WATERY GRAVES.

Nine Hundred Spaniards and Sixteen Priests Perish at Sea.

Insurgents Drove Them to Sailing Vessels, Then Came a Storm.

The Yale and Harvard Will Now Go Back to Passenger Traffic.

BAD TREATMENT OF MEXICANS.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 30.—The Hong Kong Daily Press is authority for the statement that 900 Spaniards, including sixteen priests, lost their lives several weeks ago when the Spanish gunboat Leyte was captured by a vessel belonging to Admiral Dewey's expedition. The Leyte had been stationed in an adjoining island where the insurgents were numerous and aggressive. The latter was gaining ground rapidly, causing 900 Spaniards to board three sailing vessels in an endeavor to escape from the natives. The gunboat Leyte undertook to tow the transports to Manila bay, where the Spaniards should have been surrendered to Admiral Dewey, if it did not succeed in landing somewhere and reaching Manila under cover of darkness. After Leyte towed them down Pangasinan river and some distance along the coast a heavy storm came up making it necessary for the gunboat to cut the tow lines and to proceed to Manila for assistance. Before getting there she was captured by the Americans. The next day an American vessel was dispatched to find the three transports, but failed to discover any trace of them. The natives on the adjoining coast say they saw nothing of any vessels. The Chinese Emperor has issued an edict that European and American missionaries and converts will be fully protected.

New York, Aug. 30.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington says: The auxiliary cruisers, Yale and Harvard, which have been under army jurisdiction the last two weeks as transports, made their last voyage for the present as government vessels and are to be restored to owners of the American line as soon as they can be put in condition for passenger traffic.

The worst case is that of Trinidad Voga, an honest farmer, who was told by the Guatemalans that they wanted to buy horses and he accordingly entered the line with a large number of horses to meet Gen. Barrios, who seized his animals and had him beaten. Other similar outrages are reported and are under investigation, and due information will be given the government of this republic.

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 30.—A brigade of friendly Arabs, commanded by Major Stuart Wortley, is announced in a dispatch from Wad El Oued, dated yesterday, which has been pushing around Omdurman, a Dervish camp, near Khartoum with a view of cutting off the retreat of the forces of Khalifa, the first brush with the enemy on the east bank of the Nile and captured five men and a grain laden boat. The Dervish scouts, the dispatch continued, were frequently sighted, and the whole Anglo-Egyptian army has reached Omdurman, thirty miles from Omdurman. Jewish "Rough Riders."

In his interview with Rev. Dr. Krauskopf on Cuban soil, Colonel Roosevelt informed him of the exceptional valor of his eight "Rough Riders" of the Jewish faith. He said: "One of them, by name of Samuel Greenwald, from Prescott, Arizona, entered as a private on April 30, and is now second lieutenant, promoted for fighting by the side of Roosevelt amidst the most daring heroism. Colonel Roosevelt saying that the nation has as much reason to be proud of them as he is. Another, by name of Samuel Goldberg, from Albuquerque, N. M., 22 years of age, was wounded in the hip, and for six days and nights continued fighting at Reconquista side, under murderous fire, with a bullet in his wound, which was not extracted until the fight was over. He showed me the mangled bullet. Another, by the name of Samuel Fishel, of Chicago, troop D, first cavalry regiment, is only 18 years old, and proved himself a brave lad."—Cincinnati American Israelite.

Fatal Prostration.

Samuel Vincent, a blacksmith aged 44 years, and employed at the local shops, succumbed to the heat Saturday afternoon and died at the company hospital. According to the application for employment filled out by the deceased, his nearest relatives are at Wigan, England, which place he left about five years ago. He was blacksmith at Winslow for two years prior to April 1st of this year. Since that time he has been working at Tucson, Arizona, and only came here a few days preceding his death. The excessive use of alcoholic drinks was the prime cause of his being overcome.

The body of the deceased was placed in its last resting place in the cemetery for the shop boys. The English service was read and the choir sang at the grave.

The postoffice at Winslow becomes a presidential office the first of next October.

The sensational hotel murder at New York comes at a time when the yellow journals were getting hard pushed for subject matter.

Even though the Kentucky distillers carry out their plan to limit the whisky output, it will probably not prove a big reduction in the whisky market.

A BUTCHER in Butte was arrested, tried and convicted last week, the jury finding him guilty of giving short weight. The butcher was fined $500 and given six months in jail. He has appealed the case.

Those who have pinned their faith to Albuquerque and have stood by it for these many years will get their reward in the near future. THE CITIZEN has not made a false prediction yet and this will prove true.

The editor of a Missouri paper says he stepped into the store of a business man who did not advertise, and was surprised to find him busy. The storekeeper had the litch and a Waterbury watch, and when he was not scratching himself he was winding his watch.

The postoffice department has decided that hereafter all printing in imitation of writing shall pay letter postage. The typewriters were making such close imitations of typewritten letters and penmanship that it took an expert to tell the difference.

HAL K. BROOKS, who formerly did some special work for THE CITIZEN at Williams, has been appointed justice of the peace of that town. The Williams News says: "Hal Brooks now wears the office title of judge, having received the appointment as justice of the peace this week. Hal is a bright young fellow and should easily learn how to cast the scales of justice with unerring aim."

The Silver City Enterprise says: "Fall shipments of cattle have commenced, and prices are better than known for many years. Messrs. Perry, Culbertson, Martin, Kaines, Oldham, Bates and Butcher shipped 500 head from the stock yards here last Friday. The price paid was $18.50 for yearlings, $21.50 for two-year-olds and $24.50 for three and over. Frank Graham expects to ship 400 head, which he purchased from ranchers on the Frisco during this week."

R. A. F. FENROSE, a brother of Congressman Fenrose of Pennsylvania, is being urged to make the race for delegate to congress from Arizona on the republican ticket. The Arizona Republican says: "R. A. F. Fenrose is being urged to run for delegate to congress on the republican ticket. Mr. Fenrose cannot yet see his way clear to such action, but his friends hope that he will become a candidate, believing that he could win easily over any man the democrats may name."

It is the duty of the city authorities to insist upon the burning of all decayed matter, such as the contents of garbage cans in the rear of private residences. No chances should be taken. The dwellers in the residences of the city should be requested to do this, and that not being found advisable, the health department should take the matter in hand and insist upon the garbage being burned at the expense of the city. The matter is too important to be overlooked, and should at once be taken up by the authorities of the city.

PROTECTION OF VACCINATION. The first case of vaccination, which was made for the purpose of experiment, was on May 14th, 1796.

Of the protection against smallpox which vaccination affords, it may be said that from 1721 to 1796, before the discovery of vaccine lymph, a period of seventy-one years, Boston, Mass., had three severe and fatal epidemics of smallpox, one about every twenty-three years. Since the employment of vaccination, now a little over 100 years, there has been no serious epidemic of smallpox in Boston.

In England, from 1750 to 1800, out of every 1,000 deaths, ninety-six were from smallpox; from 1800 to 1850, out of each 1,000 deaths but thirty-five were from smallpox. In the German states, before vaccination, 66.5 in the 1,000 died of smallpox; after vaccination came into use the number fell to 7.35. In the Prussian army of 300,000 men from 1876 to 1885, when every soldier was vaccinated on enlistment, there was one death from smallpox; in the French army of equal number, during the same time and no more exposed than were others, but with a less rigid rule of vaccination, the deaths from smallpox were on an average of fifty-four per year.

Last it is said that the decrease in number of deaths has arisen from the medical fraternity's improved method of treating those affected with the disease, the case of Zurich, Switzerland, comes prominently to the front. In 1863 compulsory vaccination was suspended there, and here are the official figures of smallpox deaths in 1,000: 1861, 7; 1862, 0; 1863, 8. Then came suspension of compulsory vaccination with: 1864, 11.45; 1865, 52; 1866,

85. Against such figures doubt of the protective power of vaccination cannot be entertained for a moment. Other and equally convincing statistics could be given, but these must suffice.

But there are other interesting statistics in connection with vaccination and smallpox. Marston's statistics, based on 5,000 cases of smallpox in the London hospital, give the following: Of the unvaccinated the deaths were 35 per cent; having one good vaccine cicatrix, 6.4 per cent; one indifferent cicatrix, 16.7 per cent; two indifferent, 11.7 per cent; having three good cicatrices, 3.7 per cent; three indifferent, 7.4 per cent; having four or more good, 2.7 per cent; indifferent, 4.8 per cent.

These things appear from these statistics: Vaccination is a wonderful preventative of smallpox; even where it does not entirely obviate the possibility of attack, it reduces the death rate to a very small percentage; the efficacy of the vaccination should frequently be determined by medical examination, and the vaccination renewed when necessary.

Who Will be Our Next President? Politicians are now planning for the presidential campaign of 1909, but the war has so overshadowed all other matters that politics is almost unnoticed.

Many people are of the opinion that the candidates will be the same as in 1906, but there may be a "dark horse" who will win the race. Popularity has much to do with candidates. This is also true with medicine. The most popular remedy today is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and it has retained this for many years. Science never discovered the value of this medicine for stomach, liver and kidney diseases. It builds up solid flesh tissue, imparts vigor and vitality to all organs, and makes life worth living. A bottle will make a big change for the better. Try it.

A VERSION

Of the Interior Communications of Old Mexico—A Band of Patriots.

"War, grim visaged war, that wrinkle upon our front," has not only taught other nations the great factor of Uncle Sam in the future of Asiatic and far eastern questions, but has decided once for all that the swallow-coated, star-bespangled bayonet and banner bearer of "Old Glory" is the ne plus ultra of all nations.

The war has been a severe lesson to Spanish arrogance; it has also cost many valiant lives, but it has shown patriotism unparalleled in the world's history.

A striking illustration of this was exhibited a few days ago. Mr. Doran of Torreon, Mexico, heard that Admiral Dewey's fleet was annihilated at Manila. Schley and Sampson were defeated at Santiago and the Spanish had landed a land force on American soil. The land forces were victorious in all engagements. They had razed the towns of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and were on the way to Chicago from whence they would make a cyclonic swath to the Pacific.

Mr. Doran has a world-wide reputation for patriotism, and upon hearing the bad tidings, which reached him several days after the signing of the protocol, he mustered an army of 300 men and started for El Paso. He was refused transportation. But nothing can daunt vaunting ambition. He captured a train and landed his men safely in El Paso.

It may be apropos to state that Mr. Doran was a trusted employee for fifteen years of the Torreon Mining and Milling company and, who also operated a railroad in that country.

Arriving at El Paso he waited on the mayor and requested transportation to the seat of war. He told the mayor that they were far from communication with the outside world, but when they finally did get the news it was to the effect that the Rough Riders were being rid hard and he was going to regain any lost reputation they might have sustained.

When the mayor, in a modest manner as possible, informed Mr. Doran that the war was over, the peace protocol had been signed, Dewey had sunk the Spanish Pacific fleet at Manila, Schley had bottled up and finally sunk Cervera's fleet and Shafter had captured Tonal and his forces, his enthusiasm oozed through his fingers, chagrin was depicted in his countenance, but here as he was, he proved himself equal to the emergency, and commanded his company to forward march, and led them to the nearest cafe, where they celebrated the glorious victory of the American arms. Mr. Doran's present address is Gallup, N. M. His company is disbanded—never waited to be mustered out. But they were patriots.

The Gallup Gleaner says: John R. Brown and family are preparing to leave for Albuquerque at which point they will in the future reside. Mr. Brown is one of Gallup's oldest citizens and has always had the best interests of the town warmly at heart. No one who has been associated with him but esteems him and will regret to hear of his proposed departure.

The New Mexican says: "Warren Brown, of Corralito, has sold out his liquor business at Madrid and Corralito to his brother, Ike Graham, who has just returned from the Klondike with a bag or two of gold dust."

A full attendance is desired at the meeting of the fire department this evening as the proposition to purchase fire alarm indicators out of the department funds will come up for discussion.

B. F. Adams, grand keeper of records and seals of the Knights of Pythias, went to Chama, N. M., last night, to institute a new lodge of that order.

Rev. P. A. Simpkins, the well known Congregational minister of Gallup, returned home last night after spending yesterday in the city.

The final report of the receipts from the A. M. E. church fair will be made the latter part of the week.

Dr. E. B. Gossett, assistant surgeon in the hospital at Las Vegas, has been appointed pension examiner at that place.

Traveling Engineer Rose was acting as division master mechanic at Raton during the absence of C. M. Taylor at Topeka.

Engineer Montgomery, of Raton, who laid off a month ago, has been heard from up in the mountains of British Columbia.

L. D. Eversole, of Topeka, has secured the position of superintendent of bridges and buildings on the Santa Fe Pacific, with headquarters at Winslow.

Engineer W. H. Barton sprained his ankle while setting of his engine a few days ago at San Marcial, and in consequence is taking a vacation from work.

Louis Vigil has been given the position of section foreman on the Hot Springs branch in the place of John Bach, who has been transferred to the Lamy branch.

Jerry Shaw, a passenger engineer, who runs between La Junta and Dodge City, is at the Las Vegas hospital. Mr. Shaw is suffering from an attack of rheumatism.

It is rumored that the Player tandem compound, an engine especially built for mountain service, of which great results are expected, will arrive at Raton in a few days.

Francis Nilsen finished his apprenticeship as machinist in the San Marcial machine shops last week, and will now be the recipient of a good sized Santa Fe pay check each month.

The engines on the Waldo coal run that have heretofore received all necessary repairs at the shops at Las Vegas, will hereafter be sent to the shops at this city for any needed repairs.

Charles D. Hill, formerly a Santa Fe freight conductor, came in the other day from Fort Madison, Iowa, and visited old friends in the city for a few days before going on to Winslow, Arizona, to resume his run.

Engine 729 and 717, which have been laid up for the past two months in the shops at Las Vegas, were sent to the Raton division owing to the increased business and the shortage of engines on that division.

An engineer on this division was given ten credit marks recently for discovering a broken rail and stopping in time to prevent an accident. This shows that the engineer was keeping a sharp and careful lookout.

The railroad company to-day reelected in full for the first half of the bonus; and the third payment will be due inside of twenty days, as the track will be laid by that time to the west side of Randall county—Amarillo Champion.

Chief Lineman J. B. Murphy, of the Western Union, is in Santa Fe from the north. Mr. Murphy has charge of all the wires between Salida and Santa Fe, 500 miles in all. To converse all this keeps him pretty busy, but then Mr. Murphy is a live man.

Alex. Lyle, a car repairer, recently of Burlington, Kansas, had the misfortune to have a leg broken while attending to his duties at the San Marcial shops. The limb was fractured between the knee and the ankle. Dr. Alex. Crulchank attended to the needs of the sufferer.

With the exception of the half mile through the Sedillo place the grading on this end of the railroad extension is practically completed to the thirteenth mile, and by the end of next week the grades will be at work on the approach to this side of the Pecos—Roswell Record.

New ties are being put in on the railway bed south of Kody. Fifteen thousand old ties have been taken up and replaced by new ones within the past thirty days. Superintendent Nicholas, of the Pecos Valley railroad, is apparently getting everything in shape for the operation of a through line.

Engineer Joe Brown, accompanied by his wife, stopped off on a short visit to friends in Las Vegas, en route to Winslow, A. T. Mr. Brown is running on the Santa Fe Pacific, and he and Mrs. Brown have been on a pleasure trip, taking in the Omaha exposition and visiting relatives in Illinois and Iowa.

The Flagstaff Gem says: Tuesday passenger train No. 1 was delayed at this place a few minutes on account of the tracks in the yard being so full of freight cars that it was impossible for it to pass.

The Santa Fe Pacific railroad is doing a large freight business and the yards and side tracks here are insufficient at times to meet it promptly.

The New Mexican says: The local railroad community learns with pleasure of the promotion of E. F. Lark, chief clerk of W. R. Biddle, freight traffic manager of the Santa Fe at Chicago, to the general agency at Pittsburgh. This is a marked honor as eastern agencies of the size of Pittsburgh call only for able men.

Lark is in town for a few days, leaving for the east Sunday night.

The Las Vegas Optic says: Asphit Man Lucas Gallagos received his pay check, cashed it, and gave $49 to his wife. That night about 11 o'clock two masked men made their entrance through the window into the room where Mrs. Gallagos was sleeping, the husband being at his work, and forced her to get the money for them, thus robbing her of the $49 which the husband left her that day.

Leo Seigfried, a brakeman employed by the Missouri Pacific railroad, died at the Kansas City hospital from the effects of injuries received by being knocked from a freight train. On February 20 last, Seigfried was standing on the rear car of a freight train while it was passing under the Wyandotte bridge. The bridge was too low, and as there were no signals to warn him, Seigfried was knocked off the car, striking his head upon the rails. He was removed to the Missouri Pacific hospital, and for a time it seemed that he would recover, but a few days ago he suffered a relapse.

New machinery is arriving almost every day from eastern manufacturers and is being put in at the Santa Fe Pacific railroad shops in this city and the capacity for doing varied mechanical work is being greatly increased. Certain repairs which have formerly been done at the shops in Topeka, exclusively, will in the future be done at the shops in this city.

Work on the iron stone storehouse at the Santa Fe Pacific railroad shops will be commenced in a few days. When it is completed this building will cost $10,000 and will be of the latest improved design. Other buildings, including a fire department headquarters, a fire proof pattern warehouse and a building for fitting up car wheels, will also be built this fall.

Fireman Geo. Snyder, whose leg was amputated some weeks ago at Albuquerque, has arrived at the Las Vegas hospital for treatment.

The wife of W. W. Comer, night car inspector at San Marcial, gave birth to a daughter on August 23, Dr. Shaw attending.

Mrs. M. Plumb, of Oakland, Cal., will soon arrive in San Marcial on a visit to her son, Switchman F. O. Plumb.

The names of engineers of ten years standing on this division are noticed on the extra board at San Marcial.

J. C. McCoach, agent at San Marcial, is at the Las Vegas hospital for treatment for a sore arm.

How to Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver is inactive, you have a bilious look; if your stomach is disordered, you have a dyspeptic look; if your kidneys are affected, you have a pinched look. Secure good health, and you will surely have good looks. "Kielectric Bitters" is a good Alternative and Tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils, and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at J. H. O'Reilly & Co's Drug Store. 50 cents per bottle.

A MERCHANT'S REPLY.

He Objects to the Love of Outside Pretended Friends—A Constant Advertiser.

Editor Citizen:

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 30.—I read with great interest the article in the morning paper, referring to "A Merchant's" communication in yesterday's CITIZEN. I wish to say that this particular merchant has been, not only a subscriber, but a persistent advertiser in the Democrat for the past six years, during which time not two dozen Democrats have appeared without his advertisement. The writer takes any kind of notoriety, and his name is withheld for no other reason, but in order not to "worry" the Democrat, this merchant will soon call at the Democrat's office and convince its manager that the cigars are on him. I don't very much the assertion that Albuquerque people—more especially merchants—would do anything to hurt the town in the manner stated, viz: Circulate stories about smallpox being in town. The most harm has been done by newspapers at Raton, Trinidad and other points on the railroad line, and some of these papers now applaud the Democrat for its "fearless" policy in telling the truth about it. But I think we all know how much love these papers have for Albuquerque, and they pat the Democrat on the back and read with glee the "Smallpox" headline in the Democrat every morning. I know from personal experience—even by the Democrat's own columns—that there is nothing like "steady" advertising and continual "hammering" away for good results. The Democrat evidently agrees with me on that point, and I have no doubt that by keeping everlastingly at it, its readers in and out of town will soon be convinced beyond a doubt that smallpox is raging in this city. The writer has no desire to unduly criticize or to dictate anybody's policy, but simply gives his opinion on the subject. A little less prominence given to this subject by newspapers and everybody would be a good thing. We all know the disease is rapidly disappearing, and a gradual dropping of the subject would be a blessing to Albuquerque, as all danger of an epidemic seems to have passed, and the daily report of a few scattering cases simply keeps it before the people and without any apparent benefit to anybody.

About one month ago my child, which is almost months old, had an attack of diarrhea accompanied by vomiting, gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief we sent for a physician, and it was under his care for a week. At this time the child had been sick for about ten days, and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtained relief it would not live. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended, and I decided to try it. I soon noticed a change for the better. By its continued use a complete cure was brought about, and it is now perfectly healthy. L. B. Rogers, Stumpston, Gilmer county, West Virginia. For sale by all druggists.

The Las Vegas Optic says: Beginning to-day, August 27, the working hours of machinists, boiler makers, their respective helpers, and a number of other roundhouse men at this place will be ten hours work per day, five days in the week, the shops closing Friday evening and remaining closed until the following Monday morning. This shortens the working time one-half day per week, the regular time being five and one-half days per week, laying off Saturday afternoon.

The passenger train which was to have arrived here Sunday night came in at 5 o'clock this morning. The train which was to have come in last night did not arrive until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.
