MRS. PATTERSON RECITES STORY OF TERRIBLE BESTIALITY

Woman on Trial for Murder Bares Dual Life Which Finally Culminated in Tragic Shooting of Her Husband.

HELPLESS PAWN IN HANDS OF HUMAN BRUTE

Driven to Extort Money From Chicago Millionaire by Sacrificing Virtue of Threats of Death if She Refused.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Denver, Nov. 23.—At 3:45 o'clock this afternoon Gertrude Gibson Patterson, charged with the murder of her husband, Charles A. Patterson, took the stand in her own defense and commenced the recital of her married life by which her counsel hopes to free her. An hour later the defense had passed its most critical stage. The expected objection of the state to the introduction of her story had been made, the point had been argued and the court had ruled favorably upon its admission. When Mrs.
Patterson resumed her story before the jury tomorrow morning she practically will be free from interruption by the prosecution.
Standing erect upon the platform she holds the witness chair—a trim, attractive little figure in her neat blue tailored suit—Mrs. Patterson stepped quietly into her seat and in a low, but distinct tone, began the story upon which rests practically the entire structure of the defense.
She told of her marriage to Patterson at Carmel-by-the-Sea, Cal., in September, 1905, after a three months' acquaintance, and of their return to Chicago soon after. There she said they furnished an apartment at a cost of $300, which she paid. Here they lived happily for a month.
In November, she declared, Patterson began to make incessant demands for money, which she was unable to give him.
"One day he said to me," she told the jury, leaning forward in her chair, "I know how to fix it so neither of us will have to work. You go down to 'George's' place. An attractive girl like you can get lots of money. I don't care what you do, so long as I am in on it."
"Where is 'George's' place?" her attorney asked.
"I don't know," replied the witness.
Attorney O. N. Hilton, Mrs. Patterson's counsel, had told the jury in his opening statement that "George's Place" was a notorious resort on the liver in Chicago.
"Some time afterward," Mrs. Patterson went on, under the guidance of her attorney, "Mr. Patterson came to me and asked me to make a proposition to Emil W. Strauss of whose friendship for me he knew. He said, 'You tell Strauss to rent an apartment and live with you as his wife and have me live under the same roof and enjoy the same privileges.' I ordered him from the flat and he gave me my first beating. He knocked me down with his fist and choked me and pummelled me while I was on the floor. I was in bed for two days." Then Mrs. Patterson told the jury how she had met Strauss casually on the street and had told him of the unhappiness of her married life.
"He said he pitied me," Mrs. Patterson continued, "and that he was going to Europe and wished he could take me with him. I told Mr. Patterson and he said, 'see Strauss and get some money. Tell him he can take you to Europe with him if he gives me $1,500.' And when I refused he flew at me and called me vile names."
"Tell the jury just what he said," Mrs. Patterson said. Attorney Hilton advised her, but she sat silent and looked appealingly at her counsel.
"Did he call you a bad woman?" Mr. Hilton asked.
"It was a vile name," replied the witness.
In this encounter with her husband, Mrs. Patterson said he tried to throw her in a grate fire that was burning in the room. He beat her, she said, and then left the house, coming in drunk at 2 o'clock in the morning.
After this experience Mrs. Patterson continued, she again saw Strauss and told him what had happened, and he agreed to give Patterson the $1,500 and take her to Europe with him, provided Patterson gave him a written statement freeing him of blame in the matter.
"I telephoned my husband from the hotel at which I was luncheoning with Mr. Strauss," Mrs. Patterson continued, "and arranged to meet him at the junk where I gave him the $1,500, which he deposited to his credit." When she asked Patterson for the statement that Strauss wanted she said he called Strauss a name and refused to give it to her.
Then Mrs. Patterson described how Mr. Patterson had taken her to the train when she was to leave for her trip abroad with Strauss, having first admonished her, she said, to get all the money she could, and having made, her promise to travel under her own name, "Mrs. C. A. Patterson." She met Strauss on board the steamer in New York, she told the jury, and they went to Europe together.

At Paris she said, she found a letter from her husband.
"I have come to the conclusion that you don't intend to come back to me," she said the letter read, "and if you don't return at once, I'll follow you and kill you."

"I showed the letter to Mr.
Strauss," said Mrs. Patterson, "and he gave me $5,000 and sent me back on the next steamer. I have never seen him since."

On her return to Chicago, she said, Patterson met her at the train. They had no more than set foot in their home than he asked her how much money she had brought back and when she told him she had brought none back and asked him what he had done with the $1,500, he flew into a rage, and she said, administered a severe beating from the effects of which she was confined to her bed for three days.

Then Mrs. Patterson went on to tell of quarrels and beatings that arose from her refusal to sell her electric automobile and give the money to Patterson. To two of these she said, there was a witness, a Mrs. Campbell, who conducted a cleaning and dyeing establishment at 562 Forty-third street in Chicago, near the Patterson home. Mrs. Campbell, it is said, is here to testify in Mrs. Patterson's behalf.

At various places in Mrs. Patterson's testimony today her counsel interrupted to be marked as evidence in the case Patterson's bank book and several letters written by Patterson to his wife. These, it was declared, will be used to corroborate much of her testimony.

The day was one of surprises. After outlining the story Mrs. Patterson was to tell on the stand, in which her attorney said "the brutality and unspeakable bestiality of Patterson" would be shown the jury, Mrs. Patterson's counsel, in his opening statement declared that the defense would show that Mrs. Patterson had fired the shots that killed her husband after he had struck her twice and knocked her down and kicked her as she fell, and that she had shot while she was on her knees struggling to get to her feet. This, he declared, would be shown by an eye-witness to the entire affair. His statement created a decided sensation, as the only eye witness to the affair heretofore known is A. B. Shugart, a carpenter, who testified for the state. According to Shugart his attention was attracted by two pistol shots and he looked up and saw some 200 feet away a woman, revolver in hand, standing over a man on his hands and knees before her. He shouted to her, he said, and the woman fired once again. The man at her feet lurched forward on his face and stiffened out, Shugart said.

The state rested its case early this afternoon.
Mrs. Patterson was on the stand when court adjourned late this afternoon until tomorrow.

CHINKS SMUGGLED BEATTE WILL DIE INTO COUNTRY FROM CANADA BEFORE SUN IS HOUR HIGH THIS MORNING

Discovery of Plot Results in Arrests

Single-Handed Federal Special Agent Ferrets Out Wholesale Violation of Immigration Laws By Organized Gang.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]

Chicago, Nov. 23.—One of the largest Chinese smuggling plots unearthed by the federal officials in years, was revealed today when "Crappy" Nelson was arraigned before United States Commissioner Foote, charged with bringing Chinamen into this country from Canada. Twenty men, charged with being implicated in the plot, are under arrest in Chicago, New York and Detroit, where the band made its headquarters, according to a government agent, who has been working on the case.

Those under arrest in Chicago are:
"Crappy" Nelson, Lorne Stoneberg, Albert Arthur, alias Blamie Quillette, Gordon Ferriss, Moy Sing, wealthy Chinese merchant; Moy Chung Hau and Moy Foo.

Those under arrest in New York are:
Wollie Yom, Jock Nom, Nig On, Nig Back Sun, Ning Hong Jon, Moy Sai Tightie, wealthy Chinese merchants; Doss Shin, Ling Hau Zeung, Nink Chung Lam, Long Kwong Fook, Ming Ching Quong and Ning Jung.

Frank Walsh is under arrest in Detroit.

Special Agent Danneberg, who made the arrests, was assisted in trailing the alleged smugglers by his wife, a bride of a few months. He says the band brought most of the Chinese to this country by way of Windsor and Toronto, Canada, by breaking the government's seal on freight cars a few miles from the border, by putting the men in the cars and then sealing the doors in such a manner that detection was avoided.

According to Special Agent Danne-berg, members of the gang received $1,500 for delivering a Chinaman from China to either Chicago or New York, and that $300 was the amount charged for bringing a Chinaman from Canada to this country.

The Chinamen, it is said, arrived at Vancouver, B. C., where they were put to work until they had earned their passage.

Later the immigrants were taken to either Windsor or Toronto by representatives of the alleged smugglers and brought to this country in freight cars.

According to Danneberg, Foris and Nelson locked two Chinamen in a freight car seven miles outside of Windsor, Canada, which was shipped to Gibson, Ind.

Special Agent Danneberg followed the car to its destination where he opened the car and brought the two Chinamen to Chicago. He delivered the immigrants to Moy Sing in South Clark street, where he found a room with accommodations for one hundred lodgers in the rear of a store.
Danneberg obtained a receipt for the two men and then arrested Moy Sing and the immigrants.

October 14, according to Special Agent Danneberg, five Chinamen were locked in a freight car at Toronto by Stoneberg and Quillette, who took the ferry at Sarnia to Port Huron, where they saw the car pass the customs officers. The destination of the car was South Bend, Ind., where they were met by agents of the alleged smugglers. One of the men was taken to Chicago and four to New York, according to information obtained by Danneberg. The men are said to have been delivered to Ling Wong Fook and Ning Jung at 15 and 17 Mott street, while one was delivered to Moy Sam Tightie at 12, Mott street. The fourth man was taken to Doss Shin at 44 Mott street.

A fight followed a raid made by Special Agent Danneberg on the premises at 44 Mott street and after a number of arrests had been made the federal officer says he was offered a bribe of $750 to release his prisoners.
Quillette and Stoneberg are being held under bonds of $10,000. Other arrests are expected soon.

Turks Manage To Hold Their Own

Paris, Nov. 23.—That the town of Tripoli is virtually besieged by Turks, and that Horns is in no better situation, is the opinion of the correspondent of the Temps, who has succeeded in joining the Ottoman forces near Zouaghar. He telegraphs regarding the Turkish side of the war under date of November 12, and says:

"It is certain that after a month and a half's war, after large expenditures and serious losses, the Italians are no further advanced than on the day following their disembarkation.
If the Turkish forces are inferior in numbers they make up in confidence what they lack in numbers."

"I expected to find disorder and discouragement. On the contrary, everywhere I met order, discipline and contentment."

"Patient and ready for everything, the Turkish soldier is suffering almost without complaint. If he suffers he knows it is for the empire of Islam, while the Arab knows that if he dies Paradise with Mohammed will be his."

ORGANIZED LABOR WILL RAISE BIG FUND

Delegates Attending Convention of American Federation at Atlanta Vote to Swell Mc-Namara Defense Money.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Atlanta, Nov. 23.—By a vote of 196 to 7, the convention of the American Federation of Labor late today requested all salaried officers of the federation and affiliated unions to give one week's pay to the McNamara defense fund. President Gompers estimates about $50,000 will thus be added to the fund, now reported to be $240,000.

Another action aimed to help the McNamaras was the adoption of a resolution framed by President Gompers himself endorsing the candidacy of Job Harriman, the socialist candidate for mayor of Los Angeles, Cal., and calling upon wage workers all over the country to give such moral and financial support to Harriman's campaign as lays within their power.

Leaders in the convention headed off the proposition to have the body make a direct appropriation of $50,- 000 to the McNamara fund. A sum greater than that by $10,000 will be raised by the voluntary subscription of labor officials if all respond to the appeal. Several speeches denunciating the prosecution of the Mc-Namaras were made during the day.
One Los Angeles delegate making the statement that $5,000,000 would be spent if necessary to secure their conviction.

News of Justice Wright's decision in Washington today reached the convention, as resolutions characterizing the Gompers-Mitchell-Morrison contempt proceedings as a "persecution" were being read.

Mr. Gompers then explained the status of the case to the delegates and attacked Justice Wright, asserting he would not render a "just and impartial decision" in any organized labor case.

Vice President John Mitchell, one of the defendants, told the convention he was opposed to the federation spending any more money defending him in this case.

"If the vindictiveness of Justice Wright cannot be escaped," he said, I want to serve my sentence and get it over with."

In spite of the declaration the convention voted to continue the defense of the three leaders. Practically all of Gompers' recommendations in his annual report were endorsed.

The convention refused to adopt a resolution proposed by the postal clerks, opposing one-cent letter postage.

WOMEN FIND THEY HAVE SAME MAN FOR HUSBAND

Los Angeles, Nov. 23.—Accused of having three known wives, a handkerchief with which Mary Chamberlain rubbed some of the tar from her body, and later dropped in the road near where she was attacked; a man's handkerchief, also daubed with
the mixture, found at the scene of the crime, and the can of paint itself. The handkerchiefs were passed among the jurors and each one scrutinized the articles carefully.
They also inspected the paint can, which stood on a table in front of the jury box.

Shortly after retiring for the evening session, the jury returned to the court room and asked that the testimony of Chester Anderson and E. G.
Clark be read again. Their request was complied with.

It was generally believed that there existed a possibility that the twelve men doubted if the tar mixture was really used on the young school teacher. It was a roof paint, but very thick and contained a large amount of tar.

The state failed to prove by direct evidence that the tar came from the Clark mill. The can was found in the buggy in which the men rode from the scene of the tarring, it is said, and Everett Clark admitted on the stand that he had similar paint in his mill.

The suggestion was made today that the jury might have doubted the statement that the stains on the handkerchief was made by the same kind of paint as that in the can in which event the episode would be useful.

E. B. Dillon was chosen foreman of the jury. He is a wealthy farmer with a broad, classical education.
Besides speaking three languages, he has printed a book in Gaelic.

The penalty for assault and battery with which every defendant in a fine the "tar" case is charged, is a fine of from $1 to $500 or a sentence to from one day to one year in the county jail. Both penalties cannot be inflicted in a single case. Under conditions here the jail being small, it would be practically impossible to accommodate all the "tar party" prisoners, should they be sentenced to jail.

No verdict had been reached at midnight by the jury that is considering the tar party case and the outlook is for an all night session.

Shortly before midnight Judge Grover called the jury to the court room and asked if any progress were being made.

"We are making headway, but there is no immediate prospect of a verdict," replied Foreman Dillon.

The judge then re-considered his determination to send the jury to the hotel at midnight and ordered the bailliff to give the jury a recess and then return them to their room.

"I intend to keep them out the rest of the night if necessary," said Judge Grover.

UNDERWOOD DOES NOT BELIEVE IN RADICALISM

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 23.—In defense of the present representative government of this country Representative Oscar W. Underwood, democratic leader of the house, spoke tonight at a dinner given in his honor by the Birmingham chamber of commerce.

"It is proposed by some," said Mr.
Underwood, "that we in part abandon the representative government enacted by our revolutionary fathers and adopt a system that in the end would establish a direct democracy, when the ultimate power to make laws would be placed directly in the hands of all the people and the independent judiciary, intended to protect the constitution guarantees of individual liberty would become subservient to the will of the majority through political compulsion."

Mr. Underwood declared there was far less danger of enacting hasty, ill-considered legislation under the present than under the proposed initiative and referendum.

LOOKS LIKE HUNG JURY IN TAR PARTY CASE

Fair Name of Kansas May Be Further Blackened By Mistrial in Case Against Assailants of School Teacher.

Lincoln, Kan., Nov. 23.—

For more than six hours today the jury in the "tar party" case considered the testimony, but when the regular adjournment of the day session was taken at 6 o'clock no verdict had been reached. A recess of one hour and a half was ordered and at 7:30 a night session began.

As the hours rolled by this afternoon and no verdict was reached, the opinion that a "hung" jury would result, which has been freely ventured ever since the trial began, grew stronger. The defense and the state admit that the cases against the three men are not equally strong and that conditions for long discussion are favorable.

Once during the afternoon the jury asked to be permitted to examine the exhibits in the case, a handker-
scrutinized the articles carefully.
They also inspected the paint

OUR ADVICE TO WOMEN.

Many women come to us and say, "I feel so played out, I don't know what to do, I have no appetite, am pale, sleep badly and feel nervous and wretched all the time."

It is very pleasant for us to be able to say, "We know just what you need—Vinal, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy—that is the finest tonic and strength renewer we have ever sold. It restored Miss Elizabeth Crummett, a trained nurse who lives in Boston, to health when she was in a critical condition and now she advises her patients to use it. Vinal will put you on your feet again, restore your strength and put color in your cheeks. You won't know you have any 'nerves' after taking a bottle of Vinal. Try it and if it does not do all we say we'll give back your money. But you won't want your money for Vinal will make you well."

LYCEUM COURSE FOR ALBUQUERQUE ASSURED

Arrangements Made for the Appearance Here of a Series of First-Class Attractions Under Ridpath Management.

Through the efforts of Rev. Raymond B. Tolbert of the Congregational church, arrangements have been completed here for a first class Lyceum course of lectures and other attractions of a class superior to any that have been heretofore brought to Albuquerque.

Among the attractions are the famous Whitney Brothers quartette, Leonard, the Man of Mystery, the Le Brun Grand Opera Quartette, these to be followed by lectures by Governor Hoch of Kansas, and Judge Ben B. Lindsey of the Denver juvenile court who enjoys almost a world-wide reputation as an authority on the treatment of delinquent children.

The first attraction of the course will be the appearance at Elks' theater on December 15, of the Whitney Brothers quartette. An eastern circuit has said of the Whitney brothers: "It is rare to find in one family four gifted brothers; rarer to find four possessing the same gift; rarer yet to find four brothers with voices so attuned that they can assume the several parts in a quartette; rarer of all to find four whose esprit de corps, close sympathy and magnificent team work enable them to give a program of such beauty and harmony, symmetry, balance and high appeal as that of the Whitney brothers."

The second number of the series is the famous Laurant, the "Man of Mystery," a magician, whose entertainments are said to be the most novel, marvelous and attractive of its character now before the American public.

Laurant comes to the Elks' theater on February 4.

The Le Brun grand opera quartette is scheduled for February 12, and Governor Hoch will deliver his lecture on March 15. The date of Judge Lindsey's appearance has yet to be arranged, but is probable that it will be set for some time in April.

The advance sale of tickets has already assured the success of the entire course, some three hundred season tickets having been sold. Tickets for the entire five numbers of the course may be obtained for $2.50, and intending purchasers will do well to see Rev. Mr. Tolbert without delay, or call him up at his residence, phone 1225. At the present rates it is believed that the entire house will be sold out long before the date for the initial number of the course, December 15.

"THE TRAVELING SALESMAN."

"The Traveling Salesman," James Forbes' favorite comedy, comes to the Elks' theater on Saturday, December 5. Mr. Forbes, as a creator of public expressions, sprang into prominence by reason of "The Chorus Lady," but he has more than duplicated his first success with "The Traveling Salesman." The play is a humorous exposition of the life of a modern drummer, a character whom every man, woman and child in this country seems familiar. A special company of actors of proved ability has been engaged to interpret the various characters. The "drummer," Bob Blake, will be played here by Don MacMillan, an actor of much prominence in comedy roles, and the opposite part, Beth Elliott, is in the hands of Dorothy Gray.

NEW SANITARIUM DIVORCES GRANTED FOR WOMEN ASSURED TWO COUPLES YESTERDAY

Public Responds Generously to Appeals for Assistance; Benefit Entertainment Next Wednesday Evening.

The lists of patronesses and general interest in the St. Anthony cottage sanitarium is growing and the sale of tickets for the series of entertainments for benefit of the institution has been large. There are three entertainments and season tickets are being sold.

The proposed sanitarium to be conducted by Dr. Ada Chevallier, and a visiting staff of physicians, comprising practically every member of the entire local medical fraternity, is to be solely for women who are not tubercular patients. As there is no institution devoted entirely to women in the state, the undertaking is meeting with interest and assistance from every side. Many prominent people, including Mrs. Taft, Lady Somerset and others have made liberal donations and the local patronage is sufficiently prominent to guarantee the success of the enterprise. Mrs. Mabel Stevens Himes, well known in musical and social circles here, has charge of the benefit entertainments, the first of which will be a concert in Odd Fellows' hall next Wednesday evening, November 29, at 8:30 o'clock. This and the entertainment to follow in December and January merit the liberal patronage of the public.

The program for the initial concert is as follows:

1. Allegro from G Minor, Sonata for violin and piano. Grieg
2. (a) "The Valley of Laughter. Sanderson
- (b) Elegy. Massenet
3. R. V. Winchester with violin obligato by Mrs. Ralph Henderson.
4. Thapsodie, No. 12. Liszt
5. Creole Love Song. Dudley Buck
6. Romance. Ambrosio
7. Intermission. Bruno Dieckman.
8. "Fly, Singing Bird, Fly. Women's chorus: Violins, Mrs. Henderson and Mr. Dieckman.
9. "One Fine Day," from Mme. Butterfly. Puccini 10. Large from Concerto for two violins and piano. Mrs. Henderson, Mr. Dieckman and Mrs. Himes.
11. "As in a Rose Jar. Cadman 12. Daffodils. Woman's Chorus.

THANKSGIVING EVE DANCE

Women's Catholic Order of Foresters Plan to Entertain Friends on Night of Wednesday, November 29.

At an important meeting of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters last night, final plans were outlined for the dance and card party to be given in the Elks building the night of November 29, Thanksgiving eve.

Judging from the elaborate preparations under way, the dance will be a brilliant one and largely attended. The dance will be held in the ball room and the card party for those past the dancing stage, in the banquet hall. Music will be by a leading orchestra and all other arrangements made with the view of a successful dance and a good time for all who attend.

In One Case—Husband Was Plaintiff, While in Second Action Wife Was Awarded Decree of Separation.

The troubles of two families were successfully settled yesterday in the district court by the usual method of legally declaring the bonds of matrimony theretofore existing severed. In one of the cases the plaintiff was the husband, and in the other the plaintiff was the wife. In spite of these two divorces issued out of the district court, one fearless couple showed up at the probate clerk's office and applied for a license to wed. Yesterday the best of the argument seemed to be with the divorce side of the ever increasing controversy. "Is marriage a failure?"

William H. Shoat, who averred his wife, Clementina Shoat, had abandoned him without cause, was granted a decree. This couple were married in Old Albuquerque in 1908, and the abandonment alleged occurred in October, 1911, when the defendant left him and has since remained away from him. The legal issue was applied to his troubles by Judge Abbott yesterday morning.

In the afternoon Mrs. Ida Walker of McKinley county, obtained a divorce from Ed. S. Walker upon the grounds of drunkenness and cruel and inhuman treatment. She was granted the custody of the three minor children, Nellie Loretto, aged 8 years; Hal Clifford, aged 6 years, and Gladys Estellin, aged 36 months, and $30 a month for the support of the family.

The testimony in this case was taken in Gallup by Referee Manuel Ruiz and tended to support the complaint. The couple was married at Devon, Kas., in January, 1900, and had lived together as husband and wife until the time of the filing of the petition a few weeks ago. The defendant, according to the plaintiff, got into the habit of returning home drunk, after spending his nights gambling, thus leaving her to shift for her own support and that of her children. Her brother came to the rescue about this time and for some months has supported the family.

A decree was issued in this case in accordance with the facts.

PUBLIC INVITED TO WOMAN'S CLUB

Excellent Program Offered for "Open Day" This Afternoon, Under Direction of Mrs. Himes and Mrs. Boruff.

It's "open day" at the Woman's club and the public will have an opportunity this afternoon, to hear a musical program of more than ordinary merit, one participated in by the best local talent and under direction of two well known musicians.

Mrs. Himes is in charge of the instrumental music and Mrs. Ray Boruff is director of the chorus work, which will be exceptionally fine. The program will start at 3 o'clock this afternoon and as stated, the public is cordially invited.

Wash your clothes with GOLD DUST

Good soap washes clothes well—if you use enough elbow grease; but Gold Dust washes them more thoroughly—and with little or no rubbing. Gold Dust saves half your time, and spares your poor back.

Another great advantage of Gold Dust—use any kind of water you like. Gold Dust softens the hardest water, and makes it soft as rain water.

Gold Dust is just a vegetable-oil soap in powdered form, with other cleansing ingredients added to make it work more thoroughly and quickly than soap ever can.

Just try Gold Dust next wash-day, and see how much time you save.

Do not use borax, soda, ammonia or lye with GOLD DUST. GOLD DUST has all desirable cleansing qualities in a perfectly harmless and lasting form.

ENTIRE ELECTION MAY BE HELD INVALID

SANTA FE SCRIBE FEARS FOR WORST

Sees Chance That New Mexico May Be Called Upon by Congress to 'Vote Again' Prior to Admission to Union.

A pessimistic newspaper correspondent in Santa Fe, writing to the El Paso Herald, declares that a movement has been started in the capital to have the president delay issuing his proclamation, declaring New Mexico a state. The idea is to have the entire election declared invalid and call on the people to vote again for state officers and on the blue ballot, because of alleged irregularities in the recent voting.

The men behind the move seem to have been able to cover their tracks pretty well and it would appear that the El Paso Herald correspondent is about the only newspaper man who has been able to bring the matter to the attention of the people.

The Santa Fe New Mexican, usually well informed on events in the ancient capital, has been scooped in its own balliwick, having thus far printed nothing concerning a movement which is fraught with such great importance to the people of New Mexico. It is just possible that the El Paso Herald man is himself behind the move and took an unprofessional advantage of his fellow scribes by keeping the secret locked in his own breast. Following is the article, which is astonishing if true, to say the least:

"Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 22.—A movement has been started to ask President Taft to delay issuing the proclamation declaring New Mexico a state on account of alleged irregularities in the recent elections. The idea is to have congress take steps to call another election to be held at the time of the general election next November, and that this election be held under rules prescribed by congress. The election was held two weeks ago and held under local laws and yet also under the enabling act and the Flood federal resolution.

"There was more or less confusion in every county; in practically every county irregularities are apparent, for both of the great parties, or neither party, was to blame. Under the local laws, the certified returns are sent to the county seat; under the enabling act they were to be sent to Santa Fe, but many election boards nevertheless sent the certified returns to the county seat.

"In two precincts in Roosevelt county to election was held and the result is so close on the supreme judgeships that these two precincts might have changed it. There are also indications of fraud and bribery and altogether it is believed that enough of a showing can be made to persuade President Taft to withhold the proclamation and for congress to order a new election, as neither the republicans who lost the governorship, and seven of the state officers, besides four district judges, and the blue ball, nor the democrats, who lost the legislature and eight of the state officers, as well as four district judges are satisfied. Delegate W. H. Andrews, however, will oppose this move, as he believes he has enough members of the legislature pledged already to elect him United States senator. The state canvassing board meets next Monday."

J. E. Parker, 2021 No. 10th st., Ft. Smith, Ark., says that he had taken many kinds of kidney medicine, but did not get better until he took Foley's Kidney Pills. No matter how long you have had kidney trouble, you will find quick and permanent benefit by the use of Foley's Kidney Pills. Start taking them now. J. H. O'Connell.

MOUNTED POLICE CAPTURE TWO RUNAWAYS

DESPERADOES AGAIN BEHIND PRISON BARS

Tom Foley, Jailbreaker From Tierra Amarilla, Caught By Jerry Rusk; Convict in Carlsbad Jail Badly Wounded.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 23.—Tom Foley, desperado, who recently broke out of the Rio Arriba county jail at Tierra Amarilla, has been recaptured by Mounted Policeman J. B. Rusk. The officer found Foley about five miles south of El Rito, making his way on foot out of the country. When caught the fugitive still had a handcuff on his right wrist, but had managed to get rid of the other.

That he had not been idle since his escape a week ago, is evidenced by the fact that he had acquired a valuable horse and saddle, later disposing of the property for $25. The saddle alone was worth twice this amount. The saddle bore the trademark of a Gallup firm and had orange stirrups.

It is believed that Foley is wanted in Arkansas for some crime committed there. The jailer who was on duty when the prisoner got away at the Tierra Amarilla jail, has been dismissed. Foley was brought to Santa Fe and lodged in the penitentiary for safekeeping until such time as the courts can look into his case.

Escaped Convict Recaptured.

Captain Fred Norfoll of the Territorial Mounted Police, who returned last evening from Tucuman and Estancia, today received a report that Juan Salcido, a convict, who had escaped from the road gang at Chama, Rio Arriba county, is in jail at Carlsbad, with a bullet hole in both hips. He was recaptured near the Texas line.

Penitentiary Crowded.

The problem of what to do with the convicts is one of the problems up to the first state legislature. At present there are 360 in the penitentiary. These men should be employed on permanent road work as far as possible.

Special Anniversary Program.

For the third consecutive year, the territorial department of education is sending out a well arranged and neatly printed book, containing special programs for public school anniversaries and holidays, including songs and memory gems. It is a useful book and much praise is due the compiler for his painstaking work.

Trouble With Election Returns.

Territorial Secretary Nathan Jaffa is receiving telegrams daily in regard to faulty election returns. One election board wires that it forgot to sign the official returns and asks for the return of the poll books. Another election board in Otero county wires that it not only forgot to sign the returns, but also enclosed them in the sealed ballot box and sent the ballot box to the county seat. The board asks for the return of the ballot box and permission to open it. Of course, this could not be granted, and the ballot box has been ordered sent to Santa Fe. However, all this will mean delay and confusion in the final canvass of the votes.

Notaries Public Appointed.

The following notaries public have been appointed by Governor William J. Mills:

Robert H. Crews, Albuquerque; Sam D. Lowry, Portales; Chester H. Eddy, Chama and Mary S. Cole, Chico, Colfax county.

Territorial Funds.

Territorial Treasurer Jacobo Chavez has received from Insurance Commissioner Jacobo Chavez $229; and from Traveling Auditor John Joerns $25 bank examination fees.

Permits to Catch Beavers.

Territorial Game and Fish Warden Gable has returned from a trip to the Los Pinos and San Antonio streams in northern Rio Arriba county near the Colorado line to investigate complaints that beavers were damming the streams and flooding low lying farms, causing much damage. Mr. Gable issued permits to capture the beavers.

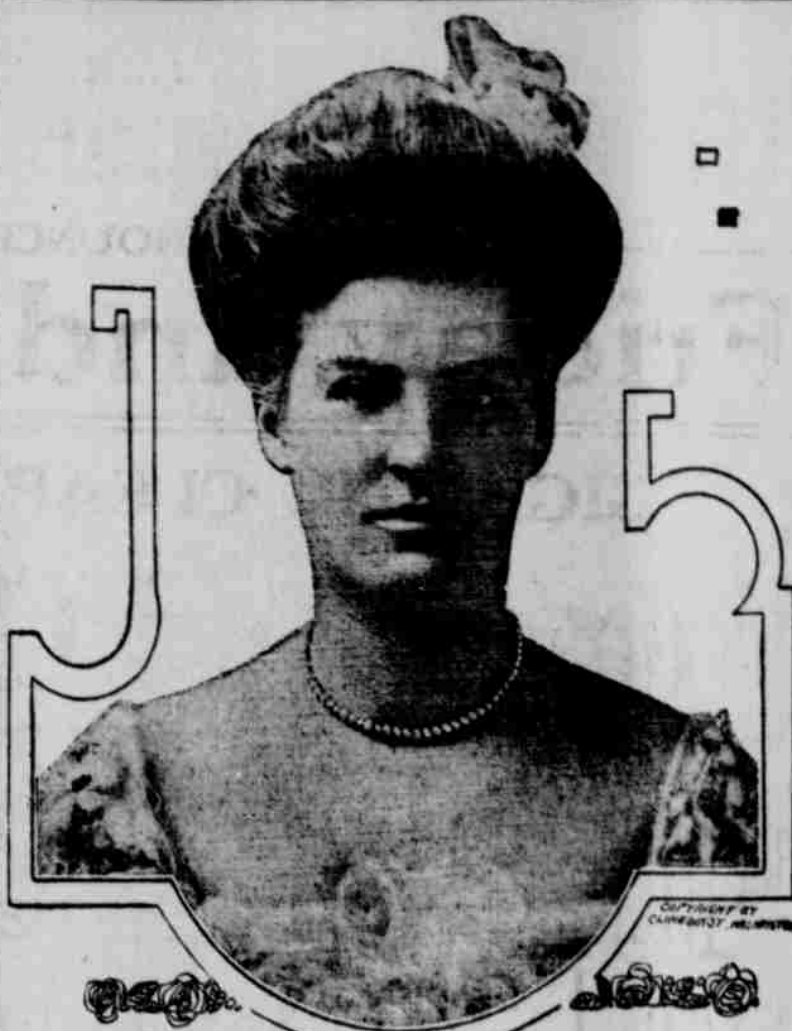

MATERIAL DECREASE IN ARMY DESERTIONS

Washington, Nov. 23.—The extraordinary fifty per cent decrease in desertions in the army during the last two years was attributed by General Ainsworth, adjutant general, in his annual report made public today, to the vigorous measures that have been taken to punish desertion. There were 2,489 desertions in the last fiscal year, or 2.28 per cent of the enlisted strength of the army during the year. This is the lowest rate for ninety years, save in the Spanish war year of 1899.

Ten Colleges to Compete.

Boston, Nov. 23.—Ten colleges will be represented Saturday in the thirteenth annual cross-country championship of the Intercollegiate A. A. of America, which is to be run over a course of six miles in Brookline. Announcement of the withdrawal of the Michigan team was received tonight.

PANIC INSURANCE NECESSARY SAYS CARNEGIE

Sound Banking System Imperative Need to Prevent Another Financial Collapse Like That of 1907.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] New York, Nov. 23.—"Money panics don't hurt the rich," said Andrew Carnegie today, when asked why he thought the United States had "the worst banking system in the world." "Panics hurt the working man. The rich man can manage to get through a panic like that of 1907 without suffering; it is the people who depend upon daily earnings for their daily bread who feel the cruel burden of panics. The rich do not suffer for lack of food, or clothing, or shelter, because hundreds of thousands of American workers are thrown out of employment, as they were in 1907, and as they were in the '90's and in the '70's."

Mr. Carnegie said that while no great industrial country could insure itself against occasional periods of business depression following over expansion and over-speculation, the experience of Europe showed conclusively that even in a time of war, "it is not a humiliating thing," said he, "that this great rich country of ours is the only civilized country in which money panics occur. We don't need to have panics any more than we need to have the plague. We suffer from them because we have a banking and currency system that breeds panics."

"Before I came home from abroad this fall, Germany was just giving an illuminating lesson of how a sound banking system prevents panics. The same conditions in New York that existed in Berlin a few weeks ago would have precipitated a panic like that of 1907."

"England, France and Germany are safely secured against panics. When a crisis comes, it is promptly controlled and made comparatively harmless. Why? By using the reserve banking power. Central banking institutions always stand ready to rediscount good business paper, and give legal tender notes in exchange, thus enabling the banks to loan the business community all the funds it needs. In one week in September the Reichsbank stopped the impending Berlin war panic by increasing its bank note issue by $154,000,000."

"In this country in such a crisis the whole machinery of credit stops, and ruin runs riot throughout the business world."

"I am impatient at the folly, yes, the crime, of allowing our whole credit structure to be exposed to disaster, as it now is, simply because we have neglected to follow the example of other nations, by adding to our banking system what other civilized nations have, viz: a means of calling upon the reserves of banks by allowing a co-operative association of the banks to issue legal tender currency in times of stress. I believe there is not another duty so imperatively demanded as the prompt creation of this reserve power. It can only be done by the demand of the people expressed through legislation in congress."

"We spend our time discussing trifling political issues, leaving the entire structure of credit open to disastrous panics, which could easily be obviated were our banking system provided with reserve power always ready for action."

ous advantage over us, because their bank currency is based on commercial paper arising out of day-to-day business transactions. When business expands, there is more commercial paper created, and the currency automatically expands; when business contracts, commercial paper is retired, and the currency contracts. The business community always has the currency it needs and no more."

"Every working man and woman in America should have the equivalent of an insurance policy against disaster from financial panics. A co-operative banking reserve will give this insurance."

IMPROVEMENTS TO CARLSBAD PROJECT BEING RUSHED

Repairs and Additions Will Be Completed in Time to Fill Reservoirs Before Irrigation Season Opens.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Carlsbad, N. M., Nov. 23.—The improvements that the Reclamation Service are making on the Carlsbad project are being pushed. As many teams and men as can be advantageously employed are rushing the work on the McMillan reservoir. The capacity of the reservoir will be materially increased and will hold enough water to cover the entire project over two feet deep. The improved spillways at Avalon, the diversion reservoir, are also being rushed. All the work is expected to be completed in time to fill both reservoirs before the irrigation season opens in March.

Superintending Engineer Louis C. Hill is expected here in a few days and he will spend several days inspecting the project and conferring with the water users on a possible extension of the project. The matter of enlarging the project has been under consideration for several years, but the funds of the service were too low to undertake any large amount of work. The water users, however, feel that steps should be taken to prepare the way for the larger project, so that the work can be rushed whenever funds are available for the construction of reservoir number three.

Discord in Water Users' Association.

The Pecos Water Users' association of the Carlsbad project, of which every farmer under the project must be a member to get water, has been full of discord for many months. A week ago it came to an open rupture in the board of directors. At a special meeting, called for the purpose, the board deposed its president and elected W. H. Wilson to serve out the term. The shareholders have taken a lively interest in the fight and were present in force at the last meeting of the directors. The new president has lived here about twenty years and is fully qualified to fill the difficult position.

Carlsbad Wants Normal School.

The Commercial club is keeping overhauling at it. The postal card day last September, was a success, but the club has been ordered another $2 supply of postal cards printed. These will be distributed to the citizens for mailing out. The club is also taking steps to have the Normal school that has been promised the Pecos valley. Carlsbad has always been overlooked in the distribution of public institutions and feels that this part of the state is entitled to recognition. The matter of planting a demonstration orchard in north Carlsbad is progressing.

To Boost Irrigation Project.

The Carlsbad project has under preparation a new book, calling attention to its advantages. The publicity campaign the Santa Fe railway is making in the Pecos valley is meeting the hearty approval of the people here and they are getting in line to

The way to healthful cooking is to start right—with Cottolene.

Cottolene-cooked food agrees with one because Cottolene contains not an ounce of hog fat—it is a vegetable instead of an animal product. Its wholesomeness and purity are vouched for by Nature. Cottolene is "the fat from the flower."

All the country's best cooks—Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln, Mrs. Sarah Tyson Rorer, Mrs. Helen Armstrong, Marion Harland, Lida Ames Willis, and a dozen others of national reputation—recommended Cottolene in preference to lard or any other medium for frying and shortening.

Isn't the testimony of such experts worth something to you?

You can afford to pay a few cents more per pail for Cottolene, because it goes one-third farther than butter or lard.

boost for themselves, as well. The real estate men are joining in and helping to bear the expense. The farmers are very anxious to get more settlers into the project, as every year emphasizes the fact that intensive cultivation of small farms means quicker and surer development of the country. The labor situation has never been so acute as at present and small farms will help solve the labor problem.

No Fourth.

Senator Cummings, at a dinner in Des Moines, was talking about a government contract that he deemed unfair. "This contract, if accepted," he said, "would work out like the farmer's crop."

"A farmer, you know, leased a field to a farm laborer, and the rental was to be one-fourth of the crop raised. 'Well, harvest time came in due course, but the farmer was amazed to find that he got nothing. The tenant hauled three huge loads of produce to his own barn, but there was nothing left for the farmer. He, of course, remonstrated."

"Here," he said, 'how is that?' Wasn't I to get a fourth of the crop?" "Yes, sir, you was," the tenant answered excitedly, "but hang it, there were only three loads, sir."—Philadelphia Telegram.

An Accepted Apology.

There lives in Minneapolis a German printer who is well educated, but whose ignorance of the English language as it is spoken is great. On one occasion a reporter wrote a story for his newspaper, making fun of the German, and incidentally, making the German angry. The printer sought out the writer and expressed his wrath.

"Yes, I wrote that," said the reporter, "and I reiterate all I said." "Well," commented the German, smilingly, "I'm glad you 'politicize.'"—Popular Magazine.

ALBUQUERQUE NEW MEXICO

SOLID WHISKY'S OFFICIAL DEFEAT.

The commissioner of internal revenue has ruled that whisky in solid tablet form, the invention of an enterprising western genius, must pay the same tax as the ordinary liquid refreshment.

He furthermore proceeds to express the opinion that the solid whisky submitted for examination is a combination of glycerine and gelatin, and whisky that would probably make drunk and certainly make sick any one who tried it.

Many people will find the latter part of the report the most discouraging. Taxes are bad enough, but, after all, taxes on solid whisky may be borne as well as taxes on liquid whisky. But the solid whisky opened such a pretty vista that it is a pity to have it shut out all at once by the announcement that it is unusable.

How many toes might remain un-trodden in the theater if the man with the consuming thirst could satisfy it by sipping a nice peppermint scented liqueur in his mouth! How many men would be only too glad to avoid the temptations of the saloon if they could only carry a small saloon stock in solid form around with them!

How many fishing parties would be moved from the too common catastrophy of having the only trout bottle broken by a careless person if each man could carry in his coat pocket enough solid whisky to keep out the cold and to console him for even the most indifferent sport!

How many gentlemen who are at present hard pressed to explain to their wives that the reports about their going frequently into certain saloons are the products of malice and envy could sit in their offices and enjoy the same exhilaration without the slightest danger of domestic complications if only this solid whisky were as practical as it is alluring!

In the middle of a lecture or a dry conversation or a railway journey, in fact, at any moment when the need of internal exhilaration was borne in to one's mind, the solid whisky tablet would be instantly available. A preliminary cough, just to intimate that it was a cough drop one was about to take, a deft movement from the pocket to the mouth, and the whole atmosphere would brighten almost immediately.

It seems, however, that the dream of a solid whisky is too bright, too beautiful to last. Science, cold and unfeeling as ever, puts a crimp in the aspirations of a genius bent on making humanity his debtor by declaring through the commissioner of internal revenue, that pure whisky can't be solidified, and that to solidify it by an admixture of glycerine and gelatin is to endanger the stomach.

However, the Western genius who evolved the gigantic idea of making himself solid with the country by perfecting a solid whisky tablet has not wholly wrought in vain. He will long be held in grateful remembrance for the noble effort he has made to solve certain phases of the liquor problem.

As the result of a campaign extending over ten years the Audubon societies of the country, which have been holding their annual meeting at New York, report that bird life is each year becoming safer and public co-operation more effective. Anything that gives a check to the thoughtlessness and cruelty of fashion by protecting birds is commendable.

The Gaekwar of Baroda says American girls are too cold and are overfond of show. Mrs. William Leeds, society woman of two continents, says American young men—the idle rich ones, that is—are dissipated and drink too much. This is very discouraging news. Still, perhaps, the nation will endure.

"It should not be forgotten," says Speaker Champ Clark, "that at least nine-tenths of the questions before

What a pity congress did not treat them as such!

The United States Geological Survey has just published a number of charts showing the production of coal in the United States from 1814 to 1910. The story told by these charts is an interesting, in fact, a wonderful one. In 1814 the production of coal in this country was practically nothing, although coal had been mined in large quantities in England and other countries. In less than a century the production has increased until now the United States leads the world.

In 1814 a total of 22 tons of coal was produced in Pennsylvania. In 1815 the percentage of increase was good, but still only 50 tons were taken out. By 1825 over 100,000 tons were mined in the two states producing. In 1850 the figure had reached 7,018,181 tons. In 1876 it was 23,280,000 tons. At the end of the century it was 269,684,- 027 tons. In 1905 it was 327,723,625 tons. In 1907, which it was supposed would remain the record year for some time, the production was 480,363,424 tons, but in 1910 the enormous total was reached of 501,596,278 short tons, a production larger by far than that of any other country in the world.

So steady has been the increase in American coal production that most of the years have been record breakers.
The total production since 1814 has been approximately eight and a quarter billion tons.
Not only does the United States at present lead the world, but there is every reason to believe we will maintain that position for decades to come. England, France, Germany and other coal producing countries are beginning to be greatly worried over the diminution and possible exhaustion of their mines. There seems no reason to fear such a danger in this country. It has been stated that the supply of anthracite is likely to decrease. But the supply of other varieties of coal is increasing, instead of diminishing, since new fields are being opened up faster than old mines are being exhausted. China alone is said to have coal deposits which equal those of this country and China's deposits have been scarcely touched. Recent events have made it seem probable that China may progress much faster in coming years than in the past, but no matter how fast the Yellow Empire's progress it is likely to be a long time before she is a serious rival of the United States in the mining of coal.

BETTER PAY FOR GOVERN- MENT CLERKS.

Secretary Meyer in his forthcoming annual report will advocate increased pay and age retirement pensions for clerks in the navy department. The justice of this demand can not be disputed. It is the fact that clerks in the navy department draw a lower scale of pay than those under any other branch of the government and their work has been greatly increased, while the purchasing power of their salaries has steadily dwindled, on account of the increasing cost of living. Indeed, a historical review of the figures shows that the pay of navy clerks has actually been revised downward since 1854.

Under such conditions the government can not expect to retain competent employees in its service. Any man who sees an opportunity to get into other business will assuredly quit the department which holds out to him so little hope of betterment. Those who stay in the service cannot possibly expect to lay up any provision for old age. The margin is too small or, rather, it should be said that there is no margin.
It is not in accord with the dignity of a great nation that its employees should be paid starvation wages and turned out penniless in their old age. One result is, of course, that men who are quite past their work are kept on the payrolls out of motives of humanity. It is a penny wise and pound foolish policy.

Just why Mexico should have an parent. Of course revolutions are very

They ought to leave the field to the Chinese ideas of a republic are likely to be as unconventional as Chinese ideas of most other things.

DIVIDING CHINA.

In the present upheaval in China many proposals are being made for the division of the empire into two or more independent nations. Some of the revolutionary leaders appear to be inclined toward the formation of not less than three or four countries by separating China along lines not yet clearly defined.

It is the hope of well-wishers of the Chinese that no such splitting up of their empire will be seriously attempted. Nothing would more surely promote the interference of foreign powers. Nothing could be more dangerous to the ultimate independence of any part of China.

Even the whole vast realm lacks strength sufficient to enforce its natural rights against foreign foes. The Chinese government needs more power, not less, in dealing with the great nations of Europe, and only a united China could ever hope to meet Japan on terms of equality.

The most vital and simple considerations of prudence ought to prevent the success of any plans for the partitioning of China by the Chinese themselves. As for splitting up the empire by outside forces, the United States can be trusted to use its influence to the utmost to prevent any such destruction of the vast and ancient nation which is now in the throes of a new birth.

PRAIRIE DOGS GONE FROM GRANT

Correspondent at Silver City Finds Once Populous Towns Deserted; Epidemic Wipes Out Little Pests.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Silver City, N. M., Nov. 23.—Where are the prairie dogs? In some parts of Grant county this question is being asked. Whole towns have been vacated and not a dog is heard or seen. It has been noticed for several months that where scores and scores of dogs were seen, not one can be found now. It has been suggested that an epidemic of some kind has killed them off. Like many other wild animals they may have moved the encroachments of civilized man forcing them to seek new homes.
However, this may be it is certain that where a few months ago hundreds of the dogs were seen, not one can be found now.

Weather Observation Station at Silver City.

Ernest Brumback, an all-around newspaper man and printer connected with the Independent of this place, a weather seer and wind manipulator, has recently received from the Washington weather department a brand new wind and rain gauge, and if there is anything in weather science, he purposes to see that this section of New Mexico is supplied with the very best. He reports the mercury was down to twenty-two the other morning, the lowest point it has reached this winter. Cold winds have been strong enough to raise $5 and Brumback says in this respect they are like himself and the average newspaper man.

White Claims Election by Seven Hun- dred Votes.

Hon. Alvan White, who is to be the first public school superintendent of the state of New Mexico, and who attended the convention of teachers at that election returns received at Santa Fe show he was elected by about 700 majority, notwithstanding the republican newspapers in their reports gave him only about 75. Superintendent White is certain to make a most satisfactory school superintendent and the teachers are sure to find him progressive and efficient.

PRISONER SUES OUT HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

A writ of habeas corpus was issued out of the district court yesterday in behalf of Espridion Guervara, who was alleged, had been arbitrarily sentenced in the court of Justice of the Peace Jose E. Romero. The writ was made returnable today.

It is alleged in the application for the writ that Espridion Guervara was brought before Justice Romero on June 19, last, and charged with "larceny with intent to battery." Upon the hearing of the case Justice Romero fined the man $50, or fifty days in jail, and also bound him over to await the action of the grand jury in the sum of $200.

The application alleged that in so doing the justice was going outside his authority in acting both as a magistrate and a trial court, and that the plaintiff, Guervara, was being detained arbitrarily, unjustly and without due legal right, and therefore the relief prayed for should be issued in his behalf.

A hearing on the writ will be had today.

CATTLE SHIPPED FROM DEMING DISTRICT

November Term of Court Opened By Judge Parker
Grand Jury Still in Session.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal]
Deming, N. M., Nov. 23.—Pablo Rivera and J. C. Rosenbrough returned today from a business trip at El Paso.

John Malone of Lordsburg, is transacting business here today. He leaves tomorrow for Silver City.

J. R. Dunbar has resigned as night clerk at the local Harvey house. He leaves today for his home at Hutchinson, Kas. He was relieved by Earl Freeland of Chicago.

Nine cars of cattle were shipped yesterday from Separ to Pampa, Tex., by J. J. Neabett. J. H. Hall shipped one car of bulls yesterday from Separ, and one from Deming. They were shipped to Kansas City.

Charles Nelson, a prominent cattle man from the "Nan" ranch, is unable to leave his room at the Bank hotel on account of a severe cold.

Thomas D. Bryden, a former resident of Luna county, died yesterday morning at Hurley. The remains were brought to Deming last night, and will be buried here.

Dr. E. R. Carpenter of El Paso, returned yesterday from Silver City. He is the guest of Dr. J. G. Moir today, leaving Thursday for his home.

Coney T. Brown of Socorro, passed through here Sunday enroute to his home from Silver City.

Luther Wright returned to Hurley yesterday after transacting business here for a couple of days.

The November term of court for Luna county was convened Monday by Judge Frank W. Parker. An effort will be made to finish up all business for the term by Saturday night. The grand jury is still in session. The petit jury will begin work this afternoon.

No reports have been received concerning the whereabouts of the posses who are in pursuit of the two outlaws that escaped death in the battle last Friday in the Black range. The remains of the dead officers and outlaws have been buried. Thomas H.
Hall was buried at Deming Monday afternoon under the auspices of the Redmen of Deming. The body of A.
L. Smithers was shipped to Amarillo, Tex., Tuesday afternoon, for burial at his old home. The body of John Greer was sent by express last night to his former home at Carrizozo, N. M., for burial.

FOR A DISORDERED STOMACH AND INDIGESTION

Cures Gas, Heartburn, Dyspepsia or Headache Five Minutes After Taking a Little Diapepsin.

If you had some Diapepsin handy and would take a little now your stomach distress or indigestion would feel fine.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, out-of-order stomach before you realize it.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.
Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heaviness in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Disorders or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no undigested food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.
Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at any drug store waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Diapepsia, Indigestion or any other stomach disturbance.

BISHOP KENDRICK IS SLOWLY RECOVERING

Bishop J. M. Kendrick of the Episcopal diocese of New Mexico and Arizona, who has been critically ill in the McElride sanatorium at Pasadena, Cal., for several weeks, is slowly recovering, and hope is now held out for his ultimate recovery.

News of the bishop's improvement was received here yesterday by Archdeacon W. E. Warren of St. John's Episcopal church, and was conveyed in a letter from Bishop Kendrick's daughter, who is now at the bedside of her father.

Friends of the beloved clergyman throughout the two new states will be glad to learn that there is hope for Rev. Kendrick's recovery.

NEWS NOTES FROM DR. WILSON FREED ELEPHANT BUTTE

Elephant Butte, Nov. 21.—In the steam heating plant recently installed at the town in the mechanic's hall the radiators are placed overhead, instead of on the floor as is the usual custom. These so far have proved satisfactory. The chief reason for placing the radiators this way was in order to give more floor space in the rooms.

The three new bath houses of the town are completed but not available for use as the fixtures are not yet adjusted.

The equipment for the bakery at the town has not yet arrived but bread is being baked for the mess and also for the mercantile store in the mammoth ranges in the kitchen of the mess.

Men are engaged painting the smoke stack on the power house. It has been estimated that it will take two men a week to paint this inside and out.

The lumber for the church at this place arrived on Tuesday and has been hauled to the town, where work will begin on the church building at once. The lumber had been shipped for a number of weeks. This unexpected delay has greatly inconvenienced the church people, as the tent in which services were held during the summer had become too cold for comfort the past few weeks and a room in the school building was secured in which to hold services until such a time as the church building can be completed. This building will be of portable construction, in order that at the completion of the work here that the building can be moved to another field.

The embroidery club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Mac-Intyre on Friday afternoon.

Thomas Williams, who has been under the care of the camp physician, Dr. J. Dale Graham, on account of having suffered a painful injury on the leg by being struck by a stone which rolled down the hill while he was at work on the flume, is now much improved and will soon be able to assume his usual duties.

The excavation for the flume is nearing completion and concreting is now in progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed were entertained at dinner on Tuesday in the home of Herbert Yeo and spent the evening at the home of Chester Wells where they were entertained at cards and later were served with dainty refreshments. On Wednesday they were guests at dinner at the home of J. Dale Graham.

JULIUS ROSENWALD PAYS CITY HIGH COMPLIMENT

President of Sears, Roebuck and Company, Declares Albuquerque is Premier Town of Its Size in Country.

"Albuquerque is the premier city of its size in the country. Its progressive appearance, modern buildings and fine homes instantly command attention. It should maintain its supremacy as the metropolis of the new state, as its geographic location for such honors is ideal."

This flattering opinion of this city was expressed yesterday afternoon by Julius Rosenwald of Chicago, president of Sears, Roebuck and company, the biggest mail order house in the United States, with a paid-up capital of $50,000,000. Mr. Rosenwald was interviewed by a Morning Journal representative shortly before he departed for Chicago on the limited.

It was Mr. Rosenwald's third visit to Albuquerque in twenty years.
When first he visited here in 1891, the city was a typical frontier town.
Again when he came in 1900, it had made wonderful progress, and he was actually astonished when he arrived here this week to find that Albuquerque had become the metropolis of the southwest.

Mr. Rosenwald gained wide publicity about a year ago when he announced a gift of $25,000 to any city that would raise an additional $75,000 for the establishment of a Y. M. C. A. for colored men. Instantly his offer was taken up, and today six cities have complied with the provisions of his gift, namely, Chicago, his home city, Los Angeles, Indianapolis, Atlanta, Philadelphia and Washington.

In the course of the conversation, the reporter asked Mr. Rosenwald's opinion of the city.

"I think it will prove entirely satisfying," he said. "It is an excellent pavement for the money and largely used throughout the east. In Chicago many important streets are paved with bitulith. For a city the size of Albuquerque I think it ideal."

The visit to Albuquerque at this time of Mr. Rosenwald was for the purpose of attending the wedding of his niece, Miss Rena Grunsfeld, who on Wednesday evening became the bride of Mr. Ira Rothgerber. Accompanied by his wife and two sister-in-laws, the Chicago millionaire left last evening for the east.

BY QUASHING OF INDICTMENTS

Judge Abbott Rules That Evidence Charging Embezzlement Not Sufficient to Warrant Trial of Case.

Unable to find additional evidence than that which was introduced in support of an indictment found against Dr. E. N. Wilson, charging him with embezzling $76.85, District Attorney George S. Klock was yesterday obliged to consent to a dismissal of eight other indictments pending against Dr. Wilson, charging embezzlement of a sum aggregating $3,000.
The action was taken in accordance with a notice given by Judge Abbott on Tuesday when the trial of the other case was closed by an instructed verdict of not guilty.

The embezzlements charged were in connection with the conduct of the business of the New Mexico Realty Syndicate, a corporation of which Dr.
Wilson was president and general manager, and the affairs of which were absorbed in the transfer of the business and stock of the company to the Home Bond and Loan company. Dr. Wilson continued as a stockholder in the new company. He had insisted since his arrest that the whole prosecution was a matter of spite instigated to deprive him of what shares he retained.

He was arrested in August on a warrant sworn out before Justice of the Peace George R. Craig, but the case was there dismissed before the trial had proceeded very far. At the September session of the grand jury he was indicted in nine counts, involving the same transactions alleged in the complaint made before the justice of the peace.

In the trial of the case on Tuesday it transpired from the evidence that Dr. Wilson had done nothing inconsistent with his duties as president of the company, and was acting under a resolution instructing him to proceed with the grading of certain lots of the company. In connection with the case two suits for damages in the sum of $10,000 each, were filed by Dr. Wilson against W. C. Oestrich and W. A. F. Glerke and against Adolph Didier, for malicious prosecution.

Technically Raised in Barnett Case.

In the trial yesterday afternoon of Joe Barnett, proprietor of the White Elephant saloon, for keeping his place of business open on election day, September 5, 1910, a peculiar point arose. In the trial of the case District Attorney Klock put Probate Clerk A. E. Walker on the stand with the records of his office in order to prove that Barnett was conducting a saloon that had received a license.

Clerk Walker testified that he issued a license to Mr. Barnett on August 4, 1910, and immediately Attorney A. E. Wood, raised an objection that the issuance of the license was not legal in that it had been issued within 60 days prior to a general election. The raising of the point which could not be denied by Mr. Klock, caused quite a laugh, as no one knew at the time of the issuance of the license that a general election would be called within sixty

Priests' Advice led to Their Recovery

Thin, weak, or frail people—those who "take cold easily" and sufferers of Bronchitis and Asthma, should be prepared with Eckman's Alternative in the house.
Remarkable cures of even Tuberculosis (Consumptive) persons are often accomplished. Here are two cases.

Gentlemen: On June 3, 1907, I was operated upon for Tubercular Peritonitis at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, N. Y.
After trying many remedies Eckman's Alternative was recommended to me by our physician. I was then urged by a priest to take Eckman's Alternative, which I did. My weight at the time was 72 lbs.
I began to improve and steadily gained in health and strength. I now weigh 125 lbs. and am absolutely cured.

Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma and Bronchitis for seventeen years.
Eckman's Alternative was recommended to me by our physician. I am now feeling fine. I cannot praise it enough.
Amherst, Mass.

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Hemorrhoids, Asthma, Hay Fever, Rheumatism and La Grippe, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for the cured cases and write to Eckman's on by Mr. Wood.

The general election day upon which it is alleged Joe Barnett kept open his place of business, was the date on which the delegates to the constitutional convention were elected.

A number of witnesses to the alleged violation of the law have been subpoenaed to testify, among which

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Wall Street.

New York, Nov. 23.—The upward movement of stocks was resumed today after a period of hesitation. Early in the day the list was lifeless with an inclination toward heaviness, although the level of prices changed but little. In the afternoon for no obvious reason the tide turned. Prices were marked up in every quarter, although the movement was chiefly among the railroad stocks. When the day was ended leading railroad issues showed an advance of 1 to 2 points with a sprinkling of larger advances elsewhere in the list, running up to six points. Union Pacific was brought to the front by the bulls to lead their movement. In the latter part of the day this stock was forced above 178, an advance of more than three points. Various reports were circulated in explanation. There was no satisfactory basis for these reports and it was regarded as probable that Union Pacific's rise was the result of another bull demonstration.

The movement among the Southern railway stocks which for several days has been unusually active, was continued. Louisville and Nashville was the most conspicuous and rose four points. Atlantic Coast line gained nearly three points and Southern railway pfd., and Illinois Central developed strength.

The speculative movement in the copper shares weakened and they hung back in sympathy with a further advance in the price of the metal. United States Steel participated moderately in the upward movement. New business in steel and iron was said to have increased. In view of better buying of heavy steel products by the railroads it was expected that unfilled orders for the current month will reveal a considerable increase.

Export movement of gold continued with small shipments to Canada and South America. The total shipments to Canada within the last two weeks now aggregate $10,400,000 and to South America about $2,000,000. Closing stocks:

Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—A disposition to react against sensational reports of black rust in the Argentine led to considerable selling pressure here today in the market for wheat. There was also demoralization in the cash trade owing to a split between the principal owners and their leading broker. Largely as a result of closing prices were at a net decline of a shade to 3-8 cents. Corn finished 3-8 to 1-2c down, oats 1-8 to 1-4c and hog products 2-12 to 1-12c.

Notwithstanding that a prominent expert from here who is now in the Argentine persists that atmospheric and other plant conditions are spreading black rust in some of the choicest districts of South America and despite the fact that another authority gives out a similar statement today, the oldest people in the business professed never to have heard of the plague before in Argentina. Furthermore English cables referred to most favorable weather and auspicious prospects generally for the harvest now in progress in the South American wheat belt.

It remains to be seen whether the direct cables to the Chicago trade are misleading or correct but speculators here were mainly inclined today to act on the assumption that the dispatches pointed in the wrong direction. All other news was bearish and the pit crowd saw particular signs of pessimism. A little steadiness at the close was the only relief from the dragging tone that prevailed the rest of the day.

Between the opening and the finish May ranged from $1.00 1-8 to $1.01, with last sales 3-8c off at $1.00 1-2 to 5-8.

Corn declined under unloading by discouraged buyers. May fluctuated from 54 7-8 to 65 3-8c, closing 3-8c net lower, but steady at 64 7-8 to 65c; cash grades were easy. No 2 yellow was quoted at 78 7-8 to 1-2c for old.

The oats market was weak. Bearish sentiment was due mostly to sympathy with other grain. Top and bottom figures touched by May proved to be 50 1-8c and 49 3-4c, with the close 49 7-8c, a net loss of 1-4c from last night.

The easier hog market and continued heavy packing operations carried down provisions. Since November 1 the number of swine slaughtered here has shown an increase of more than half a million, compared with the corresponding time a year ago. At the end of the day pork was less expensive by 12 1-2 to 1-2c and other products, 2-12 to 1-2c.

LARGE AUDIENCES
CHURCHES

No Let-Up in Interest Aroused By Simultaneous Services at Albuquerque Houses of Worship; To Continue Indefinitely.

With five churches pounding away at the large audiences that attended the simultaneous meetings again last night, the crowds show no cessation, and the interest keeps up as well as the crowds. Up to the close of operations last night there were reported seven more additions to the various churches. Six of these were at the Congregational church and one at the First Methodist. The end of the present week will witness the loss of two of the most brilliant pulpit orators, who have yet participated in the meetings. Rev. Mark Wayne Williams, who has been assisting his brother, Hermon P. Williams at the First Christian church, will leave for his own work in Milwaukee, while Rev. Clyde Campbell, who has been doing the preaching for Rev. Sam E.
Allison at the Highland Methodist will also be called away by the press of work in his own charge at Las Cruces.

The feature of the meetings tonight will be an illustrated lecture at the First Christian church by Rev. M.
Wayne Williams, upon the subject, "My Umbrella and I in the Holy Land." This lecture is the result of a trip taken by Mr. Williams in the Holy Land a few years ago, and the pictures he took himself of the scenes of the life of the Son of Man, as they now are after a lapse of nearly two thousand years.

The service at the Congregational church last night was full of interest.
Rev. Raymond B. Tolbert, the pastor, spoke on "Confession" and argued that it meant service. The theme he stated was not in language but was in service. The music at this church was very good.

At the Highland Methodist, Rev.
Clyde Campbell spoke upon the topic, "Drifting," basing his remarks upon the second verse of the first chapter of Hebrews: "Therefore let us give earnest heed to the things we have heard lest at any time we let them slip."

Rev. Charles Oscar Beckman preached on "Future Punishment," making a profound impression. One conversion was reported at this church. Tonight he will speak on "Redemption" and Mrs. Holloway will sing, "Oh Love That Will Not Let Me Go."

Mr. McCullough's subject at the First Presbyterian church was, "The Prodigal Son." The regular church choir sang at this service adding greatly to the impressiveness of the meeting.

Although some of the preachers are leaving for their own fields, the meetings will not be discontinued for some time.

MYSTIFYING ACT AT
ORPHEUM

The Orpheum is still keeping up the high standard of pictures and vaudeville shown in the opening week. Last night two large audiences sat in wonder at the mystifying feats of Rhynta, the illusionist, especially in the act where Madame Rhynta is transferred from a glass case suspended in mid air, to a trunk also suspended. New pictures tonight. A turkey given away at the end of the first performance until Thanksgiving.

WOUNDED MINER
BROUGHT TO HOSPITAL

Jerry Flynn, a miner of Los Cerrillos, was brought to Albuquerque last night and placed in St. Joseph's hospital suffering from a pistol wound in his left breast. While no information could be obtained as to the cause of the wound, it was rumored that the wound was self-inflicted. According to the best information, Flynn, in a fit of despondency, attempted self-destruction. When taken to the hospital last night he refused to make any statement, and his friends were also not disposed to talk about the case.

Brave Girl Saves Train.

Purcell, Okla., Nov. 23.—Eva Hall, a ten-year-old girl, saved a passenger train on the Oklahoma Central railroad from going into a ditch three miles east of here today. She was on the way from school, when she discovered that a bridge over a deep creek had been burned out. It was only a few minutes until the passenger train would come along. She dragged some pieces of ties which had not been burned and stood upon them and flagged the train. The passengers made up a purse of $100 and presented it to the girl.

FOURTH VICTIM OF SCHOLLE WRECK
PASSES AWAY

Brakeman Thorne, Hero of Disaster, Succumbs to Frightful Injuries; Disaster Due to Misreading of Orders.

Death late yesterday afternoon claimed another of the victims of the Monday afternoon freight wreck on the Helen Cut-off line of the Santa Fe near Scholle, when the brave spirit of Brakeman George O. Thorne took its flight to its maker.

Thorne was the real hero of the wreck. He was brakeman of the eastbound freight train and was standing at his station near the head of the train at 3 o'clock on the fateful afternoon when the four engines crashed together. Although horribly burned about the body and lower limbs as a result of the collision, he persisted in doing all in his power to extricate his brother trainmen, at the risk of his own life, and it was not until he dropped from exhaustion, and was taken to one side and laid quietly down under the attention of doctors and nurses, that he desisted from doing all he could to give succor to the other victims.

After lingering for more than three days, he died yesterday in St. Joseph's hospital, the fourth man to die as a result of the wreck. His body will be prepared for burial here, and shipped to the former home of the deceased near Redlands, Cal.

Brakeman Thorne some nine months ago, married Miss Madge Wyatt, the sister of Engineer Wyatt, of the Santa Fe New Mexico Eastern lines, and was but 25 years of age. He was a popular young fellow, having an excellent record with the company. For some time past he had made his home in Belen, and was running between Belen and Clovis.
He leaves in addition to his wife, a brother, who will arrive this morning to accompany the remains to the old home in California.

The condition of Engineer W. P.
Malone was almost critical yesterday as he was suffering greatly from his injuries. For a while it was feared the engineer could not recover. The change for the worse came as a shock to the hospital attendants. Malone seemed to be in good spirits the day after the wreck, but yesterday the shock seemed to be having its effect and the injured man grew worse.
Shortly after midnight he fell into a deep sleep and early this morning was reported much better.

Engineer C. H. Napsinger was also very low yesterday, but he too, fell into a peaceful sleep after midnight and his chances of recovery are now believed excellent.

MISREADING OF ORDER

It was reported yesterday that the wreck was caused by a misunderstanding of orders. It appears, according to the story circulated upon the streets, that the engineer of the west bound light engine train, had received orders to pass the eastbound freight at Scholle, but before reaching Mountainair, he received an additional order, containing a number of instructions. At the bottom of this contrary to the usual custom, a meet order was written almost over printed matter, on the order blank. It is the custom, according to railroad men, that meet orders are to be written on a separate blank.

The engineer in reading his order, it is believed, failed to see the instructions which called for him to meet the eastbound freight at Abo instead of Scholle, the next station west.
It was not until he had passed Abo, some four miles, that he re-read the instructions and saw the meet order close to the printed matter at the bottom of the blank. Consulting his watch, and referring to his Scholle order, he figured that with a burst of speed, he could meet the freight train at Scholle and he made a run for it.

The result of his running for it was the story of the wreck. The place where the two trains met is but a short distance east of Scholle, showing that the engineer in running for it, had made good progress. The accident might not have happened even then had it not been for the fact that the two trains were hidden from each other by the side of the mountain, one of them was traveling rapidly around a curve to the right and the other to the left, and they met almost in the middle of the curve.

A Good Demonstrator.

The car had wheeled slowly along, until finally Jobleigh grew impatient.
"Look here, my good man," he said to the demonstrator, "I don't want an old snail of a car like this. I want some speed."
"But just think of the economy of a car like this," said the demonstrator.
"Economy?" retorted Jobleigh.
"Where does the economy come in?
It costs just as much to run as any other car, doesn't it?"
"Yes," replied the demonstrator,
"but think of what you'll save on fines old man."—Harper's Weekly.

FOR MISSING
YOUNG WOMAN

Officer and Brother of Miss Greb Scour Country for Many Miles in Hope of Finding Missing Girl.

A fresh trail as to the recent movements of Miss Margaret Greb was uncovered yesterday by a searching party, fifteen miles northeast of Albuquerque, which, if followed, will probably yield some definite news within the next forty-eight hours as to her whereabouts. The above information was given out last night after the arrival in Albuquerque of a messenger from the searching party composed of Police Officer Pablo Lujan and Edward H. Greb, a brother of the missing young woman.

From parties arriving in the city on Wednesday evening, it was learned that a young woman answering the description of Miss Greb had been seen wandering in the direction of Alameda, eight miles north of this city, about a week ago. This was sufficient to cause fresh interest to be aroused as to her whereabouts, and at 7 o'clock yesterday morning Officer Lujan and Edward Greb left Albuquerque to trace, if possible, her wanderings. After, if possible, her wanderings affirmed.

Yesterday afternoon, after searching all day, they found from the Indians of the Sandia pueblo, a settlement about fifteen miles northeast of the city, that a woman, answering her description, had passed that way within the last week. In fact, the messenger arriving last night, said that the party had found tracks of the girl, Lujan and Greb then worked north toward Bernalillo, where they put up for the night, sending word into town as to their intentions.

They will renew the search this morning, going northeast toward Al-godones where it is hoped the missing girl may be caught up with.

Algodones is a small town, about twenty-nine miles from Albuquerque.

brick works are in the neighborhood.
It is thought that if Miss Greb reaches Algodones, she will run into some English speaking persons who are aware of the fact that she has wandered away from home and will detain her until the arrival of her friends.

Miss Greb left home one week ago last Tuesday evening under strange and peculiar circumstances and no trace of her was found until yesterday.
