forests and mountain passes. It was a region where 1,000 brave men could have been killed, but apparently the brave men were lacking. So far as can be learned not even a guerrilla shot was fired at the advancing army. Garcia, returning to camp with the cool remark that his force was not strong enough to keep Pando back—an idea that must strike the seasoned old partisan leader, Colonel Moody, with its grim humor, considering the way he used to neutralize 40,000 men by the skillful handling of 600.

Hereafter it will be the wise thing to let these Cuban pretenders flock by themselves, unmounted factors in the general plan of campaign. It is not merely that they cannot fight or be depended on; that they are up to the eyes in the art of deserting, but that many of them may desert at the first repulse and try to earn a dirty dollar by carrying news to the enemy, but that they are barbarous in their treatment of prisoners. During the three years and more of war many Spanish soldiers, ambushed by superior force and otherwise, have fallen into the hands of the Cubans. Where are they now? Where are the Cuban military prisons or system of exchange? It was necessary Sunday morning to send marines to the beach where the Spanish fugitives from several ships were huddled to keep the Cubans from looting the helpless men at long range. Honore Lane, an intrepid colonel in the insurgent "army," claims that he and others of his ilk beheld forty prisoners. What business have we to ally ourselves with savages like these—incompetent in war and uncontrollable in peace as they seem to be?

It was a piece of consummate wisdom in President McKinley to stand out against the recognition of the bogus republic, which men like Garcia and Lane claim to have instituted. The president knew his men and now the whole country is coming to know them in their congenial unworth.

FAVORABLE FACTS.
Juan Jose Herrera, of Las Vegas, has a weak criticism of the Santa Fe New Mexican and THE CITIZEN. He distorts the position of both papers. These papers have desired the enlistment of a Mexican regiment in this territory for the honor of that race and its friends, the native people. If such had been done, New Mexico could have asked for and secured statehood and any other benefits from congress within the gift of that body.

Mr. Herrera further falsifies facts when he asserts that since the advent of the Americans his people have been robbed. In 1853, Gregg, a Santa Fe merchant, published a book in which he stated that one half of the population of New Mexico were paupers; that few of them could read or write, and that all of the people were absolute strangers to the common comforts of life. At that time a tax of $500 was levied on each wagon load of goods brought from the United States. The war with Mexico was a great benefit to the people of New Mexico. It freed them from a terrible tyranny, and introduced American energy and enterprise, and the people began to make money and secure more home conveniences. In 1863 President Lincoln's emancipation proclamation abolished the horrible system of peonage in vogue in the territory, and the building of railroads has further advanced the prosperity of the people of New Mexico. At present good schools abound in the territory, and the people generally are 1,000 per cent better off than before the American conquest. People of the Juan Jose Herrera stamp are probably no better off. He is said to belong to a gang of "white caps," whose aim is to burn grain stacks and cut fences and commit other sneaking crimes against their neighbors.

THE ROUGH RIDERS.
A dispatch to the New York Herald on Sunday says:
Col. Roosevelt's Rough Riders, who have taken such a conspicuous part in the hard fighting all along the way toward Santiago, will have another opportunity to distinguish themselves when the final assault on the beleaguered city is made. The Rough Riders now are the only volunteers in the first line in addition to occupying an important position in the line. The Rough Riders hope to win glory with their dynamic gun, which is in charge of Sergeant Hallett Alcop Borrows. This deadly machine of war has been mounted in a commanding position, and the men handling it are confident of doing effective work when the opportunity comes. The Rough Riders are in splendid physical condition. The health of all of the men at the front now is excellent. There is no sickness of any kind in this regiment as yet.

SOLDIERS UNITED.
The people of the United States may have their family quarrels during political campaigns, and may fall out and fight with each other as to which is entitled to the spoils of the country, but when a common foe attacks them they are found to be truly a united people. It was in the flag of this country. It was a vain boast of the Spaniards that they would be able to stir up strife in this country and cause a rebellion among the states if war was declared against Spain.

If Santa Fe and Las Cruces cannot raise the volunteers assigned them, Governor Otero is urged to give Albuquerque and Las Vegas another chance. This city has raised two full companies and fifty extra Rough Riders, and can give up more of our boys for the honor of New Mexico. It will be a foul disgrace to have it go out that this territory is not patriotic enough to furnish its full quota of volunteer soldiers. A dispatch from Arizona states that they can fill the New Mexico quota. This must not be allowed. We also want it understood that if Las Vegas and Albuquerque raise the companies that they must also have the company officers.

The prestige the United States has gained by the war will go far toward exciting our commerce into various quarters of the globe where we have had scarcely a foothold. South American trade especially should be greatly stimulated.

HONOLULU papers are of the opinion that no formality is necessary there for the transfer of sovereignty after the adoption of the annexation resolution by our congress.

Up to date President McKinley has made no mistakes in the war with Spain. He is proving one of the wisest of rulers.

ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION.

Company B, United States Volunteers, Pass Through the City.
Nearly all the people in Albuquerque were at the depot last night to greet Company B, United States Volunteers, on its way to Whipple barracks, who came down from Las Vegas on the second section of No. 1 last night 106 strong. The ladies of the Soldiers Aid society were present with refreshments and flowers, and the First Regiment band was on hand to dispense inspiring music. The reception which the volunteers received as the train pulled into the depot was a rousing one, which was well calculated to cheer them on in their heroic purpose. No wonder the soldiers stood to respond. Cheers for Albuquerque and the ladies of the Soldiers Aid society were given with the greatest gusto and were repeated again and again.

The company is composed of a fine-looking body of men, which the northern part of the territory may feel proud to have contributed to the honor and glory of the republic. William C. Reid, the company's captain, is one of the able lawyers of Las Vegas; First Lieutenant A. B. Morrison is a prominent contractor of the same place; while Second Lieutenant Comstock is a railroad man who has inherited fighting blood, his father being Major Comstock of the regular army. The non-commissioned officers of the company are A. W. Lunt, first sergeant; G. C. Palma, quartermaster sergeant; Sergeant J. P. S. Menet, Edward Spindler and Herman J. Love. The rank and file of the company is composed of the sturdiest specimens of New Mexico's manhood and is collected from many of the avocations of life.

The volunteers occupied three cars, which were profusely decorated with banners which contained the following inscriptions: "We'll tell Dewey that we saw you," "We Remember the Maine," "New Mexico Volunteers," "Clarton, Bolton, Springer, Las Vegas." In another place there was a picture of a cowboy, with the words "New Mexico to the Front" inscribed above it. A large St. Bernard dog and an eagle are two mascots of the company.

When the time came for the train to leave there were renewed demonstrations on the part of both the soldiers and the crowd and Company B continued on its journey accompanied by the blessings and best wishes of all the people of this city.

Yellow Jaundice Cured.
Suffering humanity should be supplied with every means possible for its relief. It is with pleasure we submit the following: "This is to certify that I was a terrible sufferer from yellow jaundice for over six months, and was treated by Dr. J. H. O'Neil's Kidney and Bladder Pills, and all to no avail. Dr. Bell, our druggist, recommended Kleiter Bitters, and after taking two bottles, I was entirely cured. I now feel like a new man, and am recommending them to any person suffering from this terrible malady. I am gratefully yours, M. A. Hogarty, Lexington, Ky." Sold by J. H. O'Neil & Co., Capt. O'NEIL'S CAREER.

Reporter, Lawyer, Editor, Cowboy, Sheriff, Mayor and Candidate for Congress.
A special dispatch to the New York Sun, dated from Washington, gives the following biographical sketch of Capt. William O'Neil:
The death of Capt. William O'Neil, of Woods' "Rough Riders," who was killed while charging the Spanish positions at Santiago, brings to a close the career of one of the most striking men of the present war has produced. The biography of Capt. O'Neil's career as a newspaper man, lawyer, editor, cowboy, prospector, sheriff of Yavapai county, Arizona, and afterward mayor of the city of Prescott, and three a candidate for congress, would make an interesting reading. His father, Captain John O'Neil, served with signal honor during the late war, commanding a Pennsylvania company, and was shot five times in the many battles in which he participated. William O'Neil, his son, was born in 1860 in St. Louis, came with the family to Washington at the close of the war and received his education here. He was graduated from the high school and afterward from the National Law University. After receiving his degree young O'Neil became a reporter on the National Republican, but soon drifted west to seek his fortune. He was elected sheriff of Yavapai county, and was elected sheriff of Yavapai county. While acting in that capacity about three years ago he was shot by a desperado who was robbing the Canyon Diablo by four men. Many valuables were secured, and Sheriff O'Neil, with three horses, escaped the clutches of the robbers. He was shot through the chest, and was taken to a hospital in Prescott, where he died.

When the troops were landed at Balquid, Captain O'Neil jumped overboard to save two soldiers who had fallen between the transports, but was crushed. He had large military interests in Arizona, and was one of the richest men in his section. He traveled abroad quite extensively, and was often in New York city, where he was with his mining ventures. His wife, who was a Miss Pauline Schindler, the daughter of a retired army officer, is at present in Prescott. His mother and sister, who reside in this city, are spending the summer in Round Hill, Va. He has two brothers, one of whom is First Lieutenant Eugene Brady O'Neil, who led the recent expedition to the Philippines in support of Dewey. The other brother, John B. O'Neil, is practicing law in this city.

With State News.
The Albuquerque Democrat reaches this city with news from twelve to twenty-four hours late; and when the people of this city heard rumors of the fight on the Fourth they made up a purse to pay expenses and telegraphed into the Democrat office for the latest, and got beautifully snubbed.—Socorro Industrial Advertiser.

TIME SYSTEM.
On the Santa Fe to be extended on the Gulf Road.
The time service now in effect on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway proper has been extended over the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe road. Within the present year it will probably be extended over the Santa Fe Pacific and Southern California roads, the other lines of the Santa Fe system.

The extension makes H. S. Montgomery, of Topeka, general watch and clock inspector of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe road as well as general watch and clock inspector of the Santa Fe.

The rules in regard to time service now effective on the Santa Fe will hereafter apply to the employees of the Gulf,

Colorado & Santa Fe Conductors, switch engineers, yardmasters, engineers, foremen of switch engines and assistant yardmasters will all be required to carry standard watches, and the maximum variation permitted will be 30 seconds per week. Any watch having a greater variation will be considered unreliable and will have to be replaced with one that will meet this requirement.

The time service is to be extended over the entire system so that uniform time will be used on all the system roads. In this way the welfare of passengers and the protection of employees and the interests of the company will be greatly enhanced.

COURT NOTES.
A Big Suit Against Santa Fe County Now on Trial.
The case of Messrs. Gilderbore, Laughlin and Smith against Santa Fe county, wherein plaintiffs claim for attorneys' fees the sum of $14,000 and interest at the rate of six per cent since 1888, is on trial before Judge Meffe today and testimony is being taken. For the county district attorney C. A. Spies and Judge Knapp appear, whereas, the plaintiffs represent themselves. It looks as if the case would consume several days of the court's time.

In the case of Rafael Martinez versus Juan Augustin Sandoval, wherein Judge Meffe had granted a temporary injunction restraining defendant from interfering with the mayordomo of acacias in a Rio Arriba county precinct, the judge to-day after hearing the case on motion to dissolve on bill and answer decided to dissolve and continue the injunction. Catron & Fortner for plaintiff and C. A. Spies for defendant.—New Mexican.

Puny Children.
Who would prescribe only tonics and bitters for a weak, puny child? Its muscles and nerves are so thoroughly exhausted that they cannot be whipped into activity. The child needs food; a blood-making, nerve-strengthening and muscle-building food.

Scott's Emulsion. of Cod-Liver Oil is all of this, and you still have a tonic in the hypophosphites of lime and soda to act with the food. For thin and delicate children there is no remedy superior to it in the world. It means growth, strength, plumpness and comfort to them. Be sure you get SCOTT'S Emulsion.

A special dispatch to the Gallup Gleaner, dated from Washington, says: "Attorney Henry is acting as town clerk during the absence of Mr. Risdon." THE CITIZEN is pleased to note that Attorney Henry, of Gallup, has reached Washington and is the acting clerk of that town. Mr. Risdon, on his return from his vacation, will be a very surprised town official when he finds out through the Gleaner that all of a sudden, his office duties have been transferred to the town of Washington. A dash in the make up of type works wonders, Billy Henderson, and this little journalistic bit is published with a view of working some of the fat off your sides.

NERVOUS DEPRESSION.

[A TALK WITH MRS. PINKHAM]

A woman with the blues is a very uncomfortable person. She is illigal, unhappy and frequently hysterical. The condition of the mind known as "the blues," nearly always, with women, results from diseased organs of generation.

It is a source of wonder that in this age of advanced medical science, any person should still believe that more force of will and determination will overcome depressed spirits and nervousness in women. These troubles are indications of disease.

Every woman who doesn't understand her condition should write to Lynn, Mass., to Mrs. Pinkham for her advice. Her advice is thorough common sense, and is the result of a lifetime of experience. Read the story of Mrs. F. S. BENNETT, Westphalia, Kansas, as told in the following letter:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have suffered for over two years with falling, enlargement and ulceration of the womb, and this spring, being in such a weakened condition, caused me to flow for nearly six months. Some time ago, urged by friends, I wrote to you for advice. After using the treatment which you advised for a short time, that terrible flow stopped.

"I am now gaining strength and flesh, and have better health than I have had for the past ten years. I wish to say to all distressed, suffering women, do not suffer longer, when there is one so kind and willing to aid you."

Lydla E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's remedy for woman's ills. More than a million women have been benefited by it.

NERVOUS DEPRESSION.

[A TALK WITH MRS. PINKHAM]

A woman with the blues is a very uncomfortable person. She is illigal, unhappy and frequently hysterical. The condition of the mind known as "the blues," nearly always, with women, results from diseased organs of generation.

It is a source of wonder that in this age of advanced medical science, any person should still believe that more force of will and determination will overcome depressed spirits and nervousness in women. These troubles are indications of disease.

Every woman who doesn't understand her condition should write to Lynn, Mass., to Mrs. Pinkham for her advice. Her advice is thorough common sense, and is the result of a lifetime of experience. Read the story of Mrs. F. S. BENNETT, Westphalia, Kansas, as told in the following letter:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have suffered for over two years with falling, enlargement and ulceration of the womb, and this spring, being in such a weakened condition, caused me to flow for nearly six months. Some time ago, urged by friends, I wrote to you for advice. After using the treatment which you advised for a short time, that terrible flow stopped.

"I am now gaining strength and flesh, and have better health than I have had for the past ten years. I wish to say to all distressed, suffering women, do not suffer longer, when there is one so kind and willing to aid you."

Lydla E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's remedy for woman's ills. More than a million women have been benefited by it.
