Clark assured me before I left Washington that he would endeavor to make his arrangements to be at Santa Fe, Folk and Sulzer will be here, and probably Senator Gore of Okla.

Feet Tired-- So Tired?

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well No Matter
What Ails Them.

TIZ acts at once and makes tired, aching, swollen, feet remarkably fresh and sore proof.

It's the sure remedy you know, for everything that gets the feet and for aches, itches, swelling, heat, and for corns, calluses and blisters, too.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet, suffered intense pains. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I would not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally used." A. F. Dismore, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous excretions which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleanses every pore and glorifies the feet--your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, blisters and calluses. You'll feel like a new person.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct, if you wish, from Walter L. Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

homa, and former Senator Charles A. Towne of Minnesota.

"I sincerely believe that the opportunity for electing our state and legislative as well as a majority of the county tickets and two representatives to congress has never been better.

"Reports from all parts of the state and personal conferences with influential men, in both parties, throughout the state, confirm my belief that this is a democratic year."

"I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Corn Plaster. Ready for I have used it with perfect success," writes Mrs. M. L. Bradford, Painesville, Md. For sale by all dealers.

Nobleman Found Dead.

Tucson, Wash., Sept. 27.—With a bullet hole through the head, the body of Ede Norstrom, thought to be connected with a noble Swedish family, was found in a variant for today. Although a revolver was lying under the man's left hand, the wound and powder stains were such as to cause doubt as to whether the case was one of suicide or foul play.

In his valise was found the following address:

"H. H. Countess, Norstrom, 25 Dromingdon, Stockholm."

MACHINE SLATE WILL BE NAMED AT LAS VEGAS

Robert F. Egan, the present incumbent in the legislature, is a candidate for the position, which may be able to retain him in the position.

For consideration, three men are mentioned. A former Governor, Carr, Robert C. Egan, and former Governor, Carr. The plan advocated by some of the leaders is to give Mr. Carr the nomination as a sort of consolation prize for his defeat in the race for governor. Carr is the head of the state ticket. It may be said without violating any confidences that Mr. Carr does not view this plan with favor, and the chances of his making the race for congress are, at the least, remote. There does not seem to be any all-arounder for place in the congressional delegation and the ambitions of the candidates have been further dampened by the report, which is coming from Washington, that there is a small likelihood of two congressmen from New Mexico being elected. It is said that able New Mexico lawyers also hold this view, though one could be found today who was willing to go on record in the matter.

MAJOR MIRANDA WILL DIE; SHOT BY MAGONISTAS

Commander of Insurrecto Rurale Police Receives Mortal
Wounds During a Personal Quarrel.

(By Morning Journal Special Lensed Wire.)

Alamo, Mex., Sept. 27.—In a personal difference at Casas Grandes this morning, Major Francisco Miranda, commander of the insurrecto rural police, was shot three times and probably fatally wounded by two Magonistas by the names of Alamo and Portillo, residing in that vicinity.

Alamo was arrested and will be brought to this city tomorrow; Portillo escaped.

Alamo, who was a former commander of the insurrectos, has given the government people much trouble, having been disgraced at one time by Mexico.

Major Miranda is the commanding officer of Casas Grandes during the absence of General Alamo, who is now in Mexico City.

(By Morning Journal Special Lensed Wire.)

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 27.—After William J. Bryan had spoken tonight before a large audience in Convention hall, the third National Conservation congress finally adjourned. His oration lasted ten minutes.

"Conservation," said Mr. Bryan, "is a subject that grows. Begin for instance with the consideration of forestry and you are confronted with the soil question. Agricultural colleges are the nucleus for farm life. Then come the forests."

"But at last you come to the matter of coal lands. After this is the question of man himself."

Walter L. Fisher, secretary of the Interior, spoke today on "Conservation and the Public Domain."

He urged the leasing of government owned coal lands, with particular reference to those in Alaska.

As to the situation regarding government coal lands in the west, Mr. Fisher said:

"I have learned that there are a lot of men who want control of the coal lands and hold them. They don't want to give the public a chance but want to hoard these lands so they will make money for their progeny a million years hence."

Congressman Mondell of Wyoming has complained that the present policy of the government increased the price of coal fifty cents to a dollar a ton.

"He cries that the government is trying to obtain a monopoly on all the coal lands in the United States."

Mr. Fisher then proceeded to give statistics indicating the small extent of the government holdings and the low valuation placed on them by the government.

Concerning the policy of the administration in conservation, Mr. Fisher said, speaking of his investigations in Alaska:

"I have gone over the situation there with the president and we agree on the general policy that ought to be followed. He has told me that he will prepare an outline for legislation on the question and that he will present it to congress."

Detroit at Washington.

With the American league pennant race definitely decided in Philadelphia's favor, Chicago and New York renewed in earnest Wednesday their fight to determine which of the National league rivals will meet Philadelphia for the world's series. It was an auspicious gateway for the westerners for they not only defeated the league leaders in the first of the four crucial games, but did so with a big shut out score. This reduced the lead of the New York club by six points to 21, considerably enhancing the race, for there is still a chance that Chicago may capture the flag. The New York lead is now six and a half games and it has fifteen games to play, while Chicago has but ten.

Interest in the American league now centers in the fight for second and third places. Cleveland, by defeating the champions Wednesday, drew a little nearer Detroit in the uphill fight for a tie and further ahead of New York, the latter not playing because of rain. Chicago passed the half-way mark by defeating Boston.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Chicago, 8; New York, 0. Chicago, Sept. 27.—Chicago today cut down New York's lead in the pennant race by shutting out the visitors in the first game of the crucial series, which will be New York's last appearance in Chicago this season.

The game proved a one-sided affair with Chicago at the helm, while New York's batsmen were hitting Marquard and Cranford with New York's errors both resulted in runs and Marquard's wildness was a factor.

AEROPLANE CONVOY FOR MARATHON RUNNERS

Will Escort Entries in Fifteen-Mile Handicap to Be Run at St. Louis On October the Seventh.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.)
St. Louis, Sept. 27.—An aeroplane, piloted by one of the aviators engaged by the Aero club of St. Louis for the free flight October 1 to 8, inclusive, will meet and escort the runners in the fifteen-mile handicap. Marathon race the afternoon of October 7.

The race will start at Kirkwood aviation field at Fairground, a municipal park. Reaching that the free flight will draw to Fairground and its vicinity several hundred thousand persons. Chief of Police Young has arranged to reserve for the runners, by stretching wire cable and providing large details of police, the roadway of the city streets, included in the course.

That section of the course outside of the city limits will be piloted by the county authorities and by a large committee in automobiles. An ambulance carrying a physician and first aid equipment will trail the runners.

Residents of all other cities and towns are eligible to compete in the race, which, although open to non-members, thirty-four prizes will be awarded, as follows:

Fifteen silver loving cups, one for each of the five men composing the teams, finishing first, second and third team prizes.
Three team prizes for the best time made in the race.

This is probably the first handicap Marathon ever undertaken anywhere, according to Frank A. Habig, St. Louis athlete, lawyer and author, who has charge of it.

Hatch of Chicago, has sent in his entry and will bring at least one five-man team, said Mr. Habig, a four correspondent. Mr. Habig, the St. Louis runner, has promised to enter. He also expects to receive the entry of Pellott of Chicago. These three runners, Hatch, Pellott and Erickson, all have won victories over each other, but they never have met in the same race.

St. Louis athletes are delighted with the selection of Mr. Habig to manage the race, he having won, by his efficiency and fairness in athletics, great popularity. Although a busy young lawyer, Mr. Habig still finds time for athletics, and expects to enter the World's athletic Marathon (26 miles, 385 yards) at Sweden in the special Post-Dispatch ten-mile race and also the Missouri Athletic club's five-mile championship race. His identification with the Marathon assures his success.

The Y. M. C. A. in an announcement, says, in part:
"Intending participants will realize that thorough preparation is necessary for a long run, and therefore should have careful training before the race."
"Every contestant will be examined before the race, and any failing to pass the examination will not be allowed to start."

"All competitors must be registered athletes in accordance with the Amateur Athletic Union rules."
The entries close October 2, with A. A. McLaughlin, Grand and Franklin avenues, and Frank A. Habig, 505 Security Building, St. Louis.
The Marathon will be one of several important events constituting the St. Louis festivities, October 1 to 8, inclusive. Fairground has been lent by the city to the Aero club for aeroplane flights with the exception of the period of activities on condition that admission shall be free to all. The veiled Prophet's annual parade and ball, a $50,000 frolic financed by wealthy St. Louisans, will take place the night of October 3. Robert Lee, editor of the Auto Review, who has charge of the outdoor automobile show at Forest Park Highlands, St. Louis, October 2 to 8, inclusive, says it will be the largest motor car exposition ever held west of New York.

The first show in the United States to display the 1912 models, in addition to the veiled Prophet ball, several other balls, including that of the Moolah Temple of Shriner, are scheduled within the big week-end days.

MOUNTAINAIR WAS NOT LICKED BY WILLARD; DIDN'T PLAY AT FIESTA

Mountainair, N. M., Sept. 26, 1911. Albuquerque Morning Journal, Albuquerque, N. M.
Dear Sirs:—We notice in this morning's Journal that a ball game was played at Willard, in which the Mountainair ball team was defeated after a hotly contested game. Now, your informant either was misinformed or wasn't there, because the Mountainair club have not played Willard since August 6, in which game Willard was defeated by a score of 7 to 6. We hereby challenge this Willard team to a "return" game as by their statement we visited them last.
Please publish this and oblige, Yours very truly,

Sixth race, mile and a furlong: Stone Street won, Sam Barber, second; Crow Robb, third. Time 1:51 4-5.

ARTESIA CLAIMS THE BASEBALL BELT IN NEW MEXICO AND WEST TEXAS

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.)
Artesia, N. M., Sept. 26.—No more games will the baseball fans of Artesia witness this year. Manager Linn saw this ultimatum when Artesia took both games from Carlsbad during the Alfalfa Festival.

Before laying claim to first honors, Manager Linn invited games from all teams either on the home ground or around with the result that only eighteen games were played, Artesia winning seventeen, losing one.

A summary of the games played shows Artesia in front, as follows:
Artesia, 5; Lakewood, 1.
Artesia, 5; Lakewood, 1.
Artesia, 11; Lakewood, 9.
Artesia, 6; Pecos City, 1.
Artesia, 2; Pecos City, 1.
Artesia, 13; Pecos City, 9.
Artesia, 7; Lakewood, 1.
Artesia, 5; Carlsbad, 4.
Artesia, 11; Carlsbad, 5.

In the early part of the season the Artesia High school team went to Carlsbad and were defeated, twice, and since that time the boys from the White City have been laying claim to having defeated the town team three times all told. It is the regret of the management that games could not have been arranged with Albuquerque and Las Vegas.

FOOTBALL.

Cornell, 35; Allegheny, 9.
Buff, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Cornell easily won its opening game of football of the season from Allegheny today, 35 to 9. GUN MEN DRIVE SETTLER FROM CLAIM.
Utah, Cal., Sept. 27.—Struggles between settlers and the L. E. White Lumber company for the possession of rich timber lands along Alder creek reached a crisis today, when H. E. Warren, a settler, was driven off his claim. Warren's cabin was razed and he was warned not to come back. The settlers, who already have petitioned the Secretary of the Interior, Walter L. Fisher, admit that they want to move off the timber lands.

CITIZENS AND FANS CONTRIBUTE FOR BASEBALL

Liberal Amount Subscribed On First Day's Canvass For Winning Team For Albuquerque For Fair Baseball.

The citizens' committee which undertook to assist Manager Dan Padilla in the collection of the necessary funds for the support of a first class ball team for the tournament during fair week met with the most satisfactory reception at the hands of the merchants visited yesterday, securing a readily started canvass raising the $1,000 for a winning team.

It was announced last night that a full professional all-star team, with the exception of three local men, Sahazar, Kunn and Weeks, would be obtained. These four men will captain the team and play first base. It is the intention of Captain Graham to get nothing but star players from each league team, and with them likely be used much, will probably be all the pitchers needed. A first and second catcher will be obtained also, the second catcher being a man who can play the outfield. Two infielders will complete the imports.

With this decision arrived at, by the local management, a strong contender for first money looms up in the combination being gathered together by Finger Weeks, who has stringed the Los Alamos infield, one of the strongest that has ever exhibited here, and with the assistance of one or two players he can get a team that will give the Albuquerque bunch such a run for their money as they never had before in their lives.

Another factor in the race will be the El Paso combination, which is coming to the fair with a full Texas league team. All the men gathered up by Manager Jackson of the El Paso bunch have been playing the classic kind of ball all season and will be strictly in the running from start to finish.

One thing that makes these two aggregations formidable is the fact that they have been playing out in this altitude, are used to playing with each other, and are after reputations as ball players. This alone will make them fighting chances for prize from the start and whichever side wins out, they will know that they have certainly played ball to win, and the defeated ones will know that they have been beaten by superior aggregations.

Birdman, Flying From Coast to Coast, Will Attempt to Soar Over Towering Crest of Mountain Range.

(By Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire.)
Emigrant Gap, Cal., Sept. 27.—A circle of big fires blazed all night tonight about the Sierras, in which Aviator Robert E. Fowler hopes to fly over the Sierras tomorrow at dawn in his transcontinental trip. The heat of the flames is to keep the wires and stays from crusting with ice, and moisture in the engine radiators from freezing.

Fowler explained his anxiety for satisfactory weather conditions tonight.
"This is the last place on the western slope I can land," he said. From now on there is nothing but jagged peaks until I reach the other side of the Sierras.

Meeting of Citizens' Committee in Charge Shows Arrangements For Democratic Meet Are Progressing.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal)

Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 27.—The citizens' committee having in charge the arrangements for the holding of the democratic state convention which meets here October 2, met in the assembly room of the School of American Archaeology last evening.

There was a good attendance composed of members of the various committees and also a number of interested citizens.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Arthur Seligman, chairman of the executive committee, Ralph Easley was elected secretary of the meeting and John D. Brouce, chairman of the Finance committee, presided.

He was given authority to disburse those funds collected upon the authorized accounts of the various committees.

The report of the Finance committee showed that there was still a shortage of funds and all citizens and business men are asked to contribute toward the expenses of the convention.

The committee is desirous of having all money invested in such a way as to be available for the future and will be prepared to pay for the same in advance.

received the tax roll from Rio Arriba county which shows a loss compared with last year. The assessable property in 1910 was $1,188,962, and this year it is $1,178,457, showing a loss of $10,505. In the increase column are agricultural lands, $1,400; grazing lands, $6,655; city lots, $5,895; capital in manufacturing, $7,293. In the decrease column are improvements on grazing lands, $2,205; mineral lands, $11,570; flouring mills, $3,690; sheep, $12,552.25; shares of stocks in banks, $2,000.

The decorations.

The decoration committee reported having their arrangements well in hand. In the decoration of the plaza itself will be three thousand yards of bunting, besides numerous pennants. The arch at the southwest corner of the plaza will be one of the main features and will be elaborately decorated with green and the national and state colors and at night it will be illuminated with myriads of electric lights in red, white and blue, with a large "Welcome" sign across the top. The top of the capitol and the hall of representatives will have splendid decorations. The Capitol Custodian committee have agreed to have the capitol dome illuminated with hundreds of electric lights as well as the plaza surrounding the capitol.

All the railroads have been requested to have the depots decorated and the private residences and business houses from the depots to the Palace hotel and down San Francisco street will be draped with bunting and flags.

Manager E. Owen has promised to have the water company officials brilliantly illuminated and to have the smoke stacks of the plant on Washington street entwined with electric lights.

The ladies to be worn by the delegates are made of yellow and white ribbon fastened with a large rosette of narrow red, white and blue ribbon, all suitably printed for the occasion. The decorations in the hall of representatives will be kept in force for the meeting of the New Mexico advance local association in November. It has been the desire of the committee to have all money invested in such a way as to be available for the future and will be prepared to pay for the same in advance.

COL. SELLERS PLANS AN AUTO RUN TO WILLARD

Roads in Fine Shape Says President of Auto Association Back From Big Water Carnival.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)

Colonel D. K. B. Sellers returned Tuesday afternoon in his Hupmobile from Willard, whither he went to attend the Willard Fair and Water carnival. He left Willard at 8:30 in the morning and reached here at 1:30 in the afternoon, delighted with the splendid condition of the roads. He was so pleased in fact that he is now planning to enlist a number of local automobile owners in a run to Willard and back in the near future.

The worst piece of road on the trip," said Colonel Sellers, "was thirty miles between Willard and Moriarty, and the worst part of that road is better than the best part of the mesa roads around Albuquerque, so you may gather some idea of how good the Estancia valley roads are at present. From Moriarty to the top of the Santa Fe divide, the going is splendid and the trip was a beautiful one at this season of the year."

Colonel Sellers says the Willard carnival was an eye opener and that the exhibits of crops which are to be brought to the fair here will make a sensation. The farmers around Willard exhibited enormous watermelons, three cuttings of alfalfa, corn and various other products including the bean which is making eastern New Mexico famous.

"It will take all the rolling stock the Santa Fe and New Mexico Central can muster to transport the bean crop this year," said Colonel Sellers.

WATER TIED UP IN LITIGATION

Every Inch Used For Irrigation in Sacramento Mountains Involved in Alamogordo Suit.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)

Alamogordo, N. M., Sept. 22.—Every inch of water used for irrigation in the Sacramento mountains is in litigation. The Alamogordo Improvement company has filed suit against all water users in the mountains between Cloudcroft and Alamogordo to prevent them appropriating water from the mountain streams.

The company does not claim to own all the water, but it charges that it bought the water rights of the people when it acquired the lands, and alleges that it is unable to get this water, owing to the fact that it is practically all appropriated by the farmers and fruit growers in the mountains above. In order to have the court adjudicate the matter, the company has filed a blanket suit against all users of water. Officials of the office of the territorial engineer are now in Sacramento making a survey of the land and available water and this report will be filed with the court before action is taken on the suit of the company.

Users of water in the mountains are fighting the case on the grounds of prior usage for beneficial purposes, and believe they will be able to hold their title. The company admits that it did not use all the water it bought and it is through this that many of the mountain water users expect to win their case. They will show that they used it and put it to a beneficial purpose and will claim that they are therefore, entitled to it, inasmuch as they are bona fide homesteaders, while the company was merely allowing the water to go to waste until the opportune time arrived to traffic in it, they will allege.

The improvement company owns and alleges that it is unable to get many acres of land around Alamogordo, which it hopes to sell and put under irrigation. If it wins in the water suit, it will mean more irrigated lands in the valley around Alamogordo and less in the valleys above, unless the mountain farmers buy water from the company. The company has a plan for building a reservoir in the mountains near La Luz, sufficient to store water for 18,000 acres. This will be to collect the flood waters in addition to the permanent waters from the mountain streams.

The Alamogordo Improvement company is making such extensive improvements at present on its water works system, putting in new mains, and strengthening and rebuilding the aqueducts of the pipe line from the mountain reservoir to the town. The reservoir is about two miles from town and brings in pure spring water for the use of the city, as fine water as is found anywhere in the west. The company is also putting in meters for all water users and installing them in new concrete meter boxes.

The Political Duty of the Citizen, From the University Standpoint

By Dr. E. McQueen Gray, President of the University of New Mexico.

The following extracts from Doctor McQueen Gray's address to the students of the University of New Mexico at the Monday assembly, indicate the attitude which he believes to be essentially characteristic of university intellectuality as applied to its logical conclusion.

The president of the university said in part:

To all thinking men throughout the territory, this is a peculiarly interesting period in the history of New Mexico, representing it does the transition from a pupillary or subject condition to the adult state of autonomous political life as a sovereign state. It should prove particularly interesting to students of such an institution as this, because the passage from a territorial condition to statehood will directly affect the civic condition of every citizen, and therefore it is eminently necessary that you who are in time to become citizens should take the place of those who are now directing the political destinies of the society of which you form a part, should have as clear an idea as possible of the relations of the citizen to society and, in the present juncture, of the relation of the citizen to the state as such. Above it is necessary for you to understand what I will call the university view in regard to such matters, because that view will in some essential respects from what is generally termed the political view of these relations. This view I will express to you as clearly as I can.

When we consider the political relations of the citizen to the state or to society in the abstract, we come at once to the fact that there is a definite connection between political conditions and moral ones; that they are, indeed, so connected that they cannot be separated. It is not merely that they are bound up together, but that each cannot fail to react directly upon the other. Yet it has long been customary, not merely here, but in other countries, and not merely of late years but almost ever since the institution of the so-called popular government, to accept and acquiesce in a kind of distinction between abstract morality and morality in its application to political affairs, resulting in the differentiation of practical politics in respect of morality from other social relations. Now, while I think that we are justified in overlooking moral delinquencies of certain sorts in the case of men who otherwise deserve greatly of their country—the story of David, for example, in that direction—while we can excuse in a Washington, a Napoleon or a Nelson faults of character definitely reprehensible in ordinary individuals for the sake of the great services rendered by them to their country, or a nation, or a people, yet it is not to condone errors of a serious kind in special cases can never be excused as furnishing any excuse to the citizen for moral obliquity of any kind or for permitting general discrimination between general and political morality.

The reason for the existence of parties in politics, as such, is very generally misunderstood. It is a part of the natural order of things that there should be great divergence of opinion among men with regard to all questions affecting society in general, and subject presents a different aspect to different minds. The existence of parties, political, social, financial and other, is a part of the conditions of human organization, and parties are more or less popular or generally representative of different aspects of the respective concurrence with widespread attitudes of mind; there are the concrete presentation of different phases of thought and opinion in regard to matters of general importance, and it is not to be wondered at that, in the absence of a common standard of thought, the character of the people. Great Britain, there were up to a short time ago, but two main lines of political divergence. In a country where substantial authority is rooted in the sharp contrast with speculative freedom, as in Germany, we find distinctions of the most concrete character between political parties; in France, where the characteristic of the nation at mind is to seek extreme opinions in definition in all matters, we find subtle divergencies marking the various shades of political opinion. These characteristics might be traced further, but I have said sufficient to show you that political parties are not so much parties in themselves, but rather represent lines of cleavage into which the intellectuality of the nation naturally falls, and that where this natural distinction is maintained, the country will prosper; where it is lost, the country will decline.

There will be a number of contests during the convention for votes and, as you know, a good many, foot races, and other athletic events, and also a horse jumping contest without which no complete convention is complete. A number of cash prizes, $330 in all, have been put up for the successful contestants.

The Santa Fe delegation consisted of A. Minum and Leo Critch, the E. Romero horse company delegation from Las Vegas, of Luis Mossner and Howard Simpkins, President McElroy and Billy Woods were with these delegations.

The Santa Fe delegation was headed by E. P. Delgado, treasurer of the state firemen's association, and was composed of Ed. Tatrova, Joe Torres, George Mexenard, Alfred Dignaco and Alfred S. Kaune.

FLAGG AND ASSOCIATES
INDICTED FOR FRAUD

New York, Sept. 27.—Jared and Flagg and the eight men alleged to be associated with him in fraudulent stock promoting schemes, were indicted by the federal grand jury today. The specific charges are that Flagg and the others used the mails with intent to defraud two Pennsylvania women, Julia E. Wood, of Reading, and Bertha L. Bentley of Corey.

Following pleas of not guilty the prisoners were given until October 16 to withdraw their pleas or demur.

Bids in Iowa Railroad.

Atlantic, Ia., Sept. 27.—Colonel George Adams of Council Bluffs, president of the Omaha and Iowa railway, extending from Council Bluffs to Treynor, was the highest bidder for the Atlantic Northern and Southern road at the receiver's sale here today. His bid was $142,950. The sale was attended by one thousand farmers and business men. of the party as such than in the presentation of the beliefs or doctrines for the sake of which the party exists. The only object which justifies the existence of political organizations as such is, of course, advancement of public welfare, the benefit accruing thereby to the nation at large; and it therefore is particularly incumbent upon the individual citizen to weigh carefully his own political opinions in this respect and to submit the platform of the party to which he belongs to the closest scrutiny.

Whatever opinion may be held concerning the actions of the late president of the United States in other respects, there is no doubt that he will go down in history with a rightful claim upon his country's regard for having supplied a much-needed impetus and direction to a feeling which was steadily advancing among thinking men—among young men in general and among university men in particular—that no distinction can be maintained in respect of morality between public and private affairs. Mr. Roosevelt gave position and classification to what we have just termed the independent thinker in matters political; direction and consolidation to the growing sentiment that political morality should be of high, if not of the highest order.

Many people seem to think that this recent practice of what has been called "muck-raking," and the manner in which the methods of politicians and political parties have been held up to this scorn and detestation, indicates a low state of morality in politics. In fact, however, political morality, as such, has never been so active; indeed, a high and insistent morality appears to be the keynote to public affairs at the present moment and the recent severe criticism of public men indicates a healthy upward movement in the scale of morality throughout the nation.

It is one of the most important of the duties which confront the youth of the nation that they shall order their intelligence in such a manner as to balance judgments concerning all matters that affect themselves as citizens, untrammelled by bias of any sort. The first political duty of the citizen, as I see it, is to weigh all matters in the light of his own observation, and the state or nation, and such a consideration will include not merely the questions of the hour, but have particular reference to the character of the men who are intrusted with the conduct of public affairs. In any degree, from the highest to the lowest, the welfare of the citizens or of the organization of society. It is his duty to consider not so much the party as the principles which the party stands for, but to weigh the principles themselves as the character of the men who are to give these principles their expression. The intelligent and independent thinker who adheres closely to the importance of these considerations, who does not attempt to draw away from it in the great at conditions which he deems of changing but works directly for the moral purification of his party within itself, is fulfilling a high civic duty. Such are the men who are making their presence increasingly felt in politics, and their attitude is well summarized to describe as the university attitude.

No citizen can afford to ignore his personal responsibility in regard to the political welfare; for political and moral welfare are inseparably bound up with the intellectual advance of a country. This movement towards political purity marks, in my opinion, the beginning of a great and notable change in the whole political system of the nation. We here in New Mexico, standing as we are on the threshold of a new political condition should regard it as our bounden duty to fall in with this movement, to give our help to the attainment of higher standards not merely in regard to politics, but with respect to everything that goes toward the upbuilding of a society and the progress of a nation.

It is at once my duty and my privilege to bring before you young people this morning a statement of what I believe to be your duty in this regard. Your minds are more or less in a plastic state; you are every day receiving fresh impressions and it is but natural that you should tend to be guided more by the opinions of your elders. Both being the case, it is all the more incumbent upon you to examine carefully the abstract value of the opinions you are tempted to adopt; to endeavor to bring all matters relating to your social relations before the bar of that social responsibility which none of us refuses to recognize to arrange them in their proper relation and accept or refuse them according to the dictates of your intellectual conscience. The organs of intellectual conscience, the most fitting places for the development of an intellectual conscience of the highest sort; clear and accurate observation, true correction, careful adjustment, and wise conclusions are the very essence of the result to which the university makes it its business to foster and it is through you and those who have preceded and will follow you, that this attitude must be expressed. The atmosphere of an university is one that reflects the individual consciousness of all its component parts, and the intelligent appreciation of those attributes which we call noble is one of the effects of such an atmosphere. It is to such as you that the nation has a right to look for the best thought and the highest tendencies; for the highest and best in all that affects the social or political welfare of the community, falls in its duty not only to the youth with whose education it is charged, but to the society to which it is directly responsible. Right thinking and right doing in all things must be the motto of any institution claiming to be an education, and in political matters as in everything else, the attitude of the university man will conform to this principle.

Bodies of Suicides Found.

East Brookfield, Mass., Sept. 27.—Bound together by straps about their wrists, the bodies of Mrs. Mary Lacey and her son, J. G. Lacey, of Fitchburg, were found in Lake Lashway today. Grief over a charge on which the son had been arrested is supposed to have led them to commit suicide.

Money Disappeared While in Transit From St. Louis Bank to Galveston Institution; Details Kept Secret.

(By Morning Journal Special Lensed Wire.) St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 27.—The story of how and where a registered mail package, containing $25,000, was stolen more than a year ago, was revealed here today. The theft was made public Monday after having been suppressed for a year.

More than six months ago, it is reported, the postoffice department abandoned all hope of recovering the money or finding out who stole it.

The Third National bank of St. Louis registered at the main postoffice September 9, 1910, a package containing $25,000 in currency. The package was addressed to a Galveston banking house.

The package was sent from the main office to the annex station at the Union station, where it was received by two clerks. The package disappeared at or enroute the annex station.

The inspectors were never able to find when it left the station or who handled the package.

Mormons Go to Salt Lake.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 27.—A party of twenty-five Mormons, men and women, arrived here today from the Mormon colony in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico, enroute to the semi-annual conference of the church in Salt Lake City. One of the objects of the pilgrimage is to have the marriage rites that have been performed among them in the colonies confirmed by the fathers of the church in the great temple at Salt Lake City.

OF INTEREST TO EVERY PATRIOTIC SON OF NEW MEXICO.

The handsomest, the most elaborate and complete map of the State of New Mexico is now ready for sale. Around the new map we have reproduced, hand-colored, the photographs of the delegates who framed the Constitution of the new state. Our map is the best, the most attractive and elegant ever made of any state when admitted into the Union. It is in itself a souvenir for the delegates and for any patriotic son of New Mexico. The size of the map is 40x60 inches, printed in seven colors; at the top is a rampart American Eagle and at the bottom the Capitol of Santa Fe with the brilliant sun of the State rising behind the Capitol dome. It will be a historical ornament for every office and home in the new State and every patriotic and public spirited citizen can hardly afford to be without one.

ALLEGED LUMBER BIG STRIKE CERTAIN TRUST SUED BY UNCLE SAM IF KRUTTSCHNITT STANDS PAT

Sensational Allegations Made in Federal Action Filed at Denver; Fourth Move Against So-Called Combine.

(By Morning Journal Special Lensed Wire.)

Denver, Sept. 27.—Sensational charges that the so-called lumber trust completely dominates the lumber trade of at least twenty states by maintaining a spy system, blacklists, divisions of territory and other alleged illegal methods, conducted through a central agency in Chicago, called the Lambert Secretariat, have been introduced in an anti-trust suit filed in the United States court here today by the department of justice. This is the government's fourth move in a nation-wide fight against the so-called lumber trust. In addition to the criminal indictments already standing against the secretaries of fourteen separate lumbermen's associations, anti-trust suits under the Sherman law are now pending against the Michigan Retail Lumber Dealers' association and the Eastern States Retail Lumber Dealers' association.

The secretaries' bureau and the Colorado and Wyoming Lumber Dealers' association are defendants in the action filed today. The government asks the court to enjoin the bureau from continuing its espionage upon lumbermen by paid spies and circulating blacklists and other "confidential information." It asks that the Colorado and Wyoming association be enjoined from contributing to the aid of the bureau.

Lumber dealers' associations in about twenty states are named in the bill as members of the secretaries' bureau, but are not named as defendants in this suit. Fourteen secretaries of various lumber associations represented in the bureau are indicted for conspiracy in Chicago under the crime section of the Sherman law.

The government charges that the operation of the alleged conspiracy between the lumbermen and the secretaries' bureau has eliminated all competition for the trade of the consumer, except among retail yards.

Federation of Shop Employees Gives Him Until Noon Tomorrow to Reopen Negotiations Affecting Demands.

(By Morning Journal Special Lensed Wire.)

Chicago, Sept. 27.—No answer was received today from Vice President Kruttschnitt of the Southern Pacific railroad by James W. Kline, president of the Blacksmiths and Helpers' International union, in reply to its demand for the reopening of negotiations with the Federation of Railroad employees.

The final time limit set will expire at noon tomorrow. If by then no action has been taken by the railroad, the International union, composing the federation, plan to hold another conference and decide upon their future course.

The message to Mr. Kruttschnitt apparently left the union officials the alternative of withdrawing their demands for recognition of the federation of calling a strike. The failure of the machinery organization to sanction the latter course, union officials have explained, previously caused them to hesitate to send out the strike orders to employees of the Southern Pacific and Illinois Central.

Now that the international officials have the backing of the five crafts' unions in the federation of the Southern Pacific employees and of the nine crafts composing that of the Illinois Central employees, they assert they no longer have any cause for delaying final action.

"I never have said a strike might be called," said President Kline today. "I do not want to talk about a strike or say anything that will force the situation."

"I cannot say what we will decide to do in the event that Mr. Kruttschnitt does not answer our message. That will have to be decided after it becomes known that he will not again meet with us."

480 MORE MEN AT NEW ORLEANS WALK OUT

New Orleans, La., Sept. 27.—With the walkout of 480 Illinois Central car workers and tin sheet and metal workers, the ranks of the strikers were increased here today to 770.

Freight Agent John Cousins of the Illinois Central said he had put seventy clerks to work and that freight would be shipped tomorrow and moved promptly and that all through-inbound shipment had been handled without much delay.

2,000 SHOPMEN OUT SOUTH OF OHIO RIVER

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 27.—Approximately two thousand clerks and shopmen of the Illinois Central employees south of the Ohio river are on strike.

At Memphis practically all the clerks went out and later they were followed by the shopmen.

No serious violence has occurred at any point.

MURDERER WILL LIKELY BE SENT TO ASYLUM

Pedro Hernandez, Charged With Killing Francisco Olguin Near Gallup Last July, Believed to Be Lunatic.

Pedro Hernandez, who for some time has been confined in the jail of McKinley county at Gallup, charged with the murder of Francisco Olguin near Gallup on the night of July 28, last, will likely be committed to the New Mexico asylum for the insane in the course of a few days.

Hernandez, prior to the commission of the crime, and since that time, has been possessed of numerous hallucinations, during which, according to the testimony of the examining physician, he becomes a dangerous lunatic.

His confessed motive for killing Olguin was the fact that the deceased tried to creep to the tail of his horse. This, according to Hernandez, is a deadly insult, the only punishment for which is the death of the party who ties the rope, at the hind of the insulted one.

Since being incarcerated, Hernandez has become possessed of the peculiar mental vision of having crept to him, which has caused him to become still more dangerous. It is said that his last attack of this insanity has lasted for a period of nearly two months.

The case was up before Judge Abbott yesterday and a decision is likely to be handed down at any time.

Divorce Granted by Default.

Mrs. Elena Garcia de Martinez obtained a divorce yesterday in the second district court from her husband Aristeo Martinez. The decree was awarded by default on the grounds of abandonment and non-support.

Another Unhappy Woman Freed.

Mrs. Regina Chavez de Padilla, alleging abandonment and non-support, obtained a divorce in the district court yesterday from her husband, Marino Padilla. The decree granted her also the custody of Nicholas Padilla, a minor child, against the defendant.

Suit on Promissory Note.

Alfred Grunfeld and Ivan Grunfeld, a partnership known as Grunfeld Brothers, and doing business in this city, entered suit yesterday against J. M. Archuleta, Jr., to enforce the payment of a promissory note for $172.52, given February 1, 1911.

Ex-Delegate in Congress For Alaska, Here Last Night On Way to the Las Vegas Convention.

En route from his headquarters at Nome, Alaska, to attend the first republican state convention of New Mexico, Bernard S. Rodoy, twice delegate from New Mexico to congress, United States district judge for Porto Rico, and at present United States district attorney for Alaska, passed through Albuquerque on the Santa Fe limited last night.

Rodoy was met at the station by Mrs. B. S. Rodoy, his daughter, Mrs. Raymond Stamm, and his son-in-law, Raymond Stamm. The family stayed at the station in close converse with him until the train pulled out for the ordinary, owing to a broken brake beam on the observation car necessitating a lay over of some two hours.

When seen at the station by a Morning Journal representative Judge Rodoy denied that he was an active candidate for the nomination of governor of New Mexico. "I am not thinking of it," he said. "I am ordered to the United States by the attorney general to prosecute some cases in Seattle, and having obtained a vacation I intend to visit my family, after attending the first republican state convention of New Mexico at Las Vegas."

"I am, however, a candidate for United States senator from New Mexico. I have always said I would be a candidate for that position and I am going to make my word good."

"Personally, I am some ninety days behind the times as regards local politics or in fact any politics in New Mexico, but that has not caused me to lose my interest in the state whose battle I fought while in congress."

"I am certainly glad that Statehood has been achieved after sixty-four years of contest, and after the bill admitting New Mexico has passed one of the houses of congress as many as twenty-four times."

"I think New Mexico has the greatest future before her of perhaps any state that has ever been admitted, and everything that has been said against her by her enemies on the floor of the house and the senate and elsewhere will be disproved before the lapse of many years. Being a thorough New Mexican I could scarcely forego the pleasure of attending the first republican state convention, hence I will go there first and visit my family afterwards."

While waiting for the departure of his train, he was greeted by many of his Albuquerque friends. This is the first time he has been in the city since he left here the last of the week to visit his home for some time before returning to Seattle.

LIMITED SALES IN BOSTON MARKET

Volume of Business in Territories Less Than Previous Week; Prices Remain Unchanged.

Transactions in the Boston wool market this week have been extremely limited and what sales have been effected were for retail lots and spread over a wide range of grades, rather more foreign wool than usual being in the business put through, says the Boston Commercial Bulletin. Notwithstanding the comparative lightness of the sales since the tariff bill was disposed of, although it had been expected that more wool should have moved, prices are maintained on an unchanged basis this week, dealers declaring that there is no occasion for them to sacrifice their wools, which are already on a low and cheap basis, especially since these wools are quite likely to be needed by the mills later, even though the goods market at the present moment is dull and without particular encouragement.

Low Wools Principal Sellers.—Demand continues principally for the low wools, which are especially sought after by the woolen mills and serge manufacturers, although the latter have not been so insistent on these grades this week as they were. On account of the steady sales of low wools which have been made, there are comparatively few lots available on the market, many dealers being well sold up ahead already. Other markets, which have low wools to offer have set their asking prices very high, so high in fact as to absolutely shut off trade. For instance, a certain St. Louis dealer has this week forwarded samples of common and braid, for which he wanted 24 cents. Quarter blood Missouri are available in this market at 24 cents, according to well informed traders, although some holders ask 24 1/2 cents and the prices asked for common and braid on this basis seems relatively very above the proper market. It is recalled that the grades of wool in question sold not many weeks back quite freely at 21 1/2 cents.

Territories.—While there has been a fair retail demand for territory wools during the week, the volume of business has been less than last week, which was not large by any means. Prices quoted show no change from those of a week ago, there still being enough free sellers at these quotations to keep prices from any advance even were the demand from mills larger.

Sales reported include about 200,000 lbs. of the fine and medium Montana at 19 cents in the grease, estimated to cost about 52 1/2 cents clean, and a lot of about 50,000 lbs. Soda Springs clothing at 17 cents, estimated at 50-51 cents clean. In original wools there have been a few small lots sold, among which were 20,000 original Utah at 18 cents, 100,000 pounds of Colorado at 14 and 15 cents or about 45-50 cents clean. In graded wools there have been small lots of half blood at the range quoted last week, while fine staple is quite and unchanged in price. A lot of about 100,000 pounds of three-eighths territory is reported sold at 22 1/2 cents of estimated at 50 cents clean basis. A small lot of Idaho 5-8 wool also in about this range.

A large buyer states that he has been offered fine and fine medium average clothing wool—not Montana—on a basis of 50 cents guaranteed.

CROWDED CHURCH WRECKED BY AN EXPLOSION

At Guadalajara, Mexico, Four Were Killed and Fifteen Seriously Injured; Cigarette Stub Set Off Bombs.

(By Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire.) Guadalajara, Mex., Sept. 27.—A terrific explosion of rockets and bombs in a crowded church here, resulting in the killing of four, and serious injury of fifteen others, cast a shadow of gloom over the morning of Monday. Of the wounded many were so seriously burned or trampled in the panic which followed that they are believed have been fatally injured.

Fifty rockets and six hundred bombs had been stored in the church of Jesus Christ, for use in celebrating the arrival of the Sacred Image of the Virgin of Zapopan, which, at this season is carried from church to church and is believed to have power to effect miraculous cures. The church was packed.

The explosives, piled at the foot of the stairs leading to the tower, are thought to have been ignited by the careless dropping of a lighted cigarette. Those nearest were hurled in all directions.

The building quickly filled with smoke, which blinded the struggling and frantic occupants, who fought one another in their mad effort to reach the exits.
