Former Senator Receives Ovation When He Appears to Address Convention of American Bankers' Association.

DOES NOT CLAIM THAT HIS PLAN IS PERFECT

Any Wise Amendment to Monetary Commission's Draft of Remedial Legislation Will Be Accepted in His Opinion.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New Orleans, Nov. 21.—Any wise amendments that yet may be suggested to the national monetary commission's revised plan for the reform of currency will be accepted by the commission.

So former senator Aldrich, chairman of the commission, told delegates to the thirty-seventh annual convention of the American Bankers' association here today.

Mr. Aldrich was cheered for five minutes when he rose to speak and the bankers gave him a rising vote of thanks for his active interest in the plan which he had finished.

He pleaded for the elimination of politics in the consideration of the subject and expressed confidence in the early passage of "remedial legislation."

"Now and then," he said, "there appears some person who, for political reasons, calls the association a 'central bank' summons the ghost of Andrew Jackson and talks of a 'second bank of the United States.' I greatly mistake the character of the people of the United States if this sort of talk has any important part in the solution of the problems with which we are confronted."

"The proposed reform not only affects vitally the business interests and the bankers of the country, but even more so the farmers—the great productive forces which make for the development of the country more than does any other agency."

"And, too, it affects the wage earners, the masses who are so vitally interested in everything that pertains to the distribution of credit and capital, and, who, under our present monetary system, have no means of safeguarding themselves against loss."

In his annual address President Watts gave enthusiastic endorsement to the Aldrich plan.

Speaking on the "Relation of the National Reserve Association to the Government," A. Platt Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury, said that the government is so interested in this government to act as its own banker. He said this government is not equipped with machinery to insure balance between outgo and income, then explained the lack of utility in law making and executive action which places upon no individual or one committee entire responsibility of balance.

"If the plan is adopted," he said, "the government's general funds and all other revenues will be deposited with the national reserve association and the annual disbursements amounting to a billion or more of dollars will be made through that institution and its branches. The government's accumulations will thus be kept at the continuous disposal of all the banks and through them in uninterrupted service of the public and never again need the government balance serve as a disturbing factor in business."

"The proposed plan for the reform of the currency and banking system of the United States is kept non-partisan, its enactment into law will be an easy accomplishment. And it could be kept a non-partisan issue if the bankers here would be so zealous to that end upon their return home."

So declared F. O. Watts, president of the American Bankers' association, in addressing the convention. Mr. Watts prayed, he said, from the best path of precedent to discuss the theme which has been made the keynote of the convention proceedings.

"Surely there is no good reason why the question should become a partisan one," he said. "There is no party principle involved in such an operative agency and nothing but prejudice or the extremity for an issue, which certainly does not exist in this great, could cause either of the two great political parties to treat the subject differently from what they should propose for good health or the building of a great canal. It is by any chance it drifts unavoidably by the bankers and business men into a partisan alignment, the only hope of making it an effective issue to the party opposing the plan would be in its ability to appeal to prejudice through talk of centralization and control by special interest. Neither position could be maintained before the thoughtful citizenry of this country, and when the light of reason entered, the party making such an appeal would suffer as such parties have always suffered in the past."

"We can show that instead of being centralization the proposal is decentralization, the power coming to the central agency for all banks in just such a way as the power is placed in the chief executive of the nation. The American idea, and when not so there occurs a shifting of authority. So the central reserve association would always be the composite of the shareholders banks, and, therefore, standing for the best in our business life."

"The currency commission and officers of your association have been in a number of conferences with the chairman and members of the national reserve association."

PACIFIC FLEET SAILS FOR HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—Five armored cruisers, representing the first and second divisions of the Pacific fleet, left San Francisco harbor at 5 o'clock this afternoon for Honolulu. The ships steamed slowly through the Golden Gate and night had fallen before they had passed the heads.

The squadron was led by the flagship California in command of Admiral Chaney Thomas, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet. The California represented the first division at the head of the second division was the West Virginia, flagship of Rear-Admiral Southard. The other ships are the Colorado, the Maryland and the South Dakota.

The voyage, which the navy department plans to designate as an annual cruise for the Pacific fleet, is for the purpose of maneuvering at sea and giving lessons in naval preparedness and long-range target practice. All the vessels are heavily stocked with ammunition, although part of the consignment sent from Mare Island was returned. According to present plans the fleet will return to San Francisco January 15.

THREE PERISH WHEN ROOMING HOUSE BURNS

Middleboro, Ky., Nov. 21.—With all avenues of escape cut off by flames from a burning stable, three persons are known to have lost their lives in a fire which destroyed several buildings in Middleboro today.

Search of the ruins revealed the charred bodies of Alexander Chadwell of Rose Hill, Va.; Thomas Duncan, of Straight Creek, Ky., and an unidentified woman; other persons, including Bertha S. Wainford, a 12-year-old girl, are reported missing.

Those who lost their lives occupied sleeping quarters over a saloon immediately adjacent to the stable.

Several persons who escaped were hurt in leaping from the upper floors.

TRANSCONTINENTAL RATE CASES ARE APPEALED

Government Counsel Also Asks That Injunction Be Made Permanent to Get Prompt Hearing Before Court.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Counsel for the government late today filed with the commerce court a writ of appeal in the transcontinental rate cases. The appeal is from temporary injunctions granted by the commerce court in the cases involving interpretation of the long and short haul provision of the law. A motion also was filed by the government's counsel that a final decree making permanent the injunctions, be granted by the commerce court.

In the assignment of errors, government counsel assert that the commerce court in granting the preliminary injunctions against the orders of the interstate commerce commission did not take cognizance of the fact that the position and affidavits of the railways asking the injunction do not set forth a sufficient cause to warrant the granting of the preliminary injunction, or to form the basis for relief from the commission's order; that the petitioners did not show that there is any equity in their petition upon which to grant the injunction; that the commission acted entirely within its jurisdiction; and that the petitioners have not shown that the commission violated any right protected by the constitution.

The government's counsel contended that the court erred in holding that the long and short haul provisions do not hold the division of the United States into five divisions prescribed by the commission; in holding that it does not authorize the commission to prescribe the percentage basis of rates; and in maintaining that the commission's order was unconstitutional and void because they were beyond the power of the commission to issue.

It is averred the court erred also in granting the preliminary injunction in the long and short haul cases, particularly because the commission in issuing the order proceeded entirely in accordance with the law. It is declared also that the court erred in denying the motions of the United States and the interstate commerce commission to dismiss the petitions for injunction.

The appeal will be granted by the commerce court and will be taken immediately to the United States supreme court. There a motion will be filed for an early hearing. Under the law, this motion probably will be granted.

The motion filed by the government counsel to have a final decree entered in the intermountain cases also will be granted by the commerce court, in order to facilitate consideration of the cases before the supreme court. It will be necessary for the commerce court to give formal notice to all parties in interest of this motion and it is likely therefore that the final decree making the temporary injunctions permanent will not be issued for two or three weeks.

The appeal from the permanent injunction then will be taken by the government to the supreme court. The appeals will be consolidated and heard by the supreme court at the same time.

MRS. PATTERSON TO BE TRIED BEFORE YOUNG JURY

EVERY MAN OF THE
TWELVE IS MARRIED

Both Sides Unexpectedly Announce Acceptance of Those Chosen Without Using Up Peremptory Challenges.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Denver, Nov. 21.—Before a jury of comparatively young married men among whom there is not a gray head, Mrs. Gertrude Gibson Patterson will be tried for the murder of her husband, whom she shot and killed September 21, last, while walking with him in a suburb of Denver, near a tuberculosis sanitarium in which he was a patient.

Acceptance of the jury which came suddenly at the close of today's proceedings when those in the court room had given up hope of seeing a jury selected before tomorrow, was a decided surprise.

Neither side had used up its peremptory challenges, and Attorney O. N. Hilton, it appeared to the spectators, was preparing to excuse a talesman when the court suggested adjournment for the day.

"The jury is satisfactory to the state," declared Special Prosecutor Horace G. Benson at this point.

"The defense is satisfied with the jury," asserted Attorney Hilton, and immediately the jury was sworn as follows:

CHARLES R. BOSWORTH, real estate dealer.

WILLIAM H. GARDNER, real estate dealer.

JOHN T. DOYLE, merchant.

JOHN G. DIMLER, hotel clerk.

JOHN L. BRUBAKER, agent for a packing company.

STAFFORD E. BECKETT, grocer.

FRANCIS J. CRANE, mining engineer.

HARVEY W. BIRD, fruit broker.

CHARLES G. OPPENLANDER, grocer.

JAMES J. FLINT, mechanical engineer.

Bosworth, the youngest juror, is 27 years old. Others range from 35 up with the oldest juror well below 60. Every man on the jury is married, most of them have children. Not one of the jurors has ever before seen service in a criminal case. Every man on the jury has stated under oath that he is willing to treat each case exactly as if a man were on trial and to impose the death penalty if the evidence appears to him to warrant that verdict.

The acceptance of this jury came more or less as a surprise. As each side exercised its peremptory challenges during the day the twelve talesmen, who sat in the box at the opening of this morning one by one were excused until not one of them was left. Practically all of the talesmen who qualified yesterday were men of 50 years or more. As their places were filled it was almost as if a younger generation were taking their places.

An almost unbroken round of examining talesmen filled out the day. In the morning Attorney Hilton sought to re-open the question of whether a talesman was disqualified by opposition to the death penalty, arguing that the laws in this state which leave to the jury the option of imposing sentence of death or of life imprisonment in cases of first degree murder, also leave that option to a talesman. Both the defense and prosecution cited authorities and Judge George W. Allen re-affirmed his ruling of yesterday, holding that an opinion was ground for challenge for cause.

More opposition to inflicting the death penalty upon a woman developed today than yesterday. Prosecutor Albert Eols disagreed with Tolson's opinion on the latter's contention that the law should be enforced equally on men and women.

"Men make the laws," said Eols. "Women don't. I think women are entitled to more consideration than men when they face punishment for alleged violation of the law."

He was finally challenged for cause when he declared that under no circumstances would he impose the death penalty on a woman.

William E. Gibson, another talesman challenged for cause, declared himself willing to impose the death penalty on a woman "in some cases." Then his eyes wandered to the pretty, girlish defendant, just in time to meet her gaze, "but not in this case," he added.

Mrs. Patterson today let her interest in the proceedings become more apparent. As the afternoon wore away and the peremptory challenges of her attorney dwindled she scanned each talesman closely and several times held whispered conferences with her counsel. She still maintains a tranquil and demure demeanor and beyond a slight paleness shows little effect of the strain.

TEACHER WHO WAS TARRIED RELATES TERRIFYING EXPERIENCE

STORY IS DRAMATIC FOR ITS SIMPLICITY

Lincoln Center, Kan., Nov. 21.—This was Mary Chamberlain's day in court in the "tar party" case. Facing three of the men accused of complicity in attacking her on a country road north of Shady Bend, on the night of October 7, and in a crowded room she told of her terrifying experience.

Her story was dramatic for its simplicity. She gave a coherent narrative of the episode in a low, even voice. Not once did she entirely lose her self-control. Nor did she speak with any feeling against the defendants. Had she been telling of the experiences of some other person, she could not have been calmer.

Throughout the time she was on the stand she addressed the jury and every juror gave her story the closest attention. On cross-examination her story was unshaken.

A crowd of men, the majority of whom have attended every session of the trial in the hope that they might be present when she recited her story, strained their ears in an effort to catch every word and carefully avoided making any movement that might interrupt her. Perhaps a hundred persons, men, who could not find seats in the little court room, and boys who were barred because of their youth, stood with one another outside the doors for places near the entrance, in the hope of catching a word of her testimony.

The girl's examination lasted about half an hour. The defense reserved the right to recall her later. With the completion of her testimony the state rested its case. The defense immediately began its examination of witnesses and ten had been questioned when adjournment was taken tonight.

It was not the freshness of Miss Chamberlain's story that held the interest of the throng, for she told little that was not known. Her narrative set forth how Edward Ricord, a village barber, deceived her out into the country on the pretense of going to a dance, his alleged insults and their decision to return home; how when they had gone a short distance a party of five masked men dragged her from the buggy, while Ricord fled, and the subsequent pouring of tar on her body and limbs, by one man, while others rubbed it in with their hands; how by this experience she was rendered unconscious and later awoke to find herself being driven home by the companion who had deserted her, and how the tar clogging her body for days after the attack.

After telling about her employment in a store at Shady Bend, Miss Chamberlain plunged into her story.

"Did some one call you up on August 7?" was asked.

"Yes, Ed Ricord," she replied.

"What did he say?"

"He asked me a little bit and then said there was a dance at Beverly and he wanted me to go with him. He said we were invited and I told him I would go. He arrived about 8:30 o'clock and we started to Beverly."

"What did he say to you?"

"He spoke about the people that were going to be at the dance."

"How was his conduct toward you?"

"His remarks were indecent."

"What did you say?"

"I told him if he was going to act that way I wanted to go back home. We talked a little and then we turned around and started back toward Shady Bend."

"What happened at the top of the hill on the way back to town and a short distance from where you turned around?"

"Five masked men took men from the buggy. Three of them carried me around behind the buggy, threw me down and smeared tar over my shoulders and my lower limbs."

"Did you recognize any of them?"

"Not then."

"Where was Ricord?"

"He was by the fence."

"Did he assist you in any way?"

"He did not."

"Did you call to Ed to help you?"

"Yes, two or three times."

"What happened then?"

"One of the men then raised my clothes over my head. Another poured the tar on my lower limbs and two smeared it around."

UNION LABOR BLEW UP THE TIMES STATE'S THEORY

Attorney Clarence S. Darrow Makes This Assertion in Arguing to Court That Bias is Grounds For Challenge.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Nov. 21.—Three men were challenged and one was excused in the McNamara murder trial today. Decision on the two others was reserved until tomorrow.

Talesman Jacobs, a bank clerk, was the talesman excused. He said he feared he could not give a fair trial because of his opinion that the McNamara brothers blew up the Times building and the state withdrew resistance to the challenged against him.

The real scope of the trial, a much discussed question out of court, became a part of the legal proceedings today in the examination of A. J. Stevens, against whom a challenge for bias is pending. Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, chief of counsel for McNamara, argued that prejudice against labor unions was ground for challenge.

"The theory of the case is that the Times building was dynamited and that union labor did it," he declared.

District Attorney Fredericks sprang to his feet.

"The theory of this case is that the defendant murdered Charles J. Hagerty," he corrected.

"By the blowing up of the Times building," added Darrow.

The tilt was taken to indicate the latest feature of the state and the defense as regards the challenge against Stevens.

Attorney LeCompte Davis argued that what the talesman read in the Times could not be considered newspaper report, but should be classed as direct evidence as showing its standing against the labor question.

A challenge against Stevens for insufficient capacity was denied by the court. Stevens, who grew up near Knoxville, Tenn., said his schooling reached only as far as the fourth reader, and that he remembered having read but one book, "The Life of General Grant."

S. P. Olcott, the other man against whom a challenge is pending, said he "feared" he could not be a fair juror because of his belief that the McNamara brothers dynamited the Times building.

Talesman M. F. Mooney was challenged and excused because of his aversion to conviction in a capital case on circumstantial evidence.

The final talesman examined was F. A. Brode. His examination was not completed when court adjourned until tomorrow.

KILLED FATHER OF HIS DAUGHTER'S CHILD

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—Ten men were selected today to serve on the jury which will decide the fate of Frank W. McMahon, charged with the murder of George A. Leary, acknowledged father of a child of the defendant's daughter.

McMahon shot and killed Leary on a street last May.

None of the talesmen examined today was asked concerning his belief in regard to "personal vengeance."

"Did you see any men in the road as you were going back to town?"

"Yes, four of them."

"Did you call Ricord's attention to them?"

"Yes."

"What did he do?"

"Whipped up the horse."

Miss Chamberlain said she failed to recognize any of her assailants. The different viewpoints of the plain-tiff and at least one of the defendants regarding the case stood out plainly when the defense offered the testimony of James Roze, a few minutes after Miss Chamberlain had finished her dramatic story. Roze testified to the tarring, but did not reach there.

"I just wanted to see the fun," he replied.

"By 'fun' you mean the process of putting tar on Miss Chamberlain?"

"Yes."

Roze is under arrest but not on trial now. The three defendants now before the court are Sherrill Clark, A. N. Simms and John Schmitt, charged with complicity in the attack.

A new feature in the conspiracy against the girl developed today in the cross-examination of Edward Ricord, a confessed assailant of the young woman. He testified he had planned to commit an immoral act before the eyes of the mob at the time selected for the staging of the "tarring." The hand was then to have attacked the girl. Miss Chamberlain repulsed him, he said, and thus the scheme was foiled.

Ricord also admitted that he had been threatened with a penitentiary sentence if he testified that he had been intimate with Miss Chamberlain.

"Who made the threat?" Ricord was asked.

"Samuel C. Wolford, the sheriff," replied the witness.

Later Wolford took the stand and denied having made any such statement to the barber.

DISSOLUTION PLAN IS MERELY A SUBTERFUGE

Washington, Nov. 21.—"The plan proposed by the tobacco combination and approved by the attorney general and the circuit court is a sham and a subterfuge, knowingly designed by the Tobacco company to seemingly carry out the mandate of the supreme court, but which really leaves its monopoly unimpaired."

This was the statement of Felix H. Levy, attorney for independent tobacco firms and former assistant to the United States attorney general, made before the senate committee on interstate commerce today. Mr. Levy was associated with Attorney General Clegg in the preparation of the case against the Tobacco company.

"The government," he added, "has sacrificed practically all of the benefits that were to accrue to the people of the United States."

"If we fall in our efforts to procure a review of the decree in the American Tobacco company case we will urge that congress request the attorney general to take action to that end," said Mr. Levy.

DENTIST ON TRIAL FOR RUINING GIRL

San Bernardino, Cal., Nov. 21.—Dr. Arthur W. McDavit, formerly a prominent dentist, was placed on trial in the county superior court here today on a statutory charge, growing out of the alleged confinement of Jessie McDonald, a 17-year-old girl, for sixteen months in a room adjoining his office. The young woman and her baby were present in court when the task of impaneling a jury was begun.

The first day's proceedings ended in a night, the entire venire being dismissed by Judge Oster on the ground that Sheriff Bishop, who drew the venire, was prejudiced. The coroner will summon a new venire tomorrow and the work of selecting a jury will proceed.

It is believed now that McDavit will conduct his own case, thus obtaining the right to cross-examine Miss McDonald himself.

Mr. Gates, he said, was a Baptist preacher, in whom he had confidence. The witness related how, two months after he had put his collateral with Mr. Rockefeller during the panic of 1893, Rockefeller called the loan, giving him 24 hours to raise $420,000, and that being unable to raise the money, he and his brother lost their property. He admitted that Mr. Rockefeller offered an opportunity to buy his property back within a year, but declared that the oil king told financiers to "keep hands off" and that he was unable to raise money anywhere.

Dispute as to the nature of the transaction arose when D. A. Reid, counsel for the United States Steel corporation, stated that the Merritts had made actual sales of their stock holdings to Rockefeller in order to raise money and that they never had taken advantage of the opportunity to re-purchase within a year.

Another brother, Mr. Reid declared, had redeemed his stock and secured his pro rata share of $208 per share when it was taken over at the time of the organization of the steel corporation.

The introduction of Mr. Rockefeller's name in this manner almost resulted in the issuance of a subpoena for him to appear before the committee with the contract made at the time of the Merritt loans. Representative Baile of Texas, moving that this be done, no objections were heard when Chairman Stanley put the motion, but the committee decided later in executive session not to call Mr. Rockefeller until Leonidas Merritt had testified.

The Merritts were first parties to a transaction with Mr. Rockefeller and others in the formation of the Lake Superior Consolidated Iron Mines. In this the mines of the region and the Duluth, Missoula and Northern were consolidated, out of this a suit by the Merritts against Rockefeller developed, alleging misrepresentation of the value of mining properties turned in by the Rockefeller interests. Subsequently Rockefeller paid the Merritts $255,000 in settlement for this.

Before this settlement and after he had lost his holdings and ceased to be president of the railroad, Mr. Merritt testified that Mr. Gates came to him and said that Mr. Rockefeller wanted him to continue as president of the road for another year.

"Was that the Baptist preacher Gates who came to you?" asked Chairman Stanley.

"Yes," Mr. Merritt replied.

"He said Mr. Rockefeller had confidence in me and knew that I, through my acquaintance with the boys on the range, would be able to get more shipping business than any one else could do. I guess that was true."

"Then Rev. Dr. Gates seemed to be serving the Lord and John D. Rockefeller, didn't he?" the chairman interrupted.

"But I refused the offer," Mr. Merritt answered emphatically. "I told Gates that I could not retain my manhood and work for Rockefeller."

The intricacies of the transactions were involved and with difficulty were drawn from the witness. Representative Baile of Texas finally summed the matter up thus:

"He wanted that property. I am convinced that he sent the 'hands off' notice to financiers with whom I tried to raise money to redeem my property. He told financiers in Cleveland whom I approached, that the property he got for $10 a share was not worth $5, and I could not get a cent."

C. H. Martz, engineer of the railroad, testified that he was forced by Rockefeller to sell his stock in the company.

SAYS ROCKEFELLER SECURED MINES BY MEANS OF FRAUD

Sensational Testimony Given Before House Steel Trust Investigating Committee By Alfred Merritt of Duluth.

GRABBED PROPERTIES WORTH 700 MILLION

Oil King Made Loans of Less Than Million and Then Called Them In On Twenty-Four Hours' Notice.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Washington, Nov. 21.—Alfred Merritt of Duluth, Minn., first president of the Duluth, Missoula and Northern railroad, who styled himself a "hum-bler jack," unacquainted with the methods of the "money trust," told the house steel trust investigating committee today that through loans of less than $1,000,000 from John D. Rockefeller, he had lost his holdings in the Missoula iron mines and the railroad property now owned by the United States Steel corporation and estimated to be worth today as high as $700,000,000.

Merritt and his brother, Leonidas Merritt, who will testify tomorrow, were among the original mine owners in the Lake Superior region and part owners and builders of the Duluth, Missoula and Northern. The older Merritt declared that he was induced through F. D. Gates, Mr. Rockefeller's secretary, "in charge of his charitable work," to put up all his holdings as collateral for loans from Mr. Rockefeller in 1892 and 1893. One loan was for $420,000.

Mr. Gates, he said, was a Baptist preacher, in whom he had confidence. The witness related how, two months after he had put his collateral with Mr. Rockefeller during the panic of 1893, Rockefeller called the loan, giving him 24 hours to raise $420,000, and that being unable to raise the money, he and his brother lost their property. He admitted that Mr. Rockefeller offered an opportunity to buy his property back within a year, but declared that the oil king told financiers to "keep hands off" and that he was unable to raise money anywhere.

Dispute as to the nature of the transaction arose when D. A. Reid, counsel for the United States Steel corporation, stated that the Merritts had made actual sales of their stock holdings to Rockefeller in order to raise money and that they never had taken advantage of the opportunity to re-purchase within a year.

Another brother, Mr. Reid declared, had redeemed his stock and secured his pro rata share of $208 per share when it was taken over at the time of the organization of the steel corporation.

The introduction of Mr. Rockefeller's name in this manner almost resulted in the issuance of a subpoena for him to appear before the committee with the contract made at the time of the Merritt loans. Representative Baile of Texas, moving that this be done, no objections were heard when Chairman Stanley put the motion, but the committee decided later in executive session not to call Mr. Rockefeller until Leonidas Merritt had testified.

The Merritts were first parties to a transaction with Mr. Rockefeller and others in the formation of the Lake Superior Consolidated Iron Mines. "Then Rev. Dr road because he was an employee, and that he had been ordered to pay the costs of the road in a report to the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission in order to justify the rate charges.

"You do know this then; before you dealt with John D. Rockefeller you and your brother had valuable stock holdings in the Lake Superior ore region and in this railroad, and after your dealings with him you had no stock?"

"Yes, that's it," Mr. Merritt said. "I want to emphasize further that before I dealt with Rockefeller I had a one-tenth interest in the Duluth and Northern railroad, which last year made $8,000,000 and that now I have nothing. I am inclined to blame the preacher more than I am Rockefeller. He deceived me. I don't blame Rockefeller so much. He belongs to the money trust."

"What reason did Rockefeller have for closing in on you?" Representative Gardner asked. "Did he need the money?"

PACKERS SECURE DELAY UNTIL MONDAY

By Clever Legal Maneuvering Millionaires Keep From Going to Trial Until Supreme Court Passes On Appeal.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Chicago, Nov. 21.—Further delay in the criminal trial of the indicted Chicago packers—this time until next Monday—was granted today for the defendants late today by Judge Carpenter in the United States district court.

As a result, the fight to save the packers from facing a jury probably will shift from Chicago to Washington, where efforts will be made to obtain a stay order from the supreme court of the United States.

Judge Carpenter stated, however, that unless he had received such a stay order by Monday he would order the packers to trial without further argument.

Counsel for the packers effected the delay by first appearing before Judge Kohlsaat in the United States circuit court, where the entering of an order quashing the packers' habeas corpus writ had been marking time since Saturday. When delay was granted Saturday by Judge Kohlsaat, it was agreed that formal entering of this order should take place Wednesday.

The defendant's lawyers, however, caused some surprise by appearing in Judge Kohlsaat's court room at noon in company with counsel for the government and asking for the immediate entry of the order. At the same time the order granting an appeal from Judge Kohlsaat's decision handed down last Saturday formally was entered.

Three hours after these orders had been entered in Judge Kohlsaat's court, counsel for the defendants appeared in Judge Carpenter's court, where the trial was scheduled to open tomorrow morning.

Attorney John S. Miller informed Judge Carpenter of the proceedings before Judge Kohlsaat.

"Legally," Mr. Miller said, "our appeal from Judge Kohlsaat's ruling is now pending in the federal supreme court, and counsel for appellants contending that this court should not proceed with their trial in the indictment while the appeal is in the supreme court, or at least until that court shall have had an opportunity of passing finally on the questions involved therein, raising the validity of the criminal provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law."

"Your honor ought to stay your hand until that court has determined these questions. It is our contention that the sentence of the conviction is a stay and prevents this court from proceeding any rights in the case until the supreme court proceedings are disposed of."

"However, if it is too late to wait until the supreme court finally passes on the matter, we ask that you stay the proceedings in the indictment until the appellants have an opportunity at least of presenting the position to the supreme court."

Mr. Miller said that the defendants, after delay had been granted by Judge Carpenter, said that the application for a stay order from the supreme court would be made before Chief Justice White at Washington probably Thursday morning.

President of American Federation of Labor Need Not Surrender $6,000 Job With National Civic Federation.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 21.—John Mitchell today told the delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention it was a "packed" convention of the United Mine Workers at Columbus, O., last spring that compelled him to give up his $6,000 job with the National Civic Federation. He said that at the proper time he would furnish proof that delegates bearing fraudulent credentials were sent there to destroy him at a time when he "was bound hand and foot" in the Supreme Court of the United States, defending himself against the charges of organized labor.

It was the same convention, that adopted a resolution calling upon all officers and members of organized labor identified with the Civic Federation to resign from that body and directing its delegates to the present convention to urge the endorsement of the resolution.

After a day of stormy debate, during which the Socialists rallied to the support of the Mine Workers' delegation, the convention by a vote of 11,849 to 4,528 defeated the resolution calling on leaders to sever their connection with the Civic Federation. As a result President Gompers and fourteen other labor leaders will continue as members of the executive board of the Civic Federation.

Thomas Lewis, who was president of the United Mine Workers of America at the time of the Columbus convention, tried in vain to obtain the floor to answer Mr. Mitchell's charges. Failing in this he later issued the following statement:

"The charge made by Mr. Mitchell that the last international convention of the United Mine Workers was packed, is untrue, and he will be required at the next convention to prove his statements or be branded as conveying false information that is incorrect. This resolution, condemning the Civic Federation, came from the Illinois, the anthracite and Iowa mining districts, and was inspired by the bitter feeling among the coal miners in these districts against mine owners who are members of the National Civic Federation."

"There is nothing we can do to please the Socialist party," he exclaimed, "unless we go over, body, boots and breeches, to that party. Then they will remain quiet so long as we remain subordinate to that party. If they are not, they will come in, they would offer something else, anything to antagonize the trade movement as a militant force of this country. Their idea is that the whole nation should be brought to a state of poverty and then they would come in their own and take charge of society."

"If the theory of the Socialists is right, then the work of the Federation is a waste of time and ought to be abandoned. I am going to stick to the trade union movement, no matter what you do. It is easier to me to any other institution on earth. I owe it so much. It has given me so much opportunity to be helpful to others."

Delegate Duncan McDonald of the Mine Workers opened the fight with an appeal to the Civic Federation when the resolution committee reported adversely on the miners' resolution. He said he had never heard of that organization doing any good for organized labor. It was a means adopted by men like Carnegie and Belmont, he said, to "choreograph" the labor movement and bring its leaders within their power.

Mr. Mitchell related several instances in which the Federation had been instrumental in settling strikes to the advantage of the men.

President Lamm of the Glass Workers' Union and President B. J. Johnson of the Street Car Union, also testified to instances in which the Civic Federation had brought compromise and peace to labor disputes.

John H. Walker, candidate for the presidency of the United Mine Workers, supported Mr. Mitchell's charges. He said $10,000 had been put on the record to bring into the convention delegates with fraudulent credentials for the purpose of defeating Mr. Mitchell and of the union.

Mr. Lewis said Mr. Walker would be forced to prove his statements.

Max Hayes, the Cleveland Socialist leader, attacked the Civic Federation on general principles, saying that capital and labor had no interests in common.

A resolution was demanded on the resolution by Mr. McDonald. The mine workers supported it solidly, including Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Walker, who thus proved themselves faithful to their instructions.

RECLAMATION ENGINEERS MEET IN CONFERENCE

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 21.—Forty engineers in charge of reclamation projects, national and private, in Idaho, Oregon and Washington, assembled in this city today for a discussion of the problems encountered in reclamation. Today's discussion was confined largely to water distribution. It was agreed that the engineer in charge should supervise the distribution of water through the canals, laterals and ditches until it was delivered to the water user.

This it was held, would eliminate the chief source of trouble between settlers.

The conference will last three days. It is the plan to hold a similar conference once a year in the future.

Official monetary commission, and having the responsibility of forming a plan should not be subjected to heat and dogmatism, suggesting a tendency to keep the control away from speculative markets and prevent its being at any time a political issue. It is the commission's duty to keep the monetary policy of the United States on a basis of soundness and to prevent any central of local value from being used to create an artificial boom or a panic.

"Those expressing a fear on the question of control seem to deal only with the possibility of giving some of the money to the banks. Any such interest would be a serious detriment to the country, and it is not likely that it could be attained. The plan carefully prohibits the holding of shares by any individual or other than banks, corporations, or other financial institutions, and it is impossible, and therefore, to get even indirect control it would be necessary for such interests to purchase control of the majority of the shares of more than half in number and amounts of the twenty thousand independent banks of the country. The use of such a stupendous sum as necessary is highly impractical. The suggestion appears foolish to those analyzing the situation and to be a serious detriment to the good sense of those in mind when special control is mentioned."

"Undoubtedly those interests which according to passing speech and hurried composition are designated as 'Wall street' favor the National Reserve association or any plan of monetary reform making for stability and prosperity and relieving the best part of New York from the great strain of crop movements, trade expansion and panics. Passing the relatively small number of stock gamblers, we find the commercial, manufacturing, agricultural, transportation and banking interests of the whole country."

FOREIGNERS SLAIN FOLLOWING ATTACK ON MISSION

REFUGEES CONFIRM REPORT OF MASSACRE

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Peking, Nov. 21.—The killing of foreigners at Sian Fu, Shensi province, has been further confirmed by two Chinese students who have arrived from that city.

During the fighting in Sian Fu a mob attacked the Chinese inland mission, located outside the city. They murdered Mrs. Beckman, who is said to be an American, and five of the mission children. Mr. Beckman was wounded but escaped, saving an infant.

The surviving foreigners were sheltered by Chinese Christians and subsequently departed eastward toward the railway.

The English Baptist missionary, J. C. Keyte, will leave Peking for Sian Fu tomorrow to ascertain the facts concerning the murders. He will go unaccompanied. The foreign legations agree that they will be unable to send relief.

The American legation's instructions that women and children be sent to the coast failed to reach many inland places before communication was cut off. About eighty foreigners, all of them missionaries, are in Sian Fu, of which about fifty are believed to be in Sian Fu.

The three Shensi missions are English, Baptist, Scandinavian Alliance and Roman Catholic. Those who have escaped are likely to encounter bands of robbers and lose their belongings which would greatly impede their progress. The journey of 300 miles on foot would take fully forty days, although the advance party might proceed more rapidly.

The Chi Li assembly has urged the central government not to contract a foreign loan and to desist from hostilities. The assembly has decided also to comply with Sun Pao Chi's request, jointly to demand that the throne abdicate.

MISSIONARIES ARRIVE SAFELY FROM INTERIOR

Boaton, Nov. 21.—Cablegrams received at the headquarters of the American Baptist Foreign Mission society today show that with the exception of Dr. and Mrs. William R. Morse, who are remaining at Chung King, west China, all the missionaries of the society in west China have either arrived in Shanghai or are on their way there.

Among the arrivals are Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Cherry of Ohio. Expected at the next steamer are the Rev. and Mrs. John P. Davies and two children of Ohio; Mrs. C. A. Salquist of Minnesota; Mrs. Upcraft and Miss Reelash Lassett of Illinois.

Four of the society's missionaries are still held up in Chienan, among them being D. S. Dye of Ohio.

COMMUNICATION WITH SIAN FU IMPOSSIBLE
London, Nov. 21.—The Baptist Missionary society here received a cablegram from Shanghai stating that communication with Sian Fu where the massacres of foreigners occurred is impossible. The telegraph wires have been cut. Tai Yuan, the capital of the province of Shensi, is in ruins but the missions are safe.

CANADIANS ARRIVE FROM SZE CHUEN

raised by representatives of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, states that the presidency of the new republic and the flag raised here was supposed to be the emblem of the party supplanting the Manchus. It was a red flag with a blue canton bearing a white sun with twelve points.

Today the news was heralded throughout Chinatown that the official flag was composed of a red background with a yellow sun and nine yellow stars. Local Chinese took upon this emblem as a constitutional flag.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, leader of the revolutionists on this side of the Pacific, is said to be en route to China by an Atlantic path. This information was vouchsafed by his son, Sun Fo.

The question that is puzzling local Chinese is whether it is a constitutional or a revolutionary regime that is now predominating. Considerable revolutionary war funds are said to have been held up as a result. Meanwhile the original revolutionist flag waves in San Francisco's Chinatown.

SUFFRAGETTES GET WORST OF BATTLE WITH POLICE

Their Assault On Parliament Fails, Eighteen Hundred Officers Handling Militant Women, 220 Being Arrested.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) London, Nov. 21.—The suffragettes fared badly at the hands of the police tonight. They had threatened to force their way into the house of commons and make a protest on the floor against the prime minister's refusal to pledge the government to a bill giving equal suffrage to both sexes and they failed to reach the entrance to parliament.

Thwarted by the police, who arrested 220 women and three men, the suffragettes resorted to a campaign of smashing. Driven from Parliament Square by the police, 1,800 of whom were on duty, the women, accompanied by sympathizers and gangs of rowdies, proceeded through Whitehall armed with bags of stones concealed under their coats and broke windows in various buildings. They then extended their operations to the Strand, where windows of the postoffice bank and other private concerns suffered from the onslaught.

The militant tactics of the suffragettes followed a statement by Premier Asquith that the government was unable to introduce a bill to enfranchise women, as the cabinet was divided on the question but would allow an amendment to be adopted to the proposed manhood suffrage bill leaving it to the house of commons to decide whether women should be given a vote.

The suffragettes had made ample preparations to renew their attacks on parliament with a battle which was expected to surpass all previous efforts. They met early in the evening at Caxton hall, less than a mile from Parliament Square and after adopting a resolution declaring that the prime minister's denial of their request was a grave and unpardonable insult to women, called for volunteers for "dangerous service."

A detachment of fifty women, headed by Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, accompanied by immense crowds, started shortly for the house of commons to present their resolutions or take whatever action was deemed advisable. The police, however, were too much for them.

Strong detachments of police, both on foot and mounted, guarded the streets from Caxton hall to the house of parliament. They broke up the demonstration and the women were thrown back or if too persistent, were arrested and hurried to the police station. Several women were injured or became hysterical and required the attention of the ambulance surgeons. The battle was fierce but short.

An Irish woman emerged from the hall, Parliament Square had been cleared of the attacking force. A number of the women had chained themselves to the railings and these chains the police were forced to file or break.

The demonstration this year was not so wild as that of a year ago but the destruction to property was greater.

Among those arrested were Mrs. Lawrence, who is joint editor of "Votes For Women"; Lady Constance Lytton, sister of Lord Lytton; and the Hon. Mrs. Evelyn Haverfield, daughter of Lieutenant-General Lord Abinger. All were released on bail.

RAISE HUGE FUND TO HANDLE 1911 COTTON CROP

New York Bankers See Wisdom of Governor's Plan and Advance Fifty Million Dollars to Aid Growers.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) New York, Nov. 21.—New York bankers who have been conferring here for the last few days with representatives of the governors of Texas, the Southern Cotton congress announced this afternoon they had raised a fund of $50,000,000 to be placed immediately in the cotton belt states for the purpose of handling the cotton crop of 1911 and enabling growers to participate in any rise in the market.

The negotiations were conducted on behalf of the south by Governor O'Neal of Alabama; Senator Bailey of Texas, who has been advising his colleagues as to legal aspects of the proposition; E. J. Watson, president of the permanent southern cotton congress, and commissioner of agriculture of South Carolina, and Clarence Ouseley of Fort Worth, Tex., representing the governor of his state.

The bankers who will furnish the fund are headed by Col. Robert M. Thompson of the brokerage firm of S. H. P. Pell and company of this city.

The financial support of several of the strongest banks in New York has been given to the plan.

The plan proposes to advance the grower $25 per bale upon his cotton based on the market value at the time of the loan. No interest will be paid upon the loan, the only charge being $1 a bale, which is regarded as a legitimate minimum charge for the expense of grading and handling. The cotton is not held nor taken from channels of trade, but is placed at the best advantage. The grower is given the right to designate the day of sale prior to January 1, 1912, and will participate in any advance in price to the extent of three-fourths of the rise of the market.

Details of the plan are yet to be worked out. It has been decided, however, to place the fund through state committees named by the governor or commissioner of agriculture of a state and these committees shall be empowered to sell when cotton reaches twelve cents and compelled to sell when it reaches thirteen cents, regardless of advice from the growers. Provisions against violation of Sherman anti-trust law is contained in a clause empowering each committee to name the day of sale in case the market climbs to twelve or thirteen cents.

Everything depends upon the acceptance of the plan by the individual farmer, however.

It is calculated that by the present ordinary holding process the farmer takes all the profit of the rise in the market. By this plan he takes no more chance than he did before and has every opportunity of maximum participation in a rise in the market, meantime paying his debts and sustaining the loss by damage, by shrinkage and warehouse charges.

UNIVERSITY HOPES HIGH SCHOOL TO TO WIN FROM. ARIZONA TACKLE MENAUL TEAM AGAIN

Coach Hutchinson Getting His Team in Shape For Championship Game Here Thanksgiving; Hard Practice Daily.

The University of New Mexico is determined to go all in its power, not only to retain the football championship of the southwest, but also to hand a decisive package to those transducers of the institution's spirit, who believe the boys on the hill do not know how to play football. Coach Hutchinson, then whom no better coach ever worked with the Varsity, has taken green material and formed from it one of the cleanest and fastest teams that ever stepped across the line lines in muleskin in New Mexico.

The team has assimilated more actual knowledge of football this season than ever before. When he took charge not a single member of the team knew how to fall on the ball; few if any knew how to run properly with it and fewer still knew how to kick or tackle correctly. All these things have in a measure been corrected so that the team as it now appears not only can give a good account of itself, but can also confer distinction upon the Varsity which it represents.

The work of preparation for the big Thanksgiving game with Arizona is going on apace. The team which has been somewhat crippled of late, owing to injuries to several players, is fast rounding into shape and will in a few days be better than ever before this season.

Big Bill Hunter, the mighty right guard, who has been out of the game for the last three weeks owing to a bad hand is going through his part of the workouts with a vim and vigor that spells love for the combat. Work for two hours every evening on the gridiron, followed by grilling secret practice and instructions in the gym mark the trail of the days at the Varsity until the big game is called.

Gladding is having special workouts as a drop kicker and punter. The power of Beane's hoof when in contact with the ball, has developed wonderfully this year, and Beane has developed into a star of the first magnitude. His ability as a punting half is feared in every section of New Mexico, where he has been opposed. Without doubt he is the best punter on the team. He is also a versatile player. He can fill a place at tackle half or full, playing a terrific game in each position.

Allen at center is small but one of the most willing men and gritty who ever donned a uniform. His ability at dumping the opposing center is recognized as good as that of any center the Varsity ever produced. He has a football head; it goes in the family. The work of his brother, Walter R. Allen, as captain and half-back of the Varsity team for years is well remembered and lovers of the plucky sport are delighted to see the familiar Allen face again on the field.

Woodridge, substitute right end, who took Ringland's place when that player left for West Point, is picking up in his game right along. Pinky is a fast and sure tackler for all his lack of weight. His ability to catch a man from behind is one of the standbys of the Varsity. He will have his work cut out for him though, when he opposes the Arizona man, who also has a reputation in the line.

The Thanksgiving game is the game of the season. From the standpoint of both a society and sporting event it should draw fifteen hundred people. Watch for the announcements, and then get in and battle for a great crowd to help the team pull that $700 guarantee, and then come out. This is a time when local support is going to count for everything. The boys have shown a lot of grit in getting the Tucsonians to consent to come, and the support they will receive at the hands of the lovers of clean athletics in Albuquerque will be of untold benefit to them and to the Varsity.

The High school football team is again at work preparing for the second game of the season with the Menaul school. The crippling of the High school team resulting from the injuries to Hesselton, the High school half-back, who was obliged to retire from the game in the second quarter, on Saturday, has necessitated almost building anew the back field. Coach Alton so highly regarded Hesselton that he built practically all the plays around him, and depended upon him to drop kick for goal when an opportunity should occur.

It is necessary to bring forward a new star to do the drop kick from the field, and Grimmer, who played such a sterling game on Saturday, easily proving the star of the contest, has been chosen for this task. Grimmer kicks well and generally for a good distance, and with practice should be able to boot the ball accurately between the goal posts from the field.

Epiphany has been put back on end, even though he is afflicted with some "charleyhorse" this week. Weirning will try out at half.

J. H. Shufflebarger, father of Shufflebarger, the big end for the High school eleven, entertained the members of the team, substitutes, manager and coach at an oyster supper in the small banquet room of the Sturges hotel last night. The young players' appetites had been sharpened early in the evening by a stiff workout by Coach Alton, and of course they did justice to everything brought to the table.

Those who sat down with Mr. Shufflebarger were Coach Alton, Manager Joe McCanna, Players Shufflebarger, Balmora, Hesselton, Grimmer, Lee, Weirning, Epiphany, Lapraik, Barth, Camp, Stamm, Ziering, Schutt and Frank.

CORRUPTION EXISTS IN COLLEGE ATHLETICS

Madison, Wis., Nov. 21.—That college football is honeycombed with corruption all over the country and that the whole system should be submitted to a thorough house-cleaning, is the opinion of Dr. Charles McCarthy, assistant coach at Wisconsin for many years.

"I know that never in the history of football," he said, "was there more corruption than at present. The east, it is even the custom to pick out some heavy boy with fair intelligence and get some alumnus to see that he gets through 'prep' school and then college. They are careful not to get mixed up. It is systematic and well organized."

"In the west as well as in the east, alumni associations will loan money to a promising man on a note. If he makes good the note is never collected. He cannot 'square' or the note will be collected. The giants who are showing up on these teams are evidence enough."

Thoroughbreds Sell Cheap.

The noted sire, Simonian and Buck Massey, only brought $5 and $10 respectively. Lady Reel, a half-sister to Hamburg, brought only $5.

OFFICERS KIDNAP PRISONER IN NEVADA

Reno Chief of Police and Ohio Sheriff Spirit Away Man Wanted in East On Charge of Child Abandonment.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Reno, Nev., Nov. 21.—As a result of their action in carrying Frank Shaffer in an automobile over the state line into California to prevent his application for release in Nevada on a writ of habeas corpus, kidnapping charges may be made against J. D. Hillhouse, chief of police of Reno, and A. C. McDonald, sheriff, of Coshocton, O.

Shaffer is wanted at Coshocton on a charge of child abandonment. He has been employed in Reno for a short time. Just before midnight he was arrested and taken to the city jail. He communicated with his attorney and immediately afterward was placed in an automobile and hurried over the line into California. At Truckee the Ohio sheriff caught train No. 3, on the Southern Pacific line, and is now hurrying toward San Francisco, where he expects to take a Southern route for Ohio.

Shaffer's local attorney states he will make an effort to halt the sheriff and his prisoner at Auburn or Sacramento and that he will bring a charge of kidnapping against Hillhouse and McDonald.

REPORTED FINDING OF GIRL'S BODY FALSE RUMOR

Considerable Excitement Occasioned Last Night By Story That Corpse of Miss Greb Had Been Found in Reservoir.

Considerable excitement was occasioned last night when a report circulated on the streets that the body of Miss Margaret Greb, the missing daughter of John M. Greb, had been found floating in the Water company's reservoir on the mesa east of the city. Immediate steps taken to confirm the rumor, resulted in its being disproved. The father of Miss Greb knew nothing about it, the coroner had not been notified of the finding of a body and the undertakers had not received such a corpse. Neither did the police know anything of the reported discovery.

A. B. McMillen, president of the Water company, denied the truth of the rumor. He stated that it would be practically impossible for anyone to get into the reservoir, since it is enclosed by an eight-foot fence surrounded by three strands of barbed wire. Just a week ago last night Margaret Greb mysteriously disappeared from the home of her father on North Walnut street. Since then the slightest trace of the missing girl has been found. The theory advanced by the father is that she has returned to the old family home in Arkansas for which she had expressed a yearning at various times in the past year. However, Mr. Greb has heard nothing from his daughter since she dropped out of sight.

RECORD PRICE PAID FOR RANGE CATTLE

Chicago, Nov. 21.—An unprecedented high price paid here today for range cattle has called attention to a condition which stockmen say has been growing more disturbing for some time and which they assert threatens to make a low price of meat an impossibility for the future unless it is met by activity among corn which raised cattle.

F. M. Heinrich of Lodge Grass, Montana, was paid $730 a hundred pounds for twenty head of cattle that never had eaten other than the grass of the open range, a price never before attained on the Chicago market for range stock. The previous highest price was $740 paid in October, 1909.

Today's high price cattle were four years old, averaging 1,520 pounds and were destined for the Boston market.

The daily receipts being nearly 1,000 head a day less than at this time last year, according to statistics here, are following the trend of the last few years, indicating the range cattle practically are on the down-grade in point of numbers.

Victor, Colo., Nov. 21.—Despite the fact that he is rated by the local banks at $25,000 in cash and real estate, Charles E. Gregory and his wife have been arrested on a charge of burglary. They were discovered at 2 o'clock this morning by the son of one of the proprietors in the rear of a grocery store with three well filled sacks of provisions, enough groceries and provisions, alleged to have been stolen, to start a store.

NOTED SHEEP MEN ATTEND OMAHA CONVENTION

Forty-Eighth Annual Meeting Promises to be Most Successful in Annals of National Wool Growers Association.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.)
Omaha, Neb., Nov. 18.—When the sheepmen of the west met in annual convention at the forty-eighth annual meeting of the National Wool Growers' association in Omaha, on December 14 and 15, they will have an opportunity of hearing authorities on various subjects discuss what is good for the sheepmen and for the general public as well.

The program includes prominent speakers, men who are at the top in public life. Every conceivable phase of the wool situation will be discussed pro and con. Chief among the speakers who have indicated their intentions of being present are Joseph E. Wing, of Washington, D. C., a member of the tariff board. Mr. Wing will speak on Wool Growing in South America. This address, which will be delivered the afternoon of December 15, will be full of interesting facts to wool producers in the southern part of the continent.

Hon. F. J. Hagenborth of Spencer, Idaho, has accepted an invitation to speak on "Schedule K and Its Relation to the Wool Growers." His address will be one of the features of the convention, for if there is anything at the present time that is commanding the attention of the wool and sheepmen of the country it is schedule K, which deals with the tariff question in a manner which does not please the flockmasters.

Another topic that promises a lot of interesting data is "Free Meat and Its Dangers," which will be handled by Judge S. H. Cowan, of Fort Worth, Texas.

Senator Joseph M. Dixon, of Montana, will speak on "Wool Growing and the Tariff," while Senator W. E. Borah of Idaho, will deliver an address on Conservation.

Other men, prominent in public life who will talk to the flockmasters are: Dr. A. D. Melvin, of Washington, D. C., chief of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry; Hon. J. D. Holliday, of Helena, Mont.; Hon. S. C. Graves, Washington, D. C.; V. O. Johnson, Shoshone, Ida.; F. W. Gooding, Chicago, Ill.; P. G. Johnson, Blackfoot, Ida.; C. R. Stewart, Salt Lake City, Utah; W. O. Stillman, Albany, N. Y.; Hon. W. M. Hayes, Washington, D. C., assistant secretary of the Department of Agriculture.

The presence of these men means that the coming convention will be the greatest in the forty-eight years of the association. This, coupled with the mammoth sheep show, which will be in conjunction with the convention, insures a record attendance from all over the western states. The sheep show will be the highest and best for that is the way Omaha does things.

A band of music of thirty pieces has been secured to enliven things and whenever there is a minute's rest from the convention, the musicians will be heard, for that is the way Omaha does things. The sheep show management, of which E. Buckingham, superintendent of the Union Stock Yards of South Omaha is the head, is considering the appointment of judges for the show. Many prominent men in the United States and Canada are being considered and the selections will be announced within a short time.

BURNED $1,000 BILL TO LIGHT CIGARETTE

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—Sigurd Hartig, a real estate dealer, formerly of Cincinnati, accidentally lit a cigarette with a $1,000 bill here today. He intended to burn only the end of a bit of yellow paper, but the flame caught the bill for the edification of his friends. Samuel Haller, another friend, joined the group just as Hartig lit the cigarette.

"Give me a light, Sig," said Haller, seizing the bill. Hartig could secure the bill it was in flames.

THIRD VICTIM OF SCHOOL WRECK SUCCEUMBS

FIREMAN SCOTT DIES IN ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL

Disaster Which Cost Lives of Three Firemen Believed to Be Due to Misunderstanding of Orders By Engineer.

Fireman Frank A. Scott, frantically scalded and otherwise injured in the head-on collision of two Santa Fe trains on the steep Abso pass grade of the Santa Fe road Monday afternoon, passed away yesterday evening at 2 o'clock at St. Joseph's hospital in this city.

The unfortunate fireman, who was working on the lead engine of the westbound train is the third man to die as the result of the disaster, the two firemen on the westbound freight having been instantly killed. Scott's father and sister, who reside in Texaco, were with him when death came. The young fireman, who was but eighteen years of age, had a run out of Clovis, and was well liked by all who knew him.

The bodies of Fireman Ned Keith of Belen, and A. J. Daugherty of Clovis, who were instantly killed, were brought to Albuquerque yesterday.

Fireman Keith, who had been employed in that capacity but a short time, was until recently a bonus clerk in the Santa Fe shops at Belen. His father and mother reside at Phoenix, Arizona, where the body will be shipped.

Daugherty, deceased, was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers and entered the service of the Santa Fe company at Deming, where his parents formerly lived.

Fireman Daugherty's parents live at Clovis, N. M., and he was expected to reach Albuquerque this evening on train No. 1. He was a member of the Clovis lodge No. 761 of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Reports from St. Joseph's hospital are to the effect that the survivors of the injured trainmen are doing as well as could be expected and that all of them have an excellent chance to recover from their injuries.

Local Santa Fe officials are still reluctant concerning the cause of the wreck. The order was that the two engines comprising the train were to run as an "extra" from Mountain to Belen. Down at the bottom of the order blank were the instructions that the extra was to meet the east-bound "red ball" at Scholle. It is believed that the engineer overlooked this portion of his orders and the crash which occurred two miles west of Scholle was the result.

Operator J. H. Horton, whose right arm was badly crushed in the wreck, was acting as messenger on the dead engine. The young man, who is regularly employed as telegraph operator at Scholle, near where the wreck occurred, is now in a lay-off and volunteered to accompany the light engine from Clovis to Belen, it being customary to always send a messenger in charge of a dead engine.

His sister, Miss Fay Thornton, is employed by the Santa Fe as operator at Mountain.

George O. Thorne, head-end brakeman on the eastbound red ball, who was badly scalded, is reported doing nicely at the hospital and it is believed he will suffer no permanent effects from his frightful experience.

Engineers C. H. Nappier and Ed. V. Pierson of the westbound train and Engineer V. P. Malone, in charge of the westbound light engines, are all reported out of danger. Malone hurt, while Pierson is able to sit up and expects to be discharged from the hospital within a few days.

How to be Certain of Curing Constipation

Prejudice is a hard thing to overcome, but where health is at stake and the opinion of thousands of reliable people differs from yours, prejudice then becomes your master and you ought to lay it aside. This is said in the interest of people suffering from chronic constipation, and it is worthy of their attention.

In the opinion of legions of reliable American people the most stubborn constipation imaginable can be cured by a brief use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You may not have heard of it before, but do not doubt its merits on that account, or because it has not been blatantly advertised, it has sold successfully on word of mouth recommendation. Parents are giving it to their children today who were given it by their parents and it has been truthfully said that more druggists use it personally in their families than any other laxative.

Letters recently received from Mrs. Josie Walker, Flatonia, Texas, and Benj. Valentine, Zollinger, Texas, are but a few of thousands showing the esteem in which Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is held. It is mild, gentle, non-gripping—not violent like salts or cathartics. It cures gradually and pleasantly as that in time nature again does its own work without outside aid. Constipated people owe it to themselves to use this grand bowel specific.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. H. Caldwell, 489 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

NEW RAILROAD WILL COST MILLION A MILE

Los Angeles, Nov. 21.—It is reported in railroad circles here today that the building of the cut-off between Winkelman and San Carlos, Ariz., through Box River canyon, will begin immediately. This is the part of the plan for a low grade road from Yuma to Bowie, which would give the Southern Pacific a second line through Phoenix on a main line from Los Angeles to the east. The construction work will nearly all be through rock and it is estimated will cost $1,000,000 a mile for the thirty miles to be built.

REYES AND GOMEZ JURY FINDS HORSE BACK OF SEPARATE REVOLUTIONS THIEF GUILTY IN FOUR MINUTES

This is Belief of Mexican Secret Service Agents; Madero Rushing Troops to Northern Boundary.

(By Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire.)
Mexico, Nov. 21.—President Madero's government is confronted with two alleged organized revolutionary bands of the plains of Tlaxcala which bear the names of six men, including that of Emilio Vazquez Gomez, former minister of the interior, were made public today. In this plan, it is stated that while the movement will receive the support of a number of regular army officers, General Ricardo Reyes will have no part in it.

The government secret service agents believe there is no doubt of the authenticity of both this document and that found in San Antonio today ascribed to General Reyes. The common belief here is that the two movements will be antagonistic unless the government is able to check them. Minister Calero of the foreign office said that he thought that in his case would the United States intervene in the affairs of Mexico, because the first place the American government is really democratic, and in the second place because the United States has always had the highest regard for the sovereignty of Mexico. The revolution of an army of deserters, since the northern frontier was today under way, General Juvenal Rosales and General Trevino will establish headquarters at Laramie, a few miles south of Laredo. General Francisco Estrada has been placed in the command of that portion of the zone extending from Matamoros to the state of Nuevo Leon, with instructions to act upon his own initiative.

A dispatch from Fortson tonight reported the destruction of two small bridges on the Tepehuacan branch of the National Railways in Durango last night. Insurrections have been reported elsewhere in that state.

The governor of Nuevo Leon, the state over which General Reyes ruled for many years, communicated to President Madero today that 3,000 workmen in Monterrey had asked him for arms and ammunition with which to join in the fight against General Reyes. The governor assured them their services would be called for if they were needed.

GENERAL DUNCAN MAKES INVESTIGATION AT LAREDO
Laredo, Tex., Nov. 21.—General Joseph W. Duncan, commanding the department of Texas, personally investigated the Mexican filibuster situation at Laredo today and tonight returned to his headquarters at San Antonio.

The general made no comment. Troop 1, Third cavalry, accompanied General Duncan to Laredo. The soldiers are encamped on the Fort McIntosh reservation.

So far as surface indications indicate, the outlook locally is calmer than it has been for some days. The absence of a number of those who recently joined the Mexican colony in Laredo, however, is noted.

No additional arrests of alleged revolutionary conspirators were made today or secreted munitions of war located.

ATTORNEYS CONFERENCE ON SITUATION IN MEXICO
San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 21.—It is understood that manifests calling on the Mexican army and people to revolt and signed in print with the name of General Reyes, were laid before the attorneys for this government held here today in connection with the Mexican border cases.

Leon McDaniel, district attorney for the southern district of Texas; C. A. Boynton, for the western district; Noah Allen, assistant district attorney of the southern district; Charles Cresson, Jr., assistant district attorney here, and United States Marshal Nolte, attended the conference. All efforts will be exerted toward developing the cases.

WOMAN ARRESTED OFFICERS GET CLUE FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT TO LEON LING'S WHEREABOUTS

Kittie Ritter Released After Hearing of Evidence Which Was Not Sufficient to Convict; Several Drunks Fined.

Cleveland, Nov. 21.—The arrest of Leon Ling, sought for two years or more, for the murder of Elsie Seigel in New York, may follow action of the Cleveland police who tonight telegraphed the authorities of a Texas city, asking them to locate Ling. Information on which the police acted reached them as the result of a long feud.

Yesterday Leon Yung Choi Woon Dip four times Woon, a member of the On Leon tong, is not expected to live. Leon, a member of the Hip Sing tong, fled, and has not been arrested. The police believe he is harbored by friends here.

Today members of the On Leon tong told the police that Leon Yung was a cousin of Leon Ling, who is charged with having murdered Elsie Seigel in New York's Chinatown and placed her body in a trunk. They also gave one of the principal cities in Texas as Leon Ling's whereabouts a short time ago. They had no reason to believe, they assured the police, that he had changed his abode. They had possessed this information for some time but did not care to give it out until the Hip Sing started trouble.

The police declined to say what city in Texas has been named.

Case Reversed on Technicality.
St. Louis, Nov. 21.—Because the Journal Record of the Colorado state senate had been tampered with in an attempt to defeat the operation of the Colorado follow servant law, the United States circuit court of appeals in a decision handed down here today remanded the case of Andrew Duke against the Portland Gold Mining company.

CONVICTS ENGAGE IN SERIOUS AFFRAY

Pickhandles and Shovels Used in Three-Cornered Fight at Territorial Penitentiary Yesterday Morning.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.)
Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21.—Convict Al Kearney is in the dark cell and two native prisoners are nursing bruised heads as the result of a fight that occurred in the brick plant of the territorial prison here this morning.

According to the reports, which leaked out this afternoon, Convict Kearney accidentally ran a wheelbarrow over the foot of a convict named James Martinez. Martinez retaliated by smashing Kearney over the head with a shovel and the fight was on. Another native convict came to the assistance of Martinez and Kearney was on the ground and in a fair way to being killed when Deputy Warden R. C. Garrett appeared on the scene. Garrett at once summoned assistance and Kearney was ordered to the dark cell. It is said that the deputy warden has announced his intention of offering a charge of felonious assault against Kearney, who is a young man said to belong to a respectable family in Chicago. Martinez and the other native, so far as can be learned, have not been punished for their share in the affray.

Reports of cruelty and mistreatment of prisoners in the penitentiary have been frequent here of late, and it is said that Governor Mills has resolved to at once institute a thorough investigation. According to the reports, Warden Cleofes Romero has left the internal management of the institution entirely in the hands of Deputy Warden Garrett and Clerk William A. Bayer and these gentlemen will be called upon to explain just why it was necessary to revive the spanking machine as a method of punishment after it has long been discarded in the penitentiaries of every other state in the union. The practice of stringing up prisoners by the wrists in dark cells is another interesting custom which it is said the governor has resolved to investigate.

Kearney who is in the dark cell for this morning's affray was sentenced from eastern New Mexico for burglary, while Martinez is serving a sentence of five years for unnatural crime, being sent up from San Miguel county.

Notary Appointed.
Governor William J. Mills has appointed Emma N. Welpton of Carlsbad, Eddy county, a notary public.

Removing Shock.
J. H. Saunders, a typewriter expert of Winnipeg, Canada, spent the day at the capitol "eliminating shock" and "destroying sound" in the many typewriters in the office. He has a new appliance which he installed temporarily and if the officials and their secretaries think that there is a loss of noise, they will probably continue to use them. Elimination of sound is considered desirable by officials who have several typewriting machines "clicking" in their offices for the noise makes it difficult to dictate directly to the machine.

Desks Will Be Sold.
Territorial Secretary Nathan Jaffe received word from Uncle Sam today to sell the thirty additional desks and equipment bought for the use of members of the constitutional convention. The desks will be advertised in the New Mexican.

BEATTIE MAKES HIS PEACE WITH ALMIGHTY

Richmond, Va., Nov. 21.—Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., convicted for wife murder, at last has given up hope and is reconciled to the thought of death. Today he spent several hours with Rev. J. J. Fife of the Presbyterian church in Bible study and frequently in prayer.

Douglas Beattie, his brother, is an authority for the news of this abrupt change from an attitude of seeming indifference to one of serious thought and solemn preparation. Hundreds of persons from all over the country, some in high positions, have applied for permission to witness the execution. Only the jury, as required by law, however, will be present. Hysterical appeals in person and by letter are being received by Governor Mann begging for commutation of the sentence of death, but the governor declared that justice must take its course unimpeded by any act of his.

LORIMER COMMITTEE NOT TO PERMIT INTERFERENCE

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Whatever action by the federal grand jury in Chicago or elsewhere is contemplated in connection with possible perjury by witnesses who testified before the senatorial committee investigating the election of William Lorimer as United States senator it will not be urged by the committee until after the evidence on both sides is closed.

This was made known today following an attempt by the federal grand jury to interrogate John H. Marble, chief counsel for the committee, and John M. Healey, associate counsel.

These men were called before the grand jury, but it is understood they did not testify because it was understood there might be perjury charges forthcoming. Senator Kenyon of Iowa, frequently in the session, has suggested that some point action might be taken because of the wide variance of information given the committee.

GOOD ROADS CONGRESS URGES FEDERAL AID

Richmond, Va., Nov. 21.—The resolutions committee of the National Good Roads congress tonight, by a vote of 7 to 2, voted to report favorably a resolution petitioning the federal congress to appropriate for a comprehensive plan of highway improvement.

John A. Stewart of New York, who led the opposition, said if the government were to improve ten per cent of the roads of the United States, the cost would be $2,500,000,000 a year. Senator Swanson of Virginia, asked the committee to approve a definite plan, carrying expenditures of $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 a year. This was refused.

MURDERER WILL PLEAD THE UNWRITTEN LAW

Moah, Utah, Nov. 21.—That John E. Brown, the wealthy cattleman, will attempt to justify the slaying of his son-in-law on November 18, by a new application of the "unwritten law" is intimated by his attorneys in a statement given out today. Brown, they say, shot James A. Dubois, "to protect his (Brown's) daughter from the humiliation and mortification of witnessing her husband's attentions to another woman. The killing of his daughter at the same time, Brown insists, was entirely accidental.

Are You Ever Sick?

For Prompt Relief

If you suffer from any of the troubles so common to women, or if you are merely weak, and lack life and energy, you are urged to take Cardui, the woman's tonic.

Cardui is a purely vegetable, tonic medicine for women, and as its success of more than 50 years clearly shows, it can, as a reliable remedy, be depended on, in time of need.

Mrs. L. E. Hibbs, of Morton's Gap, Va., says: "I was taken sick, and confined to my bed, most of the time, for 10 months. I had ulcers and then a tumor.

The second doctor that treated me said my last chance was an operation, and when the third doctor was called in, he told me it was doubtful that I would recover.

I wouldn't consent to the operation, and decided to try Cardui. When I had taken two bottles, I felt better. In two months, I could go about and do light house work. Now I feel well and the tumor is gone. I heartily recommend Cardui to suffering women. I am sure it will cure."

Bureau of Immigration Suggests Inexpensive Scheme For Advertising New Mexico Which Should Make a Hit.

"Don't Throw Away Your Newspapers" is the title of a circular just issued by the New Mexico Bureau of Immigration, which urges that subscribers to papers, especially the small weeklies, when they have read their newspapers, should send them to their friends in their old homes back east. This suggestion has the merit of novelty and can be followed at almost no expense or trouble beyond the purchase of a postage stamp and the writing of an address. Following is the circular which has been sent to every newspaper in New Mexico with the request that it be given publicity.

Next to a personal letter there is no advertising medium for a town or community as the newspaper published in that community. This is especially true of the weekly newspaper which in a large measure reflects the thought and the business and social conditions of the community.

Probably ninety-nine per cent of the weekly newspapers printed in New Mexico are consigned to the waste basket immediately after they have been read by the subscriber. Their value ceases immediately.

Every wide awake citizen of New Mexico is interested these days in promoting the growth of his community and of the new state as a whole. If every subscriber to a weekly newspaper in the state of New Mexico would, after he has read that newspaper, wrap it, put a one cent stamp on it and address it to some acquaintance in other states, the result would be a huge advertisement which would draw a tremendous volume of attention to the Sunshine State.

The idea of the letter to the newspaper "back home" has been well received. Many of these letters are now going out of the state according to addresses received by the Bureau of Immigration and the result will be a great many columns of beneficial advertising in newspapers published in other states.

Let us supplement this by making the fullest use possible of our own home newspapers. Don't throw the weekly newspaper away when you have finished with it. Wrap it and mail it to an acquaintance. There is not a weekly newspaper in New Mexico that fails to have in every issue some item of special interest to the man outside. The local newspaper is much more interesting than a post card; much more effective as an advertisement—far more likely to produce an enduring result.

Supplement the "back home" letter by making the fullest use of your local paper.

Reclamation Service Foreman Meets Painful Accident While at Work; Progress On Piers For Bridge Across River.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.] Elephant Butte, N. M., Nov. 20.—Thomas Williams, a foreman on a painful accident Monday morning when a huge stone rolled down the embankment, crushing his right foot badly. Williams was at once hurried to the hospital, where his injuries were treated by Dr. J. Dale Graham. While painful, it is not believed that Williams will suffer any permanent harm from his injuries.

Otis McIntyre, Walter Karcher, Daniel Taylor and Press Amos are a party of hunters who returned here yesterday after three weeks spent in the Black Range. Three deer and a number of squirrels were the trophies of their prowess brought in by the hunters. While in camp in the mountains the hunters had the pleasure of entertaining three affable strangers who they afterward learned were the three desperadoes who broke jail at Deming, one of whom was afterward killed in a battle with Sheriff Stephens' posse. The outlaws when they visited the hunters' camp, were well mounted and armed with rifles. One of the trio appeared to be quite familiar with the country, while the other two made diligent inquiry concerning the different roads and trails.

Another emergency patient at the hospital this week was Zenas D. Clark, who while engaged in chopping wood, was injured by a flying fragment being cut on the lower lip so badly that it was necessary to sew up the wound.

Foreman Prosser has been transferred from the work on the flume to the widening of the wagon road under Ash canyon bridge.

Only two derricks are now working on the excavations for the flume. A small circus showed here Sunday, the company leaving that evening over the railroad.

TRIAL OF DOCTOR WILSON ENDS ABRUPTLY

Judge Abbott Instructs Jury to Return a Verdict of Not Guilty; May Quash Remaining Indictments.

The case against Dr. E. N. Wilson, which was on trial in the district court on Monday and a part of yesterday, came to a sudden end at noon yesterday when Judge Abbott instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty. The indictment under which he was being tried was one of nine returned recently by the grand jury. The actual amount involved in this case was $14.35, alleged to have been embezzled by Dr. Wilson, while president of the New Mexico Realty company, which later was renamed the Home Land and Loan company.

Judge Abbott in addition, notified District Attorney Klock that he would give him until noon today to show cause why the other eight indictments should not be dismissed.

Meat Company Enters Suit. The Western Meat company through its attorney, W. Moore Clayton, yesterday entered suit against Ben Gough for $221.74, alleged to be due for goods, wares and merchandise, sold and delivered between June 17, 1910, and July 13, of the same year. An additional sum amounting to six percent of the claim, together with costs of suit also is asked.

Large Suit on Account. Alfred Grunfeld and Ivan Grunfeld, comprising the firm of Grunfeld Bros., yesterday obtained a judgment in the district court against Abraham Abeysa for $150.98, with interest at the rate of 8 percent, and all costs of the suit. The amount claimed is for goods, wares and merchandise sold and delivered.

The district court was occupied yesterday afternoon in obtaining a jury to try Antonio Ortiz, an Old Mexico Mexican, for stabbing Green-sio Mesa on the night of April 16, last, in San Jose precinct. The jury was completed when court adjourned for the day.

FATAL WRECK ON MIDLAND VALLEY ROAD

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 21.—One person was probably fatally hurt, eleven were seriously injured and twice as many suffered lacerations and bruises today when a north-bound Midland Valley passenger train was derailed near Bixby, Oklahoma, twenty-four miles south of here. The derailment was due to spreading rails.

Among those whose injuries are regarded as serious, are Hy Cain, Spokane, Wash., face torn and skull cut, and his mother, Mrs. Emily Cain, cuts on body and back sprained.

For coughing, dryness and tickling in the throat, hoarseness and all coughs and colds, take Foley's Honey and Tar compound. Contains no opiates.—J. H. O'Reilly.

WORST DYSPEPSIA WILL GO IN FIVE MINUTES

Indigestion, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Gas and Other Distress Vanishes After Taking a Little Diapiesin.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of indigestion or dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach, if you will take a little Diapiesin occasionally.

Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes belching, dizziness, a feeling of fullness after eating, nausea, indigestion (a lump of lead in stomach), biliousness, heartburn, water brash, pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.

Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapiesin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. A single dose will digest all the food you eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour and upset the stomach.

Get a large 25-cent case of Diapiesin from your druggist and start taking now, and in a little while you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and gas that is in your stomach and intestines is promptly carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.

Should you at this moment be suffering from indigestion or any stomach disorder, you can surely get relief within five minutes.

WARSHIPS ORDERED POST HASTE TO SANTO DOMINGO

Cabinet Decides Situation On Island Grave Following As- sassination of President Ca- ceres and Acts Accordingly.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Washington, Nov. 21.—The cabinet has decided that the situation in Santo Domingo was such, resulting from the assassination of President Caceres, as to make it expedient for the United States to send sufficient naval force there to meet all demands for the protection of American lives and property and to maintain order.

As soon as the decision of the cabinet was communicated to Admiral Wainwright, chief of operations, he sent orders by wireless to the commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, directing him to dispatch the two big armored cruisers Washington and North Carolina to Hampton Roads. No one at the navy department knew the exact location of the Atlantic fleet which was conducting a search problem some 1,000 miles off the coast of Virginia.

But probably eleven minutes from the moment he had sent his order, Admiral Wainwright had before him an answer from the fleet commander stating that the two big ships were on their way to the Roads, where they arrived within a few hours.

ROSWELL BATTERY MAY BE SENT TO BORDER

Reported in El Paso That New Mexico Guardsmen Are to Be Called Upon to Help Patrol Mexican Boundary Line.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.] El Paso, Tex., Nov. 21.—It is reported here today, on what seems to be the most reliable authority, that Battery A, of the New Mexico National Guard, stationed at Roswell, has been ordered to hold itself in readiness for service on the Mexican border. According to the information obtainable here, the guardsmen are ordered to be prepared to move to Fort Bliss in this city on three days' notice, prepared to assist in the patrol of the Mexican border to prevent filibustering by the border revolutionists.

It is said that the orders were sent to Captain M. A. Murray by Major C. H. Clark at Fort San Antonio, San Antonio, and that the full quota of the men is included in the order. The Roswell battery, it is believed, will be used to guard Colonel E. Z. Steever, in command at Fort Bliss.

At Fort Bliss the Fourth cavalry and 250 infantrymen are held constantly under arms and ready to march at a moment's notice to throw a patrol along the border.

Covered wagons and armed and unarmed men were seen to cross the river both above and below El Paso on Monday and a troop of cavalry was at once dispatched from Camp Stever to Pecos, N. M. in order to prevent an anticipated crossing there of arms and ammunition.

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO

ROOSEVELT A CANDIDATE?

In Theodore Roosevelt a candidate for the presidential nomination in 1912? Apparently his recent article in The Outlook on the trust question has raised the "third term ghost" again. This ghost has been laid many times, but only to look up again with a persistence that raises serious doubts as to its ghostly character, and there are not a few usually well informed men and newspapers who do not hesitate to express the opinion that it will prove more real than ghostly in the coming presidential contest.

According to the Washington correspondents, Colonel Roosevelt's pronouncements have had the effect of a bombshell exploded in the administration camp, though why it should have produced such an effect is not so apparent when it is remembered that the views expressed by the former president differ in no respect from the expressions frequently credited to him in the past.

Second—Supervision of great combinations that have power "fraught with potential menace," to see that they do not go wrong.

Third—Well considered legislation sanctioning combinations and showing them what they may and what they may not do, and how they may organize and finance themselves.

Colonel Roosevelt likewise attacks the Sherman act and says that it is vague and uncertain, and that it imposes upon administrative officials the duty of regulating business by law.

He is strongly opposed to the policy of prosecution of big combinations merely because they are big, and again takes occasion to defend the action of the Steel trust in its combination with the Tennessee Coal and Iron company.

In all of this the same Washington correspondents profess to see an attack on President Taft's "trust busting" policy and an invitation to the business interests of the country to support Colonel Roosevelt for the presidency.

The New York World, says editorially: "Mr. Roosevelt is palpably a candidate and his extraordinary political genius has set for itself the task of bringing about a coalition between the anti-Taft progressives in the west and the anti-Taft plutocrats in Wall Street. Of this coalition he expects to be the beneficiary. Mr. Roosevelt is not given to disinterested political effort.

"The country may as well face the fact that he is seeking a third term—not in the open manner of an avowed candidate but by the indirect process of making Taft's renomination impossible.

"That he should reach out for Wall Street's support for his ambition is in no way inconsistent with his record. He solicited Wall Street's support in 1898. His campaign fund came chiefly from Wall Street. Two of J. P. Morgan's partners assisted in the collection of campaign tribute and part of the insurance money was handled by one of them. Mr. Harriman was invited to the White House a few days before election and returned to New York to raise the $250,000 which, he boasted, turned 20,000 votes in New York city alone, making a difference of 100,000 votes in the general election result."

"As President he made one of Mr. Morgan's partners secretary of state and Mr. Morgan's son-in-law assistant secretary of the navy. At Mr. Morgan's request he licensed the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company by Mr. Morgan's Steel Trust, a transaction that he is still defending in the face of the government's suit. During the Roosevelt panic he turned the United States treasury over to the committee of financiers of which Mr. Morgan was the head. No other president ever denounced Wall Street so vehemently and no other president ever took such pains to make sure that the deed did not square with the word."

"Mr. Roosevelt would be the logical candidate for president in 1912. No other candidate representing Wall Street's present desires could command such support. No other candidate with the faintest chance of election would more fully merit the confidence of Big Business. No other candidate could be more thoroughly relied upon to help unscrupulous the

For a long time Colonel Roosevelt has been the pet aversion of the New York World. According to that paper, whatever he has said or done has been in the interest of Wall Street, or intended to fust himself upon the American people as a modern Caesar.

Colonel Bryan sees in the trust article a probable bid for the presidency but not necessarily so.

When Congressman Henry of Texas read the article, he at once exploded with a loud noise, as is his habit.

There is reason for the belief that influential republicans from all parts of the country are importuning Colonel Roosevelt to become a candidate. In order to save the party from probable defeat at the coming election, it is claimed that the defeat of President Taft is almost certain should he be nominated to succeed himself. It is not believed that LaFollette would make a winning candidate. Politicians seek the candidate most likely to lead them to victory.

It is pointed out that Mr. Taft cannot look to the republicans of the south for the support in the national convention usually accorded the president when he is a candidate to succeed himself. The Southern office holders, it is claimed, have become saturated with the belief that the president cannot be elected again and they want to see a man nominated who will be able to hold them in office.

The general distrust of the Taft candidacy is voiced in a somewhat extreme editorial in the current number of Collier's Weekly:

"President Taft's endorsement of Ross Cox's ticket is the final horror. To support it at all on the urgency and assurance of a Cox politician was terrible enough; but to support it against so fitting and courageous a candidate as Hunt—really, words fail, and we are driven to punctuation and italics.

What is the president coming to? After such an exhibition can he be even nominated? If there were an election tomorrow, would not Woodrow Wilson carry Ohio against him overwhelmingly? We have been pained with Mr. Taft. The Payne-Aldrich tariff, the Ballinger ineptitudes, the use of patronage against insurgents, the wool veto, the retention of Secretary Wilson and Solicitor McCabe, the turning of the postoffice department into a still more rigid political machine, the ruin of our relations with South America—in spite of blow after blow, we have clung to the hope that the president would improve sufficiently to have a general balance of usefulness to his country.

The record made by Colonel Roosevelt in the distribution of federal patronage in New Mexico, while he was president, and in the selection of his territorial advisors, was not a happy one. Should he become president again, possibly he would choose more wisely. The record of President Taft is little more commendable in that particular, and his policy when New Mexico was seeking statehood, did not endear him to the people.

Whoever may secure the support of the republicans of New Mexico will depend in a large measure upon whom they look to for their support. The party boss has had his day.

A story of pathos and of promise is packed in the brief report from Chicago that a service of school lunches at a cost of only a cent apiece has so far improved the condition of many pupils as to prove that their mental dullness was due mainly to a lack of food.

NAME DELEGATES TO CHICAGO.

Every city and town, every county and every commercial organization in the state is entitled to have representation in the national irrigation congress in Chicago, December 5-9.

Every city and county in this state is interested in the irrigation congress, for that organization is the greatest influence we have for the development of the arid west and our own great resources in irrigable lands.

It is important that New Mexico take not only an active and prominent part, but a dominant part in the deliberations of the congress.

The Bureau of Immigration, the New Mexico Advisory committee on the congress and Colonel W. S. Hopewell, one of the members of the national board of control, are making every effort to secure a large and representative delegation for this congress. They should have the hearty backing and co-operation of every community. The time is short and action should be had at once.

The Bureau of Immigration has sent out official blanks of the congress to every man and organization in New Mexico having the power to name delegates. These blanks should be used at once. Those having power to name delegates should take the time and trouble to find men who will be in Chicago during the congress, or who are willing to incur the comparatively small expense of attendance. If necessary the various Commercial Clubs and Boards of Trade should aid in bearing the expense of their representatives. New Mexico's delegation at the Chicago congress should be the largest from any western state. We have more to gain by much representation at this time than any other state. Let every community be represented in Chicago, see that your delegates are appointed at once and that men are appointed who will go.

China needs a Washington just now and should have a Jefferson in training. Quite opportunely, Mr. Pullitzer will provide for a statue of Jefferson by way of companion to that of Washington shown on Wall street that seems powerless for good.

SOME FACTS FROM CROP REPORT.

The corn crop in the United States last year was a trifle short, only two billion and seventy-five million bushels being produced, about three hundred and fifty million bushels less than in 1910.

Illinois led the procession with three hundred and sixty-five millions of bushels. New Mexico is the eleventh state from the tail end with 1,825,000 bushels, but even this comparatively insignificant amount is a gain of 300,000 over the showing of last year. It will thus be seen that New Mexico, if the present rate of development is continued, will within a few years rank well among the corn producing states of the union.

New Mexico's buckwheat crop this year was limited to the product of forty-eight acres, compelling us to depend as usual upon kafir corn.

Two thousand acres of New Mexico land were devoted to the growing of Irish potatoes and 160,000 bushels were produced. This was double last year's crop.

The New Mexico apple crop last year was about 85 per cent of the normal and pears did almost as well. As to the egg crop no figures are given save the price on November 1, which in New Mexico was 30¢ per dozen. It is not stated in just what part of New Mexico eggs could be obtained at this price. In Nevada the price of a dozen eggs was 41¢.

In Texas and Tennessee the chickens were willing to produce the same product for only 15¢.

In New Mexico, according to the government figures, a chicken, feathers and all, is worth 14¢. In Nevada the foundation for a pet pie will cost 19¢, while in Kansas or Nebraska the lucky ones may obtain their chicken for the insignificant sum of 8¢, or less than the cost of a ham sandwich in Albuquerque.

Butter in New Mexico is quoted at 35¢ per pound, though few householders have been able to obtain a desirable article at this figure. This, however, is the top figure, and in Tennessee a pound of butter may be obtained for 19¢. In Kansas the same necessary article costs 23¢.

Those who have no scruples against the use of pork will be interested to know that in New Mexico the price of hogs, live weight, was on October 15, 15¢ per hundredweight. In Kansas the price was 15¢, and in Arkansas, 15¢. Fortunate Arkansians.

Of course it does not necessarily follow that the women of California will favor the padding of election returns.

KNORMOUS INCREASE IN IMPORTS.

Reports to the department of agriculture show that the United States imported during the year ending June 30, 1910, $688,000,000 worth of farm and forest products, an increase of $49,000,000 over the previous year, and an exportation of $391,000,000 of the same products during the same year.

The value of all merchandise imported in 1910 was $1,557,000,000 an increase of $245,000,000 as compared with 1909, and an increase of $365,000,000 compared with 1908. Imports of farm products formed 44.2 per cent of total imports of all merchandise in 1909, 48.7 per cent in 1909, and 45.2 per cent in 1908. The value of farm products imported in 1910 was $78,000,000 more than the average for the same products for the five years, 1906 to 1910; but the per cent of farm products of total imports was 1.1 per cent less in 1910 than for the five years 1906 to 1910.

The value of imports of forest products in 1910 exceeded those of each previous year and amounted to $179,000,000, an increase over 1909 of $55,000,000, and an increase of $81,000,000 as compared with 1908. Of the increase in 1910 over 1909, the value of $39,000,000 was due to India rubber.

Farm products valued at $232,000,000, or more than one-third of the total farm products imported in 1910, came from Europe; $181,000,000 from North America; and $275,000,000 from the other four grand divisions.

The grand divisions showing important increases in imports of farm products in 1910 over the previous year were: North America, $29,000,000; Europe, $17,000,000; South America, $2,000,000; and Oceania, $9,000,000.

The value of forest products imported from South America in 1910 amounted to $55,000,000; North America and Europe each $54,000,000. Imports of forest products from Europe in 1910, compared with 1909, increased $22,000,000; South America, $15,000,000; and North America, $13,000,000.

The aggregate value of the six principal groups of farm products imported in 1910 was $469,000,000, as compared with $437,000,000 in 1909, and $353,000,000 in 1908. These six leading groups and their values in 1909 were: Packing-house products, $126,000,000; sugar and molasses, $108,000,000; coffee, $69,000,000; silk, $67,000,000; wool, $51,000,000; and vegetable fibers, chiefly cotton, sisal, manila and jute, $45,000,000. The values of other important imports were, in round numbers: Tobacco, $25,000,000; fruits, $24,000,000; alcoholic liquors and vegetable oils, each $23,000,000.

Shipments of farm products to the United States from its inland possessions and Alaska were valued at $88,000,000 for 1910, $71,000,000 for 1909, and $73,000,000 for 1908. Shipments of sugar, principally from Hawaii and Porto Rico, and vegetable fibers, chiefly Manila from the Philippine Islands, formed more than 92 per cent of the total shipments of farm products from all its non-contiguous possessions to the United States in 1910.

The sugar sent to the United States from these possessions was valued at $71,000,000; vegetable fibers, $11,000,000; fruits, $2,000,000; and tobacco, $1,000,000.

The exports of farm products were smaller than for any fiscal year since 1903. The average yearly exports of domestic farm products for the five-year period of 1906-10 were greater in value than for each preceding five-year period and amounted to $264,000,000, an increase over the preceding five-year average of $90,000,000. The percentage of domestic farm products of total domestic merchandise exports decreased from 80.4 per cent for the period of 1901-05 to 55.1 per cent for the period of 1906-10.

The trade of the United States with its non-contiguous possessions in 1910 exceeded that of any former year. The shipments of domestic farm products to these possessions was valued at more than $22,000,000; while the shipments in the opposite direction aggregated nearly $8,000,000. The shipments to and from the non-contiguous possessions consisted mainly of prepared food products, such as meats, grain and grain products, rice, and sugar; and showed an increase in 1910 compared with 1909. The shipments of domestic farm products from the United States to its non-contiguous possessions in 1910 formed 30.6 per cent of the total outward shipments of all domestic merchandise to them; while the farm products received from the possessions was $1.3 per cent of total inward shipments of all merchandise from them. As a destination for domestic forest products, Hawaii held first place in 1909 and 1910, with an increase of $307,000 in 1910 as compared with 1909, and of $495,000 compared with 1908. Shipments of domestic forest products to the non-contiguous possessions for 1910 consisted chiefly of lumber, most of which was shipped to Hawaii.

The old Diaz officers seem determined to give the Madero government trouble and the new president is rigidly carrying out those policies which he denounced as cruel and tyrannical when he was ousted.

THE WIDOWS OF SANTA MONICA.

Pity the "practical politician" of California. His plight is one to move the stoniest heart. Since the right to suffrage has been granted to the women of the state, he has been up in the air and he doesn't know where he is going to alight.

Bravely he has been trying to keep up his courage by arguing that practically all the women who vote will be guided by the advice of their husbands, brothers or fathers. Knowing where these men stand on questions of politics and government, he could, if this were true, know where and how campaign work should be done, and he would have as satisfactory a basis as it is possible to get for the forecasting of results.

But he isn't as sure the women will vote as their "men folks" advise as he pretends to be. And on top of this comes dire news from Santa Monica. It has been discovered by politicians and women's clubs that the women of this city hold the balance of power at the polls. By actual count there has been found to be more than two hundred of them. They are not of the grass variety, either. They are mostly women who went to California with sick husbands in a vain effort to cheat death. There are no husbands to tell them how to vote and their male relatives are far away.

Anxiety sits upon the brows of the candidates and their campaign workers. They are vainly trying to figure out whether or not Santa Monica will decide that its politicians shall work for their living and that expired street car transfers shall be accepted as legal tender in all the dry goods stores. To them has come a new and distressing interest in Sam Weller's advice: "Beware of voters."

Wu Ting Fang will graduate from doctoring to professorship, should the recent recognize common sense when it stares him in the face.

Joaquin Miller does not put in a poem his indignant protest against King's "female of the species," but he says, quite sufficiently, "I am not a suffragist, but I say God bless the women." So say we—all of us.

Naturally a life of unusual activity doubles the duties of the kidneys and in time the strain tells. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought new strength to thousands of bad backs and quick relief to weakened kidneys. Let them do the same for you.

Charles O'Malley, 713 Main Ave., East Las Vegas, N. M., says: "In 1907 I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and at this time, I can corroborate the statement I then gave in their praise and say that I have no further need of a kidney medicine, as the cure they effected has been permanent."

NEW MEXICO GOING TO MAKE BIG NOISE AT CHICAGO

COMMERCIAL BODIES URGED TO GET BUSY

Success of Special Train Depends On Prompt Action By People Generally; Must Make Reservations By Saturday.

"I believe New Mexico is going to make a noise at the national irrigation congress in Chicago next month which will be heard all over the country," said Colonel W. S. Hopewell yesterday. Colonel Hopewell, who is a member of the national board of control of the congress, has just returned from his ranch in Sierra county to aid the Bureau of Immigration in its effort to secure a large representation from the new state at the congress. He will proceed to Chicago within a few days to make arrangements for the coming of the New Mexico delegation.

"Up in this time," said Colonel Hopewell, "we have secured the names of about fifty persons who have signified their intention of joining the proposed New State Special train, which will run from New Mexico to the congress, if a sufficient number of passengers can be secured. One hundred passengers are necessary and if this train is going to run, that number must have signed up by Saturday of this week. Every one intending to go to the congress or to Chicago should send in their names to the Bureau of Immigration at once. It is to be hoped that the number required can be had, for right now, when New Mexico is just coming into the union, this big train, tracking across the country, with banners flying and a loyal bunch of boosters on board, will attract the attention of the whole nation and will give us an advertisement of the utmost benefit. The presence of a large delegation in Chicago will in itself be an advertisement which cannot be overestimated in importance to the state. The congress is of great importance to New Mexico. It has been and will continue to be the strongest influence for the reclamation of arid lands. We have more than three and a half million acres of irrigable lands here waiting for development. There is no place and no body of men where and with whom more can be accomplished within the time for the development of these lands, than in the national irrigation congress and the men who compose it. This congress includes in its membership every active influence for reclamation of arid lands in the United States; and for that matter in the civilized world. All the money looking to the development of western lands for investment, watches the irrigation congress closely. The claims of every state represented at that congress are closely investigated by capital. The proceedings of the congress are closely followed by home-seekers and those desiring to purchase irrigated land. It is the best advertising medium for irrigated land and land waiting development that we have; for it commands the attention and support of every man at all interested in irrigation; while the authorities of the country on irrigation are its leaders. New Mexico needs the influence of this congress more now than ever before. We need representation there that will command national attention for our irrigation resources."

"There is another important matter in this connection which needs immediate attention. The mayors of all incorporated towns, boards of county commissioners, commercial clubs, boards of trade, chambers of commerce, etc., all have the right to appoint delegates to this congress. The Bureau of Immigration has sent out blanks to all of these, upon which official appointments may be made which will be recognized at Chicago. I am sorry to say that Mr. Henning, secretary of the Bureau, advises me that thus far only a small number of those having the power to name delegates have exercised it. This matter should not be delayed any longer. Every one having the appointing power should use it at once. And if every one having it will make an especial effort to name men who will go or who will be in Chicago during the congress, this state will have a delegation that will dominate the congress. Our representation at Pueblo last year was large and its influence upon the congress was marked. It should be even more marked in Chicago; for there we are in the immigration and investment center of the west; there we are reaching the people and the financial interests we most need. The importance of adequate representation not only from our irrigated districts, but from all sections of the state, cannot be overestimated."

"New Mexico headquarters will be maintained at the La Salle hotel, where the headquarters of the congress have been for the past year; and every New Mexican in Chicago between December 5 and 9, whether he accompanies the main delegation or not, is urged to report at in the headquarters and join with us in the proceedings of the congress."

"The rules which have been made by the railroads on account of this congress are very attractive, and the trip at this season will prove a most

FARMINGTON CUT OFF FROM RAILROAD

Six Weeks Since Train Passed Over Rio Grande Branch Into San Juan County; Floods the Cause.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
Aztec, N. M., Nov. 20.—There passed away at Aztec on November 5, 1911, a pioneer Missouri woman, Amanda M. Riley, aged 84 years. Her maiden name was Beall and she was married in Missouri to Rev. J. G. Joplin, after whom the city of Joplin, Mo., is named. Rev. Mr. Joplin passed on about two years after their marriage, and in 1869 Mrs. Joplin married Rev. Luther Riley. Her second husband was a chaplain in the confederate army and was killed at the battle of Wilson Creek in 1861. A daughter was born of this second union, who is now Mrs. J. S. Hartman, of this city.

Farmington Branch Still Tied Up.

After forty-three days' absence the Red Apple flyer on the Rio Grande Farmington branch got as far as Aztec, last Wednesday, but was unable to reach Farmington on account of another bridge that is yet dangerous. Connection between Durango and Alamosa, Colo., has been re-established and trains are operating on regular schedule as before the disastrous floods. No one is suffering as a result of the floods and business has resumed its normal state. Probably 100 cars of fine apples will be shipped from San Juan county this fall yet, although it is getting a little late for transportation in ordinary cars over the high mountain ranges.

White Man Weds Navajo Maid.

A marriage between a white man and a Navajo girl occurred at the Shiprock agency this week. Superintendent Shelton, of the agency, has induced the educated Navajo to be married according to the white man's law, and the results are even better than the superintendent had hoped. Walter Jones and Bah-be-ka-de-no-be are the names to whom County Clerk Elben issued the license.

Socialist Vote Shows Gain.

One of the features of the recent election was the gain in the socialist vote in the county. Three years ago Metcalf, socialist candidate for congress, received 60 votes, while this year, Rivers for governor, received 84.

The county tickets of both republican and democratic parties were separated worse than ever before in an election in San Juan county, and mixed results might have been expected. There were wide margins between republican winners and their democratic opponents. W. H. Christian, progressive republican, overcame the normal democratic majority for the state ticket, outside of governor, of 125 and beat Hartman, his democratic opponent, by 32 votes. The high man on the democratic county ticket was county superintendent of schools, with 216 majority. From this the democratic majorities ran down to 20. The republicans elected probate judge and surveyor, in addition to representative.

Cold Weather in San Juan.

Unusually cold weather for this time of year has been the rule in this section, and fruit growers who have had apples stored in barns and sheds have been obliged to heat the buildings. San Juan county was not represented at the Denver apple show on the 14th, as it was impossible to transport the apples by wagon to rail connections.

A Mail Carrier's Load.

Seems heavier when he has a weak back and kidney trouble. Fred Duerr, mail carrier at Atchison, Kan., says: "I have been bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and had a severe pain across my back. Whenever I carried a heavy load of mail, my kidney trouble increased. Some time ago, I started taking Foley Kidney Pills and since taking them I have gotten entirely rid of all my kidney trouble and am as sound now as ever." J. H. O'Reilly.

Force of Habit.

"For heaven's sake," he exclaimed, when he had tried on his new suit, "why have you put such enormous pockets in my coat and trousers?" "Oh," the tailor confessed, "I was just taking your part for that. It was a mistake. You see I have been doing business in a town where the saloons were all closed on Sundays."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Backache, Headache, Nervousness and rheumatism, both in men and women, mean kidney trouble. Do not allow it to progress beyond the reach of medicine but stop it promptly with Foley Kidney Pills. They regulate the action of the urinary organs. Tonic in action, quick in results." H. O'Reilly.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Wall Street.

New York, Nov. 21.—A decided change was apparent today in the securities market which shook off the weakening tendency of the last two days of trading. Both the railroad and industrial stocks advanced. Speculative sentiment was affected by several occurrences and bull operators displayed more confidence.

The opening was higher with a good demand for the representative stocks. The recently revived interest in the copper stocks was heightened today by reports of better business. Amalgamated Copper rose three points to 54, and Anaconda, Utah Copper and American Smelting made substantial gains. In the London market the copper metal advanced to the highest price since last March.

The steel stocks also were strong. The speculative position of United States Steel was strengthened by the expectation that the Stanley investigation would be terminated shortly. There were reports that prices of some steel products might soon be advanced.

Small consignments of gold were forwarded to Canada and the Pacific coast making the total out-go from New York $11,700,000 for this month to date. Closing stocks:

Chicago Board of Trade.	Chicago, Nov. 21.—Bright weather today favored the actual beginning of the Argentine harvest and helped give the price of wheat in Chicago a setback. The close was 1-4 to 5-8 under last night. Corn showed a net advance of 1-8 to 1-4 and oats 1-8 to 1-8 1-4 decline. The end of the day left hog products 7-12c off to a rise of 1-2c.

Chicago Board of Trade.	Besides the suspicious crop conditions prevailing in Argentina which the traders had to face denials that the alleged wide spread damage from last week's storms in that country had proved to be important. Then too northwest receipts were large and big stocks were still on hand in local elevators. Earlier in the session the news had been more encouraging to the bull side. The strongest influence in that direction was the fact that the world's available supply exhibited a substantial decrease, making the total now 5,000,000 bushels less than at this time last year. The market closed steady at a materially lower level. Between the opening and the close May fluctuated from $100 1-4 to $101 1-4, with the finish $100 1-2, a net loss of 1-2 cent.

Chicago Board of Trade.	In the corn crowd there were some little indications of a rising demand. May ranged from 64 1-2 to 64 7-8, closing steady 1-8 1-4 up at 64 3-4 1-8. Cash grades were in more liberal supply. No 2 yellow was quoted at 78 1/2 1-2 for old.

Chicago Board of Trade.	Oats suffered from continuous trickling sales by long. Upper and lower levels touched by the May option were 50 1/2 1-8 and 49 3-4 1-8, with the close 49 7-8, a net loss of 1-8c.

Chicago Board of Trade.	Hog products all acted heavy. Tonight the blackboards showed profit unchanged to 7 1-2 cents down and the rest of the list within a limit of 1-2 to 2-4 cents either way from the fixtures of 24 hours before.

DECEMBER OPENS WITH TRAVELING SALESMAN

Manager Stortz Announces a Strong List of Attractions For Coming Month at Elks' Theater.

Manager Stortz has secured a strong list of attractions for the Elks' theater this season and the year promises to be one of the most successful in the history of the popular house. December especially will be a red letter month for theater-goers of Albuquerque.

The first attraction, which comes on Saturday, December 2, is the "Traveling Salesman" heralded by critics of the big eastern cities as the comedy success of the century. As a laugh provoker the show is said to be without a rival this season and the mere announcement of its coming should be sufficient to pack the theater.

The second act scene represents the simple room in a hotel, and as Bob Blake is supposed to be a clerk and suit drummer, the managers of the company, in view of the fact that the ladies are always interested in the latest styles of gowns, have taken advantage of the opportunity to display the latest creations of the dressmaker's art for the delectation of theater-goers. One gown displayed never fails to evoke exclamations of admiration from the ladies who see it. The vocabulary of a layman to describe this exquisite creation is inadequate, but it is a safe assertion to make that not one woman in a thousand would fail to see all the beauty in lines and texture. This gown is a dressmaker's sample, seized by the United States customs inspectors as it was being smuggled into this country, and it was purchased at the auctioneer's sale of smuggled goods held recently in New York.

GRACE VON STUDDIFORD IN PARADISE OF MAHOMET

The second attraction of the month comes on the 7th, the daily songbird, Grace Von Studdiford in "The Paradise of Mahomet." Patrons of the Elks theater will remember the performance here a few years ago of Miss Von Studdiford in the "Red Feather" and many there are who in that show she is one of the most melodious and dashing sopranos on the American stage today. In her present vehicle, "The Paradise of Mahomet" it is said that she is more than up to her reputation as a leading prima donna. "The Paradise of Mahomet" contains some of the most charming music that has been heard in recent years. The mere mention of the name of the composer, French composer, Robert Fluct, who is the author of the piece, is a guarantee of this. The entrance scene is in its highest and choicest vein. The numbers are all so rich in melody that it would be almost impossible to say which of them is the best. "There's Something About You Dear That Appeals to Me" is the song that possibly enjoys the greatest popularity with the audience, although there are several others that Albuquerque music lovers may like better.

Among the attractions booked for later in the month are "Red Rose" on December 9, "Bright Eyes" on the 14th, and "The Lion and The

CHURCH MEETINGS CONTINUE TO DRAW WELL

At the Christian church Rev. Mark Wayne Williams preached from the subject "What Will You Do?" to a large and interested audience. Tonight his subject will be "Who Heals All Thy Diseases."

The services at the three other churches last night were excellent, with good attendance and inspiring addresses. Rev. B. Z. McCullough occupied the pulpit at the Presbyterian church, Rev. Clyde Campbell at the Highland (Southern) Methodist, and Rev. R. B. Tolbert at the Congregational church.

TWO DEUCE CLUB HOLDS ANOTHER SESSION

The "Two Deuce Club" got busy last night and held another enthusiastic meeting of the newly organized young men's organization. Arrangements for permanent club rooms was taken up at the meeting and a proposition from Joe Barnett to allow the club the use of two rooms over the Crystal Theater until the first of the year was unanimously accepted. This plan, however, will come into the possession of P. F. McCanna after the first of the year but he has promised the club the use of the rooms at a reasonable rent.

It was decided last night to meet every Sunday afternoon, and to limit the membership of the organization to forty. The next meeting will be held in the new club rooms on Sunday afternoon.

NEGRO ATTEMPTS TO ASSAULT TWO WOMEN

Catesville, Pa., Nov. 21.—Two white women were the intended victims of attacks near Catesville today. It is believed by the same negro. Possess of citizens scoured the country until dark tonight, but no trace of the black was found.

In the first instance Mrs. James Campbell, wife of a mill worker, while crossing a hill, was surprised by a negro who assaulted her violently. She fought back, but was fast losing her strength when a carriage came into view. Then the negro ran into the nearby woods.

A short time later as Mrs. Frank Russell was driving on the same road a negro jumped out from the roadside, brandished a revolver and attempted to catch her horse by the bridle.

Mrs. Russell struck the animal with the whip, at the same time shaking the negro off, and made her escape.
