.

JOHN W. WILSON, Referee in Bankruptcy.

Two times, 26-27.

That we denounce the vicious politics and extravagant administration of government, which the controlling elements of the republican party have favored for so long and which have resulted in making the rich richer and the poor poorer, which have oppressed that part of the people who must work for their living while they have fostered and favored the accumulation of wealth in the hands of the few.

That we denounce the present tariff as an insult to the people and as a glaring advertisement of the fact that the republican party makes campaign promises only to break them.

That we deplore the vacillating and incompetent administration of the national government by President Taft.

That we record our protest against the trickery, misrule and machine domination of the present territorial administration.

That we denounce the efforts of the corporation-controlled element of the republican party which has made every effort to defeat statehood unless they were absolutely assured of the future control of the new state, their own personal gain and profit.

That we express our gratitude to the Democratic house of representatives in Washington for the patriotic attitude taken by it in the statehood fight and for the magnificent record it has made for itself during the special session of congress.

That we thank the democratic party in the senate and also the insurgent-republican senators for their firm stand in favor of a free and popular government.

That we thank those leaders of the democratic party in New Mexico who at great personal sacrifice, took up the fight for a free state of New Mexico during the statehood campaign in Washington.

And, finally, that we endorse the proposed amendment to the constitution of the new state, which amendment will alone make it possible to re-instate to their full rights as free citizens of the new state those citizens, who speak only the Spanish language, and who under the present constitution would be denied the right to hold office in the new state, no matter how able, honest and fearless they might be. We further favor this amendment because it safeguards forever the rights of the Spanish-American citizens to the benefits of the public schools, to right of franchise, and to the observance of their ancient customs and beliefs.

POOL HALL WRECKED BY FALLING CEILING

Flagstaff, Ariz., Sept. 25.—The people of Flagstaff were startled about 2 o'clock Monday morning by a grand crash in the W. A. Jones & company pool hall on Railroad avenue, which the Coconino Sun.

The entire ceiling, weighed down with tons of dirt, crashed in, wrecking pool and billiard tables and other stock in the room. Aside from a broken wall, caused by crowding timbers, the confection den part of the place was uninjured.

Had the crash come early in the evening with the pool hall crowded, there would have been a number of dead and injured.

The interior of the ceiling had been covered with several tons of dirt for fire protection years ago when the stone building was built. Later, to make more room, the supporting pillars underneath were taken down and trusses put in. It was thought that the ceiling was strong enough and there was no evidence of weakening until it fell in.

DOUBLE TRACK WORK WEST OF THE NEEDLES STARTING THIS WEEK

This week will witness the start on an extensive scale of the double track for a distance of thirty-one miles west of Needles on the Santa Fe.

Contractor George West of San Bernardino now has a crew on the way to Needles to lay out the camp.

Mr. West has the contract for the middle section of the work, a distance of ten miles and which entail the moving of about 200,000 yards of dirt.

The Sharp-Pelows company has the section immediately west of Needles. Then comes Mr. West, and the last section is that contracted for by the Hauser company. Work has already been started by Hauser, and with the West outfit on the ground the dirt will be lying in earth.

The double track will extend from Needles to Gofts. The second track is badly needed between those two points as the passenger trains are jammed both in and out of Needles.

With the San Francisco service scheduled for November 1, which means two additional trains a day, the new Santa Fe de Luxe from Chicago to Los Angeles, and the heavy winter season with probably six sections of the California Limited nearly every day, west end railroad men are wondering what show freight trains will have on the mountain district between San Bernardino and Barstow, with only a single track, with the exception of about fifteen of the eighty-one miles.

There are now fourteen passenger trains a day over the Cajon pass. The San Francisco service will add two more, the extra Limited service about another two a day, and the de Luxe two a week, making at least eighteen passenger trains a day to be run, and with six to ten freight trains sandwiched in between the line will be continually congested.

GRAY SPEAKS ON POLITICAL DUTYPresident of University Has Helpful Talk On Politics As Related to Education.

One of the most interesting and helpful talks yet delivered at University assembly was that by the president, Dr. Edward McQueen Gray yesterday morning on the subject, "The Political Duty of the Citizen from the University Standpoint." Dr. Gray pointed forcibly the great opportunity of the University in this matter, in teaching students how to think, and public problems and arrive at a logical and upright judgment in such matters. As showing the student's opportunity to aid in clean government, the talk was well worth while and was listened to appreciatively.

Results From Journal Want AdsPOWER OF AUTUMN BEAUTY AT CITY'S BIGGEST STORE*Magnificent Fall Opening at Rosenwald's Attracts Admiring Crowds Who Throng Store Afternoon and Night.

Rosenwald's, the handsomest store in the Southwest, was yesterday, at the 1911 Autumn opening, brilliant with autumn foliage and great chrysanthemums. The artistic interior, always beautiful, was transformed by the aid of the decorator's art into a fairytale scene of floral splendor. Great masses of yellow chrysanthemums filled every available space, lending excellent contrast to autumn leaves gloriously colored and artistically arranged.

R. H. Rindart, decorator for Rosenwald's, outdid his previous artistic achievements at the opening, and his work met with warm and universal praise.

It would be impossible to describe the beauty of the decorations; and what's the use? Every woman and many men were attracted into the vast emporium which resembled more a palace of pleasure than a mart of fashion. Di Maura's orchestra, playing during the course of the afternoon and evening, added much to the beauty and novelty of the occasion. Special mention must be made of the windows which would have been a credit to a store in New York. Especially beautiful were the windows facing on Central avenue, the one devoted to women's evening attire and the other to the latest styles and cuts in men's apparel. Here too autumn leaves predominated and with a real fountain as an accessory of the decorations, the windows attracted the attention of every passerby, most of whom led by the strains of music and the crowd venturing to ascend within and through the different departments.

As for the showing of exquisite gowns, smart hats, and the thousand and one accessories of dainty wearing apparel, never in the history of this city has a handsomer and more comprehensive showing been made.

In a season of exceptional beauty in women's clothes, Rosenwald's has gathered together from eastern markets some of the choicest and up-to-the-minute modes. Space does not permit mention of the many beautiful things. Suffice it to say that they are there in profusion. Nothing being worn by the smart dressers of the country, but what can be found at Rosenwald's.

GUN CLUB CHOOSES OFFICERS FOR THE YEARFlourishing Organization Leases More Ground and Prepares For Duck Season Which Opens Sunday Next.

The Albuquerque Gun Club, at a well attended meeting held last night in the garage of Harry P. Johnson, elected officers for the ensuing year as follows:

President—J. C. Nead.
Vice President—Roy McDonald.
Secretary—Raymond Stamm.
Treasurer—Harry P. Johnson.

Besides the officers, all of whom are directors of the club, several additional directors were chosen: Don Rankin, I. H. Cox and Frank A. Hubbell.

The club adopted the revised constitution and by-laws which have been under consideration for some time past. It was decided to renew the lease on the Hubbell property which is part of the gun club preserve and to extend the preserve by taking in a hundred acres which belong to A. B. Stroup, a lease for which had been concluded by Secretary Stamm. With this addition the club grounds now covers over a square mile on land and water.

The lakes are reported black with ducks and the year promises excellent sport for the fifty members to which the membership of the club is limited.

The opening of the season on Sunday next will find some twenty-five members at the lakes. Lots have been drawn for the best positions and pools have been made on the largest and smallest bags. The luckless night of birds is to be doomed to provide a spread for his brother brethren according to present plans.

Altogether the outlook for the most successful season in the history of the organization was never better and the waiting list of the club is likely to lengthen considerably ere the snow flies.

WOMAN TELLS OF PLOT TO BLOW UP MINE

Deadwood, S. D., Sept. 25.—Testifying that her husband and John W. In the circuit court Butler and O'Grady are charged with attempting to blow up a Homestead mill in April, 1910. Mrs. O'Grady declared that Butler came to them in Fall River, Colo., saying he was a representative of the federation and that O'Grady was wanted to blow up the mine. She said O'Grady told her he was to be paid $1,000 for the job.

After a summertime of inactivity, the Woman's club will open Friday what promises to be the most successful season of this ultra successful and thoroughly progressive organization.

The handsome building at Gold avenue and Seventh street has been completely renovated and at the opening of the doors for the initial session of the 1911-1912 season, will be in the pink of condition. With an increased membership, reaching close to the two hundred mark now, and promise of other members as soon as the winter activities are under way, it looks much as though the Woman's club is to become one of the biggest civic moral and mental factors of state and local existence.

The state federation recently effected added a stimulus to the work for the ensuing season and the local organization is at the head of New Mexico women's clubs.

Altogether prospects are bright for the most brilliant season since the organization. Friday as re-assembly day, will have no formal program other than the president's greeting by Mrs. D. A. Bittner, the club prophecy by Mrs. N. E. Stevens, and a musical program.

The art department of the state fair, under the direction of Mrs. George Albright, with Mrs. Bernard Rodey at the head of the culinary department, urges the necessity of the exhibitors making known the character of their entries at an early date.

Entry blanks may be secured of J. B. McManus, secretary of the fair association, or from Mrs. Rodey and Mrs. Albright. It is requested that the entries be entered Saturday, October 7, or at the latest by Monday noon, October 9, and the opening day of the fair. That, of course, does not include the bread, cakes and other perishable culinary exhibits which are to be entered the day the prizes are to be awarded. Mrs. Albright has encouraged reports from the outside counties. Several promising splendid exhibits. Mrs. Sol Luna of Valencia county, is to bring in an excellent showing of handwork and Mrs. George Wilson of McKinley county, has promised an exhibit from that vicinity. Individuals from towns throughout the state write each day for entry blanks and particulars and it is expected that the state exhibit will be large.
