TERIBLE STORM IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Colorado Springs, Sept. 7.—The political war between the two factions of the silver republican party in this state resulted this morning in the death of Charles Harris, of Denver. It was the result of an attempt by the broad faction to capture the opera house, which was guarded by the sprague faction.

At 4 o'clock a rush was made by seventy five or a hundred men from both the front and rear of the building, and the sprague men, who held possession, in repelling the attack, fired a volley into their assailants. Harris fell with a bullet through the abdomen and soon died. A third man was wounded.

Today's clash between the factions was preceded by action of a national character. To remove Richard Broad from the chairmanship of the state committee on the ground of "disloyalty to the silver republican party and the cause it stands for," it being alleged that he had been in a conspiracy with the friends of copper coinage to resist the proposed fusion with the democrats and populists. Charles S. Sprague, representing the silver and silver league delegates, obtained possession of the opera house, and refused to surrender it at the demand of the chairman Broad.

Sheriff Boynton and Chief Gathright took control of the opera house and seized six Winchester rifles and ten revolvers. James A. Howe, Walter Russell, James A. Long and A. C. Smith, the party in the hall were arrested. At 4 o'clock the broad faction, applied to Judge Lund for a writ of mandamus, compelling Chairman Broad, who was appointed by National Chairman Towse to succeed Chairman Broad, removed, to turn the building over to ex-Chairman Broad.

The writ was refused. "At 4:30 this morning," said ex Mayor Plummer, "we were inside the opera house, twenty-two of us. Suddenly a fusillade of shots was fired through both front and side doors. This in a second the doors were burst open and in rushed seventy-five to 100 men. There was constant firing in all parts of the hall, we replied as best we could. We were forced out of the building. Sheriff Boynton and Chief of Police Gathright were in the front ranks of the attacking party.

The police and sheriff's officers claim that the attack was made entirely by men brought from outside. They say they only rushed in after the attack began.

Chairman Broad has issued a statement in which he says that ex-Chairman I. N. Stevens and Dewitt C. Webster arranged with a gang of thugs to come from Denver and non-operate with Sheriff Boynton and the police to capture him. He says in seizing the convention hall and turning it over to the anti-feller faction, so they may organize and control the convention to murder.

Ex-Chairman Broad, who denies the authority of Towse to remove him, justifies taking forcible possession of the hall on the ground that the sprague faction violated his law in allowing others to possess it.

The men who participated in the fight say that fully 150 shots were fired in the air. When the attacking party reached the center of the building the guards retreated to the street.

The Chicago front of the first train to that city, being allowed to go unmolested.

There were numerous meetings, but none attracted more attention than the meeting of the blue and gray, arranged by resident confederates and federal veterans with a view of bringing about a reconciliation between the two factions, and it was eminently successful. Denver, Kansas City and Philadelphia are making a hot contest for the next encampment.

THE STRIKE SITUATION IN ILLINOIS.

New York, Sept. 7.—The United States transport Oudam, with Gen. Miles on board, passed in at Sandy Hook at 8:22 this morning.

General Miles admitted to the Associated Press reporter, who interviewed him while the Oudam was lying off Liberty island, the substantial accuracy of the statement attributed to him by the Kansas City star's correspondent at Puerto Rico.

"There are," General Miles said, "a few minor inaccuracies in the report, but the substance is correct. I do not care to point out the inaccuracies at this time; they are unimportant. I am sure they will be corrected."

"It is true I requested that my troops be allowed to camp somewhere near New York, and I asked that the Heights, Fort Wadsworth or Governor's Island. I also requested of the war department that the troops be allowed to march through New York city."

"I never intended to parade myself, as I shall go to Washington in a few days and would not be here at the time of the contemplated parade. I asked in what Wisconsin men should be allowed to camp, to give them a chance to see the city, and they merit it."

"To my first request, namely, that my troops be permitted to camp here in the neighborhood of Brooklyn heights and be allowed to parade, I received no reply. To my second request, I received a reply to quarantine this morning ordering the Wisconsin boys home forthwith. They will go from the transport directly to the cars."

"I shall stay in the city a day or two to transact business and will then proceed to Washington. General Miles' division will reach New York in a day or two. I think they will come on the transport Mississippi, Manitoba, Alamo and Colorado. The last will carry General Wilson and his headquarters."

New York, Sept. 7.—General Miles said that he did not desire to criticize the conduct of any officer engaged in the war. He expressed the opinion that there had been too much criticism, complaint and condemnation published already, and that the public had lost sight of the glories of the war.

No Sticks on the Voyage.
New York, Sept. 7.—The United States transport Oudam having on board Major General Miles and staff, General Greenleaf, Captain Whitney, of the Second regiment of Wisconsin volunteers, and the hospital corps from Puerto Rico arrived today. University Items.
The faculty and students assembled in the hall at nine o'clock this morning to receive instructions regarding many details of the work. President Herrick gave a very interesting talk to the students, urging them to loyalty and earnestness in their preparation through school work for life. He gave some very striking statistics to show that a large per cent of men who hold high positions were college bred men, and now a membership of nearly 300, and it was a very promising thing that the navy to the war with Spain as being the result of scientific preparation of officers for their work.

The students, after his remarks, instructed Prof. Childs of the science department, who expressed his interest in everything pertaining to the University.

DEPTOS CASE TO BE REVISED.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The official record of the war department as completed shows that there were 32 officers and 23 enlisted men in the army, 251 in all, killed in battle during the war with Spain.

The percentage of officers killed is said to be unprecedented in the history of the world. The contrast is especially striking in the case of the battle of Omdurman, where, although the loss of life was heavy, the list of killed included only one officer of the British army.

Wardships Made Peace.
Cebu, Island of Cebu, Sept. 7.—The British battleship Camperdown having on board Sir A. Blount, British Consul at Cebu, has arrived here. Several other warships have also reached this port, and reinforcements of the blue jackets have been landed and early restoration of quiet is expected.

A telegram was received from Mr. Calochin, who was killed during yesterday's fighting.

Deptos Case to be Revised.
Paris, Sept. 7.—The Franco-Spanish war has been revised. Just held, unanimously agreed upon a revision of the Deptos case, and directed the minister of justice to take the necessary steps.

CAUSE OF THE RIOT.
British Consul at Cebu Explains the Cause of the Riotous Row.

London, Sept. 7.—Sir A. Blount, British consul at Cebu, who went to Cebu to investigate the riotous row, cables the foreign office that the rioting at Cebu was caused in the following manner: A British soldier on guard at the tax office was suddenly stabbed in the back and dropped his rifle, which exploded, killing a Mussulman. Firing then began. Twenty British Blue Jackets from the British torpedo gunboat (HMS) were almost annihilated before the sailors could reach their ship. In addition a detachment of forty-five British soldiers were driven from their quarters near the telegraph station and many wounded. The total casualties as far as known are twenty killed and fifty wounded. The fate of Christians in other towns is uncertain. It is feared that only those who succeeded in obtaining refuge in the court house have been saved. The British vice consul, Mr. Calochin, was burned to death in his home.

Fires have been extinguished. During the rioting the English and German consulates were burned. The custom house, barracks and court house were saved. Quiet is being rapidly restored.

Slimly Attended Convention.
Marshalltown, Iowa, Sept. 7.—The state convention of democrats, populists and silver republicans was not largely attended. Frank Q. Stuart, of Charlton, was temporary chairman.
