OLD TOUR OF REBELS AFRAID OF LOS VALLEY CONTINUOUS OVATION TREACHERY ON PART OF THE EMPEROR

Progressive Standard Bearer
On Whirlwind Campaign Trip Greeted Everywhere By Enthusiastic Multitudes.

DISTRICT DEMOCRATIC BY FIVE THOUSAND

Determination Manifest Everywhere to Bring Out Full Strength of Party On Election Day Against Bursum.

Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.

Clovis, N. M., Oct. 31.—The trip of the McDonald party through the Pecos valley was one continuous ovation. Everywhere the speakers were greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences, the people coming for miles to see and hear the popular democratic candidate for governor, Captain McDonald, who has resided in eastern New Mexico for thirty years, is intensely popular with the people of this section and was accorded a reception everywhere such as his soldier fallen in the lot of a public man in New Mexico. Mr. G. H. Van

Stone, the progressive republican candidate for corporation commissioner, who accompanied the party, while not so well known as the democratic standard bearer, made an excellent impression and his speeches were everywhere listened to with the closest attention and heartily cheered.

Everywhere the determination is manifested to leave no stone unturned to bring out the full party strength on election day for the state ticket.

The people of the Fifth judicial district, on account of the predominance of the democratic party in that section, have often been accused of lukewarmness and apathy in political affairs, and it is said with some degree of truth that they have never shown their full strength at the polls. This year, however, is to be the exception, and it is safe to predict that the majority rolled up will be the largest in the history of this section by many hundreds of votes.

Captain McDonald and his party left tonight for their trip to Roswell and Carlsbad. On account of the storms and bad roads the idea of making the first stage of the journey

by automobile was abandoned. Word was soon passed along the railroad that the next governor of New Mexico was on the train. At every station large crowds gathered to greet him and shake his hand. At Clovis several hundred people were gathered at the station and cheered, but it believe Sunday, no speeches were made.

At Roswell Captain McDonald was greeted at the station by another large crowd and escorted to the Gilbert hotel where the party spent the night.

Sunday evening a reception was tendered the campaigners at the Commercial club and hundreds of persons took advantage of the opportunity to welcome Mr. McDonald and express their confidence and admiration for the splendid fight which he is putting up for electing government in New Mexico. No speeches were made.

Early Monday morning the campaigners, escorted by fifteen automobiles containing some of the most substantial citizens of Chavez county, started on the trip to Carlsbad. Stops were made at Hagerman, Dexter and Lake Arthur, several hundred people being assembled at each of these places and listened with interest to Mr. McDonald.

At Lake Arthur a committee of prominent Eddy county citizens in automobiles took charge of the party and escorted them to Carlsbad, stopping at Artesia and Lakewood enroute. The meeting at Artesia was attended by over six hundred people and was enthusiastic in the extreme.

Arriving at Carlsbad a big rally was held at the theater which was crowded to the capacity. After spending the night at Carlsbad the party next morning took the train for Elida where they were met by a band and a procession of automobiles. The meeting here was held in the Methodist church and over three hundred people turned out.

After taking lunch the party, in eight automobiles, gaily decorated with American flags, left for Portales where a tremendous ovation was accorded Mr. McDonald. A procession, headed by a band, was formed and the party was escorted to the court house where over seven hundred people were assembled. The meeting was addressed by Mr. McDonald and by Mr. G. H. Van Stone, progressive republican candidate for corporation commissioner.

From Portales the party went to Chebe where they found the Lyceum theater packed with nearly a thousand people. Addresses were made by Mr. McDonald, Mr. Van Stone and by Judge McGill. The people went with enthusiasm when Mr. Mc-Donald arose to speak and he was accorded an ovation which lasted for several minutes.

THE BATTLE OF HANKOW A VERITABLE SLAUGHTER

Fighting Between Revolutionists and Imperial Army Continues Throughout Chinese Provinces.

Attackers Display Reckless Courage, Charging Machine Guns in Close Formation; Use Time Fuse Shrapnel.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]

Peking, Oct. 31.—Fighting between the rebel forces and the imperialists continues. It is believed the rebels are making a determined resistance.

Late advices indicate that Hankow was not taken by the imperialists, although General Yin Tehang captured the railway station immediately to the north.

Contrary to promises, the railway service has not been resumed nor has telegraph communication been re-established. The fact that the Associated Press correspondent with Yin

Tehang has sent no word from the field in two days may indicate that the censor will not permit him to report unfavorable news.

There are serious dangers along the railway line between the war minister's position and Peking.

Disaffection among the troops and the people has prevented satisfactory communication between the various sections of the loyal army.

Yuan Shi Kai started for the front

yesterday and is now at Sin Yuan

Chau. The policy which he will adopt is eagerly awaited. Negotiations looking to a settlement have not been under way between Yuan

Shi Kai and the revolutionary leaders, but the latter are confident of their strength and have expressed themselves as having little faith in the promises of the throne.

The Americans will hold a meeting at the legation tomorrow to decide upon definite measures for their own protection. Foreign troops are preparing for emergencies. Detachments of British, French and other guards have been distributed to the missions which lie outside the legation quarter.

Many Americans are among the foreigners who are seeking refuge here from the interior. There is only one American family at Tai Yuan Yu, which is in the hands of the revolutionaries, but there are many throughout the province of Shan Shi.

The native press has received the reform edicts favorably. The Chinese remembering how frequently the promises contained in former edicts were forgotten, may not be satisfied, however. The reformers in Peking are divided into two parties, the extremists, mainly southerners, who insist upon the expulsion of the Man-chus, and the moderates, who are numerous throughout the empire.

The latter are indifferent as to whether the dynasty is Manchu or

Chinese, but they want great administrative changes and believe that drastic measures are necessary to give the reform a fair start.

The vital question is whether the two wings will be able to unite. The inherent tendency of the Chinese is toward compromise, but unexpected circumstances frequently carry the day in China. At Canton the viceroys and leading gentry are classed as moderates while the masses are extremists.

The same condition prevails in the provinces of Hu Nan, Hu Peh, Ho

Nan, Shan Si, Kiang Si and Sze

Chuen, Naturally Manchuria and Chi-li remain loyalists. Shan Tung,

Kiang Su, An Whel, Che Kiang,

Fukie, Kwei Chow and Yuan are apparently half-hearted. Elsewhere incident rebellion is spreading.

An important question for the north is whether General Yang, leu-tenant of the Lan Chau soldiers, is acting independently or in collusion with other rebels. If the edicts satisfy the northern soldiers, the control of northern China will not be seriously impaired, but concerted action on the part of General Chang and the southerners, would probably result in the flight of the court to Jehol.

It is reported that the garrisons at

Tsin Nan Fu, Chan Chung, Pao, Ting

Fu and Teh Chow have declared in favor of the revolutionists and that

Kai Feng is expected to revolt shortly. A revolt at Pao Ting Fu would be of great importance, and would result in cutting Yin Tehang's communications completely.

General Yin Tehang has sent back home all the Ho Nan troops suspected of disloyalty. His army at Sin

Yang Chau is deplorably provisioned, one division being without food for two days.

It is stated in some quarters that

Yuan Shi Kai has been appointed premier. It is added that the government intends to accede to every demand made by the Lanchow soldiers and other disaffected troops and that it is expected the ministry will resign tomorrow.

REBELS DISPLAY RECKLESS

COURAGE IN ENGAGEMENT

Hankow, Oct. 29. (via Wu Hu.)

Oct. 31.—Hundreds were killed or wounded on both sides in the battle at Hankow and today churches, offices and store rooms were utilized by the Red Cross for the wounded.

The rebels showed reckless courage, which is their main asset. They charged cheering in close formation and faced the deadly machine fire unflinchingly. They probably sacrificed ten men to the imperialists one.

The one idea of the rebels seemed to be to go forward at any cost. The loyalists, on the contrary, with machine-like discipline, obeyed the orders given by bugles and whistles.

They employed the deadly time fuse shrapnel against the rebels' percu-sion shells.

The few Chinese in the concessions were killed or wounded. The foreign women took refuge on steamers.

THOSE GRANTED AMNESTY

SUSPICIOUS OF TREACHERY

Washington, Oct. 31.—Yuan Shi

Kai of the dominating force in China will return to Peking in answer to the imperial summons only when the prince regent voluntarily relinquishes

the power he now enjoys of condemning any Chinese subject to instant execution with trial.

That is the prevalent belief among

Washington officials, some of whom express confidence that the throne will yield to the demands of the national assembly and relinquish his power. Otherwise it might be very unsafe for Yuan Shi Kai or any other

Chinese notable to place themselves within the power of the throne.

The Chinese army is far from satisfied with the extent of the concessions made by the throne yesterday.

The dissatisfaction has spread among

was a continuous ovation and triumphal procession. Everywhere progressive and stand-pat republicans pledged their support to the people's ticket. Judging by the reception accorded the party it seems safe to predict that the four counties of Eddy, Chaves, Roosevelt and Curry will give the McDONALD ticket at least five thousand majority. It is difficult to find a republican in any of these counties who is going to support the Las Vegas ticket. Bureau's recent visit to this section having driven them all into the McDONALD camp.

The party leaves this morning by automobile for Melrose going from there by train to Las Cruces where Mr. McDONALD is scheduled to speak Thursday. Friday will be spent in El Paso City with a night meeting at Deming. On Sunday the party goes to Socorro county and on Monday to Alamogordo and Tularosa.

RICHESON CHARGED WITH MURDERING MISS LINNELL

Grand Jury's Indictment Contains Five Counts Against Clergyman; Trial Probably Will Begin in January.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Boston, Oct. 31.—The Reverend Clarence V. T. Richeson, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church, Cambridge, was indicted on five counts charging murder in the first degree today, for the alleged poisoning of his former sweetheart, Miss Anna W. Linnell, of Hyannis.

By the returning of this true bill, the necessity of holding a hearing in the municipal court is obviated. In connection with this latter proceeding Reverend Mr. Richeson appeared in the lower court today but the case was continued and the clergyman was taken back to jail immediately. By a coincidence, today had been fixed for the marriage of Mr. Richeson and Miss Violet Edmonds, of Brookline.

The indictment is of the so-called "blanket type," the five counts being so worded as to permit the introduction of evidence as to any of several methods by which the poison may have been administered to the girl.

The indictment indicates that the state is as yet without knowledge of what means were employed to hand the poison to Miss Linnell and is uncertain also as to the exact form in which the poison was taken.

The date of Mr. Richeson's trial is tentatively set for January.

HELPLESS WOMAN DOWN IN BED

A Terrible Tale of Suffering and the Facts About Mrs. Bratcher's Case.

Ready Ky.—I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," says Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic.

I thought it was no use, for I was nearly dead, and nothing seemed to do any good, but I used eleven bottles, and was then able to do all my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health.

I will always praise Cardui for what it has done for me."

Are you weak, tired, worn-out? Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to weak women? Do you suffer in any way like Mrs. Bratcher?

If so, then take Cardui, the "Woman's Tonic," for it will certainly help you.

At all druggists.

SCANDAL IS HINTED IN PAYMENT OF INDEMNITY

House Sub-Committee Begins Inquiry Into Settlement Made With Heirs of General Killed in Chinese Rebellion.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Washington, Oct. 31.—The connection of former Secretary of State John W. Foster and the late E. H. Conger, minister to China, with the payment of $248,250 out of the Boxer indemnity fund to the heirs of General F. T. Ward, killed in the Chinese rebellion of 1900, was the subject of an inquiry started today by the house sub-committee on state department expenditures.

Mr. Foster, who acted as attorney for the Ward heirs and who, with Robert Lansing, secured half of the sum as attorney's fees, testified that John Hay, secretary of state, had expressly approved a change in the protocol of November 17, 1901, under which China had been guaranteed an indemnity fund to be divided among the nations whose subjects were injured.

This change in the protocol, said Mr. Foster, gave Secretary Hay authority to pay the Ward claim out of the Boxer fund, although the claim originated nearly forty years before the Boxer rebellion.

He admitted that as attorney for Mrs. G. M. Anderson, one of the Ward heirs, he had used every resource at his command to influence the Chinese government to agree to this settlement of the old claim; and he read a confidential letter from Minister Conger, in which the latter said he "had to stretch his instructions," and had great difficulty in bringing Prince Ching, the

STEEL TRUST DOES NOT PASS ITS DIVIDEND

Complete Accord Among Directors at Regular Quarterly Meeting; Increase Shown in Net Earnings of Corporation.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Oct. 31.—In spite of rumors apparently unfounded that steps were being taken to enjoin the common dividend of the United States Steel corporation and that it might be reduced, the usual distribution of one quarter per cent on that security was declared at the regular quarterly meeting of the directors today.

The regular quarterly dividend of 1.34 per cent on the preferred stock also was declared. There was complete accord among the directors present as to the dividend, which the quarterly financial statement showed had been earned although no extra applications were made for expenditures.

The financial statement which was for the third quarter of the year ending September 30, showed earnings of $2,577,225, with net earnings of $2,329,840 respectively for the quarter immediately preceding. The corresponding quarter of 1910, earnings and net earnings were $2,365,187 and $2,148,725 respectively.

The course of the steel shares on the stock exchange earlier in the day reflected a degree of uncertainty as to the outcome of the meeting, but the common stock was well supported throughout and in the final hour advanced to 55 1/4 and closed at 54 7/8, a net gain of 1.34 points. The stock was practically within five points of its price last Thursday, when announcement of the government's suit was made.

ACCIDENTS ON COAST
LINES DELAY TRAFFIC

The breaking of an axle on train Number 2, at Siberia, on the Santa Fe coast line west of the Needles on Monday caused a tie up of east-bound traffic over that line all day yesterday. In addition to this the axle break was not all the cause of the delay to traffic. A freight train had to let two cars roll into the ditch near Gale. This delayed the trains behind No. 2, so that they couldn't reach Albuquerque within twelve hours of their scheduled time. Number 10, which should have been in Albuquerque at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, did not arrive until close to 3 o'clock last night, while the east-bound limited reached here close to midnight. Train No. 2 came in at 12:35, but train No. 8 did not get here until 4 o'clock this morning.

MR. TAFT RESENTS ATTACK MADE ON SHERMAN LAW

President Takes Occasion to Answer Speech Against Statute By Congressman Littleton of New York.

ON STATUTE BOOKS: WILL BE ENFORCED

Urges Pittsburg Business Men to Face Serious Problem That Confronts Them in Operation of Federal Act.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 31.—President Taft tonight in answer to an address made by Congressman Marcus W. Littleton, of New York, who earlier in the evening had attacked provisions of the law at a banquet of the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce. It was nearly midnight before the president started to speak.

"This question has been frequently considered by my friend Mr. Littleton," said Mr. Taft, "and I regret the matter has come up here. It savors of harshness to have a difference of opinion on an occasion of this kind. But I must say what I think."

"The Sherman law has been on the statute books for twenty years and has been construed and construed and construed, and finally by the supreme court. The two decisions last spring, in my judgment, give a definite meaning to the law and the purpose of controlling prices and stifling competition is a violation of the statute."

"The men know whether they intend to stifle competition and control prices and all that is necessary in a court of law is to prove the combination and the intent. That is all that is needed for the enforcement of any criminal statute."

"It is not pleasant to be engaged in what may seem to be an assault of business, but business men thought this law could not be enforced. Now that law can and is being enforced, and because of this we hear that it is to be repealed."

"What has my dear friend Littleton to offer? Only one course is open. Either we will have individualism or we will have combinations in restraint of trade going to that point where the people will demand that the power of men engaged in such corporations be transferred to the government. And then we will have state socialism."

"Now we can disintegrate unlawful corporations and put them under injunction. If they operate, they must compete. I know I am speaking against the trend of many of you. But I can't help it. The law is on the statute books and must be enforced and this stifling of competition and this control of prices must cease."

"I didn't want to get into this discussion, but I want you business men to face this problem."

At midnight the president was taken to the Sandy Side station of the Pennsylvania railroad, where plans had been perfected for his trip to Morgantown, W. Va.

President Taft's second swing around the circle came to an end here today in a most enthusiastic and noisy demonstration. Pittsburg celebrated the centennial of steam navigation on western rivers and Mr. Taft was the star attraction.

For five minutes after the presidential automobile turned down to the river bank every whistle within miles was blown down. The noise died down long enough for Mrs. Allen Roosevelt-Lowermer (in christening a replica of the "New Orleans," the first steamboat on western waters, which was piloted down the Monongahela and the Ohio rivers one hundred years ago by her great grandfather, Nicholas J. Roosevelt.

There was quiet for a moment as the president spoke briefly, praising former President Roosevelt for his statement in behalf of the Panama canal. For more than an hour and a half the "Virginia," with the president in the pilot house, steamed down the Monongahela, up the Allegheny, down the Ohio and then back to the wharf.

Tonight Mr. Taft brought his visit to Pittsburg to a close with a speech at the banquet of the local chamber of commerce, where he listened to a plea for the repeal of the Sherman anti-trust act by Congressman Littleton of New York, member of the special congressional committee that is investigating the United States steel corporation.

"It seems clear to me," said Mr. Littleton, "that the Sherman law cannot be made effective by the enforcement of the act without a sacrifice of the whole industrial fabric and that it should be repealed and a new policy or scheme of legislation inaugurated."

Mr. Littleton suggested that every corporation before it entered interstate business be required to submit its incorporation, its status, its true condition to a board created for that purpose and to obtain a license to do interstate business. The charter, he said, should be formal, definite and should recite the terms of the grant.

HARRIMAN POLLS BIGGEST VOTE IN PRIMARY

Socialist Candidate For Mayor Leads George Alexander, Republican-Good Government, in Incomplete Returns.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Oct. 31.—Returns from today's primary for the selection of candidate for the mayoralty, council and other city officials who shall go before the voters in the regular municipal election in December, indicate that Mayor George Alexander, nominee of the republicans and Job Harriman, socialist candidate, will make the race for first place in the city government.

Incomplete returns from 195 precincts out of 243 give the following vote:

Job Harriman, socialist, 8,125.
George Alexander, republican-good government, 7,571.

The same precincts showed that the entire socialist countenanced ticket was running 399 to 596 votes ahead of the republican-good government coalition and attached candidates.

FIRST DOSE WILL END MISERY IN STOMACH

Indigestion, Gas, Dyspepsia, Heartburn and All Stomach Trouble Relieved in Five Minutes With a Little Diapiesin.

As there is often some one in your family who suffers from indigestion or some form of stomach trouble why don't you keep some Diapiesin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula, plainly written on these 50-cent cases of Diapiesin. Then you will readily see why it makes indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn and other distress go in five minutes, and relieves at once such miseries as belching of Gas, Eructations of sour, undigested food, Nausea, Headaches, Dizziness, Constipation and other stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from indigestion and dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with the common, every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe there is a case of Nervousness, Gastritis, Catarrh of the Stomach, or Cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, gas and stomach poison, which putrefies in the digestive tract and intestines, and besides, poisons the blood with noxious odors. A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Diapiesin.

Charged With Manslaughter.
New York, Oct. 31.—Isaac Harris and Max Blank, proprietors of the Triangle Waist company, the fire in whose loft on March 25 resulted in the loss of 143 lives will have to go on trial soon under indictments of manslaughter in the first degree.

Judge O'Sullivan in the court of general sessions, disallowed demurrers to seven indictments against them.

TURKS ABOUT TO RECAPTURE TRIPOLI

Italians Driven From One of Important Forts to City, After Enormous Losses; Their Position Desperate.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Washington, Oct. 31.—The reports of Tripoli by the Turks seem imminent to officials of the Turkish embassy here, in the light of official advices from Constantinople tonight. A dispatch says an attack was made on Fort Sidi-Mersi-Ep-Henni and that the Italians had evacuated the place, leaving behind a great quantity of ammunition and other supplies.

The losses of the Italians are reported to be enormous while the Turks are said to have lost but forty killed and about one hundred wounded.

The Turkish forces, reinforced by volunteers, first advanced upon Tripoli on the night of the 25th, breaking through the lines of Italians at different points. This attack lasted until 4 o'clock the next morning when the Italians retreated to a remote corner of the town.

GANG TURNS LOOSE MONEY IN SAN MIGUEL

Machine Bosses Working Desperately to Stem Tide of Progressive Movement in "Imperial County".

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.)
Las Vegas, N. M., Oct. 31.—Panic-stricken by the unexpected strength of the progressive movement in this county, long the stronghold of the republican machine, the old guard leaders are already beginning to spend money like water in an effort to retain their hold on the county and through it control the state. It is said that the campaign fund this year in the largest ever collected, and in some quarters it is said to aggregate $25,000.

Today it is reported, emissaries of the gang were dispatched to Mora and Santa Rosa and to the outlying precincts of San Miguel county. These men, according to the reports, have instructions to use sums all the way from a thousand dollars down to a hundred dollars to line up the voters for the state, county and legislative ticket.

While the use of money in former years has had its effect on the result of the elections, it is believed that this year the gang leaders are encountering a different sentiment. The voters are manifesting a spirit of independence and the small precinct leaders, who hitherto carried the vote or their followers in their pockets, have lost their grip and are no longer able to deliver the goods.

The democratic and progressive organizations are using every precaution to prevent fraud in the election and to prevent the voting of non-residents which has been more or less common in other years. Volunteer workers will be at the polls all day Tuesday in every precinct in this county and they will see to it that none vote who are not qualified electors of the precinct in which they attempt to cast a ballot. Prosecutions for perjury will follow in any case where illegal voters insist upon voting after being challenged.

In event of Young Pitman's death, Buster and Louis will inherit the wealth now accruing in royalties from oil lands in Oklahoma. It is stated that within fifteen years the total wealth of Robert Jr., Louis and Buster Pitman will be $2,500,000. Their property is near Tulsa.

Make Your Cut Glass Sparkle

Soap leaves a greasy film on glass which is hard to remove; the following method of washing will, however, make glass crystal clear:

Take a wooden tub, or pad the metal sink with soaked linen towels or any soft piece of cotton. Wash the glass in warm suds, made by dissolving a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder in 2 pan of hot water; use a soft brush to clean surface, then rinse in water of the same temperature. After the glass has been carefully dried on glass linen, use a camel's hair brush to polish the cut surface.

COUSIN OF DOCTOR HAD PREMONITION OF TRAGEDY

Relates Details of Frightful Dream to Coroner; Girl, Prompted By Stories of Case, Tells Wild Story.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 31.—Miss Augusta Knabe, cousin of Dr. Helene Knabe, who was found a week ago with her head nearly severed, today told Coroner Durham of a frightful dream, a premonition of trouble which was to follow. In relating her experience she said:

"I dreamed that I was with Dr. Knabe and that the tail of an enormous black snake hung down towards her from a tree. We were speechless with fright, and I felt that we held each other in close embrace as if every moment would be our last. I awoke while the dream held me in great fear and I did not sleep soundly the rest of the night."

In one of Dr. Knabe's letters the coroner found reference to Buddhism, but the cousin said the dead physician was not a believer in the eastern religion.

Alma Hagman, 14 years old, incited by the accounts of the murder mystery of Dr. Knabe, today hid several pieces of jewelry, slashed herself across the left arm with a knife, hid the knife and then lay down on the floor to await discovery. When found by her sister, she said she had been attacked by a man and forced to drink from a bottle.

The girl later confessed to the police that her actions had been prompted by the stories of the Knabe case. Her injuries are slight.

It is reported that he cannot live through the week.

Young Pitman will be worth $500,000 if he lives until he becomes of age. His mother recently was given custody of him until he is of age, and it is stated that the government, through the Indian agents in Oklahoma, is taking steps to compel Robert Pitman, Sr., to give up all his alleged illegal claims to the estate of his son and two other children, Buster, 2 years old, and Louis, 6 years old.

In event of Young Pitman's death, Buster and Louis will inherit the wealth now accruing in royalties from oil lands in Oklahoma. It is stated that within fifteen years the total wealth of Robert Jr., Louis and Buster Pitman will be $2,500,000. Their property is near Tulsa.

ALAMEDA PRECINCT SOLID AGAINST HUBBELL

Nearly Every Voter Turns Out to Participate in Progressive-Democratic Rally; Boss Excoriated.

The meeting held in the Alameda precinct school house last night by the progressive republicans and democrats was one of the best attended political assemblies ever held in that precinct. A number of speakers and workers went out from Albuquerque to assist in making the affair a success, among them being Isaac Barth, M. U. Vigil, Alfred Grunfeld and John B. Burg.

Out of a poll list in the precinct of 145 voters, there were 156 present at the meeting, a remarkable showing. The enthusiasm was enormous and of the most contagious sort.

The meeting was presided over by Maximo Perea of that precinct, a life-long republican, who in a stirring speech told his fellow citizens of his loyalty to principles of the grand old party and his extreme regret that he had forsaken the high standards of the past and had descended to an organization for graft and gain. His exhortation of the Bursum-Hubbell gang was one of the finest pieces of extemporaneous political oratory that has been heard in Bernalillo county.

The gentlemen from Albuquerque were introduced and each spoke being received in the most enthusiastic manner. At the conclusion of each speech it was applauded to the echo.

The sentiment in this precinct against graft and gang methods can be well guarded when it is known that numbers of the men present at the meeting traveled several miles over the wet county roads in order to show their intentions in the present campaign.

Miller, United States district attorney, for possession of the evidence in the so-called McNamara dynamiting case for use in a federal grand jury investigation.

Mr. Rappaport argued that books and papers belonging to the iron workers' association were a part of the evidence seized in a raid at the time of John J. McNamara's arrest here and that they should be retained in charge of the county's authorities until they are returned to the association.

Santa Fe to Run Big Agricultural Demonstration Train in New Mexico

Prof. Tinsley and Head of Extension Department of Agricultural College and Experiment Station to Be in Charge of Fully Equipped Train for Instruction of Farmers of State.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)

Las Cruces, N. M., Oct. 29.—Prof. J. H. Conway, recently appointed head of the agricultural college and United States experiment station at Las Cruces, is making arrangements with Prof. J. D. Tinsley, soil expert and agricultural demonstrator for the Santa Fe railroad, to make up a demonstration train of agricultural exhibits and go to every section of New Mexico where the Santa Fe operates.

It has been the custom of the Santa Fe to co-operate with any association that endeavors to promote farming interests in New Mexico. Their men visit every section and help the farmers who are showing the world that New Mexico has great agricultural possibilities.

In arranging the demonstration train one car will be devoted to livestock. The best breeds of cattle, sheep and hogs will be exhibited. The expert in charge of this line of work will explain the good and bad points on each animal, and explain to the stockmen how to obtain the best results and breed up their animals. It is a well established fact that grain and forage crops grown in the southwest must be fed in the southwest to stock raised in the southwest. By this process the farmer makes a profit out of his livestock. This will be freely discussed with the farmers of the Sunshine State and tables will be shown giving actual results obtained at the experiment station.

One car will be devoted to the horticultural department. All horticultural experts who have studied the soil and climatic conditions in New Mexico are agreed that this state has a fruit future second to none in the United States and that that future is not many years distant. The all important question at this time is to select the best fruits and best varieties. Hundreds of orchards are being planted in New Mexico but not all to the best baying crops. Different sections produce one variety of apples or pears, while another section produces another variety. The United States government, co-operating with the state of New Mexico, is paying experts to make experiments and determine the best crops for different sections. The exhibit will contain different fruits, samples of different soils, irrigation methods, etc., etc. This exhibit will be one of the best in the train.

There will be one car devoted to the demonstration of cereals. Grain growing is very essential to the prosperity of any agricultural region and New Mexico soil contains the elements that produce large quantities of grain, wheat, corn and oats leading. In making tests at the experiment station one variety of wheat yielded 72 bushels of wheat to the acre, the poorest variety yielding 32 bushels. One grower in the Mesilla valley produced 93 bushels of oats to the acre, while corn averages about 40 bushels more than the average for the central states. Most improved methods must be used to obtain the largest crops and the experts in charge of the exhibits will explain the best methods.

Various kinds of vegetables, dairy products, poultry, charts showing contents of different soils and many other exhibits will be shown, all beneficial to the farmer. The government has realized that organized effort will do more to increase the quantity and quality of each farm than anything else. The Santa Fe realizes that development means more business and more profits. The wealth of New Mexico is in soil and ultimately the masses must turn to it for support. After the timber is gone, after the minerals are exhausted, the farm of New Mexico will still produce in abundance and make New Mexico a wealthy state.

COTTON PICKERS ON PECOS BADLY NEEDED

Several Hundred Men Can Find Work at Good Wages Around Carlsbad at Once.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)

Carlsbad, N. M., Oct. 28.—The labor conditions in the Carlsbad Project are serious. There are hundreds of acres of cotton that have not been touched, though ready for the pickers many weeks. Efforts to bring in help have not been very successful, as work is very plentiful in every part of the Pecos valley. There is much more land under cultivation in the valley this year than at any time in the past. Many new settlers have come in, but as a rule they have gone to work for themselves and if anything made the demand for help more acute. Several hundred men can find work at good wages at the present time. With the improvement of the irrigation works that the reclamation service has just begun, chances are good for work the entire winter.

Alfalfa haying is finally finished for the season. Three outfits were kept busy for over three months. The yield of alfalfa seed was not as heavy as many expected, but the seed crop will add materially to the income of the alfalfa farmers. The fourth cutting of hay is finished. The earlier cuttings have made a good start. The corn is being harvested and is making a big return. A smaller acreage of corn was planted this year than last and has been planted to alfalfa and orchard. But the crop is one of the best money-makers after all.

LAS CRUCES READY TO GIVE OVATION TO McDONALD

Gigantic Demonstration Planned in Honor of Next Governor; Dona Ana County Democrats Pushing Fight Hard.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)

Las Cruces, N. M., Oct. 29.—Hon. W. C. McDonald, democratic candidate for the governorship of New Mexico, will arrive in Las Cruces on November 2. He will speak in Dona Ana in the morning, in Mesilla in the afternoon and at a big mass meeting in Las Cruces at night. Hundreds of torches have been secured and a torch light parade will escort Mr. McDonald down Main street and to the armory where the meeting will be held.

The democratic party of Dona Ana county has organized an active Young Men's club in Las Cruces, another in Mesilla. Personal workers are going to the different precincts and visiting every voter. Native workers are coming upon the natives and Americans upon the Americans. Meetings large and small are being held every night and the democrats are just as confident of Barsum's defeat and the breaking of the republican ring in this county on November 2, as they are that the sun will go down on that great day.

"Bust the ring" is the pass word, and every thinking and intelligent voter is given a chance to help if he so desires. Everyone is wearing a little badge with "Bust the Ring" on it. The republicans have been in power and controlled the affairs of this county so long that "the memory of man runneth not to the contrary." The democrats believe that this rule is at an end, and a new administration will soon step into office and run this county.

The democratic nominee for state senator is J. H. Paxton, an attorney of high standing. District Judge J. T. Hewitt, district attorney, M. O. Llewellyn, house of representatives, W. S. Gilliam and N. C. Frenger, assessors, Jacoby and treasurer, Hugh Clary. These men are not corporation attorneys, not office holders and come before the people asking for their voters believing that a change will do this county good.

THREE BIG TRAINS BRING WILD WEST SHOW INTO CITY

Famous 101 Ranch Aggregation Gives Two Thrilling Performances in Albuquerque Today; A Big Show.

Early this morning the three long trains of double length cars brought the 101 Ranch Real Wild West show into town and the work of unloading was under way before the thrifty housewife had taken her initial steps for the morning meal. With a perfect system and a most commendable discipline the wagons, stock and show paraphernalia was expeditiously and quietly unloaded and on the way to the show grounds. While the hour of arrival was one when beauty sleep was sought it was none too early for those who had for once forfeited this beauty sleep and were on hand to greet this great western enterprise. Do not get the idea that this privilege of welcoming a show belongs exclusively to the kiddies, for there were many grown-ups on hand this morning when the first section of the show trains pulled in, and they remained until the last car was unloaded and run back to await the loading of the show tonight, after the show has given the two performances which are to be given here.

The wonderful rapidity with which things were accomplished as the wagons rolled onto the show grounds caused everybody to marvel. Vacancy soon was transformed into occupancy and hardly before those on the grounds realized that the creation of tents was under way a streak of smoke mingled with the aroma of cooking coffee was wafted to the nostrils of the hundreds watching the working men, and it was only a few minutes later that the bugle call announced the breakfast. Forty minutes by actual count after the cook house wagons had reached the show grounds breakfast was in readiness for the family of nearly 3,000 people who travel with this Wild West show. The Indians are naturally early risers, and they were on hand long before the call to the morning meal and what they did to it would make a dyspeptic turn green with envy. Mr. George Arlington, who has absolute charge of the commissary department, is responsible for the assertion that the appetite of the Indian is never appeased. He may make a gormond of himself at 6 o'clock in the morning and in less than an hour he is ready to repeat the prescription. Breakfast will run this morning until 10 o'clock, at which time the call to bridge up is sounded and the first step for the street parade will be under way. By that time the huge spread of canvas will be in position the horses all groomed and fed and the last of the breakfasters satisfied.

One great big mark was placed to the credit of the 101 Ranch Real Wild West show, and that will be for the decorous manner in which they came to town. There was a complete absence of rowdiness, and propriety was observed. The show was given quietly and a better disciplined lot of men have never been seen here. It has always been claimed that the deportment around this show can be taken as criterion for all others and it is evident that this show can be taken as a sample of the management then the people have nothing but one of the grandest days they have ever had to look forward to.

Two performances will be given here today. The afternoon performance at 2 o'clock and the evening performance at 8 o'clock. The show at the performances will open one hour previous to the time of starting in order that all may have ample opportunity to visit the Indian village and enjoy the band concert which is given for one hour before each performance.

This morning promptly at nine o'clock the street parade will leave the show grounds and pass through the principal streets. This parade is a pleasing departure from the many others that have been seen here and is of prime importance. The show features, of such magnitude is it that it has been found necessary to divide it into two sections, but they follow so closely there is no wait. It is just a separation of the allegorical and historical section from the big Wild West caravan.

The canopy-covered seats accommodate 10,000 people, and the holder of a ticket is always sure of a good, comfortable seat with a back and foot rest. Standing room is never sold, no matter how great the demand. One ticket guarantees admission to every department of the big show. No matter what the circumstances may be there is never any advance in the price. Two ticket wagons will be open on the lot and this morning the advance sale of tickets will open in Matson's store where tickets may be purchased at the same price as sold from the wagons on the show grounds. Fifty uniformed ushers will be in attendance to care for the ladies and children who may attend without escorts.

HAGERMAN GIVES LIE TO SAFFORD'S EXPLANATION

In Vigorous Speech at Silver City Ex-Governor Declares Albuquerque Banker Made Misstatements in Letter.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal)

Silver City, N. M., Oct. 31.—Reading from the statement published in the Albuquerque Tribune-Citizen-Herald by Charles V. Safford, formerly traveling auditor of New Mexico but now a banker in Albuquerque, in which Safford purported to quote conversations had with him during the Barsum penitentiary scandal, denounced as absolutely false Safford's remarks. Mr. Hagerman went further than this. He proved by that gentleman's own statement that Mr. Safford was mistaken when he intimated that Mr. Barsum had not paid back any money alleged to have been misappropriated while he was superintendent of the penitentiary until demand for such payment had been made on him. The speaker cited as proof of this, Barsum's letter in refuting the sum of over $1,700, which letter is now of record.

Ex-Governor Hagerman's audience which overflowed the Elks' theater, cheered him to the echo during his speech and accorded him a noteworthy ovation when he was introduced as the first speaker of the evening at a big meeting held under the auspices of the Silver City Progressive Republican club. The introduction was made by Charles P. Givin, a life-long republican, who announced that he was going to vote for the first time the democratic ticket at this election because it offered the only hope of a decent and honest administration of affairs in the new state.

Other speakers of the evening were R. H. Hanna, progressive republican candidate for supreme court justice, and Major R. W. Waddill, democratic candidate for district attorney of this judicial district. Tonight's meeting was a record-breaker in the history of Silver City alone it is expected that 150 votes will be cast by republicans for the democratic state and county tickets. Ex-Governor Hagerman, R. H. Hanna and Felix Martinez expect to close the campaign Friday night at Las Cruces with a big rally.

WAGON MOUND IS A PROGRESSIVE STRONGHOLD

Eastern Mora County Town Fails to Enthuse Over Stand-Pat Republican Meeting; Addresses By Leahy and Ward.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)

Wagon Mound, N. M., Oct. 30.—This town, which is a hot-bed of progressivism and which has taken the lead in Mora county to overthrow the republican bosses, failed to enthuse at a rally held here Saturday night in the opera house by David J. Leahy, candidate for district judge, and C. W. G. Ward, nominee on the republican ticket for district attorney to succeed himself. Though a dance had been advertised to follow the meeting, in an effort to draw a crowd, the voters failed to bite. When the time for the meeting arrived, the opera house was about one-third filled, and many of those present were democrats and progressive republicans, who were outnumbered by the leaders in the audience.

Captain Leahy was introduced as the first speaker by J. Frank Curran, cashier of the Wagon Mound Bank and Trust company, who presided over the meeting. Mr. Curran announced that the speakers would be glad to answer any questions from the audience at any time, a pertinent question was asked by one of those present, the interrogator was promptly denounced for trying to inject "the race issue," and his question was ignored. Captain Leahy did not talk long.

Mr. Ward, however, made one of his usually entertaining speeches, of which eloquence was the chief feature. He dwelt at great length on the blue ballot amendment and denounced its ratification. He declared that he would rather be defeated on next Tuesday than see the amendment carried; that he would rather see Captain Leahy, Juan Navarro, Blas Sanchez and other republican candidates lose out, than to see the blue ballot win. He accused W. C. McDonald, the democratic candidate for governor, of being the author of what he termed "the iniquitous fence law," and promised that if the republican candidates were elected they would assist in repealing that law.

Mr. Ward failed to explain how Mr. McDonald, a democrat, was able to force a republican legislature and a republican governor to do his bidding and force the enactment of the "iniquitous fence law."

There was such a lack of enthusiasm at the rally as to greatly disappoint the speakers who had been assured in advance by local stand-patters that they would get a rousing welcome.

IT'S THE KAPPLE FURNITURE CO. HEREAFTER

Name of Futrelle Furniture House is Changed, But Management Will Remain the Same.

Announcement has been made recently of a change in name adopted by the Futrelle Furniture company, one of Albuquerque's leading mercantile establishments. The organization, now permanently installed in its handsome new quarters at 213-215 West Central avenue, will be known hereafter as the Kapple Furniture company.

There has been no change in the personnel of the management, it is announced, and the progressive policy which has characterized the store for the past twenty years is to be thoroughly maintained.

CONFESSED SLAYER SURRENDERS TO POLICE

Tired of Being Fugitive Man Who Killed Sister's Fiance Gives Himself Up to Los Angeles Authorities.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Los Angeles, Oct. 31.—Horatio Bertram Moser, aged 23, who said he was the son of Maurice Moser, an art dealer living at 230 East Fifth street, New York, surrendered to the police tonight declaring himself a murderer who was tired of being a fugitive. His victim, he said, was Stephen Brooks, fiance of his sister, Millicent, whom he killed September 1, 1910.

Moser is being held tonight pending the result of inquiries instituted by the police in New York. The prisoner was calm. He declared he killed Brooks when the two met near Forty-second street and Broadway, New York. The tragedy, according to Moser, occurred just after he had been married to his childhood sweetheart, with whom he said, he had communicated occasionally during his wanderings, in a code they adopted in school days. His bride informed him in a code letter, he added, that Brooks died two days after he was shot on September 13, 1910, a month before the date set for his wedding to Moser's sister, Millicent. Moser declared he shot Brooks when he made discoveries in connection with the white slave traffic.

After the shooting, Moser said he visited his father, and then left for the Pacific coast. He spent a few days in San Francisco, but worked for the greater part of the time on a ranch. He arrived here today, he added, feeling blue, but disheartened and tired of avoiding policemen.

DON'T HUG A DELUSION

Something "Just as Good" An Impossibility—If Not the Original Have Nothing At All.

For a woman to adorn her head with false braids, puffs and rats, or a man to wear a topee, is like buying an off-brand hair preparation instead of Newbro's Herpicide. The "false hair" and the "off-brand" are both substitutes for the real thing. The original is always conceded to be better than any imitation or substitute. "Something just as good" is a heresy of the rankest kind.

Newbro's Herpicide is the original remedy and does as promised. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ, keeps the scalp clean and stops falling hair. Its proper use before bath-time makes false hair and wigs unnecessary.

There is no uncertainty. The purchaser gets positive results or money is refunded. It is sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Applications may be obtained at good barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO

LEGALIZED LAND GOBBLING.

The evasive manner in which Mr. Bursum is replying to the charges that he, Mr. Luna, Mr. Hubbell and others, all political and personal friends of Robert P. Ervin, candidate for land commissioner, are parties to a deep land scheme to deprive the people of the benefits of the public lands is shown clearly by the following in the Roswell Record:

Some time ago the Albuquerque Morning Journal made the charge that there was a conspiracy on foot among the present republican "gang" to grab all or a great part of the public lands of New Mexico, after statehood, after they had safely placed in office men of their own choosing, and who would be in charge of the new state's land resources. There are many ways to exercise unfair and partial selection of worthless lands for the various territorial institutions, and sell to freebooters the remainder; the state having the power vested in it to lease without advertising or notice whatever all public lands for a period of five years or less.

Notwithstanding the seriousness of this charge, the gang organ, viz: the Santa Fe New Mexican, instead of dispelling the idea of graft, and stating that such was their most ulterior motive behind the desire to capture the first state offices, simply announced editorially that the governor had nothing to do with the distribution of public lands. Whether or not this is an implication that such a conspiracy exists, is left for the voter to determine.

Concerning the public lands of the territory of New Mexico, Mr. Bursum in his speech at Roswell, Tuesday night, undertook to set out the restrictions imposed by congress on the sale and leasing of public lands, one of which was that all proposed leases or sales should be preceded by four weeks' advertising. The enabling act which sets out these restrictions, sets out that land shall not be sold or leased, except to the highest and best bidder at public auction, notice of which shall be given in the manner and for the time prescribed in said act, but this act contains the following provision, as follows:

"Provided that nothing herein contained shall prevent said proposed state from leasing any of said lands referred to in this section, for a term of five years or less, without said advertisement herein required."

The purpose of this of course, is to enable the state to lease small tracts of land for small periods of time, without the expense and delay incident to larger transactions. Congress evidently proceeded upon the theory that the men in charge of the new state's resources would be honest.

It will be observed that the promise is restricted to small tracts. It will be observed that Mr. Bursum failed to call the attention of the voters to this provision.

It will be observed further that the attention of the voters has not been called to this provision by the Santa Fe New Mexican, or any other advocate of "gang rule."

If Mr. Bursum is well enough acquainted with the enabling act, why did he mis-state the facts by failing to call the attention of the voters to the proviso above mentioned?

If the gang newspapers make no better defense of the charge of conspiracy to graft than they have made what assurance have the voters and the citizens of the state of New Mexico that this apparently innocent proviso will not be used as the instrument of a monumental graft?

Can such assurance be reasonably deduced from the past reputation of the head of the ticket?

MR. McDONALD'S CAMPAIGN.

With the election only a few days distant, the tide in favor of W. C. McDonald, which started in briskly is becoming steadily stronger and more irresistible and every day the result looks more like a landslide.

Nothing has had so much to do with this result as the personal campaign of Mr. McDonald. It has been dignified, and at the same time vigorous and aggressive; he has used no mud from start to finish and has discussed the issues before the people in a candid, manly clean cut way which has impressed the voters everywhere he has traveled. A veteran New Mexican, a successful business man, a man who makes friends and holds them by the simplicity and directness of his manner and his character; with an unblemished public record and personally a man of the highest integrity and honesty. Mr. McDonald, nominated by acclamation by delegates from every corner of the state, was certain of election from the start; and that certainty has been doubly assured by the manner of his campaign.

A weak candidate could have been elected over the extremely weak and indefensible offering of the republican machine; with a strong man like McDonald, the majority for the clean government for which he stands will be nothing short of overwhelming.

The democratic candidate is entitled to the more praise for the nature of his campaign in view of the methods of the opposition and which would certainly induce a less self contained and self controlled campaigner to answer in kind; but Mr. McDonald has met frantic cries of "perjury" and "liar" with a concise and convincing discussion of the issues and has refused steadily to be led off into the byways of quack. His campaign has again demonstrated his entire fitness for the position to which the people of New Mexico have called him and he will make a governor of the people, with no lurid political past to live down and with no pledges to political bosses or corporations.

IT IS TIME FOR A CHANGE.

With the faculty which has marked its whole campaign, the Bursum press bureau, whose candidates are running on a platform loudly deprecating perpetual office holding, is sending out daily a series of interesting biographies of the "sterling citizens" whom it would fain have placed in the seats of officialdom.

Practically every one of these shows that the candidate has held public office in New Mexico anywhere from ten to thirty years.

Practically every one of these men has been closely affiliated for a generation with the select group of politicians behind the stand pat ticket now before the people.

Many of these men have served long terms in the New Mexico legislature; and every one who has so served has been connected with the passage of some of the obnoxious laws which have pushed the people of New Mexico to the present widespread and determined revolt.

Nearly every one of these men has been elected to office by the corrupt un-republican machine now seeking to perpetuate them in power.

The Bursum ticket is the cream of the crowd that have absolutely dominated the legislative, executive and judicial departments of New Mexico; that have partitioned out the appointive offices to their faithful henchmen, and that have debauched all three departments of the territorial government. Many of these men have become wealthy out of the taxes paid by the people. Through the bludgeon of official position, the ring bosses who have so long driven the voters in the counties of San Miguel, Sandoval, Valencia, Socorro, have built up their power. Professional office holders and office seekers, political bankers and cunning politicians make up the assemblage.

It is time for a change.

AN UNPLEASANT EXHIBITION.

"Your conduct is offensive; you have apologized for such behavior before and I presume you will do so again" was the biting remark of the District Court on Monday to Don Francisco's eminent barrister during the hearing of the mandamus case at the court house.

It was a rebuke much appreciated by the members of the bar present at the time, as the exhibition of lack of professional etiquette, disregard for the dignity of the court and general spite and bad temper was the culmination of a series of such displays which disgusted parties to both sides of the case at issue. It was all thoroughly in line with a similar exhibition by the Eminent Barrister at Las Vegas when he smugly referred to the opponents of his employer's brand of politics as "skunks and rattlesnakes."

We are confident, from these later developments, that our classification of the gentleman at that time was eminently correct.

His latest lesson ought to be beneficial; but we have our doubts as to whether it will be.

The conduct of the eminent barrister at the court house Monday may be regarded as significant of the furious temper of his employer at the prospect of a fair election in Bernalillo county.

A FAMILY AFFAIR.

The Miera-Sandoval ticket placed before the disgusted voters of the county of Sandoval is one of the most remarkable productions we have had the pleasure of seeing. Five members of the illustrious family of Sandoval, headed by a member tried some time ago for a trifling one or two murders appear on the ticket. It is to be presumed the rest of the names may be found in the family Bible of Epimenio Miera.

It appears to be a divine right platform upon which the former bosses of that long suffering county are running this year. It is a matter of the greatest gratification that the independent voters of that county are preparing to vote the straight democratic ticket.

So far no ardent admirer of Bursum has gone so far as to compare any of his speeches with Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

CAN THEY EXPLAIN IT?

The head of the Catholic church in New Mexico in a communication to the people of New Mexico in another column utterly repudiates the alleged public communication from him published some time ago by the Bursum press bureau. The archbishop brands as untrue and unauthorized the whole proposition that he is giving the people any advice as to their political duty or seeking to influence votes for any political party or faction in this campaign.

We were suspicious from the first of the authenticity of the alleged manifesto, circulated by the Bursum press bureau, which was already contrived to bear the marks of authenticity and which this paper published at the time as a matter of news. Its repudiation by the archbishop leaves no conclusion but that Mr. Bursum has deliberately attempted to drag the Catholic church into the campaign to bolster up his lost cause.

If Mr. Bursum can explain whether or not this "manifesto" was a forgery and a fabrication, the public will be very glad to hear it. We fear the explanation will be a difficult matter.

The Trib-Cit says as follows, to-wit: "The election of the first officers of the new state, while a very important matter, is no excuse for people to go crazy. No reason exists why the issues involved and the claims of the candidates should not be discussed calmly and rationally on their merits, and there was certainly no reason for making of our first state election an exhibition of mud-slinging which must necessarily create a similar impression on the outside world and have a most injurious effect on the future prosperity of the state."

We heartily agree with you and trust that having reached this conclusion you will not require the services of an alienist.

Here is another rather neat one which we think ought to be given publicity: "The Journal-Democrat has again stamped itself as a character-assassin and nothing more; and the sippant manner in which it seeks to make a lot of its despicable conduct shows that it is no less to every precept of journalistic ethics and every instinct of journalistic decency as to be beneath the contempt of honorable men."—Trib-Cit.

Buck up, old sport; you will have to take many a merry jest after election.

Jesus Romero, we are told in howling tones by the Trib-Cit, was "caught red handed in the effort to commit a felony." This is pulling it on pretty strong and if we were "Sus" we should enter a mild protest. The sturdy and honest officer of the law, however, probably realizes that nothing could make votes for him faster.

The evening paper recently published the startling information—from Socorro, we believe it was—that "it is openly stated on the streets that no one can look into Mr. Bursum's honest face and grasp his hand without feeling that he is one of nature's noblemen" or words to that broad general effect. They are getting really tiresome; to mention it "openly on the street."

"Many things" says Don Francisco's eminent barrister in a convulsion in the Trib-Cit calling down the district court, "happen in courts that the ordinary citizen cannot understand." We are informed that at least one thing happened in our courts Monday evening that the eminent barrister could understand—without a diagram.

All that is necessary now to complete the clever Mr. Safford's own vindication is to have Judge A. B. Fall concur. H. O. Bursum stipulate and set an affidavit from William E. Martin, district clerk.

It is understood Mr. Larrazolo has had his eulogy of Jesus Romero, the present capable sheriff who is a candidate to succeed himself, printed and is industriously circulating it among the native people.

Perhaps the most amusing thing of the campaign is the spectacle of Thomas McMillin democratic chief of police running on the Hubbell ticket for sheriff, talking to the populace about "regularity."

It would only be decent for Mr. Hubbell to loan the Perpetual Toy Marshal his buzz wagon—and prevent his getting splashed.

We regret deeply that Mr. Francis E. Wood is not satisfied with the decision of the district court in the mandamus case.

Francisco is unable to get over the pain of seeing perfectly good dollars spent on roads and bridges and schools.

The business administration of the county is a sharp thorn in the side of Don Francisco and his organ.

The shepherd's crook appears to be a favorite weapon with the gang in this campaign.

Backache, Headache, Nervousness, and rheumatism, both in men and women, mean kidney trouble. Do not allow it to progress beyond the reach of medicine but stop it promptly with Foley Kidney Pills. They regulate the action of the urinary organs. Tonic in action, quick results. J. H. O'Reilly.

ANOTHER FROST FOR BURSUM AGGREGATION AT TOWN OF WILLARD

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
Willard, N. M., Oct. 31.—The Bursum meeting scheduled for this evening after dark, was a regular frost. The speaking was announced for 7 o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Bursum's special was caught behind a wreck on the New Mexico Central and did not arrive until 1 o'clock in the evening. The few persons who had come into town to hear Mr. Bursum speak became tired of milling around in the rain and snow and left early for home. When the much advertised speakers did arrive there were only about two dozen persons gathered in the Shamrock building to listen to the addresses. Many of these were democrats and progressive republicans, who went to the meeting simply to get away from the disagreeable weather cur of doors.

Mr. Bursum spoke first in English and addressed the native citizens in Spanish. Frank Clancy, Edward L. Medler and Malaga Martinez each spoke briefly after Mr. Bursum was done, but failed to arouse any enthusiasm.

From here the party proceeded to Espanola where they spent the night.

The people over in this county are sore at the reports sent broadcast that the Torrance county democrats and progressive republicans were attempting to inject the race issue into the campaign. The facts are that the republican "gang" first raised the issue of the New Mexico Anti-Saloon League in your state. Among the resolutions I noticed that the league favored "an effective local option law," and deplored the simplicity of the United States government with the liquor traffic in accepting federal tax in prohibition territory.

As New Mexico is a new state its legislature will have the advantage of the experience of some of the older states in enacting laws which experience has shown are best adapted to regulating the sale of intoxicants so as to bring about the greatest good to the greatest number in any community.

As experience and time has shown that prohibition laws in Maine and elsewhere have been favored that method of trying to stop the liquor traffic is out of the question unless the buyer as well as the seller is punished.

Model license is the best method of solving the liquor question. This law provides for the issuance of licenses in proportion to population—one license for each 500 or 1,000, according to the size of the city; licenses to be renewable from year to year upon the payment of the fee as long as the holder obeys the law and as long as the territory in which it is not voted "dry"; mandatory penalties for violation of the law, the trial judge to suspend the license for thirty days for the first offenses and to revoke the license permanently on second conviction by a jury.

This law is self-enforcing because it admonishes the saloonkeeper that he will lose his license if he dares obey the law and it makes him more independent and freer from political influences if he knows he can get a license so long as he obeys the law.

The Model License law is now in effect in the state of Indiana, which has tried nearly all of the laws devised by man for the regulation of the liquor trade during the past three-quarters of a century, including the Maine law. It has been effective in satisfying a large majority of the people in communities which had been "dry" under the county option law as well as the law officers in these communities.

Under the Proctor Model License law of Indiana, it is optional with each community to say if the sale of liquor shall be prohibited, the township instead of the county being the unit. The law has had a wholesome effect on the regulation of the liquor trade in that state, although it has only been in effect since last February and both democrats and republicans profess to be pleased with it.

As to the anti-saloon league, deploring the complexity of the United States government with the liquor trade in "dry" territory, I will suggest a way to do away with this illicit business: Make it unlawful to buy as well as sell liquor or to have intoxicating liquor in one's possession in "dry" territory.

One of the leading men of this city said to me this morning:

"I WOULD LOVE TO BE INDEPENDENT."

Think of the meaning of those words, spoken by a man who to all intents and purposes has made a success of life. Gray with years of experience, surrounded with all that he has to make the shameful admission that he is in bondage.

Why this story of the Spider and the Fly, under the Star Spangled Banner in the twentieth century?

I wish to call the attention of the people of New Mexico to the fact that we wish all men to know that the people here are not to blame for the condition which exists. The blame is to be placed on the man who is Lord High-Everything-Else—Treasurer, assessor, clerk, commissioner, judge and jury all rolled into one. And if the people do not watch out he will be the real treasurer of the state of New Mexico. He is the brains and the central figure of the unholy combination now trying to seize the new state.

National Model License League Louisville, Ky.

Office of the President. To the Editor of the Journal.

Albuquerque, New Mexico. Dear Sir: In a recent issue of the Journal I read an article detailing the work of the New Mexico Anti-Saloon League in your state.

Among the resolutions I noticed that the league favored "an effective local option law," and deplored the simplicity of the United States government with the liquor traffic in accepting federal tax in prohibition territory.

As New Mexico is a new state its legislature will have the advantage of the experience of some of the older states in enacting laws which experience has shown are best adapted to regulating the sale of intoxicants so as to bring about the greatest good to the greatest number in any community.

As experience and time has shown that prohibition laws in Maine and elsewhere have been favored that method of trying to stop the liquor traffic is out of the question unless the buyer as well as the seller is punished.

Model license is the best method of solving the liquor question. This law provides for the issuance of licenses in proportion to population—one license for each 500 or 1,000, according to the size of the city; licenses to be renewable from year to year upon the payment of the fee as long as the holder obeys the law and as long as the territory in which it is not voted "dry"; mandatory penalties for violation of the law, the trial judge to suspend the license for thirty days for the first offenses and to revoke the license permanently on second conviction by a jury.

This law is self-enforcing because it admonishes the saloonkeeper that he will lose his license if he dares obey the law and it makes him more independent and freer from political influences if he knows he can get a license so long as he obeys the law.

The Model License law is now in effect in the state of Indiana, which has tried nearly all of the laws devised by man for the regulation of the liquor trade during the past three-quarters of a century, including the Maine law. It has been effective in satisfying a large majority of the people in communities which had been "dry" under the county option law as well as the law officers in these communities.

Under the Proctor Model License law of Indiana, it is optional with each community to say if the sale of liquor shall be prohibited, the township instead of the county being the unit. The law has had a wholesome effect on the regulation of the liquor trade in that state, although it has only been in effect since last February and both democrats and republicans profess to be pleased with it.

As to the anti-saloon league, deploring the complexity of the United States government with the liquor trade in "dry" territory, I will suggest a way to do away with this illicit business: Make it unlawful to buy as well as sell liquor or to have intoxicating liquor in one's possession in "dry" territory.

buys liquor in "dry" territory from bootleggers or through mail-order houses, especially after having voted "dry" is more guilty than the seller for the latter is the servant of the buyer. I would prohibit a man from buying liquor in "dry" territory for medicinal purposes for the reason that most men in such territory declare always that they are buying it for medicinal purposes. If they say they want it for scientific or mechanical purposes let it be denatured.

The National Model License League stands for temperance in advocating the sane laws for the regulation of the liquor business and the suppression of the unlawful sale of intoxicants. It would place the business on a higher plane.

Very truly yours, T. M. GIMORE, President National Model License League.

Stover on the Blue Ballot. Editor Albuquerque Morning Journal: In addition to the able and conclusive argument of Attorney A. B. McMillen against the adoption of a blue ballot amendment, published by the Journal this morning, I desire to add that the amendment provides that "The provisions of Section one of this article shall not be changed, altered, or abrogated in any manner except through a general convention called to revise this constitution as herein provided." The amendment provides that we cannot have a convention without a three-fourths vote of the members elected to each house" during the first twenty-five years after the adoption of this constitution," so it makes it practically impossible to make any change in this amendment no matter how much a very large majority of the people may desire it, and then only at the expense of a constitutional convention which we know from our experience of last year will cost fully one hundred thousand dollars. Our constitution provides, as Mr. McMillen states, that after two years an amendment may be submitted by simply "a majority vote of the members elected to each house voting separately." If the people so desire. May consistent for the opponents of the constitution to object to it because they assert it is too hard to amend and then desire to add an amendment which can only be amended by a three-fourths vote of the legislature and a constitutional convention.

WALL STREET AND COMMERCE

Wall Street.

New York, Oct. 31.—Prices rose in spirited fashion on the stock exchange today toward the close of what up to that time had been a dull session. The rise apparently was based on Wall Street's construction of the day's development in the American Tobacco hearing.

Attorney General Wickersham's willingness to accept the tobacco reorganization provided it be modified in accordance with his proposals, was regarded in the street as of large importance. The opinion is gaining ground that the scheme of organization as ultimately agreed upon will not be as onerous to holders of the securities as was feared by some investors.

Declaration of the usual dividend on United States Steel was expected, in spite of the conditions in the iron and steel trade. The quarterly earnings of $19,500,000 were unexpectedly good, some estimates having run as low as $22,000,000.

The standard railroad stocks led the market. Union Pacific was especially active and strong, advancing 2 1/2 points, while most of the high priced issues, including Northwestern, American Pacific, and Lehigh Valley, gained a point or more.

The tobacco securities rose sharply in the afternoon. The preferred stock gained three points, the six percent bonds nearly as much and the 4's a point. On the "cotton" no commodity stock shot up 3 1/2 points.

United States Steel rose nearly two points. The copper stocks were active and strong, sentiment toward those issues being improved by the attorney general's statement that no dissolution suit against the American Smelting and Refining company had been prepared. American Cotton Oil fell 3/4 to 4 1/2 points, the lowest point of the year.

The reports of a number of western railroads for September were received today and in almost every case an unfavorable showing. Northern Pacific reported a drop of $689,000 in gross receipts. Toledo, St. Louis and Western; Rock Island, St. Louis and San Francisco; and Minneapolis and St. Louis reported shrinkage.

A gain of $338,000 in the September net income of the National Railway of Mexico was followed by an advance in the second preferred stock. Closing stocks:

Visible Supply of Canada Wheat.
New York, Oct. 31.—The visible supply of Canadian wheat for the week ending October 28 is 8,920,000 bushels, an increase of 60,000 bushels.

St. Louis Wool.

St. Louis, Oct. 31.—Wool, easier; medium grades coming in. Clothing: 17 1/2¢; light, fine, 16 1/2¢; heavy, fine, 13 1/2¢; tub washed, 20 1/2¢.

New York Exchange.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Exchange on New York, 15c premium.

Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Suspicion was rampant today that the leading long corn had been letting go of a big part of their holdings in consequence, the market broke sharply in the last hour of trading and finished heavy 2 to 2 1/2¢ lower than last night. Other grains, too, showed a net loss—corn 1 to 1 1/2¢ and oats 7/8¢ to 1 1/2¢. The end of the day left hog products varying from unchanged figures to a decline of 10¢.

One plausible theory to explain the supposed action of the bull traders was that the leading of the December option was for the purpose of shifting to May at a lower level for the latter. Aside from any such maneuver, though, developments during the day were discouraging enough. Northwestern receipts were on a huge scale and cash demand wretched. Besides, European markets were disappointing as they disclosed yesterday's advance in wheat. Australia reported timely rains and there were dispatches from the Argentine tending to confirm the estimates that the yield in that country exceeded the bumper year of 1907. Extreme upper and lower levels reached by December wheat were 98 1/2¢ and 96 3/8¢, with the close 96 1/2¢, a net loss of 2 1/2¢.

Corn was dragged lower mainly by the break in wheat. December ranged from 62 1/2¢ to 64¢ and closed heavy 1 1/2¢ down at 63¢. Cash grades 1 week. No. 2 yellow quoted at 73 1/2¢.

Oats were heavy from the start. Top and bottom figures for December were 47 1/2¢ and 46 1/2¢ with the close at the last named level, a net loss of 1 1/2¢.

Provisions, despite buying on the part of a local packer, succumbed to the influence of the heavy receipts of hogs. In the end pork was off 10¢, lard 5 to 7 to 1 1/2¢, and ribs trailing from last night's figures to a nickel decline.

Boston Wool Market.

Boston, Oct. 31.—A more general participation in wool selling is reported and local transfers total nearly ten million pounds in the last two weeks. Values are firm and buyers have not hesitated to mark up choice lots. The demand covers a wide range even for heavy fleeces coming into the market. Fairly large sales of territory is reported, especially in fine and fine medium combing. In original bales, Michigan wools seem to be unusually unpopular while a fair amount of twelve months Texas is moving. The leading western quotations:

Scoured basis, Texas fine, 6 to 8 months, 45 1/2¢; fine 12 months, 51 1/2¢; fine 14, 42 1/2¢.

California, northern, 48 1/2¢; middle, 46 1/2¢; southern, 45 1/2¢; 46¢; full, 40 1/2¢.

Spanish Edition of EXAMINER DOING GOOD WORK

Hearst Contribution to Democratic Campaign is Making Thousands of Votes Among the Native People.

Twenty-five or thirty thousand copies of the special edition of the Los Angeles "Examiner" printed in Spanish from end to end and containing splendid photographs of all the men on the democratic ticket, the leaders of the progressive republicans and democrats and others are now being circulated by William H. Hearst among the people of New Mexico. It will prove a tremendous factor in carrying the state for William C. McDonald and the democratic and progressive candidates, and New Mexico is under heavy obligations to the enterprising Mr. Hearst and his trained journalists for his splendid gratuitous contribution to the cause of good government in the state. William H. Hearst has always been intensely interested in New Mexico and a warm friend of the people. Desiring to see the cause of the democratic and progressive republicans win against the old gang of stand-patters, Mr. Hearst conceived this idea of putting the issues before the native people on a state-wide scale and the idea was carried out with that vigor and competence which always marks a Hearst enterprise.

The edition is a twelve page newspaper, bearing on the front page a five column likeness of Mr. McDonald, and presents the whole situation in a most telling manner to the native voters. "William C. McDonald," says a seven column headline across the first page, "Leader Del Partido Democratico en Nuevo Mexico, Honesto, Capaz y Progresista, Amigo del Pueblo." The newspaper gives a sketch of every candidate, arranges uncompromisingly the methods now being used to defeat the cause of self-government in the state, exposes mercilessly the records of the gang candidates and appeals to the people to rise and cast off the shackles of Bursanismo. Typographically it is a magnificent feat in journalism, and only those who have aided in issuing a complete Spanish edition from an English-speaking and printing office realize the magnitude of the undertaking even after the matter was prepared, itself a considerable task. Al Murphy of San Francisco, one of Hearst's veteran political writers, and Edward Rainey, another of the real live Hearst wires, are the men who did the newspaper work and the edition is a monument to their ability. It is believed this newspaper will do more than any other one factor to convert the fast growing McDonald sentiment among the native people into a landslide.

DOUGHERTY FAVORS
AMENDMENT

Prominent Socorro Lawyer Declares That Voters of New Mexico Should Ratify This Constitutional Provision.

Declaring himself unequivocally in favor of the ratification of the blue ballot amendment to the New Mexico constitution, which provision is to be voted on separately at next Tuesday's election, Attorney H. M. Dougherty, of Socorro, one of the best known lawyers in the new state, in an interview with a Morning Journal reporter last night at the Alvarado, discussed the blue ballot provision, at some length.

"It is not a political question, and should never have been made an issue in the campaign," said Mr. Dougherty. "But it is nevertheless of great moment to the people of the new state that they ratify this amendment. Though I was a member of the constitutional convention, and served on the committee which drew up the article on constitutional amendments, I signed the report of the committee under protest. As is well known the article, as finally drawn and adopted, was a compromise clause. Those who have declared that the New Mexico constitution is no more difficult to amend than the constitutions of other states, are right insofar as a two-thirds vote of the legislature is concerned, but when this is reinforced by the forty per cent majority of the affirmative votes cast at a general election, coupled with the further restriction limiting the amendments to be found on at any one time to three, then it becomes perhaps a clause without a parallel. The article on constitutional amendments is serious in lacking in one particular. It does not provide who shall be the judge of the three amendments to be voted on in the event six or a dozen amendments are proposed. Is the secretary of state, who is authorized to have the proposed amendments published, to be the judge of which three shall be submitted?"

Mr. Dougherty was here over night en route home from an extended trip to Denver. He had not kept posted on the political situation while absent and therefore said he was not prepared to discuss the probable outcome of the election.

REV. MR. SHIMER
BECOMES PASTOR
IN CAPITAL

Popular Young Clergyman and University Student Leaves Today For Santa Fe Where He Will Live.

Rev. J. M. Shimer, who for the past year has been pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in Helen, and has at the same time been one of the most popular students of the University of New Mexico, has been forced to discontinue his studies at the varsity owing to an appointment to the Methodist church in Santa Fe. Though this takes Mr. Shimer from his activities as a college student, it gives him charge of one of the most important stations of the New Mexico English Mission in the capital of the new state.

Last Sunday Mr. Shimer preached his farewell sermon to his congregation at Helen, who in spite of the inclemency of the elements came out to hear their young pastor. At the close of the service a large number went to the depot to see him board the train for other fields of endeavor, bidding him Godspeed and all possible success.

After spending the last two days in Albuquerque attending to his final business affairs as a student, Rev. Mr. Shimer will leave for Santa Fe this morning.

During his residence at the varsity Mr. Shimer has taken an active part in student affairs. He is an athlete of no mean ability and his absence from the football field where his weight and strength are greatly needed will be greatly felt. In addition to this he has always been a shining example of clean, upright manhood to the students, who will miss his genial presence greatly.

At the session of the New Mexico English Mission conference held in Albuquerque by Bishop W. A. Quayle, Mr. Shimer was ordained to the dignity of an elder in the traveling ministry of the church. His many friends in Albuquerque will be both sorry and glad for his promotion, sorry that he leaves them, and glad that he has been promoted to a larger field of usefulness.
